INDICATE POWERFUL INFLUENCES ENDEAVORING TO DIVERT INQUIRY INTO SLAYING OF FILM DIRECTOR

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Indications that powerful influences in the motion picture world were endeavoring to divert the inquiry into the slaying of William Desmond Taylor and to prevent its execution in certain directions were reported today by officers employed on the case.

Unexpected obstacles, coming up later, they said, were growing more and more clear. Included in these obstacles were the disappearance of bits of evidence, including letters written to Miss Minter by Miles Minter and Mabel Normand.

These letters were missing immediately after the shooting and were reported to have been returned to the writers by some unofficial agency. Miss Normand denied that she had received her letters. Miss Minter was in seclusion, her residence guarded by detectives, but a denial was issued for her.

Another disappearing clue was a handkerchief initialed "S." for a time believed to be the property of Edward F. Sande, missing butler-secretary, now sought in connection with the case. The police now, however, think this handkerchief belonged to a motion picture producer and they want to confront him with it as a basis for interrogation.

Efforts to end the wide publicity given the case and those connected with it were also intensified yesterday, representatives of Miss Minter especially seeking to prevent publication of the fact that her home was under guard.

The disappearance from Taylor's home of a woman's pink silk night dress, which was said by Henry Pease, house man, to have been seen by Taylor, has been mentioned in a list of occurrences "detrimental to the investigation."

NEW YORK REPORTS ARREST OF "DAPPER DON" COLLINS. NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Don Collins, ex-convict and tenderloin habitué, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, has been arrested in Miami, Fla., according to a telegram received by the police.

Collins, notorious as a blackmailer and with a criminal record involving him in bootlegging, petty larceny, and other offenses, was taken on women, known to the police as "Dapper Don," has been sought by the New York police since May, 1921. He was in connection with the shooting of John H. Reid, wealthy silk manufacturer, in the home of Mrs. Hazel Davis Warner on May 15, but evaded capture.

Collins' most recent exploit occurred in Philadelphia last December when government agents sought him on a charge of bringing the liquor laden submarine chaser "No. 10" from New York to the coast, accompanied him on the voyage.

MIAMI CITY POLICE HAVE NO KNOWLEDGE OF ARREST. MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 8.—Miami city police have no knowledge of the purported arrest here of Don Collins, ex-convict and tenderloin habitué, in connection with the murder of William Desmond Taylor, Hollywood motion picture director as reported in New York dispatches. The police are holding for further information the name of a man, alias White, wanted for embezzlement, and it is believed here that the arrest of Ferreris may have caused the erroneous report.

"DAPPER DON" COLLINS HAS HAD LONG CRIMINAL RECORD. NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Threads of the Williams Desmond Taylor mystery stretching across the continent, tonight pulled aside the curtains that had been drawn over the past life of Taylor and his former wife, once one of the famous Florida beauties.

At the same time New York police began to take an interest in the case with word that "Dapper Don" Collins was wanted for questioning in connection with the murder of the movie director in his Los Angeles home. Collins is known to New York and Philadelphia police as a blackmailer and rum smuggler.

Former members of several of the most notorious criminal gangs of Philadelphia and New York, arrested several times for crimes ranging from assaults on women and petty larceny, to robbery and confidence work, Collins had taken them and a few modern American criminals have exceeded.

A florid, blonde, thick set, bulldog faced man, "Dapper Don," testified in the murder trial of H. G. Twyman, former military instructor at the state juvenile training school, again centered today around the alleged treatment of Dell Thames, 14 year old boy, for whose death Twyman is on trial, at the hands of Joe Thomas and Eddie Stokes, boy captains, before and while they were escorting Thames to the military instructor for punishment for alleged disobedience of school rules.

Four inmates of the school, examined this morning, testified that young Thames was kicked, hit and beaten by Joe Thomas while on drill on September 23, the day of his death, as well as on the preceding day. Honor Wolfe testified that Thames told Thames he would kill him if he didn't hold his head up.

Witness said Thames was weak and unable to hold his head up, and was struck in the stomach by Thomas. He declared Thames was knocked Thames down ten times the day before and on the day of the lad's death.

Wolfe testified Thames was more "dead than alive" when Thomas and Stokes were taking him to Twyman for punishment on the fatal September 25.

"When Thames' head would fall down, Thames would hold his head up, he would reply that he was not unjostled," Wolfe testified. Three other witnesses testified Thames was struck and kicked by boy captains.

The defense expects to place C. E. King, former superintendent of the school, on the stand this afternoon. King probably will be followed by Twyman.

GATESVILLE, TEXAS, Feb. 8.—Testimony in the murder trial of H. G. Twyman, former military instructor at the state juvenile training school, again centered today around the alleged treatment of Dell Thames, 14 year old boy, for whose death Twyman is on trial, at the hands of Joe Thomas and Eddie Stokes, boy captains, before and while they were escorting Thames to the military instructor for punishment for alleged disobedience of school rules.

Make Every Meal A Perfect Feast

Tanlac Makes Each Bite a New Delight.

When your digestive system is working efficiently and smoothly, extracting from your food abundant stores of vital energy and piling up a reserve force of vigor to meet any emergency, every bite is eaten with keen zest and appreciation.

If your meals are not a real event, if you do not approach the table with the most lively anticipation of its delights, then you are only half living, because you are only half getting the value of your food.

Lack of appetite, or distress from indigestion, the appetite, are both due to the same cause—failure of the digestive system to properly do its important work. The undigested food remaining in the alimentary canal may merely cause a distaste for more food when it cannot take care of what it has, or it may undergo chemical and purification changes that cause acute disease.

Besides, these chemical changes produce poisonous substances that are carried to every cell and organ of the body and that cause all sorts of distressing symptoms.

Tanlac, the famous digestive tonic and body builder, has achieved its wide success because it is able to invigorate the entire digestive tract. It acts to cause vigorous stomach preparation of the food, both through the muscular churning action of that organ and through ample secretion of digestive fluids. It then promotes energetic action of all the bowel muscles and glands and enables the food to pass through the digestive canal in the normal time. Each of the thousands of little glands whose duty it is to pick up nourishment from the food and send this to all parts of the body are stimulated to their utmost. The whole result is that food is taken care of without distress of any sort in such manner as to derive the utmost benefit from it.

If your appetite is not keen, if your food seems to disagree with you, if you are underweight, nervous, irritable and lack energy, give Tanlac the chance to give you a new work a miracle in your condition, as it has in so many thousands of other cases.

If you are a despondent, gloomy, with little taste for and enjoyment of life, try Tanlac and no doubt you will see the clouds of care roll away under the sunshine of health.

You are entitled to be healthy, vigorous, efficient and happy. Give yourself the chance to become so as thousands of others have, by taking Tanlac.

Get Tanlac from your druggist this very day. Why wait for tomorrow when Tanlac can help you today?

Tanlac is sold in Wichita Falls by Miller Drug Store, in Electric by Tarleton Drug Company, West End Drug Company, Burk Burnett, and by all leading druggists—adv.

NEW POPE VOICES ADMIRATION FOR AMERICAN PEOPLE

By Associated Press

ROME, Feb. 8.—Pope Pius XI expressed "unbounded admiration" for the American people and voiced his deep interest in the work of the Washington conference at his reception of Cardinal O'Connell of Boston yesterday.

"I was happy to see your peace loving country take the first step toward amelioration of this monstrous evil of armament," the pope said. "Like my illustrious and lamented predecessor I have unbounded admiration for the energy and charity and the great heart of your people."

While laying his hand on the American cardinal's shoulder, he added slowly: "You Americans are young in years, but old in wisdom, worldly prudence and foresight. Your innate qualities of fairness, justice and peace, your great spiritual stability and your infinite riches make you the hope and anchor-ship of the world."

