CAPE HAITIEN, Hayti, Feb. 13.—A messenger who arrived here today from Monte Christ, in the northern part of the republic of Santo Domingo, reports a revolutionary movement has broken out at Monte Christ. General Henri, at the head of a numerous body of troops, has attacked and captured the town of Dajagon, on the frontier of Hayti. Henri is a devoted partisan of General Jimenez, former president of Santo Domingo, and it is generally believed that the government is in favor of Jimenez and that its object is to prevent the government from holding the approaching elections.

the auto meet at Ormond, Fla.—an automobile would travel from New York to San Francisco in 26 hours and 15 minutes. Leaving New York at 6 o'clock in the morning, it would cover 900 miles to Chicago in seven hours and 50 minutes. From Chicago to Omaha, 483 miles, the speeding machine would consume three hours and 51 minutes more, while it would cover the 1,069 miles between Omaha and Ormond in eight hours and 28 minutes and land in San Francisco six hours and 18 miles later—or at 6:38 a. m. after deducting the time gained between eastern time and coast time.

could cover the distance. When Marriott annihilated space at the Ormond meet by reeling off a mile in the marvelous time of 23 1-3 seconds—there was considerable comment to the effect that this was much better time than is made by railroad trains. But the records do not substantiate the contention. It must be borne in mind that the automobile traveled its record mile in a "burst of speed." No one contends that such a terrific pace could be maintained for any great distance. It is fair, then, to compare the best "bursts of speed" of railroad trains with the automobile record.

Plant system established the record for fast runs in this country in a run between Jacksonville and Fleming in March, 1901, when five consecutive miles were covered in 2:39, a mile every 30 seconds, or within 1 4-5 seconds of the record made at Ormond Beach last week. The train of the Plant system, if it traveled from New York to Frisco at the speed it attained on its record run, would cover the 3,250 miles in 27:59, or one hour and 45 minutes slower than the automobile driven by Marriott.

STATE LOSES 139,000 ACRES
Final Judgment in Ortiz Land Case Handed Down

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 13.—The supreme court this morning affirmed the judgment of the court of civil appeals in the state Spanish land grant case against J. A. Ortiz et al. The suit on the part of the state was to recover 139,000 acres of land located along the Rio Grande river in Webb county. The state won in the district court of Travis county but the court of civil appeals reversed and remanded the case. The supreme court holds this was proper, as the evidence shows that the grant was from the Spanish crown, and lack of documentary evidence as to the substitution of the Palafors grant for this one gives Ortiz et al. the land.

10,000 IN THE COLO. MANEUVERS
Troops Practice in Rockies to Be Largely Attended

Special to The Telegram. DENVER, Colo., Feb. 13.—According to estimates made now, 10,000 troops will participate in the Pike's Peak centennial celebration in Colorado Springs next September. The regular service will be represented by cavalry, infantry, artillery, signal corps and engineers. State troops of Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Kansas, Nebraska, Utah and possibly the Pacific coast and Texas will also be present to participate in the maneuvers, which will be the most extensive ever conducted by the government. Military attaches from the various nations of the earth will follow the maneuvers, and the general staff of the army will also be present. It is possible that President Roosevelt will be present at the celebration. The maneuvers of the troops will be as in actual warfare. They will be divided into containing armies. The battle will begin on the Broadmore plain and will extend over Cheyenne and adjoining mountains to the plains south of Colorado Springs and terminate at Pueblo. It will be the first time in the history of the United States army, and it is said with any army, where the maneuvers have been held over the mountains. The question of handling artillery, cavalry and infantry will be tested, and even army men are at a loss how to conduct a campaign in the mountains, with valleys intervening and plains on both sides. An effort will be made to secure a 1-cent rate on all railroads in the United States to Colorado Springs and Denver for the celebration. Following the maneuvers will be the Festival of Mountain and Plain in Denver. In addition to the regular and state troops, at Colorado Springs will be the Philippine veterans and Indians from every tribe encountered by Pike in 1806 when he went through this country. There will be special programs for the Indians. The citizens of Colorado Springs expect to raise $100,000 to defray the expenses of the celebration.

