LIEUT. PATTERSON TELLS OF SINKING OF THE TUSCANIA

PRaises RED CROSS AND ITS WORK IN HIGHEST POSSIBLE TERMS.

After a number of exciting experiences when the Tuscania was hit by a submarine, Lieutenant Charles S. Patterson formerly of Wichita Falls in the How safely on the other side and anxious to hear from his friends in the States, according to a letter just received by a friend here, Lieutenant Patterson is with the naval department, Engineer Reserve Corps, American Expeditionary Forces in France.

Concerning the American Red Cross work in rehabilitating the soldiers who suffered in the disaster Lieutenant Patterson has the highest praise.

Writes Home, The letter which is dated March 4, reads in part:

You undoubtedly have read in the papers of our accident off the Irish coast. Yes, I was on the Tuscania, though I did not know the name of the boat. I knew when I would sail when I last wrote you, but of course could not give you that information then. I got off in a lifeboat with 53 others, was at sea 4 hours, picked up by a trawler and landed at a port in Ireland. There we were treated most royally by those good Irish folks, they gave us clothes, fed us and gave us beds and entertained us generally. My, they were good to us. Then we were moved to a Scotch reg. camp in Ireland, stayed there a short while, and were finally moved over here. Those Scotch officers were surely fine to us. They are a wonderful bunch of men and these English officers are just as fine. Wonderful fellows and when they tell of their experiences in their quiet unassuming way, and it's hard to get them to tell our experiences are tame compared with theirs.

Red Cross to Rescue.

Then the American Red Cross Society came to our rescue here. They loaned the officers what money they needed to buy a new outfit with, for you realize we lost all but what we stood in. I gave us underclothing, pajamas, socks, sleeping bags, blankets, razors, towels, handkerchiefs and so forth. What I am getting at I want you to realize if you are a member of the chapter at Wichita Falls that your money is not being wasted or spent foolishly. They not only gave the officers clothing but the enlisted men as well, but the government gives the enlisted man clothes and necessities, while we officers have to get our own stuff, and that is why they came across with the money. I didn't state that they don't charge us a cent of interest, either and to say that we appreciate it is mild; words are inadequate to express our gratitude. Tell Mrs. Danforth about this please, for I know she will be interested.

It was quite an experience, I assure you, very regrettable on account of the loss of life but part of this horrible game we are in. So now don't forget the knitted cap, it is probably waiting for me in France now, for I will need it all the worse.

Quaint Old Town.

This is surely a quaint town, that little Irish town was possibly more so, but this town has some very interesting features. The magnificent old cathedral, the West Gate, the Castle, old colleges, and so forth and pretty country round about. The Cathedral is most interesting, here are buried some of the famous men of England. It was taken by Cromwell at one time. All but one - Saxon kings are buried there. The cathedral is about 800 years old, was founded by Alfred the Great. However I'm too dense on English history to appreciate it fully, I'm afraid, but I tell you, it is surely beautiful.

Well, I must close, give Mr. and Mrs. Danforth my best and best to Mr. Danforth and please write to me and give me the news of Wichita Falls. Of course I haven't written a letter from the states yet, it surely is funny to see a week without one.

Was in Air Raid.

I forgot to tell you I went to London one day and that night they had an air raid for our benefit. But any thing disappointing couldn't see a thing, could only hear the boom of the guns in the heavens, reminded me of I think I'm afraid without one.

Now I hope this letter of mine will make you worry about your brothers coming across, that sort of an accident in all probability will never happen again, for you can bet Uncle Sam will take all precautions possible which they did in our case. It was just luck for the Boche, that was all. He didn't realize what he was shooting at, just plugged away and was lucky to get us.

Kindest regards to all the Wichita Falls friends and please remember that now is the time when letters mean life to a fellow over here.

Address me, C. S. Patterson, Second Lieutenant, Unattached, Engineer Reserve Corps, American Expeditionary Forces, France.

WORKING RESERVE OF BOYS SWELLED BY TWENTY HERE

Certificates of registration in the Boys Working Reserve were issued today to twenty one high school boys and two from the Austin school and the buttons worn by members of the Reserve have been received by Lee Clark city superintendent of schools who is in charge of the county registration and are ready for distribution.

Mr. Clark estimates that there will be about 50 boys in the entire county by register. Electra had asked for 30 cards and the supplies were so late in coming that it will be impossible for any report to be made before the close of this week. Iowa Park reports that practically every boy between the ages of 16 and 21 has already secured work for the summer, the majority in the fields, but these boys too are eligible for the Reserve and may receive the service badge when the required number of hours has been put in. Several boys working for the railroads in this city will be enrolled as this work constitutes war work and they too are eligible for the service emblems.

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Gave His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Mrs. Frank A. Hoxey, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio. HILLIAN VISITS FARMS IN COUNTY; MUCH INTEREST

BABY BEEF, CORN AND PIG CLUBS SPECIAL OBJECTS OF HIS ATTENTION

L. W. Hillian of the United States Department of Agriculture, cooperating with the A. & M. College extension division in the city today and together with Mr. Campbell, county farm demonstration agent will visit a number of the schools in this section in an effort to create interest in the Baby Beef, Corn and Pig Clubs.

Mr. Hillian states that there is much interest being taken in this work over the state as evidenced by the efficient showing made at the recent Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth where twenty-five boys and girls from over the state had exhibits. Here the Grand Champion Baby Beef took fourth place, all exhibits considered, and a total of $500 in prizes went to the owner of the animal which weighed 1,300 and was sold for 20c per pound on foot.

