Episcopal Church Court Has Strenuous Job in Cropsey Case

By Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 2.—It is understood that the ecclesiastical court of the Protestant Episcopal church which tried Rev. Algernon S. Cropsey will meet once more for the purpose of consulting with Judge North in Batavia where the findings will also be prepared for presentation to Bishop Walker. It is thought that the court will meet about May 13, as it goes out of existence May 15.

It will take about fifteen days to transcribe the notes of the trial, which will include 9,000 words.

SLAYER OF YATES GIVEN 20 YEARS
Man Who Started Fort Worth Horse Market Convicted
KNOWN BY TWO NAMES
Widow of Dead Man Returns to Home Here After Attending Trial at Monroe, Louisiana

The man who under the name of J. K. Bruce started the Fort Worth Horse and Mule Market, at North Fort Worth, and who last November was arrested at Monroe, La., on a charge of killing Young Y. Yates of this city, both of them being well known in live stock circles, has just been tried at Monroe and sentenced to the Louisiana penitentiary for a term of twenty years.

Before the trial Bruce was identified as and admitted himself to be Thomas H. Maddox, who twelve years previous had killed a man at Arcadia, La., for which he was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, but escaped before the sentence was commenced. When commanded to stand up by the court and show cause, if he had any, why he should not be sentenced, Bruce, or Maddox, gave the court a sketch of his life, telling of the former killing at Arcadia, but claiming that both it and the killing of Yates were justifiable from his view point.

There was no investigation in open court of the killing of Yates, the state agreeing to accept a plea of guilty of manslaughter and Bruce, or Maddox, agreeing to accept a sentence of twenty years. As he is now well advanced in years this is considered tantamount to a life sentence, as he will have to serve out the five years for the Arcadia killing twelve years ago.

To some people at the stock yards it has been known for some time that Bruce was a name assumed by Maddox after the Arcadia killing, and it was also known to Yates that his real name was not Bruce, and that he was under cover while in Fort Worth. Mrs. Yates, widow of Young Yates, who attended court at Monroe, has just returned to the city and was seen at her home, 1000 West Seventh street, Tuesday afternoon. She said:

"I was at Monroe when Bruce, or Maddox, was sentenced, and heard his statement in open court. He said that his name was Thomas H. Maddox and not Bruce, and that he assumed the name of Bruce after having killed a man at Arcadia, La., twelve years before. Myself and I had known him before, as during our previous acquaintance with him he had told us these facts."

Some time before the trial and while Bruce was in jail at Monroe, La., he wrote to Chief of Police James H. Maddox of this city to assist him in collecting some money he said was due him in Fort Worth, and in that letter he admitted that his name was not Bruce, but that it was Thomas H. Maddox, the name of Bruce having been assumed because of trouble twelve years previous. In the letter he gave a history of himself, stating that he was born in Wood county, Texas. He was no relative of Chief Maddox, however, the two families springing from different stocks.

BUSY SEASON FOR ARCHITECTS
Business, Educational and Residence Work Under Way

Building conditions have been extraordinarily active this spring, and all architects are busy with sketches and working plans.

Several new four and five-story buildings are now under construction, as well as numerous residences in Fort Worth and suburbs.

Work will be commenced within the next week on the Arlington Heights Female College. The plans drawn by M. L. Waller, architect, are for a three-story and basement building of concrete and masonry blocks. This is the first of several buildings planned for the college.

The first floor will be given over to a library, parlor and reception hall.

A chapel and gymnasium will occupy the third floor, with all living rooms on the second. As soon as the improvements can be made, separate buildings for library, recitation halls and homes will be constructed.

L. B. Weimer, architect, has finished drawings for a three-story and basement brick building for J. F. Moore of Fort Worth. The Dallas General Construction Company will erect the building at Fifteenth and Main streets.

A four-story and basement office building of brick will soon be erected at Tenth and Main streets for Mr. Moore. Hoefler, architect, is now working on plans for a two-story ranch house, made of concrete building blocks, for Mr. Robinson, near Handley. The house will have fourteen rooms with modern conveniences.

The Del Ray hotel at Thirteenth and Houston streets is to have a three-story addition. There will be a store room on the ground floor, with twenty rooms above.

A. C. Ford, formerly of Palmetto, but now of Fort Worth, has let the contract for a $15,000 residence to be constructed at Stop 6 on the Interurban. The building will be elegant in design and complete in every detail. Smith & Schenk are preparing the plans.

Plans are also under way for a 100-room hotel, names of the builders, however, being withheld at present.

DENVER ROAD TO INCREASE TRACKS
Greater Facilities to Be Secured at Once
TENANTS MUST LEAVE
Railroad Property in Eastern Part of City Being Cleared for Immediate Use—Other Railroad Work

Steps by the Denver Road for enlargement of its track facilities in Fort Worth will be taken at once.

Notice has been served upon occupants of land owned by the Denver Road, east of the city, that the property must be given up and it is officially announced by D. B. Keeler, vice president and general manager, that the property is desired for the construction of additional tracks.

Rapid increase of business at Fort Worth has led to plans for the enlargement of practically all the railroad yards in the city, the announcement of the Denver following upon that of the Frisco, Santa Fe and Central.

As far as can be learned no additional ground will be required by the Denver, considered by the road as being owned by the road along East Ninth street.

Complete plans for the additional track facilities have not yet been announced.

Frisco Line Unconfirmed
 W. B. Drake, vice president and general superintendent of the Frisco, who returned from a trip to Sherman, stated Wednesday morning that he knows nothing of the reported building of a line by the road from Carrollton, Texas, to Fort Worth and Dallas as rumored. Report was that the road would cease to use the Cotton Belt tracks from this city to Carrollton.

As announced in The Telegram, a line has been run along the described line. No further action, however, can be ascertained, has been taken.

Washout on Denver
 The southbound Fort Worth and Denver train due at Fort Worth at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon did not arrive until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, just sixteen hours late.

The delay was caused by a washout at the foot of the hill near DeCatur at a point where the road crosses a draw or dry branch. The heavy rains Tuesday afternoon that prevailed in that section washed away about three benches of the trestle across the draw and repairs were not completed until Wednesday morning.

POLICE PREVENT WEDDING TO JAP
 Romance of a Pretty Ohio Girl Spoiled

Special to The Telegram.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 2.—Wedded here, both by telegram a few hours before, Miss Fay Clayton, a pretty young girl from Columbus, Ohio, came to Indianapolis with a 16-year-old companion, Miss Beattie Harvey, also of Columbus.

