Millinery Beautiful As the Imported Hats are

We feel very proud of the decided preference the ladies are giving to this Stripling millinery this year. It spurs us on to even greater efforts. True, many of the late comers of last week were put out because we would not take their orders for Easter, but this store warned them in time. This store makes no promises it cannot fill, we are catering to your good looks, making Hats that are your trade.

UNDERBILLING TO BE INVESTIGATED

Roads Seeking Remedy for Present Evil

Some of the general freight agents complain that they have been subjected to much annoyance by the under-billing and incorrect description of freight furnished to them or their agents by the shippers and the state railroad commission has issued orders that this abuse must be corrected. In pursuance of that commission order the general freight agents have issued orders to their agents to carefully inspect all freight offered for shipment and rightly enforce the commission's order. It is stated that the under-billing has been of long standing and has caused considerable trouble. One general freight agent makes the novel suggestion that the penalty for the under-billing be paid to the agent detecting the wrong.

Rock Island Coal Secure

W. H. Ashton, president of the Bridgeport Coal Company, was in the city Saturday morning in consultation with the Rock Island officials about the coal situation. His mine will resume work Monday morning and he hopes with a full force. When working full time he has from 150 to 200 miners at work. He signed the scale of 1903, with the national scale for day men, which adds 15 cents a ton to the cost of mining coal. The Rock Island takes practically all of the output of the Bridgeport mine, though during the winter some coal is sold to the local dealers for Fort Worth consumption. The agreement was by Mr. Ashton and Peter Hanratty, president of the Twenty-first district, United Mine Workers.

Denver to Build

Forced by the demands of its increased and increasing business, the Denver road is to provide its own terminals at the Amarillo division and establish a yard, which will permit the road to handle its freight traffic with greater facility than it now enjoys. It has been a lessee from the Pecos Valley and the rental charges have been high. The development of the Panhandle country has made so much new business for each of the lines that neither can have proper accommodations when both use the same yards. The Denver will put in additional passing tracks at all of the stations where it is found to be desirable to facilitate the business of the line. Additional transportation facilities will be provided as the demands may dictate. The new equipment for the road has already been placed.

To Double Track

The Rock Island is to double-track the Fort Worth yards, and will also put in two or three miles more trackage in the local yards, an improvement made absolutely necessary by increase in the business of the company.

BIG POLITICAL STRIKE PENDING

Moscow and St. Petersburg Making Preparations

(BY MALCOLM CLARK.)
Special Cable to The Telegram.
BERLIN, April 14.—Moscow and St. Petersburg are preparing for a general political strike, the fourth of the kind since last October. The combined revolutionary committee have decided to hold a session in Finland in the middle of April for the purpose of planning the strike, which is to be a protest against the duma and the mass of arrests which have been in progress during the past three months. The release of Khrushchoff, the imprisoned chairman of the council of workmen's deputies, will probably be put in the fore front of the demands. Moscow shutting down during the summer.

To Protect Czar

(Copyright, 1905, by Hearst News Service.)
BERLIN, April 14.—Preparations have already begun for the summer sojourn of the czar at Peterhof on the shores of the Finnish Gulf. Last autumn Peterhof, owing to the Cronstadt mutiny, was abandoned by the imperial family in a state of panic. Cronstadt is within sight of Peterhof and a rebellious warship could shell the palace, which is absolutely defenseless on the sea side. This year, in addition to arming the imperial yacht "Standart" with two and one-half inch guns, a destroyer manned by sailors who are given special treatment and exceptions will lie off the palace. General Trepoff, who will move to Peterhof with the czar, yesterday visited the town and ordered all residents who intend to let their summer villas to send lists of the proposed tenants to the local police. No Jews will be allowed to reside within four miles of the town and students arriving on a visit to relatives will be obliged first to obtain Trepoff's permission.

Czar Favor Ballet Dancer

(Copyright, 1905, by Hearst News Service.)
ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—With all his terror, the revolutionary upsurge of bureaucracy at the polls and the ominous rumors of coming Jewish massacres, the czar, like Nero, finds time for light and gallant amusement. It is reported that the emperor has taken so pronounced a fancy to Mlle. Kouzmina, the beautiful ballet dancer of the Russian Imperial theater, and has given such open proofs of his favor that the czarina is much distressed.

Certain it is Mlle. Kouzmina has given a "Nouveau" performance at Tsarsko-Selo for the czar, after which he had a long and friendly chat with the charming dancer at the conclusion of which he presented her with some beautiful flowers in which was a beautiful jewel.

An improvement in the latest London "tube" is station painted distinctive colors, so that passengers may recognize them without hearing their names called. Not much of a change, suggests an English paper—merely the substitution of a hue for a cry.

Habit-forming Medicine

Whatever may be the fact as to the value of the so-called patent medicines published in some of our newspapers, less influence, this publicity has been of great benefit in arousing attention to this subject. It has been a considerable measure, realizing the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines may be expected of containing the deleterious ingredients complained of. Recalling the fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of New York, took time by the forelock to issue a warning, and published broadside after broadside, and his popularity and the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. This he has completely forestalled all having anything to say against his medicine, because there are now of known composition, and therefore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol, and other habit-forming drugs. Indeed, they contain any narcotics or other drugs, extracted from the various medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests, and well recognized curative virtues. Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in chronic cases of diseases, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce's medicine, which is a vegetable, being a superior demulcent, antacid, and antifermenting agent, is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Blue Chokeberry, and other medicinal plants. It is a very best purgative agent, and is a very best for the cure of the most common "Discovery" for the cure of the only bronchial, throat and lung ailments, but also of chronic catarrh, in all its various forms wherever located.

THERE ARE MANY REASONS WHY THE BUSINESS OF THE F. & M.

National Bank, which began in 1864 at the foot of the ladder, has grown to such proportions that it is considered one of the strongest in the city, but the principal reasons are set forth in these four explications:

- 1. Cordial Treatment, Persistent Push, Aggressive Conservatism, Absolute Safety.
- 2. American Publishing company, capital $50,000.
- 3. Lambertson, Miller and Grant company, Brownwood, filed an amendment to its charter, increasing capital $50,000 to $75,000.
- 4. Texas and Rice company, City; capital $100,000.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET REVIVING

NEW YORK, April 14.—With the surplus reserve report and the banks causing recovery, the market for stocks is reviving. Brokers are urging conservatism in the part of traders but there is evidence that the outside interests are certain there is to be a smash in the market and are selling short in consequence. It would indeed be a strange affair if the great public should not get and take all Wall Street's money away from it.

With the exception of a few new stocks, every share on the list is offered frankly for sale. The percentage of stocks in the hands of insiders is greater than for years.

In the Street
NEW YORK, April 14.—The number of shares of stock sold today was 444,303, against 1,700,030 the same day last year.

The total par value of bonds sold today was $2,042,000 against $1,042,000 the same day last year.

Strength of the copper stocks together with activity in several specialties furnished strong market support. The bank statement showed the expected increase in reserves, amounting to above $7,000,000.

There is a surplus once more in the action of Secretary Shaw in urging to furnish gold to banks in the hope of increasing the volume of loans, which is being held.

In the annals of the church festivals and celebrations, none approach in joyous solemnity, considered in all of its bearings, the 'Royal day of days, Easter,' commemorative of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus-Christ.

Early Differences
Early differences arose between the Jewish and the Gentile Christians as to the proper time for the observance of Easter...

The church, with ready adaptation, took advantage of the thought to direct the minds of the people to the symbolism of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, as suggested by the coming of the sun northward...

INDUSTRIES INCREASING Indian Territory Manufacturing Institutions Thriving CAPITAL IS LARGER Facts, Figures and Observations Show Growth of Business Interests

South McAlester, I. T., April 14.—The statistics for the manufacturing industries of Indian Territory, as reported by the censuses of 1900 and 1905, show an increase in the number of establishments of 287 or 160.3 per cent. The total capital increased $3,424,701, or 215.1 per cent, and the value of products $5,280,884, or 209.8 per cent, while the average number of wage earners increased 1,170 or 107.6 per cent, and the total wages $764,890, or 201.7 per cent.

Many Factories The reports of the twelfth census show 783 establishments in Indian Territory, with 1,714 wage earners, and products valued at $3,882,181. Of 118 establishments, 179 employing 1,987 wage earners and manufacturing products valued at $2,629,967 are comparable with the class of establishments included in the census of 1900, when the number of establishments reported was 466, the number of wage earners 1,257, and the value of products $7,995,451.

Increase Great The 241 establishments reported in 1905 for the four leading industries formed 21.7 per cent of the total number for the territory. Their capital amounted to $2,984,221; employment was given to an average of 1,909 wage earners, to whom wages were paid amounting to $489,217, and the products during the year were valued at $2,564,551, forming 59.5, 48.7, 42.8 and 66.6 per cent, respectively, of the totals for the territory.

Flour Valued at $78,126 The wheat flour reported at the census of 1905, as compared with that of 1900, showed an increase in quantity of 89,946 barrels, or 37.4 per cent, and $78,126, or 118.8 per cent in value. For the same period corn meal showed an increase in quantity of 105,902, or 80.5 per cent; feed $321,563, or 205.6 per cent, and offal $167,722, or 209.3 per cent.

In quantity from 9,885 tons to 32,159... The printing and publishing of newspapers and periodicals ranked third, and the manufacture of lumber and timber products fourth, in 1905, both industries showing a large percentage of increase in value of products.

Many New Industries Among the industries for which reports were received in 1905, but not in 1900, are the manufacture of gas, explosives, glass and furniture, the totals for which are included in all other industries, to avoid disclosing individual operations.

