Life of Brown

Henry Parrish Brown of Olive lodge, No. 31, Cleburne, Texas, who was elected the supreme vice chancellor of the order of Knights of Pythias of the world, at the New Orleans session of the supreme lodge, Wednesday, was born at Marion, Ala. His ancestry is that of an old and distinguished Virginia family, but the reverses of the civil war compelled young Brown, as it did so many other southern youths, to earn his own living by hard toil. Undaunted by the change in financial condition which had come to his family, young Brown soon gave that evidence of determination and pluck which has marked all of the man's career, leading to the success which he has attained in his profession, socially, and in other ways. Completing his literary education at Howard College, Marion, graduating as honor man, he began the study of law in the office of his brother, who was subsequently attorney general of Ala-bama, completing his law studies so he could be admitted to the bar in the office of the present United States Senator Pettus of Alabama. Moved to Cleburne in 1886

After practicing for several years h moved to Cleburne in 1886, where he has since resided. He has rather eschewed politics, but in recognition of his integrity and his ability he was made one of the democratic electors in 1892. January, 1895, he was appointed assistant attorney general of Texas by Attorney General M. M. Crane, but soon found the work was less congenial than the practice of his profession, and he resigned to resume practice of law, going back to Cle-burne, where he has since resided in the quiet enjoyment of an ideal home, surrounded by friends who bear most eloquent testimony to his worth as a citizen, a friend and a neighbor. He entered the Pythian knighthood in the E. G. King lodge, No. 6, at Marion, Ala., and since has retained a membership in the order, in an unbroken line. He transferred to Olive W. B. of the transfer of 64,000 acres of land A celebration of the election of Henry P. Brown to the office of supreme vice chancellor of the Knights of Pythias ted last Wednesday, by which will he held at a date to be announced later and will probably take the form of a reception.

At the meeting of Red Cross Thursday evening a committee was appointed to act with like committees of the other Pythian lodges to arrange for the affair. The committee of Red Cross No. 14 includes J. M. Scott, J. J. Parker and D. H. Harris and all of the past grand chancellors of the lodge, W. Alex Abey, John M. Adams, E. M. Alvord, E. T. Hollis, John T. Montgomery and W. R. Thompson.

The other lodges of the county, other than the city lodges, at Handley, Arlington and Mansfield, will also be invited to participate.

Several members of the staff of General Tiller and others of the Knights of Pythias of Fort Worth, who went to New Orleans, have returned, among them being Colonel T. T. McDonald, Captain R. R. Darrah and Knights R. R. Owsley, J. H. Nichols and C. E.

Guthrie Texas was fairly well represented in the camp of the Uniform Rank and a number of other members of the order were also there from Texas, that they might attend various Pythian bodies in session in the Crescent City. SQUARE DEAL FOR U. S.

Will Inspect All Packages in Local

Postoffice Postmaster Barkley, at the request of Postoffice Inspector Greenaway, has issued instructions to all employes of he Fort Worth postoffice to watch the mails more carefully and see that Uncle Sam gets a square deal from the general public. Especial attention is called to matter of second, thhrd and fourth class that may contain any writing. Under the law any package containing even one word of writing must be paid for at the full letter rate of postage. Many do not 'think they are violating the law when they send a photograph or merchandise of some kind thru the mail and at a low rate of postage and put a line or two of writing inside the package. The government reserves the right to open and examine all such packages. They must, in fact, be so wrapped that they can be opened and be re-wrapped. A closer watch is to be kept to see that there are no violations. The penalty for violating the law is $10.

If a package is sealed so that it cann the readily examined, it is subject to letter postage no matter what it may contain.

Attention is also called to matter mailed with no stamps at all attached. or with insufficient postage on it. If the address of the sender can be ascertained, the letter will be returned to him. If not the addresse is notified to remit the amount, and on doing so the letter is sent to him.

an who walks the lice of the earth. And when he ley's political harangues are as truthful as his rrives at that conclusion he at once becomes a stand-. It will be readily noticed that in all the troubles hat come to the negro race it is never felt by the old me negro, who brought up in the south, is fully conersant with southern ways and southern customs. aese old negroes know their place and are content abide in it. They fill that place without ostentalon, doing their part in this world as best they can, nd command the respect and assistance of all white ople. There is always work for this kind of negro, here is always a home open to him when he becomes too old and infirm to further battle with the cares and vicissitudes of life, and the great pity is that there is so few of this class now left among the race. The negroes of this county need to awaken to the real situation and unlearn many of the things they have heretofore accepted as gospel truths. They must get rid of the idle and vicious element of their race, teaching their sons and daughters that there is nothing more honorable than honest toll. Booker T. Washington is preaching the right kind of doctrine to the negroes. In a recent address in the city of New York he said:

Again, I am most anxious, and I know that in this respect it.is the sentiment of every conservative member of our race that our race everywhere bears the reputation of a law-abiding and law-respecting people. If others would break the law and trample it under foot, let us keep and respect it and teach our children to follow our example. In this connection I repeat what I have urged on a recent occasion, every lota of influence that we possess should be used to get rid of the criminal and loafing element of our people and then make decent law-abiding citizens.

To the members of my race who reside in the northern states let me utter the caution that, in your enthusiastic desire to be of service to your brethren in the south, you do not make their path more thorny and difficult by rash and intemperate utterances. Before giving advice to the negro in the south, the negro in the north should be very sure that what he advises is that which he himself would be willing to take into the heart of the south and put into practice. Be careful not to assist in lighting a fire which you will have no ability to put out. Some may think that the problems with which we are grappling will be better solved by inducing millions of our people to leave the south for residence in the north, but I warn you that, instead of this being a solution, it will but add to the complications of the problem. While condemning the giving of prominence to the work of the mob in the south, we should not fail to give due credit to those of the white race who stood manfully and courageously on the side of law and order during the recent trying times thru which this section of our country has been passing. During the racial disturbances the country very seldom hears of the brave and heroic acts of a certain element of southern white people, whose deeds are seldom heralded thruout the press.

The indiscriminate condemnation of all white people on the part of any member of our race is a sulcidal and dangerous policy. We must learn to discriminate. We have strong friends both in the south and in the north, and we should emphasize and magnify the efforts of our friends more than that of those who wish us evil. I have said we must differentiate

> A personal statement from Mr. Reimers appears elsewhere in this issue of The Telegram. Senator Bailey should confine himself to facts, or else stand convicted of deliberate and intentional falsehood.

President Roosevelt has served notice upon the company of negro soldiers which committed the recent outrages at Brownsville that they must give up the names of the guilty ones, or the entire shooting match will be dishonorably discharged from the service. And that ought to be done whether the guilty ones are made known or not.

