President of Wrecked Chicago Bank Faces Arrest... CROWDS AT DOORS... Hundreds Surround Bank and Drenching Rain Fails to Drive Them Away

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—President Paul O. Stensland of the Milwaukee Avenue State Bank will probably be arrested as soon as he enters Chicago or can be found.

Detectives are now seeking Cashier Henry W. Herring, the alleged embezzler. Detective Cannon, who has a warrant for Herring's arrest, charging embezzlement, has information to the effect that the missing cashier is in Detroit.

Herring Off for Canada... "I secured the information from reliable sources," said Cannon today. "Herring left for Detroit Saturday night. His destination, I understand, is Canada."

Crowds at Bank... There was a crowd of several hundred working people around the bank this morning. Notwithstanding the doors were closed and there was no prospect of recovering funds during the day, people persistently remained.

Crowd Gets Excited... Other stories of alleged tampering with the contents of the boxes circulated through the crowd and helped to excite the bank's patrons.

Charge in the complaint asking for the issuance of a warrant is fraudulent use of money. Justice was not inclined to issue a warrant and they returned to the bank empty handed.

THE CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR.

The state Democratic convention at Dallas August 14 will be called upon to settle the question as to who will serve the people of Texas as governor for the next two years. The primary election having signally failed to settle the question, to the great disappointment of the people, the politicians will next take a hand in the matter and the outcome is today as doubtful as at any time during the long campaign. Following is the popular vote of the state as near as it can be summarized: Campbell, 91,966; Brooks, 71,121; Colquitt, 68,627; Bell, 62,895.
Colonel Thomas M. Campbell of Palestine, who leads in the popular vote, is the only native born Texan in the bunch. Colonel Campbell was born in Cherokee county, Texas, and is now in the 47th year of his age. His birthplace was on a farm, adjoining one on which the late James S. Hogg lived for several years during the early part of his life. On attaining his majority young Campbell attended the Southwestern University at Georgetown for three terms.
In 1893 Colonel Campbell removed to Longview and there began the practice of law. He continued in the practice of his profession until he was appointed master in chancery of the International & Great Northern Railroad. Later he was appointed co-receiver of the road with Colonel Eddy, and that gentleman dying a few months later, he was made sole receiver of the property. After that he was made manager of the road and continued in that capacity until 1897, when he resigned to again take up the practice of the law. He has been engaged in practicing his profession since that time at his home in Palestine. Colonel Campbell is a man of considerable wealth and is regarded as a very strong man.

Judge M. M. Brooks was born in the state of Mississippi a little more than fifty years ago, and his boyhood days were spent on his father's farm in that state. He received a common school education in the country schools of his county and upon attaining his majority took up the study of law. Later he entered the University of Virginia, where he completed his professional training.
On leaving college Judge Brooks came to Texas and settled in Kaufman county, where he engaged in farming for a number of years. In 1879 he moved to Greenville and began the practice of law, and for 19 years was very successful at the bar. In 1898 he received the Democratic nomination for associate justice of the court of criminal appeals, and was elected. In 1904 he was re-elected and is now serving his second term, moving to Dallas in the interim, where he now resides. Judge Brooks is a man of considerable means and is considered one of the strong men of Texas.

Oscar B. Colquitt, who is at present a member of the Texas railroad commission, was born in Mitchell county, Georgia, Dec. 16, 1861, and came to Texas with his parents when he was 17 years of age. He worked on a farm during his boyhood days, attending the country schools after the crops were laid by. Later he began work as a printer and in 1884 he founded the Pittsburg Gazette, which he sold two years later and bought the Terrell Star, which paper he published successfully for twelve years.
In 1891 Colquitt was appointed as a member of the board of managers of the Terrell insane asylum by Governor Hogg and served for eight years. He was elected to the state senate in 1895 and served four years, and was state revenue agent under Governor Culberson for the last eight months of the Culberson administration. In 1902 he succeeded John H. Reagan as railroad commissioner, and has held that position continuously since that time.
Judge Charles K. Bell was born in the state of Tennessee fifty-three years ago, and came from that state with his widowed mother and sister to settle in Hamilton county, Texas. In Hamilton county he started life digging ditches at fifty cents per day. Later he obtained employment on a farm at $15 per month, and by studying at odd times qualified himself to teach school. He studied law and was later elected county attorney of Hamilton county. He was elected district attorney in 1882 and was made state senator in 1884. He is the author of the present local option law now in effect in Texas.

