A BULKY JURY NOT YET AGREED

POWERS CONCEDE IMPORTANT POINT TO THE CHINESE

KANSAS EMPLOYEES OF PACKING PLANTS IGNORE SUBPOENAS

ADOPT RESOLUTION AFTER A SUGGESTION BY NATIONAL COUNSELLOR.

COURT OFFICIALS PREPARE TO HOLD INVESTIGATION

Should Union Men Fail to Answer Steps Will Be Taken To Compel Attendance.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Packing house workers in Kansas City have been advised to disregard the orders of the Kansas industrial court to go on strike Monday morning when the union strike order goes into effect in all packing centers. It was announced today by Morris Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America.

No request for an earlier strike had been received, as indicated in dispatches from Kansas City, according to Mr. Lane.

Special instructions to go ahead with the strike in Kansas, however, Mr. Lane said. "The Kansas industrial court is a joke."

COURT OFFICIALS PREPARE FOR THE INVESTIGATION

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3.—Although union officials cited to appear had voted to ignore the proceedings, the Kansas industrial court today to conduct an investigation of the packing industry from all angles with special reference to conditions which might arise should the Kansas union members join the nation-wide packing strike scheduled to begin Monday morning.

Reasons Announced

The reasons announced by the packing house union officials were that the subpoenas were not issued under the strict letter of the law; that they should have been issued by the district court of the county in which the union officials summoned; and that district subpoenas from the industrial court must be delivered by registered mail.

Should the union men fail to answer when their names are called, Attorney General Hopkins said, legal steps would be taken to compel their presence. That might be done, he said, by going into district court and obtaining citations directing them to appear. In the event of continued refusal, the attorney general asserted the state could move in district court that the men be cited for contempt of court.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Coincident with an order from Armour and company of the big five packers that all employees who walk out Monday in protest against the ten per cent wage reduction will lose their places, advertisements appeared in the papers today calling for men to fill the vacancies if the union men strike.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Another important point in the far eastern discussions of the armament conference was won today by China in the committee of the nine powers.

Japanese representatives, it was said, agreed to give their best territorial holdings in Shantung and also were reported as offering to discuss retirement from their special territorial privileges in Manchuria.

The offers from Great Britain, Japan and France were said to be contingent on fulfillment of conditions which China was expected to meet.

NEGOTIATIONS OVER NAVAL RATIO AWAIT ADVICE FROM TOKIO

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Negotiations in the naval ratio question today were practically at a standstill, with the Japanese delegates awaiting further word from Tokyo.

By today the results of yesterday's conference between the principal American, British and Japanese negotiators were under study by the Japanese cabinet advisory council.

All indications were that whatever had been proposed as a means of bringing the United States and Japan together did not involve any abandonment of the 5-5-3 ratio proposed by the United States and supported by Great Britain but rather concerned other considerations which the Japanese regard as necessary to settlement.

Chief among these was understood to be the question of further fortifications of the American bases in the Pacific, which the United States has insisted upon.

One suggestion is for a set of arbitration treaties between the three powers with a provision that Japan would not be involved in a war which might arise as a result of the extended discussion of the ratio question at a conference.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—With latest developments in negotiations on the question of naval ratio for Japan represented by delegation spokesmen justifying optimism, although their nature was a closely guarded secret, the whole matter was expected to remain at a standstill today while Baron Kato communicated further on the situation with Tokio.

SCENES AT FAMOUS SURGEON'S FREE CLINIC

Thousands of parents have appealed to Dr. Adolf Lorenz, Viennese orthopedic surgeon, to straighten and strengthen the limbs of their children since he arrived in New York. He has been so busy that he does not stop for meals during clinic, just taking a snack of bread and coffee between operations and examinations. Hundreds stormed the doors of the Hospital for Joint Diseases. It being unsafe to open the doors to so many, Dr. Herman C. Frauenthal, founder and chief surgeon of the hospital, handed out admission cards through a window. Mothers became weary holding their afflicted offspring through the long wait and here you see a kindly cop relieving a mother of her precious burden.

IRRIGATION PROJECT WILL NOT HANDICAP WILBARGER TRAVEL

SUCH IS VIEW HELD BY THE COMMISSIONER'S COURT OF THAT COUNTY.

MAY EXTEND POSSIBLY THREE MILES FURTHER

Will Be Fully As Accessible As The Present Means Of Travel.

VERNON, TEXAS, Dec. 3.—Travel between Vernon and Seymour upon the completion of the Wichita Irrigation project will not be hampered, according to views expressed by the commissioners' court. There is every prospect that, although the highway extend possibly three miles further, it will be fully as accessible as the present means of travel.

The commissioners' court will put into first class shape the east Seymour road. This highway is situated three miles east of the Sigler field road. At present it extends to the Mack school house, or within three or four miles of the county line. This road will probably be extended to the county line on the west side of section fourteen.

Taylor county, it is said, has offered the assurance that it will build a road from Mabelle on the Ozark trail to the Wichita Irrigation dam, and from the dam north to connect with Wilbarger's east Seymour road. This road will increase the distance by not more than two or three miles between Vernon and Seymour.

According to the commissioners' court, the east Seymour road will be the most logical one to travel, although it is not planned to abandon the Sigler highway. However, it will not be possible to cross the Seymour bridge over the Wichita river, due to the fact that it will be covered by water, according to information given out here.

Plans have been under contemplation for some time by Vernon's chamber of commerce in respect to the development of an excellent highway north and south between Altus, Okla., and Corpus Christi via Ardmore, Brownwood, Throckmorton, Seymour, Vernon and Odell. This road would cross the Red river by means of the toll bridge expected to be built shortly at the Orient railroad crossing.

The commissioners' court has been informed by the state highway commission that the body has declined to designate the highway between Seymour and Altus, but that a state engineer will be sent shortly to inspect the road. No action, it is thought, will be taken until after the engineer files his report with the commission.

MUCH DISCONTENT IN WESTERN JAPAN

Industrial Disputes and Land Troubles Develop a Spirit Of Unrest.

Tokio, Nov. 8.—Industrial disputes and land troubles are "churning" western Japan into a spirit of unrest and discontent, according to the exact nature of the proposals is not known; but they are said to be based on an all-Ireland parliamentary government, one of the strong points for which the Sinn Fein has been holding out. Ulster is understood, would be required to remain in this parliament at least six months, when she could withdraw at her option.

In case of withdrawal, Ulster's boundaries as a separate government would be defined by the alliance and she would be restricted to the powers she enjoys at present, while the south of Ireland would be granted fiscal freedom.

One version of the new terms is that they deal with the Sinn Fein's objection to swearing allegiance to the crown; by providing the allegiance be sworn to the Irish free state, the commonwealth of nations known as the British empire and the king as head of that community of nations.

