YAZOU INDIANS MURDER FIVE FROM ONE FAMILY

Mountain Outlaws Massacre Entire Family IN SONORA, MEXICO

Prominent Family Related to Los Angeles Family the Victim of Ambush

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 24.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Los Angeles says: News reached this city today of the murder of the family of Senor Don Pedro Meza, president of Ladura, in Sonora, Mexico, and a brother-in-law of Frederick Hartman, president of the William Hoegge Company of Los Angeles, who were massacred by Yaqui Indians within a few miles of their home and their bodies left in the roadway between Ortiz and Ladura, until a sufficient number of Mexican troops could be sent to overawe the raiding outlaws and bring in the victims. The names of those killed are: SENOR DON PEDRO MEZA, president of Ladura. SENORA ELVIRA MEZA, wife of the president. SENORITA CARMEN MEZA, a daughter, aged 18 years. SENORITA ELOISA MEZA, a daughter, aged 20 years. SENORITA FANCHETTA MEZA, a daughter, aged 23 years. Others Escape Mrs. Wenzelau Hoff, an old friend of the Mezas, and Mrs. Hartman, the widow of the latter, were the only ones to escape. They were with the Meza family when they were ambushed. The children had been left at home in Ladura when the rest of the family was driven in the Los Olatas mountains for the purpose of consulting a physician about Senorita Eloisa, who had been ill and, at the same time, to enable the other members of the family to do some shopping and visit friends. Returning from Guayamas, the party stopped at Ortiz and it is supposed that they were joined there by Mrs. Hoff and her son. Here, it is said, they learned of the presence of a band of Yaquis in the Los Olatas mountains, near Olatas pass, through which they would have to travel to reach Ladura and the mining camp where F. A. Hartman owned interests of silver and copper properties. The worst gorge had been passed and they had entered the wider valley when, from every ledge and mountain debris came the track of rifles. Men Fight Desperately The men charged desperately up the slopes, calling down upon their own heads the rain of lead to divert the fire from those whom they were bound to protect. In this way they fell, with faces to the unseen foe. The last desperate stand of the survivors was made in the shelter over the carriage, and they fought back, dying but still fighting to the last, knowing there was no mercy for them. The story of the massacre was brought to Ortiz by an Indian letter carrier, who shortly afterward went through the pass on a trip with the mail and who identified the bodies of those killed.

POISON MYSTERIOUS

Oregon Woman and Child Dead in Same Manner as Chickens

By Associated Press. PORTLAND, Ore., March 24.—A dispatch to the Oregonian from Albany, Ore., says: Members in Lynn county, a mother and child are dead as the result of a mysterious disease or poison that attacks the throat. A large number of chickens similarly affected have died, as have large numbers of wild birds who have visited the place. The victims of the mysterious affliction are Mrs. Thomas McLain and her little daughter. A physician was called and pronounced Mrs. McLain suffering from apoplexy. She clutched continuously at her throat, but was unable to articulate. The sufferings of the little daughter were ascribed to an attack of croup. That the chickens died of poisoning seems probable, and the neighbors believe that a colored man had been in the neighborhood before the deaths. An investigation will be had.

GOLF PLAYERS GO TO DALLAS

Fort Worth Team Plays Match Game Today

Members of the golf team of the Fort Worth Country Club left for Dallas Saturday morning on the 10 o'clock car in order to play a return match with the Dallas Golf Club Saturday afternoon. The Fort Worth players will endeavor to make up for the defeat by the Dallas players in the match two weeks ago, when Dallas succeeded in winning by a close margin. The match is to be 18 holes, match play, with seven men on a side. The members of the Fort Worth team who went to Dallas were J. B. Gray, W. T. Humble, F. H. Sparrow, Morris Bernay, Sam Beck, Ed Collett and Harry Wynne. The line-up of the Dallas team has not been received here, but it will probably be about the same as in the last match. The Dallas course is probably the finest golf course in the state, having been established a number of years. This match will give the Fort Worth players practice for the tournament which will take place on the Dallas course next month, and will go a great way toward familiarizing the Fort Worth team with the course there.

BAD FEELING FEARED

Admiral Cervera Fearful of Outcome of Algeiras Conference

By Associated Press. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 24. Major C. D. McGuffey of this city, a personal friend of Admiral Cervera, whom he met on a tour in Spain, is in receipt of a letter from the admiral, in which he says: "We are now closely occupied here in the city of Algeiras conference on Morocco, which does not cease to preoccupy me, because it does not appear possible to me that they can come to a totally equitable remedy, which would be to prosecute the packing firms as such for attempting or maintaining a monopoly of their particular business. I do not think war will result from it, but I do fear that hatreds and rancors may be kindled and everything be prepared so that in the future war may result from any trifling cause."

Joint Scale Committees Likely to Adjourn Today

By Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 24.—When the joint scale committees of the Joint conference of the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of the central competitive and southwestern districts met today there was no indication that the opposing sides were any nearer an agreement than when the January conference adjourned, after a disagreement. The meeting of the committee of the central competitive districts at 10 o'clock, it was the understanding, prior to the meeting, that a vote would be taken early on the proposition of F. L. Robbins of the Western Pennsylvania operators to restore the scale of 1905. The operators of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana were as determined in their opposition to this proposition as before and announced that they would defeat it. It is expected that a session of the joint conference will be called during the day to receive the report that the committee is not able to agree.

