SOME FINE EXHIBITS

Handsomely Decorated Booths and Building Excite Comment

The pure food show, given under the auspices of the Fort Worth Retail Grocers' and Butchers' Association, opened Monday afternoon at Third and Throckmorton streets, at 1:30 o'clock.

The immense amount of work necessary to complete all of the booths, was finished with a few exceptions.

Where the exhibitors had not entirely finished their work, they were compelled to leave their booths as they were and will have to finish them before the night session.

The pure food show, the first of the kind held in this city, will be open for the remainder of the month, and if it is attended as well as the booths and opening crowd indicates, the chances are that the show will be made an annual affair.

The Retail Grocers and Butchers' Association has secured for its first Pure Food Show an exhibition of unusual merit and one that is exciting much comment.

The show presents the most attractive appearance when entered, with thousands of incandescent lights burning and a background of colors gathered from all parts of the rainbow.

Entrance to the exposition is on Third street and an instant one enters the multiplicity of the decorations almost bewilders the spectator so that he hardly knows where to turn.

Demonstrations are given by most of the exhibitors of the material that they are exhibiting.

The first room is devoted entirely to exhibitors who in the room beyond half of the floor space has been set aside for the use of the stage and chairs for the vaudeville performance, which will be given twice a day.

Two Sessions Daily The exhibition will be open two sessions a day from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. and from 7 to 10:30 p. m.

The vaudeville program will be given in the middle of the sessions, at 3:30 p. m. and at 8:30 p. m.

BIG SNOWSLIDE IN MINING CAMP

Six Hundred Miners Cut Off From World

By Associated Press. OURAY, Colo., March 18.—Six hundred miners employed in the various mines within a radius of twenty miles from Ouray have been cut off from all communication with the outside world by a snowslide.

It is feared that as many as twenty men lost their lives in the slides, but the exact number will not be known for days. As many as twenty-five miles are completely isolated. Damage may reach $1,000,000. At Camp Bird, which is four miles from the Camp Bird mill, the snowslide last evening completely isolated the mine. A party of 200 miners started to the rescue this morning and the body of William J. Creasy, an Englishman, who lost his life in the slide at the Camp Bird mill, has been recovered. Many citizens were present and participated in the conference which was composed of both prohibitionists and anti-prohibitionists and the partisans of those respective principles found themselves working together for the first time in a number of years, all standing upon the simple platform of two words: "Law Enforcement."

The following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, We the city, precinct and county officers of Bell county, have been called together by Mayor, F. P. Hamill of Temple for the purpose of taking steps looking to a better enforcement of the law in Bell county, Texas; therefore, be it Resolved, further, That we hereby invite the people of Bell county to actively assist us in this work and that as an earnest of our sincerity we good citizens hereto attach our signatures and furnish the press with copies of these resolutions for publication."

COOK IS KILLED Men Quarrel in Woman's Room—One Is Dead

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, March 19.—Nicholas J. Dichoff, 23 years old, of Cincinnati, who was employed as a cook in the boarding house at 449 Lake street, was shot and fatally wounded early today by Jacob W. Young, while in the room of Mrs. Mildred Amann at the Grand hotel.

Dichoff was taken to the Chicago emergency hospital, where he died a few hours after.

Young, who is 18 years old; Mrs. Amann and Mrs. Mabel Grief, all of Cincinnati, were arrested and held by the police. Amann, the landlady of the room at the time Young shot Dichoff, but Mrs. Grief, fearing a quarrel between the two men, left a short time before the shooting.

Dichoff and Young, it is alleged, went to the hotel Sunday evening to see Mrs. Amann and Mrs. Grief, both of whom they had known in Cincinnati. Mrs. Amann, it is said, is the wife of a mailman in that city, but she and Mrs. Grief had separated from their husbands. According to the women, the four of them started on a slighted tour.

Young is said to have fought with Dichoff in one place and both had been ejected for creating a disturbance. They quarreled again after they returned to Mrs. Amann's room at the hotel. Young, it is reported, drew a revolver and shot Dichoff.

Dichoff, it is said, lived at 1809 Linn street, Cincinnati, and Young at 314 Oregon street, in that city.

