RECORDED INSTRUMENTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Records of the seismographs at the weather bureau taken from the instruments of the seismographs at Berkeley during this morning show there has been no earth movements here since Thursday afternoon and evening, which undoubtedly was due to the Chilean earthquake. Of great interest to the weather bureau of this city is the fact that Thursday's record shows the heaviest east and west movement at 44 minutes and 45 seconds past 7 p. m., and strongest north and south movements did not occur until 8 minutes later. The north and south movement was heavier, the earth movement being over a quarter of an inch.

DISASTER IN SHAKES

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Wireless reports from the islands of Hawaii, Maui and Hilo report a tidal wave of a general height of five feet. Enclosed in the bay of Manaloa on the island of Maui its height was reported as 12 feet, where it carried away the wharf and its superstructures. The tidal wave is attributed to the earthquake at Valparaiso. Thirty years ago an earthquake in South America produced similar effects here.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSES

HAMBURG, Aug. 18.—The North German Bank today received from its correspondent, Banco de Chile y Alemania at Valparaiso, the following dispatch: "The town is nearly destroyed. Particulars later when the shake ceases." This dispatch is the only one received, but it is not known whether it was filed yesterday morning or this morning.

LIQUINE UNHARMED

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—A private telegram received here from Iquique, Chile, says the city unharmed by the earthquake. The above is the first received from Iquique.

SCORES BURIED IN RUINED CITY

Reports of Fatalities from Valparaiso are Conflicting
BIG WAVE VISITS HAWAII
South American Disaster Followed by Tidal Flood in Pacific Islands—California Instrument Records Earthquake—Telegraph Service Suspends and Inhabitants Flee for Lives
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Pacific Steam Navigation Company received the following cable message from Valparaiso: "Violent earthquake. Heavy loss of property and lives. Company's offices partly destroyed. Floating property undamaged. The Eastern Cable Company reports that direct cable communication with Valparaiso has not yet been restored."

SITUATION AT VALPARAISO

Reports from the earthquake stricken district are so meager and conflicting that no estimate can be given on the loss of life or the amount of damage. One dispatch says the situation is similar to that attending the San Francisco disaster and others say that the damage is slight. The disturbance caused a tidal wave in the Hawaiian Islands, which was recorded by instruments thousands of miles from the scene.

NOTED IN CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 18.—A long-distance earthquake was recorded at the students' observatory of the University of California at Berkeley during the afternoon of Aug. 16. According to Director Luchner, the record was received on the seismograph at Berkeley during the afternoon of Aug. 16. According to the instrument was left in the case of the university by the noted Japanese seismologist, Omori, who returned to Japan two weeks ago after investigating the California earthquakes for this government.

PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION

The record shows it has a record of the Valparaiso earthquake Aug. 16. Mr. Champernowne, who was in charge of the instrument, finds a record of the preliminary tremor began within a few seconds of four hours eighteen minutes, 120th meridian time. A stronger motion was recorded from about four hours thirty minutes to four hours forty-seven minutes.

REPORTS MAY BE EXAGGERATED

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Private telegrams received here from South America today add little to what has already been cabled about the earthquake in Chile. Generally they refer simply to the extent of the damage done by the earthquake in Valparaiso. Manager Tarapaca of the Argentina bank informed the press from the advice received there in London, that the damage done at Valparaiso is not so serious as supposed. The staff of the bank are safe and the buildings have been only slightly damaged.

PEOPLE LEAVE CITY

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Central and South American Telegraph Company reports that what occurred in Valparaiso is not a mere report, but that all places of business have been closed and delivery and operation of the staff is much demoralized. No messages are reported from the city, but it is believed only be made on application to the office. Many people have left the city.

CABLE WORKING

GALVESTON, Texas, Aug. 18.—The manager of the cable company here reports the cable was working to Valparaiso this morning but there was no communication via land lines to Santiago, Chile, or Buenos Ayres.

NOTED DIVINE DIES

NASHVILLE, Tenn., August 13.—Rev. J. L. Alexander, one of the most widely known ministers of the Cum-

THE GERMAN PRINCELING AND HIS MOTHER. (From a Souvenir Postcard Popular with the Kaiser's Subjects.)

English is his great-great-uncle, the emperor of Russia is his cousin of the second degree. He himself will one day be German emperor and king of Prussia.

