GERMANY IS MASSING TROOPS

ONE MAN IS KILLED RESULT SOUR LAKE AND LIBERTY FEUD

TRIANGULAR MIX-UP
LEADS TO CUTTING THAT MAY BE FATAL

SOUR LAKE, TEXAS, May 28.—Of the three men warned last Saturday to leave town one is dead, another is out of town and a third has been marked and feathered. The latter, Joe J. Devere, justice of the peace, will leave town tonight.

The first two men were warned by Devere last Saturday, according to Constable Branch. Devere called them into his office just after he had been punished by a mob of masked men. "I want you to see me just as I am," he is alleged to have said them, according to Branch, who was present, having picked up Devere in the street.

"I want to see you just what they have done to me will do to you. They warn you two and myself to leave town."

To teachers and 23 other citizens still are acting as special deputies. The trouble here grows out of a political fight to have the city corporation dissolved. Judge 21 is understood to have filed the suit. It is now before the state supreme court.

The dead man was R. F. Dickens. He was shot Thursday night.

UNEXPECTED RETURN OF HUSBAND LEADS TO AFFAIR

Denied Admission by Wife, Enters
Through Window and Cutting Follows.

J. C. Inabinitt, 36, said to be an oil field worker, is at the Wichita General hospital in a critical condition, with a knife wound in his throat and R. V. Wells, 31, a cook, is in the city lockup as the result of a triangular affray shortly before midnight Saturday. He is at the rear of 1009 Indiana. Wells came home unexpectedly after a two months' absence.

Mrs. Wells received a slight wound in the hip at the general hospital early Sunday, some doubt was expressed whether Inabinitt would survive the night.

The cutting took place a few moments after Wells reached this city from Fort Worth. According to his own story, he was denied admission to talk to the woman. He went through the window and started after him.

A small pocket knife was used in the cutting and after slashing Inabinitt's neck, Wells says he struck him with a chair. The cries of Mrs. Wells aroused neighbors and Wells fled. Inabinitt was captured shortly after the occurrence by Patrolman James on Ohio between Seventh and Eighth and was locked up. Inabinitt was rushed to hospital by officers Shook and Newton.

Although neighbors who saw Inabinitt after the cutting thought a number of wounds had been inflicted, he was said at the hospital that only one wound was found, a four-inch gash in the right side of the neck. Hospital attendants said Inabinitt was very weak from loss of blood.

Wells told a Times representative, "I went around to the window and Inabinitt was there. Then I jumped through the window and started after him."

Wells said that Inabinitt and Mrs. Wells were on the bed together, and that both were fully clothed except that Mrs. Wells wore no shoes. Mrs. Wells tried to help Inabinitt, he said. Wells said he threw a chair at Inabinitt after the latter had said, "I'll fix you for this."

Mrs. Wells, who is 40 years of age, was formerly employed at a cold drink stand.

According to Wells, Inabinitt has a family.

7000 Gallons of Booze Destroyed At Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., May 28.—They destroyed approximately 7,000 gallons of liquor here today. The booze had been confiscated by state and federal prohibition agents. Its destruction was ordered by Federal Judge McGee.

A large crowd of "mourners" witnessed the "obsequies."

REPARATIONS COMMISSION WILL ASSUME CONTROL OF HUNGARIAN GOVERNMENT

LONDON, May 28.—A dispatch to the Daily Herald, the labor organ, from Vienna, says the supreme council has notified the Hungarian government that when the reparations commission arrives in Budapest at the end of June it will assume control of the country both politically and economically. It also will demand the resignation of Regent Horthy and the establishment of a provisional government, composed of members of all parties. This new government will immediately hold new elections under international supervision.

The existing national assembly, the dispatch adds, will first be required formally to deliver the Hapsburgs.

NOT MUCH DEMAND FOR LETTERS AND DOCUMENTS OF ROYAL PERSONAGES

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Letters and documents signed by royal personages of former centuries brought only $1 to $14 each in an auction here yesterday, while Benjamin Franklin's essay on by-gones went for $270. A parchment of Louis XIII, king of France, sold for $1, and another parchment bearing the signature of "Le Grand Monarque," Louis XIV, brought $12.75.

A papal brief in Latin by Pope Clement IX, which brought only 58 cents. The first Napoleon's signature sold for $6, while a letter from James II of England to the early of Tyrone brought $14.

More substantial prices were paid for documents concerning the American revolution.

ARREST OF NEGRO MAY CLEAR UP MYSTERY OF BOX CAR BURGLARIES

WACO, TEXAS, May 28.—The arrest of Fred Jackson, a negro, and his alleged confession, local authorities say, has enabled the sheriff's office to uncover a series of box car burglaries on the Texas coast, covering the 11th from Belmond to LaGrange. More than one thousand dollars worth of stolen goods have been recovered and the work is not completed. Eight other arrests have been made.

Kilpatrick Is In A Prison Dungeon

By Associated Press.

RIGA, May 28.—Confirmation of the arrest of General Kilpatrick in the hands of the Bolsheviks, is in the hands of the Bolsheviks, has been transferred from a prison camp to a dungeon in the Tchaika prison, has been received here through Terijoki, Finland.

From the same sources advice state that Corporal Havelwood, formerly of the Siberian expedition, is imprisoned in Moscow and seriously affected mentally.

All the Americans imprisoned in Russia are now said to be receiving supplies of food.

American Soldier Dead in Europe Will Be Honored by Appropriate Ceremonies Around 55,000 Graves

PARIS, May 28.—American soldiers dead throughout Europe will be honored Monday by their compatriots and citizens of the countries where their bodies lie.

A wreath will be placed by representatives of the American Legion on more than 55,000 graves in France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium. Special services will be held in the four big cemeteries in this country at the same time.

Marshal Pétain will deliver the Memorial Day address at Suresnes, General Admiral Magruder and Brigadier-General Joseph S. B. H. Bell, in the morning and at Chateau-Thierry in the afternoon. Brigadier-General Parker, who commanded the first division, will conduct the services at Paris.

French veterans, war orphans and social patriotic societies, in some instances, aid by American soldiers, will be present in making the day a replica of France's All Souls Day at the cemeteries scattered throughout the battle areas of Northern France and the service of supply routes.

In Paris, the service will begin tomorrow in American churches. There and elsewhere, on the Rhine front, will be a parade by a picked company accompanied by French artillery. A wreath will be placed on the tomb of the unknown soldier at the Arch of Triumph.

Ambassador Wallace will deliver an address at the Arlington cemetery of Lafayette.

SITUATION FORCED ON PRESIDENT BY TWO BILLS PENDING

WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Harding soon will be forced to decide whether the legislative theories of the "old guard" or the newer group in congress regarding two bills vitally affecting the nation's food supply are to prevail as the policy of the administration.

These measures are the bill regulating grain exchanges already passed by the house and packer control legislation now being considered in the lower branch of congress.

Opponents of this class of legislation, mainly the "old guard," claim it conflicts directly with the president's executive order against "straw control" and prevent "cornering."

The bill give wide powers to the department of agriculture to regulate trading on the grain exchanges and the business of packers.

The new farmer congressional group, sponsor of the measures, however, claims Harding is friendly to the interests of the farmers as evidenced by his approval of the emergency tariff bill.

So far, the president has not expressed his opinion directly on either of the measures. It appears that both bills can be passed through congress, but it is certain that thereafter the "old guard" and the farmer congressmen will engage in a vigorous "tug-of-war" to swing the executive to their respective sides.

Representatives of the packers here now are claiming that Harding is certain to veto the packer control bill. They have in large measure ceased their previously strong fight against the bill.

VITALLY AFFECT THE NATIONS FOOD SUPPLY

Are Bills Regulating Grain Exchanges and for Control of the Packers.

NO PUNISHMENT FOR GUARDS FOR ACTION IN CAPTURING CONVICTS

AUSTIN, May 28.—Governor Neff today in a letter to the board of prison commissioners that he expects to pardon some "meritorious convicts" who escaped for law is established in Texas and the crime wave subsidies.

The letter advised the commissioners that while I am governor no guard will be punished for whatever is necessary to be done to keep convicts from escaping." Governor Neff's letter followed a close examination of the prison report for 1920 with reference to the number of escapes that year. He said that the 256 escapes seemed to him to be an amazingly large number.

In looking over the annual penitentiary report I find that during the year 1920 there were 256 escapes from the penitentiaries, the governor said. "This is an alarmingly large number, it seems to me, to be permitted to escape the guards. I have been advised that frequently guards permit them to escape rather than use force to stop them for fear they will be censured for cruel treatment of the convicts."

The governor said that while it is his duty to keep convicts from escaping, he does not intend to permit them to escape rather than use force to stop them for fear they will be censured for cruel treatment of the convicts.

Sorrow in Home Of Edgar A. Guest, Daughter is Dead

DETROIT, MICH., May 28.—Death came Friday night into the home of a Detroit widow when her 14-year-old daughter, Edgar A. Guest, died. Her father, Edgar A. Guest, an inspiration of many of his best child poems, succumbed after a long illness to a heart attack. Mr. Guest took her west recently in hopes it would benefit her health.

AN ANGLO-AMERICAN WORKING ENTENTE IS FORESEEN BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 28.—An Anglo-American "working entente" as the foundation for international arrangements for preserving world peace is foreseen by republican members of the senate foreign relations committee.

The Borah disarmament conference has in the opinion of these senators, led to the working out of an "understanding" between the two nations. Disarmament is admittedly a pre-requisite of a true peace, these senators point out.

"We assume, of course, that the public as a whole are in favor since it has been by the senate, and that President Harding will sign the bill, and within a reasonable time act on Borah's suggestion of a three power naval disarmament conference.

"Just get the United States and Great Britain together in a conference on this matter, in the present state of the public and official mind in the two countries," the senators say, "and an accord will result which will have powerful influence on other nations."

RESERVE BANK TO ACCEPT AUTO PAPER AS OTHER SECURITY

KANSAS CITY, MO., May 28.—The federal reserve bank of this district now is accepting automobile "paper" on the same basis as agricultural and other industrial "paper," said Mr. Ramsey, chairman of the board of government announced today.

This represents evidence of material improvement in the financial situation here.

"Recent financial depression has given the same consideration by banks as other industrial 'paper' and is being discriminated against. We are beginning to take high class solvent, liquid and otherwise good automobile 'paper' and are now borrowing especially if it is presented to member banks which are now borrowing excessively.

"The Federal reserve bank is giving careful consideration to all commercial or industrial 'paper,' including automobile 'paper,' especially when supported by proper financial statements."

GERMANY MAKES A RECORD REMITTANCE

BERLIN, May 28.—A special government courier will leave for Paris tonight with twenty drafts on the imperial treasury of $10,000,000 each to be handed the reparations commission on account of the reparations owed by Germany. This is believed to be a record remittance.

EXAMINATIONS SOON FOR APPOINTMENTS IN ARMY

SAN ANTONIO, May 28.—Examinations for appointments in the regular army will be held at Fort Sam Houston beginning in the near future and continuing until August 22, were announced today. Vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant in all branches of the service are to be filled.

CONTINUE CONCENTRATION NEAR SILESIAN BORDER IS LATE REPORT; ALLIES TO FORCE NEUTRAL ZONE

BERLIN, May 28.—An active British military mission for Upper Silesia is being dispatched to Upper Silesia at once, according to information here today. It will travel with full field equipment under the command of General Henteker.

Colonel A. G. Wankowich of the Black Watch passed through Berlin today on his way to Oppeln.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, May 28.—The allied council of ambassadors has virtually approved a plan to establish a neutral zone between the German and the Polish forces in Upper Silesia. It decided at its meeting this morning to advise the other members of the council that it has decided to obtain further information desired before taking a final decision.

The concentration of German troops at the Silesian border is being discussed in a dispatch reaching the foreign office today to be continuing.

TO GRANT SOME PARDONS TO MERITORIOUS CONVICTS

Will Wait Until 'Respect For Law' Is Established and Crime Wave Subside.

LONDON, May 28.—The British foreign office today in a letter to the board of prison commissioners is continuing the question to be submitted to a special committee, including lawyers and diplomats, who would communicate their findings to the supreme council.

The French premier is further of the opinion that since the reports of the allied high commissioners are not unanimous, it is desirable that the question should be referred to a special committee, including lawyers and diplomats, who would communicate their findings to the supreme council.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, May 28.—While no definite date has yet been proposed by the French government for the supreme council meeting to deal with the Silesian question in official circles here, it was pointed out today that it was essential to hold the meeting at the earliest possible moment.

WATER SCARCITY IS DELAYING DRILLING ON MANY LOCATIONS

STANLEY MCGREGOR TEST IS LATEST TO REACH SAND

Radhke Well on Netherton Has New Indications—Activities in Old Districts.

Nothing of importance occurred in the different pools in Archer, Wichita or Clay counties late in the week to cause any stir among oil fraternity. Many wells had shut down on account of the scarcity of water and it is quite likely many more developments will be shut down this week.

The Radhke drilling company in its well on the Netherton ranch, which passed through a water sand at 1414 to 1418 feet, has after drilling in an attempt to reach the oil sand at 1422 feet. The owners are looking to this sand to make a good well.

La Croix et al. just west of this well, are waiting on enough water to resume drilling.

NO DATE IS FIXED FOR MEETING OF THE ALLIES

PARIS, May 28.—Contrary to expectations, no date has yet been fixed for the meeting of the allied supreme council at Boulogne as it is understood the French government expect to be in the British foreign office today a note pointing out the advantage to be gained from not deciding the Upper Silesian question immediately because of the technical difficulties.

Speaking of the Weather Saturday; Read of Montana

HELENA, MONT., May 28.—Light snows are reported at widely separated places in Montana, the fall being heaviest in the mountain section. Snow was falling at Yellowstone today following a rain there last night, according to the weather bureau's Helena office.

PLAN "HOSPITALIZATION" WORK FOR THE SOLDIERS

CHICAGO, May 28.—"Hospitalization" work for wounded soldiers involving the aid of thousands of women and the expenditure of perhaps millions of dollars was decided upon today by the Knights of Columbus, according to an announcement by William J. McElroy, supreme secretary.

Funds up to $1,000,000 already appropriated for educational work will be drawn up for program.

NEW WORLD RECORD FOR A LOW ALTITUDE DROP FROM AIRPLANE

EL RENO, OKLA., May 28.—Oklahoma City, today broke the world's record for low altitude parachute drops from 150 feet here in a parachute designed and patented by himself. The world's record was 175 feet. Army officers from Post Field, Okla., who witnessed the drop, said they would attempt to have it made official.

FARMERS FINANCE CORPORATION WITH HUNDRED MILLION CAPITAL FOR THE MARKETING OF GRAIN

NEW YORK, May 28.—Plans for cooperative grain marketing, recently outlined by growers, were advanced tonight by the formation of the farmers' finance corporation with a capital of $100,000,000.

The organization does not seek to wreck the existing marketing system, it was stated.

The marketing today is an offering of committees of the American farm bureau, government committees and other farm organization, which held a series of conferences during the last few months.

Members of the grain growers executive committee present at today's conference included C. H. Hyde, Alva, Okla.

Allies Hold a Place for U. S.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, May 28.—The United States is being invited to name a member of the guaranties commission, and a place has been held open for an American representative, the other members having been chosen by the reparations commission.

Roland W. Boyden, who has resumed his seat with the reparations commission, has informed the commission on instructions from Washington that he has not received orders from the American government to serve on the guaranties commission.

HESITATION WITH A LACK OF CONFIDENCE FEATURES CONGRESS

FACE NECESSITY OF FULFILLING CAMPAIGN PLEDGE TO SOLVE THE UNSOLVABLE.

REDUCTION OF TAXATION A CONSPICUOUS PROMISE

Cabinet Devotes More Time to Measures of Economy Than Any Other Subject.

By MARK SULLIVAN
National Political Correspondent of the New York Evening Post and the Wichita Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—An estimate of the political atmosphere during the six weeks that Congress has been in session shows the most conspicuous factor to be a state of hesitation and lack of confidence as to program. This state is common both to the leaders of congress and to the rank and file, and is common to the Democrats as to the Republicans.

For this there are several reasons. For one, the Republicans, as one of their leaders expressed it are faced with the necessity of fulfilling their campaign promise to solve the "unsolvable." When any party or any leader is called upon to fulfill a promise that he can't fulfill the usual result is hesitation and indecision.

The most conspicuous of the several promises the Republicans made was to reduce taxation. The promise was meant in good faith. Those who made it took it for granted they could do it in some ways they have set about doing it. The cabinet devotes more time to measures of economy than to any other one subject.

