SCHOOL CHILDREN FORCED TO WADE MUDDY MARSHES

Grounds Surrounding Several Ward Now Building Resemble Swamps—Interiors of Others in Unsatisfactory Condition—Damp First Day Cuts Down Attendance

JOHNNY and Mary and Jimmy and Jane, with Gladys and Isabelle, and several hundred others traced their weary way to the school house Tuesday morning to greet their teachers, new and old, choose their seats and be assigned to the room in which they will endure the trials and tribulations of school for another year...

At Various Buildings Tuesday morning a Telegram reporter visited several of the ward school buildings. The first visited was that of the Fourth ward, at the corner of Texas and Cherry streets.

At the First ward conditions were somewhat better. Here the janitor had done considerable cleaning. This is an old building, and at best could not be made first-class for school purposes.

At the Fifth and Eighth ward buildings the need for walks is most urgent. The reporter visited the Fifth ward building and found the floor in the main hall plastered with mud.

At the Eighth ward building the basement, which was designed as play-rooms for the children during rainy weather, is unusable for use because of the walls through which there is a continual seepage of water.

Assistant Principals Several changes have been made by the board of education during the summer which are expected to increase the efficiency of the Fort Worth schools. In all of the larger buildings an assistant principal will be employed.

He was points and had emotion all through the fight, but he was badly hurt himself. Shortly after the fight began the men were Clinch, Nelson had his shoulder and his arm times he hit Gans and presently feeling for a last he drew back his fist and a vicious blow. The negro gasped and rolled over on his back. Foul was called. Referee Siler ordered Nelson to his corner and to take some time with the doctor. Nelson had employed repeatedly butted Gans and had a head-hauler.

Siler was loudly cheering the ring, as was Gans, and to his dressing room his seconds were huddled. Siler made a decision in which he held that Gans had lost the fight and yet he jumped at the opportunity to say that Nelson would say was tired and quit.

Gans in many ways remarkable battle, as he was growing weaker but his endurance surprised. His work was the more it is known that in the fight his right hand was a blow to Gans' face and Nelson Gans' generals when he broke his hand around he landed a hard punch on the side of Gans' head and the hand stepped back with an pain. He limped around had stepped on his foot and no one realized that he had injured his right hand, suspected that it might be injured.

Negro Confirms Gans stated after the fight that Nelson intentionally faked he knew he could not win. Nelson was comparatively young, was growing weaker but his endurance surprised. "BATTLER" HISSED

Nelson's Tactics Denounced by Audience—Gans' Remarkable Work

Special to The Telegram. ARENA, GOLDFIELD, Nev., Sept. 4.—Battling Nelson deliberately fouled Joe Gans in the forty-second round of the best and longest fight seen in Nevada, or on the Pacific slope, in many years...

Shortly after the forty-second round began the men were in their usual clinch. Nelson had his head on Gans' shoulder and his arm down. Several times he hit Gans below the belt...

BATTLING NELSON.

Referee Siler, without hesitating, ordered Nelson to his corner and awarded the fight to Gans on a foul. Siler's decision received almost unanimous approval. The foul was so obvious that even men who had bet on Nelson could say that it was not being committed...

Siler Cheered Siler was loudly cheered as he left the ring, as was Gans, who was carried to his dressing room. Nelson and his seconds were hissed as they departed...

Gans Breaks Hand Gans in many ways put up a most remarkable battle. Of course, his skill as a boxer was expected to be shown, but his endurance surprised everyone...

Negro Confident Gans stated after the fight that Nelson intentionally fouled him. He said he knew he could finish Nelson as he was comparatively strong and Nelson was growing weaker all the time.

Nelson's Grit Saves The first fifteen rounds of the fight were very fast. After that the men fought up and only at intervals was there a lull. Although Gans was far ahead of Nelson in points and most of the time looked like a sure winner, Nelson put up a wonderful fight on his side. The endurance and recuperative powers shown by Nelson were extraordinary. Time and time again Gans would jolt him on the jaw, sending the Dane back. His knees would bend and his eyes become glazed, but he always fell into a clinch and held on, and would then come back, fighting as hard as ever in his peculiar style.

Gans was undoubtedly the favorite with the people. His gentlemanly behavior won the admiration of the Goldfield people and they showed it. Gans is a hero in Goldfield tonight. The audience was about three thousand, although the estimates were made as high as 4,500. About two hundred women were present.

