"THE UNWRITTEN LAW" NOW THAW'S DEFENSE

Stanford White's Slayer Has New Plea

FAMOUS ATTORNEY

Has Been Engaged to Conduct Celebrated Case—Trial to Begin December 3

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The plea that Harry Kendall Thaw is sane and that he was justified under the "unwritten law" in the killing of Stanford White is the plea which Thaw will stand when he is brought to trial for the Madison Square Garden murder.

This has been revealed through the retaining of Delphin Michael Delmas, the noted California lawyer, to defend Thaw and whose fee, it is asserted, will be at least $100,000.

Thru Lawyer Delmas, Mrs. William Thaw, mother of the prisoner, who had insisted that insanity be the defense, has been brought over to consent to the plea of the "unwritten law" and the question of insanity has been eliminated from the case.

After making final arrangements for the payment of his retainer, in a conference with Mrs. William Thaw, Delmas went to the Tombs, where he consulted with his client for an hour regarding the defense of justification under the "unwritten law."

Delmas says he expects to go to trial Dec. 3. He will have full charge of the case, from the selection of the jury to the examination and cross-examination of witnesses. For this purpose he has already been admitted to the New York bar, on motion of former Judge Augustus J. Van Wyck.

The California lawyer will dominate the case through, with the full consent of Clifford W. Hartridge, the attorney of record and personal counsel for Mr. Thaw.

Mr. Delmas, who is known as the Napoleon of the bar in the west, because of his great mental powers, as well as his remarkable resemblance in face and person to the French emperor, was brought into the Thaw defense by a colleague of Californians, backed by the suggestion of Joseph McKenna, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, and John G. Johnson, the Philadelphia lawyer.

TOBACCO WAR ON

Warehouses in Kentucky Are Wrecked with Dynamite

PADUCAH, Ky., Nov. 15.—There is war on between tobacco growers in Caldwell and Lyon counties and the tobacco trust. Dispatches today state that several large warehouses where "trust" tobacco is stored have been dynamited and wrecked. The warehouses are those of the American Shuff Company, located at Princeton, Caldwell county; Fredonia, Boyleville and Kuttawa, Lyon county. The explosions shook buildings for miles around.

WILL FIGHT INSURGENTS

Gunboats Leave New York for That Purpose

GREAT SECRET

Attended Their Construction, Which Was Engineered By the Government

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Four gunboats sail today from this port for Santo Domingo City, where, under the flag of the island republic, they will dash up the rivers and attack the camps of the insurgents. The building, launching, equipping and partial manning of this little fleet of lighters has been carried on with the greatest secrecy, and was accomplished only thru the friendly offices of the United States government, which recently assumed guardianship of the West India republic and is in charge of the collection of its customs.

The gunboats were built at the Nixon ship yards at Perth Amboy from plans approved by the navy department at Washington. They have unusually light draught.

The boats were completed only recently and everything has been arranged so that the guns can be put in place as flags are changed in Dominican waters.

Recruiting officers of the Brooklyn navy yard gathered the captains, mates and working crews for the boats and the ship yard people assembled engineering crews.

The payment of the wages of those men, who will remain with the boats after they have changed flags, is guaranteed by the United States.

The fleet will take the inside route to Florida and then across to Santo Domingo City, where the captains will report to Colonel Colton, who is in charge of the collection of customs for the United States. Colonel Colton will then turn the vessels over to President Carretero.

A fighting crew of fifty Dominican sailors will put aboard each vessel, but the captain, mate and working crew will be Americans, and practically the control of the vessels will remain in their hands.

It is a strange coincidence that Delmas was advisory counsel for Truxton Beale when he was charged with the shooting of Frederick Hartridge, an editor publishing an objectionable paragraph about Miss Marie Oge, who afterward became Beale's wife. The "unwritten law" was the defense in that case.

JEWELS ENOUGH TO GO AROUND

Every Voter in Country Could Have One

AMERICANS ARE CRAZY

Over Precious Stones—Amount Imported into the United States Is Enormous

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Figures given out today by the government show that if the precious stones imported into the United States during the past year were divided evenly among the country's voting population every man, woman and child would wear a diamond of the size of a pinhead, or some other precious jewel of equal value.

Statistics compiled at the custom house for the first ten months of the fiscal year up to today show an increase of more than $39,280,550, which is eight times greater than during the same period in 1895.

The total cost of stones brought to this country in ten years is more than $210,000,000, an average expenditure of $10 for each voter.

Notwithstanding the quality of diamonds on the west coast are far inferior to those of a dozen years ago, the demand has been so great that pure stones are selling from 25 to 35 per cent higher.

DISCONTINUE PASSES

Western Pass Committee Is in Session in Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—Sentiments expressed at the meeting of the western pass committee yesterday indicate that the railway pass will vanish entirely from the west on Jan. 1. The new rate law prohibits the issuance of interstate travel after that date to anybody but railway officials and employees of common carriers, and the western railroads manifest a strong disposition to discontinue issuing it for state business. The committee will meet again Nov. 22, when the question will be settled.

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—"It is safe to say that $500,000 would not pay for the new gowns that will be worn at the horse show next week," said a fashionable woman's tailor. "Just think of the 'creations' that have been purchased in Paris for the event! Horse show week is the time when members of the elite appear radiant in their new gowns. Such women as Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt have two new gowns for every day of the show, and their total cost will not fall below $3,000. Average $1,000 to a woman and you will have a total exceeding the estimate I first gave."

THE PLATTS AGREE TO QUIT

Senator and Wife Are Now Separated

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The announcement was made today that Senator Platt and his wife had agreed to separate and signed papers to that effect. This was no surprise to the public, which was prepared for such an announcement by the numerous publications recently to the effect that differences existed between the pair.

In signing the separation papers yesterday, Senator and Mrs. Platt did not meet. Mrs. Platt went to the office of her lawyers at 11 Broadway and Senator Platt went to the office of former Justice Hatch at 32 Nassau street, so it is said. The negotiation was conducted between the two offices. Mrs. Platt is said to have first signed the papers and the agreement was taken to Hatch's office and signed by the senator.

