LABOR'S PROPOSAL IS TURNED DOWN

LaFollette Amendment To Treaty Is Defeated

6000 ROADS PROPOSITION IS DEFEATED

Very Light Vote Is Cast In Election Tuesday On Amendments

TWO PROPOSITIONS CARRY A THIRD MAY HAVE WON

Late Returns Indicate Plan to Separate University and A. & M. Is Successful

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Texas voters may have approved division of the University of Texas and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College in yesterday's election, returns available up to noon today showing a slight majority for the amendment.

DALLAS, TEX., Nov. 5.—Early additional returns today from the election in Texas yesterday did not materially affect the status of the various issues upon which the voters were called to vote, but they indicated a report received up to a late hour last night.

Increased pensions for Confederate veterans and authorization for a $5,000,000 bond issue by Galveston for harbor protective works received the approval of the voters in the two amendments definitely adopted.

Amendments for division of the state university and the agricultural college and for sharing of prison profits by convicts depend still upon a doubtful vote, with both holding a slight favorable lead as additional returns came in this morning.

The proposal for a constitutional convention and authorization for a $75,000,000 good roads bill, also authorizing special taxes for permanent town and county improvements were defeated, available returns showed.

Sentiment of Voters. Indicative of the sentiment on three of the important issues in scattered sections of the state, the following complete returns from a number of cities is considered fairly representative:

(The vote for a proposition is given first, then the vote against.) Constitutional convention: Houston 1129 for, 317 against; Dallas and Ft. Worth 1400 for, 400 against; San Antonio 137 and 37; Temple 46 and 140; Laredo 50 and 36; Brownsville 51 and 8; Marlin 22 and 69; Tyler 143 and 141; Nacogdoches 52 and 52; Palestine 73 and 100; Denton 59 and 172; Longview 61 and 64; McKinney 111 and 152; Hillsboro 64 and 249; Terrell 45 and 78; Breham 45 and 97; San Angelo 34 and 71; Cleburne and part of Johnson County 97 and 253; Paris 45 and 92; Austin 216 and 476; Waco 92 and 132.

Road Bond Issue. Seventy-five million good roads bond issue: Houston 1225 for, 285 against; Dallas and part of Dallas County 570 and 1285; Beaumont 154 and 37; Temple 55 and 211; Laredo 82 and 16; Brownsville 60 and 7; Marlin 12 and 128; Tyler 153 and 150; Nacogdoches 68 and 300; Palestine 137 and 130; Denton 61 and 23; Longview 95 and 61; McKinney 147 and 220; Hillsboro 35 and 311; Terrell 106 and 69; Breham 108 and 94; San Angelo and part of Tom Green County 23 and 102; Cleburne and part of Johnson County 118 and 371; Paris 96 and 122; Austin 417 and 580; Waco 129 and 122.

University division: Houston 1320 for, 382 against; Dallas and part of Dallas County 956 and 878; Beaumont 140 and 35; Temple 79 and 139; Laredo 47 and 17; Brownsville 62 and 5; Marlin 10 and 83; Tyler 19 and 123; Nacogdoches 107 and 266; Palestine 105 and 107; Denton 49 and 26; McKinney 192 and 183; Hillsboro 86 and 53; Terrell 75 and 96; Breham 121 and 92; San Angelo and part of Tom Green County 70 and 70; Cleburne and part of Johnson County 150 and 321; Paris 91 and 91; Austin 778 and 553; Waco 172 and 167.

HOLLWEG SAYS WILSON ACTED LIKE SPHYNX

Resumes Testimony Before Committee Investigating Conduct of the War

By CARL D. GROAT United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—President Wilson was a "sphinx upon whom one could not entirely depend, when ignorant of his plans," former Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg declared when he resumed his testimony today before the Reichstag committee investigating conduct of the war.

Germany wanted America to remain neutral at the close of 1916, Bethmann Hollweg said, but considerable doubt prevailed in the Wilhelmstrasse as to Wilson's ability to bring about peace and his intentions regarding Germany.

James W. Gerard, then ambassador to Germany, Bethmann Hollweg described as "an unformed ambassador" with whom dealing was difficult because of his lack of information.

Belgian archives will prove Germany did not violate Belgian neutrality, the former chancellor averred.

Neither von Bethmann Hollweg nor former Foreign Secretary Zimmermann, who followed him, discussed the notorious "scrap of paper" incident.

President Wilson was "unwilling to place his cards on the table," Zimmermann told the committee, "and it was a foregone conclusion his peace offer would be badly received in Germany because of American munitions shipments to the Allies."

Germany knew Wilson's peace offer of December, 1918, was coming, Zimmermann said.

Editor Bernard of the Vossische Zeitung testified Zimmermann gave to the press a statement concerning Germany's plans to interpose a peace treaty between the warring sides which he explained as an effort to get Germany's case before the world first in its most favorable light.

GERMAN-AUSTRIAN DELEGATES REFUSED PASSAGE TO U. S.

SOLDIER IS KILLED IN THE COAL FIELDS

NASHVILLE, TENN., Nov. 5.—One soldier was killed and another wounded in the coal fields near Knoxville, according to word received at the capital today.

DEEP RHYTHME OF REVOLUTION SAYS A HOLLAND PAPER

THE HAGUE, Nov. 5.—A "deep rhythm of revolutionary movement" lies under strikes in Great Britain and the United States the Nieuw Contract said today.

HOPE IS BRIGHTER FOR FINAL VOTE ON TREATY BY NOV. 15

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Hope of a final treaty vote in the Senate by November 15 appeared brighter today.

Although all efforts of leaders on both sides to forestall action have been unsuccessful thus far, many said they were confident that the treaty fight will collapse within a few days.

Democratic leaders made it clear, however, they will not permit the treaty to be retroceded through and will prefer delay to accepting objectionable reservations.

There seemed to be a feeling that the biggest men on the opposing sides are working toward some kind of an understanding in the belief that the treaty demands quick disposition.

GERMAN-AUSTRIAN DELEGATES REFUSED PASSAGE TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The German and Austrian delegates to the International Labor Conference here having failed to obtain passage to America, the supreme council at Paris has agreed to endeavor to arrange for their passage to a cablegram received today by the conference.

REFUSE PERMIT FOR HUGE CELEBRATION PLANNED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Plans of the radicals in Hammond, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor and Gary to hold a monster celebration in East Chicago November 7, 8 and 9 in honor of the second anniversary of the birth of bolshevism in Russia have gone awry.

DALLAS, TEX., Nov. 5.—A court order held eggs valued at between $25,000 and $30,000 here today while food inspectors held their noses.

INDICATIONS WERE THROUGHOUT THE COURSE OF THE INFORMAL HEARING ON COMPLAINTS AGAINST UNFAIR PRACTICES BY THE SHORT PIPE LINE COMPANIES IN THIS DISTRICT, WHICH WAS BEGUN BY THE TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION IN THE ELKS CLUB ROOMS AT 9:00 O'CLOCK WEDNESDAY MORNING, WERE THAT THE COMMISSION WOULD DECLARE THESE SHORT LINE COMMON CARRIERS UNDER THE TEXAS LAWS AND SUBJECT TO SUCH COMMON CARRIER REGULATIONS.

FIRST OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE FINAL BATTLE

DETAILED TODAY BEFORE MILITARY COMMITTEE BY GENERAL PERSHING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The first official report of the last battle of the war was made public today when General John J. Pershing detailed before the joint Senate and House military affairs committee the activities of the American armies in France on the day of the armistice.

The statement was made in response to a question as to why there was some fighting on the American front after 11:00 o'clock on November 11.

"I was notified late on the night of the 10th," said General Pershing, "by courier from General Foch's headquarters, that the Germans would attack the next morning at 11:00 o'clock. The agreement was to fight right up to the minute they signed. The purpose of this was two-fold: First, to encourage their signatures, and second, because we did not trust them nor their motives."

"From the moment the instructions went out until 11:00 o'clock, every shell that was possible to send over into the German trenches was fired."

Pershing hesitated, lost in meditation and arousing himself continued in a low voice: "The fighting on the 11th I was in touch with General Foch's headquarters by special communication and informed that indications were that the Germans would sign at 11:00 o'clock."

"Instructions were issued to cease firing at 10:59 on the morning of the 11th."

"Some of the advance troops had gone so far into the enemy's territory that it was impossible for word to reach them by that hour," he said.

LIFE SENTENCE OF SAPP IS AFFIRMED BY HIGHER COURT

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 5.—Lower court decisions in the case of J. E. Sapp, who was given a 99-year sentence in connection with the killing of his wife in Liberty county in 1914, were affirmed by the court of criminal appeals today.

The state's contention that Sapp hired Dick Watts, who alleged that he shot Mrs. Sapp accidentally, to kill the woman was upheld by the higher court.

The court of criminal appeals also affirmed the verdict against J. C. Lucas of Galveston county, who was given a 25-year sentence for a statutory offense against a woman.