That the course of "true love did not run smooth" and Miss Clayton is not now Mrs. Louis Ogota, was due to the vigilance of Patrolman Metcalf, who is stationed at the union depot. Because of the "troublesome blue coat" a runaway trip ended with a tearful scene in the office of the police president at the station, and later, with a ticket purchased by her lover, the two young women started home again.

That Police Matron Gregorie learned the whole story was due to the fact that Miss Clayton and her chum fell out after they were taken to the police station, and knew that it was all over, and instead of being a "perfectly delightful" romance they were to be returned home.

Patrolman Metcalf's attention was attracted to the presence of two young Japs who met all trains coming from the east. There was a dejected look on their faces when train after train did not bring the evidently expected arrivals. They were watched. Again the dusky young foreigners appeared and were rewarded when, with a flurry of ribbons, two young women dismounted from a coach.

As fond greetings were being exchanged Patrolman Metcalf detained them and took them to the station.

Miss Clayton stated that she and Ogota were engaged, having become acquainted while he was attending school in Columbus and boarded at her home.

Under the kindly treatment of the matron the young women finally confessed they had pawned their furs and valuables to make the trip.

Ogota, who appeared to be an intelligent and gentlemanly Japanese, stated that he and his sweetheart had arranged by telegrams to meet and that she had come to Indianapolis for the purpose. He stated that he was wealthy and would marry Miss Clayton "if the police would permit."

School Girl Agrees to Marry Aged Louisiana Planter Quietly
 Special to The Telegram.

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 2.—A peculiar marriage is reported from Arcadia, La., in which the bridegroom was 81 years old and the bride 17. Joseph Burkett, a wealthy planter, told a number of his friends that he was anxious to marry again and they promised to secure a wife for him. Miss Helen Dye, a school girl, was told this and volunteered to care for the old man for the remainder of his days. She was taken to his house, a minister was summoned, and within an hour the ceremony had been performed. Neither of the contracting parties had seen the other up to the time of the marriage.

The Turn of Life

I Was Very Sick

writes Mary Bagguley, of 117 Peach St., Syracuse, N. Y., "with ailments due to the turn of life, and my sister has always suffered periodically with a pain in her side ever since she was a girl of 15, and now she is 39, but since she has taken Wine of Cardui she has not been troubled with that pain, and is gaining strength nicely."

WINE OF CARDUI Woman's Relief

has made a new woman of my sister and of me too. I am a strong woman now. I feel that I want every sick woman to try it. It has been a God-send to us." Cardui is a specific remedy for women's diseases. It prevents unnecessary pain, regulates fitful functions, puts new blood into the circulation—new roses into the cheeks—new life into the weary frame. It is for all sick women, young, middle-aged, or old.

UNJUST PENALTY LAWS

The big penalty suits that have been filed at Austin by the attorney general of the state against the Fort Worth Live Stock exchange, packing houses and stockyards company, continue to attract much attention throughout the state, and the Texas newspapers are full of comment on the subject. The majority of this comment is unfavorable to the defendants in these suits, but occasionally there appears something on the other side of the question. The Austin Statesman is a morning paper that is usually quite friendly to the corporate interests of the state, and in commenting on these suits the Austin paper manifests no sympathy for the action taken by the state officials. The Statesman says:

Seventeen million dollars penalties. That is what the state of Texas is seeking to secure of packing house interests in Texas for violating the anti-trust laws of the state. The defendants in the suits, as filed here at Austin by the attorney general's office, are the Fort Worth Live Stock exchange and all its branches, the Fort Worth Stock Yards, Armour & Co. and Swift & Co. There are twenty-one suits in all and they are based upon the fact that said defendants are in unlawful conspiracy to regulate prices, etc., and that they are throttling the channels of trade in general by their combinations.

The penalties asked are quite enough to cause a man to catch his breath and never turn loose of it again, and while the public generally neither condones the acts of the defendants, if they are guilty or approve of their methods if unlawful, still the unbiased and unprejudiced among mankind admit and likewise contend that any trust law or any other kind of a law that levies such excessive penalties for violations are unquestionably unjust laws. No law should carry such a penalty as to be absolutely confiscatory of property interests and prevent innocent parties from fighting for their rights or at least questioning the facts and evidence.

It was only a few years ago when suits were piled up against a certain interest here in Texas, and while that interest could, according to the statement of the best of lawyers, have won its case if it had fought it, the penalties were piling up so rapidly that they did not dare to run the risk and had to compromise at an excessive figure rather than fight it out in court and risk to the caprices of a jury and judge's ruling.

The tax laws passed by the last regular session of the legislature sought to apply such excessive penalties that quite a number of the prominent attorneys of the state said that the interested parties had better give in than run the chance of having the confiscatory penalties pile up against them. The worm turned this time, however, and stood out against the charges and knocked out the law. The same could be done in most of the other laws if corporate interests dared run the risk of the confiscatory penalties. In short, the very severity of the penalty causes confession of guilt in most instances in the hope of a compromise penalty.

This is not as it should be. No one cares to be considered a companion of those who violate the laws. No law abiding citizen is. But a good many of them feel that many of the penalty laws of Texas are most unjust in that they are practically confiscatory of property interests. Reduce the penalties and increase the fine. Try the case upon its merits and if the defendant is guilty then tax him for the full fine if you have to confiscate every piece of property that he has, but don't intimidate him by confiscatory penalties on a $2 fine proposition.

The present cases do not enter into the controversy save by way of introduction. They have just been filed, have not been tried or no action has been taken with regard to them, but the fact that a seventeen million penalty stalks forth for inspection along with the filing of the cases is enough to make any moneyed interest confess to anything if by doing so they can compromise upon a liberal basis. It is history of past cases, not the present, to which reference is had, though the present case may come in line for consideration later on at the hands of the public, which feels that confiscatory penalty laws are wrong in both theory and practice.

There seems to be something of a sentiment arising within the state that the officials at Austin have gone too far in this penalty matter, and have by asking such excessive penalties sought to intimidate or coerce the defendants into a compromise. Those who express this opinion point to the association of outside attorneys with the attorney general's department in the undertaking and assert that such association was wholly unnecessary. This feature of the situation, too, has given some ground for the assertion on the part of the deendants that there may be something in the action taken that savors of holdup. The great state of Texas cannot submit to being placed in this light, and it is peculiarly unfortunate that there should be any thing in the situation that could even be distorted into a semblance of such a state of affairs. It appears to many the attorney general has his sights too high.

