

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY LOST IN FEARFUL WRECK

Ship Valencia Strikes Rocks Off Vancouver Island

100 ARE BEING RESCUED

Steamer Is Rapidly Going to Pieces and Those Aboard Are Now Leaving

By Associated Press. BELLINGHAM, Wash., Jan. 24.—Last night the salvage steamer Salvor, from Victoria, reached the scene of the wreck of the Valencia, according to a special dispatch to the Herald, but had to stand by until daylight, being unable to render assistance to the survivors during the night hours.

The work of rescue is now proceeding. A message from Captain Beale this morning says the Valencia is in a hopeless wreck. A strong southerly gale has arisen and the vessel is rapidly going to pieces on reef. Still over 100 people are aboard and there is no chance of saving them.

By Associated Press. VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 24.—The steamer Valencia, Captain Johnson, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, with ninety-four crew, was wrecked eastward of Cape Beale on the Vancouver Island coast in the early morning of Monday with a heavy loss of life, greater than that of any other disaster that has occurred near here since the terrible wreck of the ship Orpheus with the steamer Pacific when on route from Victoria to Portland.

Six Survivors Out of 150 The survivors who have reached Cape Beale, the boatswain and five seamen, sent to secure assistance in one of the steamer's boats, report that at least fifty persons were drowned along the steamer when boats loaded with women and children smashed against the rocks. The bodies of the women were lowered from the vessel. When they left over 100 persons were aboard on the steamer, which was then partly submerged, with the merrill sea washing over the maindeck.

Position Is Terrible A southeast gale was blowing with the wind whistling through a vortex of water over the wreck. The high sea was beating against the hull, sending spume high over it and huge waves pounding over the deck, making it impossible to stand. Unless the several steamers which have been hurried to the assistance of the Valencia could arrive in time to save those who remain on the wreck, it is doubtful if any of them will reach shore in such a place as is extremely difficult, if at all possible.

By Dead Reckoning The Valencia sailed from San Francisco on her second trip to Victoria, replacing the recently disabled steamer City of Puebla, at 11 a. m. on Saturday. This was the only clear day, and from Saturday evening Captain Johnson and his officers had to navigate by means of dead reckonings. Nearing the entrance to the straits the weather became very thick and the officers thought they were in the vicinity of the U-milla reef lightship near Cape Flattery, which has a good fog signal on board. Having had no observations and unable to make out their position in the thick fog prevailing, soundings were taken, showing thirty fathoms. Immediately after the men with the lead lines reported thirty fathoms of water, the steamer struck heavily against some reefs off shore with a shock which awoke all on board.

Began to Fill The steamer did not run upon the reef and was immediately backed away. As she went into deep water, she began to fill, the impact with the rocks being so great that the water poured up the engine room plates and they were unable to stand by their engines, so fast did the water rise in the engine room. They and the firemen were driven on deck, but before they were driven out, in answer to excited signals from the bridge, they were what seemed possible and Captain Johnson turned the vessel again toward the beach.

Tried to Run Ashore As the Valencia was foundering as a result of her impact with the rocks, "TRUST" MUST BE INVESTIGATED

New York Supreme Court Will Not Grant Injunction

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The investigation into the so-called "theatrical trust" which was begun by the district attorney's office recently at David Belasco's request, will be allowed to continue according to the decision of the supreme court yesterday. Meyer Livingston, an employe of Klaw & Erlinger, applied for an absolute writ of prohibition preventing the continuation of this inquiry.

FRESH ATTEMPT TO RESCUE City of Topeka Goes to Valencia's Aid, Insured for $150,000

By Associated Press. SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 24.—General Manager Pearce of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, who is now in this city, said last night that the Valencia was insured for approximately $150,000, of which amount three-fourths was carried by English underwriters and the remainder in San Francisco.

MURDER IN CLAY COUNTY

G. W. Thornton Found With Side of Head Blown Off

Special to The Telegram. HENRIETTA, Texas, Jan. 24.—Lying in a briar patch on his own farm the body of G. W. Thornton, a farmer living four miles south of Charley, in Clay county, was found dead with the side of his head blown off by a shotgun. He is believed to have been assassinated, as his gun was found standing against a tree several feet distant. No clue as to the murderer has been found.

Thornton was a well-to-do man. His farm was known as the Glasgow place. The discovery was made late last night. News reached this place from Charley, which is twenty miles away, this morning and a sheriff's posse has started for the place.

The only possible chance to save any of those on board was to put the vessel ashore again with the hope, scant though it was, of landing those on board on the rocky coast. Before the steamer struck again on the rocks, the engineers, firemen and all below had been driven above by the influx of water, and the seas soon began to roll over the main deck.

Water Over the Deck Water was over the deck when the boats were being lowered, the lights being extinguished by the flooding of the engine room before the work was commenced.

Loss of Life Awful The loss of life was awful when the boats were lowered. Two boats filled with women and children were swept against the side of the steamer, smashed and completely wrecked, all those in the boats being swept into the sea and drowned.

By Associated Press. VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 24.—A special from Cape Beale states that when the steamer Valencia left San Francisco at 11 a. m. Saturday the weather was clear, but since has been thick, and Captain Johnson had consequently to navigate by reckoning.

When the six survivors who have arrived at Cape Beale left the Valencia, she was lying head on to the sea, and was about thirty yards from the high cliffs when she struck with the water over her main deck. What were left of the passengers, a large number having been previously drowned, were hurled up the steamer deck, when the boats were lowered soon after the vessel was driven into the shore, they began to fill and there was a great loss of life. The boats filled with women and children were smashed against the side of the steamer and all in them were lost.

Lights Were Out The lights had gone out by this time and the crew could not see to work. Several boats and three life rafts were lowered, only two of them have been heard from. There were thought to be about 100 persons still on the wreck, and the survivors that at least fifty were drowned alongside the steamer before they left. The boats were lowered from the steamer deck, where secure assistance, and are the only ones that reached Cape Beale, arriving there about 3 o'clock.

Up to the present efforts to secure further details from Cape Beale of the wreck of the Valencia have been unavailing.