Ex parte Fred E. Baker of Travis county who is charged with fitting eye glasses in violation of state medical laws, submitted to the court of criminal appeals a motion to withdraw his writ of habeas corpus.

This was a test case of the law which prohibits anyone who has not passed the examination prescribed by the state medical board from fitting glasses, and today's action indicates that the test has been dropped, according to general opinion.

SCHOOLS IN FOUR WESTERN COUNTIES FORCED TO CLOSE

AUSTIN, TEX., Nov. 5.—Schools in four West Texas counties must close unless immediate fuel relief is afforded, according to a joint plea telegraphed by their superintendents to the state superintendent's office today.

The coal strike has cut off all supplies, the message said. Appeal has been made to the revived fuel board for aid.

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT VACATE INJUNCTION AGAINST STRIKERS PRELIMINARY TO NEGOTIATIONS

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 5.—Although there was an unmistakable settlement among those in close touch with the United Mine Workers headquarters here that the strike of coal miners would be of short duration, a tangible foundation for this belief could be found today.

No proposals have been made by the department of labor toward lifting the restraining order on condition miners would submit the issues to a federal arbitration board, it was stated positively.

Union leaders, it was indicated, are strongly opposed to arbitration on any basis, although it is not impossible that an arbitration offer might be accepted.

Joint Bargaining. "Joint bargaining" is the only means for strike settlement pointed out by Acting President John L. Lewis, in the only statement he has issued since the strike was called.

Miners' chiefs were waiting today for either the government or the coal operators to set the machinery of joint bargaining in motion. No indication that either the government or operators would do so could be discovered here.

An important meeting of mine operators of the Indiana field was scheduled to be held at Terre Haute, Indiana, today. The purpose of the meeting was not disclosed, but some answer was expected to claims made by Ed Stewart, president of the Indiana coal miners, that he had received proposals tending toward a settlement of the strike from a few operators.

Not to Reopen Mines. Phil Penna, spokesman for the operators, set at rest all reports that the government would reopen coal mines in view of the situation. Penna stated it would be foolhardy to even think of opening the mines.

The plan mapped out by attorneys for the government to reopen the coal mines in view of the situation, Penna stated it would be foolhardy to even think of opening the mines.

The fight will center on the appeal by the government for a court order instructing union leaders to withdraw their strike call and also on the planned appeal of the miners for modification of the restraining order so that strike benefits may be paid.

FARRINGTON CHARGES OPERATORS TO BLAME

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 5.—Blaming the operators for a strike, the present strike of bituminous coal miners, Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois organization, declared that the federal injunction must be dissolved before negotiations can proceed.

Farrington made the statement when told of the announcement of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, relative to the impossibility of settling the strike until the injunction is withdrawn.

"We have always been willing to meet the operators in joint conference without any reservations to negotiate the situation," Farrington declared. "The injunction of the government led the operators to believe they could depend upon the government to make the fight for them and thus merely complicated the situation."

The refusal of the government to vacate the injunction means a long fight in the coal fields, which would have opened the way for settlement of the strike within 48 hours, according to Edgar Wallace, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers of America.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 5.—The refusal of the government to vacate the injunction means a long fight in the coal fields, which would have opened the way for settlement of the strike within 48 hours, according to Edgar Wallace, legislative representative of the United Mine Workers of America.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Confronted by statements of both miners and operators that the country was in for a long struggle in the bituminous coal fields, the American Federation of Labor today still apparently was undecided whether to rescind the injunction led the operators to believe they could depend upon the government to make the fight for them and thus merely complicated the situation.

All of the Illinois fields were reported quiet today with no mines operating and no men offering to return to work.

SPARRING FOR OPENING TO BETTLE THE STRIKE

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Confronted by statements of both miners and operators that the country was in for a long struggle in the bituminous coal fields, the American Federation of Labor today still apparently was undecided whether to rescind the injunction led the operators to believe they could depend upon the government to make the fight for them and thus merely complicated the situation.

Statements of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, that dissolving federal injunction which has sealed the lips and stopped the activities of the miners' leaders in forwarding the strike might point the way to peace, and of John L. Lewis, acting president of the miners' union, that negotiations could start any day, were pointed to as indicative of the willingness of both sides to negotiate. Their desire that the injunction be vacated, however, was equalled by the operators' demand that a preliminary to negotiations be struck be called off.

Fuel Shortage. As the approximately 425,000 miners added to the country's demand for fuel, the fuel shortage made itself felt further by the public in some parts of the country, notably Montana. From St. Louis also it was reported that a fuel shortage threatened. Other places, mainly west of the Mississippi, frankly were making such preparations as were possible to meet the advent of winter. In the central and eastern districts no severe shortage today had been threatened, and reassuring statements were issued by officials in some sections.

So far railroad operation has not been interfered with and the closing down of no industry because of the strike has been reported.

TO ASK CITY COUNCIL TO REVOKE FRANCHISES OF WATER AND GAS PEOPLE

"I intend on Thursday night to ask the city council of Wichita Falls to revoke the franchises of both the Wichita Falls Water Company and the North Texas Gas Company," said W. S. Curlee, chairman of the public utilities commission, Wednesday morning.

"The water company has repeatedly refused to make extensions of their service, which they are required to do under their franchise. About the only answer that is given when a complaint is made regarding the lack of service is the suggestion that the city take the water company over and vote bonds to make the extensions. I have in mind one specific instance where the water company is refusing to give service after a private line was put in by individuals. The private line on Taylor broke, cutting those on the line from the supply, and the water company refused to mend it, saying they have nothing to do with it."

"The gas company is also refusing, not only to make extensions, but in instances which have been brought to my attention, to make connections when applicants are already on the gas mains. One of the printed slips which was given a man living in a section where the gas was already piped, has been handed me. Their giving notice of this sort under such conditions is preposterous. The notice follows: 'You are hereby notified that your application for service is subject to delay. Owing to existing labor conditions and our inability to get material delivered, it is necessary that you be given this notice, so that you can provide for other fuel in the event we are not able to connect you with our lines promptly."

"It will also make a strong fight against the gas from the new well at Petrolia being piped away from Wichita Falls. Just what steps will be taken I cannot yet say, but Wichita Falls will put up a determined fight. There is no use in the citizens sitting calmly by while gas is taken from almost their very door to other cities more than a hundred miles away."

"The North Texas Gas Company says that it only purchases gas from the Lone Star company and would be glad to get more gas for Wichita Falls, but it is both companies and the same stockholders control both companies, and that the Lone Star is producing and the North Texas is marketing gas. I am informed that the government contract for gas from the helium plant at Fort Worth provides for the use of gas for domestic purposes to the exclusion of the government experimental plant, if a gas shortage arises."

"Action must be taken immediately along both these lines, and the public utilities commission is prepared to take all necessary steps. I have reason to believe that the majority of the council will favor revoking the franchises of both companies and that it will be possible to get immediate action."

PACKERS TO HAVE HEARING.

The railroads and packers' side of the question will be heard by the Interstate Commerce Commission next month, hearings on complaint of the Wholesale Grocers' Association having been adjourned over until then, and we are awaiting with no little interest the procedure the opposition will use in attempting to refute the grocers' testimony as developed before the commission.
 The plaintiffs undertook by dozens of witnesses to show that through the use of private refrigerator cars, the railroads gave service to the packers very greatly superior to anything they gave the wholesale grocers, who shipped in ordinary cars. One witness presented prepared data to show that not only had the railroads delivered packers' shipments in twenty-four hours over routes that required from one to two weeks to negotiate with grocers' carload shipments, but that, even, in some instances the packers had been given a preferential rate. The packers were able to promise definite delivery dates, while the grocers were able only to "guess when." The inevitable result, according to the witnesses, was that the packers, handling hundreds of competitive articles, got the business that heretofore had gone to the grocers.
 Another witness produced a list of over 1,000 articles which, he said, had been shipped by members of the "big five" in refrigerator cars to fill out part carloads of most products, and general of the list makes one wonder by what justification some of the articles could have been included for the preferential schedules and treatment accorded to refrigerator cars.
 Specifically the grocers contend in their complaint that the railroads are discriminating against them and in favor of the packers. But underlying the specific contention it is very easy to see that the real reason is the wholesale grocers' fear that, if present conditions are permitted to continue, it is a question only of time until they will be out of business and the packers, by reason of special refrigerator car service and other accommodations will have gobbled up the wholesale trade. And, rightfully or not, there has been implanted in the minds of hundreds of retail grocers the fear that, with their wholesale brethren out of the way, the next elimination at the hands of the packers will be the retailers themselves—the packers, their apprehension is, controlling the situation at the bottom, at the top and in the middle. It is true, of course, that the testimony so far has been largely one-sided, perhaps biased, and that the railroads and packers are yet to present their rebuttal.
 But coming on top of and largely confirming some of the reiterated charges of the Federal Trade commission, the testimony already deduced is apt to be difficult to refute to the satisfaction of a suspicious public.

