

AGREE ON SALE OF WATER BONDS

CRUDE SCORE DOUBLE-HEADER GAIN IN PRICE MONDAY WITH PRAIRIE SETTING THE PACE

Scoring two advances at once, the price of Mid-Continent crude Monday morning jumped to $2.25 a barrel, 50 cents up from the former quotation.

With many contracts in force calling for 25-cent premiums, the new boost means that much North Texas oil will bring $2.50 per barrel.

The Prairie company started Monday's advance, with the Sinclair soon following. By noon the Texas and Gulf companies had met the raise, and it was confidently expected that the Magnolia and Humble would be in line before the day ended.

Though a 25-cent advance had been expected for weeks, no one was looking for a double-header, and when the news got abroad Monday morning it was the cause of much jubilation.

TULSA, OKLA., Nov. 7.—The Prairie Oil and Gas company today announced an increase in the price of Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas oil. Oklahoma and Kansas oil was advanced to $2.00. North and Central Texas oil went to $2.25.

The advances represented an increase of 50 cents for the Prairie company.

The Sinclair purchasing company and the Cosden company immediately met the advance.

The foregoing message was received by the Times by Associated Press early today. The first company here to announce the advance was the Sinclair company which also early in the morning announced a price of $2.25 per barrel for North and Central Texas crude, effective at 7 o'clock this morning.

The Texas company met the advance during the morning and other companies were expected to follow during the day.

The Gulf Pipe Line company of Oklahoma adhered to its policy of paying a premium for high grades oil and posted a price of $2.25 for Kansas and Oklahoma oil of 38 degrees gravity Baumé. It also posted a price of $2 for oil under that gravity.

Headline and similar oils of heavy grades are not yet affected by the new price.

LEGION ASKED TO HELP INVESTIGATE
WATSON'S CHARGES

WASHINGTON, November 7.—The American Legion was asked by the war department today to lend its assistance in obtaining all facts relating to the charges made by Senator Watson of Georgia that soldiers were frequently shot and hanged without court-martial during the war.

Secretary Weeks appealed to Hanford MacNider, commander of the American Legion, asking the assistance of his organization in order to make public all records and information relating to the senator's allegations.

After quelling the senator's charges as printed in the Congressional Record of October 31, the secretary said:

The foregoing statement coming so long after the commission of the alleged crimes constitutes a reflection upon the entire personnel of the American expeditionary force. Consider the public entitled to all the facts which it is within the power of any office to produce. If there possibly exists any basis for such an allegation the responsible persons should bear the odium. Otherwise definite refutation is desirable.

The war department will make available all of its records and such information as may come from persons under its control. However, such persons constitute but a small percentage of those who served overseas and who have been attacked.

"I request that the American Legion lend its assistance toward obtaining all the facts which are on the issue which has been raised."

U. S. DELEGATION HAS DECIDED UPON DISARMAMENT PLAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The American delegation to the conference on limitations of armament and Pacific and far eastern questions was again in session today in Secretary Hughes' office. Senator Lodge was detained at the capitol, but was expected later in the day.

There is reason to believe that the delegation has arrived at the formula for limitation of naval armaments which it will present to the conference as the American suggestion. The absence of navy experts from today's session with only five days intervening before the international body assembles tends to strengthen this belief.

It may be stated authoritatively that no advance outline of the American attitude and suggestions as to ways and means of limitation of naval armaments will be given, formally or informally.

The conference, it was stated, would be of very nature and character, and would arrive at anything but unanimous conclusions and that fact makes inadvisable, in the American view, any preliminary interchange of views.

Tomorrow there will be held the first session of the advisory committee appointed by President Harding to assist the American delegation.

LONGSHOREMEN AND SCREWDRIVERS AT WORK

HOUSTON, Nov. 7.—Three hundred longshoremen and screwdrivers are at work at the municipal docks today after being out since Nov. 1. As a result of a final agreement made Sunday between master, stevedores and crew men, the latter and the longshoremen, when difficulties had been settled several days before, agreed to return to work.

Four ships are being loaded.

HOUSTON JUDGE ORDERS KLAN INVESTIGATION

HOUSTON, Nov. 7.—Investigation of the Ku Klux Klan was ordered by Judge C. W. Robinson in his charge to the new grand jury this morning in the criminal district court.

MRS. SOUTHWARD SENTENCED TEN YEARS IN PRISON

TWIN FALLS, IDAHO, Nov. 7.—In the presence of a crowded courtroom Lydia Meyer Southard, convicted poisoner of Edward F. Meyer, her fourth husband, and charged with the murder of three previous husbands and a brother-in-law, was sentenced to a term in the Idaho state penitentiary of from ten years to life.

The defendant received the sentence without a tremor.

Notice of appeal was filed by her attorney, but a stay of execution was not asked. It is considered likely that a commitment will follow in a few days.

Miss Southard, according to her attorneys, has expressed a wish to begin serving her sentence at once.

Under Idaho law the duration of indefinite sentences is largely in the hands of the state pardon board.

Miss Southard appeared in court alone except for her attorneys. Her husband left for San Francisco last night to resume his position as a petty officer in the navy. Except for the addition of a black hat the defendant had made no change in her costume. In appearance she was pale but not noticeably nervous.

ARBUCKLE'S TRIAL
CONTINUED MONDAY
UNTIL NOVEMBER 14

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The trial of Fatty Arbuckle for manslaughter was continued today until Monday. The court announced that the trial positively would begin on the fourteenth.

WILBARGER CO. MAN SHOT AND WIFE BEATEN BY UNKNOWN MEXICAN

Special to The Times.
VERNON, TEXAS, Nov. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rutter are in the hospital following an attack on them at their home Sunday afternoon by a Mexican, whose name is said to be Chappas. A posse of 450 men has been searching for the Mexican without avail since Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutter, who are both nearly 60 years of age, have been in the hospital since they were shot by the Mexican, who was a witness to the assault and who luckily escaped with his life.

The story told by the injured couple and the son is that the Mexican who is only known by the name of Chappas came to their house, located 12 miles south and one mile east of this city, Sunday noon and an argument ensued over a cotton crop which the Mexican had agreed to pick on a commission basis. It is stated that the Mexican threatened that he had not received his appointed share.

Mr. Rutter was shot three times, one bullet entering the head, one in the right arm and the third in the body. Physician expressed doubt as to his recovery. Mrs. Rutter was beaten over the head with a sledge hammer and her hands and arms give evidence that when she attempted to protect herself that she was struck on the arms and hands with the handle of the hammer.

The son, 20 years of age, ran from the house when the Mexican pointed his revolver at him. Three shots fired at him at the field missed. The boy summoned a hunter and ran back to the house but the Mexican disappeared.

The angry couple were immediately rushed to the hospital in this city and as soon as the alarm spread, a posse of 450 men was organized.

The Mexican was still at large shortly before noon Monday but the posse continued its search over the country in the vicinity of the assault. The country is hilly and rough and in so much that the Mexican is armed with a Winchester rifle and a pair of pistols.

The search is being made cautiously.

SENATE ENTERS "ANOTHER WEEK TAX BILL FIGHT"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Another effort to write the soldiers' bonus bill into the tax revision measure failed today, the senate rejecting 42 to 20, the Simmons amendment proposing to pay the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt.

Six republicans supported the Simmons amendment and one democrat, Myers, Missouri, voted against it. The republicans were Capper, Johnson, Kenyon, Ladd, LaFollette and Williams, voted against it.

The McKellar amendment was rejected, 44 to 23. Two republicans, LaFollette and Norris, supported it, and two democrats, King and Williams, voted against it.

The net gain made by a tax payer on the sale of stocks as capital assets would be taxed at the full rate under an agreement offered by Senator Leonard, republican, Wisconsin, and accepted. Senator Leonard explained and committed the members of the committee to the bill which will only 40 per cent of the gain from such sales would have been taxable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Refreshed by an overnight rest, the senate returned today to what had developed last week into an endurance fight over the tax revision bill. Republican leaders fondly hoped, however, that the fall of the level at 10:30 a. m. today had marked the beginning of the final round of the grueling contest.

This hope apparently was based largely upon the terms of the unanimous consent agreement under which senators could speak only once and then only for 10 minutes on any amendment and on any bill raised. Whether the hope would be realized depended upon the number of amendments that would be proposed.

Soldier bonus amendments still had the right of way, only one of these amendments, that by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, having been proposed. Missouri, having been rejected 23 to 23, with five republicans supporting it and two democrats opposing it. The amendment is to be acted on Saturday night.

Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, and McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, proposing to pay the interest on the foreign debt to finance the bonus.

After these are out of the way, the senate will proceed with the consideration of other proposed changes with the program calling for the renewal of flights for a graduated corporation income tax and for the making public of income tax returns after Monday night.

In urging his amendment, Senator Simmons said he believed it was the intention of President Harding to pay the soldier's bonus out of interest on the foreign debt. This view also was taken by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, one of those in charge of the bill.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, took the position that the bonus should not be contingent upon an uncertain proposition.

"Whether we pay the bonus, as we undoubtedly shall," said Senator Lodge, "I want the payment to be a real payment. This proposition, under the pretense of giving a bonus, gives only an uncertainty. None can tell when we will begin to pay the interest on the credits given to the foreign countries. We certainly are not going to use force to collect it. The promise that we will pay the interest on the credits is nothing more than giving the soldiers nothing."

Senator Simmons told the senate that he regarded as absurd the proposal to pay the bonus by means of a sales tax.

Opposing the bonus, Senator Nelson, republican, Minnesota, a Civil war veteran, said he would like to see everything possible done for the wounded and for the men who fought overseas, but that he had no sympathy with the claims of the 2,000,000 men who remained in this country.

