GAPON SAYS: "INNOCENT"

Russian Priest Replies to Public Attacks Made

ADMITS GAMBLING

"While Abroad, Out of Curiosity," He Played for Small Stakes at Monte Carlo

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, March 26. -Father Gapon in a mank, open letter today, replies to the attacks on his public and private life, and announced that he has instructed his lawyer, M. Margolin, to bring action for defamaties of character against his detractors and deny the charges of betraying and abandoning a girl while he was in prison. Chaplain Gapon explains his refusing to follow the rule of the orthodox church prohibiting the remarriage of priests, which, he declares, drives the clergy to secret immorality, that he took to his bosom as his wife a girl whom he loved and she is still living

Continuing, Father Gapon declares that of the $15,000 which Premier Witte gave through former Commerce Minister Timiriazeff for the restoration of the Gapon labor organization, he only received $3,500, all of which was used to help the workmen. The remainder, he says, was stolen by Mathusensky, a press agent and the real director of the Father Gapon movement, who was arrested at Saratoff and brought to St. Petersburg for trial. Regarding the charge of gambling at Monte Carlo with "mysterious money"

"During the bloody uprising at Moscow I received money for literary work and while abroad, out of simple curiosity, I played for small stakes. Review of my connection with the workmen's movement will prove that I never was an agent of the government, and that I labor solely in the interests of the workingmen."

When he returned to St. Petersburg he admits that he communicated with Coant Witte, who gave him permission to live here, considering that the work was "constructive and not de-

Gapon concludes with the expression of his firm conviction that history will demonstrate that the "unfrocked pope," lived for his country to the last drop of his blood and died a sentinel over the rights and liberties of workmen and the oppressed.

The letter made a good impression, but Gapon's sincerity is sneeringly attacked by the Russ, which calls Gapon a friend of General Fulton, former chief of police of St. Petersburg and a pensioner of Count Witte.

Emperor Nicholas in receiving a deputation of peasants from Kazan province today employed a new and stronger tone. He said nothing about satisfying the land hunger and spoke only of the inviolability of property, informing the peasants that the recurrence of the Agrarian disorders and the destruction of property would not only be punished in the most severe fashion, but that the communities participating in such disorders would be deprived of the assistance of the present

The papers continue to be filled with rumors of Premier Witte's resignation, which, they say, has been offered to the emperor, but not acted upon.

GUARD KILLED BY NEGRO CONVICT

Missouri Pen Prisoner Then Shot to Death

By Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 26. -This morning when the convicts at the penitentiary were called for breakfast, Guard J. W. Woods of Macon, Mo., was pounced upon by a negro convict and stabbed three times. Woods died instantly. Another guard immediately killed the convict. The convict's name was "Sonny" Anderson, colored, sentenced from St. Louis, 1904, to serve four years for assault to kill.

He has been on what is termed the 'eranky list" for several days and had been kept in his cell. He was let out this morning with the other prisoners, but soon afterward Guard Woods was ordered to put him back into the cell. Anderson refused to obey and, when the guard selzed him by the arm and attempted to force him into the cell, he drew a knife and stabbed the guard three times, killing him instantly.

The other guards and several convicts rushed to the rescue of Woods, Anderson slashing right and left, and severely injured two other convicts.
One of them, Wm. Sheridan, was sentenced from St. Louis to serve ten years for murder, being seriously injured, he will probably die. William Rackwell, sentenced from

On the morning of March 17 last year she left the house, saying she was going to her place of employment, a rag mill near Sixth and Cayuga streets.

She did not return at night and upon inquiring Mrs. Kalin found she had not worked for several days. She called at the mill on the day of her disappearance and drew $6, the wages due her. Her mother thinks she went away because she was dissatisfied with her home surroundings. The family had formerly lived in the heart of the city, where Louisa enjoyed many pleasures, and the girl often expressed her dislike for her new home in the unbuilt-up portion of Olney.

The approximate number of thes living at present is estimated at 125. The object of this census is to supply the secretary of the interior with information on which to make the allotments, in case the Stephens bill, providing for the opening of 500,000 acres of Indian pasture lands belonging to these tribes, should become a law, with the amendments recently proposed. The Indians will have one township of the big pasture set aside for their own cattle and Chief Parker will recommend that the allotments for Indian babies be selected in this tract, in order that cattle may have pasture lands after all other lands have been disposed of. There are. about 5,000 Indian cattle pastured there at present.

LOOPHOLE FOR OIL TRUST MEN

Judge Humphrey's Decision May Be Taken as Precedent

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 26 .-There will be no appeal by the government from the decision of Judge Humphrey in the cases against the beef packers. It generally is believed such course would be of no avail.

This is the net result of a series of conferences held last week by the President and Attorney General Moody, the President and Commissioner Garfield, and the President and Senator Knox, former attorney gen-

A development of far greater consequence, however, was the confirmation of the view that if Judge Humphrey's decision is good law there can be no successful prosecution of the Standard Oil and the anthracite coal trusts. Commissioner Garfield told the attorney general he had observed the same methods in his investigation of these trusts as in the beef trust cases. It is possible prosecutions may be, initlated, but the tendency of courts is to rely upon a precedent already established, whether that be good or bad law. No one believes consequently there is the slightest hope of putting in stripes any of the army of officials who have been guilty willfully of violating the law and whose punishment is sought by the President because of his desire to deter the continued observance of criminal prac-

No Loophole for Other Offenders But while the officials of the trusts hus far investigated probably will escape punishment, it is not intended by the government to provide loopholes for the officials of other combinations. Witnesses themselves will enjoy immunity, but no others. In this way it will be possible for the department of justice to punish persons who, if the methods heretofore pursued were followed in the investigation of their corporations, yould secure the benefit of what Attorney General Moody described as an 'immunity bath."

LIKE THE OLD JOKE Explanations About Killing Women and Children by Troops

Speigl to The Telegram

WASHINGTON, March 27 .- "There is one thing about these explanations of the killing of women and children at Mount Dajo," said Representative Burleson of Texas. "They certainly cover the ground. First it was explained by General Wood that the killing of women and children was unavoidable because they mixed up with the men in the hand-to-hand fight. Then General Wood explained that no women and children were killed at all, but that the whole story originated in the imagination of reporters at Manila. Now Mr. Ide explains that women and children were killed, but not in the handto-hand fight; they were unavoidably shelling.' "General Wood has certainly been a close reader of Joe Miller's joke book. You remember the celebrated case of the borrowed kettle, which plaintiff alleged was found to be broken when returned. The defendant's answer, according to Mr. Miller, was threefold:

"First, that defendant never borrowed said kettle from plaintiff.
"Second, that said kettle was broken when defendant borrowed it.