In the event the new terms are unacceptable to the Sinn Fein, it is believed the Sinn Fein delegates have been asked to present a proposal on behalf of the British government for a postponement of the negotiations in order to allow for a possible adjustment of views, but to permit Premier Lloyd George to make a brief visit to the Washington conference.

Continuance of the truce is also thought to have been a consideration in preparing this alternative.

THREE IRISH DELEGATES HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

BELFAST, Dec. 3.—Three members of the Sinn Fein peace delegation bound for Dublin had to return to England today when the steamer Cambria on which they were traveling collided with a schooner soon after leaving Holyhead, England. The schooner was sunk and three of her crew drowned. The Cambria returned to Holyhead damaged.

The Irish delegates on board were Michael Collins, Sinn Fein minister of finance, George Gavan Duffy and Erskine Childers. They were on their way from London after the recent conference with Prime Minister Lloyd George and his advisers and had been expected to take part in today's consideration by the Sinn Fein of the British government's latest proposals for a peace settlement.

GOES TO OKLAHOMA CITY TO DIRECT THE STRIKERS

PORT WORTH, Dec. 3.—John Malone, district president of the butcher workers' union, which will direct the packing house strike, starting Monday at 8 a. m., will leave here this afternoon for Oklahoma City to give final instructions to men there. At last night's meeting of packing house employees here, 300 voted to join the strike. The employees here total 2,500.

SINN FEIN CABINET MEETS TO CONSIDER BRITISH PROPOSALS

NOT THOUGHT THE REVISED TERMS WILL BE ACCEPTABLE.

REPORTED TO CONCEDE AN ALL-IRELAND GOVERNMENT

Would Give Ulster Right to Withdraw After Six Months

DUBLIN, Dec. 3.—Members of the Sinn Fein cabinet assembled today to consider the British government's latest proposals for an Irish peace settlement. There is little optimism as to its decision and the Sinn Fein peace delegates, who have returned from London, are reported as believing the revised terms will be unacceptable to Eamonn de Valera and his advisers.

The exact nature of the proposals is not known; but they are said to be based on an all-Ireland parliamentary government, one of the strong points for which the Sinn Fein has been holding out. Ulster is understood, would be required to remain in this parliament at least six months, when she could withdraw at her option.

RAIN STORM AND BLIZZARD RACING INTO PANHANDLE

EXTREME HEAVY SNOW TIES UP RAILROAD YARDS AT FORGAN.

TEMPERATURE FALLS TO 18 DEGREES AT TEXTLINE

First Indication Of Norther Was Given At Midnight By Forgan Agent.

With strong northwest winds, falling temperatures and a barometric pressure indicating stormy weather, Wichita Falls stands in line to share a portion of the rain storm and snow blizzard that moved into the district at midnight Friday.

The first indication of a norther was received from the agent at Forgan, Oklahoma, shortly before midnight, stating that high north winds had arisen and dark clouds were in evidence in the horizon. At 1:15 a. m. he reported snow falling and a short time later he reported a regular winter blizzard on hand.

Snow was still falling at this point as late as 9 o'clock Saturday morning and strong, cold northwest winds were blowing. The railroad yards at this point were so impeded that yard switching was an impossibility Saturday morning.

At 2 a. m. the snow blizzard struck Textline and shortly after it hit Amarillo. Snow fell on the Denver line all the way from Claude to Textline.

From Woodward south to Elk City a cold, drizzling rain and falling temperature was reported by operators. The north wind at points had reached a velocity of 35 miles an hour.

The entire district from Frederick south, and from Childress east reported cold and clear weather. Strong north and northwest winds, however, were reported from all points.

At midnight the temperature in Wichita Falls was 44 degrees, but by 9 o'clock Saturday morning had fallen to 44 degrees. The barometer reading at 9:30 o'clock was 30.48.

HEAVIEST SNOW STORM OF SEASON ON PACIFIC COAST

DENVER, COLO., Dec. 3.—The heaviest snowstorm of the season in the Rocky mountain region was diminishing in intensity today as it moved on to the southeast, centering over Oklahoma and northwestern Texas, the district weather bureau reported. The storm swept the region yesterday and last night.

The eastern slope bore the brunt of the storm that part of Colorado and Wyoming receiving an average of six to seven inches of snow. Temperature ranged from 10 to 20 degrees above zero.

The storm was light on the western slope, but a trace of snow was reported at Grand Junction, Colo., but at Salt Lake City, Utah, five inches of snow was reported.

A slight snow fell in northwest New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle. Six inches of snow fell in Denver and seven in Cheyenne, Wyo.

AMARILLO TEMPERATURE HOVERS AROUND 20 DEGREES

AMARILLO, Dec. 3.—A driving wind, accompanied by sleet and snow, swept down on this city and the Panhandle during the night and sent the thermometer down to below the freezing point in a few hours. The temperature hovered around 20 degrees early today and was steadily dropping with the prediction of colder weather and more snowfall throughout the day.

HEAVY SNOW IS FALLING AT POINTS IN KANSAS

JUNCTION CITY, KANS., Dec. 3.—A heavy snow began here this morning. The precipitation measured two inches at 8:30 o'clock and a strong north wind caused the snow to drift badly. Moisture is needed for winter wheat.

STAMFORD THERMOMETERS NEAR THE FREEZING POINT

STAMFORD, TEXAS, Dec. 3.—A norther struck this section at daybreak today, causing the thermometer to drop almost to the freezing point in a short time.

OKLAHOMA MAN IS SUFFOCATED IN A CHILLICOTHE FIRE

CHILLICOTHE, TEXAS, Dec. 3.—Tom Simmons, of Davidson, Oklahoma en route to California, was suffocated in an early morning fire that partially destroyed the City Rooming house. He was found in the floor of his room dressed except shoes.

DOUBLE INCOME TAX ON CANADIAN CITIZENS WHO WORK IN UNITED STATES

WINDSOR, ONTARIO, Dec. 2.—Relief from the double income tax Canadians who work in the United States would be forced to pay under the new American tax law, it is to be sought by William C. Kennedy, member of parliament for North James. The law would require Canadians to pay an eight per cent tax in this country without exemptions.

BEGIN CONSIDERATION OF CASE SHORTLY AFTER 4 P. M. FRIDAY; STAND 11 TO 1 FOR ACQUITTAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—The Arbutuckle jury was given a two-hour lunch recess at 12:00 o'clock after having failed to reach a verdict in six and one-quarter hours of actual deliberation. The jury retired at 4:15 p. m. last night.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—The jury considering the evidence submitted in the Arbutuckle trial returned to the jury room from its hotel at 10:00 o'clock this morning. The jury appeared refreshed after a night's rest. Reports that it was divided 11 to one for acquittal persisted today but there was nothing to give any great amount of tangibility to this report. Corridor gossip said that one woman was holding out for conviction.

