Special to The Telegram. USTIN, Texas, Oct. 8.-Judge Hudson of Pearsall and Judge Cobb of San Antonio are here today conferring with the attorney general regarding the alleged illegal issuance of 2,200 poll tax receipts in Webb county. Assistant Attorney General Pollard made an investigation of these conditions some time ago and it is under-

PURE FOOD LAW DEAD IN TEXAS

Texas Statute Good But Is Not Enforced

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 8.-The state health department has recently been receiving many inquiries from northern and eastern states asking if Texas has a pure food law, and if so, requesting a copy. These same requests come in many instances from journals in those states. While to many it may not be generally known, that there is at present a pure food law on the statute books of Texas, but such is a fact nevertheless, and the law is pronounced a good one by State Health Officer Tabor, if it were put into effect.

It appears this pure food law was assed in Texas over ten years ago, but for some reason no appropriation was made for carrying it into effect. In other words, it has been a dead letter on the Texas statutes. This law provides for the appointment by the state ealth officer of a chemist and analyst whose duties are defined in the act, and that the health department shall expend not exceeding $2,000 for this purpose, but the legislature, it appears, has never made any appropriation for that purpose, consequently the law has een inoperative.

Fort Worth Fair Association Draws Big Crowd

WEATHER IDEAL

Track Fast, Good Horses Plentiful, Accommodations for Crowds Ample

They're off!

The blood of the town is tingling. Race track dust is in the air and the call of the thorobred neard. Bright and early Monday the city arose knowing the day would mark the opening of the first great race meet ever held in Fort Worth.

Also that the week would be one long to be remembered by all the Hotel lobbies were alive with lovers of the sport; on corners stood groups of horsemen and beginning at daylight a steady stream of humanity made its way toward the track. Arlington Heights cars were crowded at 7 o'clock and by 10 o'clock racegoers were hanging on the side gangs. Smart traps drawn by show horses were out early in the downtown portion and everywhere could be heard the query, "Are you going to attend the races?" and the answer, "Sure!"

Even the bootblacks and newsboys have caught the fever and the latter were crying out, "Paper, mister, all about the races." One little chap evidently a bit wiser than the rest, was yelling, "Paper, all about the horse races and good tips." His papers sold, whether for the tips offered or the news, more likely the former. At the track Monday things were one jargon of activity.

Gates Opened at 1:30 O'clock

The gates of the park were thrown open at 1:30 and how the people did When 2:30 arrived the grand stand was pretty well filled and when the first field faced the barrier enthusiasm was at a high pitch. There are now something like 450 horses at the track and this number will be augmented each day. The real racers will not commence to arrive before Wednesday and on Thursday. Friday some excellent events are promised. As for that there is not a bad race booked. They are all good and each entry carries some of the best movers in the form of horse flesh that ever scampered around a track. Will Overton of Danville, Ky., arrived in town Monday morning, bringing with him Jane, one of the most promising 3-year-old runners in the business. Janes is a beautiful animal and plainly shows being brought up on the tender blue grass of old Kentucky. She is a beautiful filly. Fresh from Douglas Park Jane comes, where a juicy purse was hers. Owners Get Out Early

But few owners were to be seen downtown Monday morning, as they all made for the track with the rising of the sun. It is estimated that there is fully 300 horse owners in the city for the races and as many tipsters, touts and riders. As for the bookmakers, they are here from all parts of the country. Al Billings, one of the best known Pacific coast bookmakers, is in town, but will not sell. He is here resting up before the Dallas fair and intends putting in his time picking winners.

Professionals Plentiful There are quite a number of professional riders and drivers who are here just to look on, all waiting for the time to move to Dallas. Sunday fully 5.000 visited the track, looked at the horses and listened to Prof. Cox's band, From one stable to another the crowd would drift asking more questions in a minute than the best race "stringer" could answer in a year. The event of the week will be Friday when Dan Patch, king of trotters, will endeavor to lower his record of 1:55 flat. It is estimated that fully 25,000 people will see this great horse make run of his career and advices received from neighboring towns say that everybody for miles around is coming. Wednesday is to be Fort Worth day, and standing room at the park will be at a premium. On this day all the schools will close and all business houses will give half holiday to their employes. An excellent card has been prepared and things look cheery for this being one of the biggest days. There will be six races each day and each event will carry a goodly number. Cars Even Ten Minutes Arlington Heights cars will run every ten minutes to the track and everything possible to facilitate the handling of the crowds will be done by the fair association.

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 8 .- Whether or not there would be any further autobile races in this country for the Vanderbilt cup was an absorbing question of discussion among the motor car enthusfasts Sunday. The majority expressed keen regret that there should be talk of abandoning this great sporting event and the hope was expressed that some suggestion may be made toward safely policing the read so that a race might take place next year.

Jefferson de Mont Thompson of the racing board of the American Automobile Association said that no race would be held unless the road was policed by troops, as is don in France, or unless a priv te course was constructed. Mr. Thompson said:

"No one thinks of abandoning the only big automobile contest that we have in America, but if another is to be held here, it will have to be conducted with absolute assurances for perfect protection of the course or a satisfactory private course must be secured over which the officials will have complete control. We had from 700 to 800 flagmen and deputies distributed all over the course, but the crowd simply overwhelmed them.

The call for the convention says it is of great importance to the livestock ndustry that more extended foreign markets be secured in order to dispose of our increasing surplus meat products and insure good prices of livestock at home.

The United States raises more livetock than it can consume and on the other hand there is a marked scarcity. of meat in many continental countries. We should be able to supply this shortage abroad. corner of Sixth and Main streets. The trouble originated Sept. 12, when a white man named R. R. Mc-Donald killed a negro musician named Wiley Shelby. Next day at the inquest held at the Colum undertaking store a difficulty arose, in which Robert Colum was killed and Deputy Constable Ed Lindsay and Garrett Colum severely wounded, the latter emerging from the hospital only yesterday. Policeman Milton Lindsay, a brother of Ed Lindsay, was also hurt at that

Last night Policeman Milton Lindsay and his father were walking past the Colum store when they were fired on from ambush. John Lindsay was killed on the spot. His son was severely wounded, but managed to crawl out of range. When the police and citizens attempted to enter the store they were fired on.

It is supposed C. C. and Garrett Colum did the shooting. Later in the night, thinking the Colum brothers were still locked in the rear rooms of the store, the place was dynamited, but the negroes had escaped unseen in the darkness in the early part of the trouble. They are still at large.

