The Watsons have sold their home in Hico to Mr. and Mrs. Leland Fillingim, and have purchased a new home in Killen.

Miss Helen Thomas, homemaking teacher, has also resigned, and will teach in the Odessa school system this fall. She plans to be married August 21.

The fifth vacancy is that of band instructor. Terry Randolph, local band instructor the past two years, is serving in the Army.

Funeral Services Held Sunday Afternoon for Fred Geye, Carlton Man

Mr. Fred Geye, a longtime resident and prominent citizen of the Carlton community, died at his home in Carlton Saturday afternoon, July 30 at 2 o'clock. Mr. Geye had been in declining health for over four years, but his condition became very serious the last few weeks.

A funeral service, largely attended and a comforting message conducted by Minister E. A. Willingham of Hico and Rev. Eddie Rickenkaker of Carlton, was held in the Carlton Church of Christ Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Mr. Geye was born Oct. 17, 1878 near Lamkin. He was the son of Abe Geye and Martha Nix. On August 20, 1911, he was married to Carrie Johnson at Carlton. To this union were born five children, one of whom died in infancy.

Mr. Geye is survived by his widow; two sons, Raymond Geye of Lufkin and Roland Geye of Cleburne; two daughters, Mrs. Paul Warren of Dublin and Mrs. Ruth Self of Carlton; ten grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Also surviving are one brother, Martin Geye of Lamkin; five sisters, Mrs. Annie Denman and Mrs. A. K. Taylor of Lamkin, Mrs. J. O. Helms of Evant, Mrs. C. M. Stoy of Anniston, Alabama, and Mrs. Bertha Mehaffey of Gorman, all of whom attended the services with the exception of Mrs. Stoy of Alabama.

Mr. Geye was a charter member of the Church of Christ at Carlton, where he served and faithfully attended until he became unable. An outstanding characteristic of Mr. Geye's earthly tenure was his staunch and exemplary Christian life, and his loyalty and devotion to his family. During his 51 years of residence in the Carlton community, most of the early years were spent as a rural mail carrier. Pallbearers were Horace Geye,

Four-Day Celebration Will End Saturday Night

Thousands of visitors are expected to line the streets of Hico Wednesday afternoon to view the traditional parade which kicks off the 74th Annual Old Settlers Reunion. Parade time is 6 p.m.

As in past years, the upcoming celebration has attracted wide attention, and records crowds are expected for the four nights.

The parade will officially open the celebration, but it will come after a Pony Express race between the Hamilton Sheriff's posse and the Meridian Riding Club. Both will participate in the parade.

The two clubs will race from designated points, with each rider traveling one mile of the distance on horseback. The Pony Express ride was originated last year by the Hamilton group, when they covered the 20-mile distance in one hour and eight minutes, bringing greetings from Hamilton Mayor Charles Eck to Hico Mayor D. E. Bulloch.

A large number of entries are expected when parade time arrives, each aiming at part of the $130 in prize money to be given in various divisions. Several floats are in the making, and competition should prove interesting.

The complete schedule of entertainment during the four day celebration has been listed as follows by Billy Doty, manager of the Reunion:

Opening night of the celebration will feature the Miss Reunion contest, where 41 girls between the age of 14 and 21 will compete for title won last year by Miss Brenda Claunch of Iredell. Trophies, sponsored by Howard Drug and The Hico News Review, will be given the winner and two runners-up.

Thursday will be the traditional square dance night, and J. T. Butler, chairman of the program, has an attractive evening of entertainment lined up. The Cross Trails Square Dance Club of Abilene will present a colorful dance featuring Marshall Flippo as caller. Mr. Flippo is considered one of the best singing callers in the state. Some of the lady members of the club will also call. An added attraction for the program will be couple dancing of American folk dances by the club, such as the waltz, polka and others. "Couple dancing is gaining fast in popularity over the state, and appeals to both young and old," Butler said this week.

Friday night will feature a popular string band.

Saturday night the traditional Old Fiddlers' Contest will be held under the pavilion. In past years the contest has drawn a large number of entries from both young and old-time fiddlers, and most of the contestants have been contacted and are expected back this year.

All programs during the celebration will start at 8:15 p.m.

Also on Saturday night, drawings will be held for free merchandise offered by merchants who have display booths in the exhibit building.

Parade Interest.

