ROOSEVELT IS ROASTED

Caustic Criticism of President of United States

SPEECH BY RAYNER

Discusses Japanese Question and Treaty Making Powers of the Government

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—Caustic criticism of President Roosevelt's position on the Japanese question prefaced Senator Rayner's discussion in the senate today of the constitutional questions involved. If the military and civil forces of the federal government were to be used by the President, Mr. Rayner said, it became very important to know the exact power of the President in the matter, "because," he added, "it is quite a serious matter in view of the great calamity that has lately befallen the city of San Francisco for the President to contemplate the bombing of the city at this time and to declare war against the board of county school trustees of California, if there is no justification or pretext upon which such ferocious proceedings can be undertaken. The President is exercising a great many functions—executive, legislative and judicial, lawful and unlawful, constitutional and unconstitutional. He is the supervisor of all the public schools of the United States. He seems impressed with this idea, because in the very last paragraph of the message he recommends the establishment of shooting schools in the large public schools of the country.

"If he takes possession of the public schools of California, he could with equal propriety send us an amendment to the Santo Domingo treaty and declare war on the island of Santo Domingo. He could send our children of Santo Domingo into the white schools of South Carolina, or of any other state in the union. Of course if he people have come to the conclusion that everything that the President recommends is right, then there is hardly any contesting any of his propositions and instead of referring upon him the power to give express information of the state of the union, it might confer upon him the function of furnishing his own regular views upon the entire state of the union. It is necessary to do something in his message anticipated and makes a recommendation upon the state of the union that tends to place in his hands the power of the birth rate of the country. Now, if we only supplement this function by giving him complete jurisdiction over the death rate, we will have a ruler whose ubiquity is uncircumscribed and whose unlimited possibilities are beyond the reach of human contemplation."

Mr. Rayner coincided with what the president had said in his message in the Japanese. His sympathies had, he said, been with the Japanese during his war with Russia and he thought it a great shame that Japan should have been overpowered. A conference room when she had been victorious in battle. He proposed, he said, to discuss the President's question entirely in the particular circumstances and plat himself on these two propositions:

"That there is no provision whatever in the treaty with Japan that confers the right that the President has, or that gives to the government the right to take any action in connection with the public school system of California or any other state.

"That there was such a provision in this treaty and any other treaty conferring this right, the treaty would be void and without any authority upon the part of the President to make any violation of the constitution and the treaty-making power of the government."

There were, he said, two distinct schools of thought on the question—those holding that the treaty-making power is inherent in the government; the other that this power exists for the purpose of carrying out the objects of government as prescribed and defined by the constitution, and that no treaty is valid that violates the constitution or surrenders the rights reserved to the states. Mr. Rayner held the former view.

"If we can, in defiance of the laws and constitution of a state incorporate any such provision in a treaty so as to bind the state, then we can undoubtedly deprive the state of every reserved right that it possesses and resign and annul its laws and its constitution whenever they come in conflict with the treaty-making power."

WOMAN WANTS TO SELL HER BRAIN AND BODY

Richmond, Va., Dec. 12.—Mrs. M. L. Francis, who has offered to sell her brain and body at death to universities and colleges in this city, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York, if she can realize sufficient money to provide for the rest of her life, said this morning that she had been driven to make the proposition by poverty.

Mrs. Francis first made her offer to hospitals and medical colleges. She was refused. She says she is willing to sign papers bequeathing her brain or her body or both to that university which will pay at once the highest cash sum. Mrs. Francis, who is more than 40

RACERS BEHIND FORMER RECORD

Boy Who Wanted to See Races Lost Life

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The riders in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden are falling many miles behind the record. At 4 a. m. today twelve of the teams had covered 963 miles and 9 laps, while Walthour and Bedell, the thirteenth team, had one lap less to their credit. This is nearly sixty-nine miles behind the record established in 1906 by Elkes and McFarland.

The efforts of Walthour and Bedell to regain the lap lost when they turned new to the track because of accidents to their original team mates, are a feature of the race. Late last night they nearly succeeded, a spill spilling them from their bicycles. Riding alternately, had all but covered the lap.

The efforts of Thomas Brennan, an 18-year-old youth, to witness the race cost him his life last night. He had scaled an iron picket fence and tried to get into the arena. He was caught and landed on the pickets, one of them penetrating his abdomen. His injury proved fatal.

JEWIS TO THE WEST

New York Jews Would Relieve Congested Condition

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 12.—Realizing the necessity of doing something to relieve the congested conditions of the Jewish quarters in Chicago, New York and other large cities, leading New York Jews are planning to divert Jewish immigration to the west.

Jacob Schiff, the New York banker, who is in Chicago at the present time, has been appointed secretary of the Judge Julian W. Mack. The plan contemplates the organizing of an association to be financed by Mr. Schiff and other leading American Jews, which will undertake to send Jewish immigration to the south and to the extreme western part of the country.

No effort will be made to encourage immigration, but all poor Jews who arrive at New York and other Atlantic port cities will be given money to go to cities and towns in the south and west. To facilitate matters, the association plans to establish agencies and bureaus of information at New York and at Galveston and other Gulf ports.

TAFT BLAMES THE NEGROES

Secretary of War's Report Is Made Public

MOTIVE REVENGE

Says Riot in Brownsville Was Deliberately Precipitated

Special to The Telegram.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—William H. Taft, secretary of war of the United States, in his annual report, made public today, places the entire blame for the riot at Brownsville, Texas, on August last, upon the negro soldiers discharged, declaring that there was submitted direct evidence to the effect that the riot must have been handled by some of them.

Taking up in every detail matter pending in any way to the final denouement of the riot, he then spread throughout the town at the time, Secretary Taft reverts to June, on the 4th day of which month he received a communication from United States Senator Culberson objecting to the stationing of the black soldiers at Brownsville. He then reproduces the letter which he wrote to Senator Culberson in reply to his protest, the letter of the secretary showing that, in his opinion, the negro troops would be well behaved or as well as white soldiers would be, also in the letter Secretary Taft says he recognizes that not the most cordial feeling might exist between black soldiers and white citizens.

Secretary Taft's reason for the discharge follows:

1. Out of a battalion of 170 enlisted men in the army of the United States, from nine to ten per cent were preconcerted plan to revenge themselves upon the people of a town in which they were stationed for the insult which they had received. In accordance with the plan, they left their barracks under cover of the darkness and discharged their weapons into the houses of the town for the purpose of killing those against whom they had grievances. Some came very near killing some one or more of the three women and seven children who were sitting or sleeping in the lighted center of the town which they fired. They, in fact, did kill one man, wounded another, and seriously injured the chief of police. They accompanied their firing with expressions indicating the malice which prompted their action. There can be no doubt, therefore, that the squad of men who moved together from their barracks to town and did this shooting were guilty of murder, and murder in the first degree, and should be subjected to capital punishment. The purpose of one was the purpose of all.

2. Within ten minutes or more after this crime was committed, when the whole garrison was aroused by the noise of the fusillade and by the call to arms which followed, the men returned to their places and must have been among the last men to take their rifles from their racks. The attention of the sergeant in charge had begun. The absence of the rifles from the racks could not have escaped the attention of the sergeant in charge. The keys to the racks, if indeed they had the keys; and yet all the sergeants swear that the rifles were in the racks untouched. ### WOMAN'S LOVE FOR HIM

Novatne Traveled Many Weary Miles to Escape Enforced Matrimony—Tells Story of Former Great Wealth

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—The Chronicle today says:

The story of a man who has traveled half way around the world and most of the distance on foot to escape the clutches of a woman who asserts, has matrimonial aspirations in which he figures as the prospective husband, unfolded at Chicago police yesterday. The tale, in which a flight from the United States to Germany and back to this country again, was included, was related by John Novatne, half owner of a gold mine near Prescott, Ariz.