Three Steamers on the Way Three steamers are on the way. The steamer Queen City, which left here early this morning passed the wreck without sighting her. The weather was thick at that time. Captain Townsend of the Queen City telegraphed from Bamfield Creek asking if she could return to the wreck, but was ordered to proceed on his voyage. Other steamers are on the way. Captain Townsend reported the wreck was greatly increasing from the southeast with a nasty sea running near Cape Beale, which he rounded safely.

STATEHOOD RESOLUTION PASSES HOUSE BY A VOTE OF 192 TO 165

Insurgent Forces Fail by Narrow Margin to Muster Sufficient Strength to Break Down Cannon's Rule—The Senate is Yet to Take Action in the Matter—Silence Follows Announcement of Result—The Details

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24, 3 p. m.—If the house resolution adopted today by a vote of 192 to 165 prevails in the same manner in the senate, there will be two new states—Oklahoma and Arizona, the former to include the Indian Territory and the latter the former territory of New Mexico.

This is taken to be a great victory for Speaker Cannon, against insurgent republicans and democrats.

The insurrection against the statehood bill failed in organization. It was announced at 2 p. m. Intense silence prevailed when the statehood call was made.

The Majority Report The majority report was devoted to an analysis of the bill, a discussion of the qualifications for statehood on account of resources of the territories, concluding with the simple recommendation that "the bill do pass" under the terms that "Oklahoma" may be admitted to statehood as perfect and the new organization may be perfected and a constitution adopted, and that "Arizona" may be admitted not earlier than seven and one-half months and not later than eleven months after the approval of the act.

The election of delegates to the constitutional convention for each proposed state is provided for in the bill. The constitution framed must be submitted to the people of each state for ratification.

Provisions are also made for non-secularian schools and for the teaching of English.

Surfrage is well guarded. There is a strong anti-polygamy clause in the bill. The new states are to assume the debts of the territories.

The capital of Oklahoma is fixed at Guthrie, and of Arizona at Santa Fe until 1916, when they may be removed if the people so vote.

The constitutional convention of Oklahoma is required to adopt this provision, making Indian Territory a prohibition district.

Burglars effected an entrance into the store of S. H. Kress & Co., 813-815 Houston street, some time between 10 o'clock Monday night and Tuesday morning, and secured all the cash in the various cash drawers, amounting to about $750, and also a pistol belonging to Samuel W. Holdcroft Jr., manager of the establishment. The weapon was a .32-caliber Richards & Harrison, blue steel, but as there are many like it Mr. Holdcroft doubts his ability to identify it.

The burglars evidently had easy work. They managed to get in through a window on the right side of the building without breaking the lock, and the cash drawers were not fastened, except in the usual way, so that they could be opened with ease without difficulty. Mr. Holdcroft says he believes the window was fastened, but that it could have been unfastened from the outside by using a narrow instrument.

Nothing in the store except the money and the revolver belonging to Mr. Holdcroft was disturbed. It is believed that the burglars were familiar with the arrangement of the store, and that they knew where Mr. Holdcroft kept his revolver. They did not bother his overcoat, which was hanging in his office.

Weaver's Pharmacy, 504 Main street, and Fisher's drug store, 502 Main street, were entered Monday night and $100 secured by burglars. Both burglaries were no doubt committed by the same thieves as the work done to effect an entrance was the same at both places.

The burglars gained an entrance from the alleyway in the rear of the stores by cutting out a glass from the rear window. From the cash register in Fisher's store 60 cents was taken and in the cash register in Weaver's store the burglars secured $10 in cash.

So far as known nothing else was taken by the burglars, figures that were in show cases near the cash registers in both stores being undisturbed.

WONDERFUL COUNTIES ARE NOLAN AND FISHER

"Texas Is a Great State," Say Residents of Them Both

SOIL FABULOUSLY RICH Farmers Pay for Entire Holdings With Proceeds of the First Year's Crop

Staff Correspondence. SWEETWATER, Texas, Jan. 24.—Nolan and Fisher counties lie 200 miles west of Fort Worth between the Double Mountain fork of the Brazos on the north and the Colorado river on the south. They are usually spoken of together because of the similarity of their general character, which is that of a rich stock farming country, particularly adapted to the needs of the man who wishes to raise a high grade of horses and cattle, together with feedstuffs enough to supply them and some to sell besides.

The character of the soil in both counties is much alike. The Texas and Pacific railroad runs through the northern half of Nolan county and near the southern border of Fisher. The railroads cross the divide and the watershed between the Brazos and the Colorado river. This divide runs from a southeasterly to a northwesterly direction through Nolan county. It is sharply indicated south of Sweetwater, the county seat of Nolan county, by a high ridge of hills. Back of this ridge the divide proper begins, and all the water falling there is drained into the Colorado river. On the north side of the divide all of the water is drained into the Brazos.

Soil Is Rich The soil of the comparatively flat tableland on this divide, which represents the greater part of Nolan county, cannot be distinguished from the famous black soil of what is commonly known as Central Texas, adapted to all kinds of farm products, cotton, oats, milo maize, Kaffir corn and millet. Good water is abundant and easy to obtain. This section has large been settled by farmers familiar with the qualities of the black land. They have made large investments after selling their property in the older settled part of Texas. Many of them have built fine homes and are making extensive improvements. The greater part of this land is now selling for $20 an acre, raised big crops last year and its farmers are in present prosperous.

Payable Taxes With Checks Sheriff McGaughey of Nolan county, who has just returned from a collecting trip through this section, says that his collections are the largest for any year during the eighteen which he has been in office.

"Farmers who are paying their taxes with checks this year," he says, "a few years ago did not have a dollar in cash. When I came into the county eighteen years ago it wasn't even fenced."

North of the divide in Nolan county the soil is mostly a reddish loam. This character of soil is rich and productive. It extends largely through Fisher county, though in the latter county there are also stretches of black loam. In the northwestern part of Nolan county is a section in which the soil is a gravelly loam.

Most of the soil in the northern part of Nolan county and throughout Fisher county is underlaid with gypsum. Years ago there was a plaster of Paris plant near Sweetwater, which utilized this gypsum, but it has not been in operation for a long time. This underlying strata of gypsum makes good water for domestic purposes hard to obtain in many parts of the region, but the same kind of water could be found anywhere, once the gypsum strata has been passed through.

