SIGNING DEADLINE FRIDAY

LL Needs Players, Managers, Coaches

Political observers in Amarillo told us last weekend they thought Ben Barnes was the frontrunner in the governor's race in the Panhandle city.

They thought that Dolph Briscoe would probably run second, with Governor Smith third.

However, a survey of publishers and their wives indicated that 48 of those attending expected Dolph Briscoe to carry their counties.

Barnes was picked to win 19 counties, Governor Smith 18 and Frances (Sissy) Farenthold, one.

Included on the survey was an indication from the publishers as to who they would support. This was the result: Briscoe 37, Barnes 18, Smith 16, Farenthold 11.

Wayne Connally was far and away the favorite lieutenant-governor's choice of the publishers, with 70 votes to seven for Hobby, five for Hall and one for Christie.

Barefoot Sanders edged Ralph Yarborough in the poll, 36-34. Asked who they would be voting for in November, 47 listed Republican John Tower, with 20 going for Yarborough, and nine for Sanders.

Publishers and their wives voted in the poll. . . . Our friend Ralph Roden came in for some praise from Mrs. Joan Wansley of Black last week.

Mrs. Wansley lost her billfold at Bi-Wize Drug Store. The billfold was found, and Roden insisted it be put up. It contained $32.00.

Mrs. Wansley came back the next day to claim the lost billfold, and was relieved to get it back with the money and cards. "It's nice to know there are still honest people around," Mrs. Wansley called to tell us.

We get opportunities at press conventions to do a lot of serious talking with other members of our profession. One such opportunity was with our friend and neighbor from Bovina, Dolph Moten.

Moten took time to explain to us that we had erred in a story in last week's Star, in which we said that all ex-Aggies were invited to the Aggie muster.

"An ex-Aggie would be a dead Aggie, and we don't get many of that kind to attend banquets," Moten said, pointing out that the correct term should have been "former students."

So, we herewith apologize to all Aggies and ex-Aggies for this alleged error.

Sort of reminds us of the time the city advertised for a "part-time dog catcher," Nelson Lewis was quick to ask us "What in the world does a part-time dog look like?"

Belleville, Kans., Telescope: "There never has been anything wrong with being poor. But America is supposed to be the land of opportunity. Yet our welfare program almost encourages the illiterate, the women without husbands to breed larger and larger families so that they can obtain more public funds for each additional child. On the other hand educated Americans are reducing the size and numbers of their families, while at the same time having to produce the funds through taxes to support more offspring with poor mentality. This plan must be reversed or America the land of opportunity may well become the land of unfortunates."

Apple Valley, Calif., News: "There is a public service announcement on television, and also on radio, that always brings my blood to a slow boil. It's the one where people are urged to remove their keys from their cars so they won't contribute to the delinquency of some poor, young boy who may not be able to keep from submitting to temptation and might steal your car. From the tone of the announcement, it makes it appear as if the victim of a car theft is the criminal, not the young thief, and it is this tone that I object to. It is a theme that rationalizes theft and excuses the teen-ager on the grounds of his youth and natural desire for adventure. Whatever happened to the old practice of teaching children self control—not after they are in their teens, but from the time they are first able to understand the word 'no,' right up to the day you turn them loose on an unsuspecting public."

Preparations continue for Friona's first summer of baseball under official Little League sanction. Friday is the deadline for returning the signed application blanks which were passed out to prospective players at school this week.

Parents are urged to see that the forms are returned to the proper principal's office by Friday, or mail them to Patsy Bandy, Route 3, Box 119, Friona.

The present sign-up deadline is for boys who will be 10 years of age before August 1, and will not be 16 before that date. Boys age seven through nine are also being signed up for the minor league.

The Little League directors met Monday night and made further plans for the season. Two additional sponsors are needed for the two additional Senior League teams. Managers and coaches are also needed, particularly for the older league.

JERRY EAKINS

Spray Plane Crash Claims Local Pilot

Garold Eugene (Jerry) Eakins, 34, former Friona resident, was killed about 6:45 a.m. last Saturday near Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis when his plane crashed.

Eakins, an experienced pilot, was spraying crops for Chuck's Spraying Service of Bovina, about a half-mile north of the air base when a wing struck the ground and caused the plane to crash.

The crash was near the Cannon AFB golf course. Several early-morning golfers witnessed the accident.

Eakins, who was born November 6, 1937, in Norton, Kansas, lived in Friona about ten years before moving to Bovina last year.

He was employed as a custom spray pilot by Chuck's Aerial Spray Service, Bovina.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday, April 24, at St. Ann's Catholic Church, of which he was a member, by Father Norman Boyd. He was also a member of the Knights of Columbus.

Survivors, besides his wife, Wanda, and children, Luther, Randall, Quentin, Darynda and Annette, all of the home, include his father, Vance Eakins of Denver, and one sister, Roberta Eakins of Puerto Rico.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Knights of Columbus.

