strongly in the country that returns early this morning have but one trend, that of cutting down McCreary's lead.

THE VERY LATEST ELECTION RETURNS

The latest returns Wednesday afternoon are favorable to democratic candidates. Johnson, democrat, has been elected governor of Minnesota, and the Iowa republicans admit so greatly a reduced majority for Cummins that Porter, democrat, may be elected governor of that state.

In Missouri the democratic ticket was elected and most of the congressional seats were regained. The new state senate will be democratic.

Patterson Elected

By Associated Press. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from sixty-five out of ninety-six counties in the state indicate the election of Mr. R. Patterson, democrat, for governor, by 18,000 over Evans, republican. The vote was very light, but this falling off did not work to the advantage of the republicans. The congressional delegation stands two republicans and eight democrats, as at present.

Porter May Be Elected

By Associated Press. DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 7.—The latest returns indicate that Cummins plurality will be reduced below 5,000. The democrats are claiming that Porter is elected governor.

Democratic Landslide

By Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—Eighty-six constitutional districts give democrats 77 and republicans 9. Twenty-six districts yet to report, and they are in the democratic section. The new state will give four districts estimated.

Illinois Republican

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Illinois went republican by over 100,000 votes for Smulski, state treasurer, footing about 120,000 over the republican ticket estimated. Chicago gave the state ticket a plurality of over 60,000. Republicans lost two congressional districts apparently in Chicago, and two more districts down state, making a gain of four districts for democrats, and giving them five instead of one in Illinois congressional delegations.

West Virginia Republican

By Associated Press. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 7.—Returns incomplete, but sufficient to show that the election of all five republican candidates to a republican legislature. Legislature elects successor to Senator Stephen B. Elkins.

One Democrat Won

By Associated Press. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 7.—Mayor James H. Higgins of Pawtucket, democrat, defeated Governor George H. Utter, republican, for re-election by a plurality of 1,238. Rest of the republican state ticket elected. Republicans will control the general assembly, which is to choose a United States senator to succeed George P. Wetmore.

Washington Republican

By Associated Press. SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 7.—Returns are slow, but the indications are that the republicans carried the state.

Governorship in Doubt

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The governorship is in doubt about republicans, as democrats are claiming victory.

Croker Satisfied

By Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 7.—Richard Croker, former head of Tammany Hall, expressed his satisfaction over the defeat of Hearst by the republican ticket, which is to choose a United States senator to succeed George P. Wetmore.

Republican Landslide

By Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7.—There was a republican landslide in this (Jackson) county. Congressman Ellis has 3,000 plurality. Two democrats and four republicans are elected to the legislature. The plurality of the republican ticket is estimated at more than twenty-five hundred.

Regular Republicans Lead

By Associated Press. DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 7.—It is thought that Dallas county's vote cast yesterday will not exceed four thousand. The primary vote was nearly double that number. Gray of the regular republicans defeated Acheson, reorganized, in Dallas county.

In Hill County

By Associated Press. HILLSBORO, Texas, Nov. 7.—Up to noon today returns received from twenty-three out of forty election precincts in this county show that Campbell received 1,428 votes, Gray 83, Acheson 52, Pearson 3 and Edwards 2. The amendment to exempt endowments carried largely. The tax jury amendment carried by 231. The legislative pay amendment 23 for and 415 against. The proposition to abolish the office of county school superintendent was defeated.

SMALL VOTE WAS POLLED TUESDAY

The election Tuesday in Tarrant county was very quiet, a light vote being polled and the interest being very small. The entire Democratic ticket was elected, the Republicans polling the largest vote for Dodge, candidate for county attorney, against McLean.

There was but one real contest in the county, and that was for the commissioner of precinct No. 2, of which Grapevine is the principal town. For a number of years past the commissioner from that precinct will, but few exceptions, has been an independent or a Populist.

This year T. P. Huffman, Democrat, is elected over W. R. Buzard, independent, by a vote of 262 to 201. Owing to the provisions of the Territorial election law it will be impossible to secure the complete returns for the county until the next meeting of the county commissioners, as the law requires that the complete returns be opened by the county clerk in the presence of the court. A large number of precincts have sent their poll books in, but as no one has publicly opened them until the court meeting next Monday, the returns here given are not official, but were secured from outside sources.

Johnson's Plurality 40,000

By Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 7.—John A. Johnson, democrat, has been re-elected governor of Minnesota by at least 40,000 plurality, and the final figures may go considerably higher. The remainder of the state ticket is republican, with the possible exception of secretary of state, which meager returns show to be in doubt.

McCreary Defeated

By Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 7.—The Pioneer Press (republican) this morning admits the defeat of Congressman James T. McCreary, democrat, by the republican ticket on ways and means, in the present congress by his democratic opponent, W. S. Hammond. The indications are that Hammond will have a plurality of about 1,000.

In Salt Lake City

By Associated Press. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 7.—The republicans carried Salt Lake county by 1,500 plurality. Americans and the Mormon party cleaned the city with a slight gain against all republicans.

In El Paso

By Associated Press. EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 7.—The democrats elect every officer in this county. The entire vote was not over 1,200 and possibly 200 republican votes were cast. There was practically no interest here. Exact figures for governor cannot be given, but Campbell carried the county by approximately 100.

