WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—Everybody thinks of Hughes as having the biggest job in the cabinet, and the difficulties are not perceptibly less.
The public eye does not realize yet how heavy a burden rests on Secretary Mellon of the treasury. The changes that have taken place in this department in the direction of size and complexity are not realized. When Wilson became president, the treasury did a business of, roughly, a billion dollars a year, and carried a public debt comparatively negligible. During the eight years of Wilson's administration the changes that occurred in the treasury department were enormous. To mention only the more important differences between the treasury at the time Wilson came into power and the treasury as Secretary Mellon finds it, is to make an extremely impressive catalogue.

The annual financial operations of the treasury have increased from, roughly, a billion dollars to approximately five billions. The public debt has increased from a negligible sum to over twenty billion dollars. Many new departments have been added of a size and importance as great as the whole treasury itself was eight years ago.
The income tax law entails annual financial operations greater than the entire business of the treasury formerly was. The enforcement of the prohibition law has added to the treasury a force almost as great as the entire force of the whole treasury department formerly was. Through the federal reserve act, the treasury has taken over a degree of management of the banking business of the country which is so big and vital as to be more important than many cabinet departments are.

The treasury has borrowed over twenty billion dollars, a large portion of which is in such shape that very soon there must be refunding operations of a magnitude never before attempted in the history of the world.

The treasury has loaned to foreign governments some ten billion dollars, under circumstances such that many of the loans can only be collected by the most careful management and by the exercise of great patience and wisdom. On these loans there is now about half a billion dollars due in interest.

The treasury has taken on a war risk insurance department comparable in size and in complexity to any of the great insurance companies.

These are the principal items of the increase in the volume of business which the new secretary of the treasury must take care of. Many of these additions were taken on in the loose and haphazard manner which necessarily attended the haste of war.

If it be said that Secretary Mellon finds his department in a condition of such confusion, let that not be interpreted as a criticism of the man under whom these conditions arose. Let it be said, once and for all, that in the judgment of many who are his political opponents, Secretary McAdoo was for war-time purposes, an excellent secretary of the treasury.

In war time the common rules of prudence and caution are reversed.
There is a military maxim which should be remembered and always repeated in any criticism of our management of the war whether as regards the treasury or any other department.

The maxim in war is that money is nothing and time is everything. Every military man understands it. The maxim in a civilian mind is that time is everything. But it is most difficult for the civilian mind to observe it. Again and again during the war business men, whose training had all been in civilian life, came to Washington to help win the war. In most cases, the first and most difficult lesson they had to learn was to dismiss their customary civilian caution about economy. For example, during times of peace in the building of a bridge the first requisite is economy. Everything must be planned so as to get the required result with the minimum of cost. But in war time that rule is exactly reversed. The first requirement is to build the bridge quickly or to build the ship quickly or to get the supplies quickly. This lesson of dismissing all considerations of economy and focusing every effort on considerations of speed was very difficult for civilian minds to learn, but it was of the essence of carrying on war successfully.

This is the thing that should be remembered whenever there is criticism of ex-Secretary McAdoo, for the plunging, headlong haste with which he did things. I have heard one of the three or four greatest bankers in the country—a man who, generally speaking, heartily disapproved of Mc-Adoo, that for war-time purposes Mc-Adoo was the ideal secretary of the treasury. The secretary of the treasury that we needed in war time was a dashing man of action, intent upon quick results, regardless of cost. The man we needed was one who should feel confidence that the United States could never go broke. When it became a matter of borrowing money through the sale of bonds, when prudent people said let us issue a billion dollars in Victory bonds—and when McAdoo said, "no, let us make it three billions," and by his dashing energy succeeded in floating them, that was the ideal character of war time secretary of the treasury.

But the necessary result of this war-time haste and these improvised emergency situations on a huge scale has been to leave to Mr. Mellon a heritage of a huge sprawling mess.

Not merely is the treasury, as Mr.
Mellon comes to it, a job of more than five times the magnitude than any other secretary of the treasury ever had, in addition to that, necessarily much of the personnel that he finds under him is new. Many of the business men who came to help in the treasury department while the war was on left as soon as the armistice came. Many of the permanent heads of bureaus and departments, who are excellent men and who had their work thoroughly and minutely organized, unavoidably had the splendid systems which they had built up thrown into confusion by the size and complexity of the additional tasks, thrust upon them as an accident of the war.

All in all, Mr. Mellon has come to a task probably never excelled in difficulty by the duty of any finance minister of any country at any time. In attacking this task, Mr. Mellon inspires as much confidence as Mr.
Hughes does in attacking his task.
The difference in Mr. Hughes' temperament, the fact that his problems are more immediate and more in the public eye, and the fact that he is more frequently seen by the public, causes the confidence in Mr. Hughes to be more widespread. But to those who have had occasion to observe Mr. Mellon, the confidence in him is not less.
Mr. Mellon is an excessively modest man, he gives the impression of a rather shy country banker who always takes the quietest and most unostentatious path from his home to his office, and who has shrunk just as much as natural courtesy would permit him, from letting himself get involved in anything that would distract him from his task. This characteristic of Mr. Mellon, that in going twice a week from his office in the treasury to the cabinet meetings in the White House, he avoids the publicity of Pennsylvania avenue and chooses to walk quietly out of the treasury basement, across a comparatively unfrequented street, enter the White House alone and pass unostentatiously the entire length of the White House to reach the room where the cabinet meetings are held.

In surrounding himself with assistants, Mr. Mellon has made the impression of trying to get men like himself, men of proved ability and of unostentatious personality.

Altogether, those persons in Washington who realize the magnitude and seriousness of our financial problems are cheered and filled with confidence fully as much by Mr. Mellon's course as by Mr. Hughes.

We Want Production

We wish to exchange an interest in a well-managed, successful oil company for some good settled production.

Our company owns a number of wells in this field, and every one of these wells is making a nice profit—even at present price of crude.

We have paid 16% in CASH dividends since Oct. 1, 1920, from EARNINGS, and have built up a most satisfactory surplus besides.

Outside of a very light organization charge, paid in stock, 100 cents on the dollar has been put into our treasury for every share sold.

Our overhead expense is exceptionally low, and we are making money from our production because we know how to handle it ECONOMICALLY and keep it up to the maximum of efficiency, and because we give it our constant PERSONAL ATTENTION.

Our bankers, and other concerns with whom we deal will vouch for our financial standing and our ability as operators.

If you own one or more wells in this field that are not bringing you the profit they should on account of improper care, too much overhead, or because you cannot give the needed personal attention, we are prepared to make you an attractive offer.

Under existing conditions, the only salvation for most of our smaller oil companies, or for individual operators having only a few wells, is in Consolidation of their interests, and in placing a number of properties under skillful and economical supervision.

We can buy or handle your production on a basis that will be most profitable to you. Phone 3066, or call and see us at 717

HAVE NOT DETERMINED THE PRODUCTION OF WELL PENDING LARGER PUMP

Special to The Times. PANHANDLE, TEXAS, May 7.—The discovery of oil by the Gulf Production company in their well located just 18 miles north of Panhandle in Carson county on the S. B. Burnett ranch was no surprise to oil men who have been watching this territory for the past four years, but the discovery of one of the largest gas fields in the world more than two years ago led the leading geologists to believe that their views and predictions would come true that there was oil in the panhandle. Gulf Production No. 2, which is a real producer, is located practically 30 miles east and three north of this gas field. Various estimates as to the production were made before this well was put on the pump and after being on the beam for more than one week has produced much more than the expectancy of the promoters as well as the people who were in close touch with the drilling. A two-inch tubing and a one and three-quarter cylinder was considered ample to test the well, yet with continuous pumping for more than one week, the oil failed to lower in the well. Expert oil men say that this pump could not pump more than 187 1/2 barrels of oil per day from the present depth of the well, which is practically 3,100 feet. Leading oil men from the fields of Kansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas estimate the real production of the well will run from 400 to 1,000 barrels. The true production can only be determined when larger pumping facilities are installed and the well can have a true test.

500 FEET MORE THAN A MILE PAVED DURING PAST WEEK ON ROAD

During the six working days last week 5,764 feet of pavement was laid on the Iowa Park road. This is the best record made in any single week since the work began.

During the month of April, when 21 1/2 working days were put in, a trifle more than three and a half miles of pavement were placed by the contractors, Fotts and Prentice.

At the conclusion of work Saturday evening 4.8 miles of road were completed. The mixer that began operations at the tracks near the city is within 4,000 feet of the camp. The road leading from the city has been opened as far as Woodall's dairy.

met. These I found to be excellent evidences of an efficient principal and well trained teachers. I now conclude: Taking the annual school exhibit as a whole, and the splendid renditions of the afternoon and evening programs, the people of Wichita Falls have just cause to be proud of her schools and her efficient teachers. From Louisiana to Seattle I have not found a more progressive school spirit shown than on last Friday.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

MR. FRIEZE DISCUSSES OHIO AVENUE PAVING

Editor of The Times: Statements in recent issues of the local papers make it appear that I am contending for a thinner pavement in front of my property on the south end of Ohio avenue than should be required of other property owners along that part of the street, which is an error.

When the question arose for the paving for that part of the street, it was planned for the county road to be permanently located on Ohio, which fact appeared to bring out the idea that it would be necessary to provide a thicker pavement to care for the excess travel over to another street, greatly lessening the travel to my mind eliminated that need.

And it has been my contention all along that it was not necessary for the good of the public, not just to the property owners, to designate a small portion of a street that far out from the main business part of the town for a thicker and more costly pavement than is required and charged for other standard six-inch pavements on other streets, and I further contend that the price sought to be charged is entirely too high, even for the thicker pavement.

However, as it was arranged and the work started on the east side for the thicker pavement, I have contended that there was still less necessity for it on the west side of the street for the reason that the loaded vehicles coming to town from that direction would pass on the east side of the street, while the empty ones would pass on the west side going in the opposite direction.

The amounts charged for the work are $1.40 per square yard, together with proportionate extra amounts for excavating curbs and other auxiliaries, while we are offered the paving for $2.50 per square yard, and all we ask is to be allowed to have the work done by other parties, if the city is not willing to have it done at that price.

The councilmen frankly admit that most of the paving is too high, but claim it was the lowest bid they had submitted at the time, but admit they were not obligated to accept that bid. I also contend that the amount charged for this paving is greatly in excess of the amount the improvement will add to the value of the property.

W. E. FRIEZE

VISITOR COMMENTS ON THE SCHOOL EXHIBITS

Major Wichita Times: I am a native Texan and have spent 19 years of my life teaching in the public schools of this state and Louisiana.

I have just returned from a business trip through the states of Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming, Oregon and Washington. I visited myself of every opportunity to visit the city schools.

I was greatly surprised to find such unselfish efforts of each city to improve and raise its standards of education. Modernized buildings, equipped with domestic and manual training departments, together with attractive play grounds are concrete evidences of a progressive school spirit of the western states.

I am a visitor to your city and upon learning that an annual exhibition of your city schools would be held Friday, May 8, I decided to attend.

Taking the street car, I arrived at the high school between Eleventh and Twelfth streets about 1 p. m. I immediately turned my attention to the numerous exhibits. As I passed from room to room my interest increased and each teacher took pride in explaining the various exhibits coming under her or his department. We read further:

I first made a careful study of the exhibits of the manual training. Here I found a high standard of efficiency shown by the teacher in the many useful articles made under his practical, scientific supervision. As I viewed with pleasure the finished product of the pupils, I felt that the Texas high school was at last coming into its own, and that the untrained activities of mind, eye and hand were now directed along useful channels, developing independence of character and making him a more efficient member of society.

I now passed to the domestic science. Here I also found the numerous articles of food and cooked with scientific perfection. How I longed to sample these delicious tables of attractive foods, but when I read on the labels, "Touch, taste or handle not," I refrained.

