GILLETTE CONFESSES

Jailor and Turnkey Overheard the Story

LAWYERS ANGRY

Parents Wire Lawyers to Appeal the Case and Believe Son Is Innocent

Special to The Telegram. HERKIMER, N. Y., Dec. 8 .- Chester Gillette has confessed that he murdered Grace Brown on Big Moose lake. To his counsel he admitted: "Yes; I did kill Grace Brown.

"She stood up and came from one end of the boat toward me and was crying and said she was discouraged and to end it all.

"I took my tennis racquet from the straps of my dress suit case and "She fell full length backward, her ead striking the seat. Then I dumpher overboard." When Gillette on the witness stand told his story of how his sweetheart had jumped into Moose lake and com-mitted suicide, at least six persons in the court room knew he was lying.

These were Gillette's two lawyers, the prosecuting attorney and Sheriff Richard and Turnkey Evans. During the cross examination of Gillette District Attorney Ward said to

"Did you not confess night before last that you struck Grace Brown when she came up beside the boat?" Gillette made a denial. Later in the dramatic events of the trial the purport of this question was forgotten. The district attorney, however, knew at the time that Gillette had confessed and he had witnesses to prove it. He feared, however, to put the confession in evidence, as it had been made to the prisoner's lawyers and might cause the granting of a new trial. Gillette had told former Senator Albert M. Mills, his junior counsel, how he had slam Grace Brown. His statements were overheard by Sheriff Richards and Turnkey Evans, who at once informed the district attorney.

Tells Lawyer the Truth

Lawyer Mills had been wrestling with the problem of whether he should permit Gillette to go on the witness stand and tell his story. He finally decided Gillette's story could not make his case any worse and went to Gillette's cell to have him again go over the details of his story of the girl's

Gillette went over the events of the fateful day as he had related them before, until he came to the point where he had said the girl leaped out of the boat to drown herself. Then, in a deliberate manner, he told that as the girl rose in the water beside the boat he struck her a terrible blow over the head and the girl sank to her

"You little wretch," cried the horrified lawyer, "why didn't you ever tell me this before?"

Gillette was silent and the angry lawyer left the cell. The next day when the trial was resumed it was observed there was a coolness between Gilliette and his lawyers. Mills and Charles D. Thomas, his other lawyer, did not sit near him, and until the end of the trial they seldom spoke to him. It is understood that should the verdict have been guilty of murder in the second degree Gillette's lawyers would have made no move to save him from life imprisonment. Because of the urging of the doomed man's parints, however, the lawyers will fight save the family from the stain of wing one member put to death in the electric chair. A dispatch from Denver tells of the grief with which the parents of Gilette learned of his conviction. Mrs. Frank Gillette, the mother, who was a former Salvation Army officer, still declares her belief that her son is innocent of the crime of murder.

The parents wired to Chester's attorneys as follows: "Messrs, Mills and Thomas: We wish you to appeal the case at once; and please let us know when the new trial is likely to come up, as we are both coming to attend it. How much money will we need to raise for an appeal? Thank you for the hard fight made for our boy. We believe politics influenced the jury in its decision and #### that another court will reverse it." MANY WILL COMPETE

DEATH REVEALS A POISON PLOT

Six Members of Family Die in Nine Months

TWO THEORIES ARE HELD

Mrs. Rose Utzal Suicided While Deaths of Husband and Four Children Were Being Investigated

Special to The Telegram. CHICAGO, Dec. 8.-The suicide of Mrs. Rose Vrzal, 1536 West Fiftieth street, the sixth member of her family to die within nine months, has tangled up the investigation into what is believed to have been Chicago's most startling poison plot of years.

The woman died today as a result of poison while the investigation into the deaths of her husband and four children was at its height. The police have gained evidence that shows the woman to have been involved in a feud.

Jersolobot Vrzal, 17 years old, son of the woman, was stricken with heart disease when his mother died. His condition is serious and he may prove the seventh victim in the family. The police are investigating two startling theories.

Evidence of a Feud First-Inspector Shippy declares he has evidence of a feud that existed between a relative of Mrs. Vrzal and herself because Mrs. Vrzal had declared she would not leave any of her money to this relative.

Second-Inspector Shippy declares he is in possession of facts relating to a romance in which Mrs. Vrzal had received the attentions of a man who wished to marry her. As soon as Coroner's Physician Lewke has finished a post mortem examination over Mrs. Vrzal's body Coroner Hoffman and Inspector Shippy will appear before one of the circuit court judges and ask for an order permitting the exhumation of the body of

The husband and four daughters of Mrs. Vrzal died before her. Their bodies will probably be exhumed to determine whether they were poisoned with arsenic. The coroner and the arise. police are attempting to solve the mys-

When an investigation was under way by the authorities in which Mrs. Vrzal was the central figure, the woman drank a dose of poison and was found unconscious on the floor of her home. She had taken a fatal draft and thrown in a stove the bottle from which she drank. Dr. Charles Caldwell, who had attended the last two children to die, was hurriedly summoned and with the aid of another physician attempted to save her life. Mrs. Vrzal regained consciousness and first denied that she had taken poison. Later she admitted her effort to end her life, but refused to give a motive. On a dresser was found a note which was practically the last will of the woman. She left $1,000 to each of her two younger children and $25 to a married daughter. This money was the proceeds of insurance paid on the deaths of other members of the family.

WILL PAY OFF BANDS Stringent Money Market Causes Early Payment

NEW YORK, Dec. .8-Wall street has been absorbed with the exigencies of the money situation to the practical exclusion of all other subjects. Stocks have yielded stubbornly to the stringent money market which applied not only to call loans, but to time loans, up to six months. Heavy custom collections and transfers of currency to San Francisco and New Orleans exhausted the lending powers of the lo-

The North Fort Worth celebration will close Saturday night, after having en in the city for the last two weeks. The early part of the first was very unfavorable for the entertainments, but the latter part of the first week was ach more favorable, and large crowds people attended each day. The afternoon and night promises bring larger crowds than ever. Many people from the rural settlements will attend the last day of the shows, and all the people in the city will want to spend one more night in making merry.

The remarkable order of the crowds that have attended has been something unusual when so many people have been together. There has scarcely been a disturbance during the entire two weeks.

