CAUSES OF THE CHURCH WARFARE

Activity of Church in Politics of Country

LOSSES FRANCE NOW
State Will Save Nearly Nine Millions a Year in Salaries of Clergy Alone

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The direct cause of the warfare between the French government and the Roman Catholic church was the increasing activity of the church in national politics. A less obvious cause was the remarkable hold of socialistic propaganda on the minds of the people, who gradually awoke to the fact that the liberty they no longer enjoyed was certainly not to be found under the double yoke of government and church. In the last quarter of a century the nation has become acutely sensitive to the touch of the Vatican in the politics of France and not only seemed ready for the ratification of the separation law, but also for its enforcement this week.

This act means practically the loss of France to the church. Outside of Spain, France has for centuries been the most obedient and loyal daughter of Rome, so that this crisis seems an unnatural blow to the established order of things.

It also means that title of church property to the value of $200,000,000 is turned over to the state, that the Roman Catholic church in France is disestablished and that hereafter no endowed church will be allowed to grow in strength and power beyond its limits. In fact, it is a complete divorce of state and church as the most rapid separatist might ask for.

The chamber of deputies passed the act of disestablishment, as the law is known, on July 8, 1905. The senate passed it on Dec. 4 following and it was ratified on Dec. 11, 1905. It provided that a year's time should be given to the church in which to complete its side of the question. At the expiration of that period it was expected that the church would be ready to hand over its property to the government and continue its work under the new order of things. This new order, as conceived and enacted by French statesmen, required the churches to be conducted by public worship associations or incorporations. After months of agitation the Vatican refused to establish such associations. By so doing it was actually admitting defeat and evincing compliance with the most hostile movements it had ever been called upon to face. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the churches in France are today like so many ships at sea that know not what port to steer to.

Belongs to State
All the church property in the country is now in the hands of the French government. According to the law, the state still one more year in which to transfer it to the public worship associations. But the church has not been so desirous of doing this. The state may sell, rent or destroy every cathedral or church edifice in the land with the Vatican power to raise its objections. Should Rome refuse to form public worship associations by the end of next year, the state will have until December, 1910, in which to dispose of the church property.

The state has also provided that churches shall not accumulate endowments exceeding three times its revenue at the revenue is more than $50,000 since annually. The public worship associations are supposed to disburse the surplus of the religious establishments and to be the intermediaries between them and the state. As the charitable institutions of the country are not directly associated with the church the state will take them absolutely.

WILL INVESTIGATE

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The fact that the Mexican government demanded $2,000,000 from Edward Hettler of Denver, for permission to use the body of his daughter, Mrs. Hattie Critchlow, who died in Mexico City, has started an inquiry here.

The secretary of State Root notified Ambassador Thompson to investigate and the latter reported that the customary fee was $150. The matter has not ended.

the church within the territory of the latter.

In 1809, however, Napoleon grew less lenient of the Italian and published the decree of Schœnbrunn whereby he annexed the papal dominions to France. The pope was captured and imprisoned at Fontenbleau and it was there that another concordat, commonly called "the false concordat," was signed in 1812. "The main provision of it was to devolve the right of institution on the metropolitan bishop if not exercised by the pope within six months."

The clergy, however, grew stronger and stronger each year in France, until they not only had a monopoly in religion, but were a factor of immense weight in the politics of the republic.

Waldeck Rousseau voiced growing public sentiment when, in 1801, he proposed the association act, which compelled every religious order in the country to inform the government of everything pertaining to its being, to furnish the names of its members and the times and places of its meetings. Many of these orders were secret and they refused to comply with the new law, which had been enacted because of the growing suspicion that the associations were time and again guilty of plotting against the state. It had been expected that disestablishment would be at the cost of dissolution and confiscation, and such orders so disobeyed were promptly dissolved and their property duly confiscated by the government. The Jesuits, assumptionists, Carmelites, Oblates and Benedictines ostracized themselves from France.

