SPORTING SALAD

"Honey" Melody and Mike (Twin) Sullivan will fight twenty rounds in San Francisco March 10. Harry Gleason of the St. Louis Browns will be seen in a St. Paul uniform next season. The races at Hot Springs have begun and the rush of ball players to that resort has started in earnest. Dave Feltz will forsake his law books long enough to coach the New York university baseball team this season. Manager Griffith is trying to trade Washington out of Pitcher Case Patton, but the big left hander has put in a request not to be traded. If Ohio puts the bid on Sunday baseball, the Ohio and Pennsylvania league will probably pass out of existence. Tebeau is said to have corralled Jim Burke, of the St. Louis Cardinals, to cover third base for the Louisville team. "Rabbit" Robinson may be secured from New York by Toledo, as the little fellow is said to be a trifle light for major society. Catcher Roth of the St. Louis Americans has been sold to the Milwaukee team in the American Association. Western football players do not take kindly to the new ten-yard rule. They believe Stagg's four-downs amendment should have been accepted. The football season closed several weeks ago, but the death list is still open for entries. Several players have died as a result of injuries received during the playing season. If, as contended in certain quarters, there should be no coach for a football team, why should there be coaches for college baseball teams? What is the difference in principle? Jack O'Brien says that with his "system of fighting" he is confident he will be able to defeat Jeffries, should the big fellow return to the ring. Is this a subtle allusion to fighting on paper? Jesse Stovall, who once pitched for Spokane street car company and says he "like de job." He will probably play with a coast team next summer. Pat Callahan, who knocked Marvin Hart to the mat in a boxing bout at Butte, is out with a challenge to fight anybody in the world. Wouldn't that jar you? That was quite a slap on the wrist administered by the national commission to Columbus for selling Catcher Brown to Boston when he was already drafted by Cleveland. The Ohio city was fined all of $25. Detroit refuses to release Bobby Lowe and as he will not jump it is not at all likely he will manage the New Castle, Pa., team next season. Lowe is very anxious to try his managerial hand. Hot Springs is to see prize fighting again, a club having been organized by Matchmaker Zeo. The first fight in the new club will be between Maurice Sayers, the Milwaukee lightweight, and Fred Landers of California. Rubie Ferns demonstrated at Buffalo the other night that he is not all in as a fighter by staying fifteen rounds with Gus Gardner of Philadelphia. The battle was hard fought and both men were well pleased. The Cuban auto races seem to have been nearer the real thing than the races at Ormond Beach. Only records were broken at Ormond Beach, while three men were badly injured in the Cuban races. Boston amateur boxers are complaining because they received phony medals for participating in an amateur boxing carnival in Chicago. They expected first-class medals for second-class fighting. The Sebring keyser, after being quiescent for several weeks, is spouting again and besides blue mud, hot ashes and red flame it is throwing off a dense odor reminiscent of a desiccating works. A bill has been introduced in the Kentucky legislature limiting racing in that state to forty calendar days of a year. It fixes a penalty of $500 to $1,000 a day for each violation of the provisions of the bill. Jack O'Brien announced recently that he will fight under his true name, James Hagan. It would have been nearer the truth if he had said he would delay fighting as long as possible under any old name. Jockey Ratke celebrated his last day at the New Orleans track by landing three winners. He has gone to the west, where his friends are confident he will give as fine account of himself as he did in the Crescent city. The sunburnt town of Bakersfield, Cal., is still celebrating Aurelia Herrera's victory over Young Corbett. He recently gives a $250 diamond by the merchants there, and his draw with Kid Herman has added new laurels to his Bakersfield crown. Herrera was born in Bakersfield. An Eastern college professor says that as soon as college men learn to play football without desiring to win the game will be all right. Yes, it will be as dead as a life insurance president's conscience. No sport can thrive without a desire to win, but nobody except a college president would have advanced such a theory. Harvard has not abolished football that institution of learning. The faculty of arts and sciences merely voted to abolish it, but the power to do so rests with the athletic committee. The faculty went on record as opposed to the game as it is now played, but unless the athletic committee takes similar action Harvard will be changing the piskin next season as in days of yore. Manager McGraw threatens to discipline Donlin for his "wild seat" tactics on a train near Albany and says if necessary he will play center field himself. "I do not intend that players on the New York team shall cut up such tomfoolery out of the playing season if I can help it," says McGraw, and he is the sort of manager "who kin if anybody kin." There is more trouble in the ranks of the amateurs. Following the disclosures that Arthur Duffey, while really a professional, had established world records as an amateur, comes the charge that Melvin Sheppard, the crack runner of the Irish-American Athletic Club, has been running professional races under an assumed name. The American Athletic Union is investigating and if the charges are sustained the board from and cinder path will lose one of the most promising runners the country ever produced. A $15,000 purse is offered Batting Nelson and Aurelia Herrera by the Pacific Coast Athletic Club. Herrera offers to fight at 125 pounds at 6 o'clock and is willing to post a forfeit for the match, but it is hardly probable the Dane will be drawn in. Nolan is keeping him as far in the background, when it comes to fighting, as he possibly can. He will take no chances of losing his meal ticket, yet while members of the Louisville team will be prohibited from playing cards during the baseball season, they must report at the ball park at 10 o'clock each morning and must look neat on and off the field. There are other clubs in other leagues that could profit by this example.