Novatne arrived in Chicago with but a few dollars in his pocket, having walked all but seven miles of the distance from New York. Novatne, who is now 66 years old, first came to the United States in 1892 and went immediately to the gold fields of Arizona, where, he asserts, he later acquired a half interest in one of the largest mines in that section. Then, according to his story, he returned to Austria, where he recounted his good fortune to relatives and friends. Again he came to the United States, and upon his second return to his native country Novatne's love affair began, as did also his subsequent financial misfortunes.

"I was in a cafe in Paris one night," he said yesterday, "when I made the acquaintance of a young woman—a girl who once fell desperately in love with me. I returned the affection at the time, but soon grew suspicious, for she asked so many personal questions. She wanted to know the value of my mine and she wanted to know exactly how much money I was worth. Then she suddenly proposed marriage. I was surprised at the offer, but she insisted. 'I will marry you whether you like it or not,' she said. 'I will not marry you unless you would be no marriage, so I left.'"

The miner then told of his flight to the various European countries and of the pursuit of the widow. Finally he embarked on an American bound steamer and arrived in New York in October. The day after landing, he met the first time, he says that other persons interested in the mine had defrauded him out of his share and had sold the property to a corporation. The once wealthy and much sought after miner passed the night on a cot at the municipal lodging house. Today, he says, he resumes his long walk to Arizona, where he will seek to regain possession of his mine.

FISH PROMISES AID

In Addition to Harriman and Hill Roads Others Will Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Plans are under consideration by interstate commerce commission that will contemplate a most sweeping, comparative and far-reaching investigation into the management of the railroads of the United States. Early in the new year practically all of the great systems in the country will be the subject of inquiries such as that which has been ordered in the case of the Harriman lines, and will be ordered soon in relation to the roads controlled and operated by James J. Hill.

The members of the commission are not inclined to discuss their work, it is known that practically every railroad in the United States suspected of working in combination with competing roads will have the searchlight of publicity thrown on it.

In addition to the Harriman and Hill systems, it is understood that the commission is quietly looking into the operations of the New York Central and the various lines controlled by it. That the New York Central will eventually be a more efficient administration of the railroads of the country will be the belief here.

It is true, said Chairman Knapp today, that we have in the past made inquiry into the operations of the Hill roads. It will be of the same general character as the one we are about to make into the management of the so-called Harriman lines.

"Stuyvesant Fish has talked, the matter over with us. He did not come here by appointment, but he offered us the benefit of his knowledge of railroad conditions in the event that we may need him."

INSURANCE MAN FOUND GUILTY

George Burnham Jr. Convicted of Larceny of $7,500

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—George Burnham Jr., vice president and general counsel for the Mutual Reserve Life Company, was convicted Tuesday of larceny of $7,500, formerly a Chicago police officer. The prosecution and conviction of Burnham was an outgrowth of the investigation of insurance companies in the state by a legislative committee a year ago. Two other officers of the insurance company, Frederick A. Burnham, president, and George D. Eldridge, vice president, were indicted at the same time as the man who was convicted Tuesday. Five indictments were returned against each of the defendants.

The charges against George Burnham Jr. is that in 1901 he paid J. Douglas Wells with company funds for a loan alleged to have been made to Frederick A. Burnham, the president, and that the payment was concealed by a false entry in the books of the insurance company.

One of the sensational features of the trial which ended Tuesday was the production of a check by the prosecution which bore the name of Louis F. Payne, former superintendent of insurance. It was not claimed, however, that Burnham then the amount of the check to Mr. Payne, but that it was used to resist an alleged demand by Payne for $100,000 from the life insurance company.

The prosecution charged that President Frederick A. Burnham borrowed $5,750 from J. Douglas Wells, saying that he wanted the money to meet this alleged demand by Payne, and that George Burnham repaid this loan with additions from the funds of the company.

Catholics Called to Attend Services Sunday

TWO DAYS GRACE

Editor of Renaissance Has Applied for Permit to Hold Public Services

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Dec. 12.—The prefect of police during the afternoon announced that the government had accepted the application of M. Martinet, editor of the Renaissance, and Felix Robin, for permission under the public meetings law of 1881, to hold religious meetings in all the churches, as being in compliance with the law. In other words the step taken provides for the legislation of Catholic services in the churches of Paris tomorrow.

The day of grace granted to the churches of Paris was granted in execution of the law providing for a separation of church and state was postponed until tomorrow for measures for its enforcement. The delay, however, only served to increase the excitement caused by the expulsion from France yesterday of Mgr. Montagnini, secretary of the papal nunciature at Paris.

Prosecution has been begun against the Ultramontane abbot of the church of St. Pierre, Duques, Callou, St. Augustine and St. Roche, where the greatest resistance to the making of inventories occurred, and it has been decided to immediately take over the buildings belonging to the ecclesiastics and stop the pensions of the clergy; compel aspirants to priesthood to fulfill their military obligations and if necessary take the clergy as subjects of a foreign power. This constitutes an efficient demonstration of the spirit with which the voice of the government intends to meet the resistance. The reception of Premier Clemenceau's speech in the chamber of deputies last night also shows the parliament at work, nevertheless M. Clemenceau was careful to say that there was still time for the Catholics to conform to the law.

That the Catholics disapprove the intendant attitude of the authorities at Rome is evidenced by the quiet of the editor of the Renaissance, Felix Robin, who has on his own initiative filed with the Prefect of Police an application under the public meetings law of 1881 for permission to hold religious meetings in the churches of Paris, at first declined to approve of the priest's speech in the chamber of deputies last night also shows the parliament at work, nevertheless M. Clemenceau was careful to say that there was still time for the Catholics to conform to the law.

This application, if accepted, no matter whether approved or disapproved by the clergy, will legalize the holding of religious services and render unnecessary any proceedings against the priests or aspirants to priesthood. It turns out that the papers seized at the papal nunciature yesterday placed in the hands of the prefect of police, charging him with selling cocaine and preparations said to contain cocaine.

The sales are alleged to have been made to cocaine victims. Dahlberg was arrested and was compelled to remain locked up five hours. The bonds were fixed at a total of $10,000. Heretofore under the old justice system, bonds usually were as low as $200.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—United States experiments with the dirigible Blimp submarine torpedo, held since April last off Sea Harbor, Long Island, closed yesterday.

Work will be resumed early in the spring of 1907. During this winter it is likely that the government will continue torpedo shooting at Biscayne Bay, Florida.

This bill is the first of this type of counterfeit that has reached the notice of the government. Efforts will be made to trace the bill.

Two Governments Hold the Same View

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 12.—The latest issue of the Kobe Herald received in America gives the views of Viscount Hayashi, the Japanese foreign minister, in regard to the question of Japanese citizenship in the United States. The Herald says:

"Addressing two deputations separately, Viscount Hayashi assured them that the Japanese and American governments were entirely as one in their views as to the San Francisco difficulty. The Tokio authorities are limiting the action, providing the American government with the necessary information needed to enable it to arrive at a settlement of the trouble as soon as possible.