INDIANA MINERS EXPECTED TO GO BACK TO WORK

TERRE HAUTE, IND., Nov. 7.—Work in the Indiana coal fields where 2,000 union miners have been on strike was expected to be resumed today. The men were ordered by district union officials to return to work today following the action of the United States circuit court of appeals at Chicago, which suspended that part of the injunction prohibiting the check-off.

GOOD WILL—PEACE. CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Two short paragraphs in Marshall Foch's last speech in Chicago in warning the peace message of a war leader were prominently commented on today.

"Peace will surely be the result of what we got war. We must fight for it in the moral sphere as we did in the physical sphere. Peace has been promised from the first night of Christianity only to men of good will."

"Good will must be in the bottom of the heart; without it, it is only a sham peace."

CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA, Nov. 7.—The Citizens' Savings bank will remain closed until after the funeral of Emil Enoch, its cashier, who committed suicide yesterday in his private office at the bank. Grand speculation which cost him a great deal of money is given as the cause of the act. A bank examination was held on the grounds that the bank's affairs last night showed them to be in good condition, the clearing house association announced.

J. C. HAMPTON ON TRIAL FOR DEATH OF SCHOOL GIRL

Methil Elliott, of 1511 Smarok street, driver of the Maxwell truck, in which the young high school pupil, in which the young high school pupil, in which the young high school pupil, was enjoying themselves on Halloween night on the Iowa Park road, was the second witness called by the state late Monday afternoon in the case against J. C. Hampton. He stated that the Mexican defendant, in connection with the death of Miss Onita White.

The jury was chosen and sworn in at 2:30 o'clock and is composed of J. Y. Holbrook, W. A. Boyd, E. J. Hyman, James C. Davis, C. E. McDaniel and E. W. Whiting. After the jury was selected Judge Guy Rogers announced that the case would be tried in the 30th district court room, due to the crowded condition of the court room on the main floor.

Elliott testified that he had driven the party to Iowa Park by way of the Seymour road and started back on the paved road. At a point about 7 miles from Wichita Falls, the rim of the left rear wheel of the truck, the left hand side of the pavement, with the right rear wheel near the edge of the pavement and that it was seven feet from the edge of the pavement. The front of the truck, he stated, was slightly closer to the center of the pavement. From the left rear wheel to the edge of the pavement he measured 7 feet 6 inches. He stated that he had been out on the scene after the accident and upon presentation of a chart identified the driving as he was on the night of the tragic event.

EFFECT TRADE FOR $4,500,000 ISSUE, PROJECT FINANCED

An agreement for the sale of the $4,500,000 water district bonds was effected Monday morning between the directors of the district and Fred Emmert, representative of two St. Louis bond houses.

Announcement of the agreement was made Monday noon by T. B. Noble, acting chairman of the water improvement district, following many weeks of patient negotiation. Terms of the sale were not made public, pending adjustment of several minor points, but the directors were able to make the long-awaited announcement that a trade had been effected.

The firms of Kaufman, Smith & Emmert, and Compton & Co., both of St. Louis, are the purchasers of the bonds.

With the reaching of the sale agreement Monday, and with November 15 set as the date for opening bids for the actual construction of the project, consummation of the all-important undertaking at least seems very near at hand.

T. B. Noble, who has been in charge of the bond negotiations on behalf of the district, has had that task in hand during J. A. Kemp's absence from the city, Mr. Kemp being chairman of the district directors. Both Mr. Kemp and Mr. Noble have worked energetically to consummate the big trade ever since the bonds were voted.

HENRY LANDRU, BLUE BEARD OF GAMBIA, GOES TO TRIAL

VERSAILLES, Nov. 7.—Court officials gathered here today for the opening in the Seine of the assizes against Henry Louis Landru, the "Blue Beard of Gambia," who is charged with 11 murders. Ten of his alleged victims were women to whom he is said to have promised marriage and the 11th the son of one of them. He is alleged to have burned his victims' bodies.

Within half an hour after court convenes, the jury had been selected, accepted and sworn in, and the actual trial had begun. The indictment for murder on 11 counts was read at 10:50 a. m. today, and marked the beginning of the final round of the grueling contest.

This hope apparently was based largely upon the terms of the unanimous consent agreement under which senators could speak only once and then only for 10 minutes on any amendment and on any bill raised. ### BRITISH IN CHINA FOR THE OPEN DOOR

SHANGHAI, CHINA, Nov. 7.—A meeting of the British chambers of commerce in China today passed a resolution on the Shanghai convention for the re-opening of the port of the republic and on other proposed changes with the program calling for the renewal of flights for a graduated corporation income tax and for the making public of income tax returns after Monday night.

In urging his amendment, Senator Simmons said he believed it was the intention of President Harding to pay the soldier's bonus out of interest on the foreign debt. This view also was taken by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, one of those in charge of the bill.

The promise that we will pay the interest on the credits is nothing more than giving the soldiers nothing."

Senator Simmons told the senate that he regarded as absurd the proposal to pay the bonus by means of a sales tax.

Opposing the bonus, Senator Nelson, republican, Minnesota, a Civil war veteran, said he would like to see everything possible done for the wounded and for the men who fought overseas, but that he had no sympathy with the claims of the 2,000,000 men who remained in this country.

TREATY OPPOSITION CAUSES COLUMBIAN PRESIDENT TO QUIT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Attorney General Daugherty, who with Chief Justice Taft appeared before the house judiciary committee today in connection with legislation providing for additional federal judges, told the committee there was evidence that the recent crime wave was gradually diminishing.

"When we get further away from the war period there will be fewer criminal prosecutions in our courts," he said, "but when we have returned to normal conditions, the increase in civil litigation will more than make up for less criminal prosecution and the same congestion will remain."

JAPAN'S POLICY WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Japan's policy will be unchanged by the Washington arms conference will be unchanged by the assassination of Premier Hirohito, Representative Kato Mochiki, an observer for the Kenseikai, or opposition party, said today.

"I read with indignation and sorrow the account of Hara's assassination," said Mochiki. "Though I am a representative of the opposition party, I can safely say that the whole Japanese nation desires re-orientation with America for disarmament."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The Sheppard-Towner bill for protection of maternity and infancy, already passed by the senate, was favorably reported today by the house interstate commerce committee.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Another effort to write the soldiers' bonus bill into the tax revision measure failed today, the senate rejecting 42 to 20, the Simmons amendment proposing to pay the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt.

Six republicans supported the Simmons amendment and one democrat, Myers, Missouri, voted against it. The republicans were Capper, Johnson, Kenyon, Ladd, LaFollette and Williams, voted against it.

The McKellar amendment was rejected, 44 to 23. Two republicans, LaFollette and Norris, supported it, and two democrats, King and Williams, voted against it.

The net gain made by a tax payer on the sale of stocks as capital assets would be taxed at the full rate under an agreement offered by Senator Leonard, republican, Wisconsin, and accepted. Senator Leonard explained and committed the members of the committee to the bill which will only 40 per cent of the gain from such sales would have been taxable.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Refreshed by an overnight rest, the senate returned today to what had developed last week into an endurance fight over the tax revision bill. Republican leaders fondly hoped, however, that the fall of the level at 10:30 a. m. today had marked the beginning of the final round of the grueling contest.

This hope apparently was based largely upon the terms of the unanimous consent agreement under which senators could speak only once and then only for 10 minutes on any amendment and on any bill raised. Whether the hope would be realized depended upon the number of amendments that would be proposed.

Soldier bonus amendments still had the right of way, only one of these amendments, that by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, having been proposed. Missouri, having been rejected 23 to 23, with five republicans supporting it and two democrats opposing it. The amendment is to be acted on Saturday night.

Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, and McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, proposing to pay the interest on the foreign debt to finance the bonus.

After these are out of the way, the senate will proceed with the consideration of other proposed changes with the program calling for the renewal of flights for a graduated corporation income tax and for the making public of income tax returns after Monday night.

In urging his amendment, Senator Simmons said he believed it was the intention of President Harding to pay the soldier's bonus out of interest on the foreign debt. This view also was taken by Senator McCumber of North Dakota, one of those in charge of the bill.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, took the position that the bonus should not be contingent upon an uncertain proposition.

"Whether we pay the bonus, as we undoubtedly shall," said Senator Lodge, "I want the payment to be a real payment. This proposition, under the pretense of giving a bonus, gives only an uncertainty. None can tell when we will begin to pay the interest on the credits given to the foreign countries. We certainly are not going to use force to collect it. The promise that we will pay the interest on the credits is nothing more than giving the soldiers nothing."

Senator Simmons told the senate that he regarded as absurd the proposal to pay the bonus by means of a sales tax.

Opposing the bonus, Senator Nelson, republican, Minnesota, a Civil war veteran, said he would like to see everything possible done for the wounded and for the men who fought overseas, but that he had no sympathy with the claims of the 2,000,000 men who remained in this country.

WHIRLWIND CLOSE TO NEW YORK CITY BATTLE FOR MAYOR

VOTERS HAVE CHOICE BETWEEN EIGHT CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE.

ELECT ASSEMBLYMEN AND ONE STATE SENATOR

Seven Proposed Amendments to State Constitution To Be Acted Upon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—New York's mayoralty campaign came to a close today. Tomorrow, more than 1,250,000 voters will have the opportunity of going to the polls and casting their votes for one of eight candidates for mayor and other municipal officers.

The candidates for mayor are: Mayor John F. Hylan, democrat, who seeks re-election; Maj. Henry H. Curran, republican coalition; Magistrate Jacob Panken, socialist; Jerome G. Hunt, farmer-laborer; George K. Hinds, prohibitionist; John P. Quinn, socialist-laborer; Joseph D. Miller, single tax; and Benjamin Gitlow, Workers league (communist).

Gitlow's name was ordered stricken from the ballot because he is serving a sentence in Sing Sing prison for anarchism. Officials of the communist party, however, said his name would be written in the ballot.

In addition to city officers, 64 assemblymen are to be chosen to represent the city in the state legislature and a special election will be held in the sixth congressional district to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Senator Martin McGuire.