Arbutuckle appeared a few minutes before 10:00 o'clock wearing a thick black overcoat. He did not wear the baggy coat that he carried away with him last night. He was dressed with neatness and others in an apparently carefree manner.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—Nothing was heard of the case of Arbutuckle manslaughter trial today but a verdict, and if that was adverse to him, a sentence.

The fate of the comedian, accused of having caused the death of Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, was given to the jury shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Rumors were current last night that the jury, composed of seven men and five women, stood eleven to one for acquittal, but no agreement had been reached at 11 o'clock last night. The court permitted the members to retire for the night.

A throng that packed the court room and corridors outside in the hope of hearing the verdict expressed disappointment when the jury was locked up for the night.

The Arbutuckle trial started November 14 and a week was spent in selection of a jury. The main witness in the case was Virginia Rappe, who testified to the injuries to the bladder which she said caused Miss Rappe's death usually resulted from the application of external force.

The prosecution contended that the injury was the result of an attempt by Arbutuckle to attack Miss Rappe during a party in his room in the Hotel Franklin during the afternoon of September 24.

A technical examination by a medical commission of three appointed by the court to examine the medical records and a condition of chronic inflammation existed, according to the report by the commission to the court and the medical experts called in by the defense, declared the report "absolutely corroborated" the deposition of Dr. Maurice Rosenberg, who treated Miss Rappe, and who testified to a bladder disorder in 1912.

Finger prints on the doors of Arbutuckle's rooms were said by Heinrich to be those of Arbutuckle and Miss Rappe. The medical expert, according to the testimony, that Arbutuckle attempted, presumably, to force the young woman away from the doors.

Miss Rappe after the alleged injury, testified for the defense that Miss Rappe told him she was "somewhat intoxicated" and "did not know what happened to her."

Arbutuckle himself was the pivotal witness for the defense. He said at the time he alleged to have inflicted the injury on Miss Rappe he was actually endeavoring to assist her during a period of illness. He said that Miss Rappe was lying in his room where the attack was alleged to have taken place until he found her in pain on the floor of his bath room, he said.

Much medical testimony was also introduced by the defense. Other witnesses were Al Remacher, manager of the Hotel Franklin, the prosecution, and Fred Fischback, a friend of Arbutuckle, for the defense.

CHICAGO SURGEONS PROTEST VISIT OF DR. ADOLPH LORENZ

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Twelve orthopedic surgeons here issued a joint statement today declaring they would not cooperate in receiving Dr. Adolph Lorenz, the Vienna surgeon who is expected to visit Chicago soon. It was announced that the American medical association took with disfavor on newspaper publicity of the type Dr. Lorenz has received, and added: "It is inevitable that a response amounting to hysteria which will bring so many unfortunate cripples of all sorts—so many as to make the careful, deliberate examination of their ill will be physically impossible and bitter disappointment will come to many hopeful sufferers led to expect the impossible."

"The public does not realize that the first operation or treatment in a deformity case is not the beginning and few surgeons are willing to take upon themselves the responsibility and the post-operative care which may last several months or years, in cases which have been operated by some one else."

MINISTRY INTERIOR DENIES MORSE RIGHT TO LAND IN FRANCE

Request is Made in Cable to Attorney General Daugherty At Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Charles W. Morse, shipbuilder and financier, who arrived yesterday at Havre, was told by the Ministry of Interior that he has no right to land in France and requiring him to return to the United States on the first available steamer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The French ministry of the interior today issued an order denying Charles W. Morse an right to land in France and requiring him to return to the United States on the first available steamer, which would be the Paris, sailing Monday from Havre.

By Associated Press. PARIS, Dec. 3.—The French ministry of the interior today issued an order denying Charles W. Morse an right to land in France and requiring him to return to the United States on the first available steamer, which would be the Paris, sailing Monday from Havre.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Charles W. Morse, American financier, called Attorney General Daugherty today asking permission to delay his departure for the United States until the sailing of the steamship George Washington on January 5.

Mr. Morse was detained by the French authorities on his arrival here yesterday morning at the request of the American consulate. It was stated his presence in Washington was desired in connection with the investigation of his transactions with the United States shipping board.

Mr. Morse declared that he felt his departure for the United States would return to America when his case was somewhat vague and in today's morning papers the question of the American consulate, it was stated his presence in Washington was desired in connection with the investigation of his transactions with the United States shipping board.

Mr. Morse expressed disbelief in the reports that he had been indicted. "The report of my indictment in connection with the Tunis ship deal," he told the correspondent, "must be unfounded, as I was indicted by a grand jury in New York in 1912 on that charge, through an agent, he had told the steamer John G. McCullough to the government of Tunis in 1912. The law regarding the sale of ships to anyone not a citizen of the United States is the shipping board's permission."

"Concerning the reports of an indictment charging passing of payrolls at our Grotton, Conn. shipyard, this is entirely untrue. Government officials who reported that there was no padding of payrolls at Grotton. Even if there had been padding, inasmuch as our contracts with the shipping board all provided for the delivery of a certain tonnage at no matter what cost, there was no concern beyond the fulfillment of our contracts according to the stipulated terms."

The representations in the case made by the shipping board were regarded by the interior department as ample reason for its action. Ordinarily the case would require a protracted investigation, occupying probably two or three weeks.

The embassy called the Washington authorities that in view of the fact that the United States and Mr. Morse could be expected to arrive at New York aboard the Paris on that liner's next trip.

ARRESTED IN ITALY IN CONNECTION WITH DANIEL KABER CASE

CLEVELAND, Dec. 3.—Vittorio Cisselli, who is said to have stabbed to death Daniel Kaber, wealthy Cleveland publisher, two years ago, has been captured in Ripalimosani, Italy, according to word received here from two Cleveland detectives. He is being held there pending word from the Italian ambassador at Washington.

As there is no extradition treaty between the United States and Italy for capital offenses, Cisselli probably will be tried in that country. In that event the detectives will remain there and testify against him. In four other instances recently Italy has refused to send murderers back to this country.

Cisselli is the last of six alleged conspirators in the Kaber murder plot to be arrested.

Making Tunnels Safe Against Auto's Breath

THE exhaust gases of automobiles, laden as they are with deadly carbon monoxide, offer a problem of special seriousness in their relation to traffic through tunnels. It is a puzzle to know just how much fresh air needs to be supplied to tunnels in order that people passing through them shall be safe from ill effects.

To solve this puzzle the United States Bureau of Mines has built an experimental tunnel underground at Bruceton, Pa., just outside of Pittsburgh, with an oval track for motorcars and trucks. The tunnel is nine feet wide and eight feet high. Above the ceiling and beneath the floor are ducts for introducing fresh air and removing poisoned air.