Recount May Be Necessary

By Associated Press. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 7.—The race in the democratic primary for United States senator between Senator McCreary and Congressman Beckham is so close that a recount may be necessary. Incomplete returns this morning show that Governor Beckham is slightly in the lead.

The Courier-Journal, which has been supporting McCreary, admits that the result is very much doubtful, while the Herald claims Beckham's election by a small majority. Samuel W. Hager appears to have a safe majority for the nomination for governor. Senator McCreary carried Louisville by a plurality of 7,287, yet Governor Beckham ran so

At the fourth quarterly conference for 1906 of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, held at the church building, reports from all departments of the church government showed prosperous conditions. Rev. J. P. Boyce was unanimously invited to return to the church pastorate for another year and he accepted the call.

Rev. Boyce has been pastor of St. Paul's church for five years and enters upon his sixth year under the most favorable auspices so far as the conditions of his charge are concerned.

APPLICATION OF CUTICURA REMEDY

"I am never without Cuticura and Cuticura Ointment since I had them last summer. About the last part of July my whole body began to itch and I was recommended to use Cuticura. I used it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get under and tried all kinds of baths and ointments that were recommended for skin humors; but I became worse the time. My hair began to fall out, my scalp itched all the time. Finally at night, just as soon as I went to bed and got warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger would begin to irritate, and it was so bad before I could not rest night or day. I had to get up and wash myself, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. About four weeks I would take a bath every night and then apply Cuticura on my scalp. It keeps all day out and scalp is always clean. I always use Cuticura Ointment on a face after shaving, and have found nothing to equal it. I will never without it." D. E. Rink, Indianapolis, Ind. JUDGE PARKER IS A BOLTER

The sight of Alton B. Parker, late Democratic nominee for the Presidency of the United States, stumping the state of New York for the Republican candidate for governor, is almost enough to give every Democrat in the country a bad case of delirium tremens.—Fort Worth Telegram.

The Telegram knows full well that Judge Parker is not stumping New York for the Republican candidate for governor. There being no Democratic candidate for governor of that state this year, Judge Parker exercises his privilege to speak, and in doing so he lets it be known that he was in favor of an honest Republican for governor as against an unprincipled demagogue and dynamiter. But the Telegram appears to have a regular mania for bearing "false witness"—Texarkana Texarkanian.

Suffering Corbella, but this is an anomaly. Here is a Democratic paper in Fort Worth, Texas, abusing Mr. Parker for aiding in the election of Republican nominated Hughes for the governorship of the Empire state, while the esteemed Texarkanian, also a stated Democratic paper, of Texarkana, aroused to fever heat, pours hot shot into the Telegram for what that paper—the Telegram—said, and which is just about correct. William J. Bryan telegraphed his congratulations to Hearst when the New York state Democratic convention nominated him.

The Commercial does not know that Alton B. Parker is doing what the papers mentioned say he has done, but if he has, the Texarkanian is certainly wrong in the premises, if party discipline and party usage count for anything, for it is a well known truth that Hearst was overwhelmingly nominated for governor of New York by a very large convention of Democrats of that state. On the other hand, Hughes was nominated by an overwhelming majority of the state Republican convention. Now, so far as parties go, the great Democratic party has as its standard bearer a man selected by the Democratic party, while the same is true of the Republican party's nominee. This is absolutely historical and most surely the Texarkanian is fully aware of the truth in this statement. Whether the Democratic party made a mistake in nominating Hearst is not necessary to discuss just now; but the party in convention assembled did nominate Hearst and there is no other Democratic candidate for governor in the contest. Same is true of Hughes and his party. This being the status of affairs, the man who does vote for Hearst is a bolter of the Democratic party, and if Judge Parker has done what is said of him, he is, to use the language of the late and highly esteemed Colonel Met L. Jones, a "double bolter."

Let us retrospect just for a moment. In 1896 Bryan was the regular Democratic candidate for President. Judge Parker did not like the silver and some other views of Mr. Bryan, but he voted for him, because both were Democrats. Result: When, in 1904, Parker was spoken of as a Democratic Presidential possibility, charges were made that Judge Parker had not voted for Mr. Bryan, but these charges were soon dispelled by Judge Parker, who proved conclusively that he did vote for the nominee, Mr. Bryan, and from that moment Judge Parker grew rapidly in the estimation of the Democratic party, and he was nominated for the Presidency without opposition.

Judge Parker, nor any other man is greater than his party. In his own state Judge Parker saw the situation. It was his duty to try to defeat Hearst, if he objected to him, before the nomination, if he took the trouble to do so (which is doubtful); but after Hearst's nomination Judge Parker should have either acquiesced as he did in the Bryan nomination, or he should have quit the party, joined the Republicans, and, of course, would not have been censured by the Fort Worth Telegram (and mayhap other papers) in any sense.

Briefly, it seems to us, that the above was the logical solution, and surely easy, of comprehension. As for Mr. Hearst, a born Democrat, in some things this paper agrees with him; in other matters of political economy it differs with him widely. As to Mr. Hughes, as prosecuting attorney of New York he did a great good in prosecuting the life insurance companies. Having sworn to do his duty it WAS HIS DUTY to prosecute them, especially when the newspapers of New York and of the nation so accurately laid before him, and leading millions of the race, the actuality of these companies. Not only was it District Attorney Hughes' duty, but he made money and fame by it. But

Mr. Hughes is a staunch Republican and was nominated by a Republican convention, in the same consistent party way as was Mr. Hearst.

