NEW PAVING PROPOSED FOR SOUTH HEMPHILL

Bitulithic Covering for Street Being Investigated

COMMITTEE ACTS Final Report Likely to Be Delayed Awaiting Investigation of New Process

Meeting of the street and alley committee will be held Monday before session of city council to take action upon the proposed paving of South Hemphill street.

From present indications, but a partial report will be made at the meeting Monday night, as the committee is now investigating bitulithic paving, an example of which are to be found in this part of the country.

As developed by The Telegram canvass, the opinion is almost unanimous among property owners for the paving of South Hemphill street, the greater part seeming to favor use of asphalt.

The bitulithic paving now proposed consists of layers of crushed stone held together by a tar preparation said to give a smooth and lasting surface for vehicles, combining the advantages of both brick and asphalt paving. Investigation of this paving is now being made.

RUFUS MARTIN HANGS JULY 12

Execution Will Take Place on Thursday

PRISONER ASKS TIME Change From Friday Made at Suggestion of Attorney in Deference to Popular Superstition

Rufus Martin, the negro convicted of the murder of Charles Schwabachman, a farmer who lived near Polytechnic College, will be hung on Thursday, July 12, the change from Friday, hanging day, being made by Judge Dunklin on the suggestion of D. B. Shropshire, attorney for the condemned man, in accordance with the latter's wishes.

At a time like this, time flies fast, and a man who is to die would like to put it off as long as possible.

The mandate of the United States supreme court in this case reached Fort Worth Friday, and Saturday morning Judge Dunklin ordered the prisoner to be taken to the gallows.

At 12:04 o'clock Saturday afternoon Judge Dunklin took his seat and ordered the prisoner to stand up. At that time Martin was writing a letter to his mother, who lives in Raton, N. M.

RAILROAD TICKETS
MAY BE EXTENDED

Commission Expects to Do
Away With Time Limit
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, June 2.—There will not likely be a quorum of the railroad commission until next Monday, Chairman Storey and Commissioner Colquitt both being out of the city. When a quorum is present next week it is expected that a decision will be handed down regarding the proposition to require the railroads to honor all first class tickets at any time after being sold. The commission had a hearing on the subject last month and the matter has been pending ever since. It will be remembered that the railroads at the time of the hearing on the subject submitted a proposition to the commission in the nature of a proposed order which would be agreeable to the railroads, but the commission rejected this proposition and has since been figuring on an order of its own. It appears that Commissioner Colquitt is in favor of requiring the railroads to honor all first class tickets within one year after being issued, while Commissioner Storey is in favor of twenty days limit, and Commissioner Mayfield has reached no decision yet on the proposition, at least he has not indicated his position in the matter.

It is said, however, that Teachers for another year were chosen by the board, and there were a dozen applicants for each place.

WACO FIGHTS
FOR CONVENTION

Spirited Contest on for Democratic State Assembly
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, June 2.—It now develops that the contest between several of the leading Texas cities for the next democratic state convention is going to be more vigorous and spirited than at first anticipated. Waco, Dallas, Austin and Mineral Wells are among those mentioned in connection with the big event. It is learned that the friends of the Geyser City are leaving no stone unturned in order to prevail on the members of the state democratic executive committee to select that place for the convention, and some even venture to say that Waco will get the convention on the first ballot. Those who are favoring Waco urge the fact that Dallas county has a candidate for governor and this will work against the city. The geographical location of Waco is also being urged in its favor. Homer Wade, secretary of the Waco Business Men's League, is said to be doing hard work for his city and his friends declare that he will meet with success. In any event the above cities will all have large delegations here when the committee meets on June 11.

Says Earthquake Less Severe Than Galveston Storm
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Texas, June 1.—The governor yesterday received a copy of a circular issued by "Progress," a paper printed by the Southern Pacific Company, which contains an address by Governor George C. Pardee of California to the governors of the other states, in which the California executive calls attention to the fact that the great state of California is still on the map, and that the notion that the great state was shaken by an earthquake is not the case. In fact, Governor Pardee declares that the earthquake was severe in only about 2 per cent of the area of the state. He says that the disaster to San Francisco is not in any way as severe as the Galveston storm, the Charleston earthquake in 1886 and the great Chicago fire.

