Alarming Conditions in China Considered Only Local

SUGGEST PRUDENCE

American Missionaries Urged to Act With Caution in Case of Crisis

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Representatives of foreign missionary boards having missions in China and several of these workers there who are now in this country, held a conference yesterday in the rooms of the Presbyterian board in Fifth avenue, to consider the conditions now affecting missionary work and the outlook in that field.

The conference, while recognizing the gravity of the present situation and the possibility of serious trouble, expressed the conviction that there is not as yet serious anxiety.

"Communications received from many sections of China as a rule indicate quiet conditions. An outbreak of the nature of the Boxer uprising under the sanction of the government is believed to be quite improbable. Local disturbances are possible at all times. Yet it cannot be denied that anti-foreign sentiment and American feelings in particular are extending in some sections. The missionaries have been charged to exercise all prudence and it is confidently believed that extraordinary circumstances excepted, they can secure protection should danger arise."

Prominent Men Present

Dr. E. E. Strong of Boston, educational secretary of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, presided. Among the other persons present were Dr. Arthur J. Brown, secretary of the Presbyterian board, who sent out the call for the meeting; Dr. H. K. Carroll, secretary of the Methodist board; Dr. Thomas S. Barber, secretary of the American Baptist union; Dr. H. N. Cobb, secretary of the mission board of the Reformed church in America; Rev. Joshua Klinger, secretary of the Episcopal board; Rev. H. P. Beach, educational agent of the Students' Volunteer Missionary society; and John Fox, secretary of the American Bible society.

Of those actively connected with the work in China, there were present Dr. Arthur H. Smith, writer and missionary for many years under the American board in China; Dr. Frank D. Lund, professor in Shan Tung College, and W. Henry Grant, secretary and treasurer of the Canton Christian College.

JACK COUNTY PAYS OFF BONDS

Last of Courthouse Obligation Is Canceled

Special to The Telegram. JACKSBORO, Texas, Feb. 17.—Jack county finances are in fine condition. The commissioners' court this week paid off the last court house bond, and the last note on the county farm, leaving only four jail bonds of $1,000 each—the only indebtedness of the county. The county recently voted a road tax of 15 cents on the $100 valuation of property.

The new city government is moving off very satisfactorily.

Jackboro voters little in very fine condition in this county. Of course all are feeding to some extent, but this is necessary, as the greater number of the cattle raised here are either thoroughbreds or graded.

Numerous prospectors are coming into Jack county, and generally they are well pleased with the outlook. Many of them are buying homes.

Jackboro stone crushers are doing big business, running day and night. The executive committee of the Jack county Sunday school association met last night and laid out the work for the spring and summer campaign, which will be on a more extensive chandeliers, a perfect light was diffused throughout the room. The floral decorations were more elaborate than any heretofore used in President Roosevelt's administration.

While all unnecessary space in the great apartment was not kept up with decorations, as every inch of it was needed to accommodate the guests, two huge vases of rare design, each filled with Easter lilies and ferns, occupied each of the mantels and the handsome tables, one at the north and south ends of the room bore jardiniere of flowering rhododendrons. At the great center windows, directly opposite the main entrance of the room, and overlooking the east entrance, a superb floral bow had been contrived with exquisite skill. It consisted of a semi-circular platform, twelve inches high, was constructed before the windows, and on this the ceremony took place, so that all in the room had practically an unobstructed view of it.

Marine Band Gives Music

Stationed in the vestibule was the Marine band orchestra, under the personal leadership of Lieutenant William H. Santelmo, director of the band. During the time fifty guests were assembling the military and naval officers detailed for the occasion to the White House as social aides to the President, were completing arrangements by seeing that the distinguished through was disposed properly for the ceremony.

Mrs. Roosevelt Appears First

A few minutes before noon Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by members of her immediate family, descended the main staircase, and under escort of several military escorts, entered the East Room by the main door. She was escorted to her position on the left side of the platform, which was reserved for the bride's family.

Designated members of the bridegroom's family, including his mother and sisters, had already taken their places at the right side of the platform.

In order to keep the way clear for the wedding party, white satin ropes were stretched from each side of the main entrance of the East Room to the posts. Mrs. Roosevelt gracefully acknowledged the greetings which she received on her entrance. She wore a superb gown, richly designed of heavy cream brocade, on which figures of blue and brown were interlaced with strands of gold. The gown was princess style, with long train of brocade material. She wore diamonds as ornaments.

Bridegroom Enters

Two or three minutes after the entrance of Mrs. Roosevelt, the bridegroom, Mr. Longworth, accompanied by his best man, Thonson Perkins, and a friend, descended the main staircase and, entering the east room, took his place at the foot of the platform to await the arrival of the bride.

Bride Is Prompt

Promptly at the stroke of the noon hour, Miss Roosevelt, escorted by the President, descended by the elevator to the west end of the main corridor. There, in waiting for them, were the ushers selected by Mr. Longworth. All of them were long-time personal friends and several were the bridegroom's classmates.

Preceded by the ushers, the President went to the room, where she was lightly within his left arm, proceeded to the east room, the orchestra rendering the magnificent march from "Tannhauser."

The Bridal Robe

Miss Roosevelt never looked better. Her classic beauty of face and figure should be celebrated in her exquisite attire, and by her surroundings. Her bridal dress was a magnificent creation of pure white satin, polka lace, chiffon, filmy tulle and silver brocade. The material from which it was developed was manufactured especially for Miss Roosevelt and the design was destroyed as soon as the necessary amount of material for the dress was made.

The gown had a long court train of superb silver brocade. The bodice was made high without a collar, trimmed with rare old polka lace and elbow sleeves, finished with the same filmy material. The sleeves just met the long white gloves. A voluminous tulle veil almost completely enveloping the slender graceful figure of the charming bride, held in place by dainty clusters of orange blossoms. Tiny slippers were fashioned from silver brocade and have buckles of tulle bows, worn with tiny clusters of orange flowers.

The only jewels worn by the bride were a superb diamond necklace, which was the gift of the bridegroom.

Over her left arm, Miss Roosevelt carried a superb shower bouquet of the rarest and daintiest white orchids procurable.

An Auspicious Moment

The ushers, who were in couples, separated as they reached the platform and the President passed through two lines and presented his daughter to the waiting bridegroom, who stepped forward and received her and together they ascended the platform, where Bishop Satterlee, in the imposing robes of office, was already standing.

It was one of the most auspicious moments in the history of the White House.