Adults who are willing to work at any age level are asked to contact Curtis Butler, Ronald Smiley or Patsy Bandy.

Sponsors are being asked to donate their present supply of uniforms and equipment to the local program, in accordance with Little League requirements. Sponsors will be asked to pay a set amount each year, as all equipment will be purchased in one lot and issued to each of the teams.

Official umpires are being lined up for the various leagues. There will also be official scorekeepers designated by the Little League directors.

The season is to start on Monday, May 29, and will be over by July 15. Local officials say there should be no hangup in getting the charter approved in time for the upcoming season.

By having four teams in the senior division, inter-city play in that league will be eliminated. The directors envision Saturday doubleheaders for the senior division at the Lions Little League Park, which should add to the local interest for the older boys' league.

PHILLIP SCHUELER

Friona Youth Wins KGNC News Contest

Phillip Schueler, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schueler of Route 2, Friona, was named the winner of the KGNC Junior News Correspondent competition for the seventh through the ninth grades.

Phillip, an eighth grade student at Friona Junior High School, was presented a $50 savings bond for his winning entry. Friona Junior High School also received a check for $100.

Dennis Duesterhaus, accompanied by Wayne Hughes of KGNC-TV, Channel 4, came to Friona on Tuesday and made the presentations to young Schueler and Tom Jarboe, junior high principal.

Schueler's winning story was entitled "Escarbada Ranch-house," and the story follows:

This is the Escarbada Ranch House which is 30 miles Northwest of Friona, Texas. The ranch house was built in 1890 and was the headquarters of the XIX Ranch. The land was bought in 1885 by the Capitol Free-Hold

"Our main interest is to provide a program that will benefit the youngsters of Friona," said one of the officials.

and Investment Co. Charles and John Farwell and Abner Taylor made up the company. The three million acres that they bought they had never seen.

Escarbada got its name from when the early settlers came all they had to do to get water is to scrap away some sand. The ranch was one of the first parts of the XIX to fence its area.

Some famous cowboys who lived and worked on the Escarbada were Will Rogers and B.H. Campbell, who was the first manager of the XIX. The XIX ranchland stretched from Yellow Houses on the plains of Texas to the top of Montana.

In April of 1888, a big hail and rain storm came to the yet unfinished Escarbada and damaged several dams. Again in May, a hail storm came and broke all the glass out of the north side of the house. The pool that was built in front of the ranch house was used for swimming. The Escarbada ranch house is now falling down. . . yet no one seems to care.

Schueler's winning story was entitled "Escarbada Ranch-house," and the story follows: This is the Escarbada Ranch House which is 30 miles Northwest of Friona, Texas. The ranch house was built in 1890 and was the headquarters of the XIX Ranch. The land was bought in 1885 by the Capitol Free-Hold FRIONA BOY WINS. . . Phillip Schueler, left, won a $50 Savings Bond, and Friona Junior High received $100 as a result of Phillip being a winner in the Junior News Correspondent contest sponsored by KGNC-TV of Amarillo. Dennis Duesterhaus, promotional director of the station, makes presentations to Schueler and to principal Tom Jarboe, right.

DEADLINE NEARS

Absentee Voting Light In County

With the absentee voting period about half expired, only 17 persons had either voted or requested ballots for the May 6 primary, according to County Clerk Bonnie Warren.

Most of the requests for ballots have been for college students who are registered voters in Parmer County. Some of them have not been returned as yet. Students, or servicemen stationed outside the area are eligible to have an absentee ballot mailed to them if they are qualified to vote in Parmer County.

The deadline for voting absentee will be next Tuesday, May 2. Those living in the county who expect to be away on election day will need to go to the clerk's office in Farwell in order to cast an absentee ballot.

No contested county races are on the primary ballot, but most of the statewide races are contested in both the Democratic and Republican primaries.

Offices up for election on the state level include those for governor, lieutenant governor, U.S. senator, U.S. representative, state representative and senator.

Also, the offices of attorney general, comptroller of public accounts, state treasurer, commissioner of the general land office, commissioner of agriculture, railroad commissioner, chief justice of the Supreme Court.

One referendum is included on the ballot, concerning the required basing of public school students.

In order to vote absentee, a person is required to sign an affidavit stating that he will be unable to vote in the election on the election date. Those who qualify must be either ill and unable to go to the polls, in the armed services stationed elsewhere, or a student and unable to be at home on election day.

Deposits Continue To Rise At Local Bank

Deposits increased 13.7 per cent at Friona State Bank during the past year, according to the quarterly statement issued by the bank this week.

Total deposits at the bank stood at $13,254,199.17 on April 20, an increase of $1,603,253.22 over the figure reported on April 18 of 1971.

Total assets also showed a sizeable increase, from $15,013,404.35 to $14,768,540.46. This was a gain of $1,755,136.11 over the statement of a year earlier.

Indicating an increase in every department, loans were up from $7,834,463.95 a year ago to $9,593,454.96 on the current statement.

