YALE DEFEATS BROWN TEAM

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 10.n a football game free from line reing, but brimming with dodging Frunning, Yale wound up her series of preliminary matches today by sneaking a solitary touch-down without goal from Brown university. Forbes as the Trojan who bore the Brown rush line clinging to his shoulders as he surged over the goal on a thirty ard dash after Knox's run thru a roken field had made it possible to strike at the Brown stronghold. The try for goul was easy, but Knox failed make connection and the only score of the game had been registered. From the kick-off until the close of the first half the play was all Brown's. Brown tore the Yale defense to pieces for forty yards, while Yale could only win 33 yards by strenuous efforts. eeder's punting was Yale's salvation, his work relieving the pressure on the Yale goal line time and again. His punts averaged forty yards, but his best traveled eighty yards. With the of the first half the tide turned and Yale took the aggressive, ner narch of eighty yards down the field or her touch-down sweeping Brown

The total amount of damages claimed in these 276 suits foots up $2,575,900 the claims for damages ranging from $500 to $100,000, there being one suit for the latter amount. The range of amounts sued for, however, is from $2,500 to $30,000, there being very few over that amount. The favorite figure in all the suits filed is $20,000, but it is a significant fact that juries have rarely given a verdict for that much Only one case is recalled where a verdict greater than $20,000 was rendered, and that was set aside and the case finally abandoned and the parties to the suit and others were afterward indicted for conspiracy to defraud.

Personal Injuries

It is a remarkable fact that in 90 per cent of the damage suits from on account of personal injuries the allegation is made that the plaintiff received internal and permanent hijuries, in many of them the further a!legation being made that the plaintiff is rendered incapable of making a livelihood for himself or family if he happens to have one.

parties suing rarely if ever expect to get as much as they sue for, the big amounts being asked in order that the juries can drop down from the big claim and allow less, and the juries generally do it; allowance being made for the percentage the lawyer in the case will get as his fee. Nearly all of these cases being taken for a cerlows or what is eventually recovered as a result of the decision of the higher court or of a compromise. Many of these suits are compromised before a trial is reached and there is no way of getting at the exact amount the railroads and other corporations pay out in damages in any given pe-

The judge of one of the local courts, talking to a Telegram reporter of the damage suit industry, said that the amount of damages assessed against and collected from the different public service corporations would be startling to many people if the amount could be ascertained.

People Pay Damages

"The aggregate," said he, "is large that it would seem that the corporations could not stand up and continue business under it; and probably they could not if the corporations footed the bills, which they do not, tho they find the money to pay off damage verdicts. The fact of the matter is, the public pays all the damage judgments against public utility corporations. In computing what the fixed charges will be the companies always make a certain allowance for damage verdicts, and in making up their rate sheets this damage item is always put in. So you see that in the end the public foots the bills for every damage suit that is won in the courts.'

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- William H. Bloom, manager of the Iowa Brass Works in Mansfield, Ohio, struck a mine of pearls in an oyster in the Cafe Savarin yesterday. Mr. Bloom is staying in the Hotel Breslin. Yesterday he went down town and dropped into the Savarin for a bite to eat. Mr. Bloom thought he would like raw oysters. So the man opened him half a dozen. With four of those oysters perintendent of Public Instruction this story has nothing to do. The fifth oyster was the one that concealed seven beautiful pearls that were valued at $500. If he had swallowed them whole Mr. Bloom would have returned to his happy home ifnorant of what he was worth inside. But in Mansfield they chew their oysters. As Mr. Bloom bit into the fifth oyster he felt something round between his teeth. "They have failed to properly manicure these oysters," he said, and ejected the gritty object from his mouth. It was a lucious pearl. quick succession he produced six more pearls.

"I presume that when you serve oysters on the half shell all that comes in the shell belongs to the guest?" inquired Mr. Bloom of Waiter Gustav admitted that such was the rule. "Well, you should have some reward," said Mr. Bloom as he picked up one of the pearls. "I shall have to leave you the remaining oyster," and then he wrapped up all the pearls and told Gustav to thank Mr. Savarin for him on account of Mr. Savarin's kindness and generosity, and went away.

CLAIM ESTATE OF $61,000,000

Mrs. Zell Wants a Big Slice of

A story of a vast fortune with Fort Worth heirs comes to The Telegram thru a letter which was mailed at Youngstown, Ohio.

The substance of the letter which came to The Telegram is that Mrs. Fred Zell of Fort Worth has received news from her father, A. B. Young, that she is one of the heirs to the Fisher estate, the Fisher in question being Baron Fisher, the great grandfather of Mrs. Zell. The family is of French and German or Holland extraction and the relationship of the Youngs with Baron Adam Fisher is thru the mother of Mr. Young, the father of the two Mrs. Zells who live in Fort Worth, for there are two of the alleged heirs, Mrs. Fred II. and Mrs. E. J. Zell.

Mrs. Fred Zell is absent from Fort Worth, called to her father's bedside

The other member of the family here, Mrs. E. J. Zell, says that she knows but little of the family history and her husband and her brother-in-law, ,who know most about the claims, were both absent from home when a Telegram reporter saw her. Of the coming of the family to America, Mrs. E. J. Zell knew nothing.

She only knew that the relationship was thru her paternal grandmother and that her grandmother's father, Baron Adam Fisher, settled in Canada and that there had been some communication between the separated branches of the family which went to establish, according to the alleged facts given to her and other children, their kinship with the baron and the fact that there was a large fortune awaiting the proof of kinship. Mrs. E. J. Zell said that her sister, who is older than she, is much better posted about affairs of the family, but she knew it was a subject of frequent discussion that they were heirs to a large estate which ran up into the millions. The letter which brought the information to The Telegram states that the fortune is $61,000,000. There was a brother and a sister of Mr. Young, the father of the two Mrs. Zells. Both are dead, the one leaving a family of eight children and the other a family of five children, one of whom is since dead. Mrs. Zell is of the belief that her immediate family and the cousins, the children of her father's brother and sister, are the only heirs to the estate. The Zells have not been in Fort Worth long. About five months ago they came here from Youngstown and have worked at their trade, which is that of "bushelmen" or "scrappers" in an iron foundry.

Steps to establish the fact of the descent of the heirs from Baron Fisher have been taken and the family express the strongest hopes that the settlement of the question of the amount of the inheritance will be established.

Many Organizations Scheduled to Hold Meetings

Special to The Telegram. WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- During the latter part of the coming week all eyes will be turned toward the southern republic of Panama, where President Roosevelt will put in three or four busy days looking over the conditions there with regard to the canal construction and delivering one or two speeches, setting forth the attitude of the United States government with regard to the work.

Quarantine Convention The southern quarantine and immigration convention, called to meet in Nashville Tuesday, in view of the immense amount of good accomplished as a result of the Chattanooga meeting last year, should prove of more than usual interest to the south. Another meeting of interest to the same region, and also to the middle west and northwest, will be the deep waterways convention, to assemble at St. Louis Thursday, and the primary object of which is to urge a deep waterway from Chicago to the Gulf of International Wedding

The Belgian legation in this city will be the scene of an international wedding on Monday, when Miss Kathleen Clayton, daughter of General Powell Clayton of Arkansas, former ambassador to Mexico, will become the bride of Arthur Grant Duff of the English diplomatic service. The annual general convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will attract delegates from many parts of the country to Gulfport, Miss., the latter half of the week. Another meeting of the national congress on uniform divorce laws will be held in Philadelphia beginning

Tuesday. The first meeting of the congress was held in Washington last spring. The coming meeting will consider the draft of a statute which it will seek to have adopted in every state of the union. Soldiers' monuments erected by the state of Iowa are to be dedicated during the week at Vicksburg, Andersonville, Look Out Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Rossville Gap and Shiloh. The American International Congress on Tuberculosis will begin a three days' meeting in New York city Wednesday. The aim of the organization is to bring about concerted action on the part of the various governments in aid of the treatment and prevention of consumption. The National Grange, patrons of husbandry, an influential organization, embracing prominent agriculturists thruout the United States, will meet in fortieth annual session in Denver, beginning Wednesday.

Presbyterians to Meet The first convention of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, an organization which will aim to accomplish in the Presbyterian church what the Brotherhood of St. Andrews did for the Episcopal denomination, will hold its first convention in Indianapolis during the

WEEK FORECAST ONE AT A TIME

Many Were Admitted to His Room-Scramble to See Governor-Elect

Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 10 .-Hon. T. M. Campbell arrived here today for the avowed purpose of meeting office seekers. A large number and their friends from all parts of Texas rushed here by the first train. When morning came a mob filled the corridors of the Menger hotel, pushing, crowding and almost fighting for a glimpse of the man who could pass out the pie. So great was the crowd that Mr. Campbell did not dare appear. He slipped out the back door to Jot Gunter's office, across the street, and fortifled himself behind closed doors. His whereabouts was learned and the officeseekers filled the reception room. A guard pried open the door, and the officeseekers' delegation was admitted one at time. It took from early morning until dark and all were not seen at that time. The governor-elect had only snatched a hurried lunch in the office.

Mr. Campbell announced he make public appointments before he assumes office. He stated that the fortunate names would be given to the press as soon as decided upon. Congressman Burgess, in an interview with him today, has asked that

Gone to His Ranch

Special to The Telegram. LAMPASAS, Texas, Nov. 10 .- M. B. Huling has gone to his ranch at Toyah, Reeves county, and will probably remain there a good part of the winter, as stock need attention at this time of the year. He owns some six or eight thousand acres of land in that county and controls many thousand acres besides that which he owns. His ranch is ten by twelve miles square. and is well stocked with the best grades of cattle and other stock. Think of a ranch containing a square larger than from Lampsas to Kempner and you will have some idea of his pos-

Fair Closes

Special to The Telegram. ABILENE, Texas, Nov. 10. - The tenth entertainment of the West Texas fair closed last Saturday, after a siege of unfavorable weather, the worst in the history of the association, but considering that fact the fair was a success. A monster crowd was in the city Saturday for the fair, but rain set in and many failed to go out to the grounds owing to the rain and mud. The directors, however, are nothing daunted and say they will pull the property out of debt and make the fair a greater advertisement for West Texas than in the past. The profits on the entertainment this year will only leave about $1,500 indebtedness, cutting the same down about $2,000.

Building Laundry

Special to The Telegram. COLORADO, Texas, Nov. 10 .- The building for the steam laundry is rapidly nearing completion under the supervision of A. J. Coe, Mr. Newton states that the machinery will be installed by Dec. 15, and the services of Mr. Linnell of Taylor, who is an expert in the steam laundry business, have been secured.

Sells Land

Special to The Telegram. COLORADO, Texas, Nov. 10 .- Word came from Judge E. J. Hammer at Mineral Wells to the effect that he had just closed a deal, selling the tions of unsold land out of the Bush & Tiller pasture or ranch. The parties who bought this property will immediately cut it up and place it on the market for sale to actual settlers. When it comes to handling the big deals the judge always gets there, for this deal amounts to nearly half a million dollars, and is the largest land sale that has been made by anybody in this section for many years. This closes up the sale of this big ranch, and by the way, is about the last big ranch near Colorado to be sold. The F. E. McKenzie place has been surveyed into quarter sections and placed on the market and in less than twelve months there will be a farmer on every quarter section in Colorado county.

Stanton Enterprises Special to The Telegram.

STANTON, Texas, Nov. 10 .- Every week something for the good of Stanton turns up. First one enterprise, then another, and so on, as the result of which the town is continually growing and that very fast. But what will probably be of the greatest service to Stanton is the fact that Higginbotham-Harris Company this week let the contract for thirty-five tenant houses, to be built on their land north of here. Their land is as good as there is in the county, and with the additional trade these thirty-five farmers who tend this land will throw to Stanton will be a great boon to the town.

Paint Rock on Boom

Special to The Telegram. SAN ANGELO, Texas, Nov. 10. Judge J. H. Crozier, county judge of Concho county, was in the city Friday and Saturday. Judge Crozier stated that Paint Rock, the county seat, was on a boom, and that Concho county would raise 10,000 bales of cotton this

Exhibited Stallions

Special to The Telegram COLORADO, Texas, Nov. 10-George E. Root returned from the Texas fair Thursday last, where he exhibited his two French coach stallions, Electrique and Duplex. He took first premium on Electrique for being best stallion over three years old, exhibited at the fair this year. In view of the fact that these horses were shown against the finest in the state it is considered quite a feather in Mitchell county's cap and Mr. Root has been the recipient of many congratulations from his friends here and other parts of Texas.

Special to The Telegram.

BROWNWOOD, Texas, Nov. 10 .-The new ice factory, down near the Frisco depot, is almost completed. George L. Man Who Flew High Now Laving Low-Swift Spender

NEW YORK, Nov. 10-All the glamour about Abbot Lawrence, millionpated and his friends must know him now as a bigamist, wife beater, hiding from the woman he wronged in some remote corner of Canada. When Lawrence was married to Miss Georgia R. Payne in Delmonico's last February he cut such a swell in Wall street circles and had so many rich and influential friends that the event was noted as of considerable social im-

The manner of the marriage was romantic and the young woman had youth, beauty and was supposed to be wealthy. Her home is in Kansas City. Lawrence had come to New York from New Orleans, where he organizzed the Fibre Company. He was supposed to have cleared up an even million in this deal. With good family and social connections he was received with open He posed as a bachelor, tho he had a wife then living in Walpole, Mass., whose fortune he was squandering. Lawrence met Miss Payne in the Hotel Waldorf Astoria early last winter and began to pay ardent suit. They were married in February. When the first wife's attention was called to the second marriage she refused to believe it, declaring that he had her entire confidence. For more than two months the second wife remained in ignorance of the deception of which she was a victim. She learned the truth from a letter she found in her husband's coat. Immediately after that the second wife left her husband and went to her home in Kansas City. Mrs. Lawrence No. 1 informed the Kansas City lawyer that her husband had disposed of $60,000 worth of her property and it developed that when he married Miss Payne he spent all of

RECEPTION FOR TAFT

San Antonio to Don Happy Clothes for War Head Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 10.-Secretary of War William Taft and his party on their arrival at San Antonio next Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, will be accorded a grand reception. The secretary of war will be received with all of the military honors to which his official position entitles him. They are the same as for a governor of a state or a general of the army. On entering the limits of the military reservation an artillery salute of seventeen guns will be fired. The secretary will then be received at a brigade parade and review of all the troops in the garrison on the parade grounds at the lower post. With troops and officers saluting, colors flying, bands playing and flourishes of trumpets, the party will witness the troops pass in

On arrival at the depot in San Antonio their train will be met by a squadron of the First cavalry, which will form the escort and accompany the party to the post. All troops and officers will be in military full dress

The secretary of war, William H. Taft, Brigadier General Barry, Acting chief of staff, Quartermaster General Humphrey, Captain Grote Hutchinson of the general's staff and Mr. Taft's secretary will be in the party.

RARE OLD VIOLIN

It Once Yielded Music for Sam Houston-May Be Sold

Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 10. -The 250-year-old Stainer violin, upon which General Sam Houston was wont to while away his leisure moments and entertain his friends, is now in San Antonio, and was placed on exhibition at the fair this afternoon. It may become the property of the Daughters of the Republic and be exhibited always at the Alamo, if the daughters are willing to pay $500 for it. The old fiddle is the property of J. F. Huddle of Cleburne, a Confederate veteran, who fought under Stonewall

The story of the old fiddle and how it came into Mr. Huddle's possession is an exceedingly interesting one. "General Houston sent the fiddle to Germany to be repaired before the civil war," said Mr. Huddle. "The war coming on prevented its return until turned to Austin in 1867, after General Houston's death. The music dealer who had undertaken to have it repaired held it for the duty and the cost of the repairs, $100 in all. In 1873, my brother, W. H. Huddle, the wellknown portrait painter, was living in Austin, and he bought the violin for exactly the amount due on it for duty and repairs. He immediately gave it to me and I have had it ever since. There is no doubt of its being the instrument that Houston played on, and there can be no doubt of its being a genuine Stainer, as the mark inside

Mr. Huddle pointed to the label inside which bears the inscription, "Jacobus Stainer, in Absam prope Oenipon-

MAY BE SMALLER

Count of Votes Monday Will Determine Delegation

The Tarrant county democratic vote will be tabulated next Monday in the county commissioners' court, and at that time it will be learned the number of delegates entitled by the poll to the next democratic state convention. County Chairman Ben P. Ayers and others are anxiously awaiting the tabulation, as it is feared that the number of delegates may be lower two years hence than in the recent convention at Dallas.

"Despite the untiring efforts on the part of candidates and other county political workers to elicit a full democratic vote," said Mr. Ayers, Saturday, "Tarrant county democrats didn't come out the way they should and the way they have in the past."

This year Tarrant county sent fourteen delegates to the convention, and it was hoped that that number might be increased by several next election. Each county is entitled to one delegate for every 300 democratic votes cast at the general election.

Mrs. Cora B. Miller Makes a Fortune

Says She Will Now Give Away $10,090 Worth of Medicine to Women

Until a few years ago Mrs. Cora B. Miller lived in a minner similar to that of thousands of other very poor women of the average small town and village. She now resides in her own palatial brown-stone residence, and is considered one of the most successful business women in the United States. Several years ago Mrs. Miller learned of a mild and simple preparation that would readily cure female diseases and piles. After curing herself and many of her friends she was besieged by so many women needing the treatment that she decided to furnish it to those who might call for it. She started with only a few dollars' capital, and the remedy, possessing true and wonderful merit, producing marvelous cures when doctors and other remedies failed, the demand grew so rapidly she was several times compelled to seek larger quarters. She now occupies one of the city's largest office buildings, which she owns, and almost one hundred clerks and stenographers are required to assist in this great busi-Million Women Use It used Mrs. Miller's Specific, and no matter where you live, she can refer you to ladies in your own locality who can and will tell any sufferer that this marvelous remedy really cures women's diseases. Despite the fact that Mrs. Miller's business is very extensive, she is always willing to give aid and advice to every suffering woman who writes to her. She is generous, good woman and has decided to give away to women who have never used her medicine $10,000.00 worth absolutely FREE.

More than a million women have

Every woman suffering with leucorrhoea or whitish discharges, ulcerations, displacements or falling of the profuse, scanty or painful periods, uterine or ovarian tumors or growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, hearing-down feelings, nervousness, creeping feelings up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, or piles from any cause, should sit right down and send per name and address to Mrs. Cora B. Miller, Box 2259, Kokomo, Ind., and receive by mail (free of charge in plain wrapper) a 50-cent box of her marvelous Specific; also her valuable book, "How I Cure Female Diseases and Piles."

Remember, this offer will not last long, for thousands and thousands of women who are suffering will take advantage of this generous means of getting cured. So if you are alling, do not suffer another day, but send your name and address to Mrs. Miller for the book and medicine before the $10,-000.00 worth is all gone.

DECEMBER MEET-ING OF TEACHERS

Program of Institute Has Been

Made Public Programs have just been issued for the next institute of the Tarrant county

Teachers Association, which will convene Friday, Dec. 14, for a two days' meeting. The program is a lengthy one and includes the discussion of many questions of vital importance and interest to every teacher of a class. The institute will open at 9 o'clock Friday morning with a special meeting of teachers of the first four grades, and the program arranges for the following papers: "Nature Studies in the First Four Grades," by Miss Elizabeth Gillis, Smithfield; "Practical Drawing in the First Four Grades," by Miss Bessie Logan, Diamond Hill; "Busy Work for the Second and Third Grades," by Miss Mattle Warren, Fort "Cleanliness — Disadvantages in Attempting to Teach; How Overcome," general discussion; "Lessons to Cultivate the Faculties of Observation," by Miss Jennie Henderson, Rosen Heights, and "What Can Be Done for the Poor Children of the School," by Miss Annie Rice, Hand-In another hall of the courthouse

the teachers of the intermediate and high school grades will meet for the discussion of the following subjects: "What Knowledge Is of Most Worth," by Professor J. F. Wharton, North Fort Worth; "The Medieval Historythe Transition Period." by Professor W. C. Bryant, Fort Worth; "Theory of Numbers," by Miss Alice Cowan, Fort Worth: "Oriental Education," by Professor J. F. Stgler, Polytechnic college: "What More Does the Teacher Owe the Community Than the Classroom Work?" by Professor H. Tarpley, Arlington, Superintendent Ramsey said Saturday that these topics are to be presented as round table discussions led by the teacher assigned the subject

Saturday, the second day of the institute, will be spent in joint meetings of the teachers and trustees. Trustee D. McRae, Polytechnic Heights, and Teacher B. S. Chandler, Grapevine, will talk on "Our Common Work," followed by a discussion of "What Can the Trustees do to Help Maintain Discipline in the Schools?" by Trustee J. B. Baker, Riverside, and Teachers Miss Emily McKinney, Mansfield, and C. F. Webb, Polytechnic college. Rev. L. Collier of Forest Hill will then speak on "The Teacher," followed by brief remarks on school evils by M. G. Bryant, Keller; J. P. Scott, Dove; J. E. Atcheson, Diamond Hill, and L. G. Johnson, White Settlement.

Saturday evening's meeting will be given to a business session, and reports will be made by the various committees, followed by the general routine work. An effort has been made by Superintendent Ramsey to make this one of the most valuable meetings of the year and he is confident that the nature of the program will bring the teachers and trustees into closer touch with one another, resulting in mutual benefit

Probably Left Over the Denver Rails

Two small boys, Sam Johnson, aged 14, and Joe McConnell, aged 11, have been missing from their homes on Rusk street, in North Fort Worth, since Friday, and up to a late hour Saturday night they had not been found.

Late Saturday afternoon two small boys, supposed to have been the Mc-Connell and Johnson boys, were seen going north on the Denver railway track. The police were unable later to find them, however, as they must have left the road for food and a place to stay all night. They were last seen Friday morning, when they left home to go to school. When they did not return home Friday night, search was instituted, and when it was found that they had not been to school, the police were-notified and have since been on the look-

ENLIST MEN FOR NAVY

Advance Men Are Posting Advertisements for Bureau O. H. Funk and C. J. Knowles, advance agents for the naval enlistment bureau which will be here from Nov. 19 to Dec. 1, are here posting advertisements and preparing for the work of the bureau, which will arrive soon. Offices for enlistment this year will be located in the internal revenue office, room No. 1 of the federal building. Lieutenant C. W. Cole will be in charge of the work in Fort Worth and Dallas, the two offices being open simultaneously for the two weeks. Dr. H. L. Brown, medical examiner, and five or six sailors will compose the remainder of the party in charge of the work.