Friday night was a typical carnival light. It was dry and clear, and not too cool to be uncomfortable, and the crowds were continually on the move. The younger generation and many of the older folk as well were continually engaged in mimic warfare with confetti, all having such a jolly time that even the fellow with the squacker was The Carnival Company will leave

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Dec. 8 .- The supreme court has been asked to pass on the constitutionality of the eight-hour labor law, the first action to that end being taken in the United States district court here today. The case is that of the Sheridan Kirk Company, recently convicted of employing labor for more than eight hours a day on a contract on the government dam beow this city. The motion for a new trial was overruled and the attorneys gave notice on a writ of error that the case would be taken to the United States supreme court, claiming that congress has no power under the constitution to pass such a law.

MUSEMENTS FREE LABOR

BILL PASSED The last performances in Fort Worth of "The Little Duchess" at Greenwall's Friday night pleased the audience as it had done at the previous performances. The house was not as well Almost Unanimously filled as it should have been, for the production was a very creditable one. Endorses Measure

George Primrose, who for years has been conceded to be the most graceful man in the minstrel business, will play at Greenwall's Saturday matinee and NO COMPETITION night, with an all-star company. His show comes well recommended and lovers of good old minstrel music should look forward to a treat. Mr. Primrose has brought this form of entertainment up to the standard of our first-class dramatic productions and presents nothing but minstrelsy, wherein darky environment that has far surpassed anything ever before seen in this class of entertainment. Therefore, Mr. Primrose, having cut himself free from all former entanglements, is now presenting a minstrel company of unsurpassed brilliancyabsolute novelty in every detail-the stupendous result of brains and energy backed by unlimited capital.

The opening part will be upon a more elaborate scale than ever, with an orchestra of talented musicians, vocal corps of twenty and a score of comedians of world-wide repute.

The second part will be an innovation in minstrelsy and will consist of eight big scenes, which have been painted from sketches and photographs made by Louis Young, wherein darky life from "long befo' de wah" to the present day will be depicted. With "nothing but mistrelsy"-no acrobats, club swingers, musical sets, bicycle riders or slap-stick comedians -just minstrelsy pure and simple.

"The Vanderbilt Cup"

"The Vanderbilt Cup," a name which smacks of magnificence and the "swell mob" generally, is the name of that much heralded automobile comedydrama, which has had an eight months' run at the Broadway theater, in New York, and now, after amusing Chicago at the Colonial for three months more, has been sent on tour, and will be presented at Greenwall's opera house Monday and Tuesday nights, with matinee Tuesday, Dec. 10 and 11, in all the entirety of its metropolitan run.

"The Land of Nod"

"The Land of Nod," the Will J. Block Amusement Company's big production of eighty people, to be presented to Greenwall's opera house, Thursday matinee and night, Dec. 13, is a legitimate extravaganza or musical fantasy. In a sense, it is the dreamland which "Alice of Wonderland" visited, a place peopled by unusual persons. The Man in the Moon, who has slipped on a peel of thunder and rolled down to this strange place, meets Bonnie, a little girl from the real world, and also a chorus girl from Broadway, who rather astonishes him.

Did you ever stop to think how difficult it would be to do feats of juggling while skating at a rapid pace? Can you conceive of any one doing it? Well, Kinzo, the great Japanese juggler, does it in such a graceful way that you will wonder if there is not some trick about it. There is no trick about it, but it has taken years of practice, and no people but the wonderful little Japanese would undertake it. Mr. Kinzo will appear at the big Fort Worth Rink, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon and evening of next week.

Big Improvement The new management of the Fort Worth's big rink has received many compliments about the manner in which the rink is now being run. The floor and skates are in the best of shape, and everything is kept nice and William Eaton, who has charge the floor, is very popular with the skating public, and the owners of the rink can be congratulated on securing a gentleman whom they can depend upon to run the floor in the best possible manner and be courteous to all. Mr. Laird wishes to state that they will take the best of care of all private skates left in their charge, and that they will be oiled and cleaned every day, if necessary.

EXPRESS ASKS INVESTIGATION

San Antonio Paper Supporting Bailey Is Not Satisfied

Special to The Telegram. SAN ANTONIO Texas, Dec. 8.—The San Antonio Express, which has been one of Senator Bailey's strongest supporters during the present controversy, in its leading editorial today, reviewing the Bailey-Davidson dispute, comes out strongly in its demand for a thoro investigation of Bailey's connection with the Waters-Pierce Oil Company previous to the election of a United States senator. While remaining neutral in the matter, the Express takes the position that Bailey's answer does not clear up the issues presented in the indictment brought by the attorney general and that there is sufficient evidence to warrant the legislature in refusing to re-elect Balley until his innocence has been established beyond doubt. This the Express declares is due to the people of Texas and should be courted by Bailey and his friends. Comment is made on the remarkable issue of fact before the people involving two high officials. While the editorial maintains a neutral attitude, it supported by other evidence.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 8.-The Gazette will this afternoon have the following to say on the Bailey controversy:

is one from which Bailey's friends can receive no comfort and which cannot be construed to be friendly to Bailey.

The sum and substance of the Express position is that it refuses to accept

Bailey's statement as the truth unless

"After exhausting all the other technicalities known to the law Senator Bailey has come to the last resort, a plea of confession and ayoidance. It s probable that even the friends who have stuck to him thru the fiery ordeal the last three months were shocked when they read his much-heralded reply to Attorney General Davidson's open letter. They had hoped against hope that in some way the senator would be able to clear himself absolutely from the imputations cast by the attorney general. Senator Bailey had given them every right to expect this, for had he not denied in wholesale fashion and promised to convict of perjury and forgery the authors of the evidence in the possession of the attorney general?

"After that nobody expected the ame, halting statement which he finally issued, with its admissions on every point raised by the attorney general save one. "Whether this statement proves that Senator Bailey was the recipient of improper favors from H. Clay Pierce as a result of his services in the readmission of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company is not so material now as the fact that it conclusively demonstrates that thruout this whole business Senator Bailey has never dealt fairly and candidly with the people of Texas who have honored him with their trust. Beginning with his first contemptuous denials, step by step he has retreated as each bit of evidence was brought forth. Each denial was couched in such language as to carry the plain implication that he had never accepted any favors from H. Clay Pierce or the Waters-Pierce Oil Company for his services in the readmission incident. He has admitted nothing until the indisputable evidence was produced.

"When Senator Bailey was telling so unctiously in his speeches that touching incident in which he said he rejected Pierce's offer of compensation with the virtuously bombastic statement that he "practiced law, not influence," why did he not tell all the truth? Why did he not tell, as he has now been forced to admit, that he coupled his refusal of compensation with a request for a loan? Why should it be necessary, if Senator Bailey's acts are so honorable, open and above. board, and if his conscience is so clear, to drag these facts from him by the production of the evidence.