ARKANSAS ANIMAL TAKES THREE-YEAR-OLD PRIZE TO WEIGH STEERS

Prize Winners to Be Put Upon Scales—Killing Contests to Take Place Later

Rain, the old enemy of Fort Worth fat stock shows, finally had its inning Saturday morning and, although it amounted to only a slight drizzle, was sufficient to reduce the size of the crowd to the smallest for the three days. Contrary to the expectations of those who thought the rain would make walking unpleasant at the stock yards, no discomfort was experienced by those who did venture out. As all of the exhibits save the fat steers in car lots were under cover and the alleysways are paved, the visitors suffered from neither rain nor mud. When the show opened Saturday morning there remained to be judged only the cows, heifers and the announcement of sweepstakes and grand championship prizes on Hereford and short-horn classes.

ARKANSAS COW WINNER

A great deal of interest was centered by the early morning crowd in the selection of the best Hereford cow in the 3-year-old class. The first prize was $25, but with the award goes one of the leading honors of the show. There were thirteen entries in the class including several former prize-winners and some of the best cows in Texas herds. Among the exhibitors were Scharbauer Bros. of Midland, the Herd of Henrietta, Estes & Watts of Midland, W. D. Jones of San Angelo, B. N. Aycock of Midland, Tom Hoben of Nocona, W. H. Myers of Blue Grove, Texas, and O. L. Miles of Fort Smith, Ark. All are well known Hereford breeders and have been regular exhibitors at former shows. After considerable deliberation and much comparison, the first prize was finally awarded to Katy II, 187085, the four-year-old cow entered by O. L. Miles of Fort Smith, Ark. Mr. Miles also took second prize with Ada, a three-year-old cow. Katy II is a magnificent example of the best type in Hereford cows and lacks only twenty-six pounds of weighing an even 2,000. She was calved July 2, 1901. Ada, the second prize winner, was calved July 5, 1902, and weighed 1,550 pounds. Prize winners to be weighed

PRIZE WINNERS TO BE WEIGHED

Prize winning steers which were bought Friday at the Telegram will be weighed some time Saturday. Just when they will be killed has not been announced, and for this reason the awards in the killing contest will be later. There is much speculation as to the killing percentage which will be shown by the prize-winning carlots of three and two-year-old steers, both of which were fed by H. B. Johnson of Chickasha, I. T. The awards to students of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, who had an opportunity to judge the single steers while they were in the show ring Thursday, will not be announced until they are passed on by Professor Marshall of the college. The students will make their reports to Professor Marshall and the results of their judgment will be given to the fat stock show committee for the latter's award.

SHOW ENDS IN SUNSHINE

About noon, after a successful struggle with the clouds, the sun came out promising a clear afternoon for the completion of the show. With the sunlight came an increase in the size of the crowds and cars arriving from the city after noon were packed with visitors hoping to get a last glimpse of the exhibits.

STRUGGLE WITH CLOUDS

In many respects the Saturday afternoon visitors had the advantage of those who came earlier in the week, in that most of the prizes had been awarded and there displayed over the various pens where they belonged so that the visitor passing through the pens could readily select the entries which had won.

SALES BEGAN EARLY

Sales had been completed Friday afternoon, leaving Saturday afternoon free for the completion of awards in the unfinished classes. Sunday is expected to be a busy day at the yards getting the cattle out of the pens into cars for their homeward bound.

Show Has Been Successful
The fat stock show this year has been undoubtedly the most successful ever given in Fort Worth. In number and quality of exhibits, arrangement and dispatch of business, no previous show has ever equaled. The visitors without exception have been generous in their praise of the arrangement and the displays.

A Chicago Tribute
A Rothschild of Chicago, head buyer for Armour & Company and one of the judges of the show, said Saturday morning:

"I was greatly and agreeably surprised by the excellent quality of the exhibits. Texas cattle have improved greatly during the past few years both in breeding and feeding. The showing made by the fat cattle was excellent and there were some very good cattle among the registered entries in the Hereford, shorthorn and Angus classes."

Show Closes Tonight
The fat stock show formally ends tonight. There probably will be many visitors at the yards Sunday, but they will be able to see only a few of the exhibits, as the cattle not sold here will be moved as rapidly as possible.

NEW RINK OPENS

Summit Avenue Floor Used by Many Skaters
The Summit avenue skating rink was informally opened to the public Saturday morning. The rink, which has been reserved for Saturday night, there was quite a large attendance at the rink Saturday morning, many being anxious to get in a few minutes before the opening to try their skill.

The new rink on Summit avenue is a large one. It is managed by the Southwestern Amusement Company, which also has large rinks in Dallas and Houston. The rink here is the biggest of the three, being about the same width as the other rink in Dallas and thirty feet longer. The skating floor of the new rink is 130 feet long and sixty-five feet wide, giving an area of 11,700 square feet. The building is 100x200 feet, the remainder of the space being taken up with a large number of seats arranged in tiered formation along the east side of the building and cloak and skate rooms at the south end of the building.