The program for a reorganization of the government, which ultimately will lead to greater economy and efficiency, is the most important of the things the cabinet can do in the way of salvaging war material and adopting policies of not paying rent for so many buildings, and all the other minor items of economy, is merely minor compared to the big items in which the only really noticeable economies can possibly be effected.

The tariff revision proposed by the Republican leaders cannot seriously reduce the burden of taxation in the near future. Further, probably, would any other tariff revision affect taxation until some other things are accomplished first. These other things are in a field which Congress cannot control. They are in the field of international relations, and that is a field in which having marched down the hill from where Wilson took us rather too suddenly, we are now considering whether to turn around and march at least part of the way up again.

It is this self-consciousness about the feasibility of the tariff as an immediate means of reducing other forms of taxation that accounts for the lack of interest in it. If the Republicans believe the tariff would reduce their promises of reducing other forms of taxation, they would go into it with a hearty spirit. As a matter of fact, not only is the tariff as a bill far behind its schedule, but even the important emergency tariff, which was promised to be a law within two weeks from the beginning of the session, was still hanging fire in the sixth week of the session. The truth is, the tariff leaves everybody cold. It is this unconsciousness about the party promise to reduce taxation that accounts for the most vital speeches made in either house during the present session. It is this unconsciousness about the cost of government that caused the lower house to try to reduce army appropriations to a basis of 150,000 men, a basis which even in the judgment of the greatest danger of having his hand forced. He wants to go patiently and slowly about this whole complex business of international relations, and until he makes satisfactory progress in other respects he does not want, so to speak, to throw away his gun. But he is faced by an increasing indisposition on the part of congress and the people to supply him with ammunition for his gun.

Within the next few weeks there will develop a highly organized movement among the churches, which ultimately will express itself in a demand on President Harding that he call an international conference for disarmament. Politically, it will be most unfortunate for President Harding if circumstances make him seem to resist this demand. Even if he should get past the crisis of the next few weeks, he will face a worse one next December. In December another navy appropriation bill will come up. It will be handled by the same congress that is already restless about the present appropriation bill comes up, congress will be within three or four months of the primaries which will re-elect or reject them.

Under those circumstances, the danger is that there will be forced upon President Harding and upon the country the awakened conscience of the country without reference to what other nations do. President Harding has the alternative of proceeding to disarmament by conference with other nations or by unilateral action. Disarmament without regard to other nations next December.

"FIND IT FOR ME, BOB" IS LADY ASTOR'S REQUEST OF LORD ROBERT CECIL.

LONDON, May 28.—Lady Astor, in a speech in the house of commons yesterday, reproached the government for what she termed its failure to realize the awakened conscience of the country on the subject of maternity benefits. She suggested that a committee representing women's societies should be appointed to confer with other nations concerning the subject of maternity benefits.

Lady Astor said she regretted the government's present apathy concerning the league of nations and repeated her belief that the women of America sooner or later would get the United States into some sort of a league.

The lobby correspondent of the London Times mentions an amusing incident. He says that when Lady Astor was unable to find a passage she desired in the parliamentary reports, she threw the book to Lord Robert Cecil, exclaiming: "Find it for me, Bob."

The household, personal and business checking accounts and the savings accounts of hundreds of Wichita Falls women are handled by the City National Bank of Commerce and new accounts are always cordially welcomed by the bank. Four per cent compound interest is paid on savings.

PLAN FOR OPENING OF ULSSTER PARLIAMENT

Unionists Express Hope That Either King George or Prince of Wales Will Attend.

By Associated Press.
BELFAST, May 28.—Sir James Craig, premier-designate for Ulster, has gone to London to arrange the details of the ceremony attending the new northern parliament June 7. The Ulster unionists still express the hope that either King George or the prince of Wales will formally open the proceedings, and deny the "rumor" that the people of England have concerning conditions in the six Ulster counties, which the English believe would make it dangerous for royalty to visit this country.

The unionists, however, probably will have to be satisfied with some lesser dignitary. The ceremony will be held in the Belfast city hall, one of the finest edifices in Ireland. It is a large stone building and is a commanding sight. The interior is finished in Italian and Greek and Irish marble with fine windows and some of the finest modern oak carvings.

The nationalists and Sinn Feiners insist that the northern parliament will be unworkable from a financial standpoint. The unionists, especially since they are assured a large majority, are more determined than ever to make the parliament a success.

Large Crowd Bids Caruso Farewell as He Sails for Italy

NEW YORK, May 28.—Enrico Caruso, his wife and little Gloria Caruso, aided by secretaries, chefs, valets, maids and relatives, found pier 7, where they were to make their departure for Italy, a blaze of farewell glory this afternoon.

The seven suites, costing $25,000 and consisting of bedrooms, playrooms for Gloria, dining room and one great music room housing a baby grand piano, were a mass of flowers. Telegrams in a great heap two feet deep formed a mound on one of the tables. Caruso was happy. Some of his friends had seen, but many were new, that Caruso was going home to die. Now Caruso is going home to live. And he predicted to his friends before his departure that he was coming back to America stronger than ever, ready to prove on the stage of the Metropolitan that his illness of the winter had not rained the golden voice.

Both sides express dissatisfaction with the system of proportional representation, even the unionists admitting that the nationalists and Sinn Feiners are entitled, according to the votes cast for them, to four members for Belfast, whereas they have only one.

SETTLE CONTROVERSY OVER PRESENTATION OF PAGEANT

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 28.—The controversy over presentation of the Pageant of the Pilgrims resulting from Archbishop Messmer's edict forbidding Catholic children to take part, has been settled, largely through the efforts of the Rev. Gustav Siharne. The pageant had been prepared as part of the park program to be given by school children July 4 and it is announced Archbishop Messmer has now promised that he would urge Catholic children to take part.

ONE BLOW WITH FIST FRACTURES MAN'S SKULL

CHICAGO, May 28.—Following a quarrel over who should carry a basket of bread from the house of correction bakery to the dining room, Jess O'Connor, serving a year for larceny, killed Pete de Angelo, serving six months for assault with a deadly weapon.

O'Connor struck the Italian one blow with his fist. De Angelo's skull was fractured.

A Delightful Row

My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship, so when I brought home a bottle of May's Wonderful Remedy, on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince of the money refunded.—Mack Taylor and druggists everywhere.

Memorial Day to Be Appropriately Observed GRAVES OF SOLDIERS WILL BE DECORATED; PROGRAM PLANNED

THE DAY OF THEIR HONOR

There isn't a song on the driver's lips as the caissons roll today. There isn't the jest of the roaring ranks as the columns swing their way. The old main street is a sunny street and far from the wrath of war. But a flag leads on where they followed once—the men who will march no more.

The blue of the fleet that swept the seas, the brown of the wild Argonne. The men of musket and mauler days, come, shoulder to shoulder, on. The caissons roll and the columns swing in the old "one, two, three, four." And the ranks close in where their files are blank—the men who will march no more.

The poppies bloom on the fields of France, and the North Sea waves are gray. The plow runs fallow at Gettysburg and Morro is years away. The grass is green where the crosses stand and the sky bends smiling o'er. And a land here head in their name today—the men who will march no more.

—S. M. E. in American Legion Weekly.

Wichita Falls will pay appropriate tribute to her illustrious dead Memorial day. A program in which members of all patriotic organizations will take part has been arranged for the day.

Observance began, in one sense, on Saturday, when the sale of poppies started. The little red flowers appeared on the coats and shirts of hundreds of Wichitans, who paid a dime or more for the privilege, the money going to the Kerrville hospital fund; although this city's quota was only $50, about $200 was obtained through the sale of the crimson blossoms.

Mayor Cline Saturday proclaimed a half holiday, from one to six p. m. Monday, for observance of the occasion.

Former service men are called to meet at 2 p. m. Monday at the legion headquarters, and as many as can will wear their uniforms. They will march from the headquarters at 3:25 Ohio to the First Baptist church, where members of the Legion Auxiliary, United Confederate Veterans, Sons of Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy and Army of the Republic, Spanish War Veterans and Daughters of the American Revolution will join them, and the trip to Riverside cemetery will be made in automobiles.

At the cemetery the graves of all ex-soldiers will be decorated, and a profusion of flowers will be provided for this purpose.

At 8 p. m. Monday night the Memorial day program will be held at the First Baptist church. J. B. Hatchitt, former commander of the Pat Carrigan post, will preside, and the following program will be presented.

Invocation—Rev. W. C. Ashford, assistant pastor First Baptist church. National anthem—Audience. Violin solo—Miss Bereniece Jackson; Mrs. A. H. Britain, accompanist. Address—Col. E. L. Culbertson, U. S. Army.

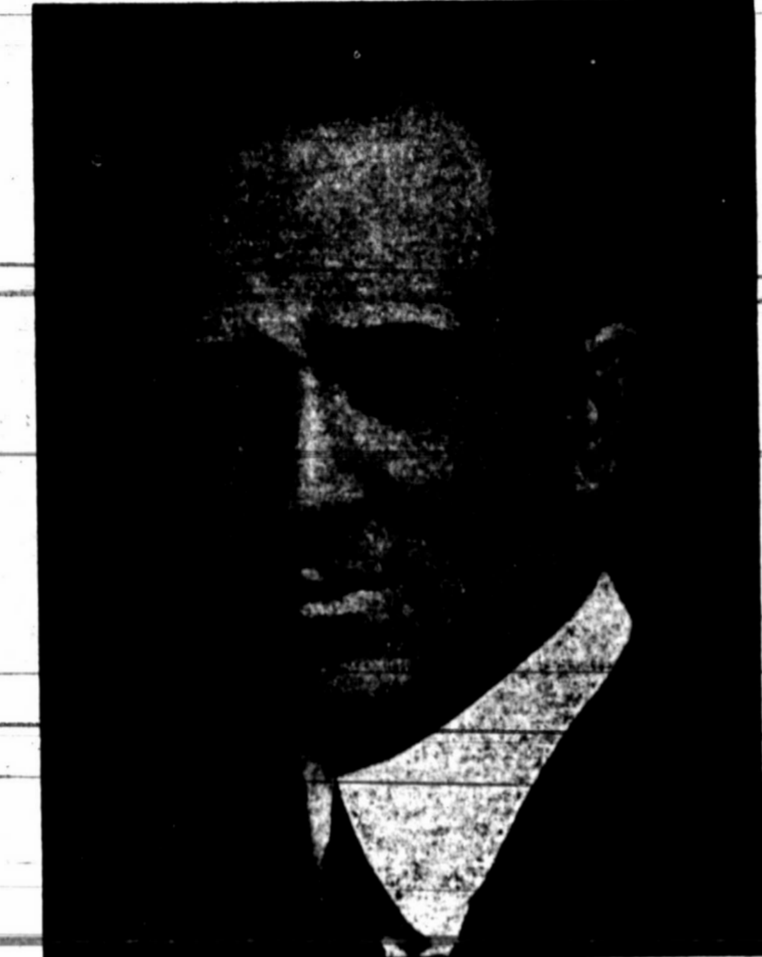

Selection—Quartette: Madama Barrow, Tully, Fridy and Clifford. Selection—Judge B. V. Cummings. Selection—Male quartette. Benediction—Rev. Nat. F. Grafton. Colonel Culbertson was G-1 with the 28th division in France, and has been commissioned in the regular army since the war. Judge Cummings is a prominent business man of Wichita Falls, but now of Wichita Falls.

Participation in the services by members of all patriotic organizations is urged.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between Wilford Harrison and Louis Pink of Wichita Falls, Texas, under the firm name of the Wilford Harrison Drug Co., was dissolved by mutual consent of each of said parties on the 24th day of May, 1921. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by the said Wilford Harrison, and all demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment, Wilford Harrison, Louis Pink, May 24, 1921. 12-7c

To Speak at Central Presbyterian Church

REV. J. C. O'HAIR.

An announcement says: Evangelist J. C. O'Hair of Chicago will speak at the Central Presbyterian church, Eleventh and Buff streets Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "The Greatest Question of the Age."

Mr. O'Hair is a preacher of universal force and power and comes to us from Saginaw, Michigan, where he has just closed a very successful evangelistic campaign. Arrangements have been made for Mr. O'Hair to give a series of lectures on the Bible, beginning Monday night and continuing through the week. These services will be held in the Central Presbyterian church. "Through the Bible in One Week" will be the subject of Mr. O'Hair's addresses. Great crowds have attended these lectures in many of the large cities of the north and east, and will take advantage of the wonderful opportunity of hearing this gifted man open up the Word of God. Come and hear Mr. O'Hair preach Sunday morning on "The Greatest Question of the Age," and you will not want to miss one of the special Bible study lectures, which begin Monday night at 4 o'clock. The Sunday night service at the Central Presbyterian church, through a pre-announcement, will be devoted to children's day exercises for the Sunday school. Big Four Jazz Orchestra. Music for all occasions. Phone 2239 for appointment. 12-4c

CHAUTAQUA OFFERS MANY ATTRACTIONS

Noted Speakers and Entertainers to Appear on Program Starting June 16.

Such notables as John Temple Graves, Dr. Ng Poon Chew, Frank Dixon and Charles H. Pattenburg will participate in the Redpath-Horner chautauqua which opens a seven-day program here June 16.

The chautauqua comes here under the auspices of several Wichitans, who feel that such entertainments should be encouraged, but who are not financially interested in the organization.

Following is the program: June 16—Vivian's "The World as I See It." They give real instead of imitation Hawaiian music, says an announcement. At the night performance Charles H. Pattenburg is also on the program. His mission is "to straighten people out on community thinking," and it is promised that he will have some worthwhile suggestions.

June 17—The Musical Grenadiers, a snappy orchestra. Henry A. Adrian will speak at the night show. He was associated with Luther Burbank for many years, and is now telling America of Burbank's work with plants.

June 18—The Agnes Knofleckova company, consisting of some musical performers of exceptional talent. At the night performance the well known success, "Broadway Jones," by George Cohan, will be presented, and is heralded as one of the real big events of the chautauqua.

June 19—Dr. J. Q. Robinson will speak in the afternoon, giving a lecture that combines humor and inspiration. His subject will be "The Lost Legacy." At night Dr. Ng Poon Chew, known as "The Chinese Mark Twain," will speak.

June 20—The Glenn Wells company and Mme. Selivanova are on the afternoon program. The Glenn Wells company will present a three-act play, "The Russian Girl."

June 21—The Philharmonic orchestra will appear at both afternoon and night performances. This is a musical organization of Philadelphia women who play a variety of instruments. Also on the afternoon program is Charissa Harrold, in a number of interpretations.

June 22—The Montague Light Opera singers will appear both afternoon and night in one of the feature events of the week. John Temple Graves, noted southern writer and orator, will speak in the afternoon.

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership. Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between W. C. Demere and L. F. Stripling under the firm name of the Wichita Fuel Oil Company, was dissolved February 1, 1921. All outstanding accounts due to firm are payable to W. C. Demere, Commerce building, Wichita Falls, Texas, who is authorized to collect same and give proper receipt. 263-14c

TREASURER OF GAS COMPANY ANSWERS RECENT COMPLAINTS

At a conference Saturday with Councilman W. N. Bonner, commissioner of public utilities, F. M. Lega of Dallas, treasurer of the North Texas Gas company, took occasion to answer the company against some of the "cover-charge" complaints against it. Mr. Lega, told Judge Bonner that even if an error is made on one month's reading of a meter, the checking system used by the company is certain to detect it in another month. He insisted that the company had used extreme care in reading meters. The matter of possible future increases in the gas rate was raised Saturday by Councilman Curles in a letter to Judge Bonner. The latter had not received the letter when he talked with Mr. Lega, but said he was sure no increase was planned. The company can raise its rates only in case the gas costs it more at the wells, where there has been no advance, Mr. Bonner pointed out.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS HALF HOLIDAY FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

Mayor Walter Cline Saturday proclaimed a half holiday Monday for observance of Memorial day, the action being taken at request of the American legion. The proclamation follows: "Monday afternoon 1 to 4 May 30, 1921, is declared a legal holiday in the city of Wichita Falls in honor of the nation's dead. The patriotic-American citizenship is then enjoined to cease all unnecessary pursuits in order that due respect may be paid to the memory of those who have fallen in the defense of country and the institution of freedom. "Given under my hand officially the 28th day of May, 1921. (Signed) "W. D. CLINE, Mayor of Wichita Falls."

