It is conservatively estimated tonight
 that more than 55,000 men are out on strike, but the response of the men has been so prompt and so general as to particular are backward about going out for a strike. They are the only ones to walk out thus far are the

 who struck today.

City in Darkness

The greater part of the street cars
 and river steamers have stopped running. Most of the streets of the capital are in complete darkness. It is expected to become general until Monday as Saturday is pay day. There was some fighting today between the men and strikers in the suburb of Nerva. The lighter men have gone on a strike in Odessa and the work of the port is tied up. There is general unrest in that city.

Riots in Sevastopol

It is rumored that there is an outbreak in Sevastopol similar to the one in Cronstadt. Two infantry battalions have been sent there from Odessa.
 The strike is being engineered by a committee composed of social democratic members of the late duma, revolutionists, the peasants' union and the railway men's union. Its political character is indicated by the leading demand of the committee, which is for a constituent assembly.

The attitude of the men who were armed with clubs became so threatening that the troops were called and charged the mob with drawn sabres.
 More than a hundred of the strikers were seriously wounded and they were finally dispersed. Further riots are feared.

NEGRO CONVICTS
 ESCAPE PRISON

Forty-three Captured After a Fight With Posse

Special to The Telegram.

ATLANTA, Aug. 4.—A conspiracy
 among forty-five convicts of the Palmer Brick company's camp on the north edge of this city to escape last night
 resulted in the death of a negro named Jim Hargrove, being shot down and killed and Willis Harris, another negro, brushing past the guns to his freedom. The other would-be-escapers were then quickly subdued and blood-hounds put on the trail of Harris. Late this evening he had not been captured.

Watchman Attacked

Shortly after midnight this morning
 Watchman Milt Pope, who had been out to get some lunch, started to enter the dark prison. As he opened the heavy door a heavy fist struck him full in the face and Hargrove and Harris rushed past him. Close behind them followed forty-three other convicts a-thirst for liberty.

Assistance was soon summoned and all but two were prevented from leaving the prison. The guards fired on two negroes who had escaped, injuring killing Hargrove, who when his head, had a razor clutched tight-
 in his right hand.

NEWS WILL FIGHT

Fifty Thousand Quit Work
 and Capital City Thrown in Darkness

Special to The Telegram.
 ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4.—
 There has been a renewal of the fighting in Cronstadt and from all reports over the empire
 so far as the situation in Cronstadt is concerned, it is impossible to obtain even the most meager details.
 Early today the telegraph and telephone lines connecting the fortress and the city were severed and all communication cut off. Heavy firing was heard in that direction early in the day, but the government has refused to give out any information. It is believed, however, that there has been a renewal of the revolt among the sailors.

Carry Red Flags

There was a serious clash today between troops and strikers in Donetz, the center of the mining district. Carrying red flags and singing the "Marseillaise," 6,000 men paraded the streets and gathered at the residence of the governor general to demand the release of a number of orators who had been arrested.

Train Robbers Get $40,000

A delayed telegram from Libau says that a train on the railway road between Libau and Hafenport was held up today and robbed of $40,000 in coin belonging to the government.
 There was a sharp fight between the train guards and passengers on the one hand and the robbers on the other.
 Bloodshed is looked for in Warsaw. All Jews in the city have been ordered to appear in the streets ready to fight to the death on a given signal. The authorities have been warned and are conducting a house-to-house search for firearms. The number of rifles and revolvers have been seized.

PARENTS' SIN HURTS YOUNG

Scandal Falls Hardest on the Hartje Children

TAUNTS RESENTED

Mother Refuses to Talk on the Subject and Son Defends
 Self With Fist

Special to The Telegram.
 PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 4.—Even
 the school children attending the public school with the two Hartje children have become so impregnated with the scandals that have been published concerning the domestic life of the two principals of the now famous divorce case that they are charged with humiliating in a most aggressive manner, these innocent victims of their parents' quarrels.

This incident is perhaps the most distressing of the more recent developments of the Hartje divorce suit that has attracted attention. Stories concerning the fiercest quarrels between the young son of Mrs. Hartje, and school companions who sought to humiliate him, and of the attacks made on Mary Louise, wife of the school teacher, yesterday were shown to Mrs. Hartje and she was asked if they were true.

Mrs. Hartje Silent

She declined to admit the truth or falsity, saying that her attorneys must answer all questions concerning the divorce. However, Mrs. Hartje admitted being aware of the reports about the matter and seemed to realize their significance.

The locality in which Mrs. Hartje
 now lives is in the center of a fashionable district of the city and this school attended by the children is among the finest of the public school system. Mary Louise has not attended school for some days and the statement that her mother withdrew her because of the humiliating taunts
 of her companions has not been denied either by the school teachers or other children.

Scotty Able Fighter

Scotty Hartje is a vigorous youth
 and capable of taking his own part,
 and when it came his time to defend himself, he started in to do so with the most vigorous exhibition of the manly art that has been witnessed in a long time. Some black eyes and bloody noses were the result. Scotty had his share of them, he did not seem to mind it in the least, but did around like a little game cock ready more on the next business is new in the south, and valuable because it utilizes
 and turns into dollars a material that
 was thought worthless and the Hogz

 stone are as valuable as the asphalt
 deposits of Utah and more so, and will prove mines of wealth before many years. The location of the cement works
 about five miles south of the city, and
 the iron works just west of them, will result in the building up of two villages near them that will be like Bermuda grass, gradually spread towards
 each other, until they join, and both
 of them will spread north towards Fort Worth, while Fort Worth spreads south
 towards them until in a few years
 we will have a city here that will be a journey of ten miles from street car.
 Property values will increase in all
 that section south of the city, and
 what today are cow pastures will be
 two lofty ornamental with beautiful
 homes and even business houses. Why
 I can shut my eyes and see the old

 due to arrive in the morning. Govern-

BELL SLATED FOR WINNING

County Conventions Name Delegates for Fort Worth Man

COLQUITT LOSING

First Ballot in Dallas Assembly
 Determines Which Candidate
 Will Have to Skidoo

Harmony was the keynote of the county conventions held yesterday
 throughout Texas, as was expected
 there was some friction among different factions to win convention offices and delegates. Special correspondents of The Telegram report several changes in the political situation,
 which are unable to Judge Bell.

Colquitt Loses Out

There have been several combinations in which Bell has been the gainer and Colquitt the loser. Proving the annual encouragement with the Dallas convention will deliver his votes
 among his opponents. In some cases this was agreed upon in writing by leaders before the primaries.

Bryan Endorsed

Bryan has been endorsed in many conventions. Several conventions failed to instruct their delegates while others did so in a direct manner.
 However, the delegates by law are not bound to observe the instructions.

Bell Vote Increased

The official returns give Bell an increased vote and hope is still strong that he will be second man and his opponent, Campbell.

Capture of Delegates

Although overlooked for several alliances were made by Campbell and Bell to capture delegates and the capture of delegates, as some of the delegates in each instance. Following are the results of county conventions showing the status of the gubernatorial situation.

Bell's Forces Grow

Special to The Telegram.
 AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—The gubernatorial situation tonight, as far as can be learned is somewhat brighter for Judge Bell's candidacy, as some of the counties are placing strictly Campbell and Bell delegates on the slate for the state convention. Of course these delegates will have to promote the vote
 according to returns received on the first ballot, but in case there is no nomination on the first ballot, then delegates will be at liberty to cast their votes for their choice.

First Ballot Counts

This means that unless Campbell
 gets the nomination on the first ballot,
 then a second or even a third man in the race will have an excellent chance to capture the nomination. Delegates will be at liberty to cast their votes for their choice.

No Instructions Given

Special to The Telegram.
 BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 4.—The Democratic county convention met today and selected delegates to all the district and state conventions. Delegates to the state convention were selected in the same proportion as the vote for governor in the primaries.
 There were two Campbell men, one Colquitt, one Brooks and one Bell. Sixteen men were named, the first five being two Campbell, two Colquitt, and one Bell. The sixteenth man being a Brooks supporter.

No instructions as to casting a "drop" vote was given. The Hogz amendments were endorsed and only routine matters disposed of excepting as indicated.

Republican Convention

The Republican county convention
 was held this afternoon and nominated a full ticket and endorsed Mon. W. C.
 Averill, of this city, as candidate for governor.

The vote for governor in this county
 as tabulated by the executive committee is as follows:

Campbell, 833; Bell, 423; Colquitt,
 225; Brooks, 278.

The vote for state senator of the Fourteenth district is as follows:
 E. B. Pickett, 710; W. W. Dies, 710;
 Kellie, 675; Ingraham, 177.

Vote in Jasper

A special vote in Jasper, as follows: Colquitt, 322; Bell, 16; Campbell,
 311; Brooks,
 100; for congressmen:
 Cooper, 413; Brooks, 396.

For state senator:
 Kellie, 675; Pickett, 77; Ingraham,
 twenty-seven.

COUNTY DELEGATION IS WITHOUT INSTRUCTION

All Are Avowed Supporters of Judge Bell

AYRES ELECTED

Convention Works Hours in the Matter of Selecting Seventy Delegates

NO INSTRUCTIONS were given Tarrant county delegates to the state Democratic convention that is to meet at Dallas August 14, but the entire delegation of residents men are avowed supporters of Judge C. K. Bell of this city for governor and will undoubtedly vote for Fort Worth's candidate at that convention.

Ben P. Ayres was elected county chairman.

There was some trouble on the floor of the convention as to the names of the delegates submitted by the five committees appointed by the chair to suggest names as delegates to the state, judicial, congressional, senatorial and floral conventions.

It was alleged on the floor that too
 many names of residents of the city had been placed on the delegates list, and for this reason, P. E. Dycus and A. L.
 Matlock fought the adoption of the reports, while William Capps, Captain report had been submitted to the B. B. Paddock, E. E. Stewart, and W. A. Hanger favored the adoption of the reports as submitted.

First Under Terrell Law

The first Democratic convention to be held in Tarrant county under the Terrell election law was held at the court house Saturday and was a warm
 one. For the first time the delegates on the surface there was nothing but the bald question, who of the many friends of Judge Bell in the county should go as the delegates to represent his interest in the state convention? No suggestions of instruction of any kind were given and the delegates are as fresh as the wind, but all are known as staunch friends of Judge Bell.

Executive Committee Reports

It was 4:10 when the retiring chairman, William Capps, called the convention to order to hear the report of the county executive committee. This report had been submitted to the executive committee and after some consideration, in the tabulation of the votes
 of one or two precinct officers, the report was ready to be presented to the convention, giving a list of the candidates before the primary who have been nominated and a list of the delegates to the state convention.
 The retiring chairman announced the result of the primary as it was applicable to the delegates and the votes
 cast for the delegates and chairman,
 P. Ayres, the new list of delegates took the gavel and said the first business before the convention was the selection of a temporary secretary, H.
 L. Calhoun was elected secretary and Julius Folk was elected sergeant-at-arms.

The reading of the full report of the committee on the tickets and the votes cast for it was dispensed with the convention being satisfied with the reading of the list of those nominated.

The reading of the list of delegates to the county convention was also dispensed with.

On motion of Mr. Capps the temporary organization was made permanent.

J. C. Scott moved that the convention proceed to the selection of fourteen delegates to the state hospital
 convention, giving a list of the candidates to which they were to send delegates, and that they be apportioned equally between the city and the country.

Some Confusion

This was overlooked in some way
 and Clarence E. Stewart, moving the chair appoint committees of three each to select delegates to the several conventions, to wit: State, judicial,
 congressional, senatorial and floral.
 This prevailed, though there was a deal of noise and confusion, mostly made by the spectators, and the application of the list of delegates and should have an equal representation was endorsed with applause. Mr. Stewart suggested that the committee report, select the list of delegates and report them to the convention.