Changes in Election Law Declared Only Purpose of Meeting

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, March 26 .- The special session of the Texas legislature convened at noon today, in response to call issued by Governor S. W. T. Lanham, made for the purpose of correcting section 120 of the Terrell election law. There were present nearly three-fourths of the members of the upper and lower houses of the law-making body and it is the general opinion among these, from what can be learned by your correspondent, that the session will probably not last longer than two weeks at the outside. There is a disposition on the part of the members to finish the business for which the governor called the meeting and get home quickly. It is also the prevailing opinion that the members will have disagreement as to whether they shall serve without pay or receive full per diem and mileage

Regarding the blanket primary question, there are various opinions to be heard among the solons. There see to be a disposition on the part of the senators to choke a bill for this purpose off, the same as it was done at the last session

In the lower house, the preponder, ance of opinion appears to be favoring a passage of a blanket primary bill. It is hardly possible that this will be done, in view of the known opinion among senators against such a procedure. But many of the representatives hold the opinion that there has been a greater change in opinion among the people as to the question of simultaneous primaries than is apparent on the surface. In this event, they argue, there will also be made apparent a vast difference in the opinions of the senators. While it is not thought likely that there will be anything like a full atmany more members are expected tonight and the attendance is now expected to reach something like fourfifths of the members of the legisla-

In order to give an impetus to the board has been divided into twelve parts, one for each committee, and the results and amounts raised by each will be tabulated separately. The board has a large thermometer on one side which is divided into twelve sections, each section being supposed to represent the average day's subscription in order to raise $1,000 for twelve days. Each section will thus represent $83 1-3. Each committee will have a column at the bottom of which will be a thermometer bulb. As the amount grows the stem of the thermometer will be painted in red up-

Twenty-Four Hours

An average velocity of twenty-four miles an hour was reached by the breeze which blew over this city from 7 o'clock Sunday morning until the same time Monday morning. For the first twelve hours of that time the average was twenty-five miles an hour, 200 miles of wind passing over the station of the weather bureau. During the last twelve hours the velocity was not as great, 280 miles, or twentythree miles an hour, passing. The highest velocity during the day was thirty-six miles an hour. This comes near to the record for twenty-four consecutive hours here. Observer Landis stated this morning that the 580 miles was approximately twenty miles less than the greatest amount for any twenty-four hour period since he has been at the Fort Worth office. The maximum temperature in Fort Worth Sunday was 77 degrees, and on Saturday it was 78 degrees. Fair weather is reported over almost all Texas. Pure Food Violations Said to Be in Line for Investigation

The grand jury for the Seventeenth district court, which adjourned over a week ago to reconvene Monday morning, did not get together until 2 p. m. because of the non-arrival of several jurors. At this session the work will be taken up where it was left off a week ago, and it is said there will be a thorough investigation of food adulterations and the practice of barratry in which Judge Mike E. Smith called special attention in his recent charge to the jury.

Other business has accumulated since the grand jury adjourned, and this will also be looked after.

John F. Lehane, general freight and passenger agent of the Cotton Belt and representative of the Eighth ward in the city council, is sending out circulars to "All concerned," inclosing a copy of the ordinance presented and adopted by the Fort Worth city council, Feb. 19, 1906, covering license and regulation of ticket brokers.

The circular states that this ordinance has been pronounced one of the best, legally and otherwise, by eminent authorities and will obtain resuits desired by those concerned. It is further stated, however, that it should be remembered that this ordinance is not valid and cannot be enforced only in cities whose charters specifically provide that the city authorities have power to regulate ticket

This is taken to indicate that there will be a campaign inaugurated to secure the insertion of a clause in the city charter which will specifically authorize the city of Fort Worth to regulate ticket brokers. It has been known that the general passenger agents proposed to take further action in the matter, but it was not definitely known just what course of procedure they would adopt.

Fast Mail Train

It is reported that the Cotton Belt fast mail train is to be taken off after March 31. When asked about the report John F. Lehane, general freight and passenger agent of the road, stated that he had not heard of it and that he could not speak with authority regarding the matter.

VANDALS WORRY POWER PLANT

Appeal Made to the Police Department

Mr. Cooper-You think you are smart, but revenge is sweet."

This note was thrown into the plant of the Citizens' Electric Light and of the Citizens' Electric Light and Power company Saturday night, and, SEWER PIPE TO as it follows a series of depredations by vandals, it is considered a threat that further damage is to be expected unless precautions are taken. William Cooper, engineer at the plant called at the police station Monday and made application for a commission as a special officer that he might be able to act quickly in the event he discovers the persons who are committing the depredations. "A number of things have been done which would have caused serious results, but for discovery. One act was to cut the oil off of the engine while it was running," says Mr. Cooper. "I had gone above at the time."

he says, "but fortunately returned very quickly to find the engine smoking for tack of oil. Another thing that would have done much damage was the sprinkling of glass where the big belt would run against it when it started. This was discovered and moved before the belt struck it. New brushes have been taken away and on one occasion, just a week ago Saturday night, some one shot out a light with a pistol. One of the oilers was only about ten or twelve inches from the light when the shot, which struck a globe was fired." Mr. Cooper says that he fears the vandals will resort to something more desperate, and commit some other de-Familiarity Shown Mr. Cooper says that whoever is committing the crime must be familiar with the workings of the plant and with the habits of the men.. The dog which guards the building will not allow a stranger to enter, and when one of the entrances to the plant was effacted, the dog was near the window at which entry was made. Other features connected with depredations point to the men having knowledge of the plant. "I have no fears for my own safety," said Mr. Cooper, "as I have been about the plant at all times of the night, having the plant in charge at night and have not been personally molested, but it seems to me that it is time the vandalism is stopped."

TRADE EXCURSION LIST INCREASED

Action to Be Taken at Board of Trade Meeting

Interest in the proposed trades' excursion to be run by Fort Worth is reviving. Two more business men agreed to send representatives Monday morning, making sixteen in all.

Captain B. B. Paddock of the Board of Trade said Monday that the matter would come up at the meeting of the board of directors of the board of trade Tuesday afternoon, and if possible the excursion will be pushed through to a

Territory Threatened The matter of a trades' excursion is of the highest interest to Fort Worth. Such tripe proved se successful at other cities that they have been con tinued year after year. This year Dallas is sending such an excursion right into Fort Worth territory west of here. In the opinion of many of the merchants of the city, the trades' excursion is the best drummer for trade that there is, and unless Fort Worth is willing to undertake such a trip, the merchants of the city might as well give up hopes of holding what trade they have from several sections of the state and territories, instead of gaining new points of advantage, the mere fact that Dallas considers an excursion to West Texas, where Fort Worth has always held supreme, is enough for several merchants to try this plan of action.

Those taking a leading part in urging the trip say it is recognized that the merchants of the towns visited when they do visit Fort Worth do not meet all the merchants of the city whom it would be to their interest to meet, and while the salesmen of Fort Worth make their regular trips through the territory covered by this excursion the effect is not the same as that caused if the wholesalers themselves meet the merchants. It is hoped through this excursion to establish friendly and cordial relations between the wholesalers and the merchants, which will bring them into closer touch and be for its mutual benefit.