Another example of what may be done in this work is shown in the case of Walter Mathis, 10 year old, who exhibited in the Grand Champion class and won in every case and took second prize and the Grand Champion Baby Beef contest. His animal sold for 19 1/2 cents per pound and was reared by Texas Cattle Raisers Association, the proceeds going to the Red Cross work for the sum of $9,280.

Mr. Hillian states that there is a prospect for good work in his line in Wichita county this year and he hopes to have a number of clubs organized here during the coming summer. He also states that the Wichita county Boys Pig club did excellent work last year and he hopes for a repetition of results this year, and believes that the club membership should reach at least 200 in the county before fall.

There are over 15,000 members in the club in Texas at the present time, and is steadily increasing in membership.

Mr. Hillian will leave for Seymour this evening for a short visit in the interest of the club work, and will then return here.

BROWNWOOD MAN CHOSEN MANAGER ROAD CAMPAIGN

ONLY FOUR COUNTIES NEED TO HAVE BOND ELECTIONS ON OIL BELT ROAD

W. H. Dickson, former city manager of Brownwood, was selected as manager for the road bond campaign which will provide funds to finance the Oil Belt Highway from Wichita Falls to Brownwood at a meeting of the executive board of the association held Tuesday in Breckenridge, attended by the directors, two from each of the seven counties traversed by the Highway. R. E. Huff, the president of the Association and C. E. Rodgers, attended the meeting from this city.

Only four counties will have to have bond campaigns, these being Archer, Young, Stephens and Comanche, and it is planned to have the bond elections in these counties called simultaneously on June 15 Wichita, Brown and Cassard county directors already prepared for their part of the highway with bond issues voted some time ago. Mr. Dickson will take up work immediately and will work in the four counties named above.

The meeting was well attended and the enthusiasm evidenced at previous meetings was still maintained and the highway will become a reality as soon as humanly possible, according to Mr. Huff. Breckenridge is sharing in the oil fever and that whole part of the state is more lively than at any time in its previous history, he states.

May 8, a general meeting will be held at Graham, Young county. The regular monthly directors meeting will be combined with a general rally, similar to that held last month at Breckenridge and a large delegation will be expected from all towns along the highway route. At this time the association manager will be expected to have some report of the progress of the bond campaign.

DISEASE OF CATTLE THAT MAY RENDER MILK HARMFUL TO MAN

By J. R. E. RICHARDSON, Deputy, State Veterinarian. Inflammation of the udder, mastitis, hygienic importance, cows are very frequently affected with this disease.

There are three forms of mastitis. (1) Catarrhal mastitis, which may be either mucous or purulent and which runs a subacute or chronic course. (2) Parenchymatous mastitis, which is purulent, and acute, and which is sometimes accompanied by abscess formation and gangrene, and (3) Interstitial mastitis which may be a simple inflammation.

1. Catarrhal mastitis from a hygienic standpoint catarrhal mastitis is of greater importance because it occurs more frequently than the other forms, and also because the milk may contain the causative bacteria before clinical symptoms are marked changes in the milk are apparent and for a time after they have disappeared. (2) Parenchymatous mastitis, (which is inflammation of the udder and small tubules of the udder and is usually caused by the bacillus organism. In mastitis the secretion from the udder nearly always contains bacteria which may be harmful to man. In the catarrhal form of mastitis bacteria are usually present, some time staphylococci or the bacillus prodigiosus.

Although under ordinary conditions these substances are eliminated in the milk in small quantity, but when the elimination through the normal channels is retarded by disease they may be eliminated through the udder in larger quantities, and substances which are not usually excreted through the udder may also pass out with the milk. For this reason milk should not be used for food from cows are being treated with medicines that are poisonous. Aloes, rhubarb and senna affect the taste and color of milk.

Disease of man transmissible through milk. Milk may act as a carrier of the bacteria or virus of certain specific disease of man. From time to time epidemics in which the infectious agent has been disseminated by milk have been reported, particularly outbreaks of typhoid fever, septic sore throat, diphtheria, and scarlet fever. These milk-borne epidemics have certain characteristics by which they may be recognized. (1) The epidemic is explosive in character, a large number of cases occurring at about the same time, followed later by a rapid decrease in the number of cases. (2) The disease is limited to those families receiving their milk supply from a certain distributor; occurs in families using the same amount of milk, and affects those individuals using the most milk, generally women and children. (3) The period of incubation is relatively short. (4) The disease is of mild type. The mortality is lower than usual.

Typhoid fever is more frequently spread by milk than any other infectious disease of man except tuberculosis. As a carrier of typhoid infection milk is second only to water. Milk may be infected with the bacillus typhosus in several ways. The organism may be introduced into milk when infected water is used to wash the milk vessels and utensils. Infected water may contaminate the milk when there is a leak in the milk cooler or when a rapid stream of water is allowed to run into the milk cooler. (2) The disease is of mild type. The mortality is lower than usual.

Mrs. Sam Kruger, hostess to Jewish Ladies. Mrs. Sam Kruger was a delightful hostess to the members of the Jewish Ladies Aid on Monday afternoon.

So it is a matter of great sanitary importance to inspect those parties who handle the milk products as it is to test the cows producing the milk and butter.

In the parenchymatous form bacteria of the colon group are usually found. The mastitis bacteria finds an excellent culture media in milk and rapidly multiply when the milk is kept at room temperature.

Cases of illness in man resulting from the infection of milk from cows affected with this disease have not been reported as often as would be expected. There is one reason for this. The milk from a diseased cow may be diluted with milk from cows in normal condition to such an extent as to render the mixed milk harmless, nevertheless, there are on record numerous cases of illness in man caused by the infection of milk from cows affected with mastitis.

