HIPPLE MONEY MAD

Although Not Yet Arrested Directors Face Prison Bars. Duplicity Revealed

By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—Rumors of the arrest of the directors of the looted Real Estate Trust Company filled the air today. District Attorney Bell declares in most emphatic terms that no man will be spared in the effort to bring justice to those responsible for the dissipation of the depositors' money. A statement has been made that two of the directors and some members of the bar profited to the extent of $750,000 in the past three years by accepting fees from Adolph Segal for passing on the security tendered by him for loans from the bank aggregating $5,000,000.

So far as known the warrants have not yet been issued for these men. President Hipple's plaintive cry from the grave, "Segal got all," arouses the depositors to a high pitch of indignation.

Lawyers representing many hundreds of the depositors are taking active part in the condition of affairs of the trust company, and the facts are coming to light almost hourly, revealing new lamps of duplicity on the part of the men entrusted with the depositors' money.

Investigations show that the looting of the trust company will cost the depositors little less than $100,000, and leaders of that faith are compelling themselves that President Hipple chose an opportune time of committing suicide, as far as the church is concerned.

Hipple Money Mad Receiver Karle expresses the opinion that President Hipple was "money mad," and there seems to be no end of variety of methods by which he pigged with securities which fell into his hands.

It was established yesterday that the substitute of bogus bonds for good bonds among the trust securities which Hipple would have the clerk that someone at the door wanted to see him for a moment, and the clerk suspiciously advised Hipple to substitute the counterfeit bonds for the real ones.

Army of Strikebreakers Transported Across Continent to Be Given Work

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—The strike of the street car men on the United Railroads incidentally also that of the linemen, electricians, firemen and construction workers, came to an end last night when the strike committee of these unions officially declared the strike off.

The car men immediately reported for duty and soon cars began leaving the barns. As the first cars proceeded on the various lines through the city, they were greeted with tumultuous cheering by thousands of people who lined the streets and whom the appearance of the cars was the first notice that the strike was off.

The calling off of the car men's strike followed the action of the union in mass meeting Tuesday night, voting to return to work and arbitrate afterwards, the only way in which President Calhoun of the United Railroads declared he would treat with his former employees. Despite the action of the car men, several times during the day the dove of peace hovered uncertain over the scene.

Peace Hung in Balance For a time the question of peace or continued strife hung in the balance, and once all negotiations were declared off, when Calhoun refused to receive a committee of the union. The men had returned to work.

Of the 2,000 strike breakers imported by the United Railroads, President Calhoun said that many of the men would remain in the company's employ and that it could use them as well as the former employees in the building and operating of projected lines.

MUTUAL DENIES TEXAS REBATING

Company Blames Discharged Employee for Trouble

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—George T. Dexter, second vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, made this statement yesterday relative to the charges contained in two letters sent by men in San Antonio, Texas, to the international policyholders' committee.

The statement that the Mutual Life agents in Texas were rebating was first brought to our attention through a communication to the president, through a discharged and disgruntled employe of our San Antonio office.

Charges Denied "Specific charges were made and the names of the policyholders alleged to have received a rebate were furnished. An investigation was at once started and we have a written statement from every one of the policyholders we have so far been able to reach denying the charge."

Rebates Against Rules "The complainant has been informed of the fact and asked to furnish proof of his claim. We are ready to take summary action in this or any other case, where proof is produced that agents of this company are violating or have violated our instructions prohibiting rebating. Our instructions are explicit and agents will be dismissed whenever the offense is proved."

The complainant referred to is one of the two men who communicated with the international committee. The whole matter has been referred to Grover Cleveland, rebate referee for the three big companies.

DOCUMENTS LOST; NEGRO ARRESTED

Charged With Stealing Valuable Books from Government

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6.—Following the investigation of the disappearance of many rare and valuable law books from the document room of the United States senate, W. E. Cuney, a negro, was arrested yesterday at the capitol on the charge of larceny. The arrest was made by Detective Weber as Cuney was entering the committee room of Representative Calderhead of Kansas, whom Cuney says he assisted in distributing pamphlets to Kansas constituents.

When the committee room was searched, detectives say they found twenty-three volumes of the digest on international law, which were the only original copies in the country and which were barred from removal from the document room.

Campbell, nominee for governor, when he comes through this city Sept. 8 on his way to Fredericksburg, where he will make a speech. The major portion of this committee will go with him to Fredericksburg.

MACHINES WILL BREAK UP STRIKES

Molding Apparatus Will Take Place of Men

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 6.—Secretary Paul Blatchford of the Metal Trades association yesterday predicted a termination of the strike of 500 iron molders in the foundry shops of Chicago within a month as a result of an important discovery made by local manufacturers.

As an experiment 100 molding machines were recently installed in the big foundries, where it had been found impossible to secure strike breakers to replace the foundrymen who walked out May 1.

The trial proved successful according to employers, who assert the machines turned out as much work as three skilled iron molders.

Orders immediately were sent to New York for 500 more of the strike-breaking machines.

In Chicago and Milwaukee, where the strike of the molders also is in progress, it was predicted 1,500 machines will be in operation before another month. If this proves true, it is figured by employers that they will have need for less than half of the former number of employes, and that, consequently, the strike practically will have been defeated.

The substitution of machinery for men is not new in strikes, but this is the first time in the history of labor disputes, it is said, that it has been tried on so extensive a scale.

REBELS DECIDE PALMA MUST GO

Insurgents Prefer American Intervention to Administration

By Associated Press. HAVANA, Sept. 6.—A report that General Menocal, who is using his influence to establish peace between the government and the insurgents, has an eye on the presidency, is vigorously denied by the leader of the Cuban veterans. Menocal adds that he does not seek the overthrow of President Palma nor the moderate administration, but desires solely to see the republic at peace. Personal ambitions, political and otherwise, should be set aside for the good of all.

The Telegraph prints the following over the signature of Colonel Asbert, the rebel leader in the province of Havana: Urges New Election "The revolutionists stipulate for the annulment of the annual election of the president, vice president, representatives and senators, and for the removal of the governors, but so as not to leave the country ungoverned, one-half of the senators and representatives shall choose a temporary president by a majority vote who, with them, shall constitute a provisional government, supported by the rebels and the whole country to hold new elections and restore the law. Better American intervention than the present administration's government, the rebels having full confidence in President Roosevelt's justice."

Rebels Ample Armed An uprising in Santiago province depends upon certain contingencies that I am not at liberty to divulge, but when it comes it will be big and rapid. It is not necessary to destroy property to defeat the government. The rebels are ample armed and have plenty of munitions. All the rebels are perfectly confident of success.