In 1888, Judge Bell was elected district judge, and after serving two terms was elected to congress in 1892 from Fort Worth district and served until 1896. Retiring from congress to practice his profession of lawyer, Judge Bell was made chairman of the state Democratic executive committee and served in that capacity until appointed attorney general of the state to succeed T. S. Smith, in 1901. At the end of the Smith term he was re-elected and held the position until he voluntarily retired to become a candidate for governor. He is regarded as one of the safest and strongest men in the state.

THE GUBERNATORIAL SALARY

State political campaigns every two years in Texas is too often. The law should be changed so as to make the term of all state offices four instead of two years, and the salary of the governor of this state should be raised from $4,000 to $10,000 per annum. The greatest state in the union should pay its executive a salary in keeping with the importance of the position he occupies. No man can sport very much dignity on a salary of $4,000 per annum.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Wherein is the increase of salary going to improve matters? The salary is now sufficient to induce men to work for the office at an enormous expense. They do not care for the salary. In fact, the salary cuts no figure at all, if we are to judge from the eagerness of making a campaign for governor. It is $4,000 a year. It is hardly going too far to say that the campaign of the four aspirants for the office has reaped the enormous sum of a hundred thousand dollars. Does any one think that the candidate who spends $25,000 or even twice that sum for the governorship is after the $4,000? Then if he is not after it, why is he not work for the office if the salary amounted to nothing? Texas has had great men as governors. They served for the salary now attached to it. If the great honor attached to the office is not enough to induce good men to aspire to it, then an increase of salary would only result in getting men in the governor's chair for the amount they can draw from the treasury as the governor's salary. It would be well, however, to double the term.—Dallas News.

The salary paid the governor of Texas was fixed at a time when there were few people in Texas, the state was almost wholly undeveloped and the position did not carry with it the vast responsibilities that have since accrued. There is no man who can go to Austin and serve the state as governor and come out of that office with as much money as he had when he went into office.

The Telegram believes the laborer is worthy of his hire, and the largest and greatest state in the union should pay a gubernatorial salary commensurate with the importance of the position and the honor and dignity of the state. It may be true there are plenty of men who would be willing to serve as governor absolutely without compensation, but that fact does not compensate the men properly who are called to the gubernatorial chair.

The governorship is the highest state office, yet the people of Texas pay the members of the railroad commission and the judges of the higher courts the same salary they pay their chief executive. The men who occupy these positions may not get as much honor out of office as governor, but they get just as much pay.

But one man can be governor for each respective term, and the state owes it to the men called to this important position to compensate them properly for the great responsibility they assume. Honor is a great thing in its place, but it did not enable Jim Hogg to pay his debts when he went out of the governor's office. He was compelled to hustle around and borrow the necessary amount. Honor may make a man feel his importance, but it does not square the grocery account.

The best material in the state should always be placed in the executive chair, and it should command a price commensurate with its ability.

THE ICE MAN

How would you like to be the ice man today? All over the country the ice man and his prices are being investigated.

At St. Louis there is evidence of collusion to raise prices, and prosecutions are in progress. The Post-Dispatch has Kiplingized the situation: "What are the bugles blowing for?" said Tong-on-Behind.

"The price of ice, the price of ice," the Wagon Driver whined.

"What makes you look so white, so white?" said Tong-on-Behind.

"I'm dreadin' what we've got to face," the Wagon Driver whined.

"For they're gettin' bold an' ugly; you can hear the people growl.