QUESTION OF BONUSES.

Gratuities seldom help and often hurt their recipients. There are too many of us who, the more we are given, the more we expect will be given. Injudicious gifts have ruined many a man, and sinistrous positions have unfitted every man who held them for one in which he had to work to make good.
 Apropos of gratuities: Canadian soldiers who saw as much as three years of service, any part of it overseas, are receiving $600 bonus if married and $420 if single. Based on the length of service the bonus ranges on down to as low as $200 and $210 for those who served less than a year. In addition the Canadian government provides pensions for the widows and dependents of its soldier dead, financial aid for the wholly or partially disabled, vocational training for those unfitted by wounds or service for their former occupation, and aid in the purchase of land for soldier-farmers.
 On top of all that, the Dominion Trade and Labor Congress has called upon the government to bestow a gratuity of $2,000 each upon all Canadian soldiers—which would require $800,000,000 and which would government officials say, threaten the Dominion with financial disaster.
 Over here Congress, on its own motion, provided a $60 bonus and the army clothing for all discharged men. But the American Legion of Honor, in its very beginning, frowned upon the idea of bonuses, not probably that the additional money would not have been welcome to all, but because its thinking members realized that the gratuity would do very much more harm than good to its recipients.
 The Lone Star Gas Company has neither men nor pipes available for augmenting the supply of gas for those cities which already it is furnishing, or supposed to be furnishing, natural gas. But it seems to have no trouble in getting both men and pipes for use in extending its service into new fields.
 For instance, we note that the Lone Star company is building lines for the supply of Nacogdoches, Waxahatchie, Corsicana and Cleburne from the West Texas fields; that it has unloaded seventy-five carloads of pipe at Granbury, Waples and Crosson for the construction of a line to Joshua from Deedemona.
 We also note that the principal activity of the Lone Star company throughout North Texas is the notifying consumers of a prospective gas shortage and of the necessity of preparing for it by laying in a supply of other fuel.
 There is, it seems, no recourse for the public—no way of enforcing the implied contract under which consumers spent from $100 to $200 and upwards for making gas connections and purchasing the equipment of stoves and the like.
 Some say that creation of a State Public Utilities Commission is the way to remedy the situation that seems to be growing in seriousness; and if that is the specific need, proponents of the proposed commission can count on 100 per cent support in those cities dependent upon the Lone Star company for their fuel.

ON ROOF OF THE WORLD.

Chester Crowell, secretary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce over at Dallas the other day, said a "mouthful", as the saying is, when he told the Lions' club that Texas is "sitting pretty" on the roof of the world. "We who live in Texas may pucker our brows over the little echoes we hear of conditions elsewhere," he said. "But the truth of the matter is, we are 'sitting pretty' on the roof of the world and have more to be thankful for than the people of any other part of the globe."
 There is some industrial unrest in Texas, as there is everywhere. But down here in Texas where native-borns are overwhelmingly in the majority and where the spirit of the frontiersman still lives in his thousands of descendants, there is a minimum of bolshevism; the "wobblies" have made few converts to IWWism in these parts because the minds of right-thinking native-borns do not run in that direction.
 Senator Harding of Ohio announces he will not be a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, but wants re-election to the Senate. Senator Harding is obviously of the type with whom a senatorship in the hand beats a presidential nomination in the bush.

KING MAKES FRIENDS.

King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Leopold, the Belgian royal family, are on their way home after a tour of the United States—the first reigning monarchs ever to visit the United States and to that extent epochal in our entertainment of distinguished visitors. The Belgian King was popular before he came over; his attitude and actions in 1914 will never be forgotten as an example of putting duty above material prosperity that Germany offered him. But we venture that he is twice as popular now as he was before his visit over here, because then his popularity was on a pedestal, while now it is on the level.
 The King showed there was nothing of the snob about him; the Queen and the heir apparent showed themselves also governed wholly by democratic instincts. Everywhere he and they were received as distinguished visitors and not as sovereigns; the King enjoyed heartily the shouts of the New York crowds welcoming him. "We know you, Al," and everywhere on the trip, simplicity always, ostentation never, governed the royal family's actions. King Albert was a democrat before the war; but his democratic tendencies were vastly increased by what he went through during the war. His son, who could have been an officer of high rank, chose instead to fight as a private.

 The Belgian royalty may have come over here for political (or financial) reasons, as has been said. But they made lots of friends and thousands of warm admirers during their stay among the American people and they have given a lot of United Statesers a different idea about royalties from what they had before.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron
 An Antidote for Self Pity.
 Did you ever have some one whom you never met, perhaps someone who was dead years before you were born, rise up and rebuke you when you were complaining because you could not have things just the way you want them?
 Here's the sort of thing I mean: Every time I find myself complaining because I am sorry that I cannot when I am trying to work Jane Austen rebukes me.
 "How Can a Woman Accomplish Anything?"
 I have been interrupted for the fourth time in an all too short morning by the coming of an expressman to go back to my typewriter and find that the latter half of a sentence which I was writing when the knock came, has entirely departed. I have no more idea of what was going to complete that sentence than if someone else had written the first half. I feel a sense of irritation and exasperation and wish I had been born a man with a man's perspective on hours. How can a woman accomplish anything anyhow, I ask myself, and then enters the thought of Jane Austen.
 I remember how she did her work—sitting in the big family living room at the parsonage, surrounded by the whole family, who were reading several novels and newspapers writing on a table in her lap ever ready to stop and talk with the grown-ups or play with the children.
 One Woman Who Did.
 And then I remember what she wrote.

QUESTION OF GAS SUPPLY.
 The Lone Star Gas Company has neither men nor pipes available for augmenting the supply of gas for those cities which already it is furnishing, or supposed to be furnishing, natural gas. But it seems to have no trouble in getting both men and pipes for use in extending its service into new fields.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE. LOCAL STREET CAR SERVICE IS CRITICISED

The author of this article would like the members of our city council to forsake their automobiles for awhile and patronize our city street cars; and see how they like the service the public is receiving. The writer is a street car patron, and would like to mention two instances (out of many).
 Saturday night I boarded a car in front of the opera house at 9:15, and arrived at Denver and Ninth 10:10. Just fifty-five minutes going that far. Sunday night, I stood on the corner of Taylor at 8 o'clock, waited twenty minutes and a car came loaded to the steps, but did not stop, leaving eleven people standing there. I walked down to Denver and waited until another car came and left the same way.
 At five minutes of seven another car came and stopped, and I got on. We ran as far as Broad and Fifteenth when for some cause the current went off. At that time there was 95 fares registered and the car crowded.
 At 7:25 we were able to start again and had 30 passengers, the other 19 having gotten off and walked. There was one and a half hours trying to get to the corner of Lamar and Tenth. Those 69 who walked had paid their

BROWNWOOD PLANS FOR POULTRY SHOW DECEMBER 4 TO 6

BROWNWOOD, TEX., Nov. 5.—Brownwood has arranged for a poultry show to be held in that city December 4 to 6 next. The secretary of the Brownwood Poultry Association is W. H. Lawson, to whom inquiries must be directed for catalogs, entry blanks, etc. During the show there will also be held a poultry school under the direction of an expert from the A. & M. College, which will, as in the case of the show itself, be open to all free of charge.

Coincident with the poultry show there will be exhibits of pigs, baby beavers, corn, cotton, sheep, peanuts and grain sorghums by the boys and girls clubs of the county, with valuable prizes for the best exhibits. There will also be a sale of pedigreed pigs (Brownwood is the greatest shipping point for these delectable nuts in the whole world), with prizes for the best exhibits, and a sale of pedigreed pigs will take place during the progress of the show.

C. P. Van Winkle, of Dallas, one of the best judges of poultry in the country will act as judge of the poultry. Mr. Van Winkle acted as judge at the recent national show at Kansas City.

Brown county has not made much noise in the poultry business during recent years, but it will be recalled that the last exhibit made at this point included native birds of sterling merit and fine lineage, and it will take high grade stock to compete for the blue ribbons at the coming show. The foremost breeder of Barred Plymouth Rocks makes his home at Brownwood, also some of the best breeders of Black Minorcas, Rhode Island Reds, White Leghorns, Anconas, and Black and White Langshans—in fact nearly every breed of poultry known is specialized in by Brown county breeders, and a great many prizes have been taken by them at Dallas and San Angelo in recent months.

The recent dry conditions operated to the disadvantage of the industry in the county, but it is now taking on a new lease of life, and classy stock is being shipped out of the territory fully at fancy prices. The volume of poultry on a quarter of a million dollars a year. The climate and local conditions here are very favorable to poultry raising which is nevertheless a purely side-line with Brown county farmers. However, the people of the county are beginning to realize the possibilities of the business, and a comparison of foundation stock at the coming show will doubtless result in a great stimulus to specializing on poultry raising by citizens, as well as those who may visit the show during the coming month.