I found a long table stocked with neat, well made underwear and the entire walls of the room were covered with attractive skirts and dresses. It seemed the fabrics of the universe had furnished materials for these dresses, and the goddess of fashion had imported her models to the garment to cut and make the beautiful dresses that graced the walls, and again I thought how skillfully the dye artist had mixed the seven primary colors in such happy combination to enhance the appearance of the dresses. At this juncture I requested the lady in charge to show me some raiment of male attire. She seemed a little puzzled at first, but presently said, "You will find them down town in the stores and tailor shops." We read on:

I now proceeded from room to room inspecting charts, maps and exhibitions of the pupils' progress and skill in every department of the school activities of the city. I found the teaching force of the city exercised rare skill and patience in the training of their pupils. All supplementary equipments of the school room I found up to date and valuable means by which the lessons in English, history and the sciences may be made more concrete and practical.

In making my rounds of your school exhibits I was greatly surprised to find such wonderful progress made in the Washington colored school of the city. It is truly marvelous that such exhibitions could emanate from a school with such scant equipment.

I made it a point to question closely the teacher in the domestic science department of Washington school. I found she possessed a practical mind and a thorough knowledge and scope of her work. She told me the girls of her department were competent to handle the dining rooms and kitchens of the reputable homes in Wichita Falls or any southern city.

I next examined the art department and heard the teacher explain to a number of white ladies that her work was done under discouraging circumstances. Only one machine was available, no cutting table or model forms for fitting of garments; yet the exhibits ranked high and was commended by the public. We read further:

I now studied the primary, kindergarten and grade exhibits in drawing, writing, reading, spelling and arithmetic.

OSTEOPATHS NAME YEAR'S COMMITTEES AND END SESSION

LECTURE BY DR. REID OF DENVER IS CONCLUDING FEATURE SATURDAY.

PROGRAM OF TECHNICAL PAPERS IS CARRIED OUT

New Officers Are Installed, With Abilene Man as President For Ensuing Year.

With installation of officers, appointment of committees and an illustrated lecture by Dr. Reid of Denver, the twenty-first annual convention of Texas osteopaths came to a close Saturday night.

Saturday's program was almost entirely technical in its nature, being something of a post-graduate course in which the latest discoveries in osteopathy were explained. Dr. Reid of Denver, Dr. L. Van H. Gardine of Maccon, Mo., and Dr. R. R. Norwood of Mineral Wells were the principal speakers.

The concluding feature of the convention was the illustrated lecture on osteopathy by Dr. Reid of Denver, Saturday night. Dr. Reid, who, in addition to being one of the best known osteopathic surgeons in the country, is national president of the Lions Club, covered the subject of osteopathy in a broad and very interesting manner.

Officers were installed late Saturday, when Dr. C. N. Ray of Abilene assumed the presidency for the ensuing year. He named committees as follows:

Executive—Doctors H. M. Walker of Fort Worth, Genevieve Laughlin of Abilene, R. O. Singleton of Mineral Wells, W. S. Smith of Marlin and H. A. Price of Houston.

Educational—Doctors H. M. Walker of Fort Worth, Phil Russell of Fort Worth, Dunning of Dallas, E. M. Bailey of Houston.

Public Health—Doctors Genevieve Laughlin of Dallas, Mary Bidwell of Sulphur Springs, R. M. Mitchell of Texarkana.

Clinics and Statistics—Doctors R. O. Singleton of Mineral Wells, Mary Peck of San Antonio, J. F. Clark of Greenville.

Legislative—Doctors W. S. Smith of Marlin, Paul Peck of San Antonio, D. D. Ray of Cleburne.

Ways, Means and Development—Doctors H. A. Price of Houston, R. H. Peterson of Wichita Falls, Ben E. Hayman of Galveston.

These committees will have in charge various detail matters during the year.

Appreciation of the entertainment and hospitality extended them by Wichita Falls through Doctors Scharf, Peterson and Campbell of the city was heartily voiced by the visiting osteopaths.

As an enormous number of people who are in the prime of life are constantly complaining of weak nerves, headache, pains across the back, disturbed digestion, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, a general "run-down" condition, melancholy, bad memory, etc., all as a result of iron starvation of the blood. There are 20,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron. Without iron your blood also loses its power to change food into living cells and tissues, and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it and as a consequence you become greatly weakened both in body and mind.

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach, because it is organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils, and apples and not metallic iron which people usually take. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package, and the letters "N" on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

Every day is CHILDREN'S DAY. HAVE a portrait made of your kiddies in their white holiday frocks and curls. Their charms can be made permanent in a good portrait.

MORE THAN 500 EXPECTED FOR CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY MEETING WHICH OPENS HERE MONDAY

A few delegates are already here, and a number more are expected today, for the Texas Christian Missionary convention which opens Monday at the First Christian church. Most of the more than 500 visitors expected will come in on trains of Sunday night and Monday morning.

Committees of the First Christian church have been busy for weeks making preparations for the convention, and believed Saturday that they had everything in readiness to show the visitors what Wichita Falls hospitality means at its best. Numerous homes have been thrown open to the visitors, scores of automobiles will be at their disposal, and other preparations have been adequately looked to.

The first event of the gathering will be the meeting at 10 a. m. Monday of the executive board of the Texas Christian Women's Missionary society. At 7:30 p. m. there will be a song and praise service under the leadership of Dr. S. D. Parnell.

The convention will formally open Monday night at 8 o'clock. J. W. Bradley, one of the most active workers in the local church, and Hubert M. Harrison of the chamber of commerce, will deliver addresses of welcome. The response will be by Will H. Evans of Bonham, president of the convention. On Tuesday morning the convention will plunge into its four-day program of reports, plans, sermons and activities. Some of the most notable workers in the country will attend and participate in the meeting.

The following local committees have the convention plans in charge:

General Committee.—J. W. Bradley, chairman; Mrs. T. T. Reese, J. Lem Keavil, R. E. Shepherd, C. D. Curd, Mrs. J. L. Downing.

Train and Car Committee.—F. B. Mashburn, chairman; M. P. Bewley, C. D. Curd, Mrs. J. M. Isabel, Mrs. C. E. Bewley.

Advertising Committee.—J. E. Sharpe, J. N. Prothro.

Badge Committee.—R. E. Shepherd, E. B. Wilson.

Assignment Committee.—Meadames Danforth, Tyson, Davis and Milburn.

Registration Committee.—Claude Hall, C. R. Niles, Mrs. D. Lundeen.

Music Committee.—R. E. Shepherd, Dr. L. D. Parnell.

Information Committee.—Mrs. A. O. Schaff, Chester Powell.

Special Entertainment Committee.—Mrs. J. L. Downing, chairman.

Whether there will be any correction of the impression gained from the Beach story, that well dressed women are a rarity in Wichita Falls, was not stated.

In serving its community the City National Bank of Commerce welcomes not only the patronage of established businesses and successful business men, but also the accounts of young men and new concerns.

BIDS FOR 4 PAVING JOBS TO BE OPENED BY COUNCIL MAY 16

The city council will open bids May 16 for paving on north Indiana, north Ohio, and Fifteenth streets, also for a small portion of Holliday and one block on Sixth.

The paving on North Indiana from Sixth to Front, will be in connection with the county's road program, 18 feet being paid for by the county and 22 feet by the property owners. The remaining 20 feet, left unpaved, will be in a center parkway.

Paving jobs on Lucile and Brook were completed last week, and the work on Grant, Ninth and South Ohio was advanced to where the putting down of the surfacing can start shortly.

Work will be resumed Monday on the Austin avenue storm sewer which has been held up by broken machinery. The sanitary sewer work has been proceeding steadily, with Floral Heights the center of operations.

The new city incinerator is going up steadily and is expected to be finished in contract time.

APPROACHING SILVER ANNIVERSARY FINDS COUPLE IN COURTS

The approaching silver wedding anniversary of a local couple finds them in court. The wife filed divorce proceedings in the 30th district court Saturday afternoon.

M. L. Chapman complains of her husband, J. W. Chapman, and alleges that he falsely accused her and further asks for a decree of separation on grounds of cruelty. She states in her petition that they were married on Nov. 27, 1896, and separated April 21, 1921.

Customers of the City National Bank of Commerce all agree that its service is distinguished by an intelligent, helpful and friendly interest in their individual needs and practical co-operation in meeting them. This is the sort of service which the bank places at your disposal.

PUBLIC MARKET TO OPEN NEXT SATURDAY

Truck Farmers Entering into Movement—May Lead to Municipal Market House.

A large number of truck farmers within a radius of a few miles of this city will participate in the public market which is to open next Saturday morning at 7 o'clock.

Committees have interviewed a number of the farmers during the past week and have found most of them willing and anxious to enter into the movement.

While present plans provide for an open air market between Tenth and Eleventh on Ohio, it is expected that if the enterprise proves successful it will lead to establishment of a municipal market, with a house of its own. This undertaking is not for the immediate future, however.

The plan at the start will be for the truck growers to bring their supplies in and sell them from their own wagons. Sale hours will be only from 7 to 9, as it is not feasible for the farmers to remain in town very long.

EX-SERVICE MEN WILL COMMAND 2 GUARD COMPANIES

TWO UNITS OF 142ND INFANTRY TO BE ORGANIZED IN WICHITA FALLS.

ADJUTANT GENERAL GIVES OUTLINE OF ORGANIZATION

Important Meeting Will Be Held Tuesday Evening in the Morgan Building.

Ex-service men will be placed in command of the two companies of Texas national guards which are to be organized in Wichita Falls, according to the plans of Adjutant General Thomas H. Barton and Colonel C. W. Neiman, who will be in command of the 142nd infantry of which the two local companies will be a part.

Captain D. M. Perkins was asked and consented to take active charge of the organization of the two companies here and the adjutant general explained that the men will be given an opportunity of choosing their own officers. The meeting was held Saturday night in Mr. Keeling's office in the Morgan building.

Colonel Neiman stated that he hoped to organize the entire regiment along the Fort Worth and Denver line. Already companies are being organized at Amarillo, Clarendon, Gainesville and Vernon. He expects at least two companies here and three, perhaps four at Fort Worth.

One of the companies here is to be a rifle company and the other a machine gun company. It was stated that Captain Fletcher has already begun the organization of an artillery unit here.

A mass meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the basement of the Morgan building and all ex-service men as well as the younger men who are interested in the national guard are urged to be present. The guard under the reorganization is presenting some very attractive features to ex-service men as well as those who were too young to serve during the world war.

For each hour and a half of drill put in by any member of the guard he will receive a day's pay for that hour. He holds, in addition to the remuneration several other attractions are awarded the men for their service.

Colonel Neiman stated that Texas was far behind all other states in the union in the reorganization of the guard. He explained that this was partially due to the fact that an effort was first made to organize an entire division of cavalry, but that all the companies with the exception of six had been mustered out.

It is the object of the adjutant general to have at least one company inspected and accepted by federal inspectors in order to go to camp in June.

AUTO CRASHES INTO TWO OTHER CARS AND LANDS ON ROCK PILE

An auto smash-up which combined comedy, tragedy and mystery took place in the 800 block, Texas street Saturday night when a speeding machine, driven by an unknown man, struck two other cars glancing blows and came to a stop on top a rock pile five feet high. The driver leaped from his machine after its flight and disappeared around a corner. He has not been seen since.

The machine was a Studebaker, five-passenger, and was being used by the Excelsior Motor company for demonstrating purposes. It is the belief of F. D. Keim, manager of the company, that the car was stolen from a salesman at Electric and driven to Wichita Falls. Efforts were being made Saturday night to get in touch with the Electric man.

J. D. Brown and E. N. Jarrett, both of whom narrowly missed a serious collision with the runaway auto, told the police that a young man, slender and well dressed, jumped from the car after it stopped on top of the rock pile and fled swiftly away, leaving the machine to its fate. They believe, as do the police, that the man was intoxicated.

Damage to the Brown and Jarrett cars was confined to dented fenders, but the demonstrator did not get off so lightly. Two fenders were dented, two hub caps torn off, the front bumper twisted and the transmission box wrecked, bringing the total damage to several hundred dollars. The rock pile on which the auto came to grief was fully five feet high, such as could have been surrounded only by a machine travelling at a high rate of speed.

