Trainmen and Condutors Have Outing This Month

COMMITTEE IS AT WORK

Trainmen to Go to Bell Branch May 27, and Conductors to Mineral Wells May 25

May will witness the annual outing of the railroad organizations of this city, arrangements having already been made by the trainmen and con-

The seventh annual excursion and picnic of Evergreen division No. 57, Order of Railway Conductors, will occur at Mineral Wells, Friday, May 25. The conductors have their committee, consisting of George W. Weiler, chairman; J. O. Murphy, Fort Worth and Denver City railway; H. O. Toole, Rock Island and Texas railway; M. L. Cotter, St. Louis Southwestern railway; W. H. Noble, International and Great Northern railiway; M. S. Bogert, Texas and Pacific raiway; A. Ferguson, Frisco railway; P. E. Bock, superintendent Mineral Wells and Northwestern railway, and J. A. Star-

The committee has issued the following statement: On account of the past record of this organization, many inquiries have been made as to their intention for this year. The committee assures those going that the record made will be maintained, and there will be no

disorder, as there will be two experienced conductors in charge of each Mineral Wells will throw her gates wide open, for the conductors have been of material assistance to her in her advancement as a health resort, advertising far and wide her wonderful waters. The season is well under way, and besides the waters, there are many amusements for the entertainment of all that go. Mayor Highsmith and Superintendent P. E. Block have charge of the arrangements at the Mineral Wells end. The conductors are public spirited and always respond to local and other calls. Recently they learned that some fifty of their members had suffered from the San Francisco earthquake and fire. $50 was promptly forwarded to their headquarters at Cedar Rapids where a fund is being acquired for the benefit of these sufferers.

Trainmen's Picnic The annual picnic of Evergreen division, Railway Trainmen and Auxiliary, originally, planned for May 20, has been fixed for May 27, in order that the grounds at Bell Branch, on may be entirely completed by the time the event is held.

Bell Branch, being arranged by the International for one of the great pleasure resorts of the state, has a lake covering sixty acres, besides pleasant groves, fishing and beautiful scenery. Excursion will be run from this city, leaving shortly after 7 o'clock and returning about twelve hours later. The excursion will not be limited to members of the organization, but is open to the general pub-

The Trinity and Brazos Valley is at Official Railway Guide for the present month places the road under the Colorado and Southern system. Formerly the little Texas Leaguer has had a heading of its own. The designation in this way seems to settle the mooted question as to control, the interest of the Rock Island probably being but that acquired in its interest in the Colorado and Southern recently announced by Mr. Yoakum.

All Texas lines, however, seem to be close to the Trinity and Brazos Valley and bear out the opinion that Colone! R. H. Baker knew a good thing when he started the little line out of Mexia. With its entry to Fort Worth and Houston the line promises to be an important factor in Gulf railroad calculations.

President Trumbull Here

Frank Trumbull, president of the colorado and Southern and Fort Worth and Denver, was in Fort Worth Saturday morning, leaving at once for Dallas, accompanied by D. B. ## LAWYERS CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Clay County Attorneys Must Answer in Court

In the civil court of appeals, Second judicial district, the case of W. B. Worsham, appellant, vs. J. C. Dyer, appellee, from Clay county, was on hearing Saturday on a motion for a new hearing. This case involves an award of $30,000 made by the commissioners' court of Clay county to the Merchants and Planters' bank, and because of the language used in the motion for a new trial and remarks following statements, the attorneys in the case for appellants were ordered to appear in court to answer a charge of contempt. Following is the order of the civil court of appeals and the language in the motion for a rehearing that the court objected to: Text of Order