"Why should it have been necessary for Senator Bailey to select H. Clay Pierce as the man from whom to borrow money at that time? According to his early statements Pierce was then only a recent acquaintance. Bailey has said that he knew nothing about Pierce until he met him at the request of David R. Francis, a short time before this incident occurred. He told the people of Texas that he used his good offices in behalf of Pierce only because he was a good friend of Francis. According to these early statements of Bailey, Pierce was at that time merely an acquaintance. Is it not peculiar, therefore, that Bailey should have asked him for a loan of $3,300 immediately after he had refused so pompously to accept a fee from Pierce? Were there no old Texas friends that Senator Bailey could apply to for an accommodation loan, that he need ask the favor of a comparative stanger and under circumstances like "Senator Bailey says he repaid these loans. In view of what has gone before the people of Texas will be excused if they ask for proof on this point, but granting that he did repay them, the moral aspect of the situation is hardly better than if he had not repaid them. We must consider the relative positions of the two men in discussing this phase of the case. On the one hand was Senator Bailey, honored and trusted by the people of Texas whose influence was necessary to Pierce to secure the readmission of his company. On the other hand was Pierce, a millionaire, but a supplient for mercy and favor. Senator Bailey granted the favor. Pierce offered to pay him. Bailey declined to accept a fee, but solicited a loan, Pierce granted the loan gladly, and we may reasonably suppose that he smiled in his sleeves as he did so, for we know in what light he regarded it from the fact that he promptly charged it to his company. From an ethical standpoint the transaction was one that compromised Senator Bailey. But it did not compromise him so seriously that if he had frankly told his constituents at the outset all the details of these transactions they would not have felt that while he erred in judgment he was not ashamed of his error.'

Henry Howard Gives Damaging Testimony at Victoria

Special to The Telegram. HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 8.-Two chief witnesses on the stand in the trial of Felix Powell, charged with the murder of the Conditt family at Edna this morning gave damaging evidence against the burly negro. Attorney H. Chivers of Edna was the first witness this morning. It was shown that at the time of the Monk Gibson trial in San Antonio Powell had represented to the witness that Lizzie Powell was too old to make the trip and the mother of the man now on trial was excused from testifying. Then Henry Howard was called to the stand. He is under indictment as an accessory in the crime and is the man who brought Powell to town on the morning of the Conditt tragedy. He testified he was arrested in July as implicated in the murder and has been in jail since. He lived all his life in Edna. He said he went to work in the field early on the day of the killing Later in the morning he was riding by the place and on the main road overtook Felix, who had a quilt under one arm rolled but not tied. It was placed between the two negroes as they rode to town. Near a railroad crossing on the outskirts of the town Powell dismounted and taking the quilt walked away. When Howard reached town it was 10:30 o'clock. After the trial at San Antonio Powell told the witness of the Conditt murder and the part he took in it. Howard told Powell people were going to whip him and after the conversation Powell said: "If I tell you something will you tell?" After more talk in which Powell threatened to kill Howard if he peached, he said, according to Howard: "Me and Monk did that thing."

"We killed those people," witness said Powell declared and this was followed with further threats to kill him if he told. This line of testimony concluded the hearing up to the noon

REVOLUTIONIST TELLS OF ESCAPE

Gershuni Was Condemned to Death

ORGANIZE THE RUSSIANS

Was Hidden in Barrel of Sauer Kraut and Sent Outside Prison Walls

to Chief of Prison

Special to The Telegram. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—George Gershuni, considered the most important political prisoner that the Russian government has in Siberia, on account of his wonderful organizing ability, arrived here on the steamer China Monday from Nagasaki and Japan and tells a thrilling story of his escape from the Akatuy prison in Siberia concealed in a barrel of sauer kraut. Four years ago Gershuni with others started with what is known as the fighting organization of the Russian revolutionist party with the object of intimidating government officials. Gershuni was arrested in May, 1903, but in less than a year's time, during his sway in the organization Minister of the Interior Sipiaguin and Governor Bobdanovich were killed and attempts were made upon the lives of Pobledonstzeff, procurator of the holy synod; Prince Obolenski, governor of Kharskoff and Von Plehve, minister of the interior, the last of whom was afterward assassinated. Gershuni stated at the home of his host and interpreter, Dr. J. Maiensky, that he had only resorted to these terrorist measures after exhausting peaceful methods of instructing his countrymen in their rights by lectures, school and Sunday school work. His work in this respect, like all simllar endeavors in Russia, is so hampered by the government as to be practically worthless. "I was a doctor of pharmacy at Minsk and like the majority of my coworkers, had no personal grievance against the government, but devoted my life to the cause on principle," said "My family at home consists of two brothers. I never had time to marry.

Sentenced to Be Hanged

"I was sentenced to be hanged in March, 1904, ten months after my arrest. Nowadays twenty-four hours is the usual time allotted for trial and explanation. But as the government is hanging or shooting twelve to fifteen persons daily, it is impossible for them to spend any length of time on a case. Until a couple of years ago, only one woman had been executed in Russia, but now sex makes no difference. "As I never had assisted personally in the kiling of anybody, my sentence was commuted to life imprisonment in | few years ago. the Schlessellburg penitentiary, the Russian bastile, where the sufferings "One of the jailors in riveting a chain on my foot, mashed it, and as medical attendance was denied me, an ulcer formed that would have caused my death had not the popular upneaval at that time caused the authorities to abolish this place as a political prison. Woman Brutally Beaten

"Among the people confined there was Marie Spiridonoff, who was so brutally beaten by the Cossacks, being even assaulted by an officer, that prominent people thruout the world begged her discharge without trial. As a result of her treatment she if deaf and partially blind, her lungs are affected and for months she was subject to violent hysterical fits. Her condition of late has been improving, how-

"I made four unsuccessful attempts to escape. My fifth was so studied as to be almost certain. "The prisoners were in the habit of preparing sauer kraut, which is used extensively by Russians, principally for soup, and each time a quantity was made some barrels of it were sent to the chief of the prison, who lived without the walls.

"I was hidden in one of these barrels, a leather partition placed over my head and a tube from my mouth to a hole in the barrel supplied me with The barrel was then filled with sauer kraut and sent to the chief's cellar, from which a hole had been dug by friends in advance.

"Once in the village it was an easy matter for me to cover the 1,500 miles to Vladivostok on the Pacific, where the revolutionists have friends. "I intend to spend a short time in this country with an idea of organizing my countrymen here to aid our move-

"Our work generally is progressing rapidly; we have learned the folly of territorial uprisings and when next we rise it will be general all over the Rusian empire."