A. L. Matlock: "I apprehend there is but little left for the committee to report. The list of delegates to the state convention has been made out and I would suggest to the gentleman who has the list in his pockets that he simply hand it over and let be read and approved." The chair paid no attention to anything.

TRIES SWINDLE GAME AND JAILED

Runs Away With Woman and Finances Run Short

Special to The Telegram.
 CINCINNATI, Ohio, August 4.—The man who gave the name of Frank Hueck, after he was arrested by detectives Friday afternoon, today said that he was Frank Williams of Galveston, Texas.

Williams was arrested after he had visited a number of business houses under several different names and tried to raise $50 on the pretext that he was short and was taking his sister
 "Stella" to her home from Boston,
 where she had been attending school.

Stella Also Arrested

He said he had started about $2,000
 with which he started out to break
 the bookmakers at Latonia. The detectives learned that "Stella" was stopping at 130 Gerfield Place and placed her under arrest. The couple had been living under the name of Mr. and Mrs.
 Williams. The woman said she was Mrs. Lola Griffin of St. Louis and that she lived in 3281 Olive street, St. Louis.

Claimed to Be Mine Promoter.

The woman claimed that Williams and she met about four months ago at St. Louis and that she agreed to travel with him and marry him as soon as she received a divorce. She claims he represented to her that he was a mining promoter and seemed to have plenty of money. Both are held to be investigated.

TWO BIG FACTORS IN DEVELOPMENT

Fat Stock Show and Cement Plant Important

"I don't believe that Fort Worth people fully appreciate the value of two enterprises this city has just secured,"
 said Superintendent Charles J. Larimer of the International and Great Northern railroad, to a Telegram reporter, Saturday. "What I refer to
 is the Fat Stock Show and the cement plant, with a $175,000 exhibition building, to be built, and the big plant of the Iola Cement Company."

These two enterprises combined,
 when under way, will be worth as much to Fort Worth as the packing houses have been, and mark what I say, the Fat Stock Show will create a dwarf the Dallas fair, and do as much to attract people to and advertise Fort Worth as the fair did for Dallas.

The Fat Stock Show, which is being held at the International and Great Northern building at North Fort Worth,
 the Fat Stock Show is not going to be located anywhere but in Fort Worth, and it will be what is implied, and it will be attended by stockmen from all over the United States and the Canadian West. There will be held every state in the union, not only with stock to exhibit and sell, but with money in their pockets with which to buy blood-stock. The city of Fort Worth has a new stock market at Fort Worth additional to the one created by the packing houses, and all this means more work for the city and the county. The building of North Fort Worth and renewed interest in the blooded stock industry in Texas. In my opinion the Fat Stock Show will be the greatest of the United States, surpassing in importance the one at Chicago.

"The cement business is being imported by the Iola Company, in benefits to the city, will be in the same class with the Fat Stock Show. It will be the biggest plant of the kind in all the south, and when completed will give employment to 1,000 men, whose wages will be added to the receipts of the Iola business men in the plant.
 It will take one year to complete this plant, so you may gather from that fact an idea of how big a thing it is going to be.

"This cement business is new in the south, and valuable because it utilizes
 and turns into dollars a material that
 was thought worthless and the Hogz
 are the best to supply in Tarrant county. These deposits of cement
 stone are as valuable as the asphalt
 deposits of Utah and more so, and will
 prove mines of wealth before many
 years. The location of the cement works
 about five miles south of the city, and
 the iron works just west of them, will
 result in the building up of two villages near them that will be like Bermuda grass, gradually spread towards
 each other, until they join, and both
 of them will spread north towards Fort Worth, while Fort Worth spreads south
 towards them until in a few years
 we will have a city here that will be

 that section south of the city, and
 what today are cow pastures will be
 two lofty ornamental with beautiful
 homes and even business houses. Why
 I can shut my eyes and see the old town grow."

PIPE THE RATS IN FORT WORTH?

Panther City Prays for a Pied Piper

Rats!

They are in town by the thousands.
 Always they have been here, but it has only been in the past few weeks that folks commenced to notice that the rodents are multiplying at an alarmingly rapid rate.

Out in the suburbs, downtown and
 in the residence portions of the city, can be heard complaints regarding the
 rats.

Like an army they have invaded the city and notwithstanding the fact that within the confines of Fort Worth
 there is a rat errier and rat-catching cats, they have but little strength in eliminating the rodents.

Janitors of downtown office structures are being called before they are they see so many rats. The housewife cries rats and jumps high upon a chair, while hubby says things and raps at the creatures as they scamper across the parlay floor.

The old settlers say they never saw so many rats before and that there is more in Fort Worth at present than should be.

Last evening in lower Main street
 three big gray rats were killed while trying to make their way across the street. Two were caught by terriers and the other died from a blow from a walking cane. There is a world of them in town and it will take pounds
 of poison to put them out of commission.

 STAMFORD, Conn., Aug. 4.—Leo
 Dietrichstein, the actor and playwright,
 whose summer home is in Stamford,

 ment in his twenty-five-horsepower
 motor car between Southport and Greens Farm while trying to dodge a buggy.

The car brought up against a tree and was wrecked. Mr. Dietrichstein and James Walker, his chauffeur, were thrown out. Mr. Dietrichstein was severely shaken up and bruised. Walker escaped unhurt.

CLERK CONFESSES THEFT OF $125,000

His Accomplice, the Teller, Is Still at Large

Special to The Telegram.
 PITTSBURG, Pa., August 4.—C. S.
 Hixson, a bookkeeper for the Union Trust Company, is a prisoner in the Allegheny county jail, having confessed to having stolen $125,000 from the company. Hixson, a teller, was charged with the theft and that they divided the money equally.

On August 1 a discrepancy was found in Hixson's books, he being on a vacation.

Hixson returned to work immediately arrested and has made a complete confession.

He stated that acting jointly with
 C. B. Wray, a teller, he had stolen $125,000, said H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust Company.
 Hixson returned to Allegheny
 secretaryship. W. W. Grace and Oscar S. Dander, the two latter employees of the company.

Many witnesses were examined and all testified directly or indirectly as to show men had been beaten and ill-treated at the company's plant.

Indorse Lanham.

Special to The Telegram.
 AUSTIN, Texas, August 4.—Before adjourning this afternoon the county convention, proceedings of which were given in today's dispatch,
 adopted a resolution fully indorsing
 the Lanham administration. The convention also has been made on his administration. A resolution also was adopted indorsing the course of Senator Bailey.

SUNDAY BASEBALL TEMPERANCE ALLY

Anti-Saloon Man Says It Lessens Illegal Rum

Special to The Telegram.
 WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 4.—Sunday baseball is an aid in suppressing illegal liquor traffic, according to Rev.
 W. L. Riley of this city, superintendent of the Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League. He does not advocate Sunday baseball, but said in an interview today.

"As the American people make their Sunday a strenuous day in search of recreation, rather than a day of rest, Sunday baseball game attracts a large number of people, with the result that the saloonkeeper who keeps his back door open is idle."

"For that reason Sunday baseball is beneficial for the elimination of the Sunday-selling evil and of great aid to the Anti-Saloon League in suppressing
 it."

TRUSTS IN CANAL ZONE

Combination Succeeds in Forcing Up
 All Prices

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Provisions
 trust and combinations in the Isthmian canal zone succeeded in increasing the price of meats, vegetables, fruits, more than 100 per cent and forced the Isthmian canal commission to pass a resolution at a recent meeting enabling its agents to buy supplies in the open market and without advertising for bids.

Members of the commission say they discovered that all the dealers in provision who had sufficient capital to furnish the bond required of bidders on supplies had pooled their interests and cornered the contracts for all vegetables, meats and fruits required for the Isthmian canal zone. The combination was in a position to demand prohibitive prices and the commission was forced to change its methods and enable small dealers and producers to compete for the business.

NEGRO CONVICTS ESCAPE PRISON

When they don't, what lameness of the side and back, what yellowness of the skin, what constipation, bad taste in the mouth, sick headache, pimples and blotches, and loss of courage, tell the story. The great alternative and tonic Hood's Sarsaparilla Gives these organs vigor and tone for the proper performance of their functions, and cures all their ordinary ailments. Take it.

Dodge being asked for a legal opinion in the premises, said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: Under the Terrell election law it will be necessary for this convention to nominate a ticket today. "Of course, if the business of the convention were such as to make it impossible to finish today, the construction might apply as in the case of a state convention, but I would hardly advise anything like adjourning from day to day."

The committee on state delegation made a report which was objected to by A. L. Matlock, one ground being that eleven of the proposed delegates were from the city and but three from the country.

Mr. Matlock stated the other list had been prepared for weeks in advance and he had seen some of the copies and it was a cut and dried proceeding. Mr. Hanger, Mr. Matlock, Captain Padlock, Mr. Stewart, and others participated in the debate.

It was read and adopted without a negative vote. The delegates are:
County Clerk: John A. Key, 2,549; R. L. Rogers, 2,860; Walter G. King, 956; H. S. McNatt, 631; Milton L. Williams, 313.

Our Great Clean-Sweep Sale Scoring an Instant Success

The reasons are summed up in a very few words—the bargains are genuine and well worth coming for. August is clean-up time in this store. Every year we plan to clear out all goods in their own season. It's easy to see the magnitude of this sale when you add the necessity of clearance to the rebuilding causes. We refer with pride to the crowds of shoppers who attended the opening yesterday of the Clean Sweep Sale. There are several causes for this—truthful advertising, meritorious merchandise, under all previous sale prices. There is real merit in these bargains, because there is no rubbish—no antiquated styles; to the contrary, everything here that you would willingly pay full price for at the early part of the season. Present prices are all out of proportion to actual value, and the smallest saving averages a half—simply because there is much to get rid of before the great tear-up and re-arrangement of stocks.

LET NOTHING KEEP YOU FROM THIS CLEAN-SWEEP SALE

WOMEN'S SUMMER WEAR---Radical and Sweeping Reductions

EVERYTHING that savors of summer-time must go. The washable Linen and Lawn Suits and Dresses, the Waists and Skirts, also Silk Suits, Waists and Skirts and light weight Woolens—none to be shown in the new department, which is to be the largest and grandest in the entire Southwest. While there is yet ten weeks of warm weather ahead, it's high time for us to get rid of summer stocks. PRICES ARE REDUCED REGARDLESS OF VALUE; in fact, in many instances you don't pay half makers' cost. Will you ignore such bargains? A fact to be kept in mind is that these represent the pick of this season's styles, and you may choose with confidence. Remember, everything is reduced. One could buy blindfolded and get a bargain. We mention only a few of the many hundred price advantages. Small lines are not mentioned at all. Our advice is—come, stroll through the fan-cooled store; pick here and there things at actual half worth.

BEAUTIFUL BELMONT TERRACE

NEW QUALITY HILL

THE IDEAL LOCATION FOR HOMES

There is no exaggeration in the statement that Belmont Terrace is one of the most attractive residence sections which has yet attracted attention to citizens of Fort Worth. This addition lies just northwest of Marine, being bounded on the west by the Trinity, and occupies one of the most elevated locations in Tarrant county, overlooking Rosen Heights, Arlington Heights, all Fort Worth and North Fort Worth, and all of the country to the west as far as the eye can see. It is one of the most scenic locations to be found in the entire boundaries of Tarrant county. Its shape is rectangular, having its greatest length extending north and south Grand avenue, the main thoroughfare, is a beautiful street, graded and graveled, and is bordered on either side by a fine, wide concrete walk, which extends the entire length of the terrace. Another concrete walk extends east from Grand avenue to the Northern Texas Traction Company's street car line, thus giving every family living in this attractive addition all of the advantages of the Traction Company's entire system. NEW ADDITIONS TO FORT WORTH

UPBUILDING OF SUBURBS

Fort Worth Is Leading the Entire State

SAYS I to myself, says I—"A home is the thing to buy." Situated almost in the center of the most fertile and productive area on earth, with a princely domain of undeveloped territory to the west, northwest and southwest, Fort Worth, to use the humor of Bill Nye, is "afflicted with an enlargement of the suburbs," the best part about it being the fact that, instead of being harmful, the "attack" is proving healthful for the city and purging the densely populated parts of the city of "too many people in one place," sending them forth to live on the outer edge of the city—happy and contented and in full enjoyment of all the benefits of city life, while they have the natural freshness of the rural districts.