Formerly Fort Worth and Dallas have had but one week each, but this fall it was decided to hold two weeks in each place and in order to do this it was decided that the men in charge should alternate from one office to the other. Enlistments for the navy have always been very satisfactory here, as more men are secured from Fort Worth than from any other city in Texas. Last spring when Lieutenant Cole was here for a week, twentyseven men were enlisted for the work.

Here is a trump: Draw a line thru Fort Worth to the gulf, and estimate the surprising increase not only in acreage but in actual production, of the lands stretching to the west of that line. # DIVORCE SUITS

Four Causes for Divorce Allowed in Texas

197 SUITS ARE FILED

Increase in Number of Suits Filed Threatens Foundation of Social Structure

If Cupid, the mythical urchin who is either praised or blamed for all the love matches and marriages that are made, would take a look at the civil dockets in the two district courts at Fort Worth he would weep, realizing from what he saw there that in his work he had made many botches, The old sayings that marriages are made in heaven may have been in a measure true away back yonder in the past when the cussedness of man and woman had not reached the acute stage of today, but it is evident that if heaven ever had anything to do with many latter day marriages, the devil has stepped in and played havoc with heaven's work.

When Judge Mike E. Smith of the Seventeenth district court and Judge Irby Dunklin of the Forty-eighth district court opened their dockets at the beginning of the present terms of their court they found a record on them that was almost enough to paralyze a man who had a high appreciation of the marriage state. On the two dockets there was a total of 179 divorce cases, of which eighty-three were on Judge Dunklin's docket and ninety-six on Judge Smith's docket, this, figuring that Fort Worth has a population of 35,000, means that for those 35,000 people there is a divorce case for every 195 people, and estimating families at an average of five people, it is one divorce case for every thirty-seven families in the city and suburbs.

It may be contended that these figures are wrong and should be based on the entire population of the county, but that claim can be combatted by the record, which shows that 99 per cent of the divorce cases are of Fort Worth origin, there not being a half dozen cases the parties to which do not live in Fort Worth.

The divorce evil, at it has been termed, has increased rapidly within the last few years, and each succeeding term of the district courts show an increase of this kind of litigation.

Causes of Divorce

It is easy to secure a divorce in Texas, and there are in all large towns lawyers who make a specialty of this kind of litigation. The statutes set out four grounds on which divorces be granted on proper proof, and there appears to be no trouble in making the proof, it frequently being the case that the husband and wife, wishing both to be free, will take all necessary steps to make the proof. The four causes for divorce follow:

1. Where either the husband or wife is guilty of excesses, cruel treatment or outrages toward the other, if such ill treatment is of such a nature as to render their living together insupportable. 2. In favor of the husband where his wife shall have been taken in adultery, or where she shall have voluntarily left his bed and board for the space of three years with the intention of abandonment. 3. In favor of the wife. where the husband shall have left her for three years with intention of abandonment, or where he shall have abandoned her and lived in adultery with another woman. 4. In favor of either the husband or wife, when the other shall have been convicted, after marriage, of a felony and imprisoned in the state prison; provided, that no suit for divorce shall be sustained because of the conviction of either party for felony until twelve months after final judgment of conviction, nor then if the governor shall have pardoned the convict; provided, that the husband has not been convicted on the testimony of the wife, nor the wife on the testimony of the

husband. Either May Re-Marry

There is nothing in the Texas law that prohibits either party to a divorce suit from marrying again as soon as a decree of divorce is granted, end it has been frequently the case that divorced parties have secured marriage licenses before the ink on the docket granting them a divorce was dry. The new marriage had been arranged before the divorce was granted and in many cases it was at he bottom of the divorce proceedings. One of the justices of the peace in Fort Worth stated to a Telegram reporter that inside of four years he had performed the marriage ceremony three times for one woman and had married a number of people twice in that length of time. "People-some people," he said, "appear to have no appreciation of what the marital obligation means.

"Why, I have married couples who between them didn't have money enough to pay for a meal. People who are actual paupers get marriage licenses and are married, and repeat the business as soon as they can secure the sanction of the courts in the shape of a divorce. As illustrated in the courts of this county, many marriages are mere farces.' A judge of one of the district courts talked to a Telegram reporter on this subject and said that he had taken notice with serrow of the rapid increase of divorce litigation in his court, "It is an evil," he said, "and an evil that is growing rapidly. It threatens to sap the very foundation of our social structure for people are beginning to regard marriage simply as a matter of convenience to be cast off at will on account of the laxity of our laws on divorce. "The evil will continue to spread until our divorce laws are amended. As they are today they simply invite ill-advised and hastily considered marriages, for under them it is an easy marital relations with one party and contract them with another. There should be an amendment of the law prohibiting the guilty party in divorce proceedings remarrying. If there should be such a law enacted there would be a rapid decline of the divorce business in Texas. "As a ground for divorce it is frequently charged by the plaintiff that the defendant is guilty of a violation of the criminal law of the state and the testimony shows that he is guilty. The judge trying the case should in such an emergency have the power to impose on the guilty party the penalty for the violation of the law which he violated. Let these changes in the law be made and there would be a marked decrease in the amount of divorce

A stand has been taken by District Clerk John A. Martin that may have a tendency to reduce the amount of divorce litigation in Fort Worth. He has refused to issue citation in cases where the parties make affidavit that they are unable to pay cases. He has been mandamused by divorce lawyers to compel him to issue citation in such cases and that question will be passed on by Judge Mike E. Smith in a short time, If Clerk Martin is sustained by the court there will be a material falling off in divorce litigation in Fort Worth hereafter.

GOOD TRADING IN MAY WHEAT

Improved Feeling Is Shown-Market Is Firm

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- There was a continuation of the improved feeling on the buying side of wheat noted yesterday during the early trading hours today. The market did not move up as easily as on Friday because many of the local shorts who were oversold at that time had covered on the advance and left the market without the help of the shorts. However, there was a little effort made on the part of the bears to start a break on early trades and this created something of fresh mort interest An hour later, when Minneapolis showed decided strength and good advance over Friday's close, the shorts here took fresh alarm and their buying gave the market a fair upturn. December sold at 731-8c and up to 731-4 to 73 3-8c. May sold at 78 1-8c, off to 77 7-8c to 78c, and then firmed up to 781-4c. The market held the advance fairly well, as there was noted the same absence of selling pressure as on Friday on the upturn. The northwest situation continues to improve, as the important thing for the trade to consider. Before the close prices dropped back to 773-4c for May, closing at the bottom for the day and a fraction lower than Friday.

The official cable, in commenting on the Liverpool corn market, said colder weather started shorts covering there and the gain in prices was 1-4 to 3-8d. There was some northwest buying in the market at the opening. Commission houses were fairly well supplied with buying orders. Lowering of cash corn prices here has checked the free corn offerings for the new crop. The market received a little help from the strength in wheat and oats. The May price touched 433-4c, sold within a fraction of 43%c and ruled later at the Friday price, 435-8c, where it closed. The trade in oats was impressed with the fact that stocks are small, receipts from day to day light; other feed stuff at high prices and small standard supply of oats in current receipts. The market for oats showed the best snap in the grain list, with the December price advanced to 34 1/2c and the May to 353-4c and little or no reaction. There was nothing of a hurrah in the provision trade on the buying side of pork during the morning, which forced prices up about one cent to $14.25 for January and $14.35 for May. First trades in lard and ribs were at a slight decline, as the local trade seemed to play for a reaction on account of larger estimates of hogs for this market next week. Hogs at all packing points for the week show 98,-000 less than the same time last year. One hundred and forty thousand are estimated for this market next week.

with a lancet would be considered a curiosity. Five years ago doctors "cut out" Piles wherever they got the chance. All that has been changed since the marvelous soothing, healing and curative properties of Pyramid Pile Cure have become known.

By every mail we get letters like "Wishing to give credit where credit is due, I feel it my duty to humanityas well as yourselves-to write you regarding your pile remedy. I have not finished my first box and am now well. After the first treatment of Pyramid Pile Cure, the soreness left, and the swellings have kept decreasing. I also used your pills and am feeling like my-self again. Thanking you kindly, I am, yours truly, C. Crowley, 170 9th

Ave., Seattle, Wash. If you want positive proof of the curative value of this remedy send to the Pyramid Drug Company, 61 Pyramid Building, Marshall, Mich. ## SALARIES ARE INCREASED

Switchmen Will Receive Better Pay in Future

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.-H. P. Morrisey Sr., grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, left for Kansas City tonight after having secured a flat increase in salaries for all of the members of the union of four cents per hour from the railroads.

The increase granted the members of the Brotherhood of Trainmen places that organiation practically to the front in the fight which it has been waging against the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Mr. Morrisey went to Kansas City to hold conferences with the grievance committee of the railroad conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, at which plans will be made for a general demand for increased wages from almost every rallroad in the country. By the agreement reached yesterday all switchmen on roads west of Buffalo will be given the increase of four cents at once. Last Thursday the Switchmen's Union of North America, which has also been dickering with the railroads, accepted an increase of three cents per hour and to arbitrate for any additional in-crease. By the agreement reached today with the Brotherhood of Trainmen, the roads bind themselves to pay all switchmen the increase and it is thought that 'the members of the Switchmen's Union of North America will abide by the agreement.

More than 45,000 men are affected by the increase and it was estimated tonight that the increase will cost the roads affected more than $6,000,000 a year. Twenty-three trunk lines were represented at the conference, which has been held for the past two weeks at the Sherman House.

Mystery in Tragedy of Which Beautiful Woman Dies

Special to The Telegram.

HOUSTON, Texas, Nov. 10 .- About 8 o'clock tonight Maurice Gombert, a well known saloon man, shot and instantly killed his wife at their home in Brunner. The dead woman was about ful.

A cloud of mystery surrounds the shooting. Gombert surrendered to the officers but refused to talk. Two pistols were found in the death chamber, one loaded and the other with four empty shells, indicating that it had been the weapon used by the husband as four bullets had found lodgement in the woman's body.

Beyond admitting that he did the shooting, Gombert refuses to make any sort of a statement. Neighbors say they were a most affectionate couple, and are at loss to account for the

GETS TEN YEARS; WAS POLICE SPY

Mere Boy Falls Victim to Russian Cruelty

Special to The Telegram ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 10.-Ten years at hard labor was the sentence meted out today to the man who threw the bomb which started the recent massacre in Bialystok. His name is Ichreter and he is little more than a mere boy.

When he was arraigned in court he took the stand to testify that he had been a police spy for a number of years. In 1904 he joined the terrorist organization for the purpose of securing evidence for the authorities, and after a short while at this work he became a convert to the revolutionary movement. Later he conceived the plan to assassinate Captain Samsenoff of the police in order to show his enthusiasm in the cause of the terrorists. He threw a bomb at the captain, who escaped uninjured, but the explosion started a riot which raged for several days. Hundreds were killed and wounded.

I Can Cure Cancer

At Home Without Pain, Plaster or Operation and I Tell You How, Free.

Have Proven Cancer Can be Cured at Home. No Pain, No Plaster, No Knife.—Dr. Wells.

I have discovered a new and seemingly unfailing cure for the deadly cancer. I have made some most astonishing cures. I believe every person with cancer should know of this marvelous medicine and its wonderful cures, and I will be glad to give full information free to all who write me and tell me about their case.

Peter Keagan, Galesburg, Ill., had cancer of the mouth and throat. Doctors said, "no hope." Mr. Keagan wrote: "It is only a question of a short time—I must die." Today his cancer is healed up and he is well. My marvelous radiatized fluid did it. It has other just such cures to its credit. It is saving people every day and restoring them to health and strength.. If you have cancer or any lump or sore that you believe is cancer, write today and learn how others have been cured quickly and safely and at very small expense. No matter what your condition may be, don't hesitate to write and tell me about it. I will answer your letter promptly, giving you, absolutely free, full information and proof of many remarkable cures. Address Dr. Rupent Wells, 1871 Radol Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

PREPARING FOR THE PEDAGOGUES

Committee On Arrangements Met This Afternoon

A committee meeting was held at the high school building Saturday afternoon for the purpose of arranging plans for the state teachers' convention, which is to be held in Fort Worth Dec. 26, 27, 28 and 29. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Terrell and each ward was represented by one teacher and one patron of the school There were also representatives from Polytechnic College and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

It was decided to tender a reception to the teachers by the woman's clubs and by Polytechnic College at some time during the meeting, and the musical societies will also entertain the teachers with a musical program. The county institute will be held Saturday, at which time the plans for entertaining the teachers who attend the meeting will be discussed.

en a Man Marries

His first concern should be to establish a home for his family. Where should the home be? In a good neighborhood? Of course. Situated high? Of course. On convenient car lines? Yes. In a locality that will always be a residence district? Certainly. Anything more? Yes. In a place where the purchase of a site will be certain to prove a good investment. Listen! There is a locality referred to by the business men of Fort Worth as the "zone of advancing real estate values." This is so not only because of the excellent natural advantages, but also on account of the exceedingly low values at which the lots are now selling. That locality is

BEAUTIFUL ARLINGTON HEIGHTS LOTS, $10 CASH AND $10 PER MONTH

We are conservative when we tell you frankly that it is a business proposition of merit for home sites, builders and investment. It fulfills every hope of the home builder, and is easily one of the most pleasant places for a home that is in reality "home, sweet home," to be found anywhere in the Southwest. Values are absolutely certain to rapidly enhance, because Arlington Heights is one of the prettiest pieces of sub-division property ever yet offered in Fort Worth. Now, the $25,000 home of the Fort Worth Country Club, which magnificent structure is about the center of the 700-acre suburb, is the same distance from the center of Fort Worth as other localities, where lots of the same dimensions-50x125 feet-are commanding much higher prices. The intrinsic value of the property is there to justify such prices. When we tell you, therefore, that we are placing our lots-50x125-upon the market at from $100 to $300 per lot-$10 payable in cash and $10 payable monthly; no taxes or interest to begin to accrue until final payment shall have been made; can you fail to be attracted by the proposition? You cannot find a better place for

BEAUTIFUL HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Homemaker, consider this: Rent saved is rent earned; rent spent is opportunity spurned. We sell you one of these beautiful lots-and all of them are deep, large and well drained-for a payment of $10 down and $10 per month; or, we will furnish the lots and build houses to suit customers, upon payment of 25 per cent, balance in monthly installments, as if paying rent.

Now, the natural advantages of Arlington Heights are unsurpassed. Every convenience of which brain can conceive is being rapidly installed for the service of the people. Reasonable building restrictions have been provided to absolutely insure the guarantee we make, viz: that no other suburban property of Fort Worth can be found as good. And because we ask only $100 to $300 per lot is not any reason that you should think that the lots are not good. Indeed, we do not ask you to take our word for it, but would rather have you investigate for yourself and see for yourself. We simply want the opportunity of showing you the high, level lots, 50x125 feet, the electric light power, water, macadam streets, etc. A very small investment means for you the foundation of independence. Do not sleep upon this splendid chance to build a home for yourself and loved ones. We earnestly trust that our proposition will be carefully investigated by all those desiring a safe, sure and solid investment, or a home.

Picturesquely situated just to the west of the Panther City, one of the prettiest and altogether most aristocratic suburbs in the entire Southwest. Located upon a hill at an elevation of more than one hundred and fifty feet above that of Fort Worth, Arlington Heights commands a magnificent view of the entire city. Indeed, Arlington Heights affords the ideal home site because the climate is superb, the elevation high, and because the resident may enjoy every advantage of city and suburban life. Electric lighted, with an ample water supply, only a twenty-minute ride from the center of the city, there is every reason that Arlington Heights property should rapidly enhance in value. Already this healthful and aristocratic suburb is dotted with palatial homes that would do justice to any city anywhere. Some of these residences cost as much as $15,000, $18,000, $20,000 and $25,000. The Fort Worth Country Club has a $25,000 home, elegantly situated just across from the new offices of the Arlington Heights Realty Company. the latter costing $4,600. The visitor is at once struck with the natural beauty of the place; the wide, spacious, graded streets, the delightful breezes, the handsome homes, the picturesque view and the unsurpassed surroundings of the Recently a purchaser said: "A few months ago I was shown Beautiful Arlington Heights. The charm of the place is irresistible. I returned the owner of four lots there. My home is now in Beautiful Arlington Heights. Twentytwo minutes after I leave my office I am at my own fireside. Arlington Heights is really a nearer home place than many residential sections. And it's a heap sight better. There is every city and country convenience. It is just far enough from the hustle and bustle of the city to make one feel at home. It is near enough to Fort Worth to enable one to reach the office a few minutes after leaving home."

All those who have purchased lots in Beautiful Arlington Heights are congratulating themselves upon their wise investment. A man with a very small amount of money today can make himself rich within ten years by buying property that is absolutely certain to enhance in value, as others follow his wise example of investing in the choicest residence suburban property in Fort Worth.

Negro Troops May Be Cause of Trouble at El Reno

A train carrying the Second battalion of the Twenty-sixth United States infantry arrived in Fort Worth Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock en route from San Antonio to Fort Reno. Owing to some misunderstanding the soldiers remained here all afternoon, leaving at 6:31 o'clock, The soldiers are on their way to Fort Reno in response to orders from Washington to prevent possible trouble with the negro troops which will be disbanded in disgrace next week. The negro troops are sullen and the white troops stationed there fear trou-

Under guard with them were twelve men of the Twenty-fifth infantry, colored, who are being taken to Fort Reno to be discharged with the others. Officers in command of the troops say they do not anticipate any trouble. The equipment of the train consisted of five day coaches, a tourist sleeper and several baggage cars.

HELLO GIRLS ON THE HIKE

Southwestern Telephone Co. Moves to New Building

At 2 o'clock this morning the hello girls in the office of the Southwestern Telephone Company laid aside the old transmitters and proceeded to the new building, at the corner of Tenth and Throckmorton streets, and quietly donned the new regalia in their new quarters. Just as quietly, and with as little confusion, the phones of the subscribers were cut in, and no one, perhaps was the wiser. The modern new building today is the center of activity, while the old building at Eighth and Throckmorton streets, is deserted and quiet. The entire change was accomplished in one hour and the servce was scarcely interrupted. The lines had been run, the new boards in position, and everything in eadiness, so that when the time came to make connections in the new building, it was but the work of a few minutes of the many skilled workmen to have everything ready for business If anyone expected to see a confused state of affairs when the movement took place they were disappointed. Not a single piece of furniture, or any apparatus from the old plant was used in the new one. Everything is new thruout, and it is one of the most completely equipped telephone plants in America. The new switchboards are the best and most modern that all the mechanical skill of man can devise and construct. The furniture and fittings are entirely in keeping with the operating apparatus, and there seems to be nothing lacking to make the new equipment perfect. Building Is New

The building is a new, three-story building and basement, substantially constructed of steel and mottled brick, on a lot about 50 by 95 feet in size. It is fire proof, hygienically constructed and the architecture provided for the best ventilation. The building is screened at every opening, and provided with an iron stairway on the south, as a fire escape. The building was designed and erected exclusively for a telephone building, and not the slightest detail was overlooked to make it as nearly perfect as possible. The building that has just been deserted was erected six years ago, and at that time the telephone people thought they had a building that would answer the needs for the Fort Worth office for all time to come. At that time there were one thousand people using their phones. Today they are established in a much better building. with 6,000 subscribers, the growth of the business for six years. This is also an index to the wonderful growth of Fort Worth.

In the basement of the new building is located the cable runway, storage battery plant, gas engine, heating apparatus, supply rooms, etc. On the first floor is located the office of Division Superintendent J. F. Henderson, Local Manager Garrett Maben and the cashier's office. Also the apparatus consisting of power plant, main frame and distributing rack, intermediate frame and relay rack. The second floor is occupied by the long distance department and operators' quarters. On this floor is located the toilet rooms, lockers, dining room and kitchen. The dining room and kitchen will be furnished complete, where the operators may prepare hot lunches and eat in comfort and will be as cozy as any dining room in the city. On the third floor is located the local switchboards, and the chief operator's department. In this department, as in all the other portions of the building, everything is beautifully finished, the colors blending with the furniture and gives a decidedly cheerful atmosphere.

Department of Justice Considering Prosecutions Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- The department of justice is not yet ready to announce whether it will begin criminal prosecution against the officers of the Standard Oil trust. This phase of the government's contemplated legal action against the trust occupied the greater part of today's long conference between Assistant Attorney General Purdy, the leading trust buster, and Special Attorneys Kellogg and Morrison, Attorney General Moody was out of the city today. Certain officials who have kept in touch with the progress of events express their belief that criminal prosecutions will not be decided upon. Others equally informed say that if there is one fact better established than any other in this connection, it is that John D. The Sherman anti-trust law makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum fine of $5,000 or a year's imprisonment, or both, for every person who shall make any "contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in restraint of trade, or commerce among the several states, or with foreign nations," or who shall "monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, or combine, or conspire with any other person or persons to monopolize any part of the trade or

Fighter Makes an Address to Crowd of Newsboys

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 10.-At a party given a hundred newsboys today Joe Gans, lightweight champion of the world, was a guest of honor. Gans made a speech. It was the best speech he knew how to make. It was from a fighter's point of view and from that or any other point of view it was a dandy "Boys," said the champion, "I used to sell papers in the streets of Baitimore. I can remember when Sullivan and Kilrain fought for the championship there and I sold papers the next day telling all about it. I made up my mind to be a fighter and I wondered if I would ever be good enough to be

"Now, some of you boys know thing or two about boxing. Perhaps you will take it up for a living. You can all be champions, as fighters, merchants, professional men or whatever you turn out to be. Whatever you do, study. Learn how. Work hard and stick to it. Get wise. Be the best in the business. Don't be a dub.

"I don't advise you to be fighters, but I know some fighters who are good boys. Whatever sort of work you do, do it right and be on the level." The party concluded with Gans tossing handfuls of pennies, nickles and dimes into the crowd. It was unheardof generosity and the boys won't foret it. It cost Gans $6.