The Ceremony

In low resonant tones Bishop Satterlee began. At the conclusion of the responses from the bride and groom the venerable bishop inquired in a tone that filled the great room: "Who giveth this woman to be married to this man?" The President of the United States ascended the platform and taking his daughter's right hand placed it in that of the bridegroom. Thus he gave the bride away to the man of her choice and by the ring, which an instant later the groom put on the fourth finger of her left hand, she became Mrs. Nicholas Longworth.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the assembled guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Longworth on the platform and beneath a floral

SHUBERT ADMITS THEATER REPORT

Telegram's Exclusive Story of New Circuit Is Confirmed

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—"Yes, we are negotiating for a theater in Fort Worth, and also all the principal Texas cities," said Lee Shubert, of Sam S. & Lee Shubert Company, incorporated, when seen last night at the Lyric theater on his return from a business trip.

"Of course, I cannot tell you our principals in these Texas negotiations at this time, for they are not quite completed, and to give names would perhaps block our game, but we are going in to get our part of the Texas business and we mean to have it."

"Perhaps in a week or two I can give the Telegram some particulars for the deal maybe closed at any time."

"From now on, we can give Texas all our New York successes fresh from Broadway."

The Telegram was the first Texas newspaper publishing announcement of the independent theatrical circuit's plan to enter Fort Worth and the Texas field the coming season.

HAS HE CHANGED VIEW? Speeches of Senator Lodge Causing Speculation

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17.—Senator Lodge is a close personal friend of President Roosevelt's. He has always been considered as the President's spokesman in the United States senate, yet Senator Lodge, in his famous speech on national legislation gave way to opinions that are not wholly consistent with the President's views on the subject, as made clear by a number of rate bills introduced in congress commonly known as "Lodge measures."

For instance the Esch-Townsend bill and more lately the Hepburn rate bill. This naturally opens the list of questions whether or not Senator Lodge really voiced the views of President Roosevelt, or whether there has been a difference of opinion on the subject of rate legislation.

If there is no difference of opinion between Senator Lodge and the President, it is a matter of course that Senator Lodge actually voiced the views of President Roosevelt, there is but one conclusion—the President has changed front on the great question. In other words, if Senator Lodge spoke only for himself, the chances are that he will no longer be considered the President's spokesman in the upper house.

At all events Senator Lodge's speech has caused much speculation in Washington and has had the effect of complicating a situation which at best has never been over encouraging.

Representative Here Says Protection Is Ample

GERMANS TO BLAME

Agressiveness of the Germans and Foreign Concessions Are Cause of Unrest

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The Post today says:

"There is no danger whatever of an uprising in China against the foreigners," said Sir Chentung Lian Chang, the Chinese minister. "It is true, of course, there is a political agitation in China, but the object is to create such excitement as to cause international complications with the view of crippling, if not wholly destroying, the present dynasty. My government is amply prepared to meet any emergency. If, as a result of the agitation now going on, any worthy foreigner is harmed, the emperor's soldiers will pounce upon the community that harbors the miscreants and lay it to waste, should they be unable to find everyone of the scoundrels responsible, directly or indirectly, for the trouble. The slaughter of Chinese by the emperor's soldiers will be more horrible than that of the Yunnan soldiers six years ago, if the miscreants now at work involve China in foreign trouble and do not desist."

"Now is it a fact that Germany or the Germans are mainly responsible for the large part of the threatening trouble in China at present?"

"The Germans are aggressive," he replied. "Since the dawn of your civilization, the Germans have been disturbers of peace, and repose of other peoples and the nations within what is now the Christian domain. They seem always discontented with what they have; their energy appears to demand the whole world in which to bustle. I don't see that they are responsible in any sense for what is going on behind the scenes in China. I merely tell you what I heard stated in well informed and responsible quarters."

"Granting concessions to the foreigners has been too fruitful a source of trouble to them, and so we shall attend to our own affairs in the future and we hope the outside world, the Christian world, will permit us to do this."

The Rosen Heights baseball team is working hard to get in shape for the game Sunday with Draughton's Business College team. Manager Ed Riden said that the team will line up with many new players in the ranks. Perhaps the only change which has been made from what it was last Sunday. Many players who have played on league teams will play with the team from now on until the end of the season.

New supplies have recently been purchased for the team, and soon everything will be running smoothly. The early games are more to try out new men than to win games. By beginning early, as the team is doing, it is possible to try out many more men than would be possible if games were not played until near the opening of the season.

TEN MINUTES ENDS BIG DEAL

Last Vacant Main Street Lot Has Been Sold
PRICE PAID WAS $35,000

James F. Moore Secures Property at Tenth Street Corner on A. & L. August, Friday

Ten minutes was all that was required to sell the last vacant lot in Main street Friday afternoon for a price that is the highest that has ever been brought by a fifty-foot vacant lot in this city. The lot is the southwest corner of Main and Tenth streets and was owned by A. & L. August. James F. Moore secured the lot for $35,000. Up until a phone call received Friday afternoon Messrs. August had expected to erect a building there and were looking over the ground and the prospects to see whether a seven-story building would not pay. The phone rang and the price of $35,000 was set for the deal. An offer of something a little less was made, but refused, and then the sale was concluded at the original price set by the owners.

The lot was bought by James F. Moore through Ligon, Dickinson & Co. for $35,000, or $700 a front foot. The lot is 100 feet deep, with a fifty-foot frontage on Main street. The property was bought by A. & L. August but five months ago and they have realized a handsome profit. At the time they bought the lot they also bought through to Houston street with the same length of frontage on that street. The corner on Houston street was sold some time ago to George Reynolds, who is now constructing a three-story building on the lot and the adjoining 100 feet.

The property is certain very soon to be most valuable, as the growth of business is causing the office section of the city to spread out in all directions. A new impetus has been given by the opening of the old Metropolitan Annex across Main street from the hotel, which has been filled with offices almost as soon as the hotel addition was completed and the rooms no longer required.

It is reported today that James Moore will construct a handsome building on the lot which he purchased Friday, but as Mr. Moore could not be found, no verification of this was to be had. It is considered likely, however, that he will build, as a lot in so prominent a location cannot be left idle long at the present demand for property and floor room in this city.

CITY AGENTS HAVE BIG MEETING

Reception of Visiting Railroad Men Planned STRAIGHT TRAIN SERVICE
Mixed Operation to Graham Dropped by Rock Island With the New Schedules Effective Feb. 18

The City Passenger Agents' Association of Fort Worth held a meeting Saturday at the office of City Passenger Agent Edmond A. Pennington of the Houston and Texas Central. This meeting was held for the purpose of discussing the proposed excursion to Galveston, which is scheduled for March 25, on which trip the city passenger agents of San Antonio are to be the guests of the local association.