This Year's Crop Pays Cotton, milo maize, Kaffir corn and millet are the leading crops of northern Nolan and Fisher counties. Gins in both counties this year are running night and day to keep up with the demand. It is estimated that farmers will receive an average price of $50 a bale this season, and as a result there are many stories of farmers who have paid for their entire holdings with the present year's crop.

Probably 80 per cent of Nolan county is arable, and nearly all of Fisher county can be cultivated. Fisher (Continued on page 2.)

NEGRO SHOT BY OFFICER James Middleton Not Expected to Live James Middleton, colored, was shot and dangerously wounded about 3:30 o'clock Tuesday night near 1101 Louisiana avenue. Mounted officers D. E. Loyd and C. L. Walker, two of the most trusted members of the police department, reported the matter to the police station a few minutes after the shooting, explaining that they had been forced to shoot in self-protection. The occurrence was reported in detail to Tom Blanton, night captain, and the latter made a report to Chief Maddox of the police department.

Both these reports and a statement from Officer Loyd were given to a Telegram reporter without reserve.

Captain Blanton says he dispatched Officers Loyd and Walker to arrest Middleton on the charge of carrying a pistol and disposing of mortgaged property.

His report of the occurrence thereafter is, in substance, as follows: The officers searched the house where the negro was supposed to live and failed to find him. They then took a couple of negro boys who knew him with them and made a search of the neighborhood. They searched Middleton on the sidewalk not far away and after he had been pointed out to them by the boy, Officer Walker called to him. The negro then threw his hand to his hip pocket and both officers, believing that he intended shooting at them, fired simultaneously. The negro dropped and no further shots were fired.

Middleton is in a serious condition at St. Joseph's Infirmary, a bullet having pierced his abdomen.

Report made by Chief Maddox is based upon the report received from Captain Blanton, his night captain, not differing in any particular. Captain Blanton made his report to the chief of police, in accordance with the regulations, before making it public.

Officer Loyd also made a statement of the affair to the Telegram, which was also in accordance with the report submitted to his officials.

"When Officer Loyd searched the negro that he was wanted," Officer Loyd said, "he jerked his hand to his hip pocket. I saw him do this, and both of us believe that he intended shooting, and each of us fired one shot only. Just as I took effect on the negro, the negro was waving his hand for carrying a pistol and disposing of mortgaged property. We carried him to the police station, where I searched him, and found a big rock in his pocket after we got him to the station. The report submitted to Captain Blanton and Chief Maddox covers the case in every particular."

At St. Joseph's Infirmary Wednesday afternoon it was stated that Middleton is about 25 years of age, was in a critical condition. He was shot in the hip, the bullet passing through the abdomen and piercing the intestines in five places. Dr. L. A. Barber, city physician, gives little hope of the negro's recovery.

IS COUSIN OF JOHN DREW Denver Actress Dying in Poverty Is Substantially Remembered Special to The Telegram. DENVER, Colo., Jan. 24.—Almost wholly blind from the effects of a mortal disease and patiently awaiting death that is certain to come suddenly and within a very short time, Mrs. John E. CASTRO IS A WASP'S NEST Official Says France Will Act in Her Own Good Time in Her Own Good Time

By Associated Press. PARIS, Jan. 24.—Ministerial circles here are much annoyed over the published reports relative to France's alleged "hesitation" and "nervousness" regarding the Venezuelan question. A highly placed official of the foreign office today protested energetically against the statements made on the subject, saying: "France has always been, and still is, determined to obtain the fullest satisfaction for past and present affronts from Venezuela. She, however, will select her own time and action, and will not stir up the wasp nest to which Caracas is said to be a nest until her general policy leaves her free to do so."

Bully for France "France will not act at any one's bidding, and will then act as becomes her; with absolute resolve to have her rights respected." To the question whether a blockade had been ordered, a direct negative was given.

Interest in the Venezuelan affairs continues to decrease.

ACQUITTAL IN EASTLAND CO.

Fort Worth Defendants Are Cleared

J. B. Miller, Carl Adamson and T. P. Weathered, who were arrested in this city on a charge of swindling and whose cases were transferred to Eastland county for trial, have been acquitted. They were defended by Judge W. R. Parker of this city, who has just returned from Eastland, and who says:

The charge against the three men followed the purchase of 147 head of cattle by Miller and Adamson for the account of T. P. Weathered of Hillsboro from D. C. Pratt of Eastland county; payment being made with a draft on Weathered which was testified, he had told Pratt would be honored. The cattle were shipped to Fort Worth and sold, but when the draft was presented to Weathered for payment it was refused for the alleged reason that the cattle did not come up to contract specifications.

After the sale of the cattle one of the men started to Hillsboro with the money received from the sale, it being his intention to take up the draft on Weathered, but he was robbed before he got out of town, but when the draft in an unconscious condition by the city police. Pratt came to Fort Worth from Eastland and secured the arrest of Miller, Adamson and Weathered on a charge of swindling. County Attorney Jeff D. McLean, after looking into the case, decided that if the men were guilty the Tarrant county courts had no jurisdiction, the alleged offense having been committed in Eastland county, and the trial was adjourned until the case could be taken to Eastland.

J. C. Staggard, the Western Union Telegraph company is on trial in the Forty-Eighth district court. This is a suit to recover $1,950 claimed for the alleged failure of the defendant to deliver a telegraph message promptly. The plaintiff alleges that he was at Hot Springs in 1905, when his wife received fatal injuries in a railroad accident at Dublin, Texas. It is alleged that a message to J. C. Staggard was made, but that it was not delivered until plaintiff's father died and was interred.

Seventeenth District

Judge Mike E. Smith failed to get a case to trial in the Seventeenth district court Wednesday morning, and adjourned court until Thursday morning. There will be no jury trials in this court during the remainder of the week as the jury was discharged finally.

Counter Charges

Grant Leroy and Wesley Miles, negroes, were arraigned in Justice Chas. T. Rowland's court Wednesday morning on both charges of assault with intent to murder, the one on the other. They are charged specifically with engaging in a fight in the city, in the lower part of the city, in which Leroy was stabbed in the head. It is charged he then shot a gun and threatened Miles with it. They both waived examining trials and their bonds were fixed at $500 each.