The tunnel is equipped with apparatus for measuring the temperature, humidity and pressure of the air. Forty-eight air-sampling tubes are installed at eight spaced intervals in order to obtain samples for chemical analysis and to determine the difference in concentration of exhaust gases in various parts of the tunnel with different methods of ventilation.

In one test the motorcars were driven at intervals of ten miles an hour, while 21,000 cubic feet of air per minute—sufficient to maintain a concentration of four parts carbon monoxide to 10,000 parts of air—were passed through the tunnel. Then, after a determined period, each driver will be subjected to scientific examination to ascertain the effects produced.

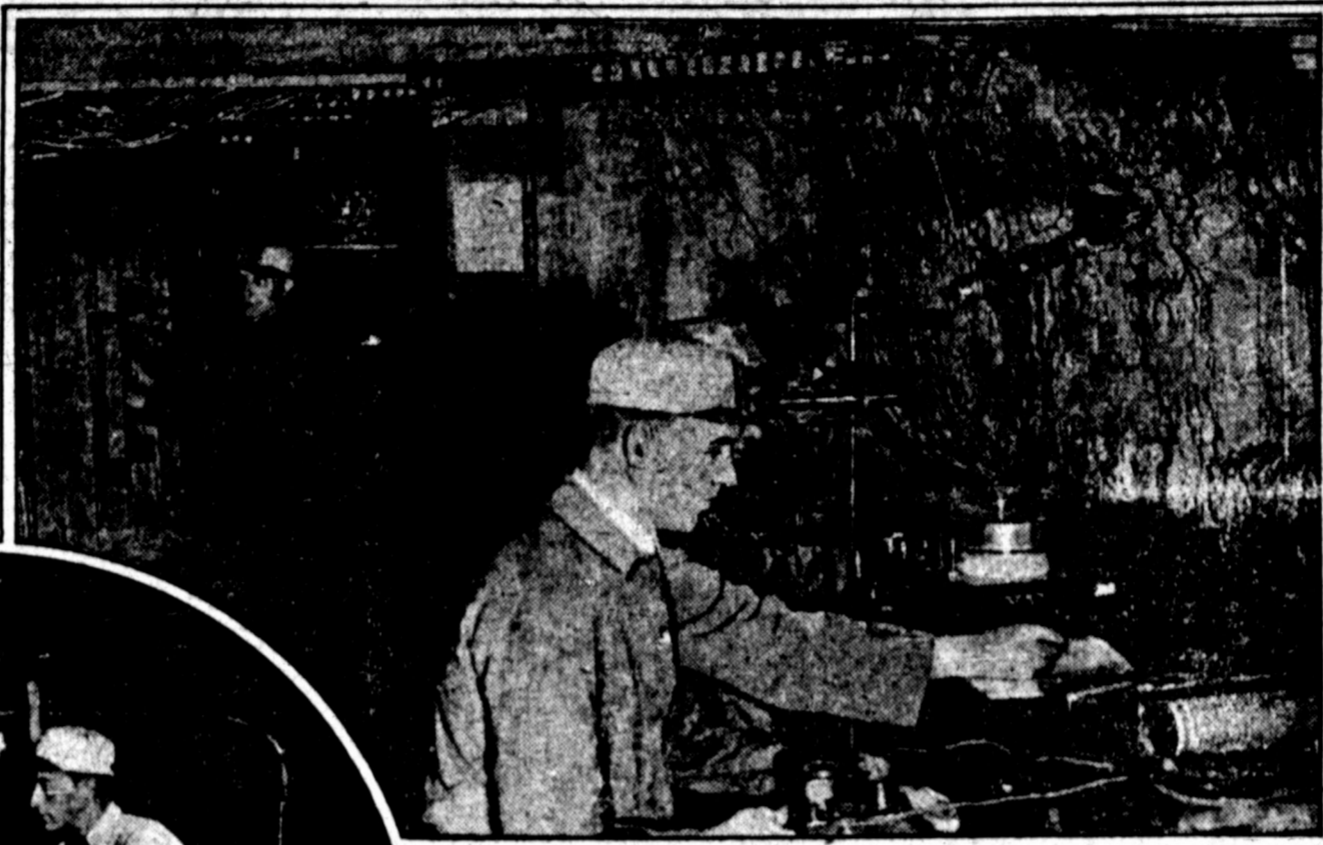

This, of course, will be only one of many tests. The effect of smoke and temperature on the drivers will be particularly noted. The tunnel here described is located 130 feet below the surface of the ground (advantage for this use having been taken of an existing experimental coal mine established by the Bureau of Mines at Bruceton), and it offers conditions similar to those that will govern the proposed 5000-foot tubes which, passing beneath the Hudson, are designed to handle vehicular traffic between Manhattan and Jersey City.

The experiments at Bruceton, in fact, have special reference to the problem of ventilating those tubes. Located as it is 1050 feet from the mouth of the mine and at no great depth, the elliptical tunnel has a constant temperature which is nearly the same as that underneath the Hudson River. Means are installed for heating and humidifying the air in imitation of the hottest summer day.

There has been a great deal of preliminary work in the way of actual tests—first on animals and then on men—conducted at the physiological laboratory of Yale University, in New Haven. One conclusion drawn from them was that no noticeable harmful effect follows exposure of one hour to exhaust gases when the latter are diluted to a point where there are not more than four parts of carbon monoxide to 10,000 of fresh air.

A Wheeled Chair Crutch

PARTICULARLY well adapted for use by maimed and convalescent soldiers would seem to be a "rolling crutch," which is the idea of Milton D. Scott, of Kewanee, Ill. It might be called a walking chair. A person using it can accomplish locomotion with a minimum of leg effort, or can sit down comfortably when he wishes. Four steel uprights resting upon casters-wheels (so that the contrivance may turn easily in any direction) are bent inward at their tops in such wise as to support two padded rods over which the user passes his arms to hold himself erect. Below, at the sides, are two bars between which a seat is hung by hooks that pass over the bars. The bars can be raised or lowered by inserting their ends into holes at different heights in the uprights which support them, thus adapting the seat to the stature of the occupant. The uprights are tubes which telescope in such way as to make it easy to adjust the padded shoulder-rests at any height suited to the stature of the user of the apparatus, thus rendering locomotion as little laborious for him as possible.

The air thus taken from the high and warmer level will be distributed through the valleys where fruit trees are grown. This endangers the trees, whose roots are liable to suffer most.

Fighting Frost in an Orchard

WILLIAM L. ROSS, of Porterville, Calif., has a novel scheme for protecting fruit orchards against frost-bite.