SPAIN BECOMES ENGLAND'S ALLY

Alfonso's Recent Marriage Has Good Effect

By Associated Press. LONDON, Sept. 6.—Despite various reports to the contrary it may be accepted as certain that no steps have been taken toward the negotiation of a formal alliance between Great Britain and Spain and it is very doubtful that anything of the kind is in contemplation.

Relations Cordial The elations between the two countries are very cordial, and the newly created kinship between their royal houses adds another close and intimate bond to their cordiality. It is very probable that King Alfonso will look to London with greater frequency for his higher political inspirations and under his leadership, the Spanish government will be brought closer into working relations with the British government, but nothing in the nature of a written alliance is looked for with Europe at present.

Spain co-operated with France and Great Britain at Algiers and under most circumstances probably will be found similarly aligned in the future. There is no reason to believe that France will view the close approach of Italy and Spain other than that of approval or that France would object to making the partnership a triangular one. There exists certain differences between France and Spain, but well informed circles here regard them as susceptible to easy adjustment.

Screams of Girl Frighten Assailant, Who Makes Escape

Special to The Telegram. PARIS, Texas, Sept. 6.—Yesterday morning just before daylight the 14-year-old daughter of Len Harrover, a farmer living two miles north of Cooper, stepped out in the hall to get a drink of water. As she stepped on the gallery she was seized by the arm by an unknown person, who clapped a hand over her mouth to prevent her from giving an alarm, and tried to drag her into the yard.

She managed to scream and the stranger became frightened and ran away. Sheriff Turbeville was notified and went to the scene, but did not obtain any clew to the perpetrator of the act.

WAITED ARMS TO BEGIN ATTACKS

Letter Found Discloses Plans of Mexican Revolutionists

Special to The Telegram.
EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 6.—A letter found on Bruno Trevino, one of the men arrested as Mexican revolutionists on the Arizona border, dated Toronto, Ont., and signed R. Flores Magdon, head of the Mexican revolutionary junta, instructs Trevino, when he has 100 men willing to fight, to attack the Nogales custom house, take arms and then proceed to interior towns and gather recruits. The letter says: "Let Cananea alone for the present. Take Nogales first."
 The writer then cautions Trevino against acting too soon and says: "We cannot yet fix the day on which the uprising takes place, because we must arm ourselves. There are forty revolutionary centers throughout the country resolved to rise up in arms, but not all possess sufficient arms. The junta is working to secure funds for the revolution. There are persons who could well loan money to buy arms. If they do it, the junta will issue the necessary receipts, which will be recognized on the triumph of the revolution, and be repaid. In this manner it will be easier to secure money. We have to be careful to make the least noise possible so as not to have the government constantly forewarned. There are some who would at once throw themselves on the despot. This would occasion nothing except demoralization and panic. We must act when we have the probability of success."
 "Above all, see that the movement does not lag. But it will not be on Sept. 16, as certain papers have made it appear. The day on which the rising will take place cannot be named. This depends on the various groups or the majority of them being ready."

Junta Broken Up
Special to The Telegram.
DOUGLASS, Ariz., Sept. 6.—Among the Mexican and American officials who have come here to attend the hearing in the cases of the twelve persons arrested on the charge of planning a military expedition against a friendly power are General Torres of Sonora, G. W. Webb, United States immigration inspector for Arizona and New Mexico; Arturo Elias, Mexican consul at Tucson, and United States Attorney Alexander of Phoenix, who will prosecute the cases.
 Gen. Torres said yesterday that with the breaking of the junta here he felt confident the trouble along the border would be ended.

THREATENED CASSID
Told to Keep Quiet in Case if She Wanted Pardon
Special to The Telegram.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 6.—Former Judge Francis J. Wing of the United States court at Cleveland practically admitted that he had threatened Mrs. Cassie Chadwick with the adverse influence of James W. Friend of Pittsburgh in case Mrs. Chadwick applied for a pardon and release from the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, where she is incarcerated.

Judge Wing was a witness in the case brought by the widow of W. C. Jute to secure possession of her husband's estate, which she alleges was wrongly taken from him. Several hundred thousands of dollars are involved in the case.
 Shortly after the suit was entered notice was given that the deposition of Mrs. Chadwick in the penitentiary would be taken, because she was known to have had dealings with Mr. Friend, and it was said that she had knowledge of the business transaction between Friend and Jute. This deposition is now in the hands of Judge John D. Shafter and a bitter fight will be made when the time comes to rule it out. The case has been on trial for some months.

Judge Wing was formerly Mrs. Chadwick's attorney. According to the testimony, Mr. Friend engaged Judge Wing to go to Columbus and see Mrs. Chadwick in the penitentiary and try to influence her not to make disclosures of his dealings with her and which were thought to have bearing on this case. Attorney Leo Well for Mrs. Jute, in examination, had Judge Wing practically admit that he had threatened Mr. Friend would oppose her if she ever wanted a pardon in case she told too much.

FINED FOR LIBEL
Charged That Colorado Paper Published Article Injuring Him
Special to The Telegram.
BELTON, Texas, Sept. 6.—The recent grand jury here found an indictment against F. B. Whipkey and E. A. Henry of Colorado county. Yesterday the case was disposed of. The defendants were charged with criminal libel in having written and published an article in the Colorado Record reflecting upon the reputation and character of George C. Pendleton, F. B. Whipkey pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $100. Mr. Whipkey filed an affidavit denying any malicious intent on his part in the publishing of the article containing the libel and states that he did not see said article before it was published; had he done so that he would have retracted the same, believing it to be false. The state filed motion to dismiss the case against E. A. Henry on the reason that upon investigation by the state it was made to appear that Henry, who was the author of the article, was at the time mentally incompetent and suffering from acute mania. The parties to this effect being made by his father and his physician at Colorado City and by Dr. Moody of San Antonio, where Young Henry had recently been confined for treatment for mental disorder.

It is said the trouble grew out of an article published immediately after the state convention at Dallas.

Wound May Prove Fatal—Two Men Under Bail
Special to The Telegram.
HILLSBORO, Texas, Sept. 6.—Ed Kelley, a man engaged in cotton picking, was shot and badly wounded early yesterday afternoon six miles north-east of Itasca in the field in which he was working.

Shortly afterward Eart Hobbs, Oscar Leggett and Ed Watson proceeded to Itasca and surrendered to City Marshal Fred Long, Sheriff Satterfield and County Attorney Clarke went to Itasca and an agreement was reached by which bail was granted Hobbs, as principal, in the sum of $1,000, and Leggett and Watson, as accessories, $500 each. The parties readily gave bond and were released.

The wounded man was conveyed to Itasca for treatment. It is thought he cannot survive. Hobbs and Leggett have long resided in the vicinity.

