Teen Topics... By Barbara

The Reunion is about a week away, but the atmosphere around town is already getting exciting. There seems to be quite a few visitors and always something going on.

Sherry Thomas from McAllen has come back for a three week visit. She went to the roping arena Saturday night for the first time.

VACATION IN SOUTH

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malone and Lynn recently enjoyed a week's vacation in Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

They spent the majority of their trip in Mississippi at Natchez and Vicksburg where they visited various old historical Civil War sites and lovely old homes in that area. They also enjoyed touring Memphis, Tennessee and many historical places in Mississippi. Enroute home they traveled through the Ozarks and visited Dwight D. Eisenhower's birthplace in Denison, which they said was very interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Burks and sons of San Antonio visited this past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Burks. They were accompanied by his mother on to Mississippi to visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burks.

Her mouth was open most of the time. There aren't any kind of things like that in the "Valley" and Sherry was seeing one for the first time. Her comment: "Boy it was dusty."

Michael Lowe was here from Idalou the past week. He now tips the scales at 210 and is he big! We all decided to bribe him to come back to Hico for football season, if not for good.

Some of the other "old timers" were here this weekend and part of the past week. Doyle Crews was home from Texas where he is attending summer school. Gary Duncan decided to be lazy for the rest of the summer after one session of summer school. Roland Sherrard came back from school to work in the grocery store, but now he has gone with his family on vacation and Sylvia is minding the store. I go in and laugh at her every day.

Shelia Partain spent her vacation here last week. She, Janet and I started talking about that time many years ago when we were all guards on the basketball team and how many boo-boos we pulled. She had one piece of advice for me: "Never become a file clerk—it will drive you crazy." The Girl Scout Round-Up is being blessed with one of our local girls. I am nearly sure I saw Ann Martin on television the night, I know she is having much fun—getting up about "swaps" for Round-Up and all painted cactus on bottles. I know she will have a lot of interesting things to tell when she gets back.

The Ozarks are also being mentioned her bout with that again she would personally ture me to death. I was so I decided not to say anything about her falling off. Arkansas may not be the same when leaves. In fact, I'm sure it if I know Janell.

Dixie Lackey may be a girl when she returns from dosa, especially if she gets at the horse races. I know is having a ball, but I'll bet she is ready to get home to see her friends and one expect from Stephenville.

I know there are probably visitors and some travelers I have missed but there are many around that it is hard get them all. If you are a visitor or otherwise just phone me, me, or flag me down. That haired girl with me will be cousin, Margaret Shelton Fort Worth, so don't worry about that. If you see a white car, don't panic! It isn't Ajax, I me! I'm going to be busy.

Stephen V. Alexander Longtime Resident, Buried Here Sunday

Stephen V. Alexander Jr., a resident of this area for 88 years, died Saturday at his home. Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Barrow Rutledge Funeral Chapel with Rev. Norman Purvis officiating.

Obituary Given

Stephen Valorous Alexander Jr. was born in Cherokee County, Texas October 1, 1870. He was the son of Stephen Valorous Alexander and Sarah Ann Todd Alexander. In 1874 he and his younger brother, J. B. Alexander, and his sister, Beatrice, came to Bosque County to make their home with their parents in an oxen drawn wagon. They settled near the present site of Iredell, but at that time there was not a town at Iredell or Hico. Old Duffau and Waco were the nearest towns to the settlers.

Mr. Alexander walked to Duffau to school during most of the time he attended. His father was a minister and a farmer and he soon became a Bible scholar and developed the love for music.

When he came into this area wild game was plentiful and most families had a well-filled smoke house. He often related to his grandchildren that when he was growing up he couldn't remember when less than 20 people sat down at his father's table at mealtime, since it was customary for the surviving members of a family to raise the children of other members of the family who passed away. Almost all the food eaten was raised or produced at home.

In 1891 he and Mary Elizabeth Warren were united in marriage. They had four children, E. Z. Alexander, Mrs. Earle Collins, E. W. Alexander and Mrs. Mary Louise Bishop. They settled near Iredell and he farmed and taught Singing Schools for more than 20 years.

In 1921 he moved his family to New Mexico and homesteaded. During the five years he lived there he taught in public schools. In 1926 he returned to this area and has lived near here since that time. He farmed until after his 79th birthday, then retired and moved into Hico.

He was almost 92 July 21 when he passed away in the family home here. He was preceded in death by his son, E. Z. Alexander, a daughter, Mrs. Mary Louise Bishop, and his wife.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. M. E. Collins of Lindrieth, New Mexico; one son, E. W. Alexander of Big Spring; one brother, J. T. Alexander of Hico; eight grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were John Word, Jim Word, Chester Alexander, Price Hobgood, Wick Simpson and Glenn Higginbotham.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Paddock and family and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Paddock and baby of Las Vegas, Nevada visited Wednesday in Fort Worth with their daughter and sister, Miss Martha Ann Paddock.

THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN—

Highlights and Sidelights

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
In an effort to "prevent confusion to occupants, mailmen and the public" when the second of two sleek, pink marble State Office Buildings on the Capitol grounds is completed, the State Building Commission renamed them after famous Texas patriots.
First State Office Building — generally referred to as "SOB No. 1" now is designated as the Sam Houston State Office Building; the second called "SOB No. 2" was named after John H. Reagan, first chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission and Postmaster General of the Confederacy.
Licensing Study Scheduled
House Speaker James A. Turman named Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont chairman of a new committee to study operations of Texas' Examining and Licensing Boards.
Reps' Sam Collins of Newton, Ben. Atwell of Dallas, Don Glad-den of Fort Worth and Travis Peeler of Corpus Christi will serve on the committee.
Study group was set up to effect "an even greater understanding between the licensing boards and the Legislature," Turman said.
Objects of their research will be the 23 State examining and licensing boards organized for the purpose of testing every prospective practitioner of plumbing, law, cosmetology, medicine, barbering, or hairdressing and 18 other professions and trades in Texas.
Textbooks Publicized
State Commissioner of Education J. W. Edgar sent a list of 203 textbooks, offered for adoption by Texas schools, to all county and independent school district superintendents, and recommended that the list be publicized so the public will know it's available.
Textbooks are those which the State Textbook Commission is studying for the 1963-64 school year. Number must be sifted down to 82 by October. This approved list then will be turned to the State Board of Education.
Between September 1 and 15 the committee will hear any objections private citizens may have to the books. Last fall there were plenty of protests.
Major complaint was that the objectors didn't know which books were being considered in time to examine them fully.
Strong Voice Silent
When the Texas Railroad Commission held its monthly hearing to determine the August oil allowable, representatives from the major companies and independent were heard, but the strong voice of Commissioner Gen. Ernest O. Thompson was missing.
As one oilman after the other went up to urge a low 8-day allowable no member of the Railroad Commission challenged them. If "the General" had been there, he might have done so, but he was seriously ill in his home in Amarillo.
Property Tax Still Low
The State's Automatic Tax Board kept to the lowest legal minimum when it set the State ad valorem tax rate for next year at 42 cents on each $100 valuation.
Tax boards have kept the State's property "tax take" down to the minimum for several years now. It was up to 77 cents per $100 valuation before a 30-cent general revenue tax was abolished in 1951.
Coke and Tom Green counties and the Dallas County Flood Control District are the only exceptions to the new rate. Rate is 30 cents in these three areas.
The 42 cent tax rate will provide 35 cents for free public school purposes; two cents for Confederate and Texas Ranger pensions and the State Building Commission fund; and five cents for the college building fund.
Short Snorts
While many other state departments were recommending increases in the biennial budgets, the General Land Office decided to ask for an $82,000 cut. Commissioner Jerry Sadler said new electronic accounting equipment could get credit for the proposed cut.

Residue Management Tips Given For Milo Harvest

By A. L. MILES
 Hamilton, Coryell SCD

Milo maize harvest time is here. It is that annual payday growers have been waiting for a full year. Combining of the grain leaves a vast amount of crop residue, stalks, leaves, etc. on the ground. This can be turned into a distinct benefit to the soil and result in increased crop production next year, or permitted to become a nuisance, resulting in all kinds of planting and cultivation problems. It could cause reduced yields next year. The answer is proper crop residue management. And what is proper residue management? About all that can be said on this is to state some of the practices that have resulted in successful farming operations. If milo stalks are left on the ground, growth continues and both moisture and plant food continue to be removed from the soil. This alone reduces possibilities for satisfactory production next year. Research and actual practice on the land show the best known procedure for managing milo stubble is:

1. Shred all stalks as soon as possible after combining.
2. Plow up all remaining stubble, preferably with a buzzard-wing sweep.
3. Break or disc the land in such a manner that a considerable portion of the residue will be left on or near the surface.

There are many reasons for this manner of handling milo stubble and all other forms of residue left on the ground after harvest. One authority has said soil is a physical, chemical and biological entity consisting of solids, liquids, and gases. These soil characteristics must be kept in proper balance as nearly as possible if best crop yields are to be obtained. Proper crop residue management is one good way to help maintain proper balance.

Major soil management factors are humus (decayed organic matter); fertility and tilth (soil structure status) Everyone knows that decayed stubble and every kind of decayed trash adds humus to the soil and improves the soil structure. If stalks are plowed under deep enough and all air is excluded, they remain to haunt the farmer at planting time in the spring. It is like putting feed in a trench silo, it simply does not rot. If the stalks don't rot no humus is added to the soil. If no humus is added back, the soil has a tendency to pack. Water can not penetrate packed soils. This could create a drouthy condition even with plenty of rainfall.

In case you have extra heavy residue conditions and you want to get maximum benefits from it, you may need to apply nitrogen to speed up decaying processes. Technicians at Soil Conservation Service Work Units in both Hamilton and Gatesville can give you valuable information on this as well as other phases of crop residue. Every phase of successful farming and ranching operations hinges on management.

The Board of Supervisors of the Hamilton-Coryell Soil Conservation District urges every operator to take full advantage of information available to them through SCS technicians working with the District.