In re R. E. Taylor and H. A. Allen: May 12, 1906. Ordered that R. E. Taylor of Hemphill county and H. A. Allen of Clay county be each cited to appear before this court at the court house of Tarrant county, on May 18, 1906, at 10:30 a.m., to show cause, if any they have, why they should not each be punished for contempt of this court on account of the language of the motion for rehearing filed by them as attorneys for appellants in cause No. 5233 in this court, May 5, 1906, and particularly on account of the following language in said motion, to-" * * * We are really not astonished at Judge Speer holding that this chants and Planters' bank upon its bid, although Judge Denny had stated under oath that they had not awarded the money on a bid. It is clear to our mind that Judge Denny had read and was conversant with the law when he said they had not awarded said money on a bid to the Merchants and Planters' bank, because, being a lawyer, he knew that it could not be done, if he read section 25 above cited. We are equally as confident that Judge Speer had read a part of the record, at least, when he found that this $30,000.00 was awarded to the Merchants and Planters' bank upon its bid. Now, if Judge Speer had been as conversant with the law as was the county judge, we feel certain that the opinion would have been different in this particular, after seeing that he correctly found that this money had been awarded upon the bid of the Merchants and Planters' bank, and that it was for a part only of the county funds * * * 'because the appellants cause of complaint did not involve a construction of said act of the Twenty-ninth legislature, except that part of said act pertaining to the amount of bond that should be given, and the court studiously avoided even a mention of that part of the act, casual reading of the latter part of section 25, pages 393 and 394 of the Acts of the Twenty-Ninth Legislature, to convince a person that the bond executed by the Merchants and Planters' bank was not in accordance with section 25 of sald act. * * * And for fear the court might not read this provision, we here quote what the act says on this subject, which is as fol-" . . Now this is the provision of this act we had hoped to get he court to construe, but for some reason the court refused to mention this assignment, why, we can't imag-

". . The judge rendering this opinion seemed to have finally anthored himself, both sure and steadfast, on section 26 of said act, which provides that the commissioners' court shall select one of the 'two or more' depositories to act as a clearing house for the others, when said court has selected more than one depository for the county funds under said act.

In fact, we are inclined to believe that the judge rendering this opinion could not have imagined what else he could say when he quoted section 26 of this act, for it is foreign tc any issue raised in this case.

" * * We do not care to further discuss this assignment because if the law cited and the facts quoted are not sufficient to convince this court that this bond was insufficient in law, then we submit that argument would be useless to this court. * * * We submit that this record does not show fraud upon the part of the commissioners' court in awarding the said sum of $30,000.00 to the Merchants and Planters' bank, and it does not even require 'casual' reading of the record to convince an unbiased mind to this effect."

I. W. C. Strong, clerk of the court of civil appeals, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the order made by said court in re R. E. Taylor and H A. Allen, as the same appears indorsed upon the wrapper containing the papers in cause 5233 in this court, now on file in this office. Witness my hand and seal of the court this the 12th day of May, 1906. W. C. STRONG, Clerk. By A. M. MOOD, Deputy.

Damage Suits Filed A. J. McFadden has filed suit against the Northern Texas Traction Company to recover $2,000 for alleged personal injuries. The petition alleges that on March 30, 1906, while he was driving in a buggy along South Main street, one of the cars operated by defendant ran into the buggy from behind, throwing him violently to the ground, causing him to be seriously injured. Mrs. Sue Cobb has also brought suit against the Northern Texas Traction Company for $2,000 damages on account of alleged personal injuries, which she says were received on May 2, 1906. The petition in the case alleges that on that date plaintiff was a passenger on an open car operated by defendant and signalled the conductor to let her off at 810 Main street; that the car was stopped and she started to get off, but before she could do so the car was started again, causing her to be thrown to the street and seriously injured.

City Has Seven Representatives for Beaumont Meeting

Seven delegates from the Trades Assembly of Fort Worth will leave Sunday morning for Beaumont, Texas, to attend the state convention of the American Federation of Labor. The seven delegates will represent thirtytwo local unions and it is expected that others will attend from here. The delegates are: Jake Stein, teamsters; O. B. Jordan, barbers; Frank Swor, electrical workers; E. C. Haugen, laborers; C. W. Woodman, typographical; C. D. McMillan, brewery workers; W. G. Bollinger, plumbers. The convention will last three days and several of the Fort Worth delegates will participate in the program.

At the last meeting of the local Trades Assembly an agreement between the Teamsters' Union and the Texas Brewing Company was indorsed. It is virtually a renewal of the old agreement, as no new wage scale or length of work day was asked. The teamsters express themselves satisfied with the scale, which has been in operation for the last two years at the plant. This afternoon the teamsters' committee will meet with the firm and likely sign the scale.