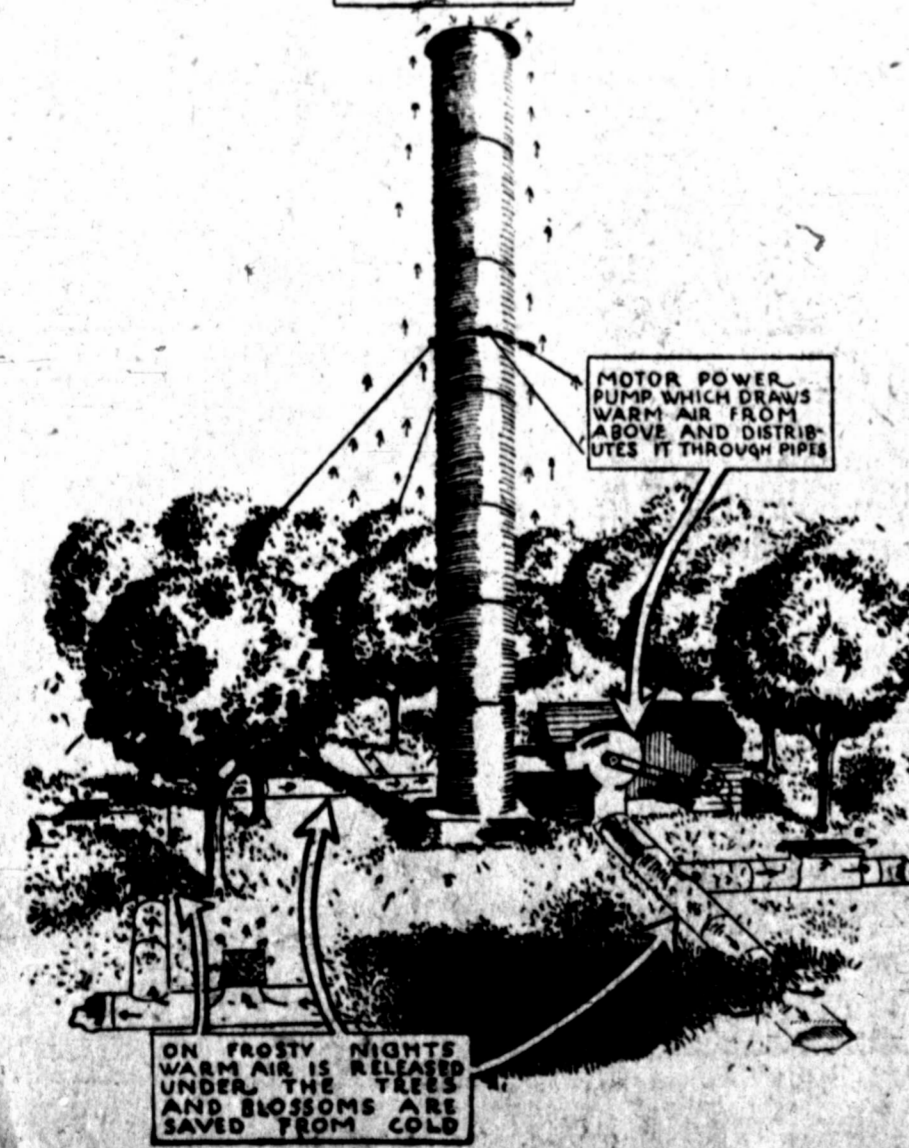

Cold air, being relatively heavy, tends to seek low places, and hence, especially in calm weather, falls to the bottom levels in the valleys where fruit trees are grown. This endangers the trees, whose roots are liable to suffer most.

To combat this mischief, the inventor proposes to erect standpipes tall enough to

Working the Hens Overtime

IF A hen can be persuaded to get up early in the morning she will eat more food and lay a greater number of eggs during a season than another hen that is not an early riser.

The hen does not get up or go to bed by the clock; she relies upon the sun. In the winter time, therefore, her working day is short.

This, for the reason above mentioned, is disadvantageous from the farmer's point of view, especially when it is considered that winter is the season of high prices for eggs. Hence the idea of using electric lights in the hen house to furnish an artificial daylight in the late fall and winter, turning them on early in the morning, and thereby inducing the unsuspecting pullets to get up and attend to business.

The plan has proved a great success, and many enterprising poultrymen have adopted it with much profit to themselves. The electric lights are turned on about November 1, the total allowance of daylight, real and artificial, being fourteen hours.

That is enough. If the lights are run too long, the hens will produce well for a short time and then will begin to molt. The artificial lighting should be discontinued about April 1, but not too suddenly. It is desirable that the electric lamps shall be hung from the ceiling in such fashion as to illuminate the entire floor of the hen-house. If any parts of the floor are not illuminated, the hens will go to sleep in the shadows.

In one experiment, 500 unlighted pullets made a profit of $3.20 apiece, while 500 lighted hens earned $5.07 each. When an evening lunch was given, the profit rose to $5.48 per bird. The cost of operation was slightly less than four and a half cents per hen. An increase of a single egg paid it.

Elaborate experiments in this line have been made at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, in New Brunswick. Results have proved that electric lighting nearly doubles the production of eggs during the period of high prices—far more than paying for the cost of the lights and extra feed. Furthermore, the artificially lighted flock is healthier.

A Horsehair Strop

SOMETHING altogether new in the way of a razor strop is the invention of Mack Pecher, of Denver. The stuff that does the sharpening is horsehair.

Not woven horsehair, be it understood, but the long hairs of a horse's mane or tail gathered into a bunch and fastened together at the ends. A leather handle and a swivel-jointed ring, with hook to hang it by, make the device complete.

The inventor says that a strop of this kind is superior to any other for putting an edge on a razor. The loose strands of hair straighten out to a flat surface when held taut by the handle, so that the blade runs along nicely and smoothly.

The Knitter's Friend

IT IS the fashion nowadays to knit in public. Why, nobody knows. During the war it was supposed to be an evidence of patriotism, conveying a suggestion of socks and sweaters for our soldier boys. But now it is just a fad. Women knit while walking on the street; they do it—or crochet or tat—between hands at bridge (a practice most exasperating to many card players), and they even take their "work" of this sort to the theatre with them, picking it up between the acts.

There has always been trouble about the knitting-ball. It is constantly dropping off of the knitter's lap, rolling afar and getting tangled. Inconvenient and annoying.

A woman, Edna M. Christensen, of Winnetka, S. D., has newly patented a contrivance for making the knitting-ball stay put, so to speak. It is a hollow sphere of celluloid, made in two halves that are hinged together so as to be readily opened or shut. When closed they are held shut with a clasp.

