TO PROTECT BANKS

Elaborate System for Safeguarding Loans Devised

NEW YORK, May 5 .- Many of the banks and trust companies of this city have, says a morning paper, approved a plan devised by Vice President Horace M. Kilborn of the National City Bank, to prevent robberies of the sort perpetrated by Harry Leonard.

Leonard, who said afterward that he simply wanted to show the City Bank how easy he could rob it, got his money through forging the name of another firm to a fictitious check purporting to pay off a loan.

Mr. Kilborn's pian, bankers think, will prevent anything of the kind in the future. Briefly, the plans consists of the issuance of a loan certificate a little larger than the ordinary bank check to the individual who takes out the loan. The certificate is of senzitized paper, making changes in signatures impossible and is elaborately engraved, both on the front and back, in colors. The issuing bank does not have its name on the certificate, but uses a combination of letters in the upper right hand corner and also has a combination of numbers at the botton. These establish the bank's iden-tity and permit 100,000 loans without duplication of the number. Automatic duplicating machines in the charge of the proper officers of the bank make the letters and numbers.

The borrower on paying off the loan must present the certificate to the bank. In the event of the loss of a certificate the finder could not use it. as he could not without the connivance of an officer of the bank ascertain what bank had issued it.

speculative holdings of stock have been forced to liquidation in Wall street this week, producing a disorderly break in prices. The relief thus offered resulted in some recovery in which covering of shorts by bears played an important part. The report on the Standard Oil inquiry and the prospect of an anthracite strike were minor factors in extending the influences of depression in the market.

DECATUR YOUTH RACE WINNER

Emest Gregg Covers 15 Miles in 2 Hours and 10 Minutes

HIS BROTHER IS SECOND

One Runner Gives Out From Heat and Exhaustion and Two Others

Under a blistering sun and with the wind against him, Wallace Gregg won the cross-country run from Burleson to Fort Worth Saturday morning, making the distance of fifteen miles in two hours, ten minutes and thirty seconds. The finish occurred in South Main street, in front of the Texas and Pacific roundhouse. Hours before the first man came into view a large crowd gathered to witness the event.

The second man to finish was Ernest Gregg, a brother of the winner, who crossed the line about eight minutes afterward in the time of two hours, eighteen minutes and five seconds. Ernest Gregg was completely fagged out by the tremendous strain and exertion and it was with difficulty he made his way up the street through the crowd which lined both sides, falling into the arms of one of the judges as he crossed the fifteen-mile mark.

Hardly had Ernest Gregg finished and been taken in charge than a cry arose that the third runner was coming, which proved to be L. Binkley, who made the distance in two hours, twenty minutes and twenty seconds. There were three other starters, Miles Wells, M. B. McCarley and Charles Little. Wells gave out in the fifth mile and fell to the earth unconscious. Three men accompanying the runners in a carriage, Coach L. W. Rogers, J. W. Mahan and P. J. Webb, applied remedies, but he was unable to continue the race and was brought on to the city in the coach's carriage. It is stated he started out at a rather lively pace and probably was overcome by the exertion and heat. The other two men, McCarley and Little, did not finish.

The immense crowd at the depot waited in suspense for the first glimpse of the winning man. A large number of Polytechnic coeds were present with the college colors, black and red, in profusion. It was expected the winner would arrive a little after 11 o'clock.

Several blocks away, at a rise in the street, a signal man was stationed. Finally he was seen to wave his flag. announcing the first runner was in sight, and the crowd set up a great huzzah as a minute later he came over was then running at a fair speed which he kept up until he crossed the line. He stated that at no time had he felt the effects of the heat or exertion and that he was good for a few miles more if necessary, and except for being very tired, felt none the worse for the long run. Gregg is from Decatur and is in his second year at Folytechnic.

The start from Burleson was made

BRAVE FARMER HOLDS MAD DOG

Is Bitten Fifteen Times Before Animal Is Kifled

DENTON, Texas, May 5.-Unable to kill a mad dog which attacked him this morning, R. S. Godsey, a farmer living near Collinsville, bravely heid the animal until a neighbor named Platt came to his assistance and killed the animal. Godsey was frightfully bitten, receiving at least fifteen wounds.

Godsey was attacked by the dog before he had a chance to arm himself with even a stick, and rather than run the risk of letting the animal run loose and bite some one else, struggled with the beast and called for help. Godsey was taken to Sherman today and tonight will be sent to Austin, where he will be treated at the Pasteur Institute.

The Gray Bulls realized that Wyoming was short of women and they promised to be good to any maid or widow who immigrated, to find her employment if she needed it ,and then to let the law of sex attraction do the rest. It was felt that any enterprising girl once established in that country of great demand would be able to pick her man and superman him.

The first result was flattering in the extreme. The local postoffice was choked with letters to Mr. Barlow, the secretary. Most of the 8,000 letters arrived the first week, but there have been scattering responses ever since. Women of New York and its environs sent about 383. Now the club is able to report that

A young woman of Harlem calls the attention of the secretary of the Gray Bulls to the fact that she cannot imagine a greater tragedy than to go west and, after marrying, find that neither is congenial to the other. She wants a man of innate refinement; otherwise he would be devoid of sentiment. However, this one spoils her chances with the truly loyal citizens of Wyoming by concluding: "I do not desire to bleach my bones so far from home.'

