Plans are fast taking shape for the 14th Annual Hico Livestock Show, slated next Friday, March 24, at City Park. Several changes have been made this year which should further spectator and exhibitor interest.

Entries are coming in at a fast pace, and a record number could be in the making. Last year almost 300 animals were entered in the show.

Prize money has been increased in some divisions, with one new division added to the show this year. A Brown Swiss class has been added to the dairy division, and several entries are expected for the first time in the special class.

Deadline for entries is Monday, March 20. However, entries may be made the day of the show with double fees in effect on that day.

Fees have been listed as follows by the sponsoring organization, Hico FFA Chapter: Beef Cattle $1.50; Swine 75c; Poultry 50c each entry; Dairy Cattle, $1.50; Sheep and Goats 75c; and Dogs 25c.

The judging schedule has been rearranged this year to better take care of the entries. The schedule will be as follows: Swine 9:30 a.m.; Goats 10:30 a.m.; Sheep 11:00 a.m.; Dairy 1:30 p.m.; Poultry 1:30 p.m.; Dogs 3:00 p.m.; and Beef Cattle 3:00 p.m.

Harold Walker, local chapter advisor, stated this week that the annual auction sale where local boys' projects would be sold would be held immediately after the beef cattle judging. Several projects are being groomed to sell.

The local show has gained wide recognition over this and surrounding areas for its quality, and a large number of entries and exhibitors is expected next Friday.

Large Number Visit At Carlton During Public School Week

Carlton, March 15.—It was hard to make an accurate count of the patrons who came to school to visit on Public School Week, or those who came to school on other matters. Thirty-one parents came to individual classrooms and visited while classes were in session. The Carlton faculty had hoped for a larger count.

The Masonic Lodge of Texas lend their support to Public School Week. This year the Masonic Lodge 519 of Carlton sponsored a chili supper March 10. Mrs. Wayne Jordan and Coach Honeycutt and their Junior and Senior classes were in charge of food. Mrs. Parish, Mrs. Sills, Mrs. Burnett, and Mrs. Patterson decorated the auditorium. Jess Reeves was publicity director. Wayne Cozby made the arrangements and was Master of Ceremonies Friday night.

The turn-out was gratifying. It was one of the largest crowds to attend a dinner at Carlton. It was impossible to register everyone who attended. One hundred twenty-eight names were listed with at least 48 more people known to have attended.

Rev. Fred F. Devaney of Waco brought an inspiring message on the part of education has played in Texas, and indicated some of the frontiers of education left to be conquered.

Carlton was honored to have visitors from Fairy, Hico, Waco, Dublin and Stephenville. (Report written by Supt. A. J. Barron).

Hamilton-Coryell SCS District News

Eleven farmers and ranchers of the Hico area of the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District met in the Fire Hall at Hico last week with technicians of the Soil Conservation Service to determine realistic figures on what it costs per acre to run a ranch and how much return can be expected on overused rangeland as compared to properly used rangeland.

Leslie Hereford, Claude Hoffman and Bomer Harris of the Soil Conservation Service, who conducted the meeting, were told by farmers and ranchers that overused grassland would hardly pay a profit and in most cases lost a little money per acre after all expenses were subtracted from the total income. The group agreed that livestock men can still make a good profit with good management where grassland is properly used.

Others in attendance at this meeting were Charles Golightly, J. B. Curry, Glenn Riley, Lester Timmerman, Tom Holeyfield, O. C. King, A. L. Miles, Odis Petsick, O. H. Brummett, Don Allison, C. H. King, Ben Gleason, E. Bradley, John Golightly, and Howard Myers.

Farm Chemical Use Discussion Slated March 21 at Hamilton

Chemicals are being used more and more in agriculture, according to Ralph Lawrence, County Agent. Many farm and ranch operators are aware of the use of chemicals for brush control in pastures, and weed control in small grains. However, not too many are familiar with the use of chemicals for weed and grass control in row crops such as grain sorghums, corn and cotton.

Tuesday night, March 21, there will be a meeting in the district court room in Hamilton starting at 7:30 p.m. Representatives from chemical companies will discuss the use of chemicals on farms and ranches for the control of brush in pastures and for the control of weeds and grass in row crops.

The discussion will be illustrated with slides and films. Farm and ranch operators are invited to attend, as well as others who might be interested.

Do you know exactly how the news started, but every once in a while someone comes in the office and asks how much we publish a news story.

