MYSTERY ABOUT
WOUND ON CHIN

Two Men Who Posed as Cripples Were Arrested

An arrest of two alleged thieves, made about 10 o'clock Friday morning, was simultaneous with the injury of J. A. Davis, a railway man who was two blocks away from the scene of the arrest.

Two men, posing as cripples, who gave the names of Mike Sullivan and Charles Ford, were arrested by Police Officer Sebe Maddox and Wallace on Calhoun street near Twelfth street. Shortly before that hour the two men arrested had gone to the cleaning and dyeing establishment of H. Eltes, 1305 Main street and snatched three pairs of trousers and remnants of valuable cloth. They offered the stuff for sale next door, but the man there knew the goods, and promptly notified Eltes. He went after the men, raised the cry of "Stop, thief!" the attention of the officers was attracted and they joined in the pursuit.

"One of the pursued ran like a deer," said Officer Maddox, "and I drew my gun and shot once to frighten him. He fired toward the ground, but a short distance in front of me. We got the men and brought them in."

About the time the party arrived at the police headquarters there also came in Davis, nursing a glancing wound on the left side of his chin. He wanted it dressed, fearing it might cause trouble if he caught cold in it.

His story is that almost simultaneously with the theft of the trousers he felt the blow which had caused the injury to his chin and ran back to the rear of the restaurant in front of which he was sitting when he heard the report of the pistol.

The shot was fired by the officer at the corner of Calhoun and Thirteenth streets and Davis was sitting when he was hurt at the corner of Fourteenth and Calhoun streets.

Officer Maddox doubts the idea of his shot having struck the man and the only thing Davis knows is that he heard the report and then he immediately felt the blow on his chin which caused the injury to him. Of that he is not sure, for he never found the missile which struck him.

His wound was dressed at the city hall. It is a glancing wound, which did not injure the bone, but cut through the skin and shows as there is at the point of the chin.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Girl and the Bandit"
If the Viola Gillette Opera Company, which was at Greeley's this week, were playing two performances, it is very likely that there would be a larger audience at the second performance. The company is in many respects very excellent, and those who saw "The Girl and the Bandit" enjoyed it.

Miss Gillette has a voice that fascinates, has both range and quality, and these qualities in a handsome graceful woman are very apt to please. George J. McFarlane is a splendid baritone voice which he uses well. It is the best man's voice that has been heard in Greeleyville's this season.

William Selley is the fun maker in the show. He is a quiet, clever comedian with a good voice. This combination is rare, and Mr. Selley is an important factor in the show. The best thing in the performance was the "Goblin Man," a duet between Selley and Edwin Blair. Mr. Selley is a little woman who makes faces and moves about on the stage—she does not have to talk, one will laugh at her all right. Miss Selley and Mr. Selley are a good team.

Mr. Frederick Knights has a fair voice. Miss Anderson has a better one, far better than most that we see and the audience didn't appreciate her.

The chorus was good and the women pretty. The only real objection to "The Girl and the Bandit" is that such excellent voices should have no better music to handle.

To be sure, the little opera is tuneful and pretty, but Mr. McFarlane and Miss Gillette could sing much heavier stuff.

"A Sweet Venetian Rose" and "Come Down and Spoon" were Mr. McFarlane's best songs. Judging from the number of encores, the evening was thoroughly enjoyed and it is to be regretted that this is the last night booked for two nights in Fort Worth.

"The Girl Patsy"
Jane Maudlin Feigl's play, "The Girl Patsy," will be seen at Greenwall's opera house tonight. The author of this comedy drama is a native born Texan and also author of the now famous play "The Girl Patsy" in the New York Press says of "The Girl Patsy."

"Mrs. Jane Maudlin Feigl, the author of 'The Girl Patsy,' the author of three successful plays, one of which, 'Texas,' had a long run in this city last season, her present efforts she has chosen a very interesting theme. The story is told in four acts, and deals with fashionable country life in a summer resort, a short distance from New York. The play contains many characters drawn from life, one of which is entirely new to the stage—a big man who cannot speak an intelligent word, but who is yet so cleverly interwoven into the comedy of the story that he keeps the audience in a continuous roar of laughter. 'The Girl Patsy' has already been seen in Philadelphia and several other cities, where it was favorably received. The story, which is cleverly worked out with much interesting detail, may be classed in the same category with 'Way Down East,' 'York State Folks' and 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.'"

"Human Hearts"
"Human Hearts" will be presented this season with an entirely new scenic equipment. Mr. W. E. Nankville, at great expense, had photographic views for the new scenes taken in the hills of Arkansas, in the locality where the scenes of the play are laid.

"Human Hearts" in all its new scenic splendor, will be at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, Nov. 24.

"My Wife's Family"
If you wish to drive dull care away and forget the blues, don't fail to see the laughable three act musical farce comedy success, "My Wife's Family," from the pen of Hal Stephens and Harry Linton, who are known as prolific writers of excellent farce. This merry comedy met with universal success wherever produced last season, in fact it was such a hit that it was retained in many places. Bright lines, absurd laughable situations and a budget of original song and dances numbers by the authors add spice and color to the record breaker of the comedy world.

"My Wife's Family" will be seen at Greeley's opera house Tuesday matinee and night, Nov. 27.

"SAWDUST BILL"

Who has ever, at a zoo, watched the monkeys, baboons, apes and other members of the Simian tribe, chasing each other about inside the big cages, but has wished to see those same monkeys, unconfined by bars or netting, go thru the same antics at their own sweet will and play as they would have played if left in their own native forest?

Not one monkey act at a circus in a hundred lets the monkeys run about at will. There is always a string tied to a collar which restricts freedom of movement and detracts from the naturalness of the antics. But Ryder's troop of trained monkeys at the Majestic this week is different from the usual. Exactly all of the monkeys come on the stage alone, untied and free to scamper all over the stage, up the sides of the scenery, around the footlights, over into the boxes, and wherever their own eccentric wills may fancy. Only the star performers are tied, just as star performers in all shows are fastened to their management by iron-clad contracts. A star is too valuable to let run loose.

Ryder has a number of monkeys who are in the business. "Sawdust Bill," who outshines any four-legged actor in the business, "Bill" likes his own work so well he will stand it when he gets thru. Bill is so natural and so like a human actor that he takes a drink out of a bottle at the help him. There are other trained monkeys in the troupe, enough to give the children something to talk about for weeks, but the greatest feature of the act is the unfastened dozen of human-like apes who do no act or anything to amuse themselves and unconsciously the spectators at the same time. Thursday night one climbed to the highest bit of scenery at the Majestic and then, seeing a painted tree on the curtain at the back of the stage, leaped at it with all confidence, expecting that with a couple of minutes' talk about for weeks, but he tumbled down to the stage, unharmed, while the audience laughed.

Another scampering around the footlights, got fascinated with the movement of the trombone in the orchestra and immediately started to play. He sparred with his fists over the footlights until the trombonist was forced to cut out a whole page of notes to defend himself.

TWO BOYS ARRESTED

Had Many Fine Tobacco Pipes in Their Possession
Detective Sebe Maddox Thursday arrested two boys who had in their possession a number of tobacco pipes, some of them of the finest kind. They are booked as Lonzo Cory, aged 13 years, and Frank Burns, aged 15 years. Both are well known in police circles and have often been in the calaboose and in the penitentiary.