The people of Fort Worth have met the increase of population with a heroism worthy of emulation by other Texas cities in that the additional inhabitants have been prepared for by extending the residence sections until Fort Worth today has more thirty suburbs than any Texas city. When people began pouring into the gates of the Panther City, the property owners had their eyes opened. Improvements in houses for rent in the down town section were followed by an increase in the rental. Additional accommodations and conveniences were found to be the things that the incoming population demanded and they were willing to pay for their demands. Salaried men were more able to pay for the things that their tastes demanded.

Then commenced the building of new residences. At first, people wondered who intended to live in these new houses. But it was found that they were all occupied, while several applicants were turned away, in almost every instance. It was found that people considered an average five-room cottage with modern conveniences well worth from $25 up per month.

When this state of affairs began to be in Fort Worth, the men with money saw what an investment was ahead in real estate and they invested.

Today in Fort Worth there is a strong demand for new houses. The advance of the city in measure with the stride of the state has caused advent of factories, mills, etc., and these mean the employment of skilled labor to the extent of thousands of men. These men will receive good wages. Their managers, assistants, clerks and stenographers will have to live and will receive salaries to enable them to live comfortably and well. The increase in the size of mercantile establishments in Fort Worth is caused by the growth of the city and this, in turn means an increase in the working force employed by these lines of business.

And not alone have the business men and capitalists of the city taken advantage of the existing conditions in the real estate market to invest their surplus funds in realty, but the working people of the city—the men who furnish the brawn of enterprise and revolve the wheels of labor—these have seen the chance to own their own homes and hundreds of them have bought property.

These investments have been made in the suburbs. Why? Because your salaried man, your working man and your day laborer stands in need of quiet after the turmoil of the day is done. He wants a "cozy corner" and he is going to have it. He is also willing to pay for it.

To those who come in honestly, desiring to obtain a home and really pay for it out of their earnings, the real estate men of Fort Worth have been able to offer extra inducements in the way of location, health, accessibility and price and these bargains have been "snapped up" from month to month until the prices gradually growing upward have begun to realize profits for the owners of property.

HI-MOUNT

The Beautiful Residence "Place" of Fort Worth

Elegantly situated just to the west of the hustle and bustle of the Panther City, at a splendid elevation lies Hi-Mount, an exclusive residence section, built on the "place" idea by Messrs. Boyd Clarke and H. S. Bunting.

This beautiful and exclusive residence section is one of the few "place" districts in the South and southwest, and is after the style of the St. Louis "places." The civic beauty impossible in unrestricted residence sections puts the place in a class by itself.

At the entrance of Hi-Mount is a magnificent and costly gate, and the boulevards leading therefrom and throughout the section add wonderfully to the natural beauty of the picturesque place.

The aristocratic settlement is still more striking by the shade trees that present themselves either side, and the other conveniences make in their entirety a place for a home.

Light, water and sewerage city conveniences are afforded the resident of Hi-Mount and there are lots, all of which offer excellent building sites.

The term restricted as referred to this "restricted" residence section applies to a ruling usually provided by a clause in the deed to each lot providing that the residence to be erected thereon shall not cost less than a specified sum. Stories of all kinds are barred from these "places" in order that the plan to have private residence section may be strictly carried out. Nor are the streets public ways.

SILVER LAKE TOWNSITE

Latest in...
Ideal Spot for Homes
Breezes Are Fr...

One of the most notable expansions of Fort Worth in the past two or three years has been the rapid growth of the Silver Lake section.

Addition after addition opened outside the city limits. The Hemphill street car line sale of lots has been large. Many splendid homes erected there and many moderate means have sought cation because the lots are large—often twice the size of those in the city proper. These large lots allow room for orchards, gardens and plant for the barnyard back a distance from the house. The advantages of this beautiful district are many. The city, electric lights, telephone service, all parts of the city, and minute street car service in business centers of Fort Worth.

One of the latest additions in this locality is the Silver Lake addition, situated on the Hemphill car line and the Hemphill Heights addition. The land is well drained and dry and from any part of the court house may be seen. A beautiful lake cleaves the land and is well stocked with fish. No fishing is permitted except to purchasers of property.

The Silver Lake addition covers about seventy acres and is divided into seventy-one blocks. Each block is equal in size and this method of sale is a cause of the increasing popularity of larger tracts for suburban homes. The prices which the Kuykendall Investment Company is asking for the property are very low. Blocks are sold at a figure of $650 with a plan of payments. E. S. Kuykendall, C. Clarke are the members controlling the property. The blocks has been brisk and one-third of the lots has been disposed of.

The fact that this land is near the belt factory and the site of the new cement plant, Lola Cement Company, make the most desirable residence now offered for sale on the edge of the city.

Do you spend sleepless nights listening to the merry tinkling windows? Can you name the dust upon your best furniture? Have you dusted it off carefully the winter season, when the northern whistles through loose windows and doors, use more fuel than at other times?

SILVER LAKE THE LATEST IN FAVOR

Ideal Spot for Home, Where Breezes Are Fresh

One of the most notable features of the expansion of Fort Worth during the past two or three years has been the rapid growth of the far South side.

Addition after addition has been opened outside the city limits along the Hemphill street car line and the sale of lots has been large in every case. Many splendid homes have been erected there and many people of moderate means have sought that location because the lots are usually large—often twice the size of the majority of lots in the city proper—and these large lots allow room for small orchards, gardens, and plenty of space for the barnyard back a suitable distance from the house.

One of the latest of the many additions in this locality to be opened is the Silver Lake addition, situated west of the Hemphill car line and between the Hemphill Heights addition and the bolt factory. This tract is situated high and dry and from any place on the tract the court house may be clearly seen. A beautiful lake clear as crystal adjoins the land and is well stocked with fish. No fishing is allowed except to purchasers of property in the addition.

The Silver Lake addition comprises about seventy acres and is divided into seventy-one blocks, and unlike other additions in this section, is being sold by the block instead of the lot. Each block is equal to six large lots and this method of sale is adopted because of the increasing demand for larger tracts for suburban homes.

The prices which the owners, the Kuykendall Investment Company, are asking for the property is considered very low. Blocks are sold at moderate figure of $650 with a plan of easy payments. E. S. Kuykendall and George C. Clarke are the members of the firm controlling the property. The sale of blocks has been brisk and in two weeks' time one-third of the property has been disposed of.

The fact that this land is located so near the bolt factory and not far from the site of the new cement plant of the Lone Cement Company, makes it among the most desirable residence property now offered for sale on the South side of the city.

Metal Weather Strip

Do you spend sleepless nights listening to the merry tune of rattling windows? Can you write your name in the dust upon your best furniture the same day you have fastened it off carefully? In the winter season, when the cold northern whistles through the loose windows and doors, do you use more fuel than at other times?

If so, have your home equipped with the Chamberlin Metal Weather Strip, and be forever free from this annoyance and expense.

ROSEN HEIGHTS AS PLACE TO LIVE

Highest Point in Vicinity of Fort Worth

The highest point in the vicinity of Fort Worth is one of the most attractive suburban towns in Texas or the southwest—Rosen Heights.

Overlooking the valley in which is located the Pittsburg of Texas—the Panther City of Fort Worth—Rosen Heights is cool and healthful when the city is hot and dusty. Rosen Heights is crowded with pleasure seekers when the summer nights make the city's inhabitants long to seek refreshments in the shade of the mountains. With her streets filled with pretty cottages and with business enterprises of all kinds springing up from all quarters and on all sides, Rosen Heights lives in peace with her neighbors, a separate community from the city and yet within a few minutes car ride from the heart of Fort Worth's downtown section.

Many people live in Rosen Heights who have business in the city. The business man finds that the cool days and the crisp nights in midsummer act as tonic upon the physical man and build up the constitution, while, to his family, he finds it a veritable Garden of Eden.

Pure water is supplied to the citizens of Rosen Heights and at reasonable rates. The high altitude of the place makes Rosen Heights most desirable as a family home. The absence of dust is restful to those who spend their days in the turmoil of industrial excitement. The street railway merger will substantially add Rosen Heights. The new company will be better able to care for the necessities of the people in the way of facilities and the expense will probably be reduced in the larger combination.

In the proper place for a most desirable residence suburb and with every natural advantage possible, Rosen Heights is progressing as probably not another suburb in Texas.

THE RESTRICTED ADDITION IDEA

All Eyes Turning to "Beautiful Hi-Mount"

The restricted addition idea has met with instant favor in Fort Worth. The promoters of Hi-Mount are meeting with nothing but success in their efforts to place handsome and costly residences upon their ground. Two of the recent purchasers when interviewed upon the subject expressed themselves as highly pleased with the location of their future homes.

Frank Sanguinet has purchased two lots in Hi-Mount and will commence the erection of a handsome residence at once. The house will occupy a position on a line between the two lots, leaving room for plenty of surrounding ground.

Mr. Sanguinet was born in St. Louis and is familiar with the restricted editions of Van De Venter Place and Westminster Place. He says he has always had a desire to own a home in such a location and consequently was not slow to take advantage of the opportunity when it presented itself. In speaking of the changes that have taken place in Fort Worth Mr. Sanguinet remarked that he used to hunt the long-eared jack rabbit on the same ground where his new home will soon stand. He has always considered it an ideal spot for a home, just the right distance from the business center. In case of accident to the street car service, Mr. Sanguinet says the walk to his house would not fatigue him in the least. He expects his property will double in value in a few years.

Dr. Frank E. Boyd is another purchaser of ground in Hi-Mount. The doctor has purchased three lots there and will at once commence to build a $10,000 home. The house will be colonial in style and the grounds surrounding it will be improved and beautified in keeping with the buildings. Dr. Boyd is an enthusiastic admirer of restricted editions and will undoubtedly infuse a number of his acquaintances and friends with the same spirit. Dr. Boyd believes that Hi-Mount with its natural advantages and the artificial aid of good artesian water, electric lights 10-minute car service, etc., will be the choicest residence section in Fort Worth in a few years. He says the street, Belle Place, where his own residence and that of Mr. Sanguinet will be located, will be all built up in a few months. He likes the way the promoters have gone about things and has great faith in their judgment in making sales to good people—the kind that make friends and agreeable neighbors.

QUALITY HILL OF NORTH FT. WORTH

Elevation Makes a Splendid Place for Home

The Quality Hill of North Fort Worth has at last been located and it is fast being recognized as such by home seekers from Fort Worth or other cities and states who wish to obtain their business interests in the city. Quality Hill was originally called Belmont Terrace and is still known as such, being referred to as the select neighborhood of the North side. Belmont Terrace is that section of the northwest resident part of the North Fort Worth bounded on the north by Park avenue, by Grand avenue on the east and by Central avenue on the south and extending west counts Grand, Belmont and Terrace avenues. As its name signifies, the entire Terrace crowns an elevation commanding a most splendid view ranging a distance of ten miles or more looking down as it were, on Rosen Heights and White City and well in view of Arlington Heights.

