

PLANTING TIME NEAR

Beet Growers Are Without Contract

Beet growers in the Friona-Herford area have not negotiated a contract with Holly Sugar Corporation for 1970, with planting time now upon the sugar beet farmers.

The board of directors of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, Inc. has met with John Bunker, Holly president, twice concerning a contract for 1970, but could come to no agreement.

The Holly leadership has proposed a change to a contract in which the grower and the processor would split the sugar, beet pulp and molasses on a 50-50 basis. The grower would stand losses from piling, and would have no guarantee of sugar price. Officials of the Growers Association told the Holly president at both meetings that they did not think the contract would be acceptable to growers of this area.

"We have been working for five years to get the contract we have at present, and we think it is a good one. It was approved by the Department of Agriculture as a fair and reasonable contract for 1969," stated Jay Boston, president of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Assn.

The Association has asked growers not to sign a contract with Holly and not to pick up any seed until a contract has been negotiated which they believe to be suited to their best interests.

Holly Sugar Corp. has pointed out that the company had severe losses in this year's business, and feel they cannot give the growers the same contract they had the past year.

The growers association have countered with the argument that the growers also had considerable losses this year, and they may have difficulty getting financed on a lesser contract for 1970.

Growers are beginning to be apprehensive about the situation, since planting time is here. Most beets are usually planted by March 30. Some would have been planted already

We wonder if people, including youngsters, who try narcotic drugs actually realize the possible consequences of their "fling."

So far, Friona has been spared the agony of a drug crackdown, such as has been experienced in some parts of our area.

This is not to say that we've had no violations of drug laws in Friona. Only the most naive person would believe this. Undoubtedly we have had some violations. Hopefully, we do not have a drug problem. If not, we can definitely consider ourselves lucky.

There have been no arrests involving Friona or Parmer County residents on drug violations as yet, according to the county law officers.

Just how long we'll be able to make this claim depends on a lot of things, not the least of which could be the proper education of our youngsters to the dangers, and penalties involved in drug use.

First, there is the obvious threat of permanent brain damage, from dealing with substances which should only be handled by specialists.

There is also the possibility that the occasional indulgence in drug use will develop into addiction, much the same as smoking becomes a necessity to many people, and alcohol to alcoholics.

As to the potential penalties, if young people investigate, they might think twice before they indulge in a "fling."

Those convicted violating the state drug code, which includes possession or use of a narcotic, are guilty of a felony, which is punishable by imprisonment for from two years to life.

Upon a second or subsequent conviction, offenders may be given from 10 years to a life sentence. A suspended sentence or probation under the Adult Parole Law is not available to a person upon a second or subsequent conviction.

Vernon's Penal Code of the State of Texas carries a notation that in one particular case, a sentence to life imprisonment for possession of marijuana was not an excessive penalty.

In another case, where a defendant had a record of being previously convicted in California of unlawful possession of a narcotic, and had been arrested for possession in Texas, the jury assessed punishment at 75 years in the penitentiary.

Those under age who are arrested on drug charges, may be either placed on probation for a certain number of years, or in some instances, sent to reform school.

It is also a serious matter to offer drugs to someone else, even if it is your best friend in school. The law states:

"Any person who furnishes, sells, barter, trades, administers, or gives, or offers to furnish, sell, barter, trade, administer or give to a person under the age of 21 years any narcotic drug, or who unlawfully hires or uses a person under 21 in unlawfully transporting, carrying, selling, giving away, preparing for sale or peddling any narcotic drug is guilty of a felony and upon a first conviction is punishable by imprisonment for five years to life.

These are pretty serious consequences, and we would hope that someone reading our column is made aware of what could happen if they received a drug conviction, to the end that they don't hesitate to say "no thanks" if a friend offers them a smoke of "grass" or a sample of another narcotic.

What kind of friend would get you in danger of a life sentence in the penitentiary?

Another Friona youngster has recently gone into the service. Joe Murphree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Murphree, is taking his basic training.

Those who would like to drop him a card or letter may address Joe as follows: Pvt. Harold J. Murphree, 461 82 3477, Co. A, 2nd BN, 1st BCT 25th Div California 93941

Month's Building Shatters Record

The month of February rang the bell with a new all-time record building month for the City of Friona, according to permits issued by the City office.

City Manager Jake Outland revealed this week that permits were issued during the month for the new Friona State Bank building, the 60-unit apartment project, and six new residences, for a monthly total of $1,171,700.

Largest item on the list was the apartment project, construction phase to cost $721,000. The bank permit was in the amount of $368,000. Six new residences were issued, to cost $74,700, and additions and alterations amounted to $8,000.