His life will be watched over and guarded as a precious thing. He will be educated with such care as falls to the lot of few children. He will have to learn to be a perfect soldier and sailor. He must study law and philosophy and languages. He must be general, admiral, politician, statesman, legislator, ruler and general boss of Germany rolled into one. Nothing but continuous hard labor can enable him to prepare himself for his position.

Anarchists will conspire to assassinate him and Persia attempts to overthrow his work unceasingly. He has to work dynasty. Perhaps after toiling his trade as kaiser, Germany may be transformed into a republic. Strange things have happened.

berland Presbyterian church, died a lame home in this city this morning. He was 77 years old.

It has been the common practice for men to perch on the iron rail guarding the airway at the McCord-Collins building, since there for hours, some of them, and spit on the sidewalk.

Warnings have been given. The police unheeded. Saturday morning the crowd of those resting on the rail being larger than usual, Sanitary Officers Bell and Bender warned men to stop spitting on the sidewalk. The hint was rather derisively received and the offense being repeated, the men were arrested, taken to city hall and fined, after a plea of guilty.

Intercession was made for him so it is probable his fine will be reduced, or the case filed.

Practically all of the offenders were negroes and the one arrested was said to be a rather green country nigger. But the arrest stopped the spitting.

A prominent Mormon of Southern Colorado says Smoot's expulsion would mean Mormonism back fifty years.

THE AFTER-EFFECTS

Distinguish Schlitz beer from the common.
Other beer may be equal to Schlitz in your liking. But perhaps it is green beer—insufficiently aged; and the after-effect is biliousness.
Or it may be impure, unfiltered, unsterilized; and the after-effect unhealthy. More than half the cost of our brewing is spent to insure purity.
That is how important we deem it.

HIS DEATH TRAGIC

J. H. Stanberry of Mansfield Shoots Self Through Head
Special to The Telegram.
MANSFIELD, Texas, Aug. 18.—J. H. Stanberry, editor of the Mansfield Sun, met a tragic death Thursday evening in the office of a hardware store, death being due to a pistol shot wound.
About 6:30 o'clock, while Jake Hops and Bob House were sitting before Bradford's hardware store, Stanberry entered and went back to the office, which was deserted at the time. In a few moments a shot was heard and Hops and House ran into the store, finding Stanberry with a 41-caliber revolver in his hand, crouched in a sitting posture, with a terrible hole through his head, the ball entering at the right temple and emerging above the left ear. He was still alive. Medical attention was hurriedly summoned and everything done that was possible, but he died in forty minutes. The revolver was one that was kept in a desk drawer of the store. Stanberry was about 50 years of age.

The total number of car loads brought in during Thursday night and which the Rock Island has to care for here is 449. This is for the reasons given, above the average by a large number of car loads, but still the excess is being easily handled and in a day or two all the arrangements will be cleaned up and conditions as to freight movement back to normal.

The winner made the time in 2:09. Choineta Curtis is entered next week in the 2:18 pace at Galesburg, for which there is a $2,000 purse.

He will have to be reindicted, as the case was dismissed at the time of his disappearance.

KANSAS BEATS WHEAT RECORD

State's Crop 100,000,000 Bushels—Corn 200,000,000
Special to The Telegram.
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 18.—The state agricultural department has issued a crop report showing the state's yield of winter wheat to be more than 91,000,000 bushels. The yield of spring wheat will swell the total to 100,000,000 bushels, the greatest crop in the history of Kansas. In ten years Kansas has raised 95,000,000 bushels of wheat, and in three of these years the yield was more than 90,000,000 bushels each. Corn conditions are reported to indicate 88 per cent of the full crop. This means a harvest of about 200,000,000 bushels. The people of Kansas have on deposit in banks nearly $100 for every inhabitant.

SENATORIAL BOSSES IN TEXAS: The people of Texas are getting more and more resentful of interference in state affairs by members of congress. The dominant idea among the people is that members of congress have enough to do in looking after the affairs of their own positions without coming into the state and ramming a state campaign and undertaking to tell the voters whom they should support for governor. One trouble with the congressmen is that they are not in Texas, and he has been petted and humored by the democratic party with suggestions of the Presidential nomination and other forms of adulation which will begin to imagine that he has the Texas democracy under his thumb and is in position to do just as he pleases. He has apparently forgotten the fact that overtook the Lion of the Tribe of Judah—Roger Q. Mills—who while occupying the position of Democratic senator undertook to set himself above the people and carry out his own ideas as to how certain things should be done. And Bailey with all his boasted popularity, has no greater hold upon the affection of the people of Texas than Mills had just prior to his downfall. The feeling against senatorial interference is growing. It is becoming so pronounced that even the Dallas Times-Herald, published the editorial of Senator Charles A. Culberson, denounces it most bitterly.—Fort Worth Telegram.