NEW YORK STREET SANK TWO FEET

Engineer of the Tunnel Explains It

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—A section of the asphalt paving in Thirty-third street, opposite the Waldorf-Astoria, suddenly sank more than two feet last night under an ash cart. The driver of the cart was thrown from his seat and was bruised. The sunken space measures about fifteen feet square. A crowd gathered and there was much excitement, it being rumored that the hotel and buildings in the neighborhood were in danger of collapsing. Police reserves had much difficulty in controlling the crowd and restoring order. The break in the street was explained by Chief Engineer Brown in charge of the work at the Pennsylvania tunnel, the roof of which is below the surface of the street as follows:

Near the Waldorf-Astoria site the tunnel builders encountered the bed of a fresh water stream, long forgotten, but known many years since as Kolek's creek, according to old city maps. It was necessary to drive the tunnel thru the bottom of a pocket formed by a sudden dip in the strata of the rock below the creek bed and it was then discovered that in the pocket had gathered water from the pipes below the street surface together with loose gravel and earth. When the water was pumped out the suction weakened the whole section of earth between the top of the tunnel and the asphalt of the creek. The weight of the water then caused the asphalt to give way.

GERMANY MAY ENCOURAGE EMIGRATION TO BRAZIL

Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A recent government report has revived the question whether Germany was actually aiding in the establishment of her subjects in Brazil. The publication was made on advice of representatives of American business interests who alleged that Germany was offering special exemptions from military service to all those who go to Rio Grande de Sul.

The German embassy took the matter up with the home government, but the reply received did not confirm the statements. It was said that no exact figures of the kind referred to had been made and that the emigration to Brazil from Germany of late years had been very small, only 320 having gone there in 1905, a considerably less number during the present year.

400 MILES BEHIND

Riders in the Race Attempt Few Sprints

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—There was no change during the night in the position of the riders in the bicycle race at Madison Square Garden. The men did their work mechanically, seeming to have no desire to be content with holding a place in the race and a few sprints were attempted, but they did not last long and were without result. "The lack of interest in the race and the unusual delays are indicated by the fact that the riders were nearly 400 miles behind the record early today."

MARIE CORELLI SCORES HER SEX

Woman Has No Need for Exercising Franchise

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—A special from London to the Tribune says:

Marie Corelli, her profound contempt for man in every respect remains undiminished, does not believe in woman's suffrage. She claims she can now direct fifty men's votes at election in any way she chooses, but she says her power would be destroyed if she had a vote of her own. "If," she says, "woman has as the natural heritage of her sex the mystic power to persuade, enthrall and subjugate man, she has no need to come down from her throne to mingle in any of his political affairs."

She scores woman remorselessly for allowing herself to be given away in fashion papers.

"There," she says, "man sees woman as the fool rampant. She is depicted as semi-bald, holding her wig in one hand, ready to put it on. She is shown in a half nude state, thin and scraggy, but again unblushingly holds an artificially molded plump figure of her body which nature failed to supply, in readiness to fasten over the hollow places. She is exhibited plainly and pitilessly as a swindle. "Do women imagine that men never look at such papers? Never perceive the bold prominent challenge of these degraded advertisements, which instruct them as to what a painted, powdered, padded, dyed, frizzled, shameless creature a woman may be, and often is."

DOES NOT FAVOR INCOME TAXES

Woodrow Wilson Wants Law Enforcement

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, came out against the income tax and in favor of proper application of present laws, rather than the passage of new laws, in an address at the banquet of the Southern Society last night.

Professor Wilson said: "We have reverence enough for the law if it be an evidence of reverence that we think that making law consists of legislation. I don't know that more disposed to increase than to lessen the speed of their trains. They explained that the public demanded faster service and that the necessities of business and the spirit of the times and they were obliged as public service corporations to meet the demand."

FAVORS INCOME TAX

St. Louis Brewer Roasts the Stinky Rich

By Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 15.—Adolphus Busch, the multi-millionaire brewer, says he is in no way opposed to the law. Discussing that part of President Roosevelt's message relating to an income tax, Mr. Busch yesterday said: "If there were not so many stinky rich men in the United States every man with a decent income would be paying his fair proportion of government taxes."

"A man with money is so fortunate that I believe he should be respectfully liberal. I have always wondered why it is that those of us who have so much of this world's goods still want to get more and more still and never snore our prosperity with others.

"Now, I don't want to decry men who are in a way of an income tax, I call it theft. We can't have too much of it in this country. But this thing of the wealthy man objecting every time the government wants to impose a tax that may affect his income is silly and shortsighted."