SON ARRIVES ON DATE OF ROOSEVELT'S SUCCESS IN NEW YORK ELECTION

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Nov. 5.—While Nassau county voters were giving Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, the greatest majority ever called up by a state assembly candidate in this district yesterday, a son was born to Mrs. Roosevelt. The newest Roosevelt will be named Quentin in honor of its aviator uncle who gave his life in France.

Roosevelt, running as a Republican, defeated Elias Demosack, a returned soldier, by 2500 votes. It was Roosevelt's maiden political race.

The baby arrived not many hours after Mrs. Roosevelt had attended her husband's final campaign rally the night before election. It is the fourth child born to the family. Mrs. Roosevelt formerly was Miss Eleanor Alexander.

HOME MADE DRINKS BELIEVED TO HAVE CAUSED THE DEATH OF WOMAN

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Home-made wine, moonshine whiskey and wood alcohol were believed today to have been the cause of the mysterious death of two women here. Mrs. Mary Kraminski, 30 years old, entertained Mrs. Sophie Schultz at her home with these delicacies.

Dr. J. Kraminski, the husband, was subjected to severe questioning by the police following disclosure of his negligence in notifying the coroner of the death.

The doctor said he treated Mrs. Schultz by hypodermic injection when she awoke at 3:30 in the morning with acute stomach pains. After all subsiding the hypodermic he went back to bed. When he awoke she was dead.

His wife complained of pains and he called in another doctor for consultation. She died at 10:30 in the morning.

Both doctors are under police surveillance pending completion of the investigation.

REPORT THIRTY-EIGHT WERE KILLED IN RECENT CHICAGO RACE RIOTS

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Thirty eight persons, 15 whites and 23 negroes, were killed in Chicago's race riots last July and August, according to the official report issued by Coronor Hoffman today.

The report was issued to stop persistent rumors that hundreds were killed and the fact suppressed.

"Willful segregation was argued as a preventative of further troubles."

Notice is hereby given that the coroner's office will close next Saturday at 12 o'clock to install additional furniture. W. F. Harris, county clerk. 159-31c

M'GRAW HAD PLANNED FOR ONE-STOP FLIGHT ACROSS CONTINENT

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—H. M. McGraw of Dallas, until recently a flying test pilot and instructor at Hazelhurst field, Minnola, L. I., declares he was to have attempted the one-stop transcontinental flight, which B. W. Maynard, the "flying parson," will undertake soon.

McGraw, who was a master signal electrician, had the distinction of being one of the few enlisted flyers in the aviation section. He had remodeled an immense "DH-4L" airplane for the long trip from Minnola to San Diego, when he was ordered discharged immediately. He is now in Dallas.

"The giant, remodeled DeHavilland 4, is equipped with a Liberty motor and made 132 miles an hour on a test run," McGraw said. "It tested 425 horsepower. The plane was equipped with an extra landing gear and an extra wing underneath the other wings. It is completely streamlined and has little air resistance."

"The plane has two cockpits and double control, enabling it to carry two men and permitting either of them to guide the machine. However, I believe Maynard will attempt the trip alone. The machine was especially equipped to carry 315 gallons of gasoline and 21 gallons of cylinder oil. This is plenty of fuel for 16 hours of flying, but it weighs about 2,250 pounds. To get a good idea of the weight of the gasoline one could compare its weight to that of 15 150-pound men."

Outlet for Gasoline.
It is so heavy that if the engine dies while Maynard is in the air, the plane would drop straight to the ground. To meet such an emergency he has placed an immense outlet in the bottom of the gasoline tank so that the operator can get rid of most of his gasoline if he has any serious engine trouble.

"I believe Maynard will make the trip successfully because I know what the plane will do, and I know something of Maynard's ability as a flyer and navigator. He has a wonderful physique and keeps himself in good condition at all times."

"Maynard will draw a straight line on his map of the United States from New York to Dallas, and get his bearings from cities, rivers, mountains and other landmarks on either side. I think he will leave New York about 2:00 a. m. and arrive in Dallas, the only scheduled stop, about 6:00 p. m. He may stay here about two hours to fill his gasoline tanks, or he may rest here until 2:00 a. m. the following day and try to reach his destination before sunset the second day."

DAILY AIRPLANE EXCURSIONS CHICAGO TO NEW YORK IS UNDER CONSIDERATION
CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—A daily airplane express service between Chicago and New York is under consideration by the government, it was revealed today.

The plan was discussed by postoffice authorities, park commissioners and officers of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The plan of the government is to run the express service in conjunction with the regular established mail service, and enlarge the landing field here to accommodate the new service. It was understood the park commissioners agreed to enlargement of the field.

Pasteurized for PURITY and Triple Wrapped for PROTECTION

From the time the rich, creamy milk comes from the cow, right to the delivery at your door of the savory, golden-yellow print, the quality and purity of Mistletoe Butter is carefully and painstakingly maintained and guarded.

Perfect Pasteurization is one of the processes that insure the PURITY of Mistletoe Butter.

Two separate sanitary paper wrappers in addition to the outside carton insure positive protection for the purity and delicious flavor of this finest of butters.

These, then, are the reasons for Mistletoe superiority and popularity. And they are the reasons that should convince YOU of the fact that Mistletoe is the ONE and ONLY butter to use in your home.

Ask for Mistletoe at your grocers next time you need butter, and be convinced!

"There is no substitute for butter."

A Renown Corn for Every Use

Any well-stocked grocery can offer you a Renown Corn for every use. The three varieties under this famous brand—such good in its own way—will cover the dictates of any group of appetites. And by varying the three, you also have an opportunity to use a delicious, satisfying and economical food as often as you like.

Renown Maine Sweet Corn
In the whole corn of the group, it has all the flavor of a Boston Sweet Corn, but with the soft, buttery taste of the Renown. It has the same sweet, succulent, tender, and tender. For the ordinary uses of corn, which which every household is familiar, Renown Maine Sweet Corn has no equal.

Renown Fritter Corn
In the heart of Maine Sweet Corn, generally, to be used especially in corn fritters, soups, hot coffee and the like. Fritter Corn is a new variety of the Renown, but it is due to great popularity. It has a delicate, pleasing flavor that appeals to everyone. On every tin, you will find a number of recipes for its use.

Golden Bantam Corn
In a real splendor of delight. Non-sweet, succulent golden, golden in color, fresh and tender, makes it a new kind of corn to the taste of the Renown. It has the same sweet, succulent, tender, and tender. For the ordinary uses of corn, which which every household is familiar, Renown Maine Sweet Corn has no equal.

The exceptional quality of all Renown goods has led to the success of the Renown Corn. For the policy of the house of Borden, to go after the best food products, no matter where they are found, is followed by the Renown. It has the same sweet, succulent, tender, and tender. For the ordinary uses of corn, which which every household is familiar, Renown Maine Sweet Corn has no equal.

Wood and Johnson Hold Center of Stage In List of Republican Eligibles

By HUGH BAILLIE
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—General Leonard Wood and Senator Hiram Johnson of California are marching in the foremost rank of Republican presidential possibilities.

But Governor Frank Lowden of Illinois is rapidly forging to the front. He evidently has the support of those who believe the next presidential campaign will be fought out on new issues and that the Republican candidate should be a man who has not been concerned with the national and international broils which have centered in Washington during the war period.

The strength of William Howard Taft is making itself felt in the capital. His name comes up whenever the presidency is discussed. It is credited even by his opponents that he is far more popular and better known by the people now than when he was president and his moderate attitude toward the peace treaty appears to have gained him many friends.

Wood's boom is growing. His name is already in the gathering consideration of many reports here indicate his supporters see in him a second Roosevelt and many of the Roosevelt followers are known to be lining up on his side. As for the soldiers, Wood's friends believe he will poll more of them than General Pershing.

To get back to Senator Johnson, if the peace treaty were to be an issue in the campaign, he would have the support of all who are flatly opposed to it. But with the treaty out of the way, Johnson may be without a clear cut issue.

Johnson is known as a hard campaigner and a forceful speaker. He is a man who has the ability to arouse crowds to great enthusiasm. He is better known than General Wood and seems likely to be high man when the first votes are taken in the convention.

Senator Harding of Ohio, his friends say, will be a candidate. His recent announcement that he would run is no taken seriously here. His supporters look for such a strong demand for him that he will enter the contest.

Borah is mentioned. Senator Borah has been mentioned, as has Senator Lodge and other opponents of the treaty, but close political observers believe their strength is based largely on the present treaty situation and that new issues will eliminate them.

Senator Polk of Texas is one of the most conspicuous presidential aspirants in the Senate. His friends started booming him intermittently more than a year ago.

Senator Cummins, probably will figure in the early stages of the convention.

Among Republicans there is much talk of a "dark horse" to be brought forward at the last minute to capture the convention.