The only thing for sale on this page is space for advertising. That is perhaps where the real business of charging for news is to start. We must, out of necessity, draw a line between actual news and what is advertising. Sometimes the line is thin, and we go along with a person making the request and such, when the copy submitted is advertising.

Some time we did make a publishing wedding picture in the NR columns, but the cost was small (actual cost to us). Now, thanks to things, we no longer charge for these services. An instance when a charge for a picture is when in our own opinion, that picture does not carry sufficient value to a majority of our readers to merit the expense. So we have requests to publish pictures which would be of interest only to the person making the request.

News is free in this paper. We urge all residents and business men of the area to send in their news items, visits, activities. Not having a news staff, or even a full-time reporter, don't wait for us to submit your notes either in person at the NR office or take it from there and put your story into news.

People may not realize it, but the last general election in Hico county citizens lost because of improperly filled ballots. The figure represents 10 per cent of the total Hamilton County. In the election box—No. 20—32 per cent of the total votes cast were lost.

Figures were brought to the attention of the State Republican Committee in an effort to get the public aware of the importance of voting carefully and accurately.

The public sentiment for election and simplification of Texas election laws added action by the Texas Legislature.

WHO'S WHO

This week's Who's Who features a long lanky lady's man with muscles of iron. If he is ever needed for something it is easy to find him by just looking for a circle of girls with someone standing in the middle issuing flattery. Laziness is another description which fits him perfectly. He paid a certain person to shoot him so he wouldn't have to run track. He has lettered two years in football and was the local star in basketball. A big smile is usually plastered across his face and sometimes it spreads into sheepish grin. By now everyone knows the subject of these remarks. Our one and only lover-boy of the Sophomore class—Don Jernigan.

SPOTLIGHT

This summer-like weather seems to be the tonic we all needed. Coats, mufflers and mittens were left at home and for the first time in a long while I saw people instead of mountains of material. I was surprised to see so many couples out Friday night. I didn't think anyone would have recuperated from all those slumber parties Thursday night. Those spotted were Neida W. and Jimmy H.; Linda H. and Lee F.; Sheila P. and Melton L.; Joy L. and Charles T.; Dianne H. and Reagan G.; Linda P. and Harlon K.

Saturday night was quite busy. Those spotted were Neida W. and Jimmy H.; Linda H. and Lee F.; Kathy H. and Harold H.; Margaret W. and Wayne W.; Sheila P. and Melton L.; Kay Y. and Billy B.; Betty H. and Billy C. (seems that congratulations are due!); Joy L. and Charles T.; Dianne H. and Reagan G.; Linda P. and Harlon K.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN—

Selective Tax Proposal Backed By Governor

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Austin, March 15.—After hours of fiercely critical debate, the House voted by a surprising 149-to-1 to attack the state's fiscal problems by working first to retire the deficit as an emergency matter.

This is the approach advocated by Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker of the House James Turman. Several who spoke against the deficit-retiring resolution voted for it.

Agreeing to retire the deficit, however, is not the same as agreeing on how to do it. Some new measures, big and broad, have been introduced.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola has submitted an omnibus tax measure which he says will bring in $293,000,000 over a two-year period. It is backed by Governor Daniel.

connection with Public School Week. The projects covered many different fields of science. They were judged by Louise Blair, H. D. Walker and V. H. Jenkins. First, second and third places were awarded in both divisions.

First place in biology went to Eileen Gannaway and Mary Adams for their bulletin board showing the life of a frog. Second place was awarded to Margaret Burgan for her poster, "V of Life." Third place was given to Joy Elkins for her poster showing the structure of a bird.

In the chemistry division, first place honors went to Robert Reed for his geiger counter. Second place was a tie between Bobby Boone's electro-plating device and an electronic air purifier made by Margaret Warren and Danny Reeves. Third place was also a tie between Sheila Partain and Fieldon Haley's "Magnetic Mary" and Lou Laminack and Neida Whiteside's crystal lattices.

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grade has started a Nature Club.

Officers elected are: Mike Reeves, president; Jody Littleton, vice-president; Suzanne Lackey, secretary; Karn Dunn, treasurer; and Steve Knudson, program chairman.

Our club meets on Friday of each week at the last period from 3 to 3:45. We have studied flowers and birds. As we answered the roll call we were to name a bird and a flower.

Hinson's bill includes levies on natural gas pipelines, power-driven objects and parts, utilities, stock transfers, jewelry and watches, construction materials, soft drinks, beer, wine, liquor, restaurant meals.

According to the governor's office, the bill would provide revenue for an $800 a year teacher pay raise and other spending but is not aimed at wiping out the deficit.