Justice Rowland's Court

Wesley Miles, assault on murder, examining trial waived and bond fixed at $500. Grant Leroy, assault on murder, examining trial waived and bond fixed at $500.

WOMAN'S WORST DANGER

No woman with unsound kidneys can be healthy. Sick kidneys, in fact, cause the majority of women's troubles. But there is no need to get downhearted if you suffer constant backache, weariness, beating-down, painful sick headaches, etc. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new life and strength to thousands of women afflicted in this way.

It is easy to tell if your kidneys are the cause of your ailments. Backache itself, the aching of the kidneys when congested and inflamed. You feel it in the back because the kidneys are in the small of the back. The bladder and urinary tubes get swollen, crowding the delicate female organs near by, and causing many of the peculiar pains thought to be female troubles.

Sick headaches, dizzy spells, nervousness, irritability, neuralgia and rheumatic pains, watery eyes, palpitation of the heart, etc., are caused by the retention in the blood of poisons that kidneys should filter out and pass off in the urine. Urinary disorders are sure signs of kidney sickness. If the urine contains sediment like blood, pus, or whitish stringy settlements, if passages are too frequent, or scanty, or painful, the kidneys need quick attention. Doan's Kidney Pills are made of pure roots and herbs that have a direct healing action on the kidneys. They soothe, cleanse and stimulate, rouse the kidneys to action, and drive the kidney poisons out of the body. They remove the cause and cure permanently. Many women of this city have been cured and gladly tell of it.

PROOF FROM Weatherford

Mrs. J. J. Jarrett of 515 Water street, Weatherford, Texas, says: "I was troubled for years with kidney ailments, the secretions being entirely too frequent and the attacks of backache and dull pain across my kidneys gave me much annoyance. Dizziness and swimming in my head, when dark spots would flash before my eyes, was very frequent before I used Doan's Kidney Pills. This is the only reliable medicine, I think, for any one afflicted as I am. I ought to know because I have tried nearly everything in a drug store recommended for such trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills also did my husband a lot of good by curing him of a lame back."

PARDON APPEAL WITHOUT AVAIL

Friends of Veteran Are Still Unsuccessful

The friends of Frank M. Johnson, the Confederate veteran who is confined in the county jail under a two years' sentence in the penitentiary, following a conviction of man slaughter, have failed so far in their efforts to secure a pardon for him. Physicians who have examined into Johnson's physical condition have declined to certify to the board of pardons that confinement in the penitentiary will endanger his life, and it took a certificate that was demanded by the board before favorable action would be taken.

REQUESTED CREMATION

Man's Body Burned and Ashes Cast Upon Winds
Special to The Telegram.
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 24.—In accordance with his own dying request, the ashes of the cremated body of William Burnside were cast to the winds from the middle of Eads bridge by his life-long friend, John A. Nolan. Burnside's last wish was that his body be cremated and the ashes scattered on the winds. Execution of this wish was left to Nolan, who was appointed trustee of the will. While the body was in the hands of the undertaker, Nolan was slowly rectified. A certificate from the crematory was shown, certifying that the ashes were those of Burnside. The parchment over the ashes was then removed and the strong wind snatched the gray dust from the jar and strewn them over the muddy surface of the Mississippi.

RECOVERED FROM HEAD TO FOOT

With Crusted Scaly Eczema When One Month Old—Could Brush Scales Off Body—Young Lady is Now 17 Years Old and Skin is Without a Scar—Cured By CUTICURA REMEDIES AT EXPENSE OF $4.50

"When I was one month old I was taken with eczema. After being under the treatment of two doctors for one month and no improvement, my mother was advised by a druggist to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I was one crust of scales from head to foot. My mother could brush the scales off my body; and my finger and toe nails fell. After using six cakes of Cuticura Soap and about as much Cuticura Ointment I was completely cured. I am now seventeen years old and my skin has not a scar. I am still finding wonders in Cuticura, after washing a fever blister two days it was completely gone." Your Cuticura friend, Miss L. Glasscock, Oct. 27, 1905. Marksville, La.

CUTICURA REMEDIES

Are the Best for Skin and Blood

About three years ago my face began to get rough with acne and kept getting worse. A year ago I read in a paper of the Cuticura Remedies for the skin and blood. I sent for them at once. I used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and in three months my skin was soft and smooth, and the pimples have all disappeared without the services of a physician. I think the Cuticura Remedies are the best that any one can use for the skin and blood." May G. Schieferle, Sept. 5, 1905. Santa Paula, Cal. H. H. ROGERS, WHOSE EYES CHANGE FROM PALE BLUE TO JET BLACK

A STUDY PICTURE OF H. H. ROGERS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—"I am greater than the courts. My personality, by the order of things, is a divine right. I am superior to all things here below, except one—John D. Rockefeller, my only boss. I am a giant creation, and all of these little human things are ants who crawl before me. If they attempt to annoy me my heel crushes them. My position has made me exempt from that bothersome convention called law."

This is the attitude of Henry H. Rogers, commander general of Standard Oil, high dictator of a nation's financial business manager of the United States senate, and the recognized Captain Kidd of the twentieth century.

However important Rogers may consider the law it has dragged him out at last upon a public stage and as a witness in the Missouri trust investigation in this city the naked truth of his presumptive power is revealed.

Rogers looks very much like a human being. He acts very much like a god. While the people are looking at him he brushes them aside. He kicked in the shins a newspaper photographer who attempted, within his rights, to take a snapshot of him on Broadway.

There is no record of H. H. Rogers' age. He appears to be about 65 years old. He is a handsome man, six feet tall, well proportioned and dresses like a dandy.

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

The Texas farmers say that they had nothing to do with that effort to boost cotton to 15 cents and hold it there. If they are quoted truly they are very wise men.

There is a growing suspicion that there is more or less politics behind this 15 cent cotton idea, and it is bound to react so far as the men who are boosting the project are concerned.

C. E. Gilbert, candidate for the position of commissioner of the general land office, makes the rather surprising announcement that although the public school lands alone remain within the jurisdiction of the land office, the present building has been disposed of and the university lands turned over to the university.