A generally favorable cattle market, and an overall healthy agricultural situation locally were credited with the increase.

Deposits at Friona State Bank have continued to show an increase in recent years.

FHS Entries Edged In Regional Events

Friona High School came within an eyelash of qualifying for the state literary meet in three events at last weekend's regional contests at Odessa College, but had to settle for second in each event.

The boys debate team of Trip Horton and Jay Messenger lost to the team from Dalhart in the finals, on a split vote of 2-1 by the judges.

Sally Kendrick placed second in girls persuasive speaking and Steve Stone placed second in boys prose. There were eight district champions competing in the regional event.

All of these students will be alternates to the state meet, in the event the first place winners cannot attend.

Others competing in the regional meet for FHS were Sheila Struve and Diane Rodgers, girls debate; Carl Evans, informative speaking; Davey Hill, persuasive speaking.

Also, Troy White, poetry interpretation; Carolyn Gore and Beverly Bailey, spelling; and Diane Day, shorthand.

Friona High School had won the district literary contest for the third consecutive year.

The Friona Star was singled out by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the "Community Service Award" at the annual Panhandle Press Assn. convention last weekend.

It marked the second time that the Star had received the WTCC award. The Star was given a similar plaque two years ago as members of the West Texas Press Assn., an organization covering over half of the state's area.

The award is an annual one given by the WTCC to some newspaper in each association that is deemed worthy of the honor.

Eakin Fund Established

A fund has been started to benefit the Jerry Eakin family. A box is located at Friona State Bank, at Jane Williams' desk, for those wishing to contribute.

Eakins, a spray pilot, was killed last Saturday in an airplane crash near Clovis.

Contributions may also be mailed to Benger Air Park.

Man Sought In Molesting

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a Friona man in connection with rape of a 10-year-old Friona girl last Thursday night.

Authorities are seeking a white man in his 40s, in connection with an attack on a young Mexican girl at the Friona cemetery.

REGIONAL WINNERS. . . These four FHS students are alternates to the state literary meet, after placing second in their respective events at the Regional meet last weekend. Standing are Trip Horton and Jay Messenger, the boys debate team. Sally Kendrick was second in persuasive speaking, and Steve Stone was runnerup in prose reading.

Star Is Honored

The Friona Star was singled out by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the "Community Service Award" at the annual Panhandle Press Assn. convention last weekend.

It marked the second time that the Star had received the WTCC award. The Star was given a similar plaque two years ago as members of the West Texas Press Assn., an organization covering over half of the state's area.

receive a prize, according to a spokesman for the cooperative.

Two directors are to be elected during the business session. Terms of Eldred Brown of Deaf Smith County and Raymond Annen of Castro County are expiring.

Candidates for the Deaf Smith County spot on the board are Brown and Billy Wayne Sisson. From Castro County, the candidates are Annen and Greg Hoelting.

A resolution is to be discussed on a name change for the cooperative. It is to be proposed that the word "County" be dropped from the corporate name, making it Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, Inc.

All members are urged to attend the meeting, according to James Hill, manager.

STATE WINNER. . . Cheryl Patterson is being presented a ribbon representing her third place finish in the state VICA contests at Dallas last weekend by Cecil Maddox, local VICA sponsor. Miss Patterson entered the Nurse's side competition after winning first place in district. Also entering the contests was Donny Campbell, in the electrical division.

Sincerely Yours

By Rev. Albert Lindley

I suppose it might say something about me as I so often find in the actions of animals some kind of a parallel that bears my attention. (Who was it who said, "The more I see of people, the more I love my dog?")

For instance, yesterday, as I walked through my back yard I noted that my dog failed to run up and jump on me as in his usual response. He failed to even open his mouth and bite me, like he loves to do. In fact, it was noticeable that he had something in his mouth and wasn't about to let it go.

I watched him for a moment and saw him finally go over, dig a hole, place a prized piece of sausage in it that he had acquired at the back door and cover it up for later use. (Not the back door--the sausage. Incidentally, it was gone this morning.)

Now, I think there is a great deal to be said for the actions of this dog.

One of the characteristics that I feel are so great and to be prized by man, is his ability to "save" for the future. It is his ability to "put something aside" for a period of time when the "sausage reservoir" is empty.

The dog's planning shows a great deal of foresight and expresses some intelligence on the part of "man's best friend." He didn't waste the abundance that he had but sought to save it for a time when things may not be as rosy.

I really didn't keep tab on the object to see if he retrieved it or his friendly foe, the family cat.

But with all of the planning and frugality of the act, this

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

"Take a straw and throw it up into the air,--you may see by that which way the wind is" (John Selden (1584-1654) English Jurist)

If we the people are guilty of a collective crime it is perhaps our failure to recognize some current happenings as "straws in the wind"; real and viable indicators of our national demise.

This election year of 1972 is our chance, maybe our last opportunity, to voice our opposition to the oppression of "caretaker government."