Between 1900 and 1905 the proportion of establishments owned by individuals increased in only one of the industries; similarly, an increase for those under corporate ownership occurred in only one industry; while the proportion of establishments controlled by firms increased in two of the three industries.

Horse Power Greater The horse power reported in 1900 includes that for the so-called hand trades excluded from the census of 1905, which fact in a measure affects the comparison. The total horse power increased 7,375, or 140.4 per cent over the amount shown in 1900; the greatest increase, 7,951, or 129.5 per cent, was shown for the horse power generated by steam engines, which constituted 53.9 per cent of the total power in 1905, as against 96.2 per cent in 1900.

RECORD WEEK IN REAL ESTATE Deeds Filed Represent Over $300,000 Value

As predicted in The Telegram last Sunday, a record week for real estate transfers has come, and the total value of deeds in one week has now gone over the $300,000 mark. During the past week there were six days upon which the total value of the real estate transfers was over the $100,000 mark, owing to a large number of transfers being put upon record. HAVE MAN WITH LANTERN SAWS BY FALL HE FOUND BEN TILLMAN

Calls South Carolina Senator an Honest Man

HE IS NO RICH MAN But Grafters in Senate Lobby Today Have Physical Fear of Bribing Him

(BY GILSON GARDNER.) WASHINGTON, April 14.—There are honest men in congress. Not many—but one here and there. It is a somewhat delicate task to name them. Human judgments are liable; and anything is possible so long as the man is alive.

Washington, April 14.—There are honest men in congress. Not many—but one here and there. It is a somewhat delicate task to name them. Human judgments are liable; and anything is possible so long as the man is alive.

Why Tillman? He is, because he is the people's protest against graft. He is, because the people have perfect confidence that he is honest. He is not brilliant. He is not clever. He is not eloquent—except in the sense that "eloquence is the man." He is not diplomatic, or polished, or tactful. He is not discreet, or learned, or wise with the wisdom of books. He is honest. That is all.

But that is a lot in public life. Political and personal honesty is a mighty asset in these days—and I believe in all days. Tillman is a man of character. He is rugged. He is strong with the strength of the granite cliff which looms scarred and unlovely against the sky.

Why Tillman? He is, because he is the people's protest against graft. He is, because the people have perfect confidence that he is honest. He is not brilliant. He is not clever. He is not eloquent—except in the sense that "eloquence is the man." He is not diplomatic, or polished, or tactful. He is not discreet, or learned, or wise with the wisdom of books. He is honest. That is all.

MEMORIAL TO J. PETER SMITH.

Memorial to Col. J. Peter Smith, erected by contribution of his friends and admirers, now stands in the triangular park between Jennings avenue, Throckmorton and Tenth and Seventh streets, facing north.

The memorial consists of a bust, the features of which are declared to be an excellent likeness of the former mayor of the city, placed upon a fine marble pedestal, bearing appropriate inscription and the monogram of Col. Smith in relief.

Captain B. B. Paddock, who was a leader in the movement to secure the erection of the column, says in his work upon northern and western Texas.

Colonel J. Peter Smith is probably best known to history for his connection with railroad building. His contributions to the many roads that entered Fort Worth and gave this city its prominence in north and west Texas were always generous and to the extent of his resources.

He was born in Owen county, Kentucky, Sept. 18, 1811, a son of Samuel and Sally (Burd) Smith, both Kentuckians by birth. His paternal and maternal ancestors were agriculturists, slaveholders and well-to-do people. He himself reared on a farm and after the death of his father and mother in 1834 went to live with his cousin, W. M. Garnett, of Owen county, whom he regarded as his guardian.

"His guardian kept him in the best schools of the neighborhood and in 1849 entered him in Franklin College, Indiana, where he remained ten months. In September, 1850, he went to Bethany College, Virginia, where he remained three years.

He left Kentucky in November, 1852, coming to Fort Worth, and was so fascinated with the beauty of the place and the surrounding country that he decided to make it his future home. In January, 1854, he obtained possession of the old post hospital and opened the first school taught in Fort Worth.

DEFENSIBLES PASS FINE INSPECTION

National Guard Officers Witness Government Review

Official inspection of the Fort Worth defensibles, Company D, Fourth regiment, Texas National Guard, took place Sunday, being made by Major C. T. Harris, of the Twenty-sixth Infantry, stationed at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

The company property was all found to be in good condition, and though the company was drilled and inspected in private to the war department, remarks by Major Clark show the confidence of the local military organization in the defensibles.

Inspection of the company property was followed by drill on the court house square, at the head of Houston street, with the company with over thirty men being commanded by Captain Carter.

Among those present at the inspection were Colonel J. M. Byrnes, inspector general of the Texas National Guard; Lieutenant Colonel George D. Starr, paymaster general of the Texas National Guard; Major R. H. Bechtelmann, commissary general; and Lieutenant Robert Martin, on Colonel O. Elliott's staff.

TO OPEN APRIL 26

Hermann Park Will Be Ready for Visitors

Extensive and expensive improvements are being made at Hermann Park. In anticipation of the opening of the park, the Old Fellows and Young Men's associations have erected a pavilion at the park has been covered by a new floor and a glass skylight is being used in case the weather is stormy.

The park has been repainted, and the bowling alley has been fitted and equipped with new and improved amusement features will be ready to use.

It is hoped to make Hermann Park one of the most attractive amusement places around the city during the summer.

Schaeffer and Slosson Victors at Billiard Tournament

NEW YORK, April 14.—Schaeffer and Slosson were the victors today in the 18-inch ball line two shots in billiard championship tournament. The wizard defeated Slosson, who Slosson and took Willie Hoppe into camp. It was not over confidence that lost for Hoppe, he was beaten by a score of 500 to 245. Slosson averaged 20, 20, 24; Jake Schaeffer won a clean cut victory over George Sutton by a score of 500 to 297. Schaeffer ran the game out in the twentieth inning, with an unfinished run of five. Schaeffer's average was 24, and Sutton's 29, 17 and 18.

Noted Showman Buried

NEW YORK, April 14.—James A. Bailey, for nearly thirty years head of the greatest circus aggregation on the continent, died today in Woodlawn cemetery with brief and simple but impressive ceremonies. Obsolete to a request of the widow, only a few intimate friends and business associates of the deceased showman were present. A touching tribute to the greatest esteem and love borne for the great show owner by his business competitors was evinced by the receipt of nearly 200 telegrams during the day from Colonel William F. Cody, Alfred Starr, John F. and G. H. Robinson, the Ringling Brothers, Moore, victory over representative of Barnum and Bailey, B. M. Creale, the Paris representative and George L. Starr. The telegram from Mr. Cody was signed by thirty-one members of his company.

Crop Report Issued

A crop report issued Saturday by the International and Great Northern railroad gives some interesting figures as to the acreage in different crops along the line of that road.

The report shows 26,000 acres in peaches, 1,250 acres in onions, 2,000 in potatoes, 1,300 in water melons and 630 in beans.

Prospects are reported good all along the line.

Work is progressing rapidly all along the line.

WARNING NOTE DEMANDS $700

John T. Woolery Receives a Communication

HEAVY PENALTY FIXED

No Clue to Threatener, Who Gives Explicit Directions for Placing of Money Asked

John T. Woolery of 1300 Texas street, president and manager of the Fort Worth Furniture company, has placed in the hands of the police department a threatening letter left on his doorstep Friday morning. The matter was placed in the hands of the police Saturday afternoon.

The letter demands the payment of $700 under penalty of loss of $75,000 "and more," as the letter says. Minute directions were given for the placing of the money in a place where it was to be secured by the writer.

There is no clue furnished either by the writing, which is so disguised as to seem like that of a boy or in the paper upon which it is written.

Found on Doorstep

The threatening communication was found on the doorstep by Mr. Woolery, who will pay no attention to it.

"I merely gave it to the police, thinking it might be of some use to them," said Mr. Woolery in speaking of the matter Saturday night. "I do not recognize the writing and have no idea as to the source of the communication."

Explicit Directions

Mr. Woolery has paid so little attention to the threat as to be unable to remember its exact wording. He recalls, however, that the demand was made that he board a Summit avenue car, go to the Rio Grande railroad yards and thence to the Trinity river, taking a boat which it was declared he would find there and row to a bluff up the stream, where the money, to be in notes and silver, was to be placed.

Minute directions given show the writer to be well acquainted with the city and its topography.

Detectives have been assigned to the case by the police department and a strong effort will be made to unravel the mystery. Care will also be taken to prevent any publicity to Mr. Woolery or his possessions.

Five Lots for Catholic School

Consideration in Sale to St. Ignatius $19,500

Nineteen thousand five hundred dollars is the consideration in a real estate deal effected Saturday whereby John M. Scott and E. C. Hoodley sold five lots, making a total frontage west in Throckmorton street, beginning at Twelfth of 125 feet, to be used by the St. Ignatius Academy of the Catholic church. The deal was completed through J. W. Buchanan late Saturday afternoon.

"I would not hear of staying in the house alone and begged him till he let me go," said George, who was with him, the distance being only about a hundred feet. It was then so dark that we took a lantern, and while George was working with the stock one of the horses slipped its halter and ran across the barn, knocking down the lantern that had been hung on a hook in the ceiling. When it fell it lit a milk stool and broke, and like a flash the flames sprang up the side of the barn into the loft, where there were as many as twenty tons of hay and straw in a moment that the barn was doomed, and, catching hold of me dragged me out through the smoke into the open air and we ran to the house as fast as we could go, George shouting that the wind was in such a direction that the house would soon go, too, and we must save something to keep us alive until the storm was over. We had not much time to work in, though, for the barn burned terribly hardy reached the house before great sheets of flame sprang over the space between and set the roof to burning as if it had been paper.