There are many other possible candidates, some of whom are not openly affiliated with either great party.

Pershing and Hoover.

Two of these are General Pershing and Herbert Hoover. Should either of them run, he probably would do so on his personal record rather than on any political party record. Pershing has avoided being identified with a party and there are few who know toward which group Hoover inclines.

Pershing is being kept out of the limelight so consistently that there is a belief his backers intend to produce him as an 11th hour candidate and send him on a tour of the country—that they are holding back his tour until it can be made when the campaign is getting under way.

There is considerable sentiment throughout in favor of Hoover, and in dependent clubs, urging him as a candidate are expected to spring into being within a few weeks.

Republican Germany is making outwardly at least, a clean sweep of things imperial. The sixty-five state carriages which were used by the Kaiser have been sold, and the picture shows the workmen stripping off the vehicles of the imperial coat of arms which adorned it before handing it over to the purchaser. One can imagine before the war what would have been the fate of any workman who had the temerity to tamper with anything so sacred as the arms of the Hohenzollerns.

AUTO COLLISION OCCURS AT NINTH AND INDIANA

The intersection of Ninth and Indiana streets was the scene of a collision Wednesday morning between a Chalmers touring car, driven by a Mrs. Fitzgerald and a Ford belonging to T. C. Rager in which the driver suffered a dented running board and a broken front axle and the occupants are getting under way.

The only damage sustained by the other car was a broken windshield and a few scratches. None of the occupants are getting under way.

Although they were thrown out on the ground.

That the accident was not serious was probably due to the fact that both of the cars were going at a slow rate of speed.

Six Men Murdered and $71,895 Stolen Recently In the Tampico Oil Fields

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Six employees were murdered and more than $71,895 in American gold stolen from oil companies operating in the Tampico oil region during July, August and September, according to an official report just compiled. It was learned today. Six bandits implicated in two of the outrages were arrested and two of them publicly executed.

Carranza soldiers were implicated in some of the outrages, the report stated, although in some of the camps of the region the federal soldiers were "behaving well." On September 23, a camp at Comala was raided by four hundred Carranza soldiers who stole all the clothing of the foreign employees and drove away the last mule in the camp.

On August 11, the report shows, two masked bandits killed the head carter at a camp near El Tigre in the presence of his wife, the two being the only persons in the camp at the time, and stole money and property totaling more than $200.

On September 12, the camp at Panuco was robbed of $72 in gold. On September 20 the pumpjack at the Parri pump station was killed.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Back-ache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys function like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the ethic like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lary feeling come from constipation and a hardened liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c. and 25c.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly... Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last... two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three... I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children... Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

To Our Friends and Policy Holders

We take this opportunity to announce to our many friends and policy holders that we have sold our general insurance business to the firm of Cravens & Co., effective on November 1. Messrs. Cravens & Co. is an old established insurance firm in Wichita Falls and is well and favorably known to all of you and we assure you that they will care for your business in a careful and systematic manner and will render you expert and efficient insurance service in every way and we sincerely trust that you will continue with these good gentlemen that portion of your insurance business which you have heretofore awarded to ourselves. Both members of our firm will continue along individual lines their efforts. In helping to make Wichita Falls a better place in which to live. In transferring of insurance agencies it is necessary for the retiring firm to pay the various companies for all policies issued and in this connection we will be especially grateful to all of our policy-holders who have not paid us their premiums, to do so at once that we may forward these amounts to the home offices of the companies. We express to all our pleasure and appreciation of your insurance that you have favored us with. Very cordially yours,

WOMEN CAN MAKE OF CITY A MORE DESIRABLE PLACE

AID ENLISTED IN CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN THAT HAS BEEN UNDERTAKEN.

HUBERT HARRISON SPEAKER

Membership Reception of Civic League Held Tuesday Afternoon at Christian Church.

"The women of Wichita Falls can make Wichita Falls a real city, a place in which people will want to live, for a city is built about its home life. Being merely a place to make money does not insure a city, such money can be made in a mining camp, but if we build a city we must have something to offer the women and children."

Hubert Harrison, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in enlisting the aid of the Civic League, at the membership reception held Tuesday afternoon in the First Christian church, in the clean-up campaign that has been undertaken by the civic organizations, outlined to them the important part which the women play in building a city.

Similarly Dr. A. H. Douglas, city chemist and member of the department of food and dairy inspection, told the Civic League members how important a factor they might become, if they once awoke to the vital necessity of action in matters governing the city's food and milk supplies, particularly the latter. The women are becoming more and more aroused, he stated, and he believed it would take only a very little agitation, in addition to the sentiment among dealers and dairymen, to start a pure food and sanitation movement, which would be productive of great and beneficial results.

More Than 200 Per Cent. The two addresses featured what was termed Tuesday as the most important and interesting meeting in the history of the Civic League. There were more than 200 present, practically all of them either active members, or pledging themselves to be active in the future. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed, tea, sandwiches and waters being served by members of the refreshment committee.

Two musical numbers were given, a piano solo by Mrs. J. V. C. T. Christensen, and a vocal selection by Mrs. Young, accompanied by Miss Veale.

The interest of the women in the milk inspection and testing work was shown in the rapid fire of questions which followed Dr. Douglas' talk on the testing of milk, and its proper care. Every phase of the dairy inspection work was covered in the questions.

Mr. Harrison outlined the clean-up campaign, saying that the Chamber of Commerce and the Wichita and Rotary Clubs and Retail Merchants Association had pledged themselves to lay aside their business and to devote themselves to the task of making Wichita Falls a cleaner place and a better place to live. He stressed the importance of having a city of home life, first of all, and spoke of the unusual difficulties under which Wichita Falls will work at the present time, but added that he was sure that the citizens would rise to the emergency and come out with flying colors, as usual. Mr. Harrison went into detail as to the trash gathering system that would be installed, and drew applause when he stated that the police were going to arrest people for spitting on the sidewalks and sides of buildings.

Plans A're Outlined. Plans of the city for testing in a sanitation expert, and a city planner were outlined by Mr. Harrison. In every move which is on foot, he added, for the betterment of Wichita Falls as a place in which to live, the women can play a telling part, and their co-operation was expected by the men.

The North Side Civic League was represented at this meeting by a splendid delegation, and Mrs. T. B. Smoak, the president, spoke of the work which this league had accomplished, in North Wichita, saying that this auxiliary league was the pride of the Civic League. Miss Florence Jackson, the county home demonstrator, who organized the North Side

League, and is also working with the negro civic organization, told of the plans which the latter organization had for cleaning up the east section of Wichita Falls.

The matter of the municipal market, which the Civic League has set as its goal this year, received the attention of Mrs. Smoak, who also spoke of Mayor Marlow's plan to establish a municipal meat market in a short time, in order to cut down the price of meat to the people of Wichita Falls.

Every part of the program, whether it dealt with the building of a City Beautiful of Wichita Falls, pure milk for babies, or fresh vegetables cheaper, was highly interesting, and the speakers received the closest attention from the audience. Though the 4,000 new members were not enrolled, as had been desired, the membership drive, and the open meeting can be considered highly successful.

WACO EVANGELIST LEADS REVIVAL HERE

Rev. W. W. Melton, of Waco, is leading a series of evangelistic meetings for the Floral Heights Baptist church. Services are held at 7:15 each evening and the first few days of the evangelistic campaign have been very encouraging to the pastor and to members of the church. The officials and the entire membership are uniting in an invitation to the public to attend these meetings and hear Rev. Melton.

WANTS IMPROVEMENT.

MRS. LLOYD-GEORGIA A house to every family is the war cry of Mrs. Lloyd-Georgia, wife of the Prime Minister, in the housing campaign of heroic dimensions which the government is conducting. "If we believe in one vote to one man," says Mrs. Lloyd-Georgia, "it is equally sound policy to advocate one house to one family." The ideal house, she says, the Premier's wife, is one that involves the maximum of comfort with the minimum of work. The present internal arrangement of English homes, she thinks, is capable of vast improvement both in regard to comfort and convenience.

An Old Fashioned Cook Writes Mrs. Tucker

She has a word to say about Shortening

Mrs. Tinsley is known in Italy, Texas, and the surrounding section as an "old-fashioned" cook. She's proud of the title—for it's equivalent to saying that she is one of the best.

And she writes of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening: "After using your Shortening for quite a while I am beginning to wonder how folks who take real pride in cooking ever accomplished anything with heavy, coarse shortenings like butter or animal fats."

She has used Mrs. Tucker's with such success in layer cake that she commends it especially in this regard.

No Recipe?

Mrs. Tinsley doesn't cook by recipe. According to her own words she just "walks into the kitchen and cooks" while the average person would be scurrying through the recipe book. Anyone watching her, though, would see the following ingredients go into a layer cake of a chocolate flavor:

- 1/2 cup Mrs. Tucker's
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Whites of 4 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cream tartar
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 squares chocolate, grated

The sugar and the shortening would be creamed, the dry ingredients sifted, and the whole mixed with the milk alternately. Then the whites of the eggs, and a bake in a moderate oven.