ABANDON THE RACES

Secretary of Wisconsin Alumni Makes a Statement

By Associated Press.
MADISON, Wis., Dec. 15.—Max Loeb, secretary of the Wisconsin Alumni Association and editor of the alumni magazine, issued a statement last night in which he strongly advocates abandonment of the policy of sending crews every year to participate in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie.

He declares the natural field of athletics in Wisconsin is in the middle west, that an intercollegiate rowing association should be organized by such of the big western universities as have acquired facilities, and that the intercollegiate rowing races should be held between crews representing the different departments of the university, that a national trip is expensive; that owing to natural difficulties, Wisconsin is unable to acquire itself creditably and that the advertising which the university receives by sending crews east is not an adequate return for the trouble and expense incurred.

Coming as it does on the eve of the proposed request of the board of regents for the employment of a crew coach, the statement of Secretary Editor Loeb is causing comment. The regents will pass upon the question of a coach Tuesday afternoon.

PRESIDENT TO SEND ILLUSTRATED MESSAGE

Roosevelt Will Break Another Precedent

INSURANCE FIGHT

Final Settlement Scheduled to Take Place in Election Next Tuesday

Special to The Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The President's message on Panama, embodying the views and recommendations resulting from his recent trip to the isthmus, will be sent to congress Monday. Accompanying the communication will be about forty photographs, picturing the actual conditions existing in the canal strip. It is expected that the reading of the message and the exhibition of the photographs will enable every member of the national legislature to form clear and accurate ideas of the work being done. This will be the first time an illustrated message has ever been sent to congress. The photographs appearing on the list of precedents smashed by President Roosevelt. The pictorial apparatus used for that purpose and sent to Panama a few days in advance of the President. An elaborate apparatus was used for taking the photographs, the work being under the personal supervision of Chairman Shonts, of the canal commission. Upon Mr. Roosevelt's arrival, the photographer followed him across the isthmus, taking many additional views at the request of the President. It is alleged that the pictures will be of vital interest in showing that the claims of those who declare that no progress has been made in the canal construction are untrue. The President holds that photographs, like figures, do not lie, and will back up his assertions with the pictures. The views taken will show the canal cut with the steam shovels in operation, the great reservoir that supplies the city of Colon with water, the progress of the work on the dams and dozens of photographs taken at various points along the line of the canal.

PRESIDENT'S SON IS NOW A DICKIE

One of Harvard's Social Elect, It Is Said

By Associated Press.
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt Jr. is now a full-fledged member of the Dickie Society of Harvard and is at liberty next year to require candidates for admission to do strange things he has done the last week to get an entrance into the university club. Young Roosevelt tonight was formally admitted to the select body with two companions no one except those present know.

In preparation he was taken this afternoon to a suburb of Boston, where he was blindfolded and compelled to go thru the motions of stopping a runaway horse in the center of the village. Later he was taken to a room in the city where he was blindfolded and seated in a huge bowl of ice cold water and required to go thru the motions of rowing with a pair of oars.

As a member of the Dickie Club Roosevelt is entitled to some privileges. He is socially of the "elect," says one of the class figures in an society event hereafter he will be among the participants entitled to special distinction. He will now be one of the social strikers of the university if he chooses.

Special to The Telegram.
NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—As Mrs. Annie C. Adams, mother of Maude Adams, the theatrical star, started for Washington today to tell the prosecuting officers there what she knows of the romance which led to the tragic shooting of former United States Senator Brown by Mrs. Anna Bradley, the whole story of Brown's friendship for Mrs. Bradley, his pursuit of Mrs. Adams, and the marriage, and the persistent demand that he marry Mrs. Bradley as an honorable man should, reached this city from Salt Lake City, where the principals in this unpleasant scandal.

FORT WORTH RINK

NEED ONLY $1.00

Small Amount to Insure the Freight Bureau

Only $1.00 still remains to be raised by the freight bureau committee, and then the bureau for Fort Worth will be assured. This amount will undoubtedly be raised within a day or so at the present rate of getting subscriptions and notices all from out of town. Several Fort Worth men have been mentioned for the place, but as yet none has sent in a formal application.

J. A. Stevenson and A. F. Foute are on the street Saturday in the interests of the bureau.

A girl doesn't think much of a love letter that can come with merely one-cent stamp.