The committee was appointed to look after the arrangements for the occasion. This committee consists of E. A. Pennington, chairman, and V. N. Turan, city passenger agent of the Rock Island and M. G. Paschal, city passenger agent of the Frisco. The committee will report to the association at the regular meeting next Tuesday.

There was a full attendance of the local passenger agents at the meeting held Saturday morning.

Mixed Service Ends
P. A. Moser, general passenger agent of the Rock Island, states that the new passenger train service between Graham and Dallas, which will be inaugurated on Feb. 18, will be a straight passenger train and not a mixed train. This train handled some shipments of cattle up to about three weeks ago, but now it carries nothing but passengers.

"I think that the inauguration of this service," said Mr. Moser, "will be the means of developing the towns of Hurst, Tarrant, formerly Candon, and Irvin, as well as Jacksboro and Graham. The additional train facilities will give the residents of those places an opportunity to come here and visit home at the expense of the train will also arrive at Graham in time to deliver the mail at that place before the postoffice closes in the evening."

The schedule of the new train has been previously published in The Telegram, as has also the announcement that a new local freight train would also be put on to Graham on Feb. 18.

Santa Fe Plans
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 17.—E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe, stated that his company proposes to spend $15,000,000 in improvements during the present fiscal year. Mr. Ripley did not indicate where these expenditures would be made, but it is believed that a great portion of it will be for equipment for the lines in Texas, California and the intervening territory.

Mr. Ripley is displeased with the Hepburn bill and states that he hopes that the United States senate will modify the provisions of this bill. "I don't think that the Hepburn bill will place the power to make railroad rates in the hands of a political party, even temporarily."

Santa Fe Officials Here
J. W. Kendrick, second vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, with headquarters at Chicago; W. C. Nixon, second vice president of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, with headquarters at Galveston; F. G. Pettibone, general superintendent of the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Galveston, are in the city. They are accompanied by Miss Kendrick and Miss Jones of Chicago, and Misses Gunbar, Pletcher and Dunn of Galveston.

The party has just returned from a trip to San Angelo, where the officials have been making an inspection of the property. Mr. Kendrick states that the San Angelo country is developing very fast and that conditions out there are very prosperous.

As has been mentioned in The Telegram, the Santa Fe has ordered for a large amount of new equipment which is now being delivered. The company now has sufficient cars to care for all the freight traffic offered. In addition to the new freight cars, including box cars, flat cars and coal cars, the Santa Fe has ordered twenty-five new consolidated locomotives which will be very heavy freight power. These locomotives will have from 150,000 to 170,000 pounds of moving very heavy trains.

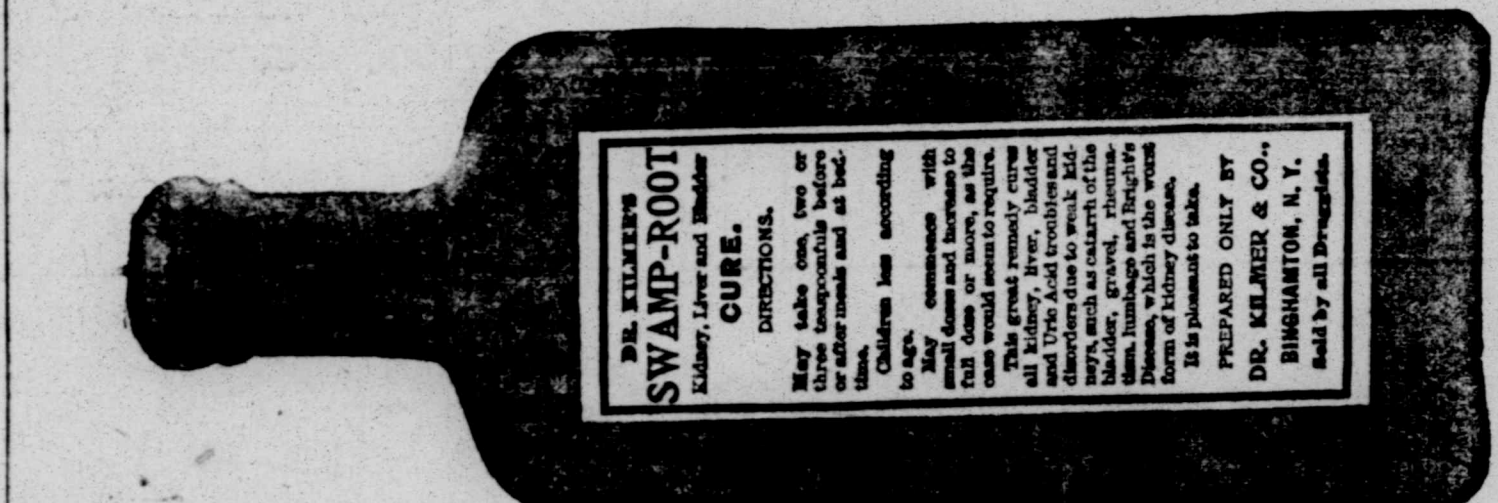

The expenditures for the Santa Fe for the current year have not been authorized, though President Ripley has announced that the system will expend $15,000,000 in improvements during the fiscal year and a good portion of this expenditure will be on the Gulf lines.

Mr. Kendrick and the visitors from Chicago will leave for the north Saturday night, while Mr. Nixon and Mr. Pettibone and party of Galveston ladies will leave for the south at the same time.

Mail Trains Arrive
The Frisco-Katy fast mail train arrived here Friday night at 7:25 o'clock, being exactly on time, and continuing to maintain its fast schedule. The Iron Mountain-Cotton Belt fast mail arrived at 8 o'clock. The delay on the later train experienced near Greenville, Texas, and prior to that time the entire trip is said to have been on schedule time. The trouble was due to the breaking down of the locomotive. The break delayed the train twice and caused the train to reach here as reported.

BIG ORCHESTRA FOR THIS CITY
Musicians to Form Co-operative Organization

Meeting for final organization of an orchestra of 30 pieces will be held Sunday afternoon, adding another to the influential musical organizations of the city. The meeting will be held at the office of Professor Jacob Schreiner in the Dundee building.

Several meetings of those interested in the project have already been held and a temporary organization formed with Professor Phil Epstein as temporary chairman. A constitution and by-laws has been prepared and will be adopted at the meeting Sunday, at which time election of officers will also be held.

First rehearsals will be held by the organization a week from Sunday and Sunday concerts will be begun shortly after, the place not having been definitely decided as yet, though the Majestic theater is under consideration.