They point out that it is a matter of importance to the city each time a new customer, is obtained for the city and such an excursion as is planned will undoubtedly bring numbers of new customers to Fort Worth and will thus add to the wealth of Fort Worth. It will result in building up a wholesald trade here ultimately and quickly, which will be far ahead of the present wholesale trade. The railroads and their facilities of this city will aid naturally in this plan and all that it needs for a great number of the out-of town merchants to come here is to meet them and induce them to give Fort Worth a trial.. A personal meeting will do more than a number of letters written to the would-be customer

BE MADE HERE

Preliminary Tests Now Being Conducted

Captain Paddock of the Board of Trade received an encouraging letter Monday morning from James L. Fulton, president of a sewer pipe company ing the state looking for a location, in which he states that he will be in Fort Worth again within a few days and if the clay located near this city proves of sufficient depth to warrant the establishment of a plant here, he will probably come here with his associates. The report contained in the letter is very favorable. As soon as Mr. Fulton and his associates arrive they will be taken to the various clay properties where holes will be bored in order to show the depth of the clay. Work has already been started upon two of the properties shown Mr. Fulton on his former visit here a week ago in order to show how deep the clay runs. In writing of the concern which wishes to locate in Texas Mr. Fulton says that the output of the plant will be about 1,200 cars of sewer pipe a year, or about three cars every day. The clay of this locality has been tested and has proven to have the right qualities for sewer pipe manufacture and it only remains to see if the layer is of sufficient depth to warrant the transfer of the company's plant to this

President Fulton and other members of the company have been touring the state for the past two weeks looking at clay beds, and have visited many of the principal cities of the state in search of a suitable location for their

Three samples of clay have already been taken and sent for tests to Chicago and St. Louis. These have been returned with favorable reports and are now on exhibition at the Factory

Several bills looking to the amendment of section 120 were introduced. In the house, Representative Kennedy introduced one. Representatives rBown of Karnes, and Harris of Galveston, introduced bills for correction of section 120, and one also introduced by Representative Bount. All were referred to committee. The fireworks began in the house just before adjournment was taken. when Representative H. B. Terrell of McLennan introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a committee consisting of Representatives Aldridge, Yancy, Holmes, Marsh and Bryan, to make an investigation of enrollment of election law at the last regular session.

Representative Bresford favored the resolution. He said it had been charged that fraud had been practiced and legislature should clear itself of that charge. Representative Cobbs strenuously opposed the resolution. He said it would be a reflection on the legislature. He declared no crime had been committed by the lawmakers that needed investigation. Representative Shannon favored the resolution and the house recessed to 3 clock with the resolution pending.

In the senate Senator P. B. Storm, of Caldwell county, sworn in from Caldwell. He is a new member. ## BURGLAR TRIES TWO RESIDENCES

Escapes Bullets Fired by an Awakened Householder.

Two shots in quick succession disturbed the slumbers of the Louisiana street residents about 2:15 o'clock Monday morning. This aroused the neighborhood and investigation developed the fact that the shots had been fired by George Winston of 1112 Louisiana avenue, who had aimed at a burglar at close range.

Mr. Winston was awakened by his wife, who said that she heard someone trying to get in the back door, and after listening a few moments, he became satisfied that someone was trying to pry open the door. He armed himself and quietly turned the lock and threw open the door right in the burglar's face. The man ran and Mr. Winston fired twice, but failed to hit him as far as he could learn. The screen door opened outside and this bothered him a little in getting an aim, but he thought that he had his man. The burglar had cut through the outside screen door and was endeavoring to break open the inner door with some sort of an instrument when Mr. Winston heard him.

Further investigation in the neighborhood developed the fact that the residence of Andrew McCampbell, deputy collector of United States revenue. at 1114 Louisiana avenue had also been tried by the burglar, who failed to effect an entrance. Here he had also broken open the screen door and had tried to force the inner door open with some instrument, just as he did at the residence of Mr. Winston. Mrs. McCampbell says that she heard the man come in the gate and heard the gate slam and also heard him come up on the back porch and try the door. She declares that he did not seem to be a regular burglar because he apparently made no effort to keep from being heard. She was awake and debating the question of whether to call her husband when the shots were fired next door. She had made one effort to waken Mr. McCampbell, but he had not awakened and she had made up her mind to wait until the man tried a window before she called her husband. When the shots were fired next door she called Mr. McCampbell, who was recently a candidate for city marshal, and told them that there must be a burglar in the neighborhood. He armed himself and tried to aid Mr. Winston, but by this time the fleet-footed burglar had made his escape. Police officers were notified and are

The forthcoming production at Greenwall's opera house Wadnesday matinee and night, March 28, is a decidedly novel one, says the press agent. Its significant title "What Women Will Do," ought to appeal to all classes of people who like sweet moral plays, that uplift the public taste instead of degrading it. This new drama paints a powerful picture of modern life. The scenes are laid in the country and in the city. The piece is full of startling climaxes, nover scenes, quaint, homely humor and tender pathos, and the stage pictures are beautiful, especially the village church and grave yard in winter, which is seen in the third act. A brilliant cast of players, together with a number of the specialties, are some of the features of this beautiful play.

"Monte Christo" With James O'Neill Commenting upon James O'Neill's farewell tour in "Monte Christo," whose Fort Worth period occurs at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, March 29, the New York Herald said

"This is supposed to be Mr. O'Neill's farewell appearance in this role and this is to be regretted. The popularity of the play and the excellence of Mr. O'Neill's acting are a good reason for a public demand that, like Madame Patti, Mr. O'Neill make several fare-

These pictures are given with the popular sound effects, lending thrilling realism to the subject. Among Singer's monkeys is one ape that rides and guides his own wheel, without any assistance. He makes as many moves with the machine as a human being, steering it in figure eights and circles and around objects on the stage. The wheel is wheel is completely covered with chairs by Professor Singer, who leaves the baboon to remove the debris set the wheel in an upright position mount the machine and proceed on his way. The exhibition is a wonderful proof of monkey intelligence.

Count de Butz and brother not only perform some remarkable exploits on the wheel but they invest the entire performance with side-splitting comedy effects. Lizzie Wilson is the funniest woman appearing alone on the vaudeville stage. Her singing of "Schnitzelbank" is especially good. Arthur Rigby stands alone in his fine monologue. ### THEE SPECIAL SESSION

The legislature of the state of Texas is in session at Austin this week in response to the call of the governor for the specific purpose of correcting a defect in the Terrell election law. Under the laws of this state the work of the legislature must be confined to the one object outlined in the governor's official call, but there has been made manifest a disposition to take up several phases of the election law, including the matter of a blanket primary, and The Telegram, believing there is no law for such action, and considering it the duty of the legislature to waste no time in windjamming, has advised the members that it is a duty they owe to the people to defer to the governor's wishes by confining their deliberations to the one object embraced in the official call. State Topics, a weekly paper published at Austin primarily in the interest, apparently, of Colquitt for governor, takes exceptions to The Telegram's suggestion and says:

Nothing hardly surprises us in politics, and much amuses us. The Fort Worth Telegram, a paper that usually displays more than average judgment, comes out seriously and says: "The governor is opposed to any consideration of the blanket primary idea during the special session of the state legislature, and members of the body should defer to his views." In other words, the legislature, at is special session, should do nothing that will not assist the governor's favorite in the race for chief executive. And as this is the first time the governor has ever been known to take an interest in the candidacy of another, perhaps The Telegram feels that it is not asking too much when it requests the legislators to defer to the governor's wishes in this "little" matter and permit the unselfish man to make good. Of course, the people have an interest in this affair, but why should their interest be regarded when the governor wants to play a game of politics? Would the esteemed State Topics have the legislature proceed in an unlawful manner to consider legislation foreign to the occasion just because it believes or affects to believe that existing conditions are favorable to the candidacy of Judge Bell for governor?