Will Walk to Dallas Today

Dan O'Leary Expects to Cover 64 Miles Before Night

Dan O'Leary, professional long distance walker, regarding whose coming match in a walking contest from New York to Chicago, a story was published in Thursday's Telegram, will celebrate Easter Sunday today by taking a sixty-four mile walk into the country.

O'Leary will start at 6 o'clock this morning from a main street hotel and expects to get as far as Dallas by 11 o'clock. He will eat lunch in Dallas and return on foot to Fort Worth in the afternoon. He expects to arrive by 8 o'clock in the evening.

O'Leary has been requested by a number of persons, who saw the story of his experiences in The Telegram, to give an exhibition of walking before leaving for New York, and it is expected that he will do so within a few weeks.

Remarkable Story of a Honeycomb in Dakota and Just an Old-Fashioned Well

SPONDUNK HOLLOW, March 25.—The following letter received today by Miss Hattie Shupper of Boldt, from her friend, Mrs. G. A. Missner of Grand Forks, N. D., tells a very interesting story of the terrors of a blizzard in that cold climate.

Mrs. Missner was formerly Miss Adeline Hly of Boldt, and was married last winter when their work was done on the ranch of the husband, far out on the south of Langdon, N. D., on the boundless prairie.

The letters read:

"I am now to tell you about our splendid honeycomb on the ranch.

"On a thirty-mile drive out to the place from Langdon, over an almost trackless prairie, but the weather was beautiful and the horses made nothing of the drive, but on arriving at the ranch, were surprised to find that the hired man whom George had left in charge had deserted his post and gone away, leaving the stock unattended, and everything in confusion. George went to work, however, and quickly had everything about the place in good shape and none of the weather-weather changed all at once with the suddenness that is common to this part of the country, but which you know about. About 10 o'clock, George said that he thought there was blizzard coming up, and I was rather glad, for I had heard so much about those things, that I wanted to experience one for myself. But we got enough of it and to spare. It was terrible.

"The snow fell for quite a while, till the ground was covered several inches deep, and then a terrible wind, filled with falling snow and flying snow, came roaring over the prairie, and in less time than it takes me to write, we were lost to all the outer world in a mass of snow so dense that we could not see trees that stood only twenty feet from the windows. It was no very cold at first, but rapidly grew colder and the drifts piled up about the place till they were something immense. Some that we measured later were more than ten feet deep. George said that the probabilities were that it would continue to blow in just the same terrible gale for two or three days, and being at one time so close, he would soon cut him off from getting to the barn to feed the stock, he concluded to go down while he could and put out as much feed for them as he dared in order that they might suffer as little as possible.

"I would not hear of staying in the house alone and begged him till he let me go," said George, who was with him, the distance being only about a hundred feet. It was then so dark that we took a lantern, and while George was working with the stock one of the horses slipped its halter and ran across the barn, knocking down the lantern that had been hung on a hook in the ceiling. When it fell it lit a milk stool and broke, and like a flash the flames sprang up the side of the barn into the loft, where there were as many as twenty tons of hay and straw in a moment that the barn was doomed, and, catching hold of me dragged me out through the smoke into the open air and we ran to the house as fast as we could go, George shouting that the wind was in such a direction that the house would soon go, too, and we must save something to keep us alive until the storm was over. We had not much time to work in, though, for the barn burned terribly hardy reached the house before great sheets of flame sprang over the space between and set the roof to burning as if it had been paper.

From the Shelter

that he generally keeps a hired man, or two or three of them, in his employ. He has been keeping two this winter, having a good deal of wood to cut, and, early in the week, these men were out in the woods about half a mile from the farm house, hard at work.

Schuffel did the cooking and chores about the place, and was at the house, up in the afternoon, so heavy that the men had hard work getting back to the house when their work was done for the day, and to their surprise they saw nothing of Schuffel around the house when they got home, nor could they find him around the barn.

Supposing that he must have gone to town, they got their own supper and did up the chores, and still Schuffel did not appear. About 10 o'clock at night, disturbed by the howling of one of the dogs, they grew uneasy about Mr. Schuffel's continued absence and went out to look around for him, fearing that he might have met with some accident. They followed up the dog that was doing the howling and in a short time came to the apparently lifeless body of a man lying face down, buried in the snow in a remote part of the yard, where he had evidently gone to get some large pieces of wood.

The pile of wood had tipped over upon him and bound him down so that he could not move, but did not appear, from the superficial examination they were able to make, to have injured himself seriously. It had held him firmly down, however, and, inasmuch as he was without any outer wraps, the intense cold had frozen the unfortunate man into a senseless condition, and it appeared to the hired men, almost as solid as a rock.

Hemmering, one of the men, was for carrying him at once into a warm room of the house and thawing him out, but Classing, the older and stronger of the men, put his veto on that proposition, took him into a room where there was no fire, and insisted on his being left there three days and four nights till the roads cleared out so that a physician could be brought through the terrible drifts to attend to him. He claimed that it would be very dangerous for them to try to do anything with the frozen man, that they might do just the wrong thing and injure him beyond all hope of recovery.

He took a thermometer into the apartment, and, by means of keeping a door into a heated room open a portion of the time, kept the room where Mr. Schuffel was just a degree or two above freezing point all the while.

When the physician arrived he went energetically to work, and in the course of an hour or so restored the frozen man to consciousness, and says he will recover fully.

Despite the apparent inhumanity and even barbarity of Classing's plan of treatment, the physician says that it was, in all probability, the best thing that could have been done. But the eighty-four hours of anxiety and horror which the hired man Hemmering suffered have given him a bad case of nervous prostration, from which, the doctor says, he will be several weeks in recovering.

Jury Disagrees

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The second trial of that $1,000,000 suit of Morris Menges against General Louis Fitzgerald for the recovery of the above named amount on an alleged contract involving the purchase of the Western Maryland Railroad Company, resulted this afternoon in the disagreement of the jury.

A mining company which built a $40,000 clubhouse for its men at Bisbee, Ariz., four years ago, found the building a hindrance, as the men refused to be paternalized, and it was turned over to the Y. M. C. A., which is making a success of the enterprise, and now has twice as many men enrolled as could be secured for the club.

CHILD HUNT AT EGG HUNT

Parents and Offspring Separated During Event

During the egg hunt at the City Park yesterday afternoon about a dozen children were lost from their parents, most of them being found within a short time after their disappearance. A few women, however, became very frightened when, after long search, they were unable to find their children, but toward evening all the missing ones had been found or had returned home of their own accord. Assistant Chief of Police Day and a number of officers were present and aided in returning the lost children to their parents.

There were two little boys, only 5 years of age, that were missing for several hours. The mother of one of the boys, whose name could not be learned, resided in North Fort Worth, and being unable to find her son, returned home, believing that he would be able to find his own way, as he knew the street and number. VARSITY SINGERS SCORE BIG HIT

University of Texas Glee Club Heard Here

Under the auspices of the Sunday Club of the First Presbyterian church, there was a concert given at the city hall Saturday night by the Glee Club of the University of Texas, which was conducted by the largest throng of people ever crowded into the auditorium of that building.
 The concert was given by the Glee Club of the University of Texas. The club consists of twenty-two members and with the club are a violinist and accompanist.
 All vocal numbers were good, solos, quartets and ensembles. Encores were numerous and, in fact, but few of the numbers failed of an encore.
 Sunday afternoon the club will be the chief attraction at the regular meeting of the Sunday Club, and in the evening, for the regular evening service of the First Presbyterian church, the University Glee Club will contribute the principal part of the music. The University Glee Club will not be at the morning service of the First Presbyterian church.
 The program Saturday night was:
 "The Good (Bad) Little Boy"..... C. B. Rich Glee Club.
 (a) Romance Halsey (b) "Ben Bolt" D'Almaine
 E. P. Collins
 "When Day Fades" Parks Quartet.

BODY IDENTIFIED

Negro Killed in Katy Yards Was James

The dead negro man discovered Friday morning by some of the train men working in the Katy yards has been identified as James Owen of this city. The body was removed to the Houston morgue, in Rusk street, and during Saturday afternoon several persons who had known Owen called at the morgue and identified the body. Nothing was found on the body but 10 cents in money and a package of cigarette papers.
 Owen lived in East Thirteenth street and had worked at the Darrah Storage warehouse. His family live at Marshall street, near the Houston yards. He is the father of James Owen, his mother, Allen Owen, a brother, who works in the Texas and Pacific round house, and two sisters.
 The body is being held for instructions from the family.

Mrs. A. S. Rucker, 1824 Cedar street, Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I wish to tell you what Peruna has done for me. In the spring of 1902 I was very sick and so weak I could scarcely be up..."

Spring Catarrh. Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression. Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities.

That Tired Feeling. That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

The Correct Remedy. Spring with its lassitude is also fruitful of catarrhal diseases, on account of its sudden changes so apt to cause inflammation of the mucous membranes...

"These symptoms manifested themselves mostly in the spring and fall. I suffered this way for about seven years."

Do Not Delay. Get a bottle of Peruna when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle.

A Spring Tonic. Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain and cleanse the blood.

A Typical Case. Geo. M. Fillmore, formerly 1st Lieut. 3rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 909 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows: "I suffered forward from winter into spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me..."

Now Is Your Opportunity. This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Just help her a little and she will bring you out of the quagmire in which you have been floundering so long. Give Nature a little assistance, let her struggle be in vain.