The organization will be the largest orchestra ever maintained in this city, and the largest in north Texas. It will comprise the leading musicians of the city and promises to be one of the leading musical bodies of the state.

The orchestra will be a co-operative organization. Full list of members has not yet been issued.

 BASIS OF SUIT

Frederick Haase Asks $30,000 Damages

Suit for $30,295 was filed in the Seventeenth district court against the International and Great Northern Railway Company Saturday by Frederick Haase, through his attorneys, Cook &
 Orr, the petition of plaintiff alleging personal injury incurred through falling from a passenger train of the defendant Company in the latter part of August, 1906, near Austin, Texas.
 The plaintiff in his petition alleges that he was a passenger on a train of the defendant, that the defendants' employees failed to close the vestibules of two cars, a regular passenger coach and a smoking car; that they failed to light the vestibule between the coaches on which he was a passenger; that in passing from the first coach to the smoking car he stepped through the open vestibule and fell into a barbed wire fence, severely lacerating himself, the train having been traveling at a high rate of speed at the time of the accident.

Negligence is alleged by the plaintiff in permitting the vestibule to remain open and in omitting to provide lights, by reason of which omission he alleges that he was unable to see the opening and did not know that the vestibule was open.

In the Seventeenth district court Saturch morning in the case of D. E.
 Wells against Maude Wells, divorce, Judge Mike E. Smith granted the prayer of plaintiff.

The case of Elijah Haddie against the National Loan and Investment Company, et al., injunction, was on trial.

The forty-eighth district court was not in session Saturday.
 The following cases were disposed of late Friday afternoon:

N. J. Temple vs. C. F. Vance, trespass to try title; dismissed by plaintiff at his cost.

City of Fort Worth vs. Edward Bookser et al., taxes; dismissed at defendant's costs, taxes having been paid.

Jesse Byars vs. Lola Byars, divorce;
 granted.

Roxana M. Mace vs. T. W. Mace, divorce; granted and custody of minor child awarded to plaintiff.

LETTER CAMPAIGN FOR CONVENTION

State Committee to Meet on June 11

Meeting of the democratic state committee will be held at Austin June 11, to decide upon the place of holding the next democratic state convention.

Fort Worth has already expressed a determination to go into the race for the convention, and will likely have Dallas, Waco, Mineral Wells and Austin as opponents.

As announced in the Telegram, the matter of inviting the convention to this city will be taken up by the city council and the Board of Trade, and suggestion has been made that the official invitation be backed by a campaign by the citizens in behalf of the movement.

Along this line, it has been suggested that a letter campaign be instituted, similar to those which have played such prominent parts in political struggles in Philadelphia, and that each citizen write a postal or letter to the state committee, urging the claims of Fort Worth and extending the welcome of the city.

Besides Chairman Frank Andrews of Houston and Secretary Will F. Hobby, also of Houston, and Assistant Secretary Murrell Buckner of Dallas, the committee is composed of the following: senatorial district being represented:

Indian Territory School Children to Plant Seeds Again
 Special to The Telegram.
 MUSKOGEE, L. T., Feb. 17.—John D. Benedict, superintendent of schools for the Indian Territory, has received 600 packages each of garden and flower seeds which will be used in Indian Territory schools.

Each school in the Territory will receive a package of each kind with the request that the teachers secure a small tract of ground near the school house and plant a garden. When and where not secured close to the school house the children will be allowed to take the seeds home and report their progress after planting.

Agriculture was introduced in the Territory schools last year and about 200 gardens were planted. The children became very enthusiastic in this new feature of school work.

 PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—Though unable to leave his bed because of a fracture of the right pelvic bone, William J. Clothier, the noted tennis player, will marry Miss Anita Porter on the date originally set for the wedding, Feb. 21.

As Mr. Clothier was riding across country last Tuesday afternoon he was thrown from his horse near Lanerick, and fell so heavily on the frozen ground that his right hip and ankle were fractured. He and his fiancée decided, however, not to put off their wedding.

BELL'S SENSE OF PROPRIETY

It is just as natural for citizens of Fort Worth to lead in matters of propriety as it is for the city of Fort Worth to lead in all matters of progressive development. The Granbury News says:

Judge Bell could have been elected attorney general two years ago without opposition, thus giving him a great advantage in his race for governor, but he had determined to make the race for governor this year, and his high sense of propriety caused him to decline the attorney general's office. Therefore he retired to private life and is making the race on his own merits and at his own expense, standing head and shoulders above any other candidate in the estimation of the thinking democrats of Texas.

The action of Judge Bell in voluntarily retiring from public office in order that his sense of propriety might be vindicated while seeking a higher and more important office at the hands of the people of Texas, affords a very pleasing contrast with that of at least two of his opponents. Judge Brooks, the distinguished jurist, of Dallas, who is seeking the gubernatorial nomination, grew almost frantic at the bare suggestion that the proprietries demanded his resignation, and saw in the movement to have him resign a design to lock the jaws of the judiciary and prevent its members from mixing and mingling with the common herd. He was quick to confirm the public impression that he had no intention of resigning, but would continue to the end of the campaign in an effort to use the high and important position he now occupies to boost himself into a more important office.

Railroad Commissioner Colquitt, who is also an aspirant for the office of governor, has apparently been too busy making political capital out of the position he now occupies to hear the low rumbling of the suggestion as to what the proprietries of the occasion demand. If those rumblings have penetrated the articular appendage that he has to the bosom of old Mother Earth listening for a clear call to the governorship, his classic features have given no sign. In fact, Commissioner Colquitt is too busy now trying to convince the people that he is the best gubernatorial material in the state to pay any attention to little things like proprieties.

It is thus that Judge Charles K. Bell, the Fort Worth candidate—the man with a high sense of personal honor, and the real choice of the people of this state for the governorship, is left in splendid isolation. He may feel a little bit lonely in the position he occupies, and he may realize that the other fellows have a financial advantage in the fat salaries they are monthly collecting from the depleted state treasury, but he at least has the satisfaction of an approving conscience, and that is worth more than all the other things combined.

The people of Texas are not indifferent to the situation. They can see at a glance just what is involved in the existing situation, and they honor Charles K. Bell of Tarrant county for the manhood that prompted him to do the right thing at the proper time.

DEVELOPMENT IN FORT WORTH TERRITORY

The records in the office of the Fort Worth and Rio Grande road show that during the month of January just passed, 190 more trains were run over the Fort Worth division of the road than during the same month of last year. The increase in business has been enormous and the officials are well pleased with the prospects. These 190 additional trains over the number run during January, 1905, have carried freight only, there having been no increase in the number of passenger trains operated on this division of that road—Granbury News.