Supporters of Railroad Commissioner Colquitt's candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor are plaintively insisting that the railroad commission should not be dragged into politics, yet, since his election, Mr. Colquitt has practically used the commission as a bureau to promote his candidacy for governor.

The federal court building and postoffice at Fort Worth is to be materially enlarged as the government has reported favorably on a $325,000,000 appropriation for that purpose.

The cold wave and snow that has just visited Texas has done no serious harm. Cattlemen say the snow did not remain on the range long enough to prove any kind of detriment, and cattle did not suffer to any material extent.

When one considers the number of Texas postoffice and other positions that Chairman Lyon has been able to fill during the past few days, it is not at all surprising that he should declare so strongly in favor of another term for Theodore Roosevelt.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth, who is soon to become the son-in-law of the national administration, declares against the retention of the Philippines. The inference is that Nick having obtained his coveted blessing, is willing that all other peoples should have their hearts' desire.

The state land commissioner has decided that 33,000 acres of land, sold to actual settlers since the first of September and located in El Paso county, will have to revert to the cattlemen holding them under lease, on account of being in the absolute district. It would seem that the land commissioner should have been able to decide that point before accepting the money of these people, many of whom had already located on the land, and thereby have prevented the financial loss and disappointment that has fallen to the lot of these people.

It is as difficult sometimes to judge a statesman by his campaign speeches as an ordinary man by his New Year's resolutions.—Washington Star.

MOONSHINE AND MUSINGS

Some people think 'n' simple life means 'n' uncomfortable life. "What kind of a reception did you get when you reached home the other night?" "Oh, the unexpected." "Your wife didn't care?" "Oh, she jumped on me with both feet and didn't leave a spot on me unlicked."

At any rate, the New York state senate removed the mystery as to how and why Chauncey M. Depew was sent to the United States senate. "And he married a girl only 20 years old. Why, he was 69 last November." "Yes, that's his excuse."

There is still hope that the Panama canal will be finished by the time the Greene and Gaynor case is. A far Rockaway, N. Y. florist has succeeded in cultivating a green carnation. Perhaps he will name it after Hetty.

"Jenkins is absolutely lacking in all sentiment. I asked him if he had heard of Bilson's romantic wedding, and he said, 'I heard of his wedding, but I can't see anything romantic in it.'" "Oh, well, you must remember that Jenkins has been married twice."

"See that house over there on Adams street with the bay window?" the sneak thief asked his partner. "Yep." "Well, you can bust in there and go through the place from cellar to garret. The woman that lives there has gone away to stay all night. She won't be back."

Of course he would be quite de-lighted to have the whole nation attend. So no one could feel he'd been slighted. But such a jam—Heaven forefend!

The discovery that Poultney Bigelow's article on the Panama canal had been declined by Harper's and Collier's before it was accepted by the Independent comes with an awful stab to an ambitious world which had been firm in the belief that the demand for Poultney's stuff was always far in excess of the supply.

LITTLE TALES WELL TOLD

The late General Isaac J. Wister of Philadelphia had a multitude of anecdotes that he could draw on when he desired to score a point or illuminate an idea. General Wister was for a number of years the president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Natural Science.

At any rate, the New York state senate removed the mystery as to how and why Chauncey M. Depew was sent to the United States senate. "And he married a girl only 20 years old. Why, he was 69 last November." "Yes, that's his excuse."

FAILURE OF THE FREE PASS CROP

To dispel the assertion that free passes are issued to members of the legislature solely as an "act of courtesy" and not to influence their votes, it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that during years in which the legislature meets such passes are plentiful, but during years in which there is no session of the legislature they are issued only to a "main staff few." For proof of this read the following news item which appeared in The Fort Worth Telegram last Sunday: Austin, Texas, Jan. 8.—It is learned here that very few of the passes to the members of the Twenty-ninth legislature for 1906 are being renewed this year by the different railroads of the state. A member of the house who was in the city the other day declared that thus far his passes for 1906 had not been received, while for the year previous he had been deluged with these privileges. He declared that as far as he was individually concerned, it did not matter very much as he did not travel to any considerable extent, but that to some of the members of both branches of the legislature, it will amount to considerable of an item.

While, in a measure, this has been customary with the railroads, not to renew many passes as during the legislative year, this year it appears to be more pronounced, and many of the lawmakers as a result are in the "ali" as it were, when they have to pay their fare. It is apparent that this condition of affairs is not confined entirely to the legislators, but that many others who have heretofore been thus favored have been left out for 1906.—State Topics.

If the theory of State Topics is correct, then the approaching extra session of the state legislature ought to be sufficient to insure a perfect avalanche of free passes. If the members are to be honored only when they are actually in harness, then the extra session will prove a great blessing, by virtue of the fact that it will serve to provide that which was denied because this was presumed to be an off year in legislative matters.

The Telegram is very strongly inclined to the theory that legislative passes are not going to be as much in evidence in the future as they have been in the past, and the scarcity experienced at the beginning of the year in reality marks the beginning of a new era that has been instituted by the railroads of their own volition. There has been a great hue and cry raised from one end of Texas to the other over the issuance of these marks of favor and distinction to the men who are sent to Austin to frame our laws, and public sentiment is so strongly arrayed against the practice that the railroads have seemed to awaken to the fact that in the issuance of passes not only to members of the state legislature, but to all other public officers, they are but promoting a hostile public sentiment.

The people of Texas are not only opposed to their public officers accepting and using these marks of corporate favor, but they are opposed to the idea of the railroads granting them. They believe that two wrongs are done through the giving and using and condemnation has been very severe of railway methods. If the railroads have really awakened to what is actually involved in the situation and have determined to put a stop to it, then they are truly growing wiser and finding out for themselves that they cannot afford to thus fly in the face of the sentiment of the great majority of the people of Texas.

Of course, a failure in the annual free pass crop is going to provoke a howl among the politicians that will be heard from one end of Texas to the other, and there would be retaliatory action if it were possible. But the special session will be held down to the consideration of certain specified measures if it is convened, and the disgruntled members will not be in position to make much of a fight on the railroads. By the time another legislature is elected and assembles the membership will not be so rabid, and the railroads will receive the protection they are entitled to in a move that is clearly as much in the interest of the people of this state as it is in the interest of the passenger revenues of the various lines of railway.