White Man Wounded

At 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning Will Harding, a painter, was halted on the street by unknown parties, whether black or white he could not tell in the darkness. He was asked if he was black or white. On replying that he was white he was told to go back, and while leaving he was shot at in the back. At 2 o'clock James Mahoney, a contractor, and A. L. Belding a reporter of the Little Rock Gazette, while going to see Harding, discovered that a house was on fire. Mahoney fired his pistol in the air to give the alarm and immediately the two men were fired on from four different quarters with shotguns. Mahoney was painfully shot in the hand. Belding's clothes were peppered with bird shot but none entered his body. That ended developments for the night and it was hoped and believed no further outbreak would occur.

Arrest of Negro

At noon H. Blackburn, 37 years old, negro who conducts a confectionery store in Argenta, was arrested on suspicion of being the man who fired on Mahoney and Belding. No trouble was anticipated, the town being quiet all day, but as a precaution Mayor Faucette and Sheriff Kavanaugh swore in fifteen extra policemen and the sheriff sent several extra deputies to assist the police.

The lynching was quietly put thru in a businesslike way. Shortly before 10 o'clock four masked men entered the police station from the rear and one covered the turnkey with a pistol, while the others secured the keys quickly unlocked Blackburn's cell and

Not a shot was fired and there was o loud talking, so that Chief of Police Pratt, Sheriff Kavanaugh and two deputies who were standing on the street a few blocks away knew nothing of what was going on until they heard several shots fired at Main and Sixth streets. Running there they found Blackburn already dead, hung to a telegraph pole, while the crowd around were apparently merely onlookers. Those who had already unmasked had mingled with the crowd, so that identification was impossible. As Blackburn was being taken from the fail he kept exclaiming, "Oh. Lordy," and he uttered no other word at any time. He kept on repeating the words as he was marched down the street and while the rope was being adjusted and again as he was drawn up. He was strangled to death slowly when he was put out of his misery by several pistol bullets fired from the Starter Murphy is one of the best in the business and always sends the horses away fair.

M. D. Miller will arrive here on Wednesday with a string of horses that have been racing in Canada. Jake Holtman, who will be one of the starters on the Pacific coast next winter, is due to be at the Dallas fair and may drop in before the Fort Worth meet closes. Joseph A. Murphy has notified all norsemen that owners intending to ship to Dallas must notify him. The track was in excellent shape for he opening and the attendance was

Frank Weldon has wired here that horses are needed for the ten-day meeting at Atlanta, which begins next Wednesday. The Atlanta meetings are always good ones, heavy stakes and big attendance being the features. The horsemen who are here for the meet pronounce the driving park track to be one of the best half-mile courses in the country.

Earvy Dake, a jockey of note, who is here for the races, will not ride by reason of having gotten his leg hurt in a close-in at Latonia last spring. Lonnie Brooker, one of the best riders in the country, is here and will ride some of the swifter ponies quartered at the track. The twenty books doing business at the track inaugurated things rather prosperous-like on opening day. 'Tis predicted that long shots will be favorites with local bettors. Sometimes a long shot gives the best run for the money invested. And there will be some good ones on the week's H. A. Lawler, who has been pulling down some juicy stakes on northern tracks all summer, will drive Le Baron, a promising youngster, owned by W. W. Sloan Jr. of this city. Most of the boxes of the grandstand have been engaged and society will do things in smart fashion Professor Cox and his twenty-four musicians put up music that is music.

This musical organization will add materfally to the success of the meet. No "stringers" will be allowed in the paddock and if they operate it will be downtown. Tipsters are in town from all parts of the country and one can get all kinds of "dope" on the performances of horses at the track by an interview Sunday found many clockers and railbirds at the track watching racers cut capers. Some good time was made and he with the roll did some figur-

WOULD MANDAMUS DISTRICT CLERK

Several are taking the examinations which will determine their fitness for admission to practice in the state.

Attorney Files Suit Against John A. Martin

Whether or not a clerk of a court can be compelled to issue citation in a case in which a pauper's oath has been filed has been made an issue against District Clerk John A. Martin, who has refused to issue citation in quite a number of cases in which these pauper oaths have been filed.

The records of the district clerk's office show that 95 per cent of the cases in which paper oaths are filed, are either divorce suits or damage suits the majority of the divorce suits being filed by negroes. The damage suits in which the pauper oath is filed is generally against a railroad. It is this class of cases that caused Clerk Martin to refuse to issue citations on a pauper oath basis.

William Orr, attorney in a number of divorce and damage cases, in which pauper oaths have been filed, has instituted mandamus proceedings in three cases to compel Clerk John A. Martin to issue citation, as no trial of the case can be had until such citation has been issued and served.

The cases in which mandamus is asked for are Walter Fuller vs. city of Fort Worth; suit for $5,000. E. J. Palmer vs. International and Great Northern railroad; suit for $1,000 damages. Claude Nichols vs. Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad; suit for $30,000 damages.

The first named two suits have been filed in the Forty-eighth district court and Judge Irby Dunklin will pass on the matter of ordering the issuance of citations and the other is filed in the Seventeenth district court and Judge Mike E. Smith will pass on the same question in issue. The allegations in the application for mandamus is identical in each of the three cases and charge that on a certain date plaintiff filed his petition for damage and with said petition, in lieu of a cost bond filed a pauper's affidavit, that notwithstanding said affidavit the defendant in these proceedings, John A. Martin, district clerk, has refused and still refuses to issue the citation necessary to put defendant in the damage suit on notice, and necessary to get a trial of said damage cases. The application prays that Martin be compelled to issue citation and show cause why he shall not be adjudged in contempt of court. The decision in these cases is one in which the bar of Texas generally is interested, as if the district clerk is upheld the court's decision will have a big effect on damage and divorce litigation in the courts of the state.

Seventeenth District Court Judge Mike E. Smith took up the civil appearance docket on Monday morning and disposed of the following Laura Chesney vs. J. A. Chesney; divorce granted. E. N. Dinwiddie vs. Lillie B. Dinwiddle; divorce granted. Annie M. Powers vs. R. B. Powers; divorce granted.

Ludia Price vs. J. C. Price, divorce granted and custody of children awarded plaintiff. Leonie Chase vs. Edward Chase; divorce granted, property awarded to plaintiff and her maiden name restored.