The highly centralized federal bureaucracy has become an octopus whose deadly tentacles reach into every crevice of American citizenship and suck it dry of independent thought or action.

The bureaucratic club is the threat of withholding Federal Funds--in other words using our own money to whip us into line.

Not the least of these crippling arms is the Internal Revenue Service, a poorly designed, unfairly executed, overpowering monster whose main purpose is to place penalties on the industrious in order to support the indolent and to propagate kindred agencies.

Social Security (the very terminology is a mockery) was originally instituted to assist citizens no longer able to compete in the labor force.

It has evolved into a makeshift program whose directors assume the role of charity case workers bent on denying the life-long contributors a share in their investment.

The Department of Labor knuckling under to organized unions is a spectacle too disgusting for comment.

Of all the malaise arising from the Potomac Swamp the H.E.W. is the most nauseating.

This is the outfit that dares President and Citizen to defy its leftist inspired directives.

Over eighty percent of American parents are against bussing could also be an expression of selfishness and loss of opportunity.

It depends upon the situation that was present.

I suppose it is like the attitude towards the glass half filled with water. One might refer to it as half empty while another would call the same glass of water, half full. It depends upon one's thirst and perspective.

I have known some people who hid their talent because they are either fearful of its loss or do not want to use it up.

I am fearful that sometimes we try to record our "relegation" in that manner. Either waiting to use it after we are old or in real trouble or without anything else to do.

It's been said before and undoubtedly will be again--"to keep it you must share it--to hold it is to condemn it to death. . . ."

True, there are some things to save and use on less profitable days and this is the good about the idea.

There are also things that only find their true value when they are shared with people or situations in need.

It becomes our responsible task to decide the route to follow with any "givens" and to help put it to its best use--either by keeping it or sharing it.

I trust you are not so confused as to misplace my ideas. It could help, you know.

students merely to achieve racial balance.

President Nixon appeared on nationwide television and denounced this motive for continued bussing.

Professional educators are on record as being against the practice.

Yet we still have bussing!

Take a close look at Medicare, Medicaid, Welfare and the Educational programs sponsored by H.E.W.

Not one of these bureaucratically bossed socialistic schemes is working to our advantage.

Why are they still in existence?

Because a Bureau, once established, never dies a natural death: they become self-perpetuating as long as we are forced to maintain them.

Like it or not the communist way is being crammed down our throats because the men we elect to public office are more interested in their own political well being than in providing a government "of the people, by the people and for the people."

If the bussing of students, feeding the loafers, the falacy of health care and the shame of so called social security were the only things at stake we could fight our way out of the morass. Unfortunately, that is not the whole story.

We have been weakened on all fronts to the extent that if the war in the far east becomes World War Three and we are called upon to fight Russian technology and Chinese man power--we are beat before we start.

Look well to this year's elections--it may very well be your last chance to cast a vote!

Minschew Is New Delegate

Rex Minschew, junior student at Friona High School, has been selected as an additional delegate to the Boys State Convention, it was announced this week by the Friona American Legion.

Minschew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Audvie Barnett.

Gary Mingus was previously announced as the delegate, with Carl Evans as alternate. Local officials were notified that an additional delegate could be sent this year. Evans was unable to attend, because of winning the Washington Government-

In-Action youth tour. So Minschew was chosen to make the trip.

The Friona Lions Club agreed to assist the Legion in financing the additional delegate.

If you're overdue for a dental checkup, see your dentist before you set out on a trip to clear up any tooth problems that might spoil your travel. Dental work of a less pressing nature can be continued when you return.

EXTRA DELEGATE . . . Rex Minschew, left, will be an additional delegate to Boys State from Friona this year. Sam Williams of the American Legion Auxiliary was instrumental in securing the extra delegate, assisted by the Friona Lions, who are paying Minschew's expenses.

"I'll Veto Any Bill that Does Not Have a Public Hearing"

"The practice of passing legislation without public hearing is purely undemocratic. We've got to put an end to it. When I am governor, no bill will get my signature on it until it has been fully considered in a regular public hearing." People are not likely to participate in government, as they should, as long as there is a government that doesn't have their confidence and trust. I'm concerned about a restoration of confidence in government, so that we can have good public participation."

Narrow-Row Cotton Popular In Texas

The production of narrow-row cotton has become a reality in Texas.

More than 18,000 acres were planted to cotton in narrow rows in 1971. Most of this acreage was on the High Plains although about 3,000 acres were planted in the Rio Grande Valley.

Even though 1971 was a poor production year, yields from cotton planted in narrow rows ranged from 5 to 30 percent more than that planted in conventional rows. Production costs were similar or lower and this is the real advantage for the narrow-row method of production.

What row patterns are producers using in this high plant population method of production? These tend to vary with the soil type and the irrigation system. Double-row on a 40-inch bed is the most commonly used row pattern under furrow irrigation and on finer textured soil. In sprinkler irrigated areas, planting flat with a grain drill in row widths of 10, 12 and 16 inches is the most common pattern.

