Partial History of Iredell Church Given at Homecoming

A part of the brief history of the Iredell Methodist Church read at the anniversary and homecoming last Sunday, October 30, is as follows:

A congregation of Methodist was organized in the Hester School House, about two miles from where the town of Iredell was afterwards located, in the year 1869. Later the Rev. S. B. Jones, father of Rev. W. V. Jones, then the pastor, organized a church in the Ward Keeler house where services were held for a time and in 1871 Wills Chapel was erected.

Dr. J. S. Wills of Limestone County donated five acres of land for a church and camp ground, and upon this the church was built and named Wills Chapel in honor of the donor.

Among the charter members of these congregations we find the names, E. H. Bancroft, Mac Allen, H. R. Pinnell, Rev. E. Trimble, G. A. Gordon and Reuben Phillips.

Members on the church rolls today who are descendants of these charter members are Fannie Dawson, Mary Parks, Davis Tidwell, Wilson Phillips, Dorothy Jean Phillips, Weldon Phillips, Reba Phillips, Loretta Owens, W. J. Cunningham, Kenneth Cunningham, Alberta McAden, Nicki McAden, Alma Oldham, W. R. Phillips, Manzie Burson, Vinita Blakley, Billie Jack and Gene Blakley. The records show that Manzie Phillips Burson to be the oldest member, having joined in the year 1894.

The church has had three buildings, the present building being 50 years old, and was built on land donated by the late George M. Gordon, grandson of one of the charter members. This building is in its fiftieth year, and it for this reason a homecoming celebration was held.

Records have been run and the pastors and presiding elders names are on a list giving the years each served from 1869 to 1960. It will be hard to keep or find a record like this for another ninety years, as the new way of recording the minutes is different to the older way. We have found that the older members were more prone to put first things first, that being their church.

For that reason we have our church of today. We should serve our church today as our forefathers did so that someday our descendants may be able to look back with pride that they have something worthwhile to be proud of.

Carlton Students Make Perfect Score on Driver Test

Driver License Patrolman Julian Whitley of Goldthwaite District gave the operator driver's license tests to the students of Carlton High School taking Driver Education. This test is given after the students have completed at least thirty class hours in the course. The students must be at least 14 years of age when the course is started.

Ola Faye Reich and Jack Henry Self made perfect scores on both the Road Signs Test and Road Rules Test. This is the first time, according to Supt. Barron, that this many people ever made perfect scores in his driver training classes.

Rodney Williams made perfect scores in the spring semester last year. Jeanie Bowden made 100 on the Sign Test, and H. B. Mason made the same score on the Rules Test. Virginia Theford made 95 on each test. Linda Sharp passed both tests, which made the class 100 per cent. H. B. Mason will have to have his glasses corrected before he can receive his beginner's license. Robert Helton began the class late and will have to complete 30 classroom hours before he can take the tests.

After a member of the Driver Training Class has his beginner license, he has to complete at least six hours of behind the wheel driving. The required six hours of observation can be completed before the student gets his beginner's license. As students progress at different rates, some require more than 20 hours of behind the wheel driving before they can pass the Road Driving Test.

Students who complete satisfactorily Carlton High School Driver Training Program are eligible for a ten per cent reduction in insurance either individually or through policies issued to their parents. This is in addition to the 20 per cent reduction for no accidents or moving traffic violations under Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan.

Carlton Receives Allotment for Guidance Material

Supt. A. J. Barron reports that Carlton Independent School District has been allotted $260.25 for the purchase of guidance materials under the Texas Program of Guidance, Counseling and Testing. This allotment is for 100 per cent reimbursement on guidance materials purchased between July 1, 1960 and June 30, 1961. This program is directed by the Division of Guidance and Supervision of the Texas Education Agency which also offers assistance in the form of consultative help in any phase of the guidance program.

The program is limited to the secondary school districts which create an approved guidance plan. The Texas Program for Guidance, Counseling and Testing has set the standards which must be met before schools may participate. One of these requirements is to have in operation a testing program which meets the requirements of the State program.