There are seats provided for about 1,000 people, which can be used when novelties, such as trick skating and polo games are in vogue. A special train has been engaged which will bring a number of the society people of Dallas over for the event. Among those who come over will be the people of Dallas, who will join the Fort Worth skaters in celebrating the event.

A special feature of the opening tonight will be the presence of Herb's fifteen-piece band of Houston. During the week the band of Herb's has been present at the Dallas rink, which is used here. Music will be furnished at the rink at afternoon and night sessions every day.

Expert skaters have been brought here from Dallas and other cities, who will add the unskilled skater in getting about the floor.

NEW TEXAS CHARTERS

Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, March 24.—Charters filed yesterday by Governor Chamberlain to President Roosevelt, serious trouble is brewing between the sheepmen of Oregon and Washington.

The letters state that three-quarters of that part of the Wenatchee forest reserve located in Oregon has been allotted to Washington sheep raisers, while the Oregon men are given only one-quarter.

On the other hand, no Oregon sheepmen are given any of the range in that part of the reserve located in Washington.

Governor Chamberlain says he is informed that at a meeting of the sheepmen and wool growers held in Walla Walla, Dec. 16, last, a committee of sheepmen was allowed to attend, and that, as Washington sheepmen predominate in the committee, they took practically everything.

The governor, in his letter, charges that William Schmitz, chief ranger of the reserve, and the Forest Ranger of Washington, both have all interests in the state of Washington, and both federal officers have allowed the allotment to stand. The letter asserts that many Washington sheep are affected with "scabbies," which may be brought into Oregon by the wool.

The governor asks the President that an investigation be made.

FORT WORTH HEAT CENTER

Thermal Lines Radiate From This City
Weather reports from over the country were delayed Saturday morning, and no weather map could be issued. There were some reports, however, that showed that the conditions throughout the country were generally warmer than on Friday. Snow was reported in Iowa, Ohio and northern Virginia. There were no high winds or special features. It is generally quiet. Rain is reported in Kansas, Missouri and California.

The temperatures Saturday morning were generally warmer than Friday. At Fort Worth the temperature was 70 degrees Saturday morning. This is the warmest reported anywhere in the country except at Corpus Christi and other places on the Gulf coast. The freezing line was reported farther northward, Cairo being the southern limit.

West of the Mississippi the weather was reported much warmer than east of it. Radiating from Fort Worth there are separate and distinct isotherms at 40 degrees, this being the heat center of all the country.

The weather report received at the office of the Fort Worth Weather Bureau Saturday morning states that there had been a light rain on the third division, between Childress and Amarillo, 5:30 a. m., and that it was cloudy Friday night. A cold front between Amarillo and Texline. The temperature was given as follows: Texline, 33 degrees; Amarillo, 40; Childress, 33; Wichita Falls, 40.

Election of Officers for Year Announced
The annual meeting of the Hereford Breeders' Association of Texas was held Friday night at the offices of the Houston and Texas Central railroad. There were about sixty members in attendance.

The meeting was called to order by President B. C. Rhome. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved and a letter was read from C. R. Thomas of Kansas City, the secretary of the National Association of Hereford Breeders, expressing his regret that he had been unable to be present by reason of illness and extending his best wishes to the members.

The report of the secretary and treasurer for the past year was next read. This showed the amount received from the former secretary to be $474.79; the amount received for dues and assessments to be $592.75; disbursements during the year, $496, and balance on hand, $431.54. This report was adopted.

Following the approval of this report one of the members asked the chair that the meeting be made executive, and this was done.

The secretary later announced that the following officers had been elected for the ensuing year: W. S. Ikard, Henrietta, president; B. C. Rhome, Fort Worth, vice president; R. H. McNatt, Fort Worth, second vice president; A. L. Miles, Fort Smith, Ark., third vice president; J. B. Saller, Joplin, Mo., fourth vice president; W. H. Myers, Blue Grove, Texas, fifth vice president, and C. W. Martin, Fort Worth, secretary and treasurer.

LIBRARIANS END SESSIONS HERE

First Institute in State Was Successful
Friday was the last day of the State Library Institute, two sessions being held at Carnegie Library during the day. A morning and an afternoon session. During the two meetings Friday there were many things said that were well calculated to help those who are connected with the handling of books. The suggestions were made by those who have had actual experience and are in position to know the best methods of handling a library.

During the morning session P. L. Windsor of the State University library at Austin and Mrs. Nancy Ledbetter of the small library; Mrs. E. H. Campbell and Mrs. Rebecca Royal of the American Library Association took part.

After each person on the program had finished their particular subject, it was taken up by the other members and discussed generally. Questions were asked the one who had discussed the particular topic, and in this manner a number of important things were developed.

The afternoon meeting was for the most part devoted to the discussion of the best methods of buying books and securing assistance from the public and by tax. J. M. Brown discussed the buying of books from a dealer's standpoint, and Mrs. Nancy Ledbetter the buying of books from a librarian's standpoint. These talks proved very interesting and many ideas and methods were advanced that will be of use to those who heard the discussion.

Mr. Charles Schaeber, local librarian, made an interesting address on "Securing Assistance." "Times of Opening" and "Records of Work" were also discussed by Mrs. M. Quigley and Mrs. A. Alexander. "Binding and Mending," as discussed by F. J. Tansley, was also an interesting and instructive number. During the discussion that followed Miss Odo Surratt was also heard on the subject.