The papers is a-stirrin' them an' urg'in them to 'owl. They're getting out their hammer, an' the city's cryin' 'Foul!'

An' they're layin' fr the ice man in the mornin'!"

In Toledo six wealthy dealers have been fined $5,000 each and sentenced to a year's imprisonment. The fine is a trifle to them, but the imprisonment has caused them to make desperate efforts for freedom.

In slow, old, graft-governed Philadelphia thirteen ice dealers and members of the board of directors of the American Ice company are out on $1,500 bail to be later tried on the charge of conspiracy to regulate the price of ice.

In Boston ice dealers have been brought before the grand jury and their business methods investigated to find evidence of monopoly.

In Cincinnati the grand jury has been asked to investigate the evidence of combination to raise prices.

At Paterson the board of health has asked that all ice dealers' licenses be revoked on account of exorbitant charges.

And so it goes. At Atlanta the council has taken up the matter. At Washington, D. C. the United States district attorney is moving. At Jefferson City the public prosecutor is preparing a case. At Cleveland a motion to quash has been denied and the accused must stand trial, and here the offense with which the dealer is charged is made a felony.

THE TELEGRAM NOT GUILTY.

In penning the following Editor Robinson evidently had the Houston Post, Houston Chronicle, San Antonio Express and Fort Worth Telegram in mind: "Whatever be the attitude of a newspaper in its editorial columns toward this, that or the other candidate, its news columns should correctly represent the situation. When a paper colors its news it cannot fairly claim to be a newspaper. To say that a certain man had a large and enthusiastic audience, when in fact the crowd was small and the atmosphere all but chilly is not keep faith with the readers of the paper; it is playing them for suckers. In the long run the newspaper that gives to every candidate identical treatment will command the popular confidence more than the one that uses its news columns to carry a point."—Beaumont Journal.

There are some people who are so narrow between the eyes that they are forced to believe everything is colored that does not coincide with their own peculiar views, and we fear the Beaumont paper is afflicted in that manner. The Telegram has a higher conception of the ethics and proprieties of modern journalism than to resort to the expedient of coloring the news matter that appears in its columns. Editorially the paper has been a steadfast supporter of Judge Bell through all of the gubernatorial campaign, but it has given every candidate an equal show in its news columns.

None of the candidates for state office can truthfully say they have not been treated fairly by The Telegram, for The Telegram is a newspaper and at no time unmindful of the duties it owes to the people who compose its constituency. The Telegram always stands for a square deal.

Some of the railroads are following the advice of the principal in the case of the famous Mulligan letters, and burning box cars loaded with incriminating evidence with regard to the granting of rebates, but they are not burning them sufficiently. Fragments of letters have been gathered up from these conflagrations which still bear mute evidence of the guilt of the offenders.

It is a mighty good time now to begin work on the cotton market proposition for the fall season. Every bale of cotton produced in Fort Worth trade territory should be marketed in Fort Worth. And every bale sold here adds just that much to the volume of Fort Worth's business. Last season no effort was made to bring cotton here until late in the season, and work should begin this season in ample time.

It seems hard to convince the Campbell people that their man is not already nominated, but they will probably learn things at the Dallas convention.

Russia has borrowed $250,000,000 in Berlin. That does beat the Dutch.

People who live in glass houses ought to move.

Hon. "Intangible Tax" Williams leads the venerable Storey by a vote of 6,000. Williams ran without a campaign manager, without strong newspaper backing, without money, and—without hope. Men visited every section of Texas and circulated campaign literature extolling the virtues of Storey. Senator Culberson backed Storey, and Senator Bailey gave Storey a quiet boost, it is said. Where the Panther died the politicians and certain newspaper editors knifed Williams, their home man, and yet he leads Storey in the popular vote and the convention vote. Here in Dallas county no one appeared to be pushing Williams, and yet he made a sweep of Dallas county.—Dallas Times-Herald.