The Commercial bitterly opposed Mr. Bryan from the start until now, and has always given better reasons for its opposition than the esteemed Daily Texarkanian (which gives no real reasons at all that are consistent with the facts as related above); but if Mr. Bryan shall be nominated by the Democratic party again, this paper will assuredly support him. If the Texarkanian is (and we believe it) a Democratic journal, then it should (and no doubt will) support Mr. Bryan. As a Democratic paper, upon the identical same reasoning, instead of "pouncing down" on Hearst, it should direct its poisoned arrows against Judge Alton B. Parker.

There must be consistency in party newspapers. Often they get very hard blows from almost every direction, and unjustly so; but when they fall from the well-trodden paths of journalistic duty to party, they almost always receive chastisement, and who shall say that they do not deserve it?—Pine Bluff Commercial.

ENOUGH OF POLITICS NOW

Texas has been in the midst of a political turmoil now for practically two years. The state campaign opened up just after the former state election, and during all this period there has been more or less political excitement. The candidates for governor came before the people long before the properties of the occasion should have dictated such action, and the campaign was pushed in every quarter of the state. Then came the district and county candidates with their pleas of recognition and long and tiresome campaign, and finally just before the state election the Bailey campaign was inaugurated, which is to be followed by an anti-Bailey campaign that will end only when the legislature shall have taken final action in the election of a United States Senator.

The Telegram believes that politics is a good thing and all men should take an interest in politics, that such an interest is a duty they owe to their country and to themselves. But this does not imply that any man should feel it incumbent upon him to neglect other and more important interests in order to save his country thru the exercise of suffrage and spending all his time talking politics. If all the people develop into politicians there will be none of us left to be hewers of wood and drawers of water, and the hewing of wood and drawing of water is a very important proposition in this domestic economy of ours. It is something that has to be done.

The election of Thomas M. Campbell will doubtless prove a good thing for the state as a whole. But it does not put one additional dollar in the pocket of the thousands who have screamed themselves hoarse for him in the campaign that has closed. Senator Bailey may be re-elected to the United States senate when the legislature assembles at Austin next January, but whether he is or not, the price of the necessities of life will have to be produced before you can do business with the grocery man. The success of your favorite in things political may bring you profound satisfaction, but it does not lessen your responsibility to your family or lighten the burden you must carry in the battle of life.

The Telegram would be glad to see Texas settle down politically, and her people engage in a more important work than that of eternal political discussion. The man who is making a fight for existence has enough to keep him busy, and if he is not sufficiently employed he can get busy in an effort to advance the material interests of his community and state. There is plenty of work for every progressive Texan to do in the matter of developing the waste places in our state, and there is no time to waste on politics and politicians.

The state election just held should mark the passing of things political for at least twelve months, and it is to be hoped that such will prove to be the case. The people have had enough of politics and should now be afforded proper opportunity to look after their own affairs.

The investment of $165,000 in Main street business property by Gus O'Keefe, shows that the West Texas cowman has lost none of his former business sagacity. Such investments are bound to grow and make good money for those who make them. Fort Worth realty and prevailing prices is a very safe and inviting proposition.

There is no reason why Texas should not have 5,000,000 population by the time the next census is taken. There are some splendid efforts being made in that direction, but the movement is not sufficiently general. All Texas should be awake to the necessity of obtaining more immigration.

The pecan crop in Texas is very short this year, and prices will be correspondingly high. It is said a little stretch of country down in the Corpus Christi section is the only place where anything like a full crop has been made.

Texas sends back an unbroken Democratic delegation to congress, and the people are to be congratulated that it is so. Texas has a very able congressional delegation, and they are men who are universally true to the interests of the people.

Push along that Waters-Pierce suit, Mr. Attorney General. The people of this state want all the facts brought to light in that case, as well as just and proper punishment for those who have trampled upon the majesty of the law.

Well, at any rate, Texas went Democratic, and there is much to be thankful for in that. So long as we keep our own political house in order we will not materially suffer.

The change in the official family at Austin does not take place until next January, but there are a number of the old guard who are already seeking to cast an anchor to windward.

Thomas M. Campbell has been elected governor of Texas, and there is no longer any reason why those original Campbell men should be slow in approaching the pie counter.

Texas farmers are getting the cotton crop out in good shape except in West Texas and the Panhandle. Picking in those sections will be in progress until next spring.

Tarrant county has just elected a splendid corps of county officials, and The Telegram believes that each and every one of them can be depended upon to do his whole duty.

The next big show in Texas is the annual Fort Worth Fat Stock event, and it promises to be the biggest thing next March ever seen in the Southwest.

only time some fellows are satisfied to work overtime is when they are making fools of themselves.

MOONSHINE & MUSTINGS BY SID DARTON

Chicago has a new theater with carpet over the entire floor instead of in the aisles only. They'll have cuspidors in that place in less than a week.

"Patrolman Lusher," said the chairman of the board of police commissioners, "you are accused of having been intoxicated while on duty."