FIVE DAIRYMEN ATTEND SESSION

Semi-Annual Meeting of Association Fails
No session was held Friday of the Texas State Dairy and Live Stock Association, nor was there one Saturday. The meeting which was to have been held here was a new feature in the association, being a semi-annual meeting called to arouse the interest in the association in this locality, but as so few dairymen were present the meeting did not take place.

The meeting was to have taken place Friday morning, but was postponed until 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at that hour the total number present was but five. The meeting was called at the suggestion of a local dairyman, since dead, but there was not a single Fort Worth dairyman present at the meeting. The members of the association who were present were W. R. Spann of Dallas, president; W. R. Hope of Sweetwater, J. D. Brown of Gatesville, R. M. Lowe of Brownwood, B. F. Frazier of Cleburne.

The regular annual session will be held at College Station at the time of the regular Texas Farmers' Congress, which meets there in July. The association has a membership of over a hundred, and was organized in Waco six years ago. Annual meetings have been held at College Station.

Quite an extensive program was prepared for the meeting here, but only one of the men who were to have prepared papers for discussion was present, the president, who was to have read a paper on "Building Up a Jersey Herd."

MARVELOUS GROWTH OF FORT WORTH

The Fort Worth live stock market is playing havoc with the older market centers that have grown rich and independent at the expense of the Texas producer. For many years the efforts made to build up a market here for the Texas producers were derided by the other market centers and the Fort Worth market was the laughing stock of the live stock world. But they are singing a different tune now. The San Antonio Stockman and Farmer says:

L. W. Krake, traffic manager of the National stock yards, East St. Louis, is in Texas to attend the cattlemen's convention. The establishment of the packing houses at Fort Worth has cut off our receipts about 40 per cent in the last three years, said Mr. Krake. We had a gradual increase from Texas up to the time the packing houses began operations here. Since the Fort Worth packing houses began we have felt the effects of their year after year. If the present rate of decrease in Texas cattle keeps up it will not be many years until Fort Worth will slaughter all the Texas cattle. The business that has been done by the Fort Worth stock yards is one of the marvelous things of the live stock business.

And the St. Louis market is not the only one that is feeling the full effect of the great market that has been established in Texas for the benefit of the Texas producers. Chicago has felt the keen edge of the Fort Worth knife, and is so well satisfied with the quality of the metal that all effort to obtain business in Fort Worth territory has been entirely abandoned. Chicago was smart enough to see the futility of attempting to contend with conditions that could not be overcome, and has been content to sit back and accept what little business that goes that way in the form of overflow. Kansas City has been hard hit, and Kansas City has been engaged in making very faces and throwing stones ever since the new packing houses were established in Fort Worth. There was a time when the city on the Kaw had every thing practically her own way in the West, and she was vain and foolish enough to imagine that the cattle business of this section belonged to her either through the right of discovery or eminent domain, and the establishment of the Fort Worth market was viewed with sullen and dissatisfied eyes. The loss of business that has resulted has not had a pacificatory effect, but Fort Worth does not care a baubee for that. We are too busy down here to pay much attention to the windings of the galled jade, and we are going to keep up the lick until the time comes when Fort Worth will be second to no other live stock market in the entire country.

St. Louis is now able to read the handwriting on the wall, and is brave enough to come forward and make confession to facts. She realizes that the Fort Worth market is a proposition that every other market center in the country must reckon with in the future. But the ability of Fort Worth to handle all the Texas cattle is not predicated upon the continued decrease of the cattle industry in Texas. The Fort Worth market is a constantly growing proposition and the time must soon come when it will be amply able to not only take care of the Texas cattle, but reach out and control the cream of the business in the Southwest. More packing houses are going to be built in Fort Worth, and the export meat business of the United States is going to be done from this city through Texas gulf ports. It does not require the ability of a seer to decipher the signs of the times. Fort Worth has the advantage of any other live stock market in the country, by virtue of location in the heart of the great producing section and close proximity to the gulf.

The development that has already occurred here in this matter will not be a marker for what is yet to come. Other market centers might just as well get ready to take off their hats to the young giant of the Southwest, for we are going to distance all competition.

Stockmen turning to land investments. The stockmen of the range country are not discontented over the unsatisfactory conditions encountered in the cattle business during the past three or four years, but have been sufficiently astute to take advantage of the sharp rise in real estate all over the range country and in a very large measure recoup themselves in their cattle losses.

It is a singular fact that during all the period when there has been such marked depression in the live stock business lands have shown no sympathetic tendency. On the contrary, they have continued to steadily advance in value until there are hundreds of big ranch owners out in the range country who have made more off their land holdings in the past year than they have out of the cattle business in the past ten years.

Out in the western portion of the state the enterprising cattlemen are not content to simply cut up their own holdings and sell them at advanced prices, but many of them are buying large tracts as a speculation, getting them at reasonable figures, and cutting them up and selling them to the men who want homes at a very marked and appreciable advance. Owing to the fact they are able to command large sums of money they are in position to swing many of these big deals that could not otherwise be touched, and they are making good money out of the operation.

And there are none who will envy these men who blazed the way that the good thing they are getting out of the situation. They are the pioneers of that section, and their presence there first made possible the development that has since ensued. They have had their share of the cares and vicissitudes of life, and are entitled to a measure of reward for what they have done for that section.