In conclusion, Viscount Hayashi said he believed the United States authorities would take advantage of this opportunity to revise the Federal constitution, such a course is found to be necessary.

Bonds Were Fixed at $10,000—Larger Than Formerly

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 12.—The movement to check the traffic in cocaine and similar drugs which have cast a blight over the neighborhood of the Desplaines street police station received a new impetus yesterday.

Acting on five informations filed by the state's attorney under the Illinois law, Municipal Judge Frank P. Sadler issued bench warrants for the arrest of Dr. Albert Dahlberg, a clerk in the drug store of the neighborhood, charging him with selling cocaine and preparations said to contain cocaine.

The sales are alleged to have been made to cocaine victims. Dahlberg was arrested and was compelled to remain locked up five hours. The bonds were fixed at a total of $10,000. Heretofore under the old justice system, bonds usually were as low as $200.

At the afternoon session, to be held at 2 o'clock, the principal speaker will be Senator A. J. The opening address will be by Dr. Samuel McCune Lindsay of the national child labor committee, on "The Extent and Menace of Child Labor," and among other speakers will be: Owen R. Lovejoy, assistant secretary of the national child labor committee, on "Child Labor in the Anthracite Coal District;" Edwin Markham, on "A Few Comments on Child Labor;" Miss Anna E. A. On the topic, "Government by Injunction," Seth Low, Frederick N. Judson, T. P. Spelling and others will speak.

The annual dinner of the federation will be held this afternoon and at 8 o'clock the senate will meet to consider the bill on child labor.

Charles Murphy of Chicago is fathering a scheme to have all ball players numbered, with corresponding numbers printed on the score cards. The players are to be given a number on the sleeve or back of the uniform. Murphy thinks spectators would like this innovation.

There has been much talk at the meeting regarding deals for players, but thus far nothing of importance in this line has been developed.

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—A woman's life—a life which had drunk to the dregs all that this old earth's cup holds of pleasure and sorrow—was laid out last night in the bleak house on Morris Heights, which, with a decade's neglect and ruin upon it, is still called "The Gerriah." It was Sylvia Gerriah, the actress, who died there—the Sylvia Gerriah whose smiles enchanted thousands. She died alone.

It was in August a year ago in the same bar room where the woman's life was ended, that Henry Graham Filton, who sacrificed everything that he had in the world for Sylvia Gerriah, breathed his last. Death found him a wreck, as it found her.

When Filton met the actress he had been married eight years before to a beautiful girl, Agnes Bonny, whom he had won from behind the cashier's desk of her father's haberdashery.

The summer after Filton met Sylvia Gerriah his father mortgaged the Stewart building to Hettie Green for $125,000 to pay for the son's extravagance.

Sylvia Gerriah wore only a No. 5 boot, and the year the Thistle came across the Atlantic to "lift the cup," one of those slips of leather was pulled to the outer's mast for a talisman.

Enthusiastic Meeting of Woodmen Held Tuesday Night
The Woodmen of the World of Rosen Heights held a very enthusiastic meeting Tuesday night. An effort is being made to increase the membership, and at the next meeting a plan of a contest to be started will be presented. ## SELECT OFFICERS FOR NEW CITY

Col. Gregory Talks of New Town's Prospects

President T. B. Gregory of the Citizens' League of Rosen Heights, has called a mass meeting of the citizens of Rosen Heights to be held at the schoolhouse Wednesday night, Dec. 12. It is urged that all citizens interested in Rosen Heights be present at this meeting. The meeting is called for 7:30 o'clock.

The purposes of the meeting, which is called at the request of a large number of citizens, is to formulate plans upon which to proceed to nominate officers for the new municipality, and install the new city government. If the plans of several of the leading citizens are approved by the people at the mass meeting it is likely that the candidates for the various city offices will be selected at the meeting Wednesday night. With a small municipality like that which is soon to be installed in Rosen Heights, the duties of the officers will be light, and it is the intention to consolidate several offices into one, so far as will be permissible by the charter, which will be drawn up by the citizens. In most cases, make such offices self-sustaining, without the necessity of levying an excessive tax rate, which might be a heavy burden to the taxpayers. Several names have been mentioned for various offices and it is understood that the officers are to be elected by the proposed candidates have agreed to serve the first term free.

In speaking of the creating of a municipal government for Rosen Heights, Col. Gregory stated to a Telegram reporter that his idea was to have the expense of the municipality administered upon the most economical basis possible. That he was sure there are a number of good citizens in Rosen Heights competent to fill any of the offices, who would be glad to serve the city, and give what time was necessary to look after the affairs of the city without a stipulated salary.

"In fact," said he, "we all owe it to our community to give some of our time and our efforts to advance the interests of the community we call our home. If we are not willing to do this we are not very good citizens."

"Every city had a beginning, and many of the best cities in the country, no doubt, started out under less favorable conditions than will the city government of Rosen Heights be launched. We are small to begin with, but our needs will also be small and likewise the expense of maintaining the city government. There need be no burdensome taxation or unnecessary expense involved in carrying out the purposes of this step. It is, or will be, in our own hands, and we all have a little homes here and naturally desire to see them prosper and to do the best possible for the entire community."

"We have a decided advantage over many newly incorporated towns. In the first place, we already have a fair system of waterworks, installed and leased by Mr. Brown, who owns a great deal of the property most affected by the incorporation of the town. For the purpose of water supply in case of fire, there are now fire plugs at convenient places, and he has promised to put in others as needed. For the present, and for some time to come, this system of waterworks will meet every demand, and there is an abundant supply now to be had."

"About the only great need for this community is a suitable school building, and it is likely that some steps will be taken as soon as the new city government is installed, to procure one on the best plan possible. The usual road tax that each man is required to pay will be ample to meet the demands for some time for keeping up the streets. In fact, there is no reason why the new town should become entangled in financial difficulties. As we grow, we will extend our improvements, but we will keep within our income, which we do not intend shall be burdensome."

AMUSEMENTS

"The Land of Nod"

Knox Wilson, who plays the part of April Fool in the new "Land of Nod" during its engagement at Greenwall's opera house Thursday, matinee and night, is a firm believer in spontaneous humor. Much of his work throughout the extravaganza is extemporaneous, introduced on the moment, and therefore, much the more liked. It is to this that much of his success is due.

"When I see a comedian who studies out all of his business in advance I am reminded of a certain speaker I once heard wading thru an afternoon speech," said Mr. Wilson. "He didn't waste his time. He said, 'I am reminded of a certain speaker I once heard wading thru an afternoon speech.' 'Hum, ahem, hump, totally unprepared as I am—wholly unprepared—in this impromptu—I might say extemporaneous—hum—ahem—hump—' 'Go on, John,' said his wife, encouragingly, leaning toward him, 'you know it all by heart this afternoon!'"

"East Lynne"

The demand for seats by those who wish to see the forthcoming production of "East Lynne" which comes to Greenwall's opera house Saturday, matinee and night, Dec. 15, has been so insistent that Mr. Hanny, manager of the company, has been compelled to place them on sale several days in advance of the usual time in each town. The play has proven such a big success the supply has not been able to demand in many places and prospective purchasers had better take advantage of this opportunity.

"The Prince of Pilsen"

"The Prince of Pilsen," the tuneful musical comedy by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders, will be at Greenwall's opera house Saturday, matinee and night, Dec. 15, and the interest shown indicates that the engagement will be one of the chief events of the season. This extravaganza seems to bloom in perennial popularity and its repeated engagements do not dull appreciation of its tuneful music and romantic story, its play of humor and the poetry of its lyrics.