This comes from an address not far from Gramercy park: "I am English and have been out west. I like the west very much and would like to go west ain. I am an Episcopalian. New York Fashions

"All the world" here is in spring attire and the general use of light colorings is very noticeable. Light grays in mixed weavings are as predominant in women's as in men's attire, but a touch of contrast is usually introduced in the trimmings of the suit, and the hat carries out the effect. Sevre blue and the various rose shades and leaf greens are the popular contrasts. Very narrow stripes in brown, blue or black combined with white are especially smart and will be very much used in inen cheviots later.

Silk coats of all dimensions are worn, especially the smaller Boleros and Etons. To be at the "Tip of the Mode" one should have the hat, Eton coat and parasol to match in coloring, and in contrast with the rest of the costume. Adele Ritchie, who is famed for her good dressing, wears a costume of this sort in the "Social Whirl." The gown is a chiffon creation in white, painted in dainty floral design and inset with lace. The hat, bolero and parasol of "onion brown."

All the fashionable shops make a great display of neck fixings. Ruffs and fichus of chiffon and maline are bought eagerly by modish women who know the value of these accessories in dressing up a plain gown or freshening one that has seen some service. Besides they are so very becoming, especialy is they match the coolr of the hat or its trimmings. Wide very full ruches of tulle or maline are the Frenchiest and most becoming style in the new neckwear. These are rather short and are finished with long ends of ribbon or velvet knotted and bowed in many fanciful ways.

STEPFATHER HAS NOTHING TO SAY

Important News for Lovers in Attorney General's Ruling

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, May 5.—By a ruling made yesterday afternoon by Judge W. E. Hawkins, first office assistant attorney general, a step-father cuts very little figure, if any, in the proposition on the marriage of his step-daughter who is under the legal age. This is the first time in this state that this question has been raised, consequently the ruling is a very interesting one. The ruling was made in answer to inquiries from D. J. Cutberth, county clerk of Bosque county. The full text of the letter of Judge Hawkins' to the Bosque county clerk is herewith given, which explains how the request came to be made and the circumstances attendant theron:

D. J. Cutberth, County Clerk of Bosque County, Meridian, Texas: Dear Sir-In reply to your question by long-distance telephone this afternoon, I beg to say: I understand from your statement that you desire to know whether you would be justified under the laws of this state in issuing a marriage license under the following circumstances:

The prospective groom is over 21 years of age. The prospective bride is only 16 years afo age. Her father is dead. Her mother, who has married again, is the statutory guardian of the estate of the minor, and consents to the issuance of the license and to the marriage, but the minor's step-father Revised statutes of Texas, article

2957, read as follows: "No clerk shall issue a license without the consent of the parents or guardians of the parties applying, unless the parties so applying shall be, in the case of the male, 21 years of age, and in the female, 18 years of age." Is the step-father a parent of the minor within the meaning of this statute? This precise question seems not to have been decided in this state. However, in Heinemeier vs. Arlitt, 67 S. W., p. 1035, it was held that the word "parent" as used in the articles of the revised statutes of Texas concerning the appointment of guardians does not include a step-father or a step-mother.

In Castner vs. Egbert, 12 N. J. Lav (7 Hal.), p. 259, it was held that the word "parent" is understood in the strict sense and does not extend to those who are some times said to stand in loco parentis as used in a marriage act providing that an action may be maintained against a clergyman marrying a minor under the age of 21 years, unless a certificate in writing, under the hand of the parent or parents, guardian or guardians, granting permission for such marriage, shall

And in People vs. Schoonmaker, 117 Mich., p. 190, it was held that a sterfather is not the natural guardian of a minor orphan, and that his consent is The trend of the decisions seems to be in the direction of authorizing the issuance of the license by the clerk upon the consent of the mother being given, regardless of the wishes of the Upon principle and under the authorities I am of the opinion that if you have the written consent of the mother therfor, you will be justified in issuing the license in this instance. Respectfully. W. E. HAWKINS.

Northern Buyer Makes Purchases at Clarendon, Texas

CLARENDON, Texas, May 5.—Clarendon cattlemen have been getting some pretty good figures for their stuff of late, but no more than they deserved, considering the quality of the material sold. Mr. Gale, who is a cattle buyer from IlMnois, also purchased of Robert Sawyer 65 head of ones and twos at $32.75, from W. D. Van Eaton about 50 head of twos at $28, from Will Montgomery 80 yearlings at $15.75. This was all fed stuff and extra good. The different bunches were shipped on Tuesday to Galesburg, Ill. Eight cars of four and five-year-old steers were shipped from this place on the same day by Craig Bros. of Memphis, and were consigned to Patton, Hyde & Price of Kansas, who made the purchase some time ago.

ers Around Quanah

Special to The Telegram QUANAH, Texas, May 5.-In 1889-1890 and 1891 the people of this section went wild on wheat raising, and that was all the farming that was done, practically. Then followed the dry period, and elevators and flour mills stood idle for a long time, investments in those properties shrinking enormously in value. Last year's wheat crop in Quanah territory was a good one. The wheat, however, because of rust, averaged about 56 pounds per bushel. Three years ago the wheat was so heavy that it was accepted as No. 2 without using a tester. Last year in spite of the fact that the wheat was light in weight, it was better than that raised in any other portion of Texas. The general condition of wheat and oats in Quanah territory at this time is said to be, by buyers who keep up with such things, as fine as at any time in 1890, when the bumper crop was made So far, there is no indication of rust, and farmers as a rule express no fear in that direction, unless we have a continued wet spell, with no sunshine or wind of several day's duration. In some fields wheat is waist high, and has stooled out enormously. The indications are that with good average weather from now on till harvest, wheat in Quanah territory will thresh from twenty to thirty bushels an acre. The present wheat acreage is large.