Siler Makes Statement George Siler never refereed a contest more satisfactorily to an audience. Hardly a protest was heard from either side until his decision at the end. Commenting on this on leaving the ring Siler said:

"In all my ring experience I never saw a more palpable foul. I could do nothing else but disqualify Nelson. I warned him five times during the fight that if he did not stop roughing and hitting I would disqualify him." Billy Nolan, though disgusted with the ending, soothed Nelson by telling him as he led him from the ring, "It's just as good," referring doubtless to the decision. In a brief statement he said:

"Gans declared he would not accept a decision on a foul. He not only accepted it, but refuses to be examined by a doctor." Gans now comes undisputedly into the title for which he has fought for twelve years. He is the oldest of the lightweight fighters—lacking only two months of 30 years—and has fought more than one hundred and fifty fights in his struggle for the world's championship class. The best remembered of these was the "fake" which he lost to "Terry" McGovern at Tattersall's in 1900, and which put a quietus on the boxing game in Chicago. Nelson claims the championship after his victory over "Jimmy" Britt, Sept. 9, 1905, during the fight carnival at Colma, Cal. Gans also has beaten Britt, and the claims of the rival supporters increased the interest which preceded the fight to fever heat.

O'BRIEN KNOCKS OUT TWO SAILORS

Prize Fighter Wins Fame on Broad Liner

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The latest thing aboard trans-Atlantic liners is the professional prize fight. The passengers of the Umbria arriving last night from England had Jack O'Brien, the middle heavyweight champion, relieve their ennui by knocking two sailors out. About the ring were gathered pretty nearly every one of the Umbria's cabin passengers and fair members of New York's four hundred with the male enthusiasts in cheering on the fighters.

O'Brien was on the way back home from New Castle, England. The officers of the Umbria gave their consent to the proposition to have a couple of bouts on Friday and after the passengers had contributed a purse of several hundred dollars, a ring was made on the forward deck and the fighting began.

The women aboard were given the choicest seats close to the ropes, while the sailors were crowded in the corners. O'Brien started at the first one up, easily, being minded to give his fellow-passengers such an exhibition as would please them. But in the second round his right arm slipped in the middle of a pivot blow which landed low and laid the sailor on his back. The second sailor lay a very short time and the third aspirant was very busy in the rigging when his turn came round.

It is deemed improbable that many of the Fort Worth team, who played so well most of this year, will be back next season. Some are reserved and they can be forced back, if force is necessary. CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—Violence and in one instance murder was the result of the race excitement that developed while the returns from the Gans-Nelson fight were being received in Chicago last night.

T. R. IS FIRED UP ALL THE TIME

Not a Minute When President Hasn't Got 'Em Guessing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—"This d—d administration reminds me of Fourth of July," remarked Charles A. Edwards, clerk of the Democratic minority, and secretary of the national Democratic congressional committee.

What made Secretary Edwards read mad was that Watson letter. This is the epistle, it will be recalled. In this T. Roosevelt lifted up his voice and charged the Democrats with making the continuing language puffed such pleasant terms as "four-flusher," "con-man," "bruno-buster," "advertiser," "boss," "juggler," etc.

Then why shouldn't Charlie be grieved at the Watson letter. Then came spelling reform. More noise and excitement than the whole congressional campaign put together. It has made more of a stir than the meat inspection bill, and threatens to make as much as race suicide.

The House of a Thousand Candles

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON Author of "The Main Chance," Etc. The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Synopsis of Previous Installments John Glenarm, a roving young engineer, is killed near Anderson, Ind., by his grandfather's condition that he live there a year, else it will revert to Marian Devereux of New York.

Chapter VIII A STRING OF OLD BEARDS A moment later Bates entered with a fresh supply of wood. I watched him narrowly for some sign of perturbation.

He met my gaze without flinching, and lighted me to the stairs with our established ceremony. I voted him an interesting knave and really admired the cool way in which he carried off the situation.

Before going to bed I wrote a long letter to Larry Donovan, giving him a full account of my arrival at Glenarm House. The thought of Larry always cheered me, and as the pages slipped from my pen I could feel his sympathy and hear him chuckling over the lively beginning of my year at Glenarm.