When we stop to figure on what 190 more trains in one month means on the Fort Worth and Rio Grande division of the Frisco for the month of January, it tells the story of a rapid and unprecedented development for all that portion of Fort Worth's great trade territory. One hundred and ninety additional trains for the month of January means that the Frisco was compelled to run an average of more than six additional freight trains every day in that month in order to accommodate and provide for the increased volume of business, and that reveals a condition of affairs hitherto unprecedented in Texas. It means that all of the immense stretch of magnificent country lying southwest of this city is enjoying an era not only of great prosperity but almost magical development.

Reports have been coming from Brownwood and San Angelo for many months of the great boom in development that had struck that section of the state, and some glowing stories have been printed of the manner in which real estate was changing hands and people were settling and developing the country. But the general public was not prepared for such an exhibition of facts as is contained in this exhibit of railway tonnage, which compelled the addition of more than six long and heavy freight trains every day to handle it. There can no longer be any doubt regarding as to what the people are doing down in that section. By their fruit we now know them, and must concede that they have struck a livelier gait than even their best friends thought possible.

The same kind of cheering reports come from west Texas, along the line of the Texas and Pacific, and from every portion of the great Panhandle country. People are flocking into those sections in a constant and unending stream, settling the country and making happy and prosperous homes. The railways are being taxed constantly to handle the business afforded by this great movement, and are also coming in for a share in the general prosperity. Fort Worth rejoices to see such indisputable evidences of prosperity in her great trade territory, for all the development that takes place in that section, but properly backs up and justifies the unprecedented growth and development that is occurring in Fort Worth. The people of all west Texas and the Panhandle must have a great market center in which to transact their business, and by common courtesy Fort Worth has always been recognized as that center. As Fort Worth's great trade territory has grown and prospered those conditions have been amply reflected in this city, and the ties that bind the city and that great portion of Texas are of the kind that will stand the test of time.

West Texas and the Panhandle are strictly in the swim at this time, and Fort Worth is keeping time to the march of progress. It is a combination that it is useless for other cities to attempt to interfere with, for in that section of Texas Fort Worth is supreme with none to molest or make her afraid.

THE STATE'S LAND POLICY

The land question in Texas is one of great moment to the people, and in the years that are gone the various land policies of the state have occasioned a great deal of trouble and confusion. Texas has something like 5,000,000 acres of school land now on the market, which is being offered for sale to the actual settler on long time and low valuation. Recently there has been considerable discussion of Texas land matters, growing out of errors made in connection with recent sales, and the methods employed at present in the land office have consequently been the recipient of many strictures. Hon. J. J. Terrell, the present land commissioner, is seeking to overcome democratic precedent, which demands rotation in office, by becoming a candidate for the third term. Arrayed against him is C. E. Gilbert of Austin, present superintendent of public buildings and grounds, and one of the best known newspaper men in Texas. Candidate Gilbert spent several days in Fort Worth this week, looking after his political fences, and when asked to name some of the policies he would inaugurate in the event of his election, very readily consented to do so. Among other things he said:

I would if elected, appoint a clerk to make up a list of those patrons of the office who have overpaid their accounts, with the amount due each, as was certainly contemplated when the legislature appropriated $50,000 to refund these sums which the books show were justly due citizens of Texas. I would not permit any favored firm to "enjoy a monopoly of this refund business" by virtue of some peculiar relation to the land office. The money is theirs, and all that is necessary is that the comptroller issue a warrant upon the certificate of the land commissioner, which certificate I would have promptly made out without the citizen-creditor having to pay (as the last few years) 50 per cent or any sum for its collection.

I believe that the lands on this side of the Pecos have been leased far too low, while for the leases west of the Pecos have been demanded prices as much too high. As the law fixes the minimum lease at 30 and the minimum price at which land can be sold at $1, and the interest rate 3 cents, it is clear that it was justly due citizens of Texas. I would not permit any favored firm to "enjoy a monopoly of this refund business" by virtue of some peculiar relation to the land office. The money is theirs, and all that is necessary is that the comptroller issue a warrant upon the certificate of the land commissioner, which certificate I would have promptly made out without the citizen-creditor having to pay (as the last few years) 50 per cent or any sum for its collection.

It is evident from these statements that Candidate Gilbert has some very well matured views on the land question, and has the nerve to speak his honest convictions. He is getting very close to the main facts in the case, and his policy has the ring of true and genuine honesty. It is clear that if he is the choice of Texas democracy for the position of land commissioner the affairs of the land office will fall into honest and capable hands. Gilbert can be depended upon to do even and exact justice to all interests under the laws of this state.

Fort Worth wants the state democratic convention this year, and when Fort Worth wants a thing she generally knows just how to go and get it. The city of Fort Worth and the Fort Worth Board of Trade will unite in extending an invitation for the next state democratic convention to be held in this city.

Senator Dick of Ohio made his maiden speech in the United States senate a few days ago and it is said that the noise he made was not very much like that of a senator.

Dallas has not yet made any call for financial assistance in the matter of providing proper entertainment for the cattlemen's convention, although it is reported that funds are being raised slowly. Should such action be necessary, Fort Worth is ready to submit to a generous assessment.

Fort Worth has a kindly regard for Dallas, and will always treat her as her twin sister. But when Dallas begins to try poaching in Fort Worth preserves she is every day to hear something drop.

Mr. Nick and Miss Alice are now happily married, and this great nation of ours draws a breath of grateful relief and prepares to settle down now to a full account of the honeymoon proceedings.

The supreme court of Texas has decreed that the general offices of the Cotton Belt railway shall remain in Tyler, and the joyful feeling extant in that city is only equalled by the feeling of bereavement experienced in Texarkana.

Whether the Farmers' Union goes into politics or not, it is certain that ample opportunities will be provided for such action. The designing politicians are all getting busy, and continue to look with greasy eyes on the agricultural organization.

Fort Worth will take that promised $200,000 for an addition to the Federal building in this city, with the understanding it will later be supplemented with what is actually necessary. Due allowance must be made for the fact that this is the fastest growing city in the southwest.

The Panhandle stockmen meet in Amarillo in April, and one of the most important meetings in the history of the Panhandle association is anticipated. Work is already progressing on a very interesting and instructive program, and it is expected the convention will be the scene of some pretty stiff trading.