Numerous Testimonials. Thousands of cases might be quoted in which Peruna has rescued people from the ravages of spring catarrh...

Revised Formula. "For a number of years requests have come to me from a multitude of grateful friends, urging that Peruna be given a slight laxative quality..."

JUDGE NELSON ON CATTLE CONDITIONS

Judge O. H. Nelson, president of the Western Stock Yards company, and one of the pioneers of the cattle industry in the southwest, and who has followed it through all of its various vicissitudes and fortunes is quite a particular enthusiast about the great Panhandle of Texas and its leading products.

Judge Nelson is one of those leaders who when mere lads immigrated to the great and golden-tinted West and blazed fresh paths of progress, the direct result of which has been a world of opportunities that has enabled thousands of ambitious Americans to settle in the garden spot of the universe and prosper and become their own masters. Their energy has, indeed, been rightly directed and today the Panhandle country is a synonym of abundance and comfort and plenty.

And now that this formerly land of idle waste is being rapidly transformed into variable carpets of green verdure, deserving harvests, the establishment and successful pursuit of agriculture naturally makes some of the old timers in less favored lands a bit skeptical, at least, or the still brighter future of the cattle industry in the southwest. But the rosate and radiant fact of it all is that more scientific breeding advanced and stimulated by the combination of two industries which means room for more breeders and more prosperity for each and all than ever before.

The exceedingly optimistic statement of this successful man of the industry followed scientifically by the biggest-hearted men in the world is, therefore, of keen interest to our readers. Speaking of the cattle industry to a Stockman-Journal reporter, Judge Nelson said:

"Yes, we have Union Stock yards also at Fort Madison on the Mississippi river. Fort Madison is the division point of the Santa Fe system between Kansas City and Chicago and is the very center of the corn belt feed country of the United States. While Fort Madison is in Iowa, it is only twenty-one miles from the Missouri line."

And what will be the final result of the decrease in the demand for the cattle from the far northwest?

"That is an important problem," continued Judge Nelson. "I think you will find that the decrease in the demand from Montana, the Dakotas and the northwest in general for cattle raised above the quarantine line was about 50 per cent from 1903 to 1904; about 33 1-3 per cent from 1904 to 1905 and about 33 1-3 per cent from 1905 to 1906. This decrease, however, has been more than offset by the increase from the corn belt feed lots in the Central West, so that our efforts for the past several years have been to create and stimulate a new market for the Panhandle's exceeding large output. During the last two years we have placed Panhandle cattle in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, and even as far as New York, New Jersey and Maryland. The demand from those states is rapidly increasing."

"The demand is chiefly for calves and yearlings of well bred varieties, and the increase in this demand for 'baby beef' is astonishing. A fairly good feeder will more than double the weight of the calf within six months, and a good feeder will do even better than that. Besides, a calf eats less than half the feed required by an aged steer, yet the calf actually gains more pounds."

"Many of our customers have placed calves weighing from 350 to 400 pounds in October and November that weighed from 750 to 1,000 pounds when marketed the following May, June and July, and this 'baby beef' has brought the top of the market. As an instance, I might cite that one of our Illinois customers marketed two carloads of mixed calves and steers, half and half in Chicago last June, averaging 835 pounds, at $6.35, and the same day the top market was paid for a bunch of well finished steers, averaging 1,500 pounds, that brought only $6.40.

"We are encouraging our stock farmers to raise hogs. Many years ago back in Kansas, we called the hogs the debt payers and mortgage lifters. It's a fine industry and excellently well adapted to the Panhandle of Texas. In order to encourage its pursuit we are buying any number of hogs at any time. You see there's big money in raising hogs on kaffir corn—and Swift & Co. have proved by scientific test that kaffir corn makes the fattened hog a much more desirable article—and the hog proposition should certainly not be overlooked. Every week from twelve to twenty carloads of live hogs are shipped from Oklahoma to Los Angeles.

"Now, I can say for a certainty that within a year Amarillo will have a big and modern packing house. We have the farmers and the productive land to raise the feedstuffs, and we'll soon have the hogs and the packing house. Really, Amarillo has better shipping facilities now than either Kansas City or Chicago had when the stock yards were established there. With the Southern Kansas, Beeson Valley, Denver Road, Rock Island and the other lines now in course of construction, Amarillo is the place for a packing house, on account of the vast territory that it will naturally have to supply. By July or August we will be on the main line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe from Chicago to the Pacific, by means of the Beeson cutoff.

"History repeats itself. Forty years ago, when I left my Illinois home to settle in Kansas, it was told that if I succeeded in raising one crop of corn out of every five I would be doing well, and that I would be lucky to show any wheat at all. Today Kansas is the finest wheat state in the country, yet two score years ago there were thousands of farmers, who, although not from Missouri, had to be shown.

"Less than five years ago well known economists pessimistically told the world that all of the tillable soil of the great southwest had been settled; that there was not room for the increasing tide of immigration, and that therefore, there would never be another 'crop' of land offered the farmers at low prices.

"Today the Panhandle is, as yet, thinly settled, considering, of course, its unlimited possibilities, and one may search the pages of the history of immigration from the dim dawn discontent until the present hour, but in vain, to find opportunities surpassing those for new homes, industries and investments now available in the Panhandle. Indeed, when our President recently said that Texas is the garden proved breeding of the leading beef cattle; and the minor premise is slantly the production of crops and feedstuffs upon these acres. Thus the two industries go hand in hand together, enabling the man who applies science and energy to reap a handsome harvest of returns. If I could only tell you exactly how enthusiastic and optimistic I have become during my twenty-six years' residence in the Panhandle, I would be satisfied, but I guess I have said enough, and trust these words may reach the ears of people who want to come to the great southwest that their honest energy and effort may be made to produce comfort and plenty and satisfaction."

MODELS PRESIDENTS IN SLATE
Chicago Machinist-Artist Does Unusual Work in Sculpture
A class of students at the Chicago Art Institute is modeling the heads of Presidents and other noted Americans, to be used for decoration in the Chicago parks.

The work is under the direction of Larado Taft, and an exhibit of the work will be made in the late spring or early summer months. The heads of Lincoln, Grant, Jackson, Washington, Garfield and others are well under way.

Among the modelers is John G. Prashun of Indianapolis, who chipped out the head of Lincoln in unusual circumstances. Prashun by trade is a machinist, and last summer he was engaged in the work of erecting an interlocking plant at De Kalb. A large block of slate piled off a fiat car which was being hauled through the town. It fell almost at the feet of Prashun, and he afterward carried it to his room in the town.

With a jackknife and other tools he improvised the CUTEAONI. NU. U improvised he cut from the slate the Lincoln head.—Chicago News.

OUR LAY SERMON

"I am the resurrection and the life." The advent of Easter is typical in that it serves to remind us of the resurrection of the Christ, and the resurrection of nature.

Easter is believed to mark the period when all vegetation is free from the danger of being nipped by Jack Frost. The bosom of old Mother Earth has again been warmed by the return of the sun across the vernal equinox, and the little seeds and buds that have lain dormant during all the cold of the winter months respond to the genial rays by germinating and assuming their places in the world.

Nature is in her most charming and ravishing mood. Turn where we may we can see but the indisputable evidences of the resurrection and the life. And as Nature thus resurrects all plant and vegetable life, clothing them in new joys and new beauties, so has God through the resurrection of His Blessed Son, given us proof and hope of the resurrection and life that is to be our portion in the years to come.

There is no death. Nature proves this fact to us with the advent of each recurring Easter. The flowers that bloom in the spring and the fruits that delight us in season—the green foliage of the trees and the grassy landscape so delightful to the eye with the freshness of today may pass with the wintry breath of the morrow, but not forever. The time of resurrection must come just as the day of passing temporarily from sight, and with its coming we have new joys, new pleasures, new hopes and new aspirations. The flowers of tomorrow are just as sweet and fragrant as those of yesterday and the blooms are there in equal profusion.

And if these things are true with regard to the things we find in nature, they must be equally as true in regard to humanity. The Christ was crucified on the cross, but He arose again from the dead, just as will all who come after Him. We may sleep in peace during long years that intervene, but in the end we shall know an eternal awakening. The flowers must wither and die annually only to be resurrected in the same manner. To humanity it is accorded to experience the pangs of death but once and then the glorious and final resurrection, when we shall put off the mortal and assume immortality—when we shall enter into the full enjoyment of all that comes to the believing children of the Living God.

The children of today may see nothing in Easter but an opportunity to hunt rabbit eggs and indulge in a day of enjoyment. The women of today may see nothing in it but an opportunity to bedeck themselves in their new spring finery and go out in search of admiration. The average man may see nothing in it but a return of the fishing season, but to the true Christian heart it is typical of that resurrection and life that is the hope and joy of every believing heart.

"I am the resurrection and the life." Jesus Christ, the Son of God, proclaimed this great truth to the world while standing in the shadow of the cross back in the days when Christianity was one of the smallest things on the whole broad face of the earth. And the assertion has lost none of its truth and potency with the passing of the intervening years.

Without Him there can be no resurrection and no life. Without Him there is no hope for poor fallen humanity. Without Him there is nothing to satisfy man's craving for immortality, or lend the slightest semblance of hope beyond the portals of the tomb.

But, thank God, we know there is a resurrection and a life beyond the checked existence on this sphere. We know from the words of the Son of God, as well as the demonstrations we continually see from the hands of Nature that there is no death. Nothing that God places here on earth is ever totally lost. It may pass out of existence for the time being, but like the Son of God, it must rise again. Even our dust when committed to the earth, becomes dust again, and contributes its mite toward the sustenance of additional life. Resurrection is continually in progress all around and about us.