That there had been a settlement made by Senator Platt was the opinion among his friends last night, but what it was it was seemed not to be known. It was assumed that it included the property at Highland Mills, where Mrs. Platt is making her home.

"MYSTIC SOUL" CAUSES TROUBLE

Phantom Spirit Was a Real Live Woman

IS OF TEUTONIC TYPE

FORTUNES IN CLOTHES

COSTLY AND RICH

Will Be the Gowns Worn by Beautiful Women at This Annual Society Event

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—That he may wed his "mystic soul," Rev. Dr. Henry Adam Adams, former pastor of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Redeemer of this city, who deserted his wife and children here several years ago, has applied to the courts of Seattle, Wash., for a divorce. He alleges incompatibility as the grounds for his action.

Because of his leanings toward Catholicism Dr. Adams brought upon his head the wrath of Bishop Potter. He then forsook the Protestant Episcopal faith, announced his conversion to Catholicism, left his wife and home and went on a tour of the world. Later he abandoned his new faith. The "mystic soul" is Gertrude Deach, 21 years old, of Baltimore. Dr. Adams is over fifty years of age.

The former rector and Miss Deach have been living together since he left New York. They have one child. Previous to leaving New York Miss Deach lived at Dr. Adams' home. When he renounced the Episcopal church and left on a trip to foreign countries Miss Deach accompanied him.

When his wife protested against the fondness he showed for Miss Deach, Dr. Adams would become incensed and would discourse upon "mystic souls" and upbraid his wife for her inability to comprehend the "pure affection" he held for Gertrude.

From the day he left home with Miss Deach, Mrs. Adams says, he has never contributed a cent toward the maintenance of herself and his children.

Adams turned up in this city several years ago and not long ago it was announced that he had married Miss Deach. He has been successful as a writer. In one of his books he attempts to justify his desertion. Answering his critics, he says: "But from your damnable parochial judgment of a man like this, I appeal to God Almighty, before whom I would dare face the whole blind, blasphemous, contemptible society that holds that there is goodness apart from fact, and that there can be an extreme apart from life and truth."

Adams has admitted that he is a bigamist. He has not offered any explanation as to why he permitted his first wife to live almost in poverty.

Aside from the marks left by the wear and tear of her wanderings, the young woman is beautiful. She is of Teutonic type, with brown hair and large eyes. She is an orphan and has two sisters living in Baltimore.

The outlay of the pipe line, it is said, will amount to about $5,000,000.

POOR SEEK MRS. SAGE

Men, Women and Children Rush for Her Home

NOT ADMITTED

Even to the Lawn—They Went for Money and Received Nothing at All

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The report into the papers that Mrs. Russell Sage had decided to give away to worthy persons all the fortune left by her husband except a few thousand dollars upon which to live the remainder of her life, led about one hundred men, women and children to go to her home at Lawrence, L. I. They did not receive a cent, and in fact, were not admitted the lawn about the house. They caused Mrs. Sage much annoyance, too, and she had to call upon friends to protect her from the mob anxious to be recipients of her bounty.

It was announced that the report had incorrectly given Mrs. Sage's intentions, but her intentions were not divulged. At any rate, it developed that she was giving away some money and intends to give away some more.

Leviss A. Antkoff, an "I" guard on the Shuttle line that runs thru Thirty-fourth street from Third avenue to the Long Island ferry at East River, was kind to Mr. Sage when the financial route on the train to go to his home at Cedarhurst, and in appreciation of it Mrs. Sage says she will buy him a home in the country. The man's wife is a hopeless invalid, which won Mrs. Sage's sympathy. It is also reported that Mrs. Sage will give about $2,000,000 for a memorial church and college in Far Rockaway, to be known as the Russell and Olivia Sage Memorial Church and Sage College.

BLACKS ARMED WITH RIFLES

Oge and His Gang Defy Kentucky Officers

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 15.—Never since white men came has the state of Washington suffered from such a storm as raged last night and early this morning. Railroads out of Tacoma and Seattle are demoralized. On Puget Sound the towns of Snohomish, Sumner and Auburn are under water. Altho nothing has been heard from Walla Walla, it is only fair to presume that the floods east and west of there, rivers in that part of the state are still on a rampage. At Portland electric lights and street cars are out of commission. The railway across the state is prostrated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—One hundred and ninety-one persons committed suicide in New York city during the three months previous to July 1 last, says the report of Health Commissioner Darlington, sent to Mayor McAdams yesterday.

Battle Against Standard Oil Trust Is Opened

UNCLE SAM'S BILL

Will Prosecute Giant Octopuses to Limit of the Law. Bill Filed

Special to The Telegram. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 15.—The federal government today began its long contemplated battle against the Standard Oil Company by filing a bill in the federal circuit court here, which, under the direction of Attorney General Moody, action will be taken for the purpose of having the trust dissolved. In its support the government's plea arrays the violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, including conspiracy, intimidation, rebating and other clauses. It is Roosevelt's intention to make this proceeding the crowning achievement of his trust busting campaign. The bill says the trust history of the Standard extends from 1870 to the present and charges that the Standard secretly all the railroads in the United States lubricating oils, for which it receives 50 to a 100 per cent more than prices which other manufacturers are willing to sell the same, and that these excessive prices are willingly paid in order that the railroads may get the true business and that this is substantially the same as the payment of rebates. The bill points out where the trust has driven independent producers out of business. It is alleged at the present time the trust's property values two millions of dollars. The bill states that the trust produces and transports about 90 per cent of the refined oil exported from all the states and that since 1870 this share of business has been under the direction of John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, John H. Rogers, Henry M. Flagler, Henry D. Archibald, Oliver H. Payne and Charles M. Pratt.