As far as seeding rates are concerned, four to five seeds per foot of row regardless of row spacing have given the best results on the High Plains. This is about 35-40 pounds of seed per acre with two rows on a 40-inch bed. As dwarf varieties become available, higher planting rates and higher plant populations may be required to achieve maximum yield in a minimal growing season. Seed for dwarf varieties should be available to producers in 1974.

Writing is often called man's greatest invention.

On The Farm
In Parmer County
MACK HEALD
County Agent

Three cotton seedlings per foot of row is an ideal stand to shoot for under regular 40-inch row widths and even with double-row patterns, but under more narrow row widths fewer seedlings per foot or row may be in order to obtain optimum yields. This becomes especially important under limited water situations with presently used stripper varieties. Higher planting rates may be necessary to get a certain seedling stand if seed quality is low.

When dwarf varieties become available for narrow-row production, planting rates should be increased normal narrow-row rates. For example, with our present varieties little differences in yield has been observed between a plant population of 65,000 and 80,000 on double-row patterns. Therefore, the average seedling count could be reduced to 2-1/2 seedlings per foot of row and still expected maximum yields.

Preplant irrigation applications are more often high than low. Since available irrigation water is not critically in demand by growing crops, it is often convenient for irrigation sets to be longer. The tillage layer is normally dry and loose, and the water advances slower initially. However, where subsoil moisture is good from last year's late summer and fall rainfall, precise water management and distribution procedures can cut the preplant water bill this year. Moisture stored last year is mostly still below the plow depth where land has been bare. The primary need for the preplant irrigation this year is to wet the tillage layer and provide germination moisture. With normal rainfall and two or three timely summer applications as required, grain sorghum yields averaged only 156 pounds per acre more with a preplant application than without it in a three-year study at Bushland. The average water-use efficiency was 31 pounds per acre-inch. Therefore, where irrigation water is fair to good, preplant applications on grain sorghum can often be left, especially this year where subsoil moisture is good. Pre-season irrigation is usually 25 to 35 percent of the irrigation water applied on grain sorghum annually.

The quantity of irrigation water that can be stored in the soil is quite low when subsoil moisture is high. In tests on the Pullman soil at Bushland, only 33 to 54 percent of the water applied during preplant irrigation was there three to four weeks later. Losses were apparently from evaporation since there was no tailwater runoff. Moisture storage was greater when applications were early in the year while evaporation was low. However, the earlier applications decreased pre-season rainfall storage. The soil will store a certain quantity of water, irrigation or rainfall or a combination of both. Corn yields averaged 15 bushels or 10 percent per acre more where land was prewatered than where the crop was watered-up in irrigation result demonstrations in Lamb County. In 1970, corn yield was 20 bushels or 12 percent per acre more; and in 1971, corn yield was 11 bushels or 7.5 percent more.

Profitable grain sorghum yields depend to a large extent upon good cultural methods. Two important cultural practices in this area are seeding rate and row spacing. Research has shown that under dryland conditions where only stored soil moisture and a limited amount of rainfall is available, low plant populations and conventional (40-inch) row spacings result in highest grain yields. The optimum planting rates under dryland conditions range from 1.5 to 2.0 pounds per foot or about 2 to 3 seed per foot of 40-inch row. Higher seeding rates and narrow row spacings may result in yield reduction due to increased utilization of early season moisture for stover production. Subsequently, late season moisture may be insufficient, resulting in poor head exertion, shrunken seed, and lodging.

DID YOU KNOW?

The tiny peanut proved its worth a half century ago when the boll weevil ate its way through southern cotton fields. Peanuts were a popular food in the south long before the rest of the country knew of their goodness. They moved north of the Mason-Dixon line with the Barnum and Bailey Circus about 1870 and became firmly fixed in the public mind as a necessary snack food for ball games and other sporting events.

Because of their popularity and nutritional elements, peanuts today are used in many packaged food products ranging from breakfast cereals to desserts. The greatest single use for peanuts continues to be in peanut butter--which Americans consume at the rate of half-a-billion pounds a year.

Peanuts have just claims for outstanding nutritional fame. They're concentrated foods, high in energy value. Peanuts and peanut products provide an excellent source of protein. One-fourth cup of chopped peanuts contains 14 per cent of our daily need for protein. Although the protein of peanuts isn't a complete protein (as that of meat, eggs and milk), they serve as an excellent low-cost meat substitute when used in a mixed diet.

Four tablespoons of peanut butter yield about the same amount of protein as two ounces of boneless cooked lean meat. Peanuts also abound in minerals and B vitamins. Peanut butter provides one of the most nutritionally valuable foods available today. Half of all the peanuts grown for food in the United States are converted to peanut butter.

Peanut butter is made in different grinds. The types usually found on the market shelves are regular grind (fine to medium) and coarse or crunchy grind.