Ellis county is threatening to make 140,000 bales of cotton this year, valued at $7,000,000, and that is a record which will put Ellis county ahead of any other county in the United States. When a favorable year is experienced Ellis county never fails to get there with the cotton goods.

There is too much new land going under the plow in Texas next year for the talk of reduced cotton screage to have much effect in this state. Texas will plant the largest cotton crop in all her history next year, and our friends east of the river can govern themselves accordingly.

If all the colonization schemes are successful that are now projected in Texas it will result in almost depopulating some of the older states. Big tracts of land are being cut up and offered at tempting prices in every portion of Texas.

The United States government already has a claim of $1,000,000 against Cuba for the expense of intervening, and in a short time more annexation will be the cheapest method of effecting a settlement.

Dairying will pay better in Texas than in the colder states. We can graze on cheaper pasture, have grass longer, do not need big barns for shelter and can get as much for the product. Yet Texas buys butter from Kansas and Missouri.-Sherman Democrat.

Thousands of Texas people are compelled to patronize Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma creameries from the simple fact that Texas does not afford the necessary supply. And Texas should be selling dairy products in other states and territories. ****

I was alone in the orchard, picking apples for Mrs. Summergraft. All at once I saw a 'snake; also, simultaneous-like, Sir Scadsley-Chasing-ton's manly figure swinging down the lane. "Sa-a-ve meh!" I screamed, and FAINTED. "Halloa there!" he said, as he vaulted over the fence, dispatching the deadly monster with ONE blow of his riding crop. (It was a clothes pole, but what's the odds in a romance?) The Bart. is ALL to the mustard, I tell you.

"Isn't she ripping?" says he, as he clasps my svelte form in his arms and kisses my closed eyes, which I could SEE him perfectly for all that. "Oh, where am muh?" I gasped as I came to. In a moment he was begging my forgiveness and pouring out an impassioned declaration. Oh, it was GORGEOUS. Then I blushingly accepted him. But DIDN'T it put that red-headed girl on the blink!

HEARST WILL SWEEP NEW YORK

It is an interesting story that comes from New York relative to the political situation as it is now rapidly developing. The republican leaders have a very bad case of cold feet as a' result of the confidential reports just received by Chairman Woodruff. These reports coming from every county in the state, show that somebody has been lying. Contrasted with the confidential and sanguine reports sent in by the district and county leaders, the confidential reports just gathered by Chairman Woodruff are of a most discouraging character. The conclusions to be drawn from them are directly antithetical to the perfunctory reports sent in by the party leaders. It appears from them that the Hearst sentiment has been misrepresented, and that instead of being unworthy of consideration, is actually a menace.

One report received by Woodruff attracted special attention to this phase of the situation. It was from Monroe county, which has been one of the strongholds of the republican party for many years. Eight thousand cards were sent out to voters in the county. All but 300 of the recipients of the cards declared themseives to be in favor of Hearst. The cards were specially directed to workingmen. Several other canvasses, conducted, without knowledge of the regular county leaders, show approximately the same result. The reports as a whole have greatly disturbed the managers of the republican campaign, tho they will not admit the fact. While assuming an air of confidence they are obviously concerned over the outlook.

The principal cause of their anxiety is the lack of money with, which to conduct the campaign. Contributions have been extremely slow and meager. No donations are received from corporations; volunteer subscriptions are very small.

Th

present sources of the sources of th

Chairman of the Republican State Committee Woodruff said that while he had every confidence in the election of Hughes and his associates on the state ticket there remained a great deal of work to be done in the way of insuring a full republican vote.

"The expenses of our campaign," he said, "which is now being waged vigorously in every part of the state, are necessarily great. The republican party at the last session of the legislature, in response to a general public demand, passed a law prohibiting polit-Ical committees receiving contributions from corporations and by its own act deprived itself of a very large source of revenue. This undoubtedly is in the best interest of all the people and I have no disposition to criticise it, but it makes it especially incumbent upon all patriotic citizens who desire the defeat of Hearst and all that he stands for to send to the republican state committee liberal contributions."

The shortness of the republican campaign fund is one of the best indications of success, altho Hearst is very popular with the laboring element throut the state of New York. As matters now stand it looks as if he is going to sweep the state, in spite of the defection of the New York newspapers, who are genetween white people in the south. We cannot afford to class all as our elemies. The country must learn to differentiate between the people. We must frankly face the fact that the great body of our people are to dwell in the south, and any policy-that does not seek to harmonize the two races and cement them is unwise and dangerous. Creation-construction in the material, civic, educational, moral and religious world is what makes races great. Any shild can cry and fret, but it requires a full grown man to create-to construct. Let me implore you to teach the members of our race everywhere that they must become, in an increasing degree, creators of their own careers.

HOW SAM JONES WOULD HAVE DIED

It looks as if in the providence of God any man's desire as to the method of death should be granted. that Sam P. Jones is one mortal who may have earned the privilege at least of expression. But when the summons came for the great evangelist it came just as it will come to all mankind-his inclinations and wishes did not receive the least consideration. The great evangelist had finished a great meeting in Oklanoma City and was on his way home with his wife and daughter to celebrate his 59th birthday, with a great family reunion and feast. The big turkey had been killed and the feast had been made ready, and Sam Jones was speeding homeward as fast as steam could carry him when the Death Angel called him. The call was made in the still hours of the morning, as this true servant of God slept in the berth of a railway train. No dear ones were with him when the last moment came. His wife and daughter were sleeping in another berth of the same car. Alone and in the darkness of the night the great soul went to meet its Maker. And we all know how, Sam Jones would have died. In one of his sermons some time ago he

"I don't know where or how I shall die. I may fall in the pulpit; I can't tell. I may die away from home; I can't tell.

"But I say this to you: If God will answer my prayer in this and give me the choice of my heart. I would come home some day, worn out and tired. and lay quietly down; diseased and sick, upon the bed in the family room, and there I would linger for a week or ten days under the kind ministration of my wife and children; I would look upon and enjoy their ministrations, as the days drew nigh and I should bid them good-bye. I would talk to my wife and talk to each child; I would gather them about me daily, encourage them to love God and live for God and get home to heaven, and on and on till the last evening came, I would take my calldren, beginning at the oldest. I would gather them about me and say my parting words; and then when the doctors had turned their backs upon me and said that my case had swung beyond where materia medica reaches. I would spend my last moments talking to her. who, has been such friend to me and has helped me all my life.

"And then when the last moments came, I would wade down gently into the river of death, and when the river should come up to my shoulders. I would reach back and kiss my wife and children good-bye and go home to God as happy as ever a schoolboy went home from school."

