CONTRIBUTION NOT LARCENY

Opinion on "Yellow Dog" Fund by District Attorney

NEW LAW WANTED

Mr. Jerome Advocates Passage of Statute Making Political Payments Like Theft

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 30.—In the course of his interview published today in which he discusses his actions following the revelations of the legislative inquiry into the subject, District Attorney Jerome advocates the enactment by the present legislature of a law making it larceny for an officer of a corporation to make political contributions from the funds of the corporation. Mr. Jerome has before referred an opinion that such political contributions do not constitute larceny under the existing statutes. On this point he says: "I am of the opinion that it is not possible in any way to justify in the form of a statute the contribution of corporate funds for political purposes. If these contributions do not constitute larceny under the law as it stands, it should be immediately changed by the present legislature by the enactment of a statute so unequivocal in its terms that any officer who is guilty of using its funds for such a purpose would be subject to punishment exactly as if he had stolen these funds. "The shortest way to ascertain what the law on the subject was in the absence of unequivocal instruction from the court to the grand jury was by the procedure which I have adopted, because whatever the decision below may be, an appeal lies to the appellate division and before an appeal is ordered it can be brought up for final determination in the month of April. Because of the unfortunate misunderstanding which has grown up between the court and the grand jury and myself on the subject the plans I had devised were of necessity to a measure changed. I had planned to cast into groups certain transactions, the criminality of which were doubtful, and to obtain a ruling from the court in regard to each of these groups. Each of the groups of transactions was such as was believed by the public at large to be highly criminal and while in one sense it was no part of my duty as a law officer to consider public opinion, it seems to me that a public officer should, when it is possible, make plain to the people at large the motives and reasons which guide and control his conduct. "And I had hoped by the plans which I had formed to make it perfectly clear to the people at large what acts were criminal and what acts were not, and when I had cleared the ground by judicial decision—eliminating these large groups of transactions which are probably not criminal—to have the public at large informed and then attack the remaining acts by an investigation by the grand jury as to whether any, and if any what crimes had been committed. "There never has been for one moment the thought in my mind that the bulk of the transactions condemned by the public at large were not criminal from a moral standpoint, but on the other hand I was not a censor of morals in my official capacity. I was an officer sworn to perform my duty under the law as I found it."

RAILROADS WILL CONFISCATE COAL

Manufacturers Notified That This May Be Done

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, March 30.—Manufacturers on several lines of railroads running out of New York were being notified by circular yesterday that, in the event of a coal strike, coal consigned to the manufacturers would be confiscated and paid for by the railroads, should necessity demand it. There is a national law which permits the confiscation of coal by railroads in certain emergencies. Railroad men in New York are already counting on a possible supply of coal from the non-union mines of West Virginia. In event of a strike the price will greatly advance. Of course, but the supply from West Virginia is looked forward to with a degree of certainty. Complaints were made yesterday by the coal dealers that although the operators were taking orders, they were very backward in filling them. Present Henry Bruen of the Retail Coal Dealers' Association said that the dealers could get no information from the operators to guide them. The third memorial was presented by Senator Culberson and read to the senate. It is asked that the rate bill and expressed a preference for the Hepburn measure, even if it means that the rate bill will be rejected. The petition was accompanied by a letter from Judge Cowan, the association's attorney, who stated that the industry had suffered by reason of exorbitant freight charges. Judge Cowan asserted that the freight rate from Texas had advanced $15 a car within the last few years. "The third memorial was presented by Senator Culberson and read to the senate. LAST CHAPTER IN TEXAS TRAGEDY

Death of Mrs. Faust Recalls Comal County Crime

Special to The Telegram. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 30.—With the closing of the life of Mrs. Pauline Faust, the last chapter of a sensational murder and attempted murder in New Braunfels, and a succeeding assassination in the court room of that town, thirty-four years ago, seems to have been written. Mrs. Faust had lived in San Antonio at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Branch, 305 South Center street, for twelve years. Since the tragedy which left such a bloody mark on the history of Comal county had been blind. Only recently, however, she became feeble. A week ago she was attacked with a gripe. In 1871, William Faust went with his bride to New Braunfels. One year and five days after a young woman who was sleeping beside the bride while the bridegroom was in Seguin for the night was fatally stabbed in the back of the neck. Mrs. Faust opened her eyes and saw the murderer's dirk descending toward her. It was the last scene her eyes ever comprehended. The dirk descended across her throat and she died. Her husband was in the foreground; a third time it sunk into her chest. Next morning the girl was found dead and the bride was unconscious. A relative of the bride accused the husband of being the assassin. The bride, when she regained consciousness, denied that he was guilty. However, he was sentenced to life in prison. He was in the court room an assassin, said to have been hired, fired a bullet through his head. No one else was indicted for the crime; but, according to the story frequently told by Mrs. Faust, something more than a year later a dying dancing master in San Antonio called a lawyer to his bedside and made a confession that he had slain the girl because she had threatened to make him keep his promise of marriage, and had tried to kill Mrs. Faust when she awoke, believing that if he left her alive the crime would be fastened upon him by her testimony. Park Maker Honored. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 30.—In spite of a hard rain one of the largest funeral processions ever seen in this city followed the body of Ludwig Mancke to the cemetery yesterday. Dr. Arthur Rocks, editor of the Texas Banner, and Carlos Bee each delivered an eulogy over the dead. Both made particular reference to his great work in establishing and making beautiful the many parks of San Antonio.

CHICAGO HAS COAL

Prices Will Go Higher, but No Famine in Windy City. By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Ill., March 30.—Chicago dealers and editors of journals in touch with the coal trade last night said the situation will be one of equality. They said there was enough coal on hand to last perhaps six days, and that there would be no serious difficulty in getting the coal during the strike period from the non-union mines in Pennsylvania and the south. They said that prices would be higher, but with one or two exceptions, none of them anticipated a famine, even if the strike should last all summer.

The third memorial was presented by Senator Culberson and read to the senate. At recess the young girl managed to get away from the school grounds unnoticed and gained her home, not far distant. There was no one at home when she arrived. She secured the shotgun and was later found dead with the gaping wound in her left breast and the weapon by her side.

WITTE STAYS FROM COUNCIL

Premier's Health Is Likely to Cause Retirement

RUMORS ARE MANY

Question of Successor Is Far From Settled—Resignation Regarded as Catastrophe

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, March 30.—Since the sitting of the council of the empire, March 19, at which Premier Witte made an enigmatical statement which was interpreted by many members of the council as the virtual declaration that his career as premier was ended and he would be succeeded by Privy Councillor Kokovsov, former minister of finance, the premier has not attended the session of the council and his continued absence has led to the rumors that his retirement will be at an early date. The Associated Press is positively informed that the premier's resignation is based on the grounds that health is before the emperor. This, however, is not admitted at the premier's chambers. The general belief in high quarters is that if Count Witte retires, it will not be M. Kokovsov, but M. Gorenyskin, former minister of the interior, or General Count Ignatieff, leader of the reactionary party, who will succeed him. The combined views of reactionaries is understood to be M. Gorenyskin for premier and General Ignatieff for minister of the interior. The combined views of the liberal party is understood to be M. Gorenyskin for premier and General Ignatieff for minister of the interior. The combined views of the liberal party is understood to be M. (Signed) GEO. F. BAER. It is also stated that at the operators' headquarters neither Mr. Baer nor any other one of the presidents of the anthracite coal carrying railroads, has yet received any word from Indianapolis telling the order of the hard coal miners to strike on Monday.

APPEAL TO PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 30.—President Roosevelt today authorized the publication of the two telegrams received by him last night. One came from John K. Winder, chairman of the Birmingham operators' association, of Indianapolis, and the other was from John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and Francis L. Robbins, the largest coal operator in the Pittsburgh district. The telegram from Winder proposed that the President appoint a commission to investigate all matters which, in the judgment of such commission, had an important bearing on the scale of wages which should be paid to classes of labor in the coal mines of the territory involved. The telegram signed by Mitchell and Robbins takes issue with the statement made by Winder, saying that it does not represent the real facts. They assert that one-half of the total tonnage of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois is produced by the operators who are willing to pay the compromise scale.

ROCK ISLAND WINNER

Gets Mail Carrying Privilege Away from Santa Fe

Special to The Telegram. KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 30.—The Rock Island railroad has won its contest with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road for the mail haul from Kansas City to Wichita and western connections, dispatch from Washington says the Rock Island has been given the "plum." The government does not make contracts with the railroads to carry the mails, but gives the mail to the road that makes the best time. The Rock Island recently put in schedules that gets the Kansas City morning mails to Wichita about twenty minutes earlier than the Santa Fe, so the government has ordered the mail transferred from the Santa Fe to the Rock Island. The train carrying the Wichita mail leaves Kansas City at 7:15 o'clock in the morning. The Colorado mail is carried on the fast train leaving Kansas City at 9:45 at night. The government began weighing mails several weeks ago. By these weights it will determine the compensation to be allowed the railroads for carrying the mail for four years. There has been a sharp contest between the Rock Island and the Santa Fe for the two mail hauls. Both roads have made several changes in their time schedules. Sunday the Rock Island reduced the running time on its fast train between Kansas City and Denver and Colorado Springs.

SON OF THE CZAR REPORTED A MUTE

Correspondents Say Heir to the Throne Is Defective

Special to The Telegram. VIENNA, March 30.—Newspapers here published dispatches from St. Petersburg to the effect that the czar-pretendee, the recently born son and heir of the czar of all the Russias, is deaf and dumb. The dispatches purport to be based on information given by a member of the royal household, but the statements are unequivocal. Many circumstantial proofs are cited in connection. While the infant heir has often been seen in public, only those close to the czar have been close enough to the infant to learn whether or not he was in possession of all his normal faculties. Heretofore it has been the custom to summon all the near relatives of the emperor to the christening of the babe was attended by only the persons who have the unrestricted entry to the palace. The czar is known to have been suffering from great melancholy, which has been attributed heretofore to the outcome of the war with the Japanese, but which is now said to be because of his child's affliction. In former times a male heir to the throne of Russia was always christened in the official newspapers, but beyond the mere mention of the birth there have been no narratives concerning him printed in St. Petersburg.