"Pardon me, but I am looking after Patrolman Lusher's interests," said a young lawyer. "And I ask your honorable body to dismiss this charge against my client. It is not properly drawn, and should Patrolman Lusher be punished in any way I shall take the case to the supreme court. Should he be dismissed from the force I will not only go to the supreme court, but bring an action against your honorable body for damages. The charge, as drawn, is absurd."

"What's wrong with it?" "It should be apparent to the most obtuse that it is impossible for a man to be intoxicated on duty. If he should be intoxicated, he is, of course, incapacitated for duty. It will be comparatively easy for me to prove, with the aid of my handwriting experts, two alienists and other expert witnesses, that when he was intoxicated he was not on duty."

Naturally the charge was dismissed. And is it remarkable that the young lawyer's fame as a master of technicalities spread over the whole country and that within a few weeks he was in the employ of half a dozen trusts?

NOBODY SKINNED CARL

The peach peeling at Mr. Baker's Saturday night was reported a success, 1,123 peaches being peeled. Of that number Carl Immele skinned 389.—Urich (Mo.) Herald.

"I owe you a debt of gratitude, old man." "Thanks. Shall I put that in with my assets or liabilities?"

Anyway, you can't help hoping John D. Rockefeller knows there is a trial in Findlay, Ohio.

THE REMARK SARKASTIKUL

Hon. James T. McCleary and son Leslie spent two days of this week in Worthington, shaking hands with their many friends. There is no use talking, this district is proud of its congressman. His policy is absolutely right and he's the boy that can prove it in a very few words. You will have an opportunity to hear Mr. McCleary speak in Worthington before long, and we hope to see a large crowd turn out. We especially hope to see the "wind-jammers" of the Worthington Herald present, as a kettle of brains will be brought to the speech for those who haven't any.—Worthington (Minn.) Globe.

"That kleptomaniac certainly had her nerve with her in police court. She used her skill even in the courtroom."

"Is that so? What did she get?" "Ninety days."

PLENTY OF PRACTICE

"Jagers is a candidate for the legislature."

"I wonder if he'll be elected."

"He ought to run well. He's been a commuter for five or six years."

"What would you do if you had $100,000.00?" "Stop caring what people thought or said about me."

John L. Sullivan has taken up golf. It is not known which he is after, sympathy or advertising.

"I saw a dozen lovely bargains down-town today, but couldn't take advantage of them because I had no money."

"How many did you say?" "A dozen."

"You're something of a bargain counter yourself, are you not?"

WISE GUY

The Courier has not been on the market, but having grown tired of the arduous labor connected with the newspaper business, I have accepted a proposition from C. F. Stephens of Oklahoma City. He is an experienced newspaper man. I am not. This transfer I hope will not only benefit both political parties, but the patrons of the paper and the people in general.—A. H. Gibson.—Coalgate (I. T.) Courier.

A man who beat the St. Louis fair out of $2.50 has paid up. He would have done a greater service if he had told how he did it.

ENFORCED VIRTUE

The effect of the railroad rebating prosecutions has been to so stiffen up the agents everywhere that business men complain that there is too great earnestness in holding them up in ways that are even unreasonable. It is to be said, however, that that kind of virtue is eloquent.—Springfield Republican.

OUTBURSTS OF MR. EVERETT TRUE

THE TEXAS PRESS VERJEST THAT RING

THE REPORTS of the morning papers, made by the senator's friends, make it quite evident that the Brownwood address was a radical departure from the one delivered at Mart. This is indeed regrettable, for it widens a breach which ought, if possible, to be healed.—Waco Times-Herald.

It is evident that the conversion made by the Waco newspaper man was not of a permanent character, for Senator Bailey refuses to stand hitched. He is now talking about shotguns and things.

Quannah Parker has become very indignant because the trustees of the school at Cache have debarred his Indian children from public school. The white people request that the Indians and negroes shall not attend the white schools. The Indians will soon be a thing of the past now that the territory is being made a state.—Memphis Herald.

Quannah Parker's mother was a white woman, and the old chief very naturally resents the proposition of being placed in the same category with negroes.

Applicants for appointive positions under the Campbell administration are seemingly worrying so one but some of the applicants and the newspapers which did their utmost to prevent the nomination of Colonel Campbell. So far as the governor-to-be is concerned, he says he enjoys the letters he receives from his friends and answers each of them personally.—Beaumont Journal.

And that is the right spirit. Colonel Campbell has not forgotten the fact that he was just as unfortunate as any of his friends only a few short months ago.

Under the leadership of Rev. M. S. Hotchkiss, pastor of the Methodist church at Temple, members of the Epworth League are today in the cotton fields picking the fleecy staple. The money earned will be used in promoting the work of the league. Reverend Hotchkiss and his band are setting a splendid example. The leaguers will doubtless enjoy the day in the country, the work will benefit them physically and the plan of getting money for church work is much more pleasant than soliciting it from people, some of whom do not want to give.—Beaumont Enterprise.

Still, it looks like a pretty tough proposition that when church people are in need of a fund they are compelled to go out and earn it by the sweat of their brow. Where are those who should be willing to lend to the lord?

A prominent minister says the hardest debt on earth to collect is a church subscription. When a man fails to pay his annual contribution into the coffers of the church, or to obtain a poll tax receipt, in other words, he is promptly converted into a Chinaman. When his store accounts fail to come up promptly he is generally assigned to the grand rascal class, but let his church obligations remain unpaid from year to year and he remains a "beloved brethren" still.—Clarksville Times.