The Telegram gave Judge Williams a warm and unstinted support, defending him when he was assailed all over Texas. This fact may have escaped the attention of the Dallas paper, but it is known and thoroughly appreciated by Judge Williams and his friends. Williams won in Dallas county because Dallas politicians were too engrossed in making a governor to pay any attention to the fight for railroad commissioner.

Ex-Attorney General Bell had the Lanham state administration behind him and these facts account in part for his overwhelming defeat in the primaries last Saturday.—Tyler Courier.

As Judge Bell has not yet been defeated, the Tyler paper should defer the funeral at least until after the Dallas convention.

The election of Saturday demonstrated one thing beyond the peradventure of a doubt, and that is that Texas does not need such a thing as the Terrell election law. It is a perfect monstrosity in the world of politics, and the sooner it can be gotten rid of the better it will be for all concerned.—Terrell Transcript.

The primary election held on July 23 under the Terrell election law resulted in practically nothing and the people are fighting on the fact that it seems to have been a proceeding that utterly failed to accomplish its purpose.

The most interesting election dispatch which has come to the notice of the Post is that from Hidalgo county. It announced a total of 291 votes for Bell and the same number for a candidate for each office down the list. We are given to understand, it seems, that the people of at least one county in the United States are an absolute unit in their political views and preferences. They may differ as to religion or other questions, they may hate each other and strive against each other in business, some of them may even steal from their neighbors, but when it comes to politics, according to this dispatch, absolute harmony is reached.—Houston Post.

The people of Hidalgo county are to be congratulated on the fact that they were unanimously in favor of the best man for governor. They voted as the people of all Texas should have voted.

As is well known Senators Bailey and Culberson backed Judge Brooks in the recent contest. Their bet was on Campbell. It is possible, of course, for Campbell to placate the "senatorial bosses," pledging to them unquestioned loyalty; otherwise they will reach for his scalp. Should Campbell fight to Bailey and Culberson and win, or would he have new alignments in Texas, for Campbell will be anxious to reach the United States senate.—Waco Times-Herald.

Campbell has not yet reached the gubernatorial chair, and there is many a slip between the cup and the lip. Bailey and Culberson have nothing to fear from Campbell, and the best thing they can do is to stand with hands off the state convention.

The Terrell election law has been tried, and in so far as El Paso county is concerned, it has proven a failure. So far as the Times has been able to ascertain there were few sections of the law that were not violated in letter, if not in spirit, through inability to understand its multitudinous provisions, or through desire of the more shrewd to take advantage of the misconception of the intent of those provisions.—El Paso Herald.

The same story comes from all over the state. The people are not pleased with the workings of the new election law and in many places there are strong demands being formulated for its repeal.

When an undesirable young man fairly dotes on a girl she generally looks around for an antidote.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

WE WANT THE BEST MATERIAL

State political campaigns every two years in Texas is too often. The law should be changed so as to make the term of all state offices four instead of two years, and the salary of the governor of this state should be raised from $4,000 to $10,000 per annum. The greatest state in the union should pay its executive a salary in keeping with the importance of the position he occupies. No man can sport very much dignity on a salary of $4,000 per annum.—Telegram.

After all the hot work by the Fort Worth papers for their candidate and him defeated, it is not surprising that the elections come too often for them. But why the raise in salary? If leading men will spend months of their time and thousands of dollars for a $4,000 job a short time, wouldn't they put in about all the time and spend more for a $10,000 job lasting eight years? Anyway, we want a governor to serve the people, not to "sport much dignity."—Clarendon Chronicle.

YOU MAY SEARCH US.

Miss Clara Driscoll of San Antonio, the talented and patriotic young lady who saved the Alamo to the people of Texas, was married in New York a few days ago to Hal Sevier, former publisher of the Sabinian Sentinel, who now holds an important position on the New York Sun. And the best wishes of all Texas people attend her.—Fort Worth Telegram.