YOUNG HANGED FOR HIS CRIME

Prisoner Executed Convicted of Murder of Girl

A BRIEF HISTORY

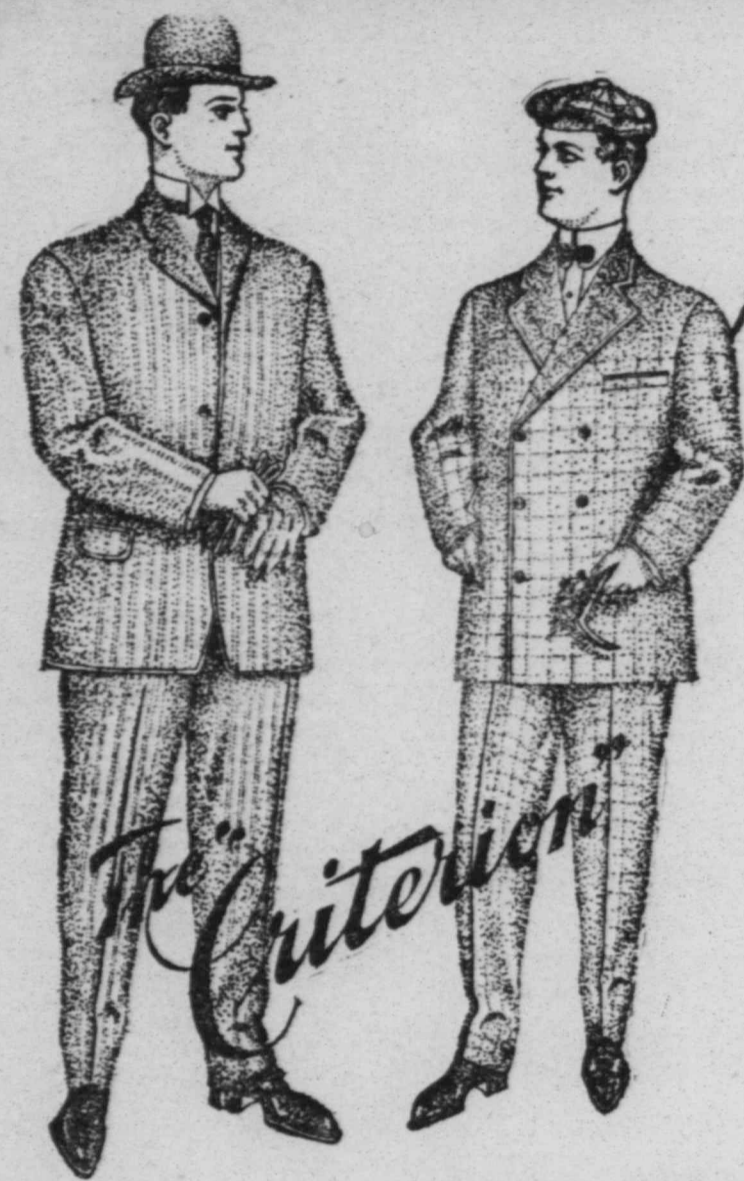

Alma Reece Dies After Being Found Clubbed and Beaten Near Florence

Special to The Telegram. GEORGETOWN, Texas, March 30.—William county jail here today for the murder of his step-daughter, Alma Reece, May Smith, the mother of the girl, whom it is alleged Young married under an assumed name, following his release from the Texas penitentiary from serving fifteen years on conviction of the charge of horse theft, witnessed the execution. Story of the Crime. May 9, 1905, complaint was made before Justice Withers at Florence, Texas, that a man named Tom Young, alias Jack Halley, was beating a girl to death on the Claud Honell place, near Florence. Officers went to the place designated by the court, the girl, who was Alma Reece, but Young was not to be located. The condition of the girl, who was immediately brought to Florence, was pitiful almost beyond description. There were no less than a thousand bruises, cuts and welts over her body. She stated before her death, which followed in a few days, that she had been beaten into insensibility, whipped with chains, knocked about the house with clubs and attacked repeatedly by the man charged with being responsible for her condition, Tom Young. Other witnesses told of the recurrence of these outrages and of hearing her screaming through the night, upon receiving a periodical beating from her veritable master. Young Captured. Young was captured by Shelby Williams and Allen Custard, guards at the county convict camp, who were awakened during the night of his flight from the house where Alma Reece lay dying, but not until he had made stubborn and desperate resistance to being taken. Later, the posse came upon the convict camp and, after inquiry, found that Young had been captured there and taken to the county jail. Young's trial took place in July, resulting in the assessing of the death penalty, and application for rehearing was refused by the court of criminal appeals. The date of the execution was then set for March 30. A few days before his execution, Tom Young said another of the scriptures and announced that he had a confession to make. He told your correspondent that he supposed now that he would die on the gallows. He said he had done with fighting. ### STATE OFFICIALS IN AUSTIN BANK

Senate Committee Holds an Investigation

WILL PREPARE REPORT

Comptroller Stephens Says Deposits Were Made for Convenience in Handling the Funds

SPECIAL TO THE TELEGRAM.
AUSTIN, Texas, March 30.—The senate committee appointed under the resolution of Senator Hawkins to make an investigation of the relations existing between the Capital Bank and Trust company of Austin and J. W. Stephens, comptroller of John W. Robbins, state treasurer, and John T. Smith, chief clerk of the comptroller's department, who are stockholders in that institution.

The investigation was conducted openly and consumed the entire afternoon. The committee will make its report to the senate as soon as possible. Senator Decker was made chairman of the committee and administered the oath to Captain W. H. Richardson, president of the Capital Bank and Trust company; George L. Hume, cashier; Treasurer Robbins and Comptroller Stephens. By unanimous consent, Senator Hawkins acted as examiner.

State Officials Stockholders
Captain Richardson was the first witness called. He was asked how many state officials are directors and stockholders in his bank, and how much stock each held. Captain Richardson following the charter said that State Treasurer Robbins had ten shares, $1,000; Comptroller Stephens, 10 shares, $1,000; John T. Smith, chief clerk in the comptroller's department, 10 shares, $1,000; Brown Cribbins, 10 shares, same value; S. P. Robbins, 10 shares, $500.

In answer to a question, Captain Richardson stated that Mr. Robbins as state treasurer had no stock or account in the bank, but has a private deposit. Captain Richardson said that to a certain extent the bank was used as a place for collection of state accounts.

Captain Richardson admitted that Comptroller Stephens keeps an account in the bank in the name of J. W. Stephens, comptroller. A statement presented showed that J. W. Stephens, as comptroller, had on Tuesday on deposit the sum of $250.00, the same amount having been on deposit the day before. Witness declared he had never solicited subscriptions from any state official, but would like to have some more of them. Senator Hawkins said to the stockholders to put that down that witness "would like to have some more." Witness said no state officials assisted in any way in the organization of the bank.

Comptroller Stephens was placed on the stand. He said he was not opposed to testifying and telling all he knows about his connection with the bank. He stated that he had ten shares of stock amounting to $1,000 and for which he paid $1,000. In answer to a question he said that J. T. Smith, chief clerk of the department also had stock, but did not know how much. Witness had not asked for take stock by J. T. Smith, but he knew he was one of the directors and had been elected without his knowledge. He had not taken any part in selling the deposits, but was glad to see them swelled. He admitted he had money on deposit in that bank as comptroller, but it was checked out every month. He had to deposit the funds of his department once a month with the treasurer, and did so at the end of each month or as soon thereafter as possible, but before doing this he had to have a statement from his chief tax clerk, B. F. Tetter, as to the amount of collections made in the tax department during the month. It was out of the question to make a deposit with the treasurer every day. The amount of depositing the funds of the department in some bank until the end of the month had been done by McCull, Finley, Love and others.

It developed according to the books of the bank that the average balance in the bank to the credit of Comptroller Stephens during the month of February was $4,465, and so far during the month of March the average was $4,145. Captain Richardson was recalled and in answer to a question he said he had never solicited or consulted with any one in the selection of directors for the bank. He had appointed Mr. Stephens, not because he was comptroller or hoped for deposits, but because he knew the comptroller to be a man of honor and integrity. In answer to a question he said that there were some stockholders in his bank who were not depositors.

After some further questioning the investigation was brought to a close and the committee will prepare its report.

came, 'Where is thy brother Abel?' This question stands ever before us, and is often answered now, as it was then, 'Am I my brother's keeper?' In my vivid imagination I was picturing our relation to our fellow man and coming generation, while you were picturing in beautiful language the theme of the Y. M. C. A. its present and its future. I would have you believe that those sentiments expressed I am with you; that the acts and deeds accomplished that count in life, and that success attained through the strangulation of the better and loftier aspirations is worth but little.

"To live upon the earth without a keen and sympathetic feeling for our fellow man would not be worth living. We have been taught 'To give is better than to receive,' and that wealth is but a convenience to aid us in the better performance of our duty to our fellows, and, like yourself, I would rather leave this world as I can find it and be buried beneath the sod of this land we love so well, with nothing to mark our resting place but the falling tears of those who loved us, rather than count our wealth in millions and live for self alone.

"It is my disposition to meet squarely every responsibility laid upon me, shirking nothing.

"I wish you success in your undertaking, and for fear that I haven't given enough, you may double my subscription.