The public buildings bill is to be held up in congress until contrary members have been forced to come around to the speaker's way of thinking in regard to some important pending measure. And this means that Fort Worth will not obtain that needed appropriation for enlargement of the federal building until Uncle Joe has obtained just exactly what he wants with regard to pending measures.

The State Medical association will hold its next annual meeting in the thriving little city of Mineral Wells, and this will be one of the best advertisements that popular health resort ever had. When the physicians of Texas fully understand the merits of Mineral Wells there will be thousands of patients ordered there annually.

The Telegram is here to always stand up for Fort Worth, and for that reason it urges the holding of the next democratic state convention in this city. Some other Fort Worth institutions with a string on them may favor the holding of the convention in Mineral Wells, but the Telegram will continue to insist the convention should come to Fort Worth.

The Waterbury movement Senator La Follett assumed in the United States senate has subsided, and contrary to general expectations, it did not require but a fraction more than two days for him to express himself on the subject of the railway rate bill.

The state association of county school superintendents will hold its next meeting in this city next December, and Fort Worth extends a cordial welcome in advance of the coming. This city is the convention center of the southwest.

Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey sneezed violently again last week, and it was a signal to Colonel C. Arthur Williams, the energetic and irrepressible Washington correspondent to again nominate him for the presidency.

Judge Bell opens his regular campaign for the governorship at Hamilton May 3, and Texas Democracy will then have the privilege of listening to the enunciations of a statesman and a patriot. Judge Bell stands for all that is best for the people of Texas.

Members of the state democratic executive committee may carry the state convention by this city and locate it at Mineral Wells, but the Telegram does not believe it. There are too many existing salient reasons why the democracy should come to Fort Worth.

There was a charter taken out some months ago for an interurban line of railway from this city to Mineral Wells. Since that time there has been nothing doing and this is a great disappointment to the people. Somebody should proceed to get busy.

It is said the New York legislature has just passed another bill that gives Albert T. Patrick another showing for his life, and a half of a showing seems to be just about all that Patrick needs in his business.

With five candidates in the field and shelling the woods for governor it is clear that we are going to have a very interesting campaign this year and there is going to be something doing from start to finish.

Cattle buyers are reported out on the west Texas ranches in considerable numbers, and it is believed the buyers and sellers will soon be able to get together and close some healthy deals.

During the campaign of trust busting that has been inaugurated at Austin, sight should not be lost of the fact that Fort Worth needs packing houses in her business.

Texas papers are beginning to revise their estimates of the damage done to the fruit crop, and the general opinion is that the state will have a plenty and to spare this year.

Senator Pressler of Comanche has withdrawn from the race for lieutenant governor, and this, it is believed, will strengthen the cause of the Denton county man.

Mayor Harris has vetoed the new sprinkling contract, and expresses the opinion the city should do its own sprinkling. But if the city is so painfully short of coin of the realm, who is going to produce the needed?

With seventeen candidates for the position of superintendent of the North Fort Worth waterworks, it is clearly apparent that patriotism has not yet gone to seed in that borough.

The Frisco is to build new $50,000 shops and roundhouse in Fort Worth and that is going some. The Frisco is determined to keep up with the development of this city and section.

Fort Worth city property affords a perfectly safe and remunerative investment at prevailing prices, and that fact seems to be well known and appreciated by many of our people.

Tom Campbell's opening speech at Athens does not appear to have set the east Texas woods on fire.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS

"It" is a much bigger word than it looks. The hero is all right as long as he keeps his job. The unwashed hobo regards water as a thing to be damned.

Speaking of cold cash, it is natural that a man should freeze onto it. Some people are satisfied to make both ends meet, and some want the ends to lap over.

In the matter of admirers a girl may pay more attention to the quantity than to the quality. Even when three or four ministers assist at a wedding it only takes one divorce lawyer to undo the work.

When you hear a man boasting that he would rather be right than president, it's ten to one that he'll never be either.—Philadelphia Record.

But few men will pass through the pearly gates if St. Peter springs an investigating committee on them. Fully nine-tenths of the so-called tough luck in this world is due to a combination of poor judgment and laziness.—Chicago News.

THE TEXAS PRESS

In a speech in the house of representatives Mr. Williams, the minority leader, said to the Republican members: "If you don't revise the tariff, we will. If you don't admit Oklahoma and Indian Territories as one state, we will. If you don't pass a just and reasonable rate bill, we will." This may be regarded as a distinct threat and the congressional elections are only a few months off. In the popular parlance of the day the Republicans would better "get a move on 'em."—San Antonio Express.

The Democrats of the country are becoming greatly enthused over the political situation, and are confident of sweeping many Republican congressional districts in the November election. They claim that the present session of congress is making Democratic votes every day it remains in session.

The Fort Worth Telegram is guilty of misstatement of fact when it says that Kaufman county twice voted against Mr. Colquitt. The Telegram will not help its own candidate for governor by misrepresenting other candidates.—Houston Post.

When Commissioner Colquitt was a candidate for the state senate he failed to carry his own county in the primaries, according to a Kaufman county paper, and the same authority is quoted for the assertion that the same thing happened when he was a candidate for railroad commissioner.

The Fort Worth Telegram advises Attorney General Davidson to tackle the Standard Oil monopoly. Just now Attorney General Davidson has another fish to fry.—Dallas Times-Herald.

But the attorney general should not make fish of one and fowl of another. He should fry all the fish that are ready for the pan.

The Fort Worth Telegram seems to be of the opinion that most all the big newspapers of the state are behind Bell for governor. They also draw the inference that said fact is probably one of the most significant of any happening of the present day.—Austin Statesman.

Straws always show the way the wind is blowing, and the support of Bell by the leading papers of the state is clearly indicative of the drift of public sentiment.

If Adam Bede, who made that sensational speech in the senate a few days ago, would come to Texas, Texans would show him a few things. In speaking of Texas he said, "I can remember when 'Texas' was synonymous with 'hell,' and now it is about as populous, and two senators are not enough properly to represent it. A state with such diversified interests should not be under one government. In northern Texas they raise mules, grain and free traders, and in southern Texas they raise sugar, rice and protectionists."—Honey Grove Citizen.

We raise everything in Texas but people who favor state division. The citizens of this great state will forever hold down the schemes of the politicians in that particular direction.