And thereby hangs a tale. Mr. Sevier is a direct descendant of the first governor of Tennessee. The Davy Crocketts and Sam Houston were conspicuous figures in Texas' early history and the Alamo. Miss Driscoll saved the Alamo, but who in the thunder is going to save a long suffering and election ridden public from the tons and tons of lies that the yellow-backs will give us?—Bonham Herald.

THE GUBERNATORIAL NOMINEE.

And the Telegram will venture a prediction along the line of political prognostication on its own account. The name of the next governor of Texas will not be Campbell or Colquitt. The nomination will come either to Judge Charles K. Bell of Tarrant county or it will fall to Judge M. M. Brooks of Dallas county. The supporters of these two gentlemen will be found in the end to be thoroughly in control of the situation.—Fort Worth Telegram.

And the Post, departing from its rule, predicts that neither Brooks nor Bell will be the nominee of the Dallas convention.—Houston Post.

THREE FACTS

For Sick Women To Consider

First.—That almost every operation in our hospitals performed upon women becomes necessary through neglect of such symptoms as backache, irregular and painful periods, displacements of the female organs, pain in the side, burning sensation in the stomach, bearing-down pains, nervousness, dizziness and sleeplessness.

Second.—The medicine that holds the record for the largest number of absolute cures of female ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It regulates, strengthens and cures diseases of the female organism as nothing else can.

For thirty years it has been helping women to be strong, curing backache, nervousness, kidney troubles, inflammation of the female organs, weakness and displacements, regulating the periods perfectly and overcoming their pains. It has also proved itself invaluable in preparing women for childbirth and the change of life.

Third.—The great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time published by permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women.—Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. From symptoms given, your trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Mrs. Pinkham is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Out of the vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

Evils of Mismatching Shown By Iowa Judge

Special to The Telegram. DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 7.—Charles Lockhart, of Fond du Lac, Wis., 19 years old, came to Des Moines today leading by the hand blushing Mrs. Jennie Gregson, who has not quite reached her 19th birthday. A marriage license was sought and obtained.

To the office of Judge Zell G. Roe the couple then wended their way. When apprised of the mission of his visitors the judge started in amazement. Recovering himself, the magistrate looked Mrs. Gregson in the face and said: "Woman, it's not a marriage license you need, but papers permitting you to adopt the lad."

After listening to a solemn dissertation on the evil of mismatching the woman took the judge's advice and said she would adopt Charles and see that he got a finished education to give him a good start in life.

DEMOCRATS ARE MAKING QUERIES

Seeking Conditions in Congressional Districts

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 7.—The Democratic national congressional committee has started a correspondence with Democrats all over the country, in course of which it has submitted a list of questions, the answers to which are to be compiled so as to furnish information at a glance as to conditions in any congressional district.

The questions are accompanied by a circular letter to some active Democrat in the district, who is advised that they are of such nature and cannot afford to chase rainbows, but if there is a chance to win a congressman in your district we cannot afford to overlook it.

The questions submitted to which many answers have been received, mainly from the middle west, are as follows: Is there any disaffection among the Republicans? Is the district normally Democratic or Republican? If Democratic, is there any disaffection? Are we liable to lose the district? If Republican, is there a chance to carry it? What has caused it? What is the proportion of labor vote in the district? Is President Roosevelt strong or weak in your section? If strong, is his strength confined to the Republicans? If strong, is his strength confined to the Democrats? What is the prevailing religious sentiment in your district or section? What is the trend of the labor element? What is the trend of general sentiment? General remarks on conditions as you see them.

In reply to the last question the committee received an interesting letter from a Democrat in Pike county, Ind. He wrote: "Yes, there is a good deal of disaffection among Republicans in this district, but the average Republican is cured of the defective feeling as soon as he enters an election booth."