Attorneys Describe Business as "Honorable and in Conformity

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, May 5.-In reply to President Roosevelt's message and the report of Commissioner Garfield, H. H. Rogers and John D. Archbold of the Standard Oil Company said that their examination of the message and report had necessarily been a hurried one and that they should at a later date make a full answer to their shareholders. Meanwhile they made a statement to the Associated Press in part as follows: "In the President's efforts to secure the passage of a bill enlarging the powers of the interstate commerce commission and just and equitable railway rates, we have precisely the same interest that any good citizen has. No more and no less. "Regarding his criticism upon the management of the railways or his strictures upon an act of the interstate commerce commission, we have neither responsibility nor concern. When, however, he or Commissioner Garfield attacks the Standard Oil Company and uses its methods of doing business as an object lesson for the purpose of promoting his views, we protest. It may be frankly stated at the outset that the Standard Oil Company has at all times within the limits of fairness and with due regard for the law, sought to secure the most advantageous freight rates and routes possible. The question is whether we have at any point violated the law or the proprieties.

How it Started

"The present inquiry grew out of a resolution adopted by congress a year ago on motion of Mr. Campbell of Kansas, instructing the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate the Says Roosevelt Is Untruthful "We say flatly that any assertion that the Standard Oil Company has been or is now knowingly engaged in actices which were unlawful, is alike untruthful and unjust.

"The commissioner's report upon which the President's message is based pens with the statement that the manufacture of refined oil in this country is about 26,000,000 barrels annually. It is unimportant, but it would nevertheless be fair for him to have stated that over 15,000,000 barrels of this annual manufacture is exported and with its manufacture or the price the American public is not concerned. "He next calls attention to the fact that the Standard Oil refineries are located at centers of distribution, while the independent refineries are usually in the crude oil fields. This fact, if borne steadily in mind, will answer very many of the criticisms which he later indulges in. He charges that this location of refineries and the natural advantages following it were obtained by means of unfair competitive methods, but beyond this mere assertion, does not go into a history or explanation of these alleged unfair methods at all. He says 'development of the pipe line system of the Standard Oil was the result of an agreement with the railroads.' What he can mean is past our comprehension. As a matter of fact the development of the pipe line system by the Standard Oil Company was in the face of violent hostility on the part of the railroads, which naturally were opposed to the introduction of such means of transportation.

"Mr. Garfield's claim that by the use of low interstate rates the Standard Oil Company had an unfair advantage is very unfortunate. At great expense we constructed pipe lines from the Pennsylvania and Ohio oil fields and from the Kansas and Indian Territory fields. If our competitors did not do the same thing, should it be said that anyone was unfair who does not give them the advantage of this enterprise of ours? "Respecting the use of private cars, of which Mr. Garfield makes much, it is only necessary to make answer in his words. He says that, owing to the relatively slow movement of tank

"It is asserted over and over again in the report that the Standard Oil Company profited by 'secret' and 'unlawful' freight rates, yet in the same connection it is admitted in the report that all of these rates are covered by tariffs filed with the interstate commerce commission precisely as the law provides and therefore cannot be ither 'secret' or 'unlawful.'

"The President's message complains of 'the way in which the law is evaded

Yet this very method of making a through rate by a combination of two separate state rates has been held by the interstate commerce commission to be lawful and "The statement that the Standard Oil Company has by unfair and unlawful

A PICTURESQUE CHARACTER

Jeff Davis, the present governor of Arkansas, who is headed for the United States senate as the successor of Senator Berry, is one of the most picturesque political characters in the country. He will assume the duties of his new position March 4, 1907, after the legislature of his state formally elects him.

In Arkansas, as in Alabama, Virginia, Tennessee and other Southern states, the candidates for senator go directly before the people and the man receiving the highest vote is promptly ratified by the state legislature. And it is a pretty safe rule that is sure to come more greatly into popular favor, as it is tantamount to an election by the people.

Jeff Davis is generally regarded as on the order of the demagogue. He is classed with Governor Vardaman, of Mississippi and Ben Tillman, of South Carolina. Davis is thoroughly democratic in speech, manner and action, is surcharged with personal magnetism, makes the people think he is eternally persecuted for their sake, and stands between them and all form of oppression. As a sample of the Davis style, the following shows how he plays to passion and prejudice:

In discussing a legislative hearing on an anti-trust bill he dramatically inquired of his audience what witnesses had been summoned. Not the farmer, laborer, mechanic, merchant, nor "the class of citizens who bare their breasts and their arms and their backs to the heat and burdens of the day," he rapidly ran along. "No," he continued, "they sent for a high-collared crowd-that crowd that wear collars so high that they can't see the sun except at high noon looking over the tops of their collars; the crowd that you can't tell from their tracks whether they are going north or coming

> Out among the masses of the people Davis always has a pleasant word for everybody, shaking hands right and left, slapping them on the back and proving himself the best mixer in the entire state. As all men of such pronounced views do, he has acquired a long list of determined political enemies, but in his recent fight before the people he was able to unhorse the entire delegation and defeat one of the most able and scholarly men in the state. It is freely predicted that he will attract much attention when he assumes the duties of his new position, for the Davis light is never content to shine in the background.