The knitting-ball is put inside. The free end of the thread is passed through a little hole so as to emerge from the celluloid sphere. The two halves are snapped together and the clasp secures them. Then the device is ready for use, the thread being pulled out through the hole as fast as it is wanted. For convenience the sphere is provided with a handle, the ends of which are looped through a couple of "ears" on its outside. The knitter passes the handle over her arm. So light is the contrivance that it is no trouble to carry and the knitting-ball cannot possibly get away.

Carrying Electric Power Wires by Balloons

OFTEN it happens that electric power cannot conveniently be employed for driving farming implements, harvesting ice, working ferryboats and other purposes because of the expense and difficulty of constructing and maintaining properly supported and insulated transmission lines. Especially in agriculture there is such difficulty, the fields over which implements must be driven being often extensive and widely separated. Under such circumstances a costly transmission line must be installed and long flexible cables connecting it with the mobile machine must be dragged by the latter over the ground as it moves about. Now comes a Massachusetts inventor, Norman F. Rutherford, of East Falmouth, with an idea for overcoming this difficulty. He proposes to suspend the transmission cable from captive balloons, connected by ropes to windlasses, so as to be sent up or hauled down at will.

The earth being used as part of the circuit only a single wire would need to be supported by the balloons, and, inasmuch as the wire would require no insulation, the cable would be very light. The balloons would take up all slack, thus keeping the cable clear of the ground. By the same means a ferryboat could be run, deriving power from a transformer station on shore, while the balloons, rising and falling to take up or let out slack as the boat moved back and forth, would keep the cable free from the water.

Candy Made From Apples

IMMENSE quantities of apples are fed to hogs, or even allowed to rot, because they are "culls"—that is, defective, or too small to be worth sending to market. Uses from them ought to be found.

The Utah Agricultural Experiment Station has been trying to turn them to account for candymaking.

During the war an attempt was made to produce a concentrated form of apples for soldiers in the trenches, and a novelty evolved was "apples flakes." To make them, apples (after removing the skins) were pared clear down to the core, being thus reduced to the shape of long thin strips. Packed in airtight cans, they would keep good indefinitely and they were pronounced delicious.

Unfortunately, the method could not be economically applied for large-scale market purposes. It was too expensive in labor.

As a result of many experiments, the Utah experts have managed to work out a process for manufacturing apple candy cheaply.

They ground peeled apples in an ordinary household meat-grinder, added sugar in the proportion of fifteen pounds to 100 pounds of the fruit, spread the mixture half an inch deep in pans, and evaporated it for forty-eight hours. They called the product "apple leather," because, while it tasted good, it was very hard to chew.

This difficulty was overcome by grinding the apple leather, mixing it with a sirup of three pounds of sugar to one pound of water, and drying the paste thus formed. The result was a highly satisfactory chewable candy, which, if desired, might contain nuts.

They found that a delightful variety of candies could be home-made by taking apple pulp, or any other fruit pulp, minus skins and seeds, putting it in a pan with plenty of sugar or corn sirup, cooking slowly till stiff, pouring out on greased porcelain or marble, and allowing the stuff to cool and dry for several days. When nearly dry, it should be cut in shapes, rolled in granulated or powdered sugar and dried some more. Store in airtight tins.

Bridge Shocks

AN ORDINARY hammer weighs only a few ounces, yet, lightly wielded, it easily drives a nail through an inch board.

The shock does it. To an automobile, if driven fast across a bridge, the same principle applies. It gives to the bridge a series of shocks which may endanger a lightly built structure. For this reason it is that signs are commonly put up on bridges warning drivers of vehicles not to exceed a certain speed.

The United States Office of Public Roads has found by scientific tests that a swiftly driven motortruck communicates to a bridge shocks equivalent to seven times its own weight. An instrument has been newly devised which, attached to a bridge, makes a photographic record of the effect of a load moving over it. By this means data have been obtained which are expected to enable engineers to calculate with much greater accuracy the provisions that must be made in bridge building against strains and stresses.

THE LORD MAYOR "WEIGHS IN"—In some sections of England they still cling to the old custom of publicly weighing the lord mayor when he is inaugurated. Maybe it's in line with the old adage "weighed and found wanting." Or maybe it's to see how much he will gain while mayor. This picture shows G. H. Taylor being weighed as he begins his term as lord mayor of an English city.

AN AERIAL KNOT—Henry Tomcray, Shreveport, La., and Miss Marie Blanchard, 18, Oakdale, La., niece of Newton C. Blanchard, former governor and senator of Louisiana, were married 2000 feet above New Orleans. Witnesses followed in another airplane. When the groom said, "Yes" a white signal was flashed. When the bride accepted him, a blue one, and when Rev. Philip Deschner pronounced them man and wife, a red one. The planes then landed and the witnesses signed the papers.

EARS AND LIPS FOR THE FRENCH—Miss Ethelyn White, of New York, is chief interpreter at the peace parleys at Versailles and acted in a similar capacity for the A. E. F.

MAKING 30,000 CHILDREN IN HEALTH WORK—Mrs. Ernest R. Grant directed the Children's Health Crusade in Washington, D. C., and enrolled 26,000 in a year. The children were presented by President Harding with an inter-city cup for the highest enrollment. The movement is promoted by the National Antituberculosis Association.

WHY HURRY?—Redwing was tired. And he was way ahead of the others. So what was the use of jumping the fence when he could walk? It! Walter Stokes, his rider, felt the same way about it. This freak photograph shows how Redwing won the three-and-a-half-mile cross country run at Radnor Hunt, Philadelphia.

JUVENILE ACTORS IN SCHOOL—Children of stage and screen can't go to school in regular hours so they attend the Professional Children's School in New York. At the blackboard Arline Blackburn, who plays with Wesley Barry in "Schooldays," Geraldine Ballard and Leonard Guion appear in "Salvation Nell" and Pathe pictures. Their teacher is Miss Edna Gibson.

BOUQUETS FOR DRY MISSIONARY—"Pussyfoot" Johnson got a less stormy reception in India than the Prince of Wales did. When he landed in Calcutta to tell the natives about the curse of drink he was wreathed with garlands of flowers, the native way of saying "Welcome to Our City."

75,000 JEWELS!—Mrs. Smith-Wilkinson, who plans to dazzle America with her costly wardrobe, caused a sensation at the Victory ball in London. She literally "blazed" her way into the Prince of Wales' box wearing 75,000 diamonds and pearls insured for $5,000,000.

HOPE FOR HIM—Deputy Surgeon-General Clarence Cooper of England will know how to play golf seven years from now. He's only 83 and the first 100 years are the hardest. Started to play in 1858. Here he is on the links at South Norwood Park, England.

GOLF PEAL? Y' CANT POOL US!—Camp Fire Girls, 300 of 'em, say this is a fine autumn game. "It's not leap frog," they say. "That's a boy's game. This is golf peal." But the girls can't fool us. That's leap frog spelled backwards.