It is rather a far-fetched theory that the Austin paper advances, and its suggestions will meet with but little attention at the hands of the thinking people of Texas. There is no politics in the governor's action, but that fact does not prevent political rooters from making an effort to foment political capital from it. The legislature during the special session should confine itself exclusively to the purpose for which it has been assembled, finish its labors and go home. And the governor says there is nothing in the situation that requires the presence of the lawmakers in Austin for a period longer than four days.

TEXAS AN UNDIVIDED HERITAGE

According to press reports from Beaumont, a movement is to be started at the special session of the state legislature in Austin next week having for its object the division of Texas into four states. And this may be the animus behind the movement indulged in by some of the south Texas papers in endeavoring to promote a feeling of sectionalism. They are too quick down in that portion of the state to impute ulterior metives to north Texas in everything the north half of the state tries to do, and while they may be wholly innocent of any sinister designs, the report coming from Beaumont would seem to indicate that there is a hen on. The idea of dividing Texas into several states is not a new one. Under the terms of the compact by which the republic of Texas entered the American union it was stipulated that there should be such division when in the judgment of our people it became necessary or desirable, and that priv- crop.-Charleston News and Courier.

ilege has long caused greedy political oyes to sparkle when contemplating Texas. Five states out of Texas territory would mean ten United States senators instead of two, as at present, and there are more than ten men in Texas who would agree to the division in exchange for the senatorial toga. But the people of Texas are not yet ready to sacrifice the honor and glory of their state as a whole in order to obtain a fancied political advantage. They are standing for the present Texas, which must continue and will continue an undivided heritage.

Even at the national capital the idea of dividing Texas into five new political divisions continually appeals to the mind of the poli tician. In the debate on statehood a few days ago Congressman Klepper of Maine said Texas could be divided into five states, each of which would be as large as the state of Maine. Congressman Jack Beall of Ellis county replied to that suggestion, and he voiced Texas sentiment to a nicety in that reply. Congressman Beall said in part: If area alone were considered, Texas could be divided. You could divide her forests and her prairies, her mountains and her valleys; but there are some things about Texas you cannot divide. There is her Alamo-greater than the Thermopylae of old. The babes of Texas have been taught to lisp the names of Travis and Crockett and Bowie and the others who died there. The Alamo belongs alike to all, and no son of Texas would be so unworthy as to surrender his. claim to it. There is Goliad and there is the field of San Jacinto. In dividing Texas could these battlefields be divided also and their glories parceled out to different states? There is the memory of Houston, of at the office, Eighth and Throckmorton streets, Fort | Austin, of Burleson, of Rusk, of Albert Sidney Johnston, of Roberts, the "Old Alcalde;" of Reagan, the "Grand Old Man," who loved Texas and who was beloved of Texas, and a great host of other illustrious ones. Can such memories be weighed and measured and apportioned to different sections? The soldiers who went from Texas homes mingled in the tumult of every great battle of the war between the blue and the gray, and they slept upon every field from Gettysburg to the Gulf. Will anyone be found who is so base as to give up the memory of their deathless deeds? No, Mr. Chairman, to give up any of these to one section would be to impoverish all others. They belong to Texas-to all of Texas, and not a part of Texas. They were given to us by the fathers ,and we must hand them down to our children. They belonged to Texas in her weakness; they must be hers in her strength. They comforted and blessed her in her night of sorrow, they must adorn her in her day of triumph.

THE MAN WITH THE HOG LEG

Human life is held too cheaply in Texas. That is a proposition upon which all thinking men readily agree, but how to remedy the situation is a problem that does not appear to be of easy ascertainment. The new pistol 334 Main street; Globe News Depot, 260 Main street; | law is doing some good in that direction, especially where officers charged with the enforcement of the law are imposing the extreme penalty, but the fact still remains that the bark of the six-shooter is too frequently heard in Texas, and too many men are left free to walk the face of the earth with a hog eg stuck conveniently under their coat tails. Members of the state legislature have given much thought to this problem, and even yet it is receiving a considerable measure of attention. Representative Cobbs, of San Antonio, has some very pronounced views on the question, together with a plan of action. He says:

> Ever since the command came ringing down from Mount Sinai, "Thou shalt not kill," man has been steadily trying to legalize murder, classifying it into many degrees and shades and throwing the protection of the so-called law around the so-called brave and heroic slaver. Here comes the "pistol toter," who on the slightest provocation, with the speed of lightning, thrusts his hand to his pistol pocket to kill or intimidate his adversary, and this poor fellow thinks he is brave. So he is with whisky and deadly weapons. These firearms cannot be run out of the state by quarantine measure as you can yellow fever, far more dangerous to society, or excluded like the Chinamen, but such a tax can be placed upon the traffic as will make it prohibitory as nearly as possible

Let the dealer pay a heavy tax, preserve the name of every buyer and report such name to the county collector, sheriff and city collector and chief of police, and make him pay county and city license-let the possessor pay a heavy tax when found with one in addition to the penalty imposed for unlawfully bearing it. Roy Bean, the dispenser of justice out west, knew what to do with pistols when found on the per-The law taxes high the fellow who purchases unearned wages. Which of the two is more obnoxious to public good? All kinds of property is taxed, merchants are taxed, and so on.

The suggestion of placing a heavy tax on the dealer in hog-legs is a good and timely one, and when considered in connection with the suggestion that the name of every purchaser must be reported to the sheriff and tax collector, the plan seems an unusually good one. When men realize the fact that the owners of these things must be made public, and they must pay a big state and county tax for the privilege of owning a six-shooter, without the right to lug it about on their person, the number of gun packers will soon show a gratifying decrease in Texas.

Of course, this suggestion will give rise to the complaint that fire arms are necessary on all premises for protection. But that phase of the situation can be easily remedied with the shotgun. Shotguns are really more effective for use in an emergency than a sixshooter, and men cannot conveniently wag around shotguns concealed upon their persons. The man who carries a shotgun has to get out into the open.

The next big convention that must be brought to Fort Worth after we entertain the medical gentlemen of the state, is the state democratic convention, held to nominate state officers. No other city in Texas affords a better location for this meeting, and there should be no abatement of the effort to obtain it.

The Fort Worth friends of Judge C. K. Bell have organized for the campaign, and will go actively to work in his interest. There should be no half-way compromise about this matter, but energetic and enthusiastic work until the expected nomination has been se-

There is nothing in the Terrell election law to prevent any candidate for office from expressing himself on any public issue, and no one knows it better than the candidates who are endeavoring to dodge issues by hiding behind the law.-Beaumont Journal.