TROTTERING MEN TO TAKE UP SCANDAL
National Association Urged to Investigate Dillon Case

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Characterizing the Memphis gold cup case as the most deplorable turf scandal he had ever known, and one calculated to work untold injury to harness racing sport, David Bonner yesterday declared to Major P. F. Johnston, president of the National Trotting Association, that he deemed it the duty of that organization to investigate at once the charges made against E. E. Smathers and other men out on suspension from the conspirators, or brand the accusations as false if found to be untrue. Speaking with all the vehemence at his command, the former vice president of the National Trotting Association added: "As the guardian of harness racing, the National Trotting Association owes it to the sport to take cognizance of the case without waiting for a trial in the civil courts, a year or two hence, which will punish nobody, and perhaps decide nothing except the legal title to the cup. In my opinion, Mr. President, the importance of the case demands a special meeting of the board of review, and I hope you will call one as soon as the parties to the case are ready to be heard. "So far as I can judge the case from reading the newspapers, I did not see anything in it which requires the decision of either the courts or of the board of review," replied Major Johnston. "The only evidence that has been disclosed thus far is from two men who are by their own confession uncredited. I do not doubt that the board of review will deal with the case if requested to do so by either of the parties interested, and we may decide to do so on our own motion. "Under the rule of the National Association," continued Major Johnston, "every member and everyone who makes an entry in a race agrees to submit all disputes arising out of races to the judgment of the association, and I am rather surprised that the Memphis men have taken the case to the courts."

DRIVER BADLY HURT
W. F. McCoy Thrown From High Wagon Seat

W. F. McCoy of 213 Hattie street was seriously injured Tuesday morning by falling from the high seat of a wagon he was driving. Mr. McCoy is employed by the Fort Worth Light and Power company, and at the time of the accident was driving one of the big coal wagons belonging to the company. When he reached the railroad at Taylor street there were some cars across the street, blocking the crossing. Not wishing to wait for the cars to be switched out of the way, started to drive around them and thus save time. At the place where he was rounding the cars there is a little embankment which made driving dangerous. In dropping off the embankment the wagon jostled against the railroad rails with such force as to fling him from his seat. He fell upon the rails and was seriously injured. One rib was broken, and it is feared that he is internally injured. When the team Mr. McCoy was driving felt the lines slack, they ran away and the wagon was wrecked, but the team escaped without injury. Later Mr. McCoy was taken to his home, where he was reported to be resting well at noon Tuesday.

Young New Yorker Goes Mad in Streets of Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 12.—"Scotty" the Death Valley mystify, has faded away as champion profligate and money burner. E. Oscar Hart, a young New Yorker, with pockets lined with $100-bills, has succeeded him. He appeared on the streets of Los Angeles last night and attracted large crowds by his yells and gifts of bunches of violets. He bought the entire stock of violets carried by the flower department of the largest store here and distributed them to the women in the store and on the street, emitting a terrifying coyote yell with every gift. Then the youth invited all he met into a hotel bar to drink with him. Hundreds drank champagne at his expense and the bartender was tipped with a hundred-dollar bill after each round. After the flowers ran out he bought others, and because the florist could not change a hundred-dollar bill he tore it into shreds and threw the pieces into the crowd. The mob became frenzied and tore his clothing from his back, almost denuding him on the street. He escaped on a street car to Venice, an ocean-side resort, where he continued his profligacy. Nothing is known regarding Hart beyond his name and address. It is estimated he squandered more than $10,000 in the one hour he spent on the streets here.

BURGLARY REPORTED

Charles E. Coons, a general collector, called at the police station Tuesday morning and reported that a burglar had entered his house at 1908 Louisiana avenue, Monday night. Mr. Coons stated that the entrance was effected through the back door. The lock to the door was broken, but the door had been thumbolotted. The door was forced open. A watch and a suit case were stolen. The suit case was found in the yard, however. It had been cut open and one pair of trousers had been taken. Detectives were assigned to the case.

By the Way

The crier had a bad cold, so that the duty of making the opening proclamation fell to another court officer, who, as it happened, had never acted as crier. This officer had heard the proclamation often enough, and knew it by heart, but this is what happened: The deputy sheriff opened the door and announced "Court!" The substitute crier rapped on his desk and, within an instant the bar, those present arose and stood in silence while the judge passed to his place. Then the substitute began: "Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye!" His voice seemed to him horribly loud, and all recollection of the words to follow suddenly left him, but he pushed himself together and went on bravely, "All persons having anything to do before the honorable the justices of the supreme court in the jury session thereof now sitting at Boston within and for the county of Suffolk may draw near and give their attendance, and they shall be heard." At this point he sat down, but, seeing the judge looking up in surprise, he saw his mistake, and springing to his feet, he added: "By the way, gentlemen, God save the commonwealth of Massachusetts."—From the Green Bag.

OUR COMING GUESTS.

Dallas is making elaborate preparations to entertain the cattlemen in March. Fort Worth with her fat stock show will give them the kind of entertainment they hunger for. The cattlemen of the Southwest know the real cowman's town of Texas. They will come to Dallas to enjoy themselves and transact the business for which they have assembled. But when McGregor wants to feel himself on his native heath he will not be satisfied until he has seen Fort Worth and imbibed freely of her pure artesian water.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The distance between Fort Worth and Dallas is only thirty miles, and trains of different kinds run between the two points every fifteen minutes. So if the cattlemen desire to participate in the two events he will not have much trouble in doing so. The average cattlemen does not consider thirty miles any distance, even if he has to ride it on a horse. He will be well taken care of in both towns, and he knows it.—Dallas News.