"With kindest regards, I am,
"Yours respectfully,

SURGEON'S TEST TO SAVE PATRICK

Patrick Believes Experiment Will Prove Innocence

Special to The Telegram, NEW YORK, March 30.—Four years after the date on which he was convicted of the murder of William Marsh Rice, the Texas millionaire, Albert T. Patrick's plea that an actual test be made to prove or disprove his contention that embalming fluid and chloroform was the cause of the condition of Rice's body was granted yesterday. It was the office of District Attorney Jerome and not the defense of Patrick, however, who has undertaken the investigation. Several times during the years in which Patrick has sought his case with legal means, disrespected from the death chamber in the Sing Sing prison, the convicted man has begged of condemned prisoners to allow his counsel to experiment on their bodies after death in order to disprove that Rice died from the application of chloroform, as Valet Jones testified, and to prove Patrick's allegation that Rice died of general debility. It was Patrick's contention that

Justice May Resign

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Post says that Associate Justice John M. Harlan of the supreme court of the United States announced to the officials of the New York Avenue and Assembly Presbyterian churches Wednesday night that if the latter would consolidate with the former the nucleus for a fund to build a new building for the two, consolidated churches, he would resign his position on the supreme bench to take personal charge of the work and see that it is successful. Last night the congregation of the Assembly church adopted a resolution for union with the New York Avenue church, with provision for the $25,000 to be used for the new church.

CANDIDATES ADDRESS 400

Interest Shown in North Fort Worth Race

- North Fort Worth and Rosen Heights office of The Telegram is located at 117 Exchange avenue, old phone 3566, where news items, subscriptions, advertisements and complaints of delivery should be left.

About 400 people were present at North Fort Worth school house Thursday night to hear the final speeches of the candidates before election. Candidates for mayor led the list, being followed by the candidates for city attorney, city secretary, marshal and tax collector.

W. D. Davis made the opening address of the evening. During his talk Mr. Davis took up the various things that have been charged against him and told exactly how he stands on every important question pertaining to the affairs of the city. As an illustration of the way he has stood by North Fort Worth, Mr. Davis told of his actions before a members of the equalization board. He declared his stand for the city had cost him a great personal loss on account of the taxes that he was forced to pay by those whose taxes he insisted on raising to a just assessment.

One of the distinct points urged by Mr. Davis was that the city ought to compel corporations to pay the taxes they really owe, and that by so doing the issue of taxes would become unnecessary. This, he urged, would keep the city out of debt.

Improvements Reviewed

Mayor L. G. Pritchard during his address took up the points mentioned by Davis and discussed them one at a time. In discussing these points, Mayor Pritchard told of existing conditions that he was sure were years ago. He told of the rapid growth of the city and of the many improvements necessary during the years as the place grows.

In regard to the issue of bonds, Mayor Pritchard said: "If we could borrow money in this city instead of spending it in North Fort Worth, I would be in favor of doing it, because we will never have to pay it back."

In closing his address, Mayor Pritchard said that he believed that the town would get deeper in debt in the world getting out of it, and that they ought not to hesitate to issue bonds.

Other Candidates

John Baskin was the first of the candidates for city attorney to speak during his address. Mr. Baskin said that if there be any ordinance that the city did not wish enforced that it would strike it out of the law books before he assumed office, if elected, for he intended to enforce all ordinances alike.

City Attorney L. T. Valentine told briefly the growth of the town and of the many difficult things that had come up for Seligman, Hollinger, I. Carb, B. Carb, Schultz, C. Carb, Weltman, U. M. Simon, Friedlander, Misses Kahn of Galvestone and Welch of South Carolina. The club will not meet next Thursday and the hostess is to be announced.

House Work Need Not Wear Her Out

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration cause fearful bearing-down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work. But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It Gave Me New Life and Vigor

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Last spring, while we were moving, I did considerable more work than my strength permitted, and, having mental trouble at the same time, my health broke down completely and I found myself unable to rest or eat. My nervous system became shattered and I was pale and emaciated and had to take to my bed. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, although I had no faith in patent medicines, I was so miserable that I would take anything for relief. I found that it made a complete change for the better, inducing appetite and restful sleep and imparting new life and vigor to my entire system. I gained nearly fourteen pounds, my complexion looked fresh and clear, and my best friends were surprised and pleased at the change and could hardly credit the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had accomplished it. HONORA LILLIAN HENRY, Director Seattle Dramatic Club, 1118 31st Ave., South, Seattle, Wash.

REV. GEORGE W. RULAND

Restored to Health by Vinol and Strongly Endorses It
Prominent men from all parts of the country are endorsing Vinol, and strong testimonial letters from four ministers of the gospel and several physicians have been received within a week. Such unsolicited testimony as this is the best proof of merit any medicine can have.
The Rev. George W. Ruland of Keene, N. H., writes: "I have used your cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, as a tonic, and I do not believe there is any other medicine that can equal it. It built me up and strengthened me when I was run down and overworked. Vinol has done for me more than was claimed for it."
We honestly believe there is no other remedy or cod liver oil preparation known to medicine that has the healing, strengthening power which Vinol has, and if it fails to create strength and health for run-down, debilitated people, old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after severe sickness, or if it fails to cure a hacking cough, chronic cold, throat or bronchial trouble, or to make those who are too thin fat, rosy and healthy, we will return every cent paid us for it.
Is there a sick, ailing or aged person in Fort Worth who can afford to ignore this generous offer? R. A. Anderson, Druggist.

Dr. William Fielder, president of Fort Worth University, will bring to a close within a few days the canvass which he has been making with such vigor and success for the last few weeks. The amount now secured is $12,200 and more is clearly in sight that will undoubtedly be secured within the next few days.
Unlike other such money-raising campaigns, this one conducted by Dr. Fielder has been conducted by himself alone without the aid of anyone else. The work was rendered harder because of the fact that Dr. Fielder is a stranger here and began the work of raising money before many had learned to know him or had even had an opportunity of hearing him.
During the six weeks that Dr. Fielder has been pushing the work of raising the $15,000 he has averaged about $2,000 every week since the campaign began. This he has done absolutely single-handed, and the result is surprising to everyone, Dr. Fielder included.
Those who wish to assist with their contributions should hand in their names at once and not wait for Dr. Fielder to see them, because he is anxious to close up the work of raising the remaining part of the $15,000 before beginning on a larger field. In connection with his work Dr. Fielder said: "I have been surprised at the readiness of the men to whom I have talked to assist in raising the amount. Men whom I had never seen before heartily responded and their liberality is something unexpected."
During the next week Dr. Fielder expects to close up the canvass here and then go east to present the case to certain persons who have at hand sums of money which may be obtained. Dr. Fielder will leave for the east Monday a week.

AMUSEMENTS

The announced farewell of James O'Neill in "Monte Cristo" attracted a large audience to Greenwall's opera house Thursday night, the number of old theater patrons present testifying the continuing popularity of the play. O'Neill was warmly greeted and played all his usual spirit and art in the interesting role of Edmond Dantes. A strong cast supported Mr. O'Neill in the presentation of the well known play; Cadrousse, as played by Bart Wallace, being especially effective.
The stirring melodramatic scenes were all presented in a way that brought out their full force without overdoing, while the scenes between Edmond and his family caused great applause.
Despite continued efforts of the audience, Mr. O'Neill steadily declined to appear for the speech desired, the length of the play and time required in placing the elaborate settings interfering.
James O'Neill and "Monte Cristo" both retain their hold on the theater goers of Fort Worth.

WON'T ACCEPT MONEY

Church Members Object to Use of Skating Rink Funds
Special to The Telegram.
BEAUMONT, Texas, March 30.—Rev. V. A. Godey announced from the pulpit of the First Methodist church that because of the objection of some of the trustees and members that the church would not accept the sum of money which was realized on last Friday evening for the benefit of the church by the lease for one evening of the Perry & Taylor skating rink. The decision not to accept this money was out of deference to the scruples of the church members referred to. The sum amounts to about $40 and will probably be disposed of for charitable purposes. The money was to have been applied to play a window in the new Methodist church.
DRUMMER'S RELEASE URGED
Petition at Houston to Governor for Simon Weil
Special to The Telegram.
HOUSTON, Texas, March 30.—A voluminous petition for the extension of executive clemency is being prepared for presentation to Governor Lanham on behalf of Simon Weil, a Texas drummer, now in jail in Madison county, charged with attempting to sell whisky.
Weil was taken ill in prison and friends in this city had physicians' certificates presented to the judge, with a petition asking his release pending treatment, but this was denied, and they will now petition the governor.

EATEN OUT OF HOUSE AND HOME

How a Confirmed Dyspeptic Developed an Appetite Like a Corn-Husker's and Cleaned Out Everything
In Sight
The wife of a leading druggist of Des Moines tells how her brother was changed from a dyspeptic without appetite to a prodigious eater.
"My brother, who is a lawyer in Chicago, came to visit me and I hardly knew him on his arrival he was so thin and run down. I had not seen him for years and was much alarmed at his appearance. He told me not to worry as he had been in this condition for years as a result of chronic dyspepsia. I asked him what he had done for it, and he said he had done everything—taken every remedy he had heard of and consulted several doctors without number, none of whom helped him. I asked him if he ever took Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and he said he had not and that he would. He had sworn off taking medicine of any kind.
"I had my husband bring home a box of Stuart's Tablets and I actually made him take one or two of the tablets after he had eaten. They made him feel so much better that he offered no further objection. He had not taken the one box before he was greatly improved and three or four boxes cured him of dyspepsia and gave him a wonderful appetite. He came near eating us out of house and home. My, but it did me good to see him eat. He gained fifteen pounds before he returned home, and he writes me that he has not been troubled with dyspepsia since."
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets actually do the work assigned to them. They relieve weak and overburdened stomachs of their work of digestive action. Their component parts are identical with those of the digestive fluids and secretions of the stomach and they simply take up the grind and carry on the work just the same as a good, strong, healthy stomach would do it.
On this account Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are perfectly natural in their action and effects. They do not cause any unnatural or violent disturbance in the stomach or bowels. They themselves digest the food and supply the system with all the nourishment contained in what is eaten and carry out Nature's plan for the sustenance and maintenance of the body.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, by thus relieving the stomach of its work, enable it to recuperate and regain its normal health and strength. Nature repairs the worn and wasted tissues just as she heals and knits the bone of a broken limb, which is of course not used during the process of repair.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. One box will frequently effect a permanent cure.