The total, sending the city past the million-mark for the third consecutive year, will get the year 1970 in position to be the all-time record year if other building continues as usual.

School Census Shows Drop In Grades 1-3

The recent school census completed by the Friona Independent School District is down 60 from the census taken a year earlier, according to Superintendent of School Alton Farr.

Of the 60 decrease, a total of 51 comes in the first two grades. Biggest decrease is from the proposed first grade class, which is 29 less than the number signed up last year. It could be, of course, that more children starting for the first time, without older brothers or sisters, were missed by the census this year.

Otherwise, the census compared favorably with the one taken in January of 1969, with 41 proposed students for the high school, as compared to 423 which were enumerated last year. In Junior High grades, 497 were counted in the census this year compared to 495 a year ago.

The overall school totals show-wed 1387 prospective students enumerated this January, compared to 1447 a year earlier.

Broken down by grades, for the school year 1970-71, the following chart shows how the past two censuses compare:

Grade	1970	1969
First	88	117
Second	120	142
Third	139	146
Fourth	132	124
Fifth	120	137
Sixth	129	127
Seventh	127	118
Eighth	121	113
Ninth	113	115
Tenth	105	112
Eleventh	110	87

Mobile Phone Survey Made

Tom Collins, an employee of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, was in Friona last week making a survey of businesses and residents who are interested in having a mobile telephone.

Those who were not contacted, but are interested in having their names placed on the "prospective" list are asked to fill out a form to be returned to the company.

Forms are available at the Chamber of Commerce office, the City Hall and Friona Star. Cost of the service will be approximately $45 a month.

Those interested should fill in a form within the next week, Collins has requested.

Breath Test To Save Lives

Fifty per cent of Texas fatal traffic accidents involve drunk drivers, say the Texas Safety Association.

Enforcement of the new breath test law could cause a dramatic decrease in the number of traffic fatalities during 1970.

CRASH SCENE. . . Shown is the aftermath of a crash last Friday in which Buddy Stowers' pickup crashed into a parked pickup and slammed it into an irrigation well motor (at left). Stowers was hospitalized with cuts and abrasions, and was hospitalized until Tuesday of this week.

DAMAGE DONE

Stowers Injured In Pick-Up Crash Here

A.T. (Buddy) Stowers was injured last Friday when the pickup which he was driving went out of control and crashed into a parked pickup in front of Lewellen Construction Co. on the eastern edge of the city.

The Stowers vehicle left the road at about the intersection with the Cemetery Road. It knocked down a sign in front of Kelley Radiator Shop and then struck a vehicle owned by Grady

King, parked in front of the construction company.

The impact of the Stowers pickup knocked the second pickup into an irrigation well in front of the business, and the two pickups were stopped by the well pump, which was knocked from its foundation.

The second pickup, a 1966 Ford Ranchero, was squeezed together like an accordion, and those "first to the scene frantically tried to find someone in that vehicle, as it appeared that the two had crashed almost head-on.

A gas line serving Lewellen Construction was severed by the crash, which caused gas to spew at the location until a representative of Pioneer Gas could be summoned to cut off the gas.

Investigating officers said that Stowers apparently "blacked out" prior to the crash, as he never did brake his vehicle.

A motorist trailing behind said that Stowers first veered onto the left side of the road as he approached the city limits, and then left the road on the other side.

Stowers was hospitalized with cuts and abrasions, and kept for observation at Parmer County Community Hospital until Tuesday.

Political Activity Up As Deadline Reached

Political activity picked up somewhat in Friona as the deadline for filing in the school and city races arrived on Wednesday.

A late count showed seven candidates for the three seats on the Friona School Board. Filing as of noon Wednesday were H.K. (Pudge) Kendrick, John Blackburn, Floyd Schueler, Clarence Monroe, Jim Dixon, Steve Messenger, and Mrs. George Taylor.

In the city election, three have filed for the mayor's post being vacated by W.L. (Preach) Edelman, who is a candidate for county judge. Filing applications in this race are R. L. Fleming, Roy Miller and O. T. Patterson.