Reps. John Allen of Longview and Forrest A. Harding of San Angelo are proposing an even bigger one. It is a 2 per cent general sales tax to raise an estimated $317,000,000.

Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas has introduced, as promised, his "Texas broad-based excise tax."

It is not called a sales tax, but in the language of the bill, imposes "upon each separate sale at retail of tangible personal property within this state an excise tax of 2 per cent." It has a long list of exemptions, including some already-taxed items.

Co-op Bill Killed

Rea electric co-op hopes for more city privileges were tumbled by a 77 to 64 House vote.

Several years ago the Legislature passed a law authorizing co-ops to continue to serve the same customers when a co-op area is annexed by a city. This year the co-ops sought permission to add new customers to existing lines in annexed areas.

Opponents charged that this would put a government-subsidized operation in competition with private enterprise. Spokesmen for private utilities declared they have to pay 27.4 per cent of their income in taxes compared to 1.6 per cent for co-ops.

Co-op leaders say that, after taking electricity to areas the private companies wouldn't serve, they are now in a life-or-death struggle.

Annexing Curb Passed

No longer would Texas cities be able to reach out and annex "all out of doors" under a bill passed 139 to 5 by the House.

It provides that cities would be encircled by a zone in which they would have control of buildings and sanitation codes, but would not have taxing powers. A portion of this zone could be annexed each year.

Also, cities would be required to get city utilities to an annexed area within three years.

Loan Law Sought

House Banking Committee is engaged in one of the sessions' toughest and most difficult tasks—hammering out new regulations for the small loan industry.

A constitutional amendment voted by the people last November removed the blanket prohibition against interest of more than 10 per cent and gave the Legislature authority to set interest rates and regulate the loan industry.

Five bills are under study. In general, they provide for a maximum charge of 3 per cent per month on loans under $100, less for larger loans. Whether credit insurance should be included in maximum charges allowed is one of the questions at issue.

New Insurance Rate Bill

As a new approach to auto insurance rates, Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo has introduced a bill to require legislative approval of State Board of Insurance orders.

Hazlewood said his first approach, a bill directing the board to make certain changes in the present auto rate plan, had been "bottled up."

On the other side of the Capitol, the House Insurance Committee voted out favorably a "flexible rating" bill that would take away from the Insurance Board the authority to set auto rates.

A few days earlier, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson issued an opinion that under present law, only the State Board, not the companies, can set these rates.

Prior to his resignation as chairman of the State Insurance Board, Penn J. Jackson had suggested letting individual companies set up their own merit rating plans on an optional basis.

Mouthful

Texas A & M College exes, famed for their fierce defense of the school's traditions, have a problem.

Sen. W. T. Moore and Rep. B. H. Dewey, both of Bryan, are sponsoring bills to change A & M's name. There's more prestige in being called a "university" than a "college" they say.

Proposed measure would change name to Texas State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College, with a view eventually to making it just Texas State University.

Carlton Cage Teams Attend State Meet

Marlton, March 15.—At the end of the 1960 basketball season, the Carlton boys attended the State Basketball Tournament in Austin. At the end of the 1961 season a similar trip was arranged for the girls. As a school bus was to be used, the high school boys were invited along with the Seventh and Eighth Grade players. The Fifth and Sixth Grade players were not invited because of the length of the trip and age of the players.

Probably the best played game was Sundown's defeat of Moulton 50-46 to win the Class A title. Sundown had a well balanced team with a high scoring forward in Sus James. The most exciting game was Devine's win over Decatur in a sudden death, second overtime game to win third place in Class AA.

Although everyone wanted to stay for the finals in Class AA and B, the Saturday night games would be too late to stay in Austin. According to Coach Honeycutt, the main purpose of the trip was to see the best basketball teams in action. The group was well supervised by Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Scales, Supt. Barron and Coach Honeycutt. (Report written by Supt. A. J. Barron).

without special consent. A flood of new bills came in under the wire. Among them are measures that would: allow voters to put an "X" by the name of the person they wish to vote for instead of scratching all others on the ballot; provide for a 10 per cent merit pay raise for teachers to be awarded by local districts and financed 50-50 by state and districts; provide penalties for law enforcement officers who come out of "ambush" to arrest motorists; require children entering the first grade in public schools to have polo shots; increase workers' compensation insurance benefits to a maximum of $50 per week.