STOCK AND VAUDEVILLE ATTRACTIONS AT PALACE ENDS ENGAGEMENT HERE

Wichita Falls amusement fans will have to content themselves with moving pictures until the first of next September. It was learned Saturday when announcement was made the Palace theatre would close Saturday night for the balance of the summer. The Monroe Hopkins players, who have been featured at the Palace for the past two weeks, leave Monday to open an engagement at Burk Burnett. Failure of the public to support the shows has been assigned as the cause for closing the theatre, it having been found that present business was not enough to justify the continuation of the presentations. The public is tired of amusement, theatrical officials believe, and a rest will be acceptable to all concerned. The Palace will be opened next September for road shows and stock companies.

CULLUM-ANDERSON WEDDING BEAUTIFULLY SOLEMNIZED AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

MR. AND MRS. L. H. CULLUM.

Landon H. Cullum and Miss Lella Beall Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Anderson, were united in marriage Saturday evening at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Nat F. Grafton performing the ceremony. The marriage solemnization was very beautiful. The church decoration, confined to a solid banking of palms and ferns before the altar, with tall tuile-tied baskets of gladioli among the greenery, was dignified and simple. The family and out-of-town friends of the young couple occupied pews designated by bows of white tuile-with fern, while the remainder of the church was filled with friends and acquaintances. Preceding the entrance of the bridal party, with Mrs. O. E. Maer at the organ, Mr. John Martin of Breckenridge sang two solos, "O Promise Me" and "Because," after which the organ strains developed softly into the processional. The bridesmaid group and the maid and matrons of honor entered up the right and left aisles of the church, alternating with the men had previously acted as ushers. The maids came first—Misses Pauline Richolt, Onah Astin of Bryan and Marjann Maer, followed by the matrons, Messames Lella Stringer and Harold Haynes, and the maid of honor, Miss Louise Montgomery of Austin, immediately preceding the bride. The ceremony was performed with grace and color and enhanced by the silver of slippers and stockings, and the white enameled staffs, with shower bouquets of sweet peas tuile-tied to the tops, added a graceful and attractive touch to the ensemble. Miss Richolt wore pale gold organdie touched with rose and exquisitely draped with lace. Miss Austin wore orchid organdie and lace with touches of green and orange. Miss Maer wore pale blue organdie and lace with hand-made flowers. Mrs. Stringer wore pale pink organdie and lace with hand-made flowers and applied flowers, and Mrs. Haynes wore pale green organdie and lace with touches of pink and hand-made roses of pink. Miss Montgomery wore peach georgette in petaloid design, softly draped above the waist. The bride, who entered with her father and joined Mr. Cullum, with the best

MEXICAN SITUATION AWAITS SUMMERLIN

Nothing Available to Public Until Attitude of Oregon is First Ascertained.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—George T. Summerlin has assumed charge of the American embassy at Mexico City and is now in communication with President Oregon on the question of recognition by the United States. It was announced today at the state department.

Whether Summerlin has actually presented Oregon with the American note outlining the attitude of this government toward recognition of Mexico is not yet known. Officials said that Summerlin would confer with Oregon, present him with the American communication and learn his reaction to it. The state department is said authoritatively today, expects soon to receive advice from Summerlin on which the next step by this government will be made. The recent report stating that Secretary of State Hughes' communication to Mexico insisted that Oregon first sign a set of written guarantees before recognition is extended, was denied on high authority at the state department today as "without the slightest foundation."

Stamps for sale at Times office, corner Seventh and Scott avenues. $41-10c.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the wedding party, out of town guests and immediate relatives were entertained at the G. D. Anderson home with a reception, during which the bride's cake was cut with a very pretty ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Cullum left on a train for Chicago, from where they will go to New York, Montreal, Quebec and other points in the northeast on their three week's tour. On their return here they will make their home at 3214 Tenth street.

Out of town guests at the wedding included, among others, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Anderson of Olney, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Astin of Bryan, Morris Hannia of Olney, Miss Onah Astin of Bryan, Lloyd Lehrbas of Chicago, Mrs. J. D. Cullum and J. D. Cullum, Jr., of Dallas, Mrs. Montgomery and Miss Louise Montgomery of Austin, Cedric Burgher of Dallas, and Jack Duke and John Martin of Breckenridge.

THINKS HARVEY WANTED TO DELIVER FINAL STROKE TO THE WILSON POLICIES

LONDON, May 28.—The Weekly Review printed editorials from the recent speech of Colonel George Harvey, the American ambassador to the court of St. James, before the Pilgrims' society, but with somewhat of an air of bewilderment over the extent in which it indicated the lines of American policy.

The Nation finds this an odd decision, because it says the United States will thus help administer a treaty it refused to sign. Alluding to the rejection by the United States of the league of nations on the ground that it was "an enforcing agency of the victors," it asks what else is the purpose of the league?

On the whole the Nation thinks Colonel Harvey wanted to deliver "the finishing stroke" to the entire Wilson policy, while not abandoning what it characterizes as the position of a large body of opinion represented by Secretary of State Hughes and Secretary of Commerce Hoover. All the reviews welcome the fever with which Ambassador Harvey urged co-operation between the United States and Great Britain. The Spectator in this respect finds the speech epoch-making and meaning that the American foreign policy is based upon the recognition of the common interest of the entire English-speaking world. This newspaper considered that in deciding to rejoin the supreme council, President Harding has done "as practical a piece of work in the cause of peace as ever has been accomplished."

AVIATION FIELD OWNER AT DALLAS IS ARRESTED ON MANN ACT CHARGE

SAN DIEGO, CAL., May 28.—Lient. J. P. aviation field owner and son of the late Colonel C. C. Slaughter, Texas multimillionaire, is named in a Mann act indictment charging him with transporting Miss Reita Jachner, said to be a French girl, from New York city to Dallas for immoral purposes, it was announced today by Federal District Attorney Henry Zweifel. Slaughter is at liberty under $2,500 bond signed by relatives.

City Briefs

Activities around the naval recruiting station were exceedingly busy during the past week. Orders regarding directions to cease recruiting not having arrived as was expected. Naval officials here expressed the belief that recruiting would be resumed early this week, although they have received nothing to this effect.

Mrs. Adah H. Tietz has returned from Ardmore, where she has been visiting her niece, Mrs. J. C. Showers, for the past ten days.

Ex-Senator Bailey is the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Allen at their ranch near Elvira.

Mrs. H. Willis entertained her Sunday school class from the First Baptist church, with an evening party Saturday morning. She was assisted by Mrs. O. W. Smith.

BIRD HOUSE CONTEST TO BE DECIDED MONDAY

The bird house building contest staged by the Wichita hardware company among the boy scout troops of the city will be closed Monday, according to word from the officials of the contest, and awards made to those boys who have turned in the best house.

Over a score of contestants have submitted houses, many of which are exceedingly novel and well built. Those in charge of the event are very well pleased with the interest shown by the boys.

AN AMENDED ANSWER MAY BE FILED BY MRS. STILLMAN

NEW YORK, May 28.—With negotiations for a settlement in the Stillman divorce case now definitely abandoned, opposing counsel today entered their efforts on preparation for resumption of the secret hearings Wednesday in Poughkeepsie.

The amended answer to the bill of complaint was circulated again this afternoon.

Additional amended answer to James A. Stillman's complaint, naming a respondent other than Mrs. Florence Lawyer Leeds.

The statement late yesterday by Cornelius J. Sullivan, chief counsel for Stillman, declaring that the banker's legal representatives did not participate in the recent conference and that the negotiations had completely failed, led Mrs. Stillman to make public excerpts from a letter she received from John D. Stanchfield, her principal attorney, which stated that the banker made a proposition for settlement leaving the legitimacy of Guy unquestioned.

EXPORTS TO EUROPE AND SOUTH AMERICA DECLINE

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Exports to Europe and South America fell off sharply during April, while imports from South America were nearly $10,000,000 in excess of exports. Foreign trade figures issued today by the department of commerce disclosed.

What We Found Out—We'll Show You Gladly

OUR decision to offer Brunswick Phonographs and Records to the many music lovers of Wichita Falls was not made overnight. We investigated. We examined. We inquired and interrogated experts. We analyzed, not only for tone qualities, for cabinet work and construction, not only for versatility, but for the strength and policy of the company behind, and we easily decided on Brunswick.

Now you can find out This "show you" week

No matter what your Phonograph experience has been — no matter what you may now own — see, hear, and examine The Brunswick.

Even if you've heard all the others — hear this new-day instrument. Find out How it plays all records — any record — and plays them Better. Examine the matchless cabinet work, the design — realize its wonderful versatility.

Remember we are not only glad but anxious to demonstrate — to prove to you what was proven to us. You will not be urged to buy — just come and satisfy your curiosity.

We really are not so much interested in making sales this week as we are in answering questions.

We may tell you that the wonderful, oval, all-wood amplifier (or horn) in The Brunswick actually improves the tone of any make record — but you must see it and hear it to really Believe.

We may tell you that the Ultona reproducer plays every make of Record with just the right weight, just the right needle, and that it is so perfectly balanced that records wear longer, but we want you to examine it Yourself. Hear your favorite record on The Brunswick, and then "Just you hear a Brunswick Record."

Your Corset

In these days of long, clinging lines the unaccustomed figure must be trained a bit at first by the proper corset. That implies no discomfort, no loss of freedom of movement. Corsets, such as you need, are soft, flexible things that almost insensibly hold the figure to the prevailing mode. Consult one of the store's experienced corsetiers for model designed to serve you. The result will be apparent in your gowns.

Special road fund: Disbursements $15,535.19; balance $77,504.50.

County farm: Disbursements $15,000.00.

The county farm disbursement was the largest item in the expenditures of the general fund. It cost the county $12,547.44 for record books and printing during the year and $2,159 for new call work in the county jail. The county farm through the sale of farm products reimbursed the general fund to the amount of $1,304.56.

The largest item of disbursements under the special road fund was for cement, which amounted to $39,449.41, while labor and pay roll was second with $32,443.16.

60 SCOUTS SIGN UP FOR SUMMER CAMP

Advance Guard of Fifteen Will Leave
Monday to Get Site Ready For Others.

Plans for the summer camp to be held at Cratersville, Okla., June 1 to 14 have been completed, according to Scout Executive H. E. Taylor. All provisions have been purchased and tents secured. Sixty boys have registered and paid their camp fee, and it is the belief of Mr. Taylor that at least 15 or 20 more will have registered before the general embarkation for the camp.

Fifteen scouts will leave early Monday morning for the site of the camp in order to pitch tents and make everything in readiness for the main delegation, which will leave Wichita Falls at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The plan to establish wireless communication with Wichita Falls has been "blown up." No current of sufficient strength to operate the sets can be obtained, it is said.

Troop 15 went to Burk Burnett Saturday morning and took on the troop at that city in a baseball game. The result of hostilities had not been learned at a late hour Saturday. The local troop planned to spend the night in camp near Charlie, Texas, and return here Sunday noon.

A new troop is to be formed at the Presbyterian mission near the brick yards, according to Scout Executive Taylor, as soon as a few more boys can be induced to join. The need of a troop in this section of the city has been felt for some time.

The only ball game reported Saturday was between troops 11 and 9, and resulted in an 11 to 10 score for the former.

E. Kaufman has been appointed band leader for the scouts while M. R. Johnson is out of town. Mr. Kaufman plans organizing a trumpet corps within the next few weeks.

All boys in the drum corps are requested to be at the First Methodist church south, Tenth and Lamar, at 7:30 Tuesday evening. Important business will be transacted at the meeting.

No. 1—This picture gives a hint of the old-fashioned arrangement of this front yard, but no more picture could portray the radiant wealth of flowers that make it a real beauty spot. The place is that of G. W. Morse at 1605 Eleventh.

No. 2—These four flower beds tried to make his place attractive, and the general effectiveness is pleasantly refreshing. Homes shown in this picture are those of J. R. Logistic, Emil Kuehn, Mrs. E. F. Kemp and Mrs. M. M. Adickes.

No. 3—Treat lawn, flowers and shrubbery combine to enhance the good looks of the W. E. Norton home at Eleventh and Brook, where the result of much hard work in an elaborate, but not over-elaborate, yard-escape.

No. 4—The W. S. Langford home at Tenth and Tilden is an example of what can be done when one has a little extra space to work in.

No. 5—Just a fence and some roses at the W. S. Robertson home on Rose avenue, but the result is far more attractive than this picture indicates.

No. 6—A row of substantial Huff avenue homes whose owners have learned how attractively shrubbery can be used close to the front porch. The picture was taken in the 1100 block, and the homes are those of J. C. Wharton, E. E. Fuller and M. Mitchell.

No. 7—The C. E. Basham home at 2702 Ninth is an illustration of the restful effect of trees in the front yard. Most Wichitans confine their tree-planting to the curb. Both Mr. Basham's place and that of Lee Bass, next door, have made the most of opportunities in lawns and flowers.

No. 8—These are front street folks haven't overlooked that little strip of space between the front walk and the curb, and they have been nearly enough "tremulous" about it to get some very pleasing results. The yard on the right is that of J. B. Patrick, whose house doesn't show in the picture; others are Bert Adrian, J. M. Bland and W. L. Tittle.

No. 9—The J. C. Haynes place at Eighth and Filmore has a wide lawn hemmed in by trees and flowering plants that reflect both pride and care on the part of the owners.

No. 10—On Ninth, they have such a pretty street, since it was paved and parked in the middle, that they feel like putting in some extra licks on the yard. This picture was taken between Buchanan and Grant and shows the front yards of L. F. Ramming, Mrs. Bertha Ramming and Dr. C. R. Hartsock. Some of the plants in the L. F. Ramming yard are so big they almost cut off the view of the other yards.

No. 11—This is another spot that a picture can only hint at the beauty of. Multi-colored flowers and a luxuriant growth of other plants make it something that T. J. Waggoner should be very proud of, and probably is, at his place on Buchanan street.

Do You Know This?

THOMAS A. EDISON spent three million dollars to develop a reproducing instrument which would give perfect music of all kinds, and which, through its supreme realism, could confer upon every home the inimitable benefits of pure and good music, exactly as rendered by the world's best artists.

Duplicates of this original three-million-dollar instrument are now on sale at $295.00.

These instruments are known as Official Laboratory Models.

Many people seem to believe that Mr. Edison's great invention can be obtained only in the Official Laboratory Model. We are therefore glad to be able to announce that there is a skillful adaptation of the Official Laboratory Model, enclosed in a charming Heppelwhite cabinet, which can be purchased for...

$167.50
A Real Edison

We have no hesitation in stating that this Heppelwhite model of the New Edison is vastly superior to any and all talking machines at any and all prices. We are prepared to submit the Heppelwhite to scientific comparison for proof of our assertion—you and your friends to be the judges.

Hundreds of thousands of people believe that $295 is not too much to pay for the Official Laboratory Model, which embodies all of Mr. Edison's three-million-dollar research. Many others pay more than $295 for it in special French and Italian cases, or inlaid or hand-decorated English cabinets. However, there may be some who are not yet ready to purchase the Official Laboratory Model. To them we say: Don't delay, don't deny yourself the pleasure and benefits of Mr. Edison's research work. Buy a Heppelwhite now, and later trade it in for an Official Laboratory Model.

Special Offer

We have set aside a limited number of these charming Heppelwhites. We shall be glad to prove to your satisfaction that they are far superior to any talking machine at any price. Take one of these beautiful Heppelwhites at $167.50 with the understanding that at any time within one year from the date of purchase you can, if you desire to do so, return the Heppelwhite and receive credit on the purchase of an Official Laboratory Model, for the full amount paid by you for your Heppelwhite. There are absolutely no strings on this special offer. It is a part of our co-operation with Mr. Edison to put real music in every home, particularly those homes where there are young people whose natures are now molding, and who, above all others, require the improving and ennobling influence of the wonderful music which Edison has placed within the reach of every one.

We are able to make this special offer because there will be no reduction in the prices of Edison instruments. Edison has raised his prices less than 15 per cent since 1914. Don't wait. Come before this special allotment of Heppelwhites is gone. Come at once.

Special terms this month only. $12.50 cash—$12.50 per month.

DUNSMUIR, MAY 29, 1921.

WE MUST KEEP FAITH.

Governor Neff along with the governors of other states has proclaimed tomorrow as Decoration Day. It is set aside as one day on which we are to pay particular tribute to our honored dead.

This is well. Our debt to them can never be measured. We owe to their memories our right to hold our head high as a self-respecting free nation.

Those who fell in the recent supreme struggle for civilization are receiving particular honors today and will receive it tomorrow because their sacrifice is closer to us, because many of them were our own or our neighbor's own.