People are flocking into the West in search of homes, and the stockmen are making every effort to accommodate them. It is changing conditions in that section rapidly, but the development that is taking place seems to be of a permanent character. West Texas is enjoying a big boom.

THE NEXT CONGRESS

The Republican party is becoming seriously alarmed over the very strong probability that seems to exist in the matter of losing control of the next congress, and the election to be held next November promises to be quite spirited from one end of the country to the other.

The Republican party is so deeply entrenched in the present house that it almost appears a hopeless task to dislodge them. The present representation comprises 249 Republicans and 137 Democrats. It will consequently be necessary for the Democrats to hold all their present members and capture at least fifty-seven more to obtain even the narrowest majority with which they could do business. It is probable that even with this small majority the party would be so badly handicapped that it would be able to accomplish but little in the way of reform.

The dissensions that are arising in the ranks of the Republican party give promise of assuming more alarming proportions between now and election time, in spite of the determined efforts being made to heal the breach, and it is believed these dissensions will result not only in the Democrats capturing the next congress, but in putting the Republican party out of business altogether so far as the national government is concerned.

At any rate, Democratic leaders profess to see much hope ahead for the party, and the enthusiasm they display is causing a renewed feeling of confidence on the part of the masses. As a result of this combination of circumstances, Democracy is going to put up a rattling hard fight this fall to regain control of congress as an essential preliminary to the same kind of work in the national campaign two years later. And Democracy is always at its best when arrayed in its fighting clothes.

President Roosevelt is said to be greatly worried over the failure of the government's prosecution of the big packers and the ruling of the court that proceedings must be limited to an effort to convict the corporations of which the packers are members. And yet, President Roosevelt himself established this glorious precedent in the celebrated case of Paul Morton. He held that the individual should be permitted to go free while the blame must be saddled on the corporation. Judge Humphrey appears to have been a sincere and consistent convert to the President's theory.

Hearst agents are said to have made a trip to Texas for the purpose of making war on Senator Bailey, but it is not probable they gained much evidence in this state that will aid them in the furtherance of their design. Bailey is a man who stands high in the estimation of the people of Texas, else he would not be occupying his present exalted position.

Senator Joseph W. Bailey stated before the Democratic convention at Waco that he was personally responsible for the reinstatement of the permit of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company to do business in Texas. Has Senator Bailey read the admission of the Standard people that they really do own the company in question?

Again President Roosevelt feels called upon to deny that he will consider the matter of accepting renomination at the hands of his party. It may be that Judge Alton B. Parker knows more of the situation than the President, but down in this neck of the woods the people are all staking their money on Teddy.

Visitors to the Fat Stock Show are returning to their homes greatly impressed with the enterprise and push they saw continually manifest in Fort Worth. And every one of them will be walking advertisements for this city for weeks to come.

The federal administration is said to be still wondering what hit it in the beef trust decision, while down here in Texas the situation is as clear as it is possible to make it. It was too much Garfield.

The Fat Stock Show is a thing of the past so far as the exhibition this year is concerned, but we are all going to work to make it bigger and better than ever before. That is the way Fort Worth does things.

GOOD ARGUMENT

The fact that both France and Germany are ready for war is an argument of considerable weight on the side of peace.—New York Tribune.

ALWAYS SO

Doubtless there always will be persons so constituted as to have more sympathy for condemned criminals than they have for the victims.—Chicago Tribune.

THE TEXAS PRESS

The man who is always thinking evil of his neighbors will generally be found to be judging others after the pattern of his own heart.—Childress Post.

The man who is always thinking evil of his neighbors is generally the worst man who resides in that particular community. He thinks all others are evil because of his own evil standard.

The peach crop is a very important matter and the people at large feel almost as much interest in it as do the fruit growers. The probabilities are that, when the bad weather is over, it will be found that old Cooke will still have peaches for sale.—Galveston Register.

No doubt the Texas fruit crop has been badly hurt by the recent severe freeze, but now that the frost has cleared away it is being found that the outlook is still good for a pretty good crop of fruit in many portions of the state.

Judge Parker is naming Mayor McClellan for the democratic nomination for the Presidency. When a man has been named he is never satisfied until he helps put a friend through the same process.—Galveston Tribune.

Judge Parker occupies the same position as the man who realizes he has been sold out in the side show. He is not satisfied until all his friends are made to undergo the same unhappy experience.

There will be a limit to the free pass system on the Texas diamond this season. Passes are passing in other circles than railway.—San Antonio Light.

And it is a good idea. One of these days the world will awaken to the fact that it is not a mark of distinction to get through life on a free pass.

Hop Taylor shipped a car of hogs to the Fort Worth market Tuesday. It seems from the many shipments of swine recently that people in this immediate territory are looking moot to the hog industry than ever before.—Alvord Budget.

The cry of the Fort Worth market is continually for more hogs, and the Texas farmers who are hearkening to "at cry are the ones who are advancing the most steadily on the road to prosperity.

If there is an oil mill trust in Texas, and many people believe there is, certainly the state of Texas ought to be competent, with existing laws, to deal with and punish the violators.—Waco Tribune.