The symptoms in these cases are nausea, vomiting, and diarrhoea, some times associated with fever, faintness, languor, and cramps in the legs. In some instances now on record the milk which was the cause of the disease had been boiled. It is not known whether the illness in these cases was due to a heat resisting toxin or to bacteria which survived the heat because of the protection furnished by the casein which forms on the surface of the milk when it is heated.

Numerous epidemics of septic sore throat have been reported in which the infection was transmitted by milk. In some of these epidemics, cows affected with streptococcal mastitis were found to be the source of the infection, but in the other outbreaks the circumstances seemed to point to the infection of the milk by dairy workers suffering from the disease. Milk from cows affected with catarrhal and parenchymatous mastitis is also objectionable because the pus which it contains often gives it an unpleasant taste and frequently causes a purulent discharge from the mouth. The pus itself may be harmful to children, even if no bacteria are present. The greatest harm, however, is done by the bacteria which are present in the milk.

Therefore when a cow is affected with mastitis the milk should not be used for food and if possible, the cow should be removed from the milk stable until the udder returns to the normal condition. Cows affected with infectious streptococcal, septic or gangrenous mastitis should always be isolated. When infectious streptococcal mastitis is present in a herd it may be necessary to prohibit the use of any of the milk for food unless it is boiled or pasteurized, but even then such milk should not be used for children. This condition could and probably would be overcome in the dairy herds by the cooperation of the dairyman and proper qualified veterinary inspector. There is a number of other diseases of cattle that render milk unfit for food and might prove harmful to man, i. e. Bloody milk, oedema of the udder, indigestion, septic or hemorrhagic enteritis, septic metritis, retained placenta and infectious abortion. Milk from cows treated with medicines and drugs, may prove injurious to children and weak adults are: Iodine, Mercury, lead copper, boric acid, aloes, rhubarb, croton oil, morphine, strychnine, atropine and veratrum.

Cherry or Rhubarb Tartlets

The nutritive value of oats, as everyone knows, is very high. Oats contain a greater percentage of albuminoids (which corresponds to white of egg) than any other grain, and have less starch and a good deal more fat and sugar than wheat. All these elements tend to make it the healthful breakfast dish we all know. And we are learning to employ these valuable food qualities in bread, muffins, cookies, etc.

Oatmeal Crust

Here is a recipe for tartlets with a rolled oats crust. You are getting a new recipe and splendid food value together. Cherries, or stewed rhubarb, make a delightful filling; it is better to use one of the steam-cooked oatmeals, but ordinary oatmeal will do.

Put in filling after the tarts are baked.

LOYALTY ACT

"Whoever shall, by word or act, support or favor the cause of the German empire or its allies in the present war, or by word or act oppose the cause of the United States therein", will be in danger of confinement in a Federal prison for twenty years and the payment of a fine of $10,000, under the provisions of an amendment to the loyalty act, offered by Senator Poindexter and favorably received by the Senate judiciary committee.

This act is expected to give Federal agents greater and badly needed power to deal with the enemy within our gates and the proposed measure, which is expected to be sanctioned by congress, covers a broad field. It is understood to have been based upon reports received from secret service men of the government indicating activity of Hun sympathizers and the present inadequacy of the laws of the nation to deal with many of this breed.

Federal officers have shown a great degree of forbearance in the handling of espionage cases, only those which have proven grave having been severely punished to the present. But as the war goes on the danger from the disloyal person within the nation becomes more and more grave, and officials of the government must be armed with proper authority if this creeping menace is to be checked in its incipency.

It is to be hoped that this drastic measure will speedily be enacted into law. In this connection it is gratifying to remember that the recent session of the Texas legislature "beat congress to it."

THE CITY ELECTION

After some very spirited contests the city election is over and those who will administer the city government during the next two years have been chosen. More candidates were entered in the contest than in any election ever held in Wichita Falls; a larger vote was polled and probably more interest was taken than in any municipal election ever held in the city. A splendid lot of candidates offered themselves; the election was fairly conducted and there is no reason, so far as the Times can see, why all the people cannot unite in giving the new administration support. Some have expressed a fear that divisions among our citizenship are likely to grow out of these contests. This is possible from any contest but The Times does not believe it likely in this instance. All candidates for mayor and aldermen, the Times is sure, had the best interests of Wichita Falls at heart as did those who voted for them, and keeping this purpose in view at all times it ought not to be difficult for all citizens to stand together.

Fire Burns Bridge Upon Northwestern Near Frederick, Okla.

Fire of an unknown origin destroyed an 80 foot bridge on the Northwestern railroad at about 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning about one mile north of Frederick, Okla. No trains had passed over the bridge for several hours previous to the fire and it was at first reported that fire bugs had played a part in the case, however after an investigation it is stated at the local Northwestern office that there is nothing in the evidence on the case to warrant such conclusion, and the officials of the road believe that it was simply an accidental fire, possibly caused by a passing train several hours before.

Passenger freight and mail traffic was transferred at the scene yesterday and until 12 o'clock last night when the track was reported clear, and traffic was resumed again today as per schedule.

ROTARIANS WILL MAKE PLANS FOR NEXT VAUDEVILLE

The Rotarians will make their plans for the second Red Cross Vaudeville Friday, when the usual weekly Rotarian luncheon will be held, being postponed from Thursday, the regular meeting day because of the visiting Big Leaguers, who will have the dining room space usually occupied by the Rotarians. An urgent call is made by President McFall to all Rotarians to be on hand at the regular meeting, as it is imperative that all arrangements will be made at this time for the Red Cross Vaudeville, which will be held Thursday week, April 12.