There is so much about the Terrell election law that it is not generally comprehended. It is a very easy matter for the designing politician to take refuge behind its ponderosity.

A jury in Tarrant county recently fined a man $300 and sixty days at hard labor for loaning or advancing money to another man to pay his poll tax. If the same law by which this man was convicted should be rigidly enforced over the state a great many others would have to pay the penalty.—Gilmer Echo.

And that law should be rigidly enforced all over the state. Laws are placed on the statute books for general observance, and where officers fail to enforce them they should be held to a strict accountability. . . . .

The force of habit is so strong with some men that they will hang around a public hydrant and almost starve for water, waiting for some one to come up and ask them to "have a drink."-Austin Tribune. It is not water for which this class is starving. The drink they crave is of a different nature. * * * *

The high price of lumber is causing the people of Texas to turn to other building materials as far as possible, and the result is that substantial buildings are going up in the place of frame structures which answered the purpose when lumber was cheaper.

. . . . The Fat Stock Show which began in Fort Worth yesterday, is said to be one of the best ever held in the state. At no time in the history of Texas has there been a deeper and more widespread interest in fine stock than at present. In Collin county this was amply demonstrated in the interest taken in the fine stock and poultry show to have been held here last winter, and augurs success for the Collin County fair to be held next fall .- McKinney Gazette.

The Fat Stock Show held in this city last week proved very conclusively that the stockmen are keeping proper step to the march of progress. Never was there before seen such an exhibit of fine stock in the southwest.

that he does not desire that prohibition should be made the exclusive issue in the present campaign for governor. Colonel Tom need not worry; the candidates are themselves going to prove somewhat of issues ere this race is finished.-Austin Statesman.

Colonel Campbell is right in not desiring that prohibition should be made an issue in the present campaign. There is no reason in the world why candidates or people should worry over this question .- Fort Worth

However, if one reads the papers of the state he will find that they are worrying over this prohibition question as they are worrying over no other question. It is strange that this should be so, but it is so, if we are to judge from the expressions in the papers and from the stump. Local option is provided for in the organic law of the state. It is there, and it will not be blotched out. Hundreds of localities in the state are working under it. Their right to do this will not be curtailed. No great element of citizenship has presented or threatened to present a constitutional amendment for a prohibition provision in the constitution. The people who went through the campaign for such amendment some years ago will remember that time and will not be anxious for another period of bad feeling to come. This can be said of some prohibitionists as well as of some antis. To be sure, here and there may be found individuals who are opposed to local option laws in toto. True, men can be found who want the state to become a prohibition state by virtue of an amendment to the constitution. But, all in all, the people appear to be fairly well satisfied with the way in which the liquor question is being dealt with. Complaints come of the non-enforcement of the local option laws. They should be against officials and not against the law, because the officials enforce the law and the law can not enforce itself. The remedy is easy, and that is to discharge at the elections the officials who will not do their duty. With laws providing for local option and with localities operating under them, with state prohibition as a policy not desired by many of the people, it would look as if there were not much in the whole subject of the regulation of the liquor traffic to excite Texans. Yet, it is a fact that the papers and the politicians now talk more about the "liquor question" than about aynthing else. -Dallas News.

THE GARTER AND THE EMPTY STOMACH

Of course, it is right and proper that humanity should view the investing of the emperor of Japan with the Order of the Garter by a representative of King Edward, with respect and humility.

But the whole thing looks as ridiculous as sticking artificial flowers in a peacock's tail.

Things were pretty solemn around the imperial shack at Tokio when Prince Arthur approached. There was dignity in clusters. When everything was ready, and Mutsuhito seemed in a proper frame of mind, we are told that "the prince kneeled on a cushion and buckled the garter around the

Bully! Those 250,000 Japs who are living on acorns and boiled straw in the northern part of Japan are going to be tickled almost into spasms when they hear of this new honor that a king has conferred on an emperor. And Edward Rex is not stingy. So Japan's emperor was also given the gold star, mantle, and velvet hat of the order. In return he decorated the king's messengers with the Grand Cordon of the Rising Sun. And Prince Arthur also got away with the Grand Order of the Chrysanthemum.

It is all right. These titled gentlemen have to do something to kill time. But while they are spending money in chunks on things that seem about as impertant as a tin whistle, one wonders why it doesn't occur to them to confer on the one-hundred-thousandout-of-works in London the Grand Cordon of the Full Stomach, and if it would not be possible for the ruler of Japan to do a little something in the way of a Royal Concession of a Square Meal for the shivering ones in

It might not get into the papers, but it would be remembered generations after some of the gimcracks so dear to royal hearts had crumbled to ashes.

HOGG MEMORIAL EXERCISES HELD

Texas Towns and Cities Honor Former Governor

Memorial services in honor of the memory of former Governor James Stephen Hogg were held Sunday as follows:

At Palestine a program was given in the city hall, at which the Confederate veterans took part and speeches were made by Col. T. M. Campbell, Rev. Gus Garrison, Judge N. B. Morris and Rev. Isaac Sellers. At Nacogdoches a large audience gathered in the high school auditorium to hold memorial services, the speakers being Judge George C. Ingraham, S. W. Blount, Judge V. E. Middlebrook and W. M. Imboden. At the First Methodist church of Will's Point music was rendered and short eulogies given by A. W. Meredith, Major James A. Harris, Prof. O. Rice, Rev. Russell, W. C. Samford, District Attorney W. G. Greer and J. G. Kearby. At Weatherford in the district court room Judge I. W. Stephens, H. W. Kuteman and others spoke.

At McKinney the speakers were Mayor Tom W. Perkins, ex-Senator Henry A. Finch, J. L. Franklin, T. C. Andrews, Hon. John Church, E. W. Kirkpatrick, Dr. E. E. King and S. J. B. Plemmons. Memorial exercises were held at

Corsicana, the speakers being George T. Jester, Richard Mays, Judge Rufus Hardy and Col. A. N. Justiss. At the Marlin memorial Tom Connolly and George H. Carter spoke.

Exercises were held at Waco, at which Major John C. West presided. Services were conducted by Rev. B. H. Dement and Rev. G. Lyle Smith. Waller S. Baker delivered the memorial address and resolutions were presented by Cullen F. Thomas and unanimously adopted. Addresses were also delivered by Judge Sam R. Scott, Geo. C. Robinson, Gen. J. D. Shaw, Capt. M. B. Davis, J. W. Davis and Dr. S. P.

Memorial services were held at the court house in Greenville, at which Major A. H. Hefner presided. John T. Craddock, who had known Mr. Hogg since boyhood, was the first speaker. The following gentlemen made short talks: Senator B. F. Looney, Judge R. D. Thompson, B. Q. Evans, Judge J. S. Sherrill, Judge V. W. Grubbs, S. S. Frazer and William

The people of Hillsboro held memorial exercises under the auspices of the Hillsboro Bar association. Judge R. M. Vaughn presided and the speakers were Tom Ivy, B. Y. Cummings, L. C. Hill, V. L. Shurtleff, Judge W. C. Wear and J. R. Thompson.