Ball Wins Race

The race between Monahan and Ball at the Summit avenue rink, which was to have been the second of the series was forced to be postponed on account of the fact that while limbering up in his last practice before the race Thursday afternoon, Monahan had unfortunately been injured in a collision with a small boy and was unable to skate. Gilbert Teague was then placed in the race by the management, in order that the crowd might not be disappointed, and he and Ball skated the three mile race.
Teague's skates were not working good as at the turn on the third lap he went into the benches and lost a lot of ground while on the turn on the fifth lap he fell as he rounded into stretch and Ball was enabled to gain almost a lap on him. At the nineteenth, or middle lap of the race Ball succeeded in passing Teague, and from then on had a clear lap ahead, although Teague succeeded in passing him several times, only to give way at the next turn again. The time for the three miles was 9 minutes 23 seconds, Ball winning by a little over a lap.

WORK ON ORIENT BEING CONNECTED

All Gaps Will Soon Be Completely Filled Up
C. H. Webster, chief engineer of the Orient road, who has headquarters at Sweetwater, was in Fort Worth Thursday, a guest at the Metropolitan. Mr. Webster said that work on the Orient is progressing well, both in the United States and Mexico, and that the time is not far in the future when all the gaps would be completed and a new through route to the Pacific coast in Mexico established.
Statewide the condition of work on the line, a matter much discussed, is given as follows:
"The line is now under construction between Kansas City, via Wichita, Kan., Fairview, Custer City and Clinton, Okla., Sweetwater, San Angelo and Presidio, Texas, across the international boundary into Mexico, and via Chihuahua, Minaca, El Puro to Topolobampo, on the coast, a distance of 1,600 miles. ### WORK ON ORIENT BEING CONNECTED

All Gaps Will Soon Be Completely Filled Up

C. H. Webster, chief engineer of the Orient road, who has headquarters at Sweetwater, was in Fort Worth Thursday, a guest at the Metropolitan. Mr. Webster said that work on the Orient is progressing well, both in the United States and Mexico, and that the time is not far in the future when all the gaps would be completed and a new through route to the Pacific coast in Mexico established.

POLITICS AT THE STATE CAPITAL

The state legislature at Austin seems to be taking a little interest in politics, and according to the indications Judge Charles K. Bell of this city is the prime gubernatorial favorite. A member of the staff of the Austin Statesman has been mixing and mingling among the saloons since their advent in the capital city, and the following are his conclusions:

After two days with the members of the legislature I wouldn't think it very strange if a man should make a very large bet that C. K. Bell of Fort Worth would be the next governor of Texas. I realize that I am people who will take issue with this proposition and I am informed that some men are even talking of running against the primary nominee after he is selected, whoever he may be, but that doesn't change my proposition that as the lights confront me today I believe that it is but a conservative and correct reflection of legislative sentiment to say that Bell will be the choice of the people in the primary election next July.

I have been led to this conclusion in consequence of a general mingling with members from every section of the state, who, being fresh from the people, are unquestionably in a position to state with fairly good accuracy the true condition of affairs.

I observed yesterday that one or two gentlemen took a poll of the senate and found that said august body was composed of Bell and Brooks men to the overshadowing of all others. There was, so I am informed, one man in the senate for Colquitt and one or two were noncommittal for reasons of their own; but of those who expressed themselves Bell had slightly the best of it over Brooks, who shared the honor of mention along with him.

According to the poll of those senators present and willing to commit themselves, there were eight for Bell, five for Brooks, two for Moore and one each for Colquitt, Campbell and Wells. Over in the house a poll, so I am informed, showed fifty-five for Bell, thirty for Campbell, eighteen for Brooks, ten for Colquitt, four for Moore and three for Wells.

Over in the house there were a great many Bell men to be located among those who would not talk and even in the case of the man who didn't want to be "known in the matter" the opinion seemed to be that Bell was in the lead.

The poll of the statesmen alleged to have been taken at Austin is believed fairly represents the status of affairs as reflected by the citizenship of the state as a whole. Friends of Judge Bell do not hesitate to claim, even at this early date, that he is the strongest man in the race and there appears some good grounds for the assertion. The people of Texas can but be impressed by the clean and dignified manner in which the Bell campaign is being conducted, and the statesmanlike manner in which he has handled every public question and issue that has yet arisen.

Judge Bell is not making a campaign on the demerits of any of his opponents. Neither is he going abroad and proclaiming throughout the land that Texas is a veritable hotbed of graft and political corruption. He does not proclaim from the house-tops that our laws are being openly violated and if he is honored with the high position he seeks he will see that the conditions complained of are righted. Judge Bell does not have to get down to that kind of a level. He has given the people of Texas ample evidence of his willingness and ability to enforce the laws and do the square thing in every particular, and his record in every official position he has ever occupied is a standing guaranty for the future.

The Bell campaign is one of the cleanest and best ever made in Texas.

SENATOR BAILEY GROWS FRACTIOUS

Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey of Texas is a very able man, and a man who stands high in the estimation of his people. But Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey is not infallible. A thing is not just; exactly right because it happens to emanate from Senator Bailey. The fact that he is not infallible is amply attested in the matter of the operations of the Waters-Pierce Oil company in Texas. When that institution was ousted from this state on the ground it was a Standard Oil property, Senator Bailey was most active in securing its reinstatement. He boasted of this at the state democratic convention at Waco, and intimated that it was readmitted to his personal guaranty. The recent disclosures brought about by the attorney general of Missouri have served to demonstrate the fact that for once Senator Bailey was wrong. He was either imposed upon himself, or he lent his influence to a gross imposition upon the people of the state of Texas. And that is not all. Senator Bailey has offered an amendment to the pending rate bill before congress that does not measure up to the requirements of the situation. Judge Cowan of this city, attorney for the Cattle Raisers' Association of Texas, who is one of the prime movers in the fight for railway rate regulation and control, has said as much, and the Cowan criticism has caused Senator Bailey to grow restless and somewhat fractious. In a public interview he says among other things:

Mr. Cowan seems to think that the responsibility rests on him to keep all Texans right in respect to this Hepburn bill, and some few weeks ago he felt called upon to take Hon. Oscar Gillespie to task because that gentleman ventured to protest against a maximum instead of an absolute rate provision. He now seems to think it his duty to advise the public that he dissents from my view. I beg to say to Mr. Cowan, and all others like him, that I was fighting this battle for railroad rate regulation when some of those who are now talking with so much authority about it were denouncing the proposition in the most vigorous terms, and I can hardly be swayed from what I know to be the right and proper course by the criticisms of those who claim that the Hepburn bill as it passed the house "amply provides against judicial suspension of the commission rates."

Judge Cowan and all others like him will please proceed to stand from under. It is an unparadoxical sin to differ with Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey on any issue. The Bailey idea must be right from the fact it emanates from Bailey, and that distinguished gentlemen will not brook any interference, even in the matter of suggestion. He differs with Cowan, he differs with Culberson and he differs with everyone else who is not prepared to do homage at the Bailey shrine. It makes no difference that his amendment to the rate bill will add to the confusion of the situation and seeks to do the impossible. It is immaterial that it does not measure up to the test of constitutionality or the demands of the people. It must be right because it is a Baileyism, and there you are.

Senator Bailey has been in public life long enough to have become a little thicker skinned, but he appears to be as susceptible to the shaft of criticism as a raw recruit. He will find after awhile that he gains absolutely nothing from these displays of temper, for they only serve to make a very large man look very small in the public estimation. The man who attempts to answer argument with abuse and exhibitions of temper only weakens his own cause, and Senator Bailey should desist.

Senator Knox of Pennsylvania has had the temerity to assert in a speech on the rate bill that the Bailey amendment would not stand the test of the courts. Is he to be the next target for a vigorous Bailey philippic? Knox is a republican and an alleged creature of the trusts, but he ranks among the best constitutional lawyers of the country.

Advices from Washington indicate that the matter of the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as one state will be left to the people of those territories, and that is the proper procedure. It looks much better than the Presidential plan of coercing union and forcing the issue with a very high hand. In the meantime, Oklahoma and Indian Territory should be permitted to coalesce and join the union.

The eastern portion of the country is making vigorous complaint that Secretary Wilson is spending too much money in the administration of the agricultural department. This is believed to be a slap at the west for its opposition to the shipping subsidy, which is so dear to the eastern heart and mind.

Four negroes burned to death in a Navarro county prison constitutes a holocaust that causes a thrill of horror throughout the state. But the fact that the tragedy was the result of a fire started by one of the prisoners in an effort to burn his way to liberty relieves the officials of any seeming appearance of responsibility.

It is gravely asserted that the battle begun over election law matters at Austin is dead sure to leave some scars. And if that is all the people will not care. What they most dread is gaping wounds like that which afflicted bleeding section 129 of the Terrell law.

The Farmers' Union has settled some of the differences that have been existing among its leading membership by knocking the offending membership out with a stuffed club. And this is a pretty good indication that the Farmers' Union has really come to stay.

The manner in which the desired contributions for the Y. M. C. A. building are being whistled up seems to indicate the twelve days' campaign decided upon will be a winner. The people of Fort Worth are doing their plain duty.