Iowa Memorial Statue Will Be Unveiled This Afternoon

VICKSBURG, Miss., Nov. 15.—The $150,000 Iowa state memorial monument in Vicksburg national military park will be dedicated this afternoon by Governor Cummins and the absence of a military pageant will be one of the bad features of the dedication program. MATTER OF INTANGIBLE ASSETS

The comptroller of the state of Texas announces that the increase in the taxable values of the state for the present year amounts to $22,154,819 over last year. This increase includes the intangible assets smoked out by the Williams intangible assets tax law. The total taxable values for the year are $1,221,177,479, against $1,199,022,730 for the preceding year. In round numbers the intangible assets values brought to light by this new law amount to $21,671,480, leaving the increase on physical property at $50,483,339. The showing would have been much greater but for the arbitrary action of various county commissioners' courts in ignoring the intangible assets proposition.

Captain W. R. Davis, state tax commissioner, has just completed his report from the date of his appointment, Jan. 2, 1906, to Aug. 31, 1907, and submitted it to the governor. The office of tax commissioner with the state tax board was created by the Williams intangible assets bill.

Tax Commissioner Davis' report shows the grand total of all intangible assets of the railroads, telegraph companies and express companies to be $161,237,372, which amount was certified to the county tax assessors, and the amount appearing on the tax rolls was $31,671,481 or 19.64 per cent of the amount certified to the assessors.

The amount of intangible assets of railroads certified to the county tax assessors by the board was $152,827,750, and the amount appearing on the tax rolls was $30,802,043 or 20.22 per cent. The amount certified to the tax assessors from express companies was $2,871,593 and the amount appearing on the tax rolls was $453,291 or 15.79 per cent.

In the report Commissioner Davis makes a number of recommendations as to change in the proposed law so as to render it more effective. He recommends striking from the list of corporations named in section 1 of the act, all car companies, "because in the actual working of the law I found it impracticable to tax them as prescribed therein. The car companies are almost without exception foreign corporations—very few of them have permit to do business in Texas. The cars are used by the Texas railroads and paid for on the mileage basis at such terms and prices as agreed upon by the parties. The owners of the cars as a rule have no voice in routing them and have, or claim to have, no knowledge of the counties thru which they are operated in Texas." For these reasons, Commissioner Davis says it was found useless and impossible to pro rate the unassessed franchises and intangible value of the few car companies which actually made to the comptroller reports. Commissioner Davis suggests as a more simple and effective manner to tax these car companies, is to require by special statute, that the railroad companies report quarterly to the state tax board or the tax commissioner direct, the amount paid by them and to reserve and pay into the state treasury, upon the certificate of the tax commissioner, as a tax upon the same, such percentage of the amount so paid as the legislature in its wisdom may direct.

SHOULD THE CLANSMAN BE BARRED?

The play by Rev. Thomas Dixon, entitled "The Clansman," which will be seen in this city next week, is being talked of from one end of the country to the other, and there is a strong sentiment in many sections in favor of barring the play on account of the belief that it stirs up race hatred and sectional animosities. And while such an argument is being advanced it should be remembered that "Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been produced from one end of the country to the other and is yet one of the standard attractions of the north and east. And there was never a more cruel calumny perpetrated upon the south and southern people than this same "Uncle Tom's Cabin." If it is legitimate and proper to have this play, continued it is also proper and legitimate to have "The Clansman" as a companion picture.

Coming down to a matter of fact, it is doubtful if such plays serve any real or useful purpose. But there is some satisfaction in realizing the fact that after years of suffering and misrepresentation from the presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the other side of the question has at length been portrayed in such a realistic manner as to cause the other fellows to indulge in a good healthy squeal. In a recent address in Richmond Rev. Thomas Dixon had the following to say concerning his play:

And I count it the highest honor of my career that I have written the first play in the history of America ("The Clansman") so powerful that legal steps have been taken to stop it, not because it is immoral, but because it is everlastingly true. Ladies and gentlemen, you cannot suppress the truth by the vote of a town council. Crushed to earth, it will rise again.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" has been played for fifty-four years. More than one hundred companies are now playing it in every tongue of the civilized world. Wherever it goes the name of the southern white man is being covered with immortal infamy. Ten years ago I saw this play in New York. I sat thru three horrible hours, and I saw my mother and father and all my people of the southland covered with unspeakable shame. I leaned over on the seat in front of me and burst into tears. Then and there I promised Almighty God that if he gave me strength that I would tell the story of my own silent people, and give to the world the fair side of the darkest problem that overshadowed the life of a nation. I wrote "The Clansman" and produced it north and south. In the north thousands of good Yankees have clasped my hands and thanked me for giving them the real knowledge they had never received on this question. If you cannot produce it in the south I will not produce it in the north. The truth is its own vindication—north, south, east and west.

A group of newspapers in the south are now demanding that both my plays and my books shall be suppressed. Think for one moment of the insane infamy of such a demand, that we return to the suppression of free speech of the darkest Russia, with her czar and censor. These same papers print the advertisements of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and the shame heaped on the memories of their own fathers and mothers. To such I have no apologies to make. They have my undying contempt. "The Clansman" will be played as long as the negro and the white man face each other on a square mile of this earth's surface. You cannot suppress it because it is the truth.

MORE TROUBLE WITH RAILWAYS

The railways of the state are preparing for another round with the railroad commission of Texas on the question of regulating charges for the Pullman car service, and the indications are that the hearing scheduled for Nov. 27 is going to be a very interesting event. The commission cannot make an order with which the railroads can comply in regard to sleeping cars. This is a significant statement made by the railway side of the question, and indicates settled conviction that cannot be easily overcome. It was the answer of one of the most prominent railway attorneys in the state to a question as to the position of the railways and the contentions they will make at the approaching hearing.