Judge James B. Wells of Brownsville, who is in the city on business connected with the Spanish land grant cases in West Texas, was at the state house yesterday. Judge Wells reiterated his former statement made some time ago that he will not be a candidate for governor, notwithstanding the fact that many of his friends have since advised him to change his mind and enter the race. As has heretofore been stated in these columns, the retirement from the political arena as a possible candidate for governor, means that the judge will lend his support to Judge C. K. Bell of Fort Worth.—Austin Statesman.

Friends of Candidate Colquitt claim that gentleman made Judge Wells chairman of the state Democratic executive committee and insist that he is a supporter of the Kaufman county man in his gubernatorial aspirations. But it seems that Judge Wells and southwest Texas are safely in the Bell column.

The Fort Worth Telegram remarks that if the insurance companies who wrote business in San Francisco, take advantage of the "act of God" clause in their policies and refuse to pay it would be well for the people to remember this against these companies in the future.—Collingsworth Courier.

The failure of the insurance companies to meet their just obligations would but add to the general calamity, and to their credit it can be said they are showing a disposition to do the clean thing.

Fort Worth is to have a new medical college, steps having already been taken toward perfecting the organization of the institution to be known as the College for Physicians and Surgeons.—Vernon Hornet.

Fort Worth is continually gaining new enterprises, and the success of those already established is a constant incentive for the coming of more. The new medical college will start under flattering auspices and its friends predict for it a brilliant and successful career.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

Another paramount objection to the Terrell election law is its great ponderosity and extreme verbosity. There is not one average voter out of ten in all Texas that can and does understand its provisions. And while the Telegram believes it is the duty of the lawmakers of this state to place all proper and necessary restrictions and safeguards about the exercise of suffrage, it does not believe it is proper to cumber the statute books with a superfluity of verbiage that can be remedied by proper simplification. And if the Terrell Turkish election law was pruned of its unnecessary ponderosity and brain-fagging verbosity, at least four-fifths of that measure would be repealed.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Those objections are bound to appeal to a democratic citizenship as being just and reasonable. The state has no business and authority to poke its nose into the political conduct of the people. A political party is a voluntary organization of citizens, and the state can have no more legitimate concern in its affairs than it can have in a church conference or a fraternal society. Again, the state is traveling outside its jurisdiction when it undertakes to prescribe to newspaper publishers how they shall conduct their business. Both federal and state constitutions forbid the enactment of laws abridging the freedom of the press, but the Terrell election law defies this constitutional restraint. Of course if this feature ever gets into the courts, good-bye, Mr. Terrell Election Law. In the meantime, however, some publisher will have been subjected to great humiliation and heavy costs.

The Terrell election law outrages every principle of democracy. All that portion which pokes the nose of the state into the political concerns of the people must be repealed or Texas will cease to be a democratic commonwealth save in name only; her place will be alongside Turkey. The other portion, that dealing with regular elections, must be simplified. Texas must remain Democratic.—Waco Times-Herald.

The Texas Tornado is Claiming its Annual Toll

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Senator Aldrich approached Senator Bailey with a fatherly, gentle smile. He exuded simplicity, open-mindedness, love of his kind, sweet reasonableness at every pore.

"Bailey," he said, "let us agree, just to avoid unnecessary wrangling, and hasten this rate bill to a swift conclusion, that when we reach the amendments we vote upon them without debate. I propose that as a business proposition, as much in the interest of your side as of mine. I suppose, of course, you will see no objection to that. It's all right, isn't it?"

He looked at Bailey with an air of engaging candor, distinctly resembling Santa Claus. Bailey, who is a rude, cynical sort of person, gave a coarse laugh. "Ha, ha!" he said. "And then you can run in any amendment you want, and we won't have a chance to show it up."

Mr. Aldrich returned to his seat looking grieved. His confidence in human nature had received a harsh shock.

When Governor Edwin Warfield of Maryland was making his speech at the Paul Jones ceremonies at Annapolis, he recounted the names of the great naval heroes of American history and wound up with that of "Winfield Scott Schley." In Maryland any man can produce the same effect with Schley's name that you can get by talking about the Alamo in Texas. The audience went straight up in the air and has only just begun to come down.

Admiral Dewey, the only one of Schley's judges who decided in his favor, went up in the air as high as anybody there. He pounded his hands together in rapturous enthusiasm and shouted. President Roosevelt, who upheld the other judges and decided the case adversely to Schley, sat looking grimly in front of him.

A well known New Yorker came to Washington with a dark blue grouch beclouding his usually sunny countenance. Although he is not a holder of public office, he has never, unless perhaps recently, lost that interest in Republican politics that has kept him usually well informed as to what was going on below the Harlem. Consequently the first question that was fired at him today was:

"What's new over in your town?" "New!" he snorted. "What could be new? With this man up here in the White House, who can't make up his mind whether he wants to run for the Presidency again or be a United States senator or president emeritus or head of Harvard college or what else, and making muck rake speeches that get such a response as San Francisco has just given, what could be new?"

And with that the genial New Yorker pulled his felt hat down over his eyes and disappeared into the gloom.

The tumultuous discussion of free seeds or no free seeds had come to a close for a day, and a committee of the whole of the house on the state of the union had risen. Speaker Cannon was again in the chair. It was time for the usual run of unanimous consent business, and John Sharp Williams, leader of the minority, had taken his place in a front row, ready to fire in his "I object" at the first request, following out his announced program of preventing unanimous consent business until the statehood bill is battered out of conference.

Uncle Joe stood in his favorite attitude, on one foot, with the other resting in the chair behind him, and his cheerful glance caught the alert attitude of the great objector. With a thump of the gavel he handed a bill to the clerk and said: "The chair lays before the house the following bill, which the clerk will read: 'A way rattled the clerk, reading at sixty miles an hour without a stop for breath. Williams sat with his hand at his ear, as if striving to catch what it was all about, and an expression of wondering perplexity on his face. The clerk finished reading.

"Those in favor say 'Aye,' those opposed 'No,' the ayes have it," said Uncle Joe.

Bang went the gavel and the bill was passed. Half a minute more and the trick had been repeated, with Williams, still in a trance, looking on without a word of protest. "Shucks," said Uncle Joe to Grosvenor, as the house adjourned, "what's the use of unanimous consent?"

We shall be so kind in the after-while; But what have we done today? We shall bring to each lonely life a smile; But what have we brought today?

MOONSHINE & MUSTINGS

By Sid Barton
What is that crash that awakens the echoes on Pennsylvania avenue? It is the arrival in town of Dr. Edward Bedloe, citizen of the world. He has just got back from Egypt and he is flaunting a telegram in the silent air and indignantly voicing his opinion of telegraph operators in general and this one in particular.

