TAX LEVY FIXED
Rate Is Made $1.75 Limit Under Law—Report Submitted on Waterworks

Fort Worth's city council had a great talk Monday night at the regular session of that body, and the meeting was prolonged from 7:35 to 11:00 p. m. The special subjects of talk were the mayor's veto of the proposition to collect the water rents by collectors from the patrons of the water works department, and the recommendation of the mayor that there should be some provision made for the levying of a franchise tax on the street railways franchises recently granted. Incidentally the referendum plan, as it has resulted in Fort Worth, came in for a few hard knocks and the unchallenged assertion was made by several of the members that had the grant of the franchises made by the city council to the Northern Texas Traction Company been left to the city council the city would not have gotten the revenue from them instead of there being a free grant as was the case under the referendum.

The tax levy was fixed on the basis stated in the Telegram of Monday afternoon, $1.75, the limit under the charter.

The Dow coal contract for coal for the water works was ratified. The total of the taxable values of the city assessable property is $27,314,154.

A first report was made on the use of the device of Mr. Butler, who is under contract with the city to increase the water supply from the wells with a decreased air pressure. The report shows a part success and was referred to the water works committee.

A report was made on the amount of water used by the city in supplying water consumers, and the statement was made that at the present rate of increase in consumption there would soon be a need for an increased supply. The sinking of four additional wells was recommended and the recommendation approved.

Before the real business of the session began a motion was made that City Attorney Cook be excused for the reason that there had been a recent death in the family, and a committee, consisting of Aldermen Maddox, Zurr and Armstrong, was appointed to offer resolutions of sympathy.

A new market house proposition was referred.

A report was made in the matter of the repairs of the Seventh street bridge over the Clear Fork. The repairs are to be made at an estimated cost of $100,000.

At 7:35 o'clock the council was called to order, the roll called and the Mayor presided.

The tax levy was passed, under a suspension of the rules, by the unanimous vote of the council. The make-up of the rate is as follows: Twenty-five cents for water works, five cents for streets and an improved water supply, 47 cents for the interest and sinking fund, 78 cents for the general purposes.

A poll tax of $1 for each voter is levied, on all liable for the tax.

A special assessment of 2 1/2 per cent is allowed on payments made prior to Oct. 15; a discount of 2 per cent on all payments made after that date; a discount of 1 1/2 per cent on all payments made prior to Nov. 15; and a discount of 1/2 per cent on all payments made after that date.

After Feb. 1 a penalty of 1 per cent a month is added.

Mayor's Veto Starts Debate

The reading of the mayor's veto of the water rents collection proposition precipitated a debate that was long and at times warm.

After the reading of the veto proposition the mayor made the resolution providing for the collection of the water rents by collectors instead of having the water rents paid at the water works office be approved, the mayor's veto to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mayor Harris made an explanatory talk on the veto and clearly defined his position. He held that the principle was to have the water rents paid at the water works office by collectors instead of having the water rents paid at the water works office by collectors.

Complaint was made of the fact that the traction company had not complied with its agreement to have the street paved, and that alleged dereliction of duty was made the subject of a resolution on the Edison Furniture Company.

The matter of repairing the viaduct, which carries Jennings avenue over the street, was referred to the street and alley committee.

Complaint was made of the fact that the traction company was working on the new tracks, but it was explained that they were simply doing some of the preliminary work.

Complaint was made of the fact that the traction company had not complied with its agreement to have the street paved, and that alleged dereliction of duty was made the subject of a resolution on the Edison Furniture Company.

SOUND DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE

"No man who is financially connected with a corporation that is seeking privileges ought to act as a member of a political organization, because he cannot represent his corporation and the people at the same time. He cannot serve the party while he is seeking to promote the financial interests of the corporation with which he is connected."—William Jennings Bryan.

CATTLEMEN EQUAL TO EMERGENCY

The improvement that is continually taking place in Texas live stock circles is one of the most gratifying signs of the times, and it is that improvement that is responsible for the demand that has sprung up even in the older breeding states for young Texas range bred stuff to go into the eastern feed lots. It is reported that during the past week 12,000 head of Texas range bred calves and yearlings have been contracted out in the western portion of the state, and at prices that were quite remunerative to the producers. This bunch of young stuff will be shipped east, and from a common center, sold in small bunches to meet the demand of each individual feeder. They will be sold at auction, the man willing to pay the most getting the cream of the lot, and this plan has worked out very satisfactorily in the past.

Dan W. Black, the noted Ohio feeder, declares that he can find cattle nowhere else that measure so nearly up to the requirements of the situation as those Texas range bred youngsters, and in every instance they have given a magnificent account of themselves. It is probable the sale of this big bunch of Texas calves and yearlings means the distribution of from $150,000 to $200,000 out in the range country, and this sum will come in quite handy among the ranchmen who have been favored.

The moral effect of this sale will doubtless be to still further stimulate the grading up process that has already become so universal out in that section. One of the most attractive features of the situation is that the stuff was sold right on the ranches where it was produced, the buyer appearing upon the scene in person, examining the stuff upon its native ranges and buying it right where it stood. The sellers will simply have to gather and deliver at the nearest shipping point, and that is bringing the cattle business down to something like the proper basis.

When all the producers of Texas can get to the point where they can pursue this policy, letting the purchaser have all the expense and loss incident to shipment, then they will have solved a very large problem that has heretofore confronted the producer, Texas needs a new system of marketing live stock. There is no more reason why the producer of live stock should deliver his product in Chicago, than the producer of cotton should deliver his fleecy staple in Liverpool. Buyers will quickly appear upon the stock farms and ranches in search of desirable stuff just as soon as the producer learns that he is playing directly into the buyers' hands by shipping all his product to market, where it must come in contact with the demoralization always incident to either a crowded or glutted market.

A. B. Robertson of Colorado City, one of the best posted cattlemen in the state, is an ardent advocate of the new idea of letting the purchaser seek the cattle. He says the cattlemen of the country could soon virtually control the cattle markets if they would generally adopt this policy. He thinks that glutted and demoralized market would soon be a thing altogether of the past if the producers would but permit their stuff to continue to bite grass, gather tallow and wait for the buyers to come out to the ranches and make their purchases. He says prices would be better and there would be neither loss or annoyance from shipments. Other leading cattlemen express the same view of the situation, and it is surprising the rule has not already been adopted.