Police removed the offending car from its precarious perch and drove it under its own power to the city hall. It was later taken to the shop for repairs.

HUBBARD-MCGEE WEDDING CEREMONY WEDNESDAY NIGHT

At the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. R. McGee, who reside on South Harrison street, Miss Lillie McGee and W. L. Hubbard were quietly married Saturday night at 8 o'clock, Rev. W. L. Little, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church, officiating. The ceremony was read in the presence of a number of relatives and a few friends.

Mr. Hubbard is an efficient teacher in the Austin school and she holds a degree from C. I. A. at Denton. She has won many friends since her coming to Wichita Falls, who bespeak for her a wealth of happiness.

Mr. Hubbard has many friends here who will congratulate him on his good fortune. He is an electrician by trade and is in the employ of the Wichita Falls Electric Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard will make their home in Wichita Falls, and for the present will be at home to their many friends on South Harrison street.

SLATE IS CLEARED AND CONGRESS NOW READY FOR ACTION

MONDAY HEARINGS BEGIN ON PROPOSED REVISIONS OF TARIFF AND TAXATION.

PENROSE WILL OCCUPY CENTER OF THE STAGE

Will Have Charge of the Two Great Subjects Around Which Much Interest Centers.

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the New York Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—With the ground cleared of bills and other matters that hung over from the previous session, we shall begin on Monday the real work of the present session. Senator Penrose on that day opens the hearings on tariff and taxation. From that time onward Senator Penrose should have the center of the stage. He is the chairman of the committee on finance that will have charge of the two great subjects of tariff revision and taxation.

Just how Senator Penrose will bear up under this load is a subject of concern to his friends. His health is still not good. His fund of vitality is far short of that which enabled a leader like Aldrich to drive a tariff through a hot summer session. And even Senator Aldrich, his friends believe shortened his years by the exertions of that work. Mr. Penrose was out of the senate for a full year because of ill health. Since the first of last December he has been in steady attendance. But nobody who observes him believes that his strength is of the best.

Encouragement is given. While his physical strength may be deficient, Penrose, because of that very handicap will have an amount of support that he would otherwise be without. Whenever he makes a public appearance, and whenever the occasion justifies it at all, he is given an ovation for the games with which he stands up under obvious physical handicaps—an ovation which is shared in not merely by his old friends but by many who in former times and on political grounds would be far from showing him deference.

One of the appealing sights on the floor on several occasions has been LaFollette showing a friendly human solicitude for Penrose's health. LaFollette has been through a long siege of bad health and has undergone an operation at Rochester. LaFollette describes the derangement of his health as having been of a nature that caused too much bile to be in his system, and not in humor, but in the most friendly solicitude many believe it is this fact that has caused the excessive irritability which during the past few years took away from LaFollette some of the prestige and following that he formerly had.

LaFollette today has a countenance that beams with health and friendliness. And many have the hope that the Wisconsin Senator in his improved health is due for an appreciable comeback in power and prestige.

Penrose's restoration to health is less obvious than LaFollette's. Penrose, in spite of the strong positions he always took in politics, has always been liked personally by men who opposed him most bitterly in politics. Penrose's directness, straight forwardness and spontaneous truthfulness always made even his political enemies have confidence in him, and this confidence will help him now in the duty that falls on him of driving through two difficult and complex features in the field of tariff and taxation.

The Pennsylvania Senator is a very able man. He has never done justice to his own ability. It is a fair assumption that if Penrose had come from California or Oregon, instead of from Pennsylvania he might have been a very considerable figure in our history. The fact that his home state is only two hours from Washington has always kept him involved in state politics to the extent that his time was consumed in being a politician, he did not have time to be as much of a statesman as his very great ability and his strong qualifications of character might have made him.

Penrose's chief aid in piloting the tariff and taxation bills through congress will come from Smoot of Utah, and that aid will be great. Senator Smoot is an indefatigable worker. He cares nothing for recreation whatever, and every minute of his time and every ounce of his vitality is devoted to the business of the government. Smoot is to the government of the United States like a faithful bookkeeper or treasurer in many a private business. He knows more of the business of the United States than any other living person and when he debates on the tariff and the tax bills are in action it will be Smoot who will know more of the details of those bills than any other person.

SPUDDERS AGAIN ON SMALL END OF CLOSE SCORE WHEN ONE RUN LEAD PROVES TO BE INSUFFICIENT

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, May 7.—The Panthers for the third time in three days edged the Spudders out of a game by a single run when they won Saturday's battle, 4 to 3.

Rigney was one of the main factors in the Panther victory, when he smashed a single in the seventh inning that scored the winning run. He is reported to be unable to play.

The Cats hit Floyd Kroh and Ed Hollingsworth hard, but could not make their hits count on many occasions when they might have piled up a commanding lead.

They hit the bases filled in the first, second and third innings without being able to produce a pinch hit.

The fielding of Coombs who saved the game by a double play, and the hitting of Hoffman and Haley was brilliant.

Kitchens was the main factor in the scoring of all three of Wichita Falls' runs.

OPERATE ON BUDDY.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, May 7.—Buddy Tanner, Spudder shortstop, was taken to a local hospital where he tonight underwent an operation for appendicitis. He is reported resting nicely. It is expected the operation will keep him out of the game until mid-summer at least.

CLEBURNE TEAM AT VERNON MONDAY FOR STATEWIDE HONORS

VERNON, TEXAS, May 7.—The baseball game between Vernon and Cleburne for what is considered the state championship is now a certainty and will be played here Monday afternoon.

May 9. More than $200 is now in hand, the needed guarantee is but $215. The same promises to eclipse its interest and significance any of this nature played in Vernon for years. Cleburne is thus far undisputed champion of central Texas, and Vernon has a just claim for premier honors in this section. The winner of the game Monday will be in a position to lay claim to the championship of the state. The game will be played strictly under existing interscholastic rules.

DOYLE AND DAVENPORT ARE FINED BY SENTELL

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

(Copyright 1920 New York Tribune Inc.)

A SINGLE HOUND.
When the opal lights in the West had died
And the night was wrapping the red ferns round,
As I came home by the woodland side
I heard the cry of a single hound.

The huntman had gathered his pack and gone;
The last late hour had echoed away;
The horn was twanging a long way on,
For the only hound that was still astray.

While, heedless of all but the work in hand,
Up through the brake where the brambles twine,
Crying his joy to the drowsy land,
Javelin drove on a burning line.

The air was sharp with a touch of frost;
The moon came up like a wheel of gold;
Steady and tireless, mile on mile,
And flung away on the open road.

And long as I listened beside the stile,
The larches echoed that eerie sound,
Steady and tireless, mile on mile,
The hunting cry of a single hound.

HANDS, WRISTS AND THE PUNCH.
Few competitors who partake of baseball, golf, tennis or even boxing, realize the leading roles played by the wrists and hands in the final leverage which builds up the punch.

Joe Hutchison and Bobby Jones were with weak wrists in under a blasting hand-cup in any of these sports. For it is the wrists in particular that give most of the snap needed to get distance, and when the wrists are not operating correctly, the ball or club merely gets in the way.

The last flash of speed, the flash that comes as bat, club or racket hits the ball, is the element that turns the trick. It is much after the manner of cracking a whip, the shoulders and body play their part, but they merely back up the wrists when the blow is launched. For the wrists lead the main assault.

THREE INSTANCES.
Carpenter isn't any troglodyte by a number of tons. He is even light for a normal heavyweight.

Yet he is supposed to carry terrific hitting power. Where does it come from?

Take a look at his hands and wrists—thick, powerful wrists with big powerful hands. Crunchers all the way.

WE HAVE JUST LOCATED THE KING OF LIARS. He informed us that he had a big bet down on Dempsey, but hoped Carpenter would win. You'll hear of more of these later on.

Bill Tilden still puts his faith in Molla Mallory, when it comes to the turf tennis courts of England—and Tilden has played against the French wonder and has studied her game. "I rather think," says the world champion, "that you'll see a different Mrs. Mallory this June from the Mrs. Mallory of last summer. Enough different to either win or make it extremely close."

"Cowards," wrote W. S. "die many times before their death." And bum putters miss a short putt many times mentally before they actually miss it in fact.

In challenging "Babe" Ruth for the home run crown, George Kelly, of the Giants, also spotted the "Babe" thirty feet or more from the home run game played at the Polo Grounds. Ruth is thirty feet closer to the right field wall than Kelly is to the left field wall, largely due to the astounding fact that the left field wall is thirty feet further from the plate than the right field wall is.

SCOTLAND LAYS CLAIM TO A GEORGE DUNCAN and a Jack Hutchison, defending the Thistle at St. Andrews. Who says the ancient game isn't romping back to its own again?

That sonorous hammering you hear in the far distance is Great Britain nailing up her cup tickets while the supply is still practically intact.

L. H. P.—Chester and Walsh were the last two pitchers to win over forty games in a year. In fact, they are the only two major league pitchers able to win over forty games in the last twenty years. But after setting these high marks both faded out rapidly within a year or two.

MICHIGAN PLANS DRASTIC LAW AGAINST "FIXING" OF ATHLETIC CONTESTS

LANSING, MICH., May 7.—Drastic punishment for persons convicted of "fixing" any professional athletic contest in Michigan is provided in a bill passed by the state legislature. The measure, which had the backing of Governor Grosbeck, makes "throwing" of any contest punishable by a fine of not more than $5,000 or five years' imprisonment or both.

The bill reads:

"Whoever corruptly gives, offers or promises to any person engaged in professional baseball, boxing, wrestling or other competitive athletic pursuit any gift or gratuity whatever, with intent to influence him to lose or try to lose any contest in which he is participating or expects to participate, or any persons engaged in professional baseball, boxing, wrestling or other competitive athletic pursuit who corruptly solicits or accepts a gift or gratuity or a promise to make a gift or to do an act beneficial to himself, under an agreement or understanding that he shall lose or try to lose any contest in which he is participating or expects to participate, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison for a period of not more than five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court."

LOUISVILLE, May 7.—Behave Yourself, a Kentucky-bred three-year-old, is the winner of the Kentucky derby. The little brown colt, a son of Marathon and Miss Ringlets, from the stable of E. R. Bradley of Lexington, Ky., flashed across the wire a winner by a scant neck after a thrilling race with Black Servant, his stable mate, while a record-breaking crowd of 60,000 spectators stood on top toes at the Churchill Downs course this afternoon.

The crowd was the biggest that ever saw the running of the blue ribbon event for three-year-olds. Black Servant, which acted as pace maker for nearly the entire distance, finished in second place, while Prudery, the great filly from the stable of Payne Whitney stable, which was pulled up in third place, six tenths of a mile from the wire. Behave Yourself ran the one mile and a quarter in 2:04.5 over a track lightning fast.

The race, carrying $50,000 in added money—the richest prize for three-year-olds in the world—was worth $28,450 net to the winner and $10,000 to the runner-up. The total prize money for the race was approximately $50,000 in addition to several big wagers.

Although the Whitney entry—Prudery and Tryster—were heavy favorites, the Bradley horses were given good support in the pari-mutuel betting. A bet of $100 on Behave Yourself nearly ten to one. Place and show money of the Bradley entry were $13 and $5, respectively. Prudery paid $10 and $5.

Behave Yourself was ninth at the start. When the horse swept down the back stretch, Muskallonge had faded and Leonardo II moved up to almost even terms with Black Servant, the leader, with Tryster and Prudery two lengths back, but coming up. As they swung into the straight for the stretch turn, Prudery went a bit wide, while Behave Yourself and Black Servant were seen to move ahead rapidly from the inside. As the horses turned into the stretch an eighth from the wire, the Bradley horses were on a par with the rest of the field trailing and nothing fast enough to endanger the result.

As the field shot into the final yards of the race, Black Servant responded to shaking up, and looked like a winner, but the early pace had apparently told for Behave Yourself, running strong and unflinchingly shot ahead of his stable mate to victory. The crowd, which had been in breathless suspense for a second, burst into a roar of applause at the running of the 47th derby had passed into history.