While accusing others of misrepresenting him and denouncing them as "liars," "human hyenas" and Fort Worth Telegram. "devils" the senator resorts to the same me so bitterly complains of in others. Tom Campbell talks straight. "I am opposed." says the Palestine man, "to senators and congressmen representing public service corporations." And Senator Bailey, who was present, nodded assent. Must we kill the fatted calf and make merry with our friends?-Waco Times-Herald.

If Senator Balley agrees to the proposition laid down by Colonel Campbell and will consent to abide by it there is no longer occasion for Democratic differences. Does the nod of Senator Bailey imply that he has at last acquiesced to the will of the people?

.... Many of the newspapers and monthly journals of the United States are doing much to arouse public sentiment upon the question of blotching up cities with billboards, and one of the monthly journals which is read probably by more women than any other in the United States is using before and after pictures to emphasize and supplement its editorial work. Houston needs work along that line. Billboards disfigure many parts of the city and they are constantly increasing .- Houston Chronicle

And Fort Worth suffers from the same kind of an affliction. Billboard advertising is a very doubtful proposition. People in this day and time expect to read advertisements in legitimate newspapers and look upon the billboard proposition with much disfavor.

THE TELEGRAM STANDS FOR DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES

Those daily papers that are engaging in an effort to manufacture a spurious public sentiment in Texas are but weakening their own influence. The people of Texas are a fair-minded people, but they are very much given to the practice of doing their own thinking .- Fort Worth Telegram.

The Register agrees with The Telegram in the above, and would speak a word of warning to that excellent newspaper. At present it is vigorously engaged in creating a spurious public sentiment against Senator Joseph W. Bailey, and no doubt ere this has discovered the futility of its efforts. The Texas people, who do their own thinking, are for Balley straight from the shoulder .- Sherman Register.

And he did serve the traveler excellently. It happened that on Wednesday morning the traveler was hastily summoned to Denver, and it was six weeks before he returned to the Colorado Springs hotel. Presently the former waiter, whom he had forgotten along with the incident, came up to him and said: "Say, boss, please play that $2 trick on your new

John J. Reimers, whose home is at the corner of Adams and Peter Smith streets, has just returned to Fort Worth from a five months' tour of the visit at his old home in Hamburg, which he left in 1865. Mr. Reimers' attention was called this morning to some statements that Mr. Bailey has been making as to his political record in Iowa, and Mr. Reimers makes this statement:

"Mr. Bailey makes very liberal use of the words 'human hyena,' 'liar,' etc., in referring to those who are not now patting him on the back, and as he uses my name very freely in the Dallas speech of Thursday night, and I am las speech of Thursday night, and I am told, has done so frequently of late, I take it that he includes me under the pet names that roll off his tongue so easily. The Record reports that Mr. Bailey said that he had wired to Dav-enport, Iowa, to ask about my political record and that he had received an answer to the effect that I had been a very active republican in Iowa polltics. I should be very sorry, indeed, to believe that the statements that Mr. Bailey is making in his own behalf have no more truth in them than the statements that the senator is circulating about me. I have never voted in lowa in my whole life. I have not lived in Iowa since 1870, and up to the time that I left Iowa I did not have the right to vote for anybody. I am going to be more charitable than the great Texas senator is and shall not call him 'liar' and a 'hyena,' even when he 's telling on the stump the most barefaced falsehood that man ever told when he says that I was, up to the time I came to Texas to live, an active republican in Iowa, political life. That is all I care to say about the matter."

Honors are even now between Mrs. Laura B. Payne of Fort Worth, socialist candidate for congress from the Twelfth congressional district of Texas, and W. J. Lampton, New York's peculiar poet. Lampton is the origi-nator of the unique type of verse known as the 'yawp," which has often been imitated, but never equalled.

but are they to blame?

"Playing the Game" will be at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday and Wednesday nights, matinee Wednesday, Oct. 28 and 24. This new comedy is from the pens of Cleveland Moffett and Hartley Davis, in fact the brightest effort of these two well-known dramatists, and the two leading parts were especially written with the younger Jeffersons' talents in view. Joseph and William W. have made a great success of "Playing the Game," just as their late father did in all the comedies he played and as the sons did in the last five years with "The Rivals."

WOMAN

"Woman" is the name of a new magazine for women." The first number is just issued. Your newsdealer has it. You can get it from him, and it is worth your while getting it. There is nothing startling about this magazine. There should be nothing startling about a decent magazine for women and the home. But this particular magazine is unique among all the so-called publications for women. You might not like it a little bit, and then, again, it might hit your fancy good and hard.

> If you like fiction -good, wide-awake, snappy storiesboth serials and short stories-you will like "Woman." In fact, fiction is the big feature of the magazine.

All the other magazines for women are cast on the same model-a little bit of fiction, a few articles, more or less chit chat, some wise advice, a fashion department and a smattering of general miscellany. "WOMAN" doesn't look any more like this conventional model than a yellow dog looks like a race horse. It is built on new lines for a strictly woman's publication. To know what it is like you will have to get a copy of it. It would cost too much to tell you all about it in this advertisement.

The price of "WOMAN" is TEN CENTS A COPY. and the magazine is a very big one-192 pages. By the way, two rattling good serial stories begin in this first number and it contains a big lot of other good things. You would do well to ask your dealer for it before his supply is exhausted. THE FRANK A. MUNSEY COMPANY, New York.

Home is an oasis in the desert, a shelter from the storms of life, a heaven on earth.

THE KITCHEN GARDEN

The farm gardens, "market gardens" and "truck gardens" of today are the producers of a multitude of "miscellaneous vegetables" almost unknown fifty years ago. In the census of 1890 the large increase in garden products was recognized, and a systematic count of their bulk and value was made. It is possible therefore, to make a tenyear comparison of the increase of such products, and this records the remarkable increases from 190 per cent to 200 per cent in the five several divisions of the country. The North Atlantic states had a well developed industry in "garden products" before which accounts for the relatively 1890. low increase. However, 190 per cent in ten years, while the population increased only a trifle over 20 per cent, is amazing.

Could our great-grandfathers, who thought tomatoes poisonous, and our great-grandmothers, who grew them as ornamental plants in window pots, under the attractive, name of "love apples," come back and realize that over 30,000,000 bushels of the pretty poisonous vegetables, according to a statement in Harper's Weekly, are eaten as a common and healthful food, they would surely realize that time works wonderful changes. Another interesting statement is that the lettuce crop of the South has so increased that in the spring of this year North Carolina. sent twenty carloads of that vegetable North in a single day .- The Industrious Hen.