The cattlemen will go to Dallas first this year, from the fact that the annual meeting of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas is to be held in that city, beginning Monday, March 19, and continue in session three days. The Fort Worth Fat Stock Show will open Thursday, March 22, and continue three days. The entertainment afforded the cattlemen in the city of Dallas will be strictly first-class, for Dallas has a long reputation to retrieve, which she is going to make the most strenuous efforts to accomplish. And when the Dallas entertainment is considered in connection with what will be afforded the cattlemen when they reach this city, it may be confidently predicted that all the visitors are going to have the time of their lives.

Transportation facilities between the two cities will be ample to handle the crowds, and Fort Worth expects many of the cattlemen who spend the day in Dallas attending the routine business of the convention to feel a keen desire to spend the night in Fort Worth and utilize the quickest method of getting here. The cattlemen do not feel so nearly at home in any other Texas city. There is something about Fort Worth that appeals to them in the most effective manner, and the indications are that this city will suffer one particle by virtue of having permitted the convention to go to Dallas this year.

The indications all seem to portend an enormous crowd, and all visitors will find the usual Fort Worth welcome on tap.

THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY IN TEXAS.

W. V. Newlin, in the Fort Worth Telegram draws an appalling picture of the rascality of the Standard Oil Company, and its methods of dealing with competition; a picture that makes Lawson's and Mrs. Tarbell's characterizations read like a recommendation from a Sunday School teacher.

He charges that the reason the Texas wells are not producing as well as they did at the start is that the organization does not wish them to, and have doctored these wells, and ruined wells whenever they saw that they were producing too much. That they have workmen everywhere who are their tools and spies, and that the many disasters that have happened to the wells and the machinery are directly traceable to the Standard. He cites facts and figures to show the correctness of his arguments and statements, and shows himself to be an able and fearless as well as well informed writer. Whatever one may think of his arguments, one is compelled to admit the truth of many of his statements, and those who have a real good idea of what the Standard has done that has been proved on it, will be ready to believe that Mr. Newlin has told rather less than the truth in the case.—Denton Monitor.

The Newlin story of Standard Oil operation in Texas, printed in the Telegram a few days ago, has attracted a great deal of attention throughout the state, and has put a whole lot of people to thinking. It is believed that the statements made therein will be sufficient to cause the institution of rigid investigations and a material lessening of the evils complained of. The state of Texas has a long account to settle with the Standard Oil people and according to the late reports from Austin, the officers of the state are preparing to get busy. Whether or not anything will come of this investigation remains to be developed, but it is morally certain there is a great volume of complaint continually coming up from the people.

Should an investigation be undertaken it should be thorough in every detail. Nothing should be left undone that is calculated to bring relief from conditions that seem too onerous to be longer submitted to. If the Texas oil fields are being ruined by these people, and if the people are being compelled to pay tribute in the manner so constantly alleged, then it is high time that the strong arm of the law was involved and the proper protection extended. Texas has an anti-trust law that has stood the test. It is now up to the officials to enforce that law.

President Castro, of Venezuela, talks just like a little man who has fed for a long time on gunpowder.

More smokestacks in Fort Worth will bring more business to every line represented in the city. Let's have the smokestacks.

There is one thing morally certain, and that is that Congressman Gillespie will not feel lonesome in the race he is making for re-election.

Cyclone Davis has made the expected flop and comes over to the Democratic party. It is hoped that he has learned enough during the period of his expatriation to enable him to henceforth stick to his muton.

The Gould people are beginning to show the Frisco and Katy people a clean pair of heels in the fast mail races that are now taking place between this city and St. Louis.

Congressman Longworth has recovered from a recent slight indisposition and preparations for the impending nuptials at the White House are steadily in progress. There will be a sigh of genuine relief when the agony is entirely over.

The whole face of the earth is being torn up in Fort Worth to make room for the erection of new buildings. No other city in Texas can make such an excellent showing in this regard. And people do not build fine buildings in a dead one.

The story of the Telegram, published in Sunday morning's issue, was a genuine revelation to the people of Fort Worth, who are just beginning to understand and appreciate the value of the paper to the city. It has elicited much favorable comment.

The new telephone building to be erected in this city by the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph Company will be one of the handsomest buildings in the city. Work has already begun on the structure and it will be pushed to a speedy completion.

There has nothing yet appeared in the Texas press that could be construed into a resignation on the part of either Candidate Brooks or Candidate Colquitt. Those who have had their ears to the ground in anticipation of the coming rumble have been most cruelly disappointed.