FT. WORTH TAKES PART

Leaguers From Panther City Prominent in Epworth Assembly

Special to The Telegram. CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas, Aug. 7.—The state Epworth League convention opened at 9 a. m. yesterday, with prayer and praise service, which was conducted by G. J. Jones, of Fort Worth, singing by a choir of 300 voices is one of the leading features of the engagement. Twenty minutes were devoted to a business session of the committee on nominations, of which W. E. Hawkins of Fort Worth is chairman. Other members are Joe E. Wells of Beeville, Mrs. George Langston of Cisco, C. C. Walsh of Van Alstyne, C. E. Biemeis of Houston, Miss Mollie Davis of Houston, Rev. E. D. Mounson of San Antonio, J. J. Clark of Galveston and K. Strother of Jacksonville.

The next one and a half hours were devoted to the study of three courses of church history and Bible missions. A telegram was received from Rev. A. D. Porter of Mt. Carmel, first vice president, which announced his inability to attend, owing to impressive duties at home.

A report was received by President Thomson that the department of worship was never in better condition than at present, though handicapped through failure of local chapters to send reports. About 25,000 devotional services have been held during the past year in Texas.

Rev. T. S. Armstrong of Waco spoke one of the subject of "Devotional Worship" and pointed out several practical reasons why leagues should overcome difficulties in conducting devotional services.

QUITS RUSSIAN CHURCH

Mlle. Cassini, Chum to Alice, Joins Catholics

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Mlle. Marguerite Cassini, the adopted daughter of Count Cassini, formerly Russian ambassador to the United States, now representing the czar at the court of Madrid, is reported to have abandoned the Russian state church and joined the Roman Catholic communion.

Mlle. Cassini was the chum of Miss Alice Roosevelt before the latter became Mrs. Longworth.

By her act the pretty Russian woman sacrifices all hope of recognition at the court of St. Petersburg. In deed, she does not run the risk of persecution and absolute social ostracism.

She has been estranged from Count Cassini for some time. She has been living in Paris, while he was at Madrid, and it is said she has never crossed the Spanish border.

Her abandoning the orthodox church is probably the last act in the estrangement with her guardian. She abandons not only her religion, but her country, and from this time forth will not be a Russian, but a French woman.

FROGS WITHOUT EYES

Special to The Telegram. BRENHAM, Texas, Aug. 7.—Out on Joe Geikie's farm, a few miles from town, Mr. Booth has been engaged during the past week boring a well, and at a depth of 100 feet the pump brought up a quantity of frogs, perfectly white and without any eyes.

After they had been exposed to the light for some time they turned to a dark color usually worn by land frogs. Mr. Booth has been boring wells for several years and has turned up some strange freaks of Mother Earth. He has found gas pockets, the bones of mastodons, curious rocks and shells, but this is the first time he has brought up frogs that evidently inhabited strata deep down in the earth.

RICH PARIS BEAU CUTS COREY OUT?

Mabelle Gilman Said to Have Transferred Affections

Special to The Telegram. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Mabelle Gilman, the actress and former San Francisco girl, is credited with having in Paris a devoted, young, and rich admirer, who has succeeded in sidetracking Steel Trust President William Ellis Corey in her affection.

As the story comes from the French capital this wealthy admirer has been extravagant in spending his money on the actress and has become so infatuated with her that he insists upon making her his wife.

His relatives are reported as being bitterly opposed to the match and hope only to break it. They are spending a good deal of money trying to get a report of her in this country, and after listening to all the work on the case, in spite of their efforts at secrecy, the matter has become generally known.

REPRIEVE FOR MAN WHO WANTS TO DIE

Murdered His Landlady So He Could Rob Her

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—There was a touch of irony to Edward Pekarz in the message which the warden of the death house at Sing Sing took to him yesterday that Governor Higgins had granted him a stay of thirty days in his execution.

Pekarz wants to die. His friends are trying to save him. He had not been visiting his country, Austria, six months when he murdered his landlady, Mrs. Sarah Rosenberg, of 322 East One Hundred and First street, to rob her of $2,000 on the night of April 19, 1905. His first question on his arrest was: "How soon can I die?"