TEXAS CATTLEMEN OPEN CONVENTION AT DALLAS

First Session Crowded at 10 O'clock This Morning

WELCOME ADDRESS Mayor Bryan T. Barry Gives Them Freedom of City—Response by Crowley

Special to The Telegram. DALLAS, Texas, March 19.—It was 10:30 o'clock when W. W. Turney of El Paso, president of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, called the thirtieth annual convention of that body to order in the Dallas opera house. Not quite a third of a century ago the cattle raisers' association was formed in Young county, at Graham, and the convention hall was under a post oak tree. About thirty men were present at that first convention, plainmen all, in rough and more or less ill-furnished garb. They met for the grim business of organizing a body which would put down cattle stealing in Texas. It was the organization of a fighting body and there was little suggestion of luxury. The interested rode on horseback to Graham to be present at the meeting and as the close rode home again, many of them thirty or forty miles.

This morning five or six hundred delegates and friends of the cattle raisers' convention, having slept comfortably over night in steam-heated rooms, and breakfasted leisurely at their taste, met in a comfortably furnished opera house big enough to seat 1,600 people, and listened to a series of addresses telling just what the association and Texas had been doing, the short thirty year period passed.

To look over the delegation which filled the opera house, a casual visitor would have guessed it more nearly as an association composed of prosperous business men, for the association members have a prosperous look. They have come through the hard years that have intervened since they first entered the cattle business and show little of the effects.

Rev. George Edward Walk, dean of St. Matthews, delivered the opening prayer after President Turney called the convention to order, and Colonel Slaughter introduced Mayor Bryan T. Barry of Dallas, who welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city.

Mayor Barry Speaks "Colonel Slaughter has spoken of my giving you the keys of the city," said Mayor Barry, "but that is an ancient custom and now merely a tradition. Dallas doesn't have any wall about it, has even a barb wire fence around you if it did have a wall, I would meet you at the gate and tender you the key, and if it had a barb wire fence I would meet you at the outskirts and give you a pair of nippers. You could do the rest.

"Why should Dallas enjoy your presence here? Because you have made the city. Dallas commercial interests have grown by the support of the Texas cattlemen."

Mayor Barry then paid tribute to the history of the Texas cattlemen, and said that they had led the way for the agriculturists of the state. "First the pioneer, then the cattlemen and then the agriculturist," he said. He also paid a tribute to the wives of the early cattlemen and said that a monument to their memory should be erected, the sentiment being generously applauded.

Judge George N. Aldridge followed Mayor Barry with a witty welcome on behalf of the citizens.

Response by A. G. Crowley The response to Judge Aldridge and Mayor Barry was delivered by A. G. Crowley of Midland, Texas.

President Turney Talks After Mr. Crowley's address President Turney spoke.

Mr. Turney referred to the Garfield report and the cases now pending against the packers. He said prior to the indictment the packers had promised that they would ask a speedy trial, but since the indictment they have not heeded the government in the courts, the action leading the cattlemen to believe that something is wrong.

Mr. Turney called attention to the statistics showing the decrease in the Physical Department "The Relation of the Physical Department to Work of the Association as a Whole," led by George J. Fisher of New York, was the subject of the program. Mr. Fisher is an enthusiast on this part of the association work and in the beginning of his discussion the association the most important contribution made by the Y. M. C. A. to its religious work as the whole was the physical department; the other features of the work not being new, while the physical department as a factor in religious work had not before been developed.

Mr. Fisher said that because of the physical training department or gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A., thousands of young men had been attracted to it that would never have come had it not been for this feature, and as a result had come under the general influence of the association for good. He explained that the gymnasium was educational and elevating; that it was not its purpose to play big muscles, but to secure chaste development. A good physical foundation is necessary to success in any calling, he declared, and it was the purpose of the gymnasium to build this foundation.

Good physical condition was just as important, he said, as good mental condition, as the latter could not exist in perfection without the former. This fact is beginning to be appreciated, he said, and the work of the physical training department of the association is beginning to be properly appreciated, and he believed that young men were flocking to the association and receiving not only the benefits of this, but of all other departments.

Dr. Fisher took the position that this feature of the association could not be given too much importance; and that particularly in large cities where the children do not get the proper amount of recreation. The gymnasium is an educational institution in its result, for its training gives a young man perfect control of his body, which prevented a waste of his energies.

Influence on Sports The physical department of the Y. M. C. A., said Mr. Fisher, had done more to keep sports clean than any other one thing, because the young men who got their training there were leaders in the sports of the country and carried with them into football, baseball and other associations the ideas of fairness and what was right inculcated by their Y. M. C. A. training.