The boy was trying to get out and the captain shot, it is thought, to scare the boy, and then the boy fled. The boys had told a companion they had picked up a drummer's sample case and got the pipes therefrom. The case goes to the county.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Knights of Columbus Will Meet Saturday
A call has been issued by Rev. Father W. S. Parks for memorial services in honor of the deceased members of the Knights of Columbus who died last week. Members of the order will attend mass at St. Patrick's church Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. This is the first time that memorial services have been held, but it is expected that it will be made an annual service. An invitation has been issued to all Knights of Columbus to attend the services.

The organization in this city has about 125 members and lost two members by death since its organization. These were M. B. Kelley and T. B. Holleran.

HONEST CAB DRIVER

He Lived Here in Fort Worth, of Course
The spirit of honesty among the cab drivers of Fort Worth was well exemplified by an incident that happened at the Texas and Pacific depot Thursday night. Two west Texas ranchmen had come down from the hotel in a hurry to catch the westbound Texas and Pacific train and were running thru the station for the platform, and behind them, almost out of sight, was a cabman who had left his horses and carriage untied in order to catch them. In paying for the carriage one of the men had handed out a bill with the statement, "Change this five, quick," and had received change for $5. Just as they disappeared into the depot the cabman discovered it was a $10 bill, and he managed to catch them just as the train pulled out.

resolutions to Cover Wa. Gulf, Statehood for New and Trade Increas

Special to The Telegram.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—Gov. Arthur H. Rowe tonight greeted Mr. Bryan at the largest of his Mississippi Commercial Club members, numbering 6,000 people.

Mr. Bryan presented the resolution, which he asked to be adopted by the resolution committee.

"Resolved, That this congress indorse the resolution adopted by the International Union at its London session favor of the submission of national questions to arbitration or commission for inquiry, or any declaration of war, or commencement of hostilities."

He pledged earnestly for the resolution.

He congratulated the congress having had as its guests two of the President's cabinet members and Secretary Shaw—most members of the "official family," he said.

Speaking of the South side expansion possibilities north by Secretary Root, he said he did not agree with Mr. Root's methods suggested. He did believe in subsidies.

Mr. Bryan then read a resolution affecting trusts, which he wished might be passed. This resolution, which he said covered in a general

BAILEY TALKED AT KANSAS CITY
Fort Worth Man Speaker at the Congress
TRAIN OF DOLLARS EAST

New York Made Rich From Premiums
Sent From Western States to Insurance Companies

Special to The Telegram.
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22.—At the session of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress here this week B. P. Bailey, vice president and general manager of the Fort Worth Life Insurance Company of Fort Worth, delivered one of the principal addresses on life insurance.

He spoke as follows:
No country on earth has greater natural wealth than that represented by us here today—the great trans-Mississippi country. Our fertile valleys and plains, our mountain ranges, rich in iron and coal, copper, silver and gold, are today and will for countless years to come, be the great source of the world's supply of all that ministers to man's needs or pleasures, for we ourselves have but a faint idea of the possibilities of our nation.

A few weeks ago I stood at the base of a granite mountain in our state, that furnished the granite for one of the largest buildings in the world, the Texas Capitol, as the credit for the thousands upon thousands of cars of granite used in the construction of the Jefferson Hotel, the Hotel West, and for miles into the Gulf, and the great sea wall that now protects that city.

Notwithstanding the immense quantities of granite cut out of its sides, the mountain seems to have been but scratched. And so it is with our section of the union—it has been but scratched as yet, its possibilities but hinted at.

We of the west have not conserved our wealth as we should. Nature has been so bountiful we have not felt the need and have been most lavish and extravagant in our use of it. We are to make the most of our opportunities, this must be changed.

The great need of our section is transportation—cheap transportation to the markets of the world. That is coming, coming fast, and to this organization, more than to any other, we owe the factor that gives the east its position today in the financial and manufacturing world.

It takes money—lots of it—to prepare and market our products, and unless we desire to enter the future and all it holds of promise, we should begin now to look to the provision of this money.

Do you know that great source of money supply today? Do you know from whence comes the money to finance any great enterprise? Do you know what gives the east its position today in the financial and manufacturing world?

On Dec. 31, 1935, 112 American life insurance companies reported assets aggregating $2,739,675,037. I believe here you will find the answer to the question.

Pick up an itemized statement of these assets and you will find represented there the stocks and bonds of all the great railroads and industrial plants of this country.

If you will trace these vast assets back to the sources from whence they came, you will find that they are the property of the United States, all portions of the civilized world, in fact, have contributed to them.

There is one fact, however, that I want to call your attention to. Of this $2,739,675,037, less than $34,000,000, or less than one-eighth of one percent, is held in the financial and manufacturing west of the Father of Waters—the companies east of the Mississippi hold the other seventy-two percent of the companies in New York city, Newark, N. J., and Philadelphia holding $2,000,000,000 of it.

Does this mean that the west is in some small measure for what many of us of the west believe, that the railroads seem to discriminate against us in favor of the east? Does it indicate that the railroads might be run more in the interest of that section than of ours—

EXTRAORDINARY PIANO SELLING AT BANKRUPT SALE

The Great Selling Out Sale of the Receiver's Stock of the Louis Rick Piano Company—Finest and Best Known Makes of Pianos, Organs, Player Pianos and Piano Players

AT FACTORY COST AND LESS ON EXTREMELY EASY TERMS

Best Chance You Will Ever Have to Get a Good Piano Dirt Cheap—Upright Pianos as Low as $65—Better Ones $110 to $135—Don't Wait Longer—Buy Now—Save Money

COME TONIGHT—STORE OPEN TILL 10—404 HOUSTON ST

This extraordinary selling out sale of the receiver's stock of the Louis Rick Piano Company offers remarkable opportunities for money-saving and for wide variety in selection. One customer tells another of the crowd, "Best coming. The immense variety of stock is something no customer believes until he has actually seen it. There's a Piano here to suit every taste and every purse. You should no longer be without a Piano in your home. Every home that has a Piano is brighter and happier. A Piano brings refinement, culture, knowledge and love of music; brings friends, young and old; inspires the children with a sense of home and establishes higher ideals. The influence of a piano in the home will follow the child all through life. The home where the piano is not heard has a dreary, cheerless atmosphere. How different a home would be if a piano were put in it.

If you would come immediately to this selling out sale of receiver's stock of the bankrupt firm—Louis F. Rick Piano Co.—you will secure a fine piano at almost half price on "your own terms" and besides get one of the best makes.

The following are a few of the very special bargains in splendid pianos.

Your favorite make is likely represented. If we don't happen to mention its name come and look over the immense stock. You always know the most certain way to find your heart's desire.

Note the makes of upright pianos and the exceedingly low prices: $150 Chickering, $165 upright grand for $165.

A $350 J. & C. Flinck upright grand for $90.

A $450 Ivers & Pond upright grand for $150.

A $400 B. Shouger upright grand for $135.

A $500 Kimball upright grand, merrill in shipping, for $295.

A $300 J. P. Hale upright grand at $65.

$10 will send one home and $4, $6 to $8 a month will settle for it.

A good stool and cover free with each piano.

The opportunity to get a good bargain in a good piano could not be more favorable.

Among the greatest attractions in this sale are the extraordinary values of brand new pianos of recognized high standard makes, such as the celebrated Kimball, Mathushek, Horbart M. Cable, Hinze, Haddorf, Whitney-Strohbein, Hoffman, Rudolf, Arion, Singer and many other brands, going at the lowest known cost.