Much interest has been displayed in the parade, and entries will be competing for prize money totaling $130.00 as follows:

- Best Decorated Float, $60
- Second Place Float, $30
- Best Bicycle, $5
- Best Horse and Rider, $10
- Best Comic, $10
- Best Decorated Car, $15

A trophy will be given to the best Riding Club present.

The parade will start forming at the usual place at 5 p.m. Entries are urged to be in place well before the 6 o'clock starting time.

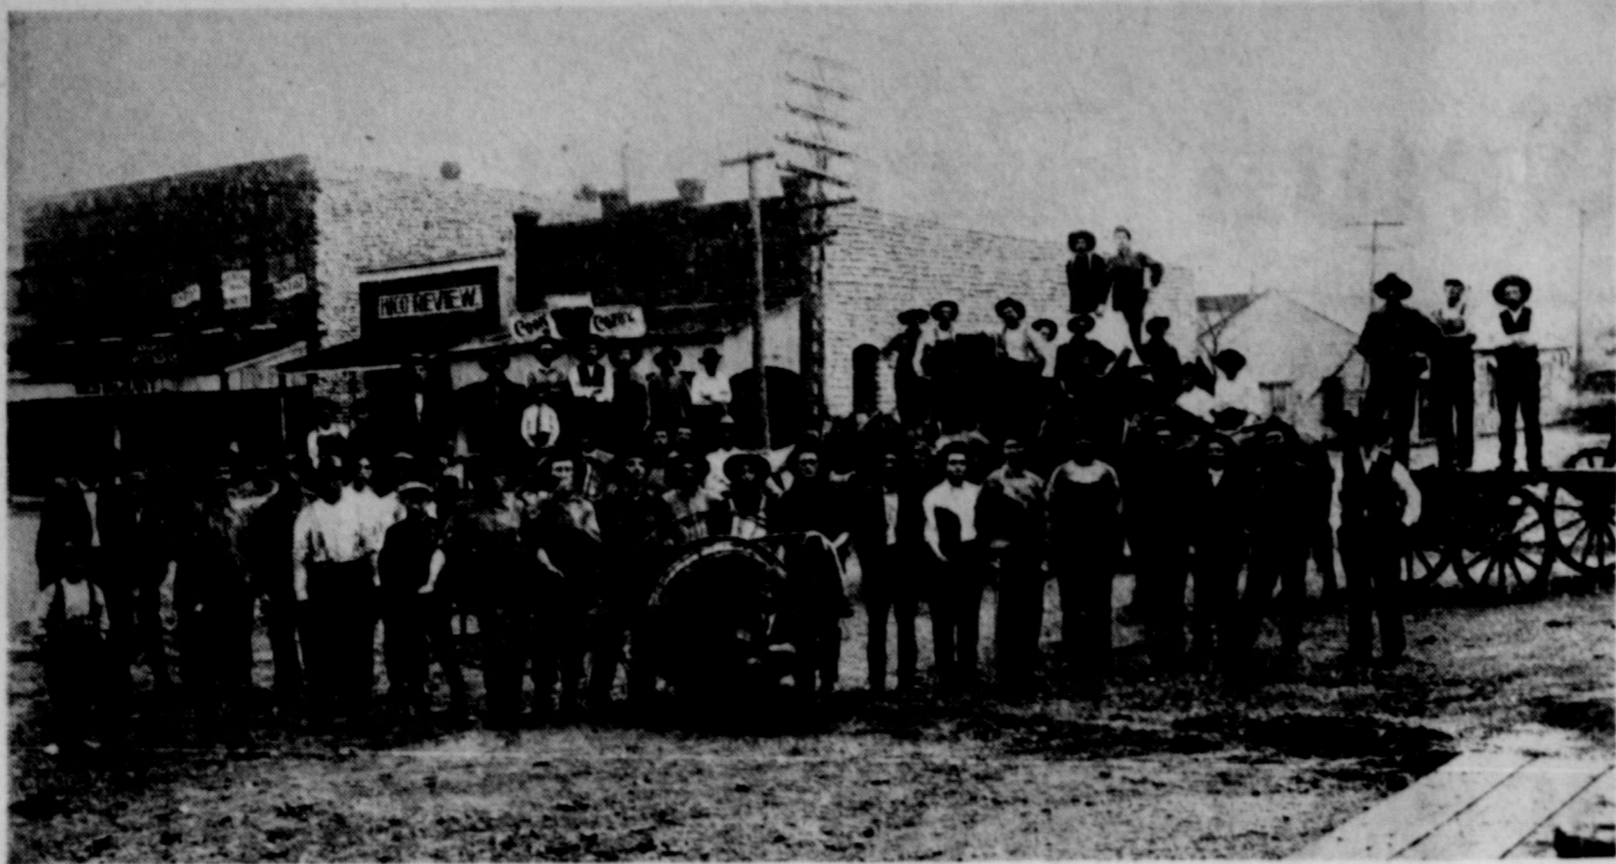

Pony Express Race.