BUILD UP GALVESTON

Nearly 200,000 Cubic Yards Filled in November

Special to The Telegram. GALVESTON, Texas, Dec. 8.-During the month of November 192,250 grade raising dredges in this city. The raising of the grade of the city that is so far as the city is concerned, is about half finished, as will be shown by the following figures: The total amount of filling to be placed under the city contract is 10,470,000 cubic yards, and up to date there have been placed 5,070,289 yards. The same contractors are to place about 750,000 yards for the county on a 100-foot strip back of the sea wall known as the sea wall right of way, and of this amount about 450,000 yards have been placed. Under the city contract at 181/2 ents a yard the contractors have earned $938,003.46 out of a total of $1.-936,950. They have not been paid all of this amount, as the city retains 10 per cent of the earnings until the completion of the contract, and this amounts to $93,800.34, which the city is holding. Including the estimate for November, the contractors have been paid $844,203.12. It is estimated that it will require about three years to complete the work, which includes the filling of the canal. The time in the contract expires in February and the contractors will make a request for an extension of the time limit. Actual pumping began two years ago in October, and those familiar with the work favor the granting of an extension. It will require about two years more to complete the filling and another year to fill the canal and finish odds and ends

And many other painful and serious ailments from which most mothers suffer, can be avoided by the use of "Mother's Friend." This great remedy

THE GOSPEL OF GOOD CHEER

East Houston street.

BY JOHN ANDERSON JAYNE. From primitive and little known Ambia comes a story of genuine heart power and good cheer that in the busy city we may well stop and consider.

Early one morning a shelk, master of a great tribe, started out, unattended, to visit a neighboring sheik to consult relative to some matter of business. Expecting to get to his neighbor before noonday, he failed to take provision with him sufficient for a days journeying. While driving his dromedary onward as fast as possible, and immersed in his own thoughts, he failed to notice the approach of a sand storm. But soon it broke in its awful fury around him and he lost his way. Night drew on, and out in the desert he was compelled to spend the long hours in which the earth is shrouded in darkness. . When morning dawned he endeavored to find his way forward, but was unable to do so. Then for three days and for three nights he was lost in the desert. On the fifth day he was found by his servants, who had become alarmed concerning his safety, at a point midway between his own easis and the one to which Tenderly they bore the sheik to his own tents, and for days his reason hung in the balance. But when at last he was recovered of his illness, he demanded that he be carried to the place where he had been found, and there he vowed a vow that every morning as long as he lived there should be carried to that place a bottle of water, a bunch of grapes and a flagon of wine. It was the action of a Great Heart, who had been saved from a terrible death, desirous of helping other travelers in the desert. As the years rolled by, according to the tradition, many lives were saved by his thoughtful and kindly action.

Whether the tradition be true or not, there carries in it a delicate and suggestive lesson—the man who has been saved from death should in turn

Dear to the memory is the kindly face and form of the old village preacher in the old New England town which has sent forth many men who have become notable in the affairs that have to do with our native land. He was of venerable appearance and recalled those beautiful words of Goldsmith in the Deserted Village, relative to the village preacher.

"As some tall cliff that lifts its awful Swells from the vale below, and midway leaves the storm. Though round its breast the raging clouds were spread, Eternal sunshine settles on its head."

Everybody who knew him loved "good old Doctor March," as he waas called. Tho stern was his theology, ing privileges ought to act as a memyet his heart was as tender as a child, | ber of a political organization, because gone wrong there were only words of pity and love, and many an erring boy or girl was saved by his sympathy and kindliness. In his youth he had been hot-headed. He had known the blighting power of wrong in his life. He had been wild and careless. But brought to think on the error of his ways he had given himself unreservedly to the reclamation of his brother man. Like the Arabian shelk, every day he sent out the bottle of water, the bunch of grapes and the wine for disheartened and weary travelers in the desert of life. He

'Let none hear you idly say! There is nothing I can do;' While the souls of men are flying there is work for me and you."

A veritable Great Heart, with his gospel of good cheer, he turned many to righteousness, and his crown "will shine with many stars."

The world needs the help of those who, thru suffering, have learned sympathy. It needs caresses more than curses, needs sympathy more than sarcasm, needs love more than lashings, needs sweet wine and spikenard more than sharp whips and scorpions.

There has been a time in your life when you needed a friend, a counselor, a guide. You were brought to the port of a noble life not by the punishments you received, but thru the gospel of good cheer, exemplified in the life of one who lifted you up and cast not the contumelious stone. Today you know a boy, a girl, in your neighborhood who is doing what you did when you were their age. In the light of your experiences, knowing the value of a good word of cheer, give it to them. Let not your pride, your prejudice or your passion stand between you and one whom you may

Give to others as you have received of the gospel of good cheer, and you shall be to the world "a shelter in the time of storm," "a covert from the wind," and "the shadow of a rock in a dry and thirsty land."

Spread with joyous hand the gospel of good cheer and your reward will not be long delayed.

THE LEGISLATURE'S DUTY

Early last August The Telegram was practically the only daily paper in Texas to criticise Senator J. W. Bailey's attitude in attempting to serve two masters in violation of the Bryan

When it began The Telegram was bitterly assailed. It was accused by Senator Bailey and his friends of conspiracy, Hearst influence, republicanism, compared to the malodorous Pothe management of the paper were subjected to scurrilous villification in public meetings, the paper's honesty was assailed, in short, this paper was given sufficient provocation from an ordinary man's viewpoint to justify it in equally bitter recrimination against the senator. But it refrained.

Gradually the number of Texas newspapers accepting the Telegram's view was increased and the boast of Senator Bailey that only three papers in Texas were against him was proven false by publication in The Telegram of nearly one hundred Texas newspapers openly opposed to him.

And so the number increased until it was generally recognized that the principal afternoon papers of the state, except the Waco Times-Herald, which first opposed, but later professed acceptance of Bailey's explanation, unanimously criticised the senator's interpretation of democratic doctrine. Of the morning papers in the state, remained his champion, as did the Houston Post, which is affiliated with it. The conservative Dallas News remained silent while the almost equally conservative San Antonio Express remained friendly to the senator, tho not so ardent a champion as the two papers first named.

This was the situation up to the time Attorney General Davidson, at Austin, served notice on the Waters-Pierce Oil Company's attorneys to produce youchers and letter connecting the name of Bailey with the Waters-Pierce Oil Company and its return to Texas.