INSURANCE OF HEALTH

The Schlitz label means health insurance. It is our assurance to you that the beer in the bottle is the purest and most healthful brewed. When you ask for Schlitz do not be imposed upon with a cheap inferior beer. If the label is washed off insist on seeing that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

An impure beer cannot be healthful. Schlitz is brewed under conditions of absolute cleanliness from barley selected by one of our partners—the yeast is our own cultivation—the hops come largely from Bohemia—water is brought from rock 1,400 feet underground. The beer is even cooled in filtered air.

So Schlitz is pure and healthful and has a flavor all its own.

Beer that makes one bilious is unhealthful. Schlitz is held in storage for months to age so that it cannot cause biliousness.

Getting only Schlitz insures health.

Shot While Hunting

Special to The Telegram.
ABILENE, Texas, Sept. 5.—Young Bedford Forrest is at the Hollis sanitarium in this city with some painful injuries as a result of being shot while out hunting late yesterday afternoon.

With another small boy he was hunting in a field of maize and received almost the entire load of bird shot from his companion's gun. The height of the maize made it impossible for him to be seen. One of the shot passed through the eyelid but the sight of neither eye was lost and the attending physicians think that his injuries are not serious.

SOUTHWESTERN RAILWAY ACTIVITY

The friction developing between the southwestern railway magnates has not yet reached the acute stage, but every additional mile of railway constructed in this section threatens to bring about conditions that will result in more extensive building operations. The entrance of Gould's Western Pacific into San Francisco will be a decidedly hostile movement right in the camp of the Harriman interests. It is believed this will compel the Harriman interests to spend practically $20,000,000 in the reconstruction of the Central Pacific.

Along the gulf the Harriman tenure is threatened in one division by the Rock Island alone, and in another by a consolidation line being built by the Colorado and Southern and the Rock Island. The first line parallels the Southern Pacific between Houston and New Orleans. The second parallels the Houston and Texas Central from Fort Worth to the gulf. This last will probably lead to the early construction of a new Harriman line from the Union Pacific to a connection with the Houston and Texas Central in Fort Worth.

This great rivalry among the railway magnates has so far been carried on without any hard names being called or by any outburst of ungovernable fury on either side. The matters are of considerable local importance, but have not made themselves felt in the general policies of the Southern Pacific or the Rock Island. These two great systems in the southwest seem eminently adapted to fight, but so far have avoided anything that savors of a bitter business rupture. Common sense seems to still be ruling the roost, and will probably continue in the ascendancy.

The Colorado and Southern entrance into gulf territory is a very important epoch in the history of that system, and will make a big difference in the through business heretofore handled by the Houston and Texas Central and the Santa Fe. The new line is now within thirty-two miles of Houston and will be running trains into that city by the first of October.

The Santa Fe is doing important work, both on its Abo Pass line and on the preliminary work looking toward the crossing of the state of Texas from north-west to south-east—in other words, the new line from Albuquerque to Houston, and this line may at some time in the future prove a very important proposition. It is interesting at any rate to note that it makes the Santa Fe a duplicate of the Southern Pacific, as Huntington, Hopkins, Crocker and Stanford conceived it, with the exception that it stops at Houston instead of New Orleans. For nearly forty years there has been but one full system through from San Francisco to the gulf. When the Santa Fe is finished there will be two, and when the Western Pacific and Colorado and Southern are finished there may be three.

The extension of the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern far into New Mexico by the Gould interests also means something. The railway magnates controlling the southwestern lines are preparing to get very busy and the end is not in sight.

BRYAN ON GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

In his speech at Madison Square Garden in New York, William J. Bryan said:
I have already reached the conclusion that railroads partake so much of the nature of a monopoly that they must ultimately become public property and be managed by public officials in the interest of the whole community in accordance with the well defined theory that public ownership is necessary where competition is impossible. I do not know that the country is ready for this legislation; I do not know that a majority of my own party favors it. But I believe that an increasing number of the members of all parties see in public ownership the sure remedy for discriminations between persons and politics, and for the extortionate rates for the carrying of freight and passengers.

Believing, however, that the operations of the railroads by the Federal government would result in a centralization, which would all but obliterate state lines, I prefer to see only the trunk lines operated by the Federal government and the local lines by the several state governments.

It is stated that thirty-five out of the fifty-one members of the national democratic executive committee heard the speech of Colonel Bryan in which he used the above expression, and not one of the number endorsed it, and the general impression is that it was a most unfortunate utterance so far as the democratic party is concerned, and will alienate many good men from the party if it is persisted in. Henry Waterson, editor of the Courier-Journal, and one of the sages of the democratic party, says:

We simply express the opinion that public ownership is not a remedy for any existing abuse; that it would aggravate every form of existing abuse; that it would put in the hands of the party in charge possession of the government power untold and dangerous to liberty, making the President of the United States more potent than the autocrat of all the Russians, and the partisan organization behind him irremovable, except at the end of a revolution only too likely to be of blood. The suggestion as a plank in the democratic platform at this time is not only impracticable, but if it were adopted as a fighting line would cost us the election.

It could not be carried out as a policy, even if by some cataclysm we should come to power in spite of it, and it ought not to be adopted, or contemplated as a policy by any party, having the real good of the people at heart. It is un-American and undemocratic, inflicting all our professions on the side of simple, efficacious and upright government.

Some one has suggested that Colonel Bryan is all right as the democratic leader and it will be safe for the party to follow his leadership after the platform has been made. But it is evident that it is not safe to allow him the privilege of making the national platform. The business interests of the country just simply will not stand for such extreme radicalism as is embodied in the idea of government ownership of the railroads of the country. Government regulation is right and proper, but when it comes to absolute government ownership, that is a different matter.

SEEMS A FAMILY FAILING

There is one fact that has just come to light in connection with the failure of the Real Estate Trust company of Philadelphia, of which Frank K. Hipple was president. The gross stealing that was practiced in connection with the affairs of this corporation convinced the public that a master mind was engaged in the transaction, but it was not suspected that a family trait and characteristic was being reflected in the situation of an almost startling nature.

Frank K. Hipple was a first cousin of the late United States Senator Mitchell of Oregon, who died suddenly last winter after he had been convicted in the courts of defrauding the United States government in some large land transactions. That these two blood relatives should have had such similar careers, each cloaking his crimes under a mask of respectability and remaining an honored and respected citizen of his community while actually a thief, is perhaps something more than just a mere coincidence.

The real name of the late Senator Mitchell of Oregon was John Mitchell Hipple. He lived in Butler, Pa., for many years and left that place on account of domestic troubles. Soon after reaching Oregon he had his name changed by legislative enactment to John Hipple Mitchell. To the general public in Oregon he was simply known as Senator John Mitchell. Many of his closest friends did not know of the dark chapter in his career until he became involved in the land frauds that caused his downfall, followed by his sudden death. It has even been said that Senator Mitchell, like his Philadelphia relative, did not die of natural causes.