New standards for guidance in Texas Public Schools will be effective for the 1961-62 school year. Schools, however, are encouraged to put into operation these standards in strengthening guidance services as soon as possible. These standards are rather long and in detail, but the program in a few words is: Each local school system shall have a comprehensive and workable program of guidance services, a program outlining in writing, with policies approved by the local board of trustees and administered by the professional personnel, and extended to all grades in which instruction is offered.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

Monday night the P.T.A. presented its annual Halloween Carnival. The evening was highlighted by the crowning of the Halloween Kings and Queens of grade school and high school. The royal couple from high school was Miss Lou Laminack and Melton Lowry. They represented the twelfth grade. For elementary school the winning grade was the fifth grade who was represented by Barry Adams and Mary Beth Martin.

SPOTLIGHT

The Spotlight was rather bored Friday night because it just couldn't spot anyone. I tried to cheer him up, so we decided to go to Cranfills Gap to the football game since the Tigers were playing. Couples I spotted were Linda P. and Harlon K., Sheila P. and Wayne W.

Saturday night we had better luck and spotted more couples. We just went everywhere. First to Stephenville where we saw Mitchell M. and Martha P.; Nell E. and Margaret W.; Sheila P. and Wayne W.; Linda P. and Harlon K.; Kay Y. and Eilly E.; Joy L. and Charles T.; Nelda W. and Jimmy H.; Fleldon H. and Nova W.; Linda H. and Lee F.

Then way down to Bryan where I spotted Bobby B. and Linda ?; Oh, how I would like to have stayed down there a few more days. Bet Bobby would have to.

Since it was getting late and I was getting tired and sleepy, I came home for a short rest, then I was gone again. Couples I spotted on Sunday were Neil E. and Joy J.; Charles T. and Joy L.; Nelda W. and Jimmy H.

All the Spooks and Goblins were out Monday night, and boy, were they ever Spooky. I tried to spot a few people that were doing some haunting, besides me. I just couldn't find anyone, then all of a sudden I heard a scream. It was at the school house! Yet, it was the annual Halloween Carnival. Seems as though one of Senior girls had gotten a bit of a fright when she got knocked off of the dump board.

Some of the couples I spotted afterwards, getting into meanness were: Linda H. and Lee F.; Sheila P. and Wayne W.; Kay Y. and Eilly B.; Linda P. and Harlon K.; Neil E. and Lou L.; Jimmy H. and Nelda W.; Mary A. and Shel.

ly H.; Barbara R. and Mike L.; Judy O. and Rony G.; Lee B. and Nita K.; Gary D. and Nita D.

Bomer Harris Appointed Conservationist of Local Dist. Replacing Veteto

Bomer Harris, formerly of Quanah, has recently moved to Hamilton where he is unit conservationist with the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Harris replaces George Veteto, who recently joined the staff of the Texas Fish and Game Commission, and now resides in Tennessee Colony, Texas, near Palestine.

Harris was formerly unit conservationist for the Lower Pease River District of the SCS for 14 years, during which time the district made 782 agreements on 282,332 acres of farm and ranch land. While Mr. Harris was in charge of the Quanah office, a total of 629 farms applied one or more practices in 1960 with 486 farmers served.

The district, under the leadership of Harris and District Supervisors, won awards such as the $500 National Newsletter award, Area I Fort Worth Press Award twice for $800 and the Essay Contest on Conservation and conservation group award.

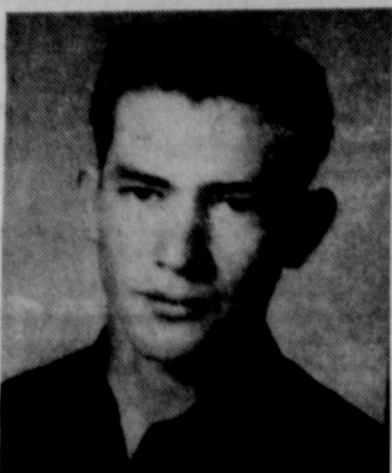

Among the programs that the district promoted successfully under Harris' leadership in cooperation with the supervisors were a dealer-district program, Soil Stewardship Sunday, District newsletter, land judging contest, grass judging contest, wildlife contest, and wildlife program.