Besides stimulating the production of a still better grade of cattle in the range country, it is believed this big sale of 12,000 head of range bred calves and yearlings will also have a tendency to encourage this new idea of marketing. Cattlemen are imitative, and when one of them makes a success of a new undertaking it is not long until others are in line in an effort to do the very same thing. This has been amply evidenced in the process of grading up the herds that has been going on now for years in the range country. No successful cattleman can bear to think his neighbor is producing a better grade of stuff and getting a better price for his product than himself. He wants his herd to be the market topper for his section of country, and it is this feeling that has done much to bring the big range herds of the west up to their present state of perfection.

It is a situation that promises a great deal for the live stock industry in the future, and serves to demonstrate the fact that the men at the head of that great industry possess both the intelligence and means to work out the different problems meeting them just as fast as they arise. There need be no apprehension as to the future of the industry so long as the men now at its head are in control.

TEXAS LIVE STOCK INDUSTRY

There is an idea prevalent to a considerable extent that the production of live stock is a decadent industry in the state of Texas, but this is woefully and unequivocally erroneous. It is true that great changes have taken place in the range cattle business of Texas during the past few years and many of the range cattlemen have materially reduced the size of their herds, but it is not believed by those who have kept in close touch with the situation that there has been any real decadence of the live stock industry as a whole. In fact, growth of the live stock and packing industry of Texas is evidenced by an increase of more than $11,000,000 in the value of products is shown by a recent government census bulletin.

Stock raising has long constituted one of the most important factors in the growth of Texas, but up to the census of 1905 the slaughtering and meat packing industry was relatively unimportant. In 1905, however, it was one of the leading manufacturing industries and its increase was more marked than that of any twelve of the principal industries of the state. It ranked sixth in 1900 and fourth in 1905. While the number of establishments reporting in 1905 was smaller by three, there were increases of $5,142,476, or more than four fold in capital, and of $11,716,440, or about three fold in the value of products. The average number of wage earners increased 1,605, and the wages $886,993, or nearly four fold in each instance.

The cost of beefs slaughtered caused them to be the most important in 1905, the number for that year being an increase of 260,920, or more than ten fold over the number reported at the census of 1900. Hogs first in importance in 1900, but second in 1905, increased 138,770, or 66.8 per cent in the number slaughtered. The number of sheep slaughtered increased over six fold, and the number of calves eleven fold. The total value of the products increased from $3,904,491 in 1900, to $15,629,932 in 1905. There was a remarkable increase in both the quantity and quality of beef and also in its value. The quantity increased over eight fold and the value more than seven fold. Every class of pork product increased between 1900 and 1905; lard, the most important of these products in 1905, increased $2,432,371 in value, or more than eight fold.

It is needless to add that the two great packing houses located in Fort Worth have been largely responsible for these improved conditions, and the location of these plants here is believed will continue to prevent the live stock industry of Texas from becoming a decadent industry. The stockmen of Texas are reaping direct benefit from their great home market.

NEW PISTOL LAW SUGGESTED

The alarming number of homicides continually occurring in Texas causes the Texas papers to make many suggestions with regard to an effective pistol law, and the Corpus Christi Caller comes to the front with the following suggestion:

Here is the germ of a law to put a stop to that which causes half the homicides in Texas: Require a license to carry a pistol; make the cost $50 a year, with a minimum fine of $100, half to go to the officer making the arrest, with thirty days' imprisonment for evading it; issue the license in the form of a metal shield, which can be plainly recognized, to be worn on the lapel whenever the proud possessor of a man-killer has his property on board. The Caller will guarantee a law embodying all these features will prohibit and that it would be enforced. There is no copyright on the idea—any legislator is welcome to it, and the glory that will come to the man who enacts it into law and rids Texas of the greatest incubus on her prosperity, the pistol toter.

There is one feature of the proposed law that is admirable, and that is it would enable us to recognize the bad man at a glance. We would know as soon as our optics rested on his manly form that he was carrying a small mountain howitzer beneath the tail of his coat and we would all soon learn to keep off the grass in his near vicinity.

There is no question but that hundreds of lives in this state could be saved if some plan could be devised for divesting men of their artillery. While the present law is a pretty drastic measure and is being strictly enforced in many localities, yet men will take chances on carrying arms, for they do not expect officers to go around and make minute investigations. If a plan could be devised whereby every owner of a pistol in a county could be required to render his shooting iron for taxation and take out a permit to carry it, which permit had to be conspicuously displayed upon the person of the individual, it ought to seriously affect the pistol carrying habit.

Let the emblem of the pistol carrier be a skull and crossbones, bearing the inscription "Bad Man from the Headquarters of Bitter Creek," and not many men in Texas could be induced to tag himself. He would give up the gun before he would travel around the bearer of such an appropriate ornament.

NO MAN CAN SERVE TWO MASTERS

One of the idols of the democratic party of this nation is William J. Bryan of Nebraska, and Colonel Bryan is not only the leader of the party, but he is the editor of the Commoner, a weekly newspaper, which furnishes thousands of democrats with their party inspiration. And in a recent issue of his paper Editor

Bryan presented the following editorial, which is of unusual interest to the Texas democracy at this time:

It must be plain to every democrat having at heart the interest of his party and his country, that the organization of the democratic party must be in sympathy with the people. When the tariff question was the paramount issue, the party demanded that the members of the organization should be in harmony with the party's purpose to reform the tariff; when the money question was the paramount issue the people demanded that the members of the organization should be in harmony with the party platform on that subject; when imperialism was the paramount issue, the people demanded that the members of the organization should be in harmony with the party's avowed policy. Upon no other basis can a fight be made. Individuals may dissent from the party's position on the question declared by the party to be paramount—but candidates and members of the organization, if known to be antagonistic to the party's purpose, cannot render any services sufficiently important to overcome the damage done by their attitude. So today, when the trust issue is the paramount issue, the democratic candidates and the democratic organization must stand out boldly against corporate domination in politics.

NO MAN WHO IS FINANCIALLY CONNECTED WITH A CORPORATION THAT IS SEEKING PRIVILEGES OUGHT TO ACT AS A MEMBER OF A POLITICAL ORGANIZATION, BECAUSE HE CANNOT REPRESENT HIS CORPORATION AND THE PEOPLE AT THE SAME TIME. HE CANNOT SERVE THE PARTY WHILE HE IS SEEKING TO PROMOTE THE FINANCIAL INTERESTS OF THE CORPORATION WITH WHICH HE IS FINANCIALLY CONNECTED. This may be accepted as an axiom. It is the statement of an old-fashioned truth which none can dispute. It is simply a paraphrase of the Bible declaration that "no man can serve two masters." Upon so simple a proposition there should be no dispute.