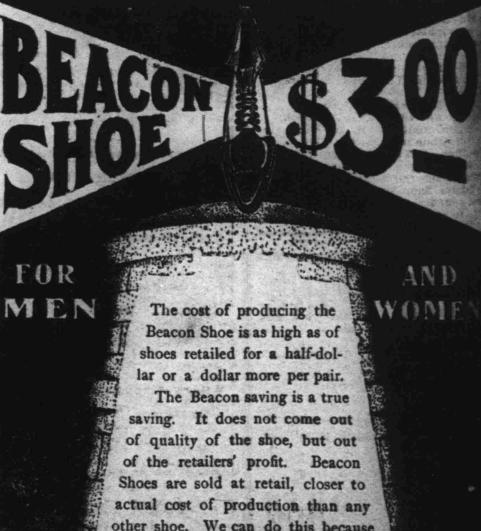

GOOD MOTHERS God bless all good mothers! I never see an old lady sitting in the arm chair of her ease but I think what storms have pelted into that cheery face without souring it. It may be that a man can go thru more exertion that a woman, but at least it remains true that he cannot without losing nis laughter, his good cheer, his gentleness and his love and trust in mankind or God. Yet now rarely do you find a frail old mother spirit has been worn threadbear and unlovely by what she has endured? A sweet old mother is common; a sweet old father is not so common. As the day, so thy strength of love, thy riches, of an inexhaustible benevolence, and hope such person while she is an inmate of woman's history than a man's.

BEWARE OF FRUIT SKIN Fruit skins carry germs and are no more intended for human sustenance than potato skins, melon rinds or pea pods. The bloom of a peach is a luxuriant growth of microbes, that of grape only less so, and when these skins are taken into the stomach they find more favorable conditions for their lively and rapid development, which causes the decay of the fruit before it is possible to digest it. This is the reason many persons think they cannot eat raw fruit. If they would in all cases discard the skin they could derive only good from the fruit itself. Nature provides the skin for the protection of the fruit from the multitudes of germs which are ever ready to attack it, as is evidenced when the skin is bruised or broken in any way. The mi at once begin their work of decay and the fruit is unfit for food. Remember it is sweet and ripe fruit in prime con-dition only that is best to est.

Bryan made it himself. Unless the Democratic party is ready to go to the slaughter on this impossibility, as they went to it on the 16 to 1 absurdity. that party must get a lantern and go searching for a Democrat to nom-inate in 1908.

James G. Blaine's grandson, third of the name, is a clerk in a New York bank and gnawing his chains even as would his grandsire had that great man accepted the department clerk-ship in Washington when, a penniless young adventurer, it was offered him. Of this Blaine of the third generation it is remarked: "He would rather be United States senator than corner the markets of the world." It is possible IST AD IDOLS OF THE PEOPLE... that his grand dad would have suf-fered a long hiatus-mayhap a perpetual absence-in his service in the senate to corner the markets of New York for forty-eight hours. The elder Blaine was a born man of affairs, and on Wall street he would have been a Midas of the first magnitude.

Heredity is a thing we may speculate upon. It is more apparent among horses and dogs, sheep and chickens, than it is among human beings. There is the myth that Marcus Brutus was the son of Julius Caesar; there is the scandal that Anne Boleyn was the daughter of Henry VIII; there is the absurdity that Francis Bacon was the son of Queen Elizabeth-these concoctions of the fancy for the credu-

Prince, a splendid hero-

Was the son of one of the greatest kings who ever wore the English pur-ple, and the father of one of the weakest kings of English history. What a glorious story is that of Henry V-Shakespeare's Prince Hal. His queen was that Kate of France who was the ancestress of the house of Tudor, a grand dame of Queen Bess, and yet the son of England that she and "Hal" gave the English throne was that hapless weakling, Henry VI, who, tho his queen was the heroic Margaret of Anjou, perished miserably before the arms

William the Silent was the first statesman of a grand epoch, and his son, Maurice of Nassau, was the most accomplished soldier of a generation that produced Spinola. What an illustrious family it was-that house of Orange! William III of that line, whom Macaulay considered the greatest man of his time, had coursing his veins the bloods of Orange, Bourbon, Plantagenet, Stuart, Tudor, Lorraine. There is no finer-bred man in profane history, few greater statesmen, and no stouter soldier. PAIN CARDUI SICKNESS HEALTH 8 SUFFERING HAPPINESS

Just a few minutes of you time, dear lady, and you will learn, here some facts of interest and value-more important to you than the bargains on other pages of this paper.

I want you to buy and take home today a dollar size bottle of Wine of Cardui. If necessary, save it out of your shopping money-but get it.

Do not hesitate-why should you? What can be more important to you than health?

The benefit Wine, of Cardui will be to you, if you suffer from any of the disorders or diseases so common to your sex, is something that can hardly be expressed in words.

Thousands of women have written enthusiastic letters, telling of the success of Cardui in relieving their periodical pains, such as headache, backache, sideache, falling feelings, straining, irregularity, difficulty in walking, weakness, nervousness, peevishness, and general debility.

It acts as a gentle tonic on the womanly organs and constitution, giving sick women a new lease of life and the beauty of strength and health.

Read the letter printed below; then stop at the nearest drug store and try this successful treatment for sick women:

It would be hard to tell who was the greater man or greater orator, the first or second Pitt. Both ruled England when England could only be ruled by eloquence. Their great rival, Henry Fox,' and the more eminent Charles James, father and son, also present a marvelous example of heredity. We are told that the younger Fox was the greatest parliamentary debater who ever spoke our tongue, and we can readily believe it after reading his crushing reply to Pitt in the debate on the breach of the treaty of Amiens. Not so learned as Burke, not so brilliant as Sheridan, perhaps not so elowe survived the "Mulligan Letters," quent as his rival, the younger Pitt, in reply he was the greatest orator and it is a tribute to the man that milns of his followers never read them. our tongue has known. If he had the gacity of Samuel J. Tilden he would had his fondest desire, an aunt of Fox would have been queen of England. Had it been so, there would have been far. For ten years he has been in e public eye; but always the ques-n has obtruded, "Where is the man's no American revolution in 1776. In our country there have been two families conspicuous for heredity-Marshall and Adams. This Mr. Hawes, who is the first orator of Missouri, is the nephew of Thomas F. Marshall the first orator of Kentucky, who was the nephew of John Marshall, the first jurist of America. There are four generations of the Adams family all distinguished for intellect and character. The late W. C. P. Breckinridge was the grandson of William C. Preston, himself a magnificent orator, and the grandson of the father of Patrick Henry. Thomas Jefferson, John Ran-dolph of Roanoke, John Marshall and Robert E. Lee all sprang from a Ran-dolph who flourished in Virginia in the colonial period.