Arrangements are about completed for the games of polo to be played in the north has been arranged with the assistance of Manager Ball, players Bunn, Teague, Baker and Murdoch the big Fort Worth Rink will

Notwithstanding the very bad weather there was a good crowd at the big rink last evening, which goes to show that the way the rink is being run is appreciated and that roller skating is still popular. Cox's celebrated band is certainly getting lots of praise and just for the magnificent music it is playing.

HOME CANDY NOT HARD TO MAKE

Christmas Sweets Easy With Few Simple Materials

Popcorn tinted with cochineal or plain is so good for balls to decorate the tree with and to string that it must not be left out of the list of wholesome sweets. Make a candy of one pint of New Orleans molasses, two ounces of butter and a pinch of soda. Boil till it strings, and then while it is still hot stir in quickly four cups of popped corn. This makes gold-colored balls and is better than any kind of popcorn candy. While the candy may be used for the white balls, and cochineal makes pink ones. A little saffron makes them bright yellow. All popcorn balls must be molded while the candy is still warm. A string to tie them on with is worked into the ball while making.

Penicillie—Put over the fire in saucepan three cups of light brown sugar—not coffee sugar—with a cup of milk and boil till it will form a soft, firm ball when dropped in cold water. Add a tablespoonful of butter. Take the mixture from the fire, flavor with a teaspoonful of vanilla, and stir in a cupful of kernels of English walnut, pecory nut and pecans broken into pieces. Turn out upon well-buttered pans, and mark into squares with a buttered knife.

Maple Fudge—Ereak a pound of maple sugar into small pieces and put it over the fire with a cupful of milk. Bring to a boil, add a tablespoonful of butter, and cook until a little thick. Drop into cold water, become brittle. Dropped from the fire, it will begin to grate a little about the sides of the pot and then pour into a greased pan. Mark into squares with a knife. Buttered—Wet a pound of brown sugar with a cupful of water, into which two tablespoonfuls of vinegar have been stirred. Put into an agate saucepan. Cook for 10 minutes, add four tablespoonfuls of butter and boil until a drop hardens in cold water. Pour into large buttered tins, and as it cools mark off into squares.

Molasses Candy—Stir three cups of New Orleans molasses and a cupful of brown sugar together. Add a half cup of vinegar and put all over the fire in a porcelain-lined pan. Stir slowly to boil and stir the syrup often as it cooks. Test the candy from time to time by dropping a bit into ice water. As soon as it hardens, stir into the boiling syrup a heaping teaspoonful of butter. When this has been stirred, put into an agate saucepan dissolved in a tablespoonful of boiling water, and remove at once from the fire. Pour into buttered tins and cut in diamond-shaped candies or pull into ropes.

Peanut Brittle—Boil together a cupful each of molasses and brown sugar, a tablespoonful of vinegar and two tablespoonfuls of butter. When a little dropped into cold water is brittle add a cupful of blanched peanuts. Remove at once from the fire, add a teaspoonful of baking soda, beat hard and pour into buttered pans.

have a polo team second to none in the south. The players will begin to go in training at once, and get in shape for the games with Shreveport. A good polo player must be trained to a condition just as a good football player, as the game is very hard to play and a man in poor physical condition would not last very long. "Roller polo is undoubtedly one of the most exciting and popular games played and should prove a big attraction."

COURT RAISES SIZE OF FINES

Cost Ninety-two Dollars for Sunday Selling

For a long time it has been the rule or custom in the county court when a party entered a plea of guilty to a charge of selling liquor on Sunday or keeping his saloon open on Sunday, to impose the minimum fine of $20.

William Robinson, proprietor of the Rosen bar on Fifth street, who was charged with keeping his place open last Sunday, concluded Friday morning, when his case was called for trial, that he would not enter a plea of guilty and submit to any fine Judge Terrell might see proper to impose and demanded a jury and submitted his case to them.

The jury took the case after the usual preliminaries and after being out a few moments came back with a verdict of guilty, assessing the fine at $50, which, with the costs, will foot up a little over $92.

There seems to be a disposition in the county court to depart from old customs, anyhow. In gaming cases heretofore, parties plead guilty to the minimum fine of $10 and were generally imposed by the court, but Judge Terrell will appear not to be bound by this old precedent and has marked in his immum figure in a number of cases from $10 fine to $15 and even $20 fine. The case of Robinson was the first indicated in the county court Friday morning.

State vs. W. A. Robinson, keeping open on Sunday, jury trial, verdict of guilty, assessed $50; costs $42, total $92.