At once Bailey's friends raised the old cry of conspiracy and the senator hastened back from Washington to make another explanation. After two days' laborious work, surrounded by a coterie of advisors from all over the state, a 6,000-word reply was prepared to an open letter which the attorney general had addressed to the senator after the charge of political conspiracy had been made against him, a sworn officer of the state. The reply is public now. Bailey has spoken and the verdict rests with the people of Texas and the Thirtieth legislature.

Now The Telegram respectfully insists the matter should rest until the legislature has acted. The Telegram does not go so far as the hitherto conservative Dallas News and declare developments are such there is no necessity for Bailey's name going before the legislature. Bailey is tacitly, tho not legally, the nominee of the last democratic convention. The Telegram does not go so far as the Houston Chronicle and declare there is nothing for the next legislature to do but to seek another person for senatorial honors. Bailey had the benefit of a legislative investigation once. It is no more than right that for his distinguished services in the past the people of Texas should allow him another.

There is no more occasion for jumping at conclusions now than there was last August. The Telegram believes that its uniform course has been vindicated in its original contention that Bailey's interpretation of democratic dectrine is not in accord with the standards of that peerless leader of democracy, William J. Bryan:

And The Telegram is content at that. Further than that the right of judgment belongs to the representatives of the people who will meet in Austin next month. The Telegram repeats its advice that the people of Texas should communicate with their legislators in order that they may know their constituents will support them in what is just, what is democratic,

Henry Clay Pierce, Magnate

Henry Clay Pierce, the most aristocratic of St. Louis multi-millionaires, who travels by land in his private palace car and by sea on his palatial yacht, has been indicted for perjury

by the grand jury of Travis county,

Texas. The indictment grows out of an affidavit Pierce made in Austin,

May 30, 1900, in which he took oath that the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, to do business in Texas, his company having been convicted in the state courts of being controlled by the Standard Oil Company and of having been given a monopoly on the oil business in Texas. The conviction of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company led to its reorganization in May, 1900. The 2,748 shares of stock in the company previously held by the Standard Oil trust appeared on the books of the reorganized company in the name of Pierce, but it has been admitted in the Missouri ouster proceedings that Pierce never did own them and that they were held in his name as a subterfuge to deceive the officials of Texas, so that they would grant the company a license to resume business in that state.

Pierce admitted on the witness stand in St. Louis Sept. 12 and 15, 1906, that the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey owned these shares of stock, which amounted to more than a controlling interest in the company. He admitted that the Standard Oil had parceled out the southwestern territory to the Waters-Pierce Company and that Texas was included in his slice. These admissions were made while Pierce was testifying in his own behalf in the Hadley proceedings, and while he was trying to shift the blame from his own shoulders upon the Standard Oil magnates in New York. He said that he had charged the Standard Oil officials with being responsible for his violation of the pledge he made to the people of Texas. Pierce is said to be in New York.

John D. Johnson, counsel for the Waters-Pierce Company, refused to tell a Post-Dispatch reporter where Mr. Pierce is now staying, but it was learned from other sources that he went to New York several days ago. "I do not care to say where Mr. Pierce is," said Attorney Johnson, "He is not in St. Louis, and he is not in Texas. He is not, however, in hiding. We have never had any intention of having Mr. Pierce go to Texas to testify in the suit against his company there. At this time there is no further statement I care to make in regard to the indictment "

Henry S. Priest, personal counsel for Pierce, is now in Texas in connection with the suit. Judge Priest has said that he wrote the affidavit for Pierce and that he did so with a full knowledge of the facts, and that it would have been folly for him to require his client to sign a paper which might have, and now has, resulted in criminal proceedings. Pierce divides his time between St.

Louis and New York. When he is at sion at 40 Vandeventer Place. He has probably the largest retinue of servants of any man in St. Louis. In a house across the Suburban tracks from his home twenty-seven of his servants live. He comes down to work in a carriage or an automobile

In New York Pierce lives at Waldorf-Astoria hotel in apartments which cost him $125 a day. He has a beautiful yacht in New York harbor and frequently goes to sea on it. Last spring when Attorney General Hadley's process servers were trying to catch Pierce in New York and force him to tell his story there he barricaded himself in his apartments and finally

His attorneys then gave their prom se that Pierce would testify in St. Louis. It has since developed that Pierce's activity in evading the process servers in New York had a double purpose-he did not want to testify in the case at all and if compelled to. he did not want to testify in New York within reach of the men he charged with responsibility for the violation of his agreement with the

The attorney general of Texas, takng cognizance of the fact that the Waters-Pierce Company has been owned and controlled by the Standard of New Jersey all the time it was doing business in that state in the guise of an independent, instituted a suit in September to forfeit its license and assess penalties against it for violation of the Texas anti-trust laws.

It has been expected that criminal proceedings would follow Pierce's adnissions on the witness stand that Standard Oil owned a controlling interest in Waters-Pierce. It was largely thru the influence of Senator Joseph W. Bailey that the Waters-Pierce Company was granted a new license to do business in Texas after its conviction in the state courts had been affirmed by the United States supreme court in 1900. Senator Bailey has said that he suggested the reorganization of the company. Bailey said that he was introduced to Pierce in St. Louis by David R. Francis, who vouched for the good character and honest intentions of the oil magnate Pierce went to Texas with Senator Bailey and made the affidavit in Austin, and the next day was granted a icense to come back into the state and resume business.

inquiry that the reorganization of the company was simply a change in the corporate clothes, and that its ownership, following the reincorporation, was vested in exactly the same persons as prior to the Texas trouble. Under the laws of Missouri perjury s an extraditable offense. If the govrnor of Texas makes out a requisition on the governor of Missouri for the return of Pierce to that state it can be honored under the statutes of this state.-St. Louis Post-Dispatch,

There are few of us who take the time and occasion to speak as kindly to those with whom we come in daily contact as we should. Too often on minds are on other things and we acquire the habit of speaking shortly and curtly to those who have a right t expect kinder things from our lips. The Bonham News prints some rem on this subject that are quite worthy of serious and general consideration The News says:

SAN SABA, Texas, Dec. 8 .- One of the strongest pullers for San Saba county is its water. The running streams that traverse not only her borders but cut across her territory in all directions. Well watered by the purest streams to be found in Texas. Stockmen know what it means to have running water on their premises. Investors take this as a first consideration when buying a home. The Colorado and San Saba rivers twine round and thru the country. Cherokee and Richland creeks afford abundance of stock water and a dozen other smaller streams go to make up the best watered county in the state.