Homan avenue branch of the Northern Texas Traction Company's car line direct to the city, electric lights, water mains, telephones and plenty of the most exhilarating breezes are a few of the conveniences and pleasures enjoyed by the already many residents on Quality Hill.

Grand avenue is a wide level street paved and well graded about fifty feet wide, lined on each side by broad cement sidewalks. Work on other improvements is progressing very rapidly every day.

Mr. Hopkins of the North Fort Worth Townsite Company states that Quality Hill is the lion-ton community of Fort Worth and his claim is substantiated by the fact that residences now building in Grand avenue range in cost from $2,300 to $3,500, the minimum cost having been placed at $2,000.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY AND WILL PREVAIL

is stranger than fiction in some cases, and we think we can prove conclusively to the public, that beautiful ROSEN HEIGHTS

the wonder in the real estate line, that has ever been placed before them. From a BROAD PRAIRIE THREE YEARS AGO, it has grown to be a LITTLE CITY of 5,000 SOULS, and now that the great MERGER has taken place, it will continue to grow more rapidly even than before, lots will naturally advance in price. We believe we have the best property that has ever been offered, and those that have purchased from us will verify the fact that values have advanced beyond all expectations. We

for a short while only, continue our low prices, and easy terms—$5.00 down and $5.00 per month, or $1.00 per week, with no taxes to pay and no interest. This should appeal to your better judgment and get you to lay aside something for a rainy day. Do not delay too long, and we again urge, and considered a change in residence. One trip through North Fort Worth will convince one of the progressive spirit now reigning in that city and a walk or a drive through Belmont Terrace on Quality Hill only a few blocks west of Main street will convincingly substantiate the above claim.

Silver Lake Addition to Fort Worth, Texas

The above cut represents "SILVER LAKE ADDITION," just as it appeared three weeks ago, when put on the market for the first time, except the word SOLD is used frequently, which goes to prove the good judgment of people who are looking for investments. Remember, we are selling this entire addition in BLOCKS only, and the price will remain at $650 per block until August 15, with reasonable cash payment, balance four years. The location is the very best, being directly south of the courthouse, and only two blocks from the Hemphill car line, which now gives fifteen-minute service. Almost half the addition has been sold, and as there were not many blocks to begin with, it is safe to predict that the balance will go before the month has passed.

Opportunity knocks but once in a lifetime of every man, and you are the one to lose if you fail to avail yourself of this chance. The city, on account of conditions, is compelled to grow south, and considering the price of these blocks, this is the best proposition for investment in the city. We are prepared to accommodate all who desire to inspect this property, and expect to be busy all next week, so come as early as possible.

Millions Just To Be Clean

THE mammoth Pabst Brewery is a model of neatness that might well be taken as a pattern by other pure food manufacturers. Millions have been spent on the Pabst plant to make the manufacture of Pabst Beer absolutely clean, pure and wholesome.

Pabst Beer is not fermented in open vats as is usual in breweries—but in sealed tanks where no air but pure, filtered air can reach it.

Pabst Beer is not cooled in rooms where men walk in and out, but in specially constructed coolers where no hands can touch it, no breath of foul air can taint it.

Pabst Beer is stored and aged only in specially constructed, hermetically sealed tanks that are kept pure and clean by rinsing only with filtered water. Absolutely no chance is taken for the slightest contamination by dirt, germs or tainted air.

Pabst Beer, in addition to being the cleanest beer, is a pure beer—the most wholesome beer because made only from the "Pabst exclusive process eight-day malt," which retains all the rich nutrition—the strength and health building elements—of the barley, and the exclusive Pabst process of brewing with eight-day malt makes Pabst Blue Ribbon the perfect beer in age, purity and strength.

When Ordering Beer, call for Pabst Blue Ribbon.

MAY ACCEPT BID OF T. C. RUSHING

City Made Money by Sprinkling in July

Notwithstanding the fact that the city is shown to have gained $150 during the month of July by doing its own sprinkling, the report was current Saturday night on the streets that, of the two bids received by the street and alley committee, following the advertising for bids to do the city sprinkling, the contract will be awarded to T. C. Rushing.

Two bids were received by the city—one from Ballard & Humphrey and the other from Mr. Rushing. The bids are divided into five classes, on each of which a separate amount is placed by the bidder. Class 1 is for business frontage per lineal foot, class 2 for business sideage; class 3 for residence sideage; class 4 for residence per mile from the city.

Ballard & Humphrey have bid 1 cent on class 1; 1/2 cent on class 2; 1 cent on class 3; 1/2 cent on class 4, and $4.33 monthly, charge per mile. T. C. Rushing makes a rate of 4 cents per mile on class 1; no bid on class 2; 2 cents on class 3; 1 cent on class 4, and nothing from the city.

The matter will be acted upon in a report by the committee on sprinkling to the next session of city council.

BOTH WIN FORTUNES

Sons of Sunny Italy Made Rich Beyond Fondest Dreams.

Special to The Telegram.
DENVER, Colo., August 4.—Ettore Crippa, better known as "Hector," formerly head waiter at the Adams hotel, has won the grand prize in the Italian national lottery and is $100,000 richer by his winning than he was last May, when he left the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, for a vacation in his old home, Milan, Italy.

Albert Stali, compatriot of Crippa's, and one time chef at the Adams hotel, has made a lucky strike in the mines near Idaho Springs and can now travel around the country in his private car if he so desires.

The lives of the two men have run side by side since their boyhood days. They both received their training at Monte Carlo hotels and they both became imbued with the spirit of that celebrated gambling place and were always willing to take a "chance."

They came to this country on the same steamer and after knocking around the country while secured positions at the Antlers hotel, Colorado Springs, Crippa, who was known as the "light haired Italian who had a glorious voice," became head waiter. His compatriot presided over the destinies of the kitchen. Later the two men came to the Adams hotel in Denver and held the same respective positions here.

LAST OF 13 TO DIE

No One Is Left in This Kansas City Family

Special to The Telegram.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 4.—Patrick J. Foley, who died at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Mary Dooley, was the last of a family of 13 to die. The mother and father and 11 children have followed each other to the grave in rapid succession in the last few years. All the children were grown at the time of death. They were large, healthy appearing men and women.

"Thirteen" has proved to be an unlucky number in this family. One undertaker has buried the bodies and all lie side by side in St. John's cemetery in the West side.

"I have enough pledged votes to prevent the election of either on the first ballot, and as I am the second choice of the supporters of both Mr. Love and Colonel Peeler, I feel satisfied with the situation. The fact is, there will be less than twenty votes between us on the first ballot."

SHAFT AIMED AT GEN. WOOD

Army Captain Accuses Noted Officer of Unfairness

RETRIAL ASKED

Case Attracting Great Interest and Matter Will Be Laid Before Taft

Special to The Telegram.
LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 4.—The court-martial of Captain Louise Koehler, at the instance of General Leonard Wood, commander of the Philippine division of the army, on the charge of using intemperate language toward a superior officer is attracting deep interest in military circles. The intemperate language complained of occurred in an official letter by Captain Koehler, appealing to the secretary of war, in Manila, where he is general Wood, in which the division commander is accused of "unfair, unjust and illegal acts," and of trying to injure the character of Captain Koehler as an officer and a soldier.

Trouble Started Years Ago
The trouble which culminated in the court-martial set for November, started about a year ago when Captain Koehler with his troop of cavalry took station in the department of Mindanao. The quarters for the soldiers were inadequate and in violation of regulation. Captain Koehler made a request of Major General Hugh T. Scott, civil and military commander, to have them repaired.

Controversy Grew Warm

It is alleged that Major Scott paid no attention to the requests. The controversy between Major Scott and Captain Koehler warmed up and finally ended in Captain Koehler filing charges through military channels against Major Scott, accusing him in substance of neglect of duty and incompetency. When the charges reached General Wood a court of inquiry, the usual method in military procedure, was instituted.

Koehler Reprimanded
Koehler's trial was followed by General Wood giving Captain Koehler a reprimand and in violation of regulation Captain Koehler appealed from this to the secretary of war. In his official letter appealing to the head of the army, Captain Koehler reviewed most of the trouble and makes direct accusations against General Wood of unfairness and illegal acts and says that he is the victim of prejudice, bias and even malice.

Letter of Appeal

Captain Koehler's letter of appeal says: "I have the honor to submit herewith an appeal to the secretary of war with request that it receive careful consideration and that you will believe I have been injured in my character and reputation as an officer and soldier by unfair, unjust and illegal acts of Major Scott, my department commander. Major General Leonard Wood, I ask for a revision of the secretary of war of my department court martial at Jolo, Philippine Islands, under S. O. No. 8, headquarters department of Mindanao, P. I., August 11, 1906, that the proceedings, findings, sentence and reprimand be set aside for the following reasons:

Denied Counsel

"I was practically denied counsel by the secretary of war, and was compelled by him and the court to proceed to trial with no counsel. The proceedings will show that I asked for Captain T. B. Rivers, Fourth cavalry, and the department commander refused the request. The severity, even to harshness of the reprimand administered, shows prejudice, bias, unfairness and a preconceived conviction that I was guilty as charged.

Evidence of Guilt Lacking
"There was no evidence produced by the prosecution to show that my charges against Major Scott were 'malicious' yet the reviewing officer insists that I should have been found guilty as charged without any evidence to support such allegation. Whether the charges, grounds or not, are vexatious is a matter of opinion, but the court on the evidence produced is of the opinion that my charges were not vexatious, not groundless, as well as not malicious.

Important Witnesses Absent
"I was then ordered to Jolo to proceed with the trial. I did not know then what the charges were and did not get a copy of them until I reached Jolo. Without counsel, without witnesses and especially without the principal witness, Major Scott, was absent in the United States, I was harassed and handicapped by the feeling that I was helpless and at the mercy of a superior who would make use of every unfair advantage to harm me and protect his own personal friend, Major Scott.

Wants Sentence Set Aside
"The case has so many irregular and unusual features and I am so thoroughly possessed with the feeling that I have not been given a fair trial, but have been the victim of prejudice, bias and even malice, that I beg for a full and complete review of the case at the hands of the secretary of war with a view of setting aside of the findings, sentence and reprimand."

CHAINED TO BED

Special to The Telegram.
PUEBLO, Colo., August 4.—Edward Barnett, the alleged "cow" man, who has twelve bullet holes in different parts of his anatomy, has become so obstreperous that it has been found necessary to shackle him to his cot at St. Mary's hospital to prevent him from killing or injuring other patients at that institution.

Barnett was recently shot six times by Richard Vernon, a young English cowboy from Texas, who accused him of securing $20 by means of a bogus check.

Yesterday Barnett became enraged and began playing football with his fellow patients. He respected neither broken limbs nor broken heads, and when the cries of the patients for help brought some of the hospital attendants to the ward, the officers were summoned and Barnett was shackled to his bed and extra care will be taken from now on that Barnett does not escape before he has been tried on several serious charges.

Ever since he has been in the ward, Barnett has been the terror of all the other patients. He spends most of his time cursing some one. The officers, the state, the hospital, the attendants and his fellow sufferers come in for a share. Barnett did a great deal of bragging at all times until he was shackled to his bed and now he is as meek as a lamb.

Then proceed, placing all the other pieces according to the corresponding pin holes. All the pieces marked with the Roman figures (XII, XIII, etc.) are for the bust, and this is to be built up like the head. As you mount each piece brush cold fish glue over it thoroughly, press each piece down until it adheres firmly. When finished remove the pins. Spread with a thick mixture of flour and white enamel or paint so as to make a smooth surface over all the work. Then give a coat of liquid enamel and mount it on a dark background.