Work Discussed

Importance of Physical Culture Department Urged by Officer

At the Monday morning session of the state Y. M. C. A. convention at the Christian Tabernacle three interesting subjects were discussed, and each of them was handled in a manner that commanded the best attention of the audience.

Dr. W. I. Carroll of Dallas had for the subject of his address, "Bible Study." George J. Fisher of New York explained the Relation of the Physical Department to the Work of the Association as a Whole, and C. K. Ober of New York led a discussion on "Methods in Religious Work Shown by Experience to be Correct."

The morning session was presided over by Dr. N. J. Bleim, president of the association. The attendance was not large, weather conditions being such as to keep many who are not delegates from attending. The business of the day was prefaced by prayer, followed by the first number on the morning program.

Bible study discussion was led by Dr. W. I. Carroll of Dallas. Dr. Carroll's style of handling his subject was scholarly and showed a close study of Scriptures, a portion of it being analytical and highly instructive. Names in the Bible, which he declared, if not noted in the first book in the Bible was very strongly suggested, were discussed. Many interesting thoughts on subjects presented in the New Testament were given by Dr. Carroll, his discussion of this subject being full of interest from the beginning to the close.

Mr. Turney said that recently the commission men had decided that they needed more money for their work and had raised prices without consulting the cattlemen.

He said that through the efforts of the association Germany's tariff law, which threatened so much damage to the cattle industry in the United States, had been postponed in effect for one year.

He referred to the political parties, criticizing John Sharp Williams, the minority leader, for introducing the bill to remove the duty on hides to please Massachusetts shoe manufacturers.

Executive Committee Report

Following Turney's address the reading of the report of the executive committee began in the Dallas opera house when the thirtieth annual convention of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association was opened by President W. W. Turney of El Paso.

The association now has jurisdiction over more than 1,000,000 cattle, a gain of more than 30,000 over the past year. The convention adjourned on the first day of the week.

Are Slow in Gathering

DALLAS, Texas, March 19.—Probably six hundred persons, many of them women, were in the Dallas opera house when the thirtieth annual convention of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association was opened by President W. W. Turney of El Paso.

Late-coming trains brought many delegations, notably that from San Angelo, which is one of the largest at the convention, and the one from El Paso, which did not get down to the opening point before 10:35 o'clock.

Many of the cattlemen seem to have waited with the idea that they can get in Tuesday or Wednesday, hear the principal business transactions of the convention and then go to Fort Worth for the rest of the week.

Dallas Decorated

Dallas is decorated for the convention with flags, bunting and electric lights. There are also large numbers of "welcome" signs in the windows.

of a large flag hung over the stage and potted palms about the speaker's table.

Fort Worthites on Hand

There is a lively Fort Worth delegation on the spot in the interests of the Panther city's designs on the convention for 1907.

Practically all of the Fort Worth live stock commission houses have established headquarters here and there the annual badge distribution, which is one of the features of cattlemen's conventions, is in full blast.

This afternoon is set apart for a reception at the Dallas Club, Commerce and Poydras streets. The reception is for visiting ladies and their friends.

Tonight's Program at 8 O'clock

THE FORT WORTH TELEGRAM

DAILY, SUNDAY AND WEEKLY BY THE FORT WORTH TELEGRAM COMPANY.

Subscription rates: In Fort Worth and suburbs, by carrier, daily and Sunday, per week $1.50.

Telephone numbers: Business Department—Phones 177 Editorial Rooms—Phones 676

Notice to the public: Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation, which may appear in the columns of The Telegram will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given at the office.

To traveling Texans: The Telegram is on sale at: Chicago, Ill.—Palmer House News Stand; Empire News Stand, 454 South California Avenue.

Encouraging combination: A little discussion is on between the Denton and Fort Worth papers about the office of floater in the district composed of Tarrant, Denton, Cooke and Wise counties.

Perish the unworthy thought: The ladies of a religious denomination in Fort Worth are shortly to give a unique entertainment, known as a "kiss social."

Board of trade excursion: The board of trade of Fort Worth is promoting a trade excursion of the local merchants of that city for a visit to points in Oklahoma and the Indian Territory.