He was told he would have to await the process of law. He got tired waiting and one day he tried to kill himself with a spoon as a knife. When they put him on trial he wanted to plead guilty. When he was sentenced by Judge Foster to die August 6 he thanked the court for his expedition. When they told him to Sing Sing he prayed that the days might pass fast.

The unlucky man was resigned, but his friends were determined that he should not be executed without a fight. His mother in Austria interested the government. Last week the Austrian consul in this city asked Governor Higgins for a respite of one month, in which to persuade this man who wants to die that he ought to live.

Special to The Telegram. DENVER, Colo., Aug. 7.—On the 10th of September Vice President Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks will visit Denver friends. They will be the guests of Thomas Walsh and family at their suburban residence, Wainwright.

Elaborate preparations have begun for the entertainment of the notable visitors, leaving citizens of Denver, who believe that the coming visit of the Vice President of the United States has considerable significance in the history of this city.

Elaborate preparations have begun for the entertainment of the notable visitors, leaving citizens of Denver, who believe that the coming visit of the Vice President of the United States has considerable significance in the history of this city.

In the middle west, he has some following, and is fairly well known. But in the country west of the Missouri river he realizes that he finds his weakest places, for he is barely known in the extreme west, and if he expects to be in the race for the President's chair he knows that he must get acquainted and not lose much time, either.

The Spirit of The West in Advertising

The West is the center of American commercial aggressiveness—the center of advertising activity. And the advertising center of the West is the Lord & Thomas Advertising Agency—the largest Advertising Agency in America.

THE same spirit of western aggressiveness backed by facts—the Initiative—the Push—the Progress that has made Chicago, in sixty years, a city of two million people, that has made St. Louis one of the main centers of American commerce, that has made scores of other cities in the central West rank high among the world's manufacturing communities—

This aggressiveness—the Western Spirit—has built up in Chicago the world's greatest advertising agency—Lord & Thomas.

We want to tell you about the aggressiveness of the West in Advertising—in Commercialism.

We want to tell you how we can infuse some of the Western Aggressiveness into your business.

We want to tell you how this spirit has brought to Lord & Thomas the aggressive advertising men of America—until, today, more $5,000, $10,000 and $20,000-a-year brains are enrolled on our staff to prepare advertising campaigns than in any other three advertising organizations in the world combined.

We want to tell you about another result of the Western Idea—the Lord & Thomas Record of Results

—the Only Tangible Basis upon which to build an Advertising Campaign with the most reasonable assurance of success.

This agency alone has perpetuated their years of advertising experience by compiling and maintaining the Lord & Thomas Record of Results at a cost of over $100,000.00.

The Lord & Thomas Record of Results is a tabulation of actual results—inquiries and sales known positively to have been produced by scores of classifications of selling plans and copy, advertising hundreds of different commodities in all good newspapers and other good media.

We are ready to focus the Spirit of The West—the Brains—the Record of Results and the Organization at our command upon Your Business.

One of our representatives is in your city looking after the interests of some of our present clients every few days. That is why we are advertising in this newspaper—to you—NOW.

A letter, signifying that you will grant us an interview in your office, will not obligate you in any way.

We are issuing a series of small books (cloth bound) covering advertising in all its phases, which we send free to interested advertisers.

INJURIES PAINFUL. Little Katherine Duncan Hurt Playing With Pet Burro.

Little Katherine Duncan, the four-year-old daughter of J. W. Duncan, 2100 College avenue, had quite a narrow escape Monday forenoon from being painfully injured by a pet burro owned by the family.

Several children of the neighborhood together with Mr. Duncan's children, had been playing with the animal in the yard, as many of them as possible riding him at once.

Within the last few days the burro had been taught to paw the ground with his fore feet when the roof was pressed by one's hand or otherwise. On this occasion little Katherine tried the trick so successfully worked by her older playmates, but the stiff forefoot of the animal in quick response to the touch of Katherine's hand struck the little girl on the forehead, knocking her violently to the ground and as she rolled over and over again across the yard the burro followed closely, striking with each step at her body.

