GERMANS MEAT EATERS

WASHINGTON, April 16 .- The consumption of meat in Germany during 1905 was 5,000,000,000 pounds. Consul General Pitcairn writes from Hamburg to the bureau of manufacturers. This was eighty-seven pounds per capita of population; but each person in Germany ate 2.8 pounds of meat more during the previous year. Fresh meats from the United States are forbidden entry. The decrease in the number of hogs slaughtered in Germany last year was so considerable that the heavy imports of cured pork products from Holland, Austria, and the United States were not sufficient to maintain a good supply. Consul Kehl, of Stettin, writes that in spite of the fact that for ten years live hogs have been prohibited entry into Germany, recent annual figures show over 125,000 cases of hog pest in the empire, 90 per cent resulting in death, or killing was necessary.

Trees Under Which Famous Battle Was Fought Suffer at the Hands of Thoughtless Vandals

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, April 16 .- C. E. Gilbert, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, speaks very interestingly of his recent trip to the historic San Jaconto battlefield and the noted Buffalo bayo and the great improvements which are being made on that stream. "Dredges are now at work deepening, widening and strengthening this waterway," said Mr. Gilbert, "and the work being accomplished is wonderful. Great steam dredges pump the sand and mud from the bottom of the high banks and fill up adjacent low places. The channel is being not only deepened but widened, and in several instances 'cut offs' across big bends are made to save one to three miles in distance. "The channel, now about complete to within a few miles below old Harrisburg, gives a splendid body of water to admit large ocean freighters; and the railway systems have already begun securing the ground and constructing extensive wharves. So it can be but a few more years until Houston will actually enjoy the long desired and much talked of deep channel to the gulf. Its value to all Texas will be felt in the increased facilities for handling and the reduced costs in the exportation of Texas products as well as imports.

"The historical interest in this section covered by the war for independence, centers in the San! Jacinto battlefield where seventeen miles below Houston on the banks of the bayou under the great forest trees, General Sam Houston's little army of 700 men attacked and vanquished a better army of 1,700 Mexicans under Santa Anna. Here under the live oaks lie buried those of the brave band of Texas patriots who lost their lives in that terrible onslaught, April 21, 1836. Only three of that heroic band are now living, S. F. Sparks, of Rockport; Alphonzo Steele, of Mexia; and Captain W. P. Zuber, now employed in the Texas capitol showing visitors and explaining the historical paintings, one of which, by the way, is a most interesting representation of that memorable battle, which the state has not yet purchased. Historic Ground Neglected

Continuing Mr. Gilbert says: "There are evidences on every hand of neglect and vandalism. Graves are desecrated and the timber growth destroyed. Hunting and fishing camp parties seem to have little regard for the memories and things which Texas should delight to honor and protect. "The Daughters of the Republic deserve great praise for their successful efforts to have the state of Texas own this land; and now that next year's taxes will be ample for the state's necessities, the next legislature should provide for met only the protection of the grounds but for beautifying them. The San Jacinto battlefield should be made a grand state park with suitable monuments here and there, all in memory of the men who that day redeemed Texas from the Mexican tyrant, and gave birth to Texas liberty.

"The graves of the fallen heroes are marked by a white marble shaft about twelve feet high increased on the four sides. I made a copy of the inscrip-

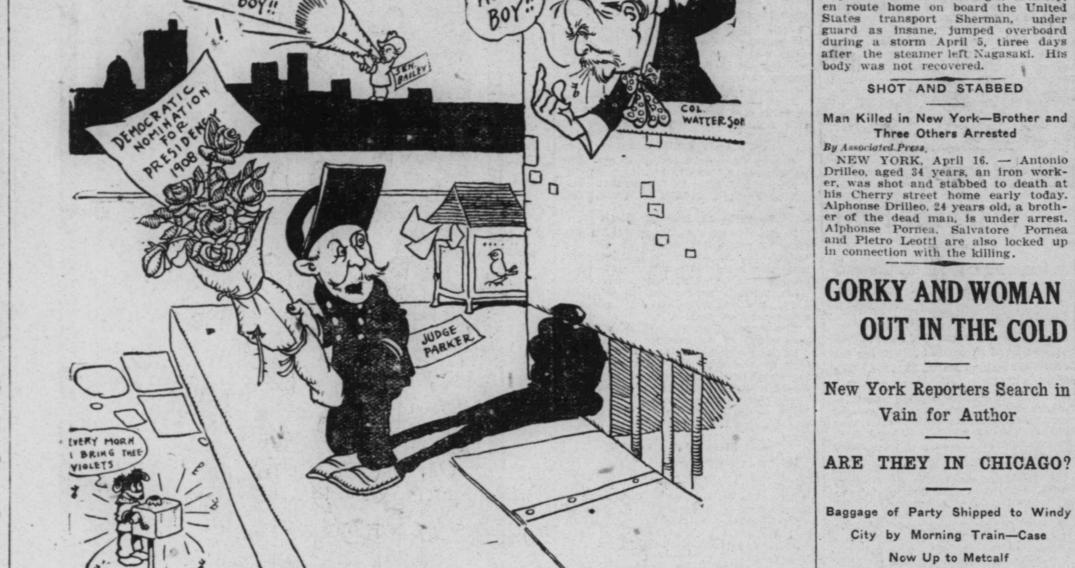

"'Died on the field of honor.' This monument is placed at the grave of Benjamin R. Brigham, who fell at the battle of San Jacinto, April 21, 1836. Eight others fell whose remains rest with his. Their names are: Lemuel L. Blakey, J. C. Hale, Mathias Cooper, George A. Lamb, Thomas P. Fowle, A. R. Stevens, Dr. William Motley and Olwyn J. Trask

"In addition to the monument of the heroes, there are a number of other headstones marking graves of private citizens, among which in the few minutes of time I had I noticed one in memory of Rev. Williamson Williams, of the Texas Methodist conference, a native of Virginia, died 1855, erected by the Methodist preachers; John Thompson and wife. died 1840-1887; Charles H. Mason and wife, of Galveston, died 1870-72: Charles C. McMillan, beside father and mother, who died in the '50s. I noticed by painted boards posted in several places that several years ago the Daughters of the Republic forbid the use of the grounds for further uses as a private burial ground, but there is one grave made even after this. "Until the legislature makes suitable provision, I have arranged with a worthy ex-Confederate soldier and good citizen, Captain W. B. Stacy of Harris county to move on the place, occupy the house and protect the grounds from thoughtless and reckless trespassers.