Buske Released At Houston

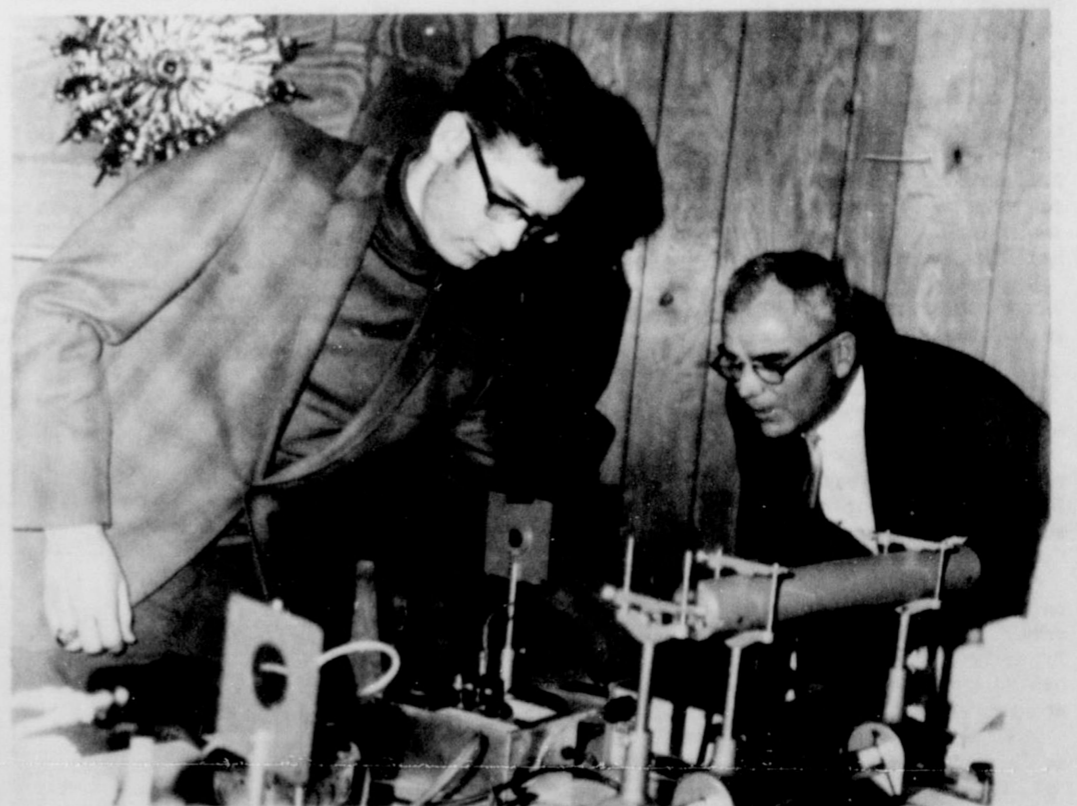

G.B. (Pete) Buske, who had been a patient at M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston for a week, called the Star on Tuesday to report that he has been released from the hospital and that tests have ruled out the original thought that he was suffering from Leukemia.

Buske will remain in Houston for two weeks for additional tests and observation, on an out-patient basis. He is staying at Room 450, Towers Hotel, 2130 Holcombe Blvd., Houston, 77025. The telephone number is 713-Mohawk 6-1461.

Buske thanked his many Friona friends who had expressed their concern for his health and remains in an optimistic condition.

40 YEARS AGO--MARCH 7, 1930

Nine Friona citizens journeyed to Plainview Wednesday in response to a call of the secretary of the Plainview Board of City Development. The meeting had been called for the purpose of stimulating an interest in railway facilities for the Plains country, as it appears there is a large scope of country between Plainview and Tucuman, N.M. that has not sufficient railway facilities. Attending from Friona were M.A. Crum, J.M. Osborn, T.J. Crawford, J.J. Horton, F.W. Reeve, O.G. Gurner, C. W. Dixon, Clyde Goodwine and John White.

30 YEARS AGO--MARCH 8, 1930

T.J. Crawford, one of the leading merchants of the city, departed last Thursday to Mineral Wells upon receiving word of the death of his brother. While enroute there, however, Mr. Crawford had the misfortune of having his car catch fire, and completely burn. As it was the middle of the night, Mr. Crawford was fortunate to have a motorist from Portales, N.M. stop and drive him to his destination.

25 YEARS AGO--MARCH 9, 1945

Those in charge of the Parmer County Livestock Show held here last Friday and Saturday express themselves as well satisfied with the results, both in number and quality of livestock. Winners included--Lloyd Rector, in fat pigs, fat litter boars, and pen of three: Wendell Christian, Oklahoma Lane, open gilts: Merrill Rundell, Oklahoma Lane, bred gilts: Raymond Schlabs, sows: John and David Smith, sows and pigs: Dwight Byram, yearling heifers: J.G. Mears, junior yearling heifers: Lloyd Messenger, cows: and Johnny Roberts, bulls.

20 YEARS AGO--MARCH 3, 1950

Vera Ann Jones, a Friona High School junior, was crowned Miss Friona of 1950 at the beauty contest and "womanless" style show sponsored by the local American Legion Auxiliary Tuesday night.