She depends on Mrs. Tucker's

Like all good cooks, Mrs. Tinsley recommends Mrs. Tucker's Shortening. She has learned to depend on this pure vegetable product at all times. She has found in it the qualities that every one finds with first trial—wholesomeness, purity and economy. It is in every way an ideal shortening for home cooking.

Mrs. Tucker's Shortening

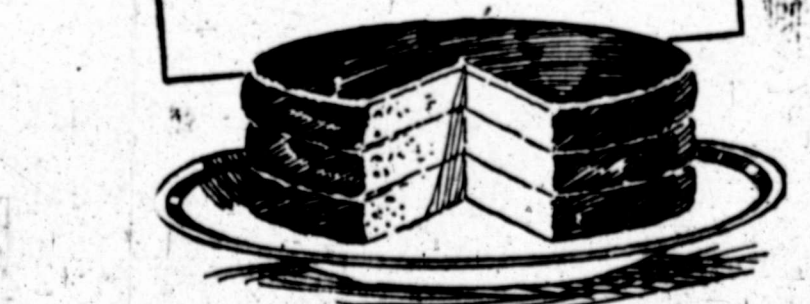

Dear Mrs. Tucker:

After using your shortening for quite a while in all my cooking, I am beginning to wonder how folks who take real pride in cooking ever accomplished anything with heavy, coarse shortenings like butter or animal fats.

Since using Mrs. Tucker's my layer cakes have been better than ever before. I find it responds to the most delicate measures, and gives light, fluffy cake at the finish.

Yours Truly,
Mrs. M. E. Tinsley

RAILWAYS ARE NOT WILLING TO ACCEPT THE RESPONSIBILITY

OFFICIALS DECLARE THEY ARE NOT TO BLAME FOR DELAY IN MATERIALS.

WANT INFORMATION BUREAU

Much of Station Agents Time is Taken Up Answering Calls As To Trains.

Opening of an information bureau at the Union Station was recommended to the railroads here by the traffic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting this morning at the Elks club rooms.

The recommendation followed reports that it was often impossible to get connection with the ticket office over the telephone.

Mr. Altman, ticket agent, reported that a very large percentage of the telephone calls originated from girls who wanted to know whether the Burk Burnett train was on time.

It also developed at the meeting that the railroads were not willing to accept responsibility for the delays in the shipments of road building materials.

It was reported that the quarry from which the county has contracted its supply of stone has laid more stone than it can deliver and that the railroads are ready to handle shipments as soon as they are received.

Complaints were also made that the county had loaded a big concrete mixer in the Denver freight yards and had left it there, impeding the unloading of cars on the team tracks.

The committee instructed its representatives to take up this matter with the county officials.

Answering complaints of delays in getting to the ticket window to make pullman reservations representatives of the railroads said that these reservations could now be made in advance.

B. F. George of Burk Burnett asked that something be done to give more team track at Burk Burnett. There are about 2,000 horses and 40,000 people at Burk Burnett who have to be fed, and Mr. George, and in addition they must be supplied with coal. The present facilities at Burk Burnett are inadequate. Mr. Chatman, special agent of the traffic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, was instructed to investigate the matter and to see what could be done.

R. L. Mayes, superintendent of transportation for the Fort Worth & Denver presented figures showing that during the month of October there had been a daily average of 223 cars on the Fort Worth & Denver route and that there had been an average of only 53 cars daily, or 23.4 percent, released.

A number of other matters were discussed but no formal action taken.

ASKS INJUNCTION TO COMPEL REMOVAL OF LONE STAR LINE

Mandatory injunctions requiring the removal of pipe lines from public highways and damages in the sum of $1,000 each, are asked by Wichita County in suits filed by County Attorney Lawrence J. Searcy in the 75th district court, against the Lone Star Oil & Refining Company and against A. C. Parks.

The petitions allege that the defendants have violated the law requiring private pipe line companies to obtain permission from the county commissioners before laying pipes along or across county highways. Plaintiffs further set forth that defendants have refused to be recognized as common carriers and have not made application to the county to have the roads condemned according to the law as to common carriers; that without the permission of the commissioners they have laid lines across the highways causing them to be cut up, entailing expense to the county; that the lines are laid on the surface in some instances; that the pipes become leaky at times, causing a softening of the road and costing the county trouble and money and inconvenience to the public. In view of the causes cited the county asks the court to require the lines to be removed and the plaintiffs to pay damages for injury to the road.

A number of additional suits, involving similar facts are to be filed against pipe line companies in the near future, according to information obtained at the office of the county attorney.

Action of the court and a settlement of a day for a hearing is expected Thursday morning.

VOTE ON AMENDMENTS FAVORABLE AT ELECTRA

All questions submitted in Tuesday's election received a favorable majority at Electra, the only one of the county towns at which the light vote was cast, the total vote being 52.

The vote for the various amendments were: On the road bonds, 45 for and 7 against. For Confederate pensions, 49 against, 3. Sharing of prison profits between state and prisoners and their dependents, 49 for, and 3 against. Galveston amendment, 46 for, and 3 against. Levy for roads and bridges, etc., 41 for, and 10 against. Separation of Texas University and A. & M., 42 for, and 3 against. For a constitutional convention, 23; against, 6.

GOVERNOR COOLIDGE DISCUSSES SITUATION INCIDENT TO CONTEST RESULTING IN HIS RE-ELECTION

By CALVIN COOLIDGE (Governor of Massachusetts) Written For The United Press.

BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 5.—For nearly three centuries there has been an unshaken determination on the part of the people of Massachusetts to preserve their liberties by living under the law.

Whether you touch the fundamental sentiments of her people, whether it be in the cabin of the Mayflower, drawing up the famous compact, or in their resistance to the unlawful acts of Governor Andros, or in their sterner mood, exhibited at the Boston tea party and at Concord Bridge, against those whose attempt to usurp the authority of the government but most of all the constitution of our commonwealth with its noble declaration of rights, adopted while fires of the revolution were burning most fiercely, there you find exhibited anew the acknowledgment of the authority of the law and a determination to live by it.

To a people with such traditions, who had been first to respond to the call of freedom, there you find a new determination to maintain the American government, the maintenance of the government and the authority of their own laws come as a matter of course. The people of the commonwealth, without distinction, realized that this was their cause. They knew that the only refuge of the weak and defenseless was in the authority of the law; that the only protection of life and property was in the stability of the government.

There is no prejudice against organized labor, no disposition to oppose it. The humane laws of our state have been enacted with a view to protecting those who toil and represent an expression of public opinion which has not changed and will not change in its desire to promote the welfare and happiness of the wage earners of the commonwealth. When this controversy first started I stated that Massachusetts was determined to maintain the authority over her public officers where it had been placed by her constitution and her laws. That determination has been exhibited in the election. It means exactly that.

The people of Massachusetts have supported their constitution and their laws because under them they have enjoyed a government that has given them ample protection, that has extended the blessings and happiness to a material property and has glorified the cause of righteousness. They are attached to their government because they believe it has been administered with right and truth and justice.

Knowing these things they scorned those who denied them and turned to those who declared them.

UNIVERSITY MAY STOP FOOTBALL IF BETTING CONTINUES

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—Discontinuance of intercollegiate athletics has been threatened by R. E. Vinson, president of the University of Texas, if there is a recurrence of betting similar to that of last Saturday, when it is estimated, stakes bet on the Texas-Rice football game amounted to at least $30,000.

"Football has gotten to be what

It was 10 years ago," asserted L. T. Belmont, Texas director of athletics, "with the danger of the return of professionalism, proying and commercialism and the sure death of the sport."

President Vinson said in speaking before the Rotary Club yesterday that heavy betting by university students Saturday was due to the fact that they heard that there was $10,000 lice money in a downtown bank, and they took this as a challenge, and their sporting blood would not let it remain uncovered.

The football squad late yesterday afternoon unanimously adopted a resolution asking students and all other persons interested in collegiate athletics to refrain from betting because it is detrimental to the best interest of athletics and should have no existence in an institution which is specifically for the upbuilding of the character of the youths of the state."

BAN JOHNSON HAS GONE INTO DUGOUT TO ESCAPE BATTLE

By HENRY L. FARRILL
Special Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Ban Johnson has his head below the trenches again.

With his enemies lining up here for last big offensive the American League boss was expected to remain in his dugout.

Colonel Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees, Charles Comiskey of the White Sox and Harry Frazee of the Red Sox, the field generals who seek to blow Johnson off his throne were gathered today for a "board meeting."

James Duan, fourth member of the board and Ban's chief lieutenant, was invited to attend but he was expected to remain in the bomb proof with Ban. Now in last month.