On this day I really began to work. I mapped out a course of reading, set up a draughtsman's table I found put away in a closet, and convinced myself that I was beginning a year of devoted architecture. Such was I, felt, the only honest course. I should work every day from 8 until 1 o'clock, and my leisure I should give to recreation and a search for the motives that lay behind the crafts and assaults of my enemies.

"Good afternoon, Morgan." "Good afternoon, Mr. Glenarm," he said, taking the pipe from his mouth the better to grin at me. He showed no sign of surprise, and I was nettled by his cool reception. There was, perhaps, a certain element of recklessness in my visit to the house of a man who had shown so singular an interest in my affairs, and his cool greeting vexed me.

self, Mr. Glenarm?" he interrupted. "I reckon you're tired from your trip over." "Thank you, no," I snapped. "Sut yourself, Mr. Glenarm." He seemed to like my name and give it a disagreeable drawing emphasis.

There must be peace between our houses. "That night, as I was going quite late to bed, bearing a candle to light me through the dark hall to my room, I heard a curious sound, as of someone walking stealthily on the floor.

UNION MUST PAY $6,000 DAMAGES

Judge Decides Against Labor Organization

RACINE, Wis., Sept. 4.—Union labor was dealt a heavy blow by the decision of District Judge George H. Fowler in the boycott suit for $25,000 damages brought by a baker, Otto E. Schultz, against the Trades and Labor Council, and the Brasserie and others. The decision holds the contract exacted by the union men from the boss bakers, by means of which the workmen sought to enforce the closed shop, as illegal.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 4.—It is learned that despite the watchfulness of the Federal government and administration a joker appears to have crept into the new interstate commerce law in the shape of a provision that makes it legal for any railroad to give free transportation to the officers, agents and employees of the Standard Oil company and to the members of their families.

SIDEWALK OBSTRUCTION BY WHOLESALESAERS OBJECT

Ordinance to Protect Thoroughfares Is Puzzling

Decision Referred to Future Meeting After Discussion—Dumping Ground

The work of the city council Monday night, regular session, was a rapid disposal of most of the strict business which came before it, though there were one or two important questions which caused much discussion, and the most prolific in that respect was an apparently innocent amended ordinance which was intended to comply with the expressed desire of the city council that the city attorney prepare such an ordinance as will prevent sidewalk obstructions and yet meet the objections of the corporation court on the question of the constitutionality of the ordinance.

It was held by some of the aldermen to be intended as a direct blow at the Fort Worth wholesale district, especially the Third ward, on that proposition they are prepared to fight to the end.

And more: It made plain that there is lack of unity in the management of the city's legal affairs, which, Alderman Lehane insisted, called for an investigation with the view of applying the proper remedy. The city attorney stated that in drafting the ordinance about sidewalk obstruction he had endeavored to conform to what he understood as the decision of the corporation court, and had simply followed the best information he had been able to obtain. He said in response to inquiries that the criminal branch of the city's legal business was not in any way under his control and made no reports to him as city attorney. He said they were entirely within their rights, for they were not required to make such reports and he was not reflecting on them, but the fact is that the city attorney is not officially informed of any decisions of the corporation court.

The sidewalk obstruction ordinance will be carefully considered by the street and alley committee before it gets back to the council again, and some of the aldermen are in favor of shelving the ordinance until the Mayor Harris directed the attention of the council to the need for some ordinance to protect the sidewalks of the city, for the abuse of the privilege of the use of the sidewalks was carried to a great extent now and in some cases almost amounted to confiscation.

Skating on Walks Prohibited

An ordinance prohibiting skating on the sidewalks was passed under suspension of the rules.

Hempill Paving

The application for the paving of Hempill street was read and it was ordered that the application which had been amended more than two-thirds of the distance, that brick pavement was in a hopeless minority, but two of the signers favoring bricks and all of the others about equally divided as to bitulithic or rock asphalt. The final disposition of the matter at this time was a reference to the street and alley committee to advertise for bids and then, in conjunction with the city council, a committee of citizens is to be formed to view of fitting on the best pavement which may be preferred by the majority of the property owners.

All the aldermen were in place when the council was called to order at 7:35 o'clock Monday evening.