Appropriation Urged "It should be the patriotic duty of every Texan to use his influence to get an appropriation at the earliest practical day of at least $50,000 to properly enclose, beautify and protect the battlefield, as a permanent and fitting monument to the memory of not only those who fell but of those who fought the fight and lived for other deeds of valor and civic duties which have helped make Texas great."

SECRETARY LIKES SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Shaw Says They Are Essential to Progress

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, April 16-The Tribune

Secretary Leslie M. Shaw of the treasury department told one thousand young and old people in the chapel of the Janes Methodist church Sunday school in Brooklyn yesterday that Bible study and Sunday schools were vitally essential to the welfare and progress of this country. Mr. Shaw said:

"I have been interested in Sunday I school work for a long time. I be-Heve that the Sunday schools are doing a great work for the country. I believe that they are essential to the country. You, young men, when you get through here and go out into the world, don't forget the lessons you have learned here. I do not say that the Bible should be taught in the public school. The Bible as a book is not taught in the pulpit, either. I am not prepared to say that we should have expository teaching of the Bible from the pulpit. I am not sure that it would not drive many people away from church. If the Bible is taught you at all, the chances are that you students here will get most of your knowledge of the book from the Sunday school study of it, and for that reason the Sunday school is the greatest institution in the country. Secretary Shaw will go to Utica tonight and will deliver a speech at the Chamber of Commerce dinner there tomorrow night. He expects to return to Washington by the middle of

FIRST EVIDENCE AGAINST DOWIE

Overseer Voliva Reads Letter Sent Dowie in Switzerland

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, April 16.-General Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva produced the first of his batch of documentary evidence yesterday by which he hopes to confound John Alexander Dowie and regain control of Zion City. The instrument was a letter written under date of April 13, 1904, and addressed to "Mr. Dowie," who was then in Zurich, Switzerland. The letter was signed by Overseers John G. Speicher, Charles J. Bernard and John V. V. Barnes.

In the document they warned Dowle that unless he changed his ways in the management of Zion City a clash was inevitable. They stated that from their examination of the conduct of affairs of the colony it was evident Dowie had overdrawn his account at the bank in Zion City; that he had received deposits when it was known that the bank was insolvent; that he had used funds otherwise than in accordance with the representations made by the the stock contracts and certificates and the proof of the appropriation of such large sums for his own personal use and ends outside of items named would be tantamount to embezzlement in any

Implored Economy

The letter further implored Dowie to exercise a rigid economy on the part of himself and his family, saying that expenditures to this end would be based on needs rather than upon a fictitious income.

The inhabitants of Zion City, anticipating that such a letter would be read, flocked to the tabernacle at an early hour today and long before the services opened the blg building was filled. Easter ceremonies had been gone through with when the sensation was sprung, and then General Overseer Volivia requested that Overseer Brasefield read the letter in question. There was a flutter throughout the big assamblage and a craning of necks. When Deacon Brasefield read that section of the letter which said: "There is no doubt for a moment that a failure to meet payments and an exposure of the true conditions of things would land yourself and the cashier and general financial manager in jail very promptly," the audience signified its approval of the sentiment expressed by vigorous applause.

Spokane Judge Says Convention Is Needed

Special to The Telegram SPOKANE, Wash., April 16 .- A convention to amend the constitution of the United States, so many reforms and laws demanded by the people may be carried out, is advocated by Judge George Turner, formerly United States senator, who recently returned from Washington. There is a provision for the calling of such a convention made in an article of the consitution, although never in the history of this country has it been applied.

"I am in favor of having the conven tion to amend the constitution said Judge Turner last night. "I believe there is urgent need for such a convention. In my opinion it is the only way by which the necessary legislation can be passed to elect United States senators by a popular vote. There is an amendment needed to the constitution to enable the income tax. Such convention could make possible a uniform divorce law and also federal control of life insurance matters, as advocated by President Roosevelt. The convention could go over the entire constitution."

NEW YORK TO CHI.---10 HOURS

Electric Cars at Seventy-five Miles an Hour Planned

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 16 .- Ten hours between Chicago and New York on trains operated by electricity and making an average speed of seventy-five miles an hour is the plan of incorporators of the Chicago and New York Electric air line railroad.

The scheme appears to be far in the future, however. It is asserted that "some of the right-of-way has been secured," but the projectors decline to , say how much. They hope to have the road in operation in five years.

As the name implies, the proposed road will - sacrifice everything for speed and distance. According to the statement of Jonathan D. Price, president of the Co-Operative Construction Company, which was organized to build the road, the line will be 742 miles long, or 200 miles shorter than any steam road now connecting the two cities. Part of the line already has been surveyed. The first section of the road to be built, according to the promoters, will be out of Chicago, and work on this, one of the incorporators said last night, will begin soon.