The defeated field finished in the following order: Prudery, six lengths behind Black Servant; Tryster, fourth by half a length; Careful, fifth by four lengths; Careful, sixth by four lengths; Leonardo II, seventh; Uncle Veio, eighth; Non Voter, ninth; Planet, tenth; Star Voter, eleventh, and Muskallonge, twelfth. The race was a big one, and was scratched, leaving a field of twelve for the start.

Behave Yourself was ridden by Jockey Thornton, a former stable boy who never before has piloted a horse in an important event. Jockey Lyle, the crack rider of the Bradley stable, was told that he would be rewarded with $5,000 if he piloted his horse to victory and was given the choice of the mounts, choosing Black Servant. Owner Bradley was the first to congratulate the youthful Thornton on his brilliant victory and it is probable that the $5,000 reward will go to him. Governor Congratulates Owner.

After the race, Governor Morrow of Kentucky summoned Owner Bradley to the judge's stand to receive the congratulations on the victory of a Kentucky bred colt over the best horses of the east.

Warren was sun blinding from a clear sky made conditions perfect for the running of the derby. What the management of the course figured was the greatest crowd ever saw the event, packed the huge stands and swarmed over the paddock and infield. The attendance was estimated at 60,000, with the gate receipts of between $200,000 and $250,000. The crowd began arriving as early as 9 o'clock and there was a steady stream of homeward-bound shoulders to shoulder when the horses were called to the post for the first race.

The crowd, of whom half were visitors to Louisville, represented all sections of the country. Railroad officials said there never before was so many special trains and cars. The crowd included several notables, among them Harry Daugherty, attorney general; Albert F. Wenzel, secretary of the interior; Governor Morrow of Kentucky; Governor McCray of Indiana, and Dr. Etoban Gil-Berges, Venezuelan minister of foreign affairs.

TWO TOURNAMENTS FOR TRAPSHOOTERS IN PROSPECT HERE

Nine nineros marched out Friday afternoon to the regular weekly shoot at the traps of the Wichita Falls Gun Club. This was the first shoot held since the West Texas state shoot three weeks ago at Ranger. The club did not hold its regular shoot week before last on account of the Wichita Falls roundup occupying the shooting grounds.

A hard west wind and a low target kept the better scores of the club down, but all were in the usual proportion in decline. The score for the shoot was as follows:

A. G. Deatherage.....	Singles, Double	15
C. B. Wood.....	45	12
Bert Adria.....	42	11
J. L. Nabb.....	42	11
J. D. Rigby.....	42	11
H. Little.....	41	11
C. J. Fats.....	41	11
C. Greenberg.....	39	14
E. P. Bowen.....	38	14

A tournament of 20 targets has been arranged between three teams which will be shot in two weekly events starting next Friday with a frame of 10. The teams consist of six men each and the five high scores of each team will constitute the score. When the final hundred is shot off, the team making the lowest score will pay the expenses of a stag banquet to be held at the Kemp hotel. The teams are as follows:

Team No. 1—C. J. Fats, captain; E. P. Bowen, Charles Greenberg, L. H. Little, G. D. Rigby, Ferris Holmes.

Team No. 2—A. G. Deatherage, captain; W. L. Guthrie, Cliff Moore, Paul Adams, C. B. Wood, Edgar Scurry.

Team No. 3—Bert Adria, captain; Lee McGee, W. Daniel, R. A. Falster, J. L. Nabb, R. O. Harvey.

The idea of the shoot tournament is to arouse interest and acquire practice before the regular tournament which is to be held here on June 1 and 2, prior to the state shoot at Ranger on the 17th. The shoot at Ranger was planned here for June 1 and 2 will be a money and trophy shoot and the program planned is a good one. Shooters of different parts of the state are expected.

By WILLIAM B. RUGGLES, Statistician, Texas League.

Only a few of the hard-hitting Texas leaguers found the going too tough for them in the last week and dropped out of the 200 circle. Through Wednesday's game there were still 15 Lone Star hitters pounding the pellet. As an evidence of lively spring hitting, 13 of these number were players who had taken part in every game, while another eight had been in well over half of the battles.

Jack Eibel, the Shreveport first-sacker, had batted his way to the real leadership, maintaining an average of .403 in 20 games. Harry Rothfuss of the Wichita Falls lead-off man, had accumulated the greatest number of base hits, 31, closely pushed by Cattie Brouck of Beaumont, 30. COWBOYS COME BACK AND WIN POLO GAME FROM LOCALS BY 3 1/2 TO 1; DECIDING CONTEST THIS AFTERNOON

The Cowboy polo team defeated the Wichita Falls team Saturday by a net score of 3 1/2 goals to one goal. The game started with speed from the throw-in and after one minute of play, White, scored for the Cowboys after four minutes play Caskey scored again for the Cowboys.

Wichita fought hard in the second period and held the Cowboys scoreless. The third period was probably the fastest ever witnessed on a Texas polo field. Robbins, by long shots carried the ball through for a goal for Wichita and Dr. Fletcher repeated within a minute's play for Wichita, in the fourth period White for the Cowboys made a goal after a long carry up the field.

The fifth period was one of long runs from one end of the field to the other, neither side scoring but Strickland for the Cowboys, was penalized two fouls, which made three fouls charged against him, as he committed one in the second period.

CARPENTIER LEAVES TO MEET DEMPSEY

Messieurs Les Sports of France Give Him Beaucoeur Ovation as He Departs.

PARIS, May 7.—Georges Carpentier, heavyweight champion pugilist of Europe, left Paris this morning for Havre, where he boarded a steamer for America, being matched to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's championship title on July 2. About 100 friends accompanied Carpentier to the station and when the word spread that the pugilistic idol of France was leaving, the crowd was so large that the station was filled with a crowd and incoming commuters delayed their arrival at their offices to give the champion an ovation.

"Carpentier, it was said, intends to return to France as early as possible after his bout with Dempsey, the 'Auto' declaring he will be back here by July 20. The fighter's party was off, accompanied by his manager, 'Batting' Marout, known as a boxer, but in addition a first class cook, who will assure Carpentier of French cookery, to which he is habituated.

Confidence was the keynote of Carpentier's good-bye here today. In a farewell message to the sportsman of France, through the Echo des Sports, he said:

"I know your wishes accompany me and I have every confidence. I will do the best I can. If I am beaten the only thing for me to do will be to recognize the superiority of Dempsey. If I am the winner, I expect and keenly hope the American fighter will give me similar credit."

In the Hardest Market in Years The Haynes Scores Greatest Success states Alton G. Seibert, Vice President and General Manager The Haynes Automobile Company, Kokomo, Indiana. This is the greatest year the Haynes has ever known. It is far exceeding last year and the year before, when production alone measured the volume of sales. That was a "sellers' market," and little if any work was necessary to sell a car. To-day things are different. People are scrutinizing their purchases. They are insisting that every dollar shall buy its full value. And to-day the sales of Haynes cars are exceeding those of last year by one-third. The volume of sales is 133 1/2 per cent. of any previous year. So great is the demand for the Haynes that to-day in our big factories at Kokomo we are employing 16 per cent. more men than ever before, even in the big rush days of last year and the previous one. There is just one big impressive reason for this. When anybody sees the Haynes and studies it until he knows its worth he wants it. The Haynes 50—the smaller and lighter six-cylinder, five-passenger touring car introduced the first of the year—has swept the country. Never before was a motorist offered such value. When you realize that it is on a par in quality and workmanship with the larger Haynes models you sense the extreme desirability of the car. Although we had prepared for a large volume of orders, the demand is already so great that deliveries are apt to be delayed. We urge you to select your Haynes now so that you may have it in good time. THE HAYNES AUTOMOBILE COMPANY, KOKOMO, INDIANA REPORT OFFICE: 1715 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY, U. S. A. MARMON Price Reduction The Talk of the Week! Drop from $5000 to $3985 creates a nation-wide discussion of fine car values. Marmon 34 now on 1922 price basis. LAST Monday morning the famous Marmon 34 quadrupled its appeal among discriminating motorists. Thousands of people, hitherto anxious to own a Marmon 34, suddenly found it within their reach. Based on 1922 prices, the reduction has proved an irresistible appeal to men who understand values. Particularly when one obtains the identical $5000 Marmon 34, without the slightest cheapening. All the extra equipment is included. This $3985 car—improved and refined—is the finest Marmon ever built. Never in recent years has there been such an amazing situation nor such an opportunity to obtain a de luxe car at a comparable price. It simply puts the Marmon 34 into a class of its own. No car at $3985 can compare with the Marmon in design and construction. Its performance, its style, all its superiorities, give it a distinct position. The announcement of 1922 prices NOW has brought instant response. So there is no need to warn you that you should place your order early so as to insure prompt delivery. Council Luncheon Beautiful Affair Of Thursday Noon

The luncheon given by the Council of Jewish Women at Kemp hotel banquet room Thursday was one of the most delightfully original and entertaining affairs ever planned by that organization.

Members and guests who were present at the luncheon included Mesdames J. L. Art, Alpern, Blank, S. Brettlor, D. Brettlor, Becker, J. Cohen, L. Cohen, E. Emold, L. A. Fine, Goldberg, Horowitz, Kats, Kaufman, Kruger, F. Kleinman, Leopold, Loewy, Levenson, Lyons, Markowitz, Morantz, Pink, Paul, S. Riesenber, Schlossberg, of Henrietta, Spitz, Swatt, Veras, A. B. Wolfson, Yurkin, Fisch, Emden, Katsberg, of Henrietta, Marks, M. S. Kaufman, Brettlor, Greenberg, J. T. Carter, Lieberman, of Bowie, Torsky, Smith, Zundelwitz, Klein, of Burkholder, Gene Siegel, Silverman, Ahs Marcus, Goldstucker, E. Kleinman of Dallas, Phil Kleinman, D. Capland Tobolsky, and Misses Elia, C. Gendron, Goldberg, Eva Blank and Rose Levin of Fort Worth.

Capland Tobolsky, and Misses Elia, C. Gendron, Goldberg, Eva Blank and Rose Levin of Fort Worth.

The luncheon program opened with a prayer by Mrs. E. Brettlor, after which Mrs. J. L. Art gave two piano solos, the Etude, by Saint-Saens, and Schottisch Tone Picture, by MacDowell. Both were beautifully done, and very much enjoyed.

Mrs. A. B. Wolfson, retiring president of the council, acted as toastmistress for the luncheon, presiding with grace and charm which contributed most happily to the success of the first. Mrs. Sam Kruger was first called upon to respond to the toastmistress' suggestion, and paid a most sincere tribute to "The Old Residents of Wichita Falls." Among these Mrs. Kruger specially mentioned Mrs. A. Zundelwitz and Mrs. Riesenber, two of the council "pioneers," and spoke of their work with the council with thoughtful appreciation.

Mrs. H. Karlsberg, a special guest from Bowie, responded to the welcome to the out of town guests, declaring appreciation for the beautiful luncheon and the attractive hospitality of the council hostesses.

Mrs. Wolfson's message to the council, as retiring president, was the most interesting feature of the luncheon to the members. Mrs. Wolfson spoke of the splendid co-operation given her by the membership in the past year, and of the money which she had prevailed throughout the work of the organization.

Mrs. A. Horwitz, vice-president of the council, presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers as a tribute of love and respect from her co-workers, Mrs. Horwitz and Mrs. Riesenber, and appropriately from the speaker, "He who guideth the community in the right path will incur no sin, but he who counsels the community to sin will not be suffered to repent."

"You have done your work nobly; you have never shirked your duty. And so, to shirk your duty, to sin will not be suffered to repent."

The hearse was carrying the body of Mrs. Lucinda Taylor and had just started for Petrolia when the accident occurred.

Automotive Dealers Start Movement—All Booth Elected President Friday Night

A. B. Booth, manager of the Overland Motor company, was elected president of the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers' association for the coming year at the semi-monthly banquet, business meeting and election of officers held in the Kemp hotel Friday night.

In addition to the election of officers, the meeting was featured by a mapping out of the program which the association contemplates putting over during the coming year. Included in this list of events is the working for improved traffic conditions in the city, the designating of inbound and outbound trails through Wichita Falls and the defeat of a legislative measure for placing a tax on trucks.