COLORS FOR REDECORATING

Thinking of doing some painting, papering, or refinishing this spring or summer? If so, choose colors for a reason—to get the special effects that you may want and at the same time, provide a comfortable, pleasant background for every-day living.

Begin by analyzing the room. Its use, shape, and exposure will determine colors best suited.

Decide how you want the room to look. Will it be light and gay, restful or dramatic? Do you want it to be predominately warm or cool?

A good color plan has few colors, usually no more than two or three—in different values and intensities. The best color schemes grow from a dark color, a light color and a bright color. Black, white and grey are not considered colors, but are often used to give a needed accent of light or dark.

Choose your favorite color if you do not need to consider the color or colors of furnishings which you must keep. Or select a picture or print which has your chosen colors and plan your scheme from that.

Good proportion of the different colors is important. This means that your color scheme will be definitely dark or light and that either warm or cool colors will predominate. Proportions of 60 per cent of area for one color, 30 per cent for a second color, and 10 per cent for accent, insure good proportion.

When you place the colors in a room, choose the color for the largest areas first—floor covering, walls, and large upholstered pieces. In most cases, these should be your most livable colors, or colors that are greyed in intensity. Next, choose colors for small upholstery and the window treatment. This treatment may be a blend of the room colors, or match or contrast with the walls. Lastly, choose your colors for accessories and small areas, pillows, lamps, ash trays, etc. Usually this accent color is the brightest color.

COOKING FOR WEIGHT WATCHERS

Any weight watchers in your family? If so, you, the cook, can be a big help by planning and preparing foods to cut calories. Here are some suggestions: Use nonfat, dry milk in cooking.

Keep desserts simple—fresh fruits or canned ones in fruits packed in water—not syrup.

Roast or oven or pan-broil poultry and fish instead of frying in fat. Avoid "breadings" use of egg batters on foods extra fat from the meat.

Serve salad materials raw or use low-calorie seasoned salad dressings. These can be made with tomato juice, lemon juice or vinegar.

Prepare food without adding sugar or flour whenever possible. Tempt appetites with broths, soups and gravies. Serve low-calorie items as nibbling or appetizers. Try cabbage wedges, carrot sticks, other low-calorie vegetables.

Avoid high fat foods such as cream, butter, gravies, sausage, potato chips, oil, pastries, fountain drinks and soda, bonated drinks and alcoholic beverages; and starchy foods such as macaroni, dry peas and

Coffee Time

CHATTER

By HELEN OGLE

I probably wouldn't add to the news-worthy value of the paper, but these spring days tempt me to try the roving reporter route. Watching a cork bobble in the creek might not make a story, but Buck Price says he's sure if I caught a big black bass that I'd know how to spell it. That depends on the size of the fish, Buck.

Besides not knowing how to spell, I have also been placed in the dog house. Reason—I goofed and Ralph Turner has reminded me that he and his wife Laverne (Parker) have been happily married for some eight years, and that believe it or not she did take his name at this time. With sincere apologies, Ralph, I promise to remember.

Dorothy Cryer was the envy of everyone in town Monday, as she packed her picnic lunch and sat under a shady tree to watch proceedings of the tower being raised at the local water plant. Only trouble she didn't pack enough to eat for all the extra viewers.

After reading the list of entries in the Senatorial race, Sim Everett says he's sorry he didn't place himself as an entry from Hico.

When 3 p.m. rolls around, Ruth Salmon and Mary Jo Patterson find no other solution but to close up shop and head for a coffee break. Better watch out girls, Conda is back on duty.

Garden Club members are pampering all their flowers and making plans for their annual flower show set for May 6.

Jack Moffett of Dallas was in town this week sending greetings to everyone and wondering if he would be able to get up an old-fashioned golf game, or if he'd have to take second choice and join the group in a bowling game.

Grace French spent an afternoon shopping the department stores for a blue can-can, and took time out to visit as she went along.

Wayne Rutledge monopolized the banking services so long that Bro. Barnes said he forgot what he went in there for.

Must have been an extra bit of spring fever that hit Louise Blair as she moved out the office furniture and hear this—mopped and waxed the floor.

It's about time for Florence Chenault and Ethel Lackey to get those chairs out for a neighborhood session of 'porch sittin'' and visiting.

Minnie Malone is staying busy these days keeping the weeds cut back and working those flower beds.

Ludie Hudson offering thanks for the use of the typewriter and said she was sure she didn't break the speed limit, but did get those notes pecked out.

Mattie Ramage is supposed to swap me a news tip for a cup of coffee, but found out she hasn't had time since she's watching the latest happenings out at the new gas lease.