Cardinal Vanuttelli, dean of the sacred college, and many of the other cardinals expressed their disappointment that Cardinal O'Connell had not arrived in time.

The cardinal denied a story published in the Home newspapers that he had brought $2,000,000 from America as a gift to the Vatican.

"I didn't bring a cent," he added. "I had enough to do to bring me sufficient money to pay the expenses of such a long and arduous trip."

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8.—James Hall, a banker and farmer in Lewis county, obtained a judgment yesterday in Judge Buckner's division of the circuit court against the Stewart Land company and the Stewart Mortgage company, a subsidiary, for $15,600. Damage suits totaling more than $200,000 are pending in the circuit court here against the land company, officials of which were recently indicted by a federal grand jury for alleged land frauds. The company has large holdings in Hidalgo county, Texas.

DEATH PENALTY FOR CRIMINAL ASSAULT AFFIRMED BY COURT

AUSTIN, Feb. 8.—The death penalty assessed against J. T. Parks, convicted in Dallas county on a charge of criminal assault, was affirmed today by the court of criminal appeals.

The court also affirmed the sentence of Frank Squires, from Shelby county, to 10 years' imprisonment on a murder charge. Squires in the sum of $7,500 in the case of M. M. Thomas, charged in Erath county with automobile theft, was considered excessive by the court and reduced to $2,000.

General Murguia declares he has no connection with Mexican revolt.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 8.—Gen. Francisco Murguia, military commander of the department of Zacatecas, Mexico, under the late President Carranza, declared here today he has no connection with any of the so-called revolts reported throughout Mexico in the last few weeks. However, he predicted that the revolution would be a permanent one.

General Murguia lives eight miles south of San Antonio on a small farm with his wife and three sons. He declared he has lived a retired life since June, 1921, when he came to San Antonio.

General Murguia charged that reports "circulated by Mexican authorities" that he was heading a revolutionary movement "are lies circulated with the hope of embroiling me with American authorities."

He said he would not return to Mexico on February 15 at the head of an invading party, as "they in Mexico have reported."

Murguia declared that confederate methods of the Obregonistas will surely bring their power tumbling down upon their heads, and said he himself had lost a ranch of 100,000 acres in Zacatecas.

"Few countries," he continued, "have recognized the government of Obregon and his associates. I have strong protests against the high-handed methods of the Obregonistas and their utter disregard of property rights of nationals of other countries."

"I expect the revolution, and it will be participated in by all classes in Mexico, to continue this year, 1922, probably as late as next year. It is disquieting there in all classes: merchants, ranchmen, farmers, miners, professional men and the laboring people."

FIRST STEP TO REAL AND LASTING PEACE

Agreement at Conference So Glazed by Premier Baron Takahashi.

TOKYO, Feb. 8.—The agreements reached at the Washington conference mark the first step toward establishment of a "real and lasting peace" with the possibility of abolition of armaments, Premier Baron Takahashi told the house of peers yesterday.

"The imperial government does not pretend that the conference was an unqualified success as viewed from an individual standpoint," he said. "It does believe with the other powers that the present agreements are the first step toward realization of a lasting peace and that agreement will grow in the future even into an understanding for the total abolition of defense."

The premier's utterance came in reply to interpellation by Baron Toshiatsu Sakamoto, who characterized the Hughes proposals for standard limitation of navies as flagrantly improper, since he excluded the considerations of the individual nation's geographical positions and relative naval strength on the wrong basis.

by WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

The crook broke down. "I'll tell you right where the gold's at. In the heart of the shack. Buried in a gunnysack.
They rode back across the valley to the cabin. Miller pointed out the spot where the stolen treasure was cached. With an old axe as a spade Dave dug away the dirt till he came to the sack.

CHAPTER XVII.
Reluctantly, Miller repeated his story to Sheriff Applegate. Under the circumstances he was not sorry that he was to be returned to the penitentiary, for he recognized that his life at large would not be safe so long as Sherry and Doble were ranging the hills.
The sheriff gave Crawford a receipt for the gold after they had hunted it out and found none missing.
The old cattleman rose from the table and reached for his hat.
"Come on, son," he said to Dave.
"I'll say we've done a good day's work. Both of us were under a cloud. Now we're clear. Applegate, you'll get both the confessions of Miller fixed up, won't you? I'll want the one about George Doble's death to take with me to the governor of Colorado. I'm taking the train tomorrow.
"I'll have the district attorney fix up the papers," the sheriff promised.
Emerson Crawford hooked an arm under the elbow of Sanders and left the room.

"I'm wonderin' about one thing, boy," he said. "Did Miller kill George Doble accidentally or on purpose?"
"That Denver bartender said they had been quarreling a good deal. They were having a row at the very time when I met them at the site of the corral. It's a ten to one shot that Miller took the chance to plug Doble and make me pay for it."
"Looks likely, but I'll never know. Son, you've had a rotten deal handed you."
"Nobody can give you back the gold of your life," the cattleman went on. "But we'll get your record straightened out, anyhow, so that you won't stand against you. I know your girl will want to be tied to hear the news. Joy always has stuck out that you were treated shameful."
"There's something else I'm goin' to have put into the minutes of the next meetin', Dave." Crawford went on. "And that's your election as treasurer of the club. I've got officers around me that I can trust, son."

"I don't know anything about finance or about bookkeeping," Dave said.
"You'll learn. I want some one or treasurer that's level headed and knows how to make a quick turn when he has to, some one that uses the gray stuff in his cocoanut. We'll fix a salary when we get goin'. You and I are goin' to have the active management of this concern. Cattle's my line, an' I aim to stick to it. Him and you can talk it over and fix your rates as they won't conflict. Burns, of course, will run the actual drillin'. He's an A1 man. Don't let him go. Dave was profoundly touched. No man could be kinder to his own son, could show more confidence in him, than Emerson Crawford was to one who had no claims upon him.
"He murmured a dry 'Thank you,' then, feeling this to be inadequate, added, 'I'll try to see you don't regret this.'"
The cattleman was a shrewd judge of men. His action now was not based solely upon humanitarian motives. It was good business to make it worth his while to stick to Crawford's enterprises.

CHAPTER XIX.
Emerson Crawford helped himself to another fried egg from the platter and shook his knife at the bright eyed girl opposite.
"I tell you, honey, the boy's a wonder," he insisted. "Knows what he wants and goes right after it. Don't waste any words. Don't beat round the bush."
Joyce jumped up and ran around the table to him. She sat on the arm of his chair, a straight, slim creature very much alive, and pressed her face of flushed loveliness against his head. "It won't be your fault, old duck, if things don't go well with him. But he's so—so—Oh, I don't know—stiff as a poker. Acts as if he doesn't want to be friends, as if we're all ready to turn against him."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure purgative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive coated tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after-effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take the old of the trouble and quickly correct why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

you must have suffered. We didn't think you'd hold us off like this."
"If I could tell you!" He said it in a whisper to himself, but she just caught the words.
"Won't you try?" she said, ever so gently.
He could not sully her innocence by telling of the furtive whisperings that had found the prison life, made of it an experience degrading and corrosive. He told her, instead, of the externals of that existence, of how he had risen, dressed, eaten, worked, exercised and slept under orders. He described to her the cells, four by seven by seven, barred, built in tiers, faced by narrow iron balconies, each containing a stool, a chair, a shelf, a bunk. When he had finished he knew