But the theme is limitless, and yet I cannot but think that all other pedigrees are base compared with that in the gospel of Matthew, where a line is traced thru more than two score

All the advocates of dry ing attach fresh importance to the fact that the soil must not be allowe to dry out at any time, and many them think that healthy bacter growth under such conditions is as much the cause of large crops as is the large amount of water in the soll. Dr. Kellerman himself came here this spring from Washington and carried off with him 150 soil samples which were worked up in the laboratory an many interesting bacterial growths ob-tained. The sending here of a com-plete laboratory experiment indicates the importance of this work, and it will be watched with much interest by all local people.

shop, and an admirer who was a clerk in one of the banks. There ware clubs and other organizations, social, relig-ious and literary; and the people in all of them had tongues wherewith to talk, and ears for hearing.

At the meeting of the Society for Ethical Research, Mrs. Meyer read an essay on "What Parsifal Has Taught Me," during the reading of which Mrs. Alvord described Miss Waldron's trousseau to Miss Finch and Doctor Julia Brown. Because of the con-versation among these three, the pres-ident asked Doctor Brown, first of all, to discuss the paper. And Doctor Julia, who talked bass and had coquettish fluffy blond bangs and a greatly overtaxed corsage, said that she fully agreed with the many and deeply beautiful thoughts expressed in the paper.

"I'm sincerely glad Parsifal taught her something!" said the fair M. D. to her companions, as she resumed her seat. Mrs. Meyer was the only woman in the town who had ever been to Bayreuth, she added short-windedly in explanation of her remarks, and had lobbled herself into a place on the program on the strength of that fact. "Does Bess know," asked Miss Finch, "about this mesmerist person?"

"Oh, there isn't anything there," said Doctor Brown, "I feel sure. Tho bis inti-ah, friendship with this Le Clairs woman is, just at this time, in bad taste. But all men are nateral polygamists, you know."

"They say," said the voice of a member from across the room, "that it will be quite a palace-throw everything else in Bellevale in the shadeentirely so."

"They are all talking of it," said Mrs. Alvord. "Jim says it seems odd to have this Mr. Blodgett looking into the Brassfield business. But everything is odd, now-the hypnotist and Mr. Blodgett, and Daisy Scarlett; she's still here."

"O-o!" said Doctor Brown, in a sinuous barytone circumflex. "Really," said Miss Finch, who wore her dress high about the neck, and whose form was a symphony in angles, "such promiseuous associations may be shocking, but as to surprise-who knows anything of his life before he came here?"

"Judge Blodgett," said Doctor Brown, "told a friend of mine that he had known Brassfield from infancy." "The first light Bellevale has ever received on a dark past," said Miss Finch, "if it is light. And how strangely he acts! Everybody notices it. Always so chatty and almost voluble before, and now-why, he's dreadfully boorish. You know how he treated you, Miss Brown!"

"Yes, and he knows how I treated him for it!" said Doctor Brown. "I propose to call people down when they act so with me!"

"Quite right," said Mrs. Alvord, the worse lately more than Bessie happy. I can't attach any importance with the striped hair; but that Miss Jim and I saw the beginning of that Daisy Scarlett is a queer girl, so wild Oh, Bessie, it's so sweet of you to body has been saying such sweet things of you!"

House Work

The drudgery of house work seems never ending to tired-out, dispirited women who suffer from female complaints or irregularities. Inflammation and ulceration cause fearful bearing-down pains which are aggravated by much standing on the feet, and lifting necessary in house work.

But let no woman despair of relief from this torture. That famous tonic reconstructor of diseased or disordered female organism, has cured more than one million American Women, and it will cure you. When troubled with painful irregularities, when backaches and headaches drive out all ambition, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring back health, strength, and happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

It Gave Me New Life and Vigor

DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - Last spring, while we were moving, I did considerable more work than my strength permitted, and, having mental trouble at the same time, my health broke down completely and I found myself unable to rest or eat. My nerv-ous system became shattered and I was pale and emaciated and had to take to my bed. My sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, although I had no faith in patent medicines, I was so miserable that I would take anything for relief. I found that it made a complete change for the better, inducing appe-tite and restful sleep and imparting new life and vigor to my entire system. I gained nearly fourteen pounds, my complexion looked fresh and clear, and my best friends were surprised and pleased at the change and could hardly credit the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had accomplished it.

Judge Blodgett thoughtfully gazed erve something of Brassfield's posiinto space.

"Yes, it would appear that way." said he, at last; "but is it necessarily so? You can testify that you were in Hazelhurst at that time, and legally, that's the same thing as saying that Brassfield was-I guess; and I'll swear to it, too; and if they aren't too searching on cross-examination, we may slide thru-but there'll be some ticklish spots. I'll see Mr. Edgington, and find out just how strong a fabric of perjury we've got to go against. We may have to get more witnesses-and that'll be thin ice, too. I'll look in again this afternoon.

"Please do so," replied Mr. Amidon. "Look at these letters. Do you suppose your Notes would shed any light on what they're driving at?" The judge looked them over.

"I don't remember anything in the Notes," said he, "regarding these matters. But you could take 'em up to the hotel, and Madame le Claire could

"All right," replied Mr. Brassfield cheerily, "I'll toddle right down to the office with you, my boy. Excuse me, Madame; you may rely on my seeking a resumption of this pleasant interview at the earliest possible moment. Au revoir!"

Madame le Claire was perplexed. Should she allow him to go out in this hypnotic state? Could she exercise her art in Alderson's presence While she debated, Mr. Brassfield airily bowed himself out and was gone

Brassfield was gone, that was clear; but no system of Subliminal Engineering had any rule for calculating the results of his escape back into the world from which he had for a fortnight or so been absent. What would he be, and what would he do? Would he return the same hard-headed man of business who had won riches m five short years? Or would he be changed by the return to the normal -his equilibrium made unstable by the tendency to revert to his older self? How would he adjust himself to the things done by Amidon? How would the change affect his relations with Miss Waldron and this bright-haired inamorata so balefully nearing the foreground like an approaching comet? How would the professor and Judge Blodgett stand with this new factor in the problem? Would he continue to care for her, his rescuer? Owing to some things which had taken place in the Brassfield intervals, her heart permanent Eugene. For be it remembered that many things had taken place in these days of Bellevale life. The situation had. of course, been changing daily by sub-surface mutations which the intelligent student of this history will not need to have explained to him. For instance (and herein the explanation of that fluttering of Madame le Claire's heart) such things as these:

Bellevale is not so large a place that neighbors' affairs are not observed of neighbor. Prior to the elaboration of the law of thought-transference, there was no way of accounting for the universality of knowledge of other people's affairs which certain Bellevale circles enjoyed The good gossiping housewives along the highways leading into the town are often able to tell the exact contents of the packages brought home by their neighbors. under the seats of their buggies and farm wagons and late at night: but this is a phenomenon not at all un-usual. Neither is it in the least strange that, in town or country, John and

"How kind of them!" said Elizabeth. "Has Parsifal received any attention?