"All there was of it," he explains to the chorus of eight hundred congressmen, correspondents, lobbyists and assorted citizens who gather about him instantly on his arrival, "is that the steamship company mislaid my trunk. I kept the wires hot all the way from Alexandria to New York, and they kept assuring me that they were on the track of it. I kept getting daily bulletins, and finally they located it, and a telegram arrived in New York which was instantly forwarded to me here. The telegraph operator mixed it up, and here is the result. Look at it! What do you think of that?" and the doctor exposed to the sympathetic view of the populace the following Hebrew message: "Dr. Bedloe's drunk. Arrived today."

"Don't you get tired living out there in the suburbs?" "I should say not." "But think of the long ride. It takes you an hour to reach your office, and an hour to reach home." "That's what makes life out there so pleasant. In the morning you have the pleasure of knowing it'll be a long time before you have to go to work, and going home there's the joy of knowing you won't get there in a hurry."

The "feetwashers" are holding a convention in Plainfield, N. J. It's refreshing to learn there's something clean in New Jersey.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FORT WORTH

By reason of a house to house distribution about this city of a circular letter, purporting to have been written by the Retail Clerks' Association, which letter abounded in maliciously false inferences designed to influence and prejudice the people of this city against me, and to injure my business, I feel impelled to submit to your candid judgment and for your fair consideration the following statement of facts:

FIRST—I have been engaged in my present business in the city of Fort Worth for a period of thirteen years; during this entire time, and up until now, five, and only five of my employes have voluntarily left my employ to take positions elsewhere.

This fact, it is respectfully submitted, should bear much weight with the impartial mind, in determining whether or not my treatment of my employes has been bad or otherwise.

SECOND—The letter referred to contains the statement that the Retail Clerks' Association only asks a wage scale of not less than $5.00 per week, manifestly seeking to thereby impute, that my wage scale is less than that sum. Whereas the facts are, the average of wages paid by me to my clerks is $9.25 a week to each. No clerk in my employ receives under $5.00 per week, no clerk in my employ receives as little as $5.00 per week, except two; one of these is an extra clerk and the other a beginner in the business.

The officers of the Retail Clerks' Association were fully advised long before the letter referred to was written, of these facts with reference to my scale of wages. The motive, therefore, that inspired this letter is very apparent.

THIRD—In the letter above mentioned, and which has been so studiously circulated, an attempt is further made to create the impression that I require my clerks to work at night and Sundays.

In repudiation of this slander, I here state, that in no instance do I require my clerks to work at night except on Saturday nights, and then not later than 9:30 o'clock, and on alternate nights during Christmas week, and for such extra work, during the holidays, I have voluntarily given extra compensation. Under Association rules the clerks perform the same extra work, except they are required to work until 10 p. m. on Saturdays, and their contracts do not specify extra compensation for work during Christmas week. Under Association rules clerks are entitled to certain holidays, which my clerks have always had on the same basis.

No clerk in my employ is ever under any circumstances, required to perform work for me on Sunday.

FOURTH—I have never fought the Retail Clerks' Association, nor am I fighting it now. I have only the kindest feelings for them. I have never opposed this association other than to decline to force my clerks to become members thereof. I have always accorded to the representatives of this association the privilege of presenting to my employes in my store, during business hours, such claims as they cared to, with a view of securing them as members; further, I have heretofore assured the officers of this association that I would conform to all their rules as to wage scale, hours, etc., except that I refuse to compel my employes to join this Association.

But on the other hand, certain officials of this Association have continuously and persistently, and by unfair and underhanded methods hounded and attempted to persecute me personally, and by the same means, and in the same way have sought to injure my business. They have carried out and executed the threat, made to me in my place of business, by their high representative, that if I did not force my clerks to join the Association they would fight me.

I am not opposed to organized labor. I freely and fully recognize both the rights and benefits thereof, but I believe that the individual has some right and is entitled to some consideration.

WOMEN EMPLOYEES MAKE STATEMENT

Deny in Detail Charges Made by Clerks' Association

ASK FOR FAIR HEARING

Say They Are Satisfied With Conditions, Which They Declare Better Than in Other Stores

To the People of Fort Worth—No doubt each and every household has received a letter similar to the one we received a few days ago from the Retail Clerks' Association, Local No. 218, of Fort Worth, asking, "Why does the Fair refuse to sign the agreement of the Retail Clerks' Association?" and stating that "the clerks had only asked for a reasonable work day and a wage scale of not less than $5 per week."

We, the women employes of The Fair, also send this letter to the public to assure them that we have never asked for a reasonable work day or a wage scale, as stated in the letter above. We have had several years before the Retail Clerks' union was ever organized in Fort Worth.

We have shorter hours, and never work overtime without extra pay, and never on Sundays. Our wages are paid us when sick and not able to be on duty.

There is no time register, and we are not required to work extra pay, and never on Sundays. Our wages are paid us when sick and not able to be on duty.

We are provided with comfortable seats behind the counters, and are permitted to rest every minute that we are not waiting on customers. These conditions have existed years before the birth of the Retail Clerks' Association in this city.

When asked by the association a few years ago to permit its employes to join the union, our proprietor instantly gave his permission and willingly offered to pay the initiation fee of any one that desired to join, and did pay the fees of four clerks, three of whom are in his employ at present.

We have the same privilege, and offer should we desire to become members today.

So long as we are free American citizens we at least have the right of our own sentiments. Having the privilege of free speech, we are not bound to accept of any other than our own. We are ever your willing.

(The original of this communication, signed by all of the women clerks of The Fair store, is on file.—Editor Telegram.)

POLICE SPOT PRISONER

Vagrancy Charge Followed by One of Theft Made by Detective

A man giving the name of Charles Johnson, when arrested several days ago on the charge of vagrancy and held at the city jail, was recognized by Detective Sebe Maddox to be Charles Morgan, wanted at Jewett on a charge of robbing a railroad laborers' camp on the International and Great Northern at that place. A gold watch from W. G. Boyd, another from H. A. Perry and $3 in money were taken.

Boyd's watch was recovered at a pawn shop, but the other watch has not been found. Detective Maddox worked on the case until satisfied Morgan was the man wanted and on confronting him with the robbery charge he reports Morgan confessed. He has been transferred to the county authorities for trial. The theft occurred a week ago.

NO CITY PARK MUSIC

Tom Watson to Lecture to Raise Fund for Next Season

Tom Watson, late candidate for President of the United States of America, will lecture in Fort Worth for the benefit of a music fund for free concerts at the city park.