In addition to his Soil Conservation work, Harris has been an active member of First Baptist Church. He served as superintendent of the Sunday School for the past five years, was vice-chairman of the deacons in 1958, vice president of the Brotherhood two years, and with Mrs. Harris, served as a leader of the young people's training union.

Coffee Time

CHATTER

By HELEN OGLE

A sample of winter weather arrived this week, and along with it came a boost of energy and pep for everyone. At least early each morning, people seem to be in a hurry to grab a quick cup of coffee and then rush on to work.

It seemed a bit nippy outside for sorting the morning mail, and J. P. Rodgers really loaded the car in a hurry and was on his way.

P. W. Hamilton and Odis Petsick loaded their arms with the morning mail and hurried down the street for a quick cup of coffee.

Emma Dee Hedges is an early customer at the post office, where she collects all the daily papers, then sits in the car for a quick glance through them before going for a cup of coffee and visit with friends.

I think the cold weather brought along a contagious fever also, as the deer hunters are talking loud and strong this week. Mrs. D. C. Hyles says she doesn't want to think about it as she can't leave for her lease before Thanksgiving.

Election talk still is very quite, except for the election date, and that seems prominent in everyone's talk. Just four days away, so don't forget to go vote.

Winnie Jones was in town shopping Monday, and trying to save some "washin' dimes" out of the change left from paying bills.

People are hurrying around like mad Monday, and I soon found out that the excitement was all at the school auditorium where parents and students were preparing for the annual carnival. I think workers were rewarded for their efforts after attending the show that night. The style show certainly presented some lovely creations that were modeled superbly by our local talents. I was sorry I didn't have my camera with me to snap some candid shots.

It was nice to visit with a former resident, Ethel Lewallen, who was enjoying the carnival. Ethel said they were enjoying their new home in Stephenville, but would always feel like a part of Hico.

This might get to be a money-making business if we had more customers like Mamie Graves. She stopped by the office to renew subscriptions and left a fifty cent tip, at least that's what we suppose it's for Mamie.

Buck Price trying to rush us to death to get him a copy of the News Review on Tuesday. After watching five minutes of ad casting, he left the office and said he'd seen enough of that dirty work and he'd be glad to wait until Thursday.

When you see Jane Hafer leave town headed for Austin to visit with her parents, don't be alarmed if the car is piled high with an extra tire, a can of gasoline, some red ant poison, and maybe an experienced mechanic. Last week's trip for Jane must have been anything but pleasant!

Vera Bulloch says these afternoons are so beautiful and sunny that she just can't make herself stay home and work in the yard, so she is trying to get some early shopping done.

Faye Herrington has taken her share of jokes and ribbing after receiving a fall that left her with a badly bruised and black face. No serious injury was incurred, but Faye is glad that she fell into the store entrance instead of outward onto the cement.

Bess Mings is hobbling around on one foot these days, after previously trying to walk with one foot asleep. Takes two wide awake feet to get around, eh Bess?

W. R. Hampton is back on duty after suffering injuries when he fell in a furnace opening. Seems that W. R. was repairing the furnace at home when the fire alarm went in, and when he returned home, forgot about what he was doing until he stepped into the opening.

I think you'll enjoy this clipping handed to me by Mrs. Annie Gordon that reads:

SOMETHING GOOD
Wouldn't this old world be better if the folks we met would say "I know something good about you" And then treat us that way? Wouldn't it be fine and dandy if each hand clasp, warm and true, Carried with it this assurance "I know something good about you."

Wouldn't life be more happy

Couple Married in Hico 50 Years Ago Celebrate 50th Anniversary

A telephone call from the woman who made her wedding dress was one of the highlights of the day recently for Mrs. Basil W. Caldwell when she and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell, now of Tulare, California, were married Oct. 9, 1910 in Hico, where Mrs. Caldwell was born and raised. Caldwell was born in Alabama and moved to Hico as a young boy.

