FEAR OF FLOOD IN CALIFORNIA

andslide Dams Creek in the Capay Valley

STREAM IS CLOSED

pepth of 100 Feet Is Reached and Now Dangerous to Dynamite Mass of Earth

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 7 .-- A disatch from Woodland to the Sacramento Union says:

The threat of flood in the Capay valley resulting from the slide of earth that has fallen from the mountain side and dammed the waters of Cache creek is growing increasingly serious. It may be assumed that the slide in question was in some way the result of the earthquake and it is now found to be 1.000 feet wide and to completely close the water course. Ever since the occurrence the waters have been steadily piling up behind it and it was found neasurements taken yesterday that a depth of 100 feet had been reached. Too Late for Dynamite

If taken at an earlier stage the dam might have been blown up with dynamite and the waters released without damage to any locality, but it is now too late to do this, as it would but precipitate the flood that is feared. dam is of soft earth and debris and there is some hope that it may absorb the water or cut out gradually and the water pass on in a harmless quantities. Should it give way to the pressure the results would be very ous and a large area of country would be flooded.

Towns in Danger The towns in immediate danger are Capay, with a population something in Ramsey, with a population of 200, and Guinda, with a population of 350, all in Capay valley. The inhabitants of these towns are so far impressed th the possible danger that confronts them that they have abandoned their houses and removed their belongings even to the hills, where they are camping with their families. The railway company is taking precautions for the protection of its line and for the rompt repair of any damages that may be caused and watchers have been placed upon all of the Yolo bridges to keep them clear of brush and trees if a break occurs.

Special to The Telegram,

WASHINGTON, May 7 .- President Roosevelt Sunday reiterated his views on railroad rate legislation in a telegram sent to the legislative committee of the Pennsylvania grange. The telegram follows:

Washington, May 6, 1906.-W. F. Hill and Members of the Legislative Committee, Pennsylvania State Grange: Telegram received. I am happy to tell you that not only am I standing on my original proposition as regards rate legislation, but it seems likely that congress will take this position too. The Hepburn bill meets my views as I have from the beginning stated. The Allison amendment is only declaratory of what the Hepburn bill must mean, supposing it to be constitutional, and no genuine friend of the bill can object to it without stultifying himself. In addition I should be glad to get certain amendments, such as those commonly known as the Long and Overman amendments, added, but they are not vital and even without them. the bill with the Allison amendment, contains practically what I have both originally and always asked for and if enacted into law, it will represent the longest step yet taken in the direction of solving the railroad rate problem.

A SPECIES OF GRAFT

Duties of Trustee Otulined by R. B. Cousins at Meeting of District Members Monday

That the school trustees of Tarrant county are taking increased interest in the education of the children of the county was evidenced at the meeting of school trustees of the county, held at the court house Monday. It was intended to hold the meeting in the office of School Superintendent Ramsey, but the attendance was so large that the meeting was adjourned to the headquarters of R. E. Lee camp, U. C. V., which was filled to its seating capacity by school trustees of the county and teachers.

The meeting Monday morning was full of interest to anyone who feels any interest in educational matters, a feature of especial interest being an address delivered by R. B. Cousins, state superintendent of public instruc-tion. This address consumed nearly all the morning session and commanded the closest attention from the 150 school trustees present.

The meeting was called 'to order by County Superintendent Ramsey, who explained that the meeting had been called to discuss methods for bettering the rural public schools of the county and to take such action to secure that end as should be deemed best. He in-troduced to the trustees and teachers Hon. R. B. Cousins, state superintendent of public instruction, who spoke on the public school system of Texas, his address being concluded at noon. In part he said:

R. B. Cousins, state superintendent before a meeting of the district school trustees of Tarrant county Monday norning scored nepotism in schools in the following address:

"It is safe to say that the state, cities and communities have no more mportant enterprises than the public free schools. They affect the life of individuals of the state as no other cular enterprise does. Their success means the increase of property values, greater safety and happiness of the home, and the improvement of the people, intellectually and morally. It is the purpose of the state to educate the children who are to rule it. This must be accomplished through cal agencies, and perhaps the most nificant of these is the board of shool trustees. It would not be a difficult task to prove that the office of school trustee is as significant in the welfare and progress of a community as is any office known to the law. The school trustee touches vitally the heart of all civic institutions, the keystone of civilization, viz: the home. Schools grew out of the necessities and the limitations of the home, and the trustee is the trusted agent of the home in accomplishing its greatest desire and ambition to rear the child properly. He is also the trusted agent of the state in the management of its greatest enterprize, and in the exenditure of millions of dollars annually for the improvement of its citizens. Upon the intelligence and fidelity of the school trustee, therefore, depends largely the fulfillment of the me's desire and the state's purpose. Duties of Trustee

"The state provides the modest requirement that trustees shall be able to read and write as the test of eligility, but leaves it to the localities to see that only men of the right kind are made trustees. With proverbial iberality the state gives largely and makes but modest demands of localities in the way of safeguards in exmaintenance of schools, or of compulending the money furnished for the sory self help. "The statutory duties of the trustees are simple, easily understood, and easily performed, in a perfunctory way. They must purchase sites, build and equip school houses and keep them in repair. They must see that the ool is properly supplied with fuel and water and with appliances for work. They employ teachers and cooperating with them, make and enforce proper rules and regulations for the vernment of the schools, subject to the higher authorities.

"The trustees should visit the school se in company with the teacher at the beginning of the school and take notice of the condition of the house and premises and have necessary repairs made so that the children may be comfortable while in school. They ould require the teachers to take care of property and to this end should inspect it at least once a month. They should inspect the premises occasionally to see that they are kept neat and clean and in proper sanitary condition. They should see that the sexes are properly separated as to play grounds and closets, and that the closets are properly cleansed and fumigated. Imortant lessons in hygiene and in good taste can be taught the children by proper care of the premises.

"Trustees are the proper authorities to purchase school supplies. These purchases should be made with care, after consultation with the teacher in charge and with the county superintendent. Only such supplies as are needed and as will be used should be bought. No supplies should be paid until they are delivered, examined and found to be the things ordered. Financial Matters

"Balances to the credit of the school of the district may be carried over to the succeeding year, but districts have no legal right to go into debt on any ount, except by issuing bonds according to law.

"Trustees should have a knowledge the sources from which the state otains school revenues, and should ake an intelligent interest in the county school fund, and should know ce it comes, how it is invested, nd the income that should be derived yearly from that source. With a knowledge of these thins, trustees uld easily become the aggressive force in increasing the efficiency of the schools throughout the state. "If there is one duty of trustees more important than others, that duty relates to the employment of the teacher, because the teacher is the most important wheel in the machine. The trustees are responsible to the district for the quality of the teacher, within reasonable limits, and the teacher determines the quality of the

"After the teacher has been employed, he should be put in charge of the school, supported by the trustees, and held responsible for results. Th purely professional responsibility is his. He can not share it with the trustees.

Good Salaries Urged "The board should make the school as profitable to the teacher as possible. It is economy and wisdom to pay the highest salary that your district can afford. A good teacher is cheap at any price, and a poor one is expensive at any price. There are teachers and teachers on the market. The size of your account on the treasurer's book determines the size of your teacher. Avoid a teacher that says he will teach as cheap as anybody-for fear that he might keep his word. Find a good teacher, support him, pay him, and keep him.