Those who believe with the Commoner in the importance of having the democratic organization in sympathy with the people, cannot render any services sufficiently important to present this matter to their neighbors and to apply the principle to their local and state, as well as the national organization.

Doubtless there are many democrats connected with these corporations—some of them officially—who would put the good of the party above the interests of their corporations, but such men know enough about human nature to know how impossible it is to convince the public of their disinterestedness, and if they really feel a deep interest in the party's success, they will not thrust themselves upon the party in an official way or even allow themselves to be persuaded to become officers of the party organization. It is no reflection upon them personally to say that they cannot aid their party in this capacity.

CLEANING OUT THE PASTURES

Dr. Joseph W. Parker of San Antonio, who has charge of the work of tick extermination in Texas, takes a very hopeful view of the situation and is pleased with the preliminary work that has been done in the field. He says:

"I have been out to Colorado City, where a force is already at work examining the pastures of that section. This work will be under the immediate supervision of Dan Cunningham, the well known inspector, who was in charge of the bureau work in that section for a number of years and until about two years ago. He has an efficient corps of assistants in Dr. John D. Trarver, Dr. R. S. Beattie, Dr. C. C. Conley and R. W. Eldridge. The force that will operate from Quanah are W. D. Jordan, in charge; Dr. V. A. Dennis, Givens Lane, Charley Gibson and Ernest Hunt. The present work of these two squads will be to locate the ticky pastures in the counties now under special quarantine, after which the measures which have been decided upon for the eradication of the tick will be put into effect.

"While in that section I visited some of the country where the work is being inaugurated and found the cattlemen a unit as to the benefits of eradication, and they will fall into line readily, provided means and measures can be adopted to compel those, if any there be, who are inclined to hang back to clean up their pastures. The state live stock sanitary board is co-operating most heartily in the movement and we can only hope that nothing will come up to retard the work. Texas needs a law making clean pastures imperative, but it is to be hoped that the work can be accomplished without it."

If the cattlemen in the counties now under special quarantine lend the movement the assistance it should receive the work done will be productive of far reaching results. There is no reason why the ticks cannot be very effectively stamped out if the work is gone about in the proper manner.

Governor Lanham is hard at work on his last message to the state legislature, and that document will no doubt be confined largely to a review of the work of his administration, leaving the matter of recommendations to his successor.

It is getting a great deal cooler in Texas now, and the original Campbell men have their ears to the ground in an effort to ascertain if the Campbells are coming—back to Texas real soon.

Two big circuses within a period of ten days is spreading it on a little tick, even for Fort Worth, but they are powerful assistants to the children in the study of natural history.

It is noticed that no complaint of a short cotton crop comes from west Texas this year. Those good western people are wondering how on earth they are going to get it gathered.

The Dallas fair will soon throw its gates open to the public, and it will be bigger and better this year than ever before. And the Dallas fair belongs to all Texas.

Business men are greatly pleased with the manner in which the fall business is opening up. Fort Worth people have money and they are spending it.

American occupation again in Cuba ought to be of considerable benefit to the Fort Worth horse market. This city is headquarters for horses and mules in the southwest.

If Hearst is elected governor of New York it is going to put something of a crimp in the Bryan boom.

Some time ago it was announced that Fort Worth was to obtain two big cotton factories. When?

COTTON MILLS IN TEXAS

All the Texas cotton mills are making big improvements, and this is conclusive evidence they are making money. The only trouble with the cotton mill proposition in Texas is that there are not enough mills.

Every successful mill is a strong argument for the building of another. The day will come when this mill will be one of the leading industries of the state.—Denison Herald.

VERY AWKWARD
WHAT WOULD YOU DO IN THIS SITUATION?

If, upon arriving at the theater with your sweetest girl, a brutal cabbie demanded a $4 fare, knowing that tickets to the show will set you back $3, and all the coin you have is a $5 bill, what would YOU do? Would you chastise cabbie after paying him what you thought was right, then take in the show, or would you accede to his exorbitant demands and give up your evening at the play?

THE TEXAS PRESS

Everybody knows that Attorney General Davidson could put the Waters-Pierce Oil Company out of Texas next week if he wanted to do so; and everybody knows that it is violating the law every hour it does business in this state.—Tyler Courier.

There are thousands of people in Texas who are very anxious to see that case against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company disposed of before the state legislature meets in January.

Grover Cleveland has at last broke the silence. He says a man, under certain circumstances, is perfectly justifiable in saying "Damn that fish." The exchange didn't say whether the ex-President had reference to a fisherman fishing for fish or a political fishing for suckers.—Sherman Register.

Grover Cleveland is an authority on fishing, for he has caught just about as many suckers in his time as any man living.

The constant overflow of Texas dollars for things made in other states that could be made here is the very strongest argument for the industrial development of Texas. We are raising the raw material and we are consuming the manufactured product; why should we not also be producing the finished product and thereby keep Texas money in Texas?—Denison Herald.

That is a question that should strike home in every Texas community. Millions of dollars are continually going out of Texas for articles that could be easily produced in the state. More factories and the standing up for home industries would soon work an economic revolution in this state.

The Cincinnati clergyman who wants this government to fight Turkey on general principles should be patient. This country has enough reformatory projects on hand for the present.—Austin Tribune.

And the Thanksgiving season is near at hand, when there will be such an onslaught on turkey as ought to satisfy every man, woman and child in all this broad land.

A Red River county farmer has raised a creditable crop of rice. Thus it is that new possibilities of the state are being discovered almost every day. Imperial Texas, truly!—Terrell Transcript.

The greatest trouble with the people of Texas is that they do not appreciate the possibilities of their own state. They have grown too accustomed to depend on outside sources for many of the articles that can be readily produced at home.

If the Federal Government can impose and collect fines against the Standard Oil Company to the amount of $100,000 as a result of the suits now being prosecuted and the state of Texas can collect $5,000,000 from the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, there may be mutual congratulations and at least a year's respite from the ever vexing treasury deficit.—San Antonio Express.

It is evident the Waters-Pierce Oil Company does not intend to pay that $5,000,000 if it can possibly avoid it. Big lawyers have been employed and the indications are the company intends to give Texas a hard run for the money.