The report is that passes of all kinds are much more difficult to obtain this year than formerly, and when the report of the railroad commission of Texas is read and the number of miles that have been traveled in Texas during the past year on passes discovered, there will be very little wonder provoked that the railroads themselves have awakened to the necessity of reform. If all those miles of transportation had been paid for it would make a vast difference in the passenger revenues. And as a matter of fact, the matter of having obtained anything like value for the railroads in the premises is extremely problematical. In the great majority of instances these passes were accepted as much in the light of a right as in that of a favor.

COTTON MILLS IN TEXAS

Every report that comes concerning the operation of a cotton mill anywhere in the state of Texas tells the same story of prosperity and determination to increase the manufacturing capacity. And generally the same conditions prevail throughout the south. Only in one or two isolated instances is there any deviation from the flattering reports that come of a year of unexampled prosperity and sufficient orders looked ahead to keep the machinery running for months yet to come. While it is gratifying to note these conditions are general, it is more gratifying to know that the Texas mills are keeping fully abreast with the spirit of the times. The Sherman Register says:

The Sherman cotton mill is one of the most successful industrial enterprises, and the demand for its output is coming from all over the country, east and west, and even from across the ocean. The capacity of the Sherman mill has been doubled within the past year, and a better product is being turned out than ever before.

Recently, Mr. Fairbanks, manager of the mill went east to look after the interests of the mill, and entered into competition with New England and southeastern mills to sell duck for shoe findings to the shoe manufacturers of New England. The result was that the Sherman mill's duck was awarded the contract for duck for shoe findings over every mill in the country that competed for the contract. With this sale, the entire output of the Sherman mill is contracted for until next July. The mill will be kept busy until that time on orders now booked ahead.

There is a movement on foot to increase the cotton mill capacity in Sherman, and the record of the Sherman mill in operating at a profit, is certainly sufficient to encourage the building of more mills at this point.

There ought to be work in progress right now on at least a dozen new cotton mills in Texas. The Telegram has at various times called attention to the existing opportunities abundant throughout the great cotton producing state in the union, but Texas capitalists do not seem to be disposed to take hold of the situation with the avidity that should characterize their action. Even Fort Worth, the liveliest and most progressive city in the entire state, is too content to let things take their course without pushing the matter as its importance demands. There is a general belief here that a big mill will be built in Fort Worth in ample time to commence work on the next cotton crop. But the people generally would be pleased to see more life and more interest manifested in the enterprise. They believe it should be pushed without any unnecessary delay.

Certainly, if a cotton mill can be operated with profit in Sherman, it can be operated with profit in Fort Worth. If a mill can be sustained on a paying basis in Weatherford, it can certainly be made to pay in this city. If Dallas has found the manufacturing of cotton a profitable industry, then Fort Worth can confidently expect the same result, and that this is a correct theory is attested by the uniform success attending the operation of every cotton mill that is owned in Texas.

The fact that some failures resulted from the methods employed in the promotion and exploitation of cotton mills back in the days when Texas had not shed her horns, is no indication that the same results may be anticipated today, and there should be a general revival of cotton mill talk from one end of Texas to the other. It is certain that the prevailing high price of cotton is going to induce the planting of an unusually big crop this season. All the talk that can possibly be expended in the direction of reduced acreage will not prevent it. When cotton is high the producers know no other procedure than that of increased production. Every man is disposed to figure on the situation for himself, and if there is any effort toward reduction the general disposition is to let the other fellow do all the reducing. With the certainty that Texas is going to plant heavily of cotton this year, there should be more attention paid to the development of the manufacturing idea, for the number of bales annually manufactured in this state is not ten per cent of the total production. When we get to the point that we are manufacturing 90 per cent and exporting 10 per cent of our annual cotton production, then we will have the situation well enough in hand to realize that we have made a good job of manufacturing development.

Good sidewalks are always considered the proper index to a good town. Fort Worth must build sidewalks to maintain her general reputation.

Fort Worth is growing these days as Fort Worth never grew before, and there can no longer be any doubting the fact that we are leading all Texas cities in the matter of progress and development.

The cold wave and snow that has just visited Texas has done no serious harm. Cattlemen say the snow did not remain on the range long enough to prove any kind of detriment, and cattle did not suffer to any material extent.

When one considers the number of Texas postoffice and other positions that Chairman Lyon has been able to fill during the past few days, it is not at all surprising that he should declare so strongly in favor of another term for Theodore Roosevelt.

Congressman Nicholas Longworth, who is soon to become the son-in-law of the national administration, declares against the retention of the Philippines. The inference is that Nick having obtained his coveted blessing, is willing that all other peoples should have their hearts' desire.

The state land commissioner has decided that 33,000 acres of land, sold to actual settlers since the first of September and located in El Paso county, will have to revert to the cattlemen holding them under lease, on account of being in the absolute district. It would seem that the land commissioner should have been able to decide that point before accepting the money of these people, many of whom had already located on the land, and thereby have prevented the financial loss and disappointment that has fallen to the lot of these people. The law is very plain as to the absolute district, and no man in the state should have been more familiar with its provisions than the land commissioner.

Monnig's Great Semi-Annual Clothing Sale!

AMUSEMENTS

West and Vokes repeated their success of Monday night at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday. The good songs and dialogues hung on the plot of "The Two Pinkies" were well received. The chorus was one of the best seen this year.

"Dora Thorne"

The Kansas City Journal says of "Dora Thorne": "If those who are regular attendants of the Gillis want to enjoy a melodrama that has much that is of true dramatic worth and given by a company that brings out the production in a most interesting manner, they will do well to see 'Dora Thorne' adapted from Miss Clay's novel of the same name. The play is full of good lines that strike home, has

CURED LUMBAO.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1923: "Having been troubled with lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers." Sold by Covey & Martin, 819 Main street, opposite Hotel Worth.

a lot of excellent business and the situations and clippings are well brought out. Strange to say it did not take any buzz-saw acts or train robberies or even the timely arrival of a Hawkshaw to awaken the demonstrations of approval which were generously given. The cast and production are far above the average. "Dora Thorne" will appear at Greenwall's Opera House tonight and also Shepard's Moving Pictures tonight—two shows for the one admission price.