Some peanut butters are just ground peanuts plus salt; others contain stabilizers to retard oil separation. For a more smooth texture, use a fine grind; for an interesting "broken nut" effect, use a coarse grind.

Peanuts stay crisp and retain their flavor best when stored in a tightly closed container in the refrigerator. Peanut butter, too, keeps best in the refrigerator. However, peanut butter is difficult to spread when cold, so remove it from the refrigerator a short time before using to allow it to soften.

And why not try this interesting peanut recipe?

- 1/4 teaspoon chili powder
- 1-1/4 cups (10-1/2 ounce can) tomato puree
- 1 cup (8-ounce can) tomato sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1/3 cup chopped Cocktail Peanuts
- 6 warm sandwich buns

Sprinkle bottom of large skillet with 1/4 teaspoon salt. Brown ground beef in skillet over medium-high heat, crumbling meat with a fork as it browns. Remove meat with slotted spoon; set aside. Discard all but 2 tablespoons drippings from skillet. Add onion, green peppers and chili powder. Saute over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until onion is transparent. Reduce heat; stir in tomato puree, tomato sauce, garlic powder, pepper, and remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Simmer uncovered about 5 minutes. Mix in browned meat and chopped Cocktail Peanuts; heat through. Serve hot on warm sandwich buns.

Secretary Butz Slates
Wichita Falls Dinner

Paul Eggers, former Wichita Falls civic leader and GOP candidate for governor will emcee a 'Salute to Agriculture' honoring U.S. Congressman Bob Price on Thursday, May 4.

Eggers, the GOP's top vote getter in the state of Texas now practices law in Dallas following the 1968 election. He was named General Counsel for the Treasury Department by the Nixon administration in 1969.

The Salute keynote by Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz marks the first visit by a Secretary of Agriculture to this district.

Prior to his appointment to the cabinet in 1971 Secretary Butz served as Assistant Secretary of Agriculture and was a member of the Board of Directors of the Commodity Credit Corporation. He has traveled extensively in the interest of agriculture serving as chairman of the U.S. delegation to the Food and Agriculture Organization meeting in Rome, Italy, in 1955 and 1956.

Congressman Price is a member of the House Agriculture Committee and holds membership on the sub-committee on Cotton, Livestock and Grain. He has served as a member of the Congressional Task Force on Agriculture and Rural Affairs.

Price said, "It is indeed an honor to have leaders like Paul Eggers and the nation's number one man in agriculture on hand for this occasion."

"Secretary Butz has already gone to bat for the people of this district with his staunch defense of the American farmer. His recent effort to throw light on the true culprits and the high cost of beef being purchased by the American housewife are greatly appreciated by the farming and ranching people of Texas."

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. at the Wichita Falls County Club and will be preceded by a reception at 6:30. Butz's speech is slated for 7:45 p.m. Tickets are priced at $50.00 and may be purchased from George Graham, 3000 Harrison in Wichita Falls, or from your local county chairman.

Researchers Developing Vaccine For Calf Scours

The possibility of a vaccine or vaccines to control calf scours may soon be a reality. Scours, an intestinal ailment characterized by severe diarrhea, is a costly problem in the cattle industry as it causes high death losses in calves. Many infected calves which do not die suffer retarded gains in weight and often weigh as much as 100 pounds less than normal at weaning time. During the past two years, some 13,000 calves on 30 Nebraska ranches with a history of severe scouring were checked. Orally administered scour vaccines were given to pregnant cows 60 to 90 days before calving. Later research proved that only one vaccination was needed.

The vaccination program gave 75 percent effective control. A herd wherein scour infection reached a 90 to 100 percent incidence reported only 10 percent after the treatment. Research in Nebraska is continuing to find an agent, or agents, affecting the 25 percent of the herds in which the scour vaccine failed to perform. The studies indicate that there will be two vaccines to help control scours. One will be given cows orally 60 to 90 days before calving to protect their calves against the scour-causing viruses which otherwise might be in the colostrum and milk. The other vaccine will be for the calves and be given orally 24 hours after birth.

Hereford Man Named Head Of New Group

A new attack on the "frustration economics" of the past five Presidential Administrations took form here today with the incorporation of the National Organization for Raw Materials, Inc.

Styled "NORM," the new group scored "mainstream economists," Government, universities, and international business, and called for a "COMMON SENSE" approach to the nation's crisis.

The group is composed of a wide spectrum of concerned bankers, economists, businessmen, raw material producers, farmers and clergy.

Representatives from 24 states named Harlan Vander Zee, Hereford Banker as President of the new action group. First order of business was to challenge the Presidential Commission, on Population and the American Future, which stated, "many places have simply outlived their economic function, and now propose Mercy Deaths for our Nation's Ailing Towns."

Economist Walter Bowers, a former Treasury official from Yates Center, Kansas, pointedly cited inequities of government programs that brought about imbalance between farm prices, raw materials, labor and interest costs as the foundation cause for poverty, depression, inflation, social unrest and wars.