Contractor Peters reports that a great many citizens of Fort Worth are busy in the matter of constructing good sidewalks, and it is the most cheering information. The Telegram wants to see this good work proceed until Fort Worth streets will be the envy of every city in Texas. When the people become aroused to a sense of civic pride there is always something done, and Fort Worth is thoroughly aroused on the subject.

Some opposition to Col. I. T. Pryor for president of the Cattle Raisers Association of Texas is developing out in the San Angelo country. It seems to be predicated wholly on the fact that he is a member of the live stock exchange and engaged in the commission business. Some of the Concho cattlemen allege this disqualifies him for the presidency of the association, as its members are now entertaining grievances against the commission men on account of attempts to increase charges.

WAY TO STOP LOBBYING

The Mississippi legislature has adopted a resolution at the opening of its session barring all lobbyists from the halls and corridors of the capitol and requiring all persons who desire to appear before the legislative committees to secure credentials. This interdict will not seriously disturb professional lobbyists. They generally put in their work at the hotels and resorts patronized by members of the legislature. A more effective way to banish the lobby is to have a grand jury in session at the state capitals from the opening to the close of every legislative session. That would make tampering with lawmakers rather risky.—Omaha Bee.

PUBLIC OPINION

The New York press thinks that the administration's rate program is certain to be assassinated in the senate, if it is not killed in the house by the "insurgents," who have traded with the railroads to beat the statehood bill. It says:

There has been a coalition of dissatisfied patronage grabbers, or smirched senators and indicted representatives, of illegal monopolies and railroad extortioners, of land thieves and postal grafters, with all the seekers of special privilege who are hit by the legislation the President advocates. That this is a sufficiently powerful alliance of the President's enemies to give him all the trouble they could wish him, without the assistance of the President's friends, is evident from the attitude of the senate committee on Interstate commerce. Since those gentlemen have discovered what they believe to be signs of wavering popular support for Mr. Roosevelt they have thrown off the mask of friendship to a policy they have always meant either to kill with kindness or stab in the back at the first opportunity.