The opposition to the blanket primary idea at this time is not on account of dissatisfaction with its provisions. It is simply a determination that the state legislature shall not transcend its powers by legislating on matters not embraced within the governor's call.

The New York courts seem determined to land some big game in the matter of those big insurance contributions, and some of the gentlemen who handed over the people's cash to the republican spoliemen are finding themselves in rather an uncomfortable position.

One thousand dollars a front foot for property that is vacant on Main street is not bad. That price has just been paid for a lot with a frontage of 23 feet, and serves to show that Fort Worth realty is steadily holding its own.

The people who attended the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show have all returned home and they are saying some very nice things of Fort Worth. The Fat Stock Show is a town builder.

Governor Jefferson Davis will be the next United States senator from Arkansas, and the prediction is freely made that he will make Ben Tillman of South Carolina look well to his laurels.

The TEXAS PRESS

Some newspaper announces that Attorney General Bell did more to enforce the anti-trust laws in Texas than any man ever did in the attorney general's office. There is not an anti-trust law on the statute book being enforced today in Texas. There is little or no attempt being made to enforce these laws. There never has been since their enactment in 1899. The trusts today have Texas in their grip firmly and surely and the big magnates are beginning to give $10 to charity and at the same time take $10,000 from the pockets of the people.—Georgetown Commercial.

The Commercial evidently is not familiar with Judge Bell's record while serving the state as attorney general. And Judge Bell is not responsible for the conditions that exist in Texas today. He laid the proper predicate for his successor in office.

Commissioner Garfield made a mess of the inquiry into the beef trust and made such promises to them that they were granted immunity from prosecution, according to the court decision. His report was worthless, anyway, and the quicker he resigns to allow a competent man to do the work the better for him.—Abilene Reporter.

Commissioner Garfield has made a miserable botch out of the beef trust investigation and tied the hands of the government so that its entire work has been brought to naught. The simplest thing he could do under the circumstances would be to relieve the government of the incubus of his official position.

A Fort Worth real estate firm uses a half-tone of a Brownwood house in its advertising, with the inquiry, "How would you like to own a home like this?" The Brownwood home is not for sale and the real estate dealer does not say so, but it is a compliment to Brownwood that Fort Worth has to send here for photos of good homes. Brownwood has a dozen more that can be used as they are needed.—Brownwood Bulletin.

It might be possible the Brownwood home referred to is a replica of some Fort Worth home. There are many handsome homes in Fort Worth, and they have furnished models for many other beautiful homes in different portions of Texas.

Heretofore cattle from the Concho country made a more excellent showing at the fat stock show in Fort Worth. The stock exhibited by Lee Brothers of the Leedale Stock Farm took almost everything in the classes they were entered. The showing these cattle made against all comers was something superb and these popular stockmen are being congratulated on all sides for their enterprise and sagacity in raising prize winning stock.—San Angelo Standard.

The Concho country had some very fine stock on exhibition at the Fat Stock Show, and the prizes went to constitute a fitting tribute to the enterprise of the breeders of that section.

The outstanding insurance of the Equitable Life has been reduced $30,000,000 during the past year. This public must propose to see that the recommendation of the Armstrong committee for a smaller business is faithfully carried out.—Galveston Tribune.

All the big insurance companies have suffered a considerable decrease in business as a legitimate result of the exposure that came of their business methods. If they profit by the fact for the future the lesson will have been well administered. They have had due notice, the policy holders will henceforth insist on the proper and necessary protection.

A Fort Worth attorney announces that a recent conviction for violation of the new election law in that city will be taken to the higher tribunals in an effort to test the constitutionality of the poll tax requirement, which, it is claimed, is in direct conflict with the constitution, and the case is one which will be watched with more than usual interest by the people of every section of the state.—Clarkeville Times.

All of which is eminently proper. If there are any provisions of the new election law that are contrary to the state constitution they should be summarily wiped out.

Mr. Love has prepared another bill which he is going to try and induce Governor Lanham to permit him to present at the special session of the legislature. If the bill is taken off the special session may prove to be a long one.—Denton Herald.

There is not much danger of the bridge being taken off at Austin. A number of the legislators are showing a disposition to do some artistic bucking, but the majority of them seem to have concluded to stand hitherto.

Several months ago he received from a friend of his in Arizona the dried up mummy of what appeared to be some peculiar, antediluvian animal, or bird, or fish, or combination of all, and inasmuch as the beast appeared to show on the surface of its terribly twisted shape both feathers and scales, he wondered if it might not be one of the missing links of evolution, the creature that was intermediate between fishes and birds.

Determined to discover as much about it as possible, and being able financially to indulge his fancies, he prepared a mild solution of radium, liquid radium, and in this he soaked the mummy for several weeks. Gradually the hard, leathery tissue of the creature softened and swelled, the twistings and contortions smoothed out, and there developed the most remarkable find of all paleontological discoveries since the dawn of science. The animal which he has soaked out in the radium was both a fish and a bird. It had a curved, horny beak, much like that of the eagle, fitted out inside the jaws with teeth like those of a pickerel. Its body was covered with scales like those of a fish, and on its shoulders it had long, strong, feathered wings, while its tail also was provided with strong feathers. It had two feet also, with hooked claws.

Mr. Willetts was a happy man when the value of his find was fully disclosed, but the workings of his mind under the pressure of the great discovery showed with startling clearness how true it is that we are never fully satisfied however fortune may deign to bless us. His discovery was a marvelous thing. He arranged a powerful battery, he attached the poles thereof properly to the bird-fish, fish-bird, or whatever the animal should be called, and turned on the current.

Immediately there was a great commotion in the vat of liquid radium. The creature thrashed about and uttered strange, gurgling shrieks, the like of which Willetts had never heard before, swam violently to and fro for a few moments, and then, with a terrific splash of the fluid and whirling of wings, it mounted aloft, dashed through the nearest window and disappeared in the outer air.

It is supposed that it fell to the earth again after flying about a mile, for an old hunter living that distance from Willetts's place reported that about the time the creature escaped "a scapulous looking" animal cum a-flyin' along and flopped down in the yard, and I gin it to the dogs for supper."

Mr. Willetts is greatly shattered by the loss. LE SUEUR LYRE.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Representative Babcock of Wisconsin, the leader of the "insurgents" on the statehood bill, finds some gleams of comfort in defeat. He remarked to Mr. Mondell of Wyoming, also an insurgent:

"Mondell, I have reason to believe that some members of this house will be unable to collect their mileage this year."

He said it with portentous gravity and Mondell was scared.

"What do you mean?" he inquired anxiously.

"I am referring to our esteemed republican colleagues from Missouri and Kansas," said Babcock. "Since they voted against the admission of Oklahoma they won't dare go home."

The extraordinarily high character of the debate in the senate over the rate bill has attracted much attention, and there has been much comment on the way the greatest lawyers in that body have gone to work on the measure and the thoroughness with which they are thrashing out every disputed legal point.

"Yes," said one prominent senator, when something of this sort was said to him, "but there's a funny side to it, too. As soon as this law is enacted and enforced there will be a test case before a federal court, and the result of this legal learning you talk about will be submitted to it for decision."

"By some strange fatality whenever a President—any President—appoints a congressman to the federal bench he never appoints one of the great lawyers; he always takes somebody whose legal attainments were more or less the topic for merriment when he was in congress. Just go over the list of those who have been appointed in the last few years."

The senator went over the list, naming them all.

"Now," he finished quizzically, "doesn't it strike you that there's a funny side to all this thrashing out of legal arguments here? Isn't it funny that after we have all got through, and enacted our law, it should go for decision to an august tribunal presided over by a man who, when he was in congress, would not have dared to join in the discussion and whom nobody would have listened to if he had?"

WORSE YET

Henry W. Rogers, the Copper and Standard Oil magnate, was visited recently by one of his friends who had been under the weather for months. Mr. Rogers inquired kindly after the health of his caller.

"I have been staying down at Lakewood, N. J., for six months," was the reply, "and I've been pretty low. In fact, I never was in so bad a state before."

Mr. Rogers smiled and asked, quietly: "You've never been in Montana, have you?"

She died—like snow glad-gracing Some sea-marge fair, when, lo! Rude waves, each other chasing, Quick hide it 'neath their flow.

She died—like snow fair showering Some sea-purge, when, anon, In comes the wave devouring— The beautiful is gone.

She died—as died the glory Of music's sweetest swell; She died—as does the story When the best is still to tell!

She died—as dies moon-beaming When scowls the rayless wave She died—like sweetest dreaming That hastens to its grave.

She died—and died she early; Heaven wearied for its own, As the dipping sun, my Mary, Thy morning ray went down.

LITTLE TALES WELL TOLD

A SECRET

A man who had purchased a fine looking horse soon discovered that the animal was blind, and after several weeks he succeeded in disposing of her, as the defect did not seem to lessen her speed nor detract from her general appearance. The next day the new owner of the horse appeared.

"Say, you know that mare you sold me?" he began. "She's stone blind."

"I know it," replied her past owner, with an easy air. "You didn't say anything to me about it," said the purchaser, his face red with anger.

"Well," you see," replied the other, "that fellow who sold her to me didn't tell me about it, and I just concluded that he didn't want it known."

"It is my duty," said the conscientious lawyer to his client, "to see that you have a fair and square trial and justice all the way through."

"You're too slow for me," declared the prisoner. "What I want is a lawyer who'll see that I'm acquitted."

"The Indians had us surrounded," said the man who had been in the west in the "good old days," "and it was only a question of a few hours until we would all be killed, for the stage driver and the guard were the only ones in our party who had arms, and they had only a limited amount of ammunition."