THE WORK REV.
MORRIS IS DOING

A Childless Home for Every Homeless Texas Child

Rev. I. Z. T. Morris of Polytechnic Heights, who is doing so much for the fatherless and motherless children of Fort Worth and Texas, says that there is a childless home for every homeless child in Texas.
Rev. Morris has just made a statement of the work he did during July and in it he says that thirty-two applications for children were received. Probably not all of these could comply with the rules of Mr. Morris, as he places children only in homes where there are no other children. In addition to this he makes it a rigid rule not to put out children in homes where they will be treated as servants, but allows children to enter only those homes that want the children for the children's sake.

During July he received ten children for the first time, returned eight for replacement, placed two in homes for the first time and visited eight in their homes. Six children were replaced in their homes and at the present time he has in his charge two girls about 14 years of age, one girl of 9 and two boys who are brothers and 10 and 11 years, respectively. In addition to these he also has a 2-month-old babe for which he wishes to find a suitable home.

The sheriff of Harris county sent a girl of 14 years to Rev. Morris Friday night and the latter will endeavor to find a home for her. This girl came to Houston from Mississippi and was placed in a home in Houston, but has disliked the place, claiming that she was abused.

Besides the work mentioned above, Rev. Morris during the month aided six poor persons and received from all sources $137 to carry on the work. He traveled in all 1,000 miles in the interest of homeless children. He extends his thanks to the friends who have aided him in his work of real charity.

INDIAN ROLLS READY

Task of Thirteen Years Is at Length Finished.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., August 4.—With the closing of the rolls of the five civilized Indian tribes, a work which employed an average of fifty men for thirteen years, practically came to an end. The commission in charge of the work passed upon the right of 300,000 applicants for enrollment and approximately 95,000 made good their claims. New applications can be made only through a special act of congress.

The commission, known as the Dawes commission, which had the work in charge, was created under the Cleveland administration, and it was thought at the time that the work would be completed within five months.

An abstract of the enrollment work to July 1, 1906, shows the following number to have been passed upon and found entitled to allotments:

In the Choctaw nation, 24,916; Creek nation, 17,883; Chickasaw nation, 10,522; Cherokee, 27,111; Seminole, 2,112. This includes freedmen (negroes) and intermarried white citizens.

ASK PRESIDENT TO SQUARE SELF

Roosevelt Scored for Condemning Packing Houses

Last Tuesday the New York Times published the following from the pen of John Brisben Walker:

Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States—Dear Sir: Twelve days since I forwarded to you a carefully prepared report covering more than 120 typewritten pages upon the conditions prevailing at one of the great packing houses examined. As the conclusions would tend to place in its proper light a portion of an industry which has been included in a sweeping condemnation, sent out under authorization of every hour the news of the day, I had hoped that it would receive your personal consideration; or be given to the public to judge on its merits. But nearly two weeks have elapsed, and beyond four secretary's formal acknowledgment, no attention has been given.

My investigation was made in the most thorough manner. I availed myself of every source of information in addition to the most searching personal examination. My report goes over the conditions in minute detail and shows that an extraordinary injustice has been done in placing in one category all the packing houses of Chicago, good, bad, indifferent, and publishing to the world, as applying to all, charges of the most injurious character—charges which are certainly without truth so far as they concern Messrs. Swift & Co.

That the report of Messrs. Neill and Reynolds has been given to the press of Europe and America as applying to all the packing houses, without qualification, has worked great injustice.

What would be thought of the generalization which, endeavoring to describe our American newspapers, could ascribe to all the faults of the black mailing weekly or least scrupulous daily?

When an error has been committed, it is all the more important that reparation should be made, however embarrassing, to acknowledge the mistake at every hour the news of the day, layed makes the situation more deplorable.

Permit me, therefore, Mr. President, to call your attention to a few words to the substance of the conclusions arrived at as the result of more than twelve days given up interruptedly to this work I found:

1. That the report of Messrs. Neill and Reynolds conveys wrong and misleading inferences in every important particular, so far as it pertains to the establishment in which my investigations were conducted.

2. That the examinations which I have made into the affairs of Swift & Co. show conclusively that their business is conducted upon a basis of the highest character, with but a single exception. This exception concerns "rebates" which presumably this house took, as it was engaged in a keenly competitive trade, and must have gone out of business if it had refused to carry on its affairs upon the same advantages for shipment possessed by its rivals. This was made a matter almost of necessity by the failure of the several Presidents of the United States to enforce the interstate commerce law and the Elkins act.

Discusses Rebates.
For that is what a failure to execute the laws means: that not only is dishonored advantage given over the people, but honest men living up to the letter of the law must be driven from business by their more unscrupulous competitors.

In discussing this subject with the president of the Swift company he asked me, in reply to one of my own questions regarding rebates: "What would you have done?"

The answer was easy: "Refuse rebates and denounce those Presidents after the passage of the Elkins law allowed it to stand practically a dead letter on the statute books, conniving at fraud that at least allowed themselves through fear of political consequences to be intimidated."

Third—I found that there was not a share of this company's capital stock that had not been paid in one hundred cents on the dollar—no "cuts and dogs" no trademarks, no "good will" of any kind, but honestly invested capital without sneaky or subterfuge.

Fourth—I found the business managed on the basis of extraordinary skill, apparently every scientific economy being practiced, and best of all, as I show clearly in my report, the public getting the benefits of these economies.

Fifth—I found that the profits to the stockholders, over a long series of years, had been but 7 per cent, and really worth some 6,000 holders who divided this.

Sixth—That this dividend of 7 per cent represents a charge made to the public on all business done by the company—Dear Sir: Twelve days since I forwarded to you a carefully prepared report covering more than 120 typewritten pages upon the conditions prevailing at one of the great packing houses examined. As the conclusions would tend to place in its proper light a portion of an industry which has been included in a sweeping condemnation, sent out under authorization of every hour the news of the day, I had hoped that it would receive your personal consideration; or be given to the public to judge on its merits. But nearly two weeks have elapsed, and beyond four secretary's formal acknowledgment, no attention has been given.

My investigation was made in the most thorough manner. I availed myself of every source of information in addition to the most searching personal examination. My report goes over the conditions in minute detail and shows that an extraordinary injustice has been done in placing in one category all the packing houses of Chicago, good, bad, indifferent, and publishing to the world, as applying to all, charges of the most injurious character—charges which are certainly without truth so far as they concern Messrs. Swift & Co.

That the report of Messrs. Neill and Reynolds has been given to the press of Europe and America as applying to all the packing houses, without qualification, has worked great injustice.

Miss Ault Writes of Salome

Miss Lucy Ault, who is in Koln, Germany, studying the violin, writes an account of Salome, the opera by Strauss, that is the present musical sensation of Europe. Those who have read Miss Ault's spicy comments on life in the "Fatherland" will further enjoy her sketch and estimate of the Strauss master composition.

The last of the festival plays was given last Monday. It was Strauss' opera "Salome." I was fortunate enough to gain admission to the final rehearsal and of course saw the opera the next night. As I understood it, the story is something like this:

The king is the stepfather of "Salome," who is high priestess of a pagan temple. She is a most beautiful woman and one of the slaves (a priest, I believe) loves her. Her father, the king, has imprisoned a prophet, John, who is preaching of the coming of a new king (the Saviour). Salome loves this man John and tries to win him to her faith by her beauty. The prophet is steadfast in his belief, however, and her wiles do not affect him. She pleads and begs him to accept her love, and her slave (the priest) in a jealous rage at seeing his beloved offering herself to another, plunges his sword into his own heart and dies at her feet. Salome orders the body to be carried away and resumes her pleading with John. He refuses her and proudly descends the steps of a well-like enclosure leading to his dungeon.

Salome's love changes to hate and she sets in a corner of the garden planning revenge. The king, a little the worse for wine, attempts to appease her with offerings of wine and fruit, which she refuses. At last he asks her to dance for him and promises to grant anything she requests of him. In spite of the mother's opposition the girl catches up a long veil and begins a languorous swaying dance that ends in a mad whirl.

The king is enraptured and tells Salome to name her wish. She asks for the head of the prophet John. The king is so overcome by the terrible request that he loses consciousness for a moment, during which time Salome tears the signet ring from his finger and, giving it to a slave, commands him to return with the prophet's head. He brings it on a platter (frankly, it looked to me very much like a calf's head without the dressing). Salome's revenge is accomplished; she falls on her knees before the hideous thing on the platter and addresses it in murmuring terms and also caresses it.

The king rushes out and soldiers entering take Salome to a prison and so it ends.

Strauss himself was a tenor opera. He is a tall, thin man with slightly stooped shoulders and the smallest voice imaginable. No doubt he has lost his voice by yelling at the orchestra members. The music is pronounced the perfection of discord by some and to others it is beautiful. For myself I must say that although I did not and could not fully understand it at the first hearing, I found later on that it suited the text exactly. The melodies (motives, I should say) are very original. The harmony is very often in-harmony and in some passages one would like to close his ears against the wailing discords. For instance, as the slave descends to the prophet's dungeon with the signet ring and sword, the oboe plays a B note with a most peculiar effect. It comes four or five times on the third beat of the bar. I have tried to make up my mind as to what the wailing note expressed. It may have indicated the tension to which Salome was drawn or perhaps each note was the sound of a drop of blood falling from the head on the platter, or perhaps it was the sound of the sword cutting through the bone in the head, or perhaps—well, I give it up.

After this peculiar wailing the music grows gradually louder and ends in a grand fortissimo as the head is being elevated. The story left a very bad taste in my mouth, but the discordant harmonies and the fascinating motives rang in my ears for several days after.

Miss Hazel Brann Gives a Party

Miss Hazel Brann was the hostess of a delightful party Tuesday evening from 7 to 10, the lawn and home of the Branns being filled with a happy group of young folks. On the lawn were placed comfortable chairs and here various tests such as successfully dipping potatoes on a spoon and carrying them a stated distance kept mirth at the highest. Mr. Brann at the piano kept going marches and martial music for the guests to keep time to in their entrance to the house and in the dining room, where they were given a short tannet to eat the table with its multitude of confections. Paul Woodward remembered the largest number of these and was given a handsome fountain pen. Miss Adelle Nedumager won a silver sewing set in a heap-shaped box from among the girls. After the ices and cakes were served Mrs. Brann distributed souvenirs to each of the guests, the girls getting a bonbon basket filled with choicest candies, the boys' sweets being in mandolin boxes.

CATARRH OF THE INTERNAL ORGANS OFTEN THE WORST FORM OF CATARRH

Miss Helen Spencer, of St. Louis, Was Afflicted For Years With Catarrh of the Liver. Pe-ru-na Brought Relief.

MISS HELEN SPENCER

"I am like a new person and feel perfectly well and happy. I never saw anything work like your valuable Pe-ru-na and it is a pleasure to recommend it to others."—Helen Spencer.

Miss Helen Spencer, 3224 Cook Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I gladly recommend Peruna to all those who are troubled with catarrh of the liver. That was my trouble for years and I know all about it. I was tired, despondent, had a bad taste in my mouth in the morning and felt generally used up nearly all the time. I took Peruna because I had taken about everything else and felt so badly that it seemed imperative that I should still keep on taking.

"I am like a new person and feel perfectly well and happy. I never saw anything work like your valuable Peruna and it is a pleasure to recommend it to others."

Catarrh of the liver is a new phrase to many people. Many will say, "I never heard of catarrh of the liver," but the very people who say this may be afflicted with the disease.

COOLING DRINKS FOR SUMMER TIME

JERSEY CREAM'S SUCCESS

A Delicious Drink for the Thirsty Palate

The Jersey Cream Company was organized about five months since, for the purpose of manufacturing Jersey Cream syrup, extracts, ciders, etc. The officers of the corporation are: W. G. Newby, president and treasurer; J. W. Day, vice president; C. J. Howell, secretary and manager.