At the club, of course, no such gossip as that uttered at the meeting of the Society for Ethical Research was heard. Men are above such things. To be sure Alvord and Slater and Edgington and the rest of "the gang" did exchange views on some matters involving the welfare of the cluband in the course of duty. "I tell you," said Slater, "Brass has been practicing that French doctrine about hunting for the woman-a little too industriously. They're getting to be something-something-' "Fierce," suggested Alvord.

"Well, that isn't quite what I meant to say," said Slater, "but pretty near. Terrible as an army with banners, you know, and condemned near as umerous." "It's changed Brassfield like a coat of paint, this engagement," said Edgington. "I saw something last week that showed me more than you could print in a book as big as the Annual Digest. You see, he went sort of gravitating down by where the sewer gang was at work, like a man in a strange country full of hostiles, and altho he must have been conscious of the fact that he's slated for mayor in the spring, he never showed that he knew of the presence of a human being, to say nothing of a voter, in the whole gang, and Barney Conlon's gang, too. Why, he'd better have done anything than ignore 'em! He'd better a darn sight have stood and sung 'Drill, Ye Tarriers, Drill!' as a political move. Now that shows a revolution in his nature. It's uncanny, and it'll play the very deuce with the slate if it goes on."

"Well, you all know what took place at his counting-room," asked Slater, "the day after he got back from New York? Old Stevens resigned, on the street the night before, and Brass didn't seem to know any more than to accept his resignation. Hired him back since, I've heard, but he ought not to have noticed it. He certainly has gone off badly."

"I knew a fellow once." said Edgington, "who went sort of crazy on the girl question-batty. D'ye s'pose this engagement-" "They change to their lady friends," said Slater, "sometimes. But hewhy, he passed me a dozen times with a cold stare!" "Me, too," said Edgington, "and he

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 .- James K. Vardaman, governor of Mississippi, militant yet peaceable, came to Chicago yesterday and announced the issue upon which he proposes to make the race for the United States senate against John Sharp Williams, democratic leader of the house.

"I favor unqualifiedly and without reserve the abrogation of the fifteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States. I expect to defeat Mr. Williams and I shall be on the firing line in the senate, with the sincere belief that the battle will end, as I in common with the entire south hope and expect."

This in brief is the platform of the Mississippi executive.

"I know what I am talking about when we get to the race question." continued Governor, Vardaman. "It must be settled and settled very soon. It cannot be settled until the nation as a whole has been convinced that there is a distinction between the white race and the black race. -

"The laws now specifically recognize the difference between the white man and the Indian, the Chinaman, the Esquimau or the Malay. There is as much distinction between the white man and the negro.

PICTURESQUELY SITUATED JUST TO THE WEST OF THE PANTHER CITY, ONE OF THE PRETTIEST AND ALTOGETHER MOST ARISTOCRATIC SUBURBS IN THE ENTIRE SOUTH-WEST. LOCATED UPON A HILL AT AN ELEVATION OF MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY FEET ABOVE THAT OF FORT WORTH, ARLINGTON HEIGHTS COMMANDS A MAGNIFICENT VIEW OF THE ENTIRE CITY. INDEED, ARLINGTON HEIGHTS AFFORDS THE IDEAL HOME SITE BECAUSE THE CLIMATE IS SUPERB, THE ELEVATION HIGH, AND BECAUSE THE RESIDENT MAY ENJOY EVERY ADVANTAGE OF CITY AND SUBURBAN LIFE. ELECTRIC LIGHTED, WITH AN AMPLE WATER SUPPLY, ONLY A TWENTY-MINUTE RIDE FROM THE CENTER OF THE CITY, THERE IS EVERY REASON THAT ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PROPERTY SHOULD RAPIDLY ENHANCE IN VALUE. ALREADY THIS HEALTH-FUL AND ARISTOCRATIC SUBURB IS DOTTED WITH PALATIAL HOMES THAT WOULD DO JUSTICE TO ANY CITY ANYWHERE. SOME OF THESE RESIDENCES COST AS MUCH AS $15,000, $18,000, $20,000 AND $25,000. THE FORT WORTH COUNTRY CLUB HAS A $25,000 HOME, ELEGANTLY SITUATED JUST ACROSS FROM THE NEW OFFICES OF THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS REALTY COMPANY, THE LATTER COSTING $4,600. THE VISITOR IS AT ONCE STRUCK WITH THE NATURAL BEAUTY OF THE PLACE; THE WIDE, SPACIOUS, GRADED STREETS, THE DELIGHTFUL BREEZES, THE HANDSOME HOMES, THE PICTURESQUE VIEW AND THE UNSURPASSED SURROUNDINGS OF THE HEIGHTS.

*Recently a purchaser said: "A few months ago I was shown Beautiful Arlington Heights. The charm of the place is irresistible. I returned the owner of four lots there. My home is now in Beautiful Arlington Heights. Twenty-two minutes after I leave my office I am at my own fireside. Arlington Heights is really a nearer home place than many residential sections. And it's a heap sight better. There is every city and country convenience. It is just far enough from the hustle and bustle of the city to make one feel at home. It is near enough to Fort Worth to enable one to reach the office a few minutes after leaving home."

ALL THOSE WHO HAVE PURCHASED LOTS IN BEAUTIFUL ARLINGTON HEIGHTS ARE CONGRATULATING THEMSELVES UPON THEIR WISE INVESTMENT. A MAN WITH A VERY SMALL AMOUNT OF MONEY TODAY CAN MAKE HIMSELF RICH WITHIN TEN YEARS BY BUYING PROPERTY THAT IS ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN TO ENHANCE IN VALUE, AS OTHERS FOLLOW HIS WISE EXAMPLE OF INVESTING IN THE CHOICEST RESIDENCE SUBURBAN PROPERTY IN FORT WORTH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.-The option market dropped from 7 to 19 points at the opening quotations today, and remained very weak for the greater portion of the days. The rumors that Boston will make a bearish statement upon the advance of the rate by the Bank of England to 6 per cent did not add to the strength of the market by any means. There was general selling by the disappointed local bulls, and the market interest which was cleared out on its advance last week. On this reaction Liverpool and New Orleans were good sellers, tho lots of stop orders were received. Like yesuerday's trading, the market today presented the unique situation of having more buyers than sellers of spots, and facts in the outcome of today's. uneasiness caused both the bull and bear factions to stand pat, and scalpers and speculators were unable to get into the market to any great extent. However, the bull speculator did not hesitate to express his disappointment over the fact that the public did not take hold of the market as expected. In the meantime the important part was working for a better covering basis.

Cables were favorable as far as futures were converned, but the spot trading was not so good as the demand would have justified.