Think of these things: If all the sleeping folk will wake up—And all the lukewarm folk will fire up—And all the discouraged folk will cheer up—And all the gossipers will shut up—And all the depressed folk will look up—And all the estranged folk will make up—And all the dishonest folk will "fess up"—We'd have a most cooperative and envious town to work and live in. Might even get the country club in action again, with unlimited activities available or a much-dreamed about swimming pool, active theatre, and maybe even a bowling lane or so.

As Ruth Reiersen of Cranfills Gap says, "We're plum out of news copy, and it's nelly time to go to press."

Mrs. Billy Thomasson and daughter of Fredericksburg spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Mollie Harvey.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Smith and children of De Leon were Sunday visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Randals.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Creswell and Mrs. Beulah Kent of Elk City, Oklahoma are visiting this week in the home of his sister, Mrs. Mollie Harvey.

Had a visitor? Been some place? Then call in your news items each week.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD—Mr. and Mrs. John L. Stover, 2020 Bel-Circle West, Corsicana, announce the engagement and impending marriage of their daughter, Mary Eloise to Arthur Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Astol T. Lancaster of Teague. Vows were read June 3, in the First Methodist Church in Teague. Both graduates of Teague High School and are students in Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. J. H. Baldrige and the late Rev. Baldrige, Hico residents.

Doshe Toole on Birthday

Days are a source of joy as was evidenced when Doshe Toole was honored on the occasion of her birthday. She is a resident of Hico Nursing Home.

Toole enjoyed opening lovely birthday gifts and a new hair style and perwave during the afternoon. Gifts of cake and were served to 20 guests of the home. Out of guests included Mrs. Ernest and daughter of Hamilton, and Hemphill of Evant, and A. Lindeman and children of Worth.

Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd Angell and children of Abilene were weekend guests in the home of his mother, Mrs. Louise Angell.

Miss Judy Griffiths of Dallas spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Griffiths.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Ables visited Friday night and Saturday with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ables and children of Everman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vickrey and daughters, Nancy and Lori from Midland visited with his mother, Mrs. A. A. Vickrey during the week end.

FAIRY

By MRS. EUNICE DANIEL

We have had spring-like weather for the past few days. Many fruit trees are in full bloom and pastures and grain fields are pretty and green. Many varieties of wild flowers and perennial plants are in full bloom. Makes us feel spring is here, although officially it is March 20.

Friends and acquaintances of the Lee King family and other relatives were saddened by news of the passing of their little twin daughter, Patricia Ann, Wednesday of last week. Mrs. King, her parents, Mr. Elmer Giesecke and her mother, Mrs. F. M. Holland have been very close friends of the writer for many years. Our deepest sympathy is extended to the bereaved parents and family and other relatives at this time of deep sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hoover of Dallas spent the week end in the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover and attended church here Sunday.

During a telephone conversation Sunday with Mrs. Ruby Manning of Hamilton she informed us that her brother, Wallace Burris of Brady had suffered a heart attack and was a patient in a Brady hospital. Wallace was known in the community and has many friends here who will wish for him a speedy recovery. This is his second attack.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goyne of DeSoto spent the week end at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hoover were business visitors in Waco Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Richardson and Jerry visited Sunday in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Adams of Hamilton. The visit was in honor of Mrs. Adams' birthday. Other guests in the home were their children and families. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Adams and son of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Gerland Lathan and children of Austin.

Mrs. Wayne Pittman and Karen of Dublin visited last Saturday in the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and family.

The writer attended singing at Land Valley Baptist Church Sunday and after singing hours visited a while at the Wilhoist restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Akin of Stephenville were Fairy visitors Monday afternoon. While here they visited at the cemetery and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Allison. They left $5.00 with the Allison for the Fairy Cemetery. We thank them so much. They are among our regular donors.

We haven't talked with the rest of the cemetery committee members as yet regarding the Good Friday cemetery working, but since Good Friday falls on March 10 this year, we ourselves feel the working should be set for some two weeks later, as there would be very little growth by that date. We will check on this and notify the public in due time.

Visitors in the Emmett Anderson home recently was their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Farmer and Mike of Grand Prairie, also their granddaughter, Patsy Yockel of Athens, Alabama. Mrs. Yockel returned home with her mother, Mrs. Farmer for a ten-day visit in Texas.

Mr. M. D. Manning of Temple filed an appointment at the Church of Christ Sunday. He was accompanied by his two daughters. They spent the remainder of the day visiting with his mother, Mrs. Doyle Manning of Hamilton.