No other can take her place: The venerable mother of Hon. Charles K. Bell, who resided with her son at Fort Worth, has passed from life.

mands more admiration than the respect and devotion of a son to his mother. Her death was to him a real loss, perhaps the greatest sorrow of his life, and there will be sincere sympathy for him.—Waco Tribune.

What Judge Bell is or may be he owes it largely to his mother. All the fiber in his nature she put there. Her Spartan spirit knew no departure from the straight lines of righteousness.

How that son will miss his mother's presence and his mother's love—motherless forever. She will not come back to him. But the sweet increase of her gracious life will always come back.

Woe unto you candidate, woe unto you office-seeker—for new churches, school buildings and picnics will likely be numerous this year.—Brady Enterprise.

Up in Fort Worth they are after a donation for some institution from John D. Rockefeller and somebody states that a man will be put out actively after the money.

A brutal and debasing sport: What a despicable, shameful business is some of the so-called sport. A recent issue of a London illustrated paper, under the heading of "Training for the Waterloo Cup," gives some wonderfully realistic pictures.

Another slam: Melancholy news comes from down in Illinois that the physician "who officiated at the birth of William Jennings Bryan" has passed away.

The butcher bill: Last month there were fifty-three accidents—serious enough to be written up in the Railroad Gazette—on our American railroads.

To comfort him: Andrew Carnegie has offered $200,000 for the famous painting by Rubens of "St. John Interceding for the Rich Man at the Gate of Paradise."

Real fiction: Those who complain of the decay of fiction ought to read what the European correspondents are saying about events at Algiers and the coming war between France and Germany.

Impossible: Is it possible that the patriotic congressman will be allowed to send free by mail a suit of furniture or a cow and calf?—Baltimore Sun.

THE TEXAS PRESS

The Democrats of this section of Texas are just now squirming and twisting in the primary throes with which the Democratic legislature has hog-tied them.

The people are beginning to murmur against many of the provisions of the Terrell election law, but it is not a circumstance to what is coming.

Insurance companies are getting extremely careful. The Woodmen will investigate the laws of the various states before removing their national headquarters.

The Texas farmers are planting a large acreage in cotton. In fact the acreage will be a large increase over any previous year.

There are nine candidates for treasurer of Grayson county. Yesterday one of them canvassed a fellow pretty hard for about thirty seconds, and then the other fellow flipped out his card and they concluded to swap votes for they were both after same office.

No mention of Bryan's name will ever appear in the columns of the Hearst papers. Hearst has so decreed it. However, it might not be out of order to call attention to the fact that such an edict on the part of Mr. Hearst will have no effect in the least on W. J. Bryan.

The elimination of any mention of William J. Bryan in Hearst publications will not detract one particle from that gentleman's popularity.

Woe unto you candidate, woe unto you office-seeker—for new churches, school buildings and picnics will likely be numerous this year.—Brady Enterprise.

THE PRESIDENT IN A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS EMPHASIZES THE NECESSITY OF MORE COAST DEFENSES.—News Item.

LITTLE STORIES WELL TOLD

NO MORE INTERRUPTIONS The little man was expounding to his audience the benefits of physical culture.

"Three years ago," he said, "I was a miserable wreck. Now, what do you suppose brought about this great change in me?"

"What change?" said a voice from the audience. There was a succession of loud smiles, and some persons thought to see him collapse.

"Will the gentleman who asked 'What change?' kindly step up here?" he asked savagely. "I shall then be better able to explain. That's right."

Then, grabbing the witty gentleman by the neck: "When I first took up physical culture I could not even lift a little man; now (suiting the action to the word) I can throw one about like a bundle of rags."

And, finally, he flung the interrupter half a dozen yards across the floor. "I trust, gentlemen, that I have not hurt the force of my argument and that I have not hurt this gentleman's feelings by my explanation."

FITTED THE OCCASION

The old parish clerk was asked how he liked the new vicar.

"Oh, he's a very good man, I believe, but I would rather have the old vicar any day," was his answer. "Was he a better preacher?"

"Oh, no; not as good as the new vicar is." "Well, then, is he a better visitor?"

"Oh, no; not as good as the new vicar," was again his reply. "Why, then, do you prefer the old vicar?"

"If I must tell you, sir, the old vicar's clothes fitted me better," said the clerk.

KNEW HIM AT HOME

In the United States senate one day some years ago a member asked Senator Hoar who a very pompous person was.