WEATHERFORD, Texas, Oct. 8 .-A large crowd gathered at the news stand here Sunday morning to read the report of the Bailey-Crane debate in Houston. Senator Bailey will speak here tonight and the opposition to him is doing everything possible to get Mr. Crane to come over and answer him. A petition has been sent around trying to get H. W. Kuteman of this city to meet Senator Bailey in joint debate in the event Mr. Crane does not come. Mr. Kuteman was formerly a law partner of the late ex-Governor Hogg. He has not yet accepted the invitation to speak, but has expressed a willingness to do so if Mr. Crane does not come, saying that he preferred hearing Mr. Bailey speak first.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by profuse monthly periods, accompanied by unusual pain, from the

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will give you her advice if you will write her about yourself. She is the daugh-ter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Dear Mrs. Pinkham:-

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine. Eighteen menths ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly that I submitted to a thorough examination by a hysician and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"Soon after I read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed the tumor is entirely gone. ### TO ABANDON ROAD

Rock Island Will Not Cross Cimarron at Scene of Wreck Special to The Telegram

OKLAHOMA CITY, O. T., Oct. 8.— The injunction against the Rock Island running trains over the flimsy trestle erected across the Cimarron river between Kingfisher and Dover, where the terrible wreck occurred on Sept. 18, which has been made permanent by Judge C. F. Irwin, will probably result in the abandonment of about forty miles of Rock Island track between Ringwood and Watonga. Different branches of the Rock Island cross the Cimarron river three times in close proximity, and to construct bridges necessary to withstand the treacherous Cimarron current would require the outlay of many thousands of dollars. The announcement has been given out that the company will extend its line from Ringwood, in Woods county, to a connection with the Santa Fe at Woodward and on to Amarillo, Texas, there to connect with the main line of the Rock Island. This branch of the road will start from Ringwood and run to Orienta, where both the Rock sland and Mexico and Orient have bridges crossing the Cimarron. The Rock Island already has a line running north from Watonga to Orienta, which practically parallels the line from Watonga to Ringwood. The latter line will be abandoned, thus throwing the towns of Walthall, Isabella and Hitchcock off the railroad.

In the injunction just made permanent by Judge Irwin, the Rock Island is required to maintain flagmen at the Cimarron where the wreck occurred, and a new steel bridge must be in process of construction by the 5th of November. Judge Irwin in making the injunction permanent severely criticised the Rock Island and said it was common knowledge that the company is very careless in regard to the safety of the traveling public.

NEGROES WANT PENSIONS

Claim They Took Part in Civil War and Now Are Destitute

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 8 .- The comptroller's department is frequently in receipt of letters from negroes living in different parts of the state, in which they want to know if they are not entitled to pensions under the Confederate pension law. In most instances they write that they were servants of some noted officer or performed other menial duties during the progress of the war.

They now write that they are old and destitute circumstances and want the state to give them a pension. Under the pension law negroes are not entitled to pensions. The law provides that "only enlisted soldiers and their widows" are entitled to pensions.

PRESERVE HISTORY OF TEXAS

The Telegram acknowledges receipt of the following communication, and gladly gives it space on account of the importance of the matter treated:

Every Texan is proud of the history of Texas. Every Texan should take an interest in any effort to preserve and record the state's history in the truest and most complete form possible. But some persons forget that the truthfulness, completeness of the record depends upon the preservation of the raw materials of history. These include the materials of every locality-public doc . uments, private papers, personal letters, diaries, deeds, land grants, reminiscences, newspapers, pamphlets--in fact anything that throws light upon the past. Such materials, particularly if in the possession of private individ. uals, are easily lost or destroyed. Every year, thru the destruction or loss of valuable papers, the chances of ever being able to write a complete history of the state are reduced. And even tho private materials may be preserved, they are ordinarily so scattered and inaccessible as to be of little value to the writer of history.

It is thus evident that the possibility of ever having a satisfactory higtory of the state depends upon (1) the careful preservation of the sources, and (2) the collection of these materials in an accessible and well known center, where there are facilities for protecting, classifying and making available these precious records. By the terms of our constitution "the discovery, collection, preservation and publication of historical materials, cspecially such as relate to Texas," is made one of the special reasons for the existence of our organization. Already much has been done. Materials that have been gathered by the association are preserved either in the fireproof vault of the University of Texas or in the university library building. The quarterly, maintained by the association, has been and is very active in publishing original documents and the results of research.

But these are only beginnings, and we now appeal to our members and friends for aid in the work of collection. We request that you remember that nearly any kind of old paper or relic may have historical value; that its preservation is of importance to you and to the public, and that the chance for its preservation and usefulness in the hands of the association are manifold greater than if you retain it. Our request is, therefore, that if you have in your possession materials of value, or know of persons who have such materials, which they are willing to give to the cause, you should let us know; or if there is in your vicinity a pioneer of public character whose experiences are worth recording, that you should use your influence to nave these experiences put in the form of reminiscences. You may wr.te to us. describe what you have or know of, or send the materials to us with the name of the donor and with proper indication of the nature of the materials. The officers of the association guarantee the careful preservation of all such materials as are put in their charge, either as gifts or in trust for

Secretary and Librarian. THE CRANE-BAILEY DEBATE

The debate between Hon. M. M. Crane and Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey at Houston Saturday night was a very disappointing affair so far as Senator Bailey is concerned. That worthy is left in exactly the same position as before—the matters with which he is charged are right just simply because they were the acts of I cago Tribune.

Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey, the greatest man in the whole United States of America.

That is all there is in the position of Senator Bailey. He admits he is doing the things contrary to the teach-CHAS. D. REIMERS AND CHAS. A. ings of democracy-that he'is attempt-MYERS. Publishers and Proprietors, ing to represent the people and public corporations at the same time, and he says he will continue in that course. No wrong is done because it is Senator Bailey that is essaying this dual role, and Senator Bailey is too immaculate to be influenced by his employment by corporations. It may be reserved for other men to yield to temptation, but with Senator Bailey it

General Crane gave Senator Bailey a line of argument that was unanswerable and Bailey was wise enough to make no attempt in that direction, Not one single question that Crane propaper promptly will please notify the pounded to him was answered, but in. stead the people of Texas were told what a great man Bailey is and what a mistake they would make should they drive him from the senate. The spectacle of this great man so adroitly endeavoring to dodge the real issue and cause a wild hurrah with his usual sophistries and platitudes was one of the most painful spectacles ever witnessed

Senator Bailey stands convicted of the charges that have been made against him in the matter of the Waters-Pierce fraud perpetrated on the people of this state, and the un-democratic practice of representing the people and accepting employment at the hands of the oppressors of the people. He can bluster and abuse his critica to the end of time, but that fact will continue to stand pre-eminently forth.