'Remember that you handle a sacred fund and administer an office upon which the life of children depends. It is robbery of the foulest kind to employ a certain teacher because she is needy, or because she is the daughter of a trustee, or some influential man, when there is a better teacher applying. Give your own money to the poor and needy if you wish. That is legitimate and right. But you have no right to give the children's money to those good people. There is but one honorable thing to do. That is to remember that the schools are for the children and should be administered in their interest. To employ teacher from improper motives is the equal of squandering money left to children by

"Nepotism in the administration of schools in some districts and cities has greatly reduced the efficiency of the schools. This means that a teacher is sometimes employed because she is kin to a member of the board, or a member of a certain church or fraction in the community, or because she will board with a certain man. This is graft! Now a teacher may have any or all these 'qualifications' and still be a good teacher, but she should be elected or rejected because of her qualifications as a teacher. Whenever a board loses sight of the fact that the interest of the children is paramount, in the management of schools, it will soon lose its way, and confusion and failure must follow. Be true to the children and you will be true to your trust.

"In addition to this let me say that the school board should lead the educational sentiment of the district. The members should study the needs of the people and the needs of the district. They should be liberal and progressive men. They should teach the people that it pays to have good schools and that good schools require money. The man who is opposed to education, or to public free school education, should never be made a trustee. A stingy man should never be made a trustee any more than a dishonest man. They are both out of place on a board of trustees. You can't build a school without leaders, and leaders must be liberal and aggressive, willing to be misunderstood and abused for the public good. The trustees can create the school sentiment of the district. They can by united effort show the people what sort of a school they need and must have. If the 40,000 trustees of the schools of Texas should decide that all the schools of this state should have good houses, long terms, good teachers, and good superintendents, these things would spring up in Texas like the cotton and the wheat, in one season. If these same trustees should unite in a demand of the legislature to establish good county high schools in reach of the boys and girls of the rural districts, free to them and suited to their needs, the legislature would hasten to establish them. If the trustees of the schools of Texas should know and feel that the schools of Texas are far below what thew should be in point of efficiency, far below the average in the nation, our problems would be solved speedily. "Let us improve the district school throughout Texas until a good education shall be put within reach of every boy and girl in the state who is capable of receiving it, whether his home be in the farmer's humble home, or the mechanic's rented house; in the stockman's camp or in the banker's palace on a fashionable street. I believe that Texas purposes to give every boy a chance for his life, and you are her trusted servants in this glorioue effort." Address by Superintendent Ramsey Following Mr. Cousins, Superintendent Ramsey addressed the trustees, calling their attention to an improved manual he was engaged in getting up for the guidance of trustees and teachers in the country public schools. Superintendent Ramsey said that it was a fact that not one teacher in ten in the country made any monthly report to parents of the progress their children had made during the month. He said the manual he was getting up would provide for this report, and he asked the trustees to help him enforce the rule requiring it. "More school room is needed in some of the districts," he said, "and it is the case in some districts that sixty pupils under one teacher are crowded in one room and only about three minutes allowed for each recitation. No good results can come from this.

"There should also be required of teachers a monthly report of the attendance of children made to parents. There are children in the county today who have not seen the inside of a school room this year. The attendance report will correct this evil."

Superintendent Ramsey called for remarks on his suggestion, and he was unanimously indorsed by a raising of hands by the trustees, each promising to help in the work of reform. At noon the meeting adjourned until

STANDARD OIL SPOKE TOO SOON

Full Text of Garfield Report Yet to Be Made Public

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, May 7.- The Standard Oil Company spoke too soon in its denunciation of the Garfield report. If the trust had waited it would have had considerable more material to arouse it. The report made public Friday barely alluded to the details of the Standard's business. Another section of the report is likely to be issued this week. It is understood that the next installment will reveal practices more stounding in character than the five section did. Various devices of the Standard to crush independent companies will be ventilated. Even in the sections of the report made public. So far many parts of the original report were omitted or turned down. The administration by no means has shown its full hand.