In Philadelphia the affairs of the defunct banking institution are yet undergoing investigation with the belief that there are many facts not yet brought to light. It is not believed that President Hipple could have stolen so much money without some of his associates being the wiser for his action, and the matter will be probed to the very bottom.

SMALL BUTCHERS IN DANGER

Small butchers all over the country with plants near State lines have just awakened to the fact that unless they have their meats inspected they cannot under the new law supply any trade except that in which their plants are located. The law under severe penalties, forbids common carriers from carrying uninspected meat, and under the law the railroads can soon put the small packers entirely out of business.

It is being argued that in order to prevent the big packers from flourishing at the expense of the smaller ones, congress must make an adequate appropriation at its coming session for carrying out the provisions of the new meat inspection law. Otherwise it is stated the law will become the most unpopular that has been enacted during the Roosevelt administration. It is claimed that it is already manifest that the law is going to be an agent for the promotion of the welfare of the big packers to the detriment of the smaller butchers, as it will eliminate competition and make the last condition of the consumer worse than the first.

It is said that without a larger allowance for the payment of the salaries of the inspectors, Secretary Wilson cannot detail men for the small plants that have business in more than one state. The allowance made at the time of the passage of the bill was $3,000,000, but present indications are that it will require a sum just about four times as great to properly enforce the provisions of the inspection law.

When it begins to cost about $1,000,000 a month to enforce the new law, and the government is compelled to pay that sum regularly, it is feared the old suggestion of making the packers pay for the inspection will again be brought up, and when it is and if the plan should be adopted the leading cattlemen of the country still believe that in the end the expense would be brought up out of the pocket of the producer. And cattlemen do not believe they are able to stand anything of that kind.

In a speech at Galveston Monday, Colonel Tom Campbell again assured the people of Texas that all platform demands of the democratic party in this state shall be carried out. And when the legislature gets through with them it may be necessary to carry some of them out on a stretcher. At least that is the way the lawmakers usually attend to platform demands.

Some of the west Texas cotton planters are eager to engage negro cotton pickers, but the bulk of them seem to adhere to the old injunction which suggests that no negro should let the sun set on his presence in any west Texas county.

President Roosevelt and President Diaz are trying to arrange to meet each other at the San Antonio fair next month, and it is to be hoped the necessary arrangements will be made. And "the garden spot of the Lord" will give each of the distinguished gentlemen a cordial reception.

Boll weevil and boll worms do not prey upon the Texas hog crop, and Fort Worth provides a ready and eager market for every hog that can be produced in Texas. All Texans should raise more hogs.

It was a newspaper man that ran Banker Stensland to cover over in Morocco, and the gentleman owes his return to this country and probable punishment to the enterprise of the press.

District court is now in session at Brownsville, and it is expected that there will soon be some important developments with regard to the indictment and trial of the negro soldiers now being held at San Antonio.

Colonel Tom Campbell will consider no applications for office until he has been elected governor. That is very hard on the faithful.

Colonel Ned Green should have a run for his money, and if the Terrell election law stands in the way of his doing business it should be incontinently suspended.

Fort Worth paid a little the rise of $200 for her first bale of new cotton, and that was a bright start in the right direction.

Now that the political campaign is over, will the attorney general of Texas resume his great work of running down the octopus?

At any rate, William J. Bryan has given the politicians something new to talk about.

C. A. Walsh, the democratic national committeeman for Iowa, has withdrawn from the democratic party, and yet there are some people who think that the democracy is always in bad luck.—Houston Post.

It does not require much ability to read between the lines to discover the reason for the retirement of Walsh. He is in sympathy with a big independent political movement that is going to be led by William R. Hearst.

From all information at our hands, the 'possum crop in grand old Collin is very flattering indeed. There is going to be something doing all along the line, bud, and you want to get your 'grinders' in shape. This fall's feast promises to be the best of any season.—McKinney Courier-Gazette.

With an abundant 'possum crop Collin county will continue to lead the procession. Fannin county is a close second with the best rabbit crop in her history, and both counties have a fine prospect of reveling in peace and plenty.

Some of the Texas papers are advocating a longer term of office for governor of Texas and an increase of salary. The Times is of the opinion that the term of office should be four years, and the salary increased to give the poor man a chance. It now costs more to make the race for governor than the office pays.—Venus Times.

State elections should be held every four years, and the governor of Texas should be paid an annual salary of $10,000. Texas cannot afford to make a mendicant of her executive.

The decision of the attorney general that the ticket of the "reorganized republican" party of Texas cannot go on the official ballot serves to illustrate the undemocratic tendency of the Terrell election law in limiting the formation of political parties, and in practically providing that there can be only two parties, the democrats and republicans, in Texas.—San Antonio Gazette.

There is a general sentiment in Texas that the provisions of the Terrell law should not be invoked to prevent the reorganized republicans from voting their choice. This is a free country and men should not be interfered with in the exercise of their rights as suffragists.

Mr. Bryan puts it strong in favor of the ownership of the railroads, but he had better go slow on that proposition. It is a proposition that the big "interests" shy at like a country horse at a town brass band.—Bonham Herald.

The business interests of the country do not favor government ownership of anything. They do not believe the government should have the privilege of entering into active competition with the individual in any line of business.

The rain of yesterday has no doubt damaged the cotton crop of Texas to an amount which cannot be estimated. Farmers generally were already reporting crops nearly entirely destroyed by worms and this rain will not help the situation, to say the least, and the chances are that many crops will be entirely destroyed by pests which under favorable weather would have yielded a fair return for the labor expended.—Denton News.

The excessive rains have damaged the cotton crop to a considerable extent, but they have put a fine season in the ground for fall wheat sowing. And Texas should plant for a bumper crop of wheat.

Texas' penitentiaries are self-sustaining. The iron works in the Rusk penitentiary has been very prosperous and well managed.—Sherman Democrat.

There is no reason why the Texas state penitentiaries should not be self-sustaining with the proper management. All Texas is constantly contributing to their population, which is now in the neighborhood of 4,000.

A strong, new bank, with a capital of $100,000; a windmill factory, with a capital of $50,000, a new gas plant, a municipal sewer plant, the Knights of Pythias "Widows' and Orphans' home, and plans maturing for the organization of a strong company to take over and improve the Love Mineral Wells property on a large scale, are some of the things doing in Weatherford just now. And they say "the old town is dead." Weatherford Herald.

Weatherford is not dead. She has only been indulging in a brief nap and has now awakened. When the enterprising citizens of that progressive little city start out to do things something always pops. There are some very live people in Weatherford.