Dr. William B. Childress arrives today to be associated with the Parmer County Community Hospital. Dr. Childress is a former classmate and member of the same fraternity as Dr. Paul Spring, with whom he will be associated in practice.

10 YEARS AGO--MARCH 3, 1960

With Tommy Lewellen opening the scoring with a field goal early in the initial quarter of play, the Friona Squaws decisively defeated the Abernathy Antelopes in Plainview Tuesday night, by a score of 49-29, to gain a berth in the regional tournament to be held Saturday in Lubbock. The Squaws will face Anson in the first game Saturday morning.

5 YEARS AGO--MARCH 3, 1965

A Friona product, Kay Burselson, will reign during the coming year as "Miss Lubbock," as a result of winning the title over 27 other beauties last Saturday night.

For the third consecutive year and fourth time in six years, the Friona High School Squaws have fought to the regional semi-finals in basketball. The Squaws downed Slaton in bi-district Tuesday 55-34.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I wanted to take this opportunity to congratulate our seniors for a marvelous play "A Man Called Peter" and how well they portrayed it. I believe they are to be commended for choosing it, working so hard on it and presenting it so well. I believe Friona is blessed with the greatest young people and we should tell them so. Our papers (not yours) are so full of the few who go wrong but when a bunch of kids do something worthwhile it's hardly ever mentioned.

Lets say "Hats Off" to our Seniors and to the young people in our town.

Mrs. Curtis Murphee

Mr. Ellis:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you and the Friona Star for your wonderful support in the recent Parmer County Livestock Show.

Our show means a lot to me as I'm sure it does to many others. It can be quite helpful and rewarding to the entire community as well as those who are directly involved.

I felt our show was a great success this year but it could not have been if you and other members of our community had not been so helpful. Thanks again.

Yours truly,
Larry Johnston

The 1970 Senior Class
Friona High School
Friona, Texas

The "Crusaders Class" of the Friona United Methodist Church in their regular meeting Sunday morning, March 1, 1970, were in unanimous agreement to Commend and Congratulate the Senior Class of '70 for their selection, dedicated hard work and splendid presentation of the class play, "A Man Called Peter."

You have made us proud to be a part of the community in which the young people work and study so diligently and vividly to portray the teachings of Jesus Christ.

May God's highest blessings be with you all in your future educational endeavors.

Wesley Foster, Teacher

Dear Mr. Ellis:

Thank you very much for donating the showmanship plaque at the Parmer County Livestock Show. I wanted to receive the showmanship award while I was in the show business. It was a big surprise. Thank you for your support.

Pause And Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

I have never had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Jerry Sadler, Commissioner of the General Land Office of the State of Texas; however at the first opportunity I intend shaking his hand and expressing my appreciation for his interest in preserving a very important part of our state's history.

Mr. Sadler, you will remember, is the official who almost single handedly waged a successful battle against political and commercial foes and who is responsible for the return to Texas of valuable articles lost when a flotilla of Spanish ships was destroyed by a storm near Padre Island in the year 1553.

Padre is that long narrow island that lies adjacent to Texas' southwest coast.

The northern end of Padre is reached by a causeway of Corpus Christi.

From Corpus it stretches south to Port Isabel, a distance of 100 miles.

Here another causeway links it to the mainland.

The "flota" of twenty Spanish galleons and carracks were in route to Spain loaded with gold and silver coins, casks of priceless jewels, and one thousand passengers.

One of these, a Dominican monk, named Juan Ferrars, had grave misgivings concerning the trip.

"Woe be to those who are going to Spain," he told his fellow travelers as they left Vera Cruz. "Neither we nor the fleet will ever arrive there. Most of us will perish before then, and those who survive will endure intolerable hardships which will cause the death of most of them."

The first few days of the homeward voyage seemed to refute Fray Ferrer's doleful predictions.

Havana, Cuba, was reached without incident. Here some cargo was exchanged, fresh water and provisions were loaded, and the long trans-atlantic journey was begun. Sailing toward the Bahama Channel they encountered the swift and variable Caribbean currents and were pulled off course. Before they could effect a rendezvous a fierce storm drove them deep into the Gulf of Mexico.

A few of the ships were able to put into Cuban or West Indian ports, and one even made it all the way back to Vera Cruz. These were the smaller and lighter craft. The heavily laden, broad-beamed carracks were driven across the Gulf and dashed to pieces on the offshore islands of the present day Texas coast.

About 300 people survived the ordeal, they came ashore clinging to anything that would float. When the storm abated they were able to salvage a considerable amount of food and a few weapons.

The fleet commander was among these survivors and taking charge of the group he started the long-hazardous trip back to Mexico.