There has been much said on the sleeping car proposition since the hearing was ordered, and railway men have generally talked pretty freely on the subject, but were not prepared to say just what line of action would be taken by the roads. The matter was referred to the attorneys in the employ of the big systems, and after going over the situation carefully these attorneys advise that no order can be complied with in this direction. And they argue that this is not on account of any desire on the part of the railways to rebel against the commission, but from a state of affairs backed up by the following reasons:

Because the railroads have no control over the Pullman rates and get no revenue from the Pullman collections.

Because the railroads pay hire to Pullman and can get only the cars which are allowed them by the Pullman company.

Because the railroads cannot build sleeping cars.

The attorneys state they have decisions in other states where the Pullman company has contended that it cannot be interfered with locally in handling its interstate business, and the courts have upheld that contention. In that event the Pullman company would object to local regulation of interstate business and the interstate business would be abandoned, if the commission sought to regulate it.

The railroad attorneys do not know what the commission will do in the matter. They will appear and will make answer as to all points involved and will ask the commission to let the matter rest as it is today, hoping that the argument that will be presented will be given ear by the commissioners.

REFLECTING ON THE LATTER END

When a man gets to be as old as Senator Culom and feels that every day brings him nearer to the time for paying the last great debt of nature, it is mighty gratifying to see him turning his thoughts to such righteous aims as the revision of the tariff. While it is true that the old must die, it is not to be forgotten that the young may die, too. Let the more youthful members of congress, therefore, for the good cause of giving to the consumers of this country a Square Deal.—Kansas City Star.

It is natural for a man to take a more serious view of things generally as he approaches the serene and yellow leaf, but the republican party as a whole does not appear to be in that condition. It is true that some of the party leaders affect to read a lesson from the result of the recent elections and are expressing themselves in favor of tariff revision, but the republican party of this nation is hopelessly committed to the principles of protection, and when it undertakes the work of lessening the tariff it immediately antagonizes the very interests that have conspired to build it up and perpetuate its power.

Roosevelt is in favor of tariff revision, and was prepared to spring the issue at the last session of congress, but was persuaded to pass it up on account of its effect on rock-ribbed republican congressional districts, and now when two years must elapse before there is another contest, the leaders in the republican party are going to fight shy of any approach of the tariff question. There may be a whole lot of wind expended in allusions to the necessity of revising the tariff, and there may be a feint of doing so for the purpose of satisfying that element that seems to be arising within the republican party and contending that the tariff must be revised by its friends.

There is but one hope of the proper tariff revision, however, and that lies in the triumph of the democracy, in which event there would be a general revision of the tariff—not by the friends of the tariff, but by the true representatives of the people. The tariff question will be thoroughly thrashed out in the next national campaign, and if the country wants the principles of a real square deal it can show it by returning the great party of the people to power.

Those English spinners who are looking for a location in Texas for big cotton farms are getting the cart before the horse. They would find it much more economical to bring the machinery to the cotton. This thing of growing cotton in Texas to be shipped to England to be manufactured is a proposition that will not long pan out. The time is not far distant when Texas is going to manufacture all the cotton produced in the state. We are a little slow about it now, but the great day is coming.

The Ohio records are to be brought to Texas for use in the trial of the Waters-Pierce branch of the Standard Oil Company. And if those records were only sufficient to justify a fine of $5,000 in the Buckeye state they ought not to be worth much to the Texas officials.

Governor-elect Hughes of New York is now skirmishing around in the Adirondack woods wearing a flaming red cap, with the design of preventing hunters from shooting him as a mistaken wild animal—as if those whiskers are not sufficient to establish a clear alibi.

The New York Herald says that Hearst and Murphy have undertaken to reorganize the democratic party in that state by reading the men who recently bolted the ticket entirely out of the party. And as these men voluntarily deserted the party the reading out process appears to be that much labor entirely wasted.

The state troops are to be immediately brought away from Rio Grande city, and no uneasiness need be experienced on that account. The state rangers that will be left there will be amply able to properly protect the people. One live and energetic state ranger is just about the proper offset for 1,000 Mexicans.

Secretary Taft refused to wear a political badge while in this city a few evenings ago, and declared his mission to Texas was one of business and not one of politics. And this is but another evidence of the fact that Taft is a very big man.

It has been decided that the services of Colonel H. Clay Pierce, president of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, will not be needed as a witness in the legal proceedings against that company. If Colonel Pierce should be placed on the witness stand it would bar all future criminal proceedings against him.

Treasurer-elect Sparks has eased the pain of all those who were looking for positions in his department of the state government, and while there is considerable disappointment, yet the few who were chosen at least can rest confident and secure.

There is some cotton land in Texas that has made as much as two bales to the acre this year, and that kind of land ought to be considered cheap at $75 per acre.

THE TEXAS PRESS

One of the best paying investments in Bonham is its cotton factory. It was built with local money and a local man has been the manager from the beginning. Why do not the Gainesville business men get their heads together and put up their money to build a factory in Gainesville? Once some one starts the ball rolling it will land a good paying cotton factory in our midst.—Gainesville Messenger.

Cotton factories are paying investments wherever located in Texas, and there are many additional localities where they would prove good investments. Texas needs at least 100 new cotton mills.

A peace officer makes a ridiculous spectacle of himself when he draws his gun, flourishes it and challenges a citizen to go out and fight. If the challenged citizen is violating the law the duty of the officer is to promptly arrest him and not challenge him to mortal combat.—Austin Tribune.

The peace officer who indulges in a procedure of that kind should be summarily retired from business, for he is violating his oath of office and encouraging lawlessness instead of suppressing it.

It was a dog-fall in the case between the railroads and the state of Texas, involving the constitutionality of the tax bill. The court holds that the gross receipt tax is constitutional, but denies the legality of the penalty attached on various grounds. This means the railroads must pay the tax in the future, but the state cannot recover the $200 a day penalty. Honors are about even and the parties of the first and second part can call it a draw.—San Antonio Light.

And the proper thing to do now is to pay the tax, accept the constitutionality of the law and put a stop to expensive litigation.