Special to The Telegram CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 10.-Playing a fast, steady game Harvard

show up the remarkable open game they were said to have, while Harvard played brilliantly thruout, without showing her hand as to final plays. The only score of the game came about the middle of the second half, when Wendell broke thru the center of Harvard line and by clever dodging made forty-four yards before Exendine overtook and threw him. The Indian game was almost entirely a kicking game. Twenty-one times Mountpleasant booted the ball, averaging over forty-five yards. With the wind helping him, this kept the crimson on the defensive nearly all the time, until Wendell's long run got things started. Both sides were penalized a good deal, Harvard losing forty yards. The Harvards frequently resorted to line bucking, but the Indians stood so strongly that they could make first down but four times in the game

The only attack of the visitors was the kick and every time the ends were right on the Harvard catcher, hoping to receive a fumble and so score. They tried a fake kick, which worked a few times, but had no great tricks, which disappointed the tremendous crowd. When the second half opened every one expected to see the redskins start in and whip Harvard, Almost immediately after an exchange of punts, Libby missed one of Burr's spirals and Osborne got it. Then came a forward pass for fourteen yards net gain. Newhall shoved his team down to the twelve-yard line and tried a forward pass, which went straight into the hands of a waiting Indian. The crimson supporters' hopes sunk immediately, but within a play or two Wendell broke thru for his long run and the touchdown followed.

and the redskins only once turned the

HOBSON FEARS JAPS

Special to The Telegram. DANVILLE, Va., Nov. 10 .- Richmond Pearson Hobson, congressman-elect, from Alabama, delivered an address in this city tonight, the proceeds of which went to the benefit of the Danville orphanage. During the course of his remarks Lleutenant Hobson predicted that there would be in the near future inaugurated a Titantic struggle for supremacy between the white and the yellow races of the world. He said this would be the inevitable result of modern progress on the part of the people of the Orient. He said that the Japanese even realize now as in a dream that the time will come when they will have to fight for the maintenance and preservation of the yellow people, while the white people with years of supremacy behind them, with the arrogance and self-conceit of conquerers, are resting on the laurels which their prestige in the world has

Lieutenant Hobson urged that the American states be prepared for the coming conflict while there is yet

He is an advocate of peace and liberty, he said, but the only sure and proper way in which peace can be maintained is thru the medium of a navy large and efficient enough to over-awe any and all who would dare to dispute the right of the white man to rule the world. He lauded the President for his effort on behalf of a large and well equipped navy and urged that the people of the United States support him in this laudable undertaking. He predicted that if the people of this and other white races do not prepare for war while there is yet peace the time will come when the determined men from the east will attempt to repeat to the balance of the world the lesson which they have just taught the Russians. The remarks of Lieutenant Hobson created a profound impression.

Special to The Telegram. RACE TRACK, AQUEDUCT, N. Y. livened here this afternoon by an attempt to kidnap Jockey Notter. When Notter made his appearance at the track gate there were five big, strong women awaiting him. One of them grabbed him around the waist and pressing him to her bosom proclaimed that he was her son. Notter wiggled and kicked himself free.

"I'm not your son," he said. "I know my own mother." Then he was surrounded again by the women, who were evidently acting for the woman claimant. Notter had to call for help to save himself from being kidnaped. Finally two Pinkerton men took a hand in the affair and carried Notter away from the women. "This same music is of the typical Chicago variety. Gus Luders put the Windy City on the map so far as musical comedy music is concerned when he wrote 'The Burgomaster' and all the Chicago vintage since has been reminiscent of him and his first work. The score of 'The Royal Chef' is by Ben Jerome, who sat at the feet of Luders and learned. It is tuneful patter. Catchy is the only way to describe it, and it keeps the audience tingling all evening. A more pleasing helping of light and airy singing is seldom of-fered."

"The Man From Now"

A movement is soon to be inaugurated by the theatrical interests of the country looking toward the organization, with every company that goes on tour, of a hospital guild, molded along the lines upon which "The Man From Now," which will be seen at Greenwall's opera house for one night only, Wednesday, Nov. 14, guild is This is probably one of the most unique adjuncts to a theatrical organization in the country, and one of the most praiseworthy.

Theatrical folk when they fall ill in strange cities are sometimes subjected to many inconveniences and it was with the idea of ameliorating this condition that several of the young women in the support of Harry Bulger in Henry W. Savage's production formed their guild.

"It Happened in Nordland"

"It Happened in Nordland," everywhere acknowledged to be the greatest musical success in recent years, will be the attraction at Greenwall's opera house Thursday matinee and night, Nov. 15. This latest triumphant metropolitan production is described as a musical extravaganza in two acts. The book and lyrics are the work of Glen Mac Donough, who is said to have

"Sergeant Kitty," when produced at Daly's theater and the Casino, New York, was pronounced to be the best comic opera offered in many years; it has a plot that can be discovered without the aid of a guide; the music is bright, sprightly and melodious, and of a high class thruout. The book is excellent and lyrics strictly up to date.

SCENARIO OF "THE CLANSMAN"

Synopsis of Thomas Dixon's Sensational Play to Be Produced Soon The promised performances of Thomas Dixon Jr.'s play of the reconstruction era, "The Clansman," at Greenwall's Nov. 19 and 20, with matinee Tuesday, have excited the keenest interest and it is probable that the theater will be crowded to its utmost capacity. Many elements have combined to arouse this unwented interest, among them the unprecedented success of the play in the south, the sensa-

have set up a reconstruction government and the southern whites, who are deprived of the right to vote and are at the mercy of their former slaves. Dr. Cameron's son, Ben, has been nursed to health by a northern girl, Elsie Stoneman, with whom he has fallen in love. Austin Stoneman, a stern old reconstructionist, of the Thaddeus Stevens type, agrees to allow Ben to marry Elsie if the young man will take sides against his southern friends and neighbors, Ben Cameron refuses. He shows his spirit by tearing down from the bulletin board of the Cameron home a proclamation which declares social equality for the negro and permits the intermarriage of blacks and whites, In the second act, the ancestral home of the Camerons is being auctioned off to the highest bidder to pay the ruinous taxes which the negro government has imposed, Ben's sweetheart, Elsie, buys it in rather than see the homestead fall into the possession of the mulatto lieutenant governor of the state. The first scene of the taird act shows the garden of the Cameron place near sunset. The children are having a birthday party. As wilight comes on Dr. Cameron and his family note with alarm that Flora, the youngest daughter and universal pet, s missing. A wild search is made for her, and a signal gun announces that her dead body has been found in the river at the foot of a cliff, over which she had leaped to avoid a negro ruffian. Ben who has parted from Elsie rather than prove false to his southern principles, summons the members of the Ku Klux Klan to hunt down the brute. In the next scene, which is that of a great mountain cave, the Clansmen assemble to obtain the confession of the negro and sentence him to death. Thru the hypnotic power of Dr. Cameron the wretch is made to narrate his villainy.

********* AT THE MAJESTIC

Madame Slapoffski. The Great Westin.

Jane Courthope and Company. The Three Juggling Bannans. Dixie Harris.

An eminent grand opera singer, who s making her farewell appearance in vaudeville in this country; a distinguished impersonator of famous men of the past and the present and one of the most celebrated single performers of the vaudeville stage, are among the novelties offered on the coming bill of attractions at the Majestic. The bill also chronicles the return engagement of Jane Courthope and company, who made such an impression on the Maiestic circuit last season. The Juggling Bannans and Dixie Harris are other

pleasing features of the same bill. John A. West

Mr. West is alone in his style of entertainment and more alone in the unique personality with which he is blessed. As "the musical Brownie," he has leaped into great fame on the vaudeville stage. West is irresistible. Funny" is a term used in nearly every show that comes along, but it is abused in nearly all cases. When the statement is made that West is funny, the words mean exactly that. His personality is remarkable for its infectiousness. Persons with very little sense of humor are compelled against their wills to relax and greet both West's appearance and his shafts with honest The management presents him with full confidence that he will carry the house with him.

Madame Slapoffski

In securing Madame Slapoffski for this appearance, the Majestic management has been fortunate in being able to present to genuine lovers of rare vocal gifts, the most distinguished singer on the British grand opera stage. She is now making her farewell tour in vaudeville before returning to grand opera abroad. Madame Slapoff pearances in all of the British prov inces, including Australia and New Zealand. She is the most noted singer ever engaged by vaudeville managers. A word regarding the standing of Madame Slapoffski in her own country is due the patrons of the Majestic. This artist carries her written history in a massive scrap book, filled with the cullings of newspapers all over the world. They are the tributes of England and her colonies, the Hawaiian Islands and later those of musical critics thruout the United States since present tour. The critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, in comment ing on a bill at the Orpheum theater in that city, says: "Madame Slapoffski is a singer of coming greatness. ### MANY DEALS IN LOCAL PROPERTY

Largest Sale on Record Made Last Week

Prospects in real estate circles have been brighter during the last week and the largest individual sale in the history of real estate in the city of Fort Worth was concluded the first of the week. Other sales of property of value besides smaller pieces have been consummated with a result that the real estate dealers are now to be seen on the street with brighter looking faces than they have had for some time. The spurt which real estate took last spring and the dropping back again to normal is still telling on the dealers and they are continually hoping that the unusual conditions and the buying and selling of that period rill come back again.

The last week has been, however, algost as lively as were the brightest of weeks gone by and it is expected at it will not be many days longer before deals of considerable importance will be announced to the citizens of he city.

Bright weather such as the last week has brought has also had its results in bringing the real estate market to a success. One lot was sold during the week and within two hours the real estate firm handling the property had two more offers for the same piece by people who had spent part of the day walking by the corner and making up their minds that they wanted it. return to the city banks of money which has been going out all fall makes money easier for big sales. One thing noticeable in the sales of the last week is the purchase of property by Fort Worth citizens from outof-town owners. In two cases this has been true, the block in Main street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and the corner of Eighth and Throckmor-Ion streets both having passed into the hands of Fort Worth owners.

Important Sales

The most important sale of the week was that of the block in Main street. between Fifth and Sixth streets, which brought the highest price ever paid for Fort Worth property. The price paid for this lot by the purchaser, C. A. O'Keefe, was $165,000, of which $65,-000 was cash down.

Another good sale was that of the corner of Eighth and Throckmorton streets, which was purchased by W. G. Newby and A. J. Long for $21,000. It was formerly owned by Thomas A. Weaver of Nashville.

Property along Seventh street has also taken quite a firm stand on account of the petition of the Rock Island railroad for trackage privileges on that street. There are two causes for which this petition might be granted: A passenger depot might be intended or a line for trackage privileges, either of which would cause property to be valuable in that neigh-Suburban Property etwand, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit. The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect. Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur. In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers, They are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, ef-Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and moasses every spring and fall, but the erudity and impurity of ordinary flows of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used. They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure contipation and purify the blood in a day that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found in t the sulphur from Calcium was sulerior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin diseases as this remedy.

At any rate neople who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood "purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation. Send your name and address today

THREE NEW FACTORIES

Bright Prospects for Local Business Interests

Business interests have taken a boom is the city within the past week, with the location here of a large wholesale furniture house and also a large wholesale drug company. The wholesale business is one that the influential residents of the city have been trying to build up ever since the start of a city here, and the past week has brought more good news in this line than any other week since the announcement that the packing houses were coming to town.

The new wholesale furniture house will be a large one, and will be capitalized at $300,000, according to the promises of the newcomers who have signified their intentions by actually renting ground upon which they will locate.

The new wholesale drug company is strongly backed by local capital and brings in a good firm from the city of Weatherford, the Kindel-Clark Company, under which name the new concern will operate. Capital stock in this company will be $150,000, for which a charter was granted in Austin this

The Board of Trade has also succeeded in landing a new buggy making establishment, which will employ in the neighborhood of twenty-five men, and of which more definite information is promised for the first of the week, or as soon as the concern signs up the lease.

GOOD RENTAL DEMAND

Most-People Want Houses at $25 to $30 Per Month

The rental proposition in Fort Worth is very encouraging at the present time, according to H. C. Jewell & Son. There is quite a demand for houses, and with many houses to supply the demand. Business has been rather dull for a month back, but has picked up very well within the last seven days.

Demand is chiefly for medium priced houses, from $25 to $30 a month, altho there is a sufficient demand to take whatever higher priced houses are put on the market at a reasonable price. The number of newcomers is just as many as it ever has been if not greater than the average has been for the past couple of years. Indications from this point of view show a rapid increase in the population of the city at the present time.

ready for the bricklayers. Men were at work Saturday repairing the block of asphalt paving on Fifth street, between Main and Houston streets, especially in the places near the curbing where standing horses have worn the paving down.

GENERAL SHAFTER ILL

Reported to Be Suffering From Acute Pneumonia

Special to The Telegram. BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 10,-Major General William R. Shafter, who was taken suddenly ill yesterday with an attack of acute pneumonia, is reported by the attending physician, Dr. I. W. Thorne of San Francisco, to be resting comfortably tonight. General Shafter passed a restless night and suffered much pain. Physi-

clans were at his bedside during the night and today Dr. Thorne, a noted specialist, arrived from San Francisco. The illness of the general is due to a severe cold which was taken on Tuesday when Gene several miles to cast his vote at the election. He was confined to the house after this exposure and Dr. Mitchell was called in. He found General Shafter in a feverish condition. The fever rose with alarming rapidity and yesterday a conference of physicians was held and the case diagnosed as acute pneumonia.

SPECIAL ELECTION ON JANUARY 5

Want Change in Traction Company Franchise

January 5, 1907, is the date fixed by the proclamation of Mayor W. D. Harris for the holding of the election under the referendum clause of the city charter to determine if the asked for franchises shall be granted to permit the Rock Island to lay tracks on Seventh street and for the Northern Texas Traction Company to make such changes in a franchise heretofore granted to it, as will enable the Rock Island to build the tracks stated and yet permit the traction company to build the First ward line, for which it is granted the righ . The streets over which the traction company desires to go, are from Main and Seventh streets to Rusk, up Rusk to Sixta, along Sixth to Jones and along Jones to a connection with the line, for which a franchise is already granted to this company. The change from the original grant is that the traction company now has the right to build from Main and Seventh streets along Seventh to Jones and thence along Jones to Third street and so on. This is the change that is sought, so that the Rock Island can build from its yards to Seventh street. On one block of the proposed line there is a conflict with the route granted to the traction company and that conflict can be ended by the grant of the franchise asked for by the traction company, thus leaving the Rock Island the right of way along Seventa street

Preceding the ordinance, which is quoted in full, the mayor's proclamation reads thus:

The mayor has designated the following polling places and selected the following election judges: First Ward-Fire hall; W. A. Abey, presiding judge.

Second Ward-Courthouse; W. C. Smith, presiding judge. Third Ward-Crump street, between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets; J. E. Martin, presiding judge, Fourth Ward-City hall; S. T. Bibb, presiding judge. Fifth Ward-Fire hall; J. A. Mugg. residing judge. Sixth ward-Fire hall; M. J. Lewis. presiding judge. Seventh Ward—P. O. O'Connell's tore; J. P. Graves, presiding judge. Eighth Ward-Fire hall; T. P. Boyd, residing judge. Ninth Ward-Courthouse: Theo. Mack, presiding judge.

CHICAGO TEAM LOSES GAME

Minnesota Beats Windy City Players Easily

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- Minnesota's great football team downed Chicago at Marshall Field this afternoon by a score of 4 to 2. Minnesota scored her four points in the first half, when Marshall kicked a goal from placement from the twenty-five yard line. Chicago scored her two points in the second half on a safety which resulted from the wonderful punt of Eckersall, forcing Larkin over his own goal.

Walter Steffen, the sensation of the year, failed miserably. By reason of his shifty manner of running, he invariably fell in the mud before getting a start.

Minnesota used mostly plain and simple plays and only one time did she get near the goal, however, that one time was enough for Marshall to kick over the four points which brought victory.

SMOKE AND FLAME FROM MOUNTAIN

Special to The Telegram. TRINIDAD, Colo., Nov. 10 .- Adolph Storse, postmaster at Stonewall, telephoned today that the Culebra Peak which is 14,000 feet high, is emitting flashes of fire and volumes of smoke The eruptions have been noticeable since Oct. 18, but today they became so violent that the entire community is frightened. Culebra has been giving off occasionally a little lava for years Culebra is near Stonewall, about forty miles west of Trinidad. The flames disappeared later today, but the mountain is still smoking.

If there were nothing else to "In Old Kentucky," which played at Greenwall's last night, but the opening scene of the second act, it would be worth's one's while to see it. We have our modern minstrels, with their elaborate costumes and powdered heads, but for genuine negro comedy this scene "In Old Kentucky" has them all beat.

There is lots else to the show, however, and for four acts one passes thru all sorts of excitement, from the throwing of a dynamite bomb to a horse race. The play having been on the road for several years, is not new, but the cast in this troupe is a good one. Above the first floor, which was well filled the house was packed, and the audience enjoyed it very much.

GOSSIP OF THE GRIDIRON

Interesting Chat Concerning Football World

ARE MANY TEAMS

Are in Fine Shape and Some Great Games Will Be Pulled Off During Season

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- The propnecy made in this column early in the football season that Princeton would probably lead the big teams this year under the new rules and that the Carlisle Indians were apt to prove hard nuts for any of the aggregations of gridiron warriors to crack, is in fair way to be realized. So far in team work the knowledge of the new rules and ability to play under them and in general shiftiness the men of old Nassau have been away in the lead It is of course possible that before the final test in the game with Yale

next week, things will change, but in the game so far played Princeton should be returned victor by a most gratifying score. The best characterization I have seen of the Tigers was that of Folsom of Dartmouth, after the game in which his men had been so thoroly and artistically trimmed. He said, pointing to the victors: "There are eleven of the sniftiest men I ever saw on a football field. They know where to be and what to do all the time. "Dartmouth has no excuses to make.

We came down here with a good eleven and were run over by a machine of remarkable power. I never saw a speedier team than Princeton. "I cannot discuss the coming Yale-Princeton game because I have not seen the New Haven boys play. But I believe it will be one of the most sensational engagements in the history of the two universities." It was the famous Confederate cavalry leader, General Nathan Bedford Torret, who summed up the secret of military success in this historic axiom: "Get thar first with the mostest men." This is Princeton's way and it wins games. It is hard to size up the situation as between Yale and Harvard. I am inclined to believe that if the game was to be played today the Blue would win, but now it will be when they face each other is another story. There is ample room for improvement in both teams and the one which develops most is the likely winner.

Princeton and Carlisle

while.

A game which would be worth going a long way to see would be one between Princeton and Carlisle. In many respects the style of play of these two teams is similar. They both are lightning fast, heady and full of expedients. The red men play with more abandon perhaps and take the game with more intense earnestness, but the whites are the cooler and steadler. A battle between them would certainly be worth

Since the defeat of Pennsy by the Indians and the close shave of Michigan with Vanderbilt more interest is felt in the Michigan-Pennsy game. When these two teams meet next Saturday we will be able to get a line on the relative merits of the eastern and western players and the the game will in no sense be a championship game we will be able to make some reasonable calculation as to whether the best of the westerners would have a chance against the best of the easterners. The Michigan-Vanderbilt game has improved the spirits of the Quakers, who had about given up hope of winning. They are now working with desperate energy and regard their chances as good. West Point seems to have a pretty sure thing against Annapolis this year. The soldiers made a splendid showing against the strongest teams of the country and have been beaten more by luck than superior play. The sailors, on the other hand, have been beaten by second-class teams and it er prob Point will add another to her list of victories when the two services meet.

There will probably be a fight in the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America at its coming meeting over the question of a site for this year's games. Yale wants the meet and so does Philadelphia, and sentiment is about equally divided between the two. The one thing on which the association is unanimous is that it will not be neld at Cambridge again. The woes of these who went there last spring were such as to prevent any repetition of the experience. Billiards

New York has surely come into its own once more as the greatest billiard center of the world. The west a few years ago boasted of more players of championship caliber than could be claimed in the metropolitan district and a good many experts performed abroad for several seasons. At the present time. however, most of "the stars are either in New-York or close by. Championship matches and tournaments have quickened public interest in the game and all of the big rooms are crowded daily.

A number of big billiard treats have been arranged for the winter, and preceding them not a few minor events of interest have been scheduled, Players entered in the "short stop" fournament are working hard to perfect

their games. Koo Would Play

A high caste Chinaman is an aspirant for a place on Columbia's track team. He is V. K. W. Koo, of Shanghai, and his father is mandarin with several peacock feathers, a yellow jacket or two and half a dozen or more round jade buttons, a very great man, indeed. Koo has as yet developed only one quality as a sprinter-he is willing and persistent. He has not beaten any records, nor has he indicated any probability of doing so in the immediate future at least. He is popular

MISS GOETZ LOST PURSE OF $1,200

ing Train for Chicago

A small hand bag, supposed to contain about $1,200 worth of jewels and money, was last by Miss Florence Goetz at the Texas and Pacific station Saturday night, as the Rock Island northbound train was leaving the station, or just before. Miss Goetz, with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Goetz, departed on that train for Chicago and were talking with a number of friends that had assembled to see them off when the train started and they boarded it as it was moving cut. Within a moment the alarm was raised as Miss Goetz cried,

"Find my purse!" Miss Goetz had with her at the time according to the statement of friends, several valuable pices of jewelry, which were reported to have been in the purse that was lost. Among these was a four and one-half carat diamond and several other diamonds of smaller size, but very valuable; besides a pearl pin. A sum of money was also supposed to be in the purse.

Miss Goetz had the purse a few minutes before leaving, and was talking on the platform when the train start-She was assisted on the train as it was moving out, and then discovered her loss. Whether it was lost in get-ting on the train and picked up or whether it was taken from her arm is not known, but search for the purse revealed no trace of it altho the track was followed as far as the Front street viaduct by friends with torches. A telephone message to the Rock Island yards brought an answer from the Pullman conductor that the purse had not been found on the train. A telegram sent to Bridgeport arrived there before the train, but up to a late hour nothing had been received in reply, a fact which may have indicated that the purse was found on the

A number of friends were present at the station, as Miss Goetz was leaving for a trip to Chicago, where she will be until June, where she intends to study music. Besides the Goetz family, Judge E. R. Meek and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Auer were on the train. The mystery will probably be cleared up Sunday, when word is received from Mr. Goetz.

Big Contracts at Houston and Lake Charles Sanguinet & Staats have been awarded the contract for furnishing the plans for the new Y. M. C. A., which is to be erected in Houston, and will be the finest in the state of Texas, if not in the entire south. The building is to cost $200,000 and will 150x100 feet in extent. Part of it. 100x100 feet, will be a five-story buildng with walls strong enough for the addition of two more stories later on. The remaining 50x100 feet will be built as a gymnasium, three stories high. The building will also contain a natatorium with a pool 21 by 75 feet. The first two stories of the building will be built of stone and granite and the upper floors of brick, trimmed with terra cotta. Sanguinet & Staats have also been awarded the contract for the new hospital of the Sisters of the Incarnate Word at Lake Charles, La. The building will be erected at an expense of $50,000 and will be a two-story brick building, with all the latest hospital conveniences. This building is to the center wing of the St. Patrick's hospital, as it will be known, a right and left wing to be added later at an approximate cost of $80,000.

The Doctor Couldn't Tell Where the Trouble Lay

"For the past seven years I have been a victim of dyspepsia and chronic constipation and have consulted the most noted specialists to be found on diseases of this character. None, however, seemed to locate the difficulty or give relief. In addition to this medical treatment, I have resorted to the use of many remedies and have given them faithful trial, but all to no purpose.