REJUVENATING THE DEMOCRACY

There is a forward movement among Democrats all along the line in front of the enemy, and elections are going to be hotly contested this year in every state in the union. The general impression among the men who are standing at the head of the party is that the Republicans are losing strength daily and if the proper effort is made the next congress can be made overwhelmingly Democratic and state government snatched from the Republicans, who are already becoming somewhat demoralized over Democratic prospects. Even in Bleeding Kansas, which has long been considered hopelessly Republican, the Democrats consider they have a fighting chance and are going to give the Republicans a hard run for the office. Ex-Senator W. A. Harris has been nominated for governor and a strong ticket completed. The Kansas Democratic platform

We are in favor of the old-fashioned doctrine as enunciated by Samuel J. Tilden and re-enunciated by Grover Cleveland of a tariff for revenue only. The time is past when we should protect trusts and capitalistic combinations. Protection, as declared by the republican party, is now used as an aid to the rich to become richer and for the poor to become poorer. We are for free raw material, and we are willing to give the laborer of the east free hides in competition with our hides, because the beef trust robs us even of the hair, and then sells the balance to the eastern manufacturer at a higher and fixed price, so that the poor are shoeless.

These declarations and the attitude of the Democracy mean that they intend to fight, first to capture the state government of Kansas. Next to capture the United States senatorship, now held by the indicted and discredited Joseph R. Burton. Alse that under the in hand.

cry of tariff revision they intend to make a dent in the solid Republican congressional delegation now doing buiness from that state. For years Kansas has been in the grip of about as corrupt a Republican combination as there is in the entire country, and it is believed the people are ripe for revolt.

All over the country there are evidences of a great unrest among the people. This unrest and the determination of the people was exhibited to a considerable extent in the last election, when Ohio elected a Democratic governor, and the Republican city and state of Pennsylvania voted for Democracy and good govern-

There is much in the situation as developing weil calculated to bring hope to the Democratic heart, and if the leaders make no mistake but stick to true Democratic principles, the various state elections this year will but overshadow the tremendous upheaval that is almost sure to come two years later.

HOBSON BREAKS INTO CONGRESS

Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, who won fame for himself in the Spanish-American war by his heroic attempt to blockade the harbor of Santiago by sinking the Merrimac in the narrow channel ,and again by the diligent exercise of his kisser, has finally managed to break into congress, which seems to have been the goal of his ambition. When his ears were ringing with the plaudits of the people of the entire nation for his heroism, Hobson seems to have seriously considered the matter of turning these plaudits to practical account. After careful consideration of the situation has developed a bad case of injured optics and resigned from the navy. And while his eyes were too badly injured to remain in the nautical service, they were strong enough to fasten a look of much covetousness upon the seat warmed in congress by Congressman Bankhead. He entered the list as a candidate two years ago and was defeated, but did not accept that defeat as a finality. This year he again became a candidate and, after a hot contest, has managed to secure the nomination.

Colonel John H. Bankhead, whom Hobson has defeated, was a seasoned campaigner, having held office in Alabama continuously since 1865. He is above the average as a congressman and was a man of influence among his colleagues, but is credited with being quite friendly to corporations, and this fact was used against him by Hobson with telling effect.

Hobson gathered together all the elements opposed to Bankhead and he went upon the stump, speaking at every cress roads, Bankhead speaking from the same platform. Hobson favored lower freight rates for the farmers, opposed rebates and declared for everything that would bring a vote. Bankhead referred to his cpponent contemptuously as a rattle-headed boy, who left the navy fearing he might get shot. The speeches of the two men were very bitter, and it was a campaign with whiskers on it from start to finish. Hobson again called his osculator into requisition and kissed all the babies in the congressional district, making himself at home with the people. He has won in the primaries and will represent the district in the next congress.

Hobson is one hero who has worked the hero racket successfully, but it required two almost superhuman efforts to do it. He is an untried quantity in congress and what he will do remains to be developed, but it is believed he will make his people a faithful and conscientious representative.

Sydney Brooks, the English author, has been studying the President and tells about it in Harper's Weekly. He says: "I am told that in a recent message of his there appeared a paragraph informing congress that a special message would be addressed to it urging the necessity of traiff revision. The standpatters got wind of it, sailed down upon the President in full force, and in the end the message, as read to congress and printed in the papers, appeared without the paragraph in question. 'Now, how,' I was asked yesterday, 'can you call a man who does things like this, who has thought out and deliberately adopted and put his hand to a definite line on one of the greatest questions of the day, and when then, under pressure, abandons that line at a moment's notice—how can you call him a man of strong convictions and fixed principles?" He then goes on: "He is greatly helped in his progress of surrender and concession, if I may believe even half of what I hear, by the generous gaps that exist in his knowledge of technical economics."

It will probably be after the middle of the month before the policy of the state will be made fully manifest in regard to the big penalty suits now pending against Fort Worth institutions. There are hints of a compromise, but the matter cannot be developed until the cases are called for trial. The attorney general has virtually agreed to compromise under certain conditions, but whether or not those conditions will be complied with is as yet a matter of uncertainty.

The cattle interests in West Texas have suffered very little during the past winter through disease or famine. Stockmen generally have emerged in good shape and everything bids fair for smooth sailing .-Abilene News.

RAILROAD RUMBLING

Officials of the Rock Island and Frisco visited Fort Worth Friday afternoon and left the people of the railroad center no wiser as to the plans of the company than before the trim The visit was said to be one merely for the purpose of taking a periodical look over the lines and crop conditions. COURT TO TEST VETO POWER?