The editor of this paper is like the late Sam Jones in at least one respect. The quaint brother said: "Let me say to you, if you can't help but one family in town, let that be the family which needs the help. I have a profound contempt for folks who are always helping those who don't need any help." Didn't we tell you last week that many people would rather help the man who is already several rounds up on the ladder, than help the poor fellow who is struggling to get on the bottom round?—Tyler Courier.

It is the man at the bottom of the ladder who needs help, and if he is worthy it should be extended. But there are some men at the bottom who are there from choice and not from necessity.

Texas will celebrate Thanksgiving this year in grand old style. In spite of the boll weevil and boll worm, the cotton crop is all that could be asked; the barns are filled with grain and hay; pumpkins are being brought in by the wagon load, and the sound of the turkeys can be heard from almost every farmhouse. Yes, Texas has a right to celebrate Thanksgiving.—Terrell Transcript.

There are great gobs of prosperity floating around in Texas, and every reason why Thanksgiving should be appropriately celebrated this year. Texas has many reasons for thankfulness.

A northern company has indicated a willingness to put up a canning factory for the next season. Let everybody lend all the encouragement possible. It would be worth a great deal to the country, more than almost any other enterprise.—Athens Review.

There are opportunities for canning plants in many Texas communities and the surprising part of the situation is that enterprising people have not already grasped them. The amount of canned goods consumed in the state is enormous, and all this stuff should be canned in Texas.

To buy up good land just because you are able, and hold it out of use until the sweat and toil of human beings make it valuable is to commit the greatest of all economic crimes. The penalty for this crime should be a tax under which, beyond certain limits, the more land a man might own the poorer he would be. Why not demand that sort of land tax, Mr. Renter?—Ablens Journal.

The land speculator is getting in his work in many portions of Texas at this time and lands are being held at high values, which prohibit many people from acquiring homes.

DRIFT OF POLITICS

THE NEW YORK SITUATION

After Tuesday's performance New York is considered by politicians of both parties as leading the fight for the Presidential race of 1908. Hearst will be a factor in the Presidential contest, either for himself or some one else, and that not William J. Bryan, it is believed. But the democratic party in the state is in a better position than it has been since Roswell P. Flower left the governor's office in 1894. Since then the republicans have held all the state offices. On Tuesday the people put the democrats in control of many of the offices except the governorship and the legislature. None of the men elected are seasoned politicians, all are young, and have had no experience in positions of such prominence. The patronage under their control amounts annually to a million dollars. If this can be judiciously thrown to the democrats and independents for two years to come the result may be disastrous to the republican party in the next Presidential campaign. The democrats, it is believed, have elected the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, comptroller, state treasurer, attorney general and state engineer and surveyor. Lieutenant Governor-elect Chanler is a millionaire and a relative of the Astors. He goes into politics as a hobby, the same as a man buys race horses or yachts or some other amusement. John Sibley Whalen, elected secretary of state, has been a resident of Rochester for thirty-eight years—all his life. He is national organizer of the Tobacco Workers' International Union and president of the Central Trades and Labor Council of Rochester and the Rochester local, No. 23. He is in good circumstances and a bachelor, aged 38. Martin H. Glynn, the comptroller-elect, is a former Albany newspaper man, a member of the Albany bar, an eloquent speaker and a self-made man. In 1898, when 26 years old, he was elected to congress. He was re-elected to congress in 1900. A master baker by trade, but a politician by bent, is Julius Hauser, the successful candidate for state treasurer. Sayville, L. I., is his home. Before the election he did not know either C. F. Murphy or W. R. Hearst. Frederick Skene, the young Astoria civil engineer who has been elected state engineer and surveyor, will become one of the most important factors in public office for the next two years. He will exercise a direct influence over the expenditure of the $101,000,000 appropriated to enlarge the canal system; he can change the plans of his predecessor or spending what remains of the $50,000,000 appropriated for good roads. All of Mr. Skene's engineering experience has been in the highway department in Queens. His salary has been $3,000 a year. He is 33 years old. William S. Jackson, elected to the office of attorney general, is first assistant district attorney of Erie county. He was concerned in the prosecution of the Buffalo cemetery scandal thieves, and made an enviable record in connection with that.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Some feminine complexions are complex affairs. A distant relative who is "close" is both far and near. Too many friends in need will keep an easy man broke. First impressions of dental students are seldom the best. When it comes to giving advice the average man is liberal. A man isn't necessarily an artist because he draws the color line. If a man is well and happy he ought to be willing to let it go at that. After doing one thing do you not often wish that you had done the other? Often a man does himself a favor by keeping on good terms with his neighbors. Many women have a way about them that is calculated to drive sensitive men to drink. Some people display the best of taste by cutting out originality from their conversation. Most of us know when we have said enough, but few of us have sufficient self-control to put the lid on. In after years a man sometimes wishes he had attended his own funeral instead of his wife's wedding. Occasionally a woman dyes her hair red, but if a man was to do a thing like that he would be confined in a padded cell.—Chicago News.

VERVE THAT RING

AUTUMN IN THE CITY

When the fine October weather all the meadows and the hills With the soft, salubrious beauty of the golden autumn fills, Nature also loves the city and she sometimes softly strays Thru the streets of toil and traffic, thru the dusty, dirty ways, With the dream of autumn glory and the swing of autumn's stride, And her beauty floods the city with its gleaming, golden tide. There's an autumn for the meadows and an autumn for the hills, With the leafy lanes of autumn leading to the rippling rills; There's an autumn of the woodlands and the cloudless skies of blue, But nature brings the city gifts of autumn beauty, too! Alf like wine of purple places where the hill winds stray, And the gold of autumn glory flooding all the period day. There's an autumn for the city—one can feel it in the veins, One can breathe it in the clean air and can hear its sweet refrains. Ringing in the happy voices of the throngs that pass with face Turned in wonder to the sunshine and the soft and dreamful grace. One can lift the footsteps higher, swing the arms wide, freer will, And the heart is nearer heaven in the rapturous autumn thrill. There's an autumn for the city—when the days come down so sweet That we wonder what dream-visions pass us by upon the street. There's an autumn for the city—when the roar of traffic dies To the softest, far-off murmur and we look up to the skies, And we see the city ambient, not a home of grime and mirk, As we go with smiles to duty and with happy hearts to work. —Exchange.