ABUSE OF A COURTESY

There are a number of people in Fort Worth who ride the street cars on the two different systems free of charge for various reasons, and notwithstanding the fact that the acceptance of this courtesy involves an agreement that the transportation books issued to those persons shall only be used by those to whom they are issued, complaints are steadily heard that the agreement is not observed. In fact, so flagrant has become the abuse that the Northern Texas Traction Company has just issued the following circular to all who are using its pass books: The courtesy which this company is extending in the way of free transportation is being abused by some. Notwithstanding the fact that complimentary pass books are intended for the exclusive use of the person to whom they are issued some persons have permitted others to use their books and tickets. In order to guard against the abuse of this privilege, conictors have been instructed that they must, in all cases, see the pass book before accepting a ticket, and this notice is sent to you for the purpose of informing you that it will be necessary hereafter for the conductor to see your pass book before accepting your ticket. Conductors have also been instructed to take up and return to this office any pass book, the tickets from which are offered for passage by a person other than the one to whom it is issued.

NORTHERN TEXAS TRACTION CO. The people who are guilty of the practice complained of by the Traction Company may consider it a small matter, but when they come to think of it in its proper light they must realize that the smallness involved is all in their action in thus abusing a courtesy extended them. If the street car company desired that all your friends and relatives should ride free it would extend them the same courtesy you enjoy. Every time you permit the use of your pass book you are robbing the company of that much honestly earned revenue and violate an agreement honestly entered into at least on the part of the street car

For the sake of the good name of Fort Worth and Fort Worth people, The Telegram hopes the practice will

The attorney general of Texas will please take notice that no compromise will be acceptable to the people of this state in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company cases. That company is either guilty of a flagrant disregard of Texas laws and should be punished according to the enormity of its offense, or the proceedings against it are "scandalous," and it should have proper vindication. Let the majesty of the law be vindicated one way or the other.

General M. M. Crane of Dallas is a man who has always been true to the best interests of the people and always ready to stand up for the true principles of democracy. He is one of the strongest men of the state and comes perhaps nearer measuring up to the Hogg ideal than any living Texan.

Those daily papers that are engaged in an effort to manufacture a spurious public sentiment in Texas are but weakening their own influence. The people of Texas are a fair-minded people but they are very much given to the practice of doing their own think-

When William Jennings Bryan comes to Texas he will find Texas Democrats are the most loyal of any in the union, in spite of the mistake many believe he has made.

RAISE FUNDS FOR WIDOWS' HOME

Camp Meeting

R. E. Lee Camp, U. C. V., gave a big boost Sunday to the movement to raise $500 for a home of widows of Confederate soldiers. Major K. M. Van Zandt was already down for a $100 subscription and at the meeting Sunday $130 additional was subscribed, making a total of $230 from R. E. Lee camp for the home.

The regular meeting of the camp was well attended and the proceedings were of universal interest to the members. Commander E. W. Taylor presided, and after the routine opening exercises John M. Bradley, private in Company E, Thirteenth Virginia, was admitted to membership, his application having been reported on favorably by the membership committee.

The application for membership of I. E. Leeman of Company C. Stevens ragiment, Army of the Trans-Mississippi, was not acted on for the reason that the applicant gave no refer-

W. A. Crary, an immate of the Confederate home at Austin, by request, addressed the camp on conditions at the home and the treatment of the old soldiers who are there. His report was decidedly favorable notwithstanding reports to the contrary that have at different times been in circulation. He spoke of the home as a great blessing to the old and indigent Confederates n Texas. Superintendent Chenoweth. he said, had at times been severely riticised by some people but the things he has been criticised for were the best that could be done under the circumstances. He sold that Chenoweth had been abused in a way that he (the speaker) would not have stood under the circumstances. Comrade McCrary talked interestingly generally of the home and matters connected with it.

The matter of pledging money for the proposed widows' home was taken At a former meeting a proposition had been made that the camp subscribe $500 to the fund and Major K. M. Van Zandt subscribed $100 to the fund.

Nothing further was done at the time, nor had anything been done in the premises until Sunday, when the proposition was discussed at length pro and con, It was contended by some that financially the camp was not able to assume the subscription of so large amount, while on the other hand the friends of the proposition contended that individual members of the camp were able to and should make up the amount and offered to start the subscription on the spot. In addition to Major Van Zandt's $100 subscription, Captain Edrington had subscribed $10 and Commander E. W. Taylor said he himself could be put down for $10. This started the ball and in a short time the following subscriptions additional were made: W. T. Shaw, $5; O. A. Boyd, $5; K. M. Van $5: E. W. Taylor, $5: R. M. Wynne. $5; J. B. Littlejohn, $5; John A. Martin, $5; J. M. Dewes, $5; J. H. Curtis, $3; F. M. Mattox, $1, and J. M. Dennis, $1. Total, $90. In addition to the above the following amounts were guaranteed: J. R. Johnson, $10; W. M. McConnell, $20; C. F. Young, $5; Captain Atwell, Mrs. F. L. Jordan, who has had the matter of raising this fund in hand, was named as custodian of the fund and on motion Commander E. W. Taylor was made chairman of the following committee to raise the balance of the $500: J. B. Littlejohn, B. B. Paddock, R. M. Wynne, A. P. Brown, H. L. Abston, Dan Parker, J. R. Johnson, W. M. McConnell and Mrs. A. E. North. The following entertainment program was rendered, after which the amp adjourned:

WEDDING JUST TOLD Miss Alma Parker and P. Henry Byrne

Surprise Friends Miss Alma Parker and P. Henry Byrne have announced their marriage, which was solemnized at Waxahachie on the 23d of September, Rev. Anderson performing the ceremony. The announcement was as much a surprise to the relatives of the bride and groom as this notice will be to their friends. On Sept. 23 Miss Alma Parker and Mr. P. Henry Byrne left Fort Worth presumably to visit friends at Smithfield, but instead they took a train to Waxahachie and were there married. returning to Fort Worth the same day, the bride going to her home and the groom to his. Not a word of the wedding was told to the family of either bride or groom, it being their intention to let it remain a secret until the first of the new year. But it was a secret they could not keep, and Saturday night they let it out, going to the home of the groom, they made Mrs. Byrne the first recipient of the news of their marriage. Judge W. R. Parker was next informed of the marriage. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Byrne will reside at the home of the bride groom's mother, Mrs. P. H. Byrne, Second and Lamar streets. The bride groom is a well known young electrician of Fort Worth, and the bride is the daughter of Judge W. R. Parker, the well known attorney

John Reisch of the chief engineer's department of the Texas and Pacific was in from Big Springs Sunday, where he has been looking over the grounds, where the company will soon begin extensive improvements. The old round house at that point is to be torn down to make room for an entirely new 22-stall building and the shops will be considerably enlarged and improved.