The growth of a number of different ocals has rendered it necessary to enarge quarters and plans are being drawn up for the remodeling of several

BOOKS ARE ORDERED RETURNED

In the Seventeenth district court of this city Friday, Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot restored the books of the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange to their rightful owners and custodians, and the contempt proceedings against him at the instance of the exchange, based upon the removal of the articles to Austin without the consent of the court, were promptly nullified.

The result of the two days' legal contention waged in this city over the matter is that the exchange has gained what it was contending for-the restoration of its books and papers, taken possession of by Judge Lightfoot without authority other than that which he appears to have believed belonged to him as a representative of the state government, but which seems to have been disproven by the later developments.

The net result of the preliminary skirmish is to place matters back just about where they were at the time the penalty suits were filed at Austin. The action of the exchange in resorting to contempt proceedings to compel the attorney general's office to return its books and records has caused that department to declare off all pending propositions looking to a compromise of the pending penalty suits, and the indications are that these suits will go to trial on their merits

What the result of the trial will be no one can foresee at this time, but there seems to be something of a sentiment extant that the state has not gained anything in this preliminary skirmish. Facts that have been brought to light in connection with the proposed com-Fromise have not impressed the average observer as calculated to uphold the honor and dignity of the state in the proper manner, and there is more or less of a conviction that this important matter has been left too largely in the hands of subordinates who may not have exercised the proper discretion. The general impression is that the period has been reached in the situation where there should be a more marked exhibition

And in the meantime, there seems nothing for the general public to do but to await the final adjudication. The question of the guilt or innocence of the defendants is a matter that yet remains to be determined.

THE STORY OF ALCOHOL

"In the future," said Secretary Wilson before the ways and means committee of the house of representatives during the hearing prior to its passage of the free alcohol bill, "the time will certainly come when the world will have to look to agriculture for the production of its fuel, its light and its motive power. It seems to me that through the medium of alcohol agriculture can furnish in the most convenient form for the use of man this absolutely necessary source of supply."

The actual manufacturing cost of grain alcohol was variously stated to be from 6 to 15 cents per gallon, and Professor Elihu Thompson, of the General Electric Company, has expressed the opinion that "there is no possible substitute for this valuable fuel, which could be supplied at such a low cost." But there were many other facts of interest brought out at that congressional

An acre of Indian corn producing fifty bushels would make about 140 gallons of commercial alcohol. Three hundred bushels of potatoes to the acre would produce 245 gallons of alcohol, and by the planting of certain species not fit for food this yield could probably be increased to as much as 500 gallons to the acre. The sweet potato and the yam contain about the same amount of fermentable material as the white tuber.

Thus, the northern states could depend on the white potato for their alcohol, the southern states upon the sweet potato, and the western states upon the sugar beet-which is very rich in alcohol making properties. Further, it is estimated that the stalks on an acre of Indian corn would yield about 170 gallons of commercial alcohol. It is evident, therefore, that there is no dearth of raw material for the making of alcohol. And as to its value for fuel, light and power there is apparently equally as little question.

Records were submitted to the congressional committee showing that an alcohol lamp of the Welsbach type-that is, with an incandescent mantle as with source of light-would burn nearly twice as long with a quart of alcohol as a kerosene lamp giving the same light and using the same quantity of oil. In the matter of fuel for simple heating purposes the value of alcohol is not so obvious, although there is some reason for believing that in certain agricultural regions where coal is very expensive duty free alcohol for cooking might prove an economical substitute. Alcohol is considerably poorer in heat units than gasoline or kerosenethat is, the combustion of a quart of alcohol gives out less heat than the burning of the same quantity of these oils. The former has, however, certain other advantages-absence of disagreeable odor, much less inflammability, and hence, greater safety, together with a clean and non-smoky flame, which go far to make up for its lower warming power.