At this point, Fray Ferrar's prophecy began to be fulfilled. Of the 300 who had escaped the wreckage only two lived to relate their experiences.

One, a friar named Marcos de Mena, completed the trip after some friendly Indians found him half dead from exposure, starvation and thirst.

Another, a layman, Francisco Vasquez (not the explorer Francisco Vasquez de Coronado) started south with the others but seeing their perils he turned back to the wrecked vessels. Here on Padre Island he subsisted on shell fish and stores left on the ships until his rescue a year later.

A great deal of treasure was returned to Mexico; however even today, 417 years later, coins, hardware, artifacts, and weapons are still to be found along the beach.

The United States Congress grants the State of Texas authority over submerged lands for a distance of 10 miles out from shore.

The few "pieces of eight" picked up by tourists were a minor concern, but when out of State professionals started wholesale salvage operations Mr. Sadler entered the picture.

The complete story of the affair is told in a small book entitled "Treasure Tempest in Texas." We have a copy which we will leave in the Friona Public Library.

If your vacation plans include a visit to our Gulf Coast it might be a good idea to read the full account--who knows you might return to Friona with a very valuable souvenir.

According to officials of Western States Taxpayers' Associations, increasing federal grants to state and local government will decrease responsibility in government, thereby making it more difficult to decrease governmental costs and add to inflation. "...if the federal government has uncommitted resources, taxpayers should insist that federal taxes be reduced in order that such resources be made available for state and local governments to fund essential activities. The most effective method for control of expenditures in government is the direct and immediate correlation of spending programs and tax levies. Such control is always lost when one governmental entity collects the money and another spends it..."

CORTLAND, N.Y., DEMOCRAT: "Would you go to a store and pay $1.16 for a one dollar bill? No? Does the very thought sound insane? Well hold on to your chair, because you are already paying that much and more for dollar bills reports the (New York) Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Incorporated. "...Proponents of new government spending programs who cry, 'It won't cost local taxpayers anything; federal aid will pay for it,' are merely deluding themselves and the public."

MAN FROM MARS. . . No, this isn't a man from another planet, but a man demonstrating a special pair of "glasses" which turns things upside down and backwards. It will be featured in the film "Windows of the Soul" to be shown Sunday at the First Baptist Church. (Moody Institute of Science photo)

"Windows Of The Soul" Is Church Film Title

Man's astonishing senses are the subject of "Windows of the Soul" one of the series of "Sermons from Science" films produced by Moody Institute of Science. This film will be shown at Friona's First Baptist Church at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The topsy-turvy world as seen by our eyes is demonstrated by Dr. Irwin Moon, producer, as he wears a special pair of inverting spectacles. These glasses make everything appear upside down and in reverse. After some days the brain adjusts to the situation and everything again appears right side up. To show his mastery of his handicap, Dr. Moon was able to drive a motorcycle and fly a plane. Featured demonstrations of ultrasonics, the new science of silent sound, emphasize the limitations of the human senses. The energy of silent sound is manifested as it makes material objects float in mid-air. The film also shows a little known technique perfected at Moody Institute of Science which actually makes odors visible. In this way it is possible to "see" the smell of a rose.

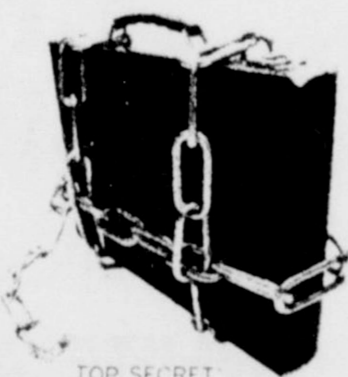

"As all previous productions in this series, 'Windows of the Soul' uses science as a means of illustrating and driving home a basic spiritual truth," said Dr. Irwin Moon, producer. "This film is directed especially to this space-age generation and is designed to strike at the very roots of man-made religions."

MBP Names New Director

Melvin Rolf, Chairman of the Board of Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., today announced the election of Charles L. Bacon of Kansas City, Missouri, as a Director of Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Gordon Clifton as Director and Treasurer of the Company on February 10, 1970.

Clifton had served as such since the formation of the Company. Harold Wichman, presently a Director and Vice President, was elected Treasurer. Bacon previously was a Director of the Company but did not stand for re-election at the 1969 Annual Meeting. He will serve until the 1970 Annual Meeting on March 17, at which time he will stand for re-election.

You wouldn't want to lose a voice in Congress, would you?

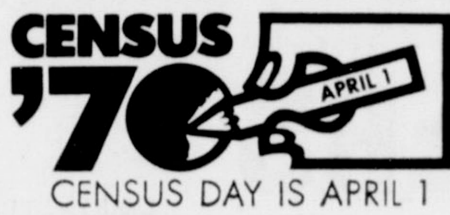

You can. Easily. If you don't show up in the Census. Because national and state legislatures are based on population.