There are too many people who have little regard for their church obligations. They will subscribe to a church fund with a blowing of trumpets and redeem the subscription at their pleasure with coin of the realm. And their pleasure is so often delayed that in many instances it is not redeemed. The Christian should regard his church promise as a sacred obligation.

The man from whom the least is being heard these days is Thomas M. Campbell, the man from Palestine. It will not be very long, however, until the bands begin to play "The Campbells Are Coming" in dead earnest. Colonel Campbell should get his famous grindstone in smooth running order.—Denton News.

That grindstone is going to strike fire at its very first revolution. Members of the state legislature are not saying much, but they are doing a whole lot of thinking.

The cow and sheep man of west Texas are not worried by the political agitation in New York. Cattle are taking on fat every day and the fleeces are showing up satisfactorily.—San Angelo Standard.

And those are the things of most moment to the people of Texas. Outside politics do not add anything to the general prosperity of Texas.

Some men are so lucky that they can marry money without its being a widow older than they are.

The Country Club

The interest of the Country Club never looks more attractive than on the subscription dance given Tuesday evening by Messrs. A. J. Long, W. E. Connell, Jerry Ellis, A. H. Wharton, J. D. Collett, Mrs. J. C. Conroy, E. Bernier, L. Marston, O. R. Menefee, Ben W. Fouts, Paul Cruseman, John C. Harrison, J. B. Googins, W. K. Hubbard, C. F. Long, Dr. J. W. Irion, and Ben O. Smith.

From the wooded slopes surrounding the club house were brought the richly tinted autumn leaves, golden oak shading into crimson. These formed a wide gorgeous band, encircling the hall, and framed the oaken panels of the ceiling. The fireplace was a triumph of beauty, the oaken leaves rising to the ceiling on each and extending into irregular branches in imitation of the habits of the tree and leafage growth.

The first part of the evening was divided into lancers, quadrille, waltz, two-step and Virginia reel. After supper the cotillon was led by Alf W. Luckett.

The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Matthews, Garland Jones, Mrs. Pepp of Reidsville, N. C., Mrs. A. E. White, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Schencker, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beck, Ray Nixon, Miss Scott, Mr. and Mrs. George Bury, Frank Scheuber, Miss Elliott, Conder, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zane-Cetti, Hunter Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. Bacon Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. C. Miss Wombwell's Luncheon for Miss Dinges

This young hostess certainly proved her friendship of years to the pretty bride-elect, when, assisted by her aunt, Mrs. Taskar Camp, she entertained with this beautiful luncheon. The parlors and reception hall of the Camp home were decorated with roses and chrysanthemums. The dining room was a "thing of beauty." Bright colored autumn leaves festooned over the pictures and mirrors and banked on the mantel. Eighteen guests were seated at a round table, which had as its center a bowl of immense yellow chrysanthemums on a reflector, surrounded with ferns. Yellow tulle was artistically draped from the chandelier at intervals on the table were candelabra with yellow candles, which, with the lighted chandelier, enhanced the beauty of the room.

The favors, which contained the place cards, were tiny baskets of "mums," tied with yellow tulle.

Six courses were served—at the end of the third course toasts were delivered by Miss Ethel Evans on "Love," Miss Jessie Blynon on "The Groom," Miss Edna Mae Cudd on "The Hostess" and Miss Elizabeth Wells on "The Bride," which was:

"Where the king is, there is the court, but what is a court without an attendant queen?"

In the kingdom of the home, the wife is queen;

She rules not by law, but by love supreme;

So here's to the wife, the choice of the king,

Whose rarity will be stamped by her wedding ring.

All good wishes for thee and thine,

Long live the Queen, long live the King."

At the close of the luncheon a unique auction took place, when Mrs. Camp auctioned off some of Miss Dinges's old and cherished belongings in an appropriate message in each, while in return the honoree received many dainty articles from her friends at the table.

The guests who enjoyed the luncheon were: Misses Dinges, Wells, Mallard, Madge and Irma Hosmer, Card, Kennedy, Blynon, Evans, Pendleton, Stewart; Mesdames Lee Dinger, Lee Dinger, Jere Van Zandt, Waldo Lawson, J. O. Bartels, Robert May.

Mrs. Elliott's Dinner

Mrs. Card G. Elliott's guests for an informal dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Mary Harrison saw a rarely beautiful table set with a profusion of "bridal party" mums, their long yellow petals surmounting stately stems and filling a tall green vase. Maiden-hair ferns were sprinkled over the cloth and place favors for the guests were yellow posies and ferns. A seven-course dinner was served and at the close the guests arose and joining hands united in wishing all happiness for the bride-to-be and her fiancé, W. H. Paddock.

BOVINAS MEET TONIGHT

The Scent of Singed Hair and Hide Wednesday Night

The Mystic Knights of Bovinas will have their weekly round-up at their corral in Main street, the pen being opened promptly at 8 o'clock to admit the bulls and such mavericks that have been rounded up for branding since the last round-up. The ranch boss has instructed the line riders to leave their regular rides promptly at the given hour and proceed swiftly but cautiously, to scour the pastures and gradually circle every animal that they come across.