It looks like the newspapers are determined to force the Santa Fe into buying the Texas Central road notwithstanding both roads insist that there is nothing of the kind contemplated. The announcement of the temporary abandonment of the Brownwood-TEXCO cut-off has caused the rumor to be started afresh.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The newspapers must have something to regale their readers with, and it is but natural they should seek to present the cause for the calling off of the Brownwood-TEXCO cut-off. The absorption of the Texas Central has afforded a theory that looks good on its face, and the papers will work it for all it is worth until the railways disprove it.

THE TELEGRAM AND THE TEXAS PRESS

THE PEOPLE TO BLAME
The fact that the people pay a United States senator $5,000 a year does not mean that he is the servant of the people. Very often he is the attorney or agent of large corporations that pay him much larger salaries.—San Angelo Standard.

And where such conditions prevail the people should promptly retire that United States senator from business. The high office of United States senator is not a commodity to be used for the financial advancement of any man.—Fort Worth Telegram.

Yet they use it for that very purpose and too frequently the people are guilty of sending them back for another term after knowing the office has been thus abused just because said office seeker is a strong whooper-up of the party.—Clarendon Chronicle.

THE TELEGRAM WAS FIRST
The Fort Worth Telegram says: "As the one Texas newspaper free and untrammelled of the Bailey influence and with the nerve to disregard the senator's bulldozing and braggadocio methods, and first demand that he return to the people the senatorial toga he has trailed in the dust, The Telegram is receiving many words of commendation from an appreciative public." But, then, The Telegram is not "the one Texas newspaper." There are many others.—Austin Tribune.

THE FARMERS' REAL ALLY
The farmers who are complaining of the depredations of the boll worms and boll weevils in their cotton crops should look on these pests as natural allies in the fight they are making for 11-cent cotton. They are only engaged in an effort to reduce the surplus.—Fort Worth Telegram.

There is no surplus and has been none for several years, in the sense that production exceeds the world's consumptive requirements. The boll weevil is not the farmers' natural ally in the fight for 11-cent cotton, though his depredations may contribute toward that result while at the same time greatly reducing the farmers' profits on the staple. The farmers' real ally in the fight for 11-cent cotton is the southern business man who upholds his hands in the movement that has been inaugurated to secure that result.—Houston Post.

NO CHARGE OF GRAFT
No charge has been made against Senator Bailey intimating that he is a grafter, and the impression among some of his friends that he is to be vindicated on such charges is erroneous.

The Fort Worth Telegram, speaking of the graft charges, says none have been made against Senator Bailey. It has simply been alleged that as a paid and honored representative of the people he has formed business or professional engagements that serve to prevent him from continuing to represent the people in the manner he could represent them if the cloud of corporate influence did not lower so closely about him.

And Senator Bailey convicts himself on this count of the indictment in the so-called explanation he has just given to the public. In his discussion of professional ethics he admits all the people have charged against him, and there is but one thing for the people to do.—Austin Tribune.

SAVE AND MARKET COTTON
Down in Tom Green county farmers say they would rather their cotton would rot in the fields than be gathered by negro labor. And that is carrying matters to too much extreme. The picking of cotton by negro laborers would in no wise affect its quality or bring on a crop of boll weevils. The main idea should be to save and market cotton.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The above is all rot. The farmers in this county have made no such statement. Negroes can get work as well as white people, if they are law-abiding and will do what is right.—San Angelo Standard.

MAZARIN. B. J. Carrico, one of the best-known millwrights in Texas and a resident of this city, is in receipt of a letter from H. A. Cooke, who is now in China, representing one of the larger mill machinery manufacturing plants in the United States. The letter is most interesting in that it tells of the conditions now prevailing in China, and Japan and of what shrewd Americans are doing there. Mr. Cooke states that salaries in China for European ability range from $200 to $300 in gold per month and that every American in that country is making money hand over fist. He declares that notwithstanding the boycott, which is yet on to some extent, American goods are being shipped into China in large quantities. The German empire, he declares, is making strides to get the China business, but thus far has failed. However, the people of the Fatherland sell much stuff to the Chinese. Regarding flour mills in China, the writer says that the greatest activity prevails and that mills are being constructed in all sections of the country. It is here that the American manufacturer wins, for the Chinese know the American-made machinery to be the best and of latest pattern. In telling of finishing a mill for the Chinese, Mr. Cooke writes: "After the mill had been completed and the Chinese learned how to run the outfit they were so well pleased that they made me a present of $100 in gold, lots of silks and many bottles of native wine. They think there is nothing like American flour mill machinery and American millwrights."

STOLEN TO TEACH. Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Magistrate Cornell in the Jefferson market court today is to investigate the pathetic circumstances surrounding the theft of a book of Shelley's poems and Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield," by Henry Blennan, a senior in Columbia College, from a Sixth avenue department store. It was Blennan's ambition to teach English literature that led him to the book. He was too poor to buy books. "What did I understand your name to be?" he demanded. "Laurance Donovan," Larry replied coolly. Pickering seemed to notice the name now and his eyes lighted disagreeably. "I think I have heard of your friend before," he said, turning to me. "I congratulate you on the international reputation of your friend that he offers a large reward for his return. Sheriff, I think we have finished our business for today." He seemed anxious to get the man away, and we gave them escort to the outer gate, where a horse and buggy were waiting. "Now, I'm in for it," said Larry, as I locked the gate. "We've spiced one of our boys, but we've given him a new one and I will show you the Door of Bewilderment before I skip."

Married Women. Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free. The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

BRITISH OFFICERS PENETRATE THIBET. Brave Death in 3,500 Mile Trip in Orient.

Special to The Telegram. HONG KONG, Oct. 2.—Details of an extraordinary journey accomplished by Colonel C. D. Bruce of the Chinese regiment at Wei-Hai-Wai and Captain Layard of the Fort Hamphshire regiment are published in the North China Herald. The two men started from Fimlar in August of last year and made their way to Spingau, the capital of Kashmir. From there they went east to Leh, the last outpost of the British rule. Thence they penetrated to Tibet, over three mountain passes—Changlung, 17,600 feet; Marselmikla, 18,420 feet; and Lanakia, 18,100 feet. On Marselmikla, Sept. 3, 1903, they met a British officer on a shooting expedition. That was the last European they saw for six months. For six weeks the men wandered in desolate regions south of the Kuen Lun mountains without seeing a human being or sign of human habitation. The thirty-five miles over this range of mountains took them five days to accomplish. North of the range they saw abundant traces of man, and found the people mostly Mohammedans and friendly. After a journey of 3,500 miles the adventurous officers ultimately arrived at Peking in safety.