"You're fine and clean and generous — If I come too near you, don't you see I taint you?"
"Fiddlerski! You're a man who has been done a wrong. After all, you've been found innocent."
"That isn't what counts. I've been in the penitentiary. Nothing can wipe that out. The stain of it's on me and can't be washed away."
She turned on him with a little burst of feminine ferocity. "How dare you talk that way, Dave Sanders! I want to be proud of you. We all do. But how can we be if you give up like a quitter?"
The color crept into his face. "I'm not quitting. The point is whether I'm to ask my friends to carry my load for me."
"What are your friends for?" she demanded, and her eyes were like stars in a field of snow. "Don't you see it's an insult to assume they don't want to stand with you in your trouble? You've been warped, you're caggy up with vain pride. Joyce bit her lip to choke back a swelling in her throat."
"But you've got to look at this, my way, too," he urged. "I can't repay you, too—by letting folks couple your name, even in friendship, with a man who—"
She turned on him, glowing with color. "Now that's absurd, Dave Sanders. I'm not a nice little china doll. I'm a flesh-and-blood girl. And I'm not a statue on a pedestal. Let's stop this foolishness and be sure-sure friends—Dave."
He took her outstretched hand in his brown palm, smiling down at her. "All right, I know when I'm beaten."
"And now I don't know whether I've done right," she said carefully. "I had warned me to be careful."
"You've done me a million dollars' worth of good. Please don't regret it."
"Well, I won't." She added, in a hesitant murmur. "You won't misunderstand. Let's stop this time. He looked turned aside the long-lashed eyes and brought a faint flush of pink to her cheeks.

"No, I'll not do that," he said.
CHAPTER XX.
Up in the hills back of Bear Canon two men were camping.
"Might's well be hittin' the trail; the other nodded without speaking, rose lastly, and began to pack the camp outfit. He was a squat, heavy-set man with a Chihuahua hat. Also he was a two-gun man.
The man who had spoken rose with one lithe twist of his big body. His eyes, hard and narrow, watched the shorter man disappear in the brush. Then he turned swiftly and strode toward the shoulder of the ridge.
In the heavy undergrowth of dry weeds and grass he stopped and tested the wind with a bandanna handkerchief. The breeze was steady and fairly strong. It blew down the canon toward the foot hills beyond.
The man stripped from a scrub oak a handful of leaves. They were very brittle and crumbled in his hand. A match flared out. His palm cupped it for a moment to steady the blaze before he touched it to the crisp foliage. Into a nest of twigs he thrust the small flame. The twigs, dry as powder from a four-months' drought, crackled like miniature fireworks. The grass caught, and a small line of fire ran quickly out.

EFFECT A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW NEBRASKA PARTY
BROKEN BOW, NEB., Feb. 7.—A permanent organization was effected here last night at a meeting of sixth district leaders of the recently formed progressive party of Nebraska.
The platform says the "violent deflation of our currency during the last two years by the federal reserve banks is the principal and immediate cause of the present industrial depression. The remedy lies in ousting from power on the reserve board the tools of capitalism and forcing into vigorous and healthy circulation three billions of coppered and idle money."
Progressive party representatives in congress would pledge to favor repeal of the law guaranteeing a net cent income on railroad capitalization and a radical reduction in railroad rates.
HOSTILITIES RENEWED IN TACNA-ARICA ZONE
LIMA, PERU, Feb. 7.—According to a high official in the Peruvian foreign office there has been a rekindling of hostilities to Peruvians in Tacna-Arica zone. The Chilean authorities are said to have notified the Peruvians to leave within 28 days. More than 450 Peruvians are declared to be listed for exclusion. Business Women Hear 3-Minute Talks Tuesday

Members of the Business Women's club heard the first series of three-minute talks at the club Tuesday night by club members, when Miss M. R. Kerr, Miss Alice Bennett, Miss Fitch, Miss Florence Glenn and Miss Betty Garrison presented the respective claims of cosmetics, the hair-dressing contrivances, the one-piece dress, and the hair net to highest position among the inventions for the comfort and convenience of woman.

After the deliberation of the judges had resulted in the first series of three-minute talks at the club Tuesday night by club members, when Miss M. R. Kerr, Miss Alice Bennett, Miss Fitch, Miss Florence Glenn and Miss Betty Garrison presented the respective claims of cosmetics, the hair-dressing contrivances, the one-piece dress, and the hair net to highest position among the inventions for the comfort and convenience of woman.

During the business meeting which preceded the program reports were made from the various standing committee chairmen, beginning with the report of the secretary and treasurer, Miss Schofield read the minutes of the last business meeting and also gave the treasurer's report in the absence of Miss Thomas. Miss Irma Durnal, chairman of the social committee, announced the February open house for Feb. 14 at the Y. W. and extended an invitation for all members to attend. Miss Durnal also reiterated the announcement that the open house is for members of the club only and their young men friends.

Other social announcements on the program for the month were made, including that of the "Mothers' Evening" social at the Wichita club, when a specially attractive program had been prepared.

Miss Durham made a report from the services committee and referred to a meeting of the Tuesday Night staff of that committee at the William-Mary hotel Wednesday evening at 7:30.

The first party planned for a club-ride since the creation of the Hope Chest staff and the service committee was announced for Saturday evening of this week at the Y. W. C. E. with Miss Richard and Clow, formerly Miss Lina Russell, as honoree. A Valentine party with the most attractive plans for contests, decorations and refreshments was announced by Miss Florence Glenn, chairman of the staff, with a miscellaneous assortment of friends of the bride in the club were given a special invitation to be present, and plans are being made for the entertainment of about 40 guests on this occasion.

A second contest, to which only members of the board were eligible, was won by Miss Florence Jackson, president of the club. Miss Jackson succeeded in making the most words out of the name "Wichita Falls" in a given time, and was presented with a box of beautiful personal gifts from the North Texas Association.

About 100 members were present at the meeting. It was announced the prize for next Tuesday night would be given by the Fall Confectionery company.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS PARACHUTES

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

A little breeze came along and gently, very gently, they were lifted up into the air.

There was funny little old Buskins sitting on a fuzzy dandelion, smoking his pipe and asking the Twins if they would like to go to Thistledown Land. You don't have to guess hard to find out what the children answered. There, I know you've guessed already.

But a thought struck Nancy. "Oh, I forgot. We can't go, Mr. Buskins. We're not allowed near the apple-tree since Nick ate a green apple and got sick. So we can't get to the magical elevator."

"Don't I know it!" nodded Buskins soberly. "That's why I'm here. You see there are more ways than one of getting to the Land-of-Up-in-the-Air. This dandelion puff was just about to start for that part of it called Thistledown Land and I thought we could be passengers. What do you say? You've got your Magic Green Shoes on and can waltz yourselves a mall as you like."

"Of course," laughed Nick. "I'll be lots of fun. I've always wonder-dered where the dandelion puffs traveled to."

"There's only one thing," warned Buskins. "We can't go together. As soon as this puff leaves its stem, it separates into a hundred tiny parachutes. Each of us will have to sit atop of a different one, but don't be frightened, they are all going to the same place and we'll soon be together again."

With that he knocked the ashes out of his pipe and put it into his pocket. Nancy and Nick wished themselves almost as small as nothing—at all, and hopped up on the dandelion puff beside their fairy friend, each on a nice little parachute.

No sooner were they nicely settled than a little breeze came along and gently, very gently, they were lifted up into the air and were sailing smoothly toward the far away clouds.

REPORT ON PLANS BY FAIR CHAIRMAN AT WICHITA CLUB

A report by W. F. Weeks on what has been done toward an annual fair here and a plea for cooperation and support in the movement, featured the weekly luncheon of the Wichita club Wednesday.