Doty stated this week that a Pony Express race would take place Wednesday afternoon between the Hamilton Sheriff's Posse and the Meridian Riding Club. The unique feature was started last year when the Hamilton group raced greetings from the Hamilton Mayor to Hico Mayor D. E. Bulloch on opening day.

DIG THESE CRAZY CATS!!!—Baseball is a popular sport in the Hico area shortly after the turn of the century, as can be verified by this picture of the local team. You can imagine the lively brand of ball played by these dressed up "cats." Look real close and see how many of the players you can identify.

ast Recalled by Erath County Native

By JIM TURNBOW

grandfather, Chesley Turnbow, and his brother-in-law, W. H. ... came to Erath County in ... settled about 6 miles ... of where the town of Dub ... now located. The county had ... organized at that time. ... were not many people ... then. The Stephens and the ... were early settlers. All ... families were here during ... between the states and ... days of the Indian depreda ... When these families settl ... it looked like a poor man's ... Good land cheap, wide ... range free for all, lots of ... wild turkey, prairie chickens, ... antelopes, and plenty of buf ... only 100 miles west.

little did they think of the ... days just ahead, when the ... would break out, and the In ... would be stealing their ... and murdering their fami ...

en they came here there was ... war cloud in sight, and the ... Indians that were here were ... until some of their people ... killed by white men. From ... to 1870 were days of anxiety ... and dread. When a man left ... he knew he might be killed ... scalped by the Indians or ... home and find his family had ... killed or perhaps some them ... and away by the Indians.

did not live through these hor ... days but my father and moth ... I learned from them what ... people of Erath and adjoin ... counties suffered and endured ... 1860 to 1870. You may think ... was only 10 short years. Well ... it was 10 long years of ... stress, uneasiness, and often ... Indians were cruel and ... vicious. They showed their vic ... no mercy.

I do not want to worry you ... a long story but will try to ... it a true story of some of ... changes that have come about ... I came here 87 years ago. ... seems almost like a different ... of people here now than ... I came. People eat different ... different kinds of food. They ... differently. They work dif ... and play different, dress different, look different and act ... different. Even the preachers ... preach different. Most livestock is ... different. Our houses are different ... and most of the people speak ... a different language. Of course ... some of us oldtimers still speak ... the old original Texas dialect. We ... still like it best. We went to school ... some in those days. Some of us ... learned too much. Some of us got ... far enough along to get what they ... called a geography. We called them ... Jogafys. But we did not ... have much faith in what it taught. ... It said there was more water on ... top of the earth than land. We ... thought anyone ought to know ... better than that. And then it said ... the earth was round. Well we ... knew that was not so because if ... it was the water would run off ... and then we knew the Bible said ... the earth had four corners, and ... all this time they were trying to ... change our dialect, wanting us to ... use different words. They may ... have caused some of the young ... sters to change, but most of us ... older ones could see no reason for ... changing. Many of us still speak ... the same language. It required ... little or no schooling. It was easy ... to learn, easy to speak and easy ... to understand.

People were friendly then. When ... you met a neighbor he always ... had time to stop and shake hands ... with you. If you stopped at a home ... near meal time very few failed ... to invite you to stay and share the ... meal. If a stranger stopped at a ... home at night, he was invited to ... spend the night. Lodging and horse ... feed was free. At supper the lady ... of the house would say, "Yawl ... fetch yore cheers and come to ... supper, and I bieve you better ... shet that door to keep from blow ... in' the candle out." Children were ... taught good manners, like never ... to say yes or no to a stranger and ... to never point their finger toward ... a stranger.

You needed no dictionary to see ... what we meant. We just spoke ... plain English and everybody knew ... what we meant. In fact I have not ... been able to find some of the words ... we used in the dictionary. I still ... speak the same language when I talk and of course I use a lot of ... it when I write. Seems like it ... just sounds better.

You remember I said people ... dress different now. Well 85 and ... 100 years ago most all men wore ... long beards and they wore their ... hair much longer than now. Most ... men had their wives cut their ... hair once or twice a year.