"Of course, we resolved to put up the best fight we could and we gathered stones to throw when the Indians came within throwing distance and drew our jack-knives to use if it came to a hand-to-hand fight. The Indians were circling round us, whooping like maniacs and plugging bullets at us as fast as they could pull the triggers. They were coming closer every minute, and just as they were ready to make their final charge the only college man in our party saved us. You can talk as you please about college men and laugh at them if you will, gentlemen, but let me tell you there's nothing like a college education. Education is a great thing. It enables a man to meet emergencies."

"But how did the college man prevent the massacre?" asked an anxious listener.

"He gave his college yell and it pacified the blood-thirsty brutes. They wanted to learn it and so spared our lives."

MINERS DECIDE TO QUIT WORK

Conference at Indianapolis Proves Futile
384,000 MEN AFFECTED
Scale Expires Saturday and Thousands of Men Are Expected to Lay Down Their Tools

Special to The Telegram.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 30.—The joint meetings of the bituminous coal operators and miners of the Central competitive district, composed of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and the southwestern district composed of Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territory, reached a final disagreement yesterday on the wage scale to go into effect at the expiration of the present scale, April 1, and the conference of the central district adjourned sine die while the joint scale committee of the southwestern district decided to report a disagreement to the joint conference of that district today. It is expected that this conference will at once adjourn sine die without an agreement.

The action of the two conferences will directly cause the suspension from work after Saturday, of 384,000 miners unless something unforeseen like submission of the differences to arbitration should intervene and indirectly will affect 25,500 or more miners not including its effect on 150,000 miners in the anthracite field, who last night were ordered to suspend work Monday.

SPRING CATARRH

Disease Prevalent Now, But Can Be Quickly Cured With Hyomel.
A great many people suffer more with catarrh during the spring months than at any other season of the year, the changes in weather seeming to have a bad effect upon the disease.
Some of the cures made by Hyomel seem marvelous when one remembers that the patients had suffered from catarrh since childhood and that for years they had been unable to get a good night's sleep, on account of the disagreeable tickling and dropping at the back of the throat caused by this offensive disease. A few days' treatment with Hyomel brought quick relief, and its continued use made a complete and lasting cure.

By breathing Hyomel through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, all the air passages of the lungs and throat are filled with air laden with Nature's own remedies for the cure of catarrh. All disease germs are killed, and the irritated mucous membrane is healed.
The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottle 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.
If you cannot obtain Hyomel of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage on receipt of price. Write today for a free sample bottle and consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomel Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

CLUB WANTS STREET REPAIR

Arlington Heights Company Roundly Scored
At the meeting of the Democratic Club of the Third ward, held Thursday night at Adolph Schiller's, Eleventh and Harding streets, a large membership was present. S. L. Girack presided.

A committee composed of Thomas F. Loughrey, T. F. Murray, J. Jacobs, Carl Schiller and Ray B. Howell to devise ways and means to build a hall in the Third ward for public meetings and entertainments, reported that they were meeting with success in raising funds to build the hall. A resolution was adopted conferring upon the committee full power to procure funds and build the hall.

Carl Schiller reported to the club in writing, showing the bad condition of Jones street from Ninth to Fifteenth streets, stating that after the railway street car has laid tracks the earth and stones were scraped back over the rails without any attempt to restore the surface of the street. It was shown that the Texas Brewing company was laboring under great inconvenience on account of the condition of this street.

A considerable number joined the club, bringing the membership up to about 100. The club will meet at Hendricks in East front street next Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

$5000 IS ASKED FOR AN ARREST

Damage Suit Follows Ring Case
C. S. Cheatham, a minor, by his next friend, Walter Scott, has filed suit in the Forty-eighth district court against David McKee, asking $5,000 damages for alleged false imprisonment. This suit follows one tried in the county court Thursday for the possession of a diamond ring valued at $250, held by Deputy Sheriff T. W. Wren as an officer, and which was claimed by Cheatham as his property, and in which David McKee claimed he had an interest by reason of having advanced money on it to another person than C. S. Cheatham. The court decided the case in favor of Cheatham.

In the damage suit filed after the trial of the first case, the petition alleges that David McKee, by certain charges, had procured the arrest of Cheatham March 23, and that he was lodged in jail and confined there for a long time, thereby mortifying and injuring plaintiff's reputation to his damage in the sum of $5,000.

JUDGE MILAM WILL AWAIT DECISION OF HIGHER COURTS

LIQUOR DEALERS' BONDS

Judge Milam Will Await Decision of Higher Courts
Judge Robert F. Milam of the county court was asked Friday if he had given any instructions to the county clerk to require new bonds in place of those signed only by surety companies, which bonds have been declared invalid by the district court at Galveston.

The Galveston decision is only that of a district court and will not be law until passed upon and confirmed by the supreme court. The question involved is an important one, and I will not take any action in the way of requiring new bonds until this matter has been passed on affirmatively by the higher courts.

GIBSON D. PACKER.

Gibson D. Packer is the black sheep among the aggregation of Carnegie young millionaires. He made less than the others, and he is known as one of the most miserly men in Pittsburgh. Only the love of a woman, it is said, was sufficient to cause him to spend money unnecessarily. He fitted up a palatial home in the East end for Mrs. Mary I. Vetter, a handsome widow. She lived there for six years, and when Packer's money stopped she sued him for breach of promise to marry, asking $100,000 damages.

A. R. PEACOCK.

A. R. Peacock is perhaps the most picturesque millionaire in the city. The peacock is his coat of arms. His carriages and automobiles are marked with it. In the wall paper and furnishings in his palatial home there are fringes of peacock feathers. He spent a fortune in providing the most elaborate stable owned by any Pittsburgher. For this reason a number of millionaires who do not belong to the "mushroom" class register from other cities when they visit Gotham. There is but one story of the way

HON. WILLIAM FLINN.

William Flinn was a poor contractor, not a friend of Carnegie. Knowing what was coming, he built a plant at Sharon, Pa., and started the manufacture of steel. He sold to the trust and cleaned up something over $200,000. Being middle-aged and greatly attached to his family, he cared nothing for the frivolities of the younger men who made their wealth in steel. For six years he has been the republican leader in the city. In three elections he has been whipped, and he admits that each fight has cost him over $100,000.

HANDS RAW WITH TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Suffered for Ten Years—Spreading to Body and Limbs Despite Efforts of Three Doctors—Another Remarkable and Speedy

CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. At first it would break out only in winter. Then it finally came to stay. I had three good doctors to do all they could, but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, together with the Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third box, I was entirely well. I had a good appetite and was fleshier than I ever was. To any one who has any skin or blood disease I would honestly advise them to get the Cuticura Remedies and get well quicker than all the doctors in the State can cure you." Mrs. M. E. Falin, May 19, 1905. Speers Ferry, Va.

CURED OF ITCHING HUMOR

"I have been troubled with a humor on the back of my neck and head for four or five years. It had an itching and burning sensation, and was a very uncomfortable feeling. I have used the Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills three months, and can say I am completely cured." Respectfully, Mrs. H. D. Ludlum, Ocean City, Md., July 28, 1905.

SKIN DISEASES

FIERY ACIDS IN THE BLOOD

All skin diseases are due to the same cause—an excess of acid in the blood caused by faulty assimilation of food and poor bowel action; this fiery acid matter is forced to the surface through the pores and glands. Pustules are formed, discharging a sticky fluid which dries and makes a crust, causing intense itching. When the crusts or scabs are scratched off the skin is left raw and bleeding.

Sometimes skin diseases are in the dry form, and bran-like scales come on the flesh, or the skin becomes hard and dry, often cracking, and the painful itching causes acute suffering. It is not matter how the trouble is manifested, the cause is the same—an excess of acid in the blood. Salves, powders, cooling washes, etc., while they relieve the itching and give the sufferer temporary comfort, cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the acid laden blood. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S., a remedy that is purely vegetable and one which acts directly on the blood with a cleansing, healing effect. S. S. S. neutralizes the acids, and purifies the blood so that the skin fluid, as it is called, and burned by the fiery fluids, is nourished by a supply of cooling, healthy blood. Special book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired will be furnished without charge.

Coal Strike Exerts Influence on Values—Money Market Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, March 30.—The market for stocks and bonds was very quiet today. The coal strike in Pennsylvania and other sharp flurries in the West were adverse influences dominating the course of the stock exchange today. Favorable developments regarding the coal situation have been a considerable degree of support. Opening prices were generally the largest decline being Reading, which sold at a loss of 2 1/2 points, though more as a result of a reaction than as a factor in the market developed as the day progressed. In most instances early loss recuperated by midday. The situation had a like effect tending to reduce the volatility and bring on a quiet liquidation. The opening money was 6 per cent and the rate had varied during the day to 7 1/2 per cent, this valuing rate at noon. The advance seemed to be planned. 000,000 was loaned at 7 1/2 to noon, $42,100 shares.

The general list developed as the session progressed. The strike as a market factor distinct feature, opinion on placing little significance on the argument and being inclined to believe that the shut-down short duration. In most highest prices of the day. In the afternoon trading was quiet closed steady, with active issues showing advance.

Coal Strike Exerts Only Slight Influence on Values—Flurry in Money Market

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 30.—Definite announcement that miners in both the anthracite and bituminous coal fields would suspend work Monday, and another sharp flurry in the money market were adverse influences calculated to limit the course of prices on the stock exchange today, but their unfavorable developments regarding the labor situation have been discounted to a considerable degree and although opening prices were generally lower, the largest decline being noted in Reading, which sold on the first call at a loss of 2 1/2 points, the news acted more as a restraint on active speculation than as a factor in the price movement and after the initial slump the market developed a better tone, and in most instances early losses were recuperated by midday. The monetary situation had no effect on the trade, tending to reduce the volume of buying and bring on some scattered liquidation. The opening rate for call money was 6 per cent, and before midday the rate had varied from that figure to 7 1/2 per cent, this being the prevailing rate at noon. The supply at the advance seemed to be plentiful and $3,000,000 was loaned at 7 per cent. Sales to noon, $42,100 shares.