Upon the recommendation of a close friend, I purchased a 50c package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and in less than five days noticed that I was receiving more benefit than from any remedy I had used before. I continued to use the tablets after each meal for one month and by that time my stomach was in a healthy condition, capable of digesting anything which my increasing appetite demanded.

I have not experienced any return of my former trouble, though three months have elapsed since taking your remedy.'

We wish that you could see with your own eyes the countless other bonafide signed letters from grateful men and women all over the land who had suffered years of agony with dyspepsia, tried every known remedy and consulted eminent specialists without result, until they gave Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial. Like the doctor above, they couldn't locate the seat of

Dyspepsia is a disease which has long baffled physicians. So difficult of location is the disease that cure seems next to miraculous. There is only one way to treat dyspepsia-to supply the elements which nature has ordained to perform the function and to cause them to enter the digestive organs, supplying the fluids which they lack. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets alone fill these requirements, as is shown by the fact that 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada unite in recommending them to their patients for mach disorders. We do not claim or expect Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to cure anything but disordered conditions of the stomach and other digestive organs, but this they never fail to do. They work upon the inner lining of the stomach and intestines, stimulate the gastric glands and aid in the secretion of juices necessary to digestion. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. One box will frequently effect a perfect cure. If in doubt and wish more adequate proof send us your name and address and we will gladly mail you a sample package free. F. A. Stuart Co., 61 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

100,000 PENNIES IN FORT WORTH

Discovered Loss After Board- | Big Demand for Small Change in This City

> a penny here, but nevertheless there are over 100,000 little coppers in this city at the present time. To say that there is $1,000 worth of the smallest change in Fort Worth may seem improbable, but if there was a chance to figure out exactly the amount of pennies that are here today it is almost certain that this estimate could be > doubled without stretching the truth. There is a big demand for small change from the stores of the city and this demand is accommodated by the banks and the postoffice, altho some of the stores sent away from the city for their stock of pennies. The Conti-nental Bank and Trust Company and the Fort Worth National Bank do a large business of supplying pennies, and both keep a considerable supply on hand at all times,

Outside of the banks the biggest hoard of pennies is probably kept up the Burton-Peel Dry Goods Company. Supply to keep business there going is received when needed in lots of $1,000 from New Orleans, or 10,000 new pennies at a time. More pennies are paid out at the various stores than are taken altho at times the supply adds up. The crdinary supply of pennies at Burton-Feel's store will average about $309 and is never allowed to fall below $199. A plan is being advocated for the Burton-Peel stores to pay out only new pennies and to ship out the old ones. This will make the supply of pennies in Fort Worth greater than at the present time, altho it will not put any more into circulation.

A conservative estimate of the number of pennies in the city is: Burton-30.000: Fort Worth National Bank, 30,000; Continental Bank and Trust Company, 10,000; other banks, 5,000; Fair store, 5,000; W. C. Stripling, 1,500; other store, 20,000; w. C. Stripinig, 1,500; other stores, 20,000; children's banks, 10,000; postoffice, 3,000; total, 114,000, or $1,114 worth.

At the Continental Bank and Trust Company the average on hand is 10,-These are used for supplying to the merchants in the city and in shipping to the smaller branches of the bank thruout Texas and to other banks in the state. Saturday the number of pennies at the Fort Worth National Bank was 30,000, which was more than the average that is kept on hand.

The postoffice is more or less an exchange for pennies and Assistant Postmaster McKee accompanied his estimate of an average of $30 worth with the statement that every penny in town found its way at some time or other into the postoffice. Altho 25 cents is the legal limit for pennies that one has to take in payment, yet at the postoffice this is not enforced.

At The Fair pennies are received in lots of 5,000, and the average number hand is kept near or higher than ling does not keep as many on hand altho handling a large number, receiving supplies of $10 worth at a time from one of the local banks.

The number at the other stores in town is estimated at 20,000, which, when the total number of stores is considered, is really a small estimate. The other banks in the city besides the ones mentioned keep but a small number at a time, getting rid of the pennies as fast as possible. At one bank the pennies are used only to buy a model industrial colony at East Aurora, where well made books are printed and illuminated and the rarest sorts of good things in furniture made by skilled craftsmen. Hubbard is literary, epigrammatic witty, satirical and successful. He uses a drawing of his face that makes him look as Beethoven might have, for his advertising matter, and he promises a year's subscription to one of his magazines to any person who will sit thru his lecture after having paid a dollar.

Hubbard's most famous bit of writing is called "A Message to Garcia," which has done more for advertising the New York Central and giving young men a definite purpose in life than any effort in either direction attempted to the present date of writ-

If you want to flatter Hubbard tell him that he is versatile. He has been a farmer, cowboy, printer, peddler, dock worker, reporter, traveling salesman, school teacher, factory laborer, college student, tramp, publisher, author, lecturer and a few other things. His "Age of Common Sense" is said o be his best lecture.

BAPTISTS RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Fund of $100,000 Raised for State Missions

With few exceptions the entire Fort Worth delegation of pastors and messengers to the annual state Baptist convention at Waco returned home Saturday night, altho the convention does not adjourn until Monday noon, The meeting is reported to have been very successful in every particular, which is due largely to the enormous attendance thruout the convention. Two thousand delegates from various state churches helped form the total number of nearly three thousand persons attending each session.

San Antonio was selected the meeting place next year, and tho the date has not been definitely decided on, the convention will be held during the second week of November. Speaking of the meeting upon his arrival in the city, Rev. C. W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church, "The annual conference of 1906 will be remembered in history for its marked enthusiasm and for the practical plans for future work . promulgated by the delegates. What I consider one of the most remarkable achievements by any religious assembly was the completion of the campaign for $10,000 to use as a state mission fund. At the beginning of the fiscal year plans were started for raising this fund and every state churh has accomplished remarkable work on its share toward the total sum. At the convention it was reported that $94 had been raised in excess of the original planned sum. "Financial reports also show pledges for $50,000 for state Baptist educational work, all of which are under one system and their support is pooled under one issue. For the support of young men studying for the ministry at Baylor University $5,000 was also appropriated. And lastly, $40,000 was appropriated to the Buckner Orphans' Home at Dallas.

"Building committees reported that about 150 new church buildings have been erected in the state during the past year, and other reports show that 20,000 persons have become identified with various state churches since the last convention."

SOCIAL EVENTS

The King-Dingee Wedding

The Dingee home was filled Wednesday evening for the marriage of Miss Mary Dingee to W. B. King Jr. and among all the guests the thought deepest, the words neard on every hand, was admiration for a beautiful bride and good wishes for a union that promises to be one of those of which fulfill the ideals cherished universally The bride was very beautiful and the bridegroom the picture of young manhood as they came down the stairs at 8:30 o'clock, hour of the ceremony Preceding the ceremony Miss Elizabeth Wells had sang "O Promise Me" to the accompaniment of Mrs. Lee Dingee, who also played the wedding march The aisle for the bridal procession was formed by white satin ribbons held by Miss Lizzie King, Miss Ethel Thomas Henry Dingee and Hughes King. The Rev. J. B. French stood within a palm framed alcove in the parlor at the end of the ribboned aisle. The first of the attendants were Miss Bessie Wombwell and T. J. Caldwell. Miss Edna Pendleton and Willis Lea came next. The bridegroom and his best man, Gentry Browne, were followed by the bride and her sister, the matron of honor, Mrs. Jere Van Vandt. The congraulations that were showered upon the young people were of the kind good to hear. Love was sincere and hopes for the future were expressed with joyful assurance that all hope would be more than fulfilled.

The bridal gown was brocaded sating tucked with applique panels of rose The voke was of hand run baby Irish lace with a voke finish of English point. The bridal veil was fastened with two small chrysanthemums and the bridal bouquet was of longpetaled blossoms of the same flower. Mrs. Van Zandt wore a gown of chiffon silk, tucked skirt and bodice with lace trimmings.

Miss Wombwell's gown was of ne with hand applique of English and Irish braids with graduated flounce. Miss Pendleton wore Paris muslin with tucked medallions set with Mechlin lace, the bodice of tucks and lace. All the bouquets were of white carys

The decorations were elaborate. The reception hall had a palm alcove for the punch bowl and strands of smilax ran to the ceiling, entirely enclosing the stairway and forming green wall hangings. The parlor had beside the ceremonial corner, white chrysanthemums in profusion and smilax frieze.

The dining room decorations pleased greatly with its many white chrysanthemums. The table had a pyramid of ferns and flowers, the smilax enclosing the table with the strands that ran from ceiling to chandelier and from chandelier to table. The white satin cloth was draped with folds of tulle with fern fronds caught in the folds. Around the ceiling ran a band of tiny electric bulbs and on the mantel the bulbs not only outlined the mantel, but were used to frame the photograph of an intimate friend of the family, Martin Casey, whose birthday was celebrated after the wedding guests had departed. The cutting of the wedding cake proved happily entertaining, the ring being found by Miss Hazel Hull and the thimble by the bridegroom. The presents displayed in the upper hall attracted much admiration, so handsome and numerous were they. The "Daisies" sent a silver nut bowl. The Sans-Pariel sent a set of ice cream plates and platter of exquisite

A chest of silver the gift of a dozen of A. S. Dingee's friends, was lingered Mr. and Mrs. King will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dingee, West

Seventh street. After the wedding guests had departed Mr. Dingee celebrated the birthday of his friend, Martin Casey. The dining room was lit with innumerable Emerald lights and the table showed nothing but green. A supper fit for Irishmen was set before Mr. Casey and his friends, Paul Waples, W. T. Cargill, A. P. Foute, George C. Battle, J. G. Waples, A. S. Goetz, Ad Lea, J. C. Drendel, L. J. Wortham and

Carl Evans. Sharing honors with Mr. Casey for celebration was Al G. Field, who joined them after the theater.

The speeches the wit, the comradeship made Mr. Casey forget the birthdays already past and his friends to remember that birthdays are only tallied against those unhonored and unsung. By this token the future holds an unbroken line of celebrations for Mr. Casey.

Banquet for W. B. King Jr.

W. B. King Jr. was the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet Saturday e ening, the hosts being several of his men friends who are wishing him the greatest happiness for his marriage to Miss Mary Dingee, which takes place Wednesday evening. There were as many and beautiful flowers as if the charming bride herself was expected, and the toasts were eloquent indeed. Wright Gaines acted as toastmaster. Klein Ault responded on behalf of the "Bridegroom," and Gentry Browne for the "Bride." Mr. King also had a few happy remarks and the evening was a cheerful preparation toward matrimony's journey. The hosts were Messrs. Klein Ault, James Liston. Sam Smith, Ed Caldwell, Gentry Browne, Simpson Carter, Willis Lea, Raynor Hyman and Wright Gaines.

The Country Club

The interior of the Country Club never looked more attractive than for the subscription dance given Tuesday evening by Messrs. A. J. Long, W. E. Connell, Jerry Ellis, A. B. Wharton, J. D. Collett, B. L. Anderson, M. E. Berney, L. Marston, O. R. Menefee, Ben W. Fouts, Paul Cruseman, John C. Harrison, J. B. Googins, W. K. Hubbard, C. F. Long, Dr. J. W. Irion, and Ben O. Smith.

From the wooded slopes surrounding the club house were brought the richly tinted autumn leaves, golden oak shading into crimson. These formed a wide gorgeous band, encircling the hall, and framed the oaken panels of the ceiling. The fireplace was a triumph of beauty, the oaken leaves rising to the ceiling on each and extending into irregular branches in imitation of the habits of the tree and leafage growth. The first part of the evening was divided into lancers, quadrille, waltz, two-step and Virginia reel. After sup-per the cotillon was led by Alf W. Luckett.

The guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Matthews, Garland Jones, Mrs. Penn of Reidsville, N. C., Mrs. A. B. Whitla, Mr. and Mrs. B.

This young hostess certainly proved her friendship of years to the pretty bride-elect, when, assisted by her aunt Mrs. Taskar Camp, she entertained with this beautiful luncheen. The parlors and reception hall of the Camp home were decorated with roses and chrysanthemums. The dining room was a "thing of beauty." Bright colored autumn leaves were festooned over the pictures and mirrors and banked on the mantel. Eighteen guests were seated at a round table, which had as a centerpiece a bowl of immense yellow chrysanthemums on a reflector, surrounded with ferns. Yellow tulle was artistically draped from the chandelier and at intervals on the table were candelabra with yellow candles, which, with the lighted chandelier, enhanced the beauty of the The favors, which contained the place cards, were tiny baskets of "mums." tied with yellow tulle. Mrs. Elliett's Dinner

Mrs. Card G. Elliott's guests for an informal dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Mary Harrison saw a rarely beautiful table set with a profusion of "bridal glory" mums, their long yellow petals surmounting stately stems and filling a tall green vase. Maiden-hair ferns were sprinkled over the cloth and place favors for the guests were yellow posies and ferns. A seven-course dinner was served and at the close the guests arose and joining hands united in wishing all happiness for the bride-to-be and her fiance, W. B. Paddock.

the respect of their wives, even if love takes a turn out of the window. It versally trained to the idea that their own self-respect is worth more than all the world put together. "The world well lost," the old, old story, romanced about and dwelt upon, has led more weak, silly, foolish women to their undoing than anything I can think of at this minute. Suppose novelists and story makers would dwell with as much zeal upon the "World well lost for honor, for decency, for self-respect." The answer to such a standard of ideals would be no world lost at al!. Maybe some gay cavaller might receive a needed page in his education, but who would grieve over that?

I have known a lot of women fairly well. Some of them have been inclined to side-stepping the proprieties. Most of them have been good wives and mothers, sewing, baking, spanking both children and husbands in ways that of their duties, their honor, their sex, have been effective, but I have never yet seen one that I thought worth wasting a bunch of powder and lead

I have known some men, too. I have seen them when they were not bowing gallantly on dress parade. Whenever I hear of a woman frisking away her good name and the honor of her family and friends I am amazed. What is there about any man to so fascinate! The best of the tribe are just men. The worst so little worthy of ordinary patience! Not one of them worth the price every woman pays who violatesbut why particularize?

When young girls placed as our girls are in the way of every possible temptation, and with as little of protection as may be, lose their heads, it is a great pity. Girls are so ignorant. How ignorant only the mature women who remember their girlhood really know. A girl may be pardoned, certainly forgiven, for counting the world well lost in a moment of madness. Mothers, guardians and society are mostly to blame for every tragedy of girlhood.

I wish I could hammer into every girl's conscienceness that the world is never, never well lost. If the world is lost at all it is at a bitter price. There is nothing in life that makes up for the good opinion of this thing we call the world. Men seldom go so far as to get the worst that the world can deliver. They know better than women what it is that is the salt and savor of ambition, of labor, of daily striving preached unflaggingly is "What God and power. Men will go the limit to acquire money, because money limit to acquire money, because money limit to acquire money, because money limit to acquire the world appears to buy the thing the world appears to buy the thing the world wronged husband has the "unwritten has, that he wants. But even in his money transactions the man has no illusions as to how far he can go.

When a woman enters in the case : man may be temporarily demented, and there may come to some of the weaker brothers the step that cannot be retraced. He takes it. Then the world has a word to say, a word that blots out his life's horizon.

It stays right with us as long as we are here. Its eyes beat those of famed and renowned Argus. It remembers pretty well, too. How is it that women cannot realize these facts? The men car take care of themselves. I never bother very much about a man's antics. The girls cannot take care of themselves. I am always thinking, wondering, even worrying about a dear, helpless, ignorant girl, so oftentime the victim of the very best qualities of womanhood. But the problem that puzzles me always with its unsolved complications

is the view some married women take

Very few men, so far as I have observed, are supplied with a halo. But when a man marries a woman I am always of the opinion that he has tucked away somewhere in his consciousness the notion that he has chosen his wife for qualities he admires, respects, and esteems, qualities that he fancies will sympathize with him in his deepest feelings. He has chosen the woman for the maker of a home, the mother of his children. Very few men choose a wife as they buy a horse. I may be wrong about simper and smirk with 'mash" uppermost in her mind? I confess that I have seen conduct among some young married women that worried me a good deal. Because of a pair of sparkling eyes that some empty-pated youth has complimented, because of a rouged cheek that has been followed by a bunch of "gay dogs" is a husband's honor to be forgotten, a husband's name dishonored, a husbands' confidence betrayed? I confess the married woman of flirtatious inclinations is too much for

But while I have puzzled over the married women as a subject for discipline, I have never yet been able to feel she was worth killing anybody for.

The scene was one which would have appealed to any one at any time, but especially to a young couple who had just begun to realize the happiness of married life.

Charles D. Reimers is a native of Rock Island and a retative of one of the leading members of the company which owns the steamer. Some years ago he went to Fort Worth and became the owner of The Telegram, one of the bright, hustling afternoon papers of that city. His bride was Miss Linda Ray Saunders, the charming daughter of Dr. Bacon Saunders, one of the most prominent physicians of Fort Worth.

They were married on Tuesday and yesterday noon arrived over the Southern Pacific, several hours late. Everything was in readiness aboard Weyerhaeuser by morning, and in the afternoon the steamer got under way for her long trip up the Mississippi, which becomes one of the most picturesque streams of the country when it leaves the flat cotton and sugar districts. There have been all kinds of honeymoon trips in the course of time, but one up the Mississippi aboard a magnificent steamer which the couple has entirely to itself is one of the ideal wedding cruises of modern times. It is really the first one recorded in many years from this port.

Miss Murdock's Card Party

Miss Helen Murdock gave a beautiful whist party Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. R. B. Mayo, one of our dearest and loveliest brides, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. T. Lyle, on Pennsylvania avenue.

This was one of the prettiest and most enjoyable card parties of the season. Mrs. Lyle's attractive home was made more so by the popular fall flowers, chrysanthemums and the bevy of lovely young girls and matrons. Several prizes were given. The first prize, a pair of silk hose, fell to Miss Allie West. The consolation, also silk hose, went to Miss Belle Bunting. Miss Edna Lewis and Miss Nina Coppage, the punchers, were presented with bunches of yellow chrysanthe-

MISCELLANEOUS

One of the most delightful events of the week was the reception given by the members of Trinity Choir, last Wednesday night, 8 to 11 o'clock, to the friends and parishoners of the church. The Guild Hall was tastefully decorated with palms and cut flowers, roses and chrysanthemums being used. There was a large attendance, and the musical program was exceptionally good. The following was the program:

Pianoforte solo, Miss Nellie Tiller. Vocal quartet, members of the choir. Violin solo, Master Edward Marsh. Vocal solo, Mrs. Bagley. Pianoforte solo, Mr. W. J. Marsh. Vocal solo, Master Harry Shultz. Violin solo, Master Edward Marsh. Chorus, by the choir. Solo and chorus, "Land of Hope and

Glory," Mrs. E. M. Marsh and cheir. The numbers given by Mrs. Bagley, Master Harry Shultz and Master Edward Marsh were exceptionally good. This being Edward Marsh's first appearance before the public, his friends were quite surprised to hear him play with so much expression and good taste. His selections were well chosen and rendered. Mr. W. J. Marsh was accompanist for the evening, and as usual, was received with much pleasure, his friends are always ready to welcome him. His selections were given in his usual able manner.

Dainty refreshments were served, and all declared themselves pleased with the enjoyable evening they had. Thursday night there was a reception given to the members of the choir and their friends. The evening was spent in dancing and games,

The Progress Whist played with Mrs. Heninger Wednesday afternoon, the prize, a cut-glass compote, going to Mrs. Lederman. A three-course luncheon was served to Mesdames Schloss, Seligman, I. The expected cards for a wedding of unusual interest have been issued and read as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. William B. Harrison invite you to be present at the marriage of their daughter, Mary Waul, to Mr. William Buckley Paddock, Wednesday evening, Nov. 21, 1906, at 8 o'clock, Broadway Baptaist church, Fort Worth, Texas."

Mrs. J. M. Logan will entertain with high five next Wednesday afternoon Loyde of Houston. William

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carnahan will entertain with dinner Friday evening, celebrating the tenth anniversary of their wedding day. The out-of-town

IN DENMARK

Nearly all of our waterworks, gas works and electric light works are owned by the municipality and light and water are supplied to the consumer at a very reasonable price. No private monopoly is making fortunes by selling these necessities of life, the people of Denmark would never stand for such extortion. Street cars in Copenhagen are still owned by a corporation, which, however, is under very strict municipal control. Nobody has made any fortune from street car franchises as the case is in America, and in another year all the rolling stock, rails, etc., of the street car company will pass into the hands of the municipality, the franchise granted to the corporation having then expired.

We have municipal employment offices where any man may go and ask for and find work.

And we have many other democratic institutions of which we are proud, and upon which we build our hopes of a happy future.

We do not believe in the force of arms, but in the growth of the universal peace idea, which should form part of the program of the workingman's party all over the world. We have seen how the workingmen of Sweden last year prevented war between Norway and Sweden, and in Germany and France it is also the workingmen who force the government to keep the swords in the scabbards. Socialistic workingmen in the German radical reichstag advocate the cause of Schleswig, and if workingmen ever get the power which they now have in Denmark, we will have that part which we were robbed of in 1864 returned to us by Germany.

We do not believe in the famous English statement that small nations are doomed to disappear. We believe that the international evolution is the protector of the small nations and that in this we have our best advantages as Norway had it in the Swedish socialistic democracy that did not

During my stay in the United States I have seen that we can learn much from America, and shall do my best to see that we shall take advantage of this, but I have also seen that the people of America can learn much from us, especially in regard to an evolution of the true democratic idea.

payers of the country. The Woman Chef

Women have at last displaced one of the most important functionaries of social life. The woman chef is now one of the features of the London Club. At one of the best London hotels men have been dismissed in favor of women in the kitchen, and at a well known club she is also holding her own. The secretary of the Chef Society spoke, nowever, almost in despair of the change. He brightened considerably toward the end of the interview, and sald: "Women will never replace the trained professional men. To prepare a big dinner means continual anylety

Lady Dorothy

One of the most delightful figures in London, who is now 80 years of age, has just produced a book which is being discussed in all grades of society. I have known Lady Dorothy Neville all my life, and have always looked upon her as one of the most picturesqu? figures it has been my good fortune to encounter, tiny in stature, with a face gleaming with intelligence, a skin which still retains the smoothness of ivory and the pink color of a girl, she has the appearance of a fairy godmother, who had stepped out of her setting, who has left the gnomes and the elves behind, and invaded the prcsaic drawing rooms of London. In her reminiscences she goes back to the early part of the last century, and figures walk across her stage characteristic of a time long since gone.