When we come to the question of its use as a power producer, in stationary oil engines, automobiles, motor boats, etc., it again forges to the front, and, if given a sufficiently cheap supply, would certainly prove a serious competitor with the gasoline motor and the small steam engine. Professor Elihu Thompson states that tests made by the General Electric Company have shown the alcohol engine to be entirely practical. They found that alcohol containing as much as 15 per cent of water could be used in such an engine, and further, that fully as much work could be obtained from a gallon of alcohol as a gallon of gasoline.

In Germany, where duty free alcohol for industrial purposes has been available for some time, there are now said to be about 6,000 alcohol engines in successful use. It is further stated that several of the gasoline engines now on the American market can be used without any change with alcohol as an explosive. Such a test was made some time ago on one of the government torpedo boats, first gasoline and then alcohol being used in the course of a test lasting several hours. The alcohol proved entirely satisfactory.

The house has passed the bill providing for the free denaturized alcohol, and the measure is now being held up in the senate.

Judge Smith Decides in Favor of Local Organization

SUBPENA WRIT MISUSED

Holds That Grand Jury Can Be Called in Only to Get Testimony in Criminal Proceedings

A decision returning books and papers of the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange to that organization was rendered late Friday afternoon by Judge M. E. Smith in the Seventeenth district court at the conclusion of conempt proceedings against J. P. Lightfoot, office assistant of Attorney General Davidson, the proceedings against Judge Lightfoot growing out of the charge that he illegally took books and papers of the Exchange to Austin, where they were used in preparation of anti-trust suits by the state against commission men and others associated in the live stock business at Fort

Judge Smith's decision and statement f the case was as follows: I have patiently listened to the able arguments of counsel, and without going into an extended discussion of the case, I desire to say:

It is in testimony that a subpena duces tecum was served on Paul Steiren, requiring him to bring with him the record books, showing minutes and proceedings of all meetings of the exchange, and a list of the corporations owning stock in the Exchange, to appear before the grand jury in this county and organized by this court at the January term of this ourt, instanter, to testify generally in behalf of the state of Texas. Previous to the date of this subpena the grand jury had been engaged in the investigation of the question as to whether or not the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange was doing business in violation of the anti-trust laws of the state of Texas, and this subpena was served upon Mr. Steiren, who had previously been before the grand jury touching the matter. He appeared at the county attorney's office with the books mentioned in this subpena and the county attorney took possession of this book and whatever else he had with him. He was there informed by the attorneys representing the state that they wanted other documents, all of which were finally produced, and he testifies that he delivered these papers and these books in the belief and in the faith that they were to be used in the grand jury investigation, and by virtue of this writ of attachment and subpena duces tecum; I believe he delivered them in pursuance of that understanding.

Books in Custody of Court

I do not think there was any authority to issue this subpena for any other purpose than a grand jury investigation of whether the Live Stock Exchange and its members had vioated the law. I believe that this proceeding placed the books and records in the custody of the Seventeenth district court; I think it had that effect. Respondent was here and was cognizant of the plan to secure this evidence in this way, but did not know that the foreman of the grand jury did not in fact sign the writ-though think that is immaterial. It was the custom of the present county attorney. in the course of business, to sign the name of the foreman of the grand jury: and I think that this process should be treated, for the purposes of this case, at least, as a valid writ of attachment directing Mr. Steiren to bring with him these documents, and that his action in the premises placed these writings and books in the custody of the court. Later on the respondent, by the consent of the county attorney, carried these books and papers to Austin, with the intention, as he testifies, and as I believe is a fact, of using them as evidence in the antitrust suits which he afterward filed At the time this subpena was issued there was no suit pending at Austin against the Live Stock Exchange, or any of its members, for violating the It further appears from the testimony that respondent agreed with the county attorney that he would return these books, but the evidence is unhandy," replied the old lady, readily. "I left my pipe | certain as to what time he would make such return. They were never returned, however, and the testimony shows that there was no intention on the part of respondent to ever restore the books to the custody of this court, unless you might say, as contended, that they were in the custody of the court while at Austin, which I do not believe to be the law; but they had been taken out of the court's custody by respondent. In obedience to a notice issued by this court respondent has brought the books here and they are now held subject to whatever order the court may make in the case.