At Laredo services were conducted at the Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. B.-G. Thomas. The attendance was large.

Terrell people held memorial services in the large tabernacle. Speeches were made by Judge H. M. Cate, Will L. Sargent and many others from owr

At Decatur Judge E. B. Muse of Dallas spoke in tribute to the dead statesman. He was followed by L. J. Mc-

CARDINALS WIN IN NINTH TURN

Deciding Run Slides Across the Plate --

Despite a strong wind blowing clouds of dust directly across the diamond, the baseball game between the Panthers and the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday was a good game. Twice during the game Fort Worth tied the score, only to drop behind again the last half came in the last half of the ninth inning, when the winning run was nipped at the plate, only to be safe as the ball rolled away from Catcher Erwin. Ort, the new pitcher from Ohio, was in the box, and although he had only arrived the day before and had had but very little practice, he made a good impression, holding the visitors to few hits. He was responsible for the runs in the second inning, although good playing on the part of his team-mates might have shut off runs after he had filled the bases.

First Home Run

The feature of the game was the nome run made by Stanage, who lifted the ball over the new fence for the first time this season. The hit was a fine one and the ball went over the fence a long distance from the foul line, with plenty of room to spare. Loud applause greeted this feat of the former Texas player.

Oscar Stanage is a Texas boy with a short but brilliant career on the diamond, and has just signed with the St. Louis Cardinals. Stanage has been playing with the Stockton, Cal., nine as first baseman for some time and his playing so impressed the Cardinal's manager that he made immediate overtures to the tune of a good round sum.

Exciting Ninth The ninth inning was the exciting one for the fans. Fort Worth started the inning one run behind. handed a drive by Carlton rather slowly and he was safe on first. Cavender was out on a fly to right field. Boles started a swift one to James. Carlton had started to steal, preventing a double play, and Boles was thrown out at first. With two out Erwin drove a hard one to James, who threw a little wild, so that when Stanage caught the ball his foot was off of the bag. Before he could recover Erwin had passed him and Carlton had gone home from second. Salm then lined out a single, but Erwin was caught on the play, trying to make

Winning Run With the score again a tle, the fart, many of whom had started home, again settled down to watch the extra innings now anticipated. Their dreams were cut short, however, as the Cardinals did the same thing that happened in the last half of the tenth inning Saturday. Raub landed a safe hit: Spade sacrificed and the next man singled, sending the winning run in by a chance as Erwin dropped the ball in tagging his man at the plate. Whiteman made a beautiful throw from center field after fumbling the hit.

The score Sunday was as follows: FORT WORTH. AB. R. BH. PO. A. E Carlin, 3b..... 4 Cavender, If ..... Boles, ss.... Ervin, c. ..... Whiteman, cf... Clayton, 2b.... Johnson, rf..... Ort, p. ..... 2 Wicker, p. .... 1 Totals .....32 3 3 *25 8 3

TEMPLE WINS CUP

Game for Cotton Belt Trophy Results in Score of 12 to 3 Special to The Telegram

TEMPLE, Texas, March 26 .- Temple fans had their first real opportunity today of witnessing the performance of the team that Edens and Con Lucid has gotton together to contest for the Texas league pennant and they are greatly tickled over the showing made in the game agamst Cleburne today, the latter falling an easy victim. The game-was one of the series being played for the Cotton Belt cup and was witnessed by a good sized audience. There is no doubt that Temple has the material for a crackerjack club and Lucid is putting the players through a process of training that will make of them a compact fighting machine and to be reckoned with in disposing of the pennant.

Lucid's' men get up and go; they move as if they had important business to attend to and have wings to their fet. They can hit at will and make hits count for runs. McCully at second, Kelley catch, Mallroy, short, Yoke third and Sullivan left are particularly promising, intelligent, heady players and Lucid has a right to entertain high hopes for his bunch. Ben Shelton, Alken. Dickson. Powell, Poindexter and Mitchell, all members of last year's Temple team, appeared to- R. A. ANDERSON. DRUGGIST.

day in Cleburne uniforms and were given a hearty welcome. The game was too one-sided to be intersting, but the fans delighted in seeing the new men swat the leather and play the game. Wait, the Cle-burne pitcher, was touched up consecutively and lively, being hit for four three sackers, two doubles and ten singles. Goehring pitched seven innings for Temple and made a great hit with the fans. Cleburne only found him six times, one a chance home run by Poindexter, which was misjudged in the field, going over the fielder's head and letting in two runs.

Declared Representative of People's Instincts

The people of Fort Worth paid tribute Sunday to the memory of former Governor James Stephen Hogg, as a man, as a citizen, and as a patriot, the exercises at Greenwall's opera house being attended by fully 500 people. The program included brief adappropriate musical numbers.

dresses by well known citizens and ap-The Hogg memorial service meeting was called to order by Colonel R. M. Wynne. He spoke of his long and intimate acquaintance with Governor Hogg, than whom, he said, there never lived a truer man. "No man who ever served the people of Texas," he said, "was ever honored as James S. Hogg is being honored by the people of Texas today; and if he were here and could hear what is to be said in praises of the great measures he advocated while living, it would be more gratifying to him than any panegyric that may be pronounced. He was ninently a man of the people and in closer touch with all the people of Texas than any public man in the history of the state. His private life was without a stain, his public career was characterized by patriotism and honesty, and his love for Texas and the people, Texas stood high above personal considerations. He was a statesman, a pure man and a patriot."

Colonel Wynne briefly reviewed the life of Governor Hogg from boyhood to his death, pointing to his record as justice of the peace, auditor, county attorney, district attorney, attorney general and governor, and then reviewed his life as a business man after his retirement from public life. Following Colonel Wynne, Professor Hemphill rendered "Heaven is My Home" and Rev. Alonzo Monk preached the memorial sermon closing it on three passages of scripture: "A good name is better than prethan great riches; and loving favor rather than silver and gold." "A good name is better than precclous ointment and the day of death than the day of one's birth." "Behold the day a prince in Israel has fallen." The sermon followed the lines of Colonel Wynne's remarks and was eulogistic of Governor Hogg as a man, a Christian, and a soldier. Judge W. P. McLean followed Rev. Alonzo Monk, what he said being based on personal knowledge of Gov-

Mayor Powell was followed by T. T. D. Andrews, Judge B. R. Webb, Joseph S. Myers and B. B. Paddock, the latter being introduced by Colonel Wynne as a man, who, while he differed with Governor Hogg on his political ideas, came to speak of him as a man, a citizen and as a patriot, whose love for his state rose above all other earthly considerations, and that was the text of Mr. Paddock's address, his tribute to Governor Hogg as an individual and an honest man being marked by the greatest sincerity. Colonel W. H. McGaughey, land commissioner under Governor Hogg was not on the list of speakers, but being in the audience by request he delivered a brief eulogy referring to the man as he knew him in life. "Rock of Ages," Governor Hogg's favorite hymn, was rendered, followed by the benediction by Rev. J. B.