Mr. Weeks told of the selection of Call Field as a site for the fair and of the negotiations for that property. Frank Keil and J. A. Kemp, owners of a half interest in the property, he said, had indicated a willingness to accept stock in a fair association in payment for a part, at least, of their holdings.

The construction of an athletic stadium, available for rodeos, football games and perhaps horse races, would be necessary for properly staging the livestock exhibit, Mr. Weeks said, and it was the plan to have enough of this structure in readiness for the first show to accommodate a large crowd. Mr. Weeks said that such a stadium would be a help in bringing a college to this city, offering an opportunity for staging big athletic contests.

In connection with the plans for the fair, Mr. Weeks spoke of Wichita Falls' need for more and better amusements and declared that to inaugurate a fair, probably to be known as the Texas-Oklahoma fair, would stimulate and develop amusement interests here. He urged his hearers to cooperate heartily at the proper time.

BORLAND-SMITH WEDDING AT HOME HERE TUESDAY

The wedding of Charles E. Borland and Miss Theresa Stogard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith of 1410 Tenth street, was solemnized in the presence of the family and a few close friends at the home of the bride's parents Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. O. L. Powers of the First Baptist church saying the ceremony.

The marriage, which united two well known young people of the city, was celebrated in the most attractive home surroundings. A marriage altar was constructed of smilax and flowers in the living room, and the living and reception room suits were beautifully decorated in cut flowers and fern, with a color scheme of pink and white prevailing.

Miss Smith came in with her father, following the singing of the pre-nuptial solo, "At Dawning," by Miss Lucy Huggins, and the groom escorted attended by C. E. King as best man, Miss Lucille Smith, sister of the bride, presided at the piano, with Mrs. T. B. Greenwood and Miss Frances Smith, another sister of the bride, playing the violin. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played for the entrance of the bridal party.

Following the marriage, Dr. and Mrs. Smith entertained with an informal reception for Mr. and Mrs. Borland, who left shortly after for a wedding trip to San Antonio and other south Texas cities. Mrs. Borland wore a handsome suit of midnight blue, with fur scarf and accessories of steel brown, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses.

One of the prize possessions is a herd of pure bred Berkshire swine believed to be the largest in the country. These have brought many first prizes home from county fairs.

RECOMMEND THAT APRIL 3 BE FIXED FOR FAIR OPENING

A recommendation that the first annual live stock fair and exposition be held April 3, 4, 5 and 6 will be submitted to the chamber of commerce, directors and to the live stock association shortly. It has been decided by the committees working on details of the affair.

If the fair is held at that time, the fourth annual rodeo will be staged in connection with it, and the two events will be combined to make a program of a large crowd, bringing thousands of visitors here. Final decision on the time will not be made, however, until the live stock association has acted.

SHE SAVED A FARM

By NEA Service.
MUSKOGEE, OKLA., Feb. 8.—It was an old cotton plantation—run down, and about ready to pass out.

And then, along came Mrs. N. C. Dresback—just one of the 224 women in Oklahoma who are credited with being farmers and farm managers.

But she was just the one this farm needed!

Now a Success.
Today it is a fruit, chicken, hog, and dairy product farm. Incidentally corn belt is raised.

Mrs. Dresback is her manager. She supervises each branch of work and even tends to the sales end of the business.

Everything is modern—chicken houses, hog pens, barns, etc.

EARLY DECISION EXPECTED ON SPRING STYLE SHOW
A decision as to the holding of the Spring Style Show will probably be made within the next week. At present many merchants are in the east on marketing trips, and so the definite action will be taken until their return.

It is probable that if a style show is held it will take place early in March at the same time as the automobile show.

A UNION OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Healthy Housewife—Happy Home
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Helped Form Many

For the ailing, half-sick housewife such a union is impossible. Often times even the slightest form of household work cannot be accomplished. Yet the work must be done.

Many women struggle along for years suffering from some form of female trouble that makes their lives miserable and their homes far from happy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped thousands of just such women regain their health and strength. Just give your thought to the following letters and remember that the women who wrote these letters knew how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and again afterwards. It helped them—let it help you.

Had Nervous Spells
Horatio, Ark.—"I had nervous spells and awful bad feelings. My right side and my back hurt me all the time and I had been going down in health for six or seven years. For three years I had not been able to do my work without help. I weighed only 95 pounds when my husband's mother persuaded me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Now I heartily recommend it to all suffering women, as I have gained weight and health. I can do all my work, anything I want to do."—Mrs. JIM REARICK, Horatio, Arkansas.

TWO OTHER OFFERS FOR MUSCLE SHOALS WEEKS ANNOUNCES

STATEMENT IS MADE BEFORE THE HOUSE COMMITTEE.

SECRETARY DID NOT IDENTIFY THE OFFERS

Believes Ford Largely Groping Through Dark on Fertilizer Question.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Secretary Weeks, appearing today as the first witness in the hearing before the house committee on military affairs into the offer of Henry Ford to purchase and operate the Muscle Shoals nitrate project, announced that he expected to forward "two other offers for Muscle Shoals" to congress before the end of the week.

The secretary did not identify the additional offers. Chairman Kahn said that until the proposals were presented the committee would confine itself to the offer of Henry Ford, who has been invited to appear.

Secretary Weeks described the negotiations with Mr. Ford from their inception covering a period of more than six months. Mr. Ford's agreement to pay four per cent on the total cost of construction of the dams, he said, was a distinct increase in the value of his proposition.

Answering questions from Mr. Kahn, Secretary Weeks said the government had spent $17,000,000 on the nitrate plants for which "Mr. Ford offers $5,000,000." The secretary said a 50-year lease would be granted for one hundred years as offered by Mr. Ford because all kinds of things can happen in a hundred years.

One of the secretary's offers was a statement from another responsible company which offered to complete the Wilson dam at its own expense. No written offer had been made, he added, but his belief was that one probably would be made.

The secretary said Mr. Ford had told him in conversations that he would not continue over a given period of years to manufacture fertilizer or do so at all at a loss.

"I think there should be a forfeit imposed," Mr. Weeks declared, "in the event the manufacture of this commodity is stopped." The secretary said it was his opinion that it was as important to have a large paid the government for money it would expend to obtain land and flowage rights under the contract as it was to have interest paid on money required to complete the dams.

"It is estimated by army engineers," he explained, "that $1,000,000 will be required to acquire the land and rights involved." When asked whether the secretary said, without taking a dollar from the treasury, through issuance of bonds secured by the government, "power is being carried from that region as far as North Carolina now

GENERAL HEARING ON GRAIN GRADING IS EXPECTED SOON

FRANK KELL PRESENTS MATTER TO AUTHORITIES AT WASHINGTON.

CALLS ATTENTION TO LACK OF UNIFORMITY

Is Accompanied By Senators Shepard and Harrell and Representatives.

Special to The Times WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—As a result of protests submitted to the department of agriculture by Frank Kell of Wichita Falls over the lack of uniformity in grain grading rules it is anticipated that a general hearing will be held on this subject in the near future, probably at Oklahoma City.

A conference was held this morning with J. T. Beasley, chief of the grain grading section by Mr. Kell, accompanied by Senators Shepard and Harrell of Oklahoma and Representatives Jones, Lanham and Summers of Texas.

Mr. Beasley admitted that there had been a number of such complaints submitted, but no feasible way had ever been found for eliminating the difficulty.

Mr. Kell pointed out that the lack of uniformity was disrupting to business. He cited a case in which his concern at Wichita Falls had purchased 12 cars of wheat and which was graded there by two different inspectors.

A departmental inquiry is now in progress and upon receipt of that report Mr. Beasley indicated he would call the hearing or conference as requested.