TO HOLD DEBATE IN SEVERAL CITIES. Weatherford and Cleburne Want Crane and Bailey.

Special to The Telegram. WEATHERFORD, Texas, Oct. 2.—County Chairman R. B. Hood and D. M. Alexander, democratic nominees for state senator, received a message from Senator Bailey, in which he stated that he would speak at Weatherford Monday, Oct. 8, at 8 o'clock p. m., and would be glad to divide time with Hon. M. M. Crane of Dallas if Mr. Crane's friends here desire a joint discussion. A great deal of interest is being taken here by friends of both Mr. Bailey and Mr. Crane.

Cleburne Also. CLEBURNE, Texas, Oct. 2.—Mayor Allen has stated that he had been unable so far to arrange a date here for Senator Bailey and General M. M. Crane. He stated that General Crane had stated that a number of places had communicated with him, asking that the joint debate be pulled off with them. General Crane stated that he was not a candidate and to visit all the towns in Texas would be an impossibility. However, he expressed a willingness to come here if the date could be arranged soon. Mayor Allen is to have a final conference with General Crane very soon and hopes to arrange the date satisfactory to both him and Senator Bailey.

9 DAYS WITHOUT FOOD. Cow Falls in Hole and Found Alive After Long Imprisonment.

Special to The Telegram. WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 2.—That a cow can survive as many as nine days without food or water has been demonstrated in this city. For the period of a time a valuable milk cow belonging to T. J. Middleton, editor of the Ellis County Mirror, was imprisoned in a deep hole in a ravine near Waxahachie creek. The excavation had been made by surface water flowing into the creek, and into this the animal had fallen. She was so closely wedged in the place that she had remained on her feet during the entire time she was in the hole. She was found late Saturday afternoon by a farmer who was going home from the city. A block and tackle were required to remove the cow from her perilous position. She was so emaciated and weakened that she could hardly walk.

ED. McCAMMON DEAD. Well-Known Train Dispatcher Dies at Temple.

Special to The Telegram. TEMPLE, Texas, Oct. 2.—The death of Ed McCammon, chief train dispatcher of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway Company at Beaumont, occurred here yesterday afternoon at Santa Fe railway hospital after a lingering illness from typhoid pneumonia fever. Mr. McCammon had been in the hospital only for the last ten days and there was practically no hope for his recovery. Deceased formerly resided here and has been for many years in the employ of the Santa Fe, being one of the best known railroad men in the state.

The House of a Thousand Candles. By MEREDITH NICHOLSON. Author of "The Main Chance," Etc. The Babby-Merrill Co.

Synopsis of Previous Installments. John Glenarm, young engineer, is killed an estate, an anecdote, Ind. by his grandfather, on condition that he live there a year, else it will revert to Marian Devereux of New York, niece of the elder Glenarm's friend, Young Glenarm, returning to New York from Africa, is informed of the terms of his grandfather's will by Pickering, a lawyer, his former schoolmate, whom he greatly admires. He accepts the term of his grandfather's will and, starting for Indiana, accidentally meets his chum Laurance Donovan. The two dine at Pickering's, and see there Pickering, accompanied by a young woman whose face impresses Glenarm.

He accepts the terms of his grandfather's will and goes to Indiana. On the night of his first stay he is shot at while seated by the fireplace, but falls to discover his mysterious assailant. Next morning he awakes and walks to the nearby village and returning sees a fight between his lone servant, Bates, and Morgan, a villager. Twice, returning to the house, Glenarm hears voices and once while walking in the woods at night he comes across Morgan, brandishing the will of his grandfather's estate with a hammer. After a parley, Morgan flings his hammer at Glenarm and the latter fires his revolver, but both miss. Glenarm becomes convinced that Morgan and Bates are rogues in league and that it was Morgan who fired at him through the window the first night of his stay at his grandfather's house. This belief is further strengthened when he, after a tour of his grandfather's house late at night, comes across Morgan and the two in a fenced revolver battle. Morgan is wounded and Glenarm learns next day, through Rev. Paul Stoddard, chaplain of St. Agatha's school, that Morgan wishes word of his condition sent to Pickering.

Adjoining Glenarm's place is a fashionable school, conducted by Sister Theresa, of whom Marian Devereux is a niece. At various times passing through the woods and about the place Glenarm falls in with Olivia Armstrong, a mischievous school girl, who is finally expelled from the school for her pranks. Glenarm is at the station the day he leaves and confuses her, unconsciously, with Marian Devereux. The latter, carrying out the part of Olivia, challenges Glenarm to find her and visit her. Glenarm learns from the chaplain the identity of Sister Theresa, that she has gone to Cincinnati to visit at the Armstrong home, and after going to his room and pleading illness to his servant, drops off with the window, catches a train for Cincinnati and finds Miss Devereux at the Armstrong home.

The blood rushed into Pickering's face and he turned toward Larry stormily. "This is unwarrantable and infamous. My relations with Mr. Glenarm are none of your affairs. When you remember that after being deserted by his own flesh and blood he appealed to me for help, and to land a blow on his reflection is an outrageous insult. I am not accountable to you or anyone else." "Really, there's a good deal in all that," said Larry. "I don't pretend to any judicial functions. We are perfectly willing to submit the whole business and all my client's acts to the authorities." "I would give much if I could reproduce some hint of the beauty of that word authorities as it rolled from Larry's tongue!" "Then, in God's name, do it, you blackguards!" roared Pickering. Stoddard, sitting on a table, knocked his heels together gently. Larry recrossed his legs and blew a cloud of smoke. Then, after a quarter of a minute in which he gazed at the ceiling with his quiet blue eyes, he said: "Yes; certainly, there are always the authorities. And as I have a tremendous respect for your American institutions, shall at once act on your suggestion. Mr. Pickering, the estate is richer than you thought it was. It holds, or will hold, your notes for the sum of three hundred and twenty thousand dollars."

"I can't promise you a single Spanish coin." "Perish the ambition! We have blocked Pickering's game, and nothing else matters," I said. We crawled through the hole in the wall and lighted candles. The room was about seven feet square. At the farther end was an oblong wooden door marked ever since Larry tugged at the fastening until it came down, bringing with it a mass of snow and leaves. "Gentlemen," he said, "we are at the edge of the ravine. Do you see the blue sky? And yonder, if you will turn your necks a bit, is the boat-house." "Well, let us see the scenic effects go and show us where you found those papers." "Speaking of mysteries, that is where I threw up my hands, lads. It is a tin dipper box, which lies just where I found it. It was closed and the key was in the lock. I took out the key and the dipper, wrote Larry saw the character of the contents, and couldn't resist the temptation to try the effect of an announcement of his discovery by which Larry had found the notes. I should have had no weapon to use against him. (To Be Continued.)