In connection with the traffic improvement program, a committee composed of Carl Wasker, E. V. Leslie and Sid Galbreath was appointed to confer with the city police department with the hope of dispensing with some traffic ordinances now being enforced and the substitution of a few which will work for the betterment of the city.

"The Fellow That Your Mother Thinks You Are."

While walking through a crowded down-town street the other day,

I heard a little urchin to his comrade turn and say:

"Say Jimmie, let me tell you, I'd be happy as a clam

If I only wuz de feller dat me mudder tinks I am."

"Gee, Jim, she tinks dat I'm a wonder, and she knows her little lad

Could never mix wid nothing dat wuz ugly, mean or bad.

Lots er times I sits and tinks how nice t'would be, gee whiz,

If a feller wuz de feller dat his mudder tinks he is."

My friend be yours a life of toil or undiluted joy,

You still can learn a lesson from this, small unlettered boy,

Don't aim to be an earthly saint with your eyes fixed on a star,

Just try to be the "feller" that your mother thinks you are.

AMUSEMENT CALENDAR FOR COMING WEEK

Motion Pictures

"REINCARNATION" AND "WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS" AMONG OLYMPIC FEATURES

The theory of reincarnation which has been discussed time and again, forms the basis of the theme of "Buried Treasure," a Cosmopolitan picture featuring Marion Davies.

The story begins with a prelude showing the supposed antecedents of Pauline Vandermullen (Marion Davies) in various epochs, supposedly having the same soul as Pauline, and handing it on from generation to generation.

The scene then shifts to two pirate ships whose crews are identical with El Diablo, one of the cruelest of pirates, and all of the other characters appear also as they were formerly.

Miss Davies is more charming than any Spanish beauty and the entire production is exceptionally well handled.

Tuesday and Wednesday brings William C. DeMille's latest production "What Every Woman Knows," and for the final three days of the week James Oliver Curwood's story "Kazan" will be featured.

The De Mille production is patterned on much the same fashion as "Midsummer Madness" which was directed by the same director and which created a sensation from its initial appearance.

The story is laid in England and Scotland, with the principal characters appearing in the roles of natives of the respective countries.

"SUNDOWN SLIM" FEATURES PLAZA'S FILM OFFERINGS ON PROGRAM FOR WEEK

"Lives there a gent who has not heard before he died, the saddest word."

"What word is that," the maiden cried, "I'd like to hear it 'fore I die."

"The saddest word," she spoke, "is 'the dinner bell when you are broke.'"

Which is one of the poems of "Sundown Slim." Not much on sentiment, but you can judge this happy hobo character of H. Herbert Knibbs by one of his effusions.

"Sundown Slim" is a unique picture, but it is only one of several which will combine to make this week's program at the Gem one of more than ordinary merit.

"WHAT'S A WIFE WORTH?" AND "OUT OF THE CHORUS" ON EMPRESS' SCHEDULE

"What's a Wife Worth" is the pertinent question asked by the picture to be featured at the Empress on Sunday and Monday of this week.

The picture does not attempt to deal in cold facts alone, of course, and it throws in a large amount of comedy and romance just to make the plot interesting.

Tuesday's picture is yet to be announced. On Wednesday and Thursday Alice Brady in "Out of the Chorus" comes for a two-days stand.

William Russell in "Colorado Pluck" brings the week's attractions at the Empress to a close on Friday and Saturday. This picture is another of Russell's strenuous westerns and is reported to have some darddevil feats of strength in a number of the scenes.

Russell, also, has secured a cast of well known screen celebrities to support him, and with some picturesque natural scenery has evolved a well worth while production.

Naomi Childers is expected back on the west coast in a few days; she wires she is bringing some really stunning clothes.

AT THE STRAND THEATRE THIS WEEK

Lewis J. Selznick, Presents Willard Mack's "THE VALLEY OF DOUBT" Scenario by R. Cecil Smith Directed by Burton George

MANY STAR OFFERINGS INCLUDED IN GEM'S BILL OF ATTRACTIONS FOR WEEK

A bill which starts with a star picture, continues through the week with star pictures and ends up on Saturday with the same thing has been provided for the coming seven days by the management of the Gem theatre.

Madge Kennedy in "The Highest Bidder" has been secured as the "girl attraction" for the Gem's Sunday show, which promises to be a banner one from every respect.

The Hart picture is a drama of romance and wealth, wherein two rich men fight for the hand of a girl. Plenty of comedy and unusual situations have been thrown into the picture and it promises to be one of the best of the entire week.

The Hart picture is built around an old Indian legend, and is unique in that it shows the famous Northern lights in the screen, a phenomenon which but few people have been privileged to see.

"Sundown Slim" is a unique picture, but it is only one of several which will combine to make this week's program at the Gem one of more than ordinary merit.

"THE VALLEY OF DOUBT" AND "BEHOLD THE MAN" ARE STRAND ATTRACTIONS

The Strand offers as its star attraction for two days, beginning Wednesday, "The Valley of Doubt," a Selznick picture, in which Arline Pretty and Thurston Hall have the leading roles.

Marion Hilgrade goes with her brother, Tommy, a weakling, to their father's unimpaired, hoping that the free outdoor life will make a man of him. There Marion meets Jules Bonnavet and they fall in love with each other.

Burton George directed "The Valley of Doubt," and the result is said to be a vivid picture of life and conditions in the far North.

"Behold the Man," which will be presented at the Strand theater on Monday and Tuesday, is a remarkable contribution to the silent art of the Pathe company, and has been endorsing and attracting large audiences in New York.

The narration of the Life of Christ has shown remarkable appeal to all organizations, societies and churches regardless of denomination and sect. They have expressed the deepest appreciation for this pictorial version of the greatest drama of all times.

The drama which has had all to do with our social and judicial structure. The thing upon which civilization is founded, and at this particular time it is apropos, for it depicts the sufferings of our Savior, the same as all Europe has had to suffer in the last five or six years.

The depths of screen villainy are believed to have been reached by Walter Long, who plays the role of Gringo Durka, in "The Fire Cat," the Universal photodrama which comes to the Strand the last two days of the week.

Long is remembered for his work as the condemned murderer in "Go and Get It," as the brutal skipper in "What Women Love," and as The Baboon in Frank Mayo's feature, "Tiger True."

OLYMPIC SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Marion Davies in the Cosmopolitan Production "BURIED TREASURE" A Paramount Picture

another he kicks himself out the door. The plot of the story is interesting and the action rapid.

Fatty Arbuckle's "The Life of the Party" shows the rotund comedian in the role of aspirant for mayor in a progressive city, and also for the hand of the reigning queen of the block.

Christy Cabanne leaves the coast this week for an extended visit to New York, taking with him the print of "The Pretenders," which he had finished directing.

We are waiting to hear of the announcement of Buster Keaton and Natalie Talmadge wedding—get the rice and old shoes.

There's a rumor afloat that Jesse Laskey will co-star Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid in a screen version of "Peter Ibbotson." Oh boy, that'll be some show.

Seena Owen, wife of George Walsh, left Los Angeles last week for New York. Her departure took place three days after the arrival of her husband on the coast.

Will Rogers, Goldwyn star, says its sure will summer time out in New Mexico where his company is on location, filming scenes from "Doubling for Romeo."

It is said Alice Mary Moore—small daughter of Tom Moore and Alice Joyce—will spend the summer in the east with her mother. Alice Joyce is now Mrs. James B. Reagan.

Jesse Laskey Jr., age one month, is rapidly showing signs of becoming a movie magnet. It knows what he wants already—and makes an awful tumpus until the desired object is obtained. I'll say he will be a movie director.

Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran—a clever comedy team, who have been appearing together for ten years, have split. Some little difficulty arising over a part one was to play in a new comedy—"Whose Wife is Kate."

Rupert Hughes, a member of Goldwyn's eminent Authors' association is on the Goldwyn lot supervising the filming of his next story now in course of production.

A Sunday school teacher in London has written to Constance Talmadge, to tell her of an amusing incident that occurred in her classroom. She was reprimanding a little child who had been lying. "Have you heard of the word 'conscience'?" she asked.

Norma Talmadge has been invited to sit for a portrait in Spanish costume to the eminent American painter, J. Campbell Phillips, whose works are well known in the Metropolitan Museum, and the Lotos club, and has been hung in many Fifth Avenue galleries.

Jack Holt who has been loaned to Goldwyn for the leading male role in "The Grim Comedian" began his career as a civil engineer. After subsequent experience as an explorer and a cow-puncher and he finally turned to the movies. "Salomy Jane" was his first picture.

Ruth Rowland, during Pathe serial star, has just received a flock of new bathing suits from New York. Ruth plans to knock 'em cold this summer with the latest in beach costumes.

May Allison is to be seen shortly in a delightful story "The Woman Next Door."

Peggy Lee, the sister of Lila Lee, Laskey star, was married recently to a rubber manufacturer in Ohio.

Myrtle Steadman, who has been ill of pneumonia for four weeks is out of danger. Her son, Lincoln Steadman, has just been signed for a series of two-reel comedies which are to be made by the Beverly company at Universal City.

The most unusual picture ever screened has been obtained by Goldwyn for distribution. It is an importation from Central Europe called "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari." The settings, costumes and backgrounds are all cubist design.

Doug and Mary celebrated their first wedding anniversary in Los Angeles after a long motor trip to the north on March 28, and were present in Pasadena that night to witness the triumph of Jack Pickford's shepherd dog, Boy O' Mine, at the Pasadena dog show. Doug starts work this week on "The Three Musketeers," while Miss Pickford will

From Nothing to a $200,000 Plant In 18 Months is Feat Floral Heights Methodists Will Celebrate Today

Oil companies sometimes start with nothing but hope and a letter head; but 18 months ago, the Floral Heights Methodist church did not have even that scant equipment. It had a name, that was about all.

Its next step was to get a leader. It got one W. L. Tittle, sent here from Bonham. Today, under his leadership, it is formally opening one of the finest church plants in the Southwest. To attain such splendid proportions in so short a time is a stunt that would seem stupendous anywhere save in Wichita Falls; and no doubt the pastor and the members of the church will be pardoned for believing that it was stupendous, even here.

All of the windows are of art glass, and a large one on the east side is of exceptional attractive workmanship. Around a central figure of the Christ appear small medallions that picture the most events in the Bible. On the north side there is a sliding partition door that cuts off some Sunday schools, but can readily throw practically the whole lower floor into one auditorium. Additional seating capacity is furnished by the gallery which is also available for Sunday school work. The basement, main and gallery floors contain a total of 36 Sunday school rooms, where the various departments may carry on without disturbance. On a small fourth floor is a room arranged especially for social events by the young people; it has a kitchenette, and there is also a large, well-equipped kitchen in the basement.

PREPARING IRRIGATED LAND FOR CROPS IS TEDIOUS BUT IMPORTANT PART OF THAT KIND OF FARMING

By FRANK S. REID. Under the terms of "The Casey Act" as it is applied to irrigated lands in Idaho, the settler had to come upon his land and reside for thirty days and have one-eighth of his land in a growing crop in order to prove up on the same. He then would declare his intention of proving up by notice in the nearest local paper, naming several witnesses, on a certain day. He then would appear before the agent of the state land board and swear to the facts, substantiated by his witnesses, which was all the procedure necessary to his acquiring title to the land he filed on.

