Thanksgiving, 1970 Is A Time To Give Thanks

The calendar relates that just 350 years ago this month the foundations of a nation were implanted on the rocky shores of New England. Since that time our Nation has joined, on one day, in saying prayers of Thanksgiving, and in remembrance of the small group of valiant Pilgrims who landed at Plymouth Rock on the now famous Mayflower. Times were hard; yet these courageous, God-fearing men and women labored long to follow the terms imposed by their creditors, with everything owned in common and put into a "common store." However, it soon became apparent that the effort to form a socialist society would not work. By the end of 1621-22, more than half of the colony had died of starvation.

Thus, it was decided that every family was to be assigned a parcel of land to till and to harvest. This encouraged the Pilgrims and therefore so much corn was planted there was more than needed. From the bumper harvest the Pilgrims arranged a bountiful Thanksgiving and gave thanks not only for their material blessings, but also for the system of individual enterprise that produced it. The custom of Thanksgiving was soon adopted and our first President, George Washington, issued the first national Thanksgiving Proclamation on October 3, 1789.

It is time to remember and to count our blessings. As we gather together this year to relive the custom of the early Pilgrims, let us observe Thanksgiving Day not only thankful for the abundance of food that adorns our table, and to express gratitude for all that we possess, but let us also be thankful for being kept aware of the hardships which our forefathers suffered and the dangers men still endure to keep man's right to liberty safe and secure. Let us love our land...a Nation whose strength came from men who were brave and strong and who were always ready to guard it and defend it in a never ending strife for freedom.

On this thanksgiving day, it is well for us to ponder the words carved in the Indiana limestone of the National Archives Building in Washington, D.C., "The heritage of the past is the seed that brings forth the harvest of the future."

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

"Be not the first by whom the new are tried, Nor yet the last to lay the old aside."
Alexander Pope in his "Essay on Criticism" (1711) was referring to old and new words in the language; it occurs to this writer that his thoughts may apply to other "new" things as well.

These remarks are prompted by a quick look at the new 1971 Girl Scout Calendar which denotes the traditional holidays and also shows the results of the Monday Holiday Bill as enacted by Congress.

It makes about as much sense as regional daylight saving time: however some factual things escape even the best efforts of the Washington People Managers Association.

New Year's Day is still the first of January. It is due only to coincidence that it falls on Friday, thereby being part of a weekend. One other January note--Martin Luther King's birthday is printed in type just as large as Ben Franklin's or Robert F. Lee's.

February is somewhat more confusing. George Washington's birthday will be celebrated on Monday the 15th, not on his real birthday the 22nd which comes on the following Monday.

Try explaining that to a first grader!
Or do we do that anymore?
It is a relief to find that Easter still comes on Sunday--April 11th.

But the traditional Easter Monday is overlooked. May rocks along pretty good with Mother's Day still on the second Sunday.

Memorial Day the 30th, is the last Sunday so it has been moved to the next day, Monday the 31st.

One glaring error remains in May. Nelson Lewis' birthday is on Tuesday the 4th. It was not moved to Monday; no complaint--he would just be 63 years old a day earlier!

June is fortunate, Flag Day is already on Monday, the 14th. Father's Day is on the usual 3rd, Sunday and the very next day, the 21st, summer begins--they always make it hot for the old man, don't they?

July 4th comes on Sunday--now why didn't they move that to Monday so we poor slaves could have an extra day off? August has escaped--thus far.

September is pretty safe--Labor Day is the first Monday, by Presidential decree.

That must have caused sleepless nights among the intelligent!
During October Christopher Columbus fans will have to remember that the supposed discovery on the 12th takes place one day sooner.

But old Chris would have been happy if it had--his crewmen were just about ready to toss him over the side!

The Eager Beavers in the Playhouse on the Potomac really scrambled Veteran's Day.

No more shall it be on November 11th.

Nay not so, dear hearts, it now moves backward to the last Monday in October!

Thanksgiving Day has suffered through one or two moves and is now back on the 4th Thursday in November--by popular demand and not because of the Benevolent Brains of Bureaucracy.

Christmas they didn't dare monkey around with.

Could it be because even these Mighty Ones fear an aroused public, or does big business have too many millions invested in December 25th advertising?

Facetiously critical remarks notwithstanding, there are certain advantages in having National Holidays on Mondays, less interference with the business week, etc., but is not the three day week end a known auto traffic hazard?

Of major concern this week is our traditional Thanksgiving Day observance.

Our Nation is bigger and richer than it was during the Pilgrim's time; but have we made any real progress in our capacity, for appreciation?

Must Thanksgiving Day always be a look at present and past blessings?

Is it not also a day of hope and prayer and resolve to work harder for a brighter future?

We realize that we cannot possibly enumerate all of our many blessings; therefore we tend to concentrate on the larger ones such as Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness, and these are to be enjoyed only as long as we maintain Freedom.

We started with a quote from Pope, let's end with one from Emerson--

"For what avail the plow or sail,
Or land, or life, if Freedom fail?"

WALTHAM, MASS., NEWS-TRIBUNE: "There are few things more permanent than a temporary tax."

GOSHEN, IND., NEWS: "Don't ever sell Billy Graham short. . . The evangelist, who has a knack of saying a lot in a few words, scored another TV triumph when interviewed. . . and the subject of sex education came up. He said he thought prudent sex instruction, and he stressed the prudent, might be appropriate at the high school and even junior high school levels but not with third and fourth graders. Then he summed up the school situation in eight little words: "They've ruled out prayer and ruled sex in." And that just about says it like it should have been said long before now."