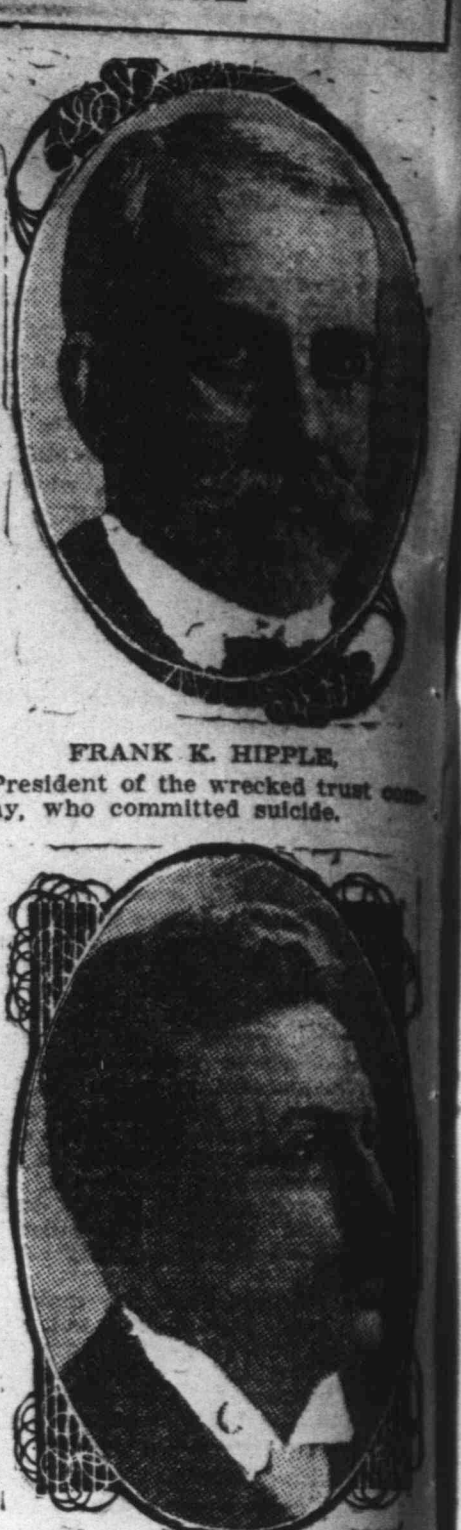

Every dog has his day. Down in McClellan county, farmers are in desperate straits for cotton pickers. The negroes that the farmers are fortunate enough to secure are damming watermelon, chicken and ice cream as a part of the daily menu.—Gainesville Messenger.

Cotton pickers are generally demanding high prices for gathering the fleecy staple, and farmers are being compelled in many instances to pay more than they feel they can afford.

CIRCULATION

A teacher in a small school in Camden was giving a lesson on the circulation of the blood. Trying to make it clearer, she said:
"Now, children, if I stood on my head the blood, as you know, would run into it, and I should turn red in the face."

"Now, Jimmy," continued the teacher, addressing a small boy, "what I want to know is this: How is it that while I am standing upright in the ordinary position the blood does not run into my feet and turn them red?"
"Why, because yer feet ain't empty."

FOLLOWED INSTRUCTIONS

Ten-year-old Fred was going to a party for the first time.
"Here's a half dollar, Fred," said his father; "if it rains, be sure you take a cab home."
When Fred got home he was thoroughly drenched.
"Why didn't you take a cab?" exclaimed his father.
"I did, father," replied Fred, "and I sat on the box all the way home. It was glorious."

MAJORITY RULES

A well-known surgeon was imparting some clinical instruction to a half dozen students who accompanied him in his rounds. Pausing at the bedside of a doubtful case, he said:
"Now, gentlemen, do you think this is or is not a case for operation?"
One by one the students made their diagnosis, and all of them answered in the negative.
"Well, gentlemen, you are all wrong," remarked the wielder of the scalpel, "and I shall operate tomorrow."
"No, you won't," exclaimed the patient, as he rose in his bed. "Six to one is a good majority. Gimme my clothes."

HAD TO SEE A DENTIST

A well known artist was walking with a friend one day, when his companion suddenly discovered he had a tooth in bad condition. As the pair were passing a drug store the man with the throbbing molar asked the other:
"What would you advise for the toothache?"
"Why," innocently replied the artist, "the last time I had toothache I went home and my wife kissed it away."
The friend paused a moment and then asked, "Is your wife at home now?"

THE PROPER ACTION

Several days ago in a cheap restaurant a waiter brought two soft-boiled eggs to a customer. At once the dusk servant struck one of the eggs with a spoon and the contents of the shell was dropped into an egg cup. The customer caught a whiff of the egg and averted his head.
"Shall I open another, sah?" asked the waiter.
"No," was the reply, "open a window."

HER BROTHER

It was commencement day at a famous female seminary in Pennsylvania and the father of one of the young ladies came to attend the graduating exercises of his daughter. She introduced her father to the principal, who said, "I congratulate you, sir, upon your extremely large and affectionate family."
"Large and affectionate?" he stammered.
"Yes, indeed," said the principal. "No less than twelve of your daughter's brothers have come frequently during the winter to take her driving and sleighing, while the eldest one escorted her to the theater twice a week."

A New York dentist demands settlement of a bill for $2,110. A physician recently asked a fee at the rate of $300 a day. Not much fear that the sick will die disgracefully rich.—New York American.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

In this world you get kicked for being poor and cursed for being rich.
A woman doesn't have to have very big feet to get mad about some other woman's small ones.
If a woman begged her husband to drink whiskey the way she does to go to church, probably he'd be a prohibitionist.
It is very comforting to a woman to think what a good daughter she would have been to her parents if she hadn't had her own children to look after.
A man has to have a good temper not to get mad with himself for thinking of a good lie he might have told his wife only after he had told her a poor one to explain why he got home so late.—New York Post.

Seven Gored Tucked Princess Skirt
5390—Perforated for Walking

The princess skirt is a pronounced favorite, and a very graceful and attractive one. It can be worn either with a lingerie waist or with one of matching material and is altogether satisfactory and very generally becoming. This one is tucked to form a deep girde and is shown in soft gray mirlage silk trimmed with velvet banding, but it will be found appropriate for all reasonable materials, the washable ones as well as those of silk and light weight wool. Fine linen and cotton materials are greatly liked made in this way, and can be trimmed with frills or with insets of lace and embroidery, while the light weight wools, such as voile and the like, are equally in demand. Made with the slight train, the skirt is appropriate for indoor occasions, but can be cut off in walking length, when it becomes adapted to the street.

The skirt is made in seven gores and is laid in a succession of narrow tucks that turn backward from the front, giving the effect of a narrow box pleat at that point. It is arranged so that a smoothly fitted foundation girde that serves to keep it firmly in place, and the closing is made invisibly at the back.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 10 yards 21 or 27 or 3 1/2 yards 44 inches wide if material has figure or nap; 9 1/2 yards 21, 7 yards 27 or 4 1/2 yards 44 inches wide if it has not, with 13 yards of banding to trim as illustrated.