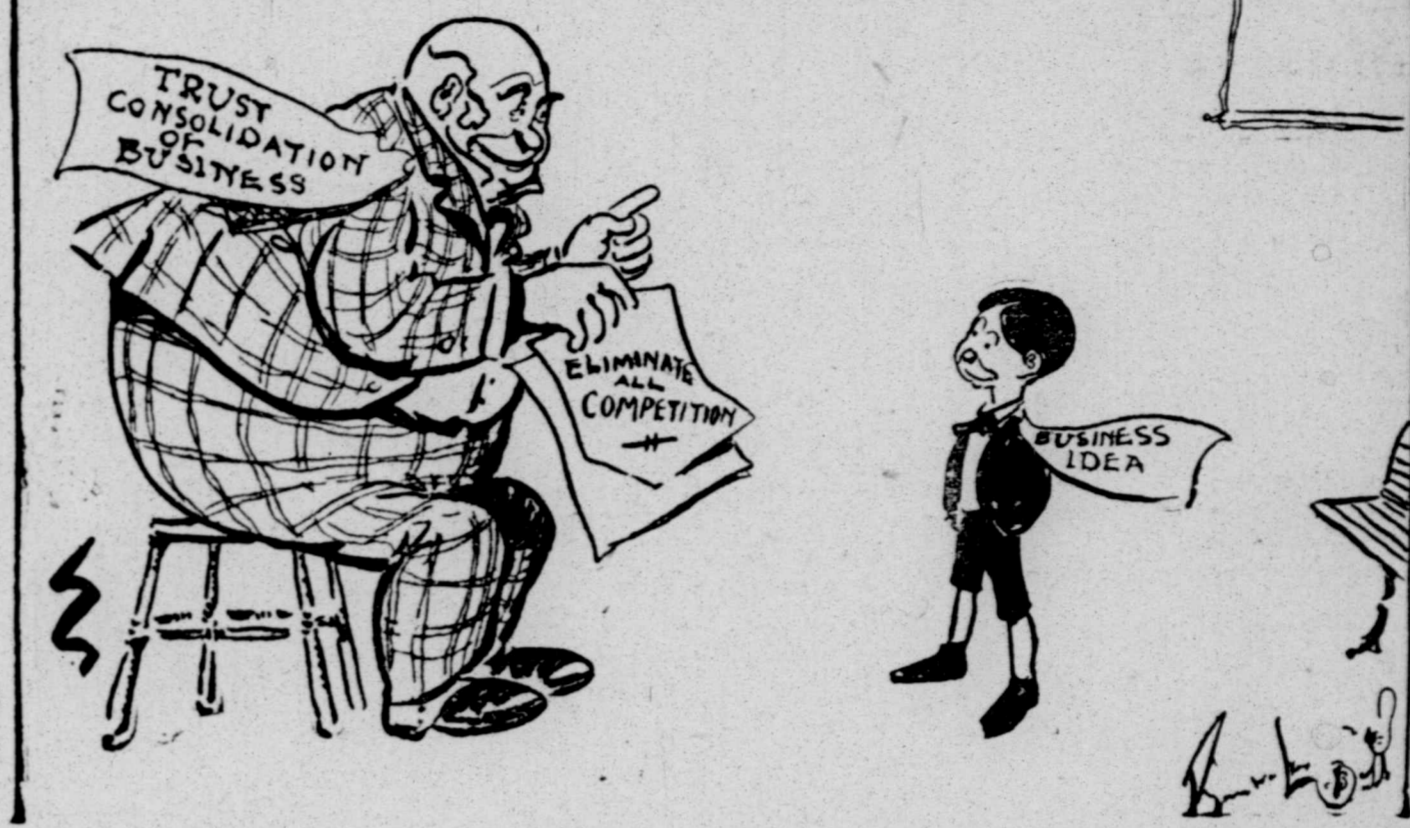

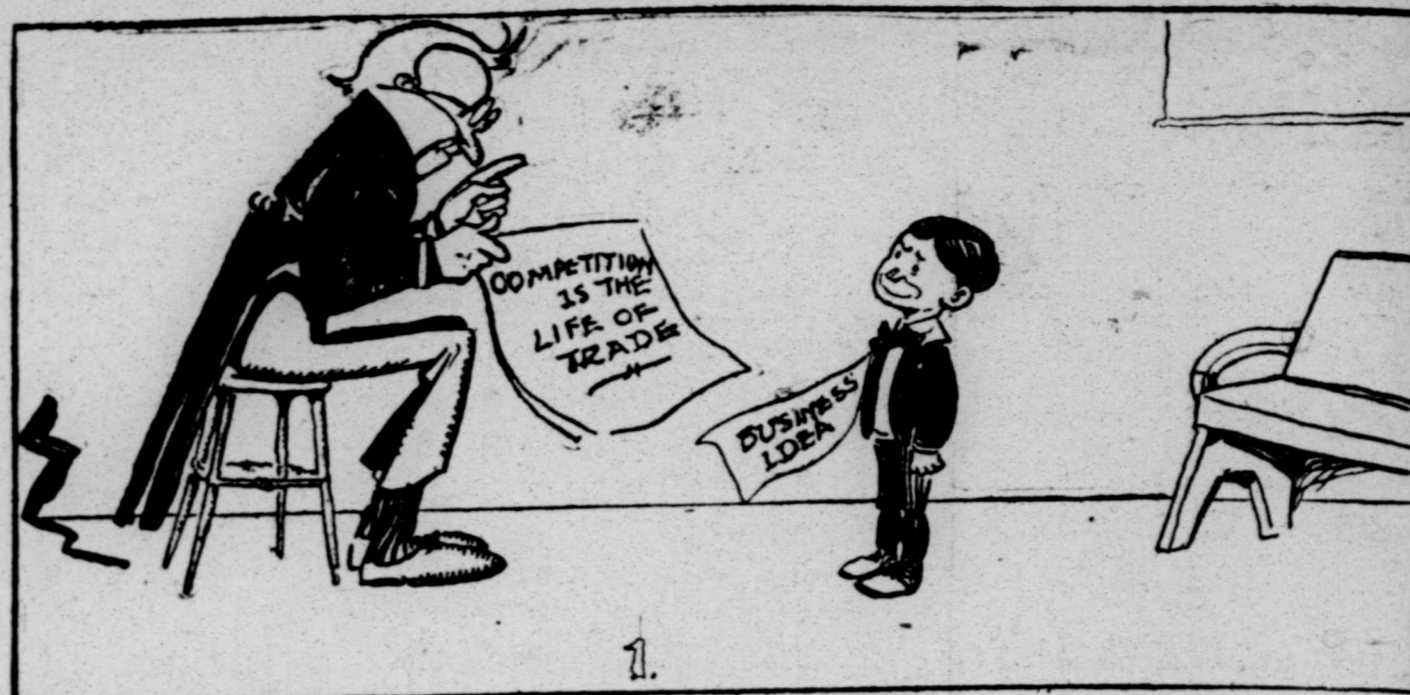

The New York World thinks that the President's popularity is always a menacing club to hold over the head of those recalcitrant congressmen who are not too sure of their constituencies. It says:

Mr. Littlefield may continue to prove that Mr. Roosevelt owed his popular plurality of 2,500,000 to the fact that hundreds of thousands of Democrats stayed away from the polls. Most Republican congressmen may believe it, but they are not quite sure that the public in general believe it. They will not push their grievances against the President to the point of open warfare, least of all when a large Democratic element is ready to support many of the administration's measures. Their attitude toward him will continue to be that of Rufus Choate's African toward his fetish. He did not regard the idol as handsome, but considered him strong and vindictive.