Here are beautiful new upright grands that sell regularly at $50, $75, $100, $125, $150, $175, $200, $225, $250, $275, $300, $325, $350, $375, $400, $425, $450, $475, $500, $525, $550, $575, $600, $625, $650, $675, $700, $725, $750, $775, $800, $825, $850, $875, $900, $925, $950, $975, $1000.

Highest class of cabinet grand uprights of various makes in fancy or plain colonial case designs, worth regularly $450, $500, $550 and $650; bankrupt sale prices $250, $275, $295 and $327. Cash or payments $8 to $10 monthly.

And so we could go on and on. There are scores and scores of other bargains just as good as these. No one should miss this sale of receiver's stock. Customers are surprised at the values—many express themselves that the opportunity for saving is better than they expected. Come and see for yourself.

We will deliver any one of these pianos with a handsome piano stool and cart direct to your home, either in Fort Worth or anywhere in the southwest upon the payment of a small deposit of $10, $15 to $25, and you can have the use of the piano during the balance of the balance. $4, $6, $8 to $10 monthly, or quarterly payments can be arranged to suit you.

Good square pianos, Steinway, Mason & Hamlin, Vose & Sons and others, to close at $10, $15 to $75. If not convenient to call today, come tonight; store open till 10, or write for bargain list.

Asks Commercial Congress to Adopt Peace Resolution

PEAKS TO BIG CROWD
Resolutions to Cover Waterway to Gulf, Statehood for New Mexico and Trade Increase

Special to The Telegram.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—The crowd that greeted Mr. Bryan last night was the largest of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, numbering 6,000 people.

Mr. Bryan presented the following resolution, which he asked to be considered by the resolution committee at today's session:

"Resolved, That this congress heartily indorses the resolution unanimously adopted by the Interparliamentary Union at its London session last July in favor of the submission of all international questions to an impartial arbitral or commission for investigation before any declaration of war or commencement of hostilities."

He pleaded earnestly for the adoption of the resolution.

He congratulated the congress for having had as its guests two members of the President's cabinet—Secretary Root and Secretary Shaw—the two foremost members of the President's official family," he said.

Speaking of the South American trade expansion possibilities as set forth by Secretary Root, he said he did not agree with Mr. Root as to the methods suggested. He did not, he said, believe in subsidies.

Mr. Bryan then read a second resolution affecting trusts, which also, he said, he wished might be adopted by the commercial congress at its business session today.

This resolution, which Mr. Bryan said covered in a general way his

ABANDONED BABY FINDS GOOD HOME
Foster Parents Want Identity Kept Secret

The police department was notified Thursday that a white girl baby about 4 or 5 days old had been found in an outhouse just northeast of the interlocking plant. One of the policemen was sent there and placed the babe temporarily in the well-warmed interlocking station, for it was pretty thoroughly chilled. The house where it was found is closely built, but the child, which was clothed as to quality, wore scanty garments.

One of the switchmen, W. W. Brice, who had been told of the find by a negro who first saw the foundling, took charge of the baby until with the aid of the officer, a home was found for her.

The people to whose care she is given are anxious to retain and rear the child and will do so if secrecy as to their identity is preserved. They are able and willing to provide a good home and the best of care and training, but only on the condition that there be no trouble in the future, and that they be kept in the mantle of secrecy thrown about the transaction.

STOCK FISH LAKE
Cat Fish Appear Mysteriously in Made Lake

County Surveyor J. J. Goodfellow, who owns two fine lakes at his ranch near Roanoke, has just received from the government hatchery at San Marcos and placed in the lakes a consignment of rock bass.

The two lakes, one of them covering an area of six or seven acres, were already stocked with black bass, perch, rock bass and channel cat, and this consignment is simply a reinforcement of the supply. In the larger of the two lakes there are now bass, both black and rock, that will weigh five pounds, and the perch are as large as a man's hand and larger.

The bass and perch were put in the lake by Mr. Goodfellow but how the catfish got there he says he has no idea. The lakes are made bodies of water and the fish are of the catch-fish spawn in either of them, but there are plenty of catfish of five, six and seven pounds weight in both bodies of water.

RAIN NOT EXPECTED
Low Temperatures Continue in the North

The rain of Friday morning came in unheralded by the weather bureau, the only indication of rain that was indicated being issued on the map for Friday morning, which came out after the rain had started and this only forecast rain as probable for Saturday.

Cold temperatures are still reported from the northern part of the country. Devil's Lake, N. D., going down to 2 degrees below zero Thursday night. Havre, Mo., reported a minimum of zero degrees.

A high barometer area overlies the Rocky mountain states and the great middle valleys, resulting in generally fair cold weather, the freezing line extending as far south as Oklahoma City.

Reports from the long distance operators of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company indicated the following conditions thruout Texas and Arkansas at 6:30 o'clock Friday morning.

Rain—Abilene, Corsicana, Dallas, Dublin, Greenville, Hillsboro, Paris, San Antonio, Texarkana, Tyler, Waco, Cloudy—Cleburne, Fort Smith, Ark., Gainesville, Hearne, Houston, Lampasas, Palestine, Sherman, Taylor, Weatherford, Wichita Falls, Clear—Austin, Beaumont, Flatonia, Helena, Ark., Little Rock, Ark., Laredo,

METHODIST SCHOOL
Magnificent One to Be Erected at Brownwood

Special to The Telegram.
WACO, Texas, Nov. 23.—A start is to be made at once on the great school for the Methodist denomination at Stamford on the Texas Central railroad. Rev. Jerome Duncan, who was appointed by the northwest Texas conference to Brownwood to have charge of and manage the school, left last night for Stamford and Bishop Hess will go there in a day or two and the two men will go over the situation. The contract is to be let in a short time, and the building will be three stories and a basement, to cost $500,000. The building and all connections will represent approximately $100,000.

Catarrh of the Stomach

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure for It

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with burps or water, risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, flicks, appetite, nervousness, a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, and it takes in a few days to would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Dios-tasein, Aseptic Pepsin, a Little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed, and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, Catarrh of stomach, biliousness, acidity, flatulence, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send your name and address today for a free trial package and see for yourself. Address R. S. Workman, Co., 68 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

ANOTHER FIGHT WITH BEEF TRUST

According to a late report from Washington there is to be some further trouble for the big packers of the country in the shape of a fight over the matter of meat inspection.

The beef inspection law has not really been in force long enough to give it a fair trial, but there is already a strong feeling manifest among members of congress that it should be amended at once, so as to take the burden of the cost of the service from the government, and to further protect the people by letting them know the exact age of the canned stuff that is continually sold from the packing house districts.

If the packers put up a hard fight—as they undoubtedly will—against the proposed amendments which will be submitted by Senator Beveridge, it will not probably prove a very difficult matter to prevent action.

The chances are that the fight on meat inspection will first come up in the senate and then go back to the house. The result of this is to postpone action still more, and the end of the session will probably find the two sides quarreling over the result, with the certainty that noon of the fourth day of March must end proceedings whether the Beveridge amendments are passed or not.

Public sentiment in Texas as reflected by the cattlemen, who are the most interested in the situation, is unfavorable to the Beveridge amendment which seeks to have the packers pay the cost of inspection.

Cattlemen who have expressed an opinion on the subject are unanimous in the belief that when the government seeks to evade the cost of inspection by placing it on the packers, those worthies will quickly formulate a plan by which to shift the burden by placing it on the producers.