That land was a sorrowful looking sight to the new settler as he came upon it to develop it—a most uninviting proposition. The land was covered with a thick growth of sage-brush which had to be taken off. Several methods were used. Some proceeded by the slow and tedious method of grubbing the brush with a mattock. Contractors who had the equipment went about the country contracting to clear the land for $5 per acre. Their equipment consisted of different tools, the most popular method of grubbing being by means of a railroad iron. These railroad irons would run in length from 7 to 12 and 16 feet. Another rail was usually bolted on top for weight. At each end was a shoe and across these shoes were laid boards for the driver to stand upon. These rails were drawn by from four to eight horses, depending upon the size of the rail. I used four horses, one team on either end, cutting a seven foot swath. The brush was knocked down by means of the rail, then coming back over the same swath in the opposite direction, would usually tear the brush clear out of the ground, for sagebrush is very brittle.

the ground. This floating was usually a very tedious process and a trying one on horses. This work accomplished, then the laying out of irrigating ditches. From the main canal to the settler's ditch ditches, gates were installed at the point where the water came in from the main canals were the settler's. This gate consisted of a wooden pipe fitted into wings, the water controlled by means of a slide gate. Under the terms of water contract between the settler and the company, the settler was allowed one cubic foot of water for each 80 acres of ground. He could use his allowance on any portion of land he had under cultivation. The main ditches were patrolled each day by a ditch rider, who saw that the gates were always properly locked. When a settler wanted water, he placed a notice at the headgate for so much water to be turned on or off, and the ditch rider would so attend to it when he came along. The water was carefully measured through a weir (measuring device) and records made from day to day by the ditch rider.

fall. Ordinarily a ditch could be run by the eye, though instruments were used a great deal for accuracy. Ditches were staked out and then plowed by means of a lister (double wing plow) that threw the dirt out on both sides, or by going up and down the ditch with a regular plow and shoveling out the main feed ditches and close up were always dug small feed ditches, from which water was run into the furrows. In my next article I will take up the irrigation of land, construction of checks, how water is controlled, etc.

The disapproval of the bonds has placed a crimp in the progress on the building and without a doubt will cause an added delay of fully a month.

ARRESTED FOR URGING THE ABDICATION OF THE KING
ATHENS, May 7.—Alexander Papanastasiou, minister of national economy in the last Venizelos cabinet, and Demetrios Lambraakis, editor of the newspaper Patris, have been arrested for publishing an article urging the abdication of King Constantine. Newspapers of this city are urging their release and also that of M. Papanastasiou, another Venizelist official, who is under arrest on a similar charge.

After the brush was all railed and knocked down, it was either put into piles by hand, or a sagebrush rake constructed, which automatically tripped, putting the brush in windrows in the opposite direction from which the prevailing winds blow, and at night, the torch was applied to the brush, burning up every particle of brush. The small straggling brush that the rail did not pull out had to be grubbed out by a hand mattock. Of course, no such conditions are faced in getting the land ready for irrigation under the local project.

The brush all off the land, and made as clean as possible, the plow was put upon the land. Much small brush was thus turned under and the land put into a much better appearance, though much of the land was in such shape that it did not need to be plowed for the first crop.

OUT OF 204 FEDERAL LIQUOR LAW INDICTMENTS HERE, JUST 8 MEN GO TO PENITENTIARY; 88 PAY FINES

By E. F. FRUECHTE
 Legally, John Barleycorn is dead. He doesn't have to pay any taxes. According to the written decrees his demise was celebrated in the majority of states prior to July 1, 1919 but on that date he was declared totally dead. Since that time it is said that two out of every three men have been and are engaged in the illegal traffic. If they are not bootleggers they are looking for one.

As early as 1917 officers in Wichita county were engaged in keeping their eyes peeled for detection of violators of the prohibition laws. During the latter part of 1917 many men were indicted in the federal court here for conspiracy to transport whiskey across the state line. About the same time, prohibiting the sale of liquor to soldiers and keeping it for sale within a restricted zone around army camps went into effect. Wichita county also got its taste of that law and then later the Volstead act and the state law known as the Dean act.

Many are Called, But—
 From December 1, 1917 to the present time 204 men were indicted by a federal grand jury in this city for violation of the prohibition acts. Of this number 128 were convicted of the charge while cases in 81 instances were dismissed for lack of evidence to support the charges. Included in the number of convictions the records show that 88 paid fines, 27 were given jail sentences and eight were sent to the federal penitentiary. This does not include the entire number of those who were arrested on charges of violation of the acts. A large number possibly 45, estimates were released after a federal grand jury failed to return a true bill. In the latter instances the grand jury found insufficient evidence to warrant the return of a true bill.

In the state courts, over the same period of time there were 26 indictments returned by grand juries. One was found not guilty upon trial of his case while four were convicted, three drawing one year sentences and another two years. One of those who was sentenced to one year was granted a suspended sentence.

The remaining cases, with but two or three exceptions, whether the cases were dismissed from the docket, are still pending. Bonds have been ordered forfeited in a few and many more will be disposed of through the same route.

Under the national prohibition law, the Volstead act, the first offense is punishable by a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months or both. The second offense is punishable by imprisonment in the federal penitentiary not exceeding one year.

State Penalty More Severe.
 Under the Dean act the violation of the law is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for any term of years not less than one nor more than five.

The state law is the one more dreaded than the federal on account of its severe penalty but due to the fact that officials state that it is a difficult matter to secure convictions before a jury partly on that account and partly because many people are not in sympathy with the law itself.

Gathering of sufficient evidence to warrant the return of an indictment is a difficult matter for state officials inasmuch that no funds are allowed by law for the enforcement. All those who manufacture, sell, transport, exchange, transport, export, receive, deliver, solicit, take orders for or furnish or possess are deemed guilty of violating the law. It must further be shown that the liquor contains one per cent of alcohol by volume in order to sustain a conviction. Even those who possess equipment of liquor so described are deemed guilty of the violation of the Dean act.

Confiscating 1,800 quarts of imported liquor in Wichita Falls on April 22, although one of the largest seizures in the state is only one of the many raids conducted each and every day throughout the country. According to government statistics nearly one million quarts of imported whiskey, gin and fancy brandies are now stored in custom houses of the government which has been seized from border runners. This the government is offering for $1 per gallon to those who are authorized under the law to have it.

New York's Dryness.
 Prohibition enforcement officers throughout the country are exerting their efforts to the best of their ability to enforce the law and although many captures are made, they recognize full well that they are unable to run down all violators.

An editor of one of the southwest papers commented on the situation: "Canadian who lives in Ontario will have to come to Chicago or New York to get their liquor now. Ontario voted dry last week and Canada enforces her laws."

We have never been in Ontario since the aforesaid law went into effect but we have talked to a certain party who was in New York not long ago and he stated that if anyone was able to get liquor there they were a better man than he. According to his version of it, the law is on tight and policemen visit all cafes and cabarets and dining rooms every hour. Not much chance, he says.

The government is expending a large amount of money in enforcing the Volstead act. During the first six months after prohibition went into effect more money was expended in the enforcement of the law than the amount of revenue that was received by the government for the last six months when liquor was legally sold.

When the law first went into effect crude attempts were made to violate it but as time went on, wits of alleged bootleggers were matched against the wits of government agents in efforts to win. It is conceded that in many instances the bootleggers won and were able to dispose of their goods without being apprehended. Many shrewd schemes however were unraveled and the offenders brought to justice.

Many and Diverse Schemes.
 Whiskey has undoubtedly been conveyed in thousands of different ways since July 1, 1918. It has been called everything from books to horse shoes. During the days that nearly 2,000,000 of us sang with sincerity, "another day, another dollar," one of the schemes that were uncovered proved to be a most popular one.

There were no regulations about sending the boys something good to eat. Parcel post shipments were extremely heavy in one certain company once a week. On this particular day about ten would receive a three layer cake that made every one else envious. The cakes just had to be three layers. That was very important. The second layer in practically every instance was the holder of a pint bottle of whiskey. The other two layers were merely covers.

ELECTRA OFFICERS KEPT RATHER BUSY THEIR RECORDS SHOW

Ed C. Wilson, justice of the peace at Electra has been a busy man since he went into office on November 18, 1920. Mr. Wilson was appointed to office of that precinct by the commissioners court and since taking office has exerted himself towards extending the powers invested in him for the enforcement of the law.

Up until a recent date 126 criminal cases have been disposed of of which 15 were gambling cases and 25 vagrancy cases. A total of 87 civil suits have been tried before the magistrate. From that he went into office until April 29 he has paid to the county attorney $528.30 in fees and $222.50 in fines to the county treasurer.

Constable Tom J. Gleaser of that precinct has been instrumental in locating several illicit whiskey stills and has returned a number of stolen automobiles.

By H. A. STROUD.
ELECTRA, TEXAS, May 7.—Final returns on the amount of stock sold in the new hospital for Electra shows an aggregate amount of $25,500 divided among 125 stockholders. At a meeting of the shareholders a directorate was elected who will relieve the chamber of commerce of further responsibility in the enterprise.

The directors voted to name the institution the Electra Hospital Building company. The purpose of the organization is to construct an adequate building which will be leased out to some reputable surgeon who will furnish it with the latest equipment. A site will be selected in the next few days and a contract let for the building.

Occupy New Fire Station. The Electra volunteer fire department has moved its equipment to the new fire station on Cleveland avenue and due to the move have greatly increased their efficiency. The new building provides living quarters for the driver, who is the only paid fireman and a well appointed bunk room has been equipped for members of the department, which is furnished in them free of charge. This arrangement makes for efficiency in answering night calls.

The department answered a call Thursday night at the Wagoner Refinery, four miles from town, and were throwing water on the flames in ten minutes after the call had been received.

Lots Sold for Taxes. A sale of delinquent tax lots was held at Wichita Falls this week, where 137 Electra lots were sold for the lake and cost of the suit. This is the second collection of lots that have been sold under the sheriff's hammer and the two sales have netted the city over $7,000 in delinquent taxes.

When the townsite of Electra was platted it was offered as a lottery scheme and many people all over the United States purchased lots and many of them have never paid taxes. This has held back building to a great extent and the city, in order to collect the taxes and place the lots in the hands of legitimate business decided to order the sale.

Well Spudded In. The Wichita Electric Oil company's No. 1 Augsburg, ten miles northeast of Electra spudded in this week and have their test down several hundred feet. The Wichita Electric company is a reorganization of the Hazle-Burk company and took over their leases. It will be remembered that the Hazle-Burk picked up the deepest sand yet reported in Wichita county at around $400 feet which had a good sand and lots of oil, but were forced to abandon it after spending some $20,000 in fishing jobs and trying to cut off salt water.

The test now being drilled is located near the old hole as the railroad commission's regulations will permit and the derrick has been reinforced in view of the depth to which the well will be drilled. A rotary rig is being used.

Twenty-Five Births. Electra added twenty-five new citizens to the population last month, ten of which were girls and fifteen boys, according to the report of Justice of the Peace Ed. C. Wilson. Two deaths were reported during the month, both from accidents. James Thomas Budge died from injuries sustained in the oil fields and Contran L. Harvey, ten-year-old boy died from gunshot wounds self-inflicted.

COUNTY ATTORNEY SAYS SHOW OWNERS TO BE PROSECUTED

REAFFIRMS HIS INTENTION TO ENFORCE LAW WHEN THEATERS OPEN SUNDAY.

THREE HOUSES TO RUN REGULAR PROGRAMS TODAY

Proprietors Decide to Risk Clash on "Blue Sunday" Issue, After Much Deliberation.

Prosecution of moving picture proprietors will follow any effort to open the shows today, County Attorney Fulton stated Saturday. He added that no action would be taken until the shows actually open. Mr. Fulton reaffirmed his determination to live up to his oath of office in enforcing the law, but did not go into particulars as to the procedure he would adopt.

Three theatres, according to present plans, will be open today, these being the Olympic, Empress and Gem. All three will have performances at the usual week day hours. "Buried Treasure" at the Olympic, "What's a Wife Worth" at the Empress and "The Highest Bidder" at the Gem, are to be the film offerings.

The decision to risk a clash with the law on the "blue Sunday" question was reached by local movie men after a long study of the situation, and, according to H. S. Ford, of the firm of Dye, Ford & Rogers, owners of four of the theatres, they are prepared to see the contest through, if a contest is necessary. The attitude of the movie proprietors toward Sunday shows is based upon three claims advanced by them, as follows:

First, that public sentiment in Wichita Falls is strongly in favor of Sunday shows.

Second, that there is no reason why Wichita Falls should be showless on Sunday when other large cities in Texas have Sunday shows.