Mr. McFall's call to the club follows: Official Call. In order to enable Rotarian Dixon manager of the St. James hotel to take care of the Cincinnati Reds and Detroit Tigers, while in the city tomorrow, the Rotary club will postpone their Thursday luncheon, until the next day, Friday, April 5th.

Every Rotarian is especially urged to be present at luncheon Friday at 12 o'clock sharp as we have a very important matter to be taken up with the club at this meeting.

The Rotary club members feel that Rotarian Dixon is due this extraordinary concession, as he has always cooperated so closely with the club in all its undertakings and is sharing a part of the profits of every lunch served to Rotarians for the benefit of the local chapter American Red Cross.

Rotarians please arrange your business so as to meet with us Friday—instead of Thursday, you will be telephoned Friday a. m.

J. M. McFALL, President.

GREAT BRITAIN

By Associated Press. London, April 3.—The treaty of industrial peace between labor and capital in the United States, the Times says in an editorial, coincides approximately with the military decision to bring the American forces in France at once into the battlefield, among their British and French comrades in arms.

"Both moves," the editorial continues, "are an earnest of the determination of the United States to put its strength into the struggle. The effect of the peace treaty will be watched here with keen interest and with the earnest hope that it may be more successful than the corresponding agreement concluded in our own war industries three years ago."

BULLETIN—London, April 3.—British troops after sharp fighting last night repulsed a determined attack by the Germans in the neighborhood of Fampoux, the war office announced today. The town of Ayelette (about eight miles southwest of Arras) is again in British possession, the statement announces.

MARLOW THANKS FRIENDS; TELLS OF HIS PURPOSE

Following his election to the office of mayor yesterday, J. B. Marlow, in a formal statement, has publicly expressed his appreciation of the honor bestowed upon him by the people of Wichita Falls, and his gratitude for the support of his friends during his campaign. That it is his earnest desire to do justice to the confidence the people have reposed in him and that he will do every thing in his power which will make for the betterment of Wichita Falls and its people are salient points in the card.

His statement in full follows: I want to take this opportunity to thank all the good friends and loyal supporters who stood with me so valiantly in the race for mayor, and to say that while I appreciate greatly the honor of the Cincinnati Reds and Detroit Tigers, while in the city tomorrow, the Rotary club will postpone their Thursday luncheon, until the next day, Friday, April 5th.

It is my ambition now to become in all respects an executive of the city that you can at least say, "he did his best."

Of Mr. Hill, my opponent in the race, I want to say that I hold him in the highest esteem and recognize him as a thorough gentleman who played the game of politics in an honorable and gentlemanly manner, and I hope that nothing I or my friends may have done in the heat of the campaign will leave in his heart an atom of anger or resentment.

I want to go in office with the confidence of all of the people to work for the best interests of the city that we all love, and I assure you that nothing on my part will be left undone that will add to its upbuilding and prosperity.

Again thanking you, I am, Yours very truly, J. B. MARLOW.

It was learned at the offices of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Co. this morning that in view of the increasing demands for corn products that there is a probability that the local plant will have added in the near future equipment for the manufacture of such products and tentative plans have been made that in case it is deemed advisable as the food questions of the United States unfold, that such additional equipment will be added to the mill.

NEW HEALTH OFFICER OFFERS HIS THANKS

It is my pleasure this afternoon to offer my thanks to the friends who so ably supported me in the race for City Health Officer. The margin of victory was so narrow as to make one nervous, but when I give thought to the very excellent gentleman who was my opponent, I feel doubly grateful to my friends for having pulled me through.

In the office to which I am elected I shall have occasion to come in contact with many suffering persons, and I hereby pledge myself to do every thing in my power to fulfill the highest sense the duties and obligations of the office.

Very truly yours, M. A. BECKMAN.

REPUBLICAN WINS SENATORIAL TOGA; BERGER DEFEATED

SOCIALIST TRAILS FAR BEHIND DAVIES, WHO IS SECOND.

By Associated Press. Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Belated returns from yesterday's election confirmed the victory of Irvine Lenroot, Republican, for senator. His plurality at noon was 3,165.

With 19 counties complete and comparatively full reports from all but four others the vote stood: Lenroot, 130,905; Davies, Democrat, 121,932; Berger, Socialist, 88,036.

THIRD CITY OF STATE VOTES OUT SALOONS

By Associated Press. Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Superior, the third city in the state, Ashland and Beloit surprised many voters by voting dry at yesterday's election. Fort Atkinson, Green Bay, Beaver Dam, Janesville and Menomonee were among the more important towns which retained their saloons.

LENROOT IS MAINTAINING LEAD IN EARLY MORNING

By Associated Press. Milwaukee, Wis., April 3.—Returns to 7 o'clock on yesterday's senatorial election show Irvine Lenroot, Republican, maintaining his lead over Joseph E. Davies, Democrat. With fifteen counties missing and many others incomplete, Lenroot had a plurality of 10,547.

Two widely divergent influences, namely, pro-German and the plea "Wilson wants Davies" cut heavily into the nominal Republican majority. Since the inception of the campaign every leader has insisted that the loyalty of the state was being judged by the nation. The Socialist platform, which flatly opposes the president's policy of peace with victory, offered refuge for the halts of the disloyal element. Patriots accepted the vote as a test, and on that basis the state has apparently voted loyal by three to one.

It was estimated that Lenroot's ultimate plurality would be about twelve or fifteen thousand. The ordinary Republican majority is from sixty to one hundred thousand.