Legal Action Considered in Market House Loan Matter

ACTION EXPECTED

Mayor's Veto Indicates Refusal to Carry Out Instructions of Aldermen

Legal steps will be taken to force Mayor Harris to carry out his official duties as seen by members of the city council. The mayor's action in vetoing the resolution regarding purchase of the market house site, which called upon him to carry out the provisions of previous action by the council, authorizing the procurement of the loan and erection of the market house is taken as a plain refusal to carry out the direction of the council, and application will at once be made to the city attorney for an opinion as to the ability to remedy the situation by mandamus.

B. L. Waggoman, chairman of the special market house committee, when seen regarding the matter Saturday, declared that the veto was a foregone conclusion and excited no surprise among-the aldermen. The action was merely awaited according to his statement to take further steps in the matter. Mr. Waggoman appeared to consider the matter as one of small importance and declined to make a statement pending an investigation of legal steps possible to carry out the will of the city council as expressed in its ordinance.

As the matter has progressed the feeling has become more general that the market house and auditorium projects go hand in hand, and that the only chance for Fort Worth to secure the auditorium is linked with the market house. This opinion is held by a number of the city aldermen and declaration is made that Mayor Harris will not be permitted to stand in the way of the project.

Mayor Harris' veto is as follows: "To the City Council of Fort Worth: hereby return without my approval a resolution introduced and passed by you at the meeting of the city council May 1, 1906, reading as follows:

"Resolved. That the mayor and city secretary be instructed to carry out the provisions of ordinance No. 956 and borrow money from the State National Bank or some other person for purchasing land and erecting a market nouse, the sum of $... "The ordinance referred to, among other things, recites a resolution previously thereto adopted, as follows: "Whereas, The Fort Worth Market House Company has donated to the city property of the value of $20,006 for market house purposes in consideration of the city's purchasing an equal amount of property adjacent to said donation and erecting thereon a market house: and

"Whereas, The city has not the funds with which to purchase said property and erect the market house; therefore, be it "Resolved, That we borrow on open account of the State National Bank of Fort Worth the sum of $35,000 at 6 per eent per annum, payable on or before ten years from date, for said purpose. "The council then proceeded to enact an ordinance, as follows:

"'Section 1. That the mayor and city secretary be and hereby are authorized to borrow from the State National Bank of Fort Worth, Texas, or such person as will loan such money, on behalf of the city, the sum of $35,-000 upon open account, said account to be payable on or before ten years from the making of the loan and to bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable annually, in order to borow for said city said sum.'

"I am informed the $20,000 worth of roperty proposed to be donated is 100x125 feet, west of Weatherford. north of Belknap and south of Bluff streets, being near the northwest corner of the court house square, and that the $20,000 worth of property adjoinng consists of the lots 36x100, 36x100, 781/2 x125 and 75x125, lying to the west of the 100x125 feet donated.

"I do not approve of the resolution passed by you May 1, 1906, for the following among other reasons: "First-It is my judgment that the city of Fort Worth is not in special need of any such market house as could or would be established at this time at that place. I do not think it would be patronized to any great extent, but in this I may be mistaken. Certainly vegetable men would protest if required to sell there and nowhere

"Second-The city has not the funds, as recited in the ordinance, with which to purchase the additional $20,000 worth of land, nor with which to erect a building. If the proposed $35,000 could be borrowed in such an unusual manner as 'upon open account' from a national bank or elsewhere, and $20,-000 of the same were used to purchase the additional land, that would leave only $15,000 for the building, which would probably be but a small beginning toward the final cost of building. "Third-The overdraft now existing and the much larger overdraft which is soon to confront us (of which you are all aware) together with our other indebtedness, bonded and otherwise, make it exceedingly unwise to tax the city's credit for the market house undertaking in the way proposed.

provements badly needed which are of more importance to the well being and growth of the city and which would affect beneficially a much larger proportion of our citizenship than would a market house. The Seventh ward needs a fire station and several of the wards need new school buildings much more than any part of the city needs a market house. There are, however, some good men who seem to earnestly believe that a market house would be such a revenue producer to the city from rental of stalls and booths, etc., that the city ought to seek first the market house and its income and that all these other things would be added to it would visit it and some who would ness with which delivery wagons cover the city and the convenience of the telephone have done much in lessening the need of a market house and certainly much to lessen the personal visit of the people to a market for their supplies. The people in the near vicinity to it would visit and some who could conveniently drive by, but the great mass of the people would still order their vegetables through their groceryman. Whether, if we had the house already, the income from the rent of booths, etc., and the charges that would be gotten from those who sold or stored their goods there would exceed the expense of the inspector, the guard and the other force necessary to keep the place in order, I do not know. I doubt it. If it is true that there would be a fine revenue from a market house as some believe, I am sorry I cannot see it. If it is not true I am sorry these

"Fourth-There are other public im-

"I wish to suggest that our city charter not only provides that the city may establish or erect or cause to be established markets and market houses, but says the city shall have power 'to designate, control and regulate market places and privileges.' Now, as the Fort Worth Market Company, which is offering to donate the 100x125 feet, has its own charter and is controlled by good business men and its stockholders are men of means, it occurs to me the company might go into the matter as a business venture, retain its 100x125 feet of land and call on the city to designate its place of business as a market house and give such control, regulation and privileges to it as the city council might be able and thus give the public the blessings of a market house-the market company the profits, and the city the relief and freedom from this continual urging upon it to enter upon this undertaking for which the city is in no manner prepared. It seems to me this would be a happy solution of the matter and a reasonable one from the standpoint of those who think it would pay and who have secured a charter ostensibly for the purpose of doing such business.

gentlemen do so believe it.