WANTED REPORT

President Did Not Intend to Make Neill Report Public
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, June 2.—The President had not expected to make public the report of Commissioner Neill and Mr. Reynolds. He felt that its publication might injure the packing house industry in this country. Primarily the information contained in the report was obtained to be used as a basis for the legislation proposed in the amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill by Senator Beveridge of Indiana. He did not imagine there would be serious opposition to an appropriation for inspection of such meats for domestic consumption as is afforded to meat products intended for shipment abroad. The meat packers, however, rose in arms against the Beveridge amendment, being insistent in opposition to it not only in principle, but in the question of paying for the proposed inspection.

DEPARTMENT EXPENDITURES

Sheppard's Resolution Looks to Having Them All Investigated
Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Mr. Sheppard introduced a resolution which, if it should ever get a chance of passage, would reanimate those committees of the house whose duty it is to investigate the annual expenditures of the various departments of the government. The resolution directs that the expenditures of the state, treasury, war, navy, post-office and interior departments, as well as those of the department of justice, be investigated. Already a resolution has been passed directing an investigation of the expenditures of the department of agriculture and one is pending calling for a similar investigation with respect to the department of commerce and labor. Mr. Sheppard thinks it would be just as well to have the investigations extended to all the departments.

THE MEASURE OF BLAME

Who blames the people of Fort Worth to stand up for the packing houses? Suppose a Bonham industry was attacked by people who have sinned of their own, wouldn't we kick? Well, we guess yes. The packers are of their own, and for Texas, and especially for North Texas. The hog market would be nothing for this section of the state if it were not for them. The beef market would be just what St. Louis or Kansas City would suggest if it were not for them. If they do not pay more for the cattle than the St. Louis packers, still we save in freight, hence make something that way. When you cry "establish factories," make "Texas grow" and then go to fighting with you are a Judas to the cause of the upbuilding of the state.—Bonham News.

There is food for reflection in what the Bonham paper says. For many long years the people of Texas and the entire southwest were clamoring for the establishment of a market in Texas that would be capable of handling the live stock produced in that section. Efforts were made by enterprising citizens of Fort Worth to comply with this popular demand, but the undertaking was of too much magnitude. It required the investment of more capital than the enterprising promoters could command, and the result was loss and disappointment. But there was no cessation in the demand for this great Texas market. Every meeting of live stock producers had something to say on the subject, and Fort Worth was implored to devise some method by which the desired end could be attained.

It was then that negotiations were opened with the big packers in the east and they were implored to investigate the situation here with a view of establishing modern packing plants. They acceded to the request and investigated the matter and finally announced they would establish modern plants here upon certain conditions. A very important part of these conditions was the payment of a large cash bonus by the citizens of Fort Worth, and this part of the program was cheerfully complied with. Fort Worth went deep down into her pocket and paid a large price for the privilege of becoming the live stock market of the southwest, and this serves to explain the Fort Worth sentiment that has been manifested against harassing and persecuting the interests that have made the Fort Worth market so nearly what the people interested have demanded.

In all the history of the development of live stock markets there has never been such rapid progress as has been made in Fort Worth. The development here has simply been unprecedented and is but a marker for what is to come provided there is nothing to hamper further progress. Every live stock producer in Texas and the southwest is as vitally interested in the situation as if they were citizens of Fort Worth, for their future prosperity very largely depends upon the continued development and proper maintenance of the Fort Worth market.

The live stock producers of this section know what it is to be at the mercy of the other markets. They were in that condition for years, and while it may be true that the establishment of the Fort Worth market has as yet brought but partial emancipation, the promises for the future are very flattering. Fort Worth believes these great packing industries were established here in deference to popular demand, and public sentiment here does not endorse their pulling down as a mere matter of pacifying the interest that is continually crying "wolf, wolf," when there are few wolf signs to be discovered.

If the Fort Worth packers have violated the law they should be compelled to pay a just and reasonable penalty. But public sentiment does not indorse the administration of justice that becomes confiscatory and threatens to wipe out of existence the very things the producing element of the state has so long been clamorous for. In their zeal to please the state officials, have placed the state in a mercenary attitude that is repugnant to the lovers of the principles of justice.