THANKSGIVING

Perhaps we have not counted
All our blessings one by one;
Perhaps we have not bothered
To Remember whence they come;
And maybe we have taken
Just for granted all the things
That the good Lord has created
And the hall of Nature brings;

The Autumn hills in glory robed,
A golden field of grain,
A sunset's dazzling splendor or
The Milky Ways' great plain,
The starry sky's sublimity,
The ocean's mighty power,
The wonder of creation in
The petal of a flower

And so if we have failed to show
By word or act of deed
That we are thankful unto Him
Who fills our daily need,
May this day show we're grateful
When we add up all the sum
Of the blessings we remember
As we count them one by one.

Community Service Slated Wednesday

Friona's annual community-wide Thanksgiving service will be held at St. Theresa's Catholic Church tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Paul Lee, pastor of the Union Congregational Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving message. Rev. Lee is a replacement for Rev. Charles Broadhurst of the First Baptist Church, who was hospitalized last Friday for an emergency operation.

Rev. Albert Lindley of the United Methodist Church will lead a community choir in special Thanksgiving music.

Refreshments will be served in the Parish Hall immediately following the service.

The public is invited to attend the service, which is under the auspices of the Friona Ministerial Alliance.

FINAL WEEK

Football Contest Goes Right Down To Wire

The Friona Star's football contest is going right down to the wire, into the final week's chapter this week.

Contestants will have until the regular time—Friday at 5 p.m.—to turn in their entry blanks this week. No Thanksgiving Day games are included on the weekly slate; hence no early deadline for the final contest.

Frank Truitt, who had a four-point lead going into last week's contest, slipped to a score of eight for the 11th week, and had two points of his lead trimmed. Jack Clark, who scored 10, goes into the final week trailing by two points.

Truitt stands at 115 points; Clark at 113. Phillip Duggins and Benny Pryor are at 110. Six contestants have scores of 109, and four others at 108.

Since there are three grand prizes in the contest, even those farther down the list are not out of the running for one of the prizes.

A list of all the top contestants is compiled and printed on this week's contest page.

Don Reeve and Patsy Bandy tied for the weekly first prize. Not only were they the only contestants to make a score of 11, but their tie-breaker scores were exactly the same as well. They each received $4.00 for their entries.

Debbie Bengé was chosen from among 16 contestants who had scores of ten for the third place weekly prize of $2.00. Miss Bengé missed the Dumas-Levelland score by 17 points. She picked it at 31-14, when the actual score was 48-14. Most contestants' scores were much too low on the Dumas side.

Others correctly picking ten games were Jim Johnston, Jim Milner, Sam Mears, Eugene Bandy, Phillip Duggins, Jack Clark, Jerri Bengé, Hank Wheeler, Alberto Solis, Jr., Trip Horton, Donn Tims, Gladys Spring, Larry Johnston, Bill Bailey, and Ronald Dean Smiley.

The featured professional football game, Kansas City vs St. Louis, ended in a tie, causing all contestants to get a miss for this game. Hence, the best possible score was 13 for the week.

Most contestants missed the Floydada-Denver City playoff game, won by Denver City, and many missed the Southern Cal.-UCLA game, won by the Uclans.

Question: Is bread "dry" without butter? Answer: No. About 35 percent of the weight of fresh bread is water!
Between one percent and two percent of the weight of the coffee bean is pure caffeine.

Blinking, scientists estimate, occurs once every six seconds. It's nature's way of bathing the eyes with a salty solution from the tear glands.

Chiefs Hold Edge On 1970 Opponents

The Friona Chieftains' 1970 football team, which surprised the experts by fashioning a 6-4 record for the season, led their opponents in most statistical departments, it was revealed this week.

The Chiefs, who scored 76 more points than the 1969 team, outscored their opponents, 165-156. This was in spite of being in one of the toughest class AA districts in the state.

Friona averaged 189 yards rushing per game for the 1970 season, and held opponents to an average of 128 yards on the ground. However, the opposition passed for an average of 98.7 yards per game, to Friona's 32.6.

This passing edge allowed opponents to hold a slight edge in average net yards per game, 226.9 to 221.6.

For the season, Friona and its ten opponents came out with an identical 134 first downs. The Chiefs made 107 on running plays, to 82 for the opponents, who led with 43 first downs by passing to only 14 for the Chiefs.

Friona recovered 29 enemy fumbles, 19 more than they lost. In addition, Chieftain defenders grabbed 13 pass interceptions, turning one into a touchdown (by Don Fortenberry.)

The Chiefs were penalized

an average of 63.9 yards per game, to 47.1 for the opponents.

Friona's highest score was 35 points, against Lockney. The team was shut out only once, by Olton. FHS also shut out one team, Littlefield.

The team's 275 yards rushing and 325 yards against Morton in the ninth game stand as season highs. This was also the game in which halfback Bill Bailey had an individual high of 142 yards.

Friona's lowest totals were against Muleshoe, when they had only six first downs, 14 yards rushing and 127 total yards. Most first downs were 20 against Morton and 19 against Farwell.

Muleshoe also racked up the best totals against the Chiefs of any of the opponents, with 20 first downs and 308 yards rushing.

Olton's Steve Stockdale had the best passing night against the Chiefs of any other quarterback, completing 13 passes for a whopping 237 yards. The Mustangs' 336 net yards were just a step less than the 337 that champ Floydada mustered.

On defense, Lockney got the least yards rushing, 29, but rival Dimmitt was held to the lowest net yardage, 67, compared to Lockney's 86.

Clark, Royal Lead Individual Statistics

Wesley Clark and Mike Royal were the individual leaders on offense for the 1970 Friona Chieftains, according to a tabulation of season statistics.

Clark was the team's leading rusher, picking up 618 yards on 148 carries. Clark, one of the team's tri-captains and the first colored player to be accorded this honor in the school's history, averaged 4.2 yards each time he carried the ball. This also was the best yards-per-carry average.

Clark also had the longest run from scrimmage, a 68-yard dash against Lockney in the season's final game. This run also helped the senior halfback clinch the rushing title over junior Bill Bailey.