This interference of the members of congress, representatives and senators, in the local politics of the state is growing monotonous, and particularly in this state, where it is carried to a greater extent than in any other. Neither Platt nor Quay in any of their most offensive republican bossism endeavored to so dominate the politics of their states as the congressmen in Texas today essay to govern the democratic masses of this state in their state action. Those republican bosses confined themselves to making use of the conventions on their personal and party enemies who were aspiring to positions in which they might challenge the supremacy of the boss, but these Texas senators and representatives assume to govern the state by political right. That the attorney general is not relished is shown in a score of petty and resentful articles from the local press writers in the state, and the above from the Fort Worth Telegram is among the number. Without taking up the party cry against the intermeddling of Bailey, it is only too certain that his butting in has done Texas no good. His ability to lead is of course questioned, and the proofs of that inability are scattered all along the pathway of his attempts. His self-assumed leadership is not relished, and particularly his interference in the nomination of state officers, when all the varied political factions of the state democracy are in deadly array against each other, each seeking for the weakness in the armor of the other. For the congressmen of the state, outside of the pale of state politics, are not in the office, to side in with one faction or the other and throw the weight of their influence in this or that scale is considered out of place. Particularly so is the case of the senators, who are not elected by the people, but by the legislature and who are or should be outside the pale of all state contentions as to persons within the state arena. What Mills could not do, or Reagan did not do, Bailey is certainly unable to accomplish, and should the attempt end in his final defeat it would only be according to the eternal fitness of things.

Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey seemed to be the dominant influence at the Dallas convention, and while he was defeated in the effort to pay a political debt through the election of Brooks as governor, he was smart enough to catch on to the tail of the Campbell boom, and is in position to proudly proclaim "We killed the bear." The Telegram has no fight to make on Senator Bailey, but it does resent the idea that he is the whole democratic party in Texas. It resents the idea of Bailey dominating any state democratic convention or in any way trying to pose as the grand mogul and dictator of the party in this state. He must be made to realize that his proper function lies in the discharge of his senatorial duties exclusively. And the Telegram has not forgotten Bailey's childish opposition to Bryan. The democracy of Texas slaughtered William P. Williams of Tarrant county in his aspirations to be elected railroad commissioner, because it was alleged he was at one time unfriendly to Bryan. And those same Texas democrats renominated Bailey for the highest office within their gift, with the most fulsome flattery, when Bailey has traduced William J. Bryan as no other democratic leader in this state.

Why was it treason for Williams to oppose his vote for Bryan, and a mark of democratic distinction for Bailey to do the same thing? These are some of the things The Telegram has in mind when it refers to Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, and Telegram has in mind when it refers to democracy of this state practice the principles of consistency.

There is not one blemish on Judge Charles K. Bell, and he comes out of the gubernatorial struggle just as much of a man and patriot as when he entered it. He was the victim of a political combination, which swept him off his feet at the Dallas convention, but there is no grander character in all the broad state of Texas today than Charles Keith Bell, and Fort Worth is just as proud of him as if he had landed the nomination.

East Texas has received a terrible setback in the nomination of Colonel Tom Campbell for governor. The good people of that section who have been making money growing fruit and in truck farming will forthwith return to the old occupation of politics and the country, and the red hills of that section will again grow up in briars and constitute places where the foxes find refuge. Thursday was an evil day for East Texas.

Judge M. M. Brooks went out of the gubernatorial struggle like a gentleman, and won the respect of a people of this state by the manner in which he conducted himself when drinking the lees of disappointed ambition. And Brooks is a better and broader man than the majority of the people imagined.

Oscar B. Colquitt is an accomplished politician, and displayed all the venom in his nature toward Judge Bell before he withdrew from the race at Dallas—making a bold and brazen bid for the Campbell influence four years hence, but there are statesmen of the real kind in Texas who will yet take all the starch out of Oscar.