The shops at Big Springs are the largest west of Marshall, doing all the repair work for three divisions of the Texas and Pacific, but as large as they now are the increased business of the road demands still greater facilities. Engineer Reisch will lay off the grounds in a short time and the improvements will probably be completed before the spring business begins.

Veterans Pledge $230 at Lee | Rev. C. W. Daniel Condemns Closing of Schools

> Rev. C. W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church, at the morning service Sunday spoke with deep regret of the interest the business men are taking in the racing events of this week, by the mayor's setting aside one day as a city holiday that all Fort Worth might attend. "Even the banks are to be closed one day in order that the clerks may learn to gamble," said he from the pulpit.

At the evening service Rev. Mr. Daniel said that he had read in a paper during the afternoon that on one day even the public schools would be closed granting the pupils the privilege to see the events of the day. "I can't express my regret over this ection on the part of our public school officials. Robbing our children from a day's study is surely the limit." In testimony of his approval of the pastor's stand, one member of the congregation responded "Amen." Then the pastor asked: "Will everyone who believes that say amen." and practically all present expressed as-

"Now," said the pastor, "I hope that every parent here who has children in the public schools will resent this terrible plan of closing our schoolrooms on such an occasion, showing that there is still a little of this commun! ty not approving of such uncalled for action. It is bad enough for our business men to close their stores that all might see the jockey meet."

Declares There Is No Chance for Bryan, Hearst or Bailey Special to The Telegram.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 8 .- Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the United States treasury, in reply to a question,

"No, we are in no danger whatever of losing the national house of representatives. The Democrats have lost all hope of carrying it since Mr. Bryan made his New York speech advocating government ownership of railroads. That has destroyed all their chances of success for years to come, and they will have to look about for new issues and new men. Bryan and Hearst are all the party has left in the presidential line, and more's the pity, for I like to see strong men in the opposition. Senator Bailey and John Sharp Williams are the only conspicuous figures in the south and hey are impossible. I don't like to delve into a man's motives in answer to your question, but I suppose Mr Bryan believes in government ownership and thinks it will win. He will

In speaking of the recent race riots in Atlanta, Fred C. Langdon of Memphis, Tenn., who is at the Delawarc hotel, said: "In solving the race problem in this country agriculture can be made to play an important part. To encourage the negro to own and cultivate farms is the best advice that can be given them. On the contrary, to encourage them to congregate in large cities is the worst advice. The presence of a large colored population in the congested centers is a continual menace to the peace of the races. The race war at Atlanta could never have happened if the thousands of negroes gathered there to live on scant wages had settled themselves in homes in the country. Many of them deft farm life under the mistaken notion they could live better in the cities, but the quicker they go back to the plantation the better it will be for all concerned."

Fort Worth hotels anticipate enjoying the most prosperous fall and winter business ever experienced. Already the cool weather rush of visitors has opened and from now until the close of the frigid period all the houses will be taxed to their fullest capacity. More traveling men are covering Texas territory than ever before and more tourists are stopping in Fort Worth to see what it has to offer in the way of profitable investments, etc. One hotel manager stated Saturday morning that it was a fact that commercial men had rather stop in this city than in any other towns in the state. Nine times out of ten they will come to Fort Worth to spend their Sundays if the close of the week finds them miles away. All the larger hotels expect to be rowded this week on account of the fair. People from neighboring towns are writing in reserving rooms, while others are telephoning for "space."

Benjamin R. Sherman, formerly of Cripple Creek, Colo., but now a citizen of Chicago, was in Fort Worth Satur day and was a guest at the Metropolitan hotel. Mr. Sherman was a prospector in the western mining camp when the famous Bat Masterson was keeping the lawless element in check as sheriff of the county. He was warm friend of Masterson and likes to discuss the trails of that erstwhile gun

"While Bat was never the bloodthirsty man he was given credit for Pittsburg is talking of applying to being, there were enough legitimate notches in his gun to make it noticeable. If the former sheriff had not been the fearless man he was he would not now be in New York City drawing a salary from the government and making a big strike by writing his opinion of sporting events for newspapers. Bat was credited with having Instead of throwing rice at weddings, killed twenty-seven men, but I think that was stretched considerably. I see him in New York frequently and he is er a marriage is to be a success or a the same man in action and appearance that he was when he strode down the muddy streets of Cripple Creek with a heavy revolver strapped to each hip. There is only one thing that Bat fears, and that is an automobile. He has often told me he would rather take a chance with a wildcat than attempt to the same block."

It has proved a better hiding-place "Jack!" he said, "Jack, my boy!" His voice shook and his hands tremfying sight for a woman." I heard, for an instant, a light hurried step bled as he laid them on my shoulders "Marian"-he turned, seeking her, but the girl had vanished. "Just as well." he said. "This room is hardly an edigitive sound, and our eyes met at the than I ever imagined it would. There's instant it ceased. It was an hour on which he had evidently counted much; it was the triumph of his resurrection and home coming, and he chuckled as he twirled the knob in the steel door. Then Bates stepped forward and helped him pull the door open, disclosing a narrow steel chest upright and held in place by heavy bolts clamped in the stone of the chimney. It was filled with packets of papers placed on shelves, and tied neatly with tape. "Jack," said my grandfather, shaking his head, "you wouldn't be an architect, and you're not much of an engineer either, or you'd have seen that that paneling was heavier than was necessary. He laughed gleefully. "That was originally a trench for natural-gas pipes. There was once a large pumping station on the site of this house, with a big trunk main running off across country to supply the towns west of here. The gas was exhausted, and the pipes were taken up before I began to build. I should never have thought of that tunnel in the world if the trench hadn't suggested it. I merely deepened and widened it a little and plastered it with cheap cement as far as the chapel, and that little room there where I put Pickering's notes had once been the cellar of a house built for the superintendent of the gas plant. I had never any idea that I should use that passage as a means of getting into my own house. but Marian met me at the station, told me that there was trouble here, and came with me thru the chapel into the cellar, and thru the hidden stairway that winds around the chimney from that room where we keep the candlesticks." "But who was the ghost?" I demanded, "if you were really alive and in Egypt?" Bates laughed now.