Seven Amendments to the state constitution are to be acted upon. The most important of these is the proposal to give former soldiers preference in civil service positions.

The main battle, all observers agree, will be between Mayor Hylan and Mayor Curran. Both have conducted vigorous campaigns, in which the lie has been passed frequently. The mayor has charged the opposition with representing the "plunderbund," "the interests" and "the traction crowd." In denial, Mayor Curran has accused the mayor of gross inefficiency.

Of all the many issues, the subject most talked about has been the 5-cent fare on the traction lines. Mayor Hylan has claimed he prevented the fare from being raised. Mayor Curran, asserting that he, too, is for the nickel fare, has charged that the fare question is an issue—that it is a smoke-screen used by the mayor to cover up his administration.

Mayor Hylan's admirers have used the slogan "Honest John He Is Fighting for You." He was elected chief executive four years ago on a Tammany hall ticket. He received 312,774 votes, as against 188,878 for the late Mayor John Furroy Mitchell, running on a fusion ticket; 144,712 for Morris Hillquit, socialist; and 57,289 for W. M. Bennett, republican.

Tammany Partisan
The mayor was born on a farm in Green county, New York, in 1868. Orphaned in early childhood, he worked on the farm and then came to New York, where he was employed as an engineer on the elevated railroad. He studied law nights and received his degree from the New York law school in 1897. He became a member of Tammany hall, was elected a municipal judge in 1905, a city magistrate two years later and became a judge of the Kings county court in 1915. He was practically unknown to the general electorate when he was nominated for mayor four years ago.

Major Curran was born in New York in 1877. He was captain of his high school football team. At the age of 15 he was a reporter on the Englewood N. J. Times. He worked his way through Yale university as a clerk and waiter. After graduation he was a reporter on the New York Tribune and studied law when he had spare time. He was admitted to the bar in 1901. He entered politics in 1911 when he was elected an alderman and served a number of terms, attracting attention as an expert financial analyst.

Florida Lady Was In a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well

Mountstown, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long, so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is the worst, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle of Cardui, then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."

"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was again well, and all right."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle of Cardui, then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."

CHINESE PLEASED WITH LATEST NOTE TO JAPANESE GOVERNMENT

PEKING, Nov. 7.—Native and foreign newspapers in north China generally expressed satisfaction over the latest Chinese note to Japan on the question of Shantung. Some of them consider it a diplomatic victory over Japan.

The British-owned and edited Peking and Tsing Tsin Times considers that the honors are with China in the second exchange of notes and that in dialects China always will be superior to Japan regarding the question of Shantung, since Japan's claims are based on might, rather than right. The newspaper asserts that some of the other powers for expediency's sake have recognized these claims based on might, but that this does not turn into right.

The Peking Leader says the Chinese memorandum brought out clearly the exact points of difference between China and Japan, namely, conflicting viewpoints regarding the Versailles treaty; on the disposition of the Shantung railway; and on the disposal of public property in Tsing Tao.

The leader thinks that Japan had better stop the discussion of the treaty, thus simplifying the opening of negotiations between China and Japan on a concrete, practical basis. It also expresses the hope that Japan will make a specific proposal regarding the disposition of public property in Tsing Tao.

"This," the newspaper continues, "could leave the Shantung railway the sole important issue, the question being, shall Japan share in the railway's management and control or shall China have complete control while buying out the Japanese interest in the line?"

The issues involved can legitimately come under the Pacific discussion at the Washington conference in connection with a clear definition of the application of the open door. With Japan controlling the railway, Shantung's door would not be open; with the railway under China the door would be open.

"If Japan really is sincere in desiring to restore Shantung to China she must take her hands off the railway. If Japan does not like the Chinese proposals, she is obligated to suggest other terms which must involve withdrawal if one of the hottest spots in the far east is to be removed."

"It would be well if a settlement could be reached before the Pacific conference; otherwise the conference almost necessarily will be obligated to take up the question."

CHARTER GRANTED TO AGRICULTURAL, LIVESTOCK FINANCE CORPORATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 7.—Secretary of State Staples today granted a charter to the Agricultural-Livestock Finance corporation of Fort Worth.

The purpose of the organization is to loan money, acting as an intermediary between farmers and stockmen and the war finance corporation, the law prohibiting the government from loaning money direct to individuals.

The corporation has $1,000,000 capital with $226,600 paid in. The incorporators are L. H. McKie, Ben E. Smith and C. H. Patterson, all of Fort Worth. There are 21 directors composed of bankers, capitalists and stockmen all over the state.

The majority of the directors, however, are from Fort Worth. In order that meetings might be held with the least possible delay, according to Mr. Patterson, a meeting was held in Austin today.

PLANTING OF ELMS MARKS OPENING OF ARMISTICE DAY WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Opening of Armistice week was marked here today with the planting of two American elms on the grounds of the Lincoln memorial.

The trees, one for the allied armies and one for the allied navies, were dedicated by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association, who said:

"On Friday all the unknown dead will be honored, but those living memorials we plant here today are a sign of our faith that the idea behind the call of our president for the arms conference will live."

Mrs. Harding presented her tree planting trowel to members of the American legion, who placed the trees at the head of what will be an international avenue of memorial trees to be planted by various governments.

The president's wife brought her trowel which had just been returned from Canton, Ohio, and South Bend, Ind., where it was used for memorial tree planting at the tomb of William McKinley and along the Lincoln highway. Immediately after the ceremony today the trowel was sent to Chicago where the American legion will plant several miles of road of remembrance on Armistice day.

TEXAS TO PRESENT 'AGE IN THE HOLE' IN BOUNDARY SUIT

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 7.—Texas will present its "age in the hole" in the Red river boundary suit in Washington, D. C., when the hearing on the boundary question is resumed on November 10, it was announced by the Texas representatives of the attorney general's department in Austin. For the past three weeks the Texas attorneys under the personal direction of Attorney General Cureton have been taking testimony for the state at Austin.

The principal witness is Robert L. Hill, geologist, whom the attorney general considers one of Texas' most important witnesses.

The federal attorneys will take their testimony in Washington, after which Oklahoma lawyers will be given an opportunity to adduce further testimony in their state.

The hearing resulted from the ruling of the United States supreme court several months ago that the boundary line between Texas and Oklahoma followed the south bank of the Red river. This decision was made in a dispute over valuable oil lands in the bed of the stream.

The Texas attorneys then instituted proceedings before the supreme court to locate the exact line of the bank, whether it followed the water's edge or the bluff some distance farther back on the Texas side.

Attorney General Cureton declared that this was the most important question in the dispute as Texas would not lose in the case if the court rules that the line follows the water's edge.

Records made many years ago, including the Louisiana purchase and Texas' independence from Mexico, were produced at the hearing, which is being held before United States Commissioner Frederick S. Tyler of Washington.

EXPRESS CAR ON KATY BROKEN INTO BETWEEN MUSKOGEE AND DENISON

DALLAS, Nov. 7.—Although several packages had been cut open apparently nothing was taken by burglars who entered a sealed express car on Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway southbound train No. 22 Sunday night, according to Superintendent Sampson of the American Railway Express company here today. The car was hitted from New York to Dallas, the seals were intact when the train left McAlester, Okla., and discovery that it had been opened was made at Denison early Sunday. The car was entered probably between Durant and Red river, Mr. Sampson said. He believed the robbers were frightened away.

Last night's report that the car was en route from St. Louis to San Antonio was inaccurate, it was said.

WILBARGER-BAYLOR STILL IS RAIDED

VERNON, TEXAS, Nov. 7.—A thirty-gallon still operated by Baylors and Wilbarger county residents in conjunction with discovered last week-end in Baylors county, about two miles east of the bridge over the Wichita river. Four arrests have been made, three of the principals living in Wilbarger county. The raid was conducted by Wilbarger and Baylors officers. According to officials they waited until they were sure an amount of the liquor was being distilled and then surprised the moonshiners as they returned to their location after making a delivery. A jug of the liquor and weapons are alleged to have been found in the car. No resistance was offered the sheriffs and their forces. It is said that a regular traffic was carried on between the still and Vernon where most of the product was market. More arrests are expected in the case.

BOMARTON COUPLE MARRIED HERE SATURDAY

New Prosperity Began When Fall Buying Started

The wheels of industry are spinning merrily again. The price of oil went up 50c today. All high authorities agree that the war's period of depression is past, and that the future holds for the people of America the greatest prosperity that we have ever known.

And this prosperity grows like a rolling snow-ball with every purchase of goods that is made in stores everywhere. Every purchase makes a job for some worker somewhere, and the buying, judging from our own sales records, is now well back to normal again.

If in any way we have failed to supply the goods you want, we have failed to do our utmost to promote the Nation's prosperity; so, whenever you fail to find what you want when you come to the store won't you kindly tell us why you have not been satisfied, so that we may not fail in serving others.

Every dollar worth that you buy here enables us to place more orders for new goods with the factories, and thus the big wave of public demand creates the growing wave of profitable industry for mills and workers. Let the good work go on.

FRANCE READY TO JOIN ENDEAVOR TO AVERT WARS

BRAND DECLARES FRANCE APPROACHES CONFERENCE HOPEFULLY.

FRENCH REPRESENTATIVES GIVEN ROUSING WELCOME

Proceed At Once For Washington, Where Official Welcome Awaits Them.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—France is ready to join in every endeavor to avert new wars "provided she has nothing to fear for her own security, which remains one of the most solid guarantees of the peace of the world," said Premier Aristide Briand in a message to the American people upon his arrival today to attend the armament conference at Washington.

"Just because she had to suffer from the war more than any other nation," he added, "she is ready to approach the problem of the conference in the most favorable spirit for the maintenance of peace."

"Between France and the United States of America there is no room for any difference, however slight. Both our countries ever endeavor to lead the men and peoples of good will to peaceful and fruitful work and to reduce more and more the risks of war."