It is contended here that the attorney general's department may use the grand jury for the purpose of procuring testimony to be used in the prosecution of suits for penalties on account of violations of the anti-trust law, and that when it does utilize the grand jury and gets possession of written testimony thereby it becomes lawfully possessed of it and has a right to retain it.

securing this evidence and carrying it away, the respondent acted in good Authority of Grand Juries 1 do not think the grand jury can be used for the purpose of procuring testimony to be used in any kind of a lawsuit except a criminal prosecution; the very institution of a grand jury and the law with reference thereto shows that this is utterly foreign to any function of a grand jury, in my judgment. They are charged only to investigate criminal violations, and I do not think that body is clothed with power to make any investigation except with a view of finding indictments for violations of the law. Moreover, it seems that the legislature had in mind that very idea when it enacted that under the anti-trust law investigations could be made before a justice of the peace and the testimony written and signed by the witnesses and delivered to the officers prosecuting the pleas of the state. I think that points out the method for the securing of testimony in a case of this kind. The grand jury could not furnish and would not be authorized to furnish the the testimony which it secured in the investigation of crime, especially in a suit not essentially a criminal case they are not authorized to do that; divulge what transpires in the grand jury room, except where its truth or carried to the city of Austin. falsity comes in question in a judicial No Intention of Contempt proceeding. I think this excludes the idea that the grand jury can be used for any such purpose. Therefore I do not think that by virtue of this subpena of the grand jury there was vested any right of control of the papers in the attorney general of the state or in the respondent. It is contended that after the grand jury adjourned the jurisdiction of the court no longer existed to deal with property that might have come into the custody of the court or before the grand jury. I cannot agree with that contention; I cannot give my assent to that, because whatever property or whatever testimony is lawfully brought its citizens in that way. The law au-

kind, and requires the person upon

I will not now discuss the question as to whether or not a man can be forced to give evidence against himself: we will assume that that question is not in this case, because this subpena has been obeyed. The law requires him to obey that subpena; it requires him to produce whatever is named in that subpena as testimony; but, in return for that, the law guar antees to him that it will keep and safeguard his property and use it for the purposes mentioned in the writ, and that when the object of investi gation set out in the writ has ceased it will be returned to him. But so far as my reading and observation has gone, it has been the custom and practice of all courts that wherever written testimony or property of any kind -private property-has been seized by virtue of a writ to be used as testimony, when the object of that particular seizure or requirement has been fully accomplished, then the right immediately vests in the owner of the property to its possession, and it is the duty of the court to return it to him. The grand jury in this instance adjourned without bringing any indictment for violation of the anti-trust law: therefore the objects and purposes set out in this writ were fully accomplished. The presumption is that the grand jury reached the conclusion that no prosecutions should be nad, and none were had. That question, however, is not involved; sufficient to say they filed no indictment. And as I do not believe the attorney general of the state can utilize the grand fury to secure testimony to be used in suits of this character; and as the object of the writ was fully accomplished when the investigation ended and no bill of indictment was returned, I think the right of the Live Stock Exchange to the possession of the property was revived and they had the right then to repossess themselves of it, and could have done so, had they gotten the proper order of the court for that purpose. When the property came into this court it was here subject only to the disposition of the court. I do not believe that any other conclusion would be in keeping with good faith. I believe that any other conclusion would not be upholding the integrity and good faith of the court, and respect for judicial proceedings. Acted in Good Faith I believe, in coming here and in and would beget a want of confidence

faith, that is, he believed he was acting within the law; my honest conviction is that the respondent mistook his remedy, that he employed the wrong means to secure this testimony. There are other means whereby the state can secure these records, and there were at that time. After suit is filed the state has the right to get possession of those books and papers, just like the grand jury of Tarrant county got them, that is, by virtue of a subpena duces tecum. But that will not be necessary in this case, because they have had them a sufficient length of time, and have actually made complete copies, and upon notice to the adverse party, can introduce those copies. I know it has been contended here that a judgment of this character may complicate, or rather interfere with the enforcement of law in this state. I do not think, however, that the court can properly indulge in any consideration of the results of this litigation here, but I do not think it will have any such result, for they have the copies and they can use them in the same manner in which they can by having the originals of those books but whatever might be the proper conclusion on that subject, it is sufficient for the purpose of this case that the books were wrongfully and unlawfully taken out of the court's custody and