To us who were privileged to see our great transports, literally alive with khaki clad figures, moving down the bay from New York, heading toward the open ocean and blood-red France, patriotism and citizenship and the strength of our mighty nation roused with righteousness will always be real things.

They went toward life's great adventure with light hearts, singing the catch words of popular war songs, waving at the crowds on the shores and the ferries, off to do battle and win or die. And we who remained at home, watching them go, found our eyes misty and our voices husky.

They were no longer in history comparable to their going to the other side of the world as the Crusades, which were the world's high tide of idealism.

So went our great hosts. They did their work as the soldier of no other nation is capable of doing—no other when they came back, those of them who did come back alive, found the country was theirs, as it should have been.

They had gone from us with holy zeal to fight a war to end wars. They went to the other side of the world from us to establish for all time the victory of civilization over brute force; to seal the doom of the lust mad, might is right, atrocity forever. They did all that was asked of them far more than even we who knew them and loved them expected of them. And we at home, protected by their safety and their success. We, too, wanted this war to end wars. That it might do so was what carried us through.

Then after it was all over and more than 60,000 of our precious sons slept in France we forgot our ideals and lost the great aspirations which had carried us through the war. We ignored the responsibilities which our sons' blood had placed upon us and turned our backs upon the God we had promised in our great struggle, to help bring forth a better understanding among His children.

This change, this forgetfulness, this rudeness all became possible because we are selfish, pleasure-loving beings. To have expected more would have been mistaken. The pinch of hard times came upon us, the bitterness of political animosity consumed us and because the pinch of hard times and political animosity spread and thrived among us we emphasized our changed minds at the polls.

We did this to our everlasting shame because the sag was on us, not because we honestly believed that our country could affect a supreme isolation with the world struggling in agony.

But we are not occupying a position of supreme isolation. Our task is a world task. We are a part of both Europe and Asia, no matter how much we may think the oceans separate us. As one commentator remarks, "The great currents sweeping across civilization, the great waves of economic pressure, rising with the rise of population all over the earth, breed wars and we cannot keep out of wars if we remain a party of civilization. But doing our full duty as a neighbor among the nations of the earth we may prevent wars."

With freshened minds and softened hearts let us re-dedicate ourselves to the task they so nobly and gloriously gave themselves to begin. A few days ago one of the ships which carried their stout hearts down the bay, heading toward the ocean and blood-red France, came back up the bay to New York harbor and docked, with 5,000 bodies, their mortal remains.

For them to have died in vain, to have died in vain because of heavy taxes and political prejudice can never be. The people of the earth call upon America today to help carry civilization's load. The sacrifices of our youth join in the plea. Shame and disgrace is ours if we trail in dust the glowing hopes of these men, if we break our faith with our dead sons.

PUTTING UP THE BARS.

For the first time in the history of the United States this country becomes no longer the home of those oppressed of the earth who would come.

The Immigration bill which President Harding recently signed is an emergency measure which will be effective a little less than thirteen months. Before its expiration something of a more or less permanent policy may be worked out. In the meantime the flood of cheap European labor is held in check.

Unfortunately the bill does not in any way attempt to bar undesirable people, but by applying the three per cent rule for every hundred people of each old World nation who were here in 1919 there more may now come within the year.

Fortunately the North European nations, whose people make our best citizens as a whole, will not be affected by the law since their former citizens are here in large numbers. Based on the 1919 census it admits all the Irish,

English, Scotch, Germans and Scandinavians likely to apply. Mexicans and Canadians are exempt.

But the southeastern European nationalities will be held well in check. The countries in that part of Europe are now the most distressed. Their people, for the most part, make our poorest citizens, since they remain in closed communities, confine their activities to manual work and thus seldom rise above their lowly station in the old country.

They have been the hardest for us to assimilate. It is well, in the light of our present unemployment at home to restrict the number which can be admitted.

Now that the first step towards restriction of immigration has been taken, and a nation-wide policy changed, it is earnestly to be hoped that before the termination of this emergency law, a policy will have been developed which is selective rather than ungenerative.

Hypocrites we have been the haven of refuge for the world's fit and unfit alike. The result has been that the great majority of our malcontents have been former European malcontents whose disagreement with authority, good or bad, is habitual.

At this moment we have shown amazing patience. But patience in this instance has been no virtue. There has either not been enough fire under our melting pot or else we had indis-soluble elements in it. The latter is more nearly the case.

From now on this nation should be for the fit. Limited immigration will help to make this so, but intelligent, restricted immigration will be necessary before we are sound to the core.

31 states they may accomplish the evil of inter-breeding, but the remaining 20 states prohibit their doing so.

In 1915 the laws of the state of Tennessee were changed, making 14 the legal age limit for marriage. Previous to that time boys of 14 and girls of 12 years of age were permitted to marry without their parent's consent.

Moreover, with the parent's consent, male children of 14 years may marry according to law, at this time for the states of Kentucky, Louisiana, Virginia and New Hampshire and 13-year old girls may marry according to law, with parents consent in the states of Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi and Virginia. But New Hampshire makes them wait until they are 13 years old, while Arizona, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Iowa, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas and Utah provide for the postponement of this step until they are all of 14 years old.

So much for our crazy quilt legislation which permits persons of immature years to enter into life's most binding and solemn contract.

Our divorce laws are at just as much variance, running all the way from South Carolina, which does not grant divorces for any cause, to the wide open laws of the states of Nevada, Idaho and South Dakota where securing a divorce is a mere matter of court routine.

With the exception of South Carolina adultery is primary ground for divorce in each state. In New York state adultery is the sole ground for divorce.

Desertion, as a grounds for divorce, is a ground for divorce in a majority of the states, but the period of desertion varies from one year to seven years before the divorce can be secured.

The laws of 25 states recognize physical incapacity as ground for divorce. 31 states recognize cruelty as sufficient grounds, but the laws of Nevada and Idaho require a one year period before bringing divorce proceedings.

Except in Nevada and Idaho, which require a residence of six months, the period is twelve months in a state before bringing divorce proceedings. Idaho is willing to give a divorce at the end of six months residence on any of the following grounds: cruelty, one year's desertion, neglect for one year, habitual drunkenness for one year, felony and insanity. Nevada requires the same length of residence and will grant your divorce on the identical grounds except that her laws substitute physical incapacity—in place of insanity.

South Dakota's laws correspond to Idaho's except that a full year's residence is required.

The case with which any one man can get from one state to another makes any suggestion of strict marriage and divorce laws in any state seem ridiculous. To attempt to make the laws of any state strictly enforce like fencing in a pasture between some posts with a dozen strands of heavy wire properly lightened and steeped.

By such fencing you could neither keep cattle in nor out. attempt by amendment to our constitution, to make polygamy uniformly impossible all over the United States is a decided step in the right direction. But it is only one step in the long, hard road of making marriages, the requirements, divorces and the grounds for them uniform from one end of the country to the other. These things have been done we will have less mis-mating and be a people of far happier homes.

To protect our weaker fellow citizens, and our own selves in moments of weakness or passion at both the entrance and exit of marital relations is a duty of every citizen. We are first of all citizens of the United States and our offspring and our homes have most to do with that government's well being.

Yours very truly, P. F. MOBHUN.

OUR INTEREST IN EDUCATION.

State aid may be necessary for public schools in some sections of the state but in Wichita county, which pays far more into the state school fund than it receives, the people are exhibiting that initiative and independence which is a characteristic of progressive communities and they are losing no time in adopting the proposition of the state law permitting the levy of a school tax of more than 50 cents.

Already Electra, Burkburnett and Iowa Park have voted to authorize an increase in their school taxes and next month the tax payers of Wichita Falls will vote on the same proposition. There is no doubt but that the proposal will carry in Wichita Falls.

HELPING THE COTTON GROWERS.

The headlines announcing that the women of Chicago would wear cotton clothes in order to increase the consumption of cotton failed to arouse any hope for a better market for cotton, but a reading of the dispatch revealed that they were urging each woman of the federation to wear twenty yards of cotton cloth in the next six months. There is something substantial and different. There are plenty of women wearing clothes but some of them don't wear enough to help the cotton farmer.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

ADVOCATES UNIFORM MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE LAWS

To the Editor of The Times: Speaker Gillett, of the house of representatives, according to a recent news dispatch in The Times, has offered a resolution in the house which proposed an amendment to our federal constitution that will prohibit polygamy in the United States. This is a short step in the right direction, but why not go the entire distance and regulate, by unification, the divorce and marriage laws of the several states?

With all due respect for state rights, but with a much more profound respect for human rights and the well-being of society, this should be done.

As to frequently we hear expressed concern over the divorce evil and the rapidity with which it is spreading. Uniform national laws covering marriage and divorce would soon reduce it to its necessary status.

Examples of theodge podge of existing laws are herewith indicated to illustrate the need for such constructive legislation.

Whites and Chinese may not marry in California, Mississippi, Arizona, Utah and Oregon. But if there are two souls of these two races with such inclination they may get married in any of our other states.

Except in the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Arizona and Oregon, where such marriages are prohibited, Indians and whites may inter-marry at will.

Marriages between whites and persons of negro descent are both prohibited and punishable in the following states: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and West Virginia.

In that list there are twelve states south of the Mason and Dixon line, five states bordering on it and twelve states which are distinctly classed as Northern states.

This does not quite give the necessary two-thirds majority at present to make possible an amendment to the constitution, but sentiment in the marriage and divorce laws is changing rapidly and it is not unreasonable to expect that the necessary majority will be reached in the near future.

Although there is no statute in several northern states prohibiting whites and negroes from marrying the local officials put every possible obstacle in the way of such efforts.

If first cousins wish to marry they may do so by going to the following states: Alabama, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia. Thus is

WHY? —

Do We Speak of "Pin Money?" (Copyright 1920, by The Wheeling Syndicate, Inc.)

During the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, pins were so high-priced that only the wealthy could afford to own them. In addition, under the restrictions of a curious law, the manufacturers of pins were permitted to sell them only on two days of each year—January 1 and 2—and, when these days came around, women whose husbands could afford the expenditure secured "pin money" from them for their purchases.

While savages have, for ages, used thorns and splinters for the purpose of joining bits of hide or similar materials together, pins came into use until the early part of the fourteenth century. They were introduced into England, it is believed, by an American named William de Moineville, who had invented a machine for manufacturing pins very rapidly, and more than 100 tons of brass and iron are annually converted into pins in the United States alone—a condition which renders obsolete the original meaning of the phrase "pin money." This, however, still persists as a synonym for an allowance given by a husband to a wife to cover her personal expenses.

MONDAY—Why is today called "Memorial Day?"

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

Teach them of the Flag. Teach the children of the Flag. Let them know the joy it holds in its sun-kissed rippling folds. Don't let patriotism lag. Train them so that they will love Every star and stripe above.

As you teach their lips to pray, Teach them always to be true To the red, the white and blue; Praise the Flag from day to day, Tell the children at your knee All the joys of liberty.

Let them know and understand How the Flag was born and why. Tell how brave men went to die Gladly for their native land. Whisper to them that they must Make the Flag their sacred trust.

Love of country ever starts In the home and at your knee. These the Flag shall soon be Shrouded in patriotic tears. They shall gladly serve their land When they know and understand.

THE SECOND WEEK OF THE GREAT TRUSTEE'S SALE

Starts Monday at 8 a. m. with even greater bargains than the wonderful values that were offered the first week. If you were not here last week, ask your neighbor who was; take her advice and come and get your share of the good things while the getting is good. And remember, please, there are no "job lots" or undesirable merchandise in this Howell stock of better wearables. Everything is new and fresh—that's why these values are so extraordinarily good. If you don't find what you want in this "ad." come to the Trustee's Sale anyway. For if it's something to wear for Men, Women or Boys, you will find it here and you will be surprised at the big saving in the Trustee's Sale.

DEXTER WINS GOLF TITLE FROM JACOBY

Former Title Holder is Off Game And Is Defeated 9 and 8 to Play.

DALLAS, May 26.—Playing almost perfect golf, with a few erratic shots, in the 23 holes to decide the championship, Charles L. Dexter, Jr., of the Dallas Country club, defeated his climatic, Louis Jacoby, 9 and 8 to play, in the final match of the annual tournament of the Texas Golf association today.

Dexter, who relinquished the title to Jacoby, who had won it in 1917, at the end of the morning round the match had practically been conceded to Dexter. Jacoby played well in the afternoon, but a series of disconcerting breaks and a very remarkable 40-foot putt from across a bunker to the cup that gained Dexter a half on the 21st, the match might have gone further.

Dexter has been a prominent figure in Texas golf circles for several years, having been runner-up in a previous tournament. Charles V. Rotan of Houston defeated him in 1915, the year that Dexter completed the southern championship. He had beaten Rotan that same year in the invitation final at Houston.

Dallas won another championship flight trophy when A. H. Badger defeated R. Kampmann of San Antonio in the 36-hole match for the Texas cup, the flight consolation. Walter Whitehill of Dallas defeated W. M. Anderson of Dallas 4 and 3 in the Dallas cup final, while L. Dent beat M. Gordon, four up and two for the Country club cup. W. Scarborough of Austin won the Trinity cup from S. L. Reinhardt of Dallas, one up. The consolation in this event was won by R. H. Freeman from M. Turner.

CARPENTIER SHOWS SOME REAL BOXING

French Challenger Stops Through Three Fast Rounds in Presence of Trainers and Friends.

MANHATTAN, N. Y., May 25.—In the presence of his trainers and a few personal friends, Georges Carpentier displayed this afternoon some of the ring cunning with which he hopes to win the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

In a full three-minute round with Italian Joe Gans the challenger tried his speed and on several occasions the sturdy little Newark fighter found himself punching at a "high post" instead of a "low punchman." Gans was too fast for him. Carpentier appeared to be developing a shift patterned after that for which Stanley Ketchel was famous.

Then came the tall Paul Journeaux for two rounds. Manager Desamps had announced yesterday that Journeaux would not be able to work until next week because of an injured arm, but Journeaux did not appear to be suffering this afternoon. He went at Gans full speed and the two sparred partner to work as he pleased on his jaw and stomach and laughed at the blows as if they were paper wads.

Then the challenger went to work himself and displayed his flying knockout punch from his new angle. When he stepped into Gans' line today he assumed a half crouch. In this position he appeared to keep his body 18 inches away from his opponent as he possible and reached out with his punches.

From this half crouch he went almost to a full bend then hurried himself upward with an overhead right. Recovering quickly, he used an upper cut. The three rounds over, he finished the day's work with 20 minutes in the gymnasium.

EDDIE RICKENBACKER HAS COMPLETED TRIP, REACHES WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker completed his transcontinental flight here early tonight, landing at dusk here after a flight of 24 hours and 55 minutes. He was forced down by a thunderstorm in the West Virginia mountains at 3 o'clock, but resumed his flight in one hour and arrived here without further incident.

Rickenbacker arrived at 6:45 o'clock after officers at the field had decided he would not reach Washington tonight. He went immediately to the officers' quarters for a brief rest, but refused to discuss the trip, saying that he was "not a private person." He did not know at what point he had stopped in the West Virginia mountains during the thunderstorm that delayed him in his flight from Dayton, Ohio.

After resting, the aviator donned evening dress and went to the Metropolitan club, where he was guest tonight at a private dinner given by General Pershing to officers of the first American unit sent to France on the steamer Baltic.

WANT PRINCIPLES OF EX-SENATOR BAILEY MORE WIDELY READ

About two-score of ex-Senator Bailey's friends here held a meeting at the Kemp hotel Saturday afternoon and took steps to increase the circulation of the publication edited by Mr. Bailey, the Democratic Review. The ex-senator did not attend the meeting. Mr. Bailey's friends here feel that the principles which he advocated in the 1920 campaign, and which he is promulgating through his magazine, should be brought to the attention of Kansans everywhere, and that this can best be done by increasing the number of the magazine's readers. At the meeting Saturday afternoon, the Wichitans present underwrote about 150 subscriptions to the magazine, which they will have sent where they believe it will do the most good. In view of Mr. Bailey's previous assertion that he was not editing the magazine to make money, but to spread faith in the governmental principles he advocates, the local Bailey men felt that their action might be judged as an unselfish one. A committee headed by G. C. Wood, C. F. Spencer, W. N. Bonner and Judge Hans was placed in charge of the subscription matter.

1921 'COYOTE' ISSUED BY STUDENT STAFF

Publication Considered 'as Being of Unusual Excellence—Printed in This City.