At the Majestic

Harry Webb, who is appearing at the Majestic theater this week in a monologue act, has demonstrated how easy it is to teach a dog tricks. The little canine helps him in his work and aids greatly in provoking mirth for the audience. "Where is my dog?" promises to be a passing phrase as the showy hued comedian makes quite a hit with the "cute little dog," as the women and children have titled him.

ROONEY'S BREAKFAST COCOA

An invitation has been extended by the Chess Club here to all chess enthusiasts in the city to be present and play against Mr. Marshall Wednesday night. All who desire to play will have to bring their own boards and men to the offices of Mr. Bushong.

Mr. Marshall is a fast player and moves from one board to another playing almost as soon as he arrives at the board. It is expected that there will be between fifteen and twenty games played here tonight against the expert. "LAST DRINK" NOW AT STRAWN

Howard County Citizens Vote Out Saloons

A dispatch to The Telegram from Big Springs, Wednesday morning brings the result of the prohibition election there Tuesday, which was won by the dry element with eight votes majority.

For Big Springs, Mecca of the thirsty traveler, all the way from Lubbock on the north and San Angelo to the south, this in itself is important enough news, but it becomes still more interesting when it is considered that the "last drink" station on the Texas and Pacific railroad between Fort Worth and El Paso is now moved to Strawn.

It is true there is a small saloon at Odessa, but the proprietor of this has agreed to go out of business voluntarily after Jan. 1. The Strawn saloon is owned by T. M. Thammisch of North Fort Worth, and from its proximity to the railroad station is well known to travelers on the Texas and Pacific west of Fort Worth.

A year ago there were saloons at Baird and Big Springs, Baird keeping by the bare majority of two votes in a former election. A few weeks ago, after a year's hard work by prohibitionists in that county, which went to the extent of establishing a prohibition newspaper there, the two-vote majority was overcome and Baird went dry. Big Springs was the last station for a drink west of Strawn. Now Howard county has gone dry and Big Springs joins the thirsty majority.

As a result of Tuesday's election a Texas traveler can ride over 500 miles in Texas on one line of railroad without finding a town where a drink of liquor may be purchased, a condition that can be duplicated nowhere else in the United States.

REDUCE SIZE OF GERMAN ARMY

Chancellor Authorized to Dissolve the Reichstag

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Dec. 12.—Emperor William has authorized Chancellor von Buelow to dissolve the Reichstag and order a new election, if the supplementary appropriation asked for by the government is not granted by the house.

The question of the Reichstag appropriating enough money to keep the government's army in German Southwest Africa in the field is, according to the conviction of the government, equivalent to the question of whether the colony shall be given up or retained. An appeal to the country, if necessary, will be made on that issue.

If the present government of German Southwest Africa is reduced from 12,000 to 2,500, as it is contended should be done, the insurgent natives will obtain possession of the colony.

REMAIN A LAP BEHIND

Riding of Walthour and Bedell Feature of the Race

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Try as they will, Walthour and Bedell seem unable to make up the lap they are behind the other twelve teams that remain in the bicycle race at Squaw Garden. Both Walthour and Bedell are considered among the fast bicyclists of the world, but the other riders in the race thus far have been able to hold them.

The riding of Walthour and Bedell has been a feature of the race up to this point. They were during the night they set the crowd wild with determined sprints to gain the lap and once early today they succeeded.

Bedell started the spurt and gained nearly a quarter of a lap and then Walthour picked up late and continued the race, but just as it seemed he would catch the flying bunch ahead of him, Höllester, wheel wobbled and Root ran into him, causing a spill.

PLEDGE $7,300 A YEAR

Committee Will Continue Work Until Total is Pledged

Plans for the freight bureau are going on steadily, and the amount pledged for the bureau now amounts to $7,300 a year. This leaves but $2,700 still to be raised and the committee has been working for the past week are still out and have pledged themselves to continue the work until the $10,000 is raised.

The work of raising the fund has been going on slowly as most of the people visited have placed lower sums than their business warranted, hoping that the full amount would be raised and that they would escape with that amount. In all cases, however, the committee has been told to call again if the amounts were found to be too small to make up the total required. The committee is engaged now in making these calls back and will continue to carry on the work until the bureau is established.

BOVINIANS TO MEET

In all cases, however, the committee has been told to call again if the amounts were found to be too small to make up the total required. The committee is engaged now in making these calls back and will continue to carry on the work until the bureau is established.

SEVERAL CARS BURNED

Fire in Fort Worth and Denver Yards

Special to The Telegram.

FIRST discovered about 12:40 Wednesday morning in a car load of cotton, a threatening fire that it was feared would involve much of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway yards at Fort Worth, destroyed or damaged nine or ten cars and their contents.

The first of the fire, noticed by the yard foreman, was in a carload of cotton, and from that the fire spread to the other near-by cars. A carload of flour and bran was totally destroyed; three carloads of cotton were damaged, the loss so far as ascertained being confined to a few bales of cotton in each car and the scorching of the cars. Four or five other cars were charred or had the paint badly blistered.

The estimate of the loss had not been made this morning. The city fire department extinguished the fire.

IS GALVESTON TO BLAME?

The matter of the cotton blockade at Galveston is attracting a great deal of attention at this time, from the fact that the prevailing congestion is playing havoc all over the state, the railways apparently being powerless to relieve the situation. Appeals made to the commission seem to have brought out but little that promises speedy relief, and there seems to be nothing of a promising nature in sight for the future. The railways assert they are just simply swamped with the enormity of the traffic and declare the real cause of the trouble is located in the city of Galveston. It is declared that Galveston has been resting so securely in the position to continue to levy enforced tribute upon all Texas traffic that she has not made adequate provisions to handle the tremendous volume of business now seeking an outlet thru that port. This, with the further fact that the Texas cotton crop has been gathered and marketed this season with much greater rapidity than usual is ascribed as the real cause of the trouble.

There is hardly a compress in the state that is not swamped with cotton, waiting to be shipped abroad thru the port of Galveston. All the railroad shipping points in the state are practically in the same condition, and there are thousands of bales of cotton loaded on cars ready to go to Galveston that cannot be moved because there is no room for the cotton after it reaches the Island City. It is a well known fact that practically every bale of cotton raised in Texas seeks a gulf outlet thru the port of Galveston. While it may be true that a portion of it is diverted to New Orleans, it is known that enough outside cotton from the two territories and Arkansas come into Texas to make good the deficiency, and in support of the railways' claim that Galveston is to blame for the situation, the following table of Texas cotton yields which went to market thru the port of Galveston affords an interesting study. The Texas cotton crop has been as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Year and Yield in bales. 1899: 2,554,413 bales. 1900: 3,368,310 bales. 1901: 4,491,394 bales. 1902: 2,475,813 bales. 1903: 2,454,516 bales. 1904: 3,132,503 bales. 1905: 2,490,128 bales.

The year 1900 was the time Galveston was so badly demoralized as a result of the disastrous storm that visited the island, and yet it will be noticed that more cotton was handled thru that port for that year than has been the case at any time before or since, and there was no complaint as to congestion. This was probably due to the fact that the shipping season was more prolonged than at present. The railways claim that Galveston is trying to handle the great business of the present year with the facilities of several years ago, and that unless the city awakens to the real situation there is going to be a marked diverting of this immense traffic. They say if additional trackage was built across the bay it would only result in piling up more cotton down there that would only add to the demoralization, and the remedy lies in Galveston's own hands—that she must prepare to handle this immense traffic or else make arrangements to get along without it, and that is putting the matter plain, enough for Galveston interests to clearly understand. Galveston should proceed to get busy.