"Today the world, which is in such need of safety and rest, wants not only soothing words but realities."

A crowd gave the premier and his party a rousing welcome as they stepped ashore on the steamship La Fayette. Official welcoming was dispensed with to allow M. Briand to go to Washington at once.

After commencing upon the fraternity between men of France and America resulting from living and fighting on the same fields together, Premier Briand's message continued:

"The statute that stands at the entrance of New York and raises right above the harbor her light-spreading arm, has its replica in Paris on the banks of the Seine. These two statutes, though standing thousands of miles from each other, point out the close relationship which exists between the two peoples, the aspirations they have in common, the likeness of their role, their equal love of justice, their similar will on the path of progress."

"If, as prime minister of the French republic, I did not hesitate in spite of great difficulties, to leave my country, it was, first, because I wanted to bring over here the tribute of her gratitude and at the same time to show that the foremost thought of every Frenchman is peace. As soon as President Harding sent out his noble call, my country answered present. And here I am to demonstrate the earnest good will of France by every means in my power."

"I earnestly trust that the Washington meeting will give us an opportunity in this respect. France and America, yesterday united on the battlefields, will thus continue to play their beneficent part in deriving from their common victory such results as will conform with the idealism that has ever animated them."

Premier Briand, who said he would reserve formal comment on the conference until he had seen President Harding, comes with the purpose of assisting during the first 12 days of the conference in determining the principles upon which subsequent details and results will rest. He comes without instructions and with a free hand. He will enter the conference with these general policies clear in his mind.

First, the French government's obligations to the league of nations do not preclude France from joining other powers inside or outside the league in limiting armaments or settling other questions that the league considers as within its jurisdiction.

Second: French policy is identical with that of the United States toward equal commercial opportunities in China.

Third: The restriction of sea armaments offers no difficulties peculiar to France. Her navy is already below any formula likely to be adopted.

Fourth: French interests concentrate upon land armaments. Their strength is conditioned by Germany and the payment or non-payment of reparations. German reparations and military questions are considered to be closely related to when and how France can begin to meet her American debt. Therefore, if Washington desires to raise the question of the debts in the conference, the French delegation would be prepared to discuss them.

JAPANESE REALIZE SIGNIFICANCE OF MEETING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Japanese people realize the importance of the approaching conference in its bearing on peace and progress of the entire world, according to representatives of the Japanese American relations committee of Tokio, composed of 30 leading financiers, business men and scholars of Japan.

A statement setting forth the Japanese views on the conference was issued today over the signature of Viscount Shibusawa, one of the leading financiers of that country and head of the unofficial business delegation. The viscount is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow, and will stay in Washington only one day, having planned visits with others of the delegation to many of the principal cities of the United States, particularly those of the Pacific coast.

"We can safely state that our people fully realize the vast significance of the approaching conference in its bearing upon peace and progress not only in the Pacific but in the world at large," the statement said. "Convinced as they are that the future of their national advancement lies entirely along commercial and industrial lines, our people yield to no other nation in the earnestness of their desire for peace which alone makes economic development possible. They feel no less keenly than any other nation the crushing weight of burden which armament imposes upon them. They are, therefore, heartily in sympathy with the high ideals of peace and international good will which our distinguished president had in his mind when he issued invitations to the Washington conference."

SCOTTY'S TRIAL IS POSTPONED UNTIL MONDAY, NOV. 14TH

Staff Special to The Times.

HENRIETTA, TEXAS, Nov. 7.—The trial of H. T. (Scotty) Scott, charged with robbery with firearms, was postponed until next Monday morning November 14, by Judge H. P. Weldon of the 30th district court as a result of a motion of counsel for the defense to quash the special venire of 150 men.

Defendant's attorneys moved that the special venire be quashed on grounds that the sheriff's return did not give the names of the jurors summoned. Judge Weldon sustained the objection.

A short time afterward, however, counsel for the state and defense agreed that the same venire drawn be used when the case is again called for trial next Monday morning.

A large number of witnesses from Wichita Falls arrived before opening of court this morning. The court room was crowded with witnesses, jurors and spectators.

Sewell Florida, who also stands charged with the same offense which grew out of the robbery of the little country store at Dean on the night of October 11, will go to trial Thursday evening. A special venire of 150 men has also been drawn in this case.

FOUR INDIAN CHIEFS WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Four American Indian chiefs, each a tribal hero, will pay to the unknown dead at Arlington next Friday the highest honors known to their race by placing upon the casket a coup stick and war bonnet.

Plenty Coos of the Crow, Lone Wolf of the Kiowa and Amos Red Owl and Stranger Horse of the Sioux were chosen to confer the decoration by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Burke, because of their prominence in the history of the west. Each is a high chief in his tribe and has fought American soldiers. They will be dressed in full warrior regalia.

The Coup stick, pronounced "koo" is several feet long and was carried by warriors who considered it a brave deed to touch an enemy during a fight. When a warrior did so, he cut a notch in the stick or attached to it an eagle feather.

The war bonnet was regarded by the warrior as the most important article of his regalia and only proven braves were allowed to wear one. The long plume was made from eagle feathers. Consent of the tribe had to be obtained to make a war bonnet and the making was an occasion for much ceremony, including singing of harangues. Each time a feather was laid in place the chief recounted the particular deed it represented. A perfect "tail" consisted of 12 feathers, with white plumes and black tips.

GERMAN BUSINESS MEN OFFER AID TO GOVERNMENT

FOREIGN CREDITS OF LEAGUE WILL BE PLACED AT GOVERNMENT'S DISPOSAL.

RESOLUTIONS SET FOR THE CONDITIONS

Rigid Economy and Consultation With Private Enterprises Will Be Required.

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—The League of German Industrialists has voted to come to the financial aid of the government by placing at its disposal the foreign credits of the league's members which, it is estimated, will yield one billion marks.

A resolution to this effect was adopted after seven hours of stormy debate which was participated in by Hugo Stinnes, the financier, and Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, director of the Krupp works.

The resolution sets forth the following conditions: Adoption by the government of a program of rigid economy and consultation with private enterprises in formulating the economic and tax program.

Declaration of the government's willingness to call upon foreign financial experts for advice in regard to the amount of credit to be floated and its relations to the prevailing fluctuations of foreign exchange.

Enterprises in the hands of the state and public bodies to be managed in such a manner that they cease to be a drain upon the public treasury.

Freedom of the country's economic life from every restriction that hinders its development. In this category the league places the eight-hour day.

PREMIER OF FRANCE ARRIVES MONDAY FOR CONFERENCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Aristide Briand, premier of France and head of the French delegation, landed here today from the steamship La Fayette.

He was accompanied by former Premier Rene Viviani, a companion of Marshal Joffre during his visit here in 1917, and Albert Sarraut, French senator and minister of the colonies.

Ceremony was dispensed with so that the delegation might reach Washington as early as possible.

CHARLES HAPSBURG AND WIFE ARE BELIEVED ON WAY TO BOSPHORUS

BUDAPEST, Nov. 7.—Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary and his wife, who were last reported to be at Galatz, Rumania, awaiting the British light cruiser Cardiff to carry them to exile on the island of Madeira, were believed today to have passed out of the Danube into the Black sea on their way to the Bosphorus.

With the former king-emperor being carried to the island in the Atlantic ocean, 440 miles from the Moroccan coast, the national assembly of Charles' last empire yesterday enacted into a law a bill dethroning him and ousting the entire Hapsburg dynasty.

Charles and his family will probably reside at Punalu, where living quarters are available in the wing of an unfinished sanitarium, abandoned by German financiers because of a disagreement with the Portuguese government.

"Ma" Burdick to Address Business Women Tuesday

"Ma" Burdick has been invited to make a talk before the Business Women's club Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. on local social service work.

Mrs. Burdick was recently elected first vice-president of the Texas Legion Auxiliary, and national chaplain of the American Legion Auxiliary, of which honors her friends among the local young business women are keenly appreciative.

How "Ma" Cleared the Way. A local legion member who attended the national convention in Kansas City last week tells a good story of how "Ma" cleared the way for a party of legion auxiliaries on a crowded block in K. C. one morning during the convention. It was after a parade, and there was a standing room on the block—much less room to get anywhere, such were the legion crowds. But Mrs. Burdick and the auxiliary women had to get somewhere, and the leaders of the group, with "Ma" somewhat modestly in the rear, made a start. The start was all they made. She was knocked away, elbows dug into ribs, pet corns stepped on, and the bunch gave up. Then "Ma" got tired. "Let me up there," she said. "I think we can get through." The group passed her to the head and she stuck out an arm. "Look out boys, I'm a-comin'," she sang out. A cheer near at hand greeted the sight of her overseas Salvation Army uniform, and some of the "fellows" from over there saw her face. Then, "Gangway for Ma Burdick!" "Three cheers for Ma Burdick!" "Move out there, fellows! Room for Ma" were some of the calls that cleared the path like a silver knife through a plate of butter. And "Ma" and her bunch went, single file, through the biggest crush of humanity that has ever crowded a Kansas City street.

FASHIONS

By LENORE

PARIS. Almost at birth a girl baby in France becomes a darling of the fashion gods. Mother and the god, the nursemaid, play like children with a doll at dressing her.

Such leading fashion authorities as Lanvin, Worth and Paquin do not consider it unimportant to design frocks for the youngest Parisienne. A boy is just practically a boy, unless he happens to be prettier than they, indeed, he becomes a "pretty boy" to an extent no young American Boy Scout could possibly tolerate.

A pattern for the above models (cape and frock, No. 201) can be obtained for ages 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 by sending to Lenore, West 40th street, New York city, your name, address and 20 cents (10c name) in postage stamps. Be sure to keep this newspaper for a description of the sketches and descriptions of the garments to use as working models when the patterns (or pattern) reach you, which will be within two weeks' time.—The Editor.