Their clothes were all home ... made. We called 'em homade. Men ... never wore pants then. They wore ... britches, and they did not always ... get a perfect fit. There were no ... belts so the men had to wear what ... we called Gallises to hold their ... britches up.

Women never cut their hair. The ... longer it was the better they liked ... it. There were no beauty operators ... here then. They wore long dresses, ... winter and summer. Their dresses ... almost touched the ground. They ... wore large bonnets and their shoes ... were all heavy with high tops and ... low, wide heels. Women worked ... hard in those days. Most of them ... cooked three meals a day on the ... fireplace. They went to the near ... store in a wagon once or twice ... a year and bought cloth to clothe ... the whole family. She then made ... clothes for them all with her ... bare hands and often by the light ... from the fireplace and she knitted ... their socks and stockings also. They ... did not wear hose then.

You remember I said it seems ... almost like a different race of ... people now living here now. If you ... don't think so just try to imagine ... what people who lived in West ... Texas from 1830 to 1860 and died ... and were buried here, would think ... if you could bring them back ... from their graves and dress them ... just as people then dressed. Now ... place them in the back seat of one ... of the fastest cars on the road. ... Take them on a sightseeing tour. ... Now try to realize the changes ... we must use our imagination. So ... let's suppose they were on one ... of the fine highways leading into ... Fort Worth, when they first real ... ized they were really alive and ... had been resurrected from their ... graves. Now let's imagine their ... chauffeur was a Chinaman and ... spoke no English. Suppose they ... drive into the city of Fort Worth ... and out to the bomber plant, but ... talk to no one. Then drive to the packing houses, go through them ... and the stock yards. Next to a big ... football game. Now let's suppose ... they had not yet become tired, ... hungry or sleepy, so we will contin ... ue our sight-seeing. Now drive ... down through the city, stop at a ... railroad crossing, wait for a fast ... passenger train to pass, followed by ... a fast freight pulling 50 boxcars ... and 75 oil tanks. Remember, these ... people in their lifetime had never ... seen anything on wheels larger ... or faster than a covered wagon.

Now leave Fort Worth over a ... 6-lane highway for Dallas. Let ... them see the motorcycles, busses, ... trucks, all running at high speed ... all with bright lights. They had ... never even seen a lantern in their ... lifetime. They could be so thrilled ... that they would not become tired ... or sleepy and want to spend the ... night driving and seeing the beau ... tiful city, all lit up as light as day. ... If they had been Bible readers ... they might remember reading ... about a city that had no need of ... the sun, neither of moon to shine ... in it for there shall be no night ... there.

If they had been good people ... they might wonder about this. But ... when morning came and the sun ... rose their hopes that they were in ... that Heavenly city would be gone, ... and they, no doubt, would wonder ... where they were.

These people had never seen a ... town lit up at night and of course, ... they had never seen a city and if ... they had it would not have had ... lights. After spending the night ... looking at the many strange sights ... they might begin to have a few ... hunger pains. If they did, take ... them to the finest cafe in the city. ... When they had dined show them ... the city in daylight. Show them ... the railroads, the depots, the bus ... stations, the zoo, museums, the ... parks and the swimming pools. ... Then drive out and park near a ... good highway and the airport ... where they could see the jets fly ... ing 100 miles an hour, and by this ... time they might feel like they ... would like a cold drink from a nice ... cedar bucket and a long handle ... gourd. You know that was the only ... cold drinks in West Texas 100 ... years ago. They had never heard ... of a Coke or Dr. Pepper or a milk ... shake or ice cream in the sum ... mer time. They did not know any ... one except the Lord could make ... ice in the summer.

By this time they might feel a little tired and sleepy. So we will ... now drive back to Dallas, rent a ... nice room on the top floor of ... the tallest rooming house, one with ... an outside window. Show them ... their room from the ground then ... put them on an elevator and take ... them up. This would seem to be ... a nice quiet place to rest. There ... ought to be a TV in a room like ... this and it would be no harm to ... look the strange thing over and ... wonder what the little knobs were ... for and see if they would turn. ... It would only be natural to give ... one a little twist. Now let's just ... imagine there was a Democratic ... Convention in session and they ... were trying to adopt a platform ... agreeable to all. If the TV came ... on loud and clear, do you think ... they would sleep? And would you ... be surprised if they jumped out ... of the window?