BRYAN ON PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In his comment on the message of President Roosevelt to the American congress William J. Bryan says there is much that is good and much that is bad in it, but he regards it as the President's most important state paper. He says: "The message contains much that is Democratic and for which the general public may thank him. It contains some things that ought to arouse severe criticism. The President boldly appropriates some of the doctrines which the Democrats have been advocating and on the other hand, he announces some doctrines which are so absurd as to excite amusement. If the announcement came from a less prominent source. In some cases he takes advanced ground and in some cases retreats from ground already taken."

If the President has boldly appropriated a lot of good Democratic doctrine it must stand to his credit, and it is hoped he will be able to impress his appropriations upon a congress that is wholly and helplessly Republican. It is a tribute to Democracy for the President to have done this, and should strengthen the party with the masses when the Democratic spellbinders have done their duty in laying the matter before the masses. In the matter of the President's position on the Japanese question, Colonel Bryan says:

"He pays a deserved tribute to the progress of the nation and asks for legislation which will enable congress to protect the treaty rights of foreigners. That there should be such legislation can not be generally disputed, but a great deal depends upon the character of the legislation. If any bills are presented in regard to this suggestion they should be carefully scrutinized to be sure that they do not deny to the various states the right to protect themselves and their people in matters purely local."

But, after all, the great Democratic leader is not pleased with the message, for he considers it has too much of a warlike tone. He says:

"There was general disappointment at the war-like tone of his message where he discusses the army and navy. He speaks of this as the surest guarantee of peace which this country possesses. Shame upon the chief executive that he should place an instrument of brute force above the nations' sense of justice as a guarantee of peace. The best guarantor of peace is our nation's principal to deal justly with other nations. It is bad enough to have a few professional soldiers. It is not necessary that the whole nation shall be carried up all the time to the fighting point."

Of course, the United States should not be placed in the attitude of seeking war with any nation, but at the same time we should be prepared for that kind of an eventuality in the event it should materialize. The mere fact that we are known to be ready for conclusions would doubtless cause other countries to be a little bit particular as to how they attempt to pluck any tail feathers from the great American eagle. This is a great nation and a growing nation. We have taken our place rightfully among the world's greatest powers and in that connection there are certain duties we should expect to perform without fear or favor. In other words, while we are great, we must expect to thus impress the world only thru a continued exhibition of our greatness."

Attorneys for the Standard Oil Company who are the same engaged in the defense of the beef trust, have raised the issue that the passage of the new railway rate law was in effect the granting of an amnesty to all corporations charged with accepting rebates or violating any other provisions of the interstate commerce law. Having made good on their immunity plea in the case of the big packers, those shrewd corporation lawyers have sprung another proposition that has practically taken the government people off their feet, and they are said to be dumfounded.

The next state legislature is going to have a very unpleasant duty to perform, no matter which horn of the dilemma it takes in the Bailey matter. If Bailey is defeated the cry of injustice will be raised by his friends, and if he is elected there will be a roar heard from the masses that will shake the capital hill. It is a hard proposition, and the members of the legislature will realize it when they get to it.

This thing of keeping the country precincts continually arrayed against the town is an old political dodge that is worn threadbare. The men who are insisting Fort Worth should have none of the road and bridge tax revenue after furnishing the bulk of that revenue, probably have some sort of an edged instrument they desire to grind.

That getting to be a nasty little scrap the President is setting mixed up in with Bellamy Storer and his better half, and in the light of recent developments it seems no mistake was made in retiring Storer from the diplomatic service.

Congress is preparing to adjourn for the holidays, and there will be no public business of real importance transacted until after January 1. The December period is rarely productive of aught but mileage and per diem.

Members of the state legislature are doing considerable talking these days, and it may be accepted as a pretty good indication of the storm of windjamming that is brewing for next January.

The coming year will witness more miles of railway built in Texas than ever before, in spite of the fact that as soon as the legislature is in session the biennial chestnut of no more railway building in Texas may be confidently expected.

Holiday shopping is now in full blast in Fort Worth and judging from the number of people engaged in that pleasing vocation, there is going to be something doing in the old town upon that festive occasion.

The people of New Orleans are obliged to Boston for the willingness to return a flag claimed to have been captured by Ben Butler, but they would much prefer the return of those spoons.

It would be a great thing for Fort Worth if she should find two cotton mills concealed in her Christmas hostry.

Texas is a great state, but we are as yet in the very infancy of our development. The next five years will witness some startling changes in Texas.

Never again will the President address him as "My Dear Bellamy."

INCITING HATE

This "race question" is really the most serious problem now before the American people. Its calm and deliberate consideration is made impossible while an irresponsible firebrand like Tillman is circulating about the country and inciting turbulence and hate.—Philadelphia Ledger.

We have been confident all along that when they got around to it the courts would hold that the advent of automobiles didn't terminate all the rights of the pedestrian.—Detroit News.

The TEXAS PRESS

The Texarkanan has long been an admirer and champion of Senator Bailey, because of his matchless ability and his sound and uncompromising democracy. But it cannot stand for deception and dishonor in any man, hence its voice will not be raised in defense of Mr. Bailey again, unless he shall be able to explain better than he has yet done, those oily transactions with Mr. Pierce. The Texarkanan is grieved beyond measure that it's idol has been shown to be only common clay, but it cannot shut its eyes to what seem to be indisputable facts. With the present lights before them, the democrats of Texas will not return Mr. Bailey for another term to the United States senate.—Texarkana Texarkanan.

The expression of the Texarkana paper is the same as that of a number of other papers in the state that have been extremely loyal to Senator Bailey. The position they are now compelled to take is one of the saddest features of the entire situation.

Whether appreciative of the fact or not, Mr. Bailey is today in the attitude of rebuking a state official for the performance of his sworn duty. No man is big enough to do that and escape with his political life, for back of that state official is every good citizen of Texas. As the matter stands, and speaking in all fairness, Mr. Bailey has put himself where he apparently prefers Pierce and his interests to the people of Texas. That explains the indignation manifest in all sections of the state. Mr. Davidson is arraigning Mr. Pierce and Mr. Bailey is arraigning Mr. Davidson. That creates a condition which compels every citizen to make a choice; there's no middle ground.—Waco Times-Herald.

It is evident from a careful reading of the above that Editor Robinson is something of a backslider. That celebrated conversion at Mart, which was the signal for so much weeping among the friends of Senator Bailey, seems to have lost its potency.

Attorney General Hadley of Missouri says the documents used by him in Missouri are genuine and that he has no reason to believe that the documents in the hands of Attorney General Davidson are other than genuine. Attorney General Hadley is the gentleman who compelled Henry Clay Pierce to come across, after an exciting battle in the courts of Missouri and New York. He also compelled Mr. Pierce to make admission under oath that the Standard Oil Company controlled the Waters-Pierce Company. Keep the record straight.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Hadley disposes of the forgery allegation and suggestion that he did not use the documents now in the hands of the attorney general of Texas very effectively. And Hadley is not a member of any Texas political conspiracy.