Bailey, who had the single high game rushing total with 142 yards against Morton, finished with a good second half of the season, and was runner-up with 550 yards. Bailey averaged 4.0 yards per try on 136 carries, 12 less than Clark.

Mike Royal, also a junior, was the team's scoring leader, with 42 points on a team that divided 165 points among eight different players. Quarterback Don Fortenberry, with 16 points against Lockney in the final game, finished second with 28 points.

Royal also was the only other varsity backfield man to average four yards-per-carry, with a 4.1 average. He carried the ball only 69 times for the season.

Senior end Mike Mills, who played only six games before getting a leg injury that put him out for the year, rolled up 110 yards on pass receptions, most of all the receivers. This averaged 27.5 yards per catch. Mills was the only Chieftain to score a touchdown on a pass, and he scored twice in the six games he played.

Bailey and Clark each caught eight passes, to lead in that department. Senior quarterback Fortenberry completed 40 per cent of his passes, 23 of 57 attempts.

On defense, center-linebacker David Carlton led the team in tackles, with 82. Guard Dennis Anthony was second with 47, and linebacker Bill Bailey was third with 44.

Next, in order came Donnie Lewellen, 36; J.V. Finley, 35; Mike Royal, 33, and Mike Taylor, 25.

HORNS FINISH 9-1 Lazbuddie Rolls Over Turks, 56-6

TURKEY (Special) — The Lazbuddie Longhorns played like the Texas Longhorns here Friday night, butchering the Turkey Turks before Thanksgiving, 56 to 6, in a Dist. 3-B affair that finished the season for both clubs.

The Horns got underway with a first quarter TD, made by Ricky Seaton on a 1-yard thrust. Points try running, failed. Two more TDs with the Lazbuddie label came in the second stanza. Seaton made another one with a 26-yard run but no points followed. Thomas Kervin, a tackle, intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards for a lineman's-dream TD. Seaton ran two extras.

Arthur Graves, high-scoring Longhorn back, ran 17 yards for a second quarter Lazbuddie TD. Mark Barnes ran the extras.

PROMISING PROSPECT. . . Friona's Don Carthel, nagged with minor injuries all season, has still shown great promise for the future in his freshman year with the Eastern New Mexico University Greyhounds. The Eastern coaching staff has called Carthel "One of the top linebacking prospects" they have ever seen. Carthel saw action last Saturday when the Greyhounds closed out the 1970 season against New Mexico Highlands University.

Now it was Turkey's time. Dennis Irby ran 17 yards to put the Turks in the touchdown business. A pass for extras, failed.

However, Lazbuddie got a 55 yard TD on a run by Graves before the third stanza ended. Barnes ran the extras.

Barnes was still hanging tough. He intercepted a Turk pass and went 45 yards to score with it. Seaton ran extras. Graves contributed a 69-yard run and Barnes ran the extras. And to cap it off, Seaton passed to end Mike Casey for a 15-yard TD effort. Points try was blunted.

Both clubs were crippled for the windup. Each had four regulars out with injuries.

Peggy Fuston was crowned homecoming queen in pre-game ceremonies.

The records: Turkey, 2-8 season and 1-4 district; Lazbuddie, 9-1 season and 4-1 district.

Squaws Open Year By Downing Farwell

The Friona High School Squaws have started their 1970-71 season, with ten lettermen returning from last year's team which posted a 13-13 season record.

Included among the returnees are three of the team's six top scorers. Junior Diane Day, who led last year's team in scoring as a sophomore with 324 points, is among the returning lettermen.

Also back are Karen Crofford, who scored 137 points last year as a junior, and Sharon Crofford, who tossed in 80 points.

Other lettermen back on-fense are Jill Riethmayer and Jayn Massie. Sharon Smith is the only sophomore carried on the varsity roster. She led her freshman team in scoring last year.

On defense, lettermen Gloria Brown, Ginger Murphree, Vicki Ulen, Janice Milner and Kathy King return. Veva Welch rounds out the six players currently carried on the varsity defensive unit.

The Squaws opened their 1970-71 season by drubbing Farwell, 42-30.

Tomorrow's Housekeeping

By Samantha of the Lestoil Home Service Department

I'll bet you put off those Major Kitchen Clean-Ups as long as possible. Until your mother-in-law is coming for a visit, or a big party is on top of you. Then, there you are, whipping up a platter of hors d'oeuvres, when suddenly you notice the grimy fuzzies hanging from the blades of the ventilating fan, and the whole nightmare of your housekeeping imperfection is upon you.

DON'T BE SO HARD ON YOURSELF!

- Pick a quiet time when the kids are out from underfoot.
- Set yourself a realistic time limit—and stick to it.
- Figure out a method of attack and begin!

Here's a plan for shaping up the entire kitchen in 2 hours. Of course the time you'll have to spend depends upon the size of your kitchen. You'll need the proper cleaning equipment:

1. Window spray
2. Oven Cleaner
3. Floor Wax
4. And a bottle of all-purpose cleaner like Tomorrow's Lestoil that's made for cutting through the kind of grease and grime that accumulates in kitchens.

STOVE AND REFRIGERATOR

About 40 minutes.

Get at the worst, first. Remove stove grills and crumb trays. Set them aside to put in the bathtub before you go to bed at night. Add enough hot water to cover. 2 cups of Tomorrow's Lestoil, and soak until morning, when they'll be shiny as new.

Spray inside of oven and broiler with spray oven cleaner. Leave 20 minutes and empty refrigerator in the meantime. Clean refrigerator and shelves with all-purpose cleaner and return food items.

By now, the grime inside the oven and broiler should be reduced to a loose sludge, easy to wipe up with sheets of wet newspaper.

CABINET SHELVES

About 30 minutes.

Remove contents and sponge off shelves with a good, all-purpose cleaner that will cut the grease film left by cooking fumes. Return items in order.