The writer, accompanied by Mrs. Marvin Porterfield, visited Friday afternoon with Nora Brunson at McCloskey Hospital in Temple. He seemed to be some better, being able to talk with more ease, due to a shortage of breath. He expects to be sent to Dallas soon for further treatment. We hope the treatment will be effective and he will soon be much better and able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Drew and Cynthia of Dallas came down early last Friday to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanes and Mike. Mrs. Drew was ill of a severe cold. Mr. Drew returned home early Monday, while Mrs. Drew and baby remained until Tuesday. God to report her much better.

Those from here attending funeral services for little Patricia Ann King last Friday were Mrs. E. M. Hoover, Mrs. Marvin Porterfield and the writer.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Houston of near Lubbock visited last Thursday with her uncle, F. L. Cox. They were en route to College Station for a visit with Miss Bonnie Cox.

The writer visited Monday afternoon in the home of her mother, Mrs. A. L. Newman, returning by Dallas where we visited with Mrs. Lee King and children, her father, Mr. Elmer Giesecke, and Mrs. King's grandmother, Mrs. F. M. Holland, also stopped a few minutes at the Chester Land home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Whitehead and family visited Sunday with relatives in Dublin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Courtney of Fort Worth visited Sunday in the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones Jr. and family.

On our return home last Friday from Temple we caught a glimpse of a cemetery sign, "Muffat Cemetery" among the limbs of some trees at the cemetery gate. Knowing that our grandparents and a baby brother were buried at a Muffat Cemetery we told Mrs. Porterfield, who had accompanied us, that we just couldn't pass it without stopping to see if it was where our relatives were buried. We turned around and drove back and out into the cemetery road. We stopped and told Mrs. Porterfield, although it had been some 20 years since we were there at the burial of our grandmother, Mrs. Leotis May on May 2, 1906, we could remember it was near the driveway. She went one way, I the other. We had covered most of the cemetery, some three or more acres, when she noticed the graves in a row in an iron-fenced pen. This gave us the thrill of our life. We had been wanting to go to the cemetery for so long and not knowing the exact location we just had not got started on our search. We got a piece of paper from our purse and took the birth and death dates from all monuments. In a separate adjoining fenced lot for two were the graves of our great-grandparents, Stephen D. May, born Dec. 8, 1807, who died Nov. 4, 1885, with these words "Immigrated to Texas in 1859". His

EMMETT ANDERSON HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Friends and neighbors helped Emmett Anderson celebrate his 69th birthday, March 10 with a luncheon.

Those present were Mrs. Magnat Anderson, Mrs. Ella Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Jones, all of Hico, Mr. Jimmy Parks of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jackson of Meridian, and to complete the day for Mr. Anderson was the arrival of his daughter, Mrs. J. K. Farmer of Grand Prairie, and his granddaughter, Patsy Yockel from Athens, Alabama.

The honoree received many nice and useful gifts.

wife, Jane, born April 22, 1867 and died April 5, 1907.

Our grandfather, John D. May, born Sept. 2, 1824 and died May 26, 1922; our grandmother, Mrs. Leotis May, born Jan. 25, 1828 and died May 8, 1906; an uncle, Willie C. May, age 27, who died in 1864; an infant aunt, Minnie Leotis May, 1 month old, died in 1860; and our little brother, Thomas Ernest Newman, who was born Sept. 15, 1847 and died Oct. 5, 1866.

We do not know the lot was fenced, or we could have found it much easier since only a few were fenced. We had stopped our car within 60 feet of the lot. It all seemed like a dream come true. We had passed so many times during the past two years while visiting relatives at the Temple hospital, but had just failed to notice the cemetery sign. Really we are wondering if Highway 36 wasn't run south of the cemetery when it was put through, as we can remember seeing a small board tacked to a post on the south side of highway leading out a dirt road to the south also giving the name of the cemetery. The cemetery is located on the hill just east of the Bolton Lake bridge north of the highway. If anyone residing in that area reads this, we would be glad to hear from them giving us the name of the caretaker, or members of the committee. We came across many tombs of families we had heard our folks speak of, the Goodes, Goode, Meadors, Carberry, Coons, Grimes, and many others. We and other relatives plan to go back soon and take our mother.