CANNON SAYS HE WILL "BE SPEAKER"

'Bee'' Not Worrying Speaker on Seventieth Birthday

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.-Today is Joe Cannon's 70th birthday. Everybody in public life here is observing the anniversary. Fifteen hundred invitations are out to the reception in his honor at the Arlington tonight. President Roosevelt, Mr. Fairbanks, the cabinet and the supreme court justices will be present. The speaker is a native of Guilford

If his friends have their way he will be the first southerner to occupy the White House since the Civil war. Uncle Joe said: "No man would decline to become President. No man can afford to be a candidate for the place. The bee is not bothering me. I want to do good work as speaker. That's glory enough. If I became a candidate, I would live in constant fear, not as to whether I am doing my duty, but whether, by doing it, I would not be giving offense to somebody. I guess I'll just go along and attend to my own business." The house knew that this was the speaker's birthday, for, when "Uncle Joe" appeared at the doorway nearest the speaker's desk and when he ascended the rostrum, long continued applause followed his steps. The speaker waited and when both hands of the clock stood at 12, with a smile the gavel came down. In the prayer which the chaplain offered the following reference was made to the speaker's natal

"Let this blessing descend upon each member of this house, especially who presides over its deliberations, crowned by the glory of seventy years of usefulness; lengthen his days; keep him in health, strength and vigor for his family, friends and country."

PRESBYTERIANS HAVE NEW BOOK

Volume of Common Worship Authorized Published

OBJECTIONS ARE MANY

Leaders Expect That Many Churches Will Refuse to Use the New

pecial to The Telegram NEW YORK, May 7 .- The Book of Common Worship has just been published with the authority of the Presbyterian general assembly. For three years a special committee on forms and services of the general assembly, headed by the Rev. Dr. Henry Vandyke, has ben working on this new prayer book.

The approval of the general assembly to the innovation was not secured without a struggle, as many Presbyterians objected to any "form" in the church.

It is expected by Presbyterian leaders that some churches will refrain from using the new book, but in the east and in the large cities of the country, it is expected to be largely adopted. In many particulars the Book of Common Worship has points of similarity to the Episcopal Book of Com-

The marriage ceremony in the new book omits the word "obey," to which so many have objected, and it also omits the reference to "worldly goods," with which the man and the woman in some marriage forms "endowed" each

It is noted that although the book was, of course, planned long before the San Francisco calamity, one of the prayers it contains is especially applicable to that disaster, and shows how carefully the book has been planned to meet unusual circumstances. The prayer reads:

"Almighty God, who art a very present help in time of trouble, let not thy part of thy people fail when fear cometh, but do Thou sustain and comfort them until these calamities be overpast; and since Thou knowest the cause and reason why this grievous disaster of earthquake and fire hath fallen upon men, so do Thou heal the hurt and wounded, console the bereaved and afflicted; protect the innocent and helpless and deliver those who are still in peril for Thy great mercy sake. Amen."

DAY OF REST IN SAN FRANCISCO

First Sabbath Since the Earthquake Devoted to Rest

Special to The Telegram. SAN FRANCISCO, May 7-The first accident in connection with dynamitng dangerous walls by the engineers of the army occurred yesterday. Smaller quantities of explosives than were used last week are now being fired, which necessitates two or more charges of dynamite before the desired result is attained. Sunday morning the engineers were working in the downtown districts. Twice had dynamite been exploded under the facade of a tall ruin and a third charge was being inserted when the wall fell, Three soldiers were buried, but a mass of twisted iron partly shielded them and only one was seriously hurt. Sunday was the first day of official rest that the city has had since the beginning of its distress. All of the municipal departments were closed with the exception of the police stations and hospitals, and Franklin Hail, the seat of San Francisco's government was destroyed. The police have had little excitement to gain their attention. The same conditions prevailed upon the streets as in churches.