There'll always be a speck of dirt somewhere that you haven't gotten to in the time you've allowed yourself. Just learn to ignore it!

'People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Mrs. Rolan Simpson does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Mrs. Simpson and nine out of 10 professional chefs agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Mrs. Simpson's favorite recipes.

WALNUT ROLL

Mrs. Rolan Simpson, 3213 56th St., Lubbock

Brush a jelly-roll pan, 10 x 15 inches, with oil, line it with wax paper, and oil the paper.

Separate 7 eggs. Beat the yolks with ¼ cup sugar until the mixture is pale in color and thick enough to "ribbon." Beat in 1½ cups ground walnuts and 1 teaspoon baking powder. Fold in egg whites, stiffly beaten. Spread the batter in the prepared pan and bake the cake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 or 20 minutes or until it is golden. Cool the cake in the pan, cover it with a damp towel and chill it.

Dust the cold cake generously with sifted confectioner sugar and turn it out on a board covered with two overlapping sheets of wax paper. Carefully strip the paper from bottom of cake. Spread cake with 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and flavored to taste with sugar and vanilla. Roll up the cake, using the paper as an aid, slide the roll onto a flat serving platter. Sprinkle with more confectioner sugar. (Rum or almond flavoring is also good.)

Water Recharge Looks Promising

BUSHLAND — Natural recharge of the Ogallala aquifer (water-bearing geologic formation of the High Plains) through man-made basins looks promising. And such recharge basins could one day effectively conserve much of the precious water now being lost to evaporation from playa lakes.

Research on the use of such basins was begun last year at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland. Engaged in the project are Agricultural Research Service scientists V. S. Aronovici, Arland D. Schneider and Orville R. Jones.

"Playa lakes are one of the main sources of water for the High Plains," points out Aronovici.

"The water from these lakes is of top quality, but very little of it is ever utilized. Recharge wells have been used to conserve the water from these lakes, but the suspended solids in the water tend to seal the aquifer near the wells. So, we looked for another approach to recharging."

The new approach, using basins dug near or on the edge of Playa lakes, offers new hope for groundwater recharging. The floor of these basins is below the heavy Pullman soil and consists of the more permeable Pleistocene material, a blanket of sediments that overlies the Ogallala aquifer.

In the project at the Bushland Center, two 4-foot deep basins each one-tenth acre in size were initially constructed.

One received well water for 46 days. Two hundred vertical feet of water were moved down to the water table some 178 ft below the surface. Directly below the basin, the water table rose four feet. The percolation rate reached a maximum of seven feet per day.

The other test basin received playa lake water for 66 days. A total of 149 vertical feet of water moved down to the water table although the basin floor partially sealed up with suspended materials. The rate of percolation in this basin finally was reduced to 1.5 feet per day.

On the basis of the two model basins, a prototype one acre in size was built on the edge of a playa lake at the Center. Due to a lack of rainfall, the basin has not been flooded with playa lake water. But a study with well water was conducted for 13 days, resulting in a percolation rate of two vertical feet per day.

"We are now conducting research to find out if the sediment in playa lake water has a deep sealing effect on the Pleistocene," explains Aronovici. "We believe that most of the suspended materials in the water settle on the floor of the basins. This, in itself, presents a problem, but a simple scraping operation to clean the basin floor corrects the situation."

The size of the basin to be constructed depends on the size of the playa lake and its watershed, adds Aronovici. In digging the one-acre basin in our study, we moved 5,400 yards of soil using an elevating scraper. A smaller basin could be dug with equipment available on many farms. So, recharge basins do offer farmers a practical, low-cost approach to water conservation or water harvesting.

The use of recharge basins on a large-scale basis has some real merit, contend the research scientists. As in many other agricultural endeavors, such as disease and insect control, application on an isolated basis would probably be futile. However, the cooperative efforts of farmers throughout the area could do much to salvage rainfall and thus replenish the diminishing groundwater supply.

SEASON LOW

Temperature Skids To 16 Degrees Here

Friona was hit with the coldest blast of the season on Sunday and Monday, with temperatures skidding to a low of 16 degrees early Monday morning.

The latest Arctic blast held temperatures around the freezing mark for much of the day on Monday, as the high reached only 38. This tied for the lowest high temperature so far this season.

No moisture came from the front, however, and aside from the bitter cold, the remaining harvest operations should not be held up noticeably.

Cotton harvest was moving into its final stages in the Friona area this week.

Ginners said it was "about over." "If it hadn't been for the high wind of Saturday and the cold weather the first of the week, it probably all would have been in by now," said one ginner, who added that there weren't too many fields left.

The 1970 cotton crop has exceeded the production of that of 1969, and might approach a bale to the acre. However, it was cut drastically by the abnormally early freeze on October 7.

However, experts say that quality and grade on the 1970 crop is good for the most part.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving

By BRUCE CATTON

THEY went to church that day in Plymouth town. To thank God for His goodness. For they had Known hunger, pain and want, gone thinly clad Through iron winter, thrown the gauntlet down To death himself, and let him take his toll, And now they had won through. . . . And so they prayed Their word of thanks, and stood up unafraid And faced the future with undaunted soul.

Today we, too, look back upon a road Blood-stained and dark, haunted by panic fears; And we, too, thank our God because He showed, Beyond the gloom and dusk of barren years, Beyond the memories of pain and sorrow The dawning of a glorious tomorrow!

Floral Thanksgiving Decorations

When the autumn weather is yellowing and reddening the leaves outside, when the grass is turning brown and the nip of cold is brightening the air, it's time to bring the natural beauty of the outdoors inside the home.

Chill winds have brought everyone in from backyard activities and fun is once more centered in the home. Formal and informal parties, holiday family gatherings, and after-the-football-game celebrations bring the activity focus back to indoor living.

The height of the fall season is Thanksgiving, a time when we pay tribute to the gifts of nature, and a natural time for flowers. With renewed attention to the home comes renewed interest in decorative accents, such as flowers, to enhance all holiday festivities.