FOOLING WITH THE LAWS

It was mentioned the other day that the Pullman company had decided to decline to obey the interstate rate law, taking the ground that it was not a common carrier, but a hotel company. This knocker for the government seems likely to come home again to the company in an amusing way. It is said now that if any such assumption is sanctioned, then the Pullman concern will at once be brought under the hotel act and will have to keep a register of all guests lodged, to provide safes for their valuables, and to have all doors open outward. We cannot see, too, why the company would not be compelled to take out a liquor license in every town that its cars ran thru. This would make things interesting and be something like the famous evasion by which the frying pan was escaped.—Hartford Courant.

The Tobacco That Made Chewing Popular

Man's fondness for chewing tobacco is created and popularized by the tobacco produced in the famous Piedmont tobacco belt. Only choice selections of this well matured, thoroughly cured leaf are used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS requires and takes a smaller amount of sweetening than any other kind—and that's why SCHNAPPS has a wholesome, stimulating and satisfying effect on chewers.

There are many imitations of SCHNAPPS claiming to be "just as good," but without the flavor or quality that has made SCHNAPPS sales more than all similar tobaccos.

It is made in the Reynolds factories, famous for producing the best chewing tobaccos, by clean, sanitary processes, under the same direction, since 1875, of men who have made the business a life study. They are the largest and best equipped flat plug factories in the world and are situated in the very center of the world's greatest chewing tobacco district.

If you've never chewed SCHNAPPS, now is the time to get acquainted with the cleanest, most healthful, stimulating, and wholesome form in which tobacco can be used. Do not accept imitations.

Unexampled Prosperity in All Lines of Endeavor Reflected in Optimism of Wall Street

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The tone of prosperity in almost all lines of industry and the unexampled successful endeavor throughout the United States is reflected in Wall Street, the leaders of which are converting a large host of followers to the earnest belief in higher values for all standard issues.

And the reason for the optimism with which stocks without the aggressive attacks to hammer the market evidences strong foundations for higher prices. Even during the past few days of monetary stringency there was a confident feeling all along that the immediate and distant future held in store good things for the friends of stocks.

Now that money rates have decreased and in view of the satisfactory settlement in London an even better feeling pervades Wall Street.

The list today opened at improved figures generally and held up steadily throughout the morning at prices slightly better than those established by yesterday's short advance.

It was interesting to note the steadiness of St. Paul today at the greatly increased quotations since Tuesday. An advance of 11 points, from 171 to 182, would naturally cause that stock to exhibit irregular tendencies. Fairly well balanced, however, and this stock up 1 point by slow fractions, after which the price fluctuated back to yesterday's level.

Quotations predict the 200 mark for Union Pacific in view of the expected excellent showing of earnings and probable dividend. Union Pacific closed Wednesday at 183 1/2, and today advanced straightaway to 185 1/2, slipping back to 184 immediately upon the heels of the high figure.

Harrison stocks exhibited strength and the Hill issues are expected to improve just for the sake of apparent discount of the right to be declared.

Reading, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway, Steel, common, and Copper were active at and around Wednesday's quotations.

Contracts Are 75 Per Cent Better. Bulls Seemingly Have the Throttle But Lack the Confidence

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The friends of the staple launched out today upon an ocean of uncertainty like a magnificent ship going out to sea. The extent of their journey resolved itself into a hazardous guessing contest, and who can say where the crews will crash against some sunken rock and wreck the speculators. Surely the voyage is a hazardous one, pending the arrival at the next lighthouse, which is, of course, the ginners' report, to which the speculators are uncertain and the dangers are many.

It is not what could be called outright a "bull" market. It does not look like systematic campaign.

Options here opened at a loss of 7 to 9 points, but were hammered lower the first hour, but as soon as the selling stopped the profits, prices steadily advanced. The market advanced and declined about 1/2 point, caused by the jerking of short covering, augmented by good heavy orders better than those which were being betted in a fashion as the market advanced.

The spirit of scalping on short turns pervaded the market. Investors, who after observing the upturn the first hour, kept buying for quick profits. This was proved after 1 o'clock by the selling of the market. Numerous small orders upon the market. The bulls had the situation pretty well in hand, but were reluctant to move the market. The market advanced 9 points lower, sustained a slight loss, then steadily advanced to 10.25, when the offerings proved too enticing and the consequence being a sufficient number to force the price to 10.15. January opened at 9.90, reached 10.15 and then declined to 10.12 1/2, from 10.24, ascended in a skyrocket manner to 10.40.

The range of fluctuations manifests a sort of zig-zag sentiment, and while there are many who pronounced it a "bull" market, the tendency was somewhat of a doubt in spite of the net gain of about 15 points.

COTTON TIPS

The wide differences in high and low grades make it profitable for spinners to use low grades or mix.

Hubbard sold 15,000 January at 8.98, and then offered 5,000 more than sold. And January slipped right up to 10 cents.

Guild sold March in New York at the opening.

Spinners are now buying low grades.

There is a good demand and spot dealers are anxious.

Spots were firm at New Orleans.

Bears hammered again, but after the advance quickly skidded.

New Orleans jumped and New York followed.

Some fear that the market may be thrown by force.

Local traders sold at the New York Cotton Exchange.

Some of the selling was deliberately aggressive.

Hubbard Brothers: "We think this advance leaves the market with very few shorts and it will be controlled by the weather conditions."

Edward Moyle & Co.: "We may have some decline today, but don't look for much decline, as the situation has changed materially."

T. A. McIntyre & Co.: "We continue to advise a scalping position, making purchases on the dips and selling out on the bulges."