RAILROAD SITUATION PROGRAM FOR U. S. CHAMBER MEETING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The railroad situation, with the program for discussion on the program for the mid-year conference of the chamber of commerce of the United States which began today, was addressed by Secretary Hoover, T. C. Drexel, vice president of the Erie railroad, and William S. Dickey of Kansas City, a shipper.

A report of the national chamber's railroad committee recommending legislation to establish a federal agency in charge of a commissioner general of transportation to represent the public interest in the operation of the railroads, was the center of the railroad discussions during the two days' meetings.

The proposed commissioner general of transportation would be appointed by the president of the United States and would hold office at his will and would be entitled to be heard in person or by representatives at all hearings before any board, commission, bureau, or other governmental agency now existing or hereafter created with respect to transportation rates, fares, regulations, terminal charges, wages, working conditions or other matters of the public interest in transportation. It will tend to produce a result that will promote and facilitate the continuous development of the people state transportation that will be adequate and efficient to meet the transportation needs of the country.

Another matter to come before the conference will be discussion of the question, "Should there be legislation for the compulsory adoption of the metric system in the United States?" A special committee will submit a report on this subject.

GOVERNMENTS NO BETTER THAN THE PUBLIC DEMANDS

POLICIES ARE THE MIRRORS OF THE PEOPLE'S SOULS, SAYS SPEAKER.

C. I. FRANCIS SPEAKS BEFORE CIVIC LEAGUE

Greatest Need is Wise and Judicial Selection of the Officials.

The government of the people of the United States is no better, and no worse, than the people demand, its policies are the mirrors of the people's souls, said C. I. Francis in his address to the Wichita Falls Civic League in luncheon business meeting at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon.

The greatest need of citizenship is the wise and judicial selection of government executives—national, state and community.

"The greatest failure is the failure to make those selections wisely."

"And the best remedy is concentration on the education of the people."

"Some of us make our selection of servants to fill public office much as a household selects his bride. He takes the first disengaged young woman he finds."

Mr. Francis spoke for about 40 minutes to the Civic League members, some hundred and fifty of whom were present. His recommendations in the matter of citizenship, applicable to men as well as women, were well taken, and in a perceptive ten minutes he hammered out a few drives on the necessity of good general education of the people as a necessary prelude to good government.

Francis spent more on chewing gum every year than it spends on the salaries of its public school teachers," he stated. "It spends more on the movies than it spends on its state and educational institutions. And a plumber's daily wage in the state of Texas exceeds that of a college professor."

A feature of the meeting was the installation of the new officers, and Lieut. Ulmo, degraded at Toulon in 1918 as a traitor to France, has just made a will in favor of his fellow convicts on Devil's Island. This is the only photograph made of him in a number of years. It shows him under prison guard.

MORE ABOUT VITAL STATISTICS.

A few days ago this paper pointed out that the annual death rate per thousand in the United States was gradually diminishing despite the toll of bootleg whiskey and the reckless automobile driver. At that time no statistics on the death rate for 1921 were available. Statistics for that year just given out by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show that 1921 made a new low record of deaths per thousand but that the deaths from alcohol increased 50 per cent and that there was a large increase in the number of deaths from automobile accidents.

The death rate from all causes last year was 8.54 per thousand, according to the estimate of the Metropolitan company. This is lower by 13.7 per cent than the 1920 rate. The rate has been cut chiefly because fewer victims were claimed by tuberculosis, pneumonia, influenza, Bright's disease and industrial accidents.

"In the period of eleven years," the company says, "mortality from tuberculosis has been cut almost in half. This in itself is an unparalleled accomplishment in the history of public health. But more amazing still is the fact that the decline is continuing at an increasing rate from year to year. Despite the fact that it was marked by a business depression, 1921 showed a greater decline in the tuberculosis death rate than any year on record. We have no better evidence of the effectiveness of the public health movement for the control of tuberculosis.

"The lower death rates for organic heart disease and for Bright's disease are additional evidences that the public health work of the last twenty years has been effective in reducing the incidence of the infectious diseases and local infections."

One cause of death which resulted in greater ravages than ever in 1921 is said to have been the automobile. "For ten successive years," the bulletin continues, "the death rate from this cause has registered an increase. The 1921 death rate is more than five times that recorded for 1922; it is four times as high as the 1912 figure; it is more than twice as high as the death rate recorded for 1915, and 61 per cent higher than the figure for the year 1916. The control of the rising death rate from this cause is one of the unsolved problems of police and accident prevention work in American cities. There is small consolation in the fact that the number of automobiles has also increased, and that, in consequence, there are fewer deaths in automobile accidents per automobile in operation than there were five or ten years ago. The outstanding fact is that, whether being killed by the first or fifth or tenth automobile, the number of deaths caused by motor vehicles and the automobile death rate continue to grow year after year.

"The most conspicuous bad spot in the record of the year is the increased death rate for diphtheria. The mortality from this disease was higher than in any year since 1917. This is all the more deplorable because the means for the suppression of case incidence and case fatality should be known to every health officer and every physician in the United States and Canada.

"The scarlet fever rate was higher than for any year since 1914."

HUGO'S BETTER PRICE.

This is important, especially to men out of jobs or working only part time:

The steel trade has been hearing rumors that German steel manufacturers are about to enter the American market on a large scale, bringing cut-throat prices.

Hugo Stinnes steps out from the atmosphere of rumors and announces that he has 15,000 tons of steel rails, ready on the docks at Hamburg, which he is offering for delivery in America at lower than the American price.

To make 1,000 tons of steel rails in our country requires the labor of 5,000 men for one day. If Stinnes, instead of an American mill, gets the order for 15,000 tons of rails, it will mean that 5,000 American steel workmen will be idle for 15 days.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SOFT SEATS. The standing tree is an inspiring thing. That one which has fallen or leans, pictures something to us of pity or doubt.

A standing crowd looks much more powerful than one which is seated.

Action seems potent about things which stand.

To walk through a park and see, on the other hand, benches filled with sitting people, looking aimlessly into space or talking as aimlessly, and, on the other hand, people passing quickly through on their way to finish jobs—here you have a cross-section of our brief life span.

The turtle toddles along and is useful, for he faces his destiny in real turtle spirit. But the man—created in the image of his Creator—must either carry out his mission as a human being, or else pine into deadness and death.

"Life is real, life is earnest," wrote Longfellow. "It is a serious business to start a soul voyaging toward Eternity." I once heard a great speaker exclaim in a noted lecture.

Who, then, shall occupy the soft seats of this whirling world? None but the ill and disabled—and those who have earned them.

Stand up, my friend, and be counted. Stand up so that you may be ready for "a fight or a frolic"—and be game to the last.

The Soft Seat Brigade will always be around. But you, who are normal and free, stay out of it—fear neither does it toll nor spin.

The hard seats and the rocky ways develop and harden us. To be ready we must be fit.

Glory's sunsets illuminate only those lives which have experienced blistered hands and the continued touch of toil and labor.

Soft seats and soft hands tempt from Time only bitterness and loss.

You see best when you stand—and you grow most when you work!

ETERNITY. There shall be glory for us all at last—

The brave, the timid and the weak and strong. The hearts that hoped, yet floundered in wrong—

When the harsh judgment of the world is passed And cold, grim cynics cease to stand aghast;

There shall be music in the humble song. And good in him, the poorest of the throng. And some perfection in the faulty cast.

There shall be peace for all of us to share. Long days of rest and nights that bring no care. Laughter and love and friendship wait us there. In that far world to which we all must go. There, when our souls break from their walls of clay, That which is best in us shall find full sway.

THE LAW VINDICATED. (Denison Herald.)