For most effective seasonal accents, one may turn to the idea of combining floral artistry with fall motifs. Florists' Transworld Delivery designers note that the natural dramatic beauty of autumn flowers and colors makes elaborate vases and containers unnecessary. At this time, some of the most beautiful arrangements are done in baskets. Perhaps because they are made of nature's own products, baskets are lovely foils for flowers.

For example, imagine daisies in a split willow basket, or roses arranged in oriental fashion in a handled basket of bamboo. Lacy wicker baskets, filled with many types of autumn blooms, may be as simple or as elaborate as one desires. The old-fashioned Williamsburg bouquet looks particularly entrancing in a basket of this type.

Even as the autumn weather grows colder, florists can provide a variety of brightly colored flowers, all eminently suitable to the fall season. And, for the Thanksgiving hostess, or as a special holiday remembrance for friends or relatives out of town, FTD florists have designed a striking seasonal arrangement appropriately called "The Thanksgiving," which will be offered throughout the week preceding Thanksgiving. This colorful arrangement, set in a lined wicker basket, features a pyramid design composed of bronze and yellow pompons, yellow daisy mums, and clusters of dried star flowers.

Burning Crop Residue Discouraged By SCS

By Edwin Livengood, Parmer County SCS. Nearly every day for the past few weeks you could look on the horizon and see a pillar of smoke rising. Crop residue burning doesn't really help as much as some people think. The air pollution caused can be irritating enough, but the harm done to the soil can be serious.

Grain sorghum producing 8,000 pounds of grain per acre will have in excess of 10,000 lb. of residues per acre. When this residue is left on the ground, it decays and adds organic matter to the soil.

When residues are heavy, fertilizer needs to be added to prevent nitrogen tie up by the decaying residues. When nitrogen is released from the decaying process it adds fertility to the soil. The residues when left on the ground also control wind and water erosion. When residues are burned there is no build up of organic matter in the soil to improve tilth. This also leaves the soil bare, scorched, and at the mercy of the wind and water. The producer has to spend money for additional tillage operations.

The ashes left from the burned residues has a small amount of nutrients that are immediately available to plants. This sometimes gives the misconception that burned residues grow better plants than unburned residues. In the long run, land which has not had its residues burned year after year will be more productive and will take irrigation water better.

One farmer stated last week that burning residues cost twenty dollars per acre.

New Tech Museum Spans 100 Years Of History

"The West—Records and Impressions," a Western collection of graphics acquired by the Women's Division of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Museum Association, will be on exhibit in the Art Gallery of the new Museum of Texas Tech University when it opens to the public Saturday, November 14.

Spanning about a hundred-year period starting with the first artist-explorers of the late 1820s and 1830s, the Western collection represents the craftsmanship of the native Indians of the Southern Plains as well as the pioneers who came to settle.

Countless artists and illustrators were drawn westward as the frontier advanced. Each had his own interests, background and experience: each reacted to the West in a different way. Some had professional training in the East and in Europe, while others were self-taught. In the exhibition are the prominent as well as the lesser known. All were stimulated by the great drama of westward expansion and scenes of the changing frontier. Each had a story to tell.

The era focused on fur-traders, explorers and gold seekers; new settlements, army posts and Indian wars; freighting caravans, cattle drivers and the railroad.

The story is unfolded through the graphic arts in newly acquired collections of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Museum Association.

Included also is a group of paintings by George Catlin, on long-term loan from the National Gallery of Art, which is supplemented by several paintings of recent date from the Museum's permanent collection.

Audubon lithographs, a Frederick Remington ink and wash drawing, and a pen and ink work by Charles M. Russell, along with an oil by N.C. Wyeth, are among the well-known artists' works represented.

It is interesting to note that French, German, Swiss and English artists are exhibited alongside Americans who recorded the West of the period.

Contemporary Indian artists set the stage for some of the portrayals of Indian life as the artists saw it.

A Peter Hurd lithograph is included from the collection of The Museum.

In an introduction to the exhibition's catalogue, Museum Director Eugene Kingman says, "Future Museum exhibitions will explore different aspects of

The West in time and place, as sources and facilities allow."

"Each visual experience of the facets of any cultural heritage is an enrichment individually absorbed. Such experiences underline the awareness of the art that is history and the history that is art," Kingman concludes. "Nowhere is this close association more apparent than in the art of the Old West."

A special invitational preview of the exhibition will be held Thursday, November 12, for members of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the West Texas Museum Association.

Taylor-Evans To Open Liquid Feed Plant

Taylor-Evans Seed Company, an Amarillo-based subsidiary of Diamond Shamrock Corporation, has announced it will open a new plant in Oklahoma City this month to manufacture liquid feed supplement for cattle and sheep.

Van B. Rich, Vice President of Taylor-Evans and Manager of its Agri Supply Division, said the company will manufacture a patented formulation of PMS Liquid supplement which will be marketed as T-E Liquid Feed Supplement.

The new, fully-automated plant will be located at 5039 West Reno, Oklahoma City, expanding the company's present facilities at that address, Rich said. He noted that it will be the first liquid feed supplement plant in Oklahoma.

According to Rich, the liquid feed supplement operations will be conducted under the direction of Taylor-Evans' Oklahoma Branch Manager J.W. Thrasher and Branch Sales Manager Jim Meggs.

Executives from both Diamond Shamrock and Taylor-Evans will be in Oklahoma City for an open house and dedication ceremonies to be held at the plant November 17th.

Commenting on the development of liquid feed supplement, Rich noted that within recent years it has become an important element in cattle and sheep feeding programs. Its growing use by livestock producers, he said, has coincided with the growing dependence on such feed additives as urea and phosphoric acid. According to Rich, T-E Liquid Feed Supplement uses molasses as a carrier for these additives as well as vitamins and trace minerals.