"There are legal questions which in my judgment would present difficulties in the way of the city at this time going into this enterprise, which, however, are not necessary nor expedient for me to now discuss. Respectfully. "W. D. HARRIS, Mayor."

Reading Advances Almost 6 Points. Market Very Active-Short Covering Prominent Feature

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, May 5 .- The gradually increasing sentiment in favor of higher prices for stocks, connected with the fear of more favorable developments over the holiday and a rumor that there would be no strike in the anthracite coal regions more than overbalanced the one bearish feature of the day's news in the shape of a rather unfavorable bank statement, and caused an increasing desire among shorts to even up their transactions, resulting in a very active week-end session, with short covering a feature and substantial additions to the gains noted yesterday the general rule. In almost all instances opening figures were above the level of yesterday's closing and barring a slight reaction during the initial trading the trend of prices was upward throughout, the close being strong, with prices practically at the best, showing substantial gains, the most conspicuous of which was in Reading, which closed at the high point, 5% above final figures of the previous session. Tennessee Coal and Iron showed a gain of 414 points and Union Pacific closed a point higher, while substantial fractional gains were numerous. Sales for the first hour, 406,500 shares; total, 748,200 shares.

practically over and now balanced by gains from the interior. Over-sold condition of the market expected to cause further covering of Yesterday there was an interchange of opinions and beliefs between some of the leading bankers and capitalists of Wall street. Nothing formal, but rather a grouping of ideas in a casual sort of way, and the upshot was a general argument on several propositions, viz: That the worst of the urgent liquidation has been seen; that there is no longer any danger, barring accidents, of any one of the big people being caught in difficulties; that more money generally than is needed there has been sent to San Francisco, a large part of which will return as soon as the panicky desire on the part of the San Francisco banks to strengthen themselves has subsided; that the losses, which fall upon the foreign insurance companies, will be financed on the other side rather than by the sale of American securities, and that the new conditions, arising from the inflow of foreign gold and the enormous liquidation brought about by the San Francisco disaster, will make the money market easier, and make the duration of that ease longer than could have been hoped for a few weeks ago. There is no let up in general business, the crop outlook is good, and there is nowhere in sight any evidence of abating of prosperity.

These opinions are shared in by the long interests in the street. They do not mean that these people are now bullish and will resume operations for the advance. It means rather that they believe the turn has come and are able, therefore, to take a much more cheerful view of things. There has been about all the liquidation, they believe, which conditions require.

Bullish Statistics Cause Strong Foreign Market-Response on This Side Not What Expected

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, May 5.-More bullish weekly statistics than expected intimidated shorts on the other side of the water, causing them to cover, resulting in a firm Liverpool market and an unexpected sharp advance in prices. Although the local market exhibited a good undertone throughout and was rather active for a week-end session, the volume of business being probably the best of the week, while a slight increase in the outside business was apparent and encouraged the trade. On the whole, the action of the market was somewhat disappointing inasmuch as it was generally expected that shorts would cover extensively rather than hold over the holiday in the face of existing conditions, and their failure to do this caused a good deal of selling by the smaller longs, for the purpose of evening up commitments. However, shorts did cover on a small scale and the prediction by the bull leader of a sensational advance in the near future attracted some buying, which in connection with the covering, offset the liquidation, causing the market to present a steady aspect at all Weather reports indicated generally favorable conditions for the new crop, nevertheless distant options were in fair demand, and the price improvement for same kept pace with that of the old crop months.

On the first call prices were 6 points higher for July and 4 to 5 points up for distant options. In the initial trading liquidation caused a recession of 2 points, after which time fluctuations were narrow but generally upward the high point being reached in the final trading, with July selling at a net gain of 8 points and distant options 7 to 8 points above yesterday's closing level.

The close was very steady with prices practically at the best. Spots were quiet at unchanged prices on a basis of 11.80c for middling. Sales, 1,460 bales.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5 .- The talent as a rule was surprised over the week-end cotton statistics, which were, contrary to expectations, generally bullish. The Englishmen recognized this fact and those who were short took occasion to even up their commitments without loss of time. Liverpool prices responded readily to the buying and advices sent over from that market were very satisfactory to the local bull crowd.

The local market in turn opened firm and although trading was only moderate the undertone was healthy throughout. Attention has again been diverted to the old crop months, and shorts were not at all eager to sell either these options or later ones, although it must be confessed the present outlook is favorable for the progress of the new crop. Further predictions of a sensational rise encouraged buyers and checked the inspiration among would-be bears to lend active support to their theory. Prices on the first call were 4 to 6 points higher and with no reaction in the July option, and scarcely any in new crop months, they worked upward gradually, touching a net gain of 10 points for July in the final trading.

Wheat Market Quiet but Firm-Corn and Oats Sympathize and Prices Advance

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, May 5 .- Trade in wheat was light, but the market held firm, influenced by the strength in the May. Shorts in the current delivery were quite anxious and advanced the price 1%c. There was little in the news to affect trade one way or the other, and influences were, as mentioned, chiefly of a local pit character. Liverpool closed unchanged. Local receipts were 4 cars with 9 expected Monday. Northwestern cars were 194 as against 98 last year. Total primary movement 318,000 bushels or double a year ago.