A QUESTION OF ETHICS

The Fort Worth Medical Society has decided that doctors must not advertise, holding that it is not ethical, so they say. It means that it is not ethical to pay money for newspaper advertising. It is "ethical" all right to get all the free advertising possible. To prove this let the newspapers drop the title "Dr." and see what a howl it would raise.

Reputable physicians are very much averse to what they term newspaper notoriety, and strenuously object to their names appearing in print in connection with any case. There is a class of country physicians and very young practitioners who crave all the publicity the press can afford them, but they are not in accord with the real ethics of the profession.

The medical profession is one of the noblest that has been accorded to mankind. The family physician very often stands closer to the family than the minister who administers to the spiritual end of the household. There are family secrets locked in the breasts of family physicians today that would shock the civilized world if they were made known, and are known to no others.

And let us not judge the medical profession as a whole by the young man just starting out in life, or the well meaning country doctor who really knows no better. If your physician does not desire to see his name in print in connection with the practice of his profession, do him the kindness to respect his wishes, for he is only trying to live in accord with the teachings of those who look upon the profession as perhaps a little different from the walks of life in which men linger for purely mercenary motives.

CATTELEMEN ORGANIZING

Reports from the meeting of cattlemen held in Denver Friday indicate a fixed determination to organize for the purpose of fighting the commission men comprising the various live stock exchanges of the country that have seen fit to arbitrarily advance the price of selling stock consigned to them for sale.

Every possible effort has been made by the shippers and producers to have the commission men recede from their announced determination. Conferences have been held and all kinds of overtures held out to induce the commission firms to hold their charges down to what the other side considers a legitimate and proper basis, but the appeals have apparently fallen on deaf ears.

The announced plan of the shippers and producers is to organize independent live stock exchanges at all the offending market centers, composed of commission firms who will be satisfied with the reasonable rate of commission charge willing to be paid. The plan is said to embody an organization with a capital stock of $100,000 at each of these market centers, and the various organizations are to be perfected and put to work as soon as possible.

One of the results of the fight is certain to be an appeal to the courts of the country to determine whether or not the existing live stock exchanges are being operated contrary to the provisions of the anti-trust law. The agitation that has already resulted from the introduction of that feature of the situation has resulted in the exchange at Kansas City coming under the ban, so far as the supreme court of Kansas is concerned, and there are indications of grave disaster. Right here in Texas there is an agitation of this subject that is sure to provoke trouble.

It is unfortunate that two interests so closely allied as that of producing and selling live stock cannot be persuaded to abstain from a war, go the knife and knife to the hilt procedure. It would seem that a proper regard for the common exigencies of the situation would prompt the good people concerned to even yet make a determined effort to adjust their differences and dwell together in peace and harmony.

It is certain, however, that the cattlemen are not going to recede from their announced determination. They have gone into the matter with a calm determination that indicates a sincerity of purpose that will not be interfered with even by compromise. They have expressed themselves as willing to go so far, and the indications are they are thoroughly prepared to put up one of the biggest fights in the history of the country before they will be coerced into a different policy. The indications for much trouble are very flattering.

The negro pistol carrier is not the only one who should be made to feel the heft of the strong arm of the law. The pistol is equally as dangerous in the hands of the white man who carries one concealed upon his person.

The story of the progress of Fort Worth during the six years of the Powell administration affords some very interesting reading, and one of the most interesting parts of the story is the fact that it is every bit true.

Representative Blount of Anderson county has finally decided to run for congress, and once more the Tom Campbell prospect over in East Texas is saved from total annihilation.

The people of Texas should see to it that no member of the state legislature who drew salary after agreeing to serve without pay is again allowed to return to Austin as a lawmaker.

Of course, the Fat Stock Show will be made permanent, and it will be maintained in a manner that comports with its usefulness and importance. That is the Fort Worth manner of doing things.

Patrick may not win immunity from punishment in New York, but he will at least impress New York people with the resourcefulness of a Texas lawyer when they go to settle that bill of expenses.

All the joys of the Easter season will not be evident until the first day of May has been ushered upon the scene of action.

The cyclone season has opened up rather early in Texas this year, and there will soon be something doing in storm houses.

The demand for Fort Worth property is so great that lots are now changing hands several times while the buildings are being erected.

The Rock Island can find a very inviting route for an extension from Fort Worth to the gulf.

Better get that Texas home before it passes entirely beyond your reach. Texas really is constantly enhancing in value.

Some of the knowing ones intimate that Roosevelt's party, if not himself, is sick and tired of the cost and trouble of managing the Philippine islands, and that negotiations are already under way to turn them over to Japan. It is plain as can be seen that the Philippines are costing the United States more money than they will ever return, and that the great majority of the tribes will never submit to any "benevolent assimilation" save that of the lion and the lamb. It has been an insane policy from the start.

There is no question but that the United States government has a veritable bull elephant on its hands in the Philippines, but the question is, how can it avoid existing responsibilities? Those people are incapable of self-government, and some other government must stand charged with that responsibility.

The Glen Rose Herald is opposing the election of Senator Hanger on the ground that he is the local attorney for the Fort Worth packing houses, but we hardly consider this legitimate ground for opposition. However, Hanger takes no interest in the district outside of Fort Worth, not even paying the voters of the other counties the courtesy of a visit during campaign year, but Fort Worth can elect him without other aid, hence we see the reason for his indifference.

Senator Hanger is a lawyer and has to depend on his law practice for support. He has as much right to serve the packing firms in the capacity of attorney as could be the case with any other member of the Fort Worth bar. And he does take an interest in the entire district, representing the interests outside of Fort Worth just as ably and efficiently as those of the city in which he makes his home.

County Judge R. F. Milam of Tarrant county fined a negro $300 and gave him a year in jail for carrying a big pistol. Now, if Judge Milam of Tarrant county will select a prominent white man guilty of the same offense and mete out the same punishment he will be doing something for the rising generation. But Judge Milam would think twice before going ahead. It is easy to make an example of a two-bit negro. It isn't popular to make an example of a $25,000 white man.—Dallas Times-Herald.

J. Adam Bede wants to divide Texas into four parts. All Gaul was divided into three parts, according to the late Hon. J. Caesar, but we are inclined to believe they have been reunited in the person of Mr. Bede.—Houston Post.