In choosing the route no attention is paid to whether the line runs through large cities or not. As now surveyed the road will be eight miles south of South Bend, Ind., and at that point it is proposed to build a station and run a spur into the city. The same plan will be followed where the road passes near any other city. These spur lines will be connected with the street railway systems in each town, and it is proposed to run freight trains at. night. The detail as to the kind of cars to be used has not been thoroughly worked out, according to F. H. Wood, a lawyer liivng in Oak Park, Ill., who is one of the incorporators. He suggested, however, that the Germans have attained great success in building third rail roads, such as it is proposed this one will be, and he mentloned the fact that on a specially constructed road bed electric trains there have been operated at 131 miles an Considerable speculation is indulged here as to the reason why the different eandidates for governor failed to materialize at the lumbermen's convention. It is a well known fact that candidates for any state office always flock to all conventions and gatherings to meet the representative men in these bodies, but as far as can be ascertained none of them showed up at the San Antonio convention. The question of a lumber trust in Texas. is said to be the reason why the gubernatorial candidates failed to show up at that convention. In fact, it is said that the lumbermen were anxious to see Monta J. Message by Mayor and Market Offer Features

A message by Mayor W. D. Harris to the city council, which will embody his ideas as to the proper course to be followed by the present administration, will be a feature of the regular council meeting Monday night.

It was learned definitely Monday that formal offer of funds for the Fort Worth market house will be made to the city, upon terms authorized by the city council, clearing the way for a | Wichita Falls 60. rapid completion of the building.

The matter has been placed in the hands of a special committee with Alderman Waggoman as chairman and plans for the building will be made and work be started as soon as possible.

The market house is to be erected at a cost of $35,000 on the land west of the Tarrant county court house, on ground donated by Fort Worth Market Company, and accepted by the city, which also agrees to erect the market house and secure additional land for a farmers' square.

The erection of a suitable market house together with a warehouse, proposition for which has been submitted by the local merchants to the Farmers' Union, will make Fort Worth one of the leading centers for wagon trade as well as that contributed by the large number of trains reaching the city over its various lines.

It is estimated that these two steps will result in an addition of a large volume of valuable trade to the merchants of the city.

He had barricaded the doors of the house. Forcing their way through the mob, which was engaged in throwing sticks and stones against the doors, two officers held the crowd at bay until the arrival of a force of reserves, who dispersed the people and escorted the prisoner safely to jail.

Maher was assaulted a short dis-tance from his home, which is at the corner of Cambreling and Pelham avenues, being knocked down and severely cut with a razor. He was removed to a hospital, where it is said that his chances for recovery are doubtful. Several persons witnessed the assault and the mob was quickly formed, as the news spread.

CATTLEMEN TO FORM EXCHANGE

Stock Company With $100,000 Capital to Be Organized

Special to The Telegram,

DENVER, April 16.-An independent live stock exchange will be organized with a capital of $100,000 by the live stock producers of the west. It will be a co-operative concern with its commission men in each of the big packing centers to handle the cattle, sheep and hogs of the American-National Stock Growers', National Wool Growers' and Corn Belt Meat Producers' associations, and of all the state live stock bodies affiliated with the national bodies.

This move was finally decided upon at a conference of representatives of several different organizations named at the Brown Palace hotel Friday, the purpose being to fight the exchanges at Chicago, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha and possibly Denver.

Dr. J. M. Wilson, first vice president of the National Wool Growers' association, presented a plan of action to the conference. He proposed that a stock company be formed immediately with a capital of $100,000 divided into 10,000 shares of $10 each; that no one person be allowed to subscribe for more than fifty shares, or $500, and that the holders of such stock be bona fide stock producers. The stock will be non-transferable. Under the plan the control of the company will be kept within the ranks of the live stock growers.

After discussing the proposition, C. M. O'Donel of New Mexico, Dr. Wilson of Wyoming, Frederick Gooding of Idaho and Ora Haley and H. C. Wallace of Iowa were appointed a committee to formulate the details of the organization. A committee will be appointed to visit the various stock yards at the packing centers mentioned to confer with interests there that are favorable to the movement. This committee will make its report next month at a called meeting to be held in Den-

The independent exchange's commission will be $10 instead of $12 a car. on sheep, as charged by the present exchange; 50 cents a head on cattle, with a maximum of $10 a car, instead of $12, the exchange fee, and $6 for hogs instead of $8 a car, as charged by the present exchanges.

"Live stock producers must take up the cudgels against those interests that are holding them up," said a prominent stockman last night at the Brown Palace hotel. "We have endeavored to do the right thing with the commission men, but they have not considered us. On the contrary they have advanced their commissions unjustly and unfairly to us."

REPORTS ON TAXES ARE TOO COMPLEX

Corporations Making Things Difficult for Commissioner

Special to The Telegram-AUSTIN, Texas, April 16-It is a remarkable fact how some of the corporations, or rather it might be said, a majority of them, in making their reports to the state tax board or the comptroller's department in accordance with the provisions of the Williams intangible tax law, make these reports as complicated as possible. Invariably a large amount of data and information is injected in these reports which have no earthly bearing on the amount of business done by these corporations in Texas.

Major W. R. Davie, state tax commissioner, in discussing the matter, said that this is invariably the case with most of the corporations, and it makes the task of the tax commissioner that much harder and more intricate in arriving at the amount of intangible assets in the state of Texas. All that is required from these corporations in filing their reports is the amount of interstate business that is done, and from this the commissioner figures the amount of the expenses, the amount of tax assessed and rendered, and thus ascertains the amount of intangible assets of these concerns. The tax commissioner has about come to the decision to write to these various corporations to make out their reports touching only on the amount of business done in the state, which would greatly simplify matters. Another phase of these reports is that many of the corporations-large ones at that-claim that it is impossible to segregate the intrastate and interstate business, consequently sends in a report of all business done throughout the United States and leaves it to the tax commissioner to ascertain what proportion of the business is done in the state.

As this is a new law and there is no precedent or established rule to go by, the task of compiling these reports in tangible form and preparing them for the use of the state tax board when it begins the work of fixing the valuation on the intangible assets, is a great one, and the force at the command of the state tax board is rather limited, in fact it consists of only the tax commissioner and one assistant. when in fact there is enough work on hand to keep several accountants busy. If this law stands the attacks being made on it, it is likely that at the next regular session of the legislature an effort will be made to perfeet the statute.