It having been narrated around the range that certain long-tailed mavericks had been pawing the earth and bellowing in defiance of the Bovinas, the ranch boss instructed the keepers of the branding irons to have his implements examined by an expert and placed in proper condition to expeditiously rebrand the said mavericks that have been rounded up for branding since the last round-up.

There are quite a number of mavericks that will be to be examined and passed to the branding iron, so the ranch boss earnestly requests all the Knights to lay aside business for the hour and proceed to the corral and aid in quieting the cawing of the wily mavericks who will be attended to on that occasion.

STONE HOUSE MOVED

Plastering Was Not Cracked, The House Turned Around

One of the most interesting pieces of work ever done in the way of house-moving in Fort Worth has just been finished at the old Chase place in South Hemphill street. The stone mansion house that stood in the center of the lot, a distance of over one hundred feet, and turned half way around, so as to front south on a driveway that has been built thru the block. The removal of this old stone mansion was accomplished without a single crack being made in the walls or without the plastering inside being impaired. It is the first case of a stone or a brick house being moved from one location to another in Fort Worth.

HEARING NOVEMBER 27

Railway Commission Says Bonds Issued Without Authority

The Texas railroad commission has set the hearing of the question of the cancellation of the $650,000 worth of bonds issued by the Texas Central Railway Company for Nov. 27. This question came up because of investigations made by the commission when the railway made application for the registration of a certain amount in new bonds, based on the extension of the line westward. The commission holds that the railway company has issued the bonds in question without authority and therefore cannot issue others until that matter is settled. The defense of the railway is that the bonds were issued prior to the passage of the Texas stock and bond law.

He said that so far as he had heard there had been no effort made to put a stop to this practice.

FIRST TRIP TUESDAY

Second Engine Went Dead Fifteen Miles From Houston

Engine No. 7 of the Trinity and Brazos Valley made the first trip over the lower end of the route into Houston, Tuesday. The second engine, Santa Fe No. 187, borrowed for construction work, went dead about fifteen miles out and Fireman Robertson went into Houston as the second section of No. 7, walking the distance, to notify the officials that No. 187 was dead on the main track, fifteen miles out, in the midst of a lonely prairie, with Engineer Stevens keeping vigil.

LABOR IS SCARCE

Workers in Wharton County Get Good Wages

George Lettier has just returned from Wharton county, where he is interested in rice farming, and says the era of prosperity that has made itself evident elsewhere is strongly in evidence in that section.

"Farmers, laborers and everybody else," he said, "are prosperous. Land values are rapidly advancing as the demand for them increases and labor commands its own price. Farm hands that were paid only 50 cents a day and board a year ago are now getting from $1.50 to $2 a day and board themselves, and are hard to get at that. High prices paid for labor elsewhere has drawn heavily on labor in Wharton county and notwithstanding the good wages paid there, the best help we had has gone to other sections, where labor is higher and more in demand."

Express Business Will Have More Commodious Quarters

The temporary building for the use of train porters and other trainmen at the east end of the Texas & Pacific passenger station, has been completed and will be used until the L part of the station is enlarged, according to plan now being drawn. The new plans which contemplate a second story on the L and a widening of the structure, will relieve the present congested condition of the express and mailing departments of the station.

Labor Problem Was One of the Questions Considered

The General Managers' Association of Texas was in session at San Antonio Tuesday and as usual, after the adjournment, it was stated there was nothing to give to the public, but it is understood from a good source that one of the serious subjects under consideration was the general unrest among the employes of the railways of the state.

Moreover, the people of the United States, wherever they live, must feel assured that the men wearing the uniform of the army are their protectors and not midnight assassins or riotous disturbers of the peace of the community in which they may be stationed.

White Officer Accused

On Oct. 5, 1906, a squadron of the Ninth cavalry, an organization of colored troops, reported at Fort Sheridan, near Chicago, under orders from the war department assigned them to duty there. Soon after this assignment there appeared in the public press the following account of a statement alleged to have been made with regard to the matter by Colonel William T. Pletcher Twenty-seventh infantry:

"The negro troops would never have been quartered at Fort Sheridan without a protest. I was to remain in command here," said Col. Pletcher. "I never liked them, and the farther away from me they are kept the better it pleases me. For the life of me, I cannot see why the United States should try to make soldiers out of them. Certainly there are enough fine white young men in this country to make soldiers of, without recruiting from such a source."

This alleged statement by Colonel Pletcher having been brought to the attention of the President, the following communication with regard to it was sent to the war department by Secretary Lobb:

The President directs that an immediate report be called for from Colonel Pletcher to know whether or not he is correctly quoted in the inclosed clipping, and if he is correctly quoted, the President directs that proceedings be taken against him for such unbecoming conduct. This conduct is better than that of the offending troops themselves. Yours very truly,

HEARST IS DEFEATED (Continued from page 1.) The finals on the returns were waited for with interest. Election Was Orderly For an election in which so much interest was taken, it was a remarkably quiet day at the polling places. The 400 arrests at the polls were fewer than had generally been expected. For an election night, too, there was remarkably little disturbance. The crowds lingered about the streets and cafes with horns and other noise producers until daylight, and only one case of serious trouble was recorded. This was at Forty-second street and Broadway, where a crowd resented the interference of the police and before the fight ended several patrolmen were beaten but not seriously hurt.