SMART DRESSING-TABLE STYLES

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—While the changing fashions in clothes occupy the center of the stage for the passing show of women's interests, the dressing table claims its own part. Not only the place where the personal touches that make the costume complete are adjusted should be harmonious and important.

"CONFLICT" IS A HAIR-RAISING PLAY

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—"Conflict" contains the most thrilling sustained action of any photoplay yet screened.

There have been other photoplays containing flashes of daredevil action that for a moment cause the goosebumps to creep but none of them stop the breath and accelerate the pulse for so long a period as does "Conflict."

The excitement is largely in a side on ice caker on "Way Down East," but the sight of a woman taking such a risk, or a greater one, is far more thrilling.

Richard Barthelmess took such a ride on a log caker on "Way Down East," but the sight of a woman taking such a risk, or a greater one, is far more thrilling.

There is a charming little cape coat that I show in the sketch today. It is made of gold color wool velour, trimmed with astrakhan fur, and opens only to the waist in front. The frock is practical and smart, and very new. It is made of blue serge, the skirt divided in four sections over a foundation of scarlet, with tassel and sleeve finish in the same color.

"GOOD ENGLISH WEEK" STARTS WITH FLOURISH AT SAM HOUSTON SCHOOL

"Good English week started Monday morning at the Sam Houston school, and by noon the "battling average" of the youngsters who were watching their tripping tongues was getting better every half hour.

Every room in the school devised a different plan for getting at and correcting mistakes made by the pupils, and through the co-operation of the Parent-Teacher council of the school, the school correctionists were to be backed up by special attention at home.

"Good English" week is fostered by a national educational organization, and in the past has achieved splendid results. Many of the slips made in school rooms by the children are the result of carelessness rather than lack of home or school training, and it is to correct these slips, as well as to perform a real educational function, that the week was first instituted.

Some observance of the week is to be made in all of the schools, it is stated.

The Music Study club of Wichita Falls met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred C. Barron, and enjoyed an exceptionally interesting study and demonstration of musical history.

Mrs. E. L. Fulton was the leader for the afternoon, and gave a splendid introductory talk on the lesson for the day, Paris, the Gall-Beige and the English polyphonic schools of music.

After a round table discussion in which most of the members took an interested part, Mrs. Barron illustrated the development of the Roundel principle in music, using a late composition in the absence of an early example.

Then, under the direction of Mrs. Bruce Greenwood, Mrs. Barron and Mrs. Tully sang a beautiful old English canon, "Turner In 'Comen In' from the period of 1228. Mrs. O. E. Maer gave the piano accompaniment and Mrs.

Why Can't You, Too, Be Well and Strong

FEW of us realize how precious good health is until we begin to lose it. To be well is to enjoy life and make good times for those around us. To be constantly ailing is to miss life's pleasures, and to look with envy upon our robust friends and neighbors.

Are you one of the unfortunate? Is your health slowly slipping away? It's time, then, you looked to your kidneys! Much sickness of today is traceable to kidney weakness. Its increase is alarming. That's because it's usually unreason or neglected.

But it's easy to tell if your kidneys are weak. You may have only backache; a lameness, stiffness, or sharp stabbing pains; dizzy spells, headaches, or annoying bladder irregularities.

"Use Doan's," Say These Wichita Falls Folks

A. M. GROSS, retired farmer, 306 Lee st., says: "My back and kidneys got in pretty bad shape, caused by a cold settling in my kidneys. My back was sore and lame across the small part and I could hardly do my work. When I stooped such pains would catch me in the small of my back I thought it would break. Sometimes I would get so dizzy and weak I would have to sit down to rest. I tried all kinds of kidney remedies but found no relief until I bought Doan's Kidney Pills. I used a few boxes of Doan's and they cured me of the attack."

MRS. ABE ARNETT, 1409 Twelfth St., says: "My back and kidneys were in bad shape. My back pained so I could hardly walk and when I stooped, sharp, knife-like pains would catch me, making it hard for me to straighten. I got so dizzy at times and so weak I thought I would fall. I had a continuous headache and the action of my kidneys was irregular. A neighbor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and Doan's entirely cured me and the cure has lasted ever since."

STATE EMPLOYEES AT CAPITOL TOTAL 520

Of This Number 316 Are Men And 204 Are Women Employees.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Nov. 7.—Officials and employes in and about the state capitol and the land office building, located at the southeast corner of the capitol grounds and which is nearly as large as the state house, number 520, exclusive of Governor Neff.

Of this number approximately two-fifths are women and three-fifths men, a close check of the rolls show, the exact count at the last legislative session showing 316 men and 204 women.

These figures were compiled from reports submitted to the house of representatives in accordance with a resolution asking that each department head show the number of women and men employed in their respective departments together with the information as to whether they were married or single and where the husbands of the women worked.

The resolution was introduced by Representative Owen of Navarro county and the statistics are compiled from his copy of the reports of the department heads. The legislature abolished numerous places in the capitol, but these were discounted in the compilation.

Of the 204 women employes, 151 are single and still bear the title of Miss; 25 have been married, but are now widows, while 28 have husbands living.

The compiled report does not include traveling inspectors of the banking and insurance department, the health department or the marketing and warehouse department, the railroad commission or the agricultural department. Neither does it include the shore deputies and boat men of the fish, game and oyster commission.

The ranger force also is not included in the report. Neither does it include the surveying parties of the board of water engineers now working with the United States geological survey.

The departments total twenty, which are listed as follows: Governor's office; education; board of civil service; general; state treasurer, comptroller; markets and warehouses; health; highway commission; state library; railroad commission; industrial accident board; fish, game and oyster commission; agriculture; bureau of labor; land commissioner; insurance and banking; and fire insurance commission.

The report includes all department heads, except the exception of mission members with the exception of the governor.

GOVERNOR TAYLOR OF TENNESSEE ENTERTAINED BY VERNON FIDDLERS

VERNON, Nov. 7.—Dr. A. P. Howard, A. C. (Beck) Robertson, and Lewis Franklin, promoter fiddlers of Vernon, returned last week-end from Chattanooga, Tenn., where they attended the national reunion of Confederate veterans. The three local musicians "played" a prominent part not merely during the long journey to the place of meeting, but during their sojourn in the state.

Meet the Station Agent, Ford Model

FORD RAILROAD IS GIVING SERVICE BY MOVING THE CARS

(Henry Ford's railroad, the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton, is satisfying the public and its employes, and making money. NKA Service sent John W. Rapier and Bob Dorman to tell the story of "Lissie's big sister" with pen and camera. This is the second article.)

By JOHN W. RAPIER
TOURING ON HENRY FORD'S Railroad, Nov. 7.—There is no secret about the way Henry Ford accomplishes things on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad. The answer is, common sense and work.

To begin with, Ford has scrapped all the ancient railroad traditions, customs and precedents he has encountered. The "curst and easiest way to get in bad in his company is for a man to say, "We used to do it this way," or "When I was on the Seaboard railroad we did this." They don't want that kind of a man on the D. T. & I.

Ford made out his own passenger time-table when he took the reins. "The train that starts first on a railroad ought to be No. 1," he said. "The Bainbridge accommodation starts earliest in the morning, so instead of calling it No. 2 as it has always been called, we'll call it No. 1."

Can't be Done
"Oh, no," said an old railroad man. "That can't be done."

"Why not?" asked Ford. "Because," explained the railroad man, "the Bainbridge accommodation runs to Springfield. It's a north bound train and in this country north and east bound trains have even numbers and south and west bound have odd numbers."

"Do you suppose," asked Ford, "that giving this train an odd number would prevent it from arriving in Springfield?"

The railroad man thought it would hardly be that bad. "All right, then, we'll call it No. 1," said Ford.

The D. T. & I. employes have caught that spirit and are eager to upset tradition wherever they find it, especially where it is an obstacle.

Giving Service
The D. T. & I. gives service on its own lines simply by moving cars. That's all there is to the mystery.

"A freight car brings in no revenue when it is standing still," said Superintendent W. H. Kinney. "The car may stop, but the interest on the investment keeps running. It has to be moving to be of real value to a company. We don't use yards and siding as storage places for loaded cars. It's the business of every man working on this railroad to help in the movement of cars and every man does help, no matter whether he is an engineer, conductor or stenographer."

One thing that undoubtedly is of great importance in quick handling of freight on the D. T. & I. is the "shuck-up" policy.

When an order is given on the D. T. & I. it is checked. The official who gives the order knows immediately whether or not the order is obeyed. The result is that orders are obeyed. Officials spend a small part of their time traveling up and down the line—and not in private cars, either—with eyes always open.

Giving service on other lines over which cars are routed, when they pass out of D. T. & I. control, seems not such a simple matter, but Ford appears to have solved it.

The D. T. & I. crosses all the big trunk lines that run west from the Atlantic. Some of them it crosses two or three times. In addition to the connections at Toledo and Detroit, it has 46 connections with other roads in its 378.1 miles of main line.

Ford simply plays one line against the other.

He says to one big trunk line: "Give me service and I will give you freight. No service, no freight. I'll give it to another line."

The D. T. & I. is such a big feeder that there isn't a single big trunk line that can afford to loaf on the job.

The Times will next tell about working conditions and wages on the D. T. & I.

A food oil is now made from apricot pits.

WHY YEAST BUILDS STRENGTH

Run-down Systems Demand More Vitamins Which Are Now Found in Yeast. New Yeast Tablets Build Up the Sick

The human body is like over-worked farm land. Constant building of new tissues exhausts certain elements of the body, which are lacking in the average modern diet. These essential organisms are called vitamins, which more than any other element, preserve our health, aid assimilation and furnish energy and vitality to the body.

Countless experiments in great medical institutions have proven the value of yeast. Thousands are using it. But the great majority are taking the wrong kind of yeast. They use the common yeast-cake which is merely a make-shift, containing only about 20 per cent of yeast and the rest starch and water.