ARDMORE, I. T., April 16 .- From April 1, 1905, to the same date in 1906 the receipts of the Ardmore postoffice have increased more than $5.000. Ardmore has never spread out greatly in any one year but has maintained a steady growth, every year bringing new buildings and new enterprises. Within the past few months real estate be s been more active than at any other period in the history of the town. Prices on property are gradually advancing. During the past week Lee Cruce paid $7,500 for a piece of trackage property, E. N. Thain of Franklin, Mass., bought a business lot and will built a modern brick, A. V. Doak paid $200 a front foot for fortyseven feet on Main street and will also erect a good building, G. P. MALARIA TO HEALTH

Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our lungs through the impure air arising from low, marshy places, stagnant ponds, damp cellars, sewer pipes, improperly ventilated houses, decaying vegetable matter, etc. Day after day these germs and poisons are taken into the lungs, and as the blood passes through them it becomes infected with the poison and in its circulation distributes the microbes of disease to all parts of the body. Malaria is a very insidious disease; it gives no warning of its coming until the circulation is filled with the poison and this foe to health has the system at its mercy. The blood becomes polluted, thin and weak and its slow, irregular circulation fails to properly nourish and strengthen the body. Then the entire system is attacked, and if the germs and poisons of Malaria are allowed to remain the strongest constitution will break down. No one can feel well when the system is in a malarial condition; the vitality is weak, the appetite poor, digestion deranged, the complexion grows sallow and the entire body feels the effects of the poison. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation and the only medicine that can accomplish this is S. S. S. It not only cleanses the blood of all unhealthy, morbid matter, but destroys the germs, cures Malaria and restores this vital fluid to a strong, healthy condition. S. S. KENTUCKY ESTIMATE OF TERRELL LAW

Colonel Henry Watterson, the brilliant and versatile editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is very properly regarded as one of the leading democrats of the country, and his utterances in the matter of democratic principles and democratic precedent never fail to attract favorable attention. Colonel Watterson has been giving some thought to the Terrell Turkish election law of this state, and the following are his con-

The occasion of the special session of the Texas legislature will not, however, be without beneficial results in one important respect. The recent innovation in the management of parties by which the state legislature has undertaken to control by law primaries and conventions, is open to serious objection in principle as well as policy. While it is manifestly the right and duty of the state to see that elections are honestly conducted, there is no similar warrant for prescribing the methods by which party organization shall be conducted or the candidates of the several parties shall be selected. The experiment is of recent adoption, but already it can be seen where great abuse of such power may ensue and the independence of parties in the management of these matters may be abused and made subservient to the will of an oppressive majority.

This feature has manifested itself in the extra session of the Texas legislature, and by some the error in the act sought to be corrected is claimed to have been the result of a conflict of factions, each of which hoped to be benefited by the opposing tenor of the two sections. The better view is to charge the error to negligence rather than design, with evidence nevertheless of a division of sentiment on the subject. With this division strongly developed in the extra session, coupled with the pronouncement of decided opposition to the control of the organization of parties by the legislature, it may be that the extra session will be well worth its cost to the state. It will not only have demonstrated great negligence in the framing, enrollment, final reading and signing of the bill, but will have emphasized and brought into prominent view the very questionable principle which it embodies. It is predicted in Texas that at the next regular session, whatever may be the action of the called session, there will be a strong effort made to repeal the primary law and to remand to political parties the control of their organization.

The people of Texas are growing more and more restive under the restrictions of the Terrell law, which measure has been permitted to cumber the statute books of this state under the impression that the state was badly in need of a wholesome election law. Respect for the venerable author of the measure was sufficient to insure it a trial at the hands of the people, but there is a rapidly growing sentiment among Texas people that under the provisions of the present measure Texas is suffering from too much election law. One of the greatest troubles with the Terrell law is that it arrived too late. Its provisions more nearly relate to the conditions that prevailed during the days of reconstruction than they do to the progressive and rapidly developing state of today. There is no occasion for the state to undertake party discipline and government, and even descend to the point where it undertakes to prescribe newspaper charges and regulation of the method of making announcements.

Over in Turkey, where Judge Terrell spent several years of his life in the capacity of United States minister, it is the custom to rigidly censor the press. When the sultan causes a pasha to be beheaded the papers are compelled to announce that Pasha Ben All Muhmad was called to Heaven on flowery beds of ease and ascended by means of a long spiral stairway that was let down by Mahommet. And while Turkish newspapers are accustomed to submit to such pleasant | it left New York .- Pittsburg Gazette.

methods as these, it is an innovation that will not remain long popular in Texas.

There are many things about the Terrell election law that are fretting and annoying the people, and when the subject is opened up at the next regular session of the state legislature there is going to be a vigorous effort made to repeal many of its provisions. If the Terrell law could be shorn of about fourfifths of its cumbersome verbiage, trimmed down to the point where it made no attempt at interference with the rights of the individual, and the various Turkish flavors eliminated it could possibly be made to answer the purpose. But the way the law now stands it is a reflection upon the honesty and integrity of every voter in the state.

EDUCATION IN TEXAS

Judge Charles K. Bell of this city, the leading candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Texas, contributes to the Texas School Magazine an article on the defects of the public school system in this state, that is well worthy of careful study. In that article Judge Bell makes a strong plea for greater expenditures for public schools in general and especially for the rural schools. He says in part:

Only 22 3-10 per cent of our school population live in incorporated towns and cities, and the remaining 77 7-10 per cent live in rural communities, and in the rural districts the average school term lasts only 102 days, or a little more than five months, in each

I was much surprised to learn, as I have from the data which has been accumulated by those who are interested in the work, and of which I have made use in this article, that Texas is dropping behind her sister states in educational work, and in the comparative amount that is spent annually for the public free schools.

Among the states and territories of the United States, Texas ranks as follows: In the per cent of total state tax devoted to schools, thirty-third. In per capita expenditure, thirty-seventh. In expenditure per pupil, thirty-eighth.

In cents on each $100 of true valuation of real and personal property, thirty-third.