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, May 7 .- All of Barnard College, from the faculty down to the freshmen, were wrought up today over the reception of Professor John Dewey of Columbia to a score or more Barnard girls, whose guest of honor was Mme. Andrevia, the pretty blonde actress who travels with Maxim Gorky. That there will be an investigation by the faculty of Columbia and Barnard is expected as a matter of course. This is likely to be more on the muck-rake than the whitewash order, judging by the comments in the college today. The reception of 'the actress, who, with her revolutionary companion has been barred from New York hotels and cut by society women, was held in Professor Dewey's rooms in the Columbia court apartments. Every effort was made to keep the affair from the public, and today Professor Dewey was in no pleasant frame of mind. To a reporter he said: "I will say nothing-absolutely noththis is not true. The truth is the war department was well pleased with the prompt and vigorous action of Funston and his efficient work. He was not succeeded by General Greeley. The fact is that General Greeley

rived in San Francisco he naturally, according to army law, took the chief command. General Greeley, who is the commander of the Pacific coast division, at the

There was no question of succeeding. Funston is still

Army officers suffer from the same petty jealousies too much honor and credit to be suffered to remain in

"Yes; I don't mean implicate her in the actual crime, but you shall judge, and he told me the story substantially as I have set it down in the first chapters of this history. "What were your points?" he asked

"The first," I said, looking at him, "will, I fear, help to tip the scale against Miss Croydon. She came here the morning after the inquest and tried to rent this apartment. He stared at me, astounded, while I repeated the story Higgins had told "I be it pazzies you," I said, enjoying his perplexity. "Well, let's pass over it for a moment. What's the second point?" "Did Thompson have any jewelry on him?" I asked.

"Jewelry? Not a bit. He was practically in rags." "Where was his body lying?" "Right here," and he indicated the spot with his foot. "And right there," I said, "two days later, I found this pressed into the carpet," and I opened the little paper packet from my pocketbook. "A diamond, by all that's wonder-

"Tell me what it came out of," I said. "One of a group, I should say; or perhaps a border around a large central stone."

"Precisely," I nodded. "And last night I happened to notice that Mrs. Tremaine wore a pin with just such an arrangement of stones. One of the small diamonds in the border was missing." "That's a mighty pretty bit of evidence," Godfrey said at last; "though, by itself, it isn't worth a cent." "And there isn't any other?" "Just one little bit. You say Tremaine comes from Martinique. Well, among Thompson's clothes I found a peculiar nut, called a snake nut, which grows only in the West Indies. When you add to this that Thompson's clothing was all such as is worn in the tropics, the presumption is pretty strong that he lived for a while somewhere in Tremaine's neighborhood." I nodded; then my face fell. "After all," I pointed out, "all that amounts to nothing. Both Tremaine and his wife can prove an alibi. They weren't in the building when the crime was committed. You yourself saw them coming back." "Yes-but it's a significant fact that no one saw them go out. However, I don't suspect them," said Godfrey, smiling. "I'm simply seeking the

BUT ONE JOB FOR ELECTION JUDGES

Officials Cannot Serve for Two Parties at Primaries

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, May 7.-Judge Claude Pollard, office assistant attorney general, has handed down an interesting opinion construing a part of the Terrell election law. The opinion was in answer to an inquiry from E. J. Vesoy, secretary of the prohibition committee of Waco. The question arose as to the holding of a prohibition primary with democratic judges, and at the same place as the democratic primaries. This had been announced would be done, but its legality under the Terrell election law was questioned and the matter submitted to the attorney general's department. Judge Pollard held that this could not be done. His letter on the subject to Secretary Vesey is as follows: "Dear Sir: We are in receipt of yours of the 20th and in reply thereto you are advised that the prohibition party of this state, as such, can hold a primary election for the nomination of candidates for state, district and county offices, and if an election is held by this party it must be held on regular primary election day; that is, the fourth Saturday in July. It must be a separate and distinct election from that held by the democratic party or any other political party. The polls must be separate and distinct and the polling place of the prohibition party must not be within 100 yards of the polling 1 -ce of the democratic party. The two parties must have different officers to hold the election, different ballots and separate returns made of the election

ALTOONA, Pa., May 7 .- The official report of the collision Friday night between the eastbound Chicago mail train and the westbound Chicago and St. Louis express on the Petersburg cut-off of the Pennsylvania railroad, which caused the death of ten persons and the injury of many others, lays the blame on Engineer J. T. Dougherty, who was hauling the westbound train. He was given orders to wait at the end of the double track at Car-Lin to permit the eastbound train to pass, but he misunderstood the orders and continued out on the single track. Engineer Dougherty, the report says, did not deny that he had made a mistake when before the officials for examination.