An effort was made by Mrs. R. M. Wynne to secure the lecture by means of raising funds for the present summer, but in a letter offering his services later for the purpose, Mr. Watson declined to accept the offer.

So far as can be learned no music will be provided at the city park this summer. Mrs. Wynne, who has formerly been in charge of the singing, will leave for the summer in a few days, and has been prevented from taking usual steps this year by illness in the family.

The lecture of Tom Watson, however, is expected to assure ample funds for the succeeding summer.

TRAINMEN PLAN OUTING

Bell Branch, Near Italy, Texas, to Be Scene of Big Picnic

Special to The Telegram.

ITALY, Texas, May 2.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen are preparing to have a big picnic and reunion at Bell Branch, six miles north of this city, on the Fort Worth branch of the International and Great Northern railroad, May 29. The complete program has not yet been announced, but the railroad boys are planning for a great time generally. It has been announced in railway circles here that a delegation numbering 1,000 people will come from Fort Worth. Bell Branch is an ideal place for an outing. The country adjacent affords a view that cannot be found in any other section of north or central Texas. There is a lake there several miles long, covering a hundred acres. The railroad is preparing to make some improvements in the way of building a boat house, sheds and pavilions.

Big Springs News Notes

Special to The Telegram.

BIG SPRINGS, Texas, May 2.—Yesterday was exceedingly hot and sultry until 4 o'clock, when a thunder storm, accompanied by a high wind, made its appearance.

The telegraph masts at the electric light plant were blown down by the high wind.

The new skating pavilion will be completed this week. It will be 50x120 feet.

Ice Plant to Open

The ice plant will begin operations this week.

Covert May Recover

Ed Covert, who was accidentally shot last Monday week, is still alive, and hopes for his recovery are now entertained.

Man's Arm Broken

Charles Six of Abilene, employed on the rink here, had the misfortune to fall from the roof, his arm being broken.

Storms in West Texas

A severe hail storm is reported to have visited Colorado yesterday afternoon; also a destructive windstorm visited Hamilton, Nolan county, on the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad.

The eastern part of the county was visited by a light hail storm this (Tuesday) morning. A light shower fell in the city.

Farmers Buying Implements

Farm implements are in great demand. Several firms have sold several carloads, and being unable to secure more from the factory, are looking them here from nearby towns. The lumber dealers and implement firms have been doing an immense business this year.

BIG RACE TONIGHT

SUMMIT AVENUE RINK

Much interest is being manifested both in this city and throughout the state in the four-mile race to be held at the Summit Avenue rink tonight. It is understood that a special car will be run from Dallas for the benefit of the enthusiasts from that city. Dallasites seem to favor Taylor, although Guyon recently became so popular that he has the better chance.

At all events a great race is expected and the outcome will probably be in doubt up to the last lap. The Summit avenue line has put on a fifteen-minute schedule on account of the ever increasing patronage of the rink and special cars will be run tonight for the race.

TWO HOSPITALS

Two more cases of Bright's Disease that recovered after the treatment in hospitals had failed and life was despaired of.

One is John H. Gyselaer, the well known merchant of Eureka, Cal. He was in the Lane Hospital in San Francisco for three months. Was so swollen he had to be kept in bed and tapped every ten days. He was steadily sinking when his family took him home and put him on Fulton's Renal Compound for Bright's Disease. The tapplings ceased and he began to mend, and is now perfectly well. Everybody in Eureka knows of his miraculous escape.

Another case is that of Mr. T. J. Mulroy of 2316 Bryant st., San Francisco. A few months ago he was in the U. S. Marine Hospital in that city and was so low with Bright's Disease that his sister, Mrs. French, was advised by the physician in charge that a fatal end was inevitable and close at hand. She took him home and put him on the same treatment that saved Gyselaer. He recovered and five months later returned to his employment. Write either of the above if you question this.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes are curable in 87 per cent of all cases by Fulton's Compound. Send for literature. Jno. J. Fulton Co., 409 Washington street, San Francisco.

H. T. Pangburn & Co., agents, Fort Worth.

When to suspect Bright's Disease—weakness or loss of weight; puffy ankles, hands or eyelids; dropsy; kidney trouble after the third month; urine may show sediment; falling vision; drowsiness; one or more of these.

STATE COUNCIL NAMES OFFICERS

E. H. Lambert of Dallas State Councillor

Business of the State Council, J. O. U. A. M., was concluded at Tuesday night's session, at which the following officers were named:

State councillor, E. H. Lambert of Dallas; state council secretary, A. S. Fulghum; treasurer, J. W. Coker; chaplain, T. M. Clark; conductor, T. H. Price; warden, T. J. Tension; inside sentinel, N. C. Smith; outside sentinel, W. E. Dancy; chief justice, court of appeals, W. F. Young; chairman judiciary committee, S. R. Loar.

J. M. Stewart was made junior post state councillor.

The next meeting will be held at Glenwood in May, 1907.

After the election of officers the doors of the council were opened to the public, and W. H. Rollins installed the officers. He was assisted by the Star of Texas and the Council Daughters of America. The Junior band rendered several patriotic selections during the evening and speeches for the good of the order were made by A. J. Black, Dr. J. L. Cooper, J. B. Willett, A. H. Fulghum and William Jack-

CHILD CHARGED WITH A FELONY

Baird Boy Alleged to Have Burned Barn

Special to The Telegram.

BAIRD, Texas, May 2.—Nine years is the age of Joe Lane, the boy bound over to await the action of the grand jury of Callahan county, which meets next Monday, following a preliminary hearing before a justice of the peace on the charge of having set fire to the barn of C. H. Mohan in this city. Bond in the sum of $100 was fixed for the lad and promptly furnished.

Baird Notes and Personals

Special to The Telegram.

BAIRD, Texas, May 2.—Rev. P. M. Fitzgerald, an evangelist of Arlington, Texas, is conducting revival services in the Cumberland Presbyterian church here. W. L. Molland of Teahuacana has charge of the singing.

With cloudy weather last night, preceded by a good rain, this section bids fair to show a fair prospect for crops for the coming season.

District court will meet here next Monday, and it is not now thought that the time of its sessions will last for four weeks, the full length of the term. The docket is not heavy.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

1 CENT IS ALL IT WILL COST YOU to write for our big FREE BICYCLE catalogue showing the most complete line of high-grade BICYCLES, TIRES, SUNDRIES at PRICES BELOW ANY OTHER MANUFACTURER or DEALER in the world.