THE SAME OLD TOWN Like a lonesome stork I have come of late To the same old town in the same old state, Where I used to walk when the day was bright, Where I used to stroll in the pale starlight, I say, I've come to the same old town With its way-up folks and its folks way-down, And stand once more in the same old street, And walk again on the same old beat That leads away to a quiet dell And a grassy bank I once knew well.

THE PULLMAN CAR COMPANY The people of Texas have declared against the use of free passes by their public servants, and in cutting out the legislative passes the railways have but accorded to the popular demand. The people should now see that the railways are protected from retaliatory legislation at the hands of their servants.

THE SUGGESTION LOOKS REASONABLE The report is now out that the traveling public has as much use for a Pullman sleeper as they have for the train butcher with his 84 figs and his toy lantern filled with candy.

PROBABLY CORRECT Count Sont de Castellane acts as if he never expected to be able to find another American who might have a desire to become a countess.

NO REASON FOR COLD FEET The treasury of the United States announces that there is now in circulation over $2,000,000,000. Consequently, financiers should not attribute attacks of cold feet to poor circulation.

SOME OF THEM TUMBLE The Washington Star says that strangely enough nearly every one feels an impulse to jump from a dizzy height. Yet Washington is full of men who have manifested no such idiosyncrasy.

THE SUGGESTION LOOKS REASONABLE The report is now out that the traveling public has as much use for a Pullman sleeper as they have for the train butcher with his 84 figs and his toy lantern filled with candy.

offending negro troops, and the hefty secretary had to get off the lid. But there remains a lingering suspicion that the real facts in this case have not yet come to light. There is some kind of politics mixed up with the situation.

The Terrell election law is rapidly destroying the democratic party in this state, thru the disgust it has inspired in the breast of the average voter. Too many democrats are remaining away from the polls in consequence of the antipathy they feel toward this unwholesome law.

Attorneys for the Waters-Pierce Oil Company at Austin are still insisting that the proceedings against that institution are scandalous, but they have not said one word concerning the false swearing that was done by their chief in order to hoodwink the people of Texas.

There is not a railway in Texas that would not feel grateful to the legislature if it devised some plan to reduce the number of accidents continually happening. It is a problem railway managers have been utterly unable to solve.

Fort Worth is entertaining the members of the Southwestern Ice Manufacturers' Association this week. The ice men certainly selected a very favorable time to take a "lay-off," the present weather having greatly lessened the demand for their product.

The ice men brought an over supply of their product with them to Fort Worth and naturally brought about a somewhat chilly reception on the surface, but the fires of Fort Worth hospitality were glowing on the inside.

The Post has no particular admiration for Grover Cleveland. It believes that he inflicted almost irreparable injury upon the democratic party, but that he is a sound democrat in most respects is not to be questioned. That Judge Parker is a sound democrat in all respects is absolutely true.

Theodore Roosevelt is today as good a democrat as Alton B. Parker, for the fact he makes no pretensions. He is a republican thoroly imbued with democratic principles, while Parker claims to be a democrat, is a big trust attorney, supports republican candidates for office and must necessarily have a warm admiration for republican principles.

If Hearst will use his papers and open wide his purse in the interest of those seeking and not aspire to office himself, he has the assurance of those who betrayed the party in New York early this month, and the national party in 1894, and 1904 that they will, in time, permit him to call himself a democrat.

There will always be a race question until the negroes of the country are brought to a realization of the fact that they must seek and find their proper level. And incidentally it may be remarked that if a great crisis is ever precipitated the negroes will find the people of the south are their truest and best friends.

The other day the Pullman Car Company officials cut a $27,000,000 melon in slices for the limited number of stockholders. No arrangement was made to pay salaries to an army of employees, however. In future, as in the past, philanthropic travelers are expected to pay the company's scale of prices and then pay the salaries of porters and other employees.

Attempts to deal with the Pullman company have failed in past legislatures and now the railroad commission is trying to compel the railways to force the Pullman people into a new deal. It is an interesting situation and the people are anxiously watching for further developments.

The colored citizens of San Antonio having been jolted have petitioned the city council not to allow a certain play to be given, exactly as the colored citizens of other cities have been jolted into doing. This protesting feature has been working overtime, almost as hard as the stolen jewels racket.

The negroes of Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio were led into doing some very extensive advertising for the play referred to, and do not seem to realize just how they were induced to do it.

The railroads have announced that they will not maintain a lobby at the meeting of the next legislature. The democratic platform has an anti-jobby plank in it that may result in all of the lobbyists taking to the tall timbers.

A session of the state legislature without the accustomed lobby would be an anomaly in Texas, and while there is talk that the lobby will not materialize the probabilities are it will be on hand as usual.

The Pittsburgh Sun wants to know if there is justice in Pittsburgh. It is understood there is, but according to the newspapers it seems necessary to fix the jury to get it.

The fellow who wears squeaky shoes doesn't always have music in his soul. Many a woman who prides herself on her complexion really sails under false colors.

It's startling weddings have recently been reported from Pittsburgh. This may be due to the fact that the theatrical season is well under way and the actresses are busy with their art.

The treasury of the United States announces that there is now in circulation over $2,000,000,000. Consequently, financiers should not attribute attacks of cold feet to poor circulation.

HUGGED SWEETHEART TO DEATH WITH PIN

JAMES DOUGHERTY.
Special to The Telegram.
DUNMORE, Pa., Nov. 23.—One of the strangest tragedies was the death of James Dougherty at Dunmore, Pa., from the result of a thrust of a ball-pit. The dead man's sweetheart, Mary Burke, says he hugged her so tightly he impaled himself on the pin.
They had been estranged, but met an hour before the tragedy, they sat down by the roadside and the girl says

MARY BURKE.
Dougherty seized her and pressed her to him. Then, with an exclamation of pain, he staggered away.
She walked part of the way home with him. When he reached there he fell unconscious. Later to a friend he said he had been stabbed, and pulled a piece of broken hatpin from his breast.
He relapsed into unconsciousness and died at the state hospital in twenty-four hours. A piece of the steel had pierced his heart.

SLENDER DIET OF SECTION HANDS

Work All Day On a Fish and a Leaf
Jake Borden, who runs a boarding car outfit on the Rock Island, says that foreign cheap labor is fast displacing the home product, and that in a little while, if the tide of immigration continues to flow, as it is now flowing into this section, there will be but few if any natives working on the sections.
"The world generally," said Borden, "is not familiar with railroad section labor that is now being supplied. The steamship lines are landing immigrants on our shores by the thousands and the men of these multitudes are grabbed up by the railroads for section work as soon as they land, engaging them by the hundred.
"A dollar or a dollar and a half a day is big wages for these people, who have been accustomed to working for anywhere from two bits to fifty cents a day in Europe, and they jump at a chance for the railroad wages in this country, as small as it may seem to some people. And these people, I mean the immigrants, seem to prosper on $1.15 and $1.25 a day.
"How they do get along can only be accounted for by studying their habits both as to dressing and feeding, but particularly their feeding. What they eat and are able to do a day's work on would starve an ordinary American laborer to death. I don't board any of this class of railroad labor, but I come in contact with it and I have taken notes on them. They board themselves, and their bill of fare is a curiosity.
"There is a big gang of them up on the Rock Island; they are Italians; and I have taken occasion to notice their ways. They buy their own grub and a kind of dried fish seems to be the chief article. For breakfast a quantity of this dried fish is put in a big

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If you wish to keep strong and vigorous and have on your cheeks the glow of perfect health, take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey regularly, according to directions, and take no other medicine. It is dangerous to fill your system with drugs; they poison the body and depress the heart while Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey tones and strengthens the heart action and purifies the entire system. It is the only whiskey recognized as a medicine, and contains no fusel oil. This is a guarantee. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has stood severest tests for fifty years and has always been found absolutely pure and to contain great medicinal properties.
CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist or grocer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the one absolutely pure medicinal whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles; never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Medical booklet and doctor's advice free. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Would Relieve Railroad Jam in State of Texas
Special to The Telegram.
WACO, Texas, Nov. 23.—Prominent business men here have expressed the firm conviction that the only manner in which the railroad jam can be permanently relieved in Texas is for some of the trunk lines to get busy building double tracks. They say that the time has come in Texas when some of these lines will have to do this, and that unless it is done there will be regular repetitions of the congestion which has resulted. There has been a good deal of talk about double tracking in the state, but very little of the actual work has been done.