If there is any kind of a trust doing business in Texas it is the fault of the officers charged with the enforcement of the law. There is ample law existing in Texas to put every form of combination entirely out of business.

Following the cattlemen's convention which has been in session at Dallas this week, the National breeders and Fort Worth Fat Stock Show began on the 23d at Fort Worth. Premiums to the amount of $12,000 are to be awarded prize winners and a magnificent collection of fine stock is on exhibition.—Alvord Budget.

The Fat Stock Show so successfully held in this city is one of the greatest events ever witnessed in Texas and thousands of loyal and enthusiastic Texans attest that fact. The Fat Stock Show from an experiment has developed into a sure thing that commands the attention of the people of the entire Southwest.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

In selecting men as candidates for the state legislature this year the question of which county in a district a candidate comes from should cut no figure in arriving at a choice. It should be purely a matter of ability and qualification for the position. The hope of the people lies in the selection of the very best available material.—Fort Worth Telegram.

All of which is true. But sectional strife and convention trickery have put some very incompetent men in office.—Clarendon Chronicle.

In the selection of county candidates this year the voters of Tarrant county should be careful to put only good men on guard. There is plenty of good material available, and if it is not utilized the fault will clearly be with the people.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The same is true in Grayson and everywhere else. There are always good men in the bunch to select from and not many very undesirable ones.—Sherman Democrat.

Professor Brander Matthews of New York is an advocate of reform in our English spelling. A special was sent out concerning his crusade a few days since over which the Fort Worth Telegram put this head: "Fonetik Speller Feels Encouraged. Sez He Expekted Hostil Kritisizm." The eminent reformer ought to feel "Encouraged" when he reads that headline.—San Angelo Standard.

A New York man claims the Irish discovered America. Then we have no klick coming. They have a perfect right to run it.

"Talk about hard luck, there's Busten. You know what a struggle he's had for years. Just as soon as he would get settled in a job the company would go busted or he'd lose his place for some trifling mistake, or he would have an attack of rheumatism or appendicitis. Then, when he'd finally save up a few hundred dollars his wife or one of the children would fall sick and eat up his savings. Finally luck turned, and he saved a couple of thousand dollars and organized a cold storage company, and he was made the general manager."

"Yes, I know, but he's done well with the storage house, hasn't he?"

"No, the same old Jonah is on his trail. Everything looked all right. They filled the cold storage house with eggs, thousands of cases, and bought at a low price, too, bought when the market was 'way down."

"What went wrong?"

"He sold every egg a week ago to some big Eastern buyer at a good profit, and when he came to deliver the goods he found if he didn't find that moths had got in the place and ruined the whole stock."

"Sure. Began a month ago."

"How much have you got together?"

"Three railroad guides, two steamship books and five hotel advertisements."

Everything has its uses. This ought to be first rate weather for knocking out the congressional garden seed graft.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The house has grown tired of the delay in completing the digest of private claim bills which it ordered eight or ten years ago, and when the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation came along, carrying $4,800 to pay the clerks who are not completing the work, there were numerous protests. Johnson of South Carolina was especially concerned. He wanted something done, and he wanted it right away. Finally he proposed an amendment withholding 30 per cent of the pay of the clerks until the work was finished.

"How would you like to have a third of your pay held up until the end of your term?" asked Mr. Livingston of Georgia.

"It ought to be held back till I earn it," replied Johnson.

"Then I'm afraid you'd never get it," retorted Livingston.

Delegates Smith of Arizona and McGuire of Oklahoma, the men most interested in the statehood fight than any one else in Washington, except, perhaps, Uncle Joe Cannon, had a conference which was so deeply important as to demand absolute privacy. They wandered about the house end of the capitol, from committee room to committee room, trying to find a place where they could talk without interruption, but in vain. At last they hit on a great scheme. Uncle Joe was in the chair and busy. He could not get away. Smith and McGuire trotted off to the speaker's room and bulged in. There they found Mr. Busby, the speaker's secretary. But they did not mind him. They went over in a corner and began to plot.

"Look here," said Busby, after a while, "what are you up to? Trying to fix up a plan to kidnap the speaker?"

"Well," replied Smith, "we'd like to. I know a place down in Arizona that if we could get him into he would not get out of in six months."

The maddest man in seventeen states today was Chairman Tawney of the house committee on appropriations. He made a two-hour speech in favor of reducing the pay of government clerks who have become supernumerated. When Prince and Hardwick began to obstruct the reading of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, Tawney got ready for a fight. Presently his time came and he jumped up.

"Mr. Chairman," he shouted, and then stopped. His voice went up and down like a siren whistle, and a look of pained surprise came over Tawney's face. He

VERGES THAT RING

ROMANCE

To sum it all, in book or song. There is one ending of romance. What boots the sighing deep and long. 'What boots the yearning, soulful glance, The speeches sizzin', The words that burn?— For she is his'n And he is her'n.

The chapters writ of feast or ball, Of battles or of daring deeds, Of auto rides, or walks—they all Are waste. Between the lines one reads. The eyes go whizzin' Ahead to learn If she is his'n And he is her'n.

The cavalier who twangs a tune Upon his resonant guitar, The maid who gazes at the moon And dreams of one who resides afar. Knows that all prison Locks will turn When she is his'n And he is her'n.