DO NOT BUY A BICYCLE from anyone, or on any kind of terms, until you have received our catalogue at any price, and read the full details of our high-grade bicycles, old patterns and latest models, and learn of our remarkable LOW PRICES and wonderful new offers made possible by selling from factory direct to rider with no middlemen's profits.

WE SHIP APPROVED without a cent deposit. Pay the Freight and only $4.80 per pair. We will allow you to return any bicycle you do not like for a full refund of the purchase price. We will allow 10 Days Free Trial and make other liberal terms which no other house in the world will do. You will learn everything and get much valuable information by simply writing us a postal.

We need a Rider Agent in every town and can offer an opportunity to make money to suitable young men who apply at once.

$8.50 PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80

Regular Price $8.50 per pair. Introduce You Will Sell You a Sample Pair for Only $4.80 (Cash with Order $4.80)

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES. Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

DESIGNER: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture-resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially-prepared fabric on the tread. That "holding back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patient "Baker's Wheel" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented. We will allow a cash discount of 10 per cent (thereby making the price $4.32 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture-closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture-closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.

We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. Ask your Postmaster, Banker, Express or Freight Agent or the Editor of this paper about us. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a new pair you will give us your order. We will send you a small trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

COASTER-BRAKES, everything in the bicycle line are sold by us at half the usual prices charged by dealers and repair men. Write for our big SUNDAY catalogue.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING A BICYCLE or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.

BREAKFAST JACKET 5342

To Be Made with High or V-Shaped Neck

Breakfast jackets are in demand at all seasons of the year, but especially so with the coming of warm weather. This year they are to be worn both with odd skirts and also with those to match, such simple materials as lawn, dimity and the like being used for the purpose. Illustrated is an exceedingly attractive, graceful and altogether desirable model that allows of several variations, so becoming available both for the dressy jacket and for the plain one designed for prosaic service. In the illustration it is made of white lawn with trimming of embroidery and beading threaded with ribbon, the washable being the most desirable sort. For all materials used for jackets of the sort and when the V-shaped neck and elbow sleeves are used, frills can be of the material or lace quite as well as of the embroidery. The beading at the waist line confines it so that the jacket can be left loose if better liked. The jacket consists of the fronts and the back. The back is plain, but the fronts are tucked at the shoulders. Whether the sleeves are in elbow or three-quarter length, they are gathered at their lower edges and finished with straight bands, the frills being attached to these when desired. The frill at the neck is shaped and falls in graceful lines. When high neck is used a turn-over collar makes the finish. The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3 1/2 yards 27, 2 3/4 yards 36 or 1 3/4 yards 44 inches wide with 4 1/2 yards of embroidery 10 inches wide and 2 1/2 yards of banding to make as illustrated. The pattern, 5342, is cut for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inch bust measure.

THE MARATHON MYSTERY

BY BURTON E. STEVENSON
COPYRIGHT 1906, BY HENRY HOLT & COMPANY

Synopsis
Godfrey, a newspaper reporter, talking with a detective friend, Simmonds, is notified that a murder has been done at an apartment house across the street. Arrived there, they find an acquaintance of Godfrey's, Miss Crofton, standing in a room with a pistol in her hand. She tells them that a second man fought with the dead one and struck him with an iron bar, escaping. Reason for her being there is stated by her to be that she had an engagement with the dead man for the purpose of earning about some papers he professed to possess, these being valuable to her family. Later Jimmy, called "the Dude," a well known crook, is arrested by Simmonds, and seen on the point of telling how it all occurred, when he learns that Miss Crofton is expected to be a witness against him, and suddenly requests to be locked up, appearing indifferent as to what fate may have for him. At the coroner's hearing Miss Crofton testifies that Jimmy is not the person who slew the dead man, but the look that passed between Miss Crofton and Jimmy, when her testimony set him free of the imputation of murder, causes the detective and these wispaper man to arrive at the conclusion that they have an extraordinary case to deal with, and the pair vote that they are up against a mystery for fair.

"Well, whoever it was," Godfrey pointed out, "it wasn't Jimmy. He couldn't have beaten the elevator upstairs."
"No," admitted Simmonds, helplessly, "the countess is right."
"Who is Thompson?" asked Gregory.
"The first thing we've got to do is to establish his identity."
"But a queer thing is that we can't find out a thing about Thompson. Last night was the first time he'd ever been seen at Magraw's—nobody there'd ever seen him before."

"Have you gone through his belongings?"
"Here they are," and Simmonds brought out a canvas bag. "Look at this," he said, holding up a small object.
Godfrey examined them piece by piece. It was merely a lot of ordinary clothing, most of it the worse for wear and strongly impregnated with the odor of tobacco.
"Have you noticed?" asked Simmonds. "It's all summer clothing. See these linen trousers?"
"What's this?" asked Godfrey, suddenly holding up a smart object, shaped like a clam-shell and having in the same way along the sharp edge.
"I don't know. A curio picked up at sea, perhaps. I have a theory that Thompson was a sailor."
Godfrey sniffed and nodded again. Then he got out his knife and inserted the blade in the side of the curio.
A twist and the sides unfolded. Simmonds sprang back in surprise, for a little slipper, with venous, triangular head.
"In an instant Godfrey smiled.
"It's not alive," he said. "Don't you see, it's some marvelous kind of nut. This may give us a clue," he said. "I shouldn't imagine a nut like this grows in many parts of the world. Though, of course, a sailor might pick it up anywhere. And this is all?"
"Yes—he'd rented his furniture from a store down the street. His rent receipts—the only thing that's got his name on it—yes, there's a letter tattooed on his left arm, but it's not a T—it's a J."
"Which goes to show that his name wasn't Thompson. I think you're right, Simmonds. In putting him down as a sailor, I thought so last night—in fact, I've already got two men making a tour of the docks trying to find somebody who knew him."

EVERY KNOWN FLOWER

Velvet, moss and maidenhair fern, together with wings and quills, constitute the principal ornamentation for the spring hat, together with the unlimited use of ribbon, akrettes, ostrich feathers and penneck eyes, of all fashionable shades. Many flower hats are on view and crests of roses on crowns or brims remain in favor.

Diaplays of Ribbon

are remarkable for their range of color, variety of design and softness of texture. A beautiful satin mesaline ribbon is especially adapted to millinery purposes, and for similar use is in a faille weave of chiffon weight with plain or hemstitched border. Filmy, tinsel ribbons in plain gold or silver, and in designs of stripes are selling rapidly, while the heavier galoons are used for belts or hat bands, combined with silk ribbons.