Engineer Will Live

DENISON, Texas, Nov. 23.—The escape of Engineer James H. Kent from death in the recent wreck on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas near Tioga, is considered one of the most wonderful in railroad history. Kent's leg was caught between the reverse lever and an iron rod. He could not be released until the rod was cut. Had one of the water glasses or gauge cocks been broken when the engine overturned the imprisoned engineer would have been boiled alive. The fragile glasses, however, stood the shock, where iron and steel were broken and twisted out of shape. Engineer Kent will not die and the attending surgeon believes that he will be able to save his leg, which was jammed between the lever and the rod.

What a splendid thing it is that we women have our little lining all to ourselves, when we take solid comfort and delight in mere living! It is such a restful time, helping so much to smooth out the lines brought by this work-a-day world. To get the best good from them it is absolutely essential that everything about us, every garment we have on, be in perfect harmony, if we are to draw real inspiration from our rest!

about the body. Then the flyaway sleeves are so lovely, suggesting for all the world the graceful flutterings of its butterfly. You have noticed, haven't you, how the seams are joined? Isn't it a pretty idea to use bows of ribbon to catch the edges together instead of stiff ugly seams? I know you will think with me that it is a charming touch of coquetry which will appeal to every feminine heart.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

"Mother, when Chas. Mayhew comes here tonight, you must tell him I will not marry him." "What has happened?" screamed the terrified woman, doubtful of her hearing. "Again the cold, relentless tones, with accents clear and certain as the voice of fate itself repeated the message. "Hannah, I cannot! I cannot! Why, it will break his heart. What do you mean?" demanded the frightened mother. "I will not marry him," and with this final decision Hannah Blair turned and went to her room, where her mother heard her turn the key.

no doubt in her mind. "Oh, Dorothy," sobbed the unhappy woman, "when I heard Chas. Mayhew leaving the house my heart was wrung with anguish. Had I seen him I must have gone down and do what I thought a sin, so I steeled myself to resist, although I could not stand it, meant to do the right thing, Dorothy, but today when I saw in the paper that he died last night in a London hospital, my heart came out of its grave and smote me. Had I been more sympathetic I might have helped him, do right. I might have saved him, I love him so!"

HOUSEHOLD

HINTS ABOUT THE HOUSE Avoid foods that disagree with you. Do not wash the food down with liquids. Do not eat when fatigued or when overexcited. Carrots are good for those having a tendency to gout. Rhubarb should not be eaten by "gouty" or rheumatic people. Do not eat between meals (habitually) or at irregular intervals. Dates are exceedingly nourishing, and also prevent constipation. Asparagus and celery are both beneficial to sufferers from rheumatism. A gargle of clove and water is a remedy for an ordinary sore throat. Three pints of water daily should be drunk by the average man. Avoid ice drinks at mealtime, particularly at the beginning of the meal. Avoid over-eating. Of the two evils it is better to eat too little than too much.

AUNT JUDY'S CHICKEN FIXIN'S

Browned Chicken.—Season the pieces well and roll in flour. Have ready a skillet with about one inch of good lard and butter sizzling hot. Drop the pieces in the hot fat and quickly brown all over. Then roll to a cooler part of the stove and allow to cook slowly till tender. Add flour and milk blended together and stir until thick. Season with salt. Avoid over-eating. Of the two evils it is better to eat too little than too much.

EDEN'S RETURN

Eden, with all his happy bowers and many a lovely object wherever two hearts meet each other in the bliss of youthful love, and every mother who clasps to her bosom her darling, would dream that she is the first Eve that ever drank at the fountain of maternal joy. And when the fruits of sorrow and grief are laid before her, she is reminded of that discipline which she has learned from the garden of life.

THE HIRED HELP

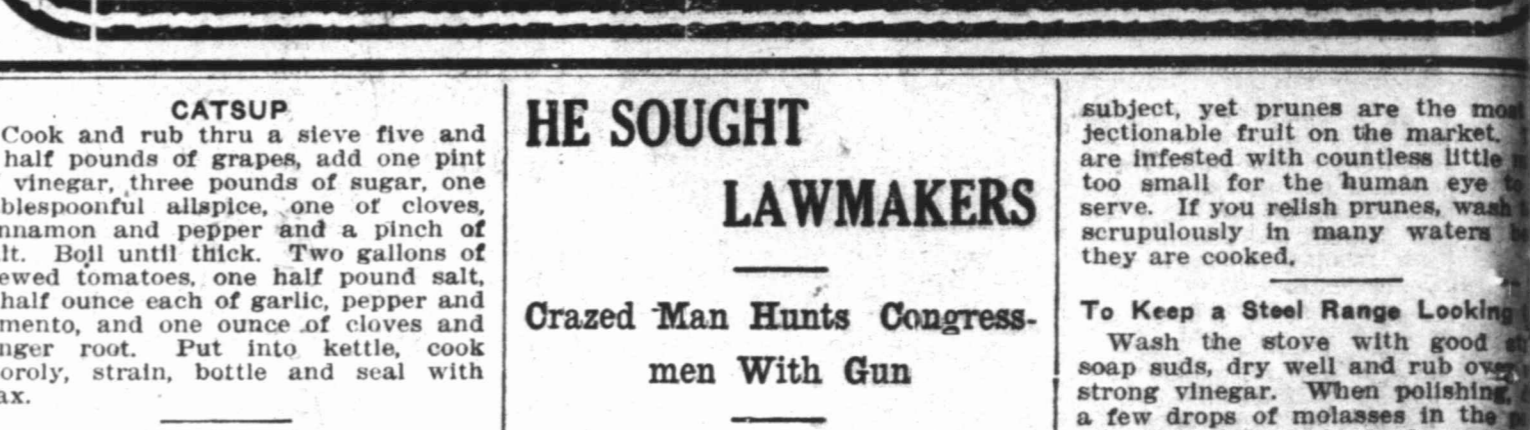

We have duties not only to the members of our own family, but to the stranger that is within the gates. If it becomes necessary or expedient to hire a woman to do the work of the household, the person is entitled to the consideration and sympathy of each member of the family, and if it is possible, the family should provide for the comfort, health and happiness of such person while she is an inmate of their home.—The Cosmopolitan.

HE SOUGHT LAWMAKERS

CRAZED MAN HUNTS CONGRESSMEN WITH GUN Special to The Telegram. WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Nov. 23.—Laboring under the hallucination that he had been commissioned by the President to hunt down and arrest five congressmen on charges of murder, R. F. Brown, armed with a double-barrel shotgun, walked into the Central depot at Palmer last Saturday and commanded the agent to write the chief executive that the murderers had been found. As he handled the gun in a rather threatening manner the agent was not slow to honor his whim. Officers were notified and the man was soon placed under restraint.