Third, that the Sunday law is already being generally and openly violated in all parts of Texas in that soda fountains, news stands, drug stores, etc., are permitted to remain open, and that there is no good reason for excepting movies from the privilege.

Beyond the announcement of County Attorney Fulton that the law will be enforced, there is no indication of what the result of the Sunday opening will be. There is nominal "enforcement" in some Texas cities where the movies are permitted to run upon payment of a fine, but nothing is known as to whether such a plan will be followed here.

Opposition to Sunday shows here centers among the pastors of the city, whose emphatic and outspoken opposition to Sunday shows has previously been indicated.

The ceremonial will start Monday morning about 10 a. m., with a parade which is planned to include many novel features. It will be followed by lunch at the Call Field Temple, and in the afternoon the real work will be put on, with a drill team well trained and thoroughly equipped for its task.

In the evening there will be a dance at the Call Field building, bringing the day's festivities to a close. The ceremonial is the third to be held by Maskat Temple in its brief existence, and is the first to be held in the temple at Call Field, where one of the big buildings has been converted into an entirely satisfactory place.

The parade will form on Scott street, south of Tenth, at 10:45 Monday morning, and will march down Tenth to Ohio, north on Ohio to Seventh, west on Seventh to Indiana, south on Indiana to Tenth, west on Tenth to Scott, north on Scott to Seventh, then double back to Ninth, and west on Ninth where cars will pick up everyone for the ride to Call Field.

The following order has been issued: "To All Nobles of A. O. N. M. S.: "Be it known to you that the Pilgrimage will form Monday on Scott street, south of Tenth, at 10:45 o'clock. The public speaking contests being sponsored by the public schools of the county by the local Rotary club will be held Friday, May 14, according to an announcement recently by Superintendent Les Clark. At that time representatives of the senior and Junior high schools will clash in the senior high auditorium, while representatives of the county schools will speak against each other in Electra, Iowa Park and Burkhurnett.

Cash prizes aggregating $500 are being offered by the Rotary club to stimulate interest in public speaking among the students of the county, and it is for a slice of this amount that the 25 contestants are trying. LOTS OF THINGS HAPPEN WHEN YOU BREAK THE GLASS ON ONE OF THE LITTLE RED FIRE ALARM BOXES

By H. F. JOHNSON.

Fire Chief McClure's undignified departure from a city council meeting several weeks ago, occasioned by what council members believed to be a pre-emption of a fire, has called to mind the fact that this city has never been officially introduced to the maze of wires, switches and boxes known as the Gamewell fire alarm system.

The chief's break was made while the council was in the midst of a hot discussion on some civic question, and since he was out of the council room and half way to the street before anyone else heard the fire whistle his hasty departure certainly looked spooky. The chief says he has trained himself to listen for that whistle and that he knew it before any of the others, which maybe he did. At any rate this incident has given rise to some discussion, half in fun and half in earnest, as to whether the city needs such an expensive mechanical system for reporting fires when the chief can smell a blaze before the alarm comes in. McClure is taking no credit for having a supernatural sixth sense regarding fires, and although he is an ardent exponent of politics, which reduce civic utility to a minimum, that a $27,000 mechanical alarm system is a necessary adjunct to public safety.

Total Cost is $27,000. The Gamewell alarm system was installed during the summer of 1920 and was given its final tests by the state fire marshal's department on August 16 and 17, after which it was accepted by the city. The initial cost, which included all central apparatus, wiring, boxes and an alarm unit, was $26,000, and an additional 20 boxes, now being installed will swell this total amount $7,000.

To those who have never seen the "inside" of the system this may seem like a lot of money to expend for a few little red boxes they have on telephone poles over the city, but a glimpse of the central station equipment is enough or should be enough, to dispel any doubts as to the why and wherefore of the thirty thousand iron men.

The Gamewell system operates on much the same manner as that of the automatic telephones being placed in Wichita Falls, although of course the human voice element is not present to contend with. Each of the 120 "pull" boxes in the city has an individual number which, by means of a delicate mechanism, is connected with a similar number in the four fire stations, indicators, and devices which regulate the big gongs, are used to record the calls when an alarm comes in from any one of the boxes.

"Pulling" a box sets a mass of highly developed machinery in motion, the ultimate result of which is to connect the location of the box being pulled, the ringing of gongs in every fire station and at the water plant, the flashing on of every light in each of the four stations and the blowing of the big steam whistles on the Fort Worth and Denver round house east of the railway station. This latter is connected with the city hall operation apparatus, but is put into operation by the pulling of any box in the city. Mechanical indicators display the number of the box pulled, and then by consulting their directories it is an easy matter for the firemen to locate the corner near which the blaze is breaking out. At the same time the gongs and the whistle sound, the number and the time of the alarm is punched automatically on a tape of paper so that a permanent record may be kept.

Keeps Check on Time. A special timing device regulates the calls as they come in so that in case a second box is pulled before the alarm from the first has finished sounding there will be no mix up in the signals. The second call is held off until the first is through, and is then started at once. Every box in the city could be pulled in rapid succession, according to Gamewell experts, and the alarms would sound correctly in the order in which the boxes were pulled. This was demonstrated to the satisfaction of all concerned when the city was startled by an arson wave last fall. Nine fires broke out within a few hours time one Sunday afternoon, and on at least one occasion three different calls were received almost simultaneously.

The flashing on of the lights in the fire station is carried out by specially constructed switches which operate in conjunction with the devices that ring the gongs. Electrical power used in operating the system is furnished through storage batteries at the city hall station, no energy being taken from the city wires. A complete recharging plant is also maintained to keep the two sets of batteries full of "juice." One set is sufficient to operate the system, so the pair are alternated daily, set number one supplying current one day while set number two is being charged. The next day the plan is reversed.

Ample provision has been made for caring for the wants of the city for some time to come, according to Chief McClure, who states that 100 more boxes, in addition to the 120 now installed, could be placed in the city without enlarging the power or controlling units. There are eight circuits extending throughout the city, each of which is supposed to carry 25 boxes, but 20 additional boxes, if placed in scattered localities, could be used without hampering the efficiency of the system.

No Expert Required. In practically every city in the United States where a Gamewell alarm is installed and there are about 2,000 in all, a special expert is employed by the city to keep the mechanism in shape, but this is not the case in Wichita Falls. A thorough checking in the operating and maintaining of all the boxes and wires is necessary before maximum service at minimum trouble can be obtained, and for this reason the cost of one man who does nothing but look after the Gamewell property is thrust upon a community. In Wichita Falls, however, the assistant chief, Henry Smith, has complete jurisdiction over the system and keeps it in as good condition as a specially paid expert could do. He has had previous experience with the system and is thoroughly familiar with its workings. The five largest cities of Texas, San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and Wichita Falls, as well as a number of smaller ones, Waco, Galveston, El Paso, Abilene and Sherman are all equipped with the Gamewell system and so far as is known, Wichita Falls is the only one that does not have an expensive expert on the payroll.

What little skepticism may have existed as to the value of an expenditure of $27,000 for a fire alarm system has been thoroughly dispelled from the minds of city officials responsible for the Gamewell installation, for it has completely vindicated the judgment of Chief McClure, who first recommended it, and has already saved thousands of dollars worth of property from destruction by fire.

System is the secret of success, in practically every line of endeavor. It makes man's business profitable and simplifies for women the great business of homemaking. A checking account with the City National Bank of Commerce provides the most systematic method of handling money, whether in small or large amounts. 339-11c

AUTOMOBILES SHOW LOWEST PERCENTAGE OF PRICE INCREASE

No matter what commodity is chosen for comparison, the automobile remains the lowest in percentage of price increase.

Figures to this effect have just been released and shown some interesting facts in regard to the prices of automobiles compared with other commodities such as food, clothing, drugs, fuel and building material. These statistics show that in April, 1920, when prices generally were at their peak, the average cost of 40 leading makes of automobiles was $1,598, representing an average increase in price of $687, or 43 per cent. The general average of eight necessities, metals, fuel, farm products, food, house furnishings, drugs, building material and clothing, showed a price increase of 165 per cent. Metals, it seems, increased 112 per cent over their normal price previous to the war, fuel went up 114 per cent, farm products 141 per cent, food 165 per cent, house furnishings 235 per cent, drugs 241 per cent, building material 248 per cent, clothing 260 per cent and autos 43 per cent.

These figures were compiled by the Hupmobile Automobile company.

WITH THE LOCAL AUTOMOBILE MEN

Two carloads of Studebaker machines were unloaded last week by the Excelsior Motor company. Manager Klein says that he now has a model of every type put out by the Studebaker corporation.

D. H. Rubsam, manager of the Marshall Huff Motor company, paraded in a few of the outlying districts of our fair metropolis last week. He spent one day in Electra, another in Archer City and also paid a visit to Iowa Park. The visits were strictly on business, we understand.

Two Hudson speedsters were sold last week by the Lloyd Weaver company, distributors of the Hudson and Essex cars. Sheriff J. B. Self of Baylor county took one, while the other was purchased by the United States Oil corporation.

Al Booth, manager of the Overland Motor company, returned to camp last week after a protracted visit to Dallas in time to see W. J. Daugherty, sales manager of the same concern, depart for Walters, Okla. Incidentally, the Overland outfit received a shipment of light fours.

A. C. Price, formerly retail salesman at the Overland company and later with the Excelsior Motor company, has accepted a position with the Lloyd Weaver concern.

Two prominent auto dealers of the city took several days off last week and journeyed to Dallas to take their Scottish Rite Masonic degrees. Their names are Booth and Dixon.

The demand for second hand cars is still good, according to Eckman and Von-Almen, local Hupmobile and Peerless dealers.

W. H. Thompson of the Williams-Thompson company, local Packard distributors, will depart Friday night for his weekly visit to Dallas. That says sure is interested in something down there.

The Apperson Motor sales store front was getting measured for a new coat of paint last week. Otherwise nothing much happened around this section of the woods.

Lloyd Weaver left Friday for a business trip to Dallas.

"Nothing doing but business pretty good," was the verdict around Wilhelm-Moulder's hang-out last week. "We've got room for some more Chandler's and Cleveland's," they say.

Milton Gaines and three other members of the Gaines plant drove four cars to Dallas late last week. They'll get rid of them somehow.

Nolan Stringer et al have nothing startling to report this week but are wondering where somebody gets the reports that at least half a dozen local dealers disposed of four or five cars each two weeks ago. Somebody bet his head against a lead nicker that there weren't six cars sold in the whole city two weeks ago.

"Paris business is blank good," says Ed Gaitz. He boasts that he can build anything from a Rolls-Royce on down, so ought to know.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS'

By WILLIAM H. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department: We frequently hear of automobiles catching fire and burning up. I am an owner and will appreciate any information you can give regarding the cause of the cars getting on fire and what prevention should be used.—SUBSCRIBER.

Leaks in the gasoline system probably cause more fires than anything else. The fumes from the gasoline are highly inflammable and any spark from the electrical or exhaust system may start the trouble. Stop at once any gasoline leaks and keep your power plant, etc., clean. Do not neglect the mud pan. This is a catch all for gasolene, oil and grease and the source of many fires. Backfiring in the carburetor will sometimes start a fire at the carburetor, but this may be put out by shutting off the gasoline. The remedy is to clean the carburetor and cranking the engine. The suction will draw the flame in and the fire at this point stop when the remaining fuel supply is exhausted. Danger exists, however, in small quantities of the burning fluid dropping into the mud pan. If the pan is clean, then there is little or no trouble, but if the pan and other parts are saturated with oil and grease, etc., then you may expect an interesting fight in which all the odds are against you. Exercise reasonable care and as a further precaution install a good fire extinguisher.

Motor Department: Please let me know what good a muffler cut-out does to a machine and why all cars don't have them.—SUBSCRIBER.

Its primary purpose is to relieve back-pressure due to the muffler giving a small percentage of power lost by that means, and so providing more power for hills. In case muffler is of poor design or clogged, the gain is greater. It enables one to listen to the sound of the exhaust and so tell if the cylinders are firing regularly. Cut-outs are not installed as regular equipment for the reason that many localities legislate against their use.