Trade was moderate on strength in wheat, moderate receipts with light estimates for Monday and light offerings contributed to the firmness in the May. Shorts covered July in a small way. Conditions surrounding the planting of the crop continue entirely satisfactory. Liverpool closed from 1/8 c off to %c off, affected by the light clearances from this country the past week. Receipts were 153 cars with 141 expected Monday. Total primary movement 495,000 against 126,000 bushels last season. Clearances were 305,000 bushels.

Oats July oats were quite firm on covering and on a little buying induced by the prediction of frost tonight; otherwise there was little in the news or in the trade to attract attention. Local arrivals were 131 cars with 170 expected for Monday. Clearances 310,000

Provisions Packing interests again absorbed most of the offerings in provisions, the selling being of a miscellaneous character. Part of the large selling was credited to local bears. The closing was firm.

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 5 .-The New Orleans cotton market was fairly active for a Saturday and its undertone was good on what was called by those bullishly inclined a very hullish visible supply statement. There is no dodging the fact that on the surface and when comparisons were not carried back too far, the statement was bullish. The variations showed a pleasing decrease to those who do not care to look at the figures expressing the actual amount of cotton in the visible supply. Spinners' takings of 232,000 bales for the week were larger than were generally expected and were called bullish, although they compared with takings of 248,000 bales this week last year. Liverpool really got cuite hysterical over the statement and closed 5 to 6 points higher when an advance of 2 points would have met the general expectation. There is plenty of cotton in the world, as the risible supply statement itself points cut. The total visible is 4,241,729 vs. 4.077,824 last year and 2,879,927 in 1904. There are afloat for Europe 295,000 bales of American cotton, against 385,-000 last year, 222,000 in 1904 and 200,000 in 1903. There are plenty of features in the statement issued last night of similar character, which the bulls call Vivion Commission Company

FORT WORTH, May 5.-Cotton prices show further improvement today. Although bulls were accused of taking advantage of the strong market to liquidate a little May, July and the rest of the list were firm from opening to close of the session. The session closed with futures very steady, 2 to 8 points higher, May being up only 2 points while other months were from 6 to 8 points up. In New Orleans the close was 4 to 11 points higher.

The bulls are said to be preparing to make it hot for the shorts in July, and having made a reasonable success of their May venture are likely to be in better position to squeeze July. Improvement in stocks and the passing of the coal strike danger will help the bull position. It will not be surprising if prices move considerably higher during the next few days. The attitude of the bull leaders will determine it.

REASON FOR HEARING Railroad Commission Explains Thee-Cent Order

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, May 5.-It is announced today by the railroad commission that the action of the Houston and Texas Central railway in refusing to redeem first class passenger fare tickets is what caused the commission to issue notice of a hearing to consider the proposition to compel not only that line but all others to redeem these tickets whenever presented. One commissioner said that considerable complaint had been received from people at the action of the Houston and Texas Central in refusing to redeem these tickets. French farmers are glad to get $1.93 for 100 liters (about twenty-six gallons) of common red wine.

PIGEON FANCIERS NOW ORGANIZED

P. W. Hunt of This City First Vice President

The breeders of fancy pigeons in this state have recently organized under the name of The Texas Pigeon Club. The objects of the association are the development and improvement of the fancy pigeon industry in the state, as regards both ornamental and utility birds. The various fair and poultry associations will be asked to co-operate by revising and increasing the premium lists, affording better facilities for the cooping and showing, also better care and feeding. Those of the fair officials who have already been approached on the subject promise their hearty co-operation. Temporary organization has already been effected with J. J. Weiss of Houston, president: P. W. Hunt of Fort Worth, first vice president; John B. Vinck, San Antonio, second vice president; Coleman Young, San Marcos, secretary and treasurer: Mrs. Armour D. Slaughter of Houston, Wm. Selkirk of Galveston and L. M. Samuels of Houston, advisory committee.

The club will probably meet at the Dallas fair next fall for permanent organization. It is the determination of the members to have a large and excellent exhibit at the fall fairs and also at the Southwestern Poultry Show. Several valuable specials will be offered in addition to the regular premiums. Mr. Coleman Young, the secretarytreasurer of the club, won first on white fantails at the International Pigeon Show, held in Toronto, Canada, last fall, and the same bird won first honors in his class at both Dallas and San Antonio fairs. All parties who are interested in fancy pigeons are invited to join the

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition. your nerve force is weak-the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the ·lifε-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nervine will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system. "Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles Nervine, and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."

DR. CAUSES COMMENT

North Fort Worth Physician Talks of Sanitary Condition

A dispatch from Austin stating that during the meeting of county and city health officers in Austin Wednesday afternoon, Dr. C. M. Galloway, health officer of North Fort Worth, had declared a yellow fever epidemic would be a good thing for that city, intimating that the effect would be a needed enforcement of sanitary regulations, has caused considerable comment in North Fort Worth. Mayor Davis said: "We are a young and growing city and our career so far has been most prosperous. Our people are happy and we invite strangers to come among us, assuring them that the sanitary conditions of North Fort Worth are not excelled by any city our size in the country, and that our efforts are unceasing in bringing it up to the highest standard."

Dr. Galloway, who has returned from Austin, says that in several particulars ne was misunderstood or misquoted in the dispatch. The statement regarding an epidemic of yellow fever being good for North Fort Worth was, he says, not made by him, but by another physician present at the convention and that the latter was speaking only in a jocular mood.

A statement regarding methods of compelling Fort Worth packers to enforce sanitary regulations, was, said Dr. Galloway, credited to him as a declaration, when he presented it in the form of a question to Dr. Tabor. A statement regarding inability to get co-operation from the council was, he says, in reference to former members of the North Fort Worth council and understood as such by delegates at the convention, and had no reference to the present municipal administration.