While Chairman Cecil Lyon is preparing to dodge the avalanche of republican bricks that are to be shied at his official head, former Chairman Eddie Green is up in Indiana basking in the fragrance of the 40,000 fine-roses he has just purchased for his Dallas conservatory. All of which would seem to indicate that Eddie Green is the wiser of the two. He has long ago found out that the fragrance of the roses and the happiness of life are not to be found in republican leadership in Texas.

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

Texas needs a pure food law, and in order to get it it needs a pure legislature which would not hesitate to give us such a law.—Tyler Courier.

Texas is badly in need of a pure food law, and the people should demand the enactment of such a law at the hands of the next state legislature. It is a matter of great importance and should not be longer neglected.

The city of Austin, resting on its many hills as it does, is something in which every loyal Texan is interested in, and proud of, and our citizenship should exert every effort to make the honor thus conferred duly deserving.—Austin Statesman.

The great trouble with the city of Austin is that it has been content to rest on many hills, and loyal Texans everywhere would rejoice to see the capital city proceed to get busy. Rest should only come after a season of hard labor.

Live fish have been taken from "artesian" water mains in Houston, and the Chronicle states that the fish are of the "mud cat" variety. If the Chronicle doesn't mind more graft and deception will be unearthed. Dividends, not health, now demand the most attention.—Cleburne Review.

Fort Worth artesian water never contains live fish, tadpoles and other amphibians such as Houston finds at great depths. In fact, Fort Worth has the purest and best water of any city in Texas.

If the patience and temper that are expended in walking through the mud would be computed in dollars, and this sum added to what would be saved in shoe leather and clothing, the total in a year would be sufficient to provide sidewalks for every street in San Antonio.—San Antonio Gazette.

In Fort Worth, too. But this feature of the situation is not considered until brought home to us during a season of bad weather. We never miss good sidewalks until the slush and mud remind us of our neglect.

The stockmen and railroads have a powerful lobby in Washington, endeavoring to pass a bill extending the time that cattle may be held on cars without food and water from twenty-eight hours as under the present law, to thirty-six hours. Protests are pouring in from all parts of the United States against the passage of the bill.—Grapevine Sun.

And those protests are from people who know very little about the situation. The people who raise and ship the stock are the ones who are in the best position to judge what is best in the premises.

E. S. Peters, former vice president of the Southern Cotton association, is out in a letter charging that the cotton growers east of the river have acted in bad faith toward the west in that while they have persuaded the west to reduce the cotton acreage, they have grown the largest crop in their history with one exception.—Brownwood Bulletin.

And the charges made by Colonel Peters are substantial evidence that The Telegram was correct last season when it alleged that such would be the result. It is probable the same old dodge will be resorted to again this year, and Texas farmers should not again be caught napping.

The state legislature of Mississippi has just killed the bill that met a similar fate in Texas, seeking to compel patent medicine manufacturers to print their formulas upon the outside of each package that leaves their laboratories. The people generally do not approve of such drastic legislation.—Telegram.