The Primrose League, one of the most well-known political societies, was started in her house, where Lord Randolph Churchill and other militant conservatives used to meet every Sunday at luncheon. She describes not only, however, the political and the 'smart" set of London, but gives her reminiscences of Thackeray, Tennyson and Gladstone. Lady Dorothy was very Catholic in her friendships, and she was as friendly with the latter as with Lord Beaconsfield and Mr. Chamberlain. Her house in Charles street, Berkeley Square, contains the most extraordinary collection of souvenirs. She has made a practice of buying a piece of china in every place she visited. Her collection of letters is of particular interest, and she possesses a wedding gift presented to her by the great Duke of Wellington.

LONDON, Nov. 10 .- Not without reason did Sir Edward Grey, the Britis minister of foreign affairs, the other day ask that a clause guaranteeing the neutrality of Great Britain in case of war between Japan and the United States, be inserted in the treaty between England and her ally, for I am informed by a very high army officer of the German general staff, who has just returned from the far east, that Japan is making gigantic preparations for just such a war, which she will provoke as soon as she thinks herself strong enough.

(Copyright, 1906, by Hearst News Service.) BERLIN, Nov. 10 .- Much indignation is felt here in the American colony over the action of the German authorities with regard to Baroness von Kettler, widow of the German minister to China, who was killed by the Boxers in 1900.

The baroness, who is an American, had been living for some time with her father in the United States, but has had to return to Berlin and take up her permanent abode here, having been notified by the authorities that unless she did so the annuity of $2,-500 a year which the German governmen allowed her since the death of her husband would be discontinued. The baroness, who is devoted to her father, has taken the matter very much to heart, and her friends are much worried over the change which has come over her, a settled melancholy having apparently taken pos-session of her. Owing to her father's altered financial position the baroness has not wished to accept any aid from him and has had to bow to the unreasonable demands of the German

Simple Life Ends Bad

The simple life has proved fatal to party of German enthusiasts who formed a little colony on Kabakon island, one of the Bismarck group in the South Seas, to live in the style of primitive men.

Calling themselves the "Sun Brothers," the simple livers wore a minimum of clothing, lived on fruit and nuts, and occupied themselves in tilling the virgin soil of Kabakon.

This did not last long, however, for two of the leaders, Herr Lutzow, a musician, and Herr Engelhardt, an author, died from the effects of inadequate clothing and nourishment. Another chief among them, Herr Bettmann, a philosopher, was murdered by the natives.

The survivors realized that their attempt to live the simple life was a failure, and came back to civilization.

Asleep Two Years A novel kind of sleeping sickness is puzzling German specialists. Herr Arnheim, a former civil service official, aged, forty-five, has been sound asleep for two years and four months, and nothing will wake him.

In June, 1904, Arnheim fell while descending from a street car and struck his head on the curbstone. No injury to the brain was discovered, but Arnheim showed an intense desire for sleep. He slept with intervals of wakefulness for ten days, and then, on June 20, he fell into a deep sleep, which has up to the present been unbroken.

For twenty-eight months he has never opened his eyes, spoken a syllable or shown any sign of conscious-

Arnheim before his accident was a normal, healthy and vigorous man, but he belongs to a family which is subject to nervous diseases. His condition is more than sleep; it is a kind of trance or torpor from which no ordinary means can wake him. He lies on his back in bed, at his Wilmersdorf flat. His forehead is wrinkled as if he were troubled by dreams. Professor Eulenberg, an eminent specialist in nervous diseases, has visited Arnheim, and made many attempts to rouse him. The professor, in describing the case, says: "The limbs can be freely moved. The skin has lost its sensitiveness; deep needle pricks have not produced the slightest effect, and other incisions in the flesh, painful for a normal being, have not succeeded in awakening the sleeper. "Deafening noises made close to the ears have failed to arouse him, and dazzling light turned on the eyes has likewise been ineffectual. "The sleeper is regularly fed-he chews the food placed in his mouth slowly, and swallows instinctively. "When I last visited Arnheim, the patient's wife removed him from the bed, clothed him, and placed him in an armchair near the open window.

"Thus I found him, and I must say he had a surprising appearance. The ghastly pale man, sitting there with closed eyes, had something uncanny about him. The sleener feminded me irresistibly of those wax figures placed in natural positions in waxwork shows to deceive visitors in the belief that they are real human beings." Arnheim has been watched by numerous learned doctors, who are completely nonplussed by his strange case. They have sat by him for hours, but can give no definite opinion as to the cause of his long sleep.

Professor Eulenberg alone holds out the hope that Arnheim may possibly awaken suddenly and spontaneously.

man to discover a real poet. But to fewer even does it happen to unearth a poet who has lain two centuries dead, and to reconstruct his life and work for eager students. It may have been due to the natural plety of Bertram Dobell that so noble a feat should have crowned his days. He writes: My youth was ever constant to one

Certainly to have discovered, so late as 1903, a poet of such rare and distinguished abilities as Thomas Traherne, could only fall to a great and a good man of poetic insight and quick per-

The tale of the finding of the little, old, worn, and scratched-up manuscript by Mr. William T. Brooke on a street bookstall, his buying it for a few pence and carrying it to Dr. Grosart, and later to Mr. Bertram Dobell, is as romantic as Swinburne's finding Fitzgerald's Omar on a bookstall near Quarritch's, and buying up several copies at a penny ha-penny each. The next day when Burne-Jones went for more copies the price had advanced to twopence, and Mrs. Burne-Jones tells us that in a month or so the price

was a guinea. The poems of Traherne were first attributed to Vaughan, and only by Mr. Dobell's keen observation that the leading characteristic of Vaughan's work was restrained emotion moving slowly and not without effort, whereas the unsigned poems just discovered showed emotion in full flood expressed in energetic and spontaneous diction led that great book lover to trace back the manuscript poems to one Thomas Traherne, an author who lived from 1636 to 1674, and who had published three prose works, Roman Forgeries, Christian Ethicks, and, finally, and most beautiful, Centuries of Medita-There is left the beautiful chance, too, that all of Traherne's work has not yet been discovered. Not often does it fall to the lot of a | tion of Traherne's work, there were six American names, one copy went to Cleveland, one to Chicago, one to Brooklyn, one to Washington, one to Cambridge, Mass., one to Portland, Me.; all went to private libraries. since then copies have multiplied, and now Mr. Dobell, his discovery being well authenticated, has recently published a cheap edition and put the poems within the means of any student of English metaphysical poetry.

Gladness, sheer childlike joy and innocence are the keynotes of Traherne's poems. It is difficult to give an indication of the subtle and mystic tone of Traherne's mind beyond saying briefly that he had the childlike, uncuestioning faith of Herbert, the metaphysical insight of Blake without his obscurity, and that his diction, rare and ethereal, occasionally reminds one of Vaughan and that, perhaps, in utter unworldliness he outtops them all, There would seem to have been in youth a short and dark period when

THE LADDER

BY ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1906, by American-Journal-Examiner.

INTO each mortal, who comes to earth, UA ladder is given by God, at birth. And up this ladder the soul must go, Step by step, from the valley below; Step by step, to the center of space, On this ladder of lives, to the Starting Place.

In time departed (which yet endures) I shaped my ladder, and you shaped yours. Whatever they are—they are what we made: A ladder of light, or a ladder of shade, A ladder of love, or a hateful thing, A ladder of strength, or a wavering string. A ladder of gold, or a ladder of straw, Each is the ladder of righteous LAW.

We flung them away at the call of death, We took them again with the next life breath. For a keeper stands by the great birth gates; As each soul passes, its ladder waits.

Though mine be narrow, and yours be broad, On my ladder alone can I climb to God. On your ladder alone can your feet ascend, For none may borrow, and none may lend.

If toil and trouble and pain are found, Twisted and corded, to form each round, If rusted iron or mouldering wood Is the fragile frame, you must make it good. You must build it over and fashion it strong, Tho' the task be as hard as your life is long:

For up this ladder the pathway leads To earthly pleasures and spirit needs; And all that may come in another way Shall be but illusion, and will not stay.

THE MASTER SPIRI

The Master Spirit

In these days, when the novelist's and che brain is sorely wracked to find something not too trite, some plot whose threadbareness he can gloss over, some characterization which will not too blatantly shout out its prototype, it is the occasion for gratitude that a man like Sir William Magnay can write a story of the caliber of "The Master Spirit" (Little, Brown & Co.) The story of itself holds one in its thrall. The Master Spirit is a man named Gastineau, who is pleased to remain in deathlike seclusion, while his gigantic brain, itself unable to aid the crippled body which gives it substance, he puts at the service of another, the one who saved his life.

The partnership brings much success and fame to the second man, and promises well until fate, in turning to Never was a book accorded more immediate, unanimous and enthusiastic praise than greeted Tarbell's Teachers' Guide to the International Sunday School Lessons for 1906. It was hailed at once as the most complete, suggestive and useful volume of commentaries on the international Sunday school lessons ever written.

The Tarbell Guide is designed for use by both teachers and pupils. Its 500 pages contain scholarly comments on word and phrase; suggestive quotations from writers on Bible lands and people; a sound method of teaching the points of the lesson; a valuable summary of the meaning and contents of each lesson; illuminative discussions of geography-in short, all that the Bible student and teacher want to

The special features for Tarbell for 1907 are sixteen full page illustrations, many of them made from the famous paintings of J. J. Tisset, for the use of which exclusive permission has been obtained. There are also a large number of reproductions of celebrated pictures of the life of the people of Bible lands and times, ancient inscriptions, coins, Egyptian and Assyrian wall paintings and other original sources. A notable article on "Woman and Photography," by Stella Reid Crothers, is accompanied by nearly a score of photographs of those who have achieved unusual distinction in this vocation. There is a greatabundance of interesting matter in the iepartments, of which the handsomely llustrated Cookery Department, with helpful suggestions for the Thanksgiving dinner, and a page devoted to home made Christmas gifts, are particurarly noteworthy. "Ponies for Little Folks," Domesticating Pheasants," Spaniels," "A Comfortable Living Room," "Beauty and Health," "Fashions in Furs," "Seasonable Styles," "Mainly About People" and "Views and Interviews" are the captions of the other departments, which are exceed-

The Yiddish Shakespeare

The first of the Yiddish plays to be seen on Broadway is "The Kreutzer Sonata," in which Blanche Walsh appeared for a season on the road, scoring a marked success. It is the work of Joseph Gordin, whom his friends delight in calling the "Yiddish Shakespeare," a man with a splendid presence, whose magnificent head and long, flowing beard give him a most distinguished appearance. He is about 55, a scholar, and was exiled from Russia because of his religious activity. He is the auothor of some fifty plays, some of them dramas of tremendous nower, the best of them being of a nature that makes it almost impossible to adapt them to the English stage. "God, Man and the Devil" is a magnificent tragedy, a strange mixture of realism and symbolism, while "The Unknown," meaning death, is almost as impressive. Gordin is a profound student of the serious drama, and he has not only imagination and strength, but great technical skill as well.

There are 600,000 Hebrews in New York City, the great mass of them living on the lower East Side. Gordin has created a dramatic literature for them, a literature that has much of the lofty. somber Hebrew poetry, much of it tragic majesty, mingled with the sordid emotions and ambitions of the daily life of his people in this country. They have imported and developed some of the finest actors on the stage, emotional actresses like Mme. Lipzin, who is undoubtedly a great genius, and Bertha Kalich, who has left the Yiddish stage to play in English; Kessler, whom many scholarly people familiar with the world's great players declare to be the greatest of living tragedians; Moscowitz, a romantic actor of great ability, and Jacob Adler, a truly great character actor, whose performance of Shylock, given in Yiddish with a supporting company speaking English, made a sensation on Broadway.-"The Players," Everybody's Magazine for

Book is excelled by no short fiction in America, and doubtless it is this which has served to win to the magazine its extraordinary success. Some note of timeliness is taken in the November issue in that it contains two Thanksgiving stories, one by William Hamilton Osborne - "With Senator Broderick's Thanks"-being especially significant just now owing to its political flavor; the other, "The Moving of John Shepardson," by Isabel McDouhave ever moved their lares and penmagazines. His story's title is "Wealthea," and it is one of those tales Charles Leonard Moore's "The City of the Cavern," an exploit of imagination

A Striking Comparison

Texas children?" is a question strikingly set forth in a cartoon which accompanies Walter B. Whitman's article on food adulteration in Texas, which appears in Holland's Magazine for November. The cartoon shows a couple of porkers contentedly munching their feed-bearing a state inspection tag-while two children with pinched faces, are eating their morning meal, a bottle of milk labeled formaldehyde conspicuously displayed on the table. The picture brings out forcibly the fact that while the state of Texas has a feed law which assures the purity of feed sold for live stock and provides for its proper inspection, it makes no provision for the protection of the babies against food adulterations. A dealer who sells impure hog feed subjects himself to heavy penalties, but he may sell food containing poisonous adulteratants for human consumption without fear of arrest. Holland's Magazine is making a strong campaign for the passage of pure food law by the next legislature and it publishes in its November issue a number of letters from Texas state senators and representatives indorsing

There seems to be a perennial interest in 'The Rubaiyat of Omar." Messrs, A. C. McClurg & Co., of Chicago have in press for early publication an entirely new metrical version prepared by Mr. George Roe, of San Antonio, well known in Texas as a distinguished Omarian scholar. It is of interest to know that Mr. Roe has just received a letter from Mr. Nathan Haskell Dole saying that M. Fernand Henry, the well known French author, has written him from Le Muy. France, concerning the forthcoming translation. The little book is to be issued in handsome style, with Persian decorations, and uniform with Shirazi's "Life of Omar," published by the same house last fall. It will be brought out simultaneously in England and in

A little book likely to provoke considerable discussion among medical men and others interested in preserving health is "Buff: A Tale for the Thoughtful," just published by Little, Brown & Co. The author's name is not given, but, instead, the word "by a Physiopath" appear on the title page, concealing, it is said, the identity of a well known Boston physician, who views life, medical theories and practice from the standpoint of nature and is intent in exposing the charlatan within and without the medical pro-

Mr. E. F. Benson before the public this fall with a new novel, entitled "Paul," published by the J. P. Lippincott Company. It is a modern love story, concerned mainly with the experiences of two high-spirited young people who do not discover that they were made for each other until an unhappy marriage has parted them. The tragic death of the husband still further estranges the lovers, but only for a time; and the ending is a happy one. One exceptionally powerful character distinguishes the book, which is thought to be the strongest and most human that the author of "Dodo." "The Image in the Sand," and "The Angel of Pain" has yet written.

Most Dangerous Building on Earth There is only one word-"hair-raising"-to apply to the article in Appleton's for November on "Life in a Smokeless Powder Mill." The author, A. W. Baker, says:

Whereas the volcano grumbles and rumbles and quakes, the earth giving ample warning to those above before belchi: forth its torrents of fire and lava, the powder mill is like a gigantic bomb filled with human creatures, loaded with tons upon tons of nitroglycerin and guncotton, primed and ready to explode from a score of known and unknown reasons. Sometimes when a "danger house" blows up, tearing men within to atoms, rending the building into match sticks, and gouging a gaping hole thirty feet across into rocks and gravel, it is impossible to tell even what caused the accident. ## COLONEL POOLE IN THE BOOMING WEST.

At I o'clock sharp Friday evening I | ishing up shearing and the wool is bade adieu to my friends in Juno and boarded the hurricane deck of the stage hack that runs daily each way from Ozona to Comstock on the Southern Pacific railroad, One can leave Comstock at 6 o'clock the morning and get into Ozona at 7 o'olock; leave Ozona at 6 o'clock in the morning and arrive at Comstock at 7 o'clock, a distance of ninety-five miles. So you see this country out here is not so far out of the world as you might suppose. The stockmen all have mail boxes on this mail line. The drivers drop their mail in the boxes as they pass, giving the ranchmen their mail every day if they take the trouble to come after it. However, some of them are much as fifteen miles away from their boxes. These stages go a "biling," the horses all know the mail boxes and seem glad for a minute's stop to oatch their breath. These drivers or conductors have no respect for stumps or rocks, run over anything that gets in their way in their mad rush for the next town: no time to waste. Uncle Sam expects them in on time with the mail; but I find them nice and polite and do all in their power to make passengers comfortable; ever ready to answer any and all questions about the country, people and stock. Our road led out of Juno up one prong of Devil's River, a northwest course up a beautiful valley from 400 yards to a mile and a half wide, shut in on both sides by high rocky hills or mountains for a distance of about twenty miles. These little mountains have a great deal of scrubby live oak, shin oak and cedar growing on them. The valley is perfectly smooth and level most of the way. I thought it the most beautiful scenery I ever saw in Texas. The grass is knee deep all over in this country; no water at all after leaving main Devil's River at June-only by wells. I did not see but five houses between Juno and Ozona. The stage horses are kept at camps, only a tent and horse corral, one man at each camp. He has the horses in readiness, all harnessed up, no time lost in changing teams. I asked one of these camp men if he did not get lonesome out here alone, He replied, "No only on Sunday. No one passes that day. I generally go upon the mountain and roll off big rocks most of the day to kill time." I said to him: "Why in thunder don't you get married?" He looked at me in astonishment a few seconds and replied: "A gal that was big enough fool to come out here to live I would not have and a dollar besides." We got up on the high divide about half way between Juno and Ozona, a level country. I have not seen such splendid grass in all my rambles over Texas. It is simply immense; looks like a cow, horse or sheep had never taken a bite off of it. Clean thru to within seven or eight miles of Ozona the conditions are the same. The wind got up a little, which was cold and disagreeable to me, and I was real cold before we got in at 7 o'clock, conductor called out, "Ozona hotel!" after a fifty-mile ride. To say I was tired, cold and hungry is putting it mildly. Kids like myself can't stand these long rides like grown folks, If it had not been that the roads were smooth and nice I would not have been able to get to the supper table. I presume the landlady thought I had not had anything to eat in two days from the way I hid away that good grub, for I was sure hungry; eating is a long suit with me, anyway. I tarried here three days with the brethren Saturday, Sunday and Monday. A number of my old-time friends greeted me here, among them J. M. Shannon, Bill Coats, Thomas Nolen, J. B. Christian, W. R. Baggett, T. A. Kincaid, J. B. Moore, Dan W. McKay, Jim Moore, Chris Meineke, W. E. Friend, Roy Hudspeth, A. M. Buck, Claude Hudspeth, Judge Davidson, C. C. Hartley, all prosperous ranchers. They all report stock in fine condition. Ozona is a nice, quiet town and is improving right along; a good school, 230 pupils, five teachers; three churches, two newspapers, an ice and electric plant that cools and lights up the town. The water here is superb, and is pumped by windmills; no surface water in this country. This town is situated on Johnson's Run, a tributary of the Devil's river. All the ranches in this country depend on windmills for water. I noticed a few cane patches which are making fine feed. The steer trade in this vicinity has been lively the last six weeks at good prices, $18 to $20 for 2-year-olds and $13 for yearlings. I met two fat-stuff buyers here who are paying from #14 to $18 per head for moving toward San Angelo in great shape. I counted eleven six-mule teams in one bunch, loaded to the guards with the big wool sacks. One not accustomed to seeing such outfits would have concluded, seeing them at a distance, that it was great loads of hay coming. Always two wagons to six mules. While here I had the pleasure of stopping at the Ozona hotel, operated by Mrs. A. M. Buck, who, by the way, is an elegant lady. Her tables are loaded with something good for the traveling public; nice clean beds and nice attentions. Her two pretty daughters, Miss Lee and Euda, are elegant young ladies, just budding into womanhood. Mrs. Buck is sister-inlaw to Mrs. R. L. Dunman of Coleman. The Buck and Dunman families are noted for pretty young women. I always thought Miss Zoe Dunman one of the prettiest young women in all Texas and the Misses Buck are the very image of Miss Zoe. The stockmen here report all kinds of stock in fine shape and will all go into the winter fat. At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning I boarded the mail hack that runs daily each way between Ozona and San Angelo, distance eighty-five miles, making connection here with the Comstock and Sheffield mail hacks. This line is owned and operated by James M. Lackey, an oldtime friend of mine. This is the best equipped line in all Texas; yes, the best set of horses I ever saw on a stage line. Not one of them is worth less than $100. Our road led out north, up the Johnson's draw, for ten miles, then getting up on the divide between Spring creek and Johnson's draw. This is a beautiful country, grass splendid, stock fat . We passed the 09 ranch, and one among the best ranches in this county, owned by Mr. Montague, an old Missourian. He bought this ranch a few years ago at low figures. Now it is worth more than double what he paid for it.

in Irion county. This is a very pretty country. All these valleys are very rich lands, and will in the near future pass into the hands of farmers who are now invading this county to stay. Spring Creek is a tributary of the Concho river and is fed by everlasting springs and run all the year round, which irrigates several hundred acres in and near Sherwood. This is said to be one among the finest streams in all Texas for fish. Bass, perch and channel or forked-tail cat, all game fish, are in abundance. Very little change has taken place since I used to cow hunt all over this country twenty years only, only it is now all fenced into pastures. Then it was all open range. But the hig ranches are rapidly drawing to a close and in a few years all this vast country will be a stock farming country, owned by a class which will feed and finish up their stuff ready for the market. Land is advancing rapidly in price. John Ryburn has moved all his stock to New Mexico and will put all his lands on the market to actual settlers at once. I understand he has something over one hundred thousand acres and a great deal of it is fine farming lands. At 1:30 o'clock the driver called out the Lewis hotel, and I rolled out, hungry as a wolf, after a ride of fiftyfive miles. I did not notice but five houses in sight of the road after leaving Ozona until we reached the underskirts of Sherwood, which is the seat of government of Irlon county. I had the pleasure of shaking hands here with a number of old-time friends, among them Tol Rutledge, the high lord sheriff of the county; Fayetts Tankersley, Bill Lackey, W. C. Castleberry, C. W. Howe, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carson, Mrs. Mary Lewis and last but not least, Thomas Stonehouse. He was with Quantrell, Darn Poole, George Todd and Bill Anderson during those trying days of the war between the north and south. No truer or braver man ever laid a leg across a saddle than Thomas Stonehouse. I know what I am talking about, for I have seen him tried. He is now and has been ever since Irion county was organized, the county treasurer. He was 77 years of age the 17th day of last March, making him 7 years older than I am, as we were born on the same day of the month. All honor to old Tom Stonehouse, the brave old Confederate veteran, an honest Christian gentleman. And I must not forget Walker and Springfield, who are now readers of The Journal. They are the leading real estate dealers of Irion county. They are nice, reliable gentlemen. Anyone wishing to buy or know anything about lands in this county should call on or write them here.