Taylor-Evans Seed Company began business in Amarillo, Texas in 1951 and established its Agri Supply Division the following year. The Oklahoma Branch was opened in 1959. Besides the Amarillo headquarters and Oklahoma branch, the company has sales offices in Grand Prairie and Tulsa, Texas and Clovis, New Mexico.

The company's local outlet is Cummings Farm Store.

Christmas CHEER

THE FIRST CHEERFUL CHRISTMAS CAROL TO COME ALIVE FAITHFULLY WAS WRITTEN BY SAINT RONAVENTURE AROUND THE YEAR 1250.

For the Texas farmer whose livelihood depends on sorghum production, the ability to recognize sorghum diseases may determine his profit potential.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at College Station has conducted extensive disease surveys on the problem for several years. They have found downy mildew present in 63 Texas gulf coast counties.

Economic losses to farmers in only ten coastal counties were estimated by Texas A & M officials at 2.5 million dollars in one year.

Progress to combat sorghum diseases is being made, however. Researchers at Northrup, King and Co., one of the nation's leading grain seed producers, recommends farmers take the following steps to minimize damage and loss:

1. Rotate non-related crops regularly.

2. Destroy sorghum stubble as soon after harvest as possible. This reduces organism buildup.

3. Plant resistant sorghum varieties.

The company's researchers report the development of two new downy mildew resistant sorghum hybrids which are now available to farmers. These hybrids, they say, are the best and most practical means to avoid sorghum disease infection.

Both new hybrid varieties resist downy mildew, head smut and other foliar diseases. The hybrids are: NK 233, an early maturing sorghum and NK 266, a medium maturing sorghum.

Many Texas sorghum farmers have suffered poor yields because of downy mildew and other diseases. The new hybrids are expected to go a long way towards solving these problems and boosting sagging farm profits.

Fields severely infected with downy mildew (right) show an extremely ragged appearance. Yields can be reduced 60 to 70% under severe infection.

Here's a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket joint.

It won't leak

The idea of using a rubber gasket joint in Vanguard PVC plastic pipe was revolutionary. It meant no more bands or solvents. Easier, faster, trouble-free installation. But that was just a beginning.

Next we put the pressure on. We hydrostatically tested it. We put it through all sorts of temperature tests. We twisted it and turned it. Then we field tested it. We gave it more punishment than you or those inevitable ground shifts could ever hope to.

Just as we anticipated—the rubber gasket held. So, whatever your needs for plastic pipe, Vanguard is it. Bend it any way you want. We'll make a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket. It won't leak. Just be reasonable.

Vanguard is available in 1 1/2 to 15-inch diameters.

Salvation Army Is An Agency Of United Fund

(Editor's note: Following is another in a series of articles dealing with agencies of the Friona United Fund. This drive is currently underway, and we urge our readers to contribute to the "one drive" effort.)

A.L. Outland is chairman for the Friona Service Unit and Frank A. Spring is the treasurer. One third of all funds for this organization are kept in Friona and the other two thirds is sent to a central office, where it may be called for if needed.

During the past year, groceries were purchased for 29 people for $108.33; two pairs of shoes were purchased for $12.80; three persons were sponsored at Camp Hoblitzelle for $106.20; $2.05 was spent for gasoline for local needy persons and $100.03 was spent for Christmas dinners for the needy.

Transients were assisted with lodging for $5.15; meals or groceries for 13 persons for $34.32 and gasoline was provided for $3.03.

Funds for Boy Scouts are used to train leaders in the techniques of scouting, for maintaining service stations scout offices, to which scout leaders go for supplies and information, and maintenance of summer camp facilities.

Other services which are financed are for organization and expansion of new units and for expenses of travel for the supervisors of the program.

Someone may ask, "What does scouting do for a boy?"

Through scouting ideals and the Boy Scout Motto, "Be Prepared," a boy is trained to be resourceful, to take care of himself in every circumstance and to help others in any emergency.

Leadership is developed by the daily practice of a good turn each day and each boy develops into better citizens.

Everyone who has been in the armed forces knows how much the U.S.O. means to servicemen. U.S.O. workers regularly visit the sick and injured in military hospitals all over the world and contribute much to boosting the morale of fighting men.

The emergency fund stays in Friona and is to be used in case of a major disaster.

Murphree Is Wayland Trustee

A Friona man has been elected as a trustee for a Texas Baptist institution during the annual meeting of the 1.8 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Curtis W. Murphree, a farmer, was elected as a trustee for Wayland Baptist College, for a three year term.

McMurry Band Slates Concert

Two former Friona High School students will appear with the McMurry College Band when it plays in concert at the FHS Auditorium on Friday, December 4.

Janet Mingus and David Reeve are members of the band, which will play here at 10:15 a.m.

The public is invited, according to Raymond Cook, high school principal.

In Washington

Area Farm Leaders Get Good Reception

Local National Farmers Union president Gerald McCathern reported a "real cordial meeting" Friday in Washington with the nation's top governmental agriculture officials.

McCathern, Ron Crist of Hereford and Donald Kimbell of Amarillo flew to Washington Thursday for the meeting, set up by Cong. Bob Price.

"We had a real lengthy discussion concerning Commodity Credit Corporation sales policy and pricing methods and presented recommendations from the farm groups of this area regarding how the policy could best be handled and give the least effect on local market prices," McCathern said.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin promised that he and his aides will study the recommendation at length and act upon it, McCathern said Saturday.

Hardin also received the suggestion of the local farm leaders that an advisory council on feed grains be established to help determine policies affecting feed grains.

"We feel that much good was accomplished by the meeting, both in helping us to better understand some of their problems and in helping them to better understand some of our problems," McCathern said. He predicted a better situation for farmers in their market prices as a result of the meeting.

"I got the impression they are concerned about it and that they at least want to listen and consider. They indicated there might be a need for another meeting later on," he said.