Startling Comedy Sensations

Archie L. Shepard's high-class moving pictures, an organization that has gained and held the confidence of the public for years by the never-failing excellence of its productions in the line of moving pictures, will appear at Greenwall's Opera House tonight at 8:15 o'clock, presenting one of the strongest and most attractive programs ever seen in this section of the country. All the latest marvels and masterpieces in animated photography will be presented with full mechanical effects and incidental music. "The Maniac Automobile"—touring the world in twenty minutes; "Stolen by Gypsies," an extremely dramatic and wonderful realistic picture-drama, is a genuine thriller from start to finish, while the story of "The Farmer's Daughter" and the pictures of the "Great Peace Conference" at Portsmouth are worthy of special mention.

Paul Gilmore in Spectacular Romantic Comedy

A love story in a colonial setting, which shows a dashing, intrepid, valiant in face of greatest odds wins the woman who was meant for him since the world began, is what our playgoers may expect to see at Greenwall's Opera House Thursday and Friday nights and Matinee Friday, Jan. 25 and 26, when Paul Gilmore and a splendid company appear there in the new spectacular comedy, romance, "Captain Debonnaire." The hero of this drama is a young officer in the French army stationed at Quebec, Louis de Cadillac by name. He won the sobriquet, Debonnaire, by his dash, an extremely dramatic and wonderful realistic picture-drama, and goes triumphantly through a series of amazing adventures, which fairly reply, "It is the prize the captures." The role is the strongest Mr. Gilmore has had since his triumph in "The Three Musketeers." The play is handsomely mounted and cleverly cast.

Kyril Bellaw

In every way "Raffles," the Amateur Crackman," in which Kyril Bellaw will appear at Greenwall's Opera House Saturday matinee and night, Jan. 27, is unusually interesting. The well-born, gentlemanly thief who steals from his social friends, not for the value of what

CABLEGRAM

Sydney, Dec. 22. Greenhobd. San Fran. Incebras. Podopolis. Diabets. Podolopide. Brights. Benjamin.

TRANSLATION. Benjamin Bros. are manufacturers' agents in Sydney, Australia. Greenhobd is H. O. Greenhobd, the exporter of 320 Sansome St., San Francisco. Concerning the report that cures for Bright's Disease have been discovered in San Francisco, Benjamin Bros. wrote Greenhobd to send a small order, and if it really did the business they would send an important order. The trial lot was sent. The above cable is the reply. It did the business. They couldn't wait for a letter, but cabled. Translated it calls for the immediate shipment of nearly 4000 boxes of Fulle's Compound. The whole world is waking up to the wonder of the discovery. You don't have to cable 6,000 miles. It's right at your doors. Send for literature. H. T. PANGBURN & CO. Agents, Fort Worth, Texas. When to suspect Bright's Disease—weakness or loss of weight; puffiness, hands and eyes; dropsy; Kidney trouble after the third month; urine may show sediment; falling vision; drowsiness; one or more of these.

is stolen, but because he is a victim of heredity, makes a curious dramatic study in himself. Then, as the playwright has made the main figure the center of a story of exceptional power, the attention naturally is all the more enchanted. Again Kyril Bellaw, who plays Raffles, has in an eminent degree the ease of manner, the cool air and force of quiet art that the character particularly calls for.

The Majestic

In the estimation of the regular patrons of the Majestic, this week's bill is the most evenly balanced program of first-class features that has been offered there. All the way from such a clever comedy as "The Race That's Dream" to a massive group of trained wild beasts, are numbers of clever acts that are as good as many of the headliners seen here before. There is nothing to add to the splendid performance of the "Musical Goolmans." As instrumentalists they rank higher than any similar team which has appeared here. The finish of their act with a singular and melodious Brazilian wood instrument is full of strange sound which stirs as strange chords in the audience. Lily Seville brings a fresh note and oddity into the bill with her Yorkshire and coster-monger songs. Master Marx, her partner, is a boy with a pleasing tenor voice and a clever understanding of parody. Leo and Munroe are good exponents of the old-fashioned clog dances and Samuel Holdsworth is a tenor extraordinary with his fresh voice coming from a throat that belongs to a man of 74 years. These acts possess variety of entertainment to satisfy the most diversified tastes. And what is better, every feature is worthy of witnessing.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO MEET

Paving and Sidewalks to Be Discussed in Eighth Ward. A meeting of the Civic League of the Eighth ward will be held at the eighth ward school building Thursday night, Jan. 25, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed at the last meeting of the league and acting upon such report and to form plans for providing sidewalks and street crossing in this ward. It is also decided at this meeting to take up with certain residents and property owners of Hemphill street the question of paving that street.

EASTERN DEALERS LOSE ON EGGS

Open Winter Proves Bad for Attempted Corner

Eggs are selling in the local stores at 25 cents per dozen, the recent cold wave having continued long enough to effect the price. It is thought that if the fair weather continues the price will soon decline.

Eggs are bad, at least for the eastern dealers who tried to get a corner on them. Last summer from 500,000 to 1,000,000 cases, containing thirty dozen each, the greatest amount on record, were put on cold storage by Chicago dealers. These eggs cost from 17 cents to 20 cents a dozen. Not once have the dealers been able to sell their cold storage eggs at anything like a profit. During the past ten days the market price on them has gone down from 18 1/2 cents to 11 cents.

The generally mild and open winter has kept the price of eggs down. Most of the time the dealers could not even sell at cost price, and very few eggs have been taken from cold storage, because dealers have been hoping for severe weather—the kind that made the big profits for them last year.

If the weather continues fair and warm, commission men declare, the loss to eastern merchants will be immense; in fact, it will bankrupt many of the smaller ones and severely strain the finances of many of the larger.

WEEK OF PRAYER OPENS

University Students Hear Address by City Pastors

Fort Worth University observed Wednesday as a day of prayer, during the morning Rev. Alonzo Monk of the First M. E. church, south, and Rev. J. F. Hoey, St. Paul's M. E. church, spoke in the chapel. Their addresses were confined to discussion of spiritual life among students.