C. Walters, Kansas City Economist stated, "The most crucial inflation in recent times has been caused by an inequity in exchanges between rural and industrial America, and between low cost foreign producers and American Markets."

Homer Jackson, President, Production Credit Ass'n, Rifle, Colorado, called attempts of Post World War II Administrations to deal with unemployment and inflation as "Frustration Economics."

The group voted "censure" of the Smithsonian Agreement as the final spasm in the "frustration exercise," and predicts it will join Phase II as a failure.

Arnold E. Paulson, of Granite Falls, Minnesota, was named NORM's Executive Director and Researcher.

Paulson said, "Unless this nation suspends efforts to deal with the economic crisis through public and private debt expansion, inflation will become unmanageable. Debt expansion has taken on the color of chain letter economics, due to the fact that public and private debt now double and redouble once each decade. The fantastic interest service cost of carrying this Herculean debt of $2,100 billion, snuffs out all economic growth. We are fast approaching the stage where the only capital profits for capital expansion must come from interest profits on debt. America cannot borrow or spend itself into prosperity. As it now stands, inflation will continue to accelerate because it is debted and debt fed."

In a policy declaration, NORM challenged present USDA economic models as representing incomplete analysis. NORM suggested USDA economists construct total economic systems models which consider all economic factors, both costs and income. These analysis need to be related to the present urban-rural imbalance that is tearing the nation apart.

NORM will be headquartered at Hereford, Texas, and will launch a nationwide crusade for public support to challenge the present economic policies and construct an economic rebirth of this nation. NORM supports economic policies which will save American Independent Private Enterprise, rather than devouring ourselves by conglomerate cannibalism.

Other executive members elected at the Denver Conference were: V.E. Rossiter, President of Bank of Hartington, Hartington, Neb.; Recording Secretary, Robert Cline, Mooreland, Indiana; Vice Pres., Ross Lyon, Maxwell, Calif.; Directors, Carlton Massey, Dilley, Texas; Ed Osborne, Tulle Lake, Calif.; J.W. Homer Jackson, Pres. of Production Credit Ass'n., Rifle, Colorado.

of Lestol Homemakers Service

Chances are, at some time or other, you've probably written an irate complaint letter to a manufacturer. How quick we are to do that! But have you ever written for advice on using a manufacturer's product? Or, to ask for booklets?

Most companies have Consumer Service Departments to answer questions and complaints. So whether you've bought a new appliance or a new cleaning aid, you can take advantage of the manufacturer's how-to-use information and helpful tips. Just write to the Consumer Service Dept. (You'll usually find the full name and address on the package label.)

One of the goodies you can get this way is a dandy booklet called, "How to Make Light Work of Heavy Cleaning Jobs!" published by the Lestol Homemakers Service. It's yours for 25¢ to cover postage and handling.

This colorful 10-page booklet, full of helpful hints, even tells you exactly how much of this famous liquid cleaner you need to sparkle up almost all washable things inside and outside the house. And in many cases, just ¼ cup of Lestol to a gallon of water will do extra-heavy cleaning jobs - fast! That's because Lestol's natural grease dissolving ingredient is so effective.

'DRAWERS' TO MATCH

For the 1886 bride-to-be, Montgomery Ward's catalog carried trousseau favorites including a chemise and night dress with "fancy 3-pointed embroidered front, rows of fine tucks, and fine embroidered edge." With "drawers" to match, this bridal booty had real shower power, because its total cost to well-wishers was only $5 and 12 cents!

Church Members Can "Do Their Own Thing"

Read Acts 2:37-47

They continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. (Acts 2:42)

Youth have a saying, "Do your own thing." What is "the thing" that the church is to do?

The New Testament offers us a criterion. Though the early church members did not always agree with one another and faced internal problems of many kinds, we nevertheless see the church in action--learning, renewing, and teaching faith in the lordship of Christ. They were in a prayer-action fellowship. They entered into confronting relationships in the world. They shared a common life of unaffected joy. God was in fellowship, convincing and confronting the world with an authentic life.

But what about our day? Are we going through the motions of apostolic action without getting apostolic results? What is missing? Could it be we are not witnessing out of authentic obedience and joy? Where is the miracle of new life, the gift of God's presence, that speaks authentically to all?

PRAYER: Our Father, where we are amiss, fill us with Thy joy and spirit. Grant to us the authentic life of obedience to Thy lordship. Let this day be a part of Thy kingdom. What we ought to do today, give us the strength to do, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Am I "doing my thing" in Christ's spirit today?

NEW P-A-G 511 sorghum proves you can get high yields with short water

Because of the water shortage, many High Plains farmers planted drought-resistant P-A-G 511 in 1971. Many had higher yields than full season varieties planted under the same or better conditions. In the 1971 High Plains Research Foundation tests at Halfway, Texas, P-A-G 511 ranked number 2 of 40 Hybrids tested in Single Forty-Inch Spaced rows with a yield of 7,740 lbs. per acre.