WATCH OUT! YOU'LL CHOKE!—They say this is the largest "hot dog" sandwich in the world and that it took two Newfoundland dogs to make the sandwich. At any rate, Philip Stern made a gallant attempt to eat it all in 20 minutes. He lost the bet. This, at "Max's Busy Bee" in Park Row, New York.

Six Letter Men Back Trying To Win Places On Texas Quintet.

AUSTIN, Dec. 2.—Interest in athletics in the University of Texas is now turning toward basketball with the close of the football season. Practices in this sport are being held each afternoon in the men's gymnasium with L. Theo Bellmont, director of physical training for men, in charge of the work-out.

Among the men trying out for places there are six letter men back. These are the following: Paul Newman, Dallas; Ed Barrett, Austin; P. A. Peyton, Washington, D. C.; Warner Duckett, Houston; George Hill, Fort Worth, and George McCullough, Fayette, Mo.

Improvements are being made in the men's gym where match games will be held in order to accommodate the large crowds who witness the contests. More seats are being placed around the court so that the seating capacity will be increased by about 100.

George McCullough, captain of the 1922 team, was generally regarded as the best guard in the state last year, and was a popular choice for all-conference guard on the mythical five. During the football season, his playing was sensational, and kept up his reputation as an all-around athlete.

Among the men trying out for places on the varsity squad the following have been listed: Forward—Paul Newman, Dallas; Ed Barrett, Austin; P. A. Peyton, Washington, D. C.; Truman McCord, Cisco; Vernon Schuchardt, San Antonio; Alphonso Ragland, Dallas.

George Pandegar, Oklahoma; J. W. Duckett, Houston; Joe Ward, Fort Worth.

Guard—George Hill, Fort Worth; Albert Currie, Fort Worth; George McCullough, Ivan Robertson, Dallas; Robert Weldon, Fort Worth; C. A. Pringer, Pflugerville.

BERKELEY, CALIF., Dec. 2.—The executive committee of the University of California student body tonight reached a definite decision not to play Central college of Kentucky in a football contest at San Diego December 16.

The reason given was that Christmas examinations at the University of California are so close that participating in them the football players would not have sufficient time for training for the game.

The executive committee also considered today the proposal of playing Washington and Jefferson colleges January 2 at Pasadena. Unable to reach a decision adjournment was taken until tomorrow when definite announcements will be announced. It was said.

GIANTS WILL TRAIN IN SAN ANTONIO ONCE MORE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The New York National league baseball club has again selected San Antonio, Texas, for its spring training grounds. Secretary James T. Kearney announced last night that the Giants have been granted permission by Harry J. Benson, owner of the San Antonio club of the Texas league.

He said, to use the Bears' park. The Giants will engage in 25 exhibition games during the training with the Chicago White Sox and the Memphis Southern association club as opponents.

Unless Cleveland and New York are able to secure a dependable left-hander before the opening of the season, the two leaders in 1921 will again be minus of very great assets. Both teams showed the way without a southpaw in 1921, but their road to the top would have been much easier to travel had they been so blessed.

It was rather strange to pick up the box scores last summer and see where Grover Alexander was knocked out of the box one day and a few days later Walter Johnson was treated to a similar dose. Five or six years ago it was a calamity for such a thing to happen to either of the two great stars. It is rather funny to see that in the present year, in any business, there comes a time in your career when you start going the other way. However, Johnson and Alexander are still great pitchers, who are far from through.

It is surprising the hold that golf has on most ball players. In fact, some managers are not very strong for the morning 9 or 10 holes, which a lot of their players indulge in. They insist it takes some of the snap out of their attack. As a matter of fact, it is not true. A player who has played the real enjoyment in driving. Babe Ruth says a driver is the only style-club he carries in his bag. The short game hasn't much of an appeal to the ball players.

The other day some one asked me what I thought of Frankie Frisch of the New York Giants. Most any one would be perfectly safe in answering that Frisch was a wonderful player. I am going to say that such about him, and then a little more.

Frisch is one of the fastest men in the game. He has a wonderful hitting arm. However, he is far from a finished fliedier. He seldom handles a ground ball cleanly. He knocks them down, sometimes kicks some around, but his great speed and wonderful arm always save him.

Frisch does practically all his sliding head-first. He is one of the greatest base runners still using that style. I believe he will be more able to adopt the feet first system, as there is much less chance of injury. Hal Chase was a great ball player who simply could not learn to slide feet first. Possibly Frisch is the same type.

CHILDRESS DEFEATS VERNON HI 27 TO 7

Panhandle Team Never Forced To Extend Itself To Win.

VERNON, Dec. 2.—In a post season here this afternoon with the strong Childrens football team Vernon high school suffered defeat 27 to 7, the only score of the 1921 season in the final quarter when, after walking to the 45-yard line after a punt over the goal line, Childrens scored two touchdowns in the first half, one in the second, and in the second half made but one more. The visitors were not obliged to extend themselves at any stage of the contest. Vernon played raggedly and only showed spurts of effective form.

HOW TO PLAY GOLF

By JESSE P. GUILFORD Amateur Golf Champion of the United States.

Advantages of Imitation. I believe that the caddies who have come to the attention of golfers can lay their success in golf to two things: first, the fact that they learned the game in their youth, and second, the power of imitation. Often I have gone out back of the caddy house on the different courses and seen a number of boys swinging clubs in imitation of their favorite. "Say, this is Chick Evans driving," one will say, while another will be howling for attention, and the caddy house ones usually find a miniature Vardon, Ray, Mitchell, Duncan, Evans, Quimble or any of the better class of the imitations are good, for these little imitations are good, for these little imitations are good, for these little imitations are good.

much from observing the play of good golfers. Perhaps one or two hours in watching one's favorite play is worth more than several hours of lessons, and the boy who is privileged to play around the course with his idol of the game is indeed proud. Massachusetts has today many fine young golfers, all of whom have been taught by the same method, and I believe that I feel sure that they learned more from observation and imitation than in any other way.

It is not only the children who profit in golf by watching and imitating the better golfers, but those of mature age improve much more rapidly if they associate with men who play better than average golf. This has been the result in the case of a very good friend of mine with whom I have played a great deal during the last two years. This man has been playing golf only three years, yet he is now capable of making in the upper 70s and lower 80s. I do not want to appear conceited in any way, but I strongly believe that this man spent the greater part of his time playing with men who were just learning the game that he would still be in the 100 class. He attributes his success in golf to the fact that he has played so much with the good players of this state, and he has 'ed in every way to imitate their game. In addition to the fact that he has played so much with the good players of this state, and he has 'ed in every way to imitate their game. In addition to the fact that he has played so much with the good players of this state, and he has 'ed in every way to imitate their game.