The pattern 5390 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30-inch waist measure.

two years came before him as he rode. And that terrible day when he was released from the prison and went back to his native village only to find that Stevens had gone and with him Mary Mason, the one person in the world whom Tyneson had loved, and who had loved him. Stevens had poisoned her mind as he had poisoned the minds of all the people in the village, and had finally won her.

Then came the long chase across the sea and across a continent. And now, at last—suddenly Tyneson's horse shied. There in the dusk beside the road was a newly made grave with a rough cross at its head.

A light was now shining from the cabin window. Quietly Tyneson tied his horse to a nearby tree and stepped to the cabin door. The room was empty. As Tyneson silently crossed the threshold, his revolver in his hand, he saw a small bundle on the table. Suddenly the bundle moved and as he gazed at it there came into view the face of a tiny baby. He started back with an exclamation and the baby uttered a lusty cry.

A moment later a woman appeared at the door, a woman poorly dressed and haggard.

"Mary," he cried, starting back.

"George Tyneson," she said in a low voice.

"Where is William?" he demanded fiercely.

"She moved quickly toward him and placed her hand on his arm."

"He treated me as no man—Tyneson began, but she stopped him.

"I know," she said, gently, "but he is dead. He told me all before he died. You have come all these miles thirsting for revenge only—"

"Only to find you," he said quickly, looking into her eyes.

"The man is dead," she went on, slowly, "and the woman who deserves almost worse for doubting you, is not much better; for I am tied here, penniless, ill, friendless, powerless to do anything to save my child or myself." And she turned wearily and crossed to the table looking down at the face of the sleeping child.

For a long time he stood watching her, eagerly, hungrily, his face twitching with emotion. Then suddenly he moved to her side.

"Mary," he said, in a hoarse voice, "Mary, I believe it was not him I came for at all, but you—just you, Mary, only I didn't know it."

Her eyelids trembled, her eyes filled with tears, she rested her hands on the table for support.

"Mary, will you come home with me. Say you can love me again."

"I never loved any one but you, George, and if you'll forgive me I'll come—oh, I'll come, my dear."

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

LOVE'S TRIUMPH

For ten days George Tyneson had been at the Palace hotel in the little mining camp in Colorado. Every man he had seen during that time he had asked for William Stevens, the man whom he had followed all the way from England, the man whom he was seeking for revenge. At last, from an old miner, he heard that a man named Stevens had been prospecting in a gulch thirty miles away.

Early the next morning Tyneson was on his way to the distant gulch. All day long he rode, and just as dusk was approaching he made out a miserable cabin near the road only a little way ahead. This must be the place where his enemy had hidden himself.

And so at last the long trail had come to an end. Every detail of the search came back to Tyneson's mind as he slowly rode along. How well he remembered that day in court when William Stevens, the only man who could prove that he was not guilty of the crime charged against him, had fallen to keep his promise and appear as a witness.

Every word the judge said when he sentenced him to two years in prison for a crime which he did not commit, and of which Stevens' testimony would have acquitted him, was burned in his brain. Every detail of that terrible

Girl's Dress 5391—To Be Made With High or Low Neck, Elbow or Long Sleeves, With or Without the Body Lining

Such a pretty, simple little frock as this one is sure to be in demand all seasons of the year. For the warm weather it can be made with the low neck and elbow sleeves as illustrated while for cooler days yoke and cuffs can be added. CONTEST WINNER WINS HUSBAND

W. H. Calkins, Formerly of Fort Worth Married

Special to The Telegram.
DENVER, Col., Sept. 6.—That W. H. Calkins, formerly of Fort Worth, Texas, and now of Colorado Springs, and Miss Clara Eistun of Colorado Springs were secretly married Sunday, Aug. 19, was not known among the friends of the young couple in that city until Tuesday of this week.

Then it came out when Mr. and Mrs. Calkins reached Glenwood Springs, Colo., in company with a party of successful young women contestants who were on their way to Salt Lake City as guests of the Colorado Springs Telegraph.

Mr. Calkins is advertising and circulation manager of the Telegraph, and recently that paper started a prize circulation contest, offering a trip to Salt Lake City to twelve of the most popular young women in six districts of the state.

Miss Eistun was one of the contestants in Colorado Springs, and she received the highest number of votes received by any contestant in the six districts.

Sunday, Aug. 19, Mr. Calkins and Miss Eistun went to Glenwood Springs, where they were quietly married. C. D. Reimners of Fort Worth was one of the six witnesses, all of whom agreed to say nothing of the marriage.

Announcement of the winners in the contest was made by the Colorado Springs Telegraph on Sept. 31, and none of the other contestants knew that during the progress of the contest one of their number had become a bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Calkins left with the party of successful contestants for Salt Lake City Tuesday, and at Glenwood Springs the marriage became known.

Mr. Calkins went to Colorado Springs from Fort Worth April 1 of the present year. He became acquainted with Miss Eistun, who is a member of a prominent Colorado Springs family, during the progress of the contest.

For three years W. H. Calkins was connected with The Telegram and he is well known in Fort Worth. He was formerly circulation manager and later was in the advertising department of this paper. No friends in Fort Worth had received any hint of even his engagement prior to the announcement of his marriage received in Fort Worth Thursday.

A CRITICAL PERIOD

INTELLIGENT WOMEN PREPARE

Dangers and Pain of This Critical Period Avoided by the Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women realize that the most critical period in a woman's existence is the change of life, and that the anxiety felt by women as this time draws near is not without reason? If her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy or congestion of any organ, it is at this time likely to become acute and, with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden.

At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to begin their destructive work. Such warning symptoms as a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, dizziness, headache, dread of impending evil, sounds in the ears, timidity, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

We believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the world's greatest remedy for women at this trying period.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism, and builds up the weakened nervous system as no other medicine can.

Mrs. A. E. G. Hyland, of Chestertown, Md., in a letter to Mrs. Pinkham, says:

"I had been suffering with a displacement for years and was passing through the change of life. I had a good deal of nervousness, dizziness, headaches, and was very nervous. I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me, and I have passed safely through the change of life a well woman."

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful to all women.