Their anniversary was noted at a reception at their home on the Lindsay highway, Tulare, with approximately 150 relatives and friends attending.

Their four children and their husbands and wives were hosts for the affair. Mrs. Caldwell received the telephone call from Mrs. Mary Henderson, 94, Arvin, her former Sunday school teacher in Hico, who made her wedding dress.

The honored couple cut twin cakes which formed the numerals "50". The cakes were placed on an Irish linen hand embroidered tablecloth belonging to their daughter, which is thought to be over 125 years old. The cloth was made in Germany. Golden candles set the theme for the event and a centerpiece of chrysanthemums was used.

Among those attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Martin, of Hemet, Calif., childhood friends of the Caldwells when they all lived in Hico.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Dodd and Susan of Lawn visited in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Meador this past week end.

"Less To Pay All The Way"

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE RICHARDSON

We were sorry to learn Monday of the death of Mrs. Charlie Giescke of Hico, who only a few weeks ago was able to be up and attend funeral services for her husband. While both were ill recently she had expressed a desire that she too could go on with her husband. Her wish and desire has been fulfilled and to the children, we would say, be reconciled to their passing. We feel sure if they could speak they would say they wanted it that way. They had lived a full life, a life of usefulness to their family and fellow-man, true and helpful to the church. This writer had known the family since the early years of their marriage, attending church at Millerville with our parents. To those left to mourn we would say weep not as those who have no hope, for surely there is a Heaven, home awaiting this faithful couple who have rendered a life of service to their family and fellow-man while treading life's path way together. Our sincere sympathy is extended to the children and others who are bereaved in their passing.

This writer was deeply grieved and shocked when we read in the News Review last Friday night where relatives had attended funeral services for Mrs. Tom Luckie of Lubbock on Oct. 22. We at once called the Cecil Luckies to learn if we were correct in the identity. Mrs. Luckie informed us she had suffered a blood clot to the brain while in town some eight days prior to her death. She stated she was only conscious a few days after she was stricken. The Luckies formerly resided in the Fairy community, living on our place for several years and on the Uncle Bob Parks place. Dolly was a dear friend of ours and we had met her a few times when they would come to Hico to visit her mother, Mrs. Hoiden. We were sorry we did not know they were here some months back to attend his brother's funeral or we would have tried to have seen them. She is survived by her husband and one son, J. T. Jr. and one grandson, all of Lubbock. Our deepest sympathy is extended to them at this time of deep sorrow.

Our latest report from Mrs. C. M. Broyles was that she had been moved from the Clifton Hospital to Scott and White in Temple. Mrs. R. E. Burnett of Hico, sister of Mrs. Broyles, informed us that she had talked to Mr. Broyles by telephone since her arrival at Temple and he stated that they had found no serious ailments and he thought she would be able to return home in a few days. By this time we hope she has been returned home.

Jim Fuqua, who has been a patient at Scott and White has been transferred to the Hico Hospital. The Fuquas lived in the Warren Creek community. Mr. Fuqua has been ill for a year or more. Our best wishes to he and his dear wife who is at his bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Driver of Grand Prairie spent the week end in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Driver and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wolfe.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie McCoy, Randy and Ronda of Dallas spent the week end here visiting with his mother and sister and husband, Mrs. J. L. McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley, Johnnie's aunt, Mrs. Ethel Burns, who had spent the past few weeks with her sister-in-law, Mrs. McCoy, returned home with them and will visit a few days in Dallas before returning to her home in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blakley, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blakley, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Blakley and their niece, Mrs. Lillie Morrison of Stephenville attended a birthday celebration last Sunday at Pearl Community Center in honor of their Aunt Annie Blakley's 94th birthday, which was Thursday, Oct. 27. This date also was the birthday of Scott Blakley.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Jimmie Don and Janice and the writer visited Sunday in the home of their sister and daughter. Mr.

Former Fairy Resident Dies in Waco

Friends and acquaintances of L. V. (Vera) Slater of Waco were very sorry to learn of his passing on Oct. 24 at his home.