WILL OPEN DECEMBER 1 Directors Will Solicit Building Fund Nov. 13 The contractors give the assurance that the Y. M. C. A. building will be complete and ready for use Dec. 1. The directors of the association want the people to know, however, that the equipment for the building is not provided for and that it cannot be opened for use without the furnishings. It will take some time to get the furnishings and get them in after the funds are provided so that if the building is to be opened this year it will be necessary to get the fund for furnishing and order the equipment at once. A special day has been set apart for this canvass and both workers and donors are asked to assist in making this canvass a success. The directors have divided themselves into squads of two each for this canvass. Each committee is to secure $500 by 10 o'clock on the night of Nov. 13. The proceeds of the athletic meet Monday night will also be used for the furnishing, and it is expected that the rink will be crowded on that night. K. N. Give the City your aid and we will secure more factories, more business houses, more industries, more railroads. We will secure consumers for what you have to sell, whether it is merchandise, labor or real property. To get business one must go after business. Won't you help yourself? Then help us. We want to raise a fund of $20,000 to have available to send committees to induce men with means to invest in Fort Worth. When we learn of any firm contemplating coming to Texas we want to be able to have people who know go to these men and tell them about Fort Worth. If the people with the means in all the United States but knew of the advantages of Fort Worth, this City would go forward at leaps and bounds that would cause the world to set up and marvel. "First Aid" to the Bowels

WHEN Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Headache, Bad Breath, coated Tongue, Belching of Stomach, Gas, or any of these forerunners of indigestion appear, Old Dr. Cascaret wants to be right on the spot in your pocket.

Dr. Cascaret guarantees to cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation and indigestion, without discomfort or inconvenience.

His medicine does not gripe nor purge, but exercises naturally the muscles that line the walls of the Intestines and Bowels.

Want of Exercise weakens and relaxes the Bowel-Muscles, just as it weakens Arm and Leg muscles.

Old Dr. Cascaret goes directly after these Bowel-Muscles. He wakes them up just as a gold bath would wake up a lazy person.

Then he works them (through the nerves) till they get so strong from that Exercise that they don't need any more help to do their duty.

Heavy dinners, late suppers, whiskey, wine or beer drinking, nervous excitement, sudden exposure to cold or heat and a dozen other everyday likelihoods tire the Bowel-Muscles.

In such cases a little Cascaret in time is worth fifty dollars worth of Treatment later on, to say nothing of the suffering, discomfort, loss of Business Energy, and loss of Social Sunshine it saves.

Little thin Cascaret Box, shaped so you don't notice its presence in purse or vest-pocket.

Contains six Candy tablets—Price Ten Cents a Box at any Druggist's.

Be sure you get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

MEYER IS ONE FINE RIDER

And For That Reason Is Very Much Liked by Roosevelt

IS A GOOD COMPANION

For the President, as He Will Be the

Only Man in the Cabinet Who Can Ride a Horse

BY GILSON GARDNER, Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7.—It is surmised in Washington that President Roosevelt has summoned G. Von L. Meyer to his cabinet in order that he may ride with him on his daily plunges about the capital's suburbs.

Mr. Meyer is horsey. That is the common bond that draws him to the President. Following the hounds of the Myosotis hunt, up in Essex county, Massachusetts, George is a true pattern of a country gentleman—one whose legs are a trifle bowed, and who will come to the cabinet meetings carrying a crop.

It has been apparent for some time that the cabinet was shy of good horsemanship. Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson are past 70, and therefore claim the exemption of their age. Shaw never learned to mount anything more fiery than an Iowa buggy. Taft is too hard on horseflesh, and needs a handicap in the matter of fences and ditches.

Root is a John Drew horseman, looking lovely in his togs, but never venturing out of a trot. Cortelyou learned to mount a piano stool when quite young. Bonaparte, since he became secretary of the navy, will not look a horse in the face. Moody and Metcalf it was supposed, could be taught steepchasing, but Metcalf balked at a little nine-bar gate, and Moody, in training for the supreme court, has cut out riding.

George Von Lengerke Meyer rides beautifully. He sits his mount like a Cossack, and cares no more for a broken rib or dislocated collar bone than a bird cares for rain.

The President and Meyer were in college together. Both are Harvard men, but Meyer was a year or so in advance of Roosevelt. It was there that Roosevelt formed his high estimate of Meyer.

The things most readily learned about G. V. L. Meyer are that he is very rich, but democratic in his tastes and manners. Further than this he is a "gentleman in politics," just as Senator Lodge is a "scholar in politics."

In fact, Meyer is a sponsor and inspiration. He suggested to Meyer that he quit loafing and do his duty in Boston as Roosevelt was doing his in New York—that he get out and become a ward politician and get elected to the common council.

So Meyer did, and served from 1889 to 1890, going from there to the board of aldermen, and so up to the state legislature, where he served four years, two of them as speaker. Then, in 1899, Lodge rewarded him by making him his personal representative on the republican national committee. The following year President McKinley appointed him ambassador to Italy. Later on Roosevelt sent him to St. Petersburg.