Now if this had been you, don't ... you imagine you would have ... thought there was a different race ... of people now living in West Tex ... as or that you were somewhere ... else? It is impossible to realize ... these changes unless we do use ... our imagination some. These ... changes have come so gradual that ... the people did not realize how ... great the changes have been. But ... they assessed and collected taxes ... 100 years ago just as they do now. ... But taxes are a bit higher than ... they were 100 years ago.

I have a copy of a part of a sup ... plimental tax roll for Erath Coun ... ty for the year 1956, made by ... Thomas K. Carmack. These taxes ... were for state only. Erath Coun ... ty was organized in 1956 but too ... late to collect county taxes. My ... grandfather, Chesley Turnbow, ren ... dered 500 acres of land, valued at ... $500. He paid no poll tax. His tot ... al taxes was 75 cents. Henry Gil ... breath's grandfather, W. H. Gil ... breath, rendered five negroes, val ... ued at $1500, seven horses valued ... at $525, and other property valued ... at $100. Total valuation $2125. ... Taxes of $3.69 including 50 cents ... for poll tax was paid.

My uncle, A. J. Gilbreath, ren ... dered one negro valued at $900, 8 ... horses valued at $675, other prop ... erty valued at $140. His total tax ... were $2.93 including poll tax. ... My uncle, R. E. Caudie, render ... ed 5 yoke of oxen at $375. His tax ... was $1.06 including poll tax. ... My uncle, C. B. Caudie, render ... ed miscellaneous valued at $175 and ... paid taxes of 69 cents. My uncle, ... F. H. Turnbow rendered one horse ... at $20, other property at $50, and ... his taxes was 60 cents including ... 50 cents for a poll tax.

Coffee Time

CHATTER

By HELEN OGLE

With the town of Hico all dressed up, and the welcome mat out, we are ready to greet our friends, neighbors and visitors to the 74th Annual Reunion. Am anxious to see the parade and see where all the flowers and crepe paper will show up, that has been purchased this past week. Remember, parade time is 6 o'clock.

Bonnie Alexander called to say that she had returned home from her vacation in time to get the yard cleaned up, and the cobwebs out of the house, and is ready to enjoy the reunion.

While Hershel and Wilena Sherard are enjoying the reunion, they will also be celebrating their 11th anniversary at the grocery store. I suggested some good specials, and am anxious to see if they took my advice.

John Rusk was out early with the broom, sweeping the barber shop and walk extra good, in preparation for the reunion.

Wylie Litch is looking forward to seeing many old friends this week, but is hoping that he may retire from the shoe shop, and go fishing. He says it has been over 20 years that he worked every Saturday, and he'd like to try working at the sport of fishing for a while. Sounds nice to me, Wylie, and I hope you find the fish biting.

The old saying "Something for the Birds", applies to June Howards' clothes pin bag that hangs at the back door. June swears that she does the laundry each week, so guess it was a fast-working bird that found the cozy looking spot for a home.

Golfing really runs in the family to the pet dog, Coco, who didn't ly at the Petsick house, even down like Odie's golf shoes, so he merely carried one down the street to the Meador house, and swapped it for one of Buck's. En route home, Coco stopped by the Neel resident and left the new shoe. This was all Paul needed to have some fun, and at this writing, I don't know how the golfers are doing.

I found out that Lorraine Petsick and Ludell Cheek are not suffering altogether from vacation fatigue, but from the horseback ride they took while at Lake Texoma.

Christmas in August—sure is. If this heat is about to get you down, go by Lynch Hardware and look at the silver tree that is encircled in colorful kitchenware. C. L. is reminding you that you were going to do your shopping early this year.

Judy Keller is counting the days now, before she can leave for a vacation in Red River, New Mexico. Bring some of that cool air and rain back with you Judy.

Ray and I. J. Teague and I are wishing for what is probably impossible, but wouldn't it be nice for a norther to arrive with at least two inches of good rain. Ray says that would definitely help, weatherwise, and might help with her meal planning, that gets to be such a chore during hot weather.

Betty Walker is making headway on her summer project, with the air-conditioner installed, a change in automobiles, and the yard fence completed. Harold refers to the fence as a prison, but it is really nice.

As Tullio Carpenter says, get one issue out and start on another. That's the situation exactly, Tullio, not near as much loafing around here as we'd like.

Jane Hafer and Betty Knudson have let summer pass them by without getting any of their plans accomplished, such as a rug hooked and some China painted.