In total wealth, thirteenth. This is certainly not a showing of which we should feel proud. It is, however, encouraging to note that the level of average intelligence in the state has risen remarkably within the last few years, that the dark clouds of illiteracy have been in a measure dispelled, and that public free school facilities have been afforded to a constantly increasing proportion of our people. In 1880 the illiterates of Texas amounted to 30 per cent of the state's population. In 1890 the illiterate population had been reduced to nearly one-half the number of illiterates. In that year it amounted to less than 15 per cent of the population, and doubtless, within the last five years this percentage has been still further reduced and we may reasonably hope that it will constantly diminish. I call attention to a few comparisons between our state and other states of the union: We are behind them in the amount of money appropriated for the establishment and maintenance of public schools.

We are behind them in the average attendance of pupils in the public schools. We are behind them in the amount of money expended each year per pupil of school age. We are behind them in the length of our school terms-the number of days our public schools are open in the year.

We are behind them in the amount of salaries paid our public school teachers-especially is this true of teachers engaged in our rural schools.

In a word, the state of Texas is behind her sister states in almost every important feature connected with the establishment and maintenance of a modern system of public instruction of schools of primary and secondary grade.

We must not rest under this stigma longer, and the question is, what remedy will enable us to remove it? I think of no more effective way than that recommended by the executive committee of the State Teachers' association, in which recommendation I heartily concur. This was that an amendment to the constitution of the state should be submitted for the ratification of the voters which would provide for the levy and collection of a county ad valorem tax to supplement the other funds, and so as to increase the total available funds to an amount sufficient to enable us to comply with the plain mandate of the constitution, and maintain our public free schools for a period of six months in the year.

Big hail and rainstorms over a great deal of Texas has done considerable damage to the growing crops, but things of this kind do not discourage the man with the hoe. He will plant over where necessary, and in the harvest time the fertile soil will yield forth just as abundantly as if nothing had occurred.

The Fort Worth Telegram directs attention to the fact that the Panther City leads in the dead letter business. Bill collectors would likely destroy this distinction.-Houston Chronicle.

The Panther City leads in all things. While other Texas cities are figuring on the best method of achieving results Fort Worth gets there with both feet. The reason we lead in the dead letter business is because people outside of Texas who desire to reach any person in the state whose address is unknown, address them at Fort Worth, believing that sooner or later they will appear in the metropolis of the southwest.

News from west Texas to the effect that there have been good rains in that section, indicates that west Texas hasn't had so many rains as we have in this section. Here we now call them bad rains,-Sherman

Just any kind of an old rain is always regarded asgood rain in west Texas. Those good prople are not of a kind to complain of too much of a good thing, and a week's precipitation out there would simply be characterized as a good wetting. * * * *

C. F. Sharp, who received but four votes in the city election Tuesday for city marshal, says he has lived here thirty years and didn't have an enemy. He should cheer up. It's good to know you have four friends, even if one of them is yourself .- Don't feel lonesome.-San Angelo Press.

The San Angelo man need not feel lonesome, for a candidate for the same office in North Fort Worth only exceeded his record by two votes. Men who offer for public office must be prepared for such things. Voters do not always vote as they talk.

Fort Worth and other portions of Texas are being flooded with counterfeit silver dollars. When you get a dollar now bite it to see if it is all right.-Cisco

Those suspected silver dollars in this city turned out to be the real thing, and the gentlemen who vieewd them with suspicion are now willing to take all there is in circulation. 4 4 4 4

Not only did many members of the legislature dofault on their promise to serve during the special session without pay, but they actually charged the people for Sunday, the day of compulsory rest for their aching jaws .- Waco Times-Herald.

Members of the state legislature not only drew all the mileage and per diem they had coming, but they also drew heavily on their imagination in the matter of running the blanket primary over the executive.

Jacmuth Adams, detective, in Den-high-class criminals, made by a well dressed woman to a man, following her hurried exit from the Coliseum, where, during the dog show, a large Newfoundland canine expressed unbounded rage at the sight of her person. He goes to St. Louis to report the matter and his chief arrives at the conclusion that the antipathy of the dog may be traced to the fact that the woman is a criminal, believing that dogs possess an instinctive hatred for persons intending to commit crime. Records are searched, a possible connection is developed between the woman and When they had all left the office I threw myself on a lounge, completely exhausted. The bewildering strain had been on my mind for days, and now that a portion of the load was removed, the reaction weakened my muscles and clouded my intellect. I fell asleep, and for several hours was utterly unconscious of what was transpiring around me. When I awoke the change that had taken place was marvelous. My brain was clear and active, strength and ambition had returned, and I felt I was equal to any emergency. Then I carefully canvassed all that had occurred, and could easily account for many things that had puzzled me, but which now seemed simple enough. When I considered how easily the chief had unraveled the mystery, laying bare the plans of the schemers, I was lost in mind that was able to grasp and comprehend the importance of details that an ordinary man would conclude were too insignificant to be considered

Then, too, the ordinary official would have advocated the arrest of Jackson at once, but this would have been useless, as a great part of the plunder was now in Texas, and would not be recovered if his confederates were warned. Neither would there be anything to prove that Mrs. Wheaton or Gilmore were implicated, besides, we had no means of preventing them from leaving the city. Therefore, the chief's plan of letting them do their worst was wisest, and by keeping them all under surveillance we had however, was that they would make no attempt until joined by others of the gang. Possibly Jackson himself intended to join them, but if he did, it