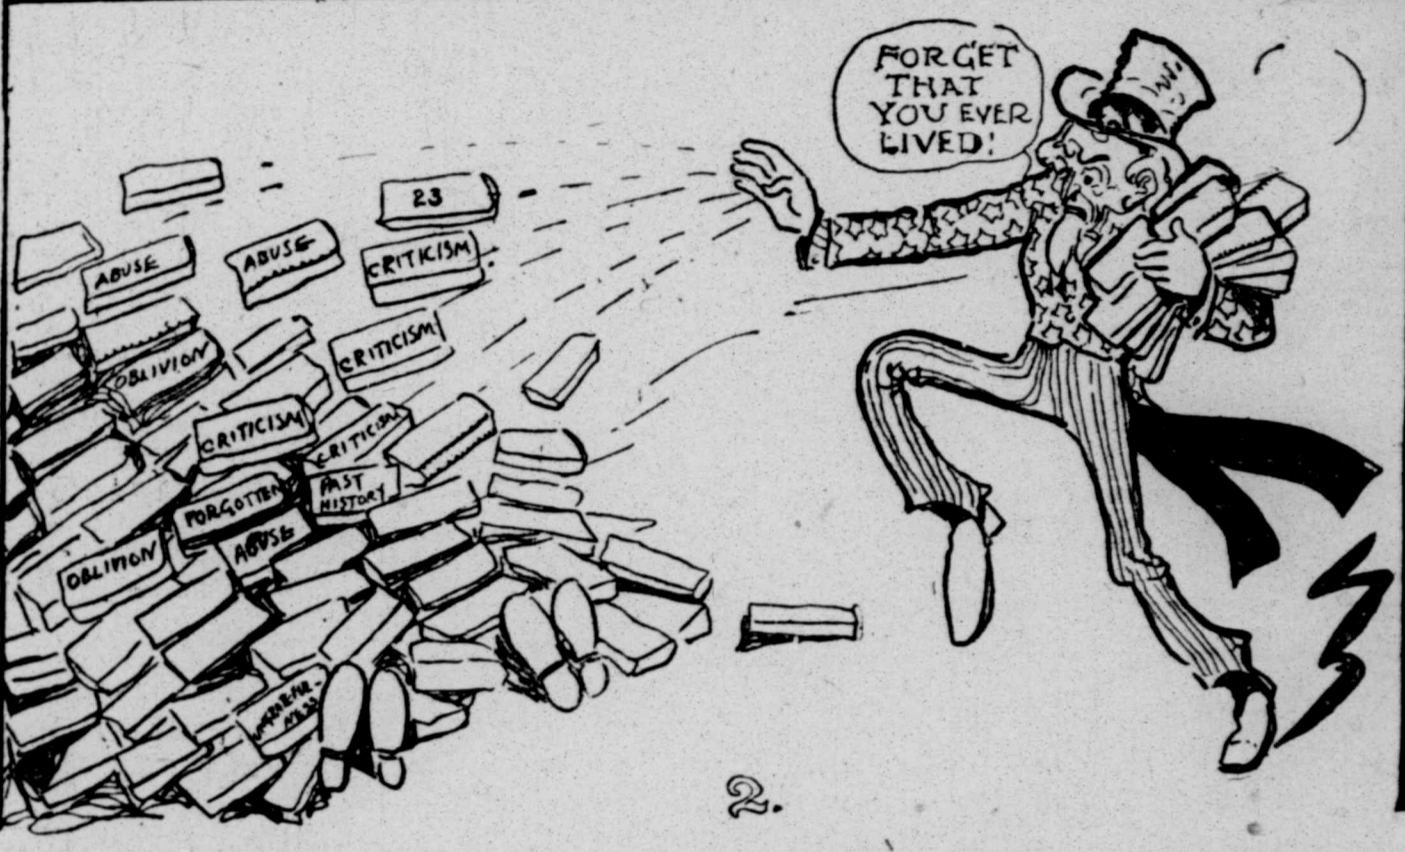

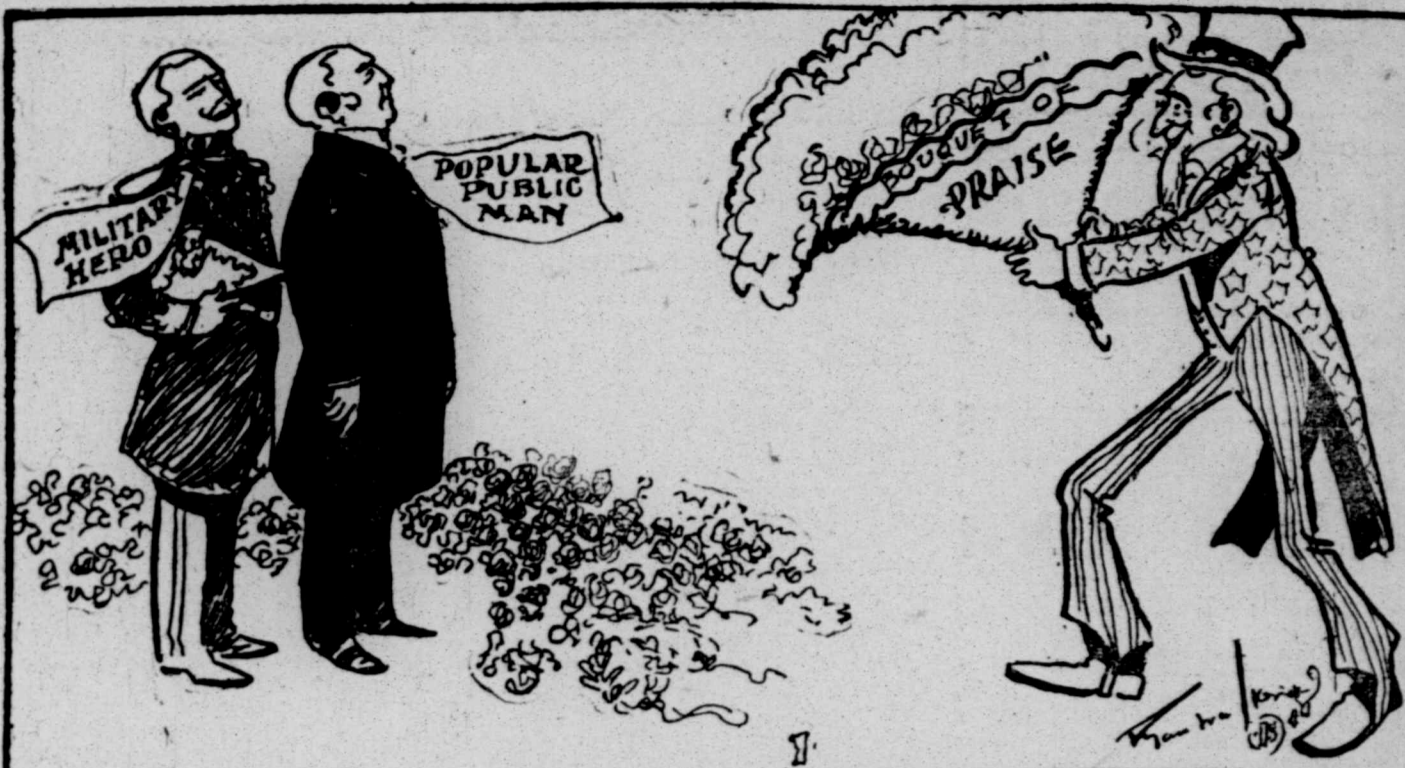

No, those laws, or bills are unwise and impractical. Patent medicines have their place and use, and should not be forced out of the market. The honest, careful druggist will protect the customers in a great measure from imposition.—Gilmer Mirror.

The customer who prefers patent medicines should be afforded the opportunity to get what he wants, and save an honest penny when he does it. To drive the patent medicines out of the market would only serve to give the physicians a monopoly of the medicine business.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

The only cooks that stay with a family are those that are married to it. A man thinks he is awful smart to read about somebody else getting run over by a street car. The more money a man has the more his neighbors hate him and the more respect they pay him. Even when a woman knows it isn't so, she always believes her husband who is away when he writes how lonesome he is.—New York Press.

WASHINGTON'S LIGHTER SIDE

Special to The Telegram. Aleck McDowell, clerk of the house, who is wise in Pennsylvania politics, made a visit to Philadelphia Saturday. Among many whom he met was a well-up official of the Pennsylvania road. "Isn't there a good deal of feeling in congress about this railroad question?" asked the official. "Oh, no," replied Aleck. "I haven't heard a word about it. I don't think there is the least bit of feeling on that score." "Well," kept on the official, "don't they feel sore at having their passes cut off?" "Not in the least," said McDowell. "They don't mind a little matter like that. I don't think any one in congress has thought twice about it." "To hear you, one would think," said the official, "that there was nothing doing in the rate question and everything was real quiet on the Potomac." "That's right," affirmed McDowell.

"From what I have seen in the papers," said the official self-consolingly, "I thought things were red-hot on railroad matters down there." "My dear boy," said Aleck, bending over his friend with a beaming expression of fatherly affection, "you are way off. They haven't got started yet."

Speaker Cannon and Secretary Taft had a lesson in quick legislation this week. Nine days ago Representative Richardson of Alabama caused the passage of a bill authorizing a power company to construct dams on the Tennessee river at Muscle Shoals, Ala. Representative Burton, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, told the President the bill should be vetoed and the President said it was his intention to do so. He referred the bill to Secretary Taft, who called at the capitol in the afternoon. He told the Alabama member that the President would sign the bill provided it was amended in a certain particular. The only way in which it could be amended was to pass a joint resolution through the senate and house recalling the bill from the President's table.

Richardson and Taft walked over to the senate and Senator Morgan soon got the resolution through. They returned to the house side and the secretary said he would explain the case to the speaker. Representative Burton was called into the conference. In the meantime Judge Richardson told the chairman of the committee of the whole, which was considering the fortifications bill, that unless the resolution was passed his bill would be vetoed, as the next day being the tenth day the President would not allow it to become a law without his signature. He prevailed upon the chairman to vacate, and the committee arose, with Representative Olmsted of Pennsylvania in the speaker's chair. Judge Richardson was recognized, called up the resolution, and it was passed. Richardson went out to join the speaker, the secretary and the chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, whom he found engaged discussing whether the resolution would be allowed to pass.