It's press time, with an extra big issue to get out, so we'll see you at the Reunion.

Carolyn Cody Feted On Eighth Birthday With Party at Park

Carolyn Cody celebrated her eighth birthday last week when her mother, Mrs. Raymond Cody honored her with a party at Hico City Park.

Guests received balloon whistles as favors, and were served refreshments of pink punch and birthday cake.

Present for the occasion were Penny Dunlop, Sandra Patterson, Eller Srader, Judy Donley, Bobby Boyd, Russell Cryer, Wayne Baker, Linda and Sherry Hunter, Billy Cooper, Brenda and Don Rainwater, Neil Wade, Rex and Joan Carmichael, James Roberson, Pam and Glenda Needham, Donna and Debbie Sowell, Linda Teague of Dublin, Ray, Mike and Nickie Hunter, Jimmy Luckie, and Ray Cody.

IT HAPPENED . . .

HERE OR NEAR
By E. E. DAWSON

By E. E. DAWSON

In the first decade of this century I got a number of song books that my church used on special occasions. They were just paper-bound, and had some eighty songs. Among the songs was one that especially appealed to me and during all these years I have been humming it and whistling the melody more than any other. But I lost the copy of the book that I had, and for more than half a century sought for the song in every song book that I came upon. I even appealed to book stores that handled song books to look for the song and send me a copy of the book that contained it. But it was no use; I did not find it. But when that sixty-five year old copy of Gospel Hymns fell into my hands recently, as I was turning through it, there was the long-lost favorite!

The mistakes of my life have been many. The sins of my life have been more. And I scarce can see for weeping. But I'll knock at the open door. CHORUS I know I am weak and sinful. It comes to me more and more; But when the dear Savior shall bid me come in. I'll enter the open door. I am lowest of those who love Him I am weakest of those who pray; But I come as He has bidden, And He will not say me nay. My mistakes His free grace will cover. My sins He will wash away, And the feet that shrink and falter. Shall walk through the gates of day. The mistakes of my life have been many. And my spirit is sick with sin. And I scarce can see for weeping. But the Saviour will let me in.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN—

Most State Agencies Ask For More Operating Money

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Austin.—About a dozen state agencies thus far have presented their budget requests for the 1963-63 biennium.

As yet, none has failed to ask for more money than it's presently getting.

Many agencies cite Texas' growing population as justification for expansion. They say, in effect, that they are in the same position as the housewife who has to put another potato in the pot to set another place at the table.

Others seek to woo state funds with a "bread cast upon the waters" approach. They contend that money spent on developing the state's resources will come back multiplied in the form of increased state revenue.

Almost all emphasize the difficulties of luring and holding highly trained personnel at present state salaries. Some say, too, that they've been working with a too-short stick for years and need some "keep up with the times" improvements.

Budget proposals are presently being studied by the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's budget staff. Each will make recommendations, and the final decision will be made next year by the Legislature.

With a money short, tax-fighting session ahead, it won't be easy for anyone.

These budget requests have been added to those already under study.

STATE PARKS: An investment in state parks is an investment in the Texas tourist industry and a potentially rich source of additional funds for the state treasury.

This is the theme of the State Parks Board in asking for a $2,000,000 appropriation for the next two years. This is almost double the present spending level.

Of this million dollar a year appropriation, the board proposes to use $700,000 a year for improvements, $300,000 a year for administration.

Texas, says parks director Bill Collins, spends less on its state parks than Rhode Island. He cited figures showing that Texas would get $81,000,000 a year more in tax revenue if each out of state visitor stayed in the state one more day.

GENERAL LAND OFFICE: A bigger budget is asked by the General Land Office and Veterans Land Board to assure the state's realizing full value from the resources of state-owned lands.

A two-year budget of $3,042,339 is asked.

Land office noted the state now has clear title to 3,000 square miles of tidelands. It wants to employ three oil scouts and a geological director to explore the development of the tidelands' mineral resources. Altogether, 29 new land office employees are being asked.

Land Office claims that for every dollar it has spent in the past 22 years, $90.18 has been returned to the state treasury in revenue.

AGRICULTURE: Complexities of increasingly scientific farming put greater demands on the State Department of Agriculture, says commissioner John C. White.

His "sink or swim" budget request is for $3,061,421 for the coming two year period. This compares with a $1,930,966 appropriation for the present period.

White said the "chemical revolution" in agriculture today puts heavy responsibilities on his department. He also asked for more equipment and more salaries for personnel to check weights and measures.