The law again finds vindication in the sentencing of five men at Oklahoma City to life imprisonment for engaging in a lynching bee near that city several days ago. And, according to the dispatches, search is being conducted for others implicated in the affair, and it is presumed when apprehended, they too will be punished for their offending.

In nearly, if not practically all instances of mob vengeance, officers have found or have professed to find extreme difficulty in identifying those participating in the outrage. It would be ludicrous were it not such a serious matter to listen to and read statements of officials and of private citizens who were in position to know of their ignorance of the guilty parties and their inability to discover them, when in numerous instances the mob has worked in the open and with faces unmasked. Grand juries have spent fruitless days in investigations of such occurrences and in the end reported to the court their inability to identify the culprits.

But the tables were turned in Oklahoma City. The governor of the state ordered a rigid investigation made and the result has vindicated the law and restored the good name of the state. The incident further proves that the law as it is written has not broken down—that officers possessed with courage and who are faithful to their oaths can uphold the law and make it respected in any community. And nothing else will make the law supreme and afford proper protection to the citizen in his life and property but the will and determination of those entrusted with its enforcement to follow the path of duty regardless of where it leads. Given this and the support of the law-abiding and law respecting element of the citizenship and crime of an outrageous nature will disappear.

The south's record of progress and achievement has but one blotch—and that is the frequent lynchings that occur each year. It is a record that not one can point to with pride, but rather with shame and humiliation. And the only excuse for the prevalence of the mob spirit and display of mob violence is the failure or refusal of both court officials and citizens to oppose it as vigorously as they do other offenses the degree of which are not near so despicable.

The Oklahoma City court's action will have a wholesome effect in suppressing the mob spirit in other sections of the state where incident or occasion may arouse it.

SUNLIGHT

By DR. R. H. BISHOP.

Some scientists to the contrary, man could see long ago without the sun and most any of our artificial substitutes replace daylight for general purposes.

Direct sunlight is one of the greatest of disinfecting agents.

Though light is quite necessary for all life, direct sunlight is the greatest enemy of low forms of life as germs.

Experiments have proved the bacilli of tuberculosis are readily killed by exposure to direct rays.

It is easy to understand, then, why we should admit as much light as possible into our homes and places of work.

By this we do not mean that the greenhouse principle is suitable for human use.

It is not advised that light should be admitted without limit through glass to closed rooms. Air is a necessity also.

The most markedly antiseptic rays of radiant energy are the ultra-violet rays, which are invisible to the human eye, but are registered by the photographic plate and are visible to the eyes of ants.

Dr. C. W. Saleeby, F. R. S., well known British hygienist, contrasted the children of western Canada and children in Scottish cities, stating that he believed one of the reasons for the superb quality of Canadian children was to be found in sunlight.

He thought that the secret of sunlight as a master hygienist might lie in its stimulating power "upon our vital processes in general, including those of resistance to disease."

always with the possibility of hardworking.

We have always enjoyed the reputation of an optimistic community. Wichita Falls is today the best city of its size in the United States and with its wonderful natural resources, its undisputed trade territory, its already established business institutions, its improvements now under way and its unexcelled team work for development there is absolutely no need for anxiety as to its future for the man or woman with the right kind of spirit and the courage to carry on.

The whole world is experiencing unprecedented and have suffered and experiences from misplaced confidences and bad judgment in our affairs, but this certainly endsows us with no right whatever to sling mud at our neighbor or his institutions.

Would it not be the more charitable and admirable thing to do for each of us to first determine that we, already established business institutions, are entirely entitled to this undignified and unchristian-like practice and then to go a step further and see to it that this damaging conversation is not allowed carried on even in our presence. I am sure there are many more wholesome and more entertaining and profitable topics worthy of discussion that will leave us in a more pleasant and self respecting mood for afterwards.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTE BOOK

By LEB PAPP

My sister Gladis was up in her room reading and eating chookit caramels out of a bag and I kept on asking her to give me one and she kept on saying she only had a few and couldn't spare any, being a Heck of a fix, and after I asked her about 10 times without any result I got up and went to her room and I reached her, just for that I never going to speak to you again.

Great, I'm glad to hear it, said Gladis.

All right, you'll see, I said. And after a while Nora rang the dinner bell for supper and we all went down and I talked to everybody but Gladis, and pritty soon I wanted some butter and it was rite in front of Gladis and I reached all the ways across the table so I wouldn't have to ask her for it, and pop sed, here her, wat are you doing, eating supper, or giving a acrobatic performance? How many times have I told you to ask in front of Gladis and not reach like a octopus?

And we kept on eating and pritty soon I wanted another hunk of bread and bread tray was in front of Gladis, me thinking, G. I can't eat without bread, and I aint going to ask her to pass it, heck. Wich jest then, I had to ask her, saying, Was that the door bell and I jumped up, and ma sed, I didnt hear anything.

Neither did anybody else, sit down, sed pop. Meaning me, and I sed, O well, now im up I mite as well as get up and see what's in the bread tray, and I started to reach in front of Gladis to do and Gladis quick grabbed up the bread tray, saying, Is there any thing you like to eat?

No, I yelled mad as anything. And I gave the bottom of the bread tray a slam and the bread went in 4 directions, being the worst direction of all, and I had to leave the room without finishing my supper, and pop gave me a feareful slap somewares on the ways out.

Two City League Games Will Be Played Tonight Says Executive Committee

ANXIOUS TO GAMBLE WITH THE ELEMENTS

Insurance Companies More Than Willing to Take a Chance and Clubs Often Benefit.

Not only are insurance companies willing to gamble on the teams but they are ever willing, even anxious, to gamble on the weather. Practically every major league club, and a good many of the minors, are insured against weather on all the big days. In speaking of the big days reference is made to Saturday, Sunday and holidays. There are any number of blanket policies that are offered which are governed by certain conditions. The rate of insurance varies according to the risk which the company believes that it is assuming.

Only recently the value of a rain policy to baseball magnates was made apparent. There was launched on the Pacific coast a winter league of baseball in which the four managers were big league stars—Sisler, Hornsby, Cobb and Heilmann.

It is understood that these four star players received $40,000 for their combined services or about $10,000 each. That placed them under a big expense at the very start. In order to secure every protection possible a rain insurance was carried on certain conditions. The weather, however, instead of being very pleasant, was just the opposite. During these two months play more rain fell than can be remembered by the oldest residents. On the face, that would appear very unfortunate. Quite to the contrary it was very fortunate.

The rain insurance was considerably in excess of the regular receipts. During the last month of the season the promoters, instead of hoping for fine weather, which means everything in baseball, were constantly praying for rain.

It has been estimated that in the neighborhood of $50,000 was collected by the four clubs on rain guarantees. That sum prevented the season from being a terrible "bust" as far as the promoters were concerned.

Last year the Detroit club of the American league lost opening day, also Saturday and Sunday of opening week. Snow prevented the playing of the games. It is understood the Detroit club was paid something like $10,000 from the insurance company because of loss of those three games.

Willing to Take Risks.
A number of the policies are governed by a stated amount of rain that must fall. Other policies pay if there is merely enough rain to justify the calling off of the game. Then there are some freak policies which pay a certain sum in case rainfall plays havoc with the attendance, yet does not prevent the playing of the game.

Often it rains from noon until a half hour or so before game time and then clears up. When a game is played on such a day, the insurance company takes the receipts of the same day for the past three or four years, averages an average and pays the difference.

The insurance game has gotten to be a very important feature of professional baseball. It is claimed the insurance companies were on the losing end last year.

Can a pitcher get on the rubber without having the ball in his possession? With runners on first and third, the pitcher made such a move. What is the proper decision and what are the rights of the runner? Is the batsman in any way affected?