The finance committee reported there were available funds at this time to build the bridge or crossing over New York avenue and the matter went over. Same action in the matter of building new sidewalks and the matter of making some desired street repairs was referred to the street and alley committee to ascertain the cost.

The opening of the alley in the Third ward between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets, extending to Crump, was held to be a matter for the property owners to decide and the tender of the use of the city legal department was made.

Claims amounting to $15,332.99 were allowed.

The amended sidewalk obstruction ordinance was called up, having been laid over from the previous meeting. It came near being passed by default, so to say, but Alderman Waggoner called for a reading of the ordinance, and then the discussion was on. He said if the ordinance is passed it is that it will put every wholesaler in Fort Worth out of business. The coal, feed, lumber dealers and others have to drive their goods down the sidewalks getting in and out of their places of business and then there were places where the use of the sidewalk, in part at least, was necessary in receiving and delivering goods from cars.

City Attorney Orrick stated that he had done what he was directed to do and that was to bring before the council a bill that was unconstitutional in the city court. He had no specific information on the subject, for that court was not under his control, and he called out the remarks that it were not it should be.

Alderman Lehane: "That is a bad case of affairs, that that decision that he is making that was done in the city court. If the city attorney is not in control of the legal affairs of the city it is time we should know it and correct it at once."

A disclaimer of any dereliction of duty by the corporation court officials was again made by Mr. Orrick. The aldermen wanted to know if it was not possible to have the city laid off into districts so the ordinance could be applied to some of them and those who are the wholesale districts exempted.

Alderman Lehane wanted it understood that he was opposed to the passage of the ordinance and he would have the tendency to drive the wholesale men out of business, and he desired to serve notice on the Third ward, as the people down there seemed to be leading in the matter, that he would rather suffer his right arm to be cut off than destroy the wholesale business of Fort Worth, for that would allow the enforcement of this ordinance in its present form.

Several of the aldermen understood that the ordinance was getting bad and intended to apply only to the suburbs of the city and not to the wholesale districts, and after a number of questions and substitutes were offered the ordinance was getting badly tangled, all of the motions were withdrawn and a motion to receive and file the ordinance was made, but pending this Mayor Harris pointed the need for some kind of an ordinance protecting the sidewalks for the use of the people, for the unauthorized use or even appropriation of the sidewalks has proceeded too far.

Alderman Waggoner asked the city attorney if an ordinance could be drafted which would discriminate against one class of people and in favor of another class, but the city attorney declined to express an off-hand opinion. After a long discussion the ordinance was referred to be put in shape in such shape that the sidewalk rights of the citizens shall be protected and the wholesale interests also.

The street and alley committee had not the requisite data to decide on the petition of C. J. Kellner et al. for the improvement of Myrtle street and the petition for the widening of the city attorney with the information so he can give an opinion as to cost.

The same committee reported that the petition of the owners of the Lake street stated the cost would be about $50 or $60, but it was learned that the cost would be from $450 or so, and it was referred to the finance committee.

The waterworks committee recommended that the waterworks boilers be protected by boiler accident insurance, for they were worked to their full capacity now and there was reason for the insurance. Referred to the finance committee.

Several applications for position of special policemen were approved.

Dumping Grounds

The proposition of North Fort Worth to sell five acres of the dumping grounds to Fort Worth for $1,000 was submitted. It was referred to the street and alley committee to arrange details, the Fort Worth people to have a voice in the selection of the grounds and to be secured in a right of way and to be located in a right of way.

The formal contest with Thomas Buler for the improvement of the water supply was filed.

The ordinance imposing a tax of $1 per year on vehicles for hire was passed.

Hempill Paving

The application for the paving of Hempill street was submitted and later an explanation was made by C. T. Hodge. He said there were about 4,500 feet on each side of the street, that that amount only about 1,155 feet were unsigned for. Of the balance 3,345 feet were positively promised. The signers agree to abide by the will of the majority, but the kind of pavement to be used. After discussion it was referred to the street and alley committee and the city engineer to advertise for bids. A committee of interested citizens is to be appointed to act with the city council committee.

The Worthington meter contract was read and approved.

The city marshal suggested that the chain gang expenses should be on the street department pay roll, for the police had no benefit from it and the only result was to swell the expenses of the police department.

Dr. Barber's request for an ordinance requiring carted trash to be covered was held up for investigation, it being the impression that an ordinance exists covering the case.