New Orleans Cotton Special to The Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19 .- There was a slump of from 9 to 20 points in the New Orleans market at the opening this morning. The bears be-gan early to hammer the market on the alarming foreign news, especially the rumor that Russia was practically a bankrupt government and - would forfeit payment of her bonds, and the longs were anxious to unload. The long interests were further depressed by the news of internal trouble in France, and the bearish influence was keenly felt. The weather map indicated cold wet weather over a large

Car Shortage Retards Filling of Contracts-Longs Selling on Bank of England Action

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19 .-. There was no change in the wheat situation over night. The sentiment is still bullish and professional longs were in the market buying on all soft spots. Corn and oats are also bullish, tho the prediction is that the prices may remain dormant for a time. Any quantity of corn or oats was quickly covered at the prevailing prices. Millers are after more good milling wheat, and the commission houses have heavy buying orders. The car shortage is yet very little relieved, and it is difficult to fill immediate delivery contracts.

The demand for good hard corn was very strong, and the offerings very light. Reports from the principal corn states, outside of Kansas, were anything but encouraging. Corn in many cases is hardening slowly and is not in good marketable condition, not to mention that which is said to be rotting in the shock where it has not been gathered on account of not being fully matured. The action of the Bank of England

n advancing its rate in such an unusual and unexpected manner has had the effect of placing the market here in a very nervous condition, and is intepreted to mean that it is preparing to meet an impending financial storm. On this information some of the longs began to unload and to take steps to protect their long stocks as much as possible. Provisions were somewhat stronger today, tho trading was within comparatively restricted lines. "The range on the markets was as follows: Quotations Open. High. Low. Close, Wheat-December 74 74 73% 73% May 78% 78% 78% 78% 78% July 77% 77% Corn-

Cattle Receipts Fair - Steers and Butcher Stock Sell Steady-Hogs Strong-Calves Higher

Cattle receipts amounted to about 3,000 head today, with one-third of this number calves. Steers and butcher stock sold steady with calves 25c higher. Receipts of hogs amounted to 1,-500 head and sold strong.

Receipts included a good portion of steers. There was nothing strictly choice on sale and, with the exception of a few loads, the supply was not good enough for packers and too good for feeder buyers. Trading started early and, with a good demand from all sources, a seasonable clearance was niade at steady prices. Sales of steers: No. Ave. Price. Toole who is at the head of the enterprise, is much gratified at the result of his brief campaign. The real work for the establishment of the paper warehouse began this week and the end is already reached. Mr. Toole met one friend, who said: "Let me have all of the stock of the company not yet taken and I will subscribe to it all. In fact, I think the capital is too small, and I am willing to subscribe to enough of the stock to double the amount you talk of and will do so now." It was Mr. Toole's wish that there be a general distribution of the stock among the people of the city, and for that reason he did not close with the MANY CHEESE EATERS HERE Fort Worth Is the Texas City "Au Gratin" panies. Fort Worth is a "cheesy" town. Grocery dealers say 'tis, and so it is. Its citizens are cheese eaters, and according to one of the most prosperous grocery handlers in the town, the city consumes annually enough cheese to smear a thin coating of the stuff over the entire state of Texas. Now, of course, this may be a little extravagant, but it is a fact that pound after pound of the product is done away with every day here. Almost every grocery store in the city has a supply of cheese during the fall and winter and the proprietors of the places arrest that noth-Somebody suggested that the cause of all the rats in town might be attributed to the great amount of cheese The downtown grocery stores keep various kinds of cheese. VIEWS ON THE MARKET

Ware & Leland Special to The Telegram.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19 .- Cotton broke all to pieces today under heavy selling, which was started by unfavorable developments in the financial markets of the world and was intensified by the heavy movement, amount of cotton into sight for the week ending today being half a million bales. The decline began in Liverpool, futures there standing at a loss of about ten points just before our opening, when they were due 51/2 to 61/2 lower. An hour before our market opened Liverpool was favorable and together with considerable rain over the belt, pointed to a higher opening here. The most unfavorable development of the day was the increase in the Bank of England rate to 6 per cent. This is an exceedingly high rate and was sufficient to cause a scramble to get among Liverpool operators. Again there were rumors that Russia was going to default on its coupons, due to be paid on its bonds the first of November. The first sufficient to cause a flurry in securities in all countries and a sympathetic weakness in cotton. Other bearish features of the day were a good forecast, which predicted fair weather for the entire belt tonight and tomorrow, a bearish estimate by Mr. Buston, the English expert on the crop, and reports that the tropical hurricane after causing con-3.000. siderable damage in Florida, had passed out to sea. It was a day of bearish news and under the pressure December broke down to 10.70 or 35 points below the level of yesterday's closing. Spots weakened with futures and both before noon and in the afternoon spots were said to be 3-8c lower than yesterday. Some pressure to sell was reported but buyers were generally indifferent, which led some to believe that the bulk of October shipments were filled. Sentiment is now very bearish and the market looks lower. G. C. BATTLE. Manager. JERSEY A NEWSPAPER STATE

At many points men from the audience interrupted the senator by remarks tended to en-courage him. Concerning his connections with the Standard Oll Company he said: A $13,000,000 Lie

ISSUES IN DALLAS

"And they proceed to tell the igno-rant how the Standard Gil Company turned over to the $13,000,000 of se-curities to do with the pleased. You heard that statement, didn't you? "That's a $13,000,000 lie. (Laughter and cheare) The Standard Oil Com-and cheers.) The Standard Oil Company had no more to do with those Tennessee properties for which I was the attorney than this musician here, and unless he is different from most of the fiddlers he didn't have the money to buy them." Senator Bailey then denied that any securities had been turned over to him, and that the Standard Oil Company owned any interest in the properties. He said that he represented three gentlemen in St. Louis in that matter.

"But they say that H. Clay Pierce was one of the three who owned the construction company for which I was the attorney? But Pierce swears that he never owned a share of Standard Oil stock in his life. The trouble with Pierce is that the Standard Oil Com-pany owns stock in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, and not that Pierce owns stock in the Standard Oil Company, and yet, strange to say, now mark it here, if there is any criminality in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company it arises from the ownership of stock in it by the Standard Oil Company; and yet they say nothing much about the Standard Oil Company, and everything against Pierce. Why? Because Pierce brought a letter of introduction to me one time. (Laughter and a voice: "He wanted a job, Balley.") That wasn't the first work (meaning the Tennessee matter) that I had been doing for Pierce in a lawyer's way. I had been doing it before. I haven't been doing it any since.