Several days passed with little occurring of importance. Jackson spent considerable of his time at the savings bank, but as the papers had announced that he had purchased a small block of the stock, and was to be elected to fill a vacancy in the directory, no notice was taken of his action, or of the fact that he was spending so much of his time with Gilmore. Business at the bank was flourishing, Gilmore taking especial pains to ingratiate himself into the good graces of the depositors. It was easy for him to do this, as the bank enjoyed the confidence of the general public, and we were not surprised to learn that the number of depositors was increasing. Being better equipped with vaults having all the modern safeguards, the bank had gradually become the depository for many valuables, hence it contained hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of government and other negotiable bonds, which were held there for safe-Both Mr. Adams and myself devoted much of our time to watching the actions of Jackson and Gilmore, and ance secret, it was comparatively easy for one or the other to be about the bank frequently. On comparing notes we discovered that Jackson and Gilmore were busily engaged in examining the books and letter filez, and often they remained in the bank long after all the employes had departed. No one else appeared to notice their devotion to the business, but to us it seemed of importance, for it was something, no doubt, that would assist them in bringing their plot to its natural development. We also ascertained that both Morse and Hunter felt somewhat crestfallen, for they had now made up their quarrel, and among other things had learned that, in a measure, Gilmore had taken advantage of them, leading each to believe that the other was at fault. Miss Carroll ascertained that 'as soon as the two families showed signs of resuming their former intimacy, Mrs.

Wheaton had ceased to visit them, and that there was little doubt but that she had actually been instrumental in keeping the trouble ablaze, with strong suspicions that she had been the active element in creating the disagreement in the beginning. That her motive for this was to assist Gilmore in his purchase of the stock, there was little question, although there was nothing to indicate more than the

In the meantime Jackson was makand appeared to be taking especial pains to let everyone know that he intended to purchase a large stock of goods. On the afternoon of the fourth day after the departure of Somerton, Jackson purchased a through ticket for New York, and we immediately

Company Declares Rocks Were Piled on Track

A reck in which a dozen persons were injured, seven severely, occurred Sunday night at 8 o'clock on the pavilion line of the Northern Texas Traction Company. The car which was north bound, in charge of Conductor C. B. Maddox and Motorman T. H. Grisso, left the track while rounding a curve on Samuels avenue near Peach street. The car was going at a good speed and after clearing the tracks dashed into the curbing and was overturned. The accident came with such suddenness that there was no opportunity for escape, and the occupants of the car were badly shaken up, many receiving painful bruises, and Conductor Maddox sustaining a broken leg. He was pinioned under the car as it fell over. Motorman Grisso escaped in-

Mrs. A. G. Hottinger, cut about arms nd bruised about body. Mrs. Ollie Burts, head injured and ight arm bruised. John Smith, bruised about body.

John Corey, head injured and hurt about body. Motorman Grisso declares the accident was caused by rocks being placed on the track, which he saw, but not in time to stop the car, assigning the deed to mischevious boys. General Manager Edgar of the Northern Texas Traction Company also states it is his belief that the accident was due to rocks being placed on the track. The car was not badly damaged and only two windows were broken. Traffic was delayed for two hours. Conductor Maddox was taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary immediately after the accident, where his broken leg was set. He is reported getting along nicely, but will be confined to the hospital for two weeks. Other persons injured were able to make their way home from the scene of the wreck without assistance.

At the Traction company offices it was stated that no blame was placed upon any person in the company's employ, and that the boys were unknown who placed the rocks on the rail, also that no action is likely to be taken

Arthur Deming at Majestic

A fine show at the Majestic will be the order of the week. The bill offers two acts, in particular, which are new here, not only in themselves, but in the class of entertainment which they provide. The Three Connolly Sisters represent a type of vaudeville feature that is just now quite the thing in all the big theaters affliated with the Interstate circuit. These girls are brunettes and dress the act lavishly in the cafe chantant style. They are clever singers and dancers. Beyond these accomplishments they do not pretend to present anything in the way of entertainment. The Ramsey Sisters have an instrumental music act, interspersed with the natural wit of the smaller of the two sisters. They have never failed to win the commendation of any audience before whom they have appeared in all the larger cities of the country. Arthur Deming, known to the footlights as the "Emperor of Minstrelsy," is familiar to every one in the southland who is fond of minstrel shows. He was formerly the leading feature comedian of the Primrose & Wests, the Haverly and the Hi Henry minstrels. He was released of time by the Western Vaudeville Association to accept this engagement over the Interstate circuit. Burrows, Travis and Company offer something new in the farce, "A Home Circus," which is merely a cloak for a variety of specialties with which the skeleton is in-terlarded. Conley and Maussey, formerly feature comedians of the Liberty Bells Company, offer a series of eccentric and grotesque characterizations, including imitations of famous players, singing and dancing. Cole and Cole, man and woman, give a pleasing novelty acrobatic act on the ground and on the flying rings. La Gette is an astonishingly acceptable aerial gymnast. The Majestograph of-

Houston Street Store Boldly Robbed by Boy

The bicycle store of T. P. Day, at Fourth and Houston streets was entered early Sunday morning and though the district visited is in the center of the business part of the city, one boy succeeded in getting away with two new wheels, according to the statement of another boy to whom it is alleged one of the wheels was loaned. The thief who secured an entrance through a rear door was evidently a bicycle expert, picking out the new models of the two leading makes of wheels, each valued at $60. Later in the day one of the wheels was recovered in a novel way, a boy who asserts the wheel was loaned him by a companion, bringing it home. His father immediately upon learning the way in which his son had secured the wheel became suspicious and notified the authorities. The other wheel, a pure white Racycle No. 92700, had not been recovered at a late hour Mon-

The Virtue

Of Liquozone is Best Told by a Test--- and It's Free.

The actual results of Liquozonethere is nothing else so convincing. This product is so new, and its effects so unusual, that one can scarcely believe what it does till he tries it.

March 197 Francis - 1955

That is why we ask you to try Liquozone-try it at our expense. You have tried to cure germ troubles-all people have-with remedies which don't kill germs. We ask you to try one that does. See how quick the results are. Note how different they are from the results of common drugs.

What Liquozone Is.