A request of the deaf mutes for the use of the City Park Sept. 22, was granted.

On motion of Alderman Lehane the application for the right to bid on the city coal for the waterworks, etc., was granted.

A request of the city health officer that all surface closets be prohibited was referred.

A petition for the opening of Nineteenth street, signed by 200 or more of the citizens of the Third ward, was read and referred to the finance committee and the city engineer to ascertain the cost.

An ordinance prohibiting skating on sidewalks was passed under a suspension of the rules. Alderman Zurr, Lehane and Cooper objected. Mr. Chief Biddeker was granted a twelve days' leave of absence.

To Codify Ordinances

The proposition of W. D. Williams and T. J. Powell to codify the city ordinances was referred to the finance committee. The price asked is $500.

The mayor said there would likely be a report on the leverage claim at the next council meeting.

Deaf Three Years Hears Instantly

Mrs. L. F. Knoderer, living at 159 Spruce St., Columbus, Ohio, is rejoicing over the sudden restoration of her sense of hearing after being deprived of it for nearly three years, says a letter that she writes.

The cause of her affliction is supposed to have been catarrh which so affected the right ear as to totally destroy the hearing.

A few days ago when reading a newspaper she noticed an account of a similar case that had been benefited by L. T. Cooper's new medicines and as Cooper happened to be in the city at that time, went immediately to see him. She was told that the preparations would benefit her and consented to a demonstration. A few drops of one of the remedies were poured into her ears and then the members were gently rubbed until the aural cavity was saturated and the medicine was absorbed. Tests were made and accompanying her was Mrs. Knoderer could hear everything from the afflicted ear within five minutes after the demonstration was made.

When seen at his place he was enthusiastic in her praise of the young man and his medicines and verified the story. Her statements were practically a repetition of the above.

There seems to be no end to the remarkable work that Cooper is doing with his medicines and results in various cases that have recently been made public seem to prove his claim that they can be used in the home with the same success as though applied by him or his physicians.

Several cases of a similar nature have been reported in Fort Worth, and at E. T. Pangburn & Co.'s drug store, where the preparations are sold. It is said that the sale has been enormous. The preparations are known as Cooper's New Discovery and Cooper's Quick Relief.

SCHOOL GROUNDS TO BE IMPROVED

Board Decides to Take Steps Toward Beautification

NEW RULES ADOPTED Pupils Must Start With Term and Transfers Made When Even Exchange Is Effected

The school board met in called session Monday afternoon at the city hall and considered some matters of importance though conclusions were few.

The matter of paving the sidewalks and so much of the school grounds as might be necessary was considered. The board, after a long discussion, was unable to time to time, was referred to the board to decide to have the city engineer make up specifications and have the contractor submit bids conforming to the size specifications and so the matter went over.

A vexing question is that of fixing salaries. A rule was adopted making a minimum but not to exceed the amount on salaries to recommend that the teacher who showed special aptitude, or who had a greater fitness, because of longer experience and who had paid a larger salary a fixed maximum not to exceed in those cases. The result is that every one in the same class should be paid the same, and may be as low as, or as high as, the highest pay. There is where a difference of opinion in the board, but the board and the board on the one side and the teacher on the other. The board may be compelled to fall back on the fixed salary rule and deviate from it in no case.

The board sanctioned an inexpensive extension of the musical instruction scheme.

Must Start With Terms

A rule was adopted to cure the defect in the existing rules which have heretofore permitted the admission of any child who might attain the proper age at any time that age is attained. The rule as adopted yesterday provides for admission of the pupils only at the beginning of the year, and each into which the school year is divided.

Complaint Over Ground

Contrasting, by observation, the condition of the Fort Worth public school grounds, was condemned, especially those of the several schools of other cities and Trustee Newby particularly named the school grounds of Dallas, which he said were like well kept lawns in their summer days of beauty and neatness. It was stated that at some or all of the Dallas schools the janitors were provided with a broom and a shovel, and during the summer and being paid a nominal salary, they kept the grounds in good condition. Mayor Harris called attention to the fact that the street set out on some of the school grounds in the early part of the year, had been permitted to lie during the year from lack of water, and living in those parts of the city, a "kind of a contract" he styled it, "for which the city received, but little consideration in return for the fact that the street set out on some of the school grounds in