No odds wherever they may be— In cities rent with clanging noise, Or drifting on a purpled sea With sunsets adding to their joys; Gems to be hidzen, Or wealth to spurn, If she is his'n And he is her'n.

All this in naught; his high degree, Her noble birth or queenly face; The interest of you and me Is in the ending of the race. It is our business to learn That she is his'n And he is her'n.

—W. D. N. in Chicago Tribune.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS

There are no return tickets issued from the frying pan into the fire. The fellow who is looking for trouble frequently overestimates his capacity. One half the world is down on automobiles, and the other half is down under them. A man never hears the best things that are said about him, because he is dead then. When a man talks through his hat a woman may be pardoned for laughing in his sleeve. Scribbler—"in your play I suppose the villain is caught in the act." Scrawler—"Yeh, but not till the last act."

Blobs—"I haven't had a vacation since I was married." Slobbs—"Why, you go away every summer. Blobs—"Yes, but my wife is always along."—Philadelphia Record.

SUNFLOWER PHILOSOPHY

Nearly every man has a fool idea he wastes a lot of time on. There is nothing so nice as a nice woman. But the dogs bark at a bad one. "Even my wife," Church White said today, "has never claimed that I am good looking."

When the average man learns how to take care of his money, he is past the earning period. You are always hearing of physicians using the knife; don't any of them ever use the fork? Patience is the best investment a married woman can make, and the second best is a cook book. It is the notion of some women that to be a perfect lady a girl should hold every man at a proper distance. The most sympathetic person in the world cannot refrain a smile at a worried expression on the face of a fat man.

There is one reward no man seems to be in a hurry to get, and that is the reward piled up for him in heaven.—Atchison Globe.

caught his breath, swallowed hard, and tried again. The result was worse than before. His voice was beyond control. Sometimes he struck the tip-top notes, sometimes he growled in double bass. Sometimes he barely whispered. He stuck to it for a minute, then cut it short, and gave up. Two or three times afterward he could not help getting into the fight, but always with the same result. When the house adjourned Tawney was too angry to even swear.

"I never drink water while I'm making a speech," he said, "but yesterday a page brought me a glass and I took it. I didn't notice anything wrong until I began to speak today, and then you heard what happened. That's what comes from drinking water."

BERNHARDT HAS CANCELED DATE

High Railroad Rates Given as Reason

Decision was made Friday night by Manager W. C. Connor that Madame Sarah Bernhardt will not appear in Fort Worth. The cause announced was that the railroads would not give her proper rates to this city.

W. E. Gorman, advance agent for the tour of the French actress, was in Fort Worth Friday and looked over the city, visiting the grounds at Prospect Park and also the new skating rink, corner Third and Taylor streets. He stated before he left there was but little doubt that the show would come here and that either of the rinks would be in case the tent was not to be used here.

He returned to Dallas in the afternoon and Friday night Jacob Schwarz, manager of the White City, who was placed in charge of local arrangements, was called to Dallas and informed by W. E. Gorman that Mrs. Bernhardt would have to be dropped from the itinerary because of the exorbitant rates charged by the railroads.

The date which was originally assigned to Fort Worth has been given to Muskogee, I. T., which is on a direct line from Tyler, and will prevent the doubling back that would have been necessary if Madame Bernhardt had come here.

With her Friday Mr. Gorman stated that he had received quite a number of telephone calls from Fort Worth, asking if Madame Bernhardt had decided to come to Fort Worth, and when he had stated that she was they had cancelled their orders for seats at the Dallas performance.

S. S. SUPTS. TO MEET

Conference to Be Held at First Baptist Church

A conference of the Sunday school superintendents of Fort Worth and suburbs will be held next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist church, corner Third and Taylor streets.

Mr. J. C. Foster, chairman of the program committee, will preside, and the discussion of the following topics will be led by Mr. Shephard: "The Sunday School Superintendent: His Qualifications, His Standard and His Management of the School."

Superintendents and assistant superintendents of the various Sunday schools of the city and vicinity are expected to be prepared to take part in the discussion of the topic announced.

HOW LONGHORNS STARTLED EAST

Zack Mulhall Tells of Early Exhibit

Zack Mulhall of Mulhall, O. T., general live stock agent of the Frisco railroad, with office headquarters at St. Louis, is here attending the Fat Stock Show. He states that he has been here every year since the show was organized and that there has been a steady improvement.

"A few years ago," said Mr. Mulhall, "I took seven long horn Texas steers to New York city and placed them on exhibition there. Having lived down in this section of the country I could hardly believe the grown up people whom I met there who said they had never seen a longhorn Texas steer before."

There were also young ladies who called to see the steers who had always lived in New York and some of them had never even seen a cow. "Fat sounds strange but it is nevertheless a fact. From the way in which the Texas cattle are being bred up it seems that there is a question of time when the Texas longhorns will be a curiosity even in their native state."

TERRITORY MOVEMENT

Mr. Mulhall says that the movement of cattle this spring from Texas to the territory pastures will be about the same as that of last year and that this will be sufficient to fill all the pastures in the territory. He states that the movement of the cattle over the Frisco will be about 2,500 cars and that he understands that the other roads are also arranging to handle about the same amount that were shipped during the preceding year. The cattle are all in good condition.