The virtues of Liquozone are derived solely from gases, by a process requiring large apparatus, and from 8 to 14 days' time. No alcohol, no narcotics are in it. Chemists of the highest class direct the making. The result is to obtain from these harmless gases a powerful tonic-germicide. The great value of Liquozone lies in the fact that it is deadly to germs, yet harmless to you. Germs are of vegetable origin; and this gas-made product, when absorbed by them, stops their activities. We publish an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. But to the body Liquozone is exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. It is helpful in the extreme.

That is its main distinction. Commen germicides are poisons when taken internally. That is why medicine proves so nearly helpless in a germ disease. Liquozone is a tonic.

We Paid $100,000

For the American rights to Liquozone, after hundreds of tests had been made with it. After its power had been demonstrated, again and again. Then we spent, in two years, more than ten times that sum to let others test it at our expense. The result is that mil-lions of people, scattered everywhere, have shared in the benefits of this in-

We make the same offer to you. We ask you to prove, at our cost, how much this product means to you. Let Liquozone itself show how wrong it is to suffer from a trouble that it cures.

Germ Diseases.

Most of our sickness has, in late years, been traced to germ attacks. The list of known germ diseases now numbers about one hundred.

Some germs-as in skin troublesdirectly attack the tissues. Some create toxins, causing such troubles as Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Kidney Disease and nerve weakness. Some destroy vital organs, as in Consumption. Some-like the germs of Catarrh-create inflammation; some cause indigestion. Directly or indirectly, nearly every serious ailment is a germ result. Such diseases call-for Liquozone-not drugs, which can't kill germs.

Every germ attack, no matter what its symptoms, calls for a germicide. The mildness of Liquozone makes some of its results seem almost incredible. But in that mildness lies the power that germ diseases need. And diseases which have resisted medicine for years often yield at once to it.

KING REQUIRED The Langever Service Ft. Worth. HIS BEER PURE

"No Sugar for Mine." Said Henry VIII

"As early as the year 1529 the consumer began to take precaution against the adulteration of beer and ale. Henry VIII, king of England, had an official body of tasters, who passed upon the quality of his majesty's beer. The beer was not only tasted by these official tasters, but some of it was spilt upon the seats of wooden stools, and on the wet place the taster sat, attired in leathern breeches, then common enough. If sugar had been added to the beer the taster became so adherent that rising was difficult: but if sugar had not been added, it was then considered that the dried extract had no no adhesive property. This manner of testing beer and ale was often witnessed by the king himself, who parook only of that beer which manifested no tendency to glue the tester to his stool."-Extract from A. Wynter Blyth on "Early Adulteration in England," in "Foods, Their Composition and Analysis."

NEW YORK STOCKS

Early Strength Followed by Reaction. Easier Money Favorable Influence but Liquidation a Feature

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, April 16 .- Stock exhibited a good undertone throughout the earlier session despite the fact that the market encountered considerable liquidation and short selling. There was no foreign markets today and the principal favorable influence was the general belief that the excessive monetary stringency is at an end.

The opening, generally speaking, was firm with a majority of issues showing fractional advances. Interest again converged around Amalgamated Copper and this stock was dominated by the bulk although not without opposition as indicated by the fact that twice before midday the price was carried above 115 the first time 1/4 and the next % and each time liquidation and short selling appeared in sufficient volume to cause a fractional slump. However, its powers of absorption were good and the stocks never sold as low as Saturday's closing price.

Union Pacific was also a favorite in the trading and under good buying was carried up a point before noon. Smelter and Reading Railroad were very active, the former exhibiting pronounced strength, while Reading Railroad was rather nervous, easing off fractionally during the initial trading in response to liquidation engendered by the unfavorable outlook for a settlement of difficulties in the anthracite coal regions, and then reacting sharply before midday.

Money was easy, the opening rate being 51/2 and 6 per cent, and subsequent rates ranging from that to 4% per cent. The afternoon session was not particularly active, but the liquidation seemed to increase with the general list selling at about the best prices of the day and values as a rule were lowered in the more important issues. Amalgamated Copper sold off at 113% or 11/2 from the morning high level, while Union Pacific broke through 158 and Reading receded over a point from the best. The absorption,

The Amalgamated Copper dividend meeting will be held on Thursday next. There is no information worth repeating as to whether the dividend is likely to be increased or not. There is abiding belief in the street that the dividend will be raised to 7 per cent this year, but whether at this time or later nobody pretends to say. All that we can say is that the buying of the stock recently has been a good deal stronger than the selling. The old Broadway crowd evidently is far from being through with the bull side of the Considerable interest has been aroused by the sharp criticism directed at certain officers of the Rubber Goods Company at the annual meet-ing. One stockholder was bitter in his arraignment of the method of the syndicate which negotiated the sale of a 2 per cent interest in the Rubber Goods Manufacturing Company to the United States Rubber Company, He charged that not only were different representations as to earnings made by the rubber company from those reported to the Rubber Goods stockolders, but that the profits in the transfer of the stock were exorbitant. CHICAGO GRAIN

May Corn Sells Almost Cent Higher, While Wheat Prices Slump as Much Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 16.-All things combined to favor the bears in the wheat pit today and although the trading was only moderate and entirely professional, prices suffered a sharp slump. The weather conditions were perhaps the most important factor, advices from all over the belt indicating the prevalence of perfect weather. In connection with this there was no foreign markets and cable advices reported business at a standstill, while northwestern receipts were liberal and the cash situation very discouraging. Opening prices were 1/8c to 1/4c lower and during the initial trading this loss was increased fractionally under general selling by the pit crowd. The independent strength of corn was about the only encouraging factor and this steadied the market for a time, during which prices worked back to Saturday's closing level, but sentiment was too generally bearish to allow of an advance and the decline was soon under way again, prices easing off gradually until the May option sold at a net loss of %c.