"That is General B.," was Mr. Hoar's reply. "Well, does he cut as wide a swath at home as he does at Washington?"

"No," said the senator, with a smile, "the fact is General B.'s reputation is purely national."

KEPT BUSY

ANOTHER SLAM

Melancholy news comes from down in Illinois that the physician "who officiated at the birth of William Jennings Bryan" has passed away.

The butcher bill: Last month there were fifty-three accidents—serious enough to be written up in the Railroad Gazette—on our American railroads.

TO COMFORT HIM

THIRTEENTH BRIDE

Alice Roosevelt was the twelfth White House bride.

VERIFIED THAT RING

Baby Bright Eyes, looking hard at me, Deep within my soul depths tell me what you see?

Are they dim and darksome? Are they full of light? Nothing could be hidden from such piercing sight.

Tell me, Baby Bright Eyes, am I growing old? Is the heart within me callous, dull and cold?

Peer beneath the wrinkles and the locks of gray, If the heart throbs warmly I am young today.

Trust me, Baby Bright Eyes, there are younger men Who would shrink in trembling from your searching ken. Brighter eyes than yours, dear, look me through and through.

His, whose love hath made me what I seem to you, Baby, Baby Bright Eyes, as the years roll round, Less intense and thrilling will thy gaze be found.

Time will teach thee, dear one, 'tis the wisest plan Not to peep too deeply into heart of man. —HENRY TUDOR.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Contentment is never begotten by regret. Do not let your keenness overshadow your kindness. Ability is measured by deeds rather than by intentions.

No man accomplishes much who is afflicted with the hurry habit. A woman's "no" never means "yes" when she is conversing with her husband.

Only a doctor of long experience can look doleful when an epidemic is brewing. An Ohio man is so lazy that he thinks it's too much like work to keep from working.

Of two evils we are advised to choose the least—but why not reject them both? Call the average man a fool and you will discover that he is fool enough not to stand for it.

Men who spend their coin get something for it—which is more than can be said of some who invest their money. If a woman possesses neither powers of conversation nor curiosity she ought to prove a drawing card in a dime museum.

Perhaps the snake got the best of his encounter with Mother Eve because she didn't have a hatpin with which to defend herself.—Chicago News.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS

Any man can be happy if he is conceited enough. Even the fellow who lives in an attic can come down in the world. The secret of success is one that even a woman can't always tell.

You can't exactly say that a girl is heartless when she wears it on her sleeve. A skeptic is a man who wants to turn a cloud inside out to make sure it is silver lined.

Author—"Have you seen me play before?" Critic—"Do you suppose I'd be here now if I had?" When a girl is planning her trousseau she hasn't much time to think about the fellow she is going to marry.—Philadelphia Record.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

It takes a woman to know things without understanding them. If riches really brought unhappiness everybody would have them.

A woman goes to have her palm read to find out if her neighbor talks about her. A man could do a lot of good in the world by stopping doing the bad things he does.

The most satisfactory man to tell a joke to is the one who has already started to laugh.—New York Press.

LAHEY COMMITTEE MAY MAKE REPORT

HEARING POSTPONED

SPRING OPENING AT STRIPLING'S

STOCKS

Heavy Selling of U. S. Steel Feature. Balance of List Affected—Wide Declines Noted. Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 19.—Bears assumed control of the stock market early in the day and the issues suffered sharp declines during the session. There was a lack of interest apparent at the opening, the tone being dull and heavy, while first transactions caused only fractional changes in prices. Continued heavy pressure on Missouri Pacific and Consolidated Gas affected the balance of the list adversely and general weakness soon developed. As the decline increased in proportion to the volume of business transacted, the active issues broke substantially from Saturday's closing level. Heavy selling of the United States Steel shares was a prominent feature and a severe disappointment to those friendly to this stock, as coming upon the heels of the publication of the very favorable statement in the city was regarded as an evidence of general pessimism. During the first hour over ten thousand shares of the preferred were sold by one firm, which was also a heavy seller of the common stock, which broke through 40 in the first hour. The decline in the list was affected sentiment more adversely than any other of the day's developments, and tended to effectually check any disposition which may have been toward buying the other issues. A. C. P. was also pounded hard from the start, the price being lowered 2 1/2 points by midday while there was an attempt to check the decline. Although there was considerable difference of opinion as to what construction should be placed on the miners' answer to the operators, a majority were inclined to accept it as evidence that there would be no strike. Notwithstanding, the leading moved in unison with the balance of the list, encountering heavy selling and breaking sharply. The little buying noted was centered on the Southern Railway shares and was supposed to be for the Hill interests, but was not of sufficient volume to exert any influence on the price movement, sales to noon, 371,700.