Passing down off the divide we

This county is coming to the front as a farming county. Fayette Tankersley, the successful ranchman, has in cultivation two miles out from town 150 acres, which he says is a paying investment. It amused me to hear an old cow puncher like him talking cotton, corn and other feedstuffs. He is quite wealthy now, having been ranching in Tom Green county twenty-five years. He said: "All of us old cowpunchers have got to farm more or less in the future. No use to let all this good land grow nothing but grass, and besides, I want my boys to all learn to plow and learn the value of a dol-

"I have got your gait," and in a few minutes we were driving over his beautiful irrigated farm, a half mile from town. He has fifty acres under ditch in a fine state of cultivation. I had seen at the San Angelo fair his display of farm products and was a little curious to know whether he had only selected the best of everything grown. He has twenty acres of corn that I am sure will make eighty bushels an acre. It reminded me of old Lafayette county, Missouri, corn. He, too, is a Missourian. His sweet potatoes, cabbage, tomatoes, beets, onions, beans; in fact, everything in the way of garden truck, is very fine. But of all the product of that farm the ribbon cane takes the cake. It is fully ten feet tall, very thick on the ground, the stalks are very large. If I was to tell you the size people would not be-lieve it because I am telling of West Texas, I like the way he has his ditches arranged-all run square with the field, not anti-gobbling like many farms I have seen. He cuts his alfalfa and Johnson grass four times a year, raises two crops of Irish potatoes each year. I said to him:

"I'm hungry; I smell that dinner."
Mrs. Howe extended me a hearty welcome, saying: "I am glad to see you once more. Wash your dirty face and hands; dinner is now on the table." What I did the next few minutes to the sweet potatoes, roast beef, fried chicken, pumpkin pies, ribbon cane molasses, preserves and jellies can well be imagined, all made from the fruit and garden on the farm. This is what I would call living at home and boardbocker is across the high divide between Spring and Dove creeks, most of the way rocky and rough, fit only for grazing purposes a distance of twelve miles. The valley lands on Dove creek are like Spring creek-rich and fertile. Considerable farming is being done up and down this creek. The best cotton I have seen this year is in the valley near Knickerbocker. I am sure it will make a bale an acre, and it takes mighty good cotton to make that much. It is a beautiful country lying between Knickerbocker and San Angelo, only a few farms to be seen on the route. However, all that I saw had splendid crops. Almost all of the land is in large pastures. I want to call the attention of the stockmen to the great danger of fires. With the tremendous coat of grass all over this western country, if fire should get started it would be an impossibility to put it out of business. Hence all campers should be warned about letting fire get started from camps, and this is the way most of the fires get

Again Thursday morning I boarded the Sterling City mail hack at 7 o'clock, headed for Sterling City, forty-four miles to the west. Our road led up the beautiful North Concho river valley, never further than a mile from the river and in three or four places within 100 yards of the river. One can always locate where the river runs by the banks on each side, heavily timbered with immense pecan trees. Most of the valleys have a fine growth of mesquite timber, which all Texans know grows but ten to twenty-five feet tall. It is the best of fire wood and the ranchmen use it for fence posts. It is a good substitute for cedar or Bois d'Arc, lasts quite a long time as fence posts.

We arrived at Water Valley, the halfway ground, at 12 o'clock sharp, and I at once made a bee line for Mrs. Murray's hotel. I always like to dine there, as she always has something good and puts it all on the table, and if you do not get filled up it is your own

I had the pleasure of spending the night with my old-time friend at his beautiful home two miles from town, Joe B. Johnson. He is an old Lafay-ette county, Missouri, man. I note many changes in Sterling county since I was here last. The man with the hoe has demonstrated that this, too, is a farming as well as a stock country. One year ago a company was formed here of stockmen and business men and agreed to build a gin at this place, provided the farmers and stockmen would agree to plant 1,800 acres to cotton. Last winter the gin was build and has already ginned over 1,000 bales. The road was lined between here and San Angelo with freight wagons, hauling cotton. The feed crop in this county is superb. Cane, dwarf milo maize, kaffir corn is in abundance on all sides, garden truck off all kinds grows to perfection here now. All the grocery stores were loaded with all kinds of vegetables grown here and the cotton seed comes in very handy for the stockmen. I met a number of The Journal readers here and one and all are pleased with the paper. I desire to thank L. E. Dupree, Bill Kellis, J. M. Edwards, J. T. Davis, Joe Clifton, T. A. Bomar and A. C. #### OUR LAY SERMON

"They say" is a liar; avoid him as a monster grim and repellant.

"They say" are the most dangerous words in the dictionary. The slanderer, the backbiter, the gossiper, the defamer of private honor and public reputation hide behind their indeterminate mask. None ever stop to think who "they" are-all inclusive, comprehensive "they," who relieve the malicious purveyor of the slander from a personal responsibility, which is really all the greater for his reputation of baseless rumor. How many lives are blighted, how many characters ruined. and careers befouled by the merciless shafts of what "they say."

It is not the weapon of the public prosecutor, who bases his accusation upon personal testimony, but is the dagger of the moral mafia, who stabs in the darkof the lurking assassin, who fires the deadly bullet from the cover of some sheltering tree trunk. In the small talk of the drawing room, where the scalpel is applied unsparingly to the character of absentees-in he political arena where ambition urges the wretched rictims voluntarily into the paws of contending jackals -in the marts of trade and industry, where the money-mad gladiators rend each other in the flerce fight for supremacy, "they say" is one of the weapons

most barbed with venom. Often used innocently, "without thinking," it is none the less a malevolent power that all lovers of justice, man to man, will avoid. Scandals most atrocious and libels most outrageous are often originated in what "they say," and are given semblance of dignity by being repeated by persons of known probity and fairness. As a rule it is safe to ignore or to investigate closely what "they say" before it is repeated.-Little Rock Democrat.

"They say" has wrecked more homes and ruined rore human lives than almost any other agency that can be called to mind. There is a whisper of some kind started in the community which gains in volume as it travels until it assumes all the force of a wild mountain torrent in a mad and tumultuous rush to the sea. It covers and engulfs all that it comes in contact with and leaves a sediment of pollution that can never be successfully overcome.

And "they say" is the invisible power that serves to sweep it along. Some of the best people in the community, who would feel it an insult to be designated as scandalmongers and underhand gossipers, are the ones who unwittingly, perhaps, add to the ferce of the torrent. They do not take the time to investigate the truth of mere rumor, put pass it on with the remark "they say" that such is the case, and in this way the thing that has absolutely no sense of verification and is wholly devoid of responsibility, is repeated and handed along until it becomes accepted as an unvarnished and undeniable truth.

"They say" is a prevarieator of the first water and the meanest liar on the whole broad face of the earth. But there is no way of reaching "they say." There is no one willing to assume responsibility for "they say's" actions. Pin the party down who is industriously retailing these reports and you can obtain nothing that savors of satisfaction. He or she does not know where the saying originated. They do not know who "they say" is, but are content to roll along the morsel of scandal without care for the consequences.

And this whispering of names, businesses and reputations away in such reckless style is one of the most truly reprehensible habits any of us can form. There is nothing to be gained from it. It does not put one dollar in the pocket or add one iota to the measure of your happiness. It is an idle and vicious habit that each of us should strive manfully to overcome. It shows truly that the unoccupied mind is the devil's workshop, and there is a call to all to get busy along more honorable and legitimate lines.

"They say" rarely says anything good. The man cr woman who starts a good report is always proud to stand in the limelight as its originator. It is only 1 in life, and the couple who would forego the pleasures calumniator and traducer-the character assassin who starts forth the deadly whisper under the cloak of "they say." None of us can afford to remain in this false light. None of us can afford to stand in the light of a character assassin. When "they say" begins to discharge venom in our neighborhood let's move out. Let's get in a clearer and purer atmosphere and try to treat our neighbor as we would have that neighbor treat us. Lets get above this groveling in the mire of bearing false witness and strive to help instead of pull down our fellow man.

"They say" will not help us to do this. We must put "they say" entirely out of our lives and keep it out. Man made after the image of his Creator has a nobler mission in life than to degenerate into a companion for or a mouthpiece for "they say."

THE TEST OF TRUE DEMOCRACY

The elections are over and the political excitement that has been felt thruout the country will now lie down and the people settle down to business until there is another call to political arms. Two years from now we will be going thru the same kind of an experience, for it makes no difference which one of the great political parties is successful, the fight must be fought over biennially. The political demagogues must be listened to while they rant and rave over the necessity for saving the country, and the people must choose out of the available material that which they believe to be best suited for the purpose. This government of ours is after all but a great democracy, where the will of the people is presumed to be supreme. Oliver Wendell Holmes, the genial humorist, once compared Democratic government to a cumbersome raft, big encugh for everybody to get on, but unwieldy and sometimes unsteerable; seaworthy enough in fair weather, but with a likelihood of the passengers getting wet when the waves rell high. The Boston Traveler

Yet, after all, this is a very serious matter, this of government by democracy. Its real test and expression is, however, not to be found in the hurrahs, spontaneous or otherwise, attendant upon the heat and fury of the political campaign. Here the demagogue may thrive temporarily and fatten. Here the skillfully devised stage setting may for the time bewilder and confuse. Here the plea of the partisan may have its short-lived triumph. But back of all this is the potential judgment of the great mass of the people, a judgment to the formation of which every institution of learning has contributed, which has been built up from a thousand personal discussions, which is the product of republican institutions, which is not carried away by personal ambitions or appeals to the gal-

The purely political machinery has fortunately comparatively little to do with the shaping of this judgment. It cannot, in the long run, disguise the true character of those who are seeking mublic office. However cleverly manipulated, its transformation scenes can only catch the public eye for the moment, cannot permanently disguise the background.

The hope of true democracy, then, is not to be found in the cavorting of agile politicians, whose verbal flexibility is not infrequently in inverse proportion to their mental and moral stamina. It comes rather from the united judgment of the great mass of the rank and file upon whom the tumult and the tom-tom beating of the campaign falls like the noise of a circus parade, a giddy passing show, but not having much significance or bearing upon the responsible duties of Convictions worth having are born of experience; of conclusions arrived at after the weighing and measurement of arguments which appeal to the cool reasoning faculties. Some men, it is true, are like sheep who jump into strange fields behind a reckless and irresponsible leader, and may be quickened in this course by the strange devices incident to a political campaign, but it is the hope, pride and glory of our republic that the great majority, after all, think for themselves and are not lured by the tinkling of cymbals or the thumping of drums away from the exercise of their own faculties.

It is the best of omens for a triumphant democracy that it bears so equably the tantrums of the demagogue and the affliction of the riot of the rostrum. The shouting dies and men go about their business and continue to uphold the social order which, however much it may be indicted, yet shows the best results for the common folk of any that the world has yet

There are many people who come to this country and cannot understand our political methods. They see us flying at one another's throats in a political sense, only to strike hands and be the best of friends after the polls are closed. They do not realize the real emptiness of our political battles, wherein all the guns from the largest to the least are only charged with wind. They cannot understand how rascals such as we paint each other in political campaigns can be permitted to run at large, much less run this great and glorious government. But that makes no difference to the American people. We go on year after year in the same old procedure, giving and taking all the political abuse possible, and it makes no difference which party is successful, the people enjoy the same blessings of good government continually. We differ as to names, and we howl over the other fellow's mistakes, but when we land in the official chair things go on just as they did before while we receive the howls and derisions of the fellow we have displaced. It is a great country and a great political system we have, and both are the wonder and admiration of the civilized world.

MAKE A HOME

How every true man and women loves the name of

How they pity those who, from force of circumstances, must board, even temporarily.

Every newly married couple should set up an establishment for themselves, no matter how small it

Here they must become acquainted with each other; here they may spat and kiss, without comment or advice from outsiders, for, safe to say, there will be more disagreements and misunderstandings, more tears, more heartaches, the first year than any one year after; so, by all means, live alone the first year.

No matter how long, nor how well, the couple may have known each other before marriage, it is a strange new path that they must travel now-they must adjust themselves to each other's peculiarities; figure out for themselves the ever-perplexing question of dollars and cents, and maybe, teach a turkey appetite to render a thankful "Amen" after a bacon sufficiency.

To each one will sometimes come this question: "Did I make a mistake in marryin?" Let us hope that love and faith make answer: "All is well," and that these little differences, with their necessary explanations will pave the way to complete understanding and perfect trust, and that the second year, a loving glance, a gentle handclasp or a smile, will take the place of the tearful explanations of the past, Do not cheat yourself out of the pleasure and luxury of owning your own home—the fact that it is cheaper counts little beside the increased happiness it brings

TEXAS BREEDERS INVADING MEXICO

The breeders of registered cattle in Texas are very ensibly turning their attention to the outlet afforded by the republic of Mexico for the surplus they are annually turning out. Mexican ranchmen are just now beginning to turn their attention to the necessary improvement of their cattle, and are purchasing considerable fine breeding stock in Texas. At the San Antonio fair there has been a very considerable disposition manifested on the part of Texas breeders to cultivate closer relations with the Mexican cattle interests. Colonel I. M. Forbes, of Henry, Ill., who judged the Shorthorns at the recent Dallas fair, says:

"There were cattle at San Antonio that would have made a creditable showing in any show ring in the world. I say this not for currying favor with the breeders, for I believe I have the honor of numbering all of them among my list of good friends, but I say it because these Texas breeders are a wide-awake set of men and have ideals which cannot fail to bring the success to which they aspire. These gentlemen are strongly inclined toward a live stock show in Mexico, and as a director of the National or American association, I feel that I can say they will get all the encouragement they desire. We breeders up North are aware that the more business the Texas breeders do with Mexico the more business we will be able to do with them. There is no occasion to carry the war into South America or any other unoccupied field until Mexico has become imbued with the necessity of using only registered bulls. It is an undertaking that promises equally as much financial gain to the Mexicans as it does to Texas. Texas is a great state and South Texas is an ideal breeding ground for cattle to supply the territory of Mexico that lies within the tick infested area, while porth Texas can comfortably provide for that portion of the republic which lies above the fever line."

It is quite probable that the live stock show for Mexico will be arranged for at an early date.

When you help bring a factory to Fort Worth you are adding to the tip bucket brigade, and every member of the tin bucket brigade is a town and city builder. Fort Worth needs many thousand more of their kind and no effort should be spared to obtain

The fact that Candidate Hearst ran considerably behind the democratic ticket in New York is pretty conclusive evidence that his nomination was a grave mistake. But the fact still remains that Hearst was the democratic nominee and as such was entitled to the full support of his party.

Texas returns an unbroken democratic congressional delegation to Washington, and it is composed of men who are in every instance well worthy to represent their people.

If you are a loyal son of Fort Worth you will fall in line and help along the fund that is being raised to bring factories to this city. Don't wait to be buttonholed by the soliciting committee.

Chairman Cecil Lyon may not have succeeded in purifying the republican party in Texas, but there is no question but that he has clarified it to a very satisfactory extent.

Factories are the one thing that will make Fort Worth grow faster than any other city in Texas, and every citizen of Fort Worth is vitally interested in the campaign for more factories. Colonel Tom Campbell should remember there are thousands of anxious Texas democrats waiting to hear a summons to the pie counter. He should make the agony just as short as possible.

It is Governor Campbell now, and Colonel Tom will have nothing more to do now but take the oath of office and settle down to four years' occupancy of the gubernatorial chair at Austin.

The vote in Texas this year was much lighter than was generally expected, but 150,000 democratic majerity is not bad, even for Texas.

The Fort Worth Telegram remarks that "The bonds of matrimony are not always gilt-edged securities." Sometimes they bear a wonderful resemblance to worthless mining stock and with about as much to show for it .- Denison Herald.

BRAVERY BY WIRE

A Chicago lawyer gives an interesting instance of vicarious valor on the part of a sheriff in South Da-

It appears that near a large town in that state & party of Italian "squatters" had resisted the efforts of the deputy sheriff to oust them. The latter at once telegraphed the sheriff, who was in another part of the state, asking for instructions, and saying that the 'squatters" had threatened to shoot him, the deputy sheriff, in the back, if he showed his face in that

Very soon there came a wire from the sheriff, reading as follows:

"If these ruffians think I am to be scared by their threats, they mistake their man. I defy their vengeance. Consequently, you will at once chase them away and show them that I despise their measly th eats."

. . . . ADVANTAGES DESCRIBED

In Georgia there was lately tried a case, says an Atlanta lawyer, in which the defendant's character having been impeached, it was sought to bolster it up by showing that he had reformed and joined the church. The witness, who belonged to the same church, insisted tlat as the defendant was now a Christian man, his character was of course better

Counsel asked him: "Doesn't he drink just as much as ever he did?"

The witness, who colored and evidenced other signs of embarrassment at this direct question, finally raised his eyes and with much deliberation replied:

"I think he do, but he carries it more better."

0 0 0 0 RICHARD'S VICTORY

Two brothers, aged 9 and 10, respectively, pupils in public school of Washington, were recently absent for period of two weeks. When the elder of the boys returned to his class he brought a note from his father stating that the cause of the absence of his "Where's your brother Dick?" asked the teacher.

"Is he still sick?" "Yes, ma'am," replied the pupil, "he's still in bed

* * * * PATIENT HAD NO CHANCE

Mr. S., while away on his vacation last summer, was suddenly taken very ill. His wife seeing no sign of improvement in his condition after being treated by the only physician of which the town boasted, sent to a neighboring town for a consultant. The physiclans disagreed as to the nature of the patient's illness. Finally the consultant declared:

"Very well, have it your own way now; but the post-mortem will show that I am right!"

. . . . SENATORIAL APPETITE

It is said that corned-beef hash as made by Senator Hanna's cook was very popular in Washington several years ago. When the head waiter of the senate restaurant wanted hash prepared very carefully, he ordered it this way:

"One corned-beef hash for Senator Hanna."

One day, when the restaurant was doing a heavy business, almost everybody seemed to want cornedbeef hash. "Corned-beef hash for Senator Hanna" had been ordered fourteen times. When the fifteenth order went down to the kitchen, the chef shouted:

"That's fifteen orders for Senator Hanna! He'd better watch out or he'll founder himself."

* * * * AS A LAST EXTREME

Once a number of legal lights in Washington were gathered in the smoking room of a lawyer's club, when the talk turned to a discussion of the veracity of lawyers. "The average man," remarked one disciple of Blackstone, "seems only too ready to assume we are all liars-a very unjust position, it seems to me. Do we not sometimes tell the truth?" he asked of his neighbor, a well known criminal lawyer.

"Certainly," promptly responded the latter. "We will do anything sometimes to win a case,"

$\diamond$ $\diamond$ $\diamond$ THE REAL THING

A good story is told at the expense of a Wall street man, who once suddenly evinced a great interest in nautical matters, and who in some manner, despite his inexperience in this regard, was made the commodore of a yacht club in Maine, where the financier spends a short vacation each summer,

One day, it is said, the newly fledged yachtsman shouted to an officer of a certain craft, "Have you weighed anchor?"

"Yes. sir." "Then," thundered the new commodore, "why the deuce don't you announce the weight?"

COUNSEL'S REQUEST HONORED

Governor Folk once told of a lawyer in Arkansas who was defending a young man of malodorous record. Ignoring the record, however, the counsel proceeded to draw a harrowing picture of the white-haired, aged father in St. Louis, awaiting anxiously the return of the prodigal son to spend the Christmas holidays with him. "Have you the heart," declaimed the lawyer to "to deprive the poor old man of this happi-

The jury, however, found the prisoner guilty. Before passing sentence the judge called for the prisoner's jail record, and, after a careful examination of the same, he blandly observed:

"I find that this prisoner has some five previous convictions against him. Nevertheless, I am happy to rtate that the learned counsel's eloquent appeal will not remain unanswered, for I shall commit the prisoner to the Little Rock jail, where, at the present moment, his aged parent is serving a term of ten years, so that father and son will be enabled to pass the ensuing

WANT A CITY HALL

Bond Issue Possible if Population Is

North Fort Worth wants a city hall. While no active steps have been taken to secure it, it is being talked on the streets and in business circles, and the sentiment in favor of such an undertaking appears to be general. The council meetings and corporation courts are held in a room rented in the Rosen Inn building, for some time. But the needs of a city hall are becoming greater each day. Just what steps will be taken, or how soon, cannot be forecast, but it may be said that something will be done within a

Those who are thoroly familiar with the financial condition of North Fort say it is the wealthiest city to its size in the state, when its indebtedness is considered. The two bond issues that have been made were both for needed public improvements-one for the water works system and the other for the public school building. The revenue from the water works is ample to pay the interest on the bonds and provide for a sinking fund with which to take up the coupons when they come due, as well as to meet the expenses of maintaining it. The school tax is also sufficient to meet the demands in that direction. Thus the only two bond issues are self sustaining and are really no burden to the city. The funds necessary for building a city hall could be raised thru another bond

TRYING TO COLLECT DELINQUENT TAXES

Back Taxes of North Fort Worth Are $1,183.54

City Assessor and Collector W. E. Sandsberry of North Fort Worth says that the payment of city taxes is now almost at a standstill. For the month of October the collections were good. as all the corporations and many private citizens took advantage of the 2 per cent discount allowed by a resolution of the city council to all who pay before Dec. 1. Soon as the tax rolls were ready, on Oct. 1, the payment began, and by the close of that month about one-fourth of the taxes had been

The tax payment has now apparently narrowed down to the small property owners, and they are paying slow. property is listed as "unknown," and the occupants of the premises really do not know that they are to pay. The frequent change of title to much of the keeping a complete abstract of the property, and when sales are made by real estate dealers and agents they are not reported to the assessor. This is one cause of the incomplete records of the assessment rolls. This in time, however, will all be straightened out, and the records made complete, but it will entail a great amount of labor in order to accomplish it. The delinquent taxes up to Nov. 1 for North Fort Worth city is $22.98 on 1903 rolls, $195.23 on 1904 rolls and $966.33 on 1905 rolls, making a total of $1,183.54. There is no ordinance that will permit the property to be advertised and sold, as is usually provided, but of course in time this may be collected. But it is not deemed necessary for North Fort Worth to bring suit against any property owner in order to enforce the collection of taxes. If it is made known to the property owners that conditions exist as they do, it is thought, Mr. Sandsberry says, that the delinquents will pay un.

Upon approaching the vehicle Mr. Maner saw the form of a man partly hidden under a sheet. It presented

A Long Felt Want

Recognizing the need of the North Fort Worth citizen, Mr. Nathan Ladon, the up-to-date men's furnisher and hatter, located at 602 Main street for the past year or more, has opened a branch store in North Fort Worth, between Twelfth street and Central avenue, duplicating every article and goods that he carries in his elegant downtown store. Mr. Ladon has thru his integrity, incessant push and careful buying, built up a business in almost less than a year, such as others nave taken years to do. Careful judgment in selection of men's wear, get. ting the real article of best qualities, that please and give entire satisfaction for the least money, has done the work. The best motto is "The price of an article is often forgotten when the quality always remains." Therefore, his method of "Satisfaction or Your Money Back," is a substantial and certainly satisfactory guarantee.