LEGION CONGRATULATED FOR RECEPTION PLANS

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Numerous letters from all parts of the country have been received congratulating the American Legion on its handling of plans for the reception of Marshal Foch, General Diaz, Lord Beatty and General Jacques in their tours of the country. Alton T. Roberts, chairman of the American Legion national reception committee, announced today.

In connection with the announcement he issued the following statement: "The one regret of Marshal Foch and the other distinguished guests is that they cannot visit every place to which they have been invited. They are delighted with the reception they are receiving and every loyal American is more delighted to have these war heroes in this country."

"Marshal Foch is heartily pleased with the reception, both as to spirit and enthusiasm for the French people whom he represents. Asked recently as to whether the various programs fatigued him, he replied that, to the contrary, their enthusiasm seemed to give him added strength."

Message No. 2

—From the
P. B. M. Co.
to its Employees

This is the second of a series of five messages from this store to its employees.

In our first message we had something to say about this store's obligation to its customers. Today we want to say just a little about one of the elements of that obligation—Sincerity.

Sincerity; and, since the price is a big factor in every transaction price-sincerity in particular.

Price-sincerity means nothing more or less than one price to all. You recall that we said-yesterday, "play no favorites," in meeting this store's obligation to its customers; price-sincerity absolutely bars offerings to one customer what you would not offer to every customer. Price-sincerity bars favorites.

It is impossible to meet our obligations to one customer, if he does not trade with us on the same footing as another; if we do not serve him in the same spirit that we serve another.

Watch tomorrow's Times for Message No. 3.

IT'S WELL UPON THE WAY.

For a long, long time we were all anxiously on the lookout for the period of better business but there was nothing in sight for months except more disturbed conditions.

We may have done all of these things, each one might possibly have had a helpful influence toward bringing about the present rosy tinged prosperity.

It is certain that just thinking, no matter how hard we do it, will not actually help anything.

Actions are necessary. It is just as certain in the present instance that political cure-alls have not in the slightest helped our business conditions because we have not actually had any cure-alls given us by the party in power.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GOLDS, AND BROWNS, AND PURPLES.
I have just taken a ride in the out-of-doors—through a section of October.

As I rode and wondered and marveled at such gorgeous colorings, the thought came to me—what definition would I give to October if someone should ask me? And this is what I would have said: God!

For miles I looked into a thousand variations—until the call of the night came nearer and shadows drew dense and denser. Streaks of glittering gold, and edges of silver outlining feathery clouds, spread like a screen in the background of the golds and browns and purples of the dying leaves.

I thought of Millet, of Innes, of Blakelock, of Legros, of Whistler—and I thought that with all their genius for catching such scenes, no artist could be great enough long enough to get but a faint feeling from such a passing beauty.

I have seen sunsets upon the plains. I have seen them play behind towering mountains in the Rockies. I have seen them right after storms, and across fields of snow when billions of diamonds seemed out to dance—but somehow there never can be a sunset like unto an October sunset behind trees that have just started to drop their litter of leaves in golds and browns and purples.

When ripe apples, reddened by some god, lie like gems upon the ground; when chestnuts crack and fall, when woodbine bushes out its heart and softened winds come out to romp with timid frosts, when grapes hang tight with sweetened juice, then—it's October time!

How rare a month, how full of every month that has gone before. What days in which to weigh the thoughts and deeds of a lifetime. Let us ever take October for retrospect, for meditation—and for prayer!

"O, suns and skies and flowers of June,
Count all your boasts together,
Love loveth best of all the year
October's bright blue weather."

JUST FOLKS

By—Edgar A. Guest

THE WORKMAN.
Today it's dirt and dust and steam,
Tomorrow it will be the same,
And through it all the soul must dream
And try to play a many game;

Dirt, dust and steam and harsh commands,
Yet many a soft hand passes by
And only thinks he understands
The purpose of my task and why.

I've seen men shudder just to see
Me standing at this lathe of mine,
And knew somehow they pitied me,
But I have never made a whine;

For out of all this dirt and dust
And clang and clamor day by day,
Beyond toll's everlasting "must,"
I see my little ones at play.

The hissing steam would drive me mad
If hissing steam was all I heard,
But there's a boy who calls me dad
Who dally keeps my courage spurred;

And there's a little girl who waits
Each night for all that I may bring,
And I'm the guardian of their fates,
Which makes this job a wholesome thing.

Beyond the dirt and dust and steam
I see a college where he'll go,
And when I shall fulfill my dream
More than his father he will know;

And she shall be a woman fair,
Fit for the world to love and trust—
I'll give my hand a glorious pair
Out of this place of dirt and dust.

YOUR WEAK POINT.

Movies show you strong, plump-Hawaiians, splendid specimens of health. But real life differs from real life. The native Hawaiians are a dying race.

Legislation, now being provided, will attempt to let the Hawaiians to give up tenement life and return to the open-air existence of their ancestors.

It appears that the white man, as in the case of the American Indian, is civilizing the Hawaiian by exterminating him. The people of the ukulele land cannot survive the bootlegger and the diseases of congested civilization.

They lack the resistance which the white race has been accumulating gradually for centuries.

Your ancestors of 500 years ago probably were as healthy and as strong as oxen. But if they could reappear in our civilization, changed ways of living would quickly deal them a death-blow.

So, too, would you die quickly if you were whisked back to the rigorous life of previous centuries. We are coddled now. The least exposure to the elements, and we "catch our death of cold."

Resistance to weather and climate has been destroyed. In its place, we have developed resistance against impure water, air and food. City people live in small apartments, cages that would destroy a savage.

The human body, most delicate of all machines, develops and changes resistance or protection to fit environment and geography.

Demonstrating how finely the resistance is adjusted: You live in one locality and are healthy. You move. In the new town, the water does not agree with you. The least exposure starts you sneezing.

Changed sources of food supply upsets your stomach. Changed conditions of living call dormant muscles into use, wearying you quickly.

Your unconscious mind sees behind these things and you say, "I'll be all right as soon as I'm acclimated."

Most sickness results from breaking your routine—departing from habitual paths and doing things against which your body hitherto had not found it necessary to rear defenses.

Changes in living conditions and environment should be made gradually. Hawaiians changed too suddenly. If their transition to the civilized state had been spread out over centuries, they would not be a vanishing race.

COMMON SENSE WAYS TO KEEP WELL

FIGHTING CANCER

By DR. R. H. BISHOP

While the guns of publicity are being trained on the subject of cancer, it is opportune to tell a few facts about cancer that cannot be too often repeated and which are of great value to every person over 30 years of age.

1. Cancer at the beginning is usually painless and its onset for this reason is especially dangerous.

2. Cancer is at first a small local growth which can be safely and easily removed by competent surgical treatment.

3. Cancer is not a constitutional or "blood" disease.

4. It is not contagious.

5. It is, practically speaking, not hereditary.

6. Every lump in the breast should be examined by a competent doctor.

7. Persistent abnormal discharge of bleeding is suspicious.

8. Sores, cracks, lacerations, bumps and ulcers that do not heal, and warts, moles or birthmarks which change in size, color or appearance, may turn into cancer unless treated and cured.

9. Probably 60 per cent of the cancers of the rectum are first regarded as piles. Insist on a thorough medical examination.

10. Continual irritation in some form is dangerous.

YOU AND I

See "Hungry Joe," King of Confidence Men, Debauched by Managing Desk Swindlers.

Twenty five years ago, "Hungry Joe," dapper dude with a famous singing voice, was the king of confidence men.

His name was "Joe" because of his habit of singing a $1000 bill from Oscar Wilde when Wilde, at the zenith of his fame, toured America with a sunflower in his coat lapel.

Richard worked by time! "Hungry Joe," white-haired and bent, is a razor trader, wearing out shoe leather between New York barber shops.

The race of confidence men is almost extinct. Their places have been taken by stock swindlers with handsome office suits. Hungry Joe comes and goes, but suckers go on forever.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance Forces Possibility Of Invasion Into Reckoning.

By WM. PHILIP SIMMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Should the "unthinkable" happen and England and Japan—now bound by a treaty of alliance—unite against America, not only would the odds on sea be two to one against the United States, but a military invasion of this country would become feasible.

War with England remains "the unthinkable" thing "not to be thought of" by the American laymen, but the coldly calculating capitalists upon whose shoulders rest the responsibility of defending America against the "impossible" will give it consideration when the armament show-down comes.

Experts consider the United States safe from invasion in the event of war with Japan alone. A mighty power on land, Japan lacks the navy necessary to keep 6,000 miles of sealanes open for the transport of troops.

On the other hand, England has no large standing army to throw across the Atlantic despite the unspeakable folly of war with America.

Could Clear Oceans.
But, operating altogether, the Anglo-Japanese fleets stand to sweep the oceans free of opposing craft, making it as practicable for Japanese soldiers to land on this side of the Pacific as it was for 2,500,000 American doughboys to cross over to France.

The present tonnage of the British fleet is about 1,860,000, giving it a 25 per cent advantage over the American navy, with a tonnage of some 1,285,000.

Japan has 228,000 tons, which gives the alliance a total tonnage of 2,288,000—virtually twice that of the United States.

Japan's new naval program calls for 330,000 tons, and Britain's for something like 200,000—a total of 1,000,000 tons as against 731,000 proposed by this country.

The inequality, however, by no means ends there. It provides hospital ships and a general, indispensable auxiliary to the fighting craft.

Again Outweighed.
England's shipping, according to the latest official figures, represents a tonnage of 22,670,758. Japan has 2,344,406—a total for the alliance of 25,015,164 tons—and growing fast—as against America's total of 16,855,407 tons, with a very precarious future.

Electrical communications also play an important part, both in peace and war, and the Anglo-Japanese combination not only has a virtual monopoly on these already existing in the Pacific, but is now opposing America's wireless claims in China.