Wheat Prices Firm, Trading Moderate, but Final Figures Show Gain

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., March 30.—Wheat traders again confined their operations to a moderate scale, but barring an initial slump of 1/4 to 1/2, which was attributable to the failure of Liverpool prices to respond to our advance of yesterday, the market ruled firm throughout the session.

Corn

Corn displayed slight weakness at the opening in response to the unfavorable character of the early cables, but soon steadied under a moderate volume of buying.

Oats

Oats continued firm throughout the session, the greatest strength being noted in the May option. Closing prices were 1/4 to 1/2 net higher.

Provisions

Provisions were firm at the start, opening figures being 5c to 7c higher for pork and unchanged to 1/4c higher for other products, but the advance attracted realizing, under which prices eased off gradually, the closing being 1/4c to 1/2c lower.

One Hundred and Three Thousand-Bale Decrease in Bremen Stocks Causes Sharp Advance in Prices

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 30.—Bears enjoyed a brief reign in the cotton market today, but opposition of bullish influences finally triumphed and the shorts were put to rout, while the real masters of the situation were in charge of affairs and sent prices to a new high level for the movement.

Friday's Review and Sales

Cattle receipts today were again very light, not rising above 1,600. The bulk of the run again consisted of steer cattle of varying degrees of usefulness, the best of which were dressed around 44-45, and brought that price.

A feature of the trade was that the bulk of consignments came to one commission house, and transactions were somewhat strung out on that account, delaying the final movement to the scales. Grass steers were principally confined to one lot of not extra good cattle.

Butcher Stock

Cows and heifers in the butcher class were a trifle more numerous, but the market was not improved in quality. Selling was on a steady basis.

Sales of hogs

Only one load of calves came in, and these sold steady at $4.50. Sales: No. 1, 4.25; No. 2, 4.00; No. 3, 3.75; No. 4, 3.50; No. 5, 3.25.

As previously announced the advance asked by bricklayers to 75 cents an hour is also being paid by many of the contractors.

JERSEY SAMSON

IS MISS TARPEY

Hoboken Female Has Record as Strong Woman

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, March 30.—When Mary Ann Torpey was a toddling infant she one day seized her chunky 4-year-old brother Michael by the ears and coolly tossed him out of the front door. My was such a mite of a thing that every one wondered how she could do it. Later on, when she shed a couple of five-pound flat irons at a playmate whose face she didn't like, it was agreed that Mary would some day be a woman of marvelous strength.

The dream has come true. Mary Ann Torpey was a toddling infant she one day seized her chunky 4-year-old brother Michael by the ears and coolly tossed him out of the front door. My was such a mite of a thing that every one wondered how she could do it. Later on, when she shed a couple of five-pound flat irons at a playmate whose face she didn't like, it was agreed that Mary would some day be a woman of marvelous strength.

She is now 22, blond and pretty, and stands exactly six feet high and weighs 225 pounds all the year round.

She has a runaway horse at her feet, and she has a dog on the corner below go all tangled up with a couple of trolley cars. A Hoboken policeman, almost as fat as Miss Torpey, tried to lead the horse off the track so traffic could be resumed, but the animal stood its ground and kicked.

LIFTS HORSE OFF TRACK

Then Miss Torpey howl upon the scene. Closing the platform of one of the cars, she reached over and clutched at the horse's mane. One gait and the front legs of the horse were lifted clear off the track. Then Miss Torpey held the horse while it was lassoed.

Miss Torpey's brother is a contractor and owns a few horses. One of them, which has not a name in Hoboken can drive him. Miss Torpey drives the animal every day, and pulls on the lines until the horse gasps for breath. Whenever any of her brother's stable men is tired Miss Torpey pitches in and lifts bales of hay. It is no trouble for her to throw a six-pound bale from the ground up into the stable loft. She says so herself.

Recently there was a cow-milking contest at a Hoboken party. Miss Torpey attended. She beat every one in sight and at a public hall several nights later received a medal.

Water Commissioner John J. Winberry, who made the presentation speech, is rotund and weighs something like 250 pounds. After she had pinned the prize on Miss Torpey's breast, the fat commissioner of his lifted the fat woman and heaved her over his shoulder.

This feat tickled the Hoboken crowd so much that they decided to give Miss Torpey a dinner. It will be held this week and all the strong men and women of New Jersey who think they can do anything in the way of lifting have been invited.

"I don't like to brag any," said Miss Torpey, "but I really think I can go around lifting anything. I've been asked why I don't go with a circus. Mercy! no. I don't want to pose as a freak. I suppose if I tried to go with a circus I could get to be famous, but I don't like to go on the stage. Of course, there are some big women behind the footlights like Mrs. Pletcher, but I never had notions that way."

"As to exactly how much I could lift I'm not certain, but I think I could pick up a couple of bales of hay at once if they had handles on 'em."

BIRDS EXPLODE INTO THIN AIR Grouse Eat Dynamite, Which Is Set Off by Bullets

Special to The Telegram. MONTICELLO, Mo., March 30.—A gang of quarrmen blasting for limestone ten miles northwest of here ran short of meat and cast about for a means to replenish the supply until the boss of the job called for a barrel of pork and some jerked beef. It would have been comparatively easy to shoot a deer, but the boss wouldn't have it, so one of the men who owned a rifle of small caliber suggested grouse. To this the boss offered no objection.

The birds were plentiful all about the job, being drawn by scattered grain about the barn where the draft horses were kept by chips of rock along the edge of the new opening. The latter were greedily robbed for dinner.

The effect of the shot was so remarkable that Thorman went for a companion before he could be seen. This, when fired at, also blew up, and the men marveled. A third shot through the head came down in orthodox manner, but a fourth simply disappeared off the face of the earth.

Says Birds Swallowed Dynamite "I guess I can explain that all right," said the boss when the one grouse was brought to him and the story of the explosion had been told. "The same thing happened to the brace manganese job last year."

With a sharp knife he carefully stripped the grouse and opened it. Out rolled four or five small pebbles of brown substance, somewhat harder than putty.

"They've been picking it up near the blast house and when you fired you shot low and hit the crop. You might as well shoot at a stick of the stuff."

After that the men aimed high and had no trouble in getting what birds they wanted. In a majority of bits of the explosive were found in the crops.

CONTEST LIKELY

Both Davis and Berry's Friends Claim Victory in Arkansas LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 30.—Senator Berry's friends still refuse to concede the election of Governor Davis to the seat not withheld by the latter claims victory. Returns from forty-five counties place Davis slightly in the lead, but his majority in these counties, as compared with his vote two years ago, has been reduced more than 12,000. Indications are that the heated returns will give Davis the majority on the face of the returns, but there is a contest likely before the state convention.

MILE OF TRACK FOR BELT LINE
Little Construction Will Be Required

CIRCLE ABOUT THE CITY
Increased Yards and Proposed Line Will Make Fort Worth Freight Facilities Unsurpassed

Construction of but one mile of track will be necessary to surround Fort Worth by a belt road, making it a freight center unsurpassed in the entire south for ability to handle large quantities of traffic.

Unequaled freight handling facilities will be possessed here with the construction of this small amount of track. The yards of the eleven railroads centering here and the new belt, together with that of North Fort Worth, making handling and interchange of cars comparatively simple, despite the large number of converging lines.

In plans for the belt, admitted to have been recommended favorably by the construction departments of the various roads, it is generally believed that the old grade of the Rock Island for its line through Dallas will be used. The Frisco line and the old Fort Worth and Rio Grande belt, the rails of which are still rusting south of town, will complete all but two small strips, one between the International and Great Northern and the Houston and Texas Central and the other to connect with the Rock Island. This grade, shown on old maps, circles around Chambers' Hill and could also be easily connected with the Texas and Pacific by tracks crossing the Interurban east of the city limits. It is more likely, however, that the belt line will be constructed with a greater radius, primarily because of the greater cost of land by the shorter route.

Yard extensions and the belt completely encircling the city promise to add still greater to the fame of Fort Worth as the railroad center of the south-west.

Into the impregnating cylinder by means of a somewhat higher pressure, or by gravity when the pressure is kept the same in the reservoir as in the cylinders.

"When the impregnating cylinder is full and the wood is immersed, the pressure pumps are started and the fluid is forced into the wood under pressure, rising gradually sixty or seventy-five pounds to 150 or 250 pounds, depending on the nature of the wood under treatment. Under increased pressure the fluid penetrates into all the cells of the wood, soaking or impregnating the cell walls, and compressing still more the air formerly packed in at sixty to seventy-five pounds pressure.

"When the wood is sufficiently impregnated with the amount being usually specified in pounds per cubic foot, the expansive energy of the air in the cells forces much of the impregnating fluid out from the wood as does not adhere to the cell walls. This excess is allowed to flow from the impregnating cylinders back and into the crosote tank.

"Therefore, the distinctive feature of the process lies in the fact that no impregnating fluid is allowed to remain in or saturating the cell walls. Therein is the commercial advantage of this process."

T. P. EARNINGS SHOW DECREASE
Geo. Gould Explains Causes at Length in Annual Report

In the annual pamphlet report of the Texas and Pacific road, George J. Gould, president, takes occasion to explain at length the decrease in gross earnings, amounting to $302,756.

The decrease, he says, was due entirely to the serious conditions that prevailed during the last half of the year in Texas and Louisiana. The promise of an abundant crop of small grains and cotton early in the year was cut short by a season of heavy rainfall, seriously affecting the yield. It was followed by an unexpected outbreak of yellow fever in Louisiana, which paralyzed traffic, retarded the movement of merchandise and increased the time being the cost of transportation.