George Von L. Meyer does not go in for philanthropy, libraries, spelling reform, Celtic poetry, simple life, civil service, soldiering, marksmanship, preaching, chasing big game, nor busting trusts. On the contrary, he is controlling financial factor in the Ames Plow Company, the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, the Old Colony Trust Company, the National Bank of Commerce, the Electric Corporation, the United States Electric Security Company, the Armory Company, and the Walter Baker (chocolate) Company.

His father was a pioneer merchant of Boston—one of the old traders with ships in every port. So when the son came upon the scene all he had to do was to find good safe investments for the paternal millions.

TEMPLE LIKES BASEBALL But Does Not Appreciate the Treatment Accorded by the League

Special to The Telegram. TEMPLE, Texas, Nov. 7.—The proposition to form an all-state baseball league and include Temple is being viewed with a great deal of curiosity among the lovers of the national game in Temple.

This city is recognized as one of the liveliest small towns in Texas and especially good as a baseball town. That the city could stand the gaff was fully demonstrated last year when, in spite of a tall-ender club with a lot of dub players, local fans raised $3,000 in twenty-four hours, purchased the franchise and players and were just getting ready to strengthen the team and put in the race for the pennant of the second series of the Texas Baseball League when the league magnates held their famous seance and concluded to throw the city out of the circuit.

Friend of Sick Women

Strange, that some sick women still hold off, from trying a medicine that half a century of use has proven of exceptional value in the treatment of female disease!

Strange that EVERY sick woman who has heard of it—Wine of Cardui—should not fly to the nearest drug-store and try a bottle.

So, in order that you, who doubt, shall doubt no longer, but be convinced by the testimony of a sister woman,—Mrs. Donaldson, the well-known Salvation Army worker,—a friend to all sick women, the following unsolicited letter from her is published, for you to read and ponder:—

MRS. J. DONALDSON, Captain Salvation Army, Jonesboro, Ark.

Jonesboro, Ark., July 13, 1906. For about eight years I have been a walking advertisement for Wine of Cardui. In 1895 and 1896 I suffered much with female trouble and irregularity. My limbs would swell until great ridges would form, out over my shoes. I was weak, with scarcely energy enough to do housework at all.

Having read much of the merits of Wine of Cardui for female complaint, I decided to try it and after taking 2 bottles was never troubled again.

Two years ago, I gave birth to an 8 1/2 pound baby girl and was only in labor half an hour.

This spring I gave birth to a 10 pound boy; was only in labor half an hour. I took Cardui during pregnancy both times, and am sure I owe my easy time to it. It is a real God-send to suffering women.

During change of life, four years ago, my mother, Mrs. G. W. Wadsworth, nearly died. She had from 16 to 24 cramping or sinking spells during a day and night, and many times we laid her down for dead. At last I persuaded her to take Wine of Cardui and Theford's Black-Draught, which cured her.

In DeKalb, Ill., when I was in charge of the Army work there a young woman had taken cold and was irregular for six months. I recommended Cardui and after taking 3 bottles, she was entirely well. (See Miss Upson's letter below).

These are only a few instances where your medicine has been a real God-send to sick women. I am continually recommending it to others.

Praying God to abundantly bless you,

I remain,

Mrs. J. Donaldson.

MRS. G. W. WADSWORTH, Mother of Mrs. J. Donaldson.

WINE OF CARDUI Woman's Relief AT ALL DRUGGISTS TRY A $1.00 BOTTLE

Mamma Was Almost Crazy. DeKalb, Ill., Jan. 2, 1906. I am very much pleased to sit down and write you how much I thank God and you, for Wine of Cardui. It saved my life, and I will never be through praising God for it. I was very sick with fever and never got over it, just right. I was weak and hardly able to get up, and for six months I was in bad shape. I was pale and white, and the best doctor in DeKalb gave me up and said I would not get well. Mamma was almost crazy to think of it. At last on the advice of a lady friend, (Mrs. J. Donaldson, see letter above) Mamma gave me Wine of Cardui and after I had taken three bottles, I came around and began to get well right off. Now I am feeling well and getting fat. Mamma and I are so thankful for Cardui. HAZEL UPSON.

without giving the local people a chance to protect themselves, thereby causing a big loss.

The latter feature has never troubled the people her to any extent, for they expected to shoulder a loss, but the method of treatment accorded them by the league magnates aroused their ire and they gamely raised a big fund to prosecute a suit for damages against all parties concerned. This is still pending at Waco and the Temple people have every confidence of winning.

Before the all-state league can expect to do anything in Temple it will be compelled to square matters with the people here. In fact they do not care much here whether the all-state league places a team here or not. There will be baseball in Temple next summer and professional baseball at that, but the prospects are just now that Temple will be in a West Texas league composed of Temple, Belton, Brownwood, Ballinger, San Angelo and Dublin.

Today another petition was circulated by Senator Bailey's friends, declaring their loyalty to him and pledging him their vote and influence. This petition contained about the same number of signatures and will also be presented to Ellis county's representatives. Surely Italy is a veritable hotbed of politics.

Do you know what "lard stomach" is?

Indigestion promptly follows the use of lard as lard is made from hog-fat, and is greasy and indigestible. Some future day, when people are wiser and healthier, lard, for edible purposes, will be scarcely used; but, until then, we suppose people will continue to suffer from "lard stomachs."