Mr. Ladon will endeavor to carry at all times a full line of union-made goods, Hats, Caps, Men's Pants, etc. All he asks is a visit to his new North Fort Worth store, and he will convince you of the good values he has to deal out to his trade, Carrying a complete line any article in the line of men's wear can be seen in his store. There were only a few matters aside from the routine work that demanded the meeting was turned into a social affair and a most enjoyable time fol-

Some interesting features were introduced, which were distinctly original. One of the most amusing was the baby picture prize contest. Many of the ladies had photos of themselves when they were babies, and these were placed together in a basket. Then each took the pictures, not knowing who they were, only having the resemblance of the grown-up woman to judge by, and to the one making the greatest number of correct guesses was to be given a prize. In this contest Mrs. F. P. Hopkins was the win-

There were some present who failed to produce a photo of themselves when a baby. So these were required to draw as nearly as possible a likeness of what they thought they looked like when a babe. With the opening of the season they are of fine quality, but are still high in price, ranging from 10 to 15 cents a quart, But pumpkin pies will be cheap, as that vegetable is good at 10 to 20 cents a piece. It will be impossible to supply the demand this year for nuts of nearly every kind. Pecans are not to be found, as the crop is a failure. Even at 25 cents a pound a supply of English walnuts will be quite limited. The Italian chestnuts are here at 20 cents a pound, New California figs are now to be had at 15 cents a pound package. Resulting from an abundant crop, the best grade of apples are to be had at 50 cents a peck, with California grapes at 121/2 cents a pound, and pop corn at 81/2 cents a pound. The first of the Concord grapes are still selling at 25 cents for a 3-pound basket and there are many baskets of California plums at 10 cents a dozen.

There is practically no change in price in the vegetable line in products which have been here for some time past. California ripe tomatoes are selling at 121/2 cents a pound and the green tomatoes at 40 cents a peck These prices have advanced slightly. Sweet potatoes are of good quality at 60 cents; carrots at 40 cents a dozen in bunch; onions are selling for 65 and 75 cents, and turnips 30 to 35 cents a bushel. Practically all of the potatoes marketed here are from Colorado and are good at $1.10 a bushel. The supply is good here, altho the northern states will suffer later by the shortage of the potato crop in Wisconsin and Minnesota resulting from the early killing frosts. Lemons are cheaper this season and are of fair quality at 30 cents a dozen. Eggs are selling at 25 to 30 cents a dozen and butter at 30 to 35 cents a There is an abundance of turnip and mustard greens, lettuce and green onions on the market at 5 cents a bunch, and cabbage is bringing 4 cents

SERVICES DISTURBED

Citizens Will Enforce Laws Against Sunday Hunting

Stringent enforcement of the state and county laws governing hunting and shooting on Sunday is the determination of Riverside citizens, and a committee composed of several prominent citizens, lead by J. B. Baker and others, has been appointed to see that speedy arrests are made of all persons violating the law. It is said that in view of the fact that game is in abundance in this east side vicinity, many Sunday hunters have interrupted church services each Sunday since the opening of the season.

There is a Texas law which prohibits hunting on Sunday. In part it

"Act No. 196. Any person who shall hereafter labor, or compel, force or oblige his employes, workmen or apprentices to labor on Sunday, or any person who shall hereafter hunt game of any kind whatsoever on Sunday within one-half mile of any church school house or private residence, shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars."

An English Author Wrote:

"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves-November!" Many Americans would add no freedom from catarra, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes con-stantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease-Catarrh.

DR. MILLER, SPECIALIST

703 Main St., Near 6th St., Fort Worth, Texas

J. L. MILLER, M. D.

703 Main St., near Sixth, Fort Worth, Tex. to health and happiness.

DR. MILLER'S ANNOUNCEMENT: I earnestly request an interview with every sufferer from any deep-seated chronic diseases for which they have been unable to find a cure. I have devoted many years to the study and treatment of nervous, chronic and special diseases and offer to the sick and afflicted my services as Specialist in this line of diseases. Consultation, examination and advice will cost you nothing.

I do not profess to cure all diseases, but I do feel that my ability and qualifications enable me to treat with success, any nervous and special diseases. The efficacy of my newly discovered and perfected methods has been proven, and my experience with this class of diseases, toether with my financial standing, the permanency of my location and the endorsements of the many whom I have cured and brought back

I want you to give me an opportunity to tell you what I know about Chronic diseases, of my methods of treatment and the way of doing business, which has enabled me to establish a reputation and practice, which I believe is second to none in this country, which extends to all parts of the southern and western states. I do not treat all diseases. My entire time and abilities are devoted to Chronic Diseases of both Men and Women-those diseases that do not keep a person in bed, but which gradually make inroads upon their system until they are unfit for both business and pleasure. They are a constant handicap and if neglected or treated mproperly, reflex complications, involving the entire system usually result.

Read carefully what follows. If you have any of the diseases mentioned call and see me. You cannot afford to neglect yourself longer, or do still worse, place yourself in incompetent hands. As a proof of my ability to cure disease and of my reliability, I can refer you to the large number of years I have been established here, and to the hundreds of letters of indorsement I have on file from people I have cured. If I had conducted my practice on other than legitimate and professional lines, or if I had not CURED MY PATRONS. I Could not have remained here any length of time.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

also known as Nervous Debility, Nervo-Vital Debility, Neurasthenia, etc. If you have any symptoms of this disease, such as loss of energy and ambition, vitality, easily fatigued, dull, listless feeling, nervousness, emissions, and other symptoms, I want you to be sure and call. I have given this condition in men special study and I unhesitatingly say that my treatment is not excelled by any other specialist regardless of what they claim. I know what I have accomplished in even the most severe cases-letters of indorsement on file, and there is no reason to believe that I cannot cure YOU also. Remember by calling you do not obligate yourself to take treatment.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES

Any disorder of the kidneys and bladder, no matter w slight, should be treated by an expert specialist. Paient medicines and treatment of inexperienced doctors cannot be depended upon to cure them, which you no doubt have found out if you have been afflicted for any length of time.

Too frequnt desire to urinate, retention of or too profuse, sediment or brick dust, burning, scalding sensation, highly colored urine, pains in the back, dry, pale, waxy skin, etc., are symptoms that should not be neglected for a moment, If you call I will make a careful, expert chemical and microscopical examination -an absolute test-without charge, and give you information and advice of value.

SPECIFIC BLOOD POISON

This, as you doubtless know, is the worst disease that afflicts mankind having not only wrecked the lives of thousands of men, but women and children as well. If you have any of its symptoms you cannot afford to neglect them for a moment. Rash or copper colored spots, running sores, pimples, ulcers in the mouth and throat, on face, hands and other parts of the body, falling out of hair and eyebrows, are all unmistakable signs of this dreaded disease. I have cured cases of Blood Poison after Hot Springs had failed, and if you call I will make a careful expert examination of your case and tell you positively whether or not the disease is present, and if so I am prepared to give you he best treatment in existence.

STRICTURE—VARICOCELE

the most painful and dangerous diseases mankind is subject to, Stricture, if neglected or improperly treated, will completely derange the entire Genito-Urinary System, causing severe kidney and bladder dis-Varicocele will bring about nervous exhaustion or lost vitality. Both require expert treatment,

My method of treatment for these diseases is absolutely the most skillful and scientific known to medical science. I do not use the knife or other harsh means in either case. I have cured some of the most severe and difficult cases. My wide experience has given me a thoro knowledge of these diseases, and I can understand a case and treat it correctly from the beginning

NOT A DOLLAR NEED BE PAID UNTIL CURED.

I cure with the same guarantee of success all Chronic Diseases of Men, such as Kidney Bladder and Urinary Troubles, Drains, Losses, Unnatural Discharges, Hydrocele, Rupture, Ulcers and Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, Eczema, Catarrhal Affections, Piles and Fistula, and all Nervous, Chronic and Private Diseases.

Come to me in the strictest confidence. I have been exclusively treating Nervous and Chronic Diseases for years, and nothing science can devise or money can buy is lacking in my office equipment. I will treat you skillfully and restore you to health in the shortest length of time possible in accordance with scientific methods of treatment.

WRITE-Cases not too complicated treated at home. If you cannot call, write for information regarding home treatment. Examination and advice free. Consultation free, either at office or by mail. Hours:8 to 12:30; 1:30 to 5:30; evening, 6:30 to 8; Sunday, 9 to 1.

TROUBLE

Florian Amidon, a rich young banker of Hazelhurst (a middle western American town) decides to take a day off from business and indulge in his favorite hobby, photography. He takes the afternoon train and after alighting at a junction, dozes off to sleep andwakes up in a Pullman car to find himself known as Eugene Brassfield, wealthy oil operator, New York cluban, engaged to an attractive young an, and involved in a mass of iness of which he is ignorant, while year is five years later than the n which he started his journey. airvoyant to whom he applies for d in solving his mystery is assisted by a hypnotist who puts Amidon in a nce, and while in that state his nitity as Brassfield becomes normal. From conversations taken down in and, during his hypnotic state, Amidon learns something of the business affairs of Brassfield, and with this meager help he is enabled to pre-serve something of Brassfield's position, the often sadly bewildered. He finds himself involved in a complex electric traction deal, the details also learns that his victory in a suit involving valuable property hinges on happenings of a date prior to his existence as Eugene Brassfield.

"Do you suppose he has it yet?" she ounds so sort of parliamentary and ot and comforting!" "It does," agreed Amidon, "especial-in view of the fact that I believe I'm beaten anyhow. Judge Blodgett thinks I am, and Mr. Alvord-"

"Poor Jim Alvord!" interposed Eliz-"His wife says he would desert his family for you.' "For Brassfield, she means," said Amidon, "It is really not the same thing, dear. But I was saving that even he half confesses defeat. I've made an awful mess of this thing, Elizabeth, on account of not really knowing anything of the people or their opinions or desires. Even that platform of ours couldn't pull us thru. No wisdom-and I haven't muchcould keep a man from making blunders when he went out to do things for himself, knowing nothing of the situation except what he got from his inner consciousness, and from what he was told. A political situation is too delicately balanced for that. If I had done nothing, I should have remained undeservedly popular and reaped the reward of Brassfield's cunning and hypocrisy-don't stop me, please! But you and I tried to impose righteousness on the people from the outside and above. It never comes in that way, but always from the inside and below, like lilies from the mud. I'm really a most unpopular few who still believe me dishonest, and will desert me as soon as their fellows can convince them that I'm gincere-isn't it a pretty plot! Facing defeat because of my advocacy of principles everybody concedes to be right, because I'm suspected of an actual intention to act according to my platform pledge; when that man Brassfield, who was preparing to car-ry out a policy of selfish spoliation, could have carried every precinct!" "It does me so much good," she said, "to see you in such a glow of letters of withdrawal—at once!" The room into which Amidon led the shy Elizabeth had been a clearinghouse of confused ideas during their long tets-a-tete. Madame le Claire had explained the mystery of dual personality as well as it can be explained, with some comment on the fact that such things happen to people occasionally, no one knows why. Alvord and Judge Blodgett agreed that the candidate for mayor should be withdrawn. Alvord even raised the question as to whether, the nomination papers being issued to Brassfield, man, opposed by most of the good Amidon could be legally elected. Judge citizens' and all of the bad except a Blodgett said it raised the finest legal question he ever had encountered, and if carried up would be a case of first impression in the world's furispru-

out argument. Then Le Claire told them of Amidon's life in his old home as she had learned of it, of his bewildered application to her in New York, and how he had been helped. She was a long time telling it, and all the while she was thinking of the tender things happening in the next room. She heard the murmuring of their voices, as full of indignation, that I allowed you to go | meaning as the flutings of mating | Palace floor-

A New Baby.

A New Baby! What magic, what mystery, what charm these words have for us. Yet, how infinitely more they mean to the mother. A new life: short, to be sure, but full of possibilities. Some one must be patient, hopeful, watchful, proud and never discouraged. That "some one" is the mother. She has heard her baby's first cry, and whether it be her first or tenth, the feeling is the same. Her feeble arms are out-stretched; those arms that will never desert it as long as the mother shall live. And that hand which supports the head of the new-born babe, the mother's hand, supports the civilization of the world.

Is it any wonder, we ask you, mothers, that with all these responsibilities resting upon your all too weak shoulders, we urge upon you the necessity of selecting the babe's medicine with utmost care; the necessity of protecting your babe from worthless, unknown and narcotic drugs as you would protect it from the fire?

Catholic Organ Emphasizes Breach by Editorials

Cable Special to The Telegram.

(Copyright, 1906, by Hearst News Service.) LONDON, Nov. 10.-A rupture between the vatican and the kaiser, which will put an end to the former friendly relations, seems to be imminent in spite of all the efforts of the kaiser to please Rome. As if to attack Germany's most vulnerable point the well-known organ of the vatican, "Vera Roma," recently published a sensational article in which it praised "the heroic and patriotic resistance of the people of Alsace-Lorraine against the brutal policy of Germanization of the kaiser's govern-

"We further want to emphasize," the paper says, "that the pope is no vassal of Emperor William, and that he has absolutely no sympathy with this heretic ruler, who persecutes Catholics in Poland because they dare pray in their mother tongue."

It will be interesting to see whether the kaiser will pay his homage to the head of the Catholics when he visits Rome next month.

Joke Ends Tragically

A practical joke had a most tragic ending in St. Petersburg the other day. M. W. Taigin, a retired army officer in that city, one morning received an anonymous letter ordering him to pay 5,000 roubles to a revolutionary agent who was to call at his residence. Letters of this kind have become very common in St. Petersburg of late so common indeed that no one pays much attention to them, and M. Taigin threw the letter in the waste basket as soon as he had read it and thought no more of it.

A few days passed and a second let ter arrived, declaring that the revolutionists would force him to give up the money, to which the officer paid no attention beyond instructing his servant girl to admit no strangers to his apartments.

The other day as he was at dinner the bell rang, and when the girl opened the door she was knocked down by two masked men. Her cries brought her master on a run, but just as he raised his hand to strike one of the intruders he fell dead from heart failure. just as the two men removed their masks to laugh at the joke they had played on their old friend and comrade, for they were both army officers who had served with him in the Cri-

Help Scarce

Berlin is experiencing a dearth of domestic help as serious as New York's. High wages do not attract girls to domestic service in the suburbs, where the modern Gretchen finds the life very dull. She demands plenty of pleasure-theaters, music halls and balls, and refuses to bury herself in the outlying quarter.

Householders are now employing men as general servants. The male helpers are found to be an efficient substitute for women.

the cattle feeding line, not nearly so many as there were last year. There will be considerable numbers of hogs

hogs keep up to anything like what they have even with corn holding at the prices, it is money in a feeder's pockets to feed corn. We have had some frost, but I think that last night

will prove a finisher for all living

open now, and then the picking will soon end. There is a good lot of feeding going on at Chickasha now and the outlook is for a big business later.

who has been ill. She is better now and I am on my way back to the range country. Yes, we have delivered the land we sold to Giddings,

but still have the cattle. These we will dispose of by shipping the steers

to market in St. Louis probably, and will move the stock cattle on to some other property that I am interested in.

I will remain out there until I can dispose of the interests I have and then can't say if I will reinvest or not. Land is held high now and one might buy and hold but-will the can-

dition of affairs remain the same relative to moisture, etc., or will a change produce a stoppage of sales

or demand and a consequent depression? That is the question we, who are acquainted with the climatic peculiarities of west Texas, don't like to good shape apparently, altho I did not have much time to look around.

A good many seem to be loaded up with stockers and there will be a lot of feeding done. The cotton crop is taking up the undivided attention of

most people now to the exclusion of everything else. The crop will be a fair one. The oil mills are paying

this is a loss, but still there is plenty to prevent suffering among the cattle

this winter. We have had much colder weather out our way than you

south. Our cattle have plenty of protection during winter and are not likely to suffer as they would after a severe drouth. Cattle are in very good condition and would be ready for market if people wished to sell,

which they generally don't. All the west is in good shape and as I came thru Uvalde county it looked as if frost had been at work. I suppose that all the cotton crop is now ended

as far as any further growth is concerned, unless it is away down on the coast where it sometimes never frosts.

Cotton is all picked down in our country and there will not be any top

The Yearling Town

Jim Hickman, known to all cowmen

who ever stopped at the Southern notel

in San Antonio, came over to see a city after taking in our neighboring town's fair. Jim is known to all as a jolly good fellow and all are glad to see him. He has been more or less

connected with stock and stock interests since a boy and of course stock interests will surely interest him. He looked over the whole scheme as it is represented in Fort Worth and was surprised at the extent of the plants, and was converted to the fact that

Fort Worth was in reality the center of the vast stock interests of Texas and the southwest. He remarked that all was well in the Alamo City and that the International fair was at hand and he hoped many of the people of Fort Worth would visit the old town

and see what she can show in the way of stock. San Antonio looks upon the youngsters, such as Fort Worth, with due pride, and feels that she is too old

other young cattlemen from the west,

organized a wild west show and determined to take in the natives of the South American republics. They went,

saw and returned home satisfied that there is no place like home, and no

homes like Texas homes. They found that the natives were not to any extent interested in wild west shows, but rather inclined to bull fights that hurt

the bull. "We were all glad to have

brother back, especially now," said

Miss Johnnie, "for father has sold his

In black velvet collar and gold ornaments and tassels for trimming.

These double-cape coats are decidedly newer than the loose models made with sleeves, and though they require more material, are really less difficult to make. For older women cloaks of black allover lace or of heavy black net combined with wide lace bands are very handsome, but are also quite within the possibilities of the home dressmaker. One lovely model was made of accordion-plaited black net joined in panel effect to four-inch bands of heavy black lace, three strips of this lace insertion being used in the back and four

To a deep yoke depth the | vet ribbon between two bands of the lace spaces between these bands were laced together by inch-wide bands of black velvet ribbon, which were criss-crossed. The cloak was made over a lining of white taffeta veiled with black chiffon, and down the inside of the fronts and around the bottom a plaiting was set on of white mousseline, edged with very narrow black The full sleeves were of the accordion-velvet ribbons. As to the season's millinery, although large hats are always worn, the smart shape is the small turban hat tilted up sharply at the left side and trimmed with coque plumes, bird of paradise aigrettes or ostrich tips, arranged across the side to lie flat to the hair in the back. This idea is subject to numberless variations, some of these toques being rather narrow across the front with most of the trimming at the sides and back, while others are turned up across the front with the trimming in the form of aigrettes, soft curled coque plumes, marabout tips or ostrich feathers placed a little to the left of the middle front to give more width. This style is especially becoming to round youthful faces.

Ribbon rosettes are much used on these toques, especially in moire and satin. Felt is generally used for these small street hats, although a few are seen made of velvet, many of the models being made of felt by the yard caught up or draped on the hat frame. For evening wear for the theater, restaurant dinners or any occasion of the sort little bonnets are worn trimmed with small plumes or aigrettes. Many of the models seen are merely coronets of small flowers or a band of spangled or gold lace, which extends around the front and sides of the head. allowing the coils of hair to show. For height these tiaralike bonnets usually with sleeves, in contrast to the doublenal being all in cream white. The coat was cut loose enough to fall in soft folds about the lower part, the trimming consisting of a bolerolike section of the cloth cut in scallops and piped with narrow satin folds. The center of each scallop was embroided with a conventional design in white silk heavily padded. The rever collar was of white satin, embroidered, and the front was finished by a heavy slik cord and tassel ornament. DOROTHY DALE.

The small cut shows a becoming little toque which was one of the models sent over by a famous French milliner. The shape was one of the small roll-brim kinds, in very fine satiny black felt. At the left side the brim was turned up more sharply than on the right, and had placed against it a very wide, fluffy white aigrette. Around the front and sides of the hat, arranged very much in the effect of a wreath, small pink moss roses, with fern foliage and tiny blue velvet flowers, were disposed. At the right side of the back, where this flower garland terminated, loops and ends of pale blue velvet ribbon were arranged to fall on the hair. The shorter coat illustrated is made cape model described. The material of this wrap was broadcloth also, the origi-

Apples Baked With But-

Remove the cores of six good-sized apples. Cut thin slices of bread as large round as the apples. Place the bread on the bottom of a buttered dish and set the apples on top of this layer. Fill the core opening of each apple with sugar and put a piece of butter the size of a hickory nut on top of the sugar. Put in a rather slow oven and let the apples cook, putting in more sugar and butter when that already put in melts, and once in a while baste the apples with the syrup in the pan. Serve hot.

MANHATTAN APPLES.—Pare and

core eight medium-sized apples. Make ready round pieces of sponge cake-one for each apple—an inch in thickness and of the same size as the apple. Sprinkle with sugar and set them in the oven until the sugar melts. Make a syrup of a scant cupful of sugar and a cupful of water. Cook the apples very slowly in the syrup. When tender drain and put an apple on each bit of cake. Add half a glass of jelly to the syrup, cook until it is quite thick, then pour over the whole. Garnish with whipped cream. APPLE SAUCE. - Have tart apples; first pare and core them, cut them in slices, rinse and put them in an earthen stew pot, set them on the fire and do not stir them until they burst and are done. Mash with a spoon and when perfectly cool sweeten to taste.

Of course, it is not always possible, es- , one room in the house which must have pecially if one is living in a rented house, to have the bathroom furnishings and fittings exactly as one would like them; still, much can be done with a little careful planning to make the room look fresh and attractive. The new bathrooms built within the last few years are almost entirely of tile as to the walls and floor, the woodwork being all white and the fittings in porcelain. Hardwood floors are also very desirable, but a soft wood floor, covered all over with linoleum, looks well and is thoroughly practical, if a tiled or hardwood floor is beyond the scope of one's purse. As to the walls-a tiled wainscoting, with the upper part of the wall covered with some waterproof material, or else done in rough tinted plaster and hand-painted, is one of the most desirable treatments, and a painted wall, if the plaster is in good condition, is also a good style; but tiled paper is the wall treatment usually seen in the average bathroom, and if a goo pattern is chosen the effect is really very good.

Among the imported papers, which are, of course, a little more expensive, some really beautiful designs can be had. Most of these papers are in sea and sky effects. with a pale green or pale blue ground, crested waves forming a background for flying seagulis or wild ducks. Sanitas, which comes in tile or panel effects, also makes a most attractive wall covering, nd can be wiped off to remove soil or dust.