To the Editor of The Telegram. Anent the vigorous steps being taken by our honorable mayor, the various boards, clubs, unions, lodges, etc., it seems to me that it might be a good time for "A Halt" and the famous ungrammatic, epigrammatic query, "Where are we at!" The principles of initiative and referendum have already been recognized and are now operative in the organic law of the city—that is to say, we are playing a sort of makebelieve game of "referendum," i. e, the "Archons" refer or do not refer as the humor comes or goes. But what we, the citizens of Fort Worth need is a suitable government, "Of the people, by the people and for the people. And, no doubt, the people would be glad to have restored to them the right to choose both the form of government and the personnel of their governors.

If our honorable mayor will do us, the people, the honor to call a representative charter convention in a regular democratic way, we will all "Rise up and call his name blessed!" for the citizens, not subjects, of this municipality are persuaded that they are 'capable of self-government," would be pleased to exploit one well defined effort in that direction before being turned over bodily to the "boards, clubs, unions and lodges." May we not be heard?

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 8-Members of the railroad commission yesterday received copies of the memoirs of the late Judge John H. Reagan. These memoirs were sent by Mrs. Mollie Ford Reagan, widow of the judge. The volume is neatly bound and has just been received from the hands of the printers. Judge Reagan worked for several years on this book, and it is said to be a complete history of the civil war, its cause and why the south seceded from the union. There is no doubt but what these memoirs which contain many incidents during the civilwar which have never been printed. will prove quite a success.

Every old sore exists because of a polluted condition of the blood. This vital fluid is infected with some germ or old taint, or perhaps has been left in an unhealthy condition from a long spell of sickness, or the trouble may be inherited. The poisonous germs and matter with which the blood is saturated force an outlet on the face, arms, legs or other part of the body and form a sore or ulcer. This being continually fed by a polluted blood supply, grows red and angry, festers and eats into the surrounding flesh until it becomes what is very aptly termed an "old sore." The relief produced by external treatment is only temporary. The only treatment that can do any from the circulation all morbid matter and germs, even reaching down to

S. S. S. not only removes all taints and poisons from the blood but builds it

Emaciated Body Discovered in Thicket Near Creek

In a dense thicket about 150 yards from the Houston and Texas Central track and between 300 and 400 yards from Sycamore creek, three miles from the city, the body of a white man was discovered by Mat Avery and Frank Alford Sunday morning. They reported the find to the police and Officers Waller and Bills went with Justice Charles

The body was terribly emaciated and decomposition had set in. Railroad Men Favor Interstate Commerce Commission Ruling

The order of the interstate commerce commission, prohibiting the extension of time limits on special rate, or other tickets, where the holders of the tickets are delayed by accident or sickness, meets with the cordial approbation of many of the most experienced passenger agents.

One said that it was a common practice for people to buy low rate limited time excursion tickets, relying on their ability to produce some kind of evidence that they were unavoidably de-

It is additionally argued that if the passenger is delayed by sickness he is compelled to pay the doctor for attendance, for his medicines if any are used, for his board, etc., and the only concern that is called on to do the charity act in that connection is the railway, which is transporting him. So in case of accidents, the railway companies are not called on to feed the delayed passengers, for they simply contract to transport them between the beginning and end of the journey. It is also held that the exceptional cases can be met by the charity clause of the interstate commerce rate bill. Railroad Notes and Personals

The Port Arthur and Houston Short Line has authorized the issuance of $2.-000,000 in bonds, the proceeds to be used in improvements of the line.

The power house of the Dallas-Sherman interurban line is to be located at McKinney and a contract between company and the citizens of that place has been signed to carry out that understanding.

The traveling men of the southwest will, at the Eureka Springs meeting this month, take such action as will emphasize the demand for the issuance of a general mileage book at the rate of 2c per mile. They advocate a 1.000-mile book at $20 instead of the present credential system.

All of the Harriman California lines announce a reduction of 25 per cent on all perishable commodities, shipped in refrigerator cars. The rate has been 25 per cent above the ordinary rates. where refrigeration is used. This cost is to be annulled, and perishable goods will be transported at the same rates as other goods, which do not need the protection of a refrigerator. As a result of this change of policy, California fruits can be bought at a much cheaper price in the eastern states. Larger shipments of fruits and other perishable commodities will also be encouraged. The reduction is voluntary. The Wichita Falls and Northwestern which runs northeast from Wichita Falls and, not even in the possibilities of the charters which have been taken out, is any line to the northwest, from any point on the contemplated route has taken out an additional charter which, with the others heretofore taken out, gives the company the right to build from Wichita Falls to Englewood, Kan., thru Oklahoma and a part of the Indian Territory, a distance of 375

May. The market was quiet but showed considerable nervousness, and fluctuations either up or down at any

The spot market was very unsettled thruout the session, the buyers were moving about with more than usual activity until the close. The talent eighth lower today. The bears were losses was still sick at heart from the effect of a flat purse, and exporters were taking on grave fears at the unsettled conditions, and caution was the word, and the market seemed to carry with it many dreaded complications, which the bulls were not able to fathom. The summing up of the general conditions in the interior revealed the fact that the cotton trade from the farm to the mill had suffered in various ways, and fresh speculation was radically curtailed. But the bear element, suffering from recent severe losses, still maintain the theory that a glut of the market will yet follow a heavy coming movement, caused by the early deficiency. On the other hand, however, many of the bulls claim that the estimated twelve million bale crop will not supply the legitimate demand, and further, that there is no logic in expecting a greater yield. Figuring on this basis, the bull sentiment claim that an advance

no rain over the entire cotton belt,

Texas. Reports for the past week on conditions of crops do not show an encouraging aspect, so far as the farmer is concerned. The gloomiest reports come from the Delta section of Mississippi and those parishes of Louisiana bordering on the Mississippi river, where in some places the damage is placed at 50 per cent. Particularly in west Corral county is this regarded as true, and it is further stated that no cotton has been picked there since

September on account of terrific rains.

Since that time terrific wind storms

BURGLARS AT COURT HOUSE

Attempt to Break Into Clerk's Safe, But Are Foiled

An attempt was made Wednesday night to burglarize the vault in the district clerk's office, in which are kept all books and papers in cases in the two districts courts from their organization down to the present time. A cold chisel was used in the work on the lower hinge of the iron door to the vault, the knob that caps the hinge being pried off and left on the floor in front of the vauit door.