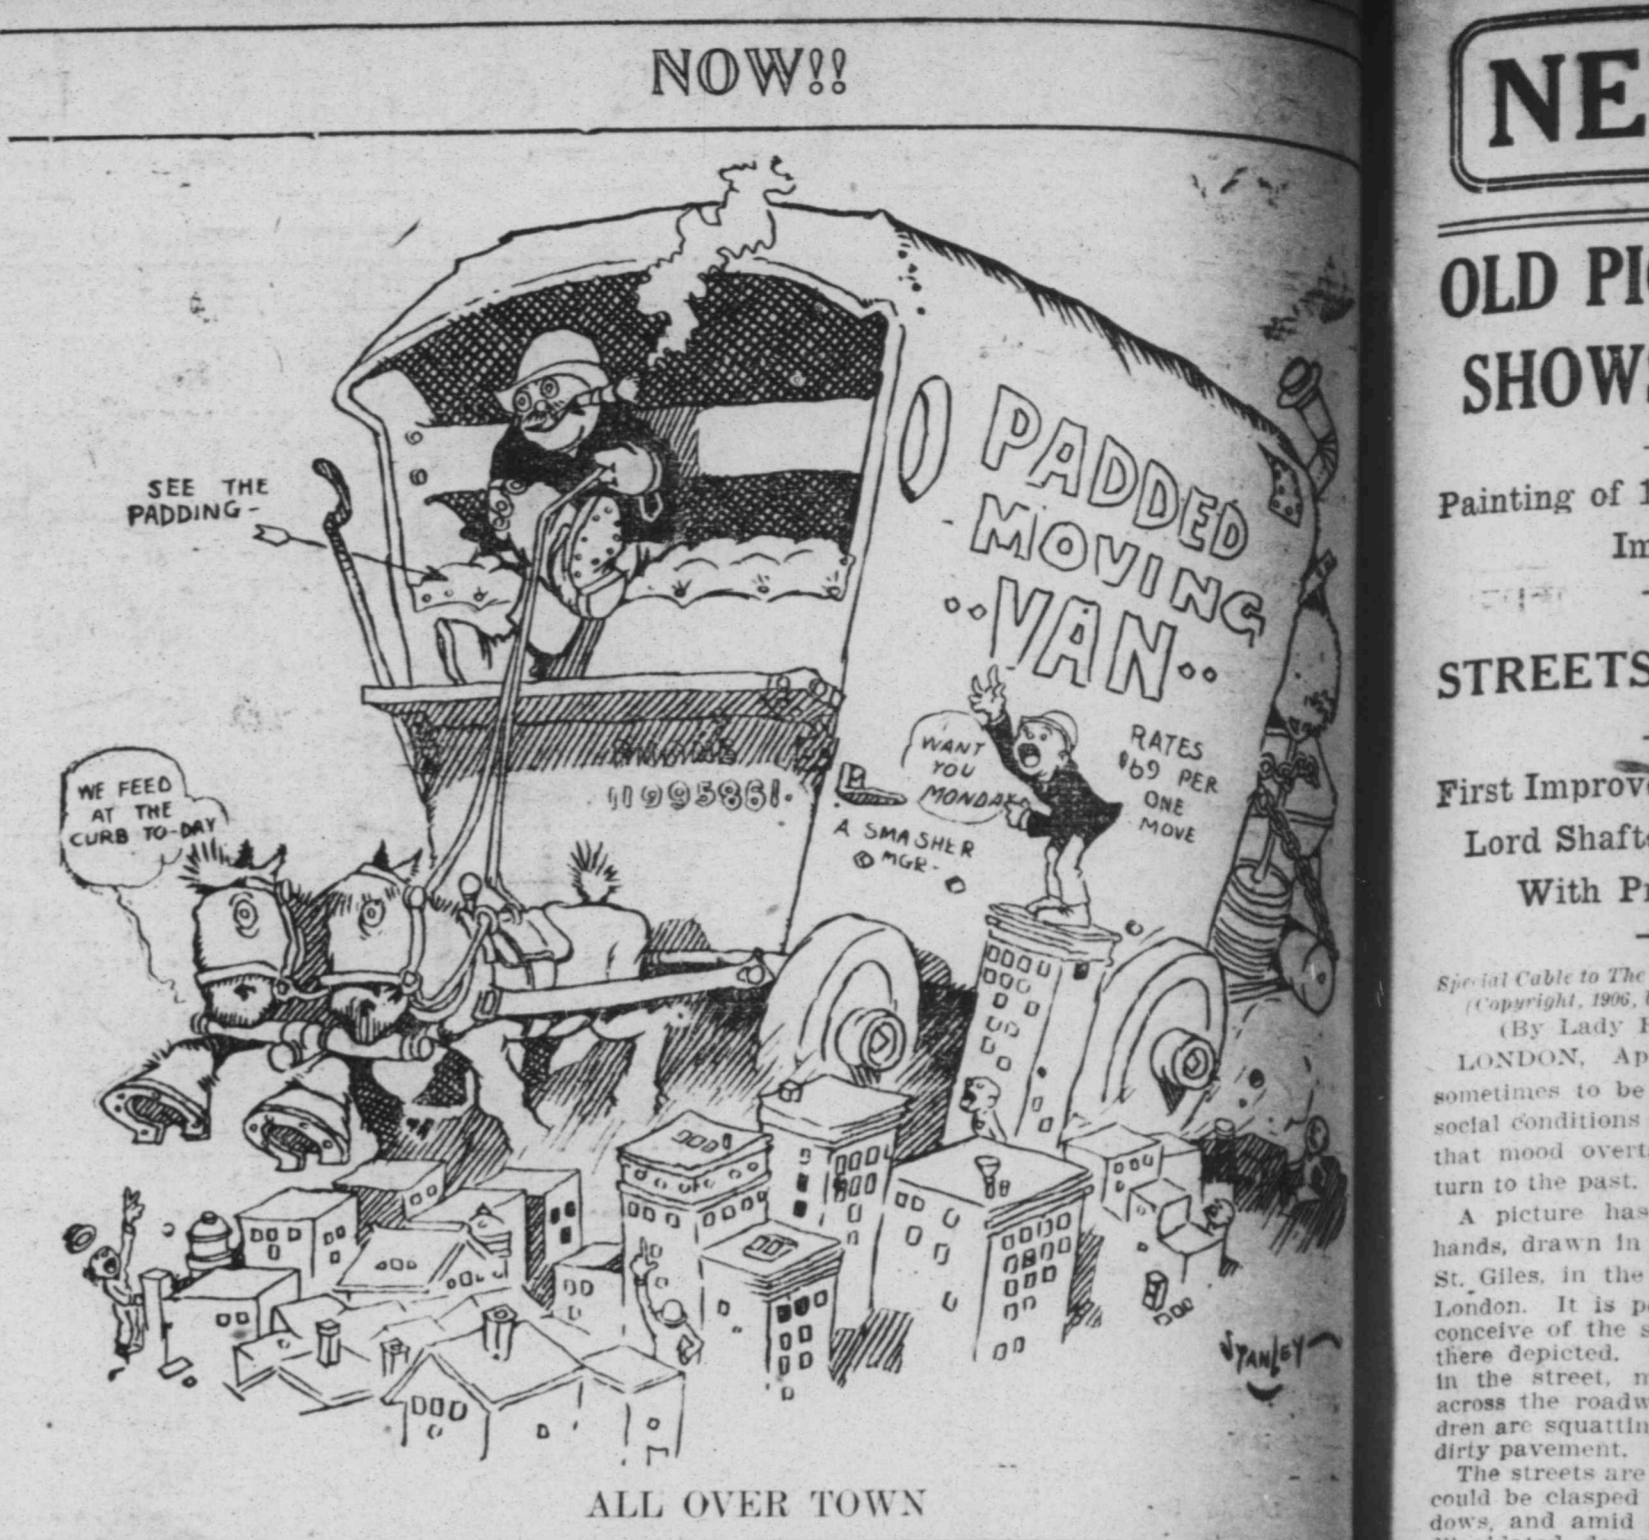

The dream of the politicians is to have Texas divided for political purposes, but it will never materialize. Texans have too much pride in the greatness of their state to ever submit to dismemberment.

The Fort Worth Telegram claims that the Panther City leads in the dead letter business. Here's one place where no rivalry will be claimed by Dallas.—Denison Herald.

The Telegram has made no such claim except in the broad sense that Fort Worth leads in all things. And there is no disputing the assertion that the Panther City always sets the pace.

In the shipment of four cars of steers by Chip Thompson and J. F. Drann this (Monday) afternoon to the Fort Worth market is most probably the biggest steer that has ever been shipped from West Texas. The steer is a great big Hereford, about 15 1/2 hands high, and in only fair condition will easily weigh 2,000 lbs. In first-class shape he would probably hold the championship for weight, but his size and the fact that he owns a pair of horns very much like a rocking chair makes him worthy of mention.—Ablene Reporter.

The big steer came through in good shape and attracted much attention. When the Abilene country begins to make all of its beef steers of this type it will find there is still plenty of money to be made in the cattle business.

VERDE THAT BRING

EASTER LILIES

Oh, ye lilies! Easter lilies! Blessings from your God above, In your tender fragrant beauty, Snow-white messenger of love! Given for our imitation, In our Savior's blessed word, For your trust so deep and tender, In the bounty of your Lord! Give to us the loving message, Your Creator placed within, Ere he kissed your buds to blossom, To refresh the sons of men!

Oh, ye lilies! Easter lilies! Lifting unto your faces sweet, Shedding incense at his feet! Be to man an inspiration, To all motives good and pure, Lift him to a higher duty, Teach him patience to endure. As ye are the graceful emblems, Of the soul made free from sin, Oh renew his loving spirit! Make us, keep us, pure within!

Oh, ye lilies, Easter lilies! Ministers to souls oppressed! To the faint ye give succor, To the weary ye give rest! For ye raise your saintly faces, To the spirit tempest torn, And your silent benediction, Shed upon the heart forlorn, Surely He will bless and claim you, For the good that ye have sown, When the Lily of the Valley Shall return to claim its own! —Eleanor Dams

OLD PICTURE SHOWS CHANGE... STREETS NARROW... First Improvements Started by Lord Shaftesbury Compare With Present Work

Painting of 1843 Hardly to Be Imagined... LONDON, April 14.—We are apt sometimes to be pessimistic as to the social conditions of our time, and when that mood overtakes us it is well to turn to the past.

Social Indian Problem... We are apt to be severe with other nations as to the peculiarities either of religion or custom which we believe to be different from our own; but human nature is much the same all the world over.

THE NEGOTIATIONS, however, consist mainly of an outlay in cash. A lump sum has to be produced in order to enable the bride to purchase a dowry in marriage, and the tariff is fixed according to the social standing of the bridegroom, but even when a large dowry has been paid the bride's father is expected to entertain the wedding guests on as lavish a scale as his income may be crippled for years, and it is for these reasons that the birth of a daughter is not looked upon as a subject for rejoicing.

Europe Insists on Caste... We are, however, mistaken if we imagine that caste does not exist equally in European nations. The unspoken laws which divide classes are quite as strict in Europe as they are in India, and, although the barrier which used to make any connection with a caste against social advancement has been removed, nevertheless any man who descends in the social scale to marry outside his class is ostracized quite as effectively as the Brahmin.

KAISER'S GIANT UNDER ARREST... Moroccan Drum Major Who Fled Is Captured

BERLIN, April 14.—The Kaiser has just happily solved another Moroccan question, though it did not affect the peace of Europe, was of considerable importance to him.

During the first summer of the native of the sunny south was the happiest man on earth, being immensely fond of his gorgeous uniform, but winter came and with that the first snow storm and the drum major began to lose weight and health, and some time before New Year he applied to the Kaiser for permission to return to his native country on sick leave.

There is every prospect, however, that the bill will become law, and with that prospect in view the brewers have already made arrangements to protect themselves. It has been figured out that the tax will bring in about ten million marks a year, and the brewers propose to form a trust and raise the money to pay the tax.

KING'S DAUGHTER AIDS EXPLORER... Dr. Nansen Made Minister of Great Britain

LONDON, April 14.—It was evidently through the efforts of the king's daughter, Queen Maud of Norway, that Dr. Nansen, the great Arctic explorer, has been named Norwegian minister to the court of St. James.

Dr. Nansen created a romantic interest in Princess Maud as she then was, when he first returned from the north and delivered his wonderful lecture in the Albert hall before the king and the royal family.

Mr. William Waldorf Astor has, contrary to general opinion on London a very generous side to his character. A well known clubman, who was passing along the streets on a very cold night some months ago, tells the story.

ent spirit as well as an independent income. When she left her married sister, Mrs. Adair Campbell, much to the latter's regret, she kept house for herself, or rather she took a house on a twelve months' lease.