Ten per cent increase of wages for railroad employees as a sign of our "prevailing prosperity" is a good republican argument until it is answered by the democrats with the ten per cent increase in freight rates which leaves the poorer and the railroad roads richer on the whole transaction.—Houston Chronicle.

The railways are very kind in generally advancing the wages of their employees, but the people will find in the end that a way will be found to make vox populi pay the freight.

We are very sorry to learn that our road, the Wichita Valley, has not the accommodation about it that the tin can or the Texas Central has. It is reported that the Texas Central waited three days at Chicka a short time since on the Texas and Pacific, which was late, and the Valley wouldn't wait three hours on the Central Tuesday morning.—Haskell Herald.

The passenger service on the different lines of railway in Texas has been pretty badly demoralized all the fall, but that wait of the Texas Central of three days is entitled to the confectionery.

Between simplified spelling for Presidential messages and departmental reports and old style for congressional documents, the unhappy types of the government printing office have the old "between the devil and the deep sea" problem defeated a Houston mile.—Galveston Tribune.

Congress has said that Webster is good enough for all ordinary purposes, and the result is that two methods of spelling will be practiced in the Capital city.

Result of James A. Garfield's investigation of the beef trust is indisputable evidence that he will make an ideal republican secretary of the interior. No one is better equipped for not seeing infractions of the federal laws than is Mr. Garfield.—Beaumont Journal.

Garfield is also said to be a very fine tennis player, and it is believed his qualifications in that respect constitute his real hold upon the affections of the President.

The action of Senator Forsaker in doubting that there had been any disturbance created by negro troops in Brownsville would be insulting to the people of that city did not everybody understand that it is a piece of mere demagoguery on the senator's part.—San Antonio Express.

Senator Forsaker is among the number who do not desire to believe. He is not in sympathy either with the south or the Roosevelt administration, and is disposed to make a little hay on his own account as the opportunity offers.

BUSTING A TRUST

The English soap trust bubble didn't last long. In this country we talk a lot about "busting" the trusts, but in England they go ahead and "bust" them without having a great deal to say. It was not to be expected, however, that the soap trust would be a success. When the Englishman's soap is interfered with he straightway gets on his mettle. When the soap trust was launched Englishmen simply refused to buy or use the trust soaps, and the combine was doomed to disaster. Over here we swear at trusts until we are purple in the face, yet go right along patronizing them as if they were our dear and considerate friends.—Savannah News.

TILLMAN'S RELAPSE

Senator Tillman, in spite of the early report of his determination to avoid the race issue—a decision which did him credit—has relapsed to his brute habit of brute abuse. No plea for free discussion can justify an intemperate address which only avoided causing riot at Chicago thru the presence of a large police force. Nothing can be worse for both races than assaults and attacks like his on a race of whom 10,000,000 live in this country and will continue to live.—Philadelphia Press.

A KENTUCKY OPINION

The London Lancet says evening dress is a good substitute for the cocktail as an appetizer, but as long as evening clothes retail at $75 and cocktails at 15 cents the suggestion will not be universally adopted.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

JUST AN ORDINARY MAN

If Standard Oil stock drops much further the courts may impertinently insist on having Mr. Rockefeller answer summons in person.—Chicago Record-Herald.

ON BOTH SIDES OF THE TRINITY

An interesting development of Attorney General Davidson's latest work in the state has been the precipitation of a "journalistic controversy" between the Dallas News and the Fort Worth Record. Journalistic controversies differ from plain newspaper scraps in that in conducting the former, the word "articles" must be used in at least every other paragraph.

Monday morning the News said:

If an alderman of any city in Texas should go to St. Louis and call on the president of a company that had been excluded because it had violated our laws, said president at that time being under indictment in Texas, and should on first acquaintance volunteer his services to assist said president in an outlawed concern to get back into Texas, and should come from the presence of said president of said company with a loan of $3,300 in his pocket, without security (said president not being in business as a money lender, and to said alderman theretofore unknown); and if it should appear that, after said alderman had assisted said president to renew his hold upon the city, other loans, some of them large ones, had been made from time to time by said president unto the alderman aforesaid, and it should develop that the means employed to get in again had been fraudulent, that the loans had been entered in the books of the company (of whose stock the Standard Oil Company owns 98 per cent), and said alderman should then stand forth for re-election—what would the people think about it?

Would they condone the mistakes of the alderman and re-elect him because some of his opponents were not 99.4 per cent pure? Would not the cheapest of them in Texas lose his place if this were brought out on him years after it had occurred, during which years the fact of the loans had been concealed from the people?

How much more should a senator, a lawyer of great ability, who is supposed to understand men and their methods much better than that cheap alderman could be expected to understand them—how much more closely should a man like Senator Bailey be held to the rigid rule upon which the alderman or any other man on earth would certainly be held? Is he exempt from the rule that has been applied to all the rest of us?

The Fort Worth Record repeats with that show of fairness that usually has mischiefs in it, the old accusation that the News once had an advertising contract with the railroads; that "it was put in evidence" that an allowance was made to the News by one of the railroads for "editorial influence." The Record overlooks the fact that one's enemies and rivals are "put in evidence" against him anything they like, and that the News has had to meet its full share of false charges. It overlooks another fact of a vital nature—that the News has refused to attack Senator Bailey on any such testimony of his enemies. It has waited until he himself confessed, on being confronted with the evidence, after long years of silence on this point, that he accepted the loans of the president of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, on first acquaintance and without security. It is evidence which Senator Bailey does not deny, but, upon the other hand, expressly confirms, that has moved the News to oppose him.

After repeating the charge "put in evidence" against the News, the Record is kind enough to add its opinion to the effect that the News was unjustly accused. This affords opportunity for the News to reciprocate. Senator Bailey has stock in the Record. He transferred this stock to the present editor of the Record. There were not wanting those who, two months ago, stood ready to charge that this interest accounted for the Record's adherence to Senator Bailey as well as for the condemnation of both the Record and the Post of Mr. Hearst, the nominee of the democratic party in New York, as vigorously as the News has ever opposed any nominee of the party. Now the News took no part in any such meanness, albeit some of its contributors, enemies of the Post and Record, "put in evidence" to that effect, and have even asserted that Senator Bailey himself wrote their recent editorial above referred to, and thus proved his control of the two papers.

On the 18th of April, 1910, there appeared in the columns of the Houston Post an editorial headed "Bowling to the Law," in which "Mr. Henry C. Pierce, the president of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company," was welcomed to Texas, and the people heartily congratulated upon his triumphant re-entry into the state. The state was literally sown down with this editorial, and the fact of its insertion in some papers without marks generally, but the nominee of the democratic party in New York, as vigorously as the News has ever opposed any nominee of the party. Now the News took no part in any such meanness, albeit some of its contributors, enemies of the Post and Record, "put in evidence" to that effect, and have even asserted that Senator Bailey himself wrote their recent editorial above referred to, and thus proved his control of the two papers.

But what have all these and a hundred other charges against the News or suspicions against its contemporaries to do with the confession of Senator Bailey? The Post and Record are ready and prepared to deny charges made against them. They have made no confessions. The News bases its contention that Senator Bailey has stock in the Record, and would not be referred to here and now if it were not necessary to show them how unjust it is to repeat unfair and unproven accusations which one's enemies may have to present against him.

To Which the Record Replies

In acknowledging the Record's generous view of the $12,000 advertising contract between the Galveston-Dallas News and the Texas railway pool, alleged by the International and Great Northern railway management to have been for "editorial influence," the News remarks that it affords "opportunity to reciprocate," and recites some slanders about the Record proffered by contributors which the News declined to publish.