He was born to the late Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Slater July 15 1894 at Flat. The family later moved to Duffau and were neighbors of the writer's family. Later both families moved to the Fairy community where Vera resided until early manhood.

In Nov. 1938, he was married to Miss Freddie McCorkel of Gatesville. To this union one daughter was born.

The family resided in the Gatesville area, where Mrs. Slater taught school in various rural schools. She had been teaching at Riesel near Waco for the past several years.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Oct. 26 at Gatesville, with burial there also.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Freda Slater; one daughter Miss Mary Ruth Slater of the home; three brothers, G. W. Slater of Crane, B. T. Slater of Fairy, and Crockett Slater of Grand Prairie; three sisters, Mrs. Emmett Anderson and Mrs. R. W. McAdams of Fairy, and Mrs. Leonard Lively of Hico; and his step-mother, Mrs. Kate Slater of Hico.

Those from Fairy attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Anderson, Mrs. Byrd Slater, Mrs. R. W. McAdams and children, Jenny Ruth and Glen, and Mr. Frank Hines. Our sympathy is extended to those bereaved in the death of Mr. Slater.

and Mrs. D. E. Allison at Dublin. The writer attended the 5th Sunday singing at the Second Baptist Church Sunday afternoon. Homer Pendleton was in charge and all enjoyed some good singing. Other guests in the Allison home were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman and Karen, and Darrel Allison of Fort Worth and Miss Conita Clayton of Dublin.

Quite a cool nortner greeted us Sunday morning and the nights and early mornings have been rather cool. The high winds have probably helped thresh out a few pecans. Several have been picking up pecans this week. They do not seem to be too plentiful this year.

The writer was a business visitor in Hamilton last Friday and while there visited at the Wilford rest home. Sorry to learn that Mrs. Ganske had suffered a stroke and had been quite ill but was some better. We also visited in the home of Mrs. Floyd Noland, who is recovering from recent surgery at the Hillcrest Hospital in Waco for an injury to her neck received in a car wreck December 24. A sliver of bone was taken from her left hip bone and planted in the injured neck joint. She stated she had endured much suffering as well as expense, but hopes to be able to discard the neck brace which she had to wear since the accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brunson and family, their married son and family, all of Morgan, attended church services here Sunday and visited in the home of their sister, and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sills.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, parents of Don Hicks who worked for the L. J. Wood's for a time, visited during the week end in the Wood home and attended church here. Sorry we did not get their place of residence.

in their fields and finish sowing their grain. Since the recent rains the ground is still full wet and the heavy dews are hindering for a few hours in early morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Porterfield and Billy Mavin visited Saturday in Goldthwaite with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Tilley and son.

D. E. Allison of Dublin and Tex. le Allison of De Leon visited a while with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison of Waco, who spent Sunday at their home here. Mr. and Mrs. Allison were accompanied here by their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dellis Seago of Waco, who came up to visit with his mother, Mrs. Jim Seago in Hico.

IT HAPPENED . . .

HERE OR NEAR

By E. E. DAWSON

I don't know how it is with other folks but when I get out on the road to travel any considerable distance, a lot of things are brought to mind as we get along. Maybe it is a town or community, or some structure. Well, any number of things bring to mind occurrences or people or events of some character.

The other day as Ruth and I sped along Highway 22 we came to the city of Meridian, and in keeping with a long established habit I told Ruth about that distance that separates the court house square from the railroad station, a very long mile. That distance dates back to the building of the railroad there. The builders of the railroad decided to go at least a mile to the east of the town and lay out a new townsite and reap considerable rewards of financial character from the sale of real estate. But the Meridianites refused to fall for the scheme and sat where they were. The result was that the station they had to patronize was a bit more than a mile from the square. A lively stable firm operated a horse-drawn bus from the town to the station. And thereby hangs a tale.

One night a drummer got off the train and climbed into the bus and when the bus was loaded it went on its way at a pretty slow pace toward town. The drummer was tired and somewhat fussy. He said to the driver, "Why in so-in-so did they put the station so far from town?" The driver, a negro man, replied in a high treble voice, "I don't know, boss, unless they wanted to get on the railroad."