"The resolution has passed," cried Richardson. "Yes," said Secretary Taft to the speaker, "it has passed the senate." "And the house, too," corrected Judge Richardson. "What!" exclaimed the speaker and the secretary in unison. Judge Richardson explained how he had gotten the resolution through.

Speaker Cannon reached down in one of the lower drawers of his desk and handed a cigar to the Alabamian.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

When you go to see some people they always say, "Come in if you can get in for the dirt." When a man with a dimple smiles a good deal, it is not any sign he is good natured or amused. When a man asks credit for supporting his family, he gets all the credit he can hope for if none of them ask, "But how have you done it?" The average man usually puts his clothes when he goes to bed at night where he will find them by falling over them when he gets up in the dark.—Chicago News.

VERSES THAT RING

TROUBLES THAT DO NOT COME OF the hard and weary loads "Neath which we bend and fall, The troubles that do not come Are the heaviest one of all. For grief that cuts like a knife There's oil of comfort and cure, And the Hand which binds the weight Brings strength and grace to endure. But to phantoms of pain and woe The lips of pity are dumb, And there's never oil or wine For troubles that do not come. There's a song to lighten the toll And a staff for climbing the height, But never an alpenstock For hills that are out of sight. There are bitter herbs enough In the brimming cup of today Without the sprig of rue From tomorrow's unknown way. Then take the meal that is spread And go with a song on thy way, And let not the morrow shade The sunshine and joy of today. —Lettie S. Bigelow.

PRAYER, HOPE, WORK

Pray, friend, that Hope to thee be sent; And hope, till strength for Work be lent; Then work until thy Prayer fulfilled delight thee, Thus shall the golden links combine To form a chain of strength divine Which ever to thy Maker shall unite thee. Fort Worth, Texas. —Joseph Jasin.

LITTLE TALES WELL TOLD

THE MISSOURI METHOD Congressman A. P. Gardner of Hamilton, Mass., tells the following story: It was at a little shooting party which was attended by some of the elite of that vicinity, and more than one of the party felt a trifle nervous about a certain young Englishman, as he and his gun seemed strangers. Nothing occurred, however, until Mr. Gardner felt something poking him in the side as he crept along. Turning quickly, he found the novice prodding him with the muzzle, and fumbling with the hammers of his gun. "Hi, Gus," he said, "before we get on to the birds you might just show me 'ow you let these 'ere triggers down!"

WHAT THEY DESERVED

General Frederick D. Grant was praising the intelligence of a certain colonel. "He it is," he said, "of whom they tell the church parade story." "His men were drawn up for church parade one Sunday morning, but the church was undergoing repairs and could not accommodate all. "Sergeant major," said the colonel, "tell all the men who don't want to go to church to fall out on the reverse flank." "About 60 per cent of the men quickly and gladly fell out. "Now, sergeant major," said the colonel, "dismiss the men who didn't fall out and march the others in to church. They need it most."

AN IMPRESSIVE POINT

The Rev. Mr. Thompson of Pittsburg, tells a story illustrating the inborn Irish trait for quick wit. He was preaching in a Michigan town. On Saturday the women of the congregation were busy trimming up the church. "I strolled in," says the Rev. Thompson, "and Katie Martin was decorating the pulpit. I noticed some tacks strewn about the floor and jocularly advised Katie to be very careful to pick up all the tacks when she was through with her work. 'You know, Katie,' I said, 'that if I should step on one of those tacks right in the middle of the sermon there is no telling what might happen.'" "Faith, ye wouldn't linger long on that point," said Katie, without cracking a smile.

BIG BUILDING FOR MINERAL WELLS

Nine-story Block to Be Erected in Near Future

NEW BANK IS PLANNED

Heavy Investments Being Made by Major Beardsley and Others at Popular Summer Resort

A nine-story building for Mineral Wells is the latest announcement in building circles, Major J. D. Beardsley to be the builder. A bank will be founded by him and established in the building.

Mineral Wells is growing by leaps and bounds, and it is now making a record in the way of rapid and substantial development. New business houses of an expensive character are going up, and there are a large number of fine residences being erected for both people of that town and for wealthy men of other cities who desire to invest in the future.

The only way for a man with a family to get a home in Mineral Wells now, said Mr. Parry, "is for him to buy a lot and build it, for there is not a vacant dwelling for rent in the place. Houses which cost only about $1,500 are selling for from $40 to $50 a month, and it is hard to obtain them at all."

Beardsley Building. "I am now preparing sketches for a building to be erected by Major J. D. Beardsley of Gibbstead, La., which will be nine stories high and which will cost $200,000. This building will contain a bank which will be established by Major Beardsley with a capital of $100,000. It will also contain the rooms and offices. As is customary for architects to do, I gave Major Beardsley a copy of the building, the probable income of the building, from rentals, and this estimate was that the revenue would be between $40,000 and $50,000 per year.

New Depot Planned. "As you know, the city council of Mineral Wells has granted Major Beardsley the franchise to build a street car line in Mineral Wells, which also a franchise for an electric light and power plant. Work on these will begin in about sixty days, and there will also be a new depot built within about the same period.

Buildings Under Construction. "I am having fifteen buildings under construction in this city. These are a four-story brick building, which will be known as the Barber & Coleman building. It will be used for a sanitarium. I am also having a building erected for a hotel. In the evening the subject of construction, which will be occupied by the Central Meat Market, will be discussed by Wright & Lathmore, and will cost about $19,000.

Many Residences. "Among the residences which I have in course of construction are: one belonging to Mark Lowery of Dallas, which will cost $3,000. This is almost completed. Mr. Whitney of Dallas is also having a residence built at Mineral Wells, which will cost about $5,000, and I have another $5,000 residence in course of construction. I am building a dwelling for G. P. Barber, a real estate man, which will cost $4,500, and another for George W. H. Zelwood of Mineral Wells, which will cost $4,500. I am now getting up plans for a fine residence for Justice Highsmith, mayor of Mineral Wells, which will cost about $7,500. I also have a number of other residences in course of construction for Mr. Hamerich of Mineral Wells, but I have not been informed what he intends making of it.

New uniforms have been ordered for the team. They are to be a brown and black. The team will designate "P" on the left breast will designate the team. The caps will also be of brown and the stockings red. So far there has not been any selections of men for places on the team. This selection will not be made for some time yet.