THAT SUMMER ITCHING

Oh! But How It Itches at Night

IF IT'S AN ITCHING SKIN (NO MATTER THE NAME)

WILL CURE IT

ECZEMATOUS affections are a very important class of skin diseases, the most prominent characteristic of which are ERUPTION and ITCHING. The most common form of skin diseases are simply a modified form of ECZEMA, hence a cure for one is a cure for all. In this class may be mentioned:

Humid Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Ringworm, Running Scall, or Heat Eruption, Herpes, Frurigo, Flavus (Scalddhead)

SCABIES, (Itch) characterized by scalliness of the skin, eruption of pimples, vesicles or sometimes pustules. It is not due to inflammation like other skin diseases, but to the presence of little parasites which burrow under the skin. These minute insects multiply with astonishing rapidity, and within a short time after their first appearance will be found in nearly every part of the body. The itching they produce is so intense it is often with difficulty the sufferer can refrain from tearing the skin with his nails.

But One Cure for Eczema

Eczema is one of the most obstinate, deep-seated, germ diseases we have, and is beyond the reach of the many so-called Eczema cures and blood purifiers. Imperial Remedy will conquer any skin eruption, because it goes down to the seat of the disease, killing the germs, thus permanently eliminating every trace of the disease. People that have suffered for years with untold agony of Eczema or Skin Eruptions will look with skepticism upon a treatment so remarkably successful that it can be said it will cure all forms of Eczema and Skin Eruptions.

Skin diseases are always worse in warm weather, and those who are sufferers from Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc., look forward to the return of summer with a feeling of dread. During the cold winter months we shut ourselves in as much as possible, and take a great deal less exercise than is customary in warm weather; we also indulge our appetites by eating of the heavy, rich foods of the winter season, which do not digest as readily as the lighter foods of summer. This indoor life and lack of exercise cause all parts of the system to become inactive and listless and as a result the channels of bodily waste do not properly carry off the refuse and waste matter, which is left from all food after the nutritive properties have been extracted.

The skin is one of Nature's avenues for removing foreign matter from the system, being provided with millions of little pores and glands through which the unhealthy matter is expelled. As these fiery acids are forced out through these pores and glands they burn and blister the skin, producing Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Psoriasis, Sale Rheum or some other itching, burning skin eruption.

Eczema commences usually with a slight redness of the skin, followed by the formation of pustules, which discharges a clear, sticky fluid. This dries in crusts, and the itching is so intense that often great areas of raw flesh are exposed by the scratching indulged in, in an effort to get relief. In Tetter, the skin becomes hard and dry, often cracking open and bleeding, and as in Eczema the pain and itching are severe. Acne comes on the face and neck, usually, and while not so uncomfortable as other skin troubles, is unsightly and embarrassing. Salt Rheum is very much like Eczema, except that the head is its favorite point of attack; sometimes becoming so severe as to produce baldness. Psoriasis is a dry, scaly form of skin disease and causes acute suffering by its continual burning and itching.

Imperial Remedy is for sale by most all druggists. If yours can not supply you send his name and $1.00 and a large bottle will be sent by express. . . . (Six bottles for $5.00)

SHOOT MAN AND CHILD Party Taken for Robbers Fired Upon at New Ulm. Special to The Telegram. NEW ULM, Texas, Sept. 6.—A deplorable affair occurred near here at an early hour Tuesday morning. From the best information obtainable it seems a party of Mexican cotton pickers, who were camping in a pasture near Morris Rice's place, proceeded to his (Rice's) house about 3 a. m. to take refuge under a shed or barn for protection from a rain that was coming up, and Rice, on hearing the noise and his dog barking, went out and seeing some one at the barn, called to them: "Who is there?"

When Ruth Bryan Leavitt's Playlet Ends in Love Scene

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—According to her own statement it was a Denver vaudeville performance in a Denver playhouse that Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of the Nebraska statesman, threw up her hands and exclaimed to her girl companions: "Pshaw, how perfectly foolish. I could write a better sketch than that myself."

It so happened that one of the girl companions rather liked the little skit they had just witnessed. So she said: "But you couldn't, Ruth." The latter, being the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, who doesn't take dares, went home and rattled off a one-act playlet, entitled "Mrs. S. Holmes, Detective."

Ruth has evidently won the bet, for the playlet is on the boards of Keith & Proctor's Union Square theater and the New York critics are kind and even indulgent to it.

NOTICE—If the party who found the handsome pearl necklace recently lost by Mrs. Tenbrooke Brown will kindly call at the residence of Mrs. S. Holmes, he (or she) will find there information of importance, will be saved from serious embarrassment and will be in the house of his (or her) friends.

Shaw's Promise to Deposit Government Funds Increases Bullish Confidence. Strong Opening Results.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Secretary Shaw's announcement to the effect that beginning Monday, Sept. 10, he would deposit government funds in the national banks to facilitate the importation of gold strengthened bullish confidence in the stock market over night, and in connection with another strong London market for American securities, offered a favorable opportunity for further boosting values, of which the bulls were not slow to avail themselves.

Money rates eased rapidly in the afternoon, call loans dropping as low as 5 per cent, announcement that 400,000 pounds gold had been withdrawn from the Bank of England for local importation and rumors that the total engaged would reach $30,000,000 in the near future, being the cause of the drop.

NEW YORK COTTON

Bulls Hold Whip Hand—Shorts Crowded and Easy for Cover—Prices Rise Materially. Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—A preponderance of evidence indicating excessive deterioration in cotton prospects for the major portion of the belt, with the meeting of local cotton growers' association at Hot Springs, heavy rains in the eastern states and prospects for a favorable condition and sinner's report at a near date, made the road rocky for the bears today.

The rise offered a good opportunity for the taking of long profits, and scalpers were quite active in this direction during the final hour, as a consequence the full gain was not maintained, the market closing steady with prices at a net gain of 9 to 12 points.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6.—The cotton shorts were palpably nervous today and a few of the latter fears bulls derived substantial benefit, as the desire for cover was so manifest as to preclude all possibility of holding prices around yesterday's closing level.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 6.—The demand for spot cotton is increasing but with prices 3 points higher at 5.41d for America, middling offerings were free, sales aggregating 7,000 bales, imports, 4,000 bales.

The House of a Thousand Candles

By MEREDITH NICHOLSON Author of "The Main Chance," Etc. The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Synopsis of Previous Installments. John Glenarm, a roving young engineer, is killed an estate near Anandale, Ind., by his grandfather, on condition that he live these years else it will revert to Marian Devereux of New York, niece of the elder Glenarm's friend, Young Glenarm, returning to New York from Africa, is informed of the terms of his grandfather's will by Pickering, a lawyer, his former schoolmate, whom he greatly dislikes.

He accepts the term of his grandfather's will and, starting for Indiana, accidentally meets his chum Laurence Donovan. The two dine at Sherer's, and see there Pickering, accompanied by young woman whose face impresses Glenarm.

While Glenarm is seated in his grandfather's house, the first evening of his arrival, a bullet whizzes by his head and flattens itself against the wall. He accepts the terms of his grandfather's will and, starting for Indiana, accidentally meets his chum Laurence Donovan.