MEMORIAL HELD BY LOCAL EAGLES

Seven Members Have Died During Past Year

The memorial services held Sunday night by the Fort Worth Aerie No. 62, Fraternal Order of Eagles, in their hall in Sixth street, were impressive and appropriate. Special music was furnished for the occasion by a choir. While these exercises were being held, similar services were observed by every Eagle lodge in the United States. R. L. Armstrong, worthy president of the local order, presided at the meeting, which was well attended. In remembrance of the twenty-three members who have died since the organization, May 24, 1900, twenty-three burning candles were placed on the altar, each representing a deceased brother. After darkening the hall, Worthy Secretary E. A. Brookman read the names of each member who had died, and as the roll was called

Rev. Limbaugh Says Church Without Final Statement

'What Do Unitarians Believe?" formed the subject of the discourse by the Rev. D. C. Limbaugh Sunday morning at the Unitarian services held at the Temple on Taylor street. The min-

"Unitarians, first of all, are without a definite written creed to which, as an unchanging finality, its members are required to subscribe. This is the grand distinguishing feature between our church and the orthodox churches. The old churches proceed upon the idea that, in a far-off age and to an obscure people living in a neglected quarter of the world, the Creator revealed himself once and for all, and that such religious wisdom as has come down to us from that people must be accepted as the last word of God to man. This belief Unitarians reject. They insist that God speaks to man in a fuller and richer sense today than he ever spoke before, and

United Confederate Veterans was small, and it was decided to postpone for one week the memorial services that were to have been held Sunday. The meeting was opened with the recitation of the Lord's prayer, following which Comrade J. C. Terrill, chairman of the committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of Jacob Samuels, a member of the camp, made report for the committee, reading the resolution which had been prepared, which was adopted. A committee composed of C. C. Cummings, William Barr and Dan Parker was appointed to report resolutions on the death of W. H. Dixon.

The death of Dr. Newman, a member of the camp, having been reported, the following committee was appointed to prepare and report suitable resolutions: Tom Ball, H. C. Cantrell and J. C. Terrell.

Judge C. C. Cummings, who attended the reunion, related his pleasant experience there, and took occasion to state that he favored an abandonment of the parade feature for the reason that the veterans are not physically able to stand the long march. T. T. Ball also related his experience

$50 A DAY IS PENALTY

Delinquent Texas Corporations Liable * For Large Sum Special to The Telegram, AUSTIN, Texas, May 7 .- The time for the payment of the tax by corporations under the provisions of the Kennedy gross receipts tax law for the present quarter has expired since May 1, and it is learned that there are quite a number of corporations subject to the tax that have so far failed to remit to the state the amount due. The great bulk of the corporations and firms, however, have paid the state the amount due. The law provides a penalty of $50 per day for failure to make report and pay the tax after it is due, so all corporations that have failed to come to the front are laying themselves liable to the penalty of $50 for each day after May 1, but no steps will be taken to enforce these penalties until a reasonable time is given these delinquents to settle the amount due the state. None of the corporations subject to the tax have complained or protested as the amount for this quarter. It is expected that the receipts from this tax for this quarter will exceed $50,000.