The 1921 issue of the "Coyote" the Wichita Falls high school publication, has just made its appearance, and has been the object of much admiring comment. The volume is considered as comparing favorably not only with other high school annuals, but with publications of colleges and universities, and is a source of pride for both the editors and the student body as a whole.

The book is bound in embossed leather, the cover showing a relief of the facade of the high school building. There are pictures of practically every member of the student body, the faculty and all connected with the school. A number of pictures of Wichita Falls buildings and enterprises are also included. The volume contains a complete record of the classroom, literary, football, social and athletic activities of the students. Included in the illustrations are twelve color drawings, and a number of pen and ink sketches. These, as well as several stories and essays appearing in the book, are the work of members of the student body. The "Coyote" staff includes Jewell Whittier, editor in chief; Carl Spang, assistant editor; Cornelia Cheever, business manager; T. Robinson, advertising manager; Marvin Jordan, athletic editor; Miss Splawn, adviser; Lorine Phillips, society editor; Richard Kenley, art editor; Homer Pope, circulation manager; Ross MacScott, photographer; Marguerite Fisher, literary

TETANUS PROVES FATAL TO DEVOL, OKLAHOMA, YOUTH

James G. Smith, aged five, died in a local hospital at 11 o'clock Friday night from tetanus, caused by stepping on a rusty nail two weeks ago. The boy lived in Devol, Oklahoma, and was brought to the local medical institution for treatment last Thursday, but the infection had progressed too far to be stopped. The lad is survived by his parents, whom were with him at the time of death. The body will be sent to Devol Sunday morning by the Merkle and Sons Undertaking company for burial.

ANOTHER HOUSE-CLEANING IN FLATS FRIDAY NIGHT

The flats came in for another house-cleaning at the hands of the police department Friday night and about a dozen men and women were arrested on charges of vagrancy. The raids were staged by members of the plainclothes department who visited practically every house in the reservation and took into custody any one found violating the vagrancy statutes. The majority of those arrested pleaded guilty and paid $15 fines.

MAXIMUM WAGE OF $3 FOR HARVEST IN KANSAS

WICHITA, KANS., May 28.—A maximum wage of $3 will be paid harvest hands in the Wichita district this year, it was decided at a conference of wheat growers here. Many farmers sponsored a $3.50 wage.

COURTS TO OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY BY ADJOURNING AT NOON

The district courts as well as the county court at law will observe Monday, Memorial day, in adjourning at noon. Practically all the county offices will be closed at the same time.

Judge P. A. Martin stated Saturday noon that he would be compelled to call court Monday morning in order to impanel the jury for the week. It is believed that the jury will be excused at that time to return on Tuesday morning.

The commissioners' court has called a session for Monday morning and is the usual weekly custom. It was stated Saturday that the session would be brief.

Zion's Goat House Is Blown Away and Voliva Is Pleased

ZION CITY, ILL., May 28.—Zion's "ecclesiastical goat house" blew away today.

The tent in which Rev. Thomas Nelson has been holding services in opposition to Wilbur Glenn Voliva, was carried into the lake by a high gale. "We've been praying for that wind for a long while," said Overseer Voliva, who dubbed the Rev. Nelson's tabernacle a "goat house."

"Now they need a permit from the city to erect a new tent. Since the independents erected their canvas, they passed an ordinance requiring building permits in the future."

NOT MAN WHO ESCAPED FROM FEDERAL PENITENTIARY

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., May 28.—Frank O'Boyle, held at Carbondale, Pa. for identification, is not Frank O'Boyle, notorious train robber who escaped from the federal prison here May, 1909. Warden A. V. Anderson was convinced today. The description tallies with exception of finger prints.

DEFENDANT VICTIM OF FORT WORTH HOTEL FIRE

FORT WORTH, May 28.—Wingie Thompson, intoxication, cash bond. Policemen shifted in their seats and one "grizzled" patrolman whispered in the ear of Raymond Buck, prosecuting attorney, when the above case was called in corporation court today.

"Your honor, Thompson, whose real name is Rhoades, or Frank Brown, was burned to death in the hotel fire last night," Buck told Judge H. O. Gossett. "I move the case be dismissed."

The court before dismissing the case, ordered that the cash bond of $10 put up by Thompson be used to purchase flowers for the dead man's funeral.

LIVESTOCK DROWN AND PEOPLE LIVE ON ROOFS

REGINA, SASK., May 28.—Many cattle and horses have drowned and residents of the Red Earth Indian reserve are living on the roofs of their houses because of a flood on the Carrot river.

W. W. Graham, Indiana commissioner, who received the reports, said further details were not available.

ESTIMATE REDUCTION OF THIRD IN COTTON ACREAGE THIS YEAR

DALLAS, May 28.—Reduction of one-third or about 4,000,000 acres in Texas cotton acreage this year was estimated by reports compiled today from 2,000 bankers, county judges, agents and agricultural organizations by E. P. Shropshire, director of the cotton division of the Texas Farm Bureau.

The reports place the crop in Texas, largest producer among southern states, at 8,000,000 acres against 12,000,000 last year. Price reduction was responsible for the decrease.

A reduction in commercial fertilizers of about 45 per cent which will also reduce the yield was shown by the report. Shropshire urged that the reduction campaign be continued until planting is over in all portions of the state.

PRISONERS IN JAIL MUST HAVE ICE WATER SAYS SHERIFF SMITH

Prisoners in the county jail must have ice water during such hot days as have visited Wichita Falls recently, declared Sheriff Fred Smith Saturday, and he promptly proceeded to reach from his own jeans the price of four water coolers. The coolers were placed in the county jail for the convenience of all the men. The men expressed their gratitude in the purchase of the coolers. The sheriff stated that he would also buy the ice necessary to keep water in the best of condition.

YETA MORRIS FUNERAL TO BE HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Yeta Morris, two year old victim of an auto accident at Seventh and Burnett streets late Friday afternoon, will be held from the home of a sister at 111 Scott street Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. D. Pinkston, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, south, will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Effie Wisniller.

After a short illness, Mrs. Effie Wisniller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lunaford, departed this life on May 24, 1921, age 22 years and four days. The funeral services were held from the home of her parents Thursday afternoon, May 26. Rev. O. L. Powers officiating. Interment at Rosemont cemetery. Mrs. Wisniller had been active in business circles in Wichita Falls for the past year, and as active head of the Midwest Printing company, showed unusual business qualities. She made friends easily, a large number of whom were present at the home Thursday afternoon. Relatives from out of town attending the funeral were: Mrs. T. W. Stephens and T. J. Stephens of Vernon, Mrs. York of Dallas, Mrs. J. I. Barnhart of Gainesville, and Mrs. Robt. Anderson of Neosho.

ELEVEN REVOLUTIONS THE PRESENT RECORD OF DR. SUN-YAT-SEN

COMPARATIVELY YOUNG AND HAS PLENTY TIME TO ADD TO LIST.

HE KNOWS HOW BITTER THE BREAD OF EXILE

FOR YEARS HIS EXCLUSIVE BUSINESS HAS BEEN TO PLOT AGAINST CHINESE MONARCHY.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, Special Correspondent of the Wichita Daily Times. (Copyright, 1921, by Wichita Daily Times)

CANTON, May 29.—Eleven revolutions in, up to date the record of Dr. Sun Yat-sen; but as he is still comparatively young he has plenty of time for more if things do not go to suit him. He is the Mazzini of China; he knows how bitter is the bread of exile, having eaten none other for much of his life. For years his exclusive business was to plot against the monarchy, simply slipping from post to post just ahead of detectives and assassins as he strove to accomplish his aim.

He was born in Hongkong, educated chiefly in Hong Kong, has traveled widely, knows men and measures, and speaks many tongues, including an excellent strain of American. In two minutes talk with him he knows why he has been so great a power among his countrymen. First it is his tremendous faith in his convictions, and second, his usual gift of magnetism. He is as magnetic as Lenin, a hundred times better looking and about a thousand times more logical. It is just as easy to see why, in spite of his sincerity and great gifts, men say that China begins a little to tire of him. All reformers end by wearying the people they try to manipulate.

This is an inevitable part of the reforming game, though Sun Yat-sen so far refuses to see it. Some persons greatly admire him, some loathe the mention of his name; which is again the common lot of reformers. But whether they like him or dislike, all have to admit the peculiar excellences and almost marvelous achievements of the government he and General Ming have set up and managed in Kwang-tung.

For instance, they found not only a ruined and empty treasury, but apparently no way to fill it. The satrap sent a messenger to Canton, threatening to collect the taxes for three years in advance before he fled and the new government got nothing but receipts thrust into its face.

They found also a region overrun with bandits, rivers infested with pirates, robbery the commonest and most lucrative trade, life and possession known to no other. They have straightened out all this now so that Kwang-tung is the most orderly province in China. Without extortion or fertile finance the government has put money into its empty treasury, built roads, abolished most of the brigandage eliminated most of the graft, secured a military force, and thank General Ming the military power has been subordinated to the civil. These are the undeniable results and, fair-minded men will agree that they dispose of the foreign exploiters favorite theory that the Chinese are incapable of efficient government and the direction of their own affairs.

I met Dr. Sun Yat-sen in the provincial government offices, which are at the back of Canton and reached by some of those amazing systems and boulevards that the new Canton is devising so relentlessly through the heart of the old. He is a big man with a wholesome good figure to look at, framed like an athlete, about 5 feet, 7 inches in height, well proportioned, with a good head, good brown eyes (drummer's) excellent voice, excellent bearing. He wears a kind of undress unadorned khaki uniform like that of Kerensky, whom by the way, he somewhat resembles.

We talked about democracy in China and he spoke of it with a fervor of faith that might, of course, have been play acting, but it was so certainly decided. He asked me what popular mandate or authority his government could claim. He said it was the only government constituted by the only parliament elected by the people of China, which was mandate enough. I suggested that by this time it was becoming a little mouldy. He didn't think so; a mandate of some years was better than none at all. I asked why his government did not issue a call for a new parliamentary election and get a new mandate. He said the northern provinces would pay no attention to such a call. I said I knew that but the southern provinces would respond and a new election would immeasurably strengthen the southern position before the democratic world since it would show that the south was really committed to all the requirements of democracy, but he said that the southern position was morally unassailable anyway, and another election would not strengthen it.

We talked about Dr. Wu's exposition of the issues of the struggle between the North and the South and he said with a sudden access of emphasis, "There is something else you ought to make careful note of. We contend for the democratic principle and we contend no less for the sheer existence of China as a nation."

"It has long been the settled policy and intention of the government of China and to absorb it piece by piece. In 1915, when the rest of the world was distracted by the Great War, Japan thought that the great opportunity had come to push the dismantling process and therefore it presented the famous or infamous Twenty-one Demands."

"Now it is true that these Twenty-one Demands were not in themselves of Japanese origin. They were designed by Yuan Shih-kai when he was trying to make himself the absolute ruler of China and by him suggested to the Japanese government that he might get Japanese support for his own imperial project. He not only suggested them but he asked the Japanese to present them in such a way that China would seem to have no recourse except to yield. I have no doubt the Japanese government was only too glad to comply, for these demands fitted exactly into their purpose.

"Next, there were two features about these demands that you should note and remember with equal care. First, they were of such a nature that they amounted to the surrender of China's existence as an independent and sovereign nation and reduced it practically to the level of a Japanese dependency. Second, they opened the door wide for Japan's aggression, which meant that unless checked Japan would have full chance to carry out her plan of absorption of the whole of China. This would be added to the Japanese Empire as fast as the people in each province or region could be brought under subjection as the Koreans have been."

"Yuan Shih-kai fell but the government that succeeded him, being under Japanese influence, continued to carry out his demands to which he had apparently acceded under pressure, although they were of his own devising. That is the second great point upon which we must insist. If there is to be any China the Twenty-one Demands must be repudiated and the government closed definitely to Japanese control."

"The moment this is done, we of the South will cease to offer any opposition to the government at Peking, provided, of course, it has a democratic warrant. Certain foreign influences have much to say about the desirability of uniting China. Let me say that China can be unified in short order if the Twenty-one Demands can be repudiated and the country rescued from its shameful subservience to Japan."

I said I thought most observers of eastern affairs, no matter how they might feel toward Japan, were convinced that the demands were a deplorable and indefensible aggression. "They were worse than that," said Dr. Sun Yat-sen, "so far as the Western world was concerned, anyway. You see what Japan is doing now to sea, air, trade and shipping. Imagine a Japan backed with China's resources of coal and iron, fertile fields and cheap labor, and imagine it also with a world wide ambition. You can see what is going to happen unless the Japanese inroads upon China are stopped. We are lined up to stop them. We feel therefore that we are fighting the battle of the United States and the United States ought to give us its moral support."

BELGIUM FAST RECOVERING HER PRE-WAR PROSPERITY

United Press Staff Correspondent. BRUSSELS. (By Mail.)—Belgium is proving as triumphant in the arts of peace as she was in the arts of war. From all quarters reports are being received testifying to the almost incredible progress made since the armistice in the reconstruction of devastated areas, restarting of industries and the revival of trade that war stagnated.

Before 1914 there were 140,000 inhabitants in the districts now partially destroyed area. In 1919, 127,404 persons had returned to the first, and 57,812 persons to the second district. In 1920 there were 135,738 persons in the first and 56,568 in the second. Now over the whole area there are only 30,000 fewer inhabitants than before the war.

In 1914 there were 66,450 agricultural dwellings. At the time of the armistice 10,000 had been partially destroyed, 36,955 completely destroyed and only 10,933 left intact. In 1920, 27,178 dwellings were registered as definitely reconstructed, 18,993 in the course of reconstruction, and 12,838 built or temporary dwellings had been erected.

Agricultural figures show that in 1914 there were 126,715 hectares of land under cultivation; in 1919, 44,270 hectares were put back into cultivation and in 1920, 51,475 hectares. The work of restoration has therefore now only 23,936 hectares to restore, and 37,775 are in a condition to be cultivated. As the reconstruction services are able to put into order about 6,000 per month it will only be a few months before the whole of the agricultural restoration will be complete.

The country is now taking considerable interest in overseas enterprise, and the growing shipping, in conjunction with the increasing Congo prosperity, adds to this interest and keeps it well alive. It is reported that the government will shortly issue a colonial loan for 500,000,000 francs in connection with important public works to be carried out in the Congo.

GROCCERS WANT TO HELP LOWER FOOD COSTS

Not to Blame for H.C.L.

The idea that the rank and file of grocers throughout the country are conspiring for the sake of realizing exorbitant profits is absolutely false.

Retail prices have gone up because the retailer has been compelled to put them up. The grocer has to pay more for his goods, more for rent, more for clerks' salaries; consequently, must charge more.

Shortage of raw materials, of productive labor and a demand that has far outstripped production are the direct causes of present-day prices. As a rule, the grocer is transacting business on the same percentage of profit as in the days of low selling prices.

Grocers depend upon you for a livelihood. They know just as you know that to cheat in any way, shape or form, would kill their trade outright. Common sense says that no intelligent grocer will attempt to "kite" prices beyond legitimate profits. He can't afford to.

BUSINESS NOT A BED OF ROSES

For Man Behind Counter

Because of a scant supply the grocer often has serious trouble in procuring merchandise. He has to stand the sharp cut of complaints from buyers because of high costs. He is too frequently blamed, when absolutely blameless. And is not, on a whole, making a wider margin of net profit than he did when conditions were normal, trade better, and business transactions decidedly more pleasant.

The grocer is your servant. He is in business to serve your requirements. He doesn't make you a slave to high costs. He is in exactly the same boat you are in. He sells goods you want and ask for. He must meet your demands or get out of business. He has no choice in the matter. He can't go contrary to your wishes.

The consumer can do more towards restoring prices to normal levels than the grocer can. This can be accomplished by buying only food products of sound value and proven economy. Careless buying and rank extravagance are the main causes of present-day high costs. When a consumer forces a grocer to sell a sixty-five-cent article where a thirty-five-cent article would answer the purpose equally well he is encouraging production of high priced goods of low value and hampering the manufacture of food products of sound value and fair prices. On the other hand, when the consumer insists on goods of inferior worth he is inviting inevitable waste that stands for loss rather than economy. In such occurrences the consumer, not the grocer, is at fault. For, remember, the grocer must give you what you want despite the fact that he would rather supply your requirements with goods of sterling value at a minimum cost.

FOOD PRODUCTS

Of Utmost Purity and Food Value

If you will but consult your grocer regarding the true values of different grades of goods, you most assuredly will increase the purchasing power of your dollars and strike straight at one of the main roots of high costs by weeding out extravagance.