HIGHWAYS: State Highway Department is asking for a two-year allocation of $98,600,000.

Of this $48,300,000 would be for the 1961-62 period, $30,300,000 for the 1962-63 period. This compares with $37,900,000 spent by the Highway department in 1959.

Most of the highway revenue comes from special earmarked sources, such as the gasoline tax, license fees, etc. Department is asking $600,000 from the general revenue fund to be used for tourist advertising.

GAME & FISH: Game and Fish Commission is asking for what it calls a "status quo" budget, except for salary raises for some of its top technical personnel.

Commission is asking for $12,034,945 for the coming two year period compared to $11,593,651 for the present biennium.

Executive Director Howard Dodgen declared that the commission's top echelon employees are "grossly underpaid" for highly trained persons, some with master degrees. STATE COLLEGES: Three colleges, East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston State Teachers, have told the Commission on Higher Education they need more money.

Expected enrollment increases, need for higher faculty salaries and need to lower the student-teacher ratio was cited as reasons for the requests.

WHERE TO GET IT: With new spending requests piling up, the search for new money-making plans is ranging far and wide.

Four broad-based tax plans are being considered by tax hunting sub-committee of the Governor's State Finance Advisory Commission.

They are: (1) a payroll tax, paid half by employers, half by employees, (2) a utilities customers tax adding a percentage to all utility bills, (3) a business activities tax which would combine some of the features of payroll, gross receipts and corporate income taxes, and (4) a transfer which would be similar to a sales tax.

Other ideas suggested to the panel include higher taxes on liquor and beer, sales tax on soft drinks and restaurant meals and a tax on sporting events.

IT'S THE LAW—

U. S. Supreme Court Tops Nation's Court System

The Supreme Court of the United States sits at the pinnacle of the nation's court system. Its justices, as they are properly called, have the final say as to questions concerning rights arising under the U. S. Constitution and as to matters over which the federal courts are given jurisdiction.

The Court sits at Washington, D. C., in a magnificent building located near the Capitol. At present the Chief Justice is Earl Warren while the eight Associate Justices are, in order of their service on the court: Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter, William O. Douglas, Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, William J. Brennan Jr., Charles Evans Whittaker and Potter Stewart.

The Court holds one regular term each year, commencing on the first Monday in October. The term usually continues until sometime in June. During its course the Court will hear oral arguments on well over a hundred cases and will dispose of many hundreds more without hearing argument.

Certain cases may be appealed automatically. But in most cases it is discretionary as to whether the Court will grant reviews. The seriousness of the legal question, conflicts of interpretation among the lower courts and on some occasions erroneous results will motivate the acceptance of a case for full hearing and argument.

Court Procedure.

The general practice is for the Court to hear arguments for two weeks, then recess for two weeks, alternately until near the end of the term. When cases are being argued sessions are held Monday through Friday. On these days precisely at 12 noon, the Marshal cries the opening of court and the black-robed Judges step forth from openings in the velvet drapes behind the judicial bench to assume their duties.

In the usual case each side is given one hour to present its argument. The presentation is frequently interrupted by sharp questions from the bench and the lawyer with a weak point often finds himself seriously embarrassed by cutting remarks from some impatient justice.

Arguments continues until 2:00 p.m. when the Chief Justice announces a recess for a half-hour lunch period. Then at 2:30 court resumes and is finally adjourned at 4:30. With arguments concluded the Court then takes the case under consideration, and prepares the decision and opinion of the court.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to express my thanks and appreciation to everyone for the nice cards, letters, flowers, each wish and prayer that was offered in my behalf during my recovery in the Willis-Knighton Hospital in Shreveport, La. Then for each visit since I have returned home. May God bless each of you.

Ray Stipe.

Welcome To Hico's

74TH ANNUAL

OLD SETTLERS REUNION

Many of you pioneers will remember the crude old telephone "box" on the wall. In its day it was a marvel of convenience and was considered as much of a necessity in the home as the "lightening rods" perched on top.

Beginning with the "box" on the wall soon after the turn of the century, Gulf States has been a pioneer in the business life of Hico. And we take pride in being a part of a town and community that believes in progress.

There's Always Something New

Today Hico enjoys the very latest in modern dial telephone service. Rapid advancements are being made in the science of telephony. And as new items of service become available, you may rest assured that Hico telephone patrons will be among the first to enjoy the benefits.