I think, if there was contempt, that there was no intention of contempt on the part of respondent, and I do not feel that the court would be justified in inflicting a penalty upon him. The court will indulge in no criticism upon the respondent in this case, but I merely hope that in his zeal to enforce the laws of the state of Texas he has simply used the wrong means to get his testimony. I do not mean that as a criticism; I simply mean that in his zeal he has taken property out of the custody of this court and it would not be in keeping with proper judicial procedure for me to stamp my approval upon that act by permitting him to hold that property. If I should render a judgment here turning this property loose and allowing it to be carried back to Austin, that would necessarily show that the court approved the method by which, it was secured. The truth is, that it was never intended to be used before the grand jury; it was not used for the purpose mentioned in the subpena; it was not intended to be used for the purpose mentioned in the writ. On the contrary, it was contemplated, though unknown to the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange and to Mr. Steiren, that it should be used for an entirely different purpose. Mr. Steiren had the right when he obeyed that subpena and delivered this property to believe that it would remain in this court, and that he was not in fact placing it in the control of the attorney general to be carried away, and had the right to indulge in the presumption that the court which took the property would restore it when it was no longer needed for the purpose required.

The judgment of this court is that these papers and books be filed with the clerk of this court forthwith, and that the costs of this proceeding be taxed against the respondent. The books and papers were subsequently delivered to the attorneys of the Live Stock Exchange.

FIREMEN RETURN

Chief Bideker and Captains Bishop and Kinkle Attended Convention

Chief Bideker, Captain Bishop and Captain Kinkle of the Fort Worth fire department returned home Friday night after attending the volunteer firemen's state convention at Mineral Wells. Chief Bideker states that the convention was one of the largest ever held by the association. There were 400 in attendance from all parts of the state. Seventy-two cities and 175 companies were represented. After the election of officers Friday the convention adjourned, naming McKinney as the next meeting place.

The Fort Worth officials had as one of their principle objects in attending the convention to bring before that body the convention of the International Association of Chief Engineers, which will be held in Dallas Oct. 9-12. Chief Bideker states that seventy chiefs who were at the Mineral Wells assembly have signified their intention of attending the Dallas meeting. In the international association there are but four Texas cities, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and Galveston, and an effort is being made to bring more Texas cities into the association.

The coming convention at Dallas will be a mammoth affair. Noted fire fighters from all over the world will be in attendance. One of the chief features of the convention will be an elaborate exhibition of fire wagons and apparatus of every description.

Special to The Telegram AUSTIN, May 12.-S. P. Weissiger, formerly of Austin, now a prominent lawyer of El Paso, arrived here yesterday on business with some of the higher courts. Mr. Weissiger said that the question of paving the streets of El Paso had about been settled. It will be remembered that some time ago, Judge Dillon of that city had declared that the street improvement bonds might be declared invalid, if put to a test in the courts. This had the effect of retarding the sale of the bonds and, consequently, the work of paving the streets. Mr. Weissiger said that the bonds have now been sold to the Equitable Life Assurance Society to the amount of $175,000 and the work of paving District No. 3 in the city of El Paso will be commenced shortly. The paving will embrace about three miles of streets and will cost $225,000, the remainder of the money being put up by the street car company of that George Monohan, champion fancy and trick skater of the Pacific coast and probably the most graceful skater in the world, will give two performances Saturday, the first at 4:30 in the after_ noon, and the second at 9:15 at night. Manager Beach of the Summit avenue rink, said: "While Monohan's tricks are wonderfully clever and his double leap over the backs of chairs is thrilling to a degree, still the great charm to me of his performance, lies in the grace and beauty of his movements. I think that the first act, in which he waltzes and two-steps, is the best of the performance and worth many times the small admission fee. But those who wish a sensation will surely receive a series of them in the second act. It was in this act that he sustained injuries in Dallas which almost put him out of business." A large crowd is expected at both performances, but the rink has not yet been taxed to its fullest capacity. Monohan reached Fort Worth Friday and occupies a suite at the Worth.