NEW TRAGEDY QUEEN FOUND ON EAST SIDE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Mme. Alla Nasimoff is a remarkable Russian actress who came up from the lower East side on several occasions to play at a Broadway theater under the patronage of the most fashionable women of the city. She is not only wonderful for her histrionic art, but is a fine linguist, translating many of the plays which she and Paul Orloff have produced in this country. She has prepared many of the costumes the members of the company wear.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

BRAVE MAN, BRAVE WOMAN

Heroism That Deserves a Place in Undying History
One forenoon of a May morning a stockman named George Webber was riding along the south bank of the Loup fork, in western Nebraska, in search of stray stock, when he was fired upon from a grove by Indians, who had broken away from one of the agencies to the west. Webber was hit in the calf of the leg, in the side, and raked across his shoulder and his horse was also wounded. As soon as the shots were fired nine mounted Indians dashed out, and Webber put his horse on the top of its speed and headed for the ranch of Charles Moss, about four miles up the river on the same side.

For the first mile Webber had no hope, for the Indians were close enough to use their revolvers and arrows, and his horse was a common animal. A score or more of bullets were fired at him and fully twenty arrows zipped past him, but the wound his animal received, aided by the continual shooting of the red skins, made him pull out like a born race horse. He soon began to widen the distance, and when he dashed up to the ranch Webber was a full half-mile ahead. His shouts as he neared the place gave the alarm, but to his dismay he dashed up to be informed by Mrs. Moss that she was the only one about the place, her husband and his man having gone away an hour before.

"What arms have you got?" he asked, after explaining the situation. "A Colt's revolver." "I have a Winchester rifle. We must hold 'em off until aid comes. Help me off." The woman assisted him to alight, and he gave the horse a slap that sent the animal up the trail. Some of the Indians pursued, but of no avail. The first white man whom the home-encountered would know that something was wrong and that his assistance was asked for down the trail.

THE EVERYDAY WOMAN

BY BEATRICE FAIRFAX
"Man's work is from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done."

There is one class of women whose work in the world is not half appreciated.

It is the class to which the everyday wife and housekeeper belongs.

She wouldn't change her proud position as wife, mother and housekeeper for anything in the world, her position is the highest and noblest that woman can fill, but it is not the easiest.

There is no position that requires more love, patience and tact than hers.

From the time she rises in the morning until she goes to bed at night her heart, head and hands are in constant demand. And even her hard-earned rest is broken half the time by a crying baby or ailing child.

She is the core of the household—round her the entire household machinery revolves.

After a day of care and worry and work she is supposed to greet her husband with a cheery smile and be ready for any sort of an evening frolic.

Poor woman! She is often so tired that she would much rather go to bed than to the theater, but part of her duty is to be companionable to her husband, and so she goes in spite of aching back and tired brain.

A man's day's work is simple and easy compared to that of his wife's. Here are a few of her duties:

If she has no servant, she must get the children up in the morning, cook the breakfast, get the children off to school in the forenoon, do the dusting and make the beds, do the marketing, have luncheon or dinner ready in time, wash more dishes, prepare the evening meal, and between times make the children's clothes.

In the evenings there is always a basketful of mending to be attended to.

Dozens of times through the day the children make demands on her attention and sympathy.

Certain social duties must be kept up and shopping must be done. Do you wonder she is tired at night? For all this she gets no great amount of praise. People look on her as merely doing her duty.

And she is doing her duty. God bless her, doing it nobly and well.

head, complexion, and snow-white hands, which she is supposed to greet her husband with a cheery smile and be ready for any sort of an evening frolic.

It would be far better if they sang of cheeks grown wan from loving care and watchfulness over dear ones, hands grown hard and rough through toil, and eyes beautified by mother love.

The woman who has borne sons and daughters and is bringing them up to be good men and women is doing more for her country than all the millionaires and reformers put together.

Do not fail to give her all the praise and appreciation you can, for her price is above rubles.

It requires 2,400 silk worms to produce a pound of silk. The largest ocean steamers now are as long as a train of twenty-two cars.

Woman's Nightmare

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure.

The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always applied externally, and has carried thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.