Dick Brothers: "We place most reliance upon the strong spot situation and believe that the crop has been greatly overestimated."

Musician Pulled from Horse's Feet by Stage Director

Saved from serious injury by Howard Sale, who pulled him from under a team of cab horses late Wednesday evening, Phil Eppstein, musical director of the Majestic theater, is suffering from several minor bruises. Thursday, Mr. Eppstein was leaving the theater and in a dash across the street to board a southbound car he was struck down by a team of cab horses rapidly in the opposite direction. Mr. Sale, who is stage manager of the theater and who was closely following, effected the rescue from the cab wheels. Mr. Eppstein will lead at the matinee as usual.

General Market Strong and Active on All Kinds—Hogs Five Cents Higher

The run of stock received at the stock yards was not so great as yesterday, there being a falling off in all departments in the receipts. The general market was active and strong. There was competition from outside butchers, feeder buyers and order buyers, which made the demand strong and active. The quality was generally good, and all offerings found prompt buyers at steady to strong prices.

The receipts were only moderate for a mid-week run. There were several loads of cows and heifers, but the run of hogs was very light, and they are exceedingly scarce. Several loads of good quality of feeders on the market found ready sales at strong prices. However, from all sources for feeders and packers, and such as were eligible for classification as such were taken in good season at steady prices.

Southwestern Will Use Separate Building for Long Distance

To accommodate the long distance business of the Southwestern Bell telephone company, a new building is being erected at 10th and Main streets to make other provision for that part of the business than was planned in the original designs of the new building. They have therefore rented the store room just across Tenth street number 208 and belonging to Ed Farmer. The new building is being erected on the lot between 10th and Main streets, and the room can be used for the intended purpose and that may take as much as two weeks, the change will be made as soon as possible. The fittings will be of the best character for the purpose and it will be a decided convenience to the users of long distance service who have to go to the office to communicate with their out-of-town calls.

NORTH FORT WORTH

PREPARING FOR THE CELEBRATION

Advertising Matter Will Also Boom North Fort Worth

North Fort Worth is actively preparing for the big celebration for the week beginning Nov. 26. Already large streamers are being placed over the city announcing the coming event, and thousands of posters will soon be posted all over the city and county.

The Cosmopolitan Amusement Company has opened headquarters at Roan Inn, where all the business of the big celebration will be attended to. A complete advertising office, with a stenographer and man in charge, will be maintained till the close of the week's entertainment.

The advertising car of the Cosmopolitan Amusement Company arrived Thursday with a large force of bill posters and great stacks of advertising matter, and the bill board will soon be telling of the "big show" that is coming. The Commercial Club, thru the advance men for the amusement company, is preparing for North Fort Worth advertising matter, which is to appear on all bills.

Jack Schwarz says White City will be closed for the week's entertainment, and he is actively engaged in pushing the amusement features of the North Fort Worth anniversary celebration. He says that everything that is of the kind ever attempted in North Fort Worth and many thousands of people are expected to attend daily.

The attractions are open afternoons and nights and will give continuous performances. North Fort Worth invites all the people to lay aside business cares and join with them in this great celebration.

WANT MORE FACTORIES

North Fort Worth People Encourage Industries

The spirit of progress was never more earnest and determined in any city or municipality than it is at this time in North Fort Worth. Everything that will tend to advance the interests of that city receives the prompt attention of the Commercial Club, and every reasonable demand upon them is readily granted. They are now out after more factories, and are going about it in a manner that will bring results.

There are many desirable factory sites in North Fort Worth and an effort will be made to develop these properties. One of the first things to be taken will be to have the North Fort Worth Belt Railroad extended around the southern portion of the city and connect with the Frisco section at a point west of the Iron foundry. Should such a step be taken, it would provide ample room for a number of factories, and the property owners would then place that vacant property on the market. Inducements could then easily be made to have factories locate in that portion of the city.

The fact that the country is low is not considered a very great matter, as the flow of water is frequent, and provisions could be made against damage from this source.

There is a large area of valuable land in the railroad facilities are provided, and the extension of the belt line would meet this demand.

HAS RAPID GROWTH

Property in North Fort Worth Increases in Value

The fact that North Fort Worth is growing rapidly is not hard to determine, even the casual observer. A drive over the principal residence thoroughfares of the city will determine this. By the time one reaches the residences that have recently been completed.

One firm put out over $100,000 in improvements within the last twelve months. The bulk of this money was put out on the hill property to the west of Marine. However, many other neighborhoods have made great progress in the building line, and the present indications do not fail.

There are many other indications in North Fort Worth, some of them valued at above ten thousand dollars. Those costing around three to five thousand are numerous, while there are hundreds of cottages.

There is a great demand for desirable vacant lots and many are changing hands every day. The valuation is also rapidly increasing and the past two years have seen a great advance in prices. Property that sold two years ago for $350 has since been sold for $1,000.

BOLL WEEVIL IS DISCUSSED

Entomologists Talk About the Cotton Pest

Special to The Telegram.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 15.—The entomologists of the cotton belt opened an interesting two days' session here Tuesday in connection with the meetings of the presidents of colleges. The entire discussion today was devoted to the boll weevil.

Dr. W. D. Hunter, in charge of the bill weevil campaign in Texas, headquarters in Dallas, was the first speaker.

Boll weevil investigations so far, he said, were not likely to result in anything sensational.

Since it has been in this country it has traveled over six hundred miles north from its original point in Texas.

It continued, it has come up from the sea level to 2,200 feet above sea level. It is now living successfully in counties where the rainfall is not ten inches a year and in sections where the rainfall is over sixty inches for the same period.

Proof has been found in Texas that the weevil has been transmitted from one locality to another in cotton seed.

The boll weevil now covers 64 per cent of the cotton producing territory of Louisiana, with the interesting information brought by Professor J. E. Gardner, assistant entomologist of the Louisiana state crop commission.