PROVED ON FARMS IN 1971

Last year many farmers found P-A-G 511 to be more drought resistant and higher yielding than other medium-medium late and some full season varieties. Carl Kleuskens of Hereford won 2nd place in the 1971 P-A-G Yield Contest with New 511 and P-A-G 516 with an average yield of 8,455.9 lbs. per acre on a 100-acre field.

Girl Scouts Report

The presentation of the program entitled "Heritage of the Friona Community" by the Girl Scout Service Unit Sunday, April 30, has been cancelled because of community conflicts. Also the tea and reception in honor of the W.F. Bandy family has been postponed until a later date.

Several adult troop leaders recently attended a three day training course for troop camping procedures. This is a required course for all leaders taking girls troop camping.

On the first day leaders from Friona, Farwell, Muleshoe, Bovins, Tulla and other neighboring towns met at Girl Scout House in Friona and were taught basic requirements and procedures in planning such an experience.

Patrols were set up, kaper charts made, menus planned and schedules of activities formulated.

The following Friday, April 22, the group met at Spohn Ranch and set up both beginning and advanced camping situations. The leaders spent the night there and cooked outdoors and indoors and practiced other useful and necessary camping skills.

Mrs. Richard Sugarek and Sharon Washburn, both from the Lubbock district office and Mrs. Ralph Wilson were instructors of the training course.

Girl Scout Troop 244 is about to come to the conclusion of the year. The highlights of citizenship and Girl Scouts are being approached by the Cadettes.

In connection with their citizenship challenge they have recently counseled with their pastors and discussed actions on ethics situations.

A Scout's Own was held Monday at the Spohn Scout Ranch lakeside. As they sat around a glowing campfire, each girl read a favorite poem portraying some emotion.

Awards for presentation were arranged on a tree outline. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Jill Riethmayer and Vicki Beck.

Two troop members, Lisa Cummings and Dianne Spencer, were unable to attend.

Those present were Carol Bavousett, Patti Crump, Holly Hart, Diane Hamilton, Jeanne Jarboe, Hope Mays, Mona Reed, Pam Wilcox and Becky Walters.

Two leaders, Mrs. Bob Riethmayer and Mrs. Glynn Hamilton, were also present.

Members of this troop will assist with the primary election May 6 as a part of the citizenship challenge.

Courts of honor on the Girl Scout promise will be held April 26 and May 3.

Members of this troop will become Senior Scouts May 7.

Girl Scout Troop 266 met Monday afternoon with 19 members and one leader, Mrs. Tom Mason, present. Two assistant leaders, Mrs. Darrell Simpson and Mrs. Andy Wilson, were also present.

Flag planners were Tera Simpson, Maria Villanueva and Becky McLellan.

Refreshments were served by Kimber Britting and Rosa Garza.

Following the beginning of a pin cushion project, there was group singing.

Beam Club Meets In Jameson Home

The Laws of Life Beam Club had its regular weekly meeting at 7 p.m. Saturday in the home of Mrs. Earl Jameson.

Two guests, Charlie Phipps, Muleshoe, and Greg Collier and nine members were present.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Jameson, who is the president.

Coy Jameson was moderator for a study of the first two laws of the body, the law of nourishment and the law of movement, from the Rays of Dawn.

The chapter on nourishment deals with proper combination of foods and the chapter on movement deals with exercise.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 7. The study will be the composite personality from the concept therapy text.

When you enter a wilderness area with your car, it makes good sense to carry an extra can of gas, a set of signalling flares, a spare fanbelt and fuse, and a first aid kit. If the area is dry, take plenty of water along.

On July 13, 1969 Henri Rochetais set an endurance record for long-distance wire walking. Walking on a wire suspended across a rocky gorge in Clermont-Ferrand, France, he averaged just under 10 inches per second for three hours 50 minutes!

According to a study of the operations of 4,655 retail businesses that failed last year by Dun & Bradstreet (whose business is information about business), 19.6 per cent failed primarily because of general managerial inexperience, 12.4 per cent through lack of experience with the line, and 19.6 per cent because of weaknesses in special areas such as financing or purchasing!

Protest Vote Urged In Commissioner's Race

I have heard a lot of talk about a protest vote in the state elections. Evidently this means people are going to vote against some of the old officials who are partly responsible for many of the things that are happening which are out of line with good government and strict honesty.

I have tried to make it plain that I am on the Republican ticket for economic reasons, and for a chance to keep the commissioner's court on the line until November.

How about a substantial write-in vote in the commissioner's race on the Democratic ticket? That would most certainly put the capital city of Parmer County on notice that people in this precinct don't like the way county government is being conducted.

A write-in vote on the Democratic ticket would make it possible for old-line Democrats to vote for Forrest W. Osborn in the Democratic primary, and still cast a vote for better county government.

Consider this action and what effect it would have on county government.

Cast a protest vote for better county government when you vote in the primary on May 6.