TA MENTAL OF REPAIR

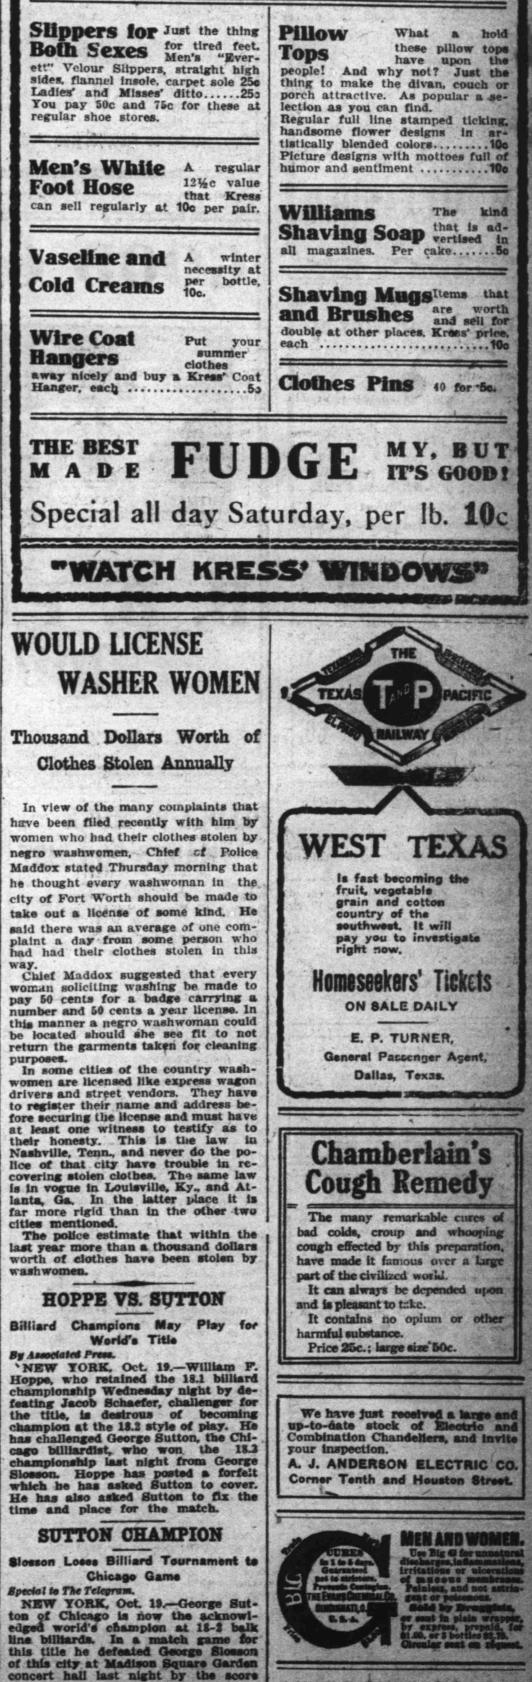

THIS IS IMPORTANT

The low prices which distinguish all Kress' stores have nothing to de with the character of the goods we sell. Our prices are the direct log ical results of a common-sense business principle which enables us to give values seldom associated with the same figures.

It is true that in ordinary, small quantity methods' of merchandising, prices as small as ours invariably mean goods of small value.

This is not true in Kress' stores. Our prices are low but our goods are safe. Whatever the price you pay in a Kress store you can be you get reliable quantities of a value three and four times what the same price will buy you anywhere else.

The following examples will prove what we say:

lead of his, the senator's enemies, and that all the attacks that are being made upon him emanate from Hearst or Hearst sources. Of course, from this it would appear that Mr. Hearst is not worthy of the support of any dem-ocrat and should not be recognized in any way as a good democrat. Now, it happens that in the midst of the senator's harangues against Hearst and his followers as his most determined enemies and unworthy of belief or support, the democratic party in legitimate convention assembled, nominated unanimously, amid cheers, this great enemy of Senator Balley and the democratic party of Texas as their candidate for governor of the great state of New York. According to Senator Bailey's announced platform in all his

I fear that if the senator is honest he will have to discover some other cause for the outbreak against him in this state other than Hearst. TAYLOR MCRAE Fort Worth, Texas.

He said that he had not only saved bis clients a large sum of money, but he also gave the city of Nashville two new railroad systems, whereas they had been in the grasp of one.

"They say a man in the senate is not entitled to practice law," he continued. Some of them say it that way; some of them say he is not entitled to practice law for corporations, and some of them say that he is not entitled to practice law for trusts. To the latter proposition I not only do not dissent, but I go further than they do; I say the rule against not practicing law for trusts is as applicable to effizens as it is senators. It is one thing to defend a man accused of crime; it is another thing to tell him how to com-mit a crime." (Applause.)

Senator Balley then repeated his argument that he ought to have a right to work for himself and family during the time the public does not require his services, and reiterated his declaration that he did not want to die in the poorhouse, and that if his constituents wanted their senator to do it they would have to get somebody

Clew in Murder Mystery Special to The Telegram

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 19 .- It is believed that a valuable clew to the identity of the dead boy has been found. Sheriff Hughes received a letter from Sheriff Russel of Blanco county, which describes the boy exactly. His name is Earl Dockery and he was night watchman for a railroal gang at Hereford. It is believed that he was decoyed from there and murdered. But it is by no means certain that he was murdered in Amarillo. In fact, at the present time it does not look as if the boy had ever been here. If it is the boy from Hereford, he was possibly killed there and brought here.

54,600 Meals Did Him No Good

How One Man Wasted 50 Years of His Life. Thousands Like Him

"What's the use of eatin', anyhow?" said the scrawny dyspeptic to his rotund, prosperous-looking friend. "Here I've been eatin' three times a day, and sometimes twice a day, for 50 years, and look at me. I'm rawboned and skinny, still at the bottom of the ladder, sour on the world, and a pessimist. I know it, and I can't help it. If I had it to do over again, though, would take care of my stomach, for don't believe I ever really relished a meal in my life, not even mother's Christmas dinners, and I firmly believe that my way of eating, or whatever it was, brought along with it darkness and impossibility of success."

"You're right," nodded his companion. "Of course, that isn't always the case. But in this age we must not only "Trust in the Lord and keep our powder dry,' but we must swallow sunshine with our food. Cheerfulness, sepectally while eating, which is the most essential act of man, is as neces-sary to him as sunshine is to the flowers. Nothing normal can be produced in darkness

"But this is what you haven't been doing, Mr. Dyspeptic. Your brain and your stomach, remember, are twins, and you have to treat them accordingly. Why not start now and repair the damage you've done. It is never too ate, you know."

"You mean at my age? And suppose you can't always get the sun-

"Absolutely, yes. Science has made it possible to get the sunshine, the health and the strength that your stomach needs, all put up together in little tablets. They call them Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most effective tablets in the world for this very thing. One ingredient in these tablets thing. One ingredient in these tablets digests 3,000 grains of food without the help of the stomach.