We thank the News for this exercise of professional ethics, and we are happy to say that the act affords the Record an opportunity to reciprocate." Within the week the report has come to the ears of the Record that Mr. E. H. Harriman, the railway magnate who operates upon Standard Oil money, had recently purchased an interest in the News corporation. Notwithstanding that the report was said to have originated in a remark by so important a personage as Attorney General Davidson, notwithstanding that there are these manifest and inferential reasons which are powerfully persuasive to the suspicious mind and which could be used to great advantage by an unfair advocate, we refused to credit the report and expressly discountenanced its circulation. We do not believe that the editorial influence of the News is purchasable; we know the News is a fine property, and we assume that its owners prefer to keep it; moreover, Mr. Harriman knows, if he is at all concerned about the matter that the News unfailingly stands for freedom of action by the great corporate enterprises, and that its voltary and conscientious support is preferable to any support based upon ownership. We are grateful to the News for its courtesy, and we recite this instance merely to show that the Record had been generously liberal even before it was apprised of the confederate action of the News.

But enough of journalistic amenities. We are confident that no professional improprieties will ever disturb the neighborly relations which exemplify the Biblical observation upon the beauty of brethren dwelling together in unity.

The News again begs the question. The Record's citation to the advertising contract between the News and the Texas railway pool was made for the purpose of showing how unjust it is to condemn on the interpretation of ignorance or malice. The News has made a legitimate contract which the International and Great Northern receiver declared was for the illegitimate purpose of securing "editorial influence."

In form the incident parallels Senator Bailey's business relations with H. Clay Pierce. Mr. Bailey performed an honorable service and rendered full value to Mr. Pierce for the money he received, and returned dollar for dollar all the money he borrowed, just as the News contends that it performed an honorable service in full payment for the money it received.

The News remarks: "The Record overlooks the fact that one's enemies and rivals may put in evidence against him anything they like." So far from getting that fact, we are stressing it as the conspicuous feature of the Bailey persecution. The attorney general has "put in evidence" the purported vouchers of the transaction, showing that Bailey and Messrs. Henry & Stribling, which all of the parties to the transaction deny, and Mr. Bailey has challenged the attorney general to trace the draft thru the bank which handled it; also, the attorney general has "put in evidence" other documents believed to be falsified and Mr. Bailey has been permitted to confront the witnesses and the evidence against him. And the News "puts in evidence" as a "confession" Mr. Bailey's avowal of perfectly legitimate private transactions, while it protests against evidence more damning against itself.

The News says: "The News bases its contention that Senator Bailey is not a suitable man to represent Texas in the senate upon Senator Bailey's own admissions, which were never made public until they were forced out of him." We answer that Senator Bailey never had reason to imagine that his constituents wished to know the details of his private business in his campaign last September and October, and repeatedly announced that he had frequently had transactions with Mr. Pierce.

But we again accept the argument of the News and answer it upon its own conduct by saying that the pool contract until it was forced to do so by the charge of a sale of editorial influence.

We have nothing to say about the allusions of the News to the Houston Post further than to advise readers who are interested in journalistic amenities to secure copies of the Post of this or following dates, and to express the hope that the News and the Post will remain as cordial under these interesting exchanges of opinion as the News and the Record.

VERE THAT RING

THE TEXAS RANGER

As the golden sun was setting
It fell with lingering ray
'Neathe shadow of the forest
Where the wounded ranger lay,
'Neath the shadow of palmetto,
Beneath the starry sky,
Far away from his old Texas home,
We lay him down to die.

As the rangers gathered round him—
The comrades of the fight—
The tears rolled down each man's cheek
As he bade his last good-night.
One loved friend and companion
Was kneeling by his side
To stop the life blood flowing,
But, alas! in vain he tried.

When to stop the life blood flowing,
They found 'twas all in vain,
The tears rolled down each man's cheek
Like light showers of rain.
Up spoke the noble ranger,
Saying, "Weep no more for me,
I am crossing a deep, dark river
To a country that is free.

"Come, gather round me, comrades,
And listen to what I say;
I am going to tell a story
As my spirit passes 'way;
Far away in northwest Texas,
In that good old Lone Star state
There is one that for my coming
With weary heart will wait.

"I have a darling sister;
She is all my joy and pride,
I gave loved her from my childhood;
I love no one beside.
I have loved her as a brother,
And shielded with a brother's care;
I have tried in grief and sorrow
Her loving heart to cheer.

"When our country was invaded
And called for volunteers,
She threw her arms around me,
And bursting into tears,
Saying, 'Go, my darling brother,
Drive the Indians from our shore;
How our hearts will need your presence,
But our country needs you more'

"My mother is now sleeping
Beneath the churchyard sod;
Many years have passed over
Since her spirit fled to God.
My father he is sleeping
Beneath the deep blue sea—
I have no other kindred—
There is none but Nell and me.

"Gather closer round me comrades;
Listen to my dying prayer;
Who will be to her a brother,
And shield with a brother's care?
Up spoke the noble rangers;
They answered, one and all,
'We'll be to her as brothers,
'Till the last one shall fall."

NEWS OF THE TEXAS RANGE

Cattle Shipments Delayed
CANADIAN, Texas, Dec. 12.—Vas Sticklew was in town the first of the week and when asked why he was so grouchy, remarked that he was still sore over his cattle shipments. After holding his cattle at Higgins for three weeks they were finally shipped out Saturday night preceding the snow and reached Kansas City the Friday following. As a matter of course they went on the market in hard shape. Mr. Sticklew said he suffered in flesh, suffered in financial shrinkage, mental agony and spiritual disaster. Never before has there been such trouble experienced by the cattlemen in getting cars as there has been this fall, and it is remarkable how good naturedly they await their turns. The railroad employees were not to blame and no doubt did all that they could. There is always one thing that can be done, however, that never does any harm, and that is to give a pleasant and satisfactory answer to all sensible inquiries. It would not bring the cars a day sooner, but to be sure, but it would help the shipper along the friendly route quite considerably.

THOSE SUDDEN TWINGES.
Pain is nature's signal of distress, a warning that must not be ignored. Those sharp twinges in the back, those stab-like pains that follow any sudden twist or turn, are simple signs of hidden danger in the kidneys.
No trouble starts more easily, gains ground more rapidly, nor proves more often fatal than any disorder of the kidneys. All the outward appearance of health may remain until a terrible disease has taken root.
It is best to learn the duties of the kidneys, to watch for early signs of trouble, and to correct any irregularity before its serious stage begins.
The blood goes to the kidneys in an incessant stream, to be cleared of poison and relieved of surplus water. This is passed off by the kidneys in the urine. It is the retention of poison in kidney trouble that breeds fatal disease.
Don't wait. The moment you feel any unusual lameness or pain in the back, the moment the urine shows irregularity, either in its appearance or in the quantity or number of passages, begin with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Officers May Be Recalled
The finance and revenue features of the proposed new city commission charter were discussed and approved at a meeting held in the mayor's office in the city hall Tuesday evening, at which those present were Mayor W. D. Harris, M. B. Harris, W. P. Lane, J. E. Shanahan, C. W. Woodman, Leo Stephens, B. R. Paddock, J. L. Cooper and C. Scott.
The first business done was the adoption of what is termed the "recall" feature, which provides that if the qualified voters of the city are dissatisfied with the actions of one of the elective officers of the city they may by petition on the demand of 20 per cent of the qualified voters of the city. The accused officer is to be named as a candidate, and a notice of right, unless he specifically declines to let his name be so used, and if he gets a majority of the votes it is a vindication. If any other person gets a majority vote he is to be declared elected in the place of the official thus recalled.