What the buyer demands more than any other one thing determines the market price of commodities of all sorts. If you demand full-value foods, insist upon having them, you will get them and at legitimate prices. Persistent demand for top-price goods of questionable value will then be sharply curtailed and production stimulated in lines of maximum merit. And with this increased production will come lower costs, just as sure as day follows night.

The solution of the problem so far as the consumer is concerned is simply this: select only products of recognized value, sold at lowest prices permissible under present conditions—eliminate waste—don't encourage the production of price-bearing products—co-operate with your grocer—don't lose sight of the fact that he must cater to your wishes. Your demand for the right type of goods is the best means at your command to straighten out topsy-turvy conditions which are a burden to the conscientious manufacturer, the square-dealing grocer and the consumer who are putting forth every effort under the sun to reduce the high cost of production, high cost of merchandising and high cost of living.

Mr. John A. O'Brien, President of the National Retail Grocers' Association of the United States, an eminent authority on food values, and intimately acquainted with manufacturing and marketing conditions, urges close co-operation between retailer and consumer and careful discrimination in the selection of merchandise as a means of restoring prices to normal and promoting the distribution of the best grade of goods.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

Sold by all Fair-dealing Grocers

Your grocer deals with thousands of buyers. If the merchandise he sells is not satisfactory, he hears about it—customers complain. If buyers are pleased he hears about that.

In this way, experience shows him the real worth of the goods he sells. He knows absolutely which brands give greatest satisfaction—have greatest merit.

That's why grocers everywhere, not only sell but also strongly recommend Calumet Baking Powder. They have confidence in it. They know it satisfies better than any other make, because of the satisfaction expressed by users.

They have faith in the organization back of the product. They are acquainted with the high standards of manufacture—the perfect purity of materials—the extreme care in production.

They know that Calumet will never disappoint the housewife—because it always has been and always will be the same grade—the best.

Used by Millions of Housewives Familiar with True Values

Calumet Baking Powder can't fail to make a reduction in baking costs—in living costs. Because it never fails.

It is the most dependable leavener made—for it is made in a way that does away with all uncertainty. Every baking is certain to be properly leavened, finely grained, feathery light and wholesome.

Makes Most Palatable and Sweetest of Foods

It is the most economical of baking powders. You save when you buy it—moderate in price. You save when you use it—has more than the ordinary leavening strength, therefore, you use less. You save materials it is used with—no spoiled bakings—nothing wasted or thrown away.

Made in the largest, best equipped and most sanitary baking powder factories in the world. Used by more Housewives, Domestic Scientists, Chefs, Restaurants, Hotels and Railroads than any other brand.

Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities.

Proved best—most economical by millions of tests. Order a can. Get greatest value at least cost. A baking powder you can depend on because it has demonstrated its superiority through thirty years of use.

"TWO WEEKS WITH PAY" TO BE WEEK'S OPENER ON OLYMPIC PROGRAM

You see her see herself on the screen! Such is the unusual situation which will occur to playgoers when they visit "Two Weeks With Pay," the Bebe Daniels Reartart comedy-drama, which will open at the Olympic theatre for three days beginning Monday.

For in the play Miss Daniels plays a dual role, depicting in one characterization Fanny O'Donnell, a pretty sales-girl, and in the other Marie La Tour, famous screen star and rising beauty.

When Fanny goes to the fashionable Fairview hotel to spend her vacation, "two weeks with pay," she is mistaken for Miss La Tour—and circumstances force her to assume the character.

To study the screen star she goes to the nearest picture show—and there you see Bebe Daniels as Fanny O'Donnell watching Bebe Daniels as Marie La Tour acting on the screen within a screen! It is declared one of the most novel photographic effects ever conceived and it is sure to be a talked-of feature of this brisk comedy of mistaken identity.

Sir James M. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy," has been produced by John S. Blackmore at Paramount with a cast that embraces several of the best players of the stage and screen. This picture, which is said to possess much heart interest and Barrie charm, will be the bill at the Olympic theatre for three days starting Thursday, next.

Garth Hughes, who is seen in the film "Her Lord and Master," came to America in 1914 with an English company and has since displayed such marked talent that he is recognized as a leading juvenile of the country. He is now a Metro star and was loaned to Paramount.

May McAvoy, who plays Orisel, is a leading younger actress of the screen, having scored in "The Devil's Garden" and "The Truth About Husbands." Mabel Taliferro as "The Fairies' Lady" is a stage and screen star of wide repute. Then there is George Pawcett as Dr. McQueen; Kate Davenport, who is a near-sister of the Larrymore and Drews; Malcolm Bruce, for fourteen years with E. J. Hothers, and Alfred Kappeler, one of the sterling lights of the stage.

"IT'S A GREAT LIFE" WILL BE AMONG ATTRACTIONS AT GEM DURING WEEK

Mary Roberts Rinehart's great story, "It's a Great Life" comes to the Gem theatre on Monday of this week as the lead attraction of a sensational movie bill. The picture is of a rare, delicate, carefree type which is easily adapted to the screen, and its interpretation, as given by a strong cast, makes it one of the most enjoyable productions of the year.

Tuesday brings Viola Dana in "Puppets of Fate," a story which gives the tiny Metro star ample opportunity to display her talents in conclusive fashion. The theme centers around the life of a small Italian girl whose husband left her and came to America to make a fortune with a Marconi radio show. Instead he became rich by gambling and was forced to marry a chorus girl. How his first wife follows him, grows rich herself, and provides an absorbing picture.

"The Dark Mirror," a Dorothy Dalton production, comes Wednesday and Thursday following. Harold Goodwin in "Oliver Twist Junior" has the center of the stage. Miss Dalton's production is a story of two worlds, the high society of New York and the Chinese slums of San Francisco, while the Goodwin picture is a lively comedy drama in which a new star is introduced the movie gallery.

Wallace Reid and Bebe Daniels, two of the most popular players before the camera today, are co-starred in "The Fanciful Fool," which comes on Friday for one day only. In this production Reid is shown as a country rube who goes to the city to sell juigs for an uncle, but who suddenly finds out that he can dance, and then starts exhibitions in a cabaret, with a street singer as a partner. Of course they rise to the heights of fame, and the picture ends up as per usual.

The usual comedies and westerns close the bill Saturday.

Wichita Falls women find in the City National Bank of Commerce that courteous attention which, combined with complete facilities and every convenience, makes their banking transactions pleasant as well as profitable.

OLYMPIC THEATRE FEATURE THIS WEEK

"HER LORD AND MASTER" AND "BLACK ROSES" AMONG EMPRESS FILMS THIS WEEK

A new Robertson-Cole super-special production, "Black Roses," starring the inimitable dramatic screen artist Jessue Hayakawa, comes to the Empress Monday and Tuesday of this week. This is undoubtedly the best picture that Hayakawa has made and adds to his laurels as a versatile artist.

In the cast with Hayakawa is Tourgee, his equally and equally able, who gives a performance quite as wonderful as that of her husband. "Black Roses" was written and scenariorized by E. Richard Schayer and directed by Colin Campbell. The scenes of the drama are all laid in America, with some of the dramatic moments pictured within the precincts of New York's Chinatown. The perfection of settings, both interior and exterior, adds to the picture's appeal.

As a stage play, "Her Lord and Master" made a big hit on Broadway. As a picture it will make a greater hit throughout the entire country. It is one of those plays that lends itself well to the silent drama. Every scene is picturesque and filled with human interest. The love story is a rare, delicate, carefree type which is easily adapted to the screen, and its interpretation, as given by a strong cast, makes it one of the most enjoyable productions of the year.

"A THOUSAND TO ONE" IS HEADLINER FOR WEEK ON STRAND THEATER PROGRAM. A photoplay of contrasts is Hobart Bosworth's latest J. Parker Road Jr. starring vehicle, "A Thousand to One," which comes to the Strand theater Thursday night, under the auspices of the Associated Producers, Inc.

The atmospheric urban setting, the characterization and the locale of the story are a series of contrasts. Bosworth is first the dilettante and waster, spending his nights in the haunts of San Francisco's Chinatown.

Charles Ray in "Sudden Jim," a Paramount production showing some more funny sides of rural life, comes to the Majestic as lead off picture in this week's line up, appearing on Monday.

James Oliver Curwood's story of dog life, "Isobel," will furnish the main attractions. "The Restless Sex" is a drama of high society life, magnified many times, and shows some of the "doing's" of those supposed to be the cream of the country. Miss Davies handles her part in an exceptionally capable manner and is supported by a strong cast.

"Isobel" has its settings in the frozen north and combines all the thrills and melo-drama which the preceding film doesn't have. Both productions have exhibited here before and are well worth seeing.

William Duncan and Edith Johnson in "Fighting Fate" make their regular weekly appearance on Wednesday and Thursday.

Then he is the outcast—the wanderer in the mining camps and finally the man regenerated—brought back into his own by the one chance in a thousand.

Heretofore, Hobart Bosworth has been happily identified with sea stories and it is a bit unusual to find him in evening clothes—but variety is the spice of amusement and this favorite of stage and screen offers a brilliant example of his versatile talent in his new vehicle, Ethel Grey Terry, the popular English actress, who in an amazingly short time has won her way into the hearts of American theater-goers, plays opposite the star-with glory as the director of this Bosworth screen play. The first half of the week brings Norma Talmadge in "A Probation Wife," which is said to be one of the best productions the popular star has ever turned out. # MANY CIVIC AND BUSINESS PROBLEMS CONSIDERED AT TABLES AROUND WHICH LUNCHEON CLUBS MEET

The rule of "let's eat and talk it over" is coming to be applied to the business and civic problems of many groups of men in Wichita Falls. With six luncheon clubs of general membership, there are in addition a number of smaller organizations, each confined to one line of activity, the members of which get together weekly, or bi-weekly, to discuss problems of mutual interest.

The luncheon club idea is a modern idea. It may be said to have originated with the Rotary club, which is even now less than 20 years old. The same general idea has been followed by other international organizations, such as the Kiwanis, Lions, Civitas and Canopus clubs. The principles and purposes of these organizations vary somewhat, but are along the same broad and general lines of community up-building by getting men of diverse callings together.

The Rotary Club was the first to be formed in Wichita Falls, it being now in its seventh year. For some time it was Wichita Falls' only luncheon club; several years ago a Lions Club was formed here, later to change its identity to the Wichita Club. The past two years have seen the University Club, the Ad Club, the business council of the Chamber of Commerce, and the Kiwanis clubs come along into being. Both individually and collectively, these organizations are civic forces that mean much to this city.

In addition to these organizations, there are a number of smaller ones. There is the Utility Club, headed by A. E. Kelly, assistant manager of the Wichita Falls Electric company. It includes telephone, water, electric traction and gas company officials and its discussions deal with the varied problems that such undertakings bring about. One can imagine that its sessions would be interesting for an out-lier to attend; imagine, for instance, hearing P. A. Rogers telling the others how he took a brand new city park away from the city because he needed a place to store his oil.

Also of considerable interest to the average man would be a session of the Credit Men's Club. That is something of a misnomer, for some local credit managers are women. At their sessions the failure of John Doe to settle with sufficient promptness is communicated by those he owes to those whom he might desire to owe. If your names

BOOMING DOWN THE CANYON

The American Forestry Association has given the United Press for Forest Protection Week use in the schools the following fire poem by Remington Ellis:

The ranger sat in his cabin door,
With eyes that were swollen and lungs that were sore,
While under his breath he bitterly swore,
For—she was booming down the canyon.

The tourists who left two days before
Will never visit their camp site more,
Nor gaze on the scenes they used to adore,
For—she's booming down the canyon.

A few little sparks by a tree, quite dead—
Just a few live coals that were "out" they said—
Now look at her going, roaring and red,
A-booming down the canyon.

Forty good men, husky and strong,
Worked like demons all the day long;
But she crowned and went over—again she has gone,
A-booming down the canyon.

How long it may burn or where it may go,
Are a couple of things that no one can know,
But it won't be all out till we get lots of snow,
For—she's booming down the canyon.

Hundreds of years to grow those trees,
Those same live coals and a little breeze,
Then waste and desolation are all one sees,
As she goes booming down the canyon.

The ranger sat in his cabin door
With eyes that were bloodshot and lungs that were sore,
And at someone's gross carelessness bitterly swore,
For—she was booming down the canyon.

NEW RECORD IN TAX COLLECTIONS ON 1920 COUNTY VALUATIONS

NEARLY MILLION AND QUARTER GARNERED FOR BOTH STATE AND COUNTY PURPOSES.

LARGE AMOUNT PLACED UPON DELINQUENT ROLLS

Nearly 25 Per Cent of Total Becomes Past Due—Large Amount to State.

Wichita county made a record for tax collections for 1920 assessments. It made a double record in that it collected more money than was ever before collected for one year, and also in the amount that was placed on the delinquent rolls. Collections for state and county taxes amounted to $1,226,214.45, according to the annual report and statement made by Tax Collector M. L. Tittle. The total roll was $1,372,581.61, which left a total of $146,367.16 in small percentage of 22.4 per cent of the total tax roll became delinquent and was placed on the delinquent roll. For the year 1919 a total of $1,586,183.98 was placed on the delinquent list, of which a great portion was also collected this year. The delinquent taxes for the year 1919 paid to the state alone amounted to $1,156,000, while the county was benefited by an amount totalling $72,155.12, which made a total of $1,228,155.12. The total amount of poll taxes collected from the rolls amounted to $1,247,750 for 1920.

From the supplemental rolls kept by the tax assessor an unrendered roll, the tax collector this year collected a total of $12,225.02.

The interest which the county received from the moneys collected for 1920 from the county depository amounted to $9,154.55.

Penalties which tax payers were forced to pay on account of not paying taxes on time amounted to $1,536.15.

The county tax collector's reports for the year with the delinquent roll and a check for the moneys collected will be forwarded to the state department during the coming week.

Payment of over a half million dollars to the state for taxes from one county is believed by many here to be a record that will be hard to beat by any other county in the state.

A county official stated that the great amount of money that was being paid to the state was due to the high assessments taken last year when the rolls amounted to nearly $1,000,000. The assessments this year were taken on a lower basis in view of raising the county tax rate.

PACKARD REPRESENTATIVE ON REPAIR MISSION HERE

Expert repair service by a factory representative of the Packard company is being given all Packard owners in Wichita Falls this week and will be continued throughout the summer at thirty day periods. L. H. Buxton from the Packard factory at Detroit is here and is working with the Williams Thompson company, local Packard distributors, in putting all Packard machines in perfect running order. The local company intends to maintain this service every month and to keep the many Packards in Wichita Falls running at maximum efficiency, according to officials of the agency.

HOW TO FIND OUT IF YOUR MOTOR TRUCK IS READY FOR HOT WEATHER

The sweltering days of summer are with us and service stations will again be filled with near-arrived motor trucks. Will your truck be in the steaming-radiator line? Or is it prepared to give uninterrupted service during the summer months?

Overheating and other common hot weather troubles are usually due to lack of forethought and to mistakes that can be easily avoided. The main points which require attention are briefly outlined below by A. F. Masury, chief engineer of the International Motor company, manufacturers of Mack trucks.

1—Do you understand the truck's cooling system thoroughly? If not, now is the time to go over it carefully and find out all there is to know about it. See that the flow of water is not impeded by any obstruction and that the overflow pipe is not bent below the level of the base of the radiator filler. Be sure that the overflow pipe is not clogged or flattened.

2—Is the radiator clean? The front of the radiator should be free from dirt, license plates and signs. Also, the back of the radiator should be unobstructed so that nothing will impede the circulation of the air.

3—Are the hose connections water-tight and is the hose in good condition? Be sure that the rubber has not been affected during the winter by an anti-freeze solution. Only the best quality rubber hose should be used, as the inside tubing of cheap hose is easily worn away and the rubber particles carried along with the water clog up the radiator.

4—Does the fan turn freely and is the belt tension right? The fan should be clean and its bearings should be well greased. A good test is to turn the fan by hand with the engine shut off. If it is possible to slip the belt easily, but not possible to spin the fan, the tension is right.

5—Is the carburetor choked in proper repair so that it opens all the way? Better open the seasonal shutter on the carburetor. If the float level is correct? If too high, slight flooding will cause an over-rich mixture.

6—Does the ignition system furnish a spark of sufficient intensity? A weak spark due to excessive lubrication of the magneto, dirty breaker or distributor, or weak magnets, will have an effect similar to late spark timing and overheating will result.