COUNTY AGENT REPORTS

By E. R. LAWRENCE

Several months ago, Raymond Krueger, Aleman, bought an electric welding machine. This winter he and his son gathered up some scrap iron, pipe, etc., around the place and made a mighty good cattle squeeze chute. After painting it, it looked about as good as a factory job. They also made a bulk feed bin that holds about 1,200 pounds of ground feed. Raymond Jr. has been learning to weld in his FFA Chapter work.

Friday, March 24, is the date for the stock show in Hico, and entries must be in not later than Monday, March 20. The show is open to anyone who would like to enter. It will be held in Hico City Park where it is usually staged.

Thursday, March 30, Cranfills Gap will have its annual stock show. I don't have any information as to getting entries in but I'm sure the vocational teacher at the Gap can give you this if you'll write him.

Wednesday, March 29, is the date for the Cage Clinic at College Station. They call this a cage clinic but what it mostly is is a laying hen clinic. Some good information on laying hens, diseases, feeding, etc. will be given out at the meeting.

The trapper that is working in the county is for the entire county. If you are having trouble, get in touch with him. However, the Wolf Club would like to extend an invitation to all in the county to join with them in the control of predators.

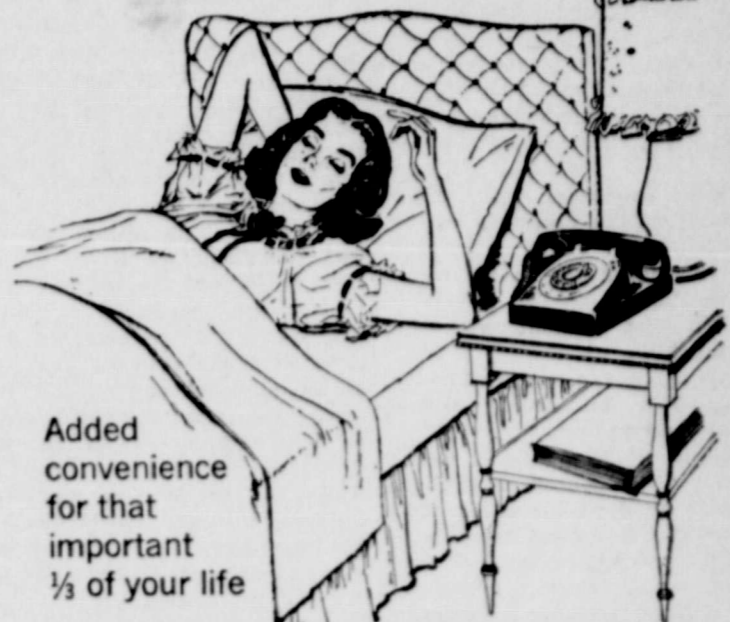

Don't forget the meeting Tuesday night, March 21 at 7:30 in the court room. The meeting will be on the use of chemicals for the control of brush in pastures, and weeds and grass in row crops.

IT HAPPENED . . .

HERE OR NEAR

By E. E. DAWSON

This week the theme could be "Worthy Words of Wisdom Spoken by Numerous Sons of Wisdom and Writing Ability." In some cases the writer is given, in others anonymously used. I think you will agree they make good reading.

A notable American preacher some years ago in a sermon said, "Christianity has grown soft, sentimental, saccharine. It has become too much flute and too little trumpet." Another, writing in one of America's greatest magazines, says "That sounds exaggerated but it is well worth thinking about. In many places there is too much 'gentle Jesus, meek and mild,' and too little of 'the Son of God goes forth to war. . . who follows in His train?'"

A wise counsellor says, "Here are some of the common dangers of life:

"1. To choose the lower rather than the higher.

"2. To rest content with less than the best.

"3. To set up as our ideal a loyalty that is deliberately selfish, sectional, second-rate."

Speaking of problems, a writer declares: One continual problem that gets us down is worry. One man in a discouraged mood said that "if you don't worry you will go to the poor house; if you do, you will go to the lunatic asylum." The writer then adds: "Life is not as bad as that. But we do need to distinguish the right kind of worry and the wrong kind. The right kind of concern for us to have is to do our best in the task that confronts us. We need to be deeply concerned over our responsibilities and the needs of others. But there is freedom from a gnawing worry over things we cannot change."

When Oliver Wendell Holmes was a very old man he went on walks near his home. He carried with him two things: a compass and a measuring tape. The compass helped him to find the right directions, the measuring tape was used to measure the girth of trees which he loved. . . . Even so we need something to keep us always aware of the right directions of life and the means to take the true measurements of life. A true religion affords both for us.