No American statesman seriously contemplates war with Great Britain. But Anglo-American differences are being talked in Japan and the Anglo-Japanese alliance is still in force.

Originally aimed principally at Germany and Russia, those countries have now disappeared from the category of world-powers. Today, if not aimed at the United States, the alliance becomes a worn-out jumble of senseless words.

CONGRATULATIONS, NORTH SIDE CIVIC LEAGUE

The North Side Civic League, a little community organization across the river which has been hitting the headlines for civic improvement for the past three years, gave its "husbands" a banquet one evening last week.

The main object of the banquet, it is understood, was to inform the men members what the improvement league had been doing on the north side, why it had been doing it, and what it expected in the way of support and co-operation from the masculine element in the future.

The results of the work of the north side women is probably more evident to non-residents of that community than to those who make their homes there and to whom the changes have come more gradually.

Three years ago there could hardly have been found a more desolate residence section in any town. Today the little community is clean, orderly, and blossoming like a bed of petunias in spring.

The women started their drive against weeds, dirt, tumble-down shacks and ugly yards under the leadership of Miss Florence Jackson, then county demonstrator and organizer. Since Miss Jackson gave up the county work they have struggled through various vicissitudes with the active help and encouragement of women leaders in the Wichita Falls Civic League and local business men, and the past year they have come out with flying colors.

They are doing a splendid work, and they know why they're doing it. As they had B. F. Johnson tell the men at Thursday night's banquet, they know it's not only a matter of "dollars and cents" in property value, but a matter of foundation in citizenship and the right ideas and ideals for their children. ### Cobb and Hornsby Meet For First Time In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—They tell us it's a small old world just because a couple of strangers from the coast will forget, when they least expect it, say at Forty-second street and Broadway in New York City. And yet we have a concrete example before us of it being a rather large world. Take Tyra Cobb, premier of the American league for many years in the batting line and sensational base runner, known to every man, woman and child who has any sort of acquaintance with baseball.

On the other hand, there is Roger Hornsby of the St. Louis National league, the slugger king of the older league. These two men, famous beyond any question in their particular walk in life, had never met until one day last week, prior to the winter league game at San Francisco. They had come all the way to the Pacific coast to be introduced, shake hands and say "Glad to meet you."

You'd naturally expect that, somehow or other, sooner or later, in the years gone by, the pair would have met. But for some reason that has never happened.

So perhaps the world is not so small as we sometimes think it is.

The area of Alaska is approximately one-fifth of that of the rest of the United States.

CHAMPION OFFERED $100,000 FOR BOUT WITH TOM GIBBONS

Minneapolis Club Sets Up Purse Of $140,000 For Ten-Round No-Decision Title.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 7.—When the Hennepin Boxing club made a bid of $100,000, to be split as the fighters agreed, for a 10-round championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons, it didn't take long for the news to travel to Tex Rickard, king of boxing promoters, who is under the impression that no championship is valid unless won in his own arena in or near New York, and after the news had reached him, it didn't take him long to reach Jack Kearns on the long distance phone and inform him of the offer. He was a piker, but which he would gladly accept, and possibly raise. Incidentally Kearns was given a fatherly scolding for giving consideration to the offer of any other promoter, but Frank McCormick, the owner of the local franchise, forced further consideration by boosting his ante to $40,000.

According to the present offer, Dempsey is to get $100,000 flat for a 10-round no-decision fight in Minneapolis and Gibbons, who is more eager for the chance than for immediate return, will have $40,000 thrust upon him in addition to a crack at the title.

"It is provided, of course, that Tommy Gibbons fight with Harry Greb and George Carpentier so that he may approach the match with a clear claim to a fight for the heavyweight championship.

Both Gibbons and Dempsey have expressed willingness to go ahead with the match. Dempsey and Kearns both said that they are eager to fight in some part of the country beside New York. They like western fans and feel that folks in this region are entitled to a chance to see the champion in action, providing, of course, the inducement is sufficient.

As for Gibbons, he would like nothing better than to make his bid for championship honors before the home folks and he has told McCormick to go ahead and make all arrangements, counting him in unless the local promoter is so completely outbid that it would be poor business to accept his offer.

Illinois Stadium Dedicated to War Veterans and State

URBANA, ILL., Nov. 7.—The University of Illinois stadium and recreation field will be dedicated both to war veterans of the state and to the university. The endorsement for a great state memorial was unanimously passed by the Illinois legislature at the annual session at its recent state convention.

Though the local stadium authorities had long advocated the new structure, it was not until action by the legion that definite arrangements could be completed.

It is now planned to include the state's 350,000 service men in the numerous memorial features.

The Illinois stadium, declared W. L. Kelly, Shelbyville, former junior vice-commander of the legion, "will symbolize the physical fitness of the American soldier in the World war."

"Army records indicate that the athletes were the men who made the best showing. Few men were rejected who had been in college athletics. Not one was found to be unfit as a result of excessive athletic activity."

"If Illinois is to honor her soldiers with a memorial, an athletic playground is the most fitting monument. To those who gave their lives it will be symbolic of the courage and determination they displayed on the battlefields of France."

Stadium Facts.

The University of Illinois stadium will be the largest athletic plant in America, eclipsing in size the Yale bowl, the Harvard stadium and the Princeton stadium. It will seat 75,000 persons and plans call for its completion in 1924.

In a mammoth mass meeting on the campus last spring, the students pledged nearly $700,000 to the Illinois memorial stadium.

The memorial features of the Illinois stadium alone will cost $700,000.

Within the Illinois stadium enclosure will be a series of honor surrounds by 153 beautiful Doric columns which will be dedicated to the 153 Illinois who fell in the great war.

The Illinois stadium will contain a gridiron, a quarter-mile running track and a 250-yard straightaway.

On the 100-acre recreation field surrounding the Illinois stadium will be 25 baseball diamonds, 19 gridirons, 19 hockey and soccer fields, 100 lawn and clay tennis courts, three archery courts and a polo field.

If the seats of the Illinois stadium were placed side by side in one continuous row they would reach approximately 25 miles.

Beneath the stands of the Illinois stadium will be locker, dressing and training quarters for the athletic teams, basketball and handball courts, wrestling courts, boxing arenas and numerous other recreational features.

The Illinois department of the American legion has unanimously endorsed the Illinois stadium as a memorial to the 353,000 war veterans of the state.

RUTH DISCOVERED BY A SPORTING EDITOR

Became a Star When a Youngster, As D'Id His Team Mate, Waite Hoyt.

Some big league stars have become players of national renown through slow development. On the other hand there have been some who have shown great promise even as mere youngsters. One needs only to go to the New York Yankees for two of the latter class. George (Babe) Ruth and Pitcher Waite Hoyt, the last named having taken down the pitching honors in the last world series.

In 1913 Ruth was playing with the St. Mary's school team in Baltimore. One day that year, Starr Matthews was sporting editor of a Baltimore paper, was tipped off that the school team had a terrific batter by the name of Ruth.

Matthews, secretary of the American Trapshooters' association, decided that he would take a peep at the boy the following Sunday. He did so. He discovered that Ruth, although a left hander, was catching. He was wearing the big mitt on his left hand, but whenever an attempt was made to steal on him he would yank off the pillow, shift the ball to his left hand and let 'er go like a shot down to second. In the game in particular, Babe made two home runs, but as the opposing pitcher was not much, Matthews decided he wanted to see Ruth in action against real competition before the recommended him.

Presses Dunn, Too

When the following Sunday arrived Matthews was accompanied by Jack Dunn, manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Ruth was pitching that day. He was opposed to a deal with the Orioles, but Matthews, although a left hander, was catching. He was wearing the big mitt on his left hand, but whenever an attempt was made to steal on him he would yank off the pillow, shift the ball to his left hand and let 'er go like a shot down to second. In the game in particular, Babe made two home runs, but as the opposing pitcher was not much, Matthews decided he wanted to see Ruth in action against real competition before the recommended him.

McGraw Signs Him Up

Waite Hoyt was a pitcher for a school team, Erasmus high, of Brooklyn, when discovered. It was prior to a game between the Giants and Robins in Ebbets' field, Brooklyn, that Hoyt was working out. Charley Doolin, then a Giant catcher, formerly manager of the Phillies, watched him critically. Nonchalantly Charley edged up toward the boy and whispered: "Come over to the Polo grounds tomorrow morning. I want to see you work again."

Hoyt was on hand the next morning. So was Doolin. So was John McGraw. The latter liked the boy's work so well he immediately handed up Waite's father. Ad Hoyt, an old-time minstrel man, and acquired the rights to Waite's services. He was in 1915 and Waite, being only 15 years of age, could not sign the contract himself.

McGraw took him south the following spring and then formed him into three minor league clubs before the year was over. Took him south again in 1917. Farmed him out to Memphis and Montreal that year. He was not much of a success with either.

The campaign of 1918 found him making his third training trip, after which he pitched for a team in the South Atlantic league and then Newark. He then sought a commission in the army, but the armistice came too quickly.

McGraw then decided he needed Earl Smith as catcher more than Waite Hoyt as a pitcher and included the youngster in a deal with Rochester. Hoyt, however, tired of his frequent trips about the bush leagues, decided to quit organized baseball and signed with the Boston Red Sox, whereupon Rochester sold his release to New Orleans.

It was while with the independent team that Hoyt found himself. His team played an exhibition game with the Cincinnati Reds and Hoyt shut them out with one hit. Ed Barrow of the Boston Red Sox signed him and bought his release from New Orleans. He made good with Boston at once, beating Cleveland in his first game. But it was not until the last world's series that he showed such remarkable ability.

NO BRIGHT LIGHTS FOR BUFF

Johnny Buff and his favorite hangout, Engine House No. 2, at Jersey City.