The boll weevil is now within twenty-five miles of Mississippi, he declared, its nearest point being in Avoyelles parish.

W. Dwight Pierce of Texas spoke on the parasite of the boll weevil, the parasites that attack the weevil in Texas and Louisiana are new varieties.

The boll weevil is now within twenty-five miles of Mississippi, he declared, its nearest point being in Avoyelles parish.

FOREIGN MISSIONS

An Enormous Sum to Be Used for That Purpose

Special to The Telegram.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 15.—According to the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, the organization is to receive about $450,000 from the estate of the late Solomon H. Chandler of New Gloucester, Maine, regardless of the result of the Maine law court handed down Monday, whereby the title to the whole estate, valued at between $500,000 and $900,000, is denied the heirs. By a previous decision of the probate court, an appeal from which the matter came before the law court, a codicil to the will providing that eleven thousand dollars be paid to the heirs, stands.

CHURCH MEMBERS ERECT BUILDING

No Contract Was Let and Parishioners Do the Work

Work on new First Baptist church building of Rosen Heights was commenced Thursday morning. The framing, lumber and foundation materials were placed on the ground Wednesday afternoon and a force of workmen began laying the foundation Thursday.

The church is being erected on the lot purchased some time ago on Roosevelt avenue, near the school building. It will be 30 x 48 feet, and of modern architecture. It is being built by the congregation, which as yet is comparatively weak in point of numbers, but all are loyal workers, and by constant and energetic efforts have secured funds with which to complete the hull of the building, if not to finish it, as they would have, just at the present time.

The town is rapidly expanding. A new addition is being surveyed this week. T. C. Forrest has subdivided twelve acres into residence lots.

GOULDS REFUSE TO AID AUNT

Close Relative of Wealthy Folk Ousted

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Ousted from her home, the famous "Old Joe" Jefferson estate at Hohokus, N. J., Mrs. Isaac Miller, an aunt of the multimillionaire philanthropist, Helen, was today forced to leave the mansion because of a foreclosure of a mortgage.

The mortgage, which was for only $15,000, was on the estate when it was bought from the late Joseph Jefferson ten years ago by Mrs. Miller, the wife of Jay Miller. The purchase price was $25,000, and Mrs. Miller paid down $10,000 in cash. For some reason the woman so closely related to the family of millions has never lifted the mortgage.

On the death of Joseph Jefferson, his executor, Edward G. Black, started foreclosure proceedings. The property was sold on Oct. 10 for $17,000, and Mrs. Miller, once having the sale annulled and a new auction held on the ground that the sum accepted was much too low. Vice Chancellor Stevenson, however, confirmed the sale and the matter went into effect today.

Mrs. Miller's counsel today filed a bill in the court of errors and appeals to show the executor, confirmed the sale and the matter went into effect today.

The plans have so far progressed that the end is in sight, and that addition to the holdings of the Morse syndicate may be counted on as a certainty.

AMUSEMENTS

"It Happened in Nordland" "It Happened in Nordland" comes to Greenwall's opera house tonight at 8:15 with the Lew's Fields Theater Company all the original elaborate production of the great metropolitan success, which played consecutively for over a year and a half at Lew Fields theater, New York city.

"Sergeant Kitty" Miss Helen Byron, who is playing the title role in "Sergeant Kitty" this season, which comes to Greenwall's opera house Saturday, matinee and night, Nov. 17, has a bright little niece who, like all small children, often needs a little parental admonishment.

"One day my little niece came in the house" said Miss Byron, "and started to sit down at the table without washing her hands." "You never saw my hands as dirty as that," said her mother reproachfully. "Cause I never saw you when you was a little girl," was the prompt reply of the little one.

New York and "The Clansman" New York city welcomed "The Clansman" uproariously. On the first night last January almost as many people were turned away as obtained admission to the Liberty theater. There wasn't a free pass in the house except the very first state of the audience showed itself.

At the Majestic Of all the acts on the Majestic this week, and good ones are not scarce, the one which stands in a class all alone contains the solos of Madame Slapoffski.

BOVINES BRAND THREE MAVERICKS

Treasurer Announces $200 Is in Surplus Fund Three stray mavericks were gathered in by the Mystic Knights of Bovinia at the regular round-up at the club ranch house Wednesday night, and the brand of the order indelibly imprinted on them, by which they will hereafter be recognized as full-fledged members of the Bovine herd. They were Ralph S. Purvis, Buck Harding and W. P. Royston, who had strayed from the court house corral and were caught by the line riders on the night of the club ranch house for treatment.

The round-up and branding of Wednesday night was highly successful and unusually interesting, especially to the three mavericks. There were present over one hundred old members of the herd, who were put in good humor by an announcement by the keeper of records that he had added $200 to the cash surplus fund. The round-up in the streets of the city by the cowboys was an exciting affair. A spotted maverick was flushed in Main street and he proved a good sprinter. He took up the middle of the street, spitting mud as he went, and belching came the yelling gang of cowboys. The maverick "interfered" as he ran, which caused him to wobble in his gait, and he soon felt the lariat around his body. He bleated a trifle, and two other mavericks were taken to the chief ranch house, where the last rites were performed for them all. The machinery worked well and so did the entire herd, the mavericks doing all the peraparing.

Following the meeting of the grand lodge there will be a school of instruction for the benefit of candidates for certificates. A certificate man is one who is qualified to teach. The Fort Worth Blue Lodge members have never taken any special interest in having a large number of certificate men, but only have enough for all emergencies. Fort Worth Lodge No. 148 has three certificate men, namely, Ray Hunter, A. L. Hartshorn and Guy C. Hartshorn.

Members of Fort Worth Lodge No. 148 have been surprised within the past few days at statements made in the Dallas papers that Tannehill Lodge No. 32 enjoys the distinction, with its 400 members, of being the largest in the state, whereas Fort Worth Lodge No. 148 has been for years the largest and still enjoys that proud distinction, having over 530 members.