7—Are the valve tappets properly adjusted? They should have from .008 to .010 inch clearance, which may be gauged by a part of the thickness of an ordinary post-card.

8—Are the cylinders free from carbon? If not, remove it.

9—Is the oil in the crankcase clean? Gasoline, dirt, or other foreign substances will impair the quality of the oil in the crankcase resulting in overheated parts due to insufficient lubrication. The oil reservoir should be drained every 1,500 miles, the walls thoroughly cleaned, and a fresh supply of oil should then be put into the crankcase.

10—Are you using the right grade of oil? Because of the increased temperatures it is often advisable in summer to use a heavier grade of oil than in winter.

11—Are the exhaust pipe and muffler clean? Practically 40 per cent of the heat of combustion escapes through the exhaust. It follows, therefore, that if any part of the exhaust system is obstructed, a part of this heat must be dissipated and the engine will naturally raise its temperature.

WITH THE AUTO-DEALERS

Chronic overheating may be traced to sediment in the radiator.

When the mixture is kept clean there is less chance of the engine overheating.

Better results will be gained from storage batteries if they are inspected at least once every two weeks.

Small, bright metal objects such as screws, may be blued by the simple process of placing them on a piece of sheet metal and holding it over a fire until the parts being treated have assumed the desired color.

A good lubricant for turning very hard steel can be made by mixing two parts of petroleum and one part turpentine. This is dipped on the work or cutting tool, and is said to assist materially in retaining the cutting edge on the tools. Another good mixture is half and half turpentine and spirits of camphor.

A clutch brake is a device to check the momentum of the clutch when changing speeds. Usually when the clutch is disengaged it tends to spin for some time due to the momentum received from the engine. The brake acts in such manner as to reduce its momentum. This facilitates gear shifting without having to wait.

Frequently in working on motors, etc., small nuts, bolts, chips, etc., will fall into the crank case, transmission case, etc., usually requiring considerable effort to remove them. This is especially true if they fall into inaccessible places. In cases of this sort a magnet on the end of a rod will be found invaluable, for it will reach the particle or nut with ease.

If a nut resists all ordinary blandishments try the following: Heat slightly an ordinary wrench that fits the nut and let it rest on the nut for a few minutes. The heat transmitted from the wrench to the nut expands the latter, so that it can usually be removed without further trouble. Do not make the mistake of heating with a blow torch as this expands the bolt also, so that the condition is unaltered.

The cylinders can be kept reasonably free of carbon by removing the spark plugs and introducing a tablespoonful of kerosene or denatured alcohol in each cylinder through the compression relief cocks about once a week. The kerosene should be inserted when the engine is hot, and the motor revolved by hand or by the starter. Best results will be obtained by placing this in the cylinder at night in order that it may have an opportunity to soften the carbon deposit before the engine is used in the morning.

In making adjustments to correct mistiming, one should always remember that the engine should be warm and no attempt should be made at adjusting the breaker points, valves, carburetor, until the engine has been run for some time. Also, when starting out on a cold day, the engine should be given a chance to heat up by letting it run slowly in the garage. This gives the oil an opportunity to become distributed over all of the parts and there is less chance of stalling on the road. Take advantage of all the hot air at the carburetor inlet that can be obtained, as present-day fuels demand all the heat available.

WITH THE LOCAL AUTOMOBILE MEN

L. M. Buxton, Packard technical service man from the Detroit factory, is in Wichita Falls for ten days, looking over all Packard machines in the city and making any needed repairs.

Two new and one used car were sold last week by the Nolan Stringer company, according to reports from their camp.

Charlie Nolan spent several days in Burkburnett last week.

The following deliveries were reported last week by Lloyd Weaver, local distributor of the Hudson and Essex, Hudson speedster to Edward Rusk of Burkburnett, Essex touring car to R. S. Howell of Burkburnett, and several used cars.

Five Hupmobiles were delivered last week by Pictman and Von Almen as follows: Mrs. E. E. Brown, touring car; Sam Brightwell, touring car; E. M. Threault, touring car; John Swanner, touring car; Hobard Brenner, Petrolia, roadster.

Two Oakland touring cars were sold last week by the Marshall Huff Motor company, local Oakland and Jordan distributors. A crew of mechanics were sent to Dallas Thursday to drive up a new shipment of Oaklands from the state agency.

The price reduction in Oaklands and Jordans has created a strong interest in these machines, according to D. H. Rubam, manager of the Marshall Huff Motor company. Sales of both cars have picked up recently.

DEPENDABILITY FIRST—THEN THE PURCHASE PRICE

Dodge Brothers have never solicited the patronage of the American people on a basis of price.

They have chosen rather to build their car so well that its intrinsic worth would be unquestioned.

Dodge Brothers will continue to build their car so well, that it will always be dependable and the purchase price will be as nearly as possible the last expenditure.

In Wichita Falls

There are only four other cities in Texas, Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio, which have the Cleveland Steam and Chemical Process plants for removing paint from automobiles and cleaning motors and chassis.

A large plant of this kind involving an investment of several thousand dollars is distinctly a city enterprise commanding the business of all the surrounding territory.

Before repainting a car all the paint should be thoroughly removed from the pores of the surface. Our plant does this with a combination patented process involving high steam pressure and chemicals. The paint literally flows off like water. Only a short time is required to remove the paint from an automobile, and the charges are very low.

The plant is also specially equipped for thoroughly cleansing motors and chassis, taking away all the grease and dirt from every crevice, leaving them as clean as the day the car rolled from the salesroom.

Varnish and paint is quickly and cheaply removed from any article of household or office furniture without the slightest injury to the wood.

The day of the dingy, ugly looking automobile and dirty, greasy motor and chassis is passing in all cities. A good looking car and a clean motor under the hood is a mark of refinement and distinction for the owner. More and more the public is judging people by the appearance of their cars. A dingy, unsightly car is no more pardonable now than an unpainted house or dirty linen. A greasy motor implies a greasy kitchen, a soiled bathroom and a lack of refinement generally. Now that Wichita Falls has a plant capable of doing this character of work quickly, conveniently and economically many people will be glad to learn of it and begin immediately to keep their cars looking clean and new.

THE MOTORISTS' PROBLEMS

By WILLIAM M. STEWART, JR.

Motor Department—Please let me know why my car stops when it gets warm. I have very little trouble starting it when it is cold, but when it gets warm it starts to miss, and when I stop it I can't get it started. Sometimes I can get it started when it is warm, but it won't hit but on one cylinder. I have had a few expert mechanics working on the car, but they don't seem to know what is the trouble. They tell me that the carburetor and ignition, valves, cylinders, rings, etc. are all O. K. Any information you can give me will be appreciated.—F. E. Wacker sure that there is good compression in each cylinder when the engine is hot. It is rarely possible that the valves tappets are adjusted too close. Try a greater clearance. Also beware of sticking valves. Sometimes the valves will stick in the guides and not close properly. Inject some kerosene and oil as first aid. Try a new set of spark plugs. Defective plugs will cause the trouble. Adjust the points to proper clearance also those of the distributor.

Motor Department—Here is a puzzle for you. I have a new car. Have run it only 200 miles. It has been running along at about twenty-five miles per hour the engine locks and the rear wheels skid. After waiting a few minutes I can start the engine and it seems to run alright. Car is well oiled. This has happened several times. Is there any danger of injuring the engine? What should I do to prevent this?—S. C.

Change the oil in the crank case and fill with fresh oil. Use plenty of it and drive very slowly until after the first 1,000 miles. All the bearing surfaces are tight and inclined to seize when heated. Unless you use plenty of fresh oil and drive slowly for a time, you will wear the cylinders and burn out some bearings.

Motor Department—I have a 1919 Ford and have a lot of trouble with grease working out of the rear axle housing. I have had the left side packed with felt twice, and the grease worked out after running the car a few weeks back time. Is there any permanent way of fixing it?—P. K.

Perhaps the bearing is badly worn or the shaft scored on this side, either of which causes will make an oil-tight joint difficult to make. Try using a heavier felt and fit it tightly. Also check that the shaft is not bent at this point. Use a heavier grease in the differential, especially in warm weather.

Motor Department—For some time oil has been coming out under the brake lining of my Dodge car. It not only ruins the linings of the wheels, but prevents the brake from having any effect on that side. I put a new washer on and tightened the lock nut to the best of my ability. Can you help me?

Better take the wheel off and install new grease retaining washers. Also use a heavier grease in the rear axle during the summer.

Motor Department—Notice that the crank cox in the bottom of the crankcase of my Overland 277 is lifting. The bottom of the oil level correct when the oil stops flowing from these cox is cork a good gasket material to use between the upper and lower halves of the crank case.—R. P.

The cox connect to what are called "standpipes," which bring the oil down to the correct level. Pressed sheet cork makes a very good crank case gasket.

Motor Department—I have a Buick four cylinder car, and am bothered very much with its misfiring. At five to ten miles it jerks and misses badly. Ignition and firing system seem to be O. K. A garage man tells me it is due to the air adjusting spring in carburetor being stretched. Please advise me what you think is wrong, as this is very annoying.—C. H.

The symptoms indicate carburetor trouble and would suggest that you install a new spring before incurring other expense.

Motor Department—Is there any medium priced operation on the market for installation in a private garage to recharge storage battery? Something in the line of a rectifier to change from alternating to direct current.—E. A. D.

There are several good ones on the market. Your automobile supply dealer will advise you, as we cannot recommend any particular mechanism in this department.

Motor Department—I have a magneto used to ignite a single cylinder engine with make-and-break spark. Can this instrument be used to charge?

my small storage battery which is used only for lights.—K. S. Such magnetos always produce alternating current and so could not be used for charging a storage battery. You might get it up and run the current directly to the lights, but results will not be very satisfactory. The lights will rise and fall with engine speed and so go out when the engine stops.

Motor Department—My Ford car creeps forward when the pedal is held in neutral position and to hold the car still, I must apply the brake also. What causes this?—E. O.

The Ford car used a planetary gear set controlled by contracting bands for low and reverse speeds and it is very likely that the band on the low speed drum is too tight, and causes the car to creep forward when the pedal is in neutral. This band may be released by turning the adjustment screw which projects through the gear case from the second drum.

Motor Department—What causes the gears to grind on my car and how can it be remedied? The car has been run about 4,000 miles and the gears drag more when putting them in first and second than when putting them in high.

Do not neglect to take a few spark plug cores with you on your trip. Fill grease cups and screw them down; then refill them. Oil all working parts. Test compression and grind valves if they leak. Put neatfoot oil on clutch leather if using a leather covered cone clutch.

and reverse. This is very annoying, as it causes such a disagreeable noise when starting off. Any information will be appreciated.—E. A. D.

Evidently your clutch does not release properly. This may be due to faulty adjustment. Also be sure that all the clutch parts are well lubricated. Sometimes a dry clutch thrust bearing or yoke will cause the trouble.

HELPFUL HINTS.

An accumulation of carbon on the porcelain of the spark plug will cause a short circuit. A broken porcelain or points burned and too far apart to permit spark to pass across the air gap will also cause a cylinder to miss firing the charge, with a result that you will have an irregular running engine.

Clean soot from spark plugs, touch up points with emery cloth and see that gaps are correct. Oil magnets, also lighting and starting apparatus. Fill grease cups and screw them down; then refill them. Oil all working parts. Test compression and grind valves if they leak. Put neatfoot oil on clutch leather if using a leather covered cone clutch.

the cost of a new plug. It means economy to carry a few with you. Also carry a few extra gaskets.

Spark plug porcelains crack from a variety of causes. A chance blow from a wrench while tightening, pulling too hard on the ignition wire, dropping the plug, or a defect in manufacture are frequent causes. But the usual trouble is from screwing them too hard into the cylinder. As the plug heats up and expands it cracks the porcelain.

UP-TO-MINUTE NEWS OF AUTOMOBILE PROGRESS

Among the new locks to prevent automobile theft is one that operates a valve in an intake manifold.

For motor truck owners there has been designed a compact device to record the cost of operating a truck in terms of material, time and distance.

Attractively finished containers of varying capacity, clamping securely and snugly to the running board of an automobile, have been designed to carry emergency supplies of gasoline and water for tourists.

In North and South Carolina, the courts have held that a pedestrian struck by a motor car can sue for possession of the vehicle.

Canvas houses built on light delivery chassis are helping to solve the housing problem in various parts of the country.

The largest truck ever made is used by T. F. Cathcart, of Atlanta, Ga. It is 25 1/2 feet long, 11 1/2 feet high and has a loading space of 335 cubic feet. Unloaded, it weighs 11,050 pounds.

Before a chauffeur's license will be issued in Cleveland, Ohio, a new tariff ordinance provides for the taking of finger prints of the applicant.

To solve the problem of freight congestion, one enterprising body building concern has designed an automobile truck freight car body to carry big loads, and which has proved its usefulness.

Buy the best spark plugs you can get and always keep them clean. Do not wait until they misfire. Most plugs lose their efficiency after a few thousand miles service. The porcelain loses its insulating qualities and electrical leakage follows.

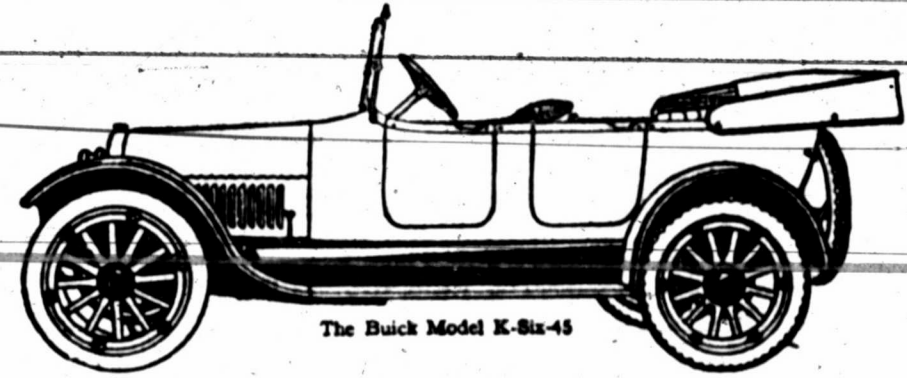

Buick Valve-In-Head Success

The Buick Valve-In-Head motor car's sales record each season is a good example of the confidence and prestige that the world's buyers have placed in Buick quality and manufacture.

The famous Buick policies and principles of twenty years ago still remain intact in Buick construction. They have stood the test of years of constant operation. Naturally the quality, endurance and economy which has been so essential to over five hundred thousand Buick owners in the past is now eagerly sought for by thousands of future motor car purchasers.

Today the Buick Valve-In-Head built by the pioneer builders of Valve-In-Head motor cars stand preeminently before the entire motor car field as "first choice" among motor car buyers.

When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them.

Not Only 1922 Prices but the finest Marmon 34

The $3985 Marmon—formerly $5000—still maintains its remarkable supremacy in comparative demonstrations, as we gladly prove.

WHEN the Marmon 34 was priced at $5000, it sold on basis of comparative performance. Thus it won its popularity in the quality field. It proved outstanding supremacy when it and others were put through the 12 vital tests of performance.

It still retains that coveted position. Nothing but its price is changed. The $3985 Marmon 34 is the identical $5000 car, completely equipped.

While the 20% saving is the main appeal at present, remember that the Marmon 34 continues to hold its unique position in the engineering world as the sponsor of Advanced Engineering and Stabilized Design. No man can afford now to buy according to old favorites. The new Marmon 34 price has upset all standards.

FEDERAL Double Cable Base Tires

Preference

WHEN car owners realize they consistently get greater value out of a product they adopt it permanently.

—And it is a striking fact that an increasing number of motorists have made Federal Tires their final choice.

They have learned that only a superior tire could give the superior service Federal Tires give. They have become convinced that Federal Tires give the kind of service that means real tire economy.

Consistently Federal tire builders carry on their one policy to build a tire of such strength and dependability that motorists naturally prefer it.

Added to that policy of building for greater service is our policy of cultivating a real spirit of service which makes every Federal user a Federal friend.

Once you use Federal Tires you will probably never use any other tire. For to use them is to prove them worthy.

BUDGET SYSTEM FOR COUNTY IS PLANNED

County Auditor Expects to Install System Required by State Law.

Encouragement of economy in the expenditures of the money in Wichita county, in the opinion of the county auditor, W. W. Murphy, can be brought about by instituting the budget system. The system is not an old one but one that is encouraged in the management of all large businesses.