The belligerent faction is now in its last month to make good its drive and reach its objective. Early next month the league meets and a new board of directors will be named. If Ban has his way not one of those three will be given a place where they can cause his own worried moment. And Ban may have his way at that meeting as the club owners appear to be lined up 5 to 3 in his favor.

The trio of "insurgents" has to work fast. They probably will start with a formal meeting and perhaps make a snappy request to the national commission to turn over the Yankees' share of the receipts to the New Yorkers, is being held up by the protest of Frank Navin, a Johnson ally, who claims the Yankees are not entitled to credit for any game Carl Mays won. If his contention is upheld his Tigers would profit by about $800 each.

Do Not Relish Idea.

Although they do not relish the idea of lending dignity to the rumors about several White Sox players in the recent series, the board may discuss the wild tales that have been hobbling up about "fixed plays," "thrown games," etc., since the close of the series.

They may discuss it but there may be no official consideration of it. Settlement is divided about it. Some believe it should be investigated to put out the talk. Others believe it would be an indication of a tendency to believe the stories if they were investigated by the board.

WHAT WOULD HE DO WITH TWO GOOD ARMS?

ALTON, ILL., Nov. 5.—Football players barabools are wondering what they Winkler would do if he had both arms.

Winkler is the one-armed tackle of the Alton football team this season. He has played every game so far.

With the platoon tucked under his one arm he has gained many yards for the Alton eleven. He has also proved himself a star tackler and valuable in breaking up plays.

DUNDEE SCORES A TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 5.—Johnny Dundee, New York, scored a technical knockout of Tommy Touchy, Patterson, here last night. The referee stopped the fight in the fifth round when the Patterson boy was in a bad way. Two rights to the chin sent him to the floor twice. Three other bouts appeared on the card.

FRANK BAKER EXPECTED TO RETIRE FROM GAME

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Frank Baker may not play third base for the Yankees next year. Manager Miller Huggins, who is here mapping out his 1920 campaign, has announced his belief that the former "home run" star is sincere in his statement this fall that he is going to retire from the game.

NEW ORLEANS MAY AGAIN BE SCENE OF HEAVYWEIGHT BOUT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—New Orleans on next St. Patrick's Day is to have its first world's championship heavyweight fight since September 7, 1892, when John L. Sullivan lost the title to James J. Corbett. If Dominick Tortorich, the promoter, is able to secure the consent of Joe Beckett, English champion, to meet Jack Dempsey, world's champion, here.

Dempsey's signature was placed on a contract proffered by the promoter at Mobile yesterday, and he will receive $125,000 as his end of the purse if the match goes through. Twenty rounds is specified as the length of the fight.

Tortorich said he would have a representative in England in December when Beckett meets George Carpentier, the French champion, and that if Carpentier should win, the Frenchman would be offered the chance at the heavyweight title. The agreement between Dempsey and the promoter is conditional on Beckett's success against Carpentier.

In the meantime Dempsey has been offered $75,000 by a local promoter to meet Bill Brennan here prior to the proposed bout with Beckett.

ADDITIONAL SERVICE RELIEVING SITUATION

STAMFORD, TEX., Nov. 5.—An additional train between Abilene and Wichita Falls was added to the present service of the Wichita Valley Railroad November 2. This additional service will somewhat relieve the traveling situation on Wichita Valley points, but the schedules are so arranged as to make traveling on the new train most undesirable.

BACK AGAIN

Gilbert Miller, who went to London on business for his father, Henry Miller, about three and a half years ago, has returned to this country. In that short time he obtained control of four theatres in London, partly by virtue of an unusual chain of circumstances. Mr. Miller, who is about thirty, was sent abroad by his father, the American actor and producer, in charge of a production of "Daddy Long-Legs." That was in the second year of the war. Soon after his arrival in London several theatres and theatrical enterprises found themselves without active proprietors. In these conditions Mr. Miller felt that opportunity was pounding at his door, and he started on his career.

ASTONISHED AT THE GROWTH OF THE CITY

"I am astonished to find the little village I left twenty years ago an enterprising city fairly bristling with modern progress," Wm. J. Schaffie, of Los Angeles, formerly connected with prominent Texas newspapers, said when he arrived in Wichita Falls Tuesday.

Mr. Schaffie left Texas for California eighteen years ago, and has been publishing the American Globe, the Pacific trade review for the past sixteen years. He is touring Texas gathering reliable information for publication in a special Texas oil edition to be issued this month.

MILLIONS LOANED BUT NOT A DOLLAR IS LOST IN TEXAS

In this issue a St. Louis financial institution, the Mercantile Trust Company, is running an advertisement making a whole page announcement of interest and setting forth its activities in Texas, showing many business, institutional and church buildings in the state of Texas which they have loaned money to build, or on which they have advanced money under mortgage.

They also name a number of leading bankers and merchants in Texas with whom they do business and who carry accounts with the St. Louis institution. Texas being a state of great undeveloped resources naturally needs capital and it is gratifying to have one of the strongest financial institutions in the United States recognize the safety and desirability of Texas investments.

Pestus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, stated that they had loaned millions of dollars in Texas, always on good security, and that he did not recall that they had ever lost a dollar of principal or interest on any money invested in Texas.

This statement is not only gratifying, but proof of the stability of Texas investments and reflects great credit upon the business management of the Mercantile Trust Company in the selection of its investments. The Mercantile Trust Company does not confine its loans to real estate in Texas cities, but also loans money to Texas merchants and individuals, when condition warrants it, and has made large loans to many Texas concerns in addition to those referred to in their announcement.

The Mercantile Trust Company has been qualified by the state of Texas to do business in the state for many years past and is one of the best known foreign corporations doing business in this state. The company has a capital and surplus of $10,000,000 and its board of directors consists of twenty-five prominent St. Louisans. On one occasion, President Wade came to Texas with the entire board of directors of the Mercantile Trust Company and the officers of the company make frequent trips to Texas to keep in touch with the situation.

President Wade stated that he felt the best way to build up a great financial institution in St. Louis was to build up the trade tributary to St. Louis and that it was the desire of his company to maintain close, friendly and mutually profitable relations with the bankers and merchants of Texas.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw things" After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling. "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's lavishing you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—calls the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready, tough and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

KEMP-MUNGER-ALLEN WELL IS ESTIMATED AT 500 OR BETTER; FINAL TEST IS NOT YET MADE

Estimates of 500 barrels capacity, up, are placed on the Kemp-Munger-Allen well today, though a test has not been made. The well was still being swabbed, with very little water showing, late reports from the field stated, and the gas showing was increasing, this latter being taken as a very favorable sign.

The well will be tested out from the present sand depth, it is stated, with further drilling, for the present. The well is making heads, as often as the swab is run, just as occurred Tuesday, it is reported from the field.

NEWCASTLE MINERS PICKING COTTON TO RELIEVE SITUATION

Special to The Times. NEWCASTLE, Nov. 5.—An anomalous phase in labor conditions was disclosed here Monday when the striking coal miners shouldered picking sacks and hid themselves to the fields of cotton that were simply inviting somebody to gather their abundant fleece, even to the begging attitude. Be it known that before the miners about Newcastle had become proficient with the pick under-ground most of them were skilled in the use of the "chopper" and had records as pickers of the Texas staple of which they were not ashamed.

In the cycle of events agriculture scores another record; the men who forsook the fields for the mines did so because they could not get but 75 cents a hundred for pick'g, while mining paid double what they could earn on the farm. Today the farmer is paying $3 or more a hundred for picking his cotton and is searching high and low for help at almost any price. The

COMMISSION MAY DESIGNATE CARRIER

found those testifying considerably at

The majority opinion, however, seemed to be that if such a declaration were made by the commission, forcing the pipe lines to accept and run a prorata amount of tendered by the various producers, as of that which they themselves owned, whether through purchase or from their own production, the matter of price for oil purchased would adjust itself.

A further opinion was expressed that if producers could force those short lines to transport their oil to the terminals of their line, a ready disposition for the oil could be arranged.

Priddy Has Suggestion.

One producer, W. M. Priddy, pointed out that under the common carrier law a producer was not forced to give a pipe line a section of tendered for transportation until 24 hours after it had been accepted, then had five days grace before the pipe line company could demand its removal and an additional thirty days before it could be publicly sold, making it possible for the producers to thereby shut and put out of business pipe lines, which, it is complained, have been guilty of unfair practices.

We can feed them back some of the medicine they have been feeding us for the past few months," said Mr. Priddy.

The basis of the complaint against the short pipe lines, some fourteen in number, made by the various witnesses was on the grounds that they, denying a status of being common carriers, had refused to run oil from the leases, or to purchase same except at the market price, or to purchase market prices, refusing a connection unless it was given contracts for sale of oil at those prices. In this connection the high freight differential which was forcing a number of the pipe line companies to extend their lines to Oklahoma points where the freight rates were much more favorable. He said that there was a differential of forty cents a barrel in favor of Oklahoma points to Toronto, Canada, where his company had been selling oil. He predicted that these differentials would drive the companies shipping from Burk Burnett and even from DeWol, out of business.