The company has enjoyed the most unique success of any concern of a like nature on record. They have succeeded in placing Jersey Cream with over 200 of the leading bottling works in the southern states, who are bottling Jersey Cream under authority from Jersey Cream Company of Fort Worth, and are meeting with great success. The company now has on its books names of nearly 1,000 customers who are serving this popular drink at their fountains, and seem more than well pleased with results.

The company has been traveling from four to ten men for the past five months, working over the territory embracing ten of the largest southern states and territories. On file are letters from customers speaking for Jersey Cream, the greatest success ever attained by a drink of similar nature that has been put on the market.

The factory of the company is at the present time located on East First street, next door to the Rock Island Ice Company. However, it is the company's intention the following season to open up a wholesale extract and bottlers' supply house for the benefit of the southwestern trade, and will change the location to some suitable building in the wholesale district of the town.

It is now possible for a party from Fort Worth to secure a drink of Jersey Cream at nearly all of the large cities in the southern states, even though he may be 1,500 miles away from home.

Messrs. Benton and Howell have entire charge of the sales and order department and it is largely due to their efforts that Jersey Cream has enjoyed such a wide distribution.

Jersey Cream is a drink which combines the best qualities of several well known soft drinks and adds to the combination a delicious flavor which makes it most palatable. It is at once refreshing and satisfying and leaves the drinker with a sense of having taken something which brings no after effects and effectively quenches the thirsty palate.

EGG DRINKS POPULAR

Some of the Tempting Concoctions at the Quality Drug Store

"Summer drinks!" Well, I guess yes. I think I have the most tempting lot of summer drinks that ever went over the counter of a soda fount. And that is not said in self-praise. They are in favor. Why, I have the finest lot of egg drinks that was ever dispensed. Just look over these.

And Mr. Anderson of the Quality Drug Store called out: Egg-midge, Egg-sour, Snowball, Siberian Flip, Egg-chocolate—all egg drinks of course and the most popular drinks in the store.

"The business on these drinks," continued Mr. Anderson, "has increased at an enormous rate. Our trade this year is more than fifty times what it was last, and is still growing."

"Why?" "Well, that is easy to answer. Ever notice my sign 'Quality Stands First in This Store'?" That answers the whole question. The business done over the soda fount is looked after just as closely as the prescription department. Cleanliness is insisted upon. Our patrons appreciate this and when you serve a first class drink of the kind we have, the problem is solved. Everybody wants it. Besides, you know an egg is invigorating, and serves as an excellent food."

Another one of the popular drinks served at this fount is that of Cocacelery. Mr. Anderson's own preparation. A slow sale at first, it has grown to be in great demand, and today the sales run up to over 500 gallons annually.

"Limeade? Yes, that is a fine seller, too. It is really a good healthful drink. Some stomachs need just such a tart. Then, of course, the way a thing is served counts and we know how to do that. There are many other fine drinks that go over our soda fount counter and we are just as particular with one as with another when we serve them."

NEAPOLITAN PUNCH

One of Most Refreshing of Drinks Is to Be Found at Blythe's

It may be said that the present season has brought out more new soft drinks than any previous season since this form of summer refreshment has come into such popular favor. Among these drinks may have been good and some not so good as "the proof of the pudding is in the eating," so the test of soft drinks is their ability or inability to maintain popularity.

One of these drinks which has been before the public for a month is the Neapolitan punch, made and dispensed at Blythe's popular fountain, and it has steadily gained in favor since the first glass was served.

Mrs. Blythe says it is really a combination of half a dozen good things, any one of which would make a splendid drink. But the combination is so skilfully made as to give the resulting mixture a most pleasing flavor.

This same firm is also making a new ice cream which has been used but little, but which is popular with all those who have been so fortunate as to taste it. It is called Creme de Rose cream and it certainly is properly named, as it embodies both the aroma and flavor of the most delicately scented rose.

BLUE RIBBON A WINNER

A High-Class Concoction Made by H. T. Pangburn

"More than three years ago," said H. T. Pangburn, in speaking of the high-class of soft drinks manufactured in the Panther City, "we originated the blue ribbon cream, an ice cream made of purest cream and highly seasoned with selected nut meats."

"We have had great success with its sale from the very start, and that it is exceedingly popular is attested by the fact that we have built up a large family trade for it."

"Some days in the store here we have retailed as many as 250 and 275 orders of blue ribbon ice cream, which is manufactured only by H. T. Pangburn & Co."

"Yes, our trade is growing rapidly every month, and many people have wondered at the peculiar formula that gives this blue ribbon cream its delicious flavor. Pure and wholesome blue ribbon, I think, will always be popular with the young and old alike."

THE POET'S SODA FOUNT

It's Brashear's Place That Sets the Pace

Down at Twelfth and Main is located Mr. Brashear's drug store, and like most drug stores, this one has a soda fount. But unlike some drug stores its soda fount is of that high class that guarantees a most enviable trade in all first class soda fount drinks. The popularity of the different founts about Fort Worth is attributable to different causes. Each dispenser of soft cold drinks has his own distinctive way or manner of serving them. Some, also have special kinds of drinks that they prepare and push ahead of others while some, like Mr. Brashear, try to please the entire public by having all kinds of popular drinks. That Mr. Brashear has succeeded in his methods is evidenced by large crowds that throng his place from morning till night each day in the week.

"One of the things," said Mr. Brashear, "that I am very careful of and insist upon is that one gets just what one calls for. We offer no substitute, but serve what is wanted if we have it—and we have the best drinks dispensed—besides every thing must be clean and pure. We make all our creams and no flavor is allowed to come into my store that it not of the very best and purest to be had."

Mr. Brashear's own popularity adds much to his general business. He is known in the city here as the poet druggist, and he writes like a bard of old times. Who has not seen it displayed in the newspapers in the shape of an advertisement as well as in its proper and correct places of adornment. Long live the poet druggist.

AT COVEY & MARTIN'S

Lime Mist One of the Season's Best of All Favorites

"Our leader? Our soda fount drink best liked? Well, sir, it's simply marvelous how that 'accidental' drink sells. We say 'accidental' drink for the reason that we discovered it purely by accident. We call it 'Lime Mist,' and it's certainly a winner," said Mr. Martin when asked about the leading soda fount drinks dispensed at the fount of Covey & Martin.

"It has grown to be our most popular drink and its sales have mounted sky high in comparison. Of course we have many other drinks of a special nature," explained Mr. Martin, "as well as all the most common ones called for, but aside from Lime Mist none have been more generally called for than our Georgia Betsy, a most delicious cream, which sells for 5c. The soda fount at this store is quite a large one and many are the hot, tired souls that go there for the joys found only in the cold draughts sucked through a straw from a glass of Lime Mist. But a Georgia Betsy leads them all. Nothing of its kind has ever equaled its demand. It is pure and it's good to look at. It tastes good, smell good and is good."

In spite of the large crowds continually refreshing themselves at this place there never seems to be any drag on the part of the dispensers in serving the drinks to the patrons. Polite attention is noticeable at all times, while the expert drink mixers toss the dainty and breakable glassware about in a manner that makes one stare in a maze of wonder.

There is rest for the weary at this place. If you are tired you may sit and rest. If thirsty you may sit under a fan and while drinking that which cools from within, let the cool breezes drive away the heat waves. Verily, it is a place of refuge. Go and try it.

OUR LAY SERMON "He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house."—Proverbs, 15:27.

Solomon, the wise one of the long ago, knew just exactly what he was writing about when he penned the text with which we begin this dissertation.

There is nothing on this earth that frightens the rich monopolist of today who is interested in the matter of public utilities, more than the apparent spread of socialism throughout this broad land of ours.

The monopolist and the citizen of average dimensions regret the spread of socialism from different standpoints, however. The monopolist is frightened by it because it threatens to destroy his private monopoly.

Chicago is now engaged in the consideration of the same kind of a proposition, and the indications are that municipal plants for the manufacture of ice will be scattered from one end of this country to the other within the next five years.

Private greed is doing more to spread the socialistic spirit in free America today than all other agencies combined. The cry that comes up continually from the masses of the people for government regulation and control of almost everything in sight is ample proof of this fact.

There is a splendid lesson in the situation for those railroad magnates who are opposed to rate regulation. Discrimination and oppressive freight rates are what brought about the unquenchable demand for railroad regulation by the government.

If the men who are engaged in still fighting railway regulation and control should be successful it means a far more radical development for the near future.

It means a further spread of socialism, embodied in the absolute government ownership of all the railroad in the country.

These are the true facts in the remarkable spread of socialism throughout America. The men who are the most bitterly opposed to what they so generally designate as socialism are propagating that doctrine as fast as their greed and avarice will permit them to do the work.

"He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house." And he is not only troubling his own house, but he is bringing grief upon the house of his neighbor. The spread of this idea of government regulation and control is ultimately going to bring much trouble upon this nation.

REBILLING AT FORT WORTH The cattlemen of Texas and the southwest are doing some hard work in an effort to obtain a reduction in live stock freight rates.

The cattlemen of Texas and the southwest are doing some hard work in an effort to obtain a reduction in live stock freight rates. There was a meeting held of representatives of the live stock industry in Kansas City a few days ago to agree upon some plan of action, and it was stated after the adjournment of that meeting that arrangements were being made to make a test case on existing rates for submission to the interstate commerce commission under the new law, but later developments indicate this is only to be done as a dernier resort.

Great secrecy has been maintained concerning the Kansas City conference, which was attended by about twenty-five representative cattlemen from Kansas, Colorado, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Texas. The men who participated in that conference have resolutely declined to give out one particle of information, although one participant did intimate broadly that a direct appeal was to be made to the interstate commerce commission in the matter of attempting to obtain reduced freight rates.

The trouble is this: I am a Texas cattleman and can best describe the common complaint from my own experience. If I send a car load of cattle to Kansas City, for instance, I must send them to Fort Worth, where they are rebilled. Now, that process of rebilling just costs me a dollar more per head than I would have to pay if I could ship my stock straight through.

Most of the states of the southwest have a board of railroad commissioners, and to them we have decided to appeal. We do not care to get into a contest over the matter if it can be avoided, and we hope the railroad commissioners can use their influence to have the rebilling process done away with.

The Texas republicans are thinking of putting Webster Flanagan up for governor, evidently under the impression that Web can enlighten them as to what they are here for.

The next time Tarrant county concedes the floor to the other counties comprising this florid district it is to be hoped that one of them at least can put up a man with a pole long enough to knock the perstimon.

A Knoxville man wants congress to pass a law against peek-a-boo waists. Aw, he's probably scheming for an appointment to an inspectorship.

If the Houston Post had just a little more time it is highly probable it could succeed in figuring Colquitt into position as the next governor of Texas.

The sun shines just as brightly in Fort Worth as it did prior to the state primaries.

Secretary Root is greeted with cheers in Brazil. Tastes differ. In this country a baseball bulletin is Texas will never have two public officials more generally liked than Cuberson and Bailey, but for the present the private citizens of the state will assume the responsibility of choosing a chief executive.

Senators Bailey and Cuberson are all right in their proper places and are honored by the people of Texas for what they are. But there is a very strong sentiment extant against permitting them to assume the role of governor makers.

The governor of Texas, no matter who he is, cannot go one step in legislative radicalism beyond that which the legislature itself goes. It is to the legislature that the state looks.—San Antonio Light.

The membership of the next legislature is of far more importance to the people of Texas than the selection of governor. The legislature is the branch of the state government charged with the making and unmaking of all our state laws.