Until two years ago the rules permitted the pitcher to get on the rubber without having the ball in his possession, provided he made no motion to pitch.

That has been changed. The pitcher now has no such right, and if he does so, he commits a balk. All runners advance a base, the runner on first moving to second, the runner on third scoring. The calling of a balk in no way affects the batter.

WIDOW VANCE MCCORMICK DIES AT HARRISBURG, PA.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Criswell McCormick, widow of Vance McCormick, former democratic national chairman, died suddenly last night. She was 73 years old and throughout her life was prominently identified with charitable and civic movements.

FARMER SHOT BY SON LATTER IS EXONERATED
PILOT GROVE, MO., Feb. 8.—John A. Wiedel, a farmer, was shot and instantly killed yesterday after a fierce struggle with his 23-year-old son. The youth was exonerated by a co-swer's jury which found that he had fired in self-defense and in protection of his mother and three sisters.

PROFESSIONAL GERM HAS INFECTED AMATEURS

COACH AND PLAYERS WHO STARTED BIG EXPOSE IN COLLEGES

There will be two City league games tonight, despite all the squabbling between the league and the high school. Though Coach Tate delivered an ultimatum last night to the effect that the Red and Black cagers would not play their regularly scheduled game tonight, the executive committee met this forenoon and agreed, after consulting the Gaines team, that the scholastic would be permitted to use any eight men they deemed fit. Hence, Coach Tate stated that he would put a team on the floor to represent the high school.

Regarding the Friday night schedule, President Lemen declared that it had been agreed by the committee that the high school tournament game would be played at 7 o'clock and the league games between the Knights of Columbus and University club and Elks and Methodists would be played at 8 o'clock as usual. A 25-cent admission will be charged until 7:30, the receipts going to the high school until that hour. After 7:30 all receipts will go to the league.

It is understood that these four star players received $40,000 for their combined services or about $10,000 each. That placed them under a big expense at the very start. EVERY DAY BRINGS FORTH SOME NEW DEVELOPMENT IN THE COLLEGIATE EXPOSE WHICH WAS STARTED BY THE NOW FAMOUS FOOTBALL GAME BETWEEN THOSE TWO SMALL-TOWN ILLINOIS ELEPHANTS.

Notre Dame has already declared a dozen players ineligible because they participated in professional football games after the close of the college season.

Illinois has declared nine players ineligible. A number of these players were regarded as the best men available for this year's team.

Recently Purdue announced that Dietz, the football coach at that institution, would not be offered a new contract because he had made offers of a financial nature to star high school players.

Then came the discovery on the part of Purdue that Don White, reputedly a hire Pacific coast high school star, had played not only professional baseball, but also basketball. It is said that University of Indiana preferred the charges against White that have resulted in his being declared ineligible.

No doubt other eastern as well as western institutions will from time to time discover they have been harboring professional athletes.

WELLING LICKS PINKMAN.
PORTLAND, ORE., Feb. 8.—Joe Welling, New York lightweight, won over Eddie Pinkman of Seattle here last night when Pinkman conceded the fight in the third round of a scheduled ten-round so after a right chop by Welling had split his ear open.

SPORTING SPLINTERS

BING MILLER, TRADED BY WASHINGTON TO PHILADELPHIA, is something of a humorist. He looks for a big improvement in his hitting, as he says he always could swat them on a minor league club.

That the Detroit club is hard pressed for infield material is proved by the fact the Tigers claimed the veteran George Cuthaw for second, after all the other National league clubs had waived on him. Cuthaw had a pretty fair year with the Pirates in 1921.

Contrary to the belief that exists in some quarters, the ball that is used in the American and National leagues is identical in material and construction.

If Bobby Roth's knee is in good shape he has a great chance to make himself solid with the New York fans. Roth will probably be called upon to substitute for Ruth until Babe's suspension is raised.

Connie Mack says he is confident his club will better its position this year. However, that doesn't mean much of anything since Connie's club has been last for seven years. It is due for a change.

LEADING FIGURES IN PURDUE'S SCANDAL

Scheerer Wins From Conti.
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Jake Scheerer, 14.2 balls line billiard champion, defeated Roger Conti, French champion, in a 1,000 point exhibition match here last night, finishing the final block of 400 points in six innings with an average of slightly over 66 per inning. Conti's total for the three blocks play was 115.

Introducing Purdue's two leading figures in the college football expose, which threatens to involve star athletes in all sections of the country.

Purdue first cut into the limelight when the athletic authorities definitely refused a new contract to the football coach, William H. "Long Star" Dietz.

This action followed a report that had been widely circulated that Dietz was alleged to have made attempts to hire Pacific coast high school stars to come to Purdue.

The players involved, as well as Dietz, have denied the allegations, but it seems the college has decided to pass up Dietz as football coach.

Recently Don E. White, ex-captain and star guard of the Purdue basketball team, was disqualified from further athletic competition because of playing semi-professional baseball and basket ball.

White was nationally known as a basketball star. He led the Big Ten in scoring last year. For the past two seasons he has been the popular selection for floor guards on the western conference all-star team that is annually picked by the experts.

AMERICAN LEAGUE MOGULS IN SESSION

Meeting in Washington for First Time in History of Organization.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—This city extended the hand of welcome to baseball magnates of the American league today for their first meeting outside of New York or Chicago in the history of the organization.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, had arranged for the club owners and officials to pay their respects to President Harding at the white house before beginning their sessions later in the day.

The meeting was called for the specific purpose of ratifying the 1923 playing schedule, but it was believed it would not adjourn without some discussion of plans for meeting restoration of the draft, now opposed by several of the minor leagues.

Many rules of impending trades of players, for which the gathering would afford an opportunity for direct negotiations, also came to town with the magnates.

CARDINAL VANGUARD TO REACH ORANGE FEB. 19

ST. LOUIS, MO., Feb. 8.—The Cardinal pitchers are scheduled to hold their first workout at the spring training camp at Orange, Texas, February 19. Sixteen pitchers and five catchers depart for that camp February 17.

Branch Rickey, manager of the team, announced that the following pitchers would report at the camp about a week earlier than other members of the team: Sherdel, Bailey, Doak, Helms, Parfitt, "Fet" fer, Goodwin, Riviere, Reinhardt, North, Fuller, Walker, Barfoot, Barnes, Benton and Montgomery. The catchers will be Coach Joe Sugden and Frank Shotton, Roy Thomas, and Brant Shaughnessy, manager of the Syracuse team of the International league, who will assist in training the pitchers.

Thirteen games with four American league clubs in the south feature the St. Louis National's spring exhibition schedule. They meet the Browns, Yankees, Indians and Athletics.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8.—Eduardo Foremans, the Belgian billiard champion, defeated Walker Cochran of Manson, Iowa, in their 1600 point event concluded here last night. The Belgian went out on an unfinished run of 245. The final score was 1600 to 1044.

Billy Evans says

The competition for supremacy has become too keen in college athletics.

The desire to win has become the paramount issue. Coaches and alumni in an effort to bring about that result have seemingly overstepped themselves.

Sportsmanship has been relegated to the sidelines. Victory at any cost, financial or otherwise, seems to be the aim of a majority of the colleges.

First came the charges of professionalism against the Lafayette college eleven. A number of eastern critics refused to give Lafayette the rating it deserved, because of rumors that some of the athletes were not in the best of standing as amateurs.

Lafayette invited an inquiry into the charges. It was held, and as I recall it, the athletes under suspicion were whitewashed.

The scene then shifted to the west. For the past month sensation after sensation has been sprung, involving a number of the leading athletes of the west. Most of them have been declared ineligible.