If you, and enough of your neighbors, feel the Census is a nuisance instead of a necessity, you may not get into the head count. And could end up with one less representative than your area is entitled to.

Other things, too, depend on Census figures, like aid for schools, housing, medical services, recreational facilities, and the stimulation of jobs.

So fill in your Census Form. It's as private as your vote, and just as important.

We can't know where we're going if we don't know where we are.

Borger Chosen As All-American City

Three Texas Cities--Borger, Cuero and El Paso--are among the eleven U.S. communities awarded the title of All America City in a national competition.

The other winners announced today are: Asheville, N.C.; Eugene, Ore.; Kalamazoo, Michigan; Martinsville, Va.; Maryville, Mo.; Rock Hill, S.C.; Rocky Mount, N.C. and Springfield, Ill.

Co-sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine, the awards are conferred for outstanding civic achievements brought about by the united efforts of citizens. The winning cities are featured in an article in the March 10 issue of Look, out Tuesday, February 24.

The theme recurred throughout the awards competition was community development of human as well as physical resources. Achievements in the winning cities centered around citizen-initiated efforts to draw disadvantaged and minority groups into the mainstream of community life, and to upgrade the quality of municipal services and facilities.

Borger was an oil boom town that refused to be busted. Its citizens win honors for their plans to revitalize a decaying community.

When automation reduced job opportunities in local plants, triggering a population decline, a citizen committee attracted three new industries, ramshackled buildings, skeletons of boom town days, were razed in a clean-up campaign. Civic pride resulted in new parks, street lighting, and downtown renewal, and the town's long-neglected school system was revamped. To eliminate clouds of carbon wastes polluting Borger's skies, local plants installed multi-million dollar air filtering systems. The town formed the first air pollution control zone in Texas, setting a statewide example.

When Cuero's agricultural economy leveled off, and its young people left to seek jobs elsewhere, concerned citizens established an industrial foundation to attract new business and create employment opportunities.

After learning that its three hospitals couldn't meet Medicare requirements, Cuero formed a hospital district with taxing powers, voted a $750,000 bond issue for new hospital facilities. In addition, a 60-bed nursing home was aided into locating in the city.

Local government was revised through a charter change. New water and recreation facilities were built and programs of paving streets and flood control were instituted. Also, a new housing code was adopted and public housing made available for elderly and low-income groups.

El Paso, the largest city to win, is cited for its efforts to improve living conditions of alienated Mexican-Americans who comprise half of its population.

To eliminate widespread illiteracy and poverty, help was directed at the city's youth (El Paso's median age is 22.7, the youngest population in urban America). A Youth Advisory Council opened channels of communication between city officials and frustrated ghetto dwellers. Programs were initiated to provide guidance and recreation for deprived youngsters, and to improve youth-police relations.

ALERT FOR SCREW-WORMS.

Brief periods of mild, humid temperatures in the state have caused officials of the Screw-worm Eradication Program to warn livestock producers to be on the alert. All animal wounds should be watched carefully and if larvae are found, a sample should be collected and mailed to the Mission Laboratory for positive identification. "We must know where the cases are before we can treat the area with sterile flies," said Dr. S.C. Gartman.

Hog Raising Is Topic Of March 11 Meeting

It has been stated recently at a swine conference that "the potentials for hog production on the High Plains of Texas are tremendous."

As a result of this great interest and the potential for hog production in this area of the state a "Money In Hogs" meeting has been set for Parmer County. This meeting will be held March 11 at the Hub Community Center. The meeting time is 7:00 p.m.

The purpose of this meeting is to take a look at pork production as another economic opportunity for Parmer County.

Dr. William Thomas, Swine Animal Husbandman with Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M, will be the first speaker on the program. "Factors to Consider When Entering the Hog Business" will be the topic Dr. Thomas will discuss.

Ed Garnett, area farm management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will follow Dr. Thomas with a discussion on "Profit Potentials." Garnett will present potentials for various sizes of units and methods.

Following the discussion on profit potentials Dr. Thomas will appear on the program again to discuss "Feeding Grain Sorghum." This will be an interesting discussion since feed is one of the major expenses in hog production.

The program will be concluded with a panel discussion on "Financing Hog Operations." Three speakers will be on the panel.

Joe Montgomery, vice president of Security State Bank in Littlefield will be the first speaker on the panel to explain how banks can help in financing hog operations.