STOPPED TRAIN TO BORROW A DIME. And Engineer Made the Air Blue.

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The Camden, N. J., police today are looking for a man who stopped a New York express train a mile outside the city merely to borrow a dime. When the engineer saw the danger signal he jammed the brakes down, throwing the passengers from their seats. When the train stopped the engineer asked the man if anything was wrong with the train. "No, we're thirsty," said one knight of the road. "We stopped the train to borrow a dime from you." The engineer's reply cannot be printed.

SEIZED BY ROUGHS. FATALLY POISONED. Man Meets Death at Hands of Paris Gang.

Special to The Telegram. PARIS, Oct. 2.—A strange poisoning affair, the story of which makes one think of the times of the Borgias, is reported from Rheims. A man named Chelms, living in the Rue du Doctor Thomas, in that city, was assailed when close to his home by a gang of five masked men. These men held Chelms down while one of the number forced down his throat the contents of a phial. He was then released and his assailants ran away. Chelms suffered great pain, but was able to drag himself into the house, where he fell into his wife's arms, exclaiming: "They have poisoned me." He died immediately after.

NEWS FROM CLARENDON. Telephone Exchange Sold and Improvements Will Be Made.

Special to The Telegram. CLARENDON, Texas, Oct. 2.—E. H. Decker has sold the Clarendon telephone exchange to T. L. Benedict of Denver, and the business will be turned over to the owner about Oct. 20. The new management expects to make substantial improvements in the system. James Trent, manager of the Cold Storage Power Company, has purchased 150 head of speyed heifers from T. S. Hugbee and will put them on the farm. Mr. Trent is one of the most successful feeders in this section and expects to ship out a price bunch of heifers next spring. H. B. Lovett has been buying some top stuff from local cowmen for his Gray county ranch lately. Among his purchases is a bunch of 180 two-year-old steers from M. T. Crabtree at $20 a head. He also bought a bunch of 43 dehorned twos from J. T. Sims at a similar price.

ARREST QUEER PAIR. White Man and Negro Woman Charged With Burglary.

Special to The Telegram. TERRELL, Texas, Oct. 2.—Officers Hart of Elmo and Ables of this place arrested in Terrell yesterday morning a white man and a negro woman, the former giving the name of C. C. Davis and the latter that of Jose Williams. They are wanted on the charge of having burglarized the residences of R. E. Pratt and J. M. Cannon of Elmo. Much of the stolen property was found in the possession of the man and woman when arrested, the man giving the officers quite a chase before being taken into custody close to the Midland shops. Larry: "I can't promise you a single Spanish coin." "Perish the ambition! We have blocked Pickering's game, and nothing else matters," I said. We crawled through the hole in the wall and lighted candles. The room was about seven feet square. At the farther end was an oblong wooden door marked ever since Larry tugged at the fastening until it came down, bringing with it a mass of snow and leaves. "Gentlemen," he said, "we are at the edge of the ravine. Do you see the blue sky? And yonder, if you will turn your necks a bit, is the boat-house." "Well, let us see the scenic effects go and show us where you found those papers." "Speaking of mysteries, that is where I threw up my hands, lads. It is a tin dipper box, which lies just where I found it. It was closed and the key was in the lock. I took out the key and the dipper, wrote Larry saw the character of the contents, and couldn't resist the temptation to try the effect of an announcement of his discovery by which Larry had found the notes. I should have had no weapon to use against him. (To Be Continued.)

She regards this medicine as a life saver for her. The following are her own words: "I regard Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as a life-saver for me. Special to The Telegram. PARIS, Oct. 2.—Walter Wellman, chief of the expedition for the discovery of the North Pole by airship, accompanied by Major Hersey of the meteorological department at Washington, has returned to Paris from northern regions and will remain here several weeks; then go to America, returning here in January to complete preparations for proceeding again to Spitzbergen to continue the work now well under way. In order to correct any possible misapprehension of his plans, Mr. Wellman said: "My return to Paris is only a halt in the proceedings. My original plans covered a period of two years or more if necessary, and we are simply going ahead with the work resolutely and methodically without any time limit. "I am confident of ultimate success. We found certain drawbacks and defects in the immense amount of work that we have devoted to establishing a base of operations in Spitzbergen. The season was consumed in building a hangar, or shed, the largest ever constructed, and installing machinery and materials used in the airship and other implements. "Next summer I am quite sure will be one of realizations." Mr. Wellman explained the details of the Chelms case, and said that he was devoted to establishing a base of operations in Spitzbergen. FORMER SAVAGES BEING EDUCATED
50,000 Destitute Indians to Be Helped by Mexico
Special to The Telegram.
CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 2.—Enrique C. Creel, governor of Chihuahua, is here to secure 1,000,000 acres of land from the government upon which he expects to establish the members of the Tarahumara Indians, many of whom are becoming civilized. The management of this land and the Indians will be under a commission to be named by Governor Creel. He was inclined to take this step on behalf of the Indians on account of the interest they took in free schools he established among them.
This Indian tribe numbers more than 50,000. There was a time when the war-like tendencies of these savages gave the government all kinds of trouble, but in the last few years they have retired to the mountains and there manage to eke out a miserable living. They live in huts and caves, are absolutely illiterate, and know almost nothing of agriculture. When nature fails to provide fruit and game in abundance there is always an immense amount of suffering among them.
Agriculture Urged
Governor Creel conceived the idea of rescuing them from their degraded state a year ago. He established schools among them and on a million acres of land the government will grant him he will give each family a farm, provided they will till and improve the land. Within a few years he hopes to change the entire tribe into good, law abiding and industrious citizens of the republic.

So many wounds were inflicted with a pair of scissors that it was impossible to stop the flow of blood. Every effort was made to save the young woman's life, but she died shortly after the attack upon her by Mrs. Halliday. This is the fifth murder of Mrs. Halliday in fifteen years. In 1892 she killed her husband and murdered her son. Shortly thereafter she killed Mrs. Margaret McQuillan and her daughter, concealing their bodies under the floor. She was considered a model prisoner.