Make New Bond Issue

Special to The Telegram. DECATUR, Texas, Dec. 8.-Wednesday morning, in the basement of the court house, there occurred a genu-ine bond fire, when $98,000 of canceled and paid bonds for Wise county court house bonds went up in smoke. The ceremony was carried out by the commissioners' court and retiring Judge Cose. When Judge Cose went into office, the state held $98,000 worth of bonds against Wise county, which bore interest at 5 per cent. Since that time the commissioners' court has paid $14.000 of these bonds, leaving $84,000. By the wisdom of the court these $84,000 worth of bonds were canceled and a reissue was made at the rate of 4 per cent interest. Thus a saving was made to the tax payers of the county of $840 annually.

Buy Large Land Tract

Special to The Telegram. BROWNWOOD, Texas, Dec. 8.-Messrs, Will A Bell, B. G. Sweet, W. A. McIntosh and J. A. Abney went to Miles this morning to close a deal for 10,000 acres of land near there, which they intend to cut into small farms and settle with homeseekers. The land is a very pretty tract and the gentlemen believe they will have no trouble in settling it with a thrifty class of people. The undertaking is quite a large one and one that requires a great deal of money, but Brownwood people are a class that succeed in their undertakings and this instance will prove no exception. Mr. Zimmerman of the Brown County Abstract Company is interested in the deal.

Gets Fee of $10,000

Special to The Telegram. OZONA, Texas, Dec. 8 .- John Young, one of Ozona's local capitalists and real estate men, president of the Ozona Improvement Company, etc., has returned from a business trip to Boston where he went in the interest of some west Texas land matters. Mr. Young talks interestingly of the "Hub" and his experience with the Bostonese, but the most interesting fact he has to tell is that he sold a piece of land-Pecos dirt-as big as the state of Delaware to Illinois capitalists. The sale was made for a New England syndicate to Peoria III and is a tract of pasture land situated west of the Pecos and just north of the Southern Pacific railroad, comprising 269 sections, or 172,160 acres. The price was $1.25 per acre, amounting to $215,-200. The purchaser intends to cut the land into tracts to suit ranch purchasers. This is one of the biggest land deals ever made in Texas and Mr. Young pockets a fee of $10,000 for his work and trouble in bringing it to a successful issue.

More Than 10,000 Bales Special to The Telegram. LAMPASAS, Texas, Dec. 8.—Albert Brown, public weigher, reports that there have been weighed here up to date a little more than ten thousand bales of cotton, and those who are posted say Lampasas is due to get from three to five thousand more. The Handley-V. B. Robinson and wife. crop has been extra good this year, and the price has been very satisfactory also, and these points have caused some to market their cotton at the nearest point to their homes, without waiting to go to the larger places to sell or taking time to trade. Trade has been fairly good all the fall, tho the merchants say they expect a very large increase in their sales from now until the first of February.

Many Sell Their Land

Special to The Telegran LAMPASAS, Texas, Dec. 8.-Lands continue to change hands in this section, and every man who sells is reported as selling at an advance over what was paid. Numerous instances could be reported where an individual has made enough cotton in a single season off of the land purchased to pay the purchase price, having his grain, vegetables and other products clear over any above the expense of raising, gathering and marketing the cotton. Just why people should want to move to the west, east, south or north from a country that will produce as this country does, is a mystery and yet there are people who are anxious to dispose of their possessions and move to other lands.

Sell Brick Building Special to The Telegram. COLORADO, Texas, Dec. 8.-Knott-Ellis Real Estate Company sold this week the two-story brick building occupied by J. A. Payne to J. B. Patterson of Robert Lee, Texas, consideration $5,000 cash. This was the property of J. C. Prude and will still be occupied by Mr. Payne.

Many Buy Farms Special to The Telegram. COLORADO, Texas, Dec. 8.-E. P. Turner, general passenger agent of the Texas and Pacific, reports that the opening up of the ranch property in west Texas of late has been successful. On Nov. 26 the road ran an excursion to the Higginbotham-Harris ranch just north of Stanton and the entire thirty-six sections were closed out in farms of 160 acres each. This was the second excursion of the sort. The first was in October to Midland, where the Edton ranch of twelve sections was closed out in quarter sections. Other excursions and subdivisions are planned. The settlement by individual purchasers is also reported good.

Galveston Port Closed Special to The Telegram. COLORADO, Texas, Dec. 8 .- On account of the blockade at the Galveston docks all connection railroads with the Texas and Pacific refuse to accept consigned to that port from this road, hence the Texas and Pacific is forced to refuse cotton at all points along its line. This will cause a great congestion at all compress points and virtually stop the movement of cotton. All other ports are open.

his finger the description of a tract issued by the West Texas Land Company. The place referred to was the Sam Keeler farm of 200 acres, five miles northwest of Brownwood. Special to The Telegram. SAN ANGELO, Texas, Dec. 8 .- The San Angelo Cotton Oil Company, thru its president, Mr. George J. Bird, has bought a tract of land consisting of thirteen acres near the stock pens, north of the railroad, on which will be located an oil mill. Arrangements will be made for feeding cattle near the oil mill, and its close proximity to the railroad will make the shipping facilities cost only a nominal sum. An oil mill is an industry San Angelo has felt the need of keenly for some years, and now that this demand will be met will make greatly for the prosperity of the Queen City of the Special to The Telegram. STAMFORD, Texas, Dec. 8.-Architect Simons wired the trustees of the college a few days ago that he had forwarded the plans and specifications for the college building and they are expected today. However, the trustees will, use good judgment in pushing the matter, as it will require caution to avoid any mistake.

Coal Land at Santo

Special to The Telegram, MINERAL WELLS, Texas, Dec. 8.-Sam Bosely and Jim Watson of the Santo community were at the county seat the first of the week. They report that there is considerable excitement in that community over the prospective development of the coal industry. It has been known for some time that there is coal in that part of the country and since a test hole sunk about four miles west of Santo disclosed a heavy vein of coal which the promoters propose to develop at cace, the people are beginning to have dreams of a second Thurber.

THEY ALL WISHED TICKETS

Everyone Thinks the Theatrical Manager Has Them to Give Away The manager of a theatrical company had just written his name upon he register of the leading hotel. The clerk was all smiles. "How's the world been using you since you were here last season?" the clerk asked. "Room with a bath?" The manager said business had been good. The clerk said he was glad of that.