Five Rural Accidents Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $9,670.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock DPS Region for January, 1970, shows a total of 460 accidents resulting in 15 persons killed, 188 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $648,408 as compared to January, 1969 of 447 accidents resulting in 26 persons killed, 260 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $424,881.

The Sergeant reminded all motor vehicle owners that still have their inspection stickers on the lower right-hand side of their windshields that April 15 is the deadline for having the new sticker placed on the lower left-hand side of their windshields. The Sergeant also stated that only about 33 per cent of the registered vehicles in the surrounding area have been inspected.

BOOKLET AVAILABLE

A booklet which summarizes fertilizer research and demonstration work on the Texas High Plains over a 10-year period is now available from the county agricultural agent's office.

Title of the report is "Fertilizer Research and Demonstration Summary for the Texas High Plains, 1958-67." It was prepared by James H. Valentine, area soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. Arthur B. Onken, assistant professor of soil and fertilizer at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

Information on a large number of the more than 200 research tests directly pertaining to fertilizer use and response on the High Plains is contained in the booklet. The publication summarized fertility research conducted with cotton, grain sorghum, wheat, alfalfa and sugar beets. Also, a general description of area soils and their fertility status, fertilizer use history and a soil test explanation is included.

In addition to this research information, fertilizer demonstrations are also conducted in this county each year with cooperating farmers. This information is published at the beginning of each year in a result demonstration handbook that is also available at the county agent's office.

As yield potentials increase due to improved management and production practices, fertilizer use can be increased profitably. All farmers and fertilizer dealers in the county are urged to come by the office to pick up a copy of the booklet described above as it contains available information that may be helpful in planning a fertility program for this year's crops.

Health Program Slated At Friona High School

The Texas Health Careers Program will stage an assembly program for Friona High School at 8:45 a.m. on March 9.

A unique presentation, this assembly is designed to introduce students to the exciting opportunities which await the health-care profession of tomorrow. The need for health manpower in Texas is, indeed, great.

Statistics indicate that 50,000 qualified health personnel will be needed by 1975 to fill vacant paramedical seats.

Speaker for the Health Careers Assembly will be Gerald Spraggins, R.N.

A veteran of Vietnam, first male graduate of the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Dallas, and former member of the Texas Health Careers traveling Caravan show, this registered nurse is more than qualified to speak concerning importance of the male's role in the disciplines of Texas health care.

The Texas Health Careers Program is affiliated with the Texas Hospital Association.

The Public is invited to this assembly.

Temptation . . . Why?

By DAVID JOHNSON

When God speaks the world listens. God spoke at the baptism of Jesus and said these words, "This is My beloved Son in Whom I am well pleased."

From this rewarding and satisfying experience of Godly approval, Jesus was suddenly and immediately plunged into the wilderness.

At this point, I believe that the inquisitive searching Christian has every right to ask, "Why?" Why did the promised Messiah, who had lived 30 years of perfect obedience to God's will, have to spend almost six weeks in such a place without food or companionship?

Why, God? Why?

Why was this experience necessary in order to carry out God's redemptive plan in human history?

Why not 40 days of peace before the struggle began?

Why must these steps be taken on the road to the cross?

God knew that the journey ahead would be a hard one for His Son. It was not an easy life that the Master had been called to.

When God chose to walk among men, He chose to walk a rough and rocky road, to suffer as men suffer, to hunger as men hunger, to struggle as men struggle.

He did not choose for His beloved Son a bed of roses. There was to be, instead, a crown of thorns.

Therefore, the temptations in the wilderness were necessary preparation for the coming three years of active, redemptive, and challenging ministry that were ahead.

Jesus, the obedient suffering servant, found it His lot in life to face three of the most difficult temptations that the Devil had to offer.

The first of these temptations was to satisfy His hunger.

Many of the temptations that man faces today are involved with some type of hunger. To some extent a man's life is shaped by those objects of his desires.

In the face of this temptation, Jesus refused to use His power for his own use, and that is precisely what Jesus always refused to do.

The tempter then chose to repeat his attack from another angle. He asked Jesus to cast Himself down from the top of a temple and told Him that God would protect Him.

He was asking Jesus to put God to a test for no good reason. The Savior refused to be part of a sensational miracle, because He knew it was the path to failure. It still is.

God's protective power is not something to be played and experimented with; it is something to be quietly trusted in, every day.

The third and final avenue of attack was now tried. The devil told Jesus that if He would worship him instead of God, he (Satan) would give Him all the kingdoms of the world.

As was consistent with the entire life of the Savior, He refused the Devil's offer. He chose to follow His Father's will.

It was a very difficult experience that the Master faced in the wilderness, but He taught His followers a lesson: the only real way to true satisfaction is complete dependence on God.