Some of the vote lost by the Republicans went to Davies because the president wanted him, but much of it represented by the German element in the La Follette faction voted straight Hohenzoller, according to local analysis. The Socialist platform which calls for withdrawal of the American forces in France and a renunciation of the bolshevik experiment in negotiating peace with the Hun, was fully understood throughout the state. Prominent citizens who have felt that the state had been misrepresented were content to cast their Lenroot-Davies vote as loyal; that of Berger disloyal. The size of the Socialist vote was a disappointment to loyalists generally. They had cherished a forlorn hope that the state would be more emphatic in its repudiation of pro-Germanism.

Berger showed menacing strength in twelve counties heard from up to an early hour. In Milwaukee county, 100 precincts out of 133 gave Berger 17,494 votes against 15,678 for Davies and 9,495 for Lenroot. Mayor Daniel W. Hoan, Socialist, polled even a larger vote in the city. In this connection the administrative committee issued a statement tending to palliate the Socialist showing by calling attention to the striking response Milwaukee has made to every call for support of the war. In part it says:

"The city of Milwaukee and Milwaukee county have not only over-subscribed their quotas in all war finance campaigns, but have taken a place in the top ranks of those districts providing full quotas of men for military service.

Another thing to Milwaukee's credit is the fact that no labor difficulties have been experienced in Milwaukee since the war began. There have been no strikes, no riots, nor any attempts to blow up or destroy either government or private property.

"Milwaukee likewise is doing her share in the manufacture of material needed by the government in its prosecution of the war and was the first city to make and eat war bread."

TODAY'S MARKETS

NEW REALIZING IN COTTON MARKET FEATURES DAY

By Associated Press. New York, April 3.—There was renewed realizing at the opening of the cotton market today with first prices 4 to 13 points lower. Selling was encouraged by Liverpool's failure to fully meet over-holiday advances, but offerings were well taken and the market soon firmed up on trade buying and covering. Liverpool traded both ways around the local ring. Eastern belt spot firms were buyers of October for July and from $32.63 to $32.91 for July and from $31.25 to $31.55 for October, or about seven to nine points above last night's closing figures.

Cotton futures opened steady; May $33.42; July $32.63; October $31.35; December None; January $31.06. There was an effort to check the advance around $32.91 for July and cause reaction of 5 to 6 points later in the morning but the undertone was very strong owing to bullish spot advice and trade buying.

Both eastern and Canadian mills were said to be in the spot market for supplies of cotton grading middling or better. Active months were about 9 to 16 points net higher during the early afternoon with July selling at $32.38 and October at $31.57. The bulge met some realizing by early buyers but offerings were absorbed on moderate set-backs. Mill interests were credited with calling May and July. Cotton closed strong.

New Orleans Cotton. New Orleans, April 3.—Narrow price changes resulted in the early trading in cotton here today. After advancing 3 to 5 points on the dry weather in the western belt, the market fell off to a decline of 2 to 6 points under yesterday's close under liquidation by recent buyers. Cotton opened steady. Opening bid: March $32.15 asked; July $31.56; Oct. $30.54; December $30.07; January $29.96.

Reports of a better demand for the lower grades in the spot department increased buying of contracts in the trading up to noon prices advanced to a level 5 to 11 points over yesterday's final. Cotton closed at an advance of 17 to 22 points.

Liverpool Spot Cotton. Liverpool, April 3.—Cotton spot quiet; prices firm. Good middling $25.08; middling $24.56; low middling $23.98; good ordinary $23.64; ordinary $23.51.

Sales 5,000 including 2,600 American. Receipts 59,000, including 45,700 American. Futures closed quiet. New contracts April $24.87; May $24.59; June $24.45; July $24.32; August, $24.12.

Old contracts (fixed prices): April $23.40; April-May $23.32; May-June, $23.24; June-July, $23.16.

OATS TAKE SHARP UPTURN IN PRICE RESULT OF COLD

Chicago, April 3.—Cold weather and renewal of demand from the seaboard brought about a sharp upturn today in the oats market. Shorts covered freely upon findings that the pit was almost bare of offerings. The bulge in prices, however, brought about more of a disposition to sell, and resulted in something of a reaction. Opening quotations which ranged from 1/4 to 3/4 % higher, with May 84 1/2 to 84 3/4 % were followed by a setback of 1/4 from initial top figures.

Corn sympathized with oats, trading lacking volume. After opening 1/2 to 3/4 % higher, with May $1.25 1/2 to $1.25 3/4, the market scored a slight further gain and then underwent a moderate sag. Advances in grain and hogs lifted positions. The bearish showing of the monthly statement of warehouse stocks appeared to have been discounted before hand.

In the late dealings no important reaction took place despite a good increase of lard and meat stocks at the chief western packing points besides Chicago. The fact that the visible supply is now about 7,000,000 in excess of the total acreage tends to check late upturns in the corn market. Furthermore the quality of receipts here showed material improvement. Prices closed 1/2 higher with May $1.24 1/2.

CZERNIN SAYS FRANCE ASKED PEACE BASIS

to develop and would welcome closer economic relations with her." ANOTHER PEACE OFFENSIVE. VIEWS OF WASHINGTON. Washington, April 3.—Count Czernin's statement that France had suggested peace discussions with Austria-Hungary was characterized by officials here today as the beginning of a new German peace offensive with the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister acting at Germany's behest. Czernin's declaration that Austria-Hungary almost was on the point of beginning peace negotiations with the entente was branded by officials as false. It was said that no suggestions of such a discussion had reached Washington and that if they had been made this government would have been informed.