MODERN BABY RAISING

Boil the basket, made of willow. Boil the blanket, boil the pillow. Boil the bottles, boil the hood. Boil the spoon and boil the food. Boil the nurse; 'tis safer, maybe. And don't forget to boil the baby.

SOFT NEGIGES

Scrubs are a very satisfactory thing in a sick room to place between an open window and the bed when airing the room without allowing the patient to be in a draft. If the patient is nervous do not place the screen at the foot of the bed and prepare medicine and bandages behind it. Milk whitewash is a good substitute for white paint inside the house, as it sticks to wood and rubs off very little. Powder and sift quart of it into a gallon of sweet milk making it a little thicker than cream. If too thick add a little cold milk. After mixing thoroughly add a teaspoonful of turpentine slowly, stirring thoroughly, as it goes in. Apply with paint brush.

Vegetable Brushes

Keep a vegetable brush for no purpose in the world other than that of cleaning edibles. A brush for potatoes better than a cloth; it makes the lettuce whiter, and improves the taste of any vegetable, which cannot be cleaned without first scrubbing. Allow no one to use this brush for any other purpose, not even cleaning cut glass. Have separate brushes for every purpose and label each one. I was at a place once where a woman did all of her Saturday's cleaning with a scrub brush, and as final touch she picked up a chicken to be cleaned for the next day and was ready to rub it down with the dirty brush! I guess my look of horror made her drop the brush, or perhaps it was what I said. At any rate, I was not very favorably impressed with her kitchen methods.

Trimming

It is noticeable that there is a splendid modification in the dress trimmings worn for winter wear. Time was when only the heaviest materials, velvets, heavy brocades made up the principal features in dress trimming. Now we see beautiful lace motifs, which any woman can elaborate on and make large and handsome designs with ribbons to interlace them. Chiffon roses, jeweled laces and fancy pliques, to say nothing of fancy appliques, have separate brushes to make up the elaborate collection from which to make one's selection. There are many very clever and artistic trimmings, yet these are mostly confined to garments worn in outing costumes.

A Jumper Costume

Some very clever gowns are shown in the jumper class, and the dress designed on the high waist effect, with the shoulder straps extending from the bust to the upper portion of the waist. The effect is a baby-like, yet the all very pretty. The front of these neat suits show considerable trimming at the upper portion of the waist. While these suits are not elaborate by any means, yet they are very expensive, even the plainest striking the highest gradations in expensive luxuries.

What to Do With Dates

Only look at a handful of dates thru a magnifying glass, and ask yourself whether you will eat them after once see them. They are filled with small foreign particles which should be cleaned from the fruit before they are eaten. Wash them in clean, cold water and drain in a sieve or colander. Before serving, give them a dash of pulverized sugar. It is not a nice

9150 STEERS SOLD

The sale of 9,150 steers is the largest for one day by one cattle sale for Fort Worth. Stock in both cases for future delivery and the terms private. Sydney Webb of Bellevue, Texas, John Daggett of this city sold E. A. Paffrath, as agent, 1,500 head coming yearling steers to M. J. Seymour, Texas, to be delivered to Fulda, Texas, next spring. The steers are now on Mr. Webb's ranch in this county.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham to say she had you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience is proved to be a great asset to many women. Mrs. Pinkham's Standing

Women suffering from any female weakness are advised to communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. All letters are opened, read and answered only. Out of the vast amount of private illness to the general public between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has been broken in law by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound and its success in restoring health to thousands of women, it is more than possible that you have gained the very knowledge which you need for your own case. She asks you to return except your good will and advice has relieved thousands of women, rich or poor, who if she does not take advantage of her generous offer of assistance, she will be sorry she had not seen a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound at once, and with her own hands, for your own sake. When a medicine has been in restoring to health, and you cannot well say, "I do not believe it will help me."

Don't For half cent

KING MIDAS

By Upton Sinclair

Copyright, 1906, by Upton Sinclair, author of "The Jungle."

"He's gone home again," said Helen, in a disinterested tone.

"Home!" exclaimed the other. "To Hilltown?"

"Yes."

"But I thought he was going to stay until tomorrow?"

"So did I," said Helen, "but he changed his mind and decided that he'd better not."

"Why, I am really disappointed," said Mr. Davis. "I thought we should have a little family party; I haven't seen Arthur for a month."

"There is some important reason," said Helen; "that's what he told me, anyway."

"You must understand the true reason or to ask any inconvenient questions of me."

Mr. Davis would perhaps have done so had he not something else on his mind.

"By the way," Helen, he said, "I must ask you, what in the world was that fearful noise you were making?"

"Noise?" asked Helen, puzzled for a moment.

"Why, yes; I met old Mr. Nelson coming down the street, and he said that you were making a most dreadful racket upon the piano, and shouting, too, and that there were a dozen people standing in the street, staring!"

A sudden wild thought occurred to Helen, and she started up, and sure enough, she found the two windows of the room wide open, and that was too much for her gravity; she flung herself upon the sofa, and gave vent to a peal after peal of laughter.

"Oh, Daddy!" she gasped. "Oh, Daddy!"

Mr. Davis did not understand the sound, but he waited patiently, taking off his gloves in the mean time. "What is it, Helen?" he inquired.

"Oh, Daddy!" exclaimed the girl again, and lifted herself up and turned her laughing eyes upon him. "And now I understand why inspired people have to live in the country!"

"When was it, Helen?"

"It wasn't anything, Daddy, except that I was playing and singing for Arthur, and I forgot to close the windows."

"You must remember, my love, that you live in a clergyman's house," said Mr. Davis. "I have no objection to merriment, but it must be within bounds. Mr. Nelson said that he did not know what to think was the matter."

Helen made a wry face at the name; the Nelsons were a family of Methodists who lived across the street. The distasteful people who take life seriously, as a rule, and Helen thought the Nelsons were very queer indeed.

"I'll bet he did know what to think," she chuckled, "even if he didn't say it; he thought that was just what to expect from a clergyman who had a deaconer of wine on his dinner table."

Mr. Davis could not help smiling. And as for Helen, she was herself all over again; for when her father had come in she had about reached a point where she could no longer bear to be serious and unhappy. As he went on, she asked her to be a little less reckless. Helen put her arms around him and said, with the solemnity that she always wore when she was gayest: "But, Daddy, I don't know what I'm doing; you sent me to Germany to study music, and if I never to play it!"

"Yes, but, Helen, such frantic, dreadful noises!"

"But, Daddy, the Germans are emotional people, you know; no one would have been in the least surprised at that in Germany. It was a hymn, Daddy!"

"A hymn," gasped Mr. Davis.

"Yes, honestly," said Helen. "It is a wonderful hymn. Every German knows it nearly by heart."

Mr. Davis had as much knowledge of German music as might be expected of one who had lived twenty years in the country and heard these hymns and an anthem sung every Sunday by a volunteer choir. Helen's musical education, as all her other education, had been respected by Aunt Polly, and the only idea that came to Mr. Davis' mind was of Wagner, whose name he had heard people talk about in connection with noise and coherency.

"Helen," he said, "I trust that is not the kind of hymn you are going to sing tomorrow."

"I don't see what it has to do with the moon," said the clergyman, gazing helplessly at the open window and wondering if another crowd was gathering over her shoulder.