Another Pretty Costume

is of sheer white wool, with checks outlined by a single blue silk thread (Alce blue), over which are scattered blue and white silk dots. The skirt has three blue silk folds headed by delicate white silk braid. The Eton jacket is also of blue silk, trimmed with white silk braid and a plain Brussels net waist beneath adds to the sweetness and simplicity of this charming toilette.

NO CHANGES IN CITY COMMITTEES

Mayor Has Not Yet Announced Selection of Chairmen

It was expected by a number of the city council that Mayor Harris would announce his standing committees at the Tuesday night adjourned session, and they also expected that the radical changes would be made in the personnel of the important committees.
"I am satisfied," said the chairman of an important committee, Tuesday afternoon in a Telegram reporter, "that the mayor will appoint as chairman of the water works committee, the finance committee, the streets and alleys committee and the police committee Aldermen Maddox, Lydon, Harold and Cook. I believe he will make radical changes."
Miss Stripling got the ring. Miss Phelan the sixpence and Miss Newlin the thimble.
The gorgeous display of gifts was made in the music room, and the bride and groom were accompanied by the bride and groom to Dallas in a special car and had a supper there at the Oriental.
Mrs. John Sparks
Mrs. John Sparks entertained with a party Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Gordon winning the first prize, a hammered brass jardiniere. Mrs. Adams won the second, a cut glass bon bon dish. Miss Grace Hollingsworth won a mustard spoon. Ice and cake were served.
Informal Afternoon
Mrs. George Want entertained a few friends most informally Wednesday afternoon complimentary to her sister, Mrs. James Lackland of El Paso.
Cook-Quickenstedt
The marriage of C. C. Cook to Miss Elsie Quickenstedt will take place this evening at 7:30 at the residence of the bride, 420 Lipscomb.
Mrs. Chamberlain of Louisiana is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward, on West Broadway.
Mrs. W. H. Irwin is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zane-Cetti. Mr. Irwin will reach Fort Worth within a few days.

NEW YORK STOCKS
Panio-Stricken Longs Unload—Market Demoralized—Volume of Business the Heaviest for Years

NEW YORK, May 2.—A continuation of the violent activity and bearish aggressiveness which characterized the final dealings in stocks yesterday resulted in another incipient panic on Wall street and further spectacular drops in values of all the leading issues.

Without loss of time bears became very aggressive and succeeded in forcing liquidation which, as prices succumbed and margins exhausted, became a prominent feature.

It is generally conceded that there is still a pool in this stock, and the drive was to shake out their holdings, being partially successful. It is understood that the 90,000 shares sold by Content was for the account of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

It was asserted that the raid was engineered by people acting for the Standard Oil Company, who took occasion to demonstrate to the public the effects of adverse legislation.

Without loss of time bears became very aggressive and succeeded in forcing liquidation which, as prices succumbed and margins exhausted, became a prominent feature.

It is generally conceded that there is still a pool in this stock, and the drive was to shake out their holdings, being partially successful.

NEW YORK COTTON
Market Stagnant—Weakness of Stocks Restricts Trading—Undertone Steady

NEW YORK, May 2.—The cotton market was extremely quiet today, but the session was remarkable for its pronounced steadiness which prevailed throughout the day.

The volume of trade was light from the start and the market soon grew stagnant, longs and shorts alike preferring to await developments in the stock market before taking any active steps.

Essentially the July option sold off 9 points from the best bid and recovered a portion of this loss in the final trading.

New crop positions were well supported throughout, probably on account of the prevalence of light trading.

Without loss of time bears became very aggressive and succeeded in forcing liquidation which, as prices succumbed and margins exhausted, became a prominent feature.

It is generally conceded that there is still a pool in this stock, and the drive was to shake out their holdings, being partially successful.

CHICAGO GRAIN
Markets Quiet—Wheat Prices Break 1/4c, With Partial Recovery Later, Corn Off 1/4c

CHICAGO, May 2.—Grain markets were quiet today and price changes were unimportant except for wheat, the value of which suffered sharp depreciation. Cables reported Liverpool opening prices unchanged for wheat, but the local market opened easy with conditions 1/4 to 1/2c lower.

After reaching this level the market traded very quiet, but the influence of profit taking by scalpers prices rallied and regained a portion of the loss, the close being steady with prices 1/2 to 3/4c lower.

Corn sympathized with wheat to a certain extent, ruling quiet and easy throughout the session. Final figures were 1/4c net lower.

Provisions enjoyed only a very light trade and prices suffered further loss, final figures being 18 to 20c lower for pork, 12 to 12 1/2c off for lard and 7 to 10c down for ribs.

Without loss of time bears became very aggressive and succeeded in forcing liquidation which, as prices succumbed and margins exhausted, became a prominent feature.

It is generally conceded that there is still a pool in this stock, and the drive was to shake out their holdings, being partially successful.

CATTLE AND HOGS
Hogs Make Record Breaking Run and Meet Decline—Steers Sell Steady

The cattle market did not vary much from yesterday in its general aspect, some 2,200 head coming in. In two features, however, it showed difference. The grass steer run overtopped the supply of fed steers, there being but few loads of the latter on hand.

Packers were disinclined to buy from the start and but little trading was done before noon, and this was on weak to lower basis.

Calves were plentiful, the supply reaching nearly 500. The quality was good, but not as good as yesterday.

Hogs made the record-breaking run of the year, the new supply reaching 3,200 head with 300 left over from yesterday.

Without loss of time bears became very aggressive and succeeded in forcing liquidation which, as prices succumbed and margins exhausted, became a prominent feature.

It is generally conceded that there is still a pool in this stock, and the drive was to shake out their holdings, being partially successful.

VIEW OF THE MARKET
Ware & Leland
FORT WORTH, Texas, May 2.—New Orleans cotton: The cotton market drifted along today in much the same way that it has for the last few days.

Trading was limited in volume and fluctuations were narrow. Such a state of affairs, however, cannot last for ever, for the market is full of speculators among the common run of speculators is that existing conditions will continue.

There is nothing alarming in weather conditions. The refusal of the bulls to load up with long cotton is the best argument for the crop is getting along all right.

Without loss of time bears became very aggressive and succeeded in forcing liquidation which, as prices succumbed and margins exhausted, became a prominent feature.

It is generally conceded that there is still a pool in this stock, and the drive was to shake out their holdings, being partially successful.