That golfers realize the advantage in watching the play of golfers of championship qualifications is evident by the crowds which turn out to follow the big tournaments, and I have no doubt that each golfer learns something during the championship which will aid him in his own game.

It was over the Elkwood course in 1913 at the national amateur championship that I had my really first glimpse of a galaxy of stars. At that time I had two or three features to my game. The first was that I used the double V grip, and second, I had a swing which reached almost to the ground. I said that the double V grip was a bad feature because I used it to get extreme distance, and my direction was in the direction of the center of the club. At that time I noticed the majority of players using the overlapping grip, and I also noticed that the "wing" was held in check, and so I resolved to alter these two features of my game.

The youth, upon taking up golf, usually takes as his example one of the better golfers whom he has seen in play, and he then tries to pattern his own game after the same lines. Even the boys who take lessons from good professionals can learn

BILLY EVANS SAYS:

Will Bob Shawkey be able to deliver next year? Certainly Bob didn't look at all impressive in the world series, in a measure the chances of the Yankees to repeat depend on Shawkey's showing.

It is hard to believe that Shawkey is through. He is still a very young man. In the spring of 1921 he looked very ordinary. In mid-season he was great. In the fall he slumped into early spring form.

I am inclined to think that Shawkey's failure to show last year was due far more to lack of confidence than ability. Things broke badly for him. The harder he tried, the tougher the breaks. He lost confidence in himself. I feel that he will regain the "old confidence" as Hughie Jennings would say, and win many a game for New York in 1922.

The case of Jim Bagby of Cleveland was very much similar to that of Shawkey. While his usual amount of stuff, plus his good judgment, Jim wasn't able to win. In 1920 no matter how good or bad he worked, it was always the same, a trimming. It was lack of confidence with Bagby. No pitcher can get very far without it.

Unless Cleveland and New York are able to secure a dependable left-hander before the opening of the season, the two leaders in 1921 will again be minus of very great assets. Both teams showed the way without a southpaw in 1921, but their road to the top would have been much easier to travel had they been so blessed.

THE UNDISPUTED CHAMP

—By Wood Cowan

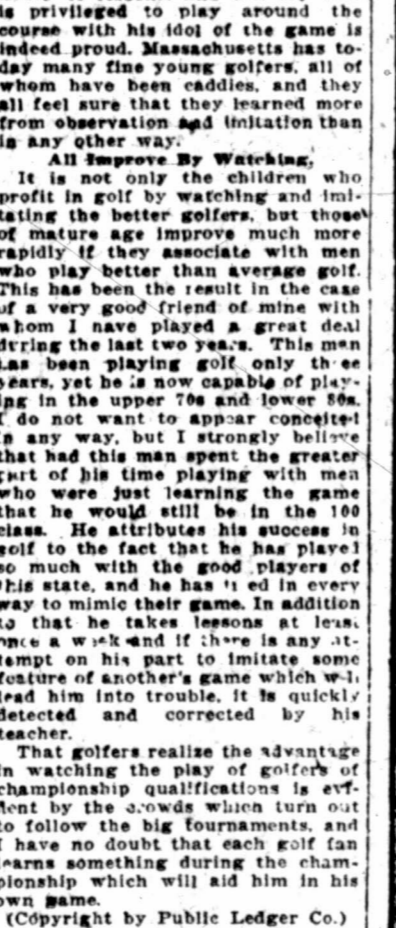

Picking champion football teams is usually a great problem in solving the fourth dimension. It is seldom that a team crops up strong enough to establish itself as the undisputed champion of any section, east, west or south.

Iowa has clearly demonstrated her ability as the superior football aggregation in the middle west. She went through the season without a defeat and, while doing so, uncovered a quarter in Captain Aubrey Devine who proved to be another Eckersall—many think him even better than "Kekke" ever was. Eckersall himself declares that Devine is the "logical choice for quarterback on any critic's all-American team." Devine is a sterling kicker, a brilliant open field runner, a cool and resourceful field general, and a master at the overhead game. The Hawkeyes were coached by Howard Jones, brother of Tad Jones of Yale, whose excellent system has carried Iowa through the most successful football year in her history.

Saturday Sermonette

BE BUSY

By RICHARD LLOYD JONES

You cannot test your muscle sitting still. You cannot find out what your brain can do by going to sleep. Repose is not a prodler to progress. Its proper place is after work, not before work. Work is for living, rest for the dead. Be a live one.

It has often been said "Thou shalt work" should be one of the commandments of every religion. Work is the noble yardstick by which we determine the worth of all things. It is the climax of God's gifts to man. It is a blessing not a curse. Deprive a man of the right to work and you have imposed the superlative punishment because man knows no joy or repose that is not found along the pathway of work.

The man who never does anything never knows anything. The man who never works never gets anything. He may be given things but he can only again give. He knows no building game.

The traveled rail and the driving piston rod are polished by use. The idle piece of steel is red with rust. Better to wear out than to rust out.

History is the story of work, the record of achievements. In its index you cannot find the names of idlers. Contribute something to the history of something.

To know work as a friend is the hallmark of wisdom. It is by journeying through the shadows of life that we learn the solace of daily tasks.

The tenderness that denies effort is cruelty. It makes characterless that which was endowed with strength.

Work is expression. If you can't express yourself in one way or another—but try. If you can't build a cathedral, dig a ditch. But do something.

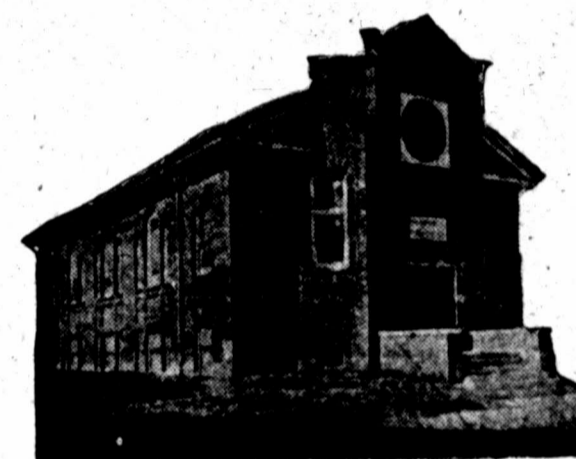

Only workers win the world's respect. God does not hold us responsible for results; only for faithfulness.

Work was made for man, not man for work. He who fails at his task permits work to be his master. Success comes to him who is master of his work.

Work is so respectable that there is no one no matter how rich or lazy who does not at least pretend to work at something and who does not want to be known as a worker.

Work is the greatest educator. Tackle a job that is a little above you; grow to it and you engage in work. Tackle a job that is below you and you engage in drudgery. Put your heart into work and your labor becomes the light of life.

Work is the highway to human welfare.