Recently Coach Rockne of Notre Dame, whose teams were laid hit, said: "Professionalism is the biggest menace of college athletics. Unless the tendency in that direction is curtailed it may be necessary to abolish football as an intercollegiate sport."

Long before the collegiate expose, Coach Vost of Michigan, in an interview, said to me: "Football is being overdone by many colleges. The impression is growing that students go to college to make the football team. Men go to college for an education. The colleges make football possible, not football the colleges. Some coaches are overlooking that fact."

For years A. M. Langford has been recognized as one of the best football officials in the country. Langford practically quit officiating in 1921 because he said the treatment now being accorded an official was not what it should be.

Before one game he was told how he had for three years been a certain eleven out of an important

EYE FACTS BY FRED GOSS

HAVE YOUR EYES OUTGROWN YOUR GLASSES?

If you are still using the glasses that were prescribed for you two years ago it is highly probable that they do not exactly suit your present requirements. The eye formations are constantly undergoing a change. It may be that some of the tiny delicate muscles that accommodate the focusing apparatus have been strained and that you require glasses of different focal power to exactly meet the requirements.

SMALL COFFIN IS FOUND TUESDAY BY MEN DIGGING DITCH

GRIM DISCOVERY IS MADE AT CORNER OF AVENUE D AND BELL STREET.

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF HUMAN REMAINS SEEN

Believed to Have Been Grave Dug Sometime in Early History Of City.

Two brass handles, several buttons and a piece of rotting wood, the whole representing the remains of a small coffin, were unearthed late Tuesday afternoon by workmen making the excavation for a new water main on Bell street. No trace of bones could be found, according to workmen, who are of the opinion that the skeleton had decayed.

The grave was less than four feet under ground and was located squarely in the center of what is now Bell street and Avenue D. The outline of the box was unmistakable and the finding of the brass handles and buttons left no doubt that a body had at one time been buried at the spot. Belief that the grave had been dug by cowboys or ranchers some 25 or 30 years ago was expressed by Justice of the Peace R. V. Givens, who visited the place Wednesday morning. The place is on what was formerly known as the old McCutchen pasture.

FIRE ALARM CARDS BEING DISTRIBUTED BY GROCERY STORES

Announcement that small cards giving the locations of every fire alarm box in the city and giving instructions as to how alarms should be turned in over the automatic system could be obtained at any local grocery store, was made Wednesday by Fire Chief J. L. McClure.

The chief also requested that these instructions be studied by the public. Recently, he declared, a property loss of several thousand dollars could have been saved had the alarm been sent in correctly. A man opened the door of an alarm box and thought that nothing else remained to be done. As a result the fire department knew nothing of the fire until 15 or 20 minutes later when some one called on the telephone and asked why no attention had been paid the box alarm. By that time the fire was completely beyond control.

Resolutions of Sympathy. In the wisdom of the all-wise God, He has seen fit to remove from the walks of this life and transplant in the beautiful beyond, that kind, noble, faithful and loving Christian mother in Israel, Sister Shumake, beloved wife of our brother, C. J. Shumake, and his bereaved children.

Therefore, the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church extends to our Brother Shumake and his broken-hearted children our heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour of separation, but rejoice with them in the hope that their mother is not dead, but has been only transplanted into a realm where all is peace and happiness and no separation can come, for she is only waiting with her loved ones to have preceded her on the other side and for those left behind to come, and then there will be no more separation and all will be happiness.

Adopted by the class in regular session, January 29, 1922, with a request that a copy be sent to the daily papers in this and other Texas for publication and a copy be sent to our beloved and bereaved brother, C. J. Shumake, and family. Respectfully submitted, W. C. Dunlap, W. W. Brown, Committee.

J. B. STOKES WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCILMAN

J. B. Stokes will be a candidate for public utilities commissioner of Wichita Falls. Mr. Stokes authorized this announcement Tuesday afternoon. He decided to become a candidate after many friends had urged him to do so.

Mr. Stokes has been a resident of Wichita Falls for a number of years and has high standing as a business man. He was for four years manager of the Wichita Falls Water and Electric company before the holdings of that company were taken over by its present owners. He was later engaged in the electrical supply business.

Mr. Stokes came to Wichita Falls from Baird where he was president of the First National bank.

He is in a position to give all the time required to the duties of the office of public utilities commissioner and his friends believe that his business experience and especially his experience with public utilities make him admirably fitted for the office he now seeks.

FIRE DESTROYS GARAGE AND BOTTLING WORKS HASKELL, TEXAS, Feb. 8.—The Haskell garage caught fire late Saturday afternoon and was destroyed in a few minutes despite the fact that the fire company applied four steady streams of water to the building.

The Haskell bottling works was adjoining and under the same roof and was a total loss. The quick action of the fighting fire company saved other buildings adjoining, including the McNeal & Smith Hardware Co.'s warehouse. It was damaged but little.

The building was owned by R. C. Couch and leased by J. W. Looney who was running a filling station and repair shop.

There was some insurance on both the building and supplies.

VIRTUAL HOLIDAY AT ASPERMONT FOR POULTRY EXHIBIT

ASPERMONT, TEXAS, Feb. 7.—Business houses closed, the high school dismissed, farmers declared a holiday to give every one an opportunity to attend the one day poultry school here Tuesday. Long before the hour for the lectures to begin in the balcony as well as the main floor of the large county court room was filled. G. E. Nicholson, chairman of the poultry school committee, in a brief talk said that more than 100,000 worth of poultry and eggs were shipped from Stone- wall county last year, and believed that amount would be almost doubled this year.

The business men and bankers are just as much interested in poultry raising as the farmers are, Nicholson said. Miss Myrtle Murray and F. W. Kazmeyer, poultry specialist of the extension service, A. and M. college, and M. B. Oates, agricultural agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railway, discussed poultry raising from every angle. Hatchlings and properly caring for baby chicks, the importance of keeping standard bred poultry, scrub or mongrels are a losing proposition, how to select good laying hens, and feeding hens for egg production were the most important points brought out in the lectures.

The Fort Worth and Denver railway exhibit car was visited by more than 500 people during the afternoon session. The demonstrations on culling the poor layers from a flock of hens proved to be very interesting to the large crowd.

The prizes in the egg contest were awarded Mrs. J. S. Zant, first; Mrs. T. J. Ketchum, second; Mrs. A. J. Metcalf, third. In judging the exhibits Mr. Kazmeyer demonstrated how eggs should be classed to demand the highest market price. At the close of the one day school members of the Aspermont Lunc- cheon club called for the poultry specialists in autos and drove to the club quarters on Lake Aspermont, where a chicken dinner was served.

TEMPERATURES IN DISTRICT RISING WITH SOUTH WIND

Reports of minimum temperatures for the night from all points in the local district gave indication that the weather is moderating. A south wind took the place of the calm north wind of Tuesday and the lowest minimum temperature in the entire area was reported from Forgan and Woodward with 25.

Generally clear and calm was the report submitted by all agents on the local railroads. The minimum temperature for the night in Wichita Falls was 45 degrees.

Amarillo reported a lower temperature than Texline Wednesday morning, the former reporting 30 and the latter 25. The minimum mark for the night was 17.

REPORT ON DRILLING ON TESTS WEST OF WALTERS

WALTERS, OKLA., Feb. 8.—The wildcat test of Coleman and others on the Parker farm, N22-43-11, is drilling in black gumbo at 2,195 feet, after drilling 38 feet of hard limerock. This test is one of six being drilled in Cotton county west of Walters. The Mountain States is now 2,250 feet and drilling with cable tools, after setting 10-inch casing at 1,500 feet. All these tests are said by geologists to be on structures with probable producing sands and the logs of the tests are almost identical with those of the Duncan field.