Trading Light but Tone Shows Improvement-Reading Continues Market Leader

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 26.-The stock market, after opening quiet with prices rather irregular, developed a firm tone before the middle of the session, and during the day a majority of issues showed substantial gains. There was nothing in the day's news calculated to influence prices in either direction and transactions were again on a small scale, the absence of selling pressure being the principal reason for the advance in prices. Reading was again conspicuous by reason of its tendency to lead the list in the upward movement. Although there was no buying worthy of particular mention in this issue, no one evinced a desire to sell, owing to reports from good authority to the effect that the prospect for the adoption of the 1903 wage scale by the operators was more promising than at any time during the conference, and the stock displayed a strong undertone at all times, moving upward gradually and eventually touching a level over 2 points from Saturday's finals. One of the features of the early trading was the entire absence of selling pressure in Consolidated Gas, this being the first time for several weeks that such a condition has existed. On the other hand there was good buying of this issue, which, helped along by liquidation from the short interest, effected an advance before midday. Smelter played an important part in the day's roceedings, being about the strongest sue in the list. A. C. P. also attained a sharp advance, which gave rise to the rumor that there would be an increase in the Anaconda dividend rate at the meeting of the directors which will take place tomorrow. Sales to noon 225,400 shares. The general list developed more strength in the afternoon and all issues reached the highest. Reading attained a net gain of 4% points, while A. C. P. and Smelter sold almost 3 points above Saturday's finals and the balance of the list showed gains ranging from a substantial fraction to over a point in proportion. The close was firm.

Captain John T. Lytle, secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association, Monday afternoon received a telegram from Congressman Stephens of the Thirteenth Texas district, saying that the house committee had reported in favor of giving the secretary of agriculture power to extend the time of the 28-hour law. It was reported during the convention of the Cattle Raisers' association last week that an effort was being made by opponents to hold the matter in the committee with the idea of preventing action at the present session of congress.

Report by the committee is taken as a clean-cut victory for the measure.

Wheat Prices Exhibit Early Strength, But Weaken Under Selling Pressure-Corn and Oats Lower

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., March 26 .- The wheat market encountered a purely rofessional trade today and only a light volume of that. Owing to the unexpected firmness of the Liverpool market and reports of inadequate supplies abroad, the opening was strong, with prices 1/4 c to 1/8 c above Saturday's finals. Quite a number of local traders bought on the opening and for a time the advance was maintained, but bearish advices from the southwest and selling orders from these, connected with liberal selling of the May option by Breanseau forced the early buyers to unload and the market soon weakened. The visible figures were a disappointment to the bulls, inasmuch as they showed an increase for the past week of 8,000 bushels, against a decrease of 1,176,000 bushels for the same period last year. This occasioned fresh selling pressure, and prices eased off gradualy, eventually reaching a net loss of %c for the May option and %c for later months. In the last hour some of the shorts took profits and a rally was effected, but was only temporary, as the close was weak, with prices at a net loss of %c to %c. Local receipts, 8 cars. World's shipments for the past week were 9,362,000 bushels, against 9,728,000 bushels last weeks and 9,774,000 bushels for the same period last year.

The corn market was only moderately active. At the start prices were slightly higher, but there was no buying demand and prices soon weakened in sympathy with the decline in wheat. Final figures showed a net loss of 1/4c to 4c. Local receipts, 328 cars. World's shipments for the past week were 3,258,000 bushels, against 3,180,000 bushels last week and 2,226,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. The visible supply statement shows a decrease of 1,677,000 bushels for the past week, against a decrease of 108,-000 bushels for the corresponding period last year.

Oats was dull, with prices moving in sympathy with wheat and corn. Final figures showed a net loss of 4c to %c. Local receipts, 177 cars. The visible supply decreased 968,000 bushels in the past week, against an increase of 198,000 bushels for the corresponding time last year.

Provisoins Provisions opened easy, with prices lower, in response to moderate selling, which was principally for outside account. The offerings were well taken, however, and moderate buying, believed to be for the packing interests, soon steadied the market and effected a reaction, the close being steady, with pork prices 3c lower, lard unchanged to 2c higher, ribs 2c to 5c higher.

Estimated Receipts Tomorrow Estimated receipts for tomorrow are as follows: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 436 cars; oats, 220 cars.

Seeing smoke rising from a burning trestle on the Texas and Pacific railway west of Stove Foundry early Monday morning R. P. Rudisill of 313 South Calhoun street and B. L. Newell of 113 Bryan avenue hastened up the track and succeeded in stopping west bound freight train No. 292 within a the train crew found six ties of the bridge burned out, the first having evidently been started by a switch engine that had been working on the trestle earlier in the morning. The train was able to cross the trestle without accident, moving slowly, and repairs were begun at Rudisill and Newell were fishing along the Clear Fork when their attention was attracted by the smoke on

NEW ORLEANS, March 26.-The cotton market encountered rather paign. Although this was denied, the fact that bullish activity was confined to the circulation of literature advocating their side of the question instead of fresh buying, was not at all reassuring to the trade as a whole, and | prices were allowed to seek a lower level with but little hindrance. In response to the unfavorable character of the early cables the market opened steady, with prices 1 to 2 No. Ave. Price. points lower. The only important buying which was noted during the day came immediately after the call and resulted in a sharp upward movement, carrying prices to a net gain of 6 to 8

Monday's Review and Sales

The Monday run of cattle was relatively light, the bulk coming in as beef steers. Though the pens showed no steers of a toppy character, fair to medium grades being in the majority, the market ruled fully steady from the

A few loads of southern grassers in fair condition were on the market, and a ten-car string of seedon grass southern steers afterwards warmed up on corn for thirty days brought $4.10. The market was active, packers having liberal orders, and an early clearance was made.

A larger demand for stocker and feeder steers than could be filled was prices on the first call were unchanged | early shown, and buyers turned to thin cows to put on grass. Sales: No. Ave. Price

CHURCHES MAY BE CONSOLIDATED

gations of the First Christian church and the Christian Tabernacle in this city have been considered by leading members of each congregation, and although no official overtures have been made the matter has been actively discussed.

Pastors of the two churches both admitted Monday that union has been under discussion among the members but declared nothing official has as yet Rev. A. E. Dubber, pastor of the Tabernacle church said that he understood the matter had been mentioned between members of the congregations but that there was nothing of an official nature. Rev. R. R. Hamlin, who leaves the pastorship of the First Christian church to enter evangelistic work April 15, also admitted discussion of the union, making the same statement as to official action. The Tabernacle church and First Christian church occupy opposite corners of Throckmorton street at Fifth and Sixth streets. Both have large church buildings and membership Sale of both church properties, in a rapidly growing business section and erection of a new building would probably follow union.

ON THE STAND

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 26 .- The Standard oil inquiry of the state of Missouri was continued today, John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard Oil company, taking the witness stand.

Before answering questions he objected to being sketched by several artists who were in the room. Mr. Archbold said he was vice president of the Standard Oil company.

New Jersey owns stock in both that company and the Standard Oil company of Indiana. He said that N. M. Vanburen is his son-in-law and is now in New York.