Judge L. J. Storey announced at Dallas that he would never again be a candidate for office in Texas, and the determination on the part of this venerable statesman is within itself some compensation for the defeat of William D. Williams.

Colonel Cecil Lyon is not dismayed by the rupture that has come in the ranks of the grand old party in Texas, and speaks in the most disrespectful manner of the Gooenock ticket that was put out at Houston.

The time draws near when there must be a final report on the matter of subscriptions to the fat stock show enterprise, and Fort Worth must appear in the light of having done her whole duty.

The next state legislature will be brought face to face with some very strong platform demands, and Governor Campbell is expected to keep the solons in session until the will of the people is obeyed.

It is the duty of every democrat in the state to assist in making the Tom Campbell majority just as large as possible in November, and Texas democrats seldom have to be reminded of their duty.

Railroad Commissioner Colquitt will now resume the earning of his official salary at Austin, and incidentally prepare a few more sop to throw to the people in the effort to promote his standing gubernatorial candidacy.

Dispute at Cotton Gin Results in Death of One: COLUMBUS, Texas, Aug. 18.—At a gin near here yesterday there was a dispute as to whose turn it was to have his cotton turned. B. H. Tollerson stabbed Ed Kinchback, member of a prominent family, in the back. A friend of Kinchback fired twice at Tollerson, but the latter made his escape. Kinchback was brought to Columbus where he died at 11 o'clock. John Kinchback of Garwood is the father of the dead man. He has two brothers at Cliffhollow and one living near Columbus. The sheriff and deputies are after Tollerson, but have not yet made an arrest.

Delegates to the recent Dallas convention were disappointed for once that they were not more incensed in their reception and accommodation.

Fort Worth is content for the politicians to run things for the next two years while we are engaged in building more factories.

East Texas has come into her own again, and the balance of the state bows in holy deference.

CHILDREN IN PAIN: never cry as do children who are suffering from hunger. Such is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for sickness, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from the fact that they are not being fed in place of their mother's milk, but devoured by worms. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive once more. Give it a trial. Sold by Covoy & Martin.

Gleanings From The Exchanges: It is a fine commentary on the gentility of some of the material that goes to make up the Dallas convention that the state's government was treated with discourteous rudeness when called upon to address that august body. The administration of Governor Lanham may have come up to the expectations of some, but if it had been a miserable failure he would, as governor of Texas, be entitled to respectful attention. The insult given is to Texas and not to Mr. Lanham.—Waxahachie Light.

The discourtesy to Governor Lanham appears more like the action of a lot of hoodlums than representatives of the successful democratic party in Texas. It was the net result, however, of the teachings of some alleged democratic newspapers in Texas.

Fort Worth is making strenuous efforts to land a tremendous fat stock show building, and all Northwest Texas hopes she will succeed.—Boyl I index.

And Fort Worth will succeed, for this city invariably has up in her vicinity. The fat stock show will be made the biggest thing ever seen in Texas or the southwest.

Is it possible that all of the lovely platform demands being adopted by the Dallas convention will be thrown out of the window? By the Thirtieth legislature, as those of the Houston convention were by the Thirtieth legislature? "Platforms," as the Pullman porter explained, "is not made to stand, but to sit on."—San Antonio Express.

The democratic state convention evidently expected the next legislature to be a little unruly in the matter of platform demands. It requested the governor to keep the body in session until the demands were complied with.

T. L. Roney was again winner in the Fort Worth Stock Yard hog contest. July prize hog contest for the best wagon load of hogs delivered there. He won the contest with a hog weighing 250 lbs. and this proves conclusively that he is a careful and judicious stock raiser. He is also a raiser of nice horses and has some of the finest horses to be found in this section.—Alvarado Bulletin.

The prizes offered by the Fort Worth Stock Yard Company in this month's hog contests are having a good effect, and the fact that an Alvarado man has been able to win two of them goes to prove that Johnson county is to the front in hog production. And there is good money to be made in the production of hogs.

Sunflower Philosophy: A woman is sure to say of her rival: "She is so deceitful." If you want to keep your friends you must occasionally leave them alone. Certain men want to be leaders, and certain other men want to be followers. When a Protestant and a Catholic fall in love, the Protestant always gives in.

People talk about the importance of "taking it easy." Some people take it too easy. This season of Chautauquans, there is liable to be a big man on every railroad train. The one thing that stands by you, keeps you interested in life, and is always the same is your regular work.