Officials characterized the foreign minister's speech as a "feeler" which probably would be followed by some declaration or announcement in Germany. CZERNIN IS EXPECTED TO RESIGN SHORTLY. By Associated Press. Copenhagen, April 3.—It is persistently rumored in well informed circles that Count Czernin, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, intends to resign as soon as peace with Rumania has been finally secured, says the Budapest newspaper Az est, in reporting that Emperor Charles received Count Czernin at a lengthy audience on Sunday. Thomas Morrissey of Vining, Ill., prominent oil operator in the local fields, will arrive at the Westland tonight. Important operations around Wichita Falls call him here, it is said.

GENERAL MARCH, CHIEF OF STAFF WEARING NEW CHEVRON DENOTING ACTUAL SERVICE AT THE FRONT

Confidence in the ability of the allied lines to withstand the terrific battering of the massed German divisions was expressed by Major General March, Chief of Staff, who gave to the American people the first reassuring message since the great offensive began.

IMMIGRATION TIDE IS ONLY CHECKED; STILL THEY LAND

DEPARTURES, HOWEVER, OUTNUMBERED ADMITTANCES IN NOVEMBER AND DECEMBER.

Washington, March 29.—While war has stemmed the tide of immigration, it has not entirely stopped it. And, as the flow of immigrants from Europe has been cut down to comparatively nothing, it has increased at the Canadian, Mexican and Pacific stations.

For a decade before the war, the annual influx approximated a million a year. From July to December last year the number fell to 80,222. Moreover, the decreasing stream of newcomers is being offset to a remarkable degree by the exodus from America of those desiring to return to their native lands.

A great many of those leaving the country since the beginning of the war have been Allied reservists who have gone back to answer the call to the colors.

While war conditions have curtailed the usual duties of the immigration service, a new field has been opened that requires even more intensive application and effort. Beginning with the seizure of the German ships, the service has been called upon to assist other agencies of the government in many important lines of work.

A great part of the facilities of the immigration stations, especially along the Atlantic coast, have been turned over to other lines of war work. The great receiving depot at Ellis Island now is devoting only 25 or 30 per cent of its space to handling immigration, and somewhat similar conditions exist at other Atlantic ports.

The number of stowaways on ships was twice as many in the last half of 1917 as in the preceding twelve months, 33 altogether having been detected and debarred. Included in the number were several German soldiers who deserted, fled to neutral countries, then sought to find a safe haven by hiding on American vessels.

Although the tide of immigration dropped from a million to 300,000 the first year of the war and has since steadily been on the decline, there is every prospect that the flow will not resume its pre-war proportions for a decade or more after the treaty of peace.

America, practically since its discovery, has been the land of promise for the ambitious, the adventuresome, or the oppressed people of other lands. Beginning with the Argonauts of the early seventeenth century, who established colonies along the Atlantic seaboard, the tide steadily had increased until the first part of the present century saw millions eagerly setting their faces toward the new world.

They came principally from the shores of the great ocean liners, with determination to win for themselves and enjoy liberty. The immigrants still come from Europe, but in small scattered groups, mostly of women or children joining relatives here.

The ravages of war have made it an absolute necessity for the belligerents to retain within their own borders all manpower—not alone for active fighting or for non-combatant tasks behind the lines, but for the great work of rehabilitation that must start when hostilities cease.

Even the neutral—Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland—are discouraging ing emigration, recognizing that the loss of even small portions of their populations may prove a material factor in their economic losses.

With the great stream of immigration curtailed for a while, the nation, even in the rush of war, will find additional time to break up, educate and Americanize the polyglot groups in the larger cities. There are many of these elements which, it is asserted, have not yet begun to be assimilated in American national life. Their language, customs and ideals remain practically unchanged in their new surroundings.

Americanization of an emigrant of this class offers great problems and greater rewards for the social worker.

JAPANESE PLAN CIVIL RULE IN TSINGTAU STATE

Peking, Feb. 18.—Substitution by the Japanese of civil administration for military rule in Tsingtau and along the Tsingtau-Tsinan railway which is regarded here as giving the appearance of permanency to Japan's occupation of that territory in Shantung wrested from the Germans at the beginning of the war, has aroused the indignation of the Chinese local population. This has been expressed in petitions to the central government, to the governors of other provinces and to influential Chinese organizations.

The Chinese government has protested to Tokyo and has received a reply stating in effect that the inauguration of civil government was done with the idea that it might please the local population better than a military regime.

Japan's Point of View

Japan's point of view, as described here, is that any obligations to vacate the territory in question after the war, which existed by virtue of Japan's declaration at the time of its occupation has been annulled by China's declaration of war against Germany and the consequent cancellation of existing treaties.

Meanwhile Japan is perfecting and extending her civil administration on the ground that it is her duty to maintain peace and prosperity in the territory she captured from Germany. Leaders of Shantung, who view with dismay Japan's action say much capital is being made of the Lansing-shih agreement. According to those authorities the Japanese declare that their position as special guardians of that territory is now fully conceded and that no power can resist it.

The bitterness which has developed on the part of the Chinese is indicated by the paragraph in a written protest by the Shantung Provincial Assembly which reads: "Our fellow men in the province of Shantung in their struggle to be released from political calamities have determined never to taste Japanese fish or meat even though they starve."

Causes of Complaint Causes of complaint cited in protests which are raining in upon the central government follow: "In Tsingtau, Fangze, Changtien and Tsinan the Japanese have established civil administration departments in disregard for Chinese sovereignty. The Germans during the entire time of their occupation, it is pointed out, never attempted to institute civil administration and left to China the right to police the railway. There are already Japanese consulates throughout Shantung to look after the welfare of Japanese residents making unnecessary the establishment of civil administration.