A young woman who was just beginning to enjoy reading books confided to a friend that she liked "books of friction." The poor thing was not too wise in her choice of English, for she meant "fiction." And yet it is true that many souls seem to like best books that tell of friction between individuals and they like the TV numbers that show the most deadly turbulence.

This one is from Daniel Poling, one of America's most talented men, now Editor of Christian Herald. "During a college summer vacation, I worked in The Dalles, Oregon, where my uncle was minister of the historic First Congregational Church. With him as my guide, I visited a recluse from the East, an aged man who had built for himself high above the town and the Columbia River a cabin that overlooked the world. He had carried the boards up a trail he had made, and had enlarged a natural cave that was the first unit of his rude but comfortable dwelling. Once, when my uncle sought to bring him down into the town where he could receive care and hospitalization, the old man shook his head and said, 'No I have everything here. Everything I now love and care for. I have the sunrise and the sunset, the river and the broad lands beyond, the city below and the high sky. I have the world and the universe—all mine. No, my good friend; I have everything and I must stay.' And so it was from his cave that they carried the old man down to bury him. From the high command of the great 'I must' of Jesus to the aged recluse on the mountain who was at the end of his journey, it is the same compulsion—life's greatest 'I must.'"

Retiring Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson (left) and the new Secretary of the Treasury, C. Douglas Dillon, joined in ringing a replica of the Liberty Bell to signal the 20th anniversary of the U. S. Savings Bond program. The recent ceremonies took place on the west steps of the Treasury Building, opposite the east entrance to the White House. Americans now own over $43 billion in series E and H Savings Bonds. This is an all-time record high.

The Liberty Bell replica in the Nation's capital has counterparts in every state, donated by leading American companies as a feature of the Independence Savings Bond drive in 1950. State governors, as honorary bond chairmen, will rally their volunteer forces with similar ringing ceremonies this spring.

WASHINGTON—

As It Looks From Here

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
 17th District, Texas

Washington, D. C.—Should the United States take any drastic action toward Cuba, it is extremely doubtful that a single Latin American country from Mexico to Argentina would support us.

When Castro first came to power, the policy was to "wait and see." One of the two things or both was hoped for. The first was that after Castro proved himself to be a dictator of the same type or worse than those preceding him, that the people would throw him out. The second hope was that if the people did not throw him out that the initiative would be taken by certain leaders in Latin America to do so without the United States being in the forefront.

The first of these propositions is not in sight, and the second one is far from a reality.

Some leaders in Latin America would like to see the United States take action to oust Castro, but as politicians, many of them know it would be their own death knell to openly support us in such a venture.

There has just been concluded in Mexico City a Communist meeting which had as its principal theme the abuse, denunciation and outright insults toward this Nation.

As is true in most other parts of the world, we probably have less support in Latin America today than we have had since efforts have been made towards friendly relations.

The essence of good government is the ability to foresee. Hindsight is usually pretty good, but it does not promote economic development, national security or establish peace.

No rational person believes that the United States can afford to build a fence around our Country and live in splendid isolation. The fact remains that after spending approximately $70 billion since 1945, there is greater nationalism around the world than ever before in history. These expenditures and our help to other nations was supposed to have made us cooperative friends who would stand with us against the expansion and avowed domination by the Soviet Union. Such has not been the case, but seemingly our Government refuses to recognize the fact.

The fact that we have deluded ourselves into believing that we can treat other nations as children, which has led them to believe that our resources are endless.

During the last session of Congress the sum of $500,000,000 was authorized to be spent in Latin America. No comprehensive plan or blueprint was furnished—just a half billion dollars to help the economy and improve the standard of living. Our State Department officials are now coming before the Appropriations Committee for this sum. In response to the question as to whether additional funds will be requested, our State Department people assume that more money would be needed after this year.

They now indicate that the money will go for education, housing, well drilling and water supply, sanitation and numerous other projects. Presumably it will be done on a government to government basis, which means that the recipient government will actually spend the money. It is doubtful whether the people who supposedly benefit will know who their benefactor really is.

As has been pointed out in other statements, we propose to export a brand of Socialism to other countries which, by lip service, at least, is repugnant to our own system of government.

- It seems to me at this time we:
1. Put our own financial house in order; balance our budget; eliminate waste; stop inflation.
 2. Insist that other nations who have had their economies restored assume their proportionate responsibility.
 3. Reevaluate and revise our Reciprocal Trade Program.
 4. Adopt tax reforms and other incentives to reduce the outflow of American business capital.

To sum up the situation, we should say that we are willing to be a friend and a partner, but that we will no longer be dupes.