What object the burglar had in view is a mystery with the court officials. No money is ever kept in the vau't over night and on the day of the night when this burglary was attempted there were no valuables in the vault except the court records. The fact that no money is kept in this vault may not be generally known. It is known. however, that large sums are frequently paid to the district clerk in settlement of verdicts, but this is immediately deposited in bank. District Clerk Martin has an arrangement with his bank by which no matter how late he may receive money he can always get in the bank and deposit it.

This upset the rumor started early in the day that the selling on this break was over. The setback in oats left a place for

All Details Ready for Grand Chapter Tuesday

All is ready for the annual meeting of the grand chapter of the Order of Eastern Star of Texas and the decorations of the hall, the Imperial, at Main and Sixth streets, are dainty and tasteful to a nigh degree, as well as appropriate. The emblematic colors of the order are green, white, red, yellow and blue, but the decoration committee decided on a radical departure from the stereotyped color scheme and confined the decorations to green and white. The effect is beautiful.

The seating of the chief officers is at five points, as are the points of the star, and the significant colors of the separate stations are given by colored drapery, but when the lights are turned on there will be over each station a colored electric light globe with the proper color. Over the sidewalk, at the entrance to the hall, is a large transparency, globe-shaped, on two sides of which are painted the star of the order, picked in proper colors. The grand officers met Monday afternoon for rehearsal and practice in the secret work. The credentials committees will meet Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock at the hall and the first session of the grand chapter will begin at 2 in the after-

. S. Gage shipped one car of cows and one car of calves to St. Louis. Luther Yarbro shipped three cars of lows to New Orleans. Mr. Brown bought two cars of cows from the Alpine Cattle Company and shipped them to El Paso. These were the fattest cows shipped from here in a good while. Will Stillwell has sold his eight-section ranch to C. W. Hess. This is about fourteen miles east of Mara-

The last day of September was cool and bracing, a regular fall day, and makes us think of spare ribs and sausage and good old pumpkin pie. Saturday a deal was closed between a representative of the Sunset Railway Company and H. H. Garvey of Mt. Vernon, S. D., the former selling to the latter 12,000 acres between Marathon and Haymond. Mr. Garvey will at once begin breaking the land for cultivation, wheat being the principal This railway company has also sold to another company 60,000 acres near Valentine, most of it to be planted in wheat and another company has bought 50,000 acres and will plant it mostly in apples, to be manufactured into cider and alcohol.

This country abounds in sotol and offers a a fine field for the manufacture of wood alcohol from the plant. Very little capital would be required. The Business Men's Club is arranging to erect a $50,000 hotel at Alpine and will issue bonds for the erection of a $14,000 school house. Dick Riggs, who murdered J. W. Mo-Cutcheon last week, has been taken to nty, and turned ove to the sheriff of that county, as the killing occurred in Mr. McCutcheon's Reeves county pasture. There is quite a lot of excitement among friends and relatives on each side. Greatest tonic and strength producing remedy ever offered suffering humanity. Cures indigestion, constipaheadache, stomach disorders. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. Tea or Tablets 35 cents. J. P. Brashear.

The market opened with a liberal run, which included a fair per cent of steers. In fact the supply of steers was the heaviest that has been on the market for some time. The quality was fairly good, the included no strictly heavy well finished cattle. Offerings were largely in medium flesh, the hind that would cause competition from both feeder buyers and packers. The market opened with a good strong demand from all sources. Local packers were badly in need of steers and from the start trading was active and fully steady on all kinds Sales of

Fort Worth Men's Amusement Device Will Be Attraction

Frank M. White, who in company with J. J. Langever has been making an extensive trip among the parks of the north and east in the interest of their new patented amusement device, "Steamboat Tours of the World," has returned and reports having received the most flattering encouragement upon every hand, closing quite a number of large contracts. The coming season will see this Fort Worth enterprise a leading feature of the "Jamestown Exposition" at Norfolk, Va., which pens April 26, 1907. Also "Dreamland," Coney Island, New York, will have one.

Over one hundred parks have already shown an interest in this new device and such showmen as Colonel John D. Hopkins of Forest Park Highlands, St. Louis, says: "You have the greatest 'bally-hoo' attraction I ever saw," and it should be in every big park." The Scientific American, the Billboard, the Midway and Views and Films Index all had long commendatory articles in recent issues.

Mr. Langever stopped off at Hot Springs for a few days' visit with Mrs. Langever, and will probably visit the Knights of Pythias encampment at New Orleans before returning home.

GIVES HINTS ON DAIRY FEEDING

Capt. J. B. Mitchell Urges Importance of Food

The article that follows is written by Captain J. B. Mitchell, whose experience in the breeding of thorobred stock of all kinds is such that anything that he may say relative to the business is listened to with attention and is made a study by those engaged in stock farming. He is an authority on any subject that has had the benefit of his attention and experience. The subject of this communication is "Dairy Feeding."

"The profit of the dairy depends on the best use of the materials consumed in the business. The cow is the machine for converting feed into milk and butter. It is a disputed question whether the kind of feed used has the effect to control the quality-that is the richness of the milk. I claim it has and this belief is founded and strengthened by several years of careful feeding.

Dairy men have been told to seek quality of milk in the breed and not in the feed. I am always ready to admit and emphasize the value of blood, but quality and quantity of milk is as perfectly controlled by quality and quantity of food, as is the quality and weight of flesh laid upon a stall fed animal. I believe that quality can be fed into milk, and that we have in this state the most favorable conditions for so doing. Our climate is dry, our grasses are rich, we have the greatest abundance of rich and cheap grain food and our dairymen are among the most skilful in the world.

The competition among the dairy breeds, especially between the Holstein-Friesians and the Jerseys, is stimulating to the highest efforts in this direction, Furthermore, I believe that the work of feeding quality into milk is comparatively rapid.

Feeding rations-Cows in thin condition, I would say, feed: 6 lbs. of corn, cob and shuck meal, 6 los. wheat bran, 4 pounds cotton seed mea!. This sixteen pounds of grain is fed at a cost of about nine cents. In addition I feed all the sugar cane they will eat. This grain ration is fed mixed with six or eight pounds of cotton seed hulls to give it bulk.