TAX DUE UNDER KENNEDY LAW
Brings $175,000 a Year to the State Treasury
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—The new quarter for the payment of taxes under the Kennedy gross receipts law passed by the last legislature begins today, and all corporations subject to this tax will have thirty days in which to settle with the state before penalties begin to accrue. This tax is paid through the comptroller's department, and it is learned that on account of the reasonableness of the tax, the corporations subject to it, pay up without demurring.
There are only a very few of the corporations that have not paid the tax for the past quarter, and those that have failed have very likely a valid excuse, if not a reason for failure to pay what they owe the state. This may be said to be the only one of the three tax or revenue laws passed by the last legislature which has not been assailed by those subjects to its provisions.
This law has brought to the state about $175,000 a year since it became effective, each quarter netting something in the neighborhood of $45,000. This sum has been of material benefit to the general revenue fund of the state just at this time when the finances of the state have been extremely low.

Reported Judge Clark of Waco Represents Company
Special to The Telegram.
AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—It is expected that the defendant's answer in the anti-trust suit of the state against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company will be filed today in the Twenty-sixth district court. Judge George Clark of Waco, one of the leading lawyers of Texas, is here now working on the answer. He was seen and asked about the matter, but he did not care to discuss the case. It is said that the answer will be a general denial to the position of the state. It appears to be the intention of this corporation to contest every inch of the ground, and with such an array of facts as is given in the state's petition, this promises to be one of the hardest legal battles which is to take place in Texas in many years.

MEAT INSPECTION NOW MORE RIGID

New Laws for Regulation Become Effective Monday

Forty Plants Hit. Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2. The agricultural department puts in operation Monday the provisions of the inspection law...

Beginning Monday, Oct. 1, the inspection of meats and meat products intended for human food by the United States government, always rigid, is even more carefully made than heretofore.

New and ample regulations have been issued, under the laws passed at the last session of congress, and under those the inspectors are now working.

One of the important places in the United States for the inspection of meats and meat products intended for human food is at Fort Worth, and the list of "vets," inspectors and assistant inspectors and "taggers" is a long one.

Labels Must Be Honest. The duties of the inspectors is to pass on the healthfulness of the meats which go into the make-up of all meat products which are to be used for food for man.

The "taggers" label all of the meats passed by the inspectors. There is one thing about the new labels which is different from the old labels, and that is the labels must contain a statement of the exact contents of the package to which they are attached.

Westphalia ham, unless it is imported from Germany, must be marked Westphalia style ham.

California ham, which is really shoulders, must be marked California style ham.

Potted chicken must be potted chicken and not potted veal.

Devilled ham must be made out of ham meat, and not from the shoulder, etc. That is the label must honestly show what there is in the package, and any deviation from the exact truth which they are attached.

Some of the men are new men here, but all are experienced men. They are generally newcomers, the men are old timers at the work here, that is, older in term of service. The names of the officials are as follows:

Inspector: John B. Hawley, city engineer.

Stover inspectors—J. M. Williams, J. L. Gerrish and S. R. Hoyt.

All Crops Good. Ryan Section Plays Second to None.

A. A. Spring came on the market from Ryan with two cars of steers and was as optimistic as usual and made it pleasant for all around him.

"Ryan, I. T., is all right," said he, "and we are not going to lay down for any other part of the future state of Oklahoma, but our steers are good and cattle, grass and feed stuffs will make a man up who has been used to grazing it for years."

Several of those who have been working at North Fort Worth as veterinarians have been transferred to other localities. Here they were assistant inspectors and where they have gone they are inspectors, in charge of the inspection work at the points where they are now at work.

Those transferred are: Dr. Stephen L. Blount, to Houston; Dr. E. Myers, to New Orleans; Dr. W. C. Bowers, to Dubuque, Iowa; Dr. Henry Singleton, to Big Springs.

A number of men have been here for some time and other new men have come in in the last few days to add to the force at work at Fort Worth. The veterinarians transferred have worked at Fort Worth an average of about three years, and thus have gained practical experience to add to the knowledge they had before acquired by study.

The men are none or with only one or two exceptions classed as veterinarians now, but are inspectors and taggers.

Labels Must Be Honest. The duties of the inspectors is to pass on the healthfulness of the meats which go into the make-up of all meat products which are to be used for food for man.

Cattle, of which there are quite a number on our way, are doing well and are not losing any fat working, except over the ribs. The plague them to some extent. There are several quite large pastures left above McAllister, East St. Louis, and the rest of the steers as they are in other parts of the Territory. The land has not been put up into 160-acre tracts as yet, but the one will come no doubt when the farmer will be the winner there as he has always been everywhere else. Corn and good and all the other crops also have turned out well. The Territory, that is the part that is around us, is in good shape for winter."

J. S. Franks of Era, Texas, who is a constant shipper to this market and whose shipping point is Valley View, was on the yards Thursday.

"Well, things are much changed up with us since I was here last. Of course the rains have fallen upon the just and unjust alike this year and I suppose that we have had our share. Cotton is the crop that is worrying the people the most now as it generally does every year, and it is not known as to whether the crop is seriously injured by the moisture and the worms or not. Of course there are people who judge by the reports that there is now open that there is a big crop, but other experienced men say that it may be possible that that which is open may be all that there is and that this is all that the worms and unfavorable conditions have left. Should it prove that the worms have not troubled the unopened cotton to any extent, then there will be a big yield, but should the thing go the other way there won't be much of a crop to worry over in the gathering. The earth has surely had a soaking and the season in the ground will make it fine for the small grain that will be planted. Much depends, however, as to whether it stops raining long enough for plowing and sowing to be done in time."

BLOWFLIES PLENTIFUL. Pest Reported by Addison, I. T., Cattleman.

L. Jackson is an ex-Texan who now resides in the Indian Territory, part of the future state of Oklahoma, but who is holding a favorable view of his old home and comes here with stock to help out the receipts at this market and incidentally to get better prices for his cattle. He has been in the territory twenty-five miles from a railroad, and my postoffice is Cornish, I. T. I am located about half way between the "Bank of the River" and the "Bank of the Hills" and am delighted with the section, for it is productive and healthy. Our shipping point is Addison and from this place many of the fine small grain that will be planted. Much depends, however, as to whether it stops raining long enough for plowing and sowing to be done in time."

BUCK SANSON REPORTS RANGE GOOD AND COTTON THRIVING. Buck Sanson, son of Colonel Marion Sanson, the well known stockman, and was looking healthy and cheerful.