The managers of Judge Bell contend that he is confident of success in the state convention at Dallas. Judge Bell must be easily inspired.—Sherman Register.

Not half as much as the other fellows. Judge Bell has claimed nothing except that the gubernatorial contest must be settled by the state convention. Judge Bell is perfectly willing to abide the will of the people.

Secretary Wilson has been making a tour of the packing houses on a schedule arranged and announced a month ahead, and he finds very little to complain of in conditions. A great deal can be done in the way of appearances in a month.—El Paso Herald.

There has been sufficient agitation against the packers for several months to cause them to do the necessary house cleaning without an official visit from Secretary Wilson.

bonded warehouses and rest there until the demand stimulates prices to the point that will compel it to move. And these horny handed sons of toll have also some additional plans that will doubtless prove quite interesting to the speculator. It is their intention to sell their product also directly to the spinners and thereby put a well developed crimp in the middle men. What the result will be is, of course, quite problematical, but the farmers are going about the undertaking in such a calm and methodical manner that it seems a case of confidence that has been well placed.

It is estimated that there are already more than 100 of these cotton warehouses in Texas, with capital stock ranging all the way from $5,000 to $15,000, and these storage houses are pretty well scattered throughout the cotton-producing area, some of them being located as far as 237 miles west of Fort Worth. These warehouses are to be placed in the hands of men who are well trained in the cotton business, who will be able to properly sample and classify the cotton as it reaches the warehouses. To properly equip men for this work an institution has been located at Dallas for the purpose of imparting the necessary instructions under the direction of a corps of experts, and it is believed that the graduates from this institution will be well qualified to do the work that lies ahead of them.

The farmers of Texas seem to be thoroughly in earnest in this matter and are going about it in a very businesslike way. They have long been imposed upon in the marketing of their cotton and have suffered the loss of millions of dollars. If they have at last devised a method of protecting themselves they are to be congratulated, for as the farmer prospers, so do all other interests with which he comes in contact.

There are rumors again that the suits filed at Austin against the Fort Worth Live Stock exchange are about to be settled and dismissed, and it is to be hoped that such will be the case. There has been enough trouble already over this matter, and no good can come from further agitation.

To use a slang west Texas expression Judge William D. Williams "ran like a scared wolf" in his race for railroad commissioner. He was the victim of considerable calumny, but he put up a race that has opened the eyes of the state to his wonderful sprinting ability.

The people of Tarrant county are to be congratulated on the excellence of their selections in the matter of filling the county offices. Good men will be nominated, and incidentally it may be truthfully remarked that some equally as good men were defeated.

That Dallas meeting of the Texas democracy on Aug. 14 will be one of the warmest in the history of the party in this state. There is going to be something doing when the politicians get together and undertake to name the next governor.

New buildings are going up all the time in Fort Worth, but according to the Factory Club, the present supply is not near equal to the demand. We must get busier in Fort Worth.

Some of the claims being made for the candidates for governor are just about as extravagant as those put forward prior to the primary. The wise man is not saying much but sawing a whole lot of wood.

The Texas republicans are thinking of putting Webster Flanagan up for governor, evidently under the impression that Web can enlighten them as to what they are here for.

The next time Tarrant county concedes the floor to the other counties comprising this florid district it is to be hoped that one of them at least can put up a man with a pole long enough to knock the perstimon.

THE GREATNESS OF TEXAS

The cantaloupe crop was cut short by half this year owing to the heavy rains, but the boys will never know it when they begin to gather in the fall sorghum crop from the same ground. Great is old Wil-barger. If one crop falls short another can be planted in time to make up for the loss.—Vernon Hornet.

It is always that way in Texas. One crop may be cut short or fall altogether, but there is always opportunity to score with another.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The south Texas way, rain or no rain, is to make at least two crops in one season, and it is a fact that several entirely new crops of cantaloupes have been harvested from the same vines this year.—Houston Post.

THE GEORGIA LEGISLATURE The Georgia legislature declared in favor of Jerome for President a few days ago and at this distance it looks very much like the Georgia legislature must have been very hard pressed for Presidential timber.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Amounts to nothing; it is only the Georgia way of making visitors feel that everything in sight is theirs; the Georgia legislature has no say coming to it in the matter of choosing Presidential nominees.—Houston Post.

WILL INDORSE BRYAN The Fort Worth Telegram suggests that the state convention adopt a resolution indorsing William J. Bryan. A thousand resolutions of this character have been prepared for the past two weeks. The delegate who is the first to be recognized for this purpose may be the next minister to Dahomey. No telling.—Houston Chronicle.

GREATNESS OF FORT WORTH And the fastest growing city not only in Texas but the entire southwest. The Fort Worth of today is the wonder and admiration of the entire country.—Fort Worth Telegram.

When Fort Worth gets up to 200,000 she will just be in a good healthy condition.—Glimmer Mirror.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS Most people would rather be forgiven than forgotten.

In politics a family tree doesn't count for so much as the stump.

Many a man looks everywhere for his worst enemy except in a mirror.

The best way to have your fortune told is to listen to the reading of a will.

The fellow who realizes his own foolishness acquires that much wisdom.

If it wasn't for the fact that a fool and his money are soon parted there would be no financiers.

He—I want you to think better of me. She—You seem to think so well of yourself that it isn't necessary.

Perhaps it would facilitate the continual tearing up of the streets if we could have them paved with paper.

No, Maude, dear; it is not considered a breach of etiquette to bow to the inevitable without a formal introduction.—Philadelphia Record.

VERDICT THAT BRING

SPRING IN CATTLE LAND The long and barren plain-awep Has been touched with faintest green And the wind from off the mountains Does not bare a tooth so keen; The colts and calves are frisking, Each flank without a brand— For the roundup call's been issued And it's spring in Cattle Land.

The steers have left the hollow Where they covered in the storm; They fatten on the bumper grass That crowns each hillside warm; And by yon lonely ridge Each bunch is closely penned— For the roundup call's been issued And it's spring in Cattle Land.

The broncho's sleek and shiny, And he's lost his rusty garb; And there's not a mark upon him Showing bite of spur or barb; But soon he'll feel the saddle And will buck just something grand— For the roundup call's been issued And it's spring in Cattle Land.

The boys down at the bunkhouse Are a-mending rope and cinch; They are picking out the horses That will work best in a pinch; And toward the boundless prairie Will ride each gay tophand— For the roundup call's been issued And it's spring in Cattle Land.

Nothing makes a man feel more important than to answer the questions of a small boy.

And sometimes a woman's so-called love ends because her husband declines to hand out the check.

Survey of the Field of Presidential Possibilities Which Starts Off with the Strenuous President Himself

- REPUBLICAN TIMBER
- Theodore Roosevelt, of New York
- William Howard Taft, of Ohio
- Charles Warren Fairbanks, of Indiana
- Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois
- Leslie Mortimer Shaw, of Iowa
- Elihu Root, of New York

BY GEORGE ROBERT AGNEWS.

IT IS a noteworthy fact that republicans, almost to a man, look upon William J. Bryan as the next democratic nominee for President. They admit that if William J. Bryan is elected governor of New York his prestige will be greatly enhanced, but they object to this with the statement that the strength of the democratic party is in the west and south, where Bryan is immeasurably stronger than any other man.

The general of an army, if he knows his business, learns what the enemy is about and about his plans accordingly. The fact that the republican generals are shaping their plans to fight Bryan is pretty satisfactory evidence that he is to be the next democratic nominee; for the republican generals have demonstrated that they know their business.

Assuming that Mr. Roosevelt will be able to retire, as he desires, the bulky figure of William H. Taft immediately attracts attention. In Washington, as well as in the country, large Secretary Taft is regarded as the most prominent republican next to his chief. He combines in his personality and his political make-up so many engaging qualities, and has been so fortunate in his career, that his nomination for the Presidency would not be anything more than a logical sequence.

There is much speculation as to Secretary Taft's acceptance of a place on the supreme bench which has been offered to him by the President. He will not be required to make his decision until next winter. By that time it is possible the future might be cast upon the Presidential campaign.

must also be left out. He is not especially prominent in connection with other question with the presidency. President Roosevelt said to a friend last winter: "If by walking on my hands and knees from here to the capitol I could secure the election of Elihu Root for President, I would gladly do it."

Senator Foraker. Senator Foraker of Ohio said last winter that he was not to be considered in connection with the presidency that in former years he had cherished the hope of becoming President, but that he perceived now the impossibility of realizing that great ambition.

Senator La Follette's peculiar manner of speaking has a great charm for a large class of people. The semblance of intense earnestness, the almost threatening visage, the enormous volume of voice coming from a small but muscular body, soon carry conviction straight to the hearts of his admirers.

Governor Cummins. Governor Cummins of Iowa is another "radical" who is sometimes spoken of as a Presidential possibility. He is a thorn in the flesh of "regular" republicans.

Some Others. A few other names are mentioned occasionally, as for example Senator Jonathan Prentiss Dolliver of Iowa; Senator Spooner of Wisconsin; Senator Beveridge of Indiana and others who are more or less prominent. The senate, however, has never been a steppingstone to the Presidency, and mention of these and other senators as Presidential candidates is mere idle gossip.

A Heavy Load to Carry. Along with dyspepsia, comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not hard work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor assimilation. BUSEFLOS A Horsey Tale by Geo. V. Wells. It is safe to say that no one ever wanted a horse any worse than little Sammy. He would have duplicated King Richard's extravagant wish and doubted it over again if offers would have brought the horse. But Sammy did not have any kingdom or anything else to offer, because he was a poor little boy, that lived on a poor little farm, managed by a poor little farmer who was Sammy's father.

The whole summer could be passed in telling how the ancient frame lived and thrived under Sammy's care, and how its bones rattled together when he never wore a coat in the summer time, but it is said that one of his worn trousers was missing when he arrived home at night, and that his hands were sorely bruised. It is absolutely true that from this time forward no one dared to dispute Sammy's title to the frame, and that not a boy could be induced to set out a thing about scarecrows or "skilletons" in Sammy's presence.

QUAKES NUMBER

200 PER MONTH

Socorro, N. M., Shaken, But Damage Is Slight

Special to The Telegram.
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 4.—
This is the rather unique bid for fame
made by the little town of Socorro, N.
M., seventy-five miles south of this city. In point of number of shocks experienced in a given time Socorro's claim to the championship goes unchallenged.

Since July 2 the town's inhabitants, numbering about two thousand, have experienced over two hundred quakes.
After reports that two-thirds of the town's buildings had been destroyed by earthquakes were given to the world, a personal investigation was made. The reports were greatly exaggerated, but there were numerous evidences of the many shocks, in cracked walls and the still apparent
uneasiness of the people.
Immediately after the first shock, on the morning of July 2, the town experienced eleven additional quakes.
They were accompanied by a low,
rumbling noise, and seemed to sway
the earth from west to east. Almost every shock since then was accompanied by this rumbling, and coming so numerously they kept the nerves of

COURT HOUSE, FIRE STATION AND ADOBE DWELLING AT SOCORRO, RECENTLY DAMAGED BY QUAKES.

the people at a high tension, driving them out of doors at the first alarm.
July 2 about eight shocks were felt,
July 3 many more, and daily and nightly since then the earth has rocked and swayed.

As these shocks continued, the superstitious native Mexicans congregated in large numbers at the Church of San Miguel, where they formed religious processions and marched through the streets.

The terror of the Mexicans and female population increased until many fled the town, but after twelve of fifteen days of the excitement their feelings suddenly underwent a change, and in place of abject fear came a contempt for an earthquake that could do so little damage.