"Japanese civil officers have already assumed jurisdiction in cases of rents and debts. "Whereas the Germans only enjoyed priority in securing mining rights the Japanese actually interfere in some instances with mines already owned and exploited by Chinese, even to the length of prohibiting the sale of products. "The building of roads, establishment of an industrial school and the taking over of control of a railway hospital and the hospital for gendarmes in Tsingtau is regarded as evidence of intended permanent occupation. The Chinese could perhaps forgive the Japanese for other acts if they had not extended their jurisdiction to the railway and to a "railway zone" about ten miles wide extending as far as Tsinanfu. According to competent authority no convention was even entered with the Germans for a railway zone.

This want of any authority for a "railway zone" is being urged by the Chinese foreign office in its protest against the alleged encroachment.

The Japanese in reply, argue the difficulty of altering a decree issued by their emperor, declaring that what they are doing in Shantung is such authority. The Chinese declare that under existing treaties any decree by Japan can only affect the Tsingtau district and the grathite German leased territory where there is no need of modifying the decree, the only requisite being to properly interpret it.

While the respective foreign offices discuss the merits of the controversy the influx of Japanese into the territory in question is said to be going from day to day.

KING ALFONSO'S THREAT TO RESIGN ENDS SPANISH CABINET CRISIS

It is said that at a meeting of political leaders in the Royal Palace prior to the formation of the present Cabinet King Alfonso asked all present if they were loyal and sincerely devoted to the constitutional monarchy. "Yes, sire," was the unanimous reply. "Well," replied the monarch, "if that is so, I direct you not to leave this room until you have agreed to form a Cabinet, for Spain cannot continue in this state of anguish without a government. If you refuse I shall retire, not to a foreign country, but from public life to a quiet existence in my own house, where I shall live like any other citizen. However, before doing so I shall issue a manifesto to the Spanish people acquainting them with all that has happened." The King's words greatly moved his hearers. They looked one another in the eyes, and men who had been irremovable foes shook hands and agreed upon the respective portfolios. The Spanish ruler is shown in his latest photograph—an unconventional pose in the study of the Royal Palace at La Granja, which was recently visited by fire.

NO CHANGES ARE MADE IN PRICES CHARGED IN CITY

No changes were made this week in the price list compiled by the Price Suggestion Committee, at the regular meeting Tuesday afternoon though several changes in quotations of meal and flour were announced, to take effect next week, as the products now on the market were bought at the old wholesale price. Flour advanced from $2.75 to 48 pound sack to 2.87, which sale. Meal dropped from $1.25 to $1.70 wholesale for a 35 pound sack. There is no yellow meal on the market, this week's quotations being on standard white cornmeal.

The committee urges that hotels, restaurants and cafes use all potatoes possible for the next month, as the supply is plentiful and the potatoes are very cheap, and form a good substitute for wheat, less flour being required where potatoes form a large part of the diet.

The members present: Mrs. F. C. Bazron, chairman pro tem; Mrs. M. C. Caffrey, F. M. Gates, C. M. Fontaine, Jr. and D. B. King. The price list for this week as announced yesterday afternoon follows:

Carpenters' Union Has Good Meeting; Four Applications

The carpenters' union held a meeting Tuesday night in which there was much business transacted and in which two members were inducted into the organization, and four new applications were acted upon. The carpenters have had on a special dispensation for membership for some time and as a result a number of new members have been received, and there has been general good-will to the local union, however this special offer closed with the meeting last evening.

President Hayes is highly elated over the outlook for the carpenters in Wichita Falls and states that he believes that the organization is in better condition than for some time.

"CHILDREN'S YEAR" IS APPROVED BY WILSON

By Associated Press. Washington, April 3.—President Wilson today gave hearty approval to the plan of the children's bureau for making the second year of the war a "children's year" at home by an educational campaign which it is hoped will reduce at least one third the annual total of 600,000 preventable deaths among children less than five years old.

"Next to the duty of doing everything possible for the soldiers at the front," President Wilson said, "there could be, it seems to me, no more patriotic duty than that of protecting the children."

President Wilson's letter was addressed to Secretary Wilson who transmitted it to Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the Children's Bureau.

FOOTBALL MAKES GREAT STRIDES OVER IN FRANCE

SOLDIERS THERE ARE PROVING ESPECIALLY FOND OF THE GAME

Paris, March 29.—Football has been made such wonderful strides since the beginning of the war that it bids fair to become as popular in France as it is in England. As it stands now it may already be looked upon as the national sport of France.

The game was in favor with the French people before the outbreak of hostilities. With the advent of the English troops in France, football has made more progress during the last three years than during all the years that elapsed since it was introduced in France.

The French soldiers are especially fond of the game and each division boasts of one or more star eleven. The Twentieth Corps gave a very creditable account of itself some days ago when it met the champions of 1917, the Associated Franciscs, the game ending with a score of two to one.

But it is among the younger generation that football has taken a firm hold. There are more than five hundred eleven in Paris alone and every Sunday about two hundred and fifty games are decided. It is estimated that over one hundred thousand people see the game each Sunday.

Before the war the Ligue de Football Association composed of twelve clubs played weekly games which were attended by numerous enthusiasts of the sport but with the mobilization most of the athletes joined the army and during the first few months of the war they had no serious business. However, in 1915, with the armies settled down to trench warfare and owing to the close contact with the British troops, which lost no opportunity of enjoying their favorite pastime, football received an impetus hitherto unknown in France.

The British Government has ordered one million footballs for its troops in France, delivery to be completed within the next six months. Some of them have already reached France. A new experiment in football has been made. Owing to the scarcity of leather, the covers are made of heavy canvas which has been given chemical treatment. This new method gives satisfaction, the ball often being in better condition at the conclusion of the game than a leather covered ball would have been if it subjected to the same usage.