GRAIN

Wheat Market Dull—Traders Indifferent—Corn and Oats Firm. Provisions Strong. Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, March 19.—The wheat market was characterized today by the extreme quietude which prevailed around the ring and the apparent indifference among the trade as a whole as to the course of prices. Liverpool reported a firm market and opening prices here were 1/4 to 1/2 higher. This was the top notch for the day, as every attempt to force prices above this level met with selling pressure sufficient to prevent a further advance, but on the other hand the bears were easily satisfied and took profits on slight recessions; to explain the proceedings a nutshell, suffice it to say it was purely a scalping market with fluctuations confined to a range of 1/4 to 1/2. The close was quiet with prices unchanged to 1/4 lower. Local receipts 5 cars. The weekly visible statement shows a decrease in the United States supply of 429,000 bushels.

Corn

Corn was only moderately active but the undertone was at all time firm and closing prices were 1/4 to 1/2 net in the United States available supply of 957,000 bushels.

Oats

Oats were fairly active and firm under a moderate buying demand from commission houses and a light local trade. Final figures showed a net gain of 1/4 for the near positions. Local receipts 10 cars. The weekly visible statement shows a decrease in the United States has decreased 712,000 bushels for the past week.

Provisions

Provisions were quiet but firm, prices advancing steadily throughout the session. At the close pork prices were 1/2 cent higher, lard was up 20c, ribs showed a gain of 1/2 to 1/4.

Estimated Receipts

Estimate receipts of grain for tomorrow are as follows: Wheat 5 cars, corn 29 cars, oats 221 cars.

COTTON

Prices Advance Sharply—Shorts Active Purchasers—Price Issues Circular—Steady. Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 19.—Considering the fact that we are on the eve of a report of considerable import to the cotton trade, inasmuch as the government figures which will be given to the public tomorrow will decide the controversy as to the size of the cotton crop produced the last week by the operator, the market today was fairly active. Bullish sentiment has been gradually gaining for some time and the change of front last week by the operator hitherto prominent as the leader of the bear forces did much to encourage this feeling and, while there was no great amount of buying for fresh account today, the undertone was at all times good and those friendly to the long side regarded the rather free covering of short contracts today as evidence that the bears were afraid of the effect which the census bureau figures would have on prices, while it may be stated that those interested in the market were most heavily short manifested no uneasiness. It is probable that Liverpool's strong buying had little effect on the advance here; at any rate prices at that market were 8 to 9 points below the close of business, while the spot situation was also discouraging.

Calf Receipts

The local opening was firm, with prices 11 points above Saturday's final, for the near positions. It was announced early in the day that Mr. Price would issue a circular, and popular opinion was that it would be bullish. On this theory, shorts covered extensively and prices moved upward gradually, the first spurt being a result of the long cotton under which the near positions received 2 to 4 points below the opening figures, but the market gave evidence of being heavily bought after this time, there was but little effort to depress values. The circular appeared all right, but while it was generally construed as rather favorable to the bulls, it could not be called extremely bullish, the gist of it being the expectation of figures showing a crop of 10,600,000 bales, exclusive of lint, and in the neighborhood of 10,750,000 bales, including lint. In connection with this spurt there was a heavy crop for the next three or four months, as he considered the market heavily oversold and higher prices almost inevitable, as in the public mind the last week he laid much stress on the new crop and expressed himself as favorably impressed regarding conditions governing the same.

Trade Notes

Do not feed the sheep too much corn, especially the breeding ewes. One of the very best feeds for ewes with lambs is oats and wheat bran mixed. Sheep have excellent digestion and hence they utilize feed to the fullest degree. Keep the floor of the sheep quarters dry, and to this end use plenty of bedding. If sheep are not kept constantly in good condition, the quality of the wool is affected. Lee R. Hann, of Bellevue, Texas, was visiting the market today. Henry Jackson, Valley View, was around the exchange meeting friends. W. S. Ikard, Henrietta, Texas, with family, was at the show, as was the exchange today. T. M. Hobin of Montague county, with fat stock, came in this morning.