JUDGE BELL FLAYS COLQUITT

Just about as near a piece of political skinning as was ever accomplished in Texas was witnessed in Moody the other day, when Judge Charles K. Bell lifted the hide of Oscar B. Colquitt and complacently hung it on his back fence. In previous joint discussions Colquitt has been content to confine himself to his platform and his conception of the issues that affect the people of the state. But at this Moody political gathering he departed from all precedent and made a violent and vicious attack upon Judge Bell and his official record. Judge Bell was present, sitting upon the platform from which Colquitt delivered his frothing, and when it came his time to speak he was merciless in his application of the lash to his traducer, and in that straightforward manner speech he convicted Colquitt of deliberate misrepresentation. In the course of the address he said relative to certain suits filed by him as attorney general:

"But Mr. Colquitt makes the startling statement that these suits were not brought by myself, but that they were brought by the county attorney of Travis county, and that they were the result of a vote of the official board of Messrs. Hogg and Robertson. I pledge you my word there is not one particle of foundation for this statement. I make this statement knowing full well that if it is not true it can be disproved and that I would be as unworthy of the respect and support of the people of Texas as would be the gentleman who has made the assertion which I contradict. If that assertion be true, I pledge you my word that I will join with each of these cases were tried. I assisted in procuring the evidence in the cases. Governor Hogg had nothing in the world to do with them.

"I signed the names of Hogg and Robertson to the petition. They had been associated with the county attorney for some time. In the preparation of the cases, and Mr. Paulk subsequently refused to divide his fees with them on the count.

"I appeal to you, my friends, to know if a man who is so reckless as to make the character of statements made by the county attorney in the case of the I did was to sign my name to the petition. I pledge you my word that there is not one particle of truth in this statement. I make this statement knowing full well that if it is not true it can be disproved and that I would be as unworthy of the respect and support of the people of Texas as would be the gentleman who has made the assertion which I contradict. If that assertion be true, I pledge you my word that I will join with each of these cases were tried. I assisted in procuring the evidence in the cases. The live stock producers of this section know what it is to be at the mercy of the other markets. They were in that condition for years, and while it may be true that the establishment of the Fort Worth market has as yet brought but partial emancipation, the candidate Colquitt monkeyed with a proposition without realizing that it was so heavily loaded.

There is one thing perfectly clear, and that is the present city administration has a stand-in with Jupiter Pluvius. When public wrath is enkindled over the sprinkling problem Old Jupe can always be depended upon to lend his services in the direction of obliterating the emergency.

The little bit of horse political play embodied in the attempted reduction of passenger fares on the Houston and Texas Central railway will be properly stopped by the application of an injunction. The courts of the state will not permit the perpetration of any such rank injustice.

The young sovereigns of Spain did not show any evidences of terror at the bomb exploded in their near vicinity, which is reported to have killed about twenty people. It was a rude and terrible interpolation, but the honeymoon will continue uninterrupted.

During the past year life insurance companies paid policies in Texas aggregating $5,238,000. Of this sum Ansonia received $171,093; Galveston, $291,669; Dallas, $456,275; Houston, $234,138; San Antonio, $264,790; Fort Worth, $210,823; Waco, $105,856.

The Colquitt and Brooks gubernatorial booms will be the next to make a general assignment or go into the process of voluntary bankruptcy.

If Colquitt would only try to earn his official salary as zealously as he betrays Judge Bell, the people of Texas would think more of him.

NEW INSTRUCTORS FOR UNIVERSITY

Annual Meeting of Trustees Held Friday Night
The adjourned annual meeting of the trustees of Fort Worth University held Friday night in the parlors of the university was an occasion of great harmony and happiness. Universal satisfaction was expressed with the report of President Fielder, which revealed the best financial condition and outlook in many years. It is expected that the next few weeks will witness the liquidation of all indebtedness against the school and the substantial improvement of the property. The campus is one of the choicest in the state and it was declared the day is not far distant when the people of Fort Worth will point to it with pleasure and pride.

The chairs of English history, mathematics, science and ancient languages and the departments of art and piano music, recently of San Francisco, in charge of their present occupants. Among the new professors and teachers engaged by the board are Prof. Rosignol, recently of San Francisco; Mrs. Madge Pickler of Redfield college; Mrs. Margaret L. Sargent and Miss Elizabeth Robertson. These persons are all excellent teachers. Some of them having marked ability and wide reputation, and it is expected that they will add strength to the already able and popular faculty. Fort Worth University has a record for scholarship which is surpassed by but few if any schools in the southwest and it is the purpose of the authorities to maintain this high standard.

President Fielder will start on his second trip to the north and east in a few days. Meanwhile the committee on repairs and improvements, elected at the meeting, will be actively engaged in carrying out the plans for the betterment of the property. It is felt that everything should be in readiness for the opening of the university on Sept. 11.