"Say, Billy," he added, "can you fix me up for the show?" The manager wasn't surprised at the question. He had heard it before. He would see what he could de. During the day nearly everyone the manager met asked him for a "comp" to the show. That night the manager was telling his troubles to a newspaper friend. "Everybody tries to hold me up for tickets," he said. "But I don't give out many nowadays. Why should I? pay well for everything I get in the way of accommodations. "I'll tell you when the practice started. Years ago, when the oldtime minstrel shows were in vogue, managers and actors gave tickets away by the wholesale. If they were short n money for railroad fare they made t up with tickets. At the hotels they ometimes had to pay bills with seat checks. The members of the company gave tickets to their friends, to bellboys, barbers and saloon men. And so the theatrical man came to be regarded as legitimate prey. The spirit is alive yet, but we can't be so liberal Division, U. C. V. "There seems to be a universal sentiment among the veterans of Granbury camp No. 67, U. C. V., to the effect that the wives of our veterans should be admitted with their husbands to the soldiers' home at Austin. Under the present law they cannot be admitted. That we old soldiers should be desirous to better our condition is but natural, so we think that this law should be changed so as to admit the wives to share the comforts of the. home with their husbands. It seems a cruelty to send an aged and infirm veteran there and not allow his wife to accompany him. She is the one who can best care for his wants and infirmities. There is no sympathy like hers. Life to the old soldier is not what it should be under the present law. It is equivalent to a divorce in their old age it is but natural that there would be more contentment

It was the first open meeting of the committee since the work of drafting the new charter was completed, tho of course, it is understood that the first draft is subject to revision and the queries made last night indicate that there will be a great deal of revision. The session of the general committee lasted about three hours, and practically all of the time was consumed in the reading of the article relating to judiciary, containing the incorporating clause, defining the limits of the city, the powers of the corporation, etc. There was real discussion on but one clause and that was the one relating to the referendum, to which several of the committee made serious objections, saying the present referendum was "a monstrosity," "a howling farce," as one said, and "prepared by an enemy of the

One clause which excited considersay this is the most interesting case, able inquiry was the one that provides for the institution of proceedings to rethe boy, that has come under their obmove an incompetent or wrong-doing commissioner from office. The initiative may be taken by five citizens of Fort Worth, unless, in specified instances, other officials act. The commissioners have the power to remove other officials from office when the with a literary friend whose new book good of the service requires it. Vacancies in the commissionerships are to be filled by election by the people, unless less than six months intervene between such vacancy and the time for the general election. The division of the work is thus One commissioner to have the general supervision of the police and fire matters with powers to employ men and to discharge them; another to have charge of streets and public property; another to have charge of finance and revenue. The mayor may assign the duties of each commissioner and change them at pleasure or when the good of the service seems to require it, provided the commissioner is assigned to other duties. A financial statement of the expenditures and receipts of the city must be made four times a year, condition of bonded debt and all.

One provision which excited inquiry is that which provides for the grant of an emergency fund of $1,000 to the mayor to be used at his discretion, tho an accounting may be demanded by proper authorities. No intoxicating liquor sale license is to be issued to a saloon located on the same block as a public school nor within 400 feet of the said school grounds. Many of the sections are the same as in the present charter, as for instance the one relating to the corporation court and those were passed over without reading. The charter is made a general law for the reason that such a provision is required to prevent the charter being construed as a local law. Judge Hogsett and Representative Lane wish to go on record as opposed to the whole referendum proposition, but the matter was argued with more or less approval by Captain Paddock, Mayor Harris, W. D. Williams, Mr. Woodman and Mr. Stephens, and then adopted as stated. On motion of Mr. Shanahan a quorum of the committee was fixed at six members. The provision providing for the closing of saloons at nights and on Sundays, is identical with the terms of an interview had with Mr. Baskin and published in The Telegram about two months ago. It provides saloons shall be closed from midnight to 5 a. m., and from midnight Saturday to 5 a. m. Monday. Forfeiture for violations is

The committee adjourned to meet again Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

COTTON FUTURES LOWER PRECEDING THE GINNERS'

New Orleans Cotton Special to The Telegram.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 8 .- The market today was of the regular fashion of a Saturday preceding an important statistical day, and accordingly trading was slow and narrow, with little to break the monotony of things, except the prediction of the prophets and the comparisons of statistics.

A fairly favorable supply statement, a better market at Liverpool than was expected and sales of 6,000 bales of spots at 4 points better prices com-bined to cause a higher opening, and a limited inclination to expect bullish government documents next week. Few, however, appeared willing to back their conclusions as above, and futures consequently slipped gradually downward, some 10 to 14 points from opening quotations. Forecast receipts at principal cotton markets for Monday are large, there were reports of slight concessions on the part of holders of spots and the break in exchange also put a damper on the best interests of the exporters. The national ginners' association places the ginnings to the first instant at 9,952,000 bales. Now, good authorities say that 80 to 85 per cent of the cotton crop had been ginned to Dec. 1. Upon a basis of these figures 80 per cent would accordingly place the total yield at 12,437,000, and 821/2 per cent at 12.063.000.

The guesses at the ginners' report, which will be flashed Monday at 1 o'clock, vary widely, the average being something like ten million bales, which would, it is thought by the average conservative, sustain prices at and around present levels.

The guesses regarding to percentage of the crop ginned to Dec. 1 are at wide variance, likewise the calculations of the season's yield, and it seems strange that the ringside should, in the light only of the census compilation, fix its whim so positively. Yet the leaders seem to have set their guide posts and will probably line up accordingly as the ginners' Monday may be on this or that side of 10,000,-

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 .- There was practically no buying power in evidence this morning and the result was a break to within a few points of the low figure of yesterday. The covering in evidence on the recent break seemed to be lacking and the result was a sharp decline of 12 to 13 points from the opening level. While the general indisposition to open new accounts before the reports would account for some of the absence of support, the way the market ran off proved very disappointing to those who have been inclined to look for higher prices. New Orleans led the decline and a heavy movement helped the break. With a report on Monday and another Tuesday the market is likely to experience many fluctuations next week. Some idea of the crop is likely 'to obtain, however, and this should help in the end. Unless some Fillip in the way of low ginning figures or a low bureau is received, prices may sag some lower on the large receipts.

Gilbert & Clay-The absence of a strong spot demand is a factor which of late has proven significantly favorable to lower levels and augmented by the constantly increasing size of the movement, haturally gives rise to beliefs that now obtain to the effect that consumption of an unmistakable character must henceforth furnish more than a tentative influence in creating higher levels.