Born in the Little Town of Graham in February, 1877, in Times of Danger

The thirtieth annual meeting of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas in Dallas represents the coming together of the largest and wealthiest organization of the kind in the world. That is a pretty broad statement, but it is fully borne out by the facts in the case. There is no other live stock organization on the whole face of the globe that is so strong numerically and financially, and it is fitting that such should be the case. Texas is the largest and grandest state in the sisterhood of states, and Texas never does things by halves. She leads in the matter of live stock organization as she leads in all other things, and the great Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas measures fully up to the usual standard of Texas' greatness. It has a membership of nearly 2,000, and tendering nearly $,000,000 in value of stock, receipts and disbursements annually exceed the sum of $75,000, and its affairs are conducted on the most approved modern business lines.

Origin in 1877
The Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas today in all its strength and grandeur is the outgrowth of a meeting of cattlemen held in the little town of Graham, in Young county, during the month of February, 1877. This meeting was brought about through the efforts of some of the best stockmen of that period, who felt the need of some kind of organization among the men who were trying to follow the avocation of stock raising during a very troublous period. They were harassed by Indian and cattle thieves and on every side some danger seemed to continually menace them. The meeting was not a large one, but what it lacked in numbers was made up in the matter of energy and resolution. It was presided over by Colonel C. L. Carter of Palo Pinto county president, and J. C. Loving of Jack county, secretary.

Colonel Carter was elected president each succeeding year, except one, up to the time of his death in 1888. The term he did not serve was after his nomination, and he was again elected, asking that the office be filled by a younger and more active member. Colonel Carter of Dallas was elected in accordance with the wishes of the members, and filled the office of president from March, 1885, until the next annual meeting, when Colonel Carter was again chosen by acclamation, and continued in the position until the day of his death. Colonel Carter, the president of the organization from the time of its birth up to the day of his death, was a pioneer cattle and frontiersman, and in addition to his heavy loss of property, his oldest son was killed on the range by the Indians, just as he was attaining a promising manhood. Nearly all of the best cattlemen of that generation remember Colonel Carter, and they are united in the opinion that no better man ever lived, and his death was a great loss to the organization.

Bush Succeeds Carter
After the death of Colonel Carter, A. P. Bush Jr. of Colorado City was elected to the presidency of the organization, and continued to hold the office unbrokenly until March, 1893, and it was during the Bush administration that the organization began to make itself felt. Bush is a man of much force and energy, and he took the lead in forcing many important matters to the front in which the cattlemen were vitally interested. Some of the biggest changes in the history of the organization were instituted under the direction of President Bush, and the good work he has done continues to live after his death. He has declined re-nomination, and has nominated R. J. Kleberg of Alice as his successor, and Kleberg was elected unanimously.

President Kleberg's Administration
President Kleberg's administration was one of the most successful in the history of the organization, and he was re-elected in 1900 without opposition. The constitution of the organization having been so amended that no member could serve the association as president for a longer period than two years, Mr. Kleberg retired, and Murdo MacKenzie, manager of the McAllen Land and Cattle Company, was elected president. Mr. MacKenzie brought with him into the organization a very strong and efficient guidance. It continued to thrive and prosper. President MacKenzie succeeded as president in March, 1903, by Hon. W. W. Turney of El Paso county, who made the organization one of the best executives in all his past history. President Turney has been so popular as his chief officer and has measured up so well to every requirement of the situation that at the last annual meeting, held in Fort Worth, the constitution and by-laws of the organization were suspended and he was called to the presidency for the third term, and will preside over the thirteenth annual meeting, which convenes in Dallas.

Fort Worth Meeting Place of Men After Thirty Years
Growth of Fort Worth as a railway center was shown Sunday when S. F. Bidding, president of the Bank of Carlsbad, N. M., John M. Brower, ex-congressman from Mount Airy, N. Y., and C. M. Banner of Fort Worth met in this city by accident. They were school boys together thirty years ago and had not seen each other since that time. Mr. Banner entertained his two old schoolmates with a dinner, at which watches were consulted. Mr. Brower's timepiece registered 5:20 o'clock, Mr. Banner's 4:20 o'clock and Mr. Bidding's 3:20 o'clock, representing eastern, central and western time.

honorary member for life. The other vice presidents of the association since its organization have been as follows: C. C. Slaughter, J. M. Lindsay, John W. S. Brown, J. B. Slaughter, J. W. Buster, Murdo MacKenzie, Dr. J. B. Taylor, S. B. Burnett, J. J. Kleberg, A. G. Boyce, L. F. Wilson, W. W. Turney, John T. Lytle, R. C. Pryor and Richard Walsh. The last named two gentlemen are now filling the positions of first and second vice presidents respectively, with credit to themselves and honor to the great organization they have served so well.