A number of old adobe buildings bore numerous cracks as a result of the shocks, but in no instance was a building of any description demolished,
nor were any of the more pretentious
and substantial buildings damaged.
The Socorro fire department's building has a large crack in its rear wall, extending from roof to foundation.
The principal business street of the town, Manzanera avenue, on which are located the only brick business houses, shows no effect of the numerous quakes beyond a few small cracks
and substantial buildings damaged.
The court house, which was reported in ruins, has but two chimneys and some plaster jarred off.

It has been several days since any shocks whatever have been felt, the fears of the people are greatly alleviated, and almost all those who fled have returned. The court house is resuming its normal state.

JOHN D'S DOUBLE IN COURT

Man Who Looks Like Rockefeller Causes a Sensation

Special to The Telegram.
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 4.—A hush
of awe fell over the noisy corridors of the police court today.

"It's John D. Rockefeller," whispered
everybody at once.
Everybody became curious. In their curiosity the crowd closed in on the man who was causing all the excitement. Officer Sickles came to the man's rescue and attempted to clear a passage to the clerk's office.

"It's all right, it's all right, I am used to this," the man remarked to the officer who was attempting to assist him.

A reporter wormed his way through the crowd. "Mr. Rockefeller, why are you in the police court?"
A good natured smile was the answer. The question was repeated.
"I admire your persistency. You should be successful in this world; but (with a toothy smile) my name is J.
H. Anderson and not Rockefeller."

It is Superior Teachers that make a Conservatory Famous
YOU WANT THE BEST FOR YOUR CHILD
The greatest American Pianist is Edward Baxter Berry. The greatest Violinist in the South is Katherine Stewart. These famous musicians are at the head of departments in the London Conservatory and are assisted by thoroughly trained teachers of marked inborn gifts for imparting instruction, each teacher being enthusiastic in the work of teaching, and each has a strong magnetic and forceful character, being teachers "by the Grace of God," as the Germans say. This shows how London Conservatory has earned a National Reputation, and has attracted students from thirty-three states during its seven years of wonderful growth and remarkable success. The director has furnished four teachers for a well-known conservatory in New York, twelve to the Randolph-Macon Colleges of Virginia. The presidents of colleges in the Southwest call for many times more teachers than it has graduates to supply. London Conservatory has a Home Life with active religious influence. CHAS. W. CARDIO-THERMOGRAPH NAME OF NEW MACHINE

Heart Indicator Made by R. L. Costan of Fort Worth

RECORDS PULSE

Besides Heart Beats, It Will Make Record of Temperature for a Day

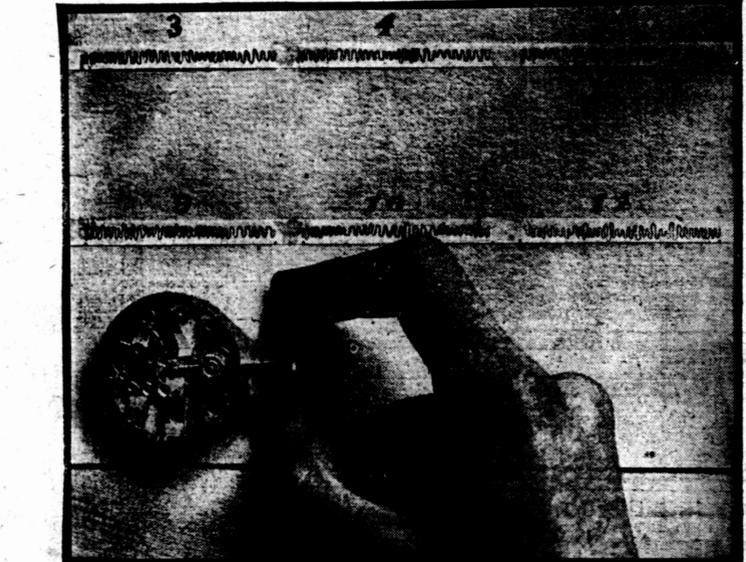

ROBERT L. COSTAN.

A new scientific instrument has been designed that its inventor, R. L. Costan, says will with unflinching accuracy record the heart beats of the one to whom it is attached, come they from whatever cause they may, in health or in disease, all can be made an imperishable record by this little instrument, which is in size no larger than a lady's watch. In health the pulsations of the strong man's heart can be made a record for comparison's sake; even the emotions can be made to write their story on the tape, be those emotions love, anger, pain or sorrow.

The rhythmic beat of the heart of the one who pursues the even tenor of his way can be shown in the regularity of the record. But that is not all. While the pulse record is made the temperature of the individual can be had at the same time and this, too, without the annoyance of the clinic thermometer. To one in health this may mean but little. To the one in ill-health it may, generally, do, mean heart action is well shown by the relative increases in the number of markings or tracings. This increase is the direct result of exercise and represents nothing pathological.

much, especially if the patient is nervous.

Records Cover 24 Hours
So that it may not interfere with the most nervous patient the instrument can be affixed to the body, over the heart, and for the full period of twenty-four hours if the record for that time is desired the instrument will set faithfully and as inexorably as time in its flight give a record of the minute variations in the pulse or temperature, indicating with accuracy the time when the variation ensued so that when the physician or the nurse takes the record in hand the reading is as plain as the clearly printed pages of a book.

Gives Temperature Record
The instrument is in no sense a toy, but a delicate, yet strong, scientific medical help. It is so strong that there is no liability of it getting out of order. It is as sensitive to the variations in the temperature of the one to whom it is affixed as the best of the clinic thermometers. By it the heart pulsations are pictured as accurately as by the sphygmograph. And this, too, with all of the mechanism of the recording instrument included in a case not larger than the average ladies' watch and so affixed to the patient that no inconvenience is caused.

The instrument is called the cardio-thermograph. It is so slight in size that it is burdensome to none, not even a child being disturbed by the presence of the instrument. A man in perfect health who may wish to test the variations in his pulse because of the changes in conditions or surroundings of the day, may strap the cardio-thermograph over his heart, go about his business and be aware of the fact that he is wearing it.

The cardio-thermograph is the evolution of much study, careful research and infinite labor on the part of Robert L. Costan of Fort Worth. Seven years ago the thought came into his mind and he has worked on its development until the present approach to perfection has been attained.

Made Miniature Locomotive
Mr. Costan is not unused to delicate mechanical work. Of that fact no better proof can be adduced than to direct attention to the miniature locomotive engine built by him in his leisure hours, a very busy man has many leisure hours; but anyway when his time was not taken up with his real work of diamond setting and expert goldsmith working.

That little engine is 4 1/2 feet long, with a total height to the top of the cab from the rails of 13 inches and runs on a 5/8 inch gauge track. There are over 3,000 parts to the engine and every one of those was made by Mr. Costan. It is a practical machine, even if it is small, for it was one of the successful exhibits at the St. Louis World's fair in 1904 and was there operated by steam made in its own boilers and developed such power that it hauled six children at a time and was one of the most attractive features in that part of the exhibition.

Records Explained
A cut given with this article shows several interesting copies, nearly the natural size of the way the instrument performs its double functions. Each separate tracing represents one minute of pulse record, while the intervening blank spaces are to show the variations from the normal of the temperature of the subject. These records were made by one subject but were taken at different hours and under different conditions.

One record, a regular, succeeded by an irregular pulse, becoming again regular, is shown. The irregularity in this case is explained by a sudden downward ride in an elevator during the few seconds the irregular tracings were made, indicated by the projection of the marks above the general level and is not associated with any diseased condition.

Another was made while the subject was walking up a long flight of stairs and as he neared the top the quickened and is in marked contrast with those previously described.

Record No. 6 is perhaps the most interesting of all of the tracings, since, when the record was made, the subject was suffering from neurasthenia and had about 3 degrees of fever. The more rapid heart action, due to the rapid rise in temperature and the neurasthenic condition, is clearly demonstrated, and here, for the first time, we see the increase in temperature recorded as is evidenced by the dash which shows in the blank space following the lines of the record. There is but little if any deviation from the normal in the records taken when the subject was mentally at ease and, apparently, in fine physical condition.

Invention Important
It is to be understood that while the records are experimental and in the nature of tests and separated from their immediate associations on the recording tape, the perfected instrument is expected to, and does, make a continuous record of heart action and temperature, for the full 24 hours. The value of such an invention to the scientific world cannot be overestimated. When one considers that, between the visits of the experienced physician, many patients exhibit a weak and rapid pulse, as a possible result of serious complications not discernible to the untrained eye, until marked by the profound shock, the advantages of a silent monitor, which never sleeps, or grows careless, which faithfully registers pulse variations, both of number and in volume, and, at the same time, gives warning of the thermic changes, can be readily understood.

Many different leads were followed before the vein which has worked out to the present accuracy was found. Many ideas were borne and not only had these to be worked out to a conclusion, good or bad, but there had to be, for one not a specialist, an almost infinite of labor, spent in research work. That took time and money, as did the experiments.

Special Alloy Made
A metal had to be found which could do the mechanical work demanded of it; which would stand the wear; which would be non-corrosive, for there are few fluids more destructive to metal than the perspiration of the human body and especially in the true normal health.

Delicacy to obviate burdensome size and weight; strength to meet such demands, for that quality, as might be made on it; indestructibility, under reasonable and ordinary circumstances—all of these conditions had to be fulfilled and all of these conditions were met before the Cardio-thermograph was put to a practical use.

While it is true that all of the conditions were met and those adverse eliminated or vanquished, it is equally true that they cost time and labor and an actual expenditure of money until those in position to know estimate that Mr. Costan has spent from $2,500 to $3,000 in bringing his invention to its present state of perfection. A Cascaret produces the same Natural result that a Six Mile walk in country would produce.

(No. 8287.)
Treasurer Department, Office Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C., July 2, 1904.—By satisfactory evidence presented the undersigned, it has been ascertained that the Exchange National Bank of North Fort Worth, a town of North Fort Worth, county of Tarrant, and state of Texas, has complied with all the requirements of the United States, and is authorized to commence the business of banking as provided in section 5169 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

In testimony whereof witness hand and seal of office, this 2d day of July, 1904.

devotion has been such that in years or more he has sunk the or all of his true leisure time work of bringing the Cardio-thermograph to perfection.

Seven years' work in the humanity or as long as Jacob for Rachel, the one for a gratification of his spirit of love that which subject to the creed of the brotherhood of man. Mr. Costan is not actuated by selfish desire to make the success of the Cardio-thermograph a line to fortune. He has a business and pays. Much of the work is for the benefit of humanity and especially those who may be so afflicted with the taking of their temperature, the registering of their heartbeats, necessary and if they are nervous. If they are broken by a long confinement in a hospital or a bed, or suffering sickness or depression, or shock of an operation, is a true relief suffering.

Mr. Costan is going abroad in where and how the best and type of his instrument can be factored and during September, October will be in Berlin, Germany. He goes there to consult with German manufacturers of instruments and medical apparatus about the Cardio-thermograph, as well as to meet and discuss with the best of medical aids with some German scientists and physicians, having already heard of his instrument, have been in correspondence with him about its merits and possibilities.

It combines in the form and with equal accuracy of indication, a thermometer and the most accurate sphygmograph.

The records are made on a special use. One end of the wound on a drum and as the wound it receives the record is laid on the receiving drum. It is prepared preserved for use and use.

The whole action is working with a chromograph. Clearly, the motive power being spring which is wound up. Cardio-thermograph is placed and which will run with accuracy for thirty after each winding so the four hours of record may be. Mr. Costan will sail for Europe Aug. 15 and be away from home three months.

Pale? Thin?

How is it with the children's days? Have they plenty of courage, strength? Or are they pale, delicate? This reminds Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It does things for children. It gives good appetite, improves digestion, builds up their general health, and you doctor if he endorses it.