There was a partial reaction in the final trading and closing figures showed net loss of 1/4c to 1/2c. Local receipts 4 cars vs. 54 cars this day last year: 6 cars are expected tomorrow. The visible supply statement showed a decrease of 375,000 bushels for the past week. Northwestern receipts 412 cars vs. 205 cars. Corn Corn derived strength from light offerings and the very strong cash situation and despite the slump in wheat prices advanced continuously throughout the session, the May option eventually touching 47, a net gain of %c. Later months were not so active and attained only small fractional gains. The close was near the best, showing gains of 4c to 4c. Local receipts 156 cars vs. 172 cars this day last year; 172 are expected tomorrow. The visible supply has decreased 139,200 bushels in the past week.

Oats Oats were inclined to sympathize with wheat and prices succumbed to general selling both by pit traders and commission houses. Final figures showed a loss of 4c to %c. Local receipts 123 cars vs. 79 cars last year; 188 cars are expected tomorrow. The visible supply has decreased 858,000 bushels during the past week. Provisions Provisions were fairly active. Prices were lower during the early session, but firmed up later under some liberal buying and closing figures showed gains of 7c in pork, 10c to 12c in lard and 10c to 12c in ribs. World's Shipments

The local weather office has started to issue the cotton bulletin which will be published daily until the last of October, showing weather conditions in the cotton belt. All of Texas has been experiencing rain falls and thunderstorms have occurred at El Paso and San Antonio. At Fort Worth there was a slight precipitation and the thernomenter stood at 76. PANTHER WINS GAME ON MERITS

Sunday Crowd at Haines Park Sees One of the Old Kind

Fort Worth played that game of ball Sunday with San Antonio with the old style vim and snap which some of the players have heretofore demonstrated was well within their capabilities. The score, when the game ended was Fort Worth, 6; San Antonio, 4. But while Fort Worth made three errors, one by Clayton of the almost excusable kind, the greater amount of ginger and the superior batting warrants the assertion that Fort Worth won the game on

It was a slugging bee in the first inning and the way that ball was swatted made it look as if the runs accumulated by the home team would climb up high into the double figure. Six hits, three singles, a double, a triple and a home run is about as much batting as any club ever gets in one inning. Cavender enjoys the distinction of making the first home run to be made by a home player on the grounds since the fence was raised in height. The ball sailed over the right field fence wth plenty to spare. Salm's hit was the most valuable of the game. It was a triple, scored two men and a little later he came in himself on Clayton's double. No one was on bases when Cavender made his home run. Fort Worth made eleven hits to four made by the visitors, Wicker pitched the first four innings and Dupree finished the game. The hits were made off Wicker, wno lacked control. He passed five players. Not a hit was made off Dupree nor did he give a base on balls. His showing was very good indeed.

Berry Shows Up Well

Berry made his initial appearance and the impression, with the spectators, was all to the good for him. He is a catcher, no doubt. Nothing got away from him Sunday. High or low, wide or accurately over the plate, he took everything which came and if Sunday's came is the measure of his ability he will do. He can throw to bases and, when it is taken into consideration that he has had no practice this sea son, until Saturady on the grounds here, and then only a little throwing, his work must be termed decidedly creditable. He comes to Fort Worth from the Cotton States league.

San Antonio's runs were made in the first inning on two bases on bal's, two hits and a sacrifice, one earned. The run in the third was earned on two hits, a sacrifice and a stolen hase. Two errors of Whiteman in the fifth inning and 'wo infield hits contributed the fourth and last run made by the Bronchos. In justice to Whiteman it should be said, that one of the errors charged to him, a wild throw to first, was really due to the persistence with which Salm plays off first in the attempt to field the pitcher's and of attending to the initial sack. Whiteman made a good stop of the ball and started to throw it, but Salm was not on his bag and Whiteman had to check up and then by the time Salm was in place the time was so short that a quick throw had to be made, and it was high. But it was a good game of ball. One of the kind that was worth the money and that the spectators could enjoy whichever side won. It was all the more pleasant to the home people to see the locals get the vic-tory, especially as they actually won

Collins Makes a Hit

Umpire Collins had a much larger tudience Sunday than he did for his first game here, but the impression made on the large number of spectaters, for attendance was good, was as fine as that on the few Saturday. He is an attraction in himself and if the Texas league can land two more umpires of the Collins type the games will not only be orderly but they will not lack in an added attraction apart from the playing. By the courtesy of President Ward of the Fort Worth baseball club, ladies are admitted free today, Monday, to the grounds and to the grandstand. Play is to be called at 4 o'clock sharp. Fort Worth leaves Monday evening for Austin where two games are to be played. Then the club goes to San intonio for four games.

San Antonio had several new men join the club here and there was considerable switching around because of that. Ragsdale, the "Blonde Ragsdale," who has caught for Dallas and some other clubs in the north end of the state, caught the game for the Broncho yesterday and did well. Mc-Cormick played center and Pendleton came in to short. Frickie, a new pitcher, who comes from Jackson, Miss., is also one of the additions. The

The latter will be played between teams of two each, although the composition of the various teams will not be decided until later. Some of the players entered from here may not participate in tered, but that will be decided later. The entry list has to be sent from here today, as the entries close on April 17. Those who will enter from Fort Worth are W. T. Humble, Morris E. Berney, F. H. Sparrow, J. D. Collett, Ed K. Collett, Harry Wynne and J. W. Irion. It is possible that the entry of I. H. The championships will last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

KIRVEN HERE TO PLAN CAMPAIGN

Will Manage Bell's Race for Governor

Plans for an active Bell campaign will be made in this city Monday night following the return of Judge C. K. Bell from Dallas.

O. C. Kirven, Jr., of Corsicana who wil act as manager for Judge Bell in this race for governor, reached Fort Worth Monday morning and following the conference tonight will be-

Mr. Kirven who has an energetic and pleasing manner is enthusiastic regarding the prospects for success of Judge Bell's candidacy and though prefacing his remarks with the statement that he has naturally been in close contact with Bell men, he declares he can discover little upon which to base an idea of defeat. Immediately upon arriving in this city Mr. Kirven began work with his characteristic energy and was busy throughout the day meeting callers.