McCathern said he feels the recommendations presented by the local farm representatives will be incorporated into farm policy in the coming year, although there probably will be no public announcement of any change.

At the meeting with Hardin were Clarence Palmbly, assistant secretary of agriculture; Kenneth Frick, ASCS administrator; Carl Farrington, deputy administrator of marketing for the CCC; and two representatives from Price's office, Forrest Reece and John Jamison.

Sincerely Yours

BY REV. ALBERT LINDLEY

Say goodness, I sure hope your religion means as much to you today as mine does. I have often wondered how in the world God can be as patient as he is with us when we so very often give Him so little of ourselves.

Gee, I didn't even give you time to catch your breath before I started preaching. . . Well, that's just the way it goes sometimes. . . and if I could be as sure right now that your church meant as much to you as it should, then I would sure sleep a lot easier tonight.

Have I told you about the guy who was to catch a boat for somewhere and when he arrived at the dock he noticed that the boat was already several feet away from the wharf? He ran as fast as his baggage would permit and with a long hard heave, managed to jump to the deck of the boat, dashing both himself and baggage very hard on the deck.

After a few moments of stunned shocked recovery he managed to say to a sailor who came rushing up, "Boy, I nearly missed this boat as it pulled out." "Pulled out?" replied the sailor, "Man, we're just coming in."

Did you ever have that sensation? Man, I get as out of kilter with the world as the old boy who got his bi-focal contact lens in upside down. . .

Really, you know the real tragedy for most of us is that we won't take the time to really set up a spiritual autobiography of our personal life to really see where we hang out. . .

The concern is that since we don't know where we are, spiritually, we can hardly know which way we should go or what to do--and often won't do anything at all to enrich our spiritual life--oh, of course, we pitch ourselves a little spiritual bone every once in a while just to see our tails wag and to keep ourselves a little contented and so we won't howl too much, much like we pitch ole' Rover a bone to keep him happy. But it can hardly be thought of as a full meal.

Well, we try the same thing with our own lives and then all of a sudden we almost find that we are spiritually bankrupt.

The big thing here is the acceptance of the fact that we are in need of outside help--much like the spirit of acceptance of the alcoholic as he joins "A.A." in fact, there is a great similarity.

The big deal is to recognize your need. The next big deal is to take proper steps to control the problem. . . My friend, I just then called God into the situation--for to do anything right--to do anything for the very best--to do anything acceptably--we do it in His will.

It would probably shock us all to find that the guy that we were wearing a mask for, so he wouldn't see who we really are, is also wearing a mask to keep us from seeing that he has much the same problem.

Boy, this is really becoming personal--but then I suppose that is how it should be--after all, God's real concern is how ole' Al Lindley adds up to the potential of his life and where he places his emphasis and how he responds to his brother (that's you, too) and just what in the world he will do for it all and with it all. (Yes, we sure need to think about all of that.)

Now, when one looks into his own spiritual window, it sometimes causes real shock--sometimes emotionally and physically. Often, fearful of what he might really see, the guy just won't look. . .

Are you like that? Come on, now. This is just you and me and a few others, and oh yes, God.

I tell you what I think might be a very good prescription. . . you will have time to look at your spiritual autobiography this afternoon and then still have time to make it out to the Community Thanksgiving Service tonight and spend some time giving thanks for all that you do have. . . and thanks for the possibility of being able to redirect yourself toward the "better" you. (I just pulled God into the picture, again. But then you knew I would.)

Windmill Donated To New Museum

Dominating the view as a visitor enters the central unit of The Museum of Texas Tech University is an Eclipse windmill, which serves as a focal point at the entrance to the Pioneer Hall.

Long a landmark on the prairie, the windmill took its energy from the air to draw water from the earth, making settlement possible on the Great Plains.

The gift of Mrs. James Levi Dagley of Lockney, Texas, the Eclipse Windmill was a highlight of the Life on the Plains Gallery in the original Museum building in the heart of the Texas Tech campus, and has been reconstructed in the 25-foot-high hall.

Although an ancient form of harnessing nature's power, windmills were not used in connection with water wells until the mid-nineteenth century. Then, as the American frontier reached the arid and semi-arid West, where surface water was scarce and ground water too deep for rope-and-bucket wells, the self-regulating windmill was invented.

The Eclipse mill in The Museum is typical of thousands which pumped water for cattle, crops, industries and man.

Other windmills are being acquired for installations on the grounds of the Ranch Headquarters outdoor museum, east of the new Museum building.

Music Makes For Holiday Cheer

Musical instruments small enough to fit into a Christmas stocking can produce a roomful of good cheer—without stretching the budget, according to the American Music Conference.

Last-minute stocking-stuffers are fun to give and even more fun to receive, and the fun is shared when the gift is music.

Small wooden or plastic recorders, harmonicas and even ukeleles are perfect small gifts for any member of the family. They're also great presents for servicemen and college students away from home. They're popular as solo instruments and as accompaniment for singers and many models sell for under $5. (NP Features)

Right On, Santa!

If past records are any indication, Santa Claus will probably deliver nearly one million bicycles to as many happy youngsters this year. Bikes are still the most asked for gift with the young set, and the attractive and colorful "high riser" models lead the list of youthful bicycle desires.

But Santa may find he's delivering more than the usual amount of lightweight adult bikes this year. More and more grownups are rediscovering the pleasures of cycling for fun, fitness and cleaner air.

Santa knows that bikes don't pollute. (NP Features)

FOR SANTA'S YOUNG HELPER—Dress her in this cheery Santa Claus apron and just try to keep her out of the kitchen! Made from bright red cotton fabric, the apron is appliqued with a huge Santa head cut from pink cotton satin and white corduroy. Wright's butterfly ruffling is used for eyebrows and a beard, and facial features are made from cotton ball fringe. Upper and lower edges of the apron are finished in gold braid.