"Of course everybody knows that we have sold out the ranch where I have been living, but before we look at any other kind of prospects, I never in my life saw so much cotton open at one time as we are in the fields around Hico. It is astounding what a crop those farmers have got. Every kind of thing is all right in that section, but the cotton and the wheat, there is a magnificent season in the ground for small grain planting."

INVITE YOU TO COME OFTEN

We ask your kind indulgence during crowded conditions

We Are Showing a Bigger and Better Stock Than Ever

We are displaying a stock on two floors intended for five. The rebuilding operations being somewhat delayed, is causing these crowded conditions. We bought our fall and winter stocks with the expectation of occupying the five floors Oct. 1, and now we are displaying the best stocks in our history under the worst conditions. Really clever models and nobby merchandise were never before so plentiful or prices so reasonable. Judge the stock, not the appearance of the store.

The New Plaids

Woolens that have tone and character in mixtures, stripes, checks, plaids, etc.; the American makes as well as foreign goods, at per yard—

The Fall Coats

Abundantly shown—Tailored Coats, Opera Coats, Tourist, Auto and Rain Coats, London Coats and Jackets, in every fabric, including the nobby plaids that "Fashion" says is proper. Not the usual hackneyed styles, but clever models reflecting all the style points of the high priced foreign garments, priced moderately at $12.50, $16.50, $20.00, $25.00, $35.00.

The Damask Sale

Continues. There has never been placed on sale such handsome and elegant grades of true Irish Linen. Bought at a forced sale in large quantities enables us to make the price which may sound unreasonable, yet the worth is there as quoted. Every linen lover's favored pattern is here in 72 and 80-inch widths. Linens worth $2.00, $2.50 and $3.50 per yard, for 89¢, $1.29, $2.19.

New Krinkledown

Many prefer this to the eiderdown because it does not nap; makes a beautiful bath robe, sacque, children's coats, etc. Every shade. We also have opened a line of leading shades in eiderdown, now wanted for the children; price, yard, 39¢. Krinkledown price, yard, 50¢.

Last year's suit is getting a bit shabby 'bout now, and you want one of the new models—the way we tailor 'em.

There's strength in our styles, and our quality goes the limit.

Every Suit we tailor is a credit to the craft.

Large variety of Woolens for a large variety of tastes.

Short Talks on Tailoring

RIGHT HERE is where some tailors way up fall down. If a roll is formed in front of the arm extending toward the chin, it's probably due to incorrect cutting. The vest should be "straightened," but tailors who don't know how, remove the roll by taking in a "dart."

WEATHER WARMER

Conditions Continue Clear Throughout Texas

Continued clear weather conditions prevail in Texas Tuesday, with slight changes in temperature, except in the northern half of the state, where the prediction is for warmer weather. No rain is reported in Texas since Monday's report and continued fair weather is the forecast. The cotton belt is still divided in clear and cloudy weather by the Mississippi river. The low barometer centered over the east Gulf coast region has moved slightly to the north, causing rains along the Atlantic coast, including the states of Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Virginia and Illinois. The extreme northeast portion of the country is still under high pressure and clear cool weather prevails.

Light frost occurred in Iowa and Michigan Monday night. Des Moines reporting minimum temperature of 35 degrees. Excepting along the south end of the Pacific coast, where low pressure continues to prevail, low temperatures are the rule, accompanied by clear skies. Temperatures are low in West and North Texas, although no frost is reported, as was at Abilene Monday. Abilene reports 76 and 46 and Amarillo 82 and 46. Reports from extreme parts of the country show temperatures ranging as follows: Spokane, 70 and 55; Chicago, 60 and 54; New York, 62 and 54; Atlanta, 74 and 60; Galveston, 72 and 64; San Francisco, 68 and 64; Fort Worth, 73 and 58.

CAREFUL DOCTORS

Prescribed Change of Food Instead of Drugs

It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines.

There are some truly scientific physicians among the present generation who recognize and treat conditions as they are and should be treated regardless of the value to their pockets. Here's an instance:

"Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation."

"I heard of a doctor who had a summer cottage near me—a specialist from New York, and as a last hope sent for him."

"After he examined me carefully he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronger to eat more. I kept at it and gradually got so I could eat and digest three teaspoonfuls. Then I began to have color in my face, memory became clear, where before everything seemed a blank. My limbs got stronger and I could walk. So, I steadily recovered."

"I weigh 153 pounds. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

GIRL LEAVES TO GO ON STAGE

T. B. McClaren Searching for Traces of Daughter

Fascinated by the tinsel glamor of the stage and with an ever-burning desire to find employment behind the footlights, Mabel McClaren, 17 years old and the daughter of T. B. McClaren, 1105 Lexington street, left her home suddenly in this city Monday morning, with the purpose of becoming a chorus girl. The young woman left a note behind for her father which stated that she was going from here to Kansas City, where she would join the "Land of Nod" company.

The matter was reported to the police yesterday afternoon late, but no trace of Mabel could be found in Fort Worth.

Mr. McClaren stated that his daughter had been "crazy" about the stage for a long time and went to every show that happened along. He said it was all he could do to keep her from running off with the Highness, the "Bey" troupe and that ever since that aggregation made its appearance here Mabel had been "awfully nervous."

When Mr. McClaren, who has only been in Fort Worth a short time, returned home from work Monday afternoon he found a note pinned to the front door. It had been written by Miss Mabel and she told him that she was going with the "Land of Nod" company, that she had corresponded with the management and had secured a place in the chorus. She begged that her father be not uneasy about her safety.

The father of the young runaway is all broken up over the departure of his girl and declares he will do all he can to get her back. The girl's mother died when she (Mabel) was a two-year-old baby and she was reared by her father.

NO CHANCE FOR LIPTON IN 1907

New York Yacht Club Refuses to Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—There will be no race for the America's cup in 1907, according to the Times, which says today:

"Whatever may be the ultimate outcome of Sir Thomas Lipton's negotiations for another America's cup race, it can be stated that there will be no race next year. Assurances are said to have been positively given that under no conditions would the New York Yacht Club consider a race in 1907. What might be done in the following year, or what action may be taken on the question of rules to govern any match that is arranged, is absolutely uncertain. What reason actuates the decision said to have been reached by those whose authority will sway the club's decision, is not known."

Will Visit Chicago

St. Thomas made an informal visit to the New York Yacht Club last night. He remained chatting with his friends and club members until after midnight.

The Lipton party leaves for Chicago this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. He will remain there until Oct. 9, and then go to New York.