By BOB DORMAN

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Nov. 7.—When a boxer becomes champion of his class, it is the general impression that the "Bright Lights" have been his pals as far back as he can remember. Success in the roped arena, however, has in no way changed him. Although he possesses more money than he once believed was in the United States treasury, he still sticks to the neighborhood where he was raised.

Buff looks like a fellow who will never suffer from inflation of the head. He does things today just as he did when a preliminary boy. He admits a lot of people who once passed him by are now trying to make a fuss over him. It is because of my titles, not me, reasons Johnny.

His greatest diversion is playing pin-ball. His greatest distasteful thing is fighting for crabs, minus the strong bait. If you are looking for Johnny Buff, first try his home. If not there, it is a certainty you will find him at Engine House No. 2.

Herb and Russell Stein, brothers, who will oppose each other for the third time on the gridiron.

By NEA Service.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 7.—Just as in November, 1919, and in the same month last year, the parents of Herbert Stein and Russell Stein are hoping and praying for a tie game Nov. 13 when Washington and Jefferson eleven opposes the gridiron warriors at the University of Pittsburgh.

This is the third year that Herb Stein, all-American center of Pittsburgh, and Russell Stein, captain and left tackle of Washington and Jefferson, have faced each other. Last year Herb was captain of the Pitt aggregation, which won 7 to 6. This year Herb is just a private in the Panther ranks, but his brother, Russell, is leading the Washington and Jefferson band and to date his team has won six straight games and is one of the few undefeated teams east of the Mississippi.

Each fall when the brothers trot out on the field the parents of the two Stein lads do not take sides but hope for a tie game so that there will be peace in the family.

So far as is known this is the first case in history where two brothers have played on opposing teams for three years in succession.

And each wades into the other just as hard as if he were playing some other opponent when they swing into action.

A peculiar thing about both the Steins is that each kicks the goal after touchdown for his team and each is a finished goal from placement kicker, both having many goals in this manner to their credit. In order to place kick, Herb Stein has to be pulled from his place at center and the ball passed back to him by another lineman.

BRAVES' OWNER LOOKING FOR NEW TRAINING SITE

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—George W. Grant, owner of the Boston National league baseball club, left here today for Hot Springs, Ark., the first stop on his trip south in search of new spring training quarters for the Braves. Manager Fred Mitchell has announced that the club will not return to Galveston, Texas, where it trained last spring. Grant said he was inclined to favor training quarters in Florida or Louisiana.

ON THE OTHER HAND

BY GROVE

Why is it that baseball has never made a hit with the foreign countries? Time and again our championship teams have crossed the pond for demonstrations, but all they left was the box score. Our army, in England and France, stirred up a certain amount of interest, but all it amounted to was an appreciation. When the players leave the country the game departs with them.

To make baseball popular with the foreign element the game will have to start by interesting the boys. It will have to be inaugurated in the schools and on the playgrounds, and grow with the generation. The older people, of England and France, have tried to play, along with the Americans, but found the game entirely too strenuous. One must grow up with the game of baseball to really appreciate its great possibilities and take advantage of them.

Japan, Hawaii, Cuba and the Philippines are the only countries which have developed anything at all in baseball. That is because our leading players have been going over there for the past fifteen years.

Amos Rusie, after noting the fine work of the pitchers in the world series, says he has decided it was not the lively ball that was responsible for the free hitting of last season. By deduction we would say that Rusie figured it was "punk" pitching. That statement ought to make Amos a popular guy with major league pitchers.

Waite Hoyt is going to have a hard time explaining, if he shows a preference for eastern stars in his All-American lineup, after what has happened to some of the "big three" eleven's season.

If Frank Moran, who has been knocked off by everybody except himself, takes a few more dives to the mat, he will have qualified for the aquatic championships.

Wonder where is he, Abe Attell.

Some of these golfers could save a lot of mme if they would shoot first and while their opponents are driving they could be lookin' for their ball.

No, Emmet, these different committees and commissions that rule boxing and rasslin' ain't got nothin' to do with the fans.

Do you know that: Two-thirds of the boxers in the United States—ain't?

This guy Killinger, who has been makin' all them touchdowns for Penn State, must be tryin' to land a new sweetie.

The report that Babe Ruth will race Peter Manning has been declared unfounded.

He was a drop-kick kicker Whom the team refused to drop, Because he always kicked the kick That made his college cop.

And then one day he came to kick: The game was on the shelf, He tried to kick a drop kick, but He dropped and kicked himself.

There is a rumor floating around that President Harding is going to call his bulldog "Niblick" because he has so much trouble with him.

A girls' school organized a basketball crew and the team turned out to be a bloomer.

SPORTS SPOTS

by Paul W. Barkin

Electra May Play Mineral Wells Before Electr High and Children High clash in the first elimination contest between district champions, the Wichita county boys may be forced to play Mineral Wells to establish a clear claim to the title in District 4. Coach Dinmore, however, told us before the Northside game Saturday that should Electr win, the title would go hand-in-hand with the victory. Now comes the report from Mineral Wells that the Poly-Mineral Wells game has been forfeited to Mineral Wells, 1 to 0, by Roy H. Henderson, secretary of the interscholastic league, and that Mineral Wells will play Electr next Saturday for the "district championship" on neutral grounds. The game was forfeited to Mineral Wells, evidently because Poly used an ineligible player.

Northside Coach's Statement

The following statement was given out by Coach Farrington of Northside High when he returned to Fort Worth yesterday: "We're not a bit discouraged by that defeat by Electr at Wichita Falls Saturday, and I'll guarantee you that our boys will be out there fighting as hard as ever when they meet Chickasha in Oklahoma next Friday. We know how to take a defeat, and I'm not offering any excuses. However, I'll say that it's rather unfortunate when a team is beaten by one point—then for a player to kick a goal after touchdown. And, another thing, I believe the break went against us. Yet I'm willing to give the winners full credit. I've never witnessed a cleaner game. The officials worked in big league style and there wasn't a squabble throughout the contest."

Wichita in Post Season Game

A post season game between Wichita High and a group of former players who are now in the city is being talked of by the fans to be held for the benefit of the school athletic fund. They are still talking of the Electr-Northside contest and the crowd that turned out to see it. It is evident from the most pessimistic now that football was easily the best sport in Wichita Falls. The right sort of game, properly staged, will draw. If the "all-stars" will train and practice faithfully, they can put up a worthy exhibition there is no reason in the world why such a game cannot be arranged that will swell the athletic coffers by several hundred dollars. But 11 men cannot be thrown together and expect to beat Harry Viner's charges. He can't be easily moulded together now which will rank with any in this section of the state and one which would be a credit to the city. They are either Electr or Northside last Saturday, judging from their work in the last two games. If you don't believe it, watch them on Armistice day when they stack up against Devoil.

Dallas Case to Landis

Judge Landis is going to have an extremely busy winter and among other squabbles that he will undoubtedly have to settle is the one in Dallas. Walter Morris, who is associated with I. A. Sablosky in the purchase of the Marine franchise has declared that regardless of the outcome of the suit now in court, the real issues of the case will be taken before Landis. At present the case is seeking only Viner's charges. He has fully remained unchanged by the present owners. The issues to be settled by Landis are the sale of the club to Sablosky and the ratification of the league's resolution ousting Haskell and Patterson.

A Four Aims for Ruth

Those scribbles who would come to Ruth's defense for crossing Landis now state that he was the innocent victim in a baseball plot. It is now positively known, it is said, that there was a scheme behind the violation of the rules on the part of the players ready to form an opposition baseball league, using Ruth as a nucleus to form the new organization. All this was unknown to Ruth, who was used as a tool in this instance and his good nature was easily bent to their wishes and desires. The great amount of money taken at the gates the past season urged the schemers to enter the field in opposition to the American and National leagues. Of course, after such a

"THE ACQUITTAL" OPENS MONDAY AT WICHITA THEATER

Melo-drama at its best is promised for this city when Gene Lewis-Olga Worth and company open at the Wichita theater tonight for a week's presentation of "The Acquittal," the big Cohen & Harris stage success that took New York's theatrical coterie by storm immediately following its first showing. The play deals with the life of an acquitted murderer who really was guilty of the crime with which he was charged and tried. The sensational developments resulting from the "not guilty" verdict and the manner in which he blots out his past and retrieves himself form the basic elements of the plot.

THE GROWING CHILD

Printed below is the first of a series of articles dealing with the growing child which are to run through the winter as an exclusive feature of The Times. The stories were prepared by H. S. Cumming, surgeon-in-chief of the United States public health service at Washington, and were procured for publication in this city through the efforts of Dr. A. H. Douglass, head of the local health department.

Included in the list which will appear from week to week will be expert advice from government physicians dealing with the following subjects: "Physical Defects among School Children," "Vaccination," "How to Recognize So-Called Children's Diseases, Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, Mumps, Whooping Cough," "Adolescence," "General Home Care" and many others of equal interest and importance.—Editor's Note.

Helping the School Teacher. Nothing is so discouraging to a school teacher as the indifference and apathy with which many parents regard school work. Many of the strong, enthusiastic teachers strive term after term to overcome this inertia by regularly holding parents' meetings, and this method is sometimes very successful. But have you ever attended these meetings? If so you will have noticed that usually only a few parents attend at all regularly; many do not come at all. Under these circumstances are you still one of those who complain about what is done and not done in your school?

Get out of the rut and show that you are really interested in your school. Visit the teacher in her classroom at intervals. Find out what her difficulties are, and then see if you cannot help her. In most instances you will be agreeably surprised to find that the teacher is far better posted on matters of health and sanitation relating to school children than you supposed. But she needs the help of a community support in order to put these modern ideas into practice.

Have you ever heard of the tooth brush drill in many of the schools throughout the country? Teachers now instruct their classes just how the teeth should be brushed. But what good is such instruction if parents do not make sure that it is not regularly carried out in the home. Has your youngster a tooth brush and a supply of tooth powder or tooth paste?