Market Was Irregular-Prices Jump Up and Down with Vivacity-Reading Center of Attraction

Special to The Telegram, NEW YORK, May 7.-The stock market was rather nervous and unsettled today. Although the financial horizon is practically cloudless or at any rate presents a much better aspect than for some time past, owing to the elimination of the Standard Oil inquiry and the labor difficulties as market factors, as well as the probability that some of the money which has been sent to the coast recently will soon be returned, speculative equanimity has not been entirely restored and while there is little doubt that the leading interests are optimistic as to the outcome, the average trader is chary of getting in too deep, fearing to follow the advance too far, and owing to the rapid recovery at the end of the week it was quite natural that many who bought in the declining market were anxious to take their profits. As a consequence quite a volume of closing-out orders had accumulated over the holiday and a weak London market for American stocks brought forth a great many more, resulting in a weak opening, with the prominent issues almost a point below the previous closing level. As stated before, the market was not without friends and these offered good support, using Reading, which, owing to the ending of the coal strike, was easily responsive to bullish activity, as the lever to push the general list upward, and effecting a sharp rally before the end of the first hour, Reading going to 1291/2, a gain of 41/2 points from the opening figures. The upward movement occasioned more liquidation and some short selling, under which the market turned weak again before midday.

This is going to make a lig impression on our situation. / The inflow of gold is greater than the outgoing of securities, but the fact that we are placing large amounts of securities on the other side means that we have a better claim to the gold than if it were being imported merely as the result of temporary necessities.

Wheat Prices Show Slight Change for Worse-Corn Also Cheaper-Oats

Special to The Telegrani. CHICAGO, May 7 .- Wheat prices show but sliht change as the result of today's proceedings in the local pit. The May option, however, attracted a good bit of attention and bears succeeded in forcing the price off over 1c during the day. Liverpool reported a strong market with prices higher in response to American advices and the same stocks on hand and our market opened steady with prices unchhanged to 1/3c higher and showed firmness during the early trading. On this movement prices touched a gain of %c for the July op-tin, but heavy world's shipments were an adverse factor and the advance attracted some profit taking as well as selling pressure, which caused a recession of 1% c for the best. Bullish visible figures started a reaction, which, however, did not carry prices back to their former level, the close being steady with prices at a net loss of %c for July and September and %c for May. Local receipts, 8 els, against 10,040,000 last week and 10,944,000 bushels for the correspondin period last year. Visible supply decreased 2,790,000 aainst 2,194,000 for the same period last year. Corn was active and exhibited cars, against 2 cars this day last year.

World's shipments, 10,6672,000 bush-strength during the early trading, but decrease of only 518,000 bushels in the visible supply against a decrease of 1,077,000 for the same period last year was a bearish factor and caused slump, final figures being 1/2 to 1/8 c net lower. oLcal receipts 128 cars against 89 this day last year. World's shipments for the past week were 4.-379,000 bushels against 3,364,000 for the previous week and 3,022,000 for the corresponding time last year.

Oats were dull but steady throughout the session, final figures being unchanged. Local receipts, 185 cars against 82 cars the same day last year. Provisions rallied from the depression of the past few days and under short covering and some good buying the market held firm throughout, closing prices were 8 to 12c higher for pork, 7 to 8c higher for lard and 7 to 7½c higher for ribs.

HELLO! Have you seen George? Have you ever taken into consideration our proposition, and that the MILLETT addition was near the fine public schools and colleges, where you can educate your children to the highest notch, and that you were not casting SEED upon stony ground, when you buy a home in the L. T. Millett addition, which has just been plated into lots 50x140 feet, sixty-foot streets and sixteen-foot alleys, located seven blocks south of Polytechnic College, and north of the great Mason's home, and on a fine graveled street. All streets are being graded in this addition, and you will see it one of the highest elevated additions in or near Fort Worth, Texas. It will pay you to investigate our proposition on these lots and before you purchase look at this addition; and, another thing, you will be surprised when you take a drive down Vaughan street, from the Polytechnic College, straight through this addition, to the Masonic Home. This street once was mud, mud. Today it is a fine graveled drive-

FOR a short time only we will sell these beautiful lots at the following prices: $125 for corners, $100 for inside lots, $5 down and $5 per month. No interest. No taxes to pay. Get out where you can raise your own little CHICKENS, and not be bothered with your neighbor's hens. Come to our office and see as before buying. We will take pleasure at any time to show you this addition. Come and see us and be convinced.