J. C. Loving's Regime
J. C. Loving was elected secretary of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas at its first meeting, and unanimously re-elected each succeeding year up to the time of his death, which occurred in Fort Worth, Nov. 24, 1902. In 1879 Mr. Loving was also made treasurer of the organization, and filled that position until March, 1897, when E. B. Harold was elected treasurer and served until March, 1900. Mr. Loving was also made general manager of the organization, and served in that position until his death, when he was succeeded by J. W. Colston, assistant secretary, who held the position up to the time he was succeeded by the present very efficient secretary and general manager, Captain John T. Lytle.

James C. Loving served the association for nearly twenty-six years in the capacity of secretary and general manager, and his death is a great loss to the organization today give him credit for much that has been accomplished. He made it his life work, and knew no other way of life. He was a most interesting and successful business man, and today there is not a member who does not rejoice in an opportunity to do honor to his memory. A handsome monument is being erected by the association to his memory, but it is not necessary. The work that Jim Loving has done for the cattlemen of Texas and the southwest will ever stand as a crowning and fitting monument to his memory.

Executive Committee Controls
The affairs of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas are under the direction of an executive committee, which holds regular quarterly meetings at the official headquarters in the city of Fort Worth for the transaction of routine business. The committee as it now stands is as follows: W. W. Turney, executive chairman; L. C. Pryor, Richard Walsh, A. G. Boyce, S. B. Burnett, J. D. Jackson, Dr. E. B. Frye, D. B. Gardner, B. J. Kleberg, T. A. Coleman, J. E. Berryman, H. F. Crowley, John T. Lytle, J. H. P. Davis, John N. Simpson, Murdo MacKenzie, D. H. Reynolds, M. P. Pulliam. These are all representative cattlemen of Texas and the southwest and have been faithful in the discharge of every official duty. They will continue as members of the executive committee until the regular annual election of officers is held at Dallas, after which the new executive committee to serve for the ensuing year will be appointed by the members of the association.

Contest for President
The election of a president will be one of the most interesting features of the Dallas meeting. President Turney has announced that he will not permit the use of his name in that connection, and the situation appears to have narrowed down to a contest between Colonel Ike T. Pryor of San Antonio and Colonel C. C. Slaughter of Dallas. Colonel Pryor is the first vice president of the organization, and is a man who has done much for the big organization. He has been active in its affairs for years and has never failed to give his best interest in its affairs. He is strong in south and southwest Texas, and has many supporters in other sections of the state. Colonel C. C. Slaughter is one of the most active members of the organization and has been identified with it since its birth. He has served as president one term, back in the early history of the association, and his friends are proud of him that he should at least have another term in recognition of his excellent services. No man within the organization has taken greater interest in its affairs, and no member has been more faithful in the discharge of every duty. Colonel Slaughter makes the home base in Dallas, but has large ranch and cattle interests in west Texas and New Mexico. He is one of the cattle kings of the southwest.

Objects of Association
The association keeps cattle inspecting at the principal markets, shipping points and trails leading out of the state. Its objects are both protective and detective. It looks after range depredations and gives more and better protection to cattle growers than can be obtained from any other source. It has broken up more or less bands of thieves and has saved more of them to the penitentiary than could have been done by any other power.

LETTER TO REV. J. S. MYERS.
Fort Worth, Texas.
Rev. Sir: Three churches in Baldwinville, N. Y., have had their first lesson in Devoe.

Messrs. Osterhout & Lockwood, President of the Erie Railroad, estimated 30 gallons; took 22.
Messrs. Slingerland & Shutter painted the Episcopal church; estimated 40 gallons; took 35.
Same painters painted the Catholic church; estimated 50 gallons; took 35.
Of course, they estimated from what they had seen. The saving in paint and work is $4 or $5 a gallon. Total saving on three jobs $125 to $150—the painting costs two or three times as much as the paint, you know.
Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & CO.