BARGAINS IN MEDICINE.

A woman once wrote us that she was not going to buy Scott's Emulsion any more because it cost too much. Said she could get some other emulsion for less money. Penny wise and pound foolish. Scott's Emulsion costs more because it is worth more-costs more to make. We could make Scott's Emulsion cost less by using less oil. Could take less care in making it, too. If we did, however, Scott's Emulsion wouldn't be the standard preparation of cod liver oil as it is to-day.

MUSEMENTS

The Majestic theater closes the sea son with tonight's performance. In addition to the very strong bill now running, through the generosity of Manager Fischer there will be a 'premier" at the Majestic tonight, hen Ashley Miller's miniature farce omedy with musical interruptions will have its first presentation on any stage. The little piece has three charicters, two of which are played by Miss Browning, the "Maggie" in Caught! One is a young society girl of romantic tendency and the other her small sister, "une enfant terrible!" The author appears as the lover of the first, very much harassed by the second, and the fact that he is a singer and that the child is "talented" accounts for the musical numbers. The little play, which is entitled "Foiled," should prove a very distinct contrast to "Caught!" which comes earlier in the bill. "Gay Happy Hollow," the beautiful peratic farge comedy, will hold the boards Saturday matinee and night, May 12. The company will consist of fifty colored artists, including a number of very clever specialties. The entire lower floor will be reserved for the white patrons and the balcony for the colored patrons. From every indication the house will be sold out, as the sale of tickets has already made a good start. The costuming and stage setting will be made to greatly beautify the production which is under the personal supervision of Tom Moore. During the performance the following musical numbers will be rendered: Wonder if You Miss Me," "I'll Be Waiting in the Gloaming." "Sweet Gene-vieve," "Captivating Sue," "Is Everyody Happy?" "Suwanee River," "Old Kentucky Home" and "Chicken Every acted as a committee of the whole.

BELL WILL WIN IN SOUTHWEST

J. F. Onion, Campbell Supporter, Makes Admission

"C. K. Bell of Fort Worth will carry Southwest Texas for governor," said Hon. John F. Onion, member of the legislature from San Antonio, to a Telegram reporter Friday afternoon. Mr. Onion is not a Bell man himself, saying that his choice for governor is Tom Campbell of Palestine. "My preference, however," he said, 'does not blind me to the conditions as they are in my section of the state. Mr. Campbell has a strong following there, but Mr. Bell is undoubtedly the choice of the democrats of Southwest Texas. In Bexar county, my home, Mr. Campbell is very strong, but even there Mr. Bell is in the lead; and outside of Bexar county, the Fort Worth man is clearly the choice. Both Mr. Colquitt and Mr. Brooks have some strength in that part of the state, but Bell and

Campbell are the strongest candidates. STREET WORK RUSHED

Annual Decoration of Confederate Tombs

ADDRESS BY R. M. WYNNE

Daughters of Confederacy and Surviving Veterans Pay Annual Tribute to Former Soldiers

The graves of eighty-two Confederate soldiers buried in Fort Worth cemeteries were decorated Saturday by the Daughters of the Confederacy and R. E. Lee Camp, No. 158, United Confederate Veterans. The decoration exercises were simple and pathetic. There was no set program, but those who took part in this tribute to the gallant dead made them interesting by the undying loyalty evidenced by the living to the cause that was lost, and to those who gave up their lives in

The gathering at the headquarters of R. E. Lee Camp, from which the flowers were taken and placed by loving hands on the graves of the dead was a typical one. It was a coming together of memories of over forty years ago. The grizzled soldiers whose grave may be decorated next year and the white-haired southern matron and the bright-eyed southern girl met, all eager to do honor to the heroes of the southland who have crossed over the river to answer at the last roll

The meeting at the camp headquarters was not so large as that a year ago. Some who met there twelve months back and assisted in decorating the graves of dead comrades, Saturday were remembered by the depleted ranks of the old guard that year by year is growing smaller, while the ranks of those in the silent city grow larger.

The contribution of flowers was liberal, four long tables in the camp headquarters being required to hold them, banked high. Roses predominated in the collection, but the variety was large, and when all contributions had been received their fragrance filled the entire basement of the court The committee from the Daughters of the Confederacy, under whose auspices in connection with the veterans the decoration exercises were conduct. ed, was composed of Mesdames W. P

Address by Colonel Wynne

Commander E. W. Taylor called the gathering to order and announced that Colonel R. M. Wynne had consented to deliver a short address. Colonel Wynne spoke briefly, butfeelingly, and no speak. er commanded closer attention than he did when he referred to the heroic dead and the duty of the living to their

The decoration of the graves of the dead soldiers, he said, was the duty of the living, but it should be borne in mind that one flower placed in the hands of the living was worth more and gave more real pleasure than the nillions placed on the graves of the dead. He said the living owed to the living as well as to those who had gone and he took advantage of the present opportunity to urge that there be cultivated a better feeling among the remnant of the army that is rapidly vanishing to another world. Bitterness toward each other should be cast out of the heart, for the man or woman who forgave the most lived the most happy lives, he declared. The speaker paid no lengthy tribute to the dead, declaring they needed none. Following the remarks of Colonel Wynne the entire audience joined in singing "'Til We Meet Again," and then the flowers were taken by volunteers, women and old soldiers, in carriages and buggies to the two cemeteries and placed on the graves of the following: J.