I always tell my auditors that tale when we travel that piece of road, and they indulge me a bit by smiling.

Further along that road we came to Peoria, a community of Hill County. And I always think of Fibber McGee and Mollie, and make some remark about that funny pair that used to be on radio every night. And at Peoria is an ancient cemetery where a lot of funerals are held of old-timers of Hill County, often from a distant part of the state. You will remember that Fibber and Mollie lived at Peoria Illinois, and mentioned it so often.

Then just out of Hillsboro west of the city is a rather long concrete bridge across a stretch of low ground through which flows a small stream. To me that bridge is a monument. It happened some years ago when only a small low bridge crossed that miniature stream that a mother and her son who had been to Hillsboro for their regular shopping were on the way back to their rural home. It was raining very hard, and just as the car got to the bridge a head rise came down the stream and all across that low area and swept the car and its occupants away and drowned both mother and son. The whole state read the story next day with horror in their hearts.

Hill County citizens, the city of Hillsboro, and the State Highway Department then put the present long safe bridge across the stream and the lowland. Now it would take a deluge of spectacular character to do hurt to anybody crossing the stream. So the bridge is a monument to that unfortunate mother and her son, both of whom were entitled to life. And in like manner it is a monument to the kindness in the hearts of the people who made haste to see that no such tragedy happened there again.

It is worthy of mention that so many of our improvements in all areas of life have been made because some hazard to human life and welfare had to be averted. Humanity is pretty good in spite of the loud-voiced critics who are forever yelling their heads off because of some imperfection.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

Army worms seem to be letting up some but they have done rather heavy damage over the county.

Some fields of grain have not been damaged and these sure do look fine. Cool wet weather is an incentive for rapid increases in numbers of the worms, and this is what we have had this fall. The adult worms are active in late evening and at night. Eggs are laid by the moths at night in clusters of 50 or several hundred, preferably on grass blades. Eggs hatch in 2 to 4 days. Larvae or worms feed for 2 to 3 weeks. The pupal stage is passed in the ground and lasts from 10 days to 2 weeks.

There may be more than one generation a year and a generation may be completed in less than a month. Full grown worms are about one and a half inches in length. They may be identified by the presence of a prominent white inverted Y on the front of the head. On the back there are three yellowish-white hair lines present from head to tail. On each side there is a wider dark stripe and next to it is an equally wide some, what yellow wavy stripe tinted with red.

Weather conditions will determine whether we will continue to have trouble or not. Too, it will determine the length of time to complete this generation. It is probable that we can continue to have trouble until a good frost or freeze.

With the rains we have been having, we have many acres of new Johnson grass and also a crop of volunteer grain sorghums. These could cause livestock trouble if grazed right after a frost.

Johnson grass and grain sorghums sometimes develop a high prussic acid content after a frost, and this is very dangerous to livestock. There is no way of telling from observations, whether these plants contain prussic acid or not.

Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, explains that certain chemical changes occur in the frost-wilted plants, and these changes produce the prussic acid. The poison acts quickly and can kill an animal within a very short time after the damaged plant is eaten.

Whether a poisoned animal can be saved depends upon how quickly a veterinarian can get to it. Frosted Johnson grass or sorghum should not be grazed until it is completely dry. If it is ready to cut before a frost it may be cut the first day after the frost. Even so, care must be taken to see that it is completely dry before baling.

Silage is another way to use the frosted plants. Generally, enough prussic acid is lost during the ensiling process, and as silage is removed and fed, to make it safe for livestock. Animals shouldn't be allowed to self-feed from a silo filled with frosted sudan or sorghum however.

If you have a field of frosted feed, or silage made from one, and you wish to test it, the feed can be fed to an inferior animal, one you don't mind killing. If there is enough of the prussic acid in the feed it should kill the animal shortly after having fed on it.

The volunteer cotton that is coming back is furnishing some mighty good feeding for those boll weevils that are still around. This condition is going to cause many cotton growers to have to re-work their cotton fields again.