The Savannah Morning News, considering the signs of opposition to the President in congress, says:

The feeling is so strong in congress against the President on account of his disposition to act independently of congress, and of his refusal to permit congressmen to have the control of the patronage in their respective districts, and for other reasons, that all sorts of rumors are set afloat that are calculated to lessen his popularity. If he had more tact and less of the bulldozing spirit he would get along better with congress.

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW

In the good old days we were taught business lessons entirely different from the ones handed out today.

STRAIGHT TALKS TO PEOPLE

(BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.)
As you walk along the streets with your children, what do you talk about?

Are you calling their attention to the shop windows and sighing to think that you can not buy all the beautiful things displayed to whet the appetite for adornment?

Do you reply to their importuning for toys and articles of clothing by the statement that you are "too poor" to buy those things, and then do you follow this remark by exclamations of admiration and envy over the handsome equipages, with richly gowned occupants, and say, "It must be lovely to be rich."

If this is your method of entertaining your children it would be far wiser to leave them at home.

You are educating them in discontent, jealousy and a false idea of what constitutes happiness.

You are awakening a precocious longing for wealth and a desire to display and create these "class distinctions" which so many good people declare are created by the "sensational newspapers."

Suppose you take a walk tomorrow with your children and direct their young minds in other channels.

Call their attention to the number of people trying to earn a decent living—trying to avoid being classed as beggars by selling shoe strings and feather dusters and other trifles on the street.

Indulge in a little talk about these vendors. Speak of the "sandwich" man not as an object of ridicule or fun, but as a brother human being, who is doing the best as far as he sees the way to get through this complicated life as we find it in large cities.

Then give your child a few pennies to patronize the shoestring vender, and to water the little seed of sympathy which you have planted in his heart.

When you see a carriage with docked horses wearing the absurd and cruel overcheck, say to your children: "I would rather be poor my whole life than to be rolling in wealth and driving horses with mutilated tails and cramped necks."

"Those foolish people think they are obliged to do those things, and I am sorry for them as well as for the animals. They are slaves and do not know it."
"Some day the world will grow wiser and human beings will learn there is no happiness in what hurts any living creature."

When you meet beautifully attired children, say to your child: "They are lovely, but they can not be loved any more than you are, and I am sure they are no happier than you and I. For all happiness must come from love in our hearts."

If you see a starved looking dog or cat on the street speak of it with sympathy, and if possible to do so, let your child bring a few cents worth of meat from a shop and feed the homeless animal.

IN OTHER WAYS

Besides giving food to the hungry you are awakening a human soul to a sense of its duty to inferior things of earth.

If you see a man or boy pushing ahead of women through doors or into cars and stages, say to your boy how sorry you should be to have him so rude.

Impress upon him the necessity of politeness and courtesy in public places as an attribute of manliness.

Thank him when he opens a door for you or steps aside for you to enter a car, or when he rises to give another a seat.

In all these small and simple ways you can be giving your children the foundation for a most valuable education.

It lies in the power of the mother to make the children what she desires them to be if she begins early enough and keeps at the task day after day.

A child's brain is being built the first fourteen years of life, and it is the mother's privilege to direct the structure and awaken the noblest and most admirable qualities by giving them thorough exercises.

Each thought which passes through a child's mind is leaving its physical impress on the brain and making that thought easier to occur again. Pave the way for good and great thoughts.

ANOTHER BRICK

William Allen White says the rest of the country feels much the same way Kansas does on the rate question. Possibly; but the rest of the country has studied the are of repression, so it does not have to follow the Kansas style of expressing its feelings.—Washington Post.

AMERICANS NOT DUMMIES

The American man as Mr. Hen Peck is his latest picture by his English cousin.

Of course we are more or less accustomed to having our foreign cousins picture us women as domineering, globe-trotting, do-as-you-please, disagreeable females. The men have been spared; they have only been called good-natured, money-making individuals, with no imaginations, but they were at least called manly.

Now the last vestige of their manhood has been taken, and we are told by Professor Reich, the Hungarian historian and lecturer of a London university, that in America woman commands man and man does not count; that today man has no existence here; he is a dummy.

One can't help wondering in what part of the continent Professor Reich made his observations.

Perhaps it was in Colorado, where the women are so bold as to vote.

Or perchance he gleaned his fashionable facts from the new anaemic American specimens who frequent foreign shores.

It is not fair to judge the American man by the one you meet in Europe.

The best American is found at home. Professor Reich's knowledge of American men and women seems to be limited to the comic-opera variety—the loud-mouthed, masculine woman carrying her husband around Europe under her arm.

He doubtless has made up his mind that all American women being of this variety, all the men must be dummies. A most natural conclusion.

But, thank fortune, this is not the predominating type of woman in America, and the American man is something more than a wooden image.