HAIL AT AMARILLO High Temperature District Remains in

Northern States According to the bulletin issued by the local weather bureau, weather condiltions are reversed from the order expected. In the north near the Canadian border several places report temperatures above 90 degrees, while far to the south and especially in Texas.

the temperature is as much as 15 degrees lower. Bismarck, N. D., reports 96 degrees, while Fort Worth was but 79 Friday. There was but one other city reporting 96. Phoenix, Ariz. But little rainfall is noted through. out the entire country, the heaviest falling at Amarillo, where a hailstorm also occurred. At Santa Fe. N. M., the thermometer registered but 48 degrees at the minimum. The cotton best is practically without rainfall, except that which fell at Amarillo. Saturday night and Sunday for this vicinity and Fort Worth warmer weather and showers are forecast. Clear and cool weather is reported to Big Springs, clear to Whitesboro and clear and moderating at Marshall. ******************** FRIDAY IN CONGRESS

******************* In the senate, Senator Bailey of Texas, suffered defeat in his designs with reference to the railroad rate bill, his non-suspension amendment applying to orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has occupied so much of the attention of the senate in connection with that bill, being adversely disposed of by the decisive vote of 23 to 54, as was told in The Telegram Friday. The only amendments accepted during the day were those offered by Senator Allison striking out the phrase 'fairly remunerative" in the provision allowing the interstate commerce commission to fix rates; limiting the operations of orders of the commission to two years, and making the interstate commerce commission the defendant in suits challenging the rates fixed

The anti-pass provision heretofore adopted was further discussed. It is evident that it will be modified. The court review section of the bill was read and the amendments of Mr. Allison, striking out the provision regarding the time when orders of the commission shall take effect and providing that the interstate commerce commission shall be made the defendant in suits brought to set aside the orders of that body, were offered by Mr. Cullom and adopted without discussion. Adjourned to 11 a. m. Saturday.

The House

After passing 320 pension bills the house devoted much time to considering a point of order made against an appropriation for a new steel floating dock provided in the naval appropriation bill. Mr. Tawney of Minnesota made the point of order against the item. The chair held the point of order well taken in a carefully prepared opinion.

Mr. Hepburn of Iowa made a strenu. ous attack upon the court-martial system of the navy and especially criticised the officers responsible for the accidents that have happened to ships of the navy. The house adjourned until Monday.

Cattlemen Consider Hepburn Provision

Too Sweeping Protest against the pass provision of the Hepburn rate bill, which specifies that only railroad employes and ministers shall be granted free transportation, has been made by Captain J. T. Lytle, secretary of the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, who sent the following telegram Friday to Senators Culberson and Bailey at Washington: "Vitally important to all live stock interests that the pass amendment to the Hepburn bill exempt bona fide attendants in charge of live stock shipments. We urge that you have that exemption put in."

In reply to this message Captain Lytle received the following message from Senator Culberson.

"Will endeavor to have that exempt tion put in the bill." Judge S. H. Cowan, attorney for the association, sent a message to Colonel Ike T. Pryor, president of the association, who is now in Kansas City. The message urged Colonel Pryor to take the matter up with the live stock interests at Kansas City and Chicago urging that they, in turn, take the matter up with representatives in the senate and in congress looking toward the insertion of the exemption in the

Market Weakens Under Evening-Up Transactions-Decline Not of Special Importance

Special to The Telegram, NEW YORK, May 12.-A portion of the long stocks which has accumulated during the week was thrown on the market today and owing to the weekend buyers were not so prominent in the transactions, those holders who were not ready to take profits being averse to increasing their lines until after the holiday. However, it was in no sense a weak market, having a steady undertone at al times and meeting little or no selling pressure aside from the realizing sales, and there was sufficient evening up from the short interest to partially offset this. At the start there was some show of strength in the market leaders, but later all issues except the Copper stocks sold off. Amalgamated and Anaconda were both in good demand, and attained levels % and 3 points respectively above final figures of the previous session. A portion of this gain was lost, but both issues closed at an advance, which, however, in Amalgamated was only a slight fraction. Mexican Central was also unusually active and attained a gain of over a point during the day. The bank statement was favorable, but had little effect, the list aside from the issues mentioned, closing near the low point, showing substantial fractional losses in the principal issues. #### Stock Recovery Strong By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The recovery in the stock market has reached notable proportions this week. The decided easing of the money market has been the principal factor in Wall street and has largely relieved the anxiety over future large demands for capital overhanging the market. The anthracite miners' settlement and the end of the lake freight handlers' strike have cleared the labor outlook.