The students adjourned at noon to meet again Wednesday afternoon and listen to addresses by Rev. C. W. Daniel of the First Baptist church and Rev. George W. Ray of the First Congregational church. Noonday services will be held each day for a week.

Woman's Relief

Do you worry about nothing? Startle at trifles? Feel irritable, peevish, sad and blue? Suffer from neuralgia, sick headache, dizziness, backache, bearing-down pains? If so, your nerves are stretched to the snapping point, like the strings of a fiddle twisted up out of tune, which screeches at the least touch. You are in a dangerous condition of health and need a medicine to take the strain off your nerves. If you are a woman, what has overstrung you is probably disordered menstruality, which, in women, makes more trouble, pain and nerve sickness than any other single cause. The thing to do is to follow the example, being set daily by thousands of women, and take the good, old, reliable remedy for female disease, with a record of 70 years of success, in the cure of female diseases, viz:

Liver and Kidneys

It is highly important that these organs should properly perform their functions. When they don't, what lameness of the side and back, what yellowness of the skin, what constipation, bad taste in the mouth, sick headache, pimples and blotches, and loss of courage, tell the story.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Gives these organs vigor and tone for the proper performance of their functions, and cures all their ordinary ailments. Take it.

Fire Alarms Offered

The American District Telegraph Company submitted a proposition to install fire alarm boxes. By this method the boxes are rented by the year, but the company will sign a five-year contract at $360 per year for the first four years. The proposition was referred to the fire committee.

Street Car Franchise

The street and alley committee reported on the proposed route of the Fort Worth and Rosen Heights Street Railway Company and recommended that said company be not allowed to enter Central Avenue. The report and recommendation were accepted. Later the question was referred to the city street committee.

Will Fight Case

The city is now defendant of a suit brought by the City of Fort Worth Townsite Company, seeking to be given possession of the park claimed by the city, value of the park estimated to be $10,000. The matter was referred to City Attorney Valentine, with instructions to secure assistance, if needed, to fight the case.

Office Abolished

An ordinance abolishing the office of city engineer passed first reading. Complaints of tax irregularities were referred to a committee.

LAWLER URGES COUNTY FAIR

Great Benefit Would Result to the City

That a county fair should be secured for this city and made a permanent affair is the opinion of H. A. Lawler, secretary of the Fort Worth Driving Club. He declared Tuesday afternoon that a county fair would benefit Fort Worth not only in a business way, but would advertise the city in a widespread manner all through the state and would also draw attention to the city from other parts of the country. "Fort Worth would not have to make a great effort to secure a good county fair, he says, as it takes but little to start one, especially as the race track grounds could be used for the fair grounds and there would be little difficulty in getting men interested in a way that would carry the fair through the year."

GRAIN ACREAGE SHOWS DECREASE

Heavy Yield, However, Expected This Year

The Texas Millers' Association, which met here Tuesday and took up several matters, as given in The Telegram Tuesday, continued their session in the afternoon. Among other matters taken up were the reports from the millers as to the prospects of the crops. The reports show that the acreage this year is below normal, but the prospects are bright for a large crop, unless something unforeseen happens.

DAY OF WARMTH AND SUNSHINE

Temperature Savors of Good Old Summer Time

The cold wave that hit Fort Worth Sunday did not reach the eastern coast, but broke up on the way there, and split into two parts, one going south and the other getting lost somewhere about the Allegheny mountains. On that account the intense cold that was experienced in the west and south was not felt in the east. The minimum temperature reported at a number of places was in the 40 degree range, according to the weather map issued at the Fort Worth office Wednesday morning.

METER SYSTEM FOR WATER WORKS

North Fort Worth Considers Methods of Sale

At the regular meeting of North Fort Worth city council Tuesday night the water works and method of selling water were given long discussion. Some of the councilmen are still in favor of a flat rate to consumers. This proposition, however, met strong opposition. After much discussion it was finally shown that the council had previously decided to use water meters and at this point the argument for a flat rate was dropped. The city will use meters.

AUTO INTEREST SOLD

H. H. Derrough Succeeds Durham Childress

Durham Childress, proprietor of the Childress Auto Company, has sold his interest in H. H. Derrough of the Childress Garage and the place will be known hereafter as the Eureka Auto and Repair Shop. Mr. Childress will continue to manage the business in this city, but will do no more repair work.

NEGRO KILLED; WOMAN HELD

John Henderson Shot Near Grapevine

John Henderson, a negro, was shot at Grapevine Tuesday afternoon. Susie Ammon, a negro woman, being arrested by Constable Bell of the Grapevine precinct, and brought to Fort Worth that night and lodged in jail, on a charge of assault to murder.

THE NADINOLA GIRL

Wednesday morning Constable Bell telephoned County Attorney Jeff D. McCoy from Grapevine that the negro Henderson had died during the night from the wound, and that he (Bell) would come to Fort Worth with witnesses in the case Wednesday afternoon. A charge of murder was made against the woman and her examining trial will be held at noon on Wednesday. Bell comes in from Grapevine with the witnesses.

ONE WEEK MORE FOR HUNTING

Excellent Season Almost Gone. Game Has Been Good

The hunting season has almost drawn to a close, as there is but one more week in which it will be lawful to hunt. The season this winter has been a good one, as the reports from the hunters show that the birds have been fat and well developed because of the comparative mildness of the winter and the abundance of feed.

PLANS APPROVED

Enlargement of Armour Plant Now Assured

William Cargill, superintendent of the Armour plant in this city, being asked the result of the conference in this city last week of the managers and representatives of all the Armour plants, said that the improvements undoubtedly be made, but he was not permitted to say just when there is nothing that can be given to the public at present, he declared.

MANY WANT PLACES

No Openings for Mail Weighers at Local Office

William L. Tate, assistant superintendent of the railway mail service, with letters in his pocket, has been kept busy this morning because of letters received from applicants for positions as railway mail carriers. There were about thirty applications in the morning mail. Assistant Superintendent Tate said that the positions that only substitute mail carriers and those who had passed the civil service examinations had been taken for this position, and that the list is made out so far as to preclude a chance for new men to get positions as weighers.