POSTAL AFFAIRS

Postoffices at Lund, Travis county, and McDuff, Bastrop county, will be discontinued, mail going to Elgin, Bastrop county, in both cases.

The postoffice at Belva, Woodward county, O. T., has been discontinued.

Stair service from Priddy to Indian Gap and return will be discontinued and superseded by rural delivery.

STATE CONTEST SCHEDULED HERE
Nine Colleges to Meet in Oratorical Contest
ASSOCIATION MEETING
Winner of Prohibition Address to Be Entered in Interstate and National Events of Organization

The second annual oratorical contest of the State Intercollegiate Prohibition Association will be held in Fort Worth April 6. This association includes the leagues organized in nine of the big schools of the state. A cash prize of $50 will be offered for the first place, and half as much for second. Each of the nine schools will be represented by an orator, and most of the schools will send a number of delegates also. At least 400 students are expected from the schools represented. The institutions that belong to the organization are: Daniel Baker and Howard Payne Colleges of Brownwood, Deatur Baptist College of Decatur, Texas Holiness of Peniel, Texas Christian University of Waco, Baylor University of Waco, Southwestern of Georgetown, Burleson College, Greenville, and Polytechnic College of Fort Worth. These colleges assisted in the organization of the association in January, 1905. Since that time there has been much interest taken in the organization, and new members have been added. Young ladies are members of the association, but none of them will be in the contest. There will be a convention of the association held April 5, 6 and 7, and the contest will be the second night of the convention. The officers of the association are: John Milton, Baylor, president; J. Seamon, Texas Holiness College of Greenville, treasurer; Wallace Gregg, Polytechnic College, secretary.

This association has been well organized throughout the country, and for the convenience the United States has been divided into three divisions, the eastern, middle and western, Texas being in the middle division. The winner of the state contest will be sent to the interstate contest, to be held at Lincoln, Neb., in June. That contest will decide who will later be in the national contest between the three divisions. The orations in every case must be on some phase of the prohibition question. There are about 500 members in the state, seventy-five being at Polytechnic College. At the convention a delegate is allowed for every ten members. C. L. McDonald is president of the association and he will handle all matters in hand concerning the arrangements. The contest will likely be held in the city hall.

BERLINO BABIES ARE MUSICIANS
Youthful New York Performers Visit Fort Worth

At an impromptu piano recital Friday afternoon at the Ross & Heyer Co. music store, 711 Houston street, the Berlino babies—ages respectively 3, 5 and 8 years—were heard by a reporter for The Telegram, the entertainment also including recitations and wonderful exhibitions by the children, who, with their mother, only arrived in Fort Worth from El Paso late Thursday night.

Madame Berlino is a native German, and comes from a theatrical family, the father of the boys being dead. Mr. Berlino was himself a musician of reputation during his life time, and the success of the mother in training the children easily to become what is usually termed "youthful prodigies" may, in this light, be better understood. With their mother, the Berlino children have appeared in most every city of importance in this country, generally under the auspices of some charitable organization.

The eldest, David, is only 8 year old, but is capable of rendering the "Sonata Pathetique," by Beethoven, as creditably as may be done by professional performers of his age. He rendered the sonata four times his age. He rendered the sonata for the benefit of a party of friends of the Ross & Heyer Co. at their Houston street place of business Friday afternoon in a manner which caused more than ordinary enthusiasm, and no small wonder. Also with his mother he played a sonata by Diabelli in a manner perfect. The two elder children occupied one piano, while the mother with little Clarence seated in her lap, led in a quartet that was voted brilliant—all four playing in perfect harmony. Robert, aged five, has his fifth birthday in May of this year) is almost as far advanced as his older brother, while the knowledge of little Clarence seems almost supernatural. The latter requested to be allowed to recite a poem, which, according to his mother, he learned only recently, by hearing her read the same. The recitation was "The Mill Will Never Grind Again With the Water That is Past."

Remarkable Precocity
The story of the life of these children is no ordinary fairy tale. One only believes in the knowledge of the Lord being them. Bible history they have at their fingers' ends. From the dawn of creation, that pretty story of Adam, Eve, the serpent and the apple, is only the A B C of their acquaintance with the Bible in all its windings of history, tradition and custom. These earlier races which inhabited the face of the earth. The troubles of Noah, the trials of Abraham, the calling of Moses, the severe lessons and prophecies would, in some instances, cause the ordinary Sunday school scholar no little trouble, unless he were a theological student of standing. But, to the Berlino children, all these things are known as a matter of course. The eldest has been through his Bible several times and recites aloud to his smaller brothers, they, having a memory equivalent to an adding machine, take it all in from time to time and there are browsing upon the green fields of Christendom many frocked specimens of priesthood who would be envied the names of every city they mastered in the manner that these children have.

In the presence of a reporter for The Telegram, the smaller boys alternated in answering any manner of questions about the lives, histories and administrations of all the presidents of the United States, making many mistakes. In order, they name every chief executive this nation has ever known. They give the date of his inauguration, the term of his occupancy of the president's chair and the name of any president at random, according to the number in consecutive order among his fellows. The capitals of all states they appear to know by intuition. The story of their travels, including the names of every city they have visited in the past twelve months, is but a starter. They expect to remain in the city next week.