"That's what everybody's been trying to find out!" said Helen. Then she heard the dinner bell out in the hall, she ended with half a dozen frantic runs and, jumping up with the last of them, took her father's arm and danced out of the room with him.

"Perhaps when we come to see the other side of the moon," she said, "we may discover all about it. Or else it's because the moon is supposed to set people crazy." So they passed in to dinner, where Helen was as animated as ever, poor Arthur and his troubles seeming to have vanished completely from her thoughts.

In fact, it was not until the meal was nearly over that she spoke of them again; she noticed that it was growing dark outside, and she stepped to the window just as a distant rumble of thunder was heard.

"Dear me!" she exclaimed. "There's a fearful storm coming, and poor Arthur is out in it; he must be a long way from town by this time, and there is no house where he can go."

From the dining room she stood she had a view across the hills to the town, and could see the black clouds coming swiftly on. "It is like we were imagining this morning," she mused; "I wonder if he will think of it?"

"The dinner was over soon after that, and she looked out again just as the first drops of rain were falling; the thunder was rolling louder, bringing to Helen a faint echo of her morning music. She went in and sat down at the piano, her fingers roaming over the keys hesitatingly. "I wish I could get it again," she mused. "It seems like a dream when I think of it—it was so wild and so wonderful. Oh, if I could only remember that march!"

There came a crash of thunder near by, as if to help her, but Helen found that all efforts were in vain. Neither the storm music nor the march came back to her, and even when she played a few chords of the great chorus she had sung it sounded tame and commonplace. Helen knew that the glory of that morning was gone where goes the best inspiration of all humanity—back into nothingness and night.

"It was a shame," she thought, as she rose discontentedly from the piano. "I never was so carried away by music in my life, and the memory of it would have kept me happy for weeks, if Arthur hadn't been here to trouble me!"

Then, however, as she went to the window again to watch the storm, which was now raging in all its majesty, she added more unselfishly: "Poor boy! I don't know what he will be doing in it. She saw a bolt of lightning strike in the distance, and she waited breathlessly for the thunder. It was a fearful crash, and it made her blood run faster than her eyes sparkle. "My!" she exclaimed. "But it's fine!" And then she added, with a laugh: "He can correct his poem by it, if he wants to!"

She turned to go upstairs. On the way she stopped with a rather conscience-stricken look and said to herself: "Poor fellow! It seems a shame to be happy!" She stood for a moment thinking, but then she added: "Yet, I declare, I don't know what to do for him; it surely isn't my fault if I am not in love with him in that mad fashion, and I don't see why I should make myself wretched about it." Having thus silenced her conscience, she went up to unpack her trunk, humming to herself on the way:

"Sir Knight, a faithful sister's love. This heart devotes to thee: I pray thee, ask no other love, For pain that causes me."

"Quiet would I see thee come, And quiet see thee go; The silent weeping of thine eyes I cannot bear to know."

While she was singing Arthur was in the midst of the tempest, staggering toward his home ten miles away. He was drenched by the cold rain and almost fainting from exhaustion—for he had eaten nothing since early dawn; yet so wretched and sick at heart was he that he felt nothing, and scarcely heard the storm or realized where he was.

HOSPITAL FUND

Of $500,000 to Be Given by Isaac Guggenheim

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—At the annual meeting last night of the board of directors of the Sydenham hospital, Isaac Guggenheim announced that he would erect for the institution a new building, to cost $500,000, if the board would guarantee to him that it would secure for the hospital an annual income of $50,000 to $60,000 a year. That the income stipulated by Mr. Guggenheim would be raised was the opinion of the directors.

Hotel Clerk (suspiciously)—Your bundle has come apart. May I ask what that queer thing is?

Guest—This is a new patent fire escape. I always carry it, so in case of fire I can let myself down from the hotel window. See?

Clerk (thoughtfully)—I see. Our terms for guests with fire escapes, sir, are invariably cash in advance.—New York Weekly.

LITTLE MAVERICKS

Terse Tales of the Movements of Cattlemen All Over the Great Range Country of the Entire Southwest

Pastures Disappearing
J. A. Hawkins came in from Ringgold, Montague county, with a couple of cars of fat cows.

"Everything is going on all right with us," said he. "Cattle are fat and grass good. There are still some pastures, but they are fast disappearing and assuming the form of a farm. Agriculture is taking the place of all other things and cotton is all the talk now. Cattle are very scarce, they having been sold out pretty close. Calves have been sold out and now the mother cows seem to be following them. There seems to be a certainty that there will be a scarcity of cattle after a while and the price rise accordingly. I do not see hardly any chance for anything else."

"Cotton is turning out very fine. There is an average of three-fourths of a bale picked already, and they are still picking."

"Ticks have bothered us to some extent, but the cold weather recently has put a stop to their restlessness and this has given the cows a rest. Altogether we have had a good year, at least some people who moved up here from east Texas think so, for they have made finer crops of cotton than they ever saw in their lives. They will be satisfied to stay on now, while had the season turned out badly it might have convinced them that there was nothing in the red sandy lands of the Red River country."

Few Sales Reported
W. P. Anderson, live stock agent of the Pecos Valley lines of the Santa Fe system, says that in the Pecos Valley and beyond there have been few sales made for either late fall or spring delivery of 2, 3 and 4-year-old steers, none below Roswell. In the vicinity of Carlsbad, Pecos and the Davis Mountain country owners until now have been holding their steer cattle off the market, but from now on thru this winter the offerings for both winter and spring delivery promise to be quite liberal. The flaxseed, or tallow-weed, is good in most districts, and the grass, while not up to the last two seasons, is way above the average. This applies to the mesas, the mountains and the valleys between the Pecos and the Rio Grande rivers, south and west of Pecos City.

"The grasses of the plains of the Panhandle and New Mexico," said Mr. Anderson, "have cured nicely and promise good feed all winter. The largest crop of kafir corn that was ever grown in the Panhandle is on hand, which, used judiciously, will fit more cattle than usual for the eastern state pastures. Well fed yearlings and 2-year-old steers are the best money-makers, except the very best 'baby beef' calves. These Panhandle winter feed steers are shipped in the spring to the blue grass pastures of the east, many going to West Virginia."—Drovers' Telegram.

Cattle in Good Shape
Dave Atkinson of Dalhart, Texas, was among the cowmen from the extreme northern part of the Panhandle at the yards yesterday with cattle. Mr. Atkinson is one of the men who has been on that part of the plains for over twenty years, and has seen all the changes that have taken place there.

"Yes, I have seen that country when a man could start out and ride 150 miles in any direction without seeing a fence, and perhaps no sign of settled except a few cowboys with cattle," said Mr. Atkinson. "Cattle and plains were all that could be seen. But today a person cannot go anywhere without running into a wire fence. The whole country is under fence, and houses and other farm improvements can be seen all over the plains. And they are farming, too. This year a fine wheat crop was raised, also big crops of kafir corn, cane and a good deal of corn. The country is in a prosperous condition, and the stockmen are well prepared to carry thru all the cattle they have."—Drovers' Telegram.