The locals will attempt to balance their season record at 5.3 for the year, and for a third place finish in the district. At present Valley Mills is tops in the district standings with a perfect record. Meridian also sports a perfect record in the district, but they have Valley Mills and Cranfills Gap left on their slate, and few observers concede the Jackets a chance of upsetting the Eagles.

Evant is 1.1 in district play, while the Tigers are 1.2. The Tigers won their first district game last week at Cranfills Gap, posting a 36.0 win in a game played in the mud.

Gap was no match for the Tigers, even though the mud-splashed field was an aid in slowing Tiger backs. Hico scored eight points in each of the first two periods, added six points in the third, and finished with a flourish in the final quarter with 14 points.

The Tigers took the opening kickoff and in 15 plays marched 65 yards for their first touchdown. Bobby Boone got the marker with a one-yard blast, and Neil Ellis ran for two extra points to make the score 8.0. The drive consumed most of the first period, with Gap able to run only four plays in the quarter.

The locals started their second TD drive late in the first period, and scored early in the second quarter on a seven-yard blast by Ellis. Boone converted for two points and the Tigers led 16.0. The locals contained the Gap in their own end of the field for the remainder of the first half.

Hico's third touchdown was set up by a short Gap punt. Putting the ball in play at the Gap 41, five plays were required to cover the distance to the goal. Don Jer-nigan passed 31 yards to Mark McElroy for the touchdown. The conversion attempt was no good and the Tigers led 22.0.

Bobby Boone set up the fourth Tiger counter when he intercepted a Gap pass at the 40 yard line and ran it back all the way to the one. From there Boone got the call and blasted one yard for his second TD of the night. Conversion attempt was no good and the Tigers held a 28.0 lead.

On the first play following the kickoff Harold Hathcock intercepted another Gap pass, handed off to Boone who ran to the Gap 22 before being downed. Ellis got the last three yards of the drive with a pay-off punch good for the final six points of the night. Ellis also converted, and the Tigers led 36.0 ending the game.

PAYMENT IN KIND—WHAT KIND?

In the course of a heated national campaign political catch phrases bounce hither and yon through the autumn air, and a favorite target is the vast and complex problem of American agriculture.

Payment-in-kind has been pointed out by Agriculture Commissioner John C. White as one of these catch phrases—a phrase which on first hearing carries perhaps a shrewd and solvent ring to it. It sounds somehow as if the government is going to pay for something without spending any cash.

But analyzing this payment-in-kind proposal from a Texas and a Southwestern viewpoint, as the commissioner has done, seems to make it sound a good deal less attractive.

"Payment-in-kind," he says "has been advanced as one phase of a plan to help solve the farm problem. Ostensibly this would be applied toward helping get rid of agricultural surpluses by giving certain surplus commodities to our farmers in return for a voluntary cut-back in production on their part. In other words, if a farmer voluntarily would agree to cut his production of a certain commodity by such-and-such a quantity, in return he would be given such-and-such an amount of either that or some other commodity from surplus stocks.

"Where would it lead? First, it must be remembered that the vast bulk of our farm surplus is in feedstuffs. This would mean that these surplus feedstuffs, when given to farmers, would have to be fed to cattle and other livestock as the only practical means of disposal.

"Our cattle raisers here in Texas and in the Southwest do not have to be told that the cattle population of this country is already dangerously high and that markets are showing definite signs of weakening. Start feeding out a few more head in every cow lot with surplus feedstuffs and see what would happen.

"What this proposal means is that surplus feedstuffs would be dumped back on the farms to feed more cattle, and it would lead to certain disaster as far as livestock markets are concerned. Cattle raisers in our part of the country are still in the process of recovery from a disastrous seven-year drought, and certainly should not be called on to carry this new burden in disposing of government created surpluses.

"This is another instance of primary pitfalls in trying to deal with our complicated farm situation, which is well understood by those who have been trying to deal with it for any length of time. It would actually only add to the problem if we attempt to relieve one segment of our stricken agriculture at the expense of another vital area."