It seems to be the ambition of the young Frenchman to become a champion football player just as it was the dream of every American youth to develop into a baseball star.

Mr. Marnette, the President of the Union of the French Societies of Athletics sports told the Associated Press that "the soldiers have found the game invaluable in helping them to while away their days in the rear and many an afternoon has been spent in the fresh, invigorating air that might have been passed in some stuffy cafe. It is the muscular vitality of a large part of young France that is at stake. Football has come to France to stay."

MOTHER'S DAY

Philadelphia, Pa., April 1.—May 12 the second Sunday in May, is Mother's Day. In honor of the best mother that ever lived—was the origin of the slogan under which the celebration of this day was inaugurated by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia several years ago. The object is to bring about world-wide recognition of a specified day as one for universal emphasis of the love men and women owe to a good mother. Has been recorded a response from practically every civilized nation.

But this year, Mother's Day is to have a significance even deeper than formerly. With the assistance of military and naval authorities in the United States, with the country's ships at sea and commanding her troops abroad, and with the aid of the Red Cross and Young Men's Christian Association officials, the day is to be one for an interchange of greetings.

between mothers at home and their boys when they are in the service.

By men in foreign service, it is hoped, the day will be partly devoted to letter writing. Congress has made the day a national observance. Secretaries Baker and Daniels and General Pershing have endorsed the innovation to be introduced this year on the theory that nothing so stimulates the morale of fighting men as letters from home.

Honoring mothers or their memory through some distinct act of kindness—a visit, a letter, or the wearing of a white carnation—are the marks of Mother's Day observance which have been widely adopted in North and South America, England, Europe and in Australia.

The white carnation has been recognized as the special flower for Mother's Day. Its whiteness is held symbolic of purity; its wide field of growth, charity; its lasting qualities, motherhood and the strengthening of domestic and national integrity.

In her annual announcement of the day, Miss Jarvis says: "It is not a day of ideal sentimentalism. It is a renewal of allegiance to our highest ideals of womanhood and will contribute to the sanctity of home and motherhood and the strengthening of domestic and national integrity. Observance of the day is to be urged in schools, colleges, churches, fraternal societies, and in all public places in recent years, mayors of many cities and towns throughout the United States have issued proclamations calling for general observance of the day."

Booth's Car First Struck O'Daniel's In Automobile Accident

In reporting the collision of automobiles driven by Arthur Booth and Mr. McMillen of the McMillen Service Car Co. on Tenth street, the Times Tuesday said that Mr. McMillen was going down the street and that his car was on the left side of the street when the collision occurred. Insofar as any blame might be drawn that Mr. McMillen was to blame for the collision this statement is in error. Mr. McMillen was going west on Tenth street when his car was struck by the car driven by Booth after Booth's car had first collided with a car driven by Mr. O'Daniel.

Head of Preacher Who Favors Germany Shaven by Young Men

By Associated Press
Sulphur, Okla., April 3.—Because the Rev. A. J. Capers, 72 years old is alleged to have made the boast in recent speeches over Murray county, that he would never have his hair cut until Germany emerged victorious from the war, sixty young men of his vicinity, awaiting draft call, invaded Capers' room in a local hotel while he was asleep, armed with shears and a razor, shaved his head clean. His iron gray locks of hair were distributed among the party as trophies of war.

CATHEDRAL AT NOYON IS REPORTED ON FIRE

By Associated Press
Amsterdam, April 3.—The cathedral at Noyon is, according to a semi-official statement from Berlin. The blaze is attributed by the Germans to the French bombardment. The cathedral of Noyon is one of the most beautiful French examples of the Transition style of architecture of the eleventh and twelfth centuries. A portion was added in the fourteenth century and the chapel of the nave were built in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries.

Americans Are Given Civic Reception in Old English City

Somewhere in England, April 3.—American troops were given a civic reception at a historic center in England yesterday. The American flag flew over the town hall which dates back more than three centuries before Columbus discovered America. The mayor and other prominent citizens welcomed the soldiers and refreshments were served by a committee of women headed by the wife of the mayor.

BUSINESS RESUMED FOLLOWING STRIKE IN KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, April 3.—Although the general strike in progress here for a week was settled late last night by agreement, it developed this forenoon that the city faced a continuation of the street car leap.

ONE KILLED AND TWO WOUNDED WITH NINE PLANTS DAMAGED, PHYSICAL TOLL

By Associated Press
Kansas City, Mo., April 3.—Labor conditions in Kansas City today slowly were returning to normal following the ending late last night of the general strike of all union workmen, called one week ago today in sympathy with striking laundry employees. The street railway, restaurants, bakeries, theaters, laundries, all construction work, barber shops, breweries and various other industries had felt the effect of the strike, work being completely suspended in some instances.

One man was shot and killed, two others shot, many less seriously injured and twenty men indicted on charges of unlawful assembly as a result of rioting that followed calling of the general strike. Nine large laundry plants were badly damaged, the fact being returned to work early in the morning of the second day.

No point was carried by the unions in signing the agreement ending the strike, according to the document. A proposal by the Kansas City Employers' Association that all workers who walked out in sympathy with the laundry employees return to work in order that confidence in labor contracts may be re-established, and under conditions as they existed before the general strike was accepted by the strikers upon promise of Mayor George H. Edwards that the employers would ratify it if the strikers accepted it. A prior concession by the laundry owners provided a minimum wage of $9 a week for women laundry workers, and $1 a week increase for laundry employees receiving $9 or more, except drivers receiving commissions. Recognition of the union was not granted.