"To my cows in full flesh I feed daily: 3 lbs. corn and corn meal, 6 lbs. wheat bran, 6 lbs. cotton seed meal. "This fifteen pounds of grain is fed at a cost of about nine cents. With this grain I feed them all the sorghura hay they will eat. I also mix this grain with about eight pounds of cotton seed hulls to give it bulk. I have given two rations, one for thin cows, the other for cows in full fiesh.

I am in hopes that the "skin and bone theory has been reached, believing that it has proven detrimental to the welfare of the dairy herds. It is unreasonbones to yield unlimited supplies of milk and butter. A sleek, smooth cow will give you more milk and butter than a mass of bones and skin, and such a cow will be more vigorous and less subject to diseases and retain her productive powers unimpaired for a longer time. Keep your cows in good, smooth condition, believing that it is no longer a question as to the feeding being the foundation of the breeding."

COWMEN TO URGE RECIPROCITY

Meeting of Associated Interests in Kansas City

Attorney Sam H. Cowan left Monday for Kansas City to attend the meeting of the associated cattle interests of the United States, which will be opened Tuesday, Oct. 9, for a session of several days.

"This is a meeting of great imporance to every farmer and cattle raiser in this country," said Judge Cowan on Monday. "There will be in attendance delegates from every livestock association in the United States and our purpose is to create a demand on the part of the people in congress for laws entering into more extensive trade arrangements with European countries. By this meeting we will undoubtedly elicit public interest thruout the farming and cattle raising sections, and this will be followed by the passage of the law we are sorely in need of." From the call for the meeting issued from Denver several weeks ago, is taken the following, which further explains the aim in this direction of the livestock associations: "The United States raises more livestock products than it can consume and on the other hand there is a marked scarcity of meat in many continental countries. We should be able to supply this shortage abroad. Under fair and reasonable international trade relations we believe that a larger proportion of our surplus meat products could be sold to those nations that need them, thus benefiting both ourselves and the European consumers." This is an especially opportune time for the meeting as the Royal Show is

SPORTING GOSSIP

Special to The Telegram

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6 .- San Francisco has had its first real fight since the big fire and its appetite has been sharpened for bigger and better fistic events. The Hyland-Hanlon mill on Sept. 29 was a good one, as mills of that sort go, but the fight fans want something of "class." The want to see the Ganses, the Britts, the O'Briens, the Bergers, or other men of the first flight get together. They'll pay big money to see a first-class battle and the sooner they get one the better they will like it. For a few seconds it looked like their wishes would be gratified with a joust between Berger and O'Brien, but the isual wrangle over the articles tempo rarily tied a can to that match. Berger wanted to fight under straight rules, but O'Brien didn't want any hitting in the clinches and rushed off to Los Angeles, where he hooked up a match with two dubs, agreeing to put each out inside of ten rounds. So that put the kibosh apparently on a Berger-O'Brien run-in Gans, who is picking up the easy stage money, is out for a while, Britt and McGovern can't get together. Nelson is not wanted. Jeffries has denied that he intends to re-enter the ring, and there you are. Altogether it is a mighty dreary outlook and to make matters worse, the fight trusters are still clawing and kicking away at each other, but they are too ladylike to pass around a four-cornered knockout blow. "Tex" Rickard made them look like a bunch of mutts when he grabbed off the Gans-Nelson fight, and it was hoped that that coup would put such a crimp in the trust that it would have to dissolve, but it didn't. To the low with the trust.

When Eddie Hanlon succumbed to the punches of "Fighting" Dick Hyland the career of one of the gamest little fighters that ever pulled on a glove was ended. It was a case of sending the pitcher to the well too early and too often. Hanlon is not yet 21, nevertheless he has been fighting, and fighting topnotchers at that, for five years. He was sent against hard game ong before his constitution was strong enough to stand a beating and the numerous hard maulings he has received during the past two years have been made than sufficient to put him completely to the bad. Hanlon was a grand little fighter and it is too bad that he was so badly handled.

Hanlon's conqueror, Dick Hyland, is still a youngster, being but 19 and if he had a better think tank he might make his mark. At that he has several years before him and may improve to such an extent as to make him a formidable contender for championship honors. He has a terrific punch, is game, has considerable science, but is a slow thinker.

Jim Coffroth has decided to construct an "areno," as "Goldfield Larry" Sullivan would say, at Colma, where Britt and Nelson had their second battle, and pull off star fights outside of the jurisdiction of the trust. At present there is no suitable building San Francisco and if Coffroth puts his scheme thru and the high-class boxers agree to fight for less than a million there may be something doing per-

A little man up in Everett, Wash. is beginning to make the promoter's eyes stick out. His name is Percy, too-Percy Cove-and he fights best at 120, altho he can make 112, despite the fact that he is 5 feet 6. Cove has been cleaning up all the featherweight on this coast and is now looking for a match with Frankie Neil, offering a side bet to the San Francisco feather. Frankie is too busy looking for a return match with Abe Attell and hasn't replied to Cove's challenge.

Before the contest at Goldfield it was Nelson first and last. After it. Gans was the whole show. I have already written for The Telegram what I thought of the Dane and his most remarkable stand. I have also covered Gans, and would have dropped him for other fighters and fight gossip were it not that the colored man has leaped into popularity and won so many new friends, especially among the sport readers.

Gans started his fighting career in a rough-and-tumble way under a shed in the fish market at Baltimore. His first chance came as he was walking home with a friend one night. Kernan's Monumental theater had been turned into a fighting club in a semi-sincere way. Gans had heard of battle royals between colored people and wanted to get a chance to earn a little extra money as a principal in one of them. He heard that one of the colored boys would be unable to take part in a contest that night and he volunteered to take his place. Gans appeared and his showing was surprise. Jack Blackburn was next taken on and Gans managed to cross the tape just by a nose. Again Nolan smiled and there was no question in Nolan's mind of Nelson's ability to whp the Baltimore distance. Then came the magnificent offfer from the Goldfield club for a contest between Gans and the Dane. Nolan had been watching for the big prize. He figured that a man who had been fighting welterweights and making a poor showing certainly couldn't get down to 133 ringside and beat Nelson. Time was allowed for the public to forget what had been said about the color line and then Nolan informed the Goldfield aggregation on what grounds

The rest of the story is too recent to be retold. Nolan fell by the wayside. The decoy had done its work. With Nolan still at the helm, Nelson is in a bad way. The public doesn't like the methods of the little manager and the Dane will find as hard a time getting on in the game as Gans found in getting Nelson in

In the meantime Gans is appearing on the vaudeville stage, receiving his $1,000 per week, while Nelson is recovering from his bruises.