A Holiday Apron

Electronic kitchens and convenience foods may have revolutionized the world of cooking, but one thing they haven't replaced — yet — is the apron.

It's still required fashion for every cook — regardless of age, sex, or menu, which probably explains why the apron remains the most popular item for bazaars or gift-giving. What's more, it's easy and fun to make.

If sewing time is limited, try your hand at a "quickie" apron. The recipe calls for one cotton terry hand towel, two yards of gold metallic trim, three yards of ribbon, and two gold frog closures.

Choose a bright red or green towel for an apron with a holiday air, and make it festive with gold trim. Start by folding a two-inch vertical pleat down each side of the towel front. Stitch pleats nine inches down from the towel top to form a bib-like apron top.

Tack an 18-inch strip of ribbon at the top corners of the bib for a neck strap. Add ribbon waist ties under frog closures at the end of each pleat.

For a decorative look, stitch ribbon over the towel bands at the top and bottom of the apron. Sew a strip of metallic trim across the ribbon, and then add single rows of trim above and below the ribbon to complete the apron.

A towel gift sure to please the youngest of cooks is a Santa's helper apron.

Adorned with a Santa bib, it can be made from a yard of red or green cotton fabric. Make your own simple pattern from paper, cutting it dress-length with a curved bib section. Stitch waist ties and neck strap to the apron while hemming the edges.

Now make a large Santa's head to adorn the apron

QUICKIE APRON—As the name implies, this holiday apron can be made in minutes. It's fashioned from a red or green cotton terry hand towel and given a festive air with Wright's metallic gold trim, frog closures, and ribbon.

Who has some boys d' arc apples to give away? I need some for an experiment and will be very happy to pick them up. Last week's mail brought me some more information about conducting some kind of "applesauce" which is supposed to grow hair and a volunteer for the experiment. Or, at least, I have a volunteer who has volunteered to "find someone to try the treatment."

In his letter he wrote, "Before using your Indian Hair treatment I had two bald spots; now I have but one--the whole head." Then added that he was joking, but would be interested in an experiment.

Now, all we need is some "Bowdark," "Bois d' arc," or "horse," apples. Surely some of our readers can supply these.

For the past several years I have noticed that several magazines have gone out of production, but haven't noticed many new ones being started.

Last week I received a sample comp of "Farm Wife News," which was printed in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. It is tabloid size and is printed on slick paper. It is attractive and contains many articles of interest.

The first issue to be mailed will be released in January 1971. Then one edition will be published every other month. Farm Wife News is the first magazine I've seen in a long long time without any ads.

The regular subscription price is $3 per year, which adds up to 50¢ per issue, so no one could complain about the price. Think I will just send in my three dollars and see what the future holds for the magazine.

If you are one of the homemakers who enjoy baking bread when the weather is cold, you might like to try the following recipe for Sourdough Starter:

- 1 cup whole milk
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1-1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup white cornmeal

Scald milk. Remove from fire and stir in the sugar, salt and cornmeal. Mix thoroughly and place mixture in large fruit jar or pitcher. Cover the container and place it in a pan of water which is hot to the hand (120 degrees F.)

Allow to stand in a warm place for 7-8 hours or overnight. Make a soft dough by adding the following to the fermented mixture:

- 1 cup warm water
- 2 cups flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar

Beat thoroughly. Place the sponge in the hot water bath and allow it to rise until it's very light and full of bubbles. The resulting mixture is called starter. You will need to keep the starter refrigerated, but must not freeze it.

To set the starter, pour it into a mixing bowl and add lukewarm water or potato water. Then stir in flour to make a thick sponge. Cover and set in a warm place overnight.

The next morning you will need to spoon the starter for the next batch into a jar with a tight fitting lid and put it back in the refrigerator.

After taking the starter out of the sponge, stir in about 1/4 cup melted margarine, salad oil or bacon drippings and 2 tablespoons of sugar for each 2 cups of sponge, then add flour to make a stiff dough.

Grease the top of the dough and sides of the bowl, cover and allow to rise until light-approximately double in bulk. Turn the dough out onto a well floured board and knead about ten minutes. Then shape into loaves and let rise a second time.

When the loaves are about double in bulk, place in hot oven 425-450 degrees for about 12 minutes. Then reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake until golden brown.

Many of our younger homemakers are keenly aware of the importance of good nutrition and those who like to bake whole wheat bread might enjoy the following recipe.

It is a favorite of Mrs. Buck Ellison of Bovina and was recently published in the Bovina Blade.

WHOLE WHEAT HOT ROLLS

- 3 pkgs yeast
- 1 c. warm water
- 1 T. sugar
- 1 qt. warm water
- 1/2 c. sugar
- 1/2 c. melted shortening
- 2 c. whole wheat flour
- white flour

Dissolve yeast in 1 c. warm water, add 1 T. sugar, stir good and set aside for 10 minutes. Add 1 qt. warm water 1/2 c. sugar, 1/2 c. melted shortening, add 2 c. whole wheat white flour to make a real stiff dough. Knead on bread board (which has been floured real well) until bread is smooth and not sticky. Let rise in greased mixing bowl until double in size. Work down and make out into 2 loaves and the rest in hot rolls. Let rise again until double in size and bake.

Since this is Thanksgiving and Christmas is just around the corner, I'm borrowing another recipe from Mrs. Ellison and hope our readers who try it enjoy it, too.

SOUR CREAM RAISIN PIE

- 1 c. raisins
- 1 c. sugar
- 2 beaten eggs
- 1 c. sour cream
- 1 t. vanilla
- 1 t. lemon flavoring

Soak raisins in hot water 30 minutes, drain, mix sugar, eggs, sour cream and flavoring add raisins and bake in unbaked pie shell until mixture thickens and browns.

The strength of a nation is derived from the integrity of its homes.