If the cost has to be closely figured on, an ordinary flowered or figured paper may be used, coating the paper with a good quality of varnish after it has been put on the wall. If the bathroom already contains a leaded glass window, there is no need for it to be curtained; but if the window is of clear glass, a sash curtain should be hung across it. Soft madras, which comes in color design to imitate leaded glass, is very pretty used in this way, as are also any of the striped or heavy meshed ecru or white

Numerous fittings for holding soap, towels, tumbiers, sponges, etc., can be had for a very small expenditure, most of these fittings being in bright nickle or nickel and glass. The bathroom is the

a daily cleaning. This only takes a few minutes, but is absolutely necessary to keep the room he good order. The rugs should be of the washable variety, and in selecting colors be careful to select only those which will harmonize well with the fittings. Blue and white, with touches of yellow, are always a good color scheme, as is also white and green. The illustration shows a model bathroom, the fittings being all in porcelain, with a high-tiled wainscoting. The floor was done in hard wood, the little woodwork to be seen being finished in cream white enamel. The window had leaded glass panes, and over the upper part was hung a valance of flowered cretonne. At one side of the room was a will curdle. clothes chute, which had the appearance of a small cupboard, and across one corner of the room a little triangular cupboard to hold bottles, brushes, etcetera, was built in. #### Luncheon Dishes.

CLAM BISQUE .- To make a quart and a half of soup allow two dozen clams; steam them 20 minutes in their own ju.ce, to which add one pint and a half of water. Boil one pint and a half of cream. Stir two tablespoonfuls of butter and the same of flour in a saucepan until it bubbles, then pour the boiling cream in, stirring all the time. Stand it to one side, squeeze each clam with lemon squeezer, until nothing remains but empty skin. Strain clams and liquor into the white sauce already made, pressing out as much juice as possible; stir well, bring all to a boil and remove from the fire. Beat the yolks of two eggs with four tablespoonfulls of the soup and season to taste. The soup must be boiling when the eggs are added, but it must not be allowed to boil afterward or it CHICKEN SALAD .- Cut cold chicken into half-inch dice, using both white and dark meat. Moisten it with French dressing. Cut tender celery into small dice and mix it with the chicken, using twothirds as much celery as there is of chicken. Mix the whole with mayonnaise. Form it into a mound and coat the outside with mayonnaise. BEATEN OMELET.-Best the whites of three or four eggs to a stiff froth. Add to the yolks a half teaspoonful of sait, a dash of pepper and a tablespoonful of milk. Beat them well together, then fold in lightly the whipped whites. Put a teaspoonful of butter in a saucepan and t it run all over the bottom. When bubbles turn in the egg mixture and spread it evenly over the pan. Let it cook slowly without stirring until it seems cooked through, then place it in the oven for a few minutes to harden the top surface. Fold one-half over on the other and turn onto a hot dish.

BEAN CROQUETTES .- Boll until tender a pint of dried beans which have been soaked over night. Boil an onion in the water with the beans. Press the beans water with the beans. Press the beans through a puree sieve. Season the puree with two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, two beaten eggs, a little pepper and salt and a tablespoonful of parsley chopped very fine. If the mixture is still too dry, add a little stock. Mold the puree into small croquettes. Cover the croquettes with egg and breadcrumbs and fry them in smoking-hot fat. Serve with tomate sauce.

matic and well-advised than men, numbers of American matchmakers have come over here in quest of the noble names to be offered to ambitious parents in the United States. "There is in Paris an American lady with gray hair, moderate good looks and a majestic carriage, who, as an amateur matrimonial agent has by her intelligence and her savoir faire made an exceptional position for herself. "Lady Fanny—as she is called—lives in a sumptuous apartment between the Porte Dauphine and the Etoile, and it is here that she lays the traps for the social sparrows who come to be taken in by her. Well launched in this false high society, she leads her newly arrived compatriots to believe that she has under her thumbs all the nobility of France, and that she can unite the highest aristocracy to the most parvenu of porkpackers. And, of course, in America there are always people who are ready for and delighted at the idea of a union with a noble family. "Lady Fanny is inclined to exaggerate her power, altho she can count among her successful operations that of being instrumental in bringing about the marriage of a French count, who is now a deputy, with a daughter of one of the best known American multi-millionaires. It is true, the rupture of this household has caused her much trouble, for she knows that a scandal is deplorably detrimental to

Excellent Exhibit

Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 10 .-The exhibit of Shornthorn cattle at San Antonio fair this year is better than ever before. Breeders are to be congratulated, as many animals here are good enough to be in any ring. Among the Shorthorn winners are the following well known breeders: J. F. Hovenkamp, Fort Worth: Joseph F. Green & Co., Encinal; Howard Mann & Bro. "Waco: David Harrell, Liberty Hill: J. C. Washington, Marietta, T.: J. E. Brown, Granbury: G. E. King, Taylor; R. L. Payne, Fort Worth Colonel I. M. Forbes of Illinois judged this class. Concerning this great show Colonel Forbes said: "There are cattle here that would make a creditable showing in any ring in the world. I say this not for the purpose of currying favor with the breeders, for I believe I have the honor of honoring all of them among my list of good friends but I say it because these Texas breeders are a wide-awake set of men and the success to which they aspire. These gentlemen are strongly inclined toward a live stock show in Mexico and as director of the National or American Association I feel that I can say that they will get all the encouragement they require. We breeders up north are aware that the more business the Texas breeders do with Mexico the more business we will be able to do with them. There is no occasion to carry the war into South America or any other unoccupied field until Mexico has become imbued with the necessity of using only registered bulls."

Pays $400 for Yearlings

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Nov. 10. O. T. Word of Sutton county was here this week. While here he purchased from Howard, Mann & Bro. a fine yearling jack for the neat sum of $400. For years Mr. Word has been improving his horse stock. He has been using for some time two grand Percheron stallions, and results have been very satisfactory. Ten pears ago he said that his horse stock was not worth $5 per head while now it is easily worth $100 per head, everything on the range. He said his cattle were doing well, but the ticks were very bad in his section. His pastures are being rid of ticks, he think,s because of his method of handling his stock. He runs his stock in three pastures, shifting them around. In one pasture he keeps sheep and goats, and after remaining there for several months they are removed to another pasture and cattle moved in. In this way he thinks he is starving out the ticks, as they cannot, or do not, live on sheep or goats.

WOMEN GO TO JAIL GLADLY

English Suffragists Proud of Their "Martyrdom"

ELEVEN IN PRISON

Raised Disturbance in House of Commons and Went to Jail Rather Than Pay Fines

BY LADY HENRY SOMERSET.

(Copyright, 1906, by Hearst News Service.) Cable Special to The Telegram. LONDON, Nov. 10.—The house and solemn way at the opening of the session early this week, when suddenly the drowsy air of those stately halls of legislature rang with shrieks which reminded one more of the "Zoo" than any sounds which could proceed from ments. Unaccustomedly shrill voices caught the ear, and men knew in a moment what was up, the "suffragrettes," as they are now called, were engaged in their task of informing the governers of our land that they ought to have the vote. Never has the house of commons witnessed such a strange scene. The women had come down in a body, but had dispersed at the entrance so as to excite no comment They had penetrated into the lobby. and each sent their card to fetch out various members of the parliament.

They stood beneath the statue of Sir Stafford Northcote and chatted peacefully to one another and to the gentlemen whom they had sought, when suddenty the genial atmosphere was broken by the wild cry of "Votes for Women!" led, as usual, by Mrs. Pankhurst and Miss Pankhurst. They leaped upon the settee, waved their banner, and raised their war cry, but the chief inspector, who was present, instantly lifted them from the place of vantage and hustled them toward the door. No sooner were the first leaders displaced than three others sprang to take their stand, and the capture of each band was a signal for more recruits to follow; and they, in their turn, were relentlessly swept away, and so the fray lasted for at least twenty minutes. The noise now brought out throngs of members of parliament and several peers. The police had assembled and the women were forcibly put out by the St. Stephen's entrance, but they refused to be quieted and contined to demonstrate outside the house. Eleven were finally arrested. They were taken to the police station by the constables, who put very forcible pressure upon them when they endeavored to address the crowds by the way. Among the women arrested was Mrs. Cobden Saunderson, a lady who is young and pretty, daughter of Richard Cobden, the free trader and one of England's best-known statesmen. Another was Mrs. Emmaline Pethick Lawrence. She formerly worked in the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes' Mission and afterward married Pethick Lawrence, a well known newspaper proprietor.

In Police Court

The following morning the eleven women appeared before the Westminster police court, and truly they presented an appearance curiously out of harmony with their grimy surroundings as they sat in the dock. Mrs. Cobden Saunderson was dressed in light gray, with a black hat and large ostrich feathers, and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence in dark blue velvet, with a picture hat and big white veil. Then came the organizers. Miss Annie Kennedy and Miss Theresa Billington; Mrs. Montefiore, a well known woman belonging to the great Montefiore family After a brief examination and cross questioning, the magistrate decided that the defendants should either be fined five pounds and keep the peace for six months, or be sent to prison, One and all, the ladies preferred the latter. After the disappearance of the eleven women a demonstration was held in Caxton Hall, presided over by Mrs. Pankhurst. The burden of the discourses was: "We want the vote this session, and we must have and we will have it." Mr. Cobden Saunderson supported a resolution and said it was indeed a mockery of justice that when one of the daughters of Richard Cobden rose to give evidence the judges and police laughed. Mr. Stead, who was also present, stated that he was there in a jubilant mood. "Brothers and sisters," he declared, "the names of the eleven brave women who have gone to prison today for others will be emblazoned in glory in the annals of freedom. I congratulate them on having found an entry into an institution in which men and women are equal before the law.

Shame en Women

"Twenty years ago," he said, "I went to prison. It is a good thing to go to jail, my friends." He then waxed warm and said, "Shame for those lady suffragists who are not lending help in the present moment! Shame on those women who stand on one side never putting out one finger to help their struggling sisters. If they are doing it badly, come out, I say, from your drawing rooms and your boudoirs or you will go down to everlasting infamy cursed by all the voices of those who are struggling for freedom, and who have never heard from them one generous word or received a kindly action." Mr. Stead is nothing if not exaggerated. There may be many women who have worked for years in the cause of woman suffrage, who do not consider that to break the law, to cause riots, and to bring opprobrium on the cause of woman is the best way to go to work. It may be one way, indeed it may attain an end, and it may be possible for these women to do it with a clear conscience, and to suffer nothing in their womanliness in so acting, but to others who are neither cowards nor idlers, such methods would be inconceivable.

Today from Holloway-Gaol, the ladies have sent the following messages: Mrs. Pethick Lawrence says: "Wom-Mrs. Cobden Saunderson says: "I

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- The effect of today's poor bank statement was counteracted by the practical assurance of Secretary Shaw to relieve any stringency. Of more substantial character, however, is the argument of the bulls that the return flow of cash from the west will soon begin, and, too, the act that the movement of money to the interior is rapidly decreasing. Too much significance should not, therefore, be placed upon the apprehension caused in monetary spheres by Friday's sharp advance in money rates. The bears continued their tactics to small extent today and turned their ttention to soft spots in the list of stocks, which suffered in consequence a nall loss. The market is holding its own very well, and the undertone is healthy. It is thruout a professional situation. In view of the fact that few orders large size have been received from Orient during the past four nths, sellers are led to hope for a equential revival on export spealties in the finished product.

Texas, the state of prosperity uninded, always comes in for her hare. Here are some facts of roseate ue. The government's report of bales ginned to Nov. 1 of 6,892,597 bales, thows Texas' share as 2,535,378. Think of it! A showing of 37 per cent of the ginnings todate of the chief staple of the southland.

Bearish Sentiment Somewhat Increased-Speculators Holding Shorts

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- Considerable attention was paid to the bearish visible supply statement after the break at Liverpool, and the large crep estimates make up the warp and woof of the argument of the bears, who had the best end of things today. The automatic check upon any raid, however, lay in the proneness of the speculators to keep on the safe side, and the apprehension of an oversold market. It is, indeed, an uncertain market, dangerously susceptible to a quick

After the sudden stump of $2 per bale Friday, following the bullish tendency of Thursday, and the nifty rake down of heavy operators here, the conservative element is inclined to suspect a repetition of similar antics, and the outside interest is more than willing to remain out of the market, awaiting the construction that Europe will place upon these crop estimates.

The goal of the bears is 9 cents, but it must be remembered that there is no proof yet that the supply of cotton exceeds the world's requirements. In other words, the campaign of the bears since Thursday night is no substantial evidence of a downward trend next week. It is a dangerous

Heavy Movement and Unfavorable Visible Supply Statement Resulted in General Weakness

Sperial to The Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10 .- To the dilatory arrival of ships at foreign ports is attributed the unfavorable visible supply statement. However, that may be, the weakness of cis-Atlantic markets caused a general feel-ing of uneasiness abroad, which, in turn, necessarily reflected a lack of confidence here and the consequence was a decidedly weak-end market. Liverpool's excessive decline of 15 to 16 points and the import of a liquidation upon the heels of reverse sentiment in Europe make the less cautious operators skittish. Accordingly speculative interests kept pretty well within bounds.

Most of the trading was the covering by shorts. A heavy movement, the broadening differences in spots of good and bad grades, the consequent weight of the surplusage of inferior grades upon futures, together with the news from all parts of the interior to the effect that producers are inclined to hold for better prices, caused a summer dullness in this market. There was a lack of confidence all around. Spot trade was quiet, sales amounting to 2,300 at a decline of %c, price paid for middling being 9%c.

of 25 points, upon a basis of 5.50d for American middling. Sales aggregated 7,000 bales, of which 6,000 were American. There were no imports. Operators construed the visible sup-

CHICAGO GRAIN

Some Strength Developed in Wheat Account Small Primary Receipts. Corn Steady; Oats Firm Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- A combination of three features of significance developed some strength in the wheat pit today. These were a general inclination to expect a small increase in the visible supply, a diminished movement in the northwest, and a decrease in primary receipts. There was hardly any snap in the pit during any part of today's short session, but some shorts covered and a few of the heavy leaders evened up in the usual week-end way. Quotations weakened near the close in consequence of a few war whoops from the ranks of the bears in explanation of the unfavorable monetary conditions.

Commission houses bought May contract corn, bearish gossip about the government report to the contrary notwithstanding.

Oats ruled firm, resulting, perhaps, from a little activity on the part of commission houses that bought May futures. There was an attack by a bear crowd, shouting pessimistic hay conditions.

There was a bearish tendency in the pork market, with some pressure against ribs and lard, augmented by sales of May by English houses. tions on this market for commodities

It looked like a buy for a turn. It looked like a scalping turn. Considerable cotton was bought this morning upon reaction theory. It looked as if it were ready for a scalping turn.

"Sell cotton only on sharp bulges." The visible supply statement seemed to have affected Liverpool.

Town Topics advises this morning:

Charles C. Cowan makes an estimate of the crop of 14,015,000 bales. New York cotton stocks today were

69,016 bales; certificates, 60,701 bales. This morning's liquidation in Liverpool must have cleaned up some of the long interest at Liverpool. And Texas is gazipping ahead with accelerated rapidity in the production of the chief staple of Dixie.

One of the owls said that the weakness of American markets was due to a heavy movement.

There was some confident selling by smart operators at both cis-Atlantic

Further liquidation in Europe is counted upon next week as urged by the depressors of prices.

Miller & Company-We continue to believe the market a sale on all hard

A. O. Brown-At the moment it is a narrow professional market with many of the traders against it.

John Muir & Company-There is nothing in sight at present to indicate that anything is likely to develop to put prices off. Hutton & Company-We would prefer buying cotton on a scale down down from the present prices, believing that this is the safest side. Edward Moyse & Company-If the pressure to sell spots continues, prices cannot hold and we think it wise to keep to the short side. Marshall, Spader & Company-The market will doubtless continue to follow superficial indications, which at present are against its strength. According to the Southern Cotton Association the yield will approximate 11,146,000. This is, of course, exclusive of linters and Sea Island cotton. A wise wag upon the floor at the New Orleans Exchange said Saturday morning: "The market broke Friday because it had advanced without cause Thursday.' Bailey & Montgomery-The chances are that we shall witness a market of violent changes from day to day, with opportunity for successful operations on both sides. Carpenter, Baggott & Company-We see nothing in the situation of a bullish nature. However, marked recessions will tend to encourage hedge buying. We suggest taking profits when they are to be had.

T. A. McInItyre & Company-We ink the tremendous liquidation yesterday and the severe break here has made the technical position stronger than ever and we regard short selling at this level extremely unsafe.

ALWAYS WAS SICK

When a man says he always was sick-troubled with a cough that lasted all winter-what would you think if he should say-he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup, Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition, I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me."

Market Generally Steady-Receipts _Very Light-Quality Fair to Medium

The receipts of live stock at the stock yards Saturday were very small, even smaller than the usual Saturday run. The receipts consisted principally of delayed shipments intended for the Friday markets. The markets were generally slow and draggy, on account of the absence of outside and order buyers. The day's run brought steady prices, for both feeder and butcher stock. The packers were practically the only buyers, and at the present values were not disposed to take on an over supply. However, the offerings were all taken at the prices quoted, and the markets closed early at fairly steady prices.

The markets for the past two weeks have gradually weakened, but Saturday's close was strongly in line with the principal northern and eastern markets, where the receipts were also unusually light. Saturday's Yard Receipts Cattle ..... 500

Butcher Stock The bulk of the cattle on the mar-ket Saturday consisted of a few scattering loads from northwest and southwest Texas, very few of which were classed as butcher stock. The quality was generally fair, and found a rather slow market at steady prices. The general trading was slow, but on a generally satisfactory basis for shippers. There were a few speculators on the market, for butcher stock for turns, but the prevailing prices were too strong for the speculative interests, and most of them turned sellers and went out of the trade.

WEEK'S REVIEW OF THE MARKET

Wall Street Traders Anticipate Lower Prices

BY THOMAS C. SHOTWELL Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 10 .- Traders in Wall street look for lower prices and the superficial influences seem to indicate a trend in that direction. Careful investigation, however, fails to disket and the best authorities will be very much surprised if the decline extends more than two or three points. Secretary of the Treasury Shaw has practically invited the bankers to create a situation which will permit him to release $25,000,000. Mr. Shaw knows as well as any one the injustice of the federal law which takes money out of circulation thru the custom house at a time when it is needed in business channels. In depositing this money in the banks the government is not catering to anybody to make any conces-were needed by the tremendous credit balance which the United States has in Europe. The alleged financial authorities have been shouting themselves hoarse the last week over huge payments which New York would have to make to London for stocks shipped to the United States as a result of the rise in the discount rate of the Bank of England. These financial scolds were all confounded today when the bank statement disclosed the fact that loans, instead of increasing, had actually de-

sions; it is merely returning to the public its money, which ought never have been taken away. Action by the secretary is justified if justification

The stocks shipped to the United States came in part liquidation of debts due to the United States and if the stocks had not come gold in equal amount would have been shipped. Europe still owes the United States far above $200,000,000 on balance. The United States is helping England and Germany out of financial trouble by postponing demands for money due. Financial diplomacy makes it necessary for Secretary Shaw to withhold relief to such an extent as to keep the money rate in New York above six per cent. But it must be remembered that stock market panics have always been on cheap money, while high money has been accompanied with either steadiness or actual advances. If money rises much further stocks will rise with it.

In the Street Today's total sales of stocks numbered 287,861 shares; a year ago, 466,-815. The par value of bonds sold today was $792,000; a year ago, $1,630,-

Following a statement by Secretary Shaw that he did not consider the financial situation in bad enough shape to need relief from the treasury stocks turned weak in Wall street today and closed at about the lowest level of the day and very active. There was no evidence of demoralization however. Many brokers are openly advising the sale of the market, and as there are among their clients who have no stocks to sell, the short interest is growing rapidly. The only genuine market in Wall street today was for mining shares on the curb and these were steady. The bank statement showed a deficit in surplus reserves of $1,514,-125, against a deficit a year ago of $7,428,800.

prices. While the Pennsylvania can well afford to increase, some of the roads claim that it will hurt them, that they will be compelled to follow the leader or have trouble with their men. Altho Secretary Shaw announced he would give no relief at present, the monetary situation is made very strong from the knowledge that Mr. Shaw has often made the same statement shortly before relieving the market. It is also pertinent to remember that the government has above $100,000,000 in its sinking fund to retire the four per cent bonds due July 1, 1907. There are in all $166,755,050 of these bonds outstanding, and they could be retired without in the least affecting available cash balances of the treasury, which Secretary Shaw says now stands 6:35 a. m., New York 6 p. m., via Big at $25,000,000. His announcement that he could use $25,000,000 for relieving the market is considered significant, as the working balance of the treasury. about $65,000,000.

which could be put in the banks, is Interest in the curb market was increased today by the discovery that a group of traders who have been in the habit of bossing the inside market are found short of a very heavy line of mining shares. In their desperation these gentlemen have conceived the philanthropic idea of sending experts to the mining camps in the hope of finding some company doing business on the New York curb that does not bear investigation. In the meantime their agents are filling the newspapers full of varue warnings in the hope of creating a condition of public mind that will cause a collapse of the mining market when they discover some offending corporation. This has improved the technical position of the curb and the market there is much more substantial than that on the New York Stock Exchange. In view of the many frauds which from time to time have been exposed on the New York Stock Exchange, it is only reasonable to expect that the emissaries of the curb bears will find something wrong with some mining company.

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 10.-The pig iron market continues very steady. Europe has been the last few days a quieter buyer. The tone is quiet in the iron market now and some disposition to await further developments and poscover any reason for a declining mar- | sibly the effects of the imports of foreign metals. Close: January, $21.50; February and March $21.50 Animals and children frequently eat the stems and bulbs of poisonous plants with fatal results. To know just what to do to relieve vegetable poisoning is highly important. For animals not much can be done. A draft of warm melted lard poured down the throat of the animal from a long necked bottle will generally relieve the pain and in most cases, when used soon after the effect of the pois-on becomes visible, will save the ani-mal's fife. In case of children, a prompt emetic should be the first thing. Sulphate of zinc, from 20 to 30 grains in a cupful of warm water, is effective, as is a teaspoonful of mustard in a cup of warm water, After the emetic has acted, give some sweet oil, cream or fresh milk. If the pain is severe, from five to ten drops of laudanum may be added to the oil, cream or milk. If the patient becomes drowsy, give strong coffee or whisky in small, repeated doses and keep patient walking. Children should be taught to avoid eating strange plants and stock should not be turned out too early, when hunger forces them to eat plants they instinctively avoid at other times. CACKLES FROM THE HEN HOUSE Sow turnips for poultry food. Cutting the spurs off your roosters

Dry bran makes a good chicken feed the year around. Summer eggs that go to market must be above suspicion. It is a well-known fact that the majority of poultry women are more successful in rearing chicks than men, and