PALESTINE, Texas, May 12.—One of the strongest evidences of the advantages of organization and co-operation of farmers in the marketing of their crops were demonstrated by the onion growers of Texas, in shutting down on all shipments of onions. The Southwestern Truck Growers' Association, Tuesday last, under the direction of the commercial agent, on account of the depressed condition of the market, shut down on shipments. The consequence was that prices rallied at once, and today, under instructions from their shipping agent ten cars of onions were shipped out of Laredo. The remaining crop on hand is safely housed, and will only be shipped as prices justify.

He says it has two ears on one side of the head and one ear on the other. The third ear is not as well developed as the natural ones, but it is there just the same, and is quite noticeable.

market was dull and heavy and foreigners did practically nothing here. The local opening was lower but before long prices were advancing under the leadership of Amalgamated Copper, and Anaconda. Mexican Central was advanced almost two points on an unusually heavy volume of trading. Before the end of the first hour offerings increased considerably and the market became decidedly irregular. As was expected the bank statement was in every way favorable, showing as it did heavily increased reserves, decreased loans, larger deposits and a sebstantial gain in cash. The publication of the statement was the signal for heavy profit taking throughout the list. The market rose during seven successive sessions. When this is taken into consideration today's moderate decline is not surprising and a further reaction of or three points all around would improve the technical position immensely. We cannot advise purchases until a reaction is allowed. Grain markets not displaying any particular character. The market weakened, however, on the liquidation of a large line of July bought some days ago, and this started scattered selling, influenced to some extent by talk of moisture in the southwest. The bear element was encouraged in putting out short lines in the July option, while there was selling of that month and buying of September. The visible is expected to show a decrease of 2,500,000 bushels, the as the crop outlook on winter wheat. cannot be considered favorable, we feel bullish on the situation and would favor purchases of July on dips.

Vivion Commission Company of moderate recession, unless some came about as expected, zut was steady and spot demand shows no sign of falling off. Sales were 8,000 bales, of an advance of 1 point. The market over there is doing its part, and nothing in the depression.

081,000 bales, compared to 4,048,000 lass care to boost prices.

Easiness was due to some weak longs liquidating and to selling orders in the hands of comission hmouses. A wall street house was selling some. The losses were about 10 points, but the decline was steady. As long as the situation remains as it is there remains little on which to base hope of much reaction. The bull leader says there is noth-

Journal, telling of his replies. He and his friends were not buying much, however, and other traders took advantage of the opportunity to sell some, even for a turn. Spots showed no weakness and the situation regarding May shorts is probably not different from what it has been. A rumor says that some shorts offered to settle their May shorts with Price at 15 to 20 points on the marwet, but were refused. The week-end figures continued to back up statements of the bulls as to consumption and sellers are not likely to offer much pressure sd early in the season. It looks like a continued narrow market with more danger on the shorts than on the long side, as the active manipulators are on the latter side for the time being.

est ever seen in Fort Worth, more than 220 carriages being in line. Services at Residence At the Gross residence, beginning at o'clock, funeral services were held. Rabbi Joseph Jasin and Rev. Robert Hammond Cotton spoke, both paying personal tributes. Dr. Cotton told how Mr. Washer had aided him in his work and recalled his numerous charities. The casket was carried from the residence, completely hidden under roses and carnations. Other floral tributes filled the room where the services were held. There were so many of these that two conveyances were needed to carry them to the cemetery. There they were used in completely covering the grave, making a huge mound.

Employes in Procession Employes of the Washer store marched in the funeral procession, behind the hearse. A delegation from Washer Brothers' store in San Antonio was present. Members of the Board of Trade attended in a body. A large number of out-of-town friends from Dallas and elsewhere were present. Relatives included Nat M. Washer and Abe L.