Next morning he takes the walk to the nearby village and returning sees a fight between his lone servant, Bates, and Morgan, a villager. Twice, returning to the house, Glenarm hears voices and once while walking in the woods at night he comes across Morgan, who takes the wall of his grandfather's estate with a hammer.

MANY FARMERS LEAVING OLD KENTUCKY HOMES

Chance to Buy Cheap Lands in Texas Proves Too Strong to Be Resisted By Residents of Blue Grass State

"Kentucky will furnish a large number of new citizens for Texas during the fall and winter season of 1906-7," said George Breedlove of the former state to a Telegram reporter Wednesday.

lands enough to give each one of his children a good farm to begin with. This is what is going to bring quite a number of Kentucky farmers to Texas.

TELEGRAM STORY IS CONFIRMED

Surveyors Are Working from Mineral Wells to New Mexico

P. E. Brock, vice president and general manager of the Mineral Wells road, has at last acknowledged that the story of the work of the surveyors for that road is correct, as stated in The Telegram exclusively about six weeks ago.

to visit his son, H. L. Flanders, who is one of the engineers of the Northern Texas Traction Company at Fort Worth. While in this state Mr. Flanders senior will try to see something of the great state of Texas, which is diagonally across the country, over 2,000 miles in a straight line from Maine.

A meeting of the general passenger agents of the Texas railways is called for Tuesday at the Oriental hotel, Dallas, E. P. Turner, the president of the association, making the call. It is in advance of the regular date and there is but scant hope for a quorum.

The plans of A. B. Stickney, president of the Chicago Great Western, showing the rate and classification on shipments from every station touched by the Great Western to every possible destination and vice versa, have been abandoned.

UP DEDDING

Fanning-Loughlin W. B. Loughlin and Miss Frankie May Fanning were married Tuesday evening at Waco at 9 o'clock. The marriage was a surprise to the friends of the young people here, as Miss Fanning had gone to Waco several weeks ago on a visit and Mr. Loughlin went down Tuesday, supposedly to accompany her home, but she really to bring the young woman back as his wife.

LIKES SAN SABA COUNTRY

W. W. Walker and Brother Going Back From Indian Territory W. W. Walker passed through on his return from the Indian Territory on his way to San Saba county. "My brother and I have sold out our holdings in the Territory and will return to old San Saba and remain. I went to that county thirty years ago and think now that I have tried other parts of Uncle Sam's home, but that there is no place like the old home. When I left home a month ago everything was in fine shape and I have since learned that the country has remained as good as ever. We had some three weeks of dry weather along in May and June which hurt the corn crop, which was just at the stage when it needed rain and did not get it. It has been accordingly cut short. Cotton is doing well and it will only quit raining will mean an average crop or more. Our wheat crop was good, averaging about from 15 to 18 bushels to the acre, and was watered in from 60 to 80 pounds to the bushel. Oats was a fine crop and yielded well. All forage crops are good and all together there will be plenty of feed for the country this winter. The pecan crop is a good one, although the last year's one was also. Pecans bring high figures now and a man with a few acres of orchard is a bonanza. I know one man who sold from one young tree $27 worth of nuts.

There have been several trials to get a railroad to San Saba town and up the valley, but although the citizens have put up a bonus, something always interfered to burst the project. One time a contract was let, but the contractor came back after awhile and said he could not raise the money to carry out the contract. Some of our people thought that the trouble was that he had raised what money he wanted to from some railroad with an agreement not to raise any more to carry out his contract. However, that might be, the fact was apparent that no road was built. Our people are now about determined to go to work and do the work themselves. The route that they have had their eyes on is one that will begin at Crothers on the Frisco, run down probably as low as Rochelle and then on down the valley to San Saba and on down the river to the Colorado to a point near the mouth of the San Saba river where it empties into the Colorado. Where it will ultimately wind up has not been determined as yet. A road would pay well through our territory and the people should not be allowed to be held at the mercy of some railroad which gets a charter to build a road and then, like a dog in the manger, refuse to build itself or let any one else do so. When a charter is granted it should state specifically where the line is to run and at the same time would give any set of real working men time to build it and if it is not built to the designated point in the time specifying the charter should lapse absolutely and any action taken to revive it should be ab initio and as a new measure. Some else in the meantime who could show the ability to do the work. "We have a fine valley and as a cotton country it is up with the best."

TELEGRAM STORY IS CONFIRMED

Surveyors Are Working from Mineral Wells to New Mexico

P. E. Brock, vice president and general manager of the Mineral Wells road, has at last acknowledged that the story of the work of the surveyors for that road is correct, as stated in The Telegram exclusively about six weeks ago.

Two parties are in the field, as was then stated, and they are working from New Mexico toward Mineral Wells and from Mineral Wells toward a junction with the other surveying party.

The latest heard from the New Mexico party is that it is in the vicinity of Lubbock; that is, about half of the line to the southeastward has been run.

It was then stated that the Goulds, who own the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern railway, or more conveniently, the Mineral Wells road, wanted a connection with their New Mexico and the Colorado properties, through the New Mexico lines, and hence the surveys were being made. The Mineral Wells road is a Gould property, though not a Texas and Pacific property. It is, unless the status has been recently altered, a private or family affair of the Goulds, they holding practically all of the stock, bonds and all.

The line would open up a part of Texas to railway benefits now barren of that advantage, as well as connect the Gould holdings in the southwest through the Mineral Wells and the Texas and Pacific.

The surveys are not yet complete by any means.

WANT PLACE ON BOARD

Katy Employes Object to Hospital Management

There is a pronounced dissatisfaction on the part of some of the employes of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas hospital management, though it seems more a desire to have the control of the hospital service in the hands of the employes than an imputation of mismanagement by those now in charge. A recent meeting of the executive committee of the hospital service of the road, held at Hillsboro, gave voice to this feeling and it was determined that a meeting of delegates from every lodge of all branches of the railroad workers of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines should be called to consider the whole question.

It is asserted that the co-operation of the conductors, the engineers, the firemen and the trainmen has been secured through the lodges of the several orders.

The plan, if it can be said to have proceeded so far, is to have a representative of each order and of the officials of the company on the board of control.

The matter has but little more definite form now than the desire to have a voice in the management of what may at any time become of intense personal interest to any of the men in the operating departments particularly.

Railroad Notes and Personal At San Antonio Wednesday afternoon a S. A. P. election was held and all of the old directors and officers re-elected.

Dana J. Flanders, passenger traffic manager of the Boston and Maine, is to visit his son, H. L. Flanders, who is one of the engineers of the Northern Texas Traction Company at Fort Worth.

While in this state Mr. Flanders senior will try to see something of the great state of Texas, which is diagonally across the country, over 2,000 miles in a straight line from Maine.