The wilderness experience was only part of the high price of God's victory. The decisions that Jesus made there inevitably meant the cross, but the cross just as inevitably meant the final victory.

The Apple Kingdom To Be Presented

"The Apple Kingdom," a play with a message for the young at heart, will be performed at 9:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. on March 10 in Friona Junior High Auditorium as part of the 16th annual Children's Theatre Tour of the Eastern New Mexico University School of Speech and Theatre.

The comedy by Carol Lynn Pearson humorously tells a story of greedy people who are enlightened by two children. The youngsters cause problems when they tell the villagers of Apple Kingdom that an applephoon (typhoon to adults) is coming which will destroy all the apples. Since apples are their only food, the people greedily pick all they can. In the process they all get stiff arms and are unable to eat.

Many hilarious attempts are made at bending arms or eating without hands. In the end it is the troublemakers who feed each other and show the people of Apple Kingdom the meaning of unselfishness.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and 25¢ for students.

Is the first of March too early for cherry blossoms? Of course, it isn't or those in Karl Bender's orchard would not be there. It may be too early for cherry blossoms to produce cherries, but then, that's a different matter.

In recent years we who live in the Texas Panhandle have learned that a lot of fruit can be produced here and that a number of trees and shrubs, which were formerly thought of as "too fragile for such rugged winters," will also thrive here.

Mrs. Tina Baimum has some lovely early spring blooms in her front yard and there are probably others I haven't seen yet. The growing season will soon be with us and there isn't a nicer time of year.

Pretty soon it will be time for us to get back on Daylight Savings Time. Those of you who, like me, have trouble remembering which way we're going to go might remember this catchy phrase, "Spring forward, Fall back."

Much favorable comment has been heard up and down the street about the Youth Center, which has been established on Main Street. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watkins and their assistants are to be commended for the fine job of supervising they are doing.

Many residents appreciate it so very much.

Congratulations are in order for members of the Senior Class and sponsors. Their presentation of "A Man Called Peter," was superb and would have been a credit to any group of actors.

The sound was good, the lighting was good and the acting was very fine. An observer could tell that a lot of time and hard work had gone into the production and everyone seemed to appreciate it.

The Ralph Wilsons who have lived about six or seven miles west of town for a long long time, have started construction of a new home. It will be located across the road south and east of their present residence.

Friends of Ralph and Louisa are excited about the project and are especially looking forward to seeing two rooms of the house. . . the ones which have been planned for hobbies. When the husband is an avid hunter and the wife is interested in any kind of handwork and both of them are particularly interested in young Americans, the combination is bound to produce interesting rooms.

It seems for a number of years friends of the Wilsons have been wondering whether the new home would be in town or in the country, but I doubt that Ralph or Louisa either one ever had any serious intentions of living anywhere except at "home" and for them that means the country.

HOW TO TEACH YOUR CHILD ABOUT CHARITY

To the young, the satisfaction of giving isn't always obvious. Often, they've got to be taught to share.

There are built-in childhood traits that you can turn to advantage in teaching the lesson of charity. Youngsters are enormously inquisitive, highly susceptible to praise and born mimics. You can use any or all of these characteristics to get your point across.

A good starting point is bedtime stories which illustrate unselfish behavior—Rabbit's generosity in sharing his board of honey with Winnie-the-Pooh, for instance.

Or your youngster may ask why—in a world where laughter is normally universal among children—he sometimes sees unhappy faces in books or on television. That's the time to suggest gently that not everybody is as fortunate as he is—that many children suffer from hunger, sickness and cold.

Once your child begins to get the idea, don't be impatient at occasional outbursts of selfishness. It's best to overlook such lapses. Instead, concentrate on praising his acts of generosity however small. Reward is a more effective teacher than punishment.

Ultimately, though, it's what you do—not what you say—that makes the most lasting impact. Keenly observant and imitative, even the very young will adopt your own attitudes toward others. To help the child understand, explain in simple terms what your generosity means, not only to the receiver but—in personal satisfaction—to you.

And when your child is old enough to understand the value of money, there is no better lesson-by-example than your contribution to the worldwide humanitarian program of Catholic Relief Services. Tell him how your family's gift during this 24th annual American Catholic Overseas Aid Fund Appeal from March 1st through 8th buys food and medicines for 5 million needy children throughout the world. And, as a bonus lesson in universal brotherhood, stress the point that this aid goes to all underprivileged peoples, regardless of race or religion.

Then send your contribution on to the nearest Catholic church or to Catholic Overseas Aid, Empire State Building, New York, N. Y. 10001.

And don't be surprised if your young resident mimic wants to break into his piggy bank to add his 2-cents worth to the family gift!