Reflections of a Bachelor

A girl can be a great deal of help to a woman if it isn't her own mother.
When a man knows how to earn his living it's a sign he doesn't try to wiggle out of it.
A girl will never believe you love her if you tell her so in plain, sane language.
If women could vote you would never see a curly-headed one to anything.
If a man wore the absence of clothes above his waist a woman does in summer he would be arrested.—New York Press.

Quaker Reflections

The good opinion of some people costs more than worth.
The only reason some people have for existence is to take up room.
The devil depends more on the hypocrite than he does on the backslider.
The old maid who has never had a lover is the first to give advice to a girl about her love affairs.
The night-blooming cereus is comparatively rare, but the blooming idiot who stays with us always.—Philadelphia Record.

layer on the foundation while yet hot and rolled into it and compressed by a 14-ton roller until a thoroughly compact wearing surface was obtained in thickness. A quick-drying coat of bitumen is then spread over the surface, after which a thin layer of stone screening is sprinkled over it and rolled to give it a rough surface, thus providing an excellent footing for horses. The pavement is then ready for use.

"While inspecting the laying of the pavement, we noticed a heavily loaded wagon pass over the newly laid street immediately after being screened and rolled, but caused no perceptible effects as a result. We were informed that the contractors haul their materials over a street immediately after it is laid. We also visited the plant, where every opportunity was given us in examining the method of preparing the materials.

"The city officials of Birmingham informed us that there has been laid in that city during the past three years 185,000 square yards of the bitulithic, and the Southern Bitulithic Company has under contract 9,000 square yards at present, while ordinances had been passed providing for 125,000 more square feet. This, it seems to us, is evidence of the bitulithic giving entire satisfaction to the property owners and officials alike, not to exceed $25 having been spent on repairs on the entire amount of pavement laid. The chief features to commend this pavement are: Freedom from dust, absence of slippery surface, no evidence of cracking. From the composition of the pavement and its manner of construction, it would seem very unlikely that the surface ever could crack or break.

KNOW OF WRECK BEFORE IT CAME

Denver Dispatcher Warned of Danger Just Too Late

SENT OUT RELIEF TRAIN

Section Foreman Found Wind Had Blown Cars From Track and Sent Warning Message

That a relief train was in full pursuit of the passenger train which collided with wild box cars on the Denver Road Thursday night, the collision being foreseen too late to prevent is a feature of the accident learned from D. B. Keeler, vice president and general manager of the Denver, who was in his private car attached to the train when the accident occurred.

When the storm at Iowa Park, which was much more severe than at first reported, was first felt at that city, the section foreman of the Denver at once began an inspection of the siding. He found that two box cars had blown onto the main line track over the top of the regular train, and was due in a short time. He at once notified the telegraph operator and the news was flashed to Wichita Falls so that the relief train was started to learn that the effort was too late, as the passenger had already left that station. No chance to catch the train was left and with the passenger speeding north toward the box cars south bound with constantly increasing speed, the next best step was taken and a relief train with surgical supplies and physicians sent in full pursuit of the regular train.

This train picked up the man sent out by the wrecked train to secure relief immediately after the accident, the prompt arrival of the physicians and supplies doing much to lighten the suffering of the injured.

Private Car for Injured

Mr. Keeler, who left his car immediately after the accident occurred, at once devoted it to hospital purposes as the one affording best accommodation for the seriously wounded. They were accordingly carried into this car and later it was run as a special to Fort Worth bearing the injured engineer and fireman and seven passengers.

Mr. Keeler, who was accompanied by W. F. Sterley, general freight agent, discontinued the trip north, returning to Fort Worth with the injured in his car.

The storm at Iowa Park wrought great damage in addition to that indirectly caused in the wreck.

As reported, the roof of the railroad station was torn away. Other damage includes:

Northwest corner of Farmers' Union
 Elevator blown away; northwest corner of Frank Keel grain warehouse blown away; roof of James Wilson's barn blown away; Mayfield Lumber Company office damaged; T. C.
 Thatcher brick implement building blown down; H. B. Hynes building roof blown off; H. C. Herrod, residence roof blown off; blacksmith shop and Owsen's kin both damaged.

In addition, the window panes were broken in a majority of the residences, the storm seeming to have been a severe one, moving from the northwest.