Miss Havelock obtained one, but at the end of eight months she has become tired of the house and has now taken another. She has had an excellent time as a "bachelor girl" with her own latchkey until lately, when she and her chaperon were both poisoned in some mysterious way and are only just recovering from the effects.

NO NEED FOR PRESS AGENT... Kaiser's Gifts Keep Him Quite Conspicuous

Today he has another scheme for attracting public attention through his ambassador the sum of 130,000 francs, which has been presented to the minister of foreign affairs to be distributed among the widows and orphans of the Courrières disaster.

It is very fine, of course, but it is a bit too fine. France is rich enough to look after her own children; she has no need for the assistance of foreign sovereigns who offer to share the expense, particularly when that sovereign is named William II. He would have done better to have kept his money, and to have refrained from encouraging discord in the world by his proscriptive attitude in Morocco and elsewhere.

Rodin Greatly Admired... Is Rodin really our greatest sculptor?

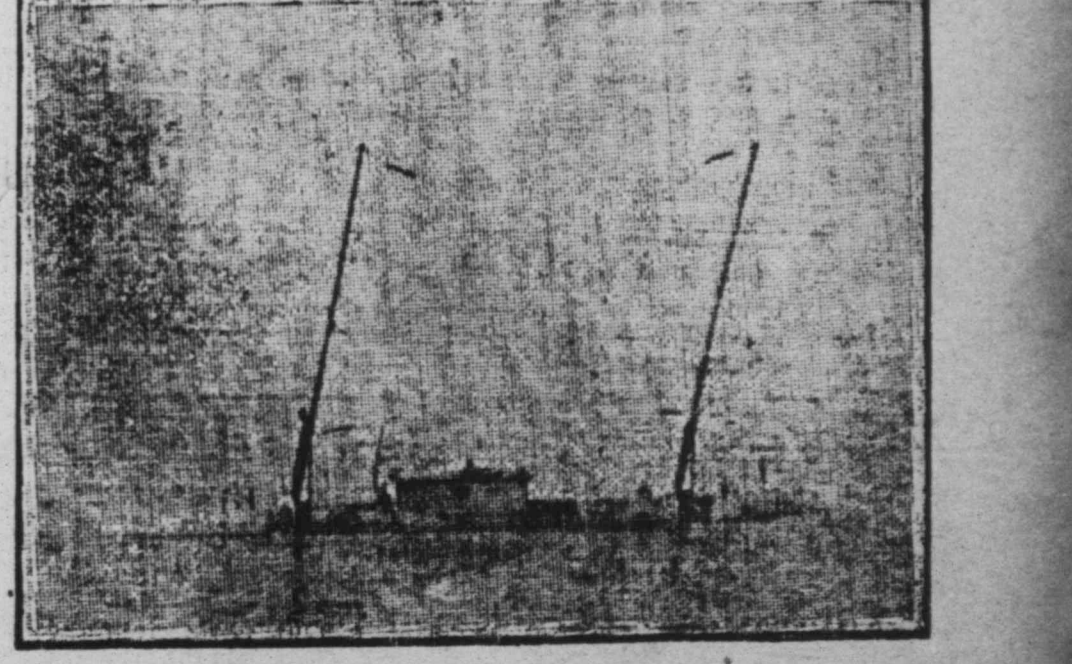

If one is to judge of his work by the dignities to which he has been raised by his fellow artists at home and abroad, an affirmative answer seems called for.

Circus Rider Blind... A woman who at one time had her hour of celebrity in Paris has after ten years of seclusion made her reappearance before the public, but under very different conditions.

Baroness von Rallden, who was once the most famous circus rider in the world, has come back to us.

Now the baroness has returned to Paris suffering from blindness. She can no longer master the arena, one steeds which were her pride, so she has decided to seek public approval as a great singer.

Under the patronage of such social leaders as the Comtesse de Bearn, the Princess de Polignac and other members of the highest aristocracy, the Baroness von Rallden is sure soon to find her place among the front rank in the world of art where formerly she was first in the world of sport.

Nothing But Real Music Will Go If Bevy of Pretty Iowa Girls Have Their Way

SOME "THE ANTI-RAGTIME GIRLS."

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 12.—No longer shall the strains of fascinating ragtime music emanate from the piano, causing the orthodox toe to tingle and compelling the passerby to halt and join in the chorus, if the ideals of a determined body of popular Des Moines girls can be attained.

Studying music for music's sake, they have declared war on this blighting craze that threatens to put all classical music on the shelf permanently. They believe that only by strenuous efforts can this happy condition be brought about, therefore they have organized and all have signed an anti-ragtime pledge.

They are sworn to do all in their power to bring about public appreciation for real music, and any member found guilty of countenancing any hodgepodge of harmony will be suspended or expelled from the organization.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

Tale of a Female Raffles

Vance Allen went quickly to the terrace of a lakeside hotel, to find that the shadow that had fallen in the moonlight was that of Mildred Vivian.

She was evidently glad to see him, and as for him, he hoped for much from the meeting, and told her so.

In a manly way he pleaded his love and asked her to be his wife. "I'm well able to wed you, Mildred, dear," he said. "You are my hope of happiness."

"I cannot," cried the girl. "Now I am deprived of even your friendship. I must go away. I cannot explain." Her voice broke and her eyes were filled with tears.

He pleaded as only a devoted lover can plead, and finally succeeded in getting her to promise to give an answer the following day. It came in the shape of a letter, and the landlord who handed the missive to him, remarked: "It will upset the golf to have Miss Vivian away."

It was true. She had gone, and her letter, which bore the marks of tears, begged Vance to forget her, to forget her image from his heart, and declared that she was unworthy to bear the name he offered.

It was at the theater he saw her next and she was on the stage, as beautiful as a dream and with sadness painted on her face. That same night, as he sat in his library, there came a tap at the window, and he admitted a man—a man—disguised as a man and wearing a heavy ulster.

"Save me!" she whispered. "I am in terrible danger. At any moment they may be here. For God's sake do not give me up."

"But this masquerade—what does it mean?"

"It means that I am a criminal. I, the woman you honored with your honest love, I craved luxury. I wanted the joys of the rich. I was tired of poverty. And I robbed. I entered houses and took the part of a common thief. Tonight I was careless, and the police are close on my heels. My God, that I had remained honest. There is the prison."

"Don't fear," he said quickly, "the old life is dead."

The girl dropped on her knees and seized her hand.

"Quick," he cried, and he forced her to the stairs and bade her go to his

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

A quart of sweet cider added to the water in which a ham is boiled, imparts a delicious flavor to the meat.

Alum water for burns or cuts is a quick and pleasant remedy. Keep a bottle on the medicine shelf.

A bit of canvas, or better still a piece of stiff buckram, will repair the worst ravages of a hatpin. Slip it under the worn place and take a few strong stitches to keep it firmly set, and adjust the trimming to cover it.

Lamp chimneys or gas globes that have been smoked should be wiped on the inside with tissue paper, then washed in warm water to which has been added a tablespoonful of baking soda to two quarts of water.

Three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, a tablespoonful each of salt and mustard and two tablespoonfuls of molasses added to a pint of beans parboiled, then baked, is a delicious way to prepare beans when it is not desired to cook them with pork.

Johnnie's Surprise
"Johnnie," said the teacher, "I was telling you all about China yesterday. What goods does she send over to America?"
"Doesn't she send raw silks?"
"I guess so."
"But don't you know?"
"Nope."
"Then you are a very thick-headed boy and I am ashamed of you. You can sit down."
"Teacher," asked Johnnie, "you know all about Easter, don't you?"
"Of course I do."
"They have boiled eggs on that day."
"Of course."
"Why do they have 'em boiled instead of fried?"
The teacher took two hours to think it over and then got away from the school house without making an explanation.

Its equal as a curative agent does not exist. So perfect is the medicinal action as to challenge the admiration of the medical profession. Such is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. J. P. Brasher.

An Easter Thought by Rev. John M. Schick, of the Dutch Reformed Church, Washington, D. C.

On Easter day, believers in Jesus Christ, in all the world, join to celebrate the Resurrection of their Lord from the grave. They go, by faith, again to the garden of Joseph of Arimathea, and sing hymns of thanksgiving for the triumph of life over death...

Story of a Great Indian Fighter

Captain W. F. Drannan is of French descent. He was born in mid-ocean and left an orphan at the tender age of 4 years. When but 15 years old he left his foster parents and walked from Nashville, Tenn., to St. Louis, Mo., a distance of over 600 miles, where he met the noted and famous trapper and Indian fighter, Kit Carson.

EVERYBODY'S

There doesn't seem to be very much of George Bernard Shaw in Stanislaus Stangis's story of "Cash by the Bygone Profession," save the central idea. The story is one of the brilliant Irishman's earlier works. In this dramatic form one misses Shaw's clear, logical thinking, his biting wit, his fantastic presentation of truths.

Popular Science Monthly

That the townsman is shorter lived than the countryman is incontrovertible. Dr. Tatham calculated that in the rural districts of England the average expectation of life at birth is 61.43 years for males and 64.04 for females, whereas in Manchester it is only 57.48 for males and 62.67 for females...

A KNOT OF BLUE.

"A Knot of Blue," by R. A. Wilson, author of "A Rose of Normandy," is published by Little, Brown & Co., of Boston, Mass., and the illustrations are cleverly done by Charles Grundwald. This novel is one of the few strong stories published during the year 1905 and is written by an author whose name is signed with plain, prompt initials instead of flowery, full signatures, such as are now afforded by people who have blossomed from the half-blown bud of the short story garden into wide, smiling bouquets of real books.