Article 1492, civil statutes of the state of Texas in defining the duties of the county auditor states: "He shall prepare an estimate of all the revenues and expenses and annually furnish the same to the commissioners' court, which court shall carefully make a budget of all appropriations to be set aside for various expenses of the county government in each branch and department."

It can therefore plainly be seen that it is not a new plan of the auditor himself but one that is compulsory under the law.

Mr. Murphy has been spending some time on the budget system and in order to familiarize himself more closely with the workings of the system he has gone to Houston, where the system was started several years ago. Reports from Houston are to the effect that wonderful results and benefits have been derived from it and that a great saving in the county's money has been effected.

It is the opinion of those who have been made acquainted with the new intention that the matter should be attended to immediately and the budget appropriations prepared before the court of commissioners sets its tax rate for the coming year.

In commenting on the budget system one party who is familiar with it stated that the county would effect a sufficient saving in the first year to pay for the instituting of it several times over.

There is a certain amount of money on hand and the appropriations made for each department are just sufficient to carry that department over until the next year and the result is that the strictest economy must be exercised was the favorable criticism offered by him.

SAYS PRICE REDUCTIONS WILL STIMULATE BUYING

"The most encouraging factor in stimulating general buying," says Edward Jordan, president of the Jordan Motor Car company, "are the recent price reductions announced by automobile and tire manufacturers."

"While general prices have actually gone down, in many lines, the public has not yet secured the benefit of these reductions. Usually, it takes months for a price reduction to percolate through the jobber and retailer to the ultimate consumer."

"In the automotive industry, however, the manufacturer controls the price which the consumer pays. Therefore, any reduction which is made is immediately effective to the buying public."

"For a long time it was felt that tire and automobile prices were too high. Now that some of the big manufacturers have reduced the buying response to our $600 to $900 reduction as indicative of the latest market, then there must be a lot of business waiting to be turned into immediate orders."

LOCAL DEALERS HOPE FOR ACCEPTANCE OF THEIR TRAFFIC REGULATION PLAN

Wichita Falls will probably have some kind of traffic signals in the near future if action started last week by the Wichita Falls Automotive Dealers' association can be taken as an indication. The committee appointed several weeks ago to confer with police officials in regard to improving traffic conditions in the city met with Police Commissioner Brasley and submitted a plan of action for his approval. No definite acceptance or rejection of the plan was made, but it is known that the commissioner looks with favor on the ideas of the association.

The dealers of the city have offered to install traffic signalling devices on the most important down town corners and to bring an experienced traffic officer here to give local policemen a course of instruction, provided the police department will then furnish officers to keep the signals in operation. This plan is not regarded as feasible by the commissioner, chiefly because the expense of maintaining the officers would be greater than the department could bear.

Such a plan would necessitate the employing of four or five men to work continuously as traffic cops, and this cost, in the face of the retrenchment program now being mapped out, would be prohibitive.

The advisability of installing stationary sign posts, with orders to "drive to the right," was also discussed in the meeting between Mr. Brasley and the committee, and this is regarded as a more satisfactory measure than the other, at least by the commissioner. The initial expense would perhaps be a little more, as it is planned to put a small sign on sixteen intersections, from Sixth to Tenth on Ohio, Indiana, Scott and Lamar, but the upkeep would not be so great and the service rendered would, in the opinion of Brasley, be practically all that is needed by the city.

A new traffic code is to be formulated by the city council in the near future and it is probable that provisions will be made for the establishing of some kind of safety device signals. Suggestions from the business council of the chamber of commerce and from the auto dealers association are to be sought in the matter, with the likelihood of some action being taken when these are secured.

SHERIDAN MOTOR PLANT AT MUNICE CHANGES HANDS

An important announcement in the automobile field comes from Muncie, Indiana, to the effect that D. A. Burke, president of the Sheridan Motor Car company, has purchased the Sheridan from the General Motors corporation. It is reported that this deal, which includes the plant, a large amount of land adjacent, factory equipment, and the name and good-will of the business, involves about $5,000,000. Associated with Mr. Burke as one of a number of prominent stockholders in this transaction is W. C. Durant, founder and, for many years, president of General Motors.

It is rumored in automobile circles that this is to be a unit in another great group of companies to be headed by Mr. Durant, who has already been successful in organizing one of the largest industrial groups in the world. The plans of the new owners contemplate a greatly enlarged plant at Muncie with greater facilities for the manufacture of Sheridan cars. Arrangements are already under way for this increased activity.

PLANNED AND CARRIED OUT THE REMAKING OF CANTON

After Every Reform the Reformers Look to America to True up Their Work.

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, Special Correspondent of the Wichita Daily Times. (Copyright, 1921, by Wichita Daily Times)

CANTON, May 28.—Before any one takes, like a disease, the pessimism that is talked and written about China it might be well to remember that from time to time one wholesome spirit really does appear to agitate its waters and the sign is good and hopeful. That sign is a certain, definite influence of the West there is in America working its way and with a force we have never suspected.

It was returned Chinese students from American universities who shot the first democratic virus into China's political frame and brought on the revolution. It is the same element which practically did for Yuan Shih Kai when he made himself emperor, smashed up the restoration of the monarchy in 1917 and has so far frustrated the restoration that madmen are planning now. Chingmen returned from America planned and are carrying out the remaking of Canton. The government here, the best and most efficient in all China, is in similar hands and has the same inspiration; and after every reform the reformers look to America to true up their work and find some applause; look with a kind of pathetic hopefulness, the more moving from the fact that we know so little about it.

This remarkable Canton government, for instance, ought to be better known and understood. It is commonly referred to by outsiders as the "Southern Chinese Republic," but it isn't. It is something more interesting and it seems to me more hopeful.

After the glad day when China tied the can to the tail of monarchy a parliament was elected which chose an administrative council of eight members, with a job something like that of a cabinet, something like that of a president. When Yuan Shih Kai made his historic blunder and threw out the republic, he dispersed the parliament at the point of the bayonet. When his short day was over and the republic came back, part of the parliament and five of the administrative council, being a majority therefor refused to recognize the new government then established at Peking, withdrew to the south, which was of their way of thinking, and established there what they asserted was the only genuine, pure-judged, properly mandated government in China. The rump parliament or what is left of it and the five undaunted councillors are now at Canton, and Dr. Sun Yat-sen is one of them. No doubt he is the most influential one, but that is because of his extraordinary force of character, not because he is such an iron-sided old revolutionist and not because of official eminence.

Canton is the capital of Kwang-tung province and Kwang-tung has always led the revolt against Peking. At one time more than one-third of populous China side with Kwang-tung. Nobody can say definitely now how the division runs because there are provinces which side today with Canton and tomorrow nominally with Peking, and because nobody really sides with Peking, which is a writer's device held together by foreign influences which plan and expect to restore the monarchy, and then to control it—for their own profit.

This row, which looks in some of its aspects like comic opera and in some like a vast inebriate ward, upsets the whole Far East, cripples its business, strangles its development and plunges at the rest of the world, including the United States, which stands so stolidly aloof, but the strange thing is that in China it seems to be carried out with no particular feeling on either side. The banditti of one provincial governor may shoot up the banditti of another, or loot the vessels or burn the newspaper organs may exchange broadsides of choice vernacular abuse; officers on one side with their pockets full of Japanese money may denounce officers on the other for taking Japanese bribes; nobody seems to care very much. Easy good will prevails in Canton the movement for the relief of the starving northern provinces is popularly and strongly supported; Dr. C. C. Wu, one of Sun Yat-sen's ablest lieutenants, is chairman of the relief committee. If the case were reversed, Peking would do as much for the south.

Military operations between the northern and southern armies are like those of the famous Gen. Fallbach, confined to marching maneuvers. One side advances, the other retreats, and both loot the new territory occupied. Military governors get money from the foreign powers interested in keeping the row alive, but it is in their pocket and tell their troops to ravage the country for their pay. The unlucky villagers are therefore the chief sufferers from what is called the civil war; soldiering in it is a fairly safe employment.

What then is the row about—eastern? Why has the south split from the north and why do sincere reformers like Sun Yat-sen call the government at Peking a usurpation? I have been talking with Dr. C. C. Wu on this subject and will pass his views along just as he gave them to me. He ought to know, he is one of the best minds in China. His father is our old friend and college chum, Dr. Wu Ting-fang, so long the popular, sympathetic, witty and famous Chinese minister to Washington. The son is an American university man and looks and acts the part without a make-up. He can talk as good colloquial American as any man going. I told him about the accepted beliefs in the west concerning the struggle in China and how the hammers were ringing on both parties for keeping up a quarrel for merely personal or pocket-book reasons. He took it seriously.

"Not on this side, anyway," he said. "What we are fighting for is vital principle and we are ready to quit any time we can see that principle established." "What principle?" said I, for principle was never mentioned in the smoke room. "The foundation and very life of popular government," says he. "If we are not ready to fight for that we are not worthy to be called democrats. Run over the bald outlines of the history of the last ten years and judge for yourself." "When monarchy was overturned in China there was first a provisional government which called for the election of a parliament by the people. This parliament was charged with certain specific duties, one of which was the preparing of a constitution for the new republic. Before these duties were performed the Republic was overthrown by the attempt of Yuan Shih Kai to make himself emperor. The people rose against this and restored the Republic. The only legal and reasonable thing to do then was to reassemble the parliament and allow it to go on with its work. The men who came into power at Peking utterly disregarded the law, refused to reassemble to their own will. We insisted and still insist upon the supremacy of the law and of the popular voice, and that is all there is to the so-called rebellion in the South. In other words, we are loyal to democracy and Peking is not. If there are any rebels they are in Peking, not here."

thing most detrimental, perilously detrimental, to America interests in the Orient; something not only ruinous to American business interests and the traditional American policy in the Orient but to the idea that America deems basic and on which it has built its free Republic. Don't you think it might wince up too late to the fact that aloofness and indifference were the very policies it should not have practiced here?" "Well, then, the fact is the sympathies of the United States ought to be with us that are fighting for the democratic principle, and if they were once helpfully displayed with us would end the trouble. You can see, therefore, that your policy of 'hands off' while it has a sound of even-handed justice can be carried too far."

I report without comment. But whether Dr. Wu is right or wrong, the fact becomes always more apparent that the influence of the United States in the Orient although purely moral, is very great. It isn't quite so great as before Mr. Lansing as Secretary of State fell for the doctrine of "territorial propinquity" but it is still great enough; greater than guns and armies, for instance, and might have a greater effect upon the destinies of the Far East.

I asked about the chances of ending the strife. "Only one way," he said. "It is democracy or autocracy and in the long run democracy is never defeated. We talked about the bedeviling of Chinese affairs by outside interests and said that the people of the United States earnestly desired the success of the republic in China, but seemed to think the best thing they could do was to keep strictly out of the mess no matter what other powers might do. 'Easy work,' said Dr. Wu. 'But suppose the mere fact that you keep your hands off encourages other nations to thrust theirs in? And suppose their continued interference ends in some-eastern representative of the Bank of North Dakota, said in an interview with the United Press today that the state will soon issue a $7,000,000 bond issue through its bank to establish a flour mill at Grand Forks, through which the demonstration will be carried out.

"Bread" could be selling at five cents a loaf now and it should be," Davis said. "The difference between the present price of bread and the nickel is unfairly taken by millers, transportation men, middlemen, and others operating between the farmer and the consumer. The experiment now being carried out in North Dakota will show that this waste can be eliminated and that wheat can be brought to the public in the form of a five-cent loaf of bread."

Former Vice-President Marshall declared some time ago that "what this country needs is a good five-cent loaf of bread. I feel that a good five-cent loaf of bread would be more indicative of a return to normalcy."

Davis explained that a small experimental mill established at the North Dakota State Agricultural college about a year ago had shown that so-called lower grades of wheat, for which the farmers were forced to accept a much lower price from the millers, had been used to make high grade flour, for which the millers received usual prices. The extra profit for the millers was said to range from 21 to 113 per cent.

BOND CAMPAIGN TO START SATURDAY AT COUNTY GATHERING

CITIZENS CALLED TO MEET AT COURT HOUSE TO GET TOGETHER ON PLAN.

INVITATIONS ARE SENT TO OTHER COMMUNITIES

Program For Meeting to be Arranged by Committee Monday—Big Attendance Hoped For.

The campaign for the new $1,500,000 bond proposal for good roads in this county will be officially inaugurated next Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. when a county mass meeting will be held at the court house.

Invitations are being sent to organizations throughout the county urging participation by taxpayers in every precinct, so that the proposition may be thoroughly understood.

The program for the meeting will be arranged Monday morning, when a committee will be organized to carry on the campaign for lower taxes and better regulation of automobile lights.

It is expected that Messrs. Cline and Neil of this city and a number of speakers from other points will be heard at the meeting.

The following letter has been sent to chambers of commerce in Electra, Iowa Park and Burk Burnett urging participation:

"The chamber of commerce of Wichita Falls unanimously endorsed the proposed change in the interest rate on our county road bonds and the change in the manner of payment of same to be voted on June 18.

"This body also heartily endorsed the proposal to build branches of the county hospital at Electra, Iowa Park and Burk Burnett, which projects will be voted on at the same time."

In order to crystallize sentiment in favor of these important projects, it will be necessary to acquaint our people with the real facts. The impression may prevail that the change in the bond issue will increase taxes, whereas the county auditor states that the change in the manner of payment will make possible a saving of some $200,000 during the entire transaction.

It is necessary to make an intensive campaign to put over these propositions, and for the purpose of starting this movement, this organization invites you and your citizens to attend a mass meeting at the county court house at Wichita Falls on Saturday afternoon, June 4, at 2 o'clock. Please have as large a delegation of your representative citizens present as possible.

Our leading business men, who have studied this proposition, believe that our only hope of building our county road program without an indefinite delay is to carry this proposed election by the required two-thirds majority.

Wichita Falls wishes to put itself alongside the other communities in the county to complete the road program for the benefit of the whole county. Let's get together."

Long Skirts Cause Much Excitement In California City

The Times has received a telegram from Charleston A. Kleinman at Los Angeles, expressing the hope that the county club is making progress in its campaign for lower taxes and better regulation of automobile lights.

It reports a considerable excitement in Los Angeles a few days ago by the appearance of a woman wearing long skirts.

Despite the fact that a surplus of oil is produced in California, it reports that producers there are receiving $1.95 per barrel for 19 gravity oil. He attributes this good price to the activity of the California oil producers' association.

FAREWELL BANQUET TENDERED SENIORS

Are Guests of Alumni Friday Night Following Their Graduation Exercises.

An impressive farewell, thoroughly in keeping with the many successful enterprises carried through by the students of the senior class the past year, was held in the William and Mary hotel Friday night immediately following the graduation exercises.

When the entire class gathered for the alumni banquet, tendered each year to the graduates of the school. The affair, while marked with fun and humor, was not given over entirely to the amusement and enjoyment, as the knowledge that this was to be the last gathering of the class as a whole cast something of a shadow of solemnity over the occasion.

A menu which included everything from soup to nuts was served, after which a series of short talks and toasts were delivered by members of the high school faculty and several of the seniors. The printed programs announced some amusements as to what the affair was to be like, as the menu started off with "adnomia detias" and ended up with "kakic hitw dratauc neorof," with a liberal sprinkling of other equally unintelligible phrases in between, but after someone suggested that they be read backwards all fears were laid at rest.

The menu given by Principal S. H. Rider, Miss Kinsie, Miss Spilawn, and Miss Hendricks, all of whom had farewells to the class and took occasion to congratulate it on its achievements during the four years of high school life. Responses to toasts were made by several students, who thanked the teachers for the interest and work shown in their behalf. Jewel Whittle, president of the class, acted as toastmaster.

With the conclusion of the banquet the official life of the class was brought to an end. Nothing more is being planned in the way of entertainments, although the senior play, "Honor Bright," will be given at Electra next Tuesday night in order to raise funds to cover the expense of the senior year book. A slight deficit still remains in the treasury, and it is believed that the members of the class will be able to contribute to make good.

Fisher entertained the members of the class at her home, 1709 Cornish, Saturday.

SMOOTH TONGUE IS FAILURE ON SECOND ATTEMPT FOR TRIO

Charles Bebout has just returned from Walters, Okla., where two of the men were placed in the county jail on charges of bringing a stolen automobile into the state. The third was arrested at Deadwood Friday night and was to be brought to this city where a federal charge is to be placed against him. A fourth man held in connection with the recovery of three stolen cars is also in jail at Walters.

The cars recovered by Bebout and Gilson were the property of J. P. Bent of Graham and Etton Wells of Brownwood.