The commission manifested much interest in this, explaining that while they had no authority over interstate shipments that the ruling in the support of carriers ought to make this discrimination impossible.

MEMBERS COMMISSION LEAVE FOR BURKBURNETT

Members of the railroad commission went to Burk Burnett and Northwest fields immediately after luncheon for a personal inspection of the situation on the ground, adjourning the remainder of their hearing until 8 o'clock tonight. The hearing will be held in the Elks hall.

PAT CARRIGAN POST PLANS OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day, November 11, will be observed by the Pat Carrigan Post, American Legion, with a public program to be held at the First M. E. Church, South, corner of Tenth and Lamar. Arrangements for a suitable observance of the day were put in the hands of a committee at the regular meeting Tuesday night, and Wednesday afternoon D. M. Perkins, one of the committee, reported the M. E. Church, South, as the place where the program will be held. The music of the church will be available for the occasion. An appropriate program is being prepared by the committee, and will be announced shortly.

"I Feel Like My Old Self Once More," He Says

"I just can't say enough for Organice Treatment. I'm so thankful for what it has done for me," said Joseph McDonald, recently in writing to the Organice Company, 1215 North Fort Worth of his restoration to health. Mr. McDonald resides at Athens, Texas, and he has a large number of friends in that section.

"Six months ago," he continued, "I began to be bothered a lot with my stomach, but up until that time I had always enjoyed very good health all my life. I never did quite understand what could have gotten me into that run down state. I would have dizzy spells and a kind of fainting feeling very frequently and I would just stay unnerved and out of sorts. In fact my trouble got so serious at times that I thought I would pass away. I had a continual sour taste in my mouth and I often felt nauseated and got so I didn't ever want to go to the table. I ate what I could get, but it didn't taste right and I didn't have any appetite either. I got to having attacks of acute indigestion that made me suffer agony and my stomach was bothering me all the time. Rheumatism got to bothering me and I want to tell you that no one had suffered any more agony with this than I have."

"I was growing weaker and more nervous every day because I didn't dare to eat enough to nourish me and I was continually worrying about my condition. I tried a lot of treatments, but didn't any of them seem to do me good."

"Finally I sent to Fort Worth at Kentro's and bought Organice, after reading so much about it in the papers, and I now can honestly say that I am feeling more good in a few days than all the other treatments ever did. My stomach began to get easier after the first bottle and I soon got to eat good substantial food. Then I began to build up again and I gained four pounds in weight after taking my second bottle. My strength kept coming back and all those aches and pains disappeared. What I ate tasted natural again and I enjoy them just like anyone else. I now feel like a well man. All the dizzy and the fainting spells have gone and I feel like my old self again. The rheumatic pains have left me entirely and Organice certainly toned up my system and restored me to health and I'm glad to recommend it to all other people suffering as I was."

Organice is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment absolutely free from alcohol in any form and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by F. Young Drug Co., successors to Shaw-Chambers, corner Ninth and in Elgin Avenue, under the personal direction of a special Organice representative. (adv.)

BAND INSTRUMENTS GIVEN TO STUDENTS

PRESENTED TO THE LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL BAND BY WICHITA CLUB.

Use of the hand instruments purchased several years ago by the old Lions' Club for the Call Field band was given by the Wichita Club today to the High School band, at the Club's luncheon today.

The Club has had custody of these instruments since Call Field was disbanded and the proposal to turn them over to Superintendent Clark for the use of the High school was given unanimous approval.

A number of visitors were present at Wednesday's luncheon, including members of the State Railroad Commission. Brief talks were made by Commissioners Mayfield and Gilmore and Major Butte, who is a special agent of the commission in the oil section.

Mr. Mayfield expressed the belief that the present year would see Texas in first position in the oil industry in Texas. He spoke of the great financial advancement in the state as the result of the oil developments. He predicted that there would soon be great trust and loan companies organized in the state with many millions of dollars of capital making cheaper money available to the agricultural interests and the interests of the state.

Major Butte, commenting on the action of the Club at a previous meeting in endorsing the amendment for the separation of the University of Texas and the A. & M. College pointed out that it was the University of Texas which first pointed out the oil possibilities in Wichita county. He said that there were today carpenters at work on the University campus who were receiving nearly twice as much pay as members of the faculty. He told about the frame shacks which houses many of the University departments.

Commissioner Gilmore gave some interesting reminiscences of Wichita Falls when he was a resident here more than twenty years ago as editor and owner of the Wichita Times.

"I left Wichita Falls," he said, "because I could resist a temptation to make $200 by selling The Times to Ed Howard. I never got back because I made a bet of a hat with Murrell McGregor. McGregor bet when I left that I would be back within a year. I wanted to win that bet. I remained away a year and after that I was never able to get back."

Mr. Gilmore said that the railroad commission was very anxious to serve the oil industry and the public. He said that there were many things it could not do because it lacked authority.

The Company Has No Outstanding Bonds and No Preferred Stock

From a letter of the President, Mr. J. Olsan, we summarize as follows:

Organization

The corporation owns the entire outstanding capital stock of the OZARK OIL & GAS COMPANY, a majority of the outstanding capital stock of the HAVENHILL PETROLEUM COMPANY, and has made provision for the acquisition of the balance of this stock; all of the properties of the OLSAN PETROLEUM COMPANY; and, in addition, owns an interest in a gasoline plant, besides properties which it has acquired by purchase.

Resources

Upon the sale or issuance of the balance of the authorized capital stock as contemplated, and after payment of all debts and obligations of the Company and all expenses and commissions, the Treasury will have available for development, acquisition of new properties and construction of a refinery, approximately $2,500,000.

Valuation of Properties

The Company owns directly and controls through stock ownership leases of 4,319 1/2 acres of land in oil producing fields in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, on which there are already 19 producing wells; besides 54 tank cars, an interest in a gasoline plant, extensive modern equipment, drilling materials and a developed marketing department.

MESSRS. SANDERSON & PORTER, ENGINEERS, of New York City, have made a thorough investigation and examination of the Company's properties, and they report their conclusions as follows:

"Assuming the provision of adequate capital for continuing the development of the properties and the reliability of the data and records furnished by company officials and based upon the history of other properties in these localities, we appraise the Magna Oil and Refining Company's interest in the producing and non-producing properties described in Exhibit A, attached hereto, at $2,500,000. In making our appraisal of the producing properties we have excluded and separately allowed for the estimated cost of development and production as a charge against earnings and have assumed the recovery of the amount of such appraisal within the expected commercial-producing life of the properties, and, as requested by you, have made allowance for the payment of 12 per cent annual dividends. Administrative expenses allowed for include only those of the field offices."

This valuation does not include the Company's liquid assets, movable equipment, unused drilling materials, tank cars, marketing department and interest in the Houston Gasoline Company, which is conservatively valued at $1,746,642.53. The obligations of the Company do not exceed $523,000, exclusive of a deferred liability amounting to $115,000.

Production

The Company's interest in the present production is 6,236 barrels daily, of the value, at average prevailing prices, at $2.25 per barrel, amounting to $14,031. Owing to congestion in transportation facilities now prevailing in North West Extension (Bark Burnett), the Company's entire production from that field is not being taken, and the production from those wells is therefore estimated and included in the above figure. Practically all of the Company's production in the States of Oklahoma and Kansas is settled. A fair estimate of the average daily production (finished production reduced one-half of present flow) from the producing wells during the coming year is 2,500 barrels, or 1,250,000 barrels per annum, at the average value of $2.25 per barrel, and including net returns from tank cars and income from the marketing department and gasoline plant, equals $2,823,480. In addition, the Company is actively engaged in the drilling of other wells. On the Bark-Burnett property there are at present 19 wells in process of completion, six of which are on top of the sand. There are about 12 wells in process of completion on the other properties. There is, therefore, every probability that with the increased resources the production of the Company will be largely increased.

All legal proceedings in connection with the acquisition by the Company of its stockholdings and properties, and with the issuance of its present stock, have been approved by MESSRS. GUGGENHEIMER, UPTON & MARSHALL, New York City, and HARRY A. GORDON, New York City, Attorneys for the Bankers and Fiscal Agents, and S. A. BOORSTIN, Tulsa, Oklahoma, W. M. SILVERMAN, Atlanta, Ga., Attorneys for the Company. Titles to properties have been examined by MESSRS. LEYDIG, GEDDES & GRANT, El Dorado, Kansas; WEEKS, MORROW, WEEKS & FRANCIS, Wichita Falls, Texas; WEST, SHERMAN, DAVIDSON & MOORE, Tulsa, Oklahoma; THIGPEN & HERROLD, Shreveport, Louisiana.

Subscription books are now open and will be closed in the discretion of the undersigned. All subscriptions received subject to allotment.

Having sold the larger part of the above stock available for purchase, we offer the unresold balance at