The receipts for the transportation of cotton decreased $225,627, with a falling off of 100,219 in the number of bales moved. The total number moved was 720,743, compared with 830,912 in the previous year, and the number of Texas furnished 277,289 and Louisiana 243,504. The revenue on a bale was $1.23, against $1.34 in the previous year.

Grain on Rio Grande

In the transportation of cane and sugar on the Louisiana division, there was a decrease in the tonnage of cane moved, but an increase in the shipments of sugar. The shipments of rice showed a decrease of 2,613 sacks. The fruit and vegetables traffic shows a very gratifying growth. On the Rio Grande division alone there was an increase in the transportation of oranges, lemons, green onions and vegetables of 1,743 car loads over the previous year.

The growth of local freight traffic continued a marked feature in the company's business. In the last year the local freight shows an increase in the number of tons carried of 186,894 and in revenue of $123,158. The decrease in revenue from operation was largely due to passenger traffic, which was almost suspended in Louisiana during July, August and September owing to the quarantine restrictions. Its decrease for the year was $146,661, or 5.13 per cent, compared with $14,763, or 1.35 per cent, in freight traffic.

"The property at all terminal points had been carefully maintained and improved during the year. At New Orleans extensive repairs were made to the inclines, sheds and transfer steamers at that point.

New Tax Laws

The only adverse railway legislation of any importance enacted during the year consisted of two tax bills passed by the legislature of Texas. One of these, known as the "gross receipts tax," imposed a tax of 1 per cent on the gross receipts of railway companies for the year commencing June 30, 1904, and ending June 30, 1905. The collection was enjoined, and on hearing the court held that the law was only operative for five and a half months and the tax was apportioned on that basis. Both the state and the railway companies have appealed from this judgment. The legislature also passed another act, taxing what is known as the intangible assets of the railroad companies. This law becomes effective during the year 1906, and payment under it operates as a repeal of the "gross receipt tax."

BUSINESS MEN VOLUNTEER AID
Y. M. C. A. Canvass Discussed at Dinner

Enthusiasm ran high for the Y. M. C. A. at the informal dinner tendered the business men of the city at the Hotel Worth by eighteen of the business men themselves on Thursday night. Sixty citizens were present and when a call for volunteers in the work of raising funds for the Y. M. C. A. canvass going on was made, every man present who is not already on a committee responded.

S. E. Kincaid, the newly elected state secretary, was present for the meeting and made a fine speech, in which he brooded out the purposes of the Young Men's Christian Association. He was the special guest of the evening and also made the chief speech. W. B. Paddock acted as toastmaster, and he stated in his opening remarks that the dinner was given for the purpose of a raising of funds in the Y. M. C. A. and the contest now going on for money enough to raise two additional stories upon the building, and that it was not intended that the meeting should be for the purpose of raising funds for the building at all.

W. B. Paddock, who is in the city one year ago at the time of a similar gathering, the association was $7,500 in debt and owned an empty lot with about enough money to pay the interest on the debt. He then referred to present conditions and the building being completed at Texas and Morgan streets. "We are here tonight," he said, "to discuss ways and means of raising the money that is necessary for the erection of the fourth and fifth floors on that building. There are fifteen men here tonight who have been doing most of the work during the past year, and we want now to enlist new blood from the remainder of you gentlemen who are here.

State Secretary Kincaid was then called upon for a speech, and he elaborated upon the benefits of the Y. M. C. A. and other reasons for the establishment of a fine institution here.

W. B. Paddock then explained the use of the fifth floor for which the association is working, and stated that every man who lived there would make a strong Y. M. C. A. man, besides presenting a sure means of regular income to the association.

F. W. Axtell was then called upon for a speech, and he stated that the people of Fort Worth are hard to beat as a liberal class. In his opinion, he said, he had not more than 5 per cent of the people here who are asked for donations refuse to give. There is no city in the world that can beat a record such as that. In six hours work Ben O. Smith and myself raised the $1,000 allotted to our committee.

Ralph P. Smith, president of the association, related how he himself, when a stranger in the city of Chicago in 1875, found a friend in the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. there, who had made him feel at home, although he had not a single acquaintance in the city. "Here we need the same thing. That association there brought to me higher aspirations and I feel that I owe it a debt of gratitude to the city here."

Frank D. Boyd was next called upon for a short speech, and he related his own experience in the city. "I was a stranger in New York and of his welcome to the Y. M. C. A. there. From that day to this he declared he had always been a friend of the Y. M. C. A. A short address on the benefits of the Y. M. C. A. was also made by George W. Steere.

The dinner was then followed with an appeal for more members of committees from the men present, and he ended by asking that the men present not already on committees to one of the two committees headed by George McGown and Elmon Armstrong.

Captain B. E. Paddock was then called for by members of the party present, and he responded with a short address. In his remarks Captain Paddock stated that there was no more potent factor for good than the Y. M. C. A. "Now is the time to get to work and help along good cause. I tell you that I have scant sympathy and little respect for a man who has refused to give, and I wish to reach down and help another man to get up to his side. Each one of you here tonight ought to be able to raise $100 tomorrow, and the remainder of the $1,000 campaign for the $12,000 will close so successfully that the remainder of the $25,000 necessary for the two stories will easily come."

The dinner was given by R. P. Smith, A. August, William D. Willard, Elmon Armstrong, Noah Harding, B. B. Paddock, B. A. Ross, George Reynolds, W. T. Laid, Dr. F. D. Boyd, W. B. Paddock, Ben O. Smith, E. O. Smith, William Bryce, D. C. Campbell, W. E. Connell, George C. McGown and F. W. Axtell.

TRACTION CHANGES

New Office to Be Created by Northern Texas Company

Two new appointments have been announced by the Northern Texas Traction Company, which will take effect immediately. The first is the promotion of George H. Clifford, secretary of the company, to the position of general superintendent of the operating department, a new office in the Traction Company. The second appointment is that of F. M. Hines, former chief of police of Fort Worth, to be in charge of Lake Erie Park, the pavilion and the lake during the season of 1906.

George H. Clifford has been with the Traction Company for five years, having started as stenographer in the late F. M. Hines, then as general manager of the company. He has been promoted several times, until he was made secretary of the company, a position of great responsibility, which also gave him knowledge of the operating department of the Fort Worth Interurban and Oak Cliff lines, and it is from this position that he will be advanced to take charge of the operation of the lines as an assistant to General Manager Edgar. Mr. Clifford will spend a large part of his time in this city after the change, although it is probable that his headquarters will be in Dallas.

TREATING TIES

Extensive Texas Plant and Method of Operation

The Santa Fe lumber timber treating plant at Somerville, Texas, forms the title of an interesting article in the Railway Age for March 23, the extensive plant at that place being declared to be a Santa Fe enterprise, though operated as the Texas Tie and Lumber Preserving Company. It is pointed out that E. O. Faulkner, manager of the tie and lumber department of the Santa Fe, is president of the company and that the plant specifications were prepared by the engineering department of the Santa Fe.

The following interesting account of the kelping process used is given:

"In this process the seasoned wood is subjected to treatment for half an hour to one hour to an air pressure of from sixty to seventy-five pounds (depending upon the wood), so that all cells will be filled with compressed air. Without reducing this pressure in the impregnating cylinder, the warm impregnating fluid, which is usually cresote on account of its great antiseptic qualities, is then formed from the pressure cylinders or hot reservoir

RESTORE STRENGTH

AFTER THE GRIP AND WASTING FEVERS THE BLOOD IS BAD.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make New Blood and Good Health Follows.

The evil effects that follow many diseases—particularly the grip and the wasting fevers, such as typhoid and malaria, are caused by the bad condition in which these diseases leave the blood. As a result, the flesh continues to fall away, the sufferer grows nervous and irritable, and even slight exertion causes shortness of breath. These are dangerous symptoms and indicate that the system is in a state that invites pneumonia, bronchitis or consumption. What is needed is a new supply of rich, red blood to carry health and strength to every part of the body. Such a specific has been found and in hundreds of cases it has been proven that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have accomplished this result.

"I was all run down from the effects of the grip," says Mrs. Annelia Hall, of No. 5 High street, Norwich, Conn., "and could not seem to get strength to walk; could not eat a full meal, my stomach was so weak, and I was so nervous that I could not sleep. I could only stay in bed a few minutes at a time, either night or day. The least little thing would startle me. I had difficulty in breathing, had frequent fainting spells and felt that every hour would be my last."

"My general health was completely wrecked and I had neuralgic and rheumatic pains, dyspepsia, constipation, and female weakness. My physician attended me for the grip, and again for the condition that it left me in, but I got no strength from the tonics he prescribed. In fact, nothing helped me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

"I grew stronger and gained flesh from the time I began taking them. I am satisfied that the pills are all that is claimed for them and I shall always do all I can to make their good qualities known."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be free from stimulating or harmful drugs of any description and may be taken without fear of injury to the delicate system. They quickly cure nervous disorders of every kind, electro-vasting diseases and build up strength. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., post-paid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50.

NAVIGATING ARKANSAS
Contract Closed for Transporting 10,000 Cords of Wood

MUSKOGEE, I. T., March 30.—The Muskogee-Arkansas River Navigation Company has closed a contract with the Courtney Gage Lumber Company for the transportation of 10,000 or 12,000 cords of wood and large timber from their mills near Tamaha, on the Arkansas river, to Muskogee. The contract amounts to $10,000 in business for the navigation company and is the largest transportation contract made for river trade since the government forts were removed from Fort Gibson. It also guarantees that the navigation of the Arkansas river will assume such proportions that more boats will have to be put in the river trade. In fact the navigation company is now in the Memphis market for a new boat. It will have a salutary effect in bringing the railroads to a recognition of water rates in Muskogee and other river towns, to which end the commercial clubs of the river towns have been fighting for some time.

Anyway, there is more or less originality about the man who rides a hobby.