Soon after he stated this, a process server who was present left the room. "Who is active head of the Standard Oil company?" asked Attorney General "There is no master mind in Standard Oil company," replied Mr. Arch-bold, raising his voice. "It is made up of an aggregation of individuals. The business is controlled by men, experts in their respective departments. He said: "The answer of the term committee,' as applied to the various boards, is a 'misnomer.' H. M. Tilford, Mr. Archbold thought, is the principal individual in the do-with the Standard Oil company since 1875. He said John D. Rockefeller has no desire to evade any questions. He said that Mr. Rockefeller knows nothing about the matters concerned in this suit. He dislikes (very much) notoriety and cartooning, said Mr. Archbold. "If Attorney General Hadley wants to go to Lakewood and quesmestic board and has been connected tion him, I am sure he will find him willing to answer any questions." "There is only one way to examine witnesses here." The attorney general interrupted, "Only one way?"

NINE KILLED AND TWELVE INJURED

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 26 .-News has been received here that nine men were killed and twelve injured today in a wreck of passenger trains on the Chicago and Northwestern railroad thirty miles west of Casper, Wyo. The wreck is said to have been caused by the washing out of the newly made roadbed, the tracks collapsing and the train being overturned. The railroad bridge at Caspar had been washed out by the spring freshet, it is reported, and no relief can be sent from Caspar to the scene of the wreck.

Message Read at Opening Ses sion of Legislature

TALKS ABOUT TAXATION

Says State Treasury Is Likely to Close Next Fiscal Year on a Cash Basis

Speial to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, March 26 .- Following is Governor Lanham's message to the Twenty-ninth legislature which convened in special session today:

"By an unfortunate error in the enrollment of the bill entitled 'An act to regulate elections, etc.,' which was passed at the special session of the Twenty-ninth legislature in 1905, it appears that there were incorporated. certain provisions which were not in fact adopted, and were not entitled to be recorded as expressing the legislative will and purpose. These provisions so erroneously enrolled, are the first two sentences in section 120 of said bill and are contradictory of what immediately follows in the same section. By their terms, the candidate for any state or district office who receives a majority vote of all the votes cast in any county of the state or district (as the case may be), in the primary election, shall be entitled to the entire convention vote of such county in the convention called to nominate candidates. The next succeeding sentence, the validity and passage of which are not questioned, provides that 'candidates for all state and district offices shall, in the nominating convention, have prorated among them the convention vote of each county in proportion to the vote cast for such candidate in the primary election in such county.' However the error may have occurred, it seems necessary that it should be cor-

"The bill was received in the executive office shortly after the final adjournment of the legislature. It was etained in the hands of the governor for nearly a fortnight and was finally allowed to become a law without his signature. He believed that it contained many desirable improvements upon and useful amendments of the then existing law (the place of which it was intended to take in the statutes), and that it was unwise to destroy by his official disapproval, the ong and earnest work of the legisature in its enactment.

"The public dissatisfaction which has arisen in connection with the error mentioned, the adverse criticism to which it has been subjected and the serious results that may ensue if it shall be permitted to go unchanged and allowed to remain as it t, have been the subject of much disussion and need not be here elaboated. Very many of the members of the legislature have expressed their desire that the necessary correction shall be made, the actual will of the law-makers reflected and that, now for then, shall be accurately recorded the section as it passed. How different The Complete Housefurnishers so ever may be the views of individual senators and representatives concerning the merits and policy of the propositions involved regarding the regulation and conduct of our primary elections and conventions, and notwithstanding some of them may not have approved the changes that have been made in the methods adopted for the government and action thereof, still it would seem that for the sake of the integrity of legislation, they would not resist the correct recording of G. W. HALTOM & BRO., Jewelers what has formerly been deliberately done in their respective bodies. The question is, will the legislature expunge from the transcript of its previous work what was improperly in-We have just received a large and serted and re-write into law what it up-to-date stock of Electric and Comhas heretofore written? #### which may have been formerly taken by any legislator in opposition to the decision of the majority. Urges Expediteness

"I respectfully recommend that section 120, chapter XI, laws, special session of 1905, be so amended as to conform to the language and meaning n which it was finally passed by the legislature. There does not appear to be any good reason why the purpose for which you have been summoned should not be expeditiously ac-

"I deem it appropriate to make a orief and partial statement concerning he condition of the state. As you are aware, there is litigation now pending n relation to certain of the laws enacted on the subject of taxation. What the result of this litigation will be it is impossible to forecast, but I cannot ssume that it will be unfavorable to the state. It is believed that if these laws shall be upheld there will be suficient revenues afforded to meet all obligations upon our treasury under he appropriations heretofore, made; and even if the settlement of the suits which have been instituted should be delayed, or if they should be finally decided against the state, it is noped that in consequence of the increased ad valorem rate of taxation neretofore provided and the considerable addition to taxable values as shown by the last assessments, in connection with other sources of revenue not affected by pending contests in the courts, the arrearage at the end of the present fiscal year will not be as large as has been generally supposed. I do not think it will be much if any, in excess of the sum of $350,-000, and that it may not reach that amount is not improbable. There have been approved some deficiency estimates on account of urgent and unavoidable necessities in our quarantine operations and unforeseen conditions arising in certain other divisions of the public service. These, however, are uite moderate and independent of the

The party arrived at Galveston Sunday morning and was met at the train by the local passenger men and also by Secretary Gardner of the Galveston Business League and by J. W. Pennington, city passenger agent of the Houston and Texas Central at Fort Worth, and as it was the desire that the Galveston agents be only guests, the local part of the arrangements was largely carried out by Mr. Fewell.

Following the boat ride a special car which had been tendered through the courtesy of General Manager Cooper of the Galveston Street Railway Company, was boarded and this landed the party at Woollam's Lake, where the oyster roast had been prepared. Oysters and fish were served in every known fashion and also fish and the railroad men proved themselves the greatest oyster consumers that have ever visited Galveston, according to the statement of the old

After the roast every man was forced to make a speech. No one seemed to listen and the greatest applause was given to Herr Hoffman of the North German Lloyd, who spoke entirely in German. The speeches were insisted upon in a manner which allowed no refusal. ### BURNETT BUYS CATTLE

Registered Stock Added to 6666 Ranch Herds by Owner

Captain S. B. Burnett purchased some fine stock for the 6666 ranch in King county during the last day of the fat stock show, and will send it there at once. He purchased from Jerry Washinfton eighteen head of registered shorthorns, which had been bred in Missouri, and also eleven head of registered shorthorns from S. B. Hovey which had been bred by Mr. Hovey. Captain Burnett also purchased from Charles E. Hicks a jack fifteen hands high, and a Percheron stallion weighing 1,760 pounds.

Captain Burnett has a large number of registered cattle on his ranch in King county and stated this morning that he has as fine a number of registered bulls as any ranch in the state. "I never would have been able to bring in a car load of steers such as I exhibited at the fat stock show if I had not had a fine bunch of registered bulls as I have," stated Captain Burnett this morning.

"Why, the cut outs from that number averaged over 1,600 pounds. I am a thorough believer in high grade cattle and never lose a good opportunity to get cattle such as I had Saturday."