Motor Department: Will you please state in your column what condition takes place when the motor is said to be locked? What causes it and what is the remedy?—READER.

If the cylinders are not properly lubricated the pistons will seize in the cylinders and lock. The absence of sufficient lubrication permits the metal surfaces to come in direct contact. Undue friction through lack of proper lubrication causes the metals to expand and seize. When this condition arises, the damaged surfaces usually score, necessitating regrading of the cylinders and refitting of new pistons and rings.

Motor Department: I have a Westinghouse generator which charges only 10 on the ammeter gauge. When car was new it used to run to 15. I have cleaned commutator and rubbed off brushes with fine sandpaper, but it does not seem to help. There are no loose or broken wires in field of generator.—D. W.

The regulator probably needs re-setting. Do not tamper with it, but have it adjusted at a service station.

Motor Department: Which would be preferable for a passenger touring car, a 32x4 inch or 34x4 inch wheel?—READER.

The size and weight of the car will determine size of wheel and tire necessary to give best results.

Motor Department: Can old tires be retreaded when the fabric is in good condition and about what is the charge?—R. V.

Tire repair shops will retread your tire if the carcass is in good condition and the usual charge is about 25 to 30 per cent of the original cost of the new shoe.

Motor Department: Which do you consider the better radiator, the honeycomb or the tubular? I mean which will cool better, have less weight and be easier to repair?—C. D.

The honeycomb radiator has greater cooling surface and is considered more efficient. It is easier to repair but is more expensive for first cost. The difference in weight is not worth considering.

Motor Department: I have considerable difficulty in preventing the gland on the water pump from leaking. I have packed this several times without satisfactory results. Can you suggest a remedy?—K. F.

The usual method of packing this with hemp and grease is not always satisfactory. If you rub white lead and oil (such as is used by plumbers when making joints into the hemp) you will find that there is a tendency for the gland to leak. You can purchase special gland packing at most any good supply store. Why not try it?

Motor Department: What causes a Ford engine to miss explosions when running fast? If I speed up on the road it misses all right, but when I throttle down, hitting on every cylinder. The trouble only comes when I try to speed up.—L. C.

Make sure that one of the timer wires does not ground in the advanced position and then inspect inside the timer. If it is worn get a new one.

SALES NOT BRISK BUT AUTO MARKET OPTIMISTIC IN TONE

Motor Department: The other night I had my first trouble with the self-starter. When I step on the starter switch there seems to be a buzzing noise, but the engine will not turn over. I can crank the engine and it will run steady, but there is something wrong with the starter. Battery seems to be good. Will you offer some possible solution?—E. L.

Undoubtedly the starter is equipped with the Bendix drive, which is in general use. There is a heavy coil spring employed in this type drive. Sometimes this spring breaks causing the symptoms and trouble you experience. It will be necessary to install a new spring.

Helpful Hints.

Considerable lost motion will affect both the timing of the valves as well as the lead of the valves. If this is neglected you will have cause for a sluggish engine and loss of power.

The application of a light film of vaseline in the commutator will lubricate and prevent squeaking of the brushes.

Do not place a new chain or gear in contact with another badly worn member. Noise will result and the new part will not give good service. It is best to install all new parts.

The secondary wire entering the distributor of the magneto should be numbered so that they can be readily replaced should occasion require. Considerable time can be saved in replacing should they for any reason become deranged.

If in doubt as to whether a spark plug is good or defective, try the following test: Exchange plugs with a live cylinder and run engine. If the trouble follows the plug is at fault. If it remains in the same cylinder the plug is not at fault.

APPERSON MOTOR SALES COMPANY IN NEW QUARTERS

With the taking over of the rooms formerly occupied by the Opera House garage, the Apperson Motor Sales company, located in the 600 block on Tenth street, is now fully prepared to care for the heavy storage, washing and greasing demands constantly being put on it.

The Apperson concern started in the building adjoining the Opera House garage and there remained for several months, but a steadily increasing volume of business necessitated their expanding, so the adjoining structure was eventually acquired.

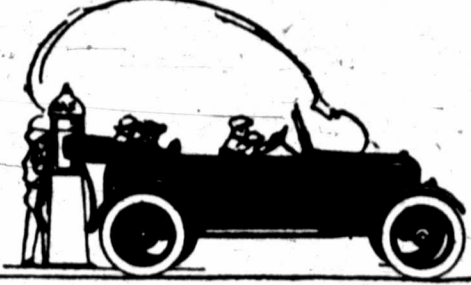

A full line of Apperson cars, Brunswick tires and a complete stock of general accessories is carried, while ample facilities for washing, greasing and repairing machines are also maintained.

GOING TO GREAT LENGTHS TO OBTAIN SUITABLE STEEL

The lengths to which some auto manufacturing plants will go in order to obtain the best materials possible to put into their machines has been shown in a letter received recently by Eckman and Von Almen, local dealers for the Peerless machine, from the Peerless factory at Cleveland.

"For twelve years," it says, "the Peerless Motor Car company has maintained its own metallurgical department. The best known steels of England, France, Russia, Germany and the United States were analyzed and subjected to various tests designed to determine which were best fitted to meet the requirements of the Peerless machine. There are seven different kinds of steel used in the Peerless machine. A special heat treating plant in which all steels for the making of Peerless axles, gears, pinions, frame-work, etc., are heat treated according to Peerless formulas to meet Peerless specifications. "Every delivery of steel, whether it be a single bar or a whole car load, is drilled and analyzed before being admitted to the Peerless stock rooms."

A LITTLE BUYS IT—

A Little Maintains It

Therein lies the phenomenal success of the Overland. Its price presents no difficulties now. Its maintenance doesn't develop any, later. It is just as economical on the road as it is in the showroom, and there are no excessive bills for gas or tires to mar its usefulness or cloud its pleasures. There are 750,000 Overland owners who will bear testimony to its economy!

The Cleveland Six is built by men of long experience in the building of fine cars. It is built in one of the most modern factories, with all the equipment for the assurance of accuracy in construction. In a car of smaller size it has the qualities of big high-priced cars.

They Have Named It "The Better Car"

The Cleveland is, without the slightest exaggeration, a most unusual car, "the better car" as its owners have called it. It is a mechanical achievement.

Beautiful types of body, roomy and of graceful lines of design, the highest quality of upholstery, most comfortable cushioning and lustrous, lasting finish, feature the Cleveland Six.

TEXT OF DECISION OF SUPREME COURT IN RED RIVER CASE GIVES CENTURY-OLD HISTORY OF LINE

Upon John Quincy Adams, one-time secretary of state, and later president, the south bank of Red river, rather than the north bank or the north fork of the river between Texas and Oklahoma. In negotiating with Spain, in 1819, the boundary treaty between the then Spanish possession, Texas, and the United States, Mr. Adams insisted that the south bank should be the dividing line—and he had his way about it.

It cannot be further reiterated in a subsequent suit between the same parties or their privies, whether the second line of action, as was declared by Mr. Justice Harlan, speaking for the court in the case cited, p. 491. This general rule is demanded by the very object of which is to secure the peace and repose of society by the settlement of matters capable of judicial determination. Its enforcement is essential to the maintenance of order, for the aid of judicial authority would not be invoked for the vindication of rights of person or property if as between parties and their privies, conclusively determined by the judgments of such tribunals in respect of the same matters, they were to be again brought into issue and actually determined by them.

It is a well established principle of law that the navigation of the Red river shall be common to both countries. Mr. Adams declared that the United States had always intended that the property of the river should belong to them, and he insisted on that point as an essential condition, as the means of avoiding all collision, and as a principle adopted henceforth by the United States in its treaties with its neighbors. He agreed, however, that the navigation of the said river to the sea shall be common to both people. Citing annuals of congress, appendix, 15th Cong., 2d Sess., 219, 201, 212. The opinion then proceeded to set forth (pp. 22, 23) the third and fourth articles of the treaty in the former of which occurs the language that Mr. Adams had insisted upon as carrying out the purposes of the United States that "the property of the river should belong to them"; and at a later point the opinion declared (p. 27): "The two governments certainly intended that the line should be run from the Gulf along the western bank of the Sabine river, and after it reached Red river that it should follow the course of that river, leaving both rivers within the United States."

WHO GETS MARGIN FROM 7-CENT BEEF TO 45-CENT STEAK?

MARKET MEN EXPLAIN HIGH COST OF MEAT IN FACE OF LOW CATTLE PRICES.

LARGELY DUE TO DEMAND FOR VERY BEST CUTS

Have to Sell T-Bone at Good Profit to Offset Loss on Chuck Steak, Butchers Say.

With cattle selling at Fort Worth at seven cents—and less—per pound, and with good steaks costing 45 to 50 cents a pound in Wichita Falls, a good many Wichitans have been asking the question lately, who gets that 38 cents difference?

A representative of The Times last week put the question up to several local meat market proprietors, in an effort to solve the problem, and the answers indicate that the said 38 cents is split up more or less evenly among packers, railroads, draymen, meat-cutters, landlords, and public service corporations. If anybody is getting an unduly large slice of it, his identity reporter is no relation to the Mr. Holmes whose detective stories appear in The Times every day. Let the meat market men tell their own story—“We pay 28 cents a pound for hind quarters and 12 cents for fore quarters,” said one, “that makes the whole carcass average 17 cents a pound, on account of the difference in weight between fore quarters and hinds.

“Now from 17 cents to 45 cents looks like a big jump. It would be if all of a quarter of beef was T-bone steak, instead of just a few pounds. All of the tallow, a good part of the fat and a good part of the bone, brings us nothing at all; we pay for it and then throw it away. Another large portion of the carcass is salable only for hamburger meat, stew meat, ribs and chuck steak; there's not much demand for this, but we have to sell it, at an average of 12 to 15 cents a pound. We take a loss on these items; we have to, or let them spoil. There is some gross profit in roasts at 20 to 25 cents, according to the cut, but not much net profit. If we sell the best steaks at less than 45 to 50 cents, we lose on the carcass as a whole. If hamburger meat were as much in demand as T-bone steaks, it would be different. The reason T-bones come high is because folks want more of them.

“Average it up, and you'll find our gross profit is around 25 per cent. Out of that comes rent, wages for 150-a-week meat cutters, light, gas, clerical help, bookkeeping, depreciation on equipment, taxes and everything else.” Butchers reported generally that the better cut of meats were still in disproportionate demand.

“Folks got the habit of eating T-bone when times were good,” said one proprietor, “and they hate to go back to hamburger now. They'll do without other things rather than skimp on meat.”

The suggestion has been numerously advanced that cheaper meat could be obtained here if cattle were butchered locally to a greater extent, instead of being shipped to Fort Worth. This suggestion was also put up to the butchers.

“It's all right,” was the answer, “provided there are enough cattle within driving distance to supply the market. If there aren't, and we have to pay freight rates on them, it cuts down the chance for profit. It takes at least 100 head of cattle a week to feed this city. It may take nearer 200, but call it 100. That means 2000 steers a year. I doubt if that many

WIVES AND MOTHERS

—It is largely up to the wives and mothers of a family how much the family will save. You either help or hinder the advancement of your husband or children.

—It is said that a French family could live on what the average American family wastes. Ah, yes, you are often tempted to buy some over-luxurious, over-indulgent thing, but save that money and add to it every cent you can without being stingy.

—In this way you can help your husband toward success, give your children a college education, and do any number of things that seem now impossible. Try it and see.

FARMERS HOPING FOR GOOD RAINS BEFORE WHEAT BINDERS START

With binder time only a few weeks distant, wheat growers of Wichita county are hopeful that the next day or two will bring the generous rain that is needed to make a good crop. In some parts of the district there is urgent need for moisture, and while the need is less pressing in the western part of the county, a good rain would be far from unwelcome there. Conditions northwest and west of Iowa Park are much better than in other parts of the county, according to reports reaching here, and the need for rain is greater in the Burkburnett section and around Charlie and Thornberry in Clay county.

The first of June usually sees some binders running in this county and some farmers are predicting that harvesting will start a few days earlier than usual this year.