Mr. Duncan heard the cries of his daughter and running to her rescue drove off the animal and carried Katherine into the house. No serious injury was inflicted.

That same afternoon the pet burro was sold to a ready buyer, Mr. Duncan having been assured it would never again return to his premises.

Be good, but don't be too easy. Pools sometimes rush in and win while wise men are investigating.

COL. POOLE AT MASON REUNION
Tells of Conditions Over a Large Section

Editor Telegram.
On Sunday, July 21, at 1:30 p. m., I boarded the Texas and Pacific cars at Baird, saying "Bye, bye" to my many friends in Calahan county.

Good Water Supply
The water is superb. A goodly number of campers had already driven in and were busy erecting tents and camps.

After a fifty-mile ride, the conductor called out all for Dublin. I made my way to the Dickson hotel, where several waiting men and some Dublinites had the political air in a blaze.

After supper in Dublin I boarded the Frisco cars at 7:20 o'clock. I had just seated myself when three fellows jumped on me and wanted to know why I was supporting for governor.

Dark came on about the time we arrived at Comanche, and I could not see how the crops looked through Brown and Comanche counties. I understand the corn is almost a failure in these sections.

At 9 o'clock the parade formed up in town, the old veterans in front, the band next, Daughters of the Confederacy, Woodmen, Macabreers, Red Men, Masons, etc.

At 10 o'clock General W. T. Melton called the great throng to order. Prayer by the pastor of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Everybody was hungry and I made a bee-line for the Woods camp. At 2:30 o'clock the parade was over.

There were forty or fifty hogs wading and rolling around in the water, all yoked up to keep them from crawling through the fence into some fellow's melon patch.

There were 236 old veterans registered here at this meeting. However, 236 last year at Menardville. There were, the primary election, doubtless, kept some away, not giving them a good time.

On Tuesday morning I met my old friend, J. W. White, who kindly invited me to go out to the reunion grounds with him.

The Brysons always have something good to eat and that catches me every time. Mrs. Bryson was true to her promise. She introduced me a dashing sweet widow by the name of Bryson.

4 years old and a flyer, stands sixteen and one-half hands high.
Out one and a half miles a south-east course from the court house, we drove into the reunion grounds, eighty acres and a beautiful grove.

At 1:30 o'clock Judge Clarence Martin delivered the annual address to the brigade. He is the youngest district judge in the state.

The Mountain Remnant brigade adopted Miss Mamie Melton as daughter of the brigade today, to the great delight of all the old veterans.

About 4 o'clock Thursday evening I was standing talking to several ladies about the reunion, etc.

Mr. White has three ranches, well stocked up with cattle. He has one irrigated farm of 250 acres on the Llano river, twenty-four miles from town.

THREE NEGROES LYNCHED BY MOB
3,000 Men Break Into Jail and Hang Victims

Special to The Telegram.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 7.—A mob of 3,000 determined men, shortly before 11 o'clock last night, forcibly entered Rowan county jail at Salisbury.

While citizens were appealing to the mob, the men slipped through the crowd and were armed with other hammers. They were discovered and arrested. The mob continued its demonstration, but there was still no concerted movement.

At 10 o'clock there was a stir in the mob—it was augmented by fully a hundred men, who came, it is said, from Whitney, where the Whitney Reduction Company is developing the Yadkin water power.

The negroes were quietly marched northward to Henderson's ball grounds in the edge of town. The negroes refused to either deny or confess and were so thoroughly frightened as to have almost lost the power of speech.

Three Negroes Strung Up
The crime with which the negroes were charged, and for which they were placed on trial at a special term of Rowan county court, was the murder of Isaac Leroy, his wife and two children.

San Antonio Refuses to Invite Colored Odd Fellows to City

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 7.—At a short but exciting session of the city council yesterday the aldermen went into a discussion of the race question with final decision that they would not invite the negro Odd Fellows to this city.