Scarcity of Cars
Lee Albert of Bovina, Texas, an employe of the big cattle firm of Lewis and Mosworth, who brought in during the last few days twenty-one car loads of cattle, says that cattle are numerous on the range country in that part of the state. Mr. Albert states that just as soon as cars can be had, a good run of cattle will come from that vicinity, as the cattlemen are getting anxious to move them. "This string of cattle that I accompanied to market," said Mr. Albert, "had been held three weeks. Others have been held for a still longer time, which is a great inconvenience to the cattlemen. But there is some consolation in this bad state of affairs, and that is that the grass is good all over the ranges, and the cattle are doing well. Were it not for this, the cowmen would be bankrupted. There is no doubt but what a good many cattle will be shipped out of that country during the next few weeks."—Drovers' Telegram.

DENATURED WOMEN

Out of every TEN grown women who read these words, I expect about SEVEN OR EIGHT are "denatured," as a result of some female disease.

At least that is the percentage given by medical writers, as generally found among women.

By "de-natured," I mean LACKING in some of the health functions, that every woman should have in perfect working order.

Unsuitable for a PERFECT wife, mother, houseworker, office worker, etc., by reason of IMPERFECT HEALTH.

Just as denatured alcohol has been made unsuitable for one of its normal uses, that is, as an ailment.

A de-natured woman is only a half-woman, a quarter-woman, or less. It depends how far her illness has gone.

As to the CAUSE, pages might be written explaining this and that, as a development of modern life; but as to proper MEDICAL TREATMENT, or CURE, I have only a few words to say, which I think will interest you MORE than a book of learned whys and wherefores.

There IS a medicine which, for 50 years, has been building up for itself a wonderful reputation, as a curative treatment for the diseases peculiar to women.

You have heard of it—WINE OF CARDUI—a pure extract of harmless, VEGETABLE ingredients, with a healing, building, strengthening, regulating effect, on the female organs and functions.

Have you tried it? If not, read this simple letter, written by one woman out of thousands who address us, telling, in simple language, the story of her hard times and how she came to be cured. It is much more interesting than a novel; and then, it is TRUE. More still, if acted on, it will SHOW YOU THE WAY TO BE WELL.

R. F. D. 25, Gifford, Ill., Feb. 24, 1906.

Four years ago I had a miscarriage, and it left me in an awful shape. I had ulceration and female trouble so bad. I suffered dreadful misery nearly all the time, with pain in my side and dragging down sensations, and had a continual and annoying discharge. At last I gave up to an operation, but it did not help me and I seemed to suffer worse than before. I suffered for years so much pain in my side. It was something terrible. I could scarcely walk. The doctor told me I would have to have a second operation, as I was so diseased, but to this I would not consent, and took Wine of Cardui instead. Now, I am nearly well. I advise all sick women to try Wine of Cardui. I know it saved me from an operation and I think it saved my life.

STOP, WOMAN

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT
That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, and for many years under her direction, and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along, but had to worse, knowing full well they ought to get immediate assistance, but a natural modesty in them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and professional examinations of even their physician. It is unnecessary. With money or price you can consult a man whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

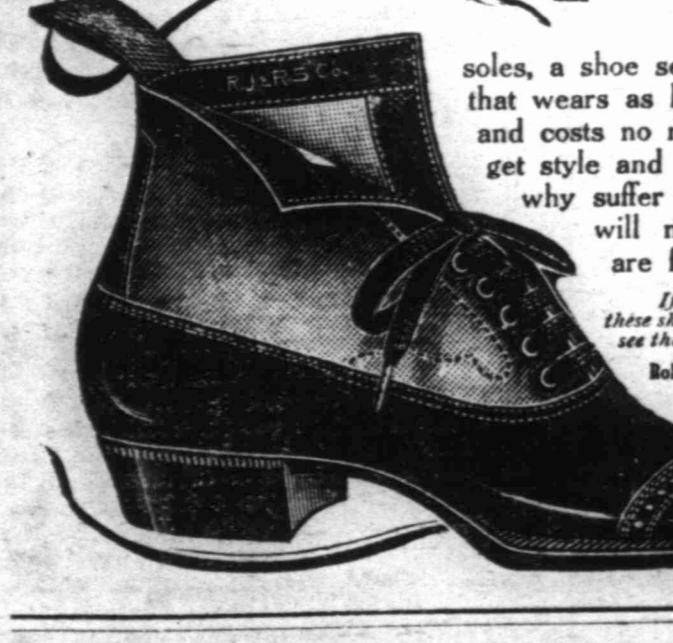

Women suffering from any female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. All letters are received opened, read and answered by her only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she can consult, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and advice has relieved thousands. PASSENGER TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

Those on Train Lived on Very Short Rations

J. W. Caston of Colorado Springs, Colo., was a passenger on the south-bound Fort Worth and Denver train that was snowed in between Childress and Dalhart Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Speaking of his experience, which was the experience of others aboard the snowbound train, he said:

"When I left Colorado Springs for Galveston I had no idea that I would run into such conditions. We got along all right until we struck Texas, and then we were in trouble up to our ears. Snow was falling furiously and it was easy to feel that the speed of our train was decreasing all the time; still we did not believe that we would get stuck, thinking that the farther south we got the better conditions would be. But the reverse was the case.

"After we passed Dalhart it became a struggle for the engine to keep going until a cut was reached in which snow had banked up and we were in for it. For awhile the crowd took the situation good naturedly, and made the best of a bad situation. It was no fun, however, to pass a night in a day coach and I was a day coach passenger, especially when there was none too much coal on the train, and the grub stake was only made out for a certain length of time. We all made out the best we could, however, husbanding our fuel and living on short rations.

"When the snow plow cleared the track sufficiently to let us out there never was a jollier crowd on earth than our crowd was. We felt just like a lot of school boys just dismissed from school and were in for a frolic. The storm on the Texas Panhandle, I was told en route, was the worst November storm ever known in that section. The snow on a level, at some places, was nearly a foot and a half deep, while the drifts were frequently four and five feet deep. Fortunately for live stock on the range the blizzard did not last long; otherwise the loss would have been very heavy."

PREPARING FOR THE CONVENTION

Texas Real Estate Men to Meet in Fort Worth

The adjourned meeting of the real estate men of the city was held in the rooms of the Board of Trade Thursday afternoon, in conjunction with a number of the business men of North Fort Worth in order to consummate arrangements for the coming convention of the Texas Real Estate and Industrial Association in this city on Nov. 27 and 28. GLIDDEN TOUR THRU HERE

Will Make 50,000 Miles in Fifty Countries

Charles A. Glidden, the noted automobile tourist, formerly president of the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company, will be in Fort Worth on his tour of fifty different countries about Dec. 19. Mr. Glidden, accompanied by his wife, has now made about 40,000 miles in thirty-five different countries and says that he will not be satisfied until he has made 50,000 miles in fifty countries.

Mr. Glidden is well known here, as he has been in Fort Worth several times on tours of inspection of the telephone company at the time he was president. He lived in Massachusetts at that time. He is now en route from New York to Chicago. From Chicago his route is to El Paso, thence Hutchinson, Kan., and then to Little Rock, Ark. From Little Rock he comes to Fort Worth and then goes to Dallas. At Laredo his machine will be put on the rails of the Mexican National for a tour of Mexico. From Mexico City they will proceed to Vera Cruz and ship the machine for Port Said, Egypt, where a tour of the countries of Northern Africa will be made.

earlier in the present sea- son. "Lil Gal" was the best, both for sentiment and melody effects, but the Appollo quartet's work is so far above the average as to make it a de- sirable purchase when medicine is to be given to small children. As a cure for bad colds, croup, and whoop- ing cough, it is unequalled and may be depended upon with the utmost confidence. Price 25c.; large size 50c.