Big Ranch Deal On
SAN ANGELO, Texas, Dec. 12.—Negotiations are in progress today for the sale of the Sciremer-Half ranch, near Pearsall, to a syndicate, headed by former Lieutenant Governor George Pendleton of Temple. The ranch embraces about 65,000 acres of land and is owned by Charles Sciremer of Kerrville and the estate of the late Meyer Half. It is rumored that the consideration was $1 an acre, which would make the deal nearly half a million dollars. Parties interested in the deal are in no shape to give to the public, it is stated that the deal is being made by the syndicate and that the land is to be sold in small tracts and colonies.

Sale at Rock Springs
ROCK SPRINGS, Texas, Dec. 12.—James C. Smith bought of Norman Lockley 100 head of stock cattle at $19. W. Smith & Son bought of Ed Smith 400 head of two-year-old steers at $2.50. Mr. Mischel of Luling sold to Robert Bel seventy-seven big steers, five and six at $30 and $22. Taylor Brothers sold to Rev. J. T. Brown twenty-two fat cows at $18; also 440 head of sheep, cut them out themselves at $2.75 per head. J. T. Dwyer sold to Brownwood men three horses at $50 and $75 per head.

Land and Cattle Deal
OZONA, Texas, Dec. 12.—Three thousand head of cattle and possession of a lease on a 50,000-acre ranch, situated twenty-five miles west of Ozona, changed hands in a deal concluded in Fort Worth Friday. The cattle and lease were sold by A. W. Crowley of Fort Worth and Will Harris who lives on the ranch, to Revan & Carroll. The cattle are good average range stuff that brought $14.50 around, or $5,000. Mr. Gillis sent a man to Van Horn Sunday afternoon to receive the cattle.

Bad Conditions in and Out of the City

"The roads in Fort Worth and Tarrant county, outside of the city, are in worse condition today than at any time for ten years back," said a prominent citizen to a Telegram reporter this morning. "I don't understand," he added, "why The Telegram doesn't make that subject a matter of daily comment. You fellows have whooped it up for sidewalks and I remember when I thought that your paper didn't have anything in it but 'Tava Houston Street' and I haven't forgotten that you came pretty near doing it, too."

"I would be impossible for me to list the bad streets of the city, but the officials could not spend any money on the streets because they had to spend all the money for interest on bonds. The street improvements and Fort Worth is growing every day, the taxable values have doubled in the ten years that I have mentioned. And still no street improvements."

Some of the Bad Streets

"It would be impossible for me to list the bad streets of the city, but the officials could not spend any money on the streets because they had to spend all the money for interest on bonds. The street improvements and Fort Worth is growing every day, the taxable values have doubled in the ten years that I have mentioned. And still no street improvements."

Arlington Heights Road

"I never saw the Arlington Heights road in such terrible condition. Talking with the board of city commissioners the other day, I was informed that the roads had no road money to spend on roads but that the Association of Fort Worth bugger riders."

"I pointed out the condition of the very best of our main artery into town for country people, the road to North Fort Worth, for Rosen Heights, Marine, Diamond Heights and the Arlington Heights road. It is certainly to be classed in the country when looking out over the valley north of the court house. How much work does one do that busy thoroughfare? How much money has been spent on it? How much money has been spent on the Arlington Heights road? Who has seen any road gangs on that road at any time during the last four years?"

"I am told that the city of Fort Worth has committed a great error in the automobile owners chip in $25 a month and the county would do the same, and for a month of repair could be kept in a high state of repair the year around. Now, I don't own an automobile. I don't even expect to own one. But why should a handful of auto men put up $25 a month to make good roads for the thousands that traverse that road for pleasure, for business and because of necessity. If the road needs $300 a year spent on it, the county should put it up."

"Whoo! It up for good streets in the city and in the country. Please look up road tax assessments in Tarrant county and tell us where the money is being spent, both in this city and in the other, yes, lots like to know and there are others, yes, lots like to know."

The Runnels-Norred Wedding
The Missouri Avenue church was filled to overflowing Tuesday evening with friends to witness the marriage of Miss Lucy Norred to L. Runnels. The church was attractive with white chrysanthemums and palms that were massed around the choir rail and pulpit. Before the ceremony Miss Inez McDaniel sang, "I Love You" to the piano accompaniment of Miss Kittie Gammill. At the close of the song Miss Jennie Kinkiea joined with the violin for Mendelssohn's wedding march for Mrs. W. V. Bowman. Miss Sallie Ester, Messrs. Vinson, Norred and Dowles, the quartet of singers to take their places on the platform with the other musicians. They then sang the march from "Lohengrin" for the bride and her attendants, who were Misses Ada Bell, Armstrong, Nora Sweeney, Jessie Hickman and Mae Goodner.

The bridegroom entered with Alvin Norred, who was best man. The bride came in with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Wylie Fincher, who was matron of honor. Rev. R. Armstrong officiated for the ceremony.

The bride wore an exquisite creation of radium crepe, with duchess medallions in the skirt, alternating with hand-run tucks and layers of ruchings. The bodice was trimmed with a yoke of lace and duchess lace. The bridesmaids wore white chiffon of great elaboration of design and wore over primrose yellow alps, some of satin, others of tulle. The bouquets were of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Fincher wore her wedding gown of white crepe de chine, with point lace trimmings.

Mr. and Mrs. Runnels left for New Orleans and will be at home after Jan. 1 at 1801 Hamhill street.

Among the many beautiful presents of china, silver and art pieces were the gifts from the teachers of the Eighth ward school, where the bride had been a popular and efficient teacher, and the pupils who had been in her charge. The teachers gave a dozen cut glass tumblers and the pupils a cut glass berry bowl and nappies.

Mr. Runnels is one of the successful business men of the live stock industry and is universally esteemed.

Cards with Mrs. Lewis
Mrs. C. W. Lewis' card party Tuesday afternoon provided her friends with a pleasure to which all gave sincere expressions of appreciation. Beautiful yellow "mums" were used, but when the players for fifteen tables of high five were assembled the beautiful gowns worn and the radiant cheerfulness of the guests eclipsed these floral beauties.

Miss Watkins succeeded in winning every game and was given a beautiful Haviland vase. Miss McCarty won the souvenir, a Japanese bowl. Miss Akers of Mississippi was favored with a Haviland putz box for assisting in scoring.

Mrs. Lewis' guests were: Mesdames Armin, Irwin, Collins, Jappis, Colvin, Felder, Pettigrew, Gross, Gordon, Huff, Hunt, Hardeman, Lawson, Peterson, Samuels, Stonestreet, Strupler, Parker, French, Templeton, Ida L. Turner, Stewart, Howells, Pleasants, Anderson, Connerly, Hartford, Mayo, Margaret Lewis, Malony, Blake, Connel Keeler and Furman; Misses Zane-Cetti, Anderson, Bibb, Hasard, Hull, Murdock, Price, Hoag, Willis, Watkins, Greag, Gardner, Rindelman, Reagan, Darter, Lewis, Daniels, McCarthey, Smith, Coppage, Shaw, Holvet, Flato, Campbell and Akers of Mississippi.