AMERICAN HOMES AND GARDEN

The refrigerator must be kept scrupulously clean. It should be washed out with scalding water and washing soda at least once a week; this washing should be literally thorough and should extend to every part. The shelves should be of smooth woven wire, as offering the least obstruction to a free circulation. If a stale odor should be detected at any time the shelves should be taken out and boiled for at least twenty minutes.

Success

The independent telephone companies have at least 500,000 more subscribers than the Bell people. In Ohio they're over 200,000, while the Bell has less than 100,000. In Indiana they're 155,000, while the Bell has only 35,000. In the city of Los Angeles the independents have nearly 25,000 against the Bell's 15,000. In Kansas City, Indianapolis, Louisville, Toledo, Rochester and scores of other centers, the independents have the other fellows licked, badly licked. In Toledo, for example, the independents have 5,500 stations in operation, and the Bell less than 3,000. And the independents have only now fairly begun to develop the big cities.

Tom Watson's

Society, then is a matter of convention: Nature did not frame it. Nor does Nature impose upon us the relation of Husband and Wife. Why do we adopt the present marriage system, which differs in so many respects from Nature, and from former practices of the human race? Simply because we believe it to be an improvement. We know it is better than the promiscuous intercourse of the sexes; we believe it to be better than polygamy; we hope that it will some day be a more radiant success than the divorce courts would seem to indicate.

Technical World

Runabouts of American manufacture, costing from $60 to $11,000 each, are described in Technical World Magazine for April. Among other novelties are great auto-trucks capable of carrying a load of eight tons, tiny three-wheeled rapid delivery carts, electric horns, organ horns, on which a tune can be played, electric annunciators for giving directions to the chauffeur and a number of important changes in the construction of motors.

Everybody's

There doesn't seem to be very much of George Bernard Shaw in Stanislaus Stangis's story of "Cash by the Bygone Profession," save the central idea. The story is one of the brilliant Irishman's earlier works. In this dramatic form one misses Shaw's clear, logical thinking, his biting wit, his fantastic presentation of truths. The most interesting feature of the play is, perhaps, James J. Corbett, who plays the hero. In the part of the young prizefighter, who takes his profession very seriously and who wins the young heiress, he acts with intelligence, a wholesomeness, a naturalness, a lightness of touch, and a sincerity that entitle him to serious consideration as a comedian. He does not suffer seriously beside so finished and artistic a player as Margaret Wycherly, who has won distinction in the old morality play, "Everyman," and in W. B. Yeats's poetic dramas, "The Players." Everybody's magazine for April.

IN THE LABOR WORLD

The strike is being renewed throughout the mining regions in France. Trenton, N. J., hod carriers have struck. Atlanta, Ga., painters and paperhangers are on strike. Japanese carpenters receive only 30 cents a day. Detroit carpenters have adopted a new scale of 37½ cents an hour. The New South Wales Boot Trade Union has decided to thoroughly organize the county centers. It is expected that Eastern Massachusetts will be the scene of a big street car men's strike next month. Chicago plasterers are contemplating sending the employers a request for $5.50 a day, a raise of $1 a day. Boiler makers and helpers in the Missouri, Kansas and Texas shops lost their strike. Structural Building Trades Alliance of Norfolk, Va., has established a free employment bureau. Union blacksmiths of St. Paul each contributed one-half day's pay to the striking printers of that city. The New Jersey house of assembly has recently passed a bill providing a penalty for employers of children under 14 years of age. The miners of brown coal throughout the middle of Germany, from which briquets are made, are agitating for higher wages. Fourteen out of seventeen shingle mills of Ballard, Wash., the greatest shingle manufacturing city in the world, are now idle. The Japanese and Korean Exclusion League of San Francisco has completed the publication of two pamphlets on the subject of Asiatic immigration. About four hundred union painters and paperhangers of Denver, comprising all the members of that branch of organized labor, struck recently for an advance in wages of 75 cents a day. All unions in the building trades of Philadelphia, Pa., have combined with the object of starting a general campaign for obtained "closed shop" agreements. The Hawaii Shipno, a Japanese paper published at Honolulu, T. H., reports that many Japanese have recently left the islands, presumably for the mainland of the United States. By a majority decision the New Zealand arbitration court has refused the seamen's union claims for an increase in wages, also preference to unionists. A movement has been started in labor circles to purchase a burial plot and erect a monument to the memory of John Swinton, who died several years ago, after a life spent in the work of the labor movement. There are 500 members of the Retail Dry Goods Clerks' Union of New York City who work from 7:30 a. m. to 11 p. m. seven days a week. They demand a day off each week and will get it or strike. An agreement has been reached by the master builders and bricklayers of Easton, Pa., that the latter are to work but eight hours a day after May 1, and are to receive 40 cents an hour. To encourage working people to establish homes of their own, Norway has founded a bank for workmen. It lends money at 3½ and 4 per cent and gives the borrower forty-two years in which to pay the loan. One hundred Chinese recently arrived at Gainesboro, Fla., to take the place of the striking men in the turpentine fields. They are to receive 80 cents a day, while the strikers asked $1.50 and $2. An alarming situation has developed in Lancashire as the result of the decision reached by the 250,000 workers in the cotton mills to demand a 5 per cent increase in wages, with the threat that unless it is granted they will strike at the end of this month. President Roosevelt recently addressed Secretary Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, requesting information of violations of the national eight-hour law, which he promised to rectify. Orders were issued recently suspending locomotive repair work at all shops on the Erie railroad system. Five thousand men are laid off. The action is said to be due to the threatened coal strike. Seeking to prevent the use of the union label at the municipal printing plant in Boston, Mass., several employing printers of that city have filed in the state supreme court a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel discontinuance of the label. One hundred and fifty thousand Lancashire weavers and winders and operatives in kindred trades obtained an advance in wages. They are now receiving the full standard wage for the first time since 1878. Owing to the promotion of locomotive firemen to engineers, and the retaining of their membership in the Brotherhood of Firemen, many serious disputes have arisen and on several roads these have nearly led to strikes. The Seamen's Church Institute has purchased, at a cost of $200,000, a plot of land at the northeast corner of Coenties Slip and South Street, New York. On this plot the institute will erect, at an estimated cost of $350,000, a "Sailor's Home," modeled after the Seaman's Palace in London. Mayor Dume of Chicago has thrown down the bars which have prevented organization of policemen into what amounts to a labor union. He declares he has no objection to the organization of any wage earners. He said in effect he would not oppose affiliation of the policemen with other organizations. Orders were issued from the office of the superintendent of motive power recently in Altoona, Pa., reducing the hours of work for men employed in the shops of the Pennsylvania division of the Pennsylvania railroad from fifty-five to twenty-five hours a week. About eight thousand are affected. Conditions of labor in Italy are getting more difficult, with scarcity of workmen, especially in the textile industry. Wages have reached a very high point, probably in some parts not much less than in the United States, making the labor question about the most difficult one for the manufacturer. There are many Italians employed in South Germany, probably six thousand altogether. The colonial legislature of St. Johns, N. F., on March 22, unanimously adopted a resolution favoring old age pensions. Premier Bond declared it to be his belief that the adoption of the policy would not unduly strain the colony's finances. Various speakers on the project estimated the cost of the pensions at $150,000 or $200,000 a year. The executive council of the American Federation of Labor recently interviewed President Roosevelt. Senator Frye, president pro tem. of the senate, and Speaker Cannon, setting forth the views of organized labor on several important legislative matters, such as the anti-injunction bill, national eight-hour law, Chinese exclusion and the immigration laws.

HERBINE

TRADE MARK

The Popular Liver Medicine Will Keep You Well

A GUARANTEED CURE for all diseases produced by TORPID LIVER and IMPURE BLOOD. Do not fill your system with Arsenic, Calomel and Quinine. They act as rank poisons which vitiate the blood, debilitate the system, and leave a trail of bad symptoms which require years to obliterate. HERBINE is purely vegetable and contains no mineral or narcotic poisons, is absolutely harmless and is the simple remedy of nature. It carries off all poison in the system and leaves no injurious effects.

CURED BY HERBINE AFTER OTHER REMEDIES FAILED

Mr. L. A. Hicks, Iredell, Texas, says: "I was sick in bed for eight months with liver trouble, the doctor seemed to do me no good. I was told to try Herbine, and it cured me in a short time. I cannot recommend this wonderful medicine too highly."

Peterman's Roach Food. A BOON TO HOUSEKEEPERS. As the roaches go to the food, instead of at night from their breeding places, it perfectly eliminates large or small roaches.

It has been sent for 20 years to large institutions throughout the U. S. and abroad, with bills not payable unless it did the work to their entire satisfaction.

Bedbugs — "Peterman's Discovery" (quicksilver cream) will kill bedbugs that go over where it is painted on lightly; is also a preventive. It will not rust nor harm furniture or bedding.

"Peterman's Discovery," liquid, in flexible cans, with spouts; pressing sides of can will force it in cracks and kill bedbugs and eggs instantly.

Peterman's Ratmouse Food. Rats and mice made wild by this noxious food alarm others; they will leave the building and not return.

Peterman's Ant Food, a strong food to kill and drive away ants. Large black beetles may also be destroyed by it in one night.

Take no other, as time may be even more important than money. Originated in 1873. Perfected in 1905 by Wm. Peterman, Chemist, 54, 56, 58 West 12th St., New York City, London, Eng., Montreal, P. Q. Sold by all druggists in Fort Worth and throughout the United States.