The American man doubtless has his shortcomings, but that only makes him more human.

None of us would enjoy living up to the virtues of a Gabriel.

Even with his shortcomings, in the eyes of most American women, he is far and away above men of other nations.

He is most kind and generous. He looks upon woman as his equal, and wishes to make a companion—not a slave—of his wife.

In this he differs from the men of foreign climes. He is hard-working. His ambition in life is to make his wife comfortable and happy, to give his children a good education and give them a better chance in the world than he has had.

He is courteous to women.

He is independent in thought and action; in fact, it is because he is not a dummy, but a very much alive, lovable creature, that the American woman delights to honor him.

REUNITED

It is to be regretted that all the citizens of the union south of Mason and Dixon's line could not have seen the impressive military pageant which made General Joseph Wheeler's funeral a beautiful and memorable spectacle.

If they could have seen the flag draped casket in the gun carriage, the escort of Spanish war veterans, national guardsmen, artillerymen, and khaki-clad regulars, who are neither northern nor southern, but American—if they could have seen the orderly lines of people as numerous as the total population of Atlanta here their heads as the slow line moved past, it would have been a revelation of northern sentiment to some of our southern friends.

There was in the sight no sadness, but a deep and patriotic satisfaction that stirred to tears thousands of those who looked upon it. In death as in life it was the peculiar glory of this man—there was no other thought in all the throng—to remind us that is truly one nation; that the dead soldier himself, the empty saddle, the guns, the troops, and the flag above them all are not yours or theirs, but ours.—New York World.

FAMILY LIQUORS

When you want to buy a good hatchet, you must not go to a grocery store, or to a 5 and 10-cent store. Go to a hardware store, where they have a large stock to select from. When in need of a BOTTLE OF WHISKY OR WINE, Don't go to a "joint" or corner grocery—go to a Liquor House. Go to BRANN'S LIQUOR HOUSE, where you can get almost anything known in the line of Liquors and Wines.

SPORTING SALAD

The Kentucky legislature will probably abolish Sunday baseball in the Blue Grass state. Jimmy Britt isn't at all anxious to meet Willie Fitzgerald, and has sidestepped him. Britt would much sooner take on Young Corbett or Herman Buck Ewing, the famous catcher, who has been seriously ill at Cincinnati for several weeks, is on the road to recovery.

STOCKS

Tone Much Improved—Accumulation of Orders Over Holiday Results in an Active Market

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The bullish element seems to have regained some element seems to have regained some days of enforced idleness, and while sentiment is still somewhat unsettled, a feeling of optimism is gradually gaining ground, and the trade is inclined to look for an amicable adjustment of difficulties now pending between the operators and the United Mine Workers at the conference which will be held Thursday. The opening was slightly irregular, but several issues exhibited pronounced strength. Amalgamated Copper being the particular feature. This issue opened at 117 1/2, an advance of 2 points from Saturday's final, and immediately following the close there was some realigning, which effected a recession to 115 1/2. The strength was not at all surprising, as it has been common to see fluctuations of some time that the stock was slated for a shade advance, and in fact, it is hard to find anyone in New York who favors the short side. Illinois steel advanced an initial gain of 1 1/2 points. Smelter opened 1/2 points higher, while Reading and C. & F. showed initial gains of 1 point. The accumulation of orders over the holidays resulted in a more active market throughout the early session than has been experienced for the past several days, sales to noon 692,500. The tone also improved, as a majority of the issues showed gains of various proportions. The anticipation of a favorable dividend action on Union Pacific at the meeting of the directors tomorrow attracted considerable buying to that quarter. The afternoon session was quite active, but profit taking was an important feature in the last hour of trading, and in most instances a substantial portion of the early gain was lost, but a revival of buying during the last few minutes resulted in a firm close.

Wheat Market Dull—Prices Lower. Corn Weak—Oats Steady—Provisions Advance Sensationally

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 13.—The wheat market was dull today. Lower prices in Liverpool, a poor demand locally for the cash article and reports of favorable weather for the growth of the crop in the west and southwest were adverse influences effecting a decline in prices here. Opening figures were unchanged, 4c lower. Following the call there was rather liberal selling of the May option for short account and prices eased off to a net decline of 1/4 to 1/2 for that position. After the initial activity the market lapsed into a lethargic state, and throughout the balance of the session the trading was exceedingly light, while fluctuations were confined to a very narrow range. Closing prices were a shade better than the lowest. Local receipts 23 cars, 5 of which were contract grade; 23 cars were received this day last year. According to the National Wheat and Flour Association, the wheat and flour export for Europe has decreased 1,300,000 bushels in the past week.

Corn Corn was active. Prices were affected by the lower tone of the foreign market and the poor demand for the cash article, together with the rather heavy movement, and reports from the balance of the world that market was overstocked. Final figures were 1/4 to 1/2 below Saturday's final. Local receipts 752 cars, 23 of which were contract grade; 23 cars were received this day last year.