A correspondent at New York wired: "In the early trading the market exhibited considerable strength, becoming easier in the second hour and losing the advance. The volume of business has been distressingly small and the absence of buying orders has engendered bearish sentiment, causing the decline. Conditions remain unchanged, most of the trade prefer to await Monday's report as likely to shed some light on the showing to be made by the department crop estimate on Tuesday."

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Secretary Shaw's keen and careful watching of the money situation, the secretary's apparent disgust with the action of the local banks, the lack of any absolutely definite time set to relieve the present stringency, the worse than expected bank statement of today, the considerable deficit in the surplus reserves-all these features and factors served to bring straight home today the gloom incited by the sombre clouds that temporarily darken the monetary outlook in the east.

Peering thru the beclouded atmosphere, however, is the confidence of the bulls in the light of Mr. Shaw's promise to shortly come to the rescue, notwithstanding the fact that no positive date has been promised when this shall take place other than dire emergency's signal The bank statement today, which is bearish, shows a decrease in reserve of $8,151,300, less United States, decrease, $8,143,300; a decrease in loans of $3,883,500, decrease in special, $9,-732,200; legals, $2,533,400, and in deposits, $16,457,200. ## WHEAT MARKET STEADY; UNDERTONE WAS STRONG

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Wheat: A little selling appeared early on declines in Liverpool, due to cheaper Manitoba and Argentine offerings, but world's shipments will show nearly 3,000,000 bushels under last year and there was fairly good buying by commission houses. Local longs were inclined to take profits, there being a continuance of yesterday's selling, but the northwest bought May as well as July. Seaboard clearances were quite heavy, nearly 800,000 bushels, wheat and flour -the visible is expected to show a small decrease, altho it may prove a surprise in larger figures than expected, while the interior movement con-remarkably steady and certainly displays a strong undertone with sentiment more bullish than otherwise Corn: Further reports of damage to the Argentine crop furnished the bull motive in this cereal and they were strongly responded to in the way of buying orders. December, May and July were in good demand. The Argentine news is of a character to exercise quite a bullish ect on European markets and may tend to increase the kind of people who are in the market.

Oats: The market displayed a strong front. Cash interests, northwestern houses and locals were general buyers Commission house trade was quite lively. Many in the trade are predicting that the price of this cereal will move closer to corn.

Provisions: Hogs at western points this week show 144,000 under last year and this was a potent bullish argument that carried great weight with the packers as well as the trade. New high levels were made today and as offerings were limited, futures advanced very easily with the closing on her way home when Beri Beri appeared among the coolies in the crew. As the vessel passed Gibraltar half of the crew were in their bunks, unable to move a limb. On Nov. 9 one of the men died. The next day another was dead and the following day a coolie, crazed with delirium, committed suicide by throwing himself into the sea. It was while the Den of Mains was off Mecca, in the Red sea, that her trouble began. Mano Bin Sahib, with hands uplifted and a look of religious fervor on his face, suddenly cast himself into the sea, uttering a prayer to Mohammed. In a twinkling the other thirty-four Lascars in the crew prepared to follow him, all suddenly possessed by an insanity of fanaticism. Captain Sawyer and his officers quieted them with difficulty.

LITTLE EVIDENCE TO BE SUBMITTED

Prominence Makes a Speedy Trial Desirable

By Associated Press. HAZLEHURST, Miss., Dec. 8.—The anouncement of Mrs. Angle Birdsong's lawyer that they will attempt to complete the evidence today makes it probable that the defendant's vindication of the charge of murder of Dr. Thomas Butler will depend upon the arguments and appeals to the jury rather than upon any long minute evi-

Several causes contribute to render a speedy trial desirable. The prominence of the families of both defendant and Dr. Butler made many details of the evidence especially unpleasant in so small a community as Monticello, where the tragedy happened. There has not been much dispute about the facts in the case and for this reason the vital points in the evidence have been reached quickly. The principal question has been whether the woman could endure the publicity of such re-

TRUCK SHIPPED IN EAST TEXAS

Total for Five Counties Will Reach 5,000 Cars

Special to The Telegram. TYLER, Texas, Dec. 8 .- There have been shipped this year from about a dozen counties, comprising that section of the state known as east Texas, over 5,000 cars of fruits and vegetables. More than one-third of this number was shipped from Smith county, which is the heart of the fruit and truck belt, and over 100 more cars were sent out of Tyler than from any other town in Texas with one exception.

The foregoing number of cars was made up as follows: About one-third each of tomatoes and peaches, the other one-third in strawberries, cabbage, pears, onions, watermelons, cantaloupes, potatoes and mixed vegetables. In 1899 the first car of fruits and vegetables was shipped from east Texas, in 1906 the combined shipments in refrigerated cars by express and by the canning factories easily reached 5,000 cars. And yet the fruit and truck industries here are still in their infancy. Our people do not fully realize the wonderful possibilities of east Texas, where practically everything will grow and flourish. We are 1,500 miles nearer than California and 1,000 miles closer than Florida to the great central markets of the nation, and we are destined to be their chief suppliers of fruits and vegetables. We need and will welcome experienced growers of fruit and truck to aid us in developing these lucrative indus

WILL PROTECT THE TELEGRAPH WIRES

Trees Along the Road to Be Cut Down

By Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, La. Dec. 8.-Th Illinois Central railroad has inaugurated a movement for protecting its telegraph facilities which is expected to be of benefit to business of the entire Southern Mississippi valley. This was announced last night by G. H. Groce, the newly appointed assistant to the general manager of the Illinois Central. The road is cutting down trees not only on the railroad right of way, but also on private property ad joining, so that falling trees cannot strike the wires. In storms of this and former years falling trees have crippled the telegraph service sometimes througut the entire south. Mr. Groce said that large land owners along the right of way were aiding the company by freely permitted their trees to be chopped, but small owners were someimes interfering with the project.

CHARGES FALSE OATH

More Trouble Over an Early Morning Marriage

Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock, Chief Deputy Sheriff Alonzo J. Beavers was called from his bed and requested to come to the county clerk's office and issue a marriage license. He went to the court house and was met by a young man and a very young girl from Eagan, Texas, who wanted a marriage license. Being suspicious, the official demanded that oath be made as to the girl's age and it was made and the license was issued and the parties left and presumably were married, but no return has been made of the marriage.

Later a gentleman named Clounch from Eagan appeared at the court house and investigated the matter and then went before Justice of the Peace R. E. Brattan and made formal complaint against A. Moore of Eagan, Texas, charging him with false swearing in connection with the issuance of the marriage license. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.