Subject for discussion at the next meeting of the Lancaster Literary Society: "Does a man hate to become old as much as a woman?" The manager of a railroad has about as many friends as a baseball umpire. And a baseball umpire isn't sure of the friendship of his own players.

If you were a candidate for office, how many men would take off their coats and go to work for you? You are concerned, no doubt, but how many?—Atchison Globe.

Special to The Telegram. CLEBURNE, Texas, Aug. 18.—The Cleburne Railroaders took fifteen hits off Dupree Friday. If it had not been for the fast furlongs of the pitcher, the hits would have been almost double. Shelton, Arbogast and Poindeexter took two-base hits each, while Speare took two three-base hits, and Captain Shelton of the Cleburne team put one over the fence. Charles Thacker started the hit and a neat sum was the first time this year that the ball had been put over the fence at Graham Park. The ground here are larger than any in the circuit and it had been thought an impossibility to get a ball beyond the limits. Captain Shelton came in on the second time and the ball struck the large score board, which kept it from going over the fence.

When the Cleburne stickmen began to hammer the hit, Dupree got nervous. He did his best, but it was of little avail. The ground here are larger than any in the circuit and it had been thought an impossibility to get a ball beyond the limits. Captain Shelton came in on the second time and the ball struck the large score board, which kept it from going over the fence.

Graveling Kane Street: To The Telegram: I have been a subscriber to your paper for the past four years and have never asked a favor. Will you please wish to ask the city council, through you, when this law was passed, or was it ever passed?

It is this what I read in your paper: "When the property owners comply with the rules regarding curbing on Kane street the city can curbing on the petition for grading and graveling the street, and the city council will be glad to do so." If the above be a law, why not enforce it on all streets alike? I am quite sure that the citizens on Kane pay as much taxes as any other street in the city, and they are entitled to the same rights. I have been on the curb 4 inches wide is of more benefit to all concerned than a hard street, thirty feet wide, will, or will, put in the curb at once, and the city will contend for the street to be gravelled. Respectfully, W. N. PEASLEY.

NO CLASH EXPECTED: President Hears Report of Brownsville Situation: WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—In response to President Roosevelt's request for information concerning the situation at Brownsville, Texas, Acting Secretary Ainsworth has forwarded the report received from Major Penrose and also informed the President that the commanding general of the department of Texas had been requested to furnish as soon as possible any detailed information of the investigation being made by the military authorities.

It is not believed at the department that there will be any further clash between the citizens and soldiers and hope is expressed that the excitement which prevails will subside when it is known that the government intends to ascertain all the facts and will punish any of the soldiers implicated in the unlawful acts. It is stated the military will not be allowed outside of the post for the present, and that strict discipline will be maintained.

BREAKS LAW TO HELP MAKE MORE: Allowed to Break Speed Ordinance to Reach Capital: Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A novel defense was made by Congressman James F. Burke of Pittsburgh in behalf of his chauffeur, who was a prisoner before Justice Beall in the Yorkers police court, charged with speeding an automobile at thirty miles an hour. Representative Burke was in the automobile with his wife when the arrest was made.

"Well, what excuse have you got for racing your machine through the streets of Yorkers?" asked Justice Beall. Chauffeur Wehrle was about to make a speech when Congressman Burke stepped up and said, as he bowed to the court: "It was really my fault, your honor. I ordered the defendant to put on full speed, but I had a reason for doing so. 'And what was that reason?' asked Justice Beall. "I am a member of a congressional committee that is passing on a contested congressional seat. While in Buffalo I received an urgent request from the committee to meet in Washington and I was anxious to be on time."

Another conversation followed between Justice Beall and Congressman Burke. Then the chauffeur was discharged.

VERSES THAT RING: The Corner of a Heart: One corner of her girlish heart had yielded first to me. And I had hoped that because the rest was occupied, you see, by tenants who were kin to her, as you, who, as you'll divine, through having dined there many years had stronger claims than mine.

As slight confession 'e'en as this one, I could not but to win you, and with affection closely packed, managed to move in. Yet soon I found the quarters cramped, and with a woe's art I coaxed an added portion to that corner of her heart.

I quite forgot which one it was my spread of love displaced—If Cousin John's or Uncle John's, by this designing move of mine, someone, it is plain, lost out while I was winning the admiration of Yorkers? asked Justice Beall.