Oats Oats were quiet and steady. Closing prices were unchanged to a shade lower. Local receipts 269 cars, 53 of which were contract grade; 167 cars were received this day last year.

Provisions Provisions were again active and very strong. An advance of 5c to 10c in the price for live hogs caused liberal buying of all the products and at the close pork was up 3c to 4c. Lard showed a gain of 10c to 12c. Ribs were up 2 1/2c.

Weekly Visible Statement The weekly visible statement shows the following changes for the past week: Wheat, decrease, 754,000 bushels; corn, increase, 47,000 bushels; oats, decrease, 328,000 bushels.

Market Was Dull—Sentiment Bearish Prices Decline—Close Dull—Spots 10 Points Lower

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The cotton market was dull today, with prices at a decline of 2 to 4 points in response to the weaker tone of the Liverpool market. The announcement by Harvis Jordan that an arrangement had been completed with an Eastern syndicate whereby they agreed to take 500,000 bales of middling cotton at a minimum price of 12 cents, deliverable on or before July 1, 1906, had no noticeable effect on sentiment, and while the market was rather quiet during the first hour, the general inclination seemed to favor the short side, and there were several large blocks offered and the market lacked support, prices breaking 10 to 11 points from the opening figures before the end of the first hour.

At the decline there was some demand developed which steadied the market, although there was never any aggressive buying. The market closed at 11 1/2 for the middling grade. Sales, 2,100 bales.

New York Cotton Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The cotton market opened as follows up to 2:30 today:

Table with columns for Cotton Name, Open, High, Low, Close, and Change. Includes March, May, July, Aug., Oct., Dec.

New Orleans Cotton Special to The Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 13.—Lower prices for contracts in Liverpool and an easier spot market there, influenced the market for the local market. On the first call prices were 9 to 11 points below yesterday's final.

In the initial trading there was scattered buying by traders who were supposed to be short, but the general disposition was to sell, and before the end of the first hour the loss had been increased to almost 11 a bale for the March option and 16 to 17 points for more distant positions.

This proved to be the bottom for the day, and subsequently the market was very dull and narrow, with fluctuations confined to a range of 4 to 5 points. The close was quiet and steady, with prices at a net loss of 13 to 14 points.

Spots were easy and 1-16c lower, at 10-11-16c. Sales, 1,400 bales, o. b. o. 800 bales.

Futures ranged as follows: Open, High, Low, Close. March, 10.70, 10.70, 10.62, 10.65-66. May, 10.88, 10.88, 10.81, 10.85-85. July, 11.01, 11.01, 10.93, 10.97. Oct., 11.24, 11.24, 11.16, 11.23-24.

Receipts at the same points last year: Galveston, 13,869; 4,493; New Orleans, 191; 2,294; Mobile, 184; 2,294; Charleston, 381; 39; Wilmington, 211; 698; Norfolk, 674; 296; Boston, 823; 823; Philadelphia, 144; Total, 32,420; 37,793. Shipments, 2,776; 2,127. Cinemat, 1,431; Memphis, 2,470; Augusta, 1,431; St. Louis, 433; 433; Cincinnati, 1,431; Little Rock, 234.

Estimated Tomorrow Following is the estimated receipts for tomorrow at the three principal ports, compared with the receipts for the same day last year:

Table with columns for Port Name, Last Year, This Year. Includes New Orleans, Galveston, Houston.

Liverpool Cotton Cable LIVERPOOL, Feb. 13.—The cotton market opened quiet, with prices at a decline of 1 to 2 points. The market was rather quiet, with prices at a net loss of 13 to 14 points.

Spots were easier at a decline of 5 points to 5 1/2 for American middling. Sales, 8,000 bales, made another rail. American imports, 10,000 bales.

NEW THEATRICAL CIRCUIT PLANNED

Shuberts Said to Be Contemplating Entering Field

FT. WORTH CONSIDERED

Houston Mentioned as Other Texas Town Likely to Get A New Opera House

From letters which have been received in Fort Worth this week, it is learned that the theatrical interests, commonly referred to as the Shubert-Belasco-Fiske combination, are seriously contemplating entering the Texas field next season with their bookings and building opera houses where they cannot secure buildings by lease.

One letter, received a day or two ago, says Fort Worth is seriously under consideration by the interests mentioned, and even goes so far as to predict an opera house will be built in this city in time for next season's attractions. The other Texas city mentioned in the letter is Houston, where it is said a location for a theater already has been secured. The letter also states that theater in New Orleans has been leased by the company.

The result of this has been that theatrical companies not booked by the syndicate have had to cancel their dates in the leading cities, or making tours throughout the country without long jumps between cities which could get open dates, at enormous cost for traveling.
