Fairchild Receives News of Indictment

NOW IN ITALY

Says Received No Profit From Transactions Referred to in Jury Report

By Associated Press. ROME, Dec. 29.—Charles S. Fairchild, ex-secretary of the United States treasury, who with George W. Perkins, of New York, was indicted by a grand jury in that city on charges of forgery in the third degree, in connection with the affairs of the New York Life Insurance Company, has been in this city for three weeks.

When informed of the action taken by the grand jury, Mr. Fairchild said: "I have just received a cable message from my lawyers in the United States, giving me a summarized report of the proceedings. I shall answer personally. I derived no profit from the transaction on which the indictments are based, which were entirely for the benefit of the policy holders of the New York Life Insurance Company. "The matters referred to are probably in connection with the Chicago & Northwestern and St. Paul Railroad securities, of which the insurance company held large amounts. "Under its by-laws the company believed it must remove the stocks from its assets and could not sell such large amounts in active stocks without a serious loss and apparently requested the trust company, of which I was president, to take these stocks and hold them until an advantageous sale could be made. The books of the trust company show that thtse stocks were and I cannot now be certain about the details. What I state is based on a recent inspection of the books of the trust company and from statements made by others. I have no recollection of any affair connected with Prussian Mr. Fairchild is awaiting develop-

T., Dec. 29.-The power of congress is involved in a suit heard last week on appeal by the United States supreme court, involving the citizenship rights of about 3.000 people in the Indian Territory and $15,000,000 worth of land. Attorney A. C. Cruce has returned to Ardmore from Washington, where he argued the case, in favor of the court citizens.

The district court made 3,000 persons Indian citizens, seven years ago, and they selected allotments. Upon appeal to the supreme court of the United States the findings of the lower court were sustained. Congress later passed an act establishing a citizenship court and giving it power to pass upon the findings of the district court or any other court in citizenship papers. The Choctaw and other tribes brought suit to have the work of the district court set aside and won. By the decision the 3,000 people lost their rights to government land and money. They appealed to the United States supreme court and the appeal was argued last week, the tribal attorneys arguing that the power of congress over Indian tribes

DENVER TRYING TO CLEAN UP

Attempt Made to Suppress Most Blatant Vices

Special to The Telegram.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 29.—As the result of a campaign conducted by civic societies and newspapers the red light district of Denver, long the most notorious in the country, is being given a thoro cleaning. The denizens of Market street, between Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth streets, in the neighborhood of a school building, have been given until next Tuesday to move, and most of them have already complied with the order. For years the children attending the school in that neighborhood were brought face to face with vice in its most hideous and naked form. Thru the open windows of the houses which the pupils were compelled to pass in going to and from school could be witnessed scenes of depravity and bestial orgies, the shameless inmates making no attempt at concealment. Now that public sentiment has been aroused, all the dives in that vicinity will be abolished and needed reforms will be instituted in other sections of the red light district. Cast-iron shutters will be required on the windows of all cribs, and these must be kept closed at all hours. More policemen will be employed in Market street, and children will not be allowed in the tenderloin. The wide-open policy which has prevailed in the past and which has given Denver an unenviable reputation thruout the country has been definitely abandoned in re-

White Slave Traffic Perhaps in no city in the United States is there a stronger organization of the Chevaliers d'Amour, the international society of macquereaux, with headquarters in the French capital and branches in every civilized country. Police records show that more than four hundred of these blood-sucking vampires make Denver their headquarters, buying and selling unfortunate women as if they were so many cattle and living luxuriously off their shameful earnings. The names and records of all these men are said to be in possession of the police department. Well-organized and with great financial resources, the Denver Chevaliers d'Amour carry on a white slave traffic which extends thruout the west, and all efforts to effect the disruption of the society and the destruction of the traffic have been futile. In addition to the possession of unlimited money, the Denver macquereaux have always played an important part in local politics, supplying hundreds of repeaters and ballot-box stuffers in return for future immunity from prosecution.

Judge Ben B. Lindsay, famous "the kid's jedge," has been one of the leading spirits in the movement for Denver's purification. In a recent magazine article by Lincoln Steffens, entitled "Ben B. Lindsay: The Just Judge," the famous magistrate relates some of his experiences in attempts to save girls of Denver from the clutch of the macquereaux. The publication of this article, which has been widely quoted thruout the country, created a sensation in this city and was bitterly condemned by the conservative business men. For years the "representative" men of Denver have opposed all efforts looking to the social and political purification of the city on the plea that such publicity was harmful to the business interests of the town. Only recently it is alleged that, the managing editor of a leading paper, which had been demanding reforms, lost his official head because of his activity in the "town cleaning" move-

As a picture of existing conditions in Denver, Judge Lindsay tells of a single instance related to him by a woman of the tenement district, "She saw two girls halt at a wine room door. One was urging the other, and while they were talking three men came out and dragged the reluctant girl inside. The next day she found the girls in the cellar, naked and drunk. 'My God!' I exclaimed, 'where was the policeman?" 'Oh,' she said, 'he knew all about it. He was in there, too, drinking with them."

Five Men Sat on Him Murphy's strength was demoniacal. It took five men to manacle him after he had been thrown to the ground. These five men sat on his prostrate body in the cab of an engine all the way from Hammond. Murphy appeared at Cavanaugh at 9 o'clock in the morning and at once assumed charge of affairs. His first move was to mount to the target house and order William Barnes, the operator, to flag all trains. Barnes refused and Murphy discharged him. When Barnes laughed Murphy grabbed him by the collar and threw him out of the house. Then he chased him. Thus left in supreme control, Murphy went thru the railroad yards throwing switches. He hired all tramps who happened along and, telling them he was the new yardmaster, urgently in need of men, he pressed them into service. He kept his ragamuffin assistants busy at the switches Angry trainmen dismounted from the blocked trains and attempted to argue Murphy into letting them pass. They could make no impression on the maniac, who waved them away with the declaration that he was the yardmaster and knew what he was doing. Prof. Morgan Does Not eBlieve Nutrition Has Important Bearing on Determination of Sex

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.-Announce-HAS ITS TROUBLES ment was made yesterday before the physics section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, which is in session here, of an Information as to Transfers important discovery relative to radium. It has been suggested that radium is a derivative of another chemical element and in its present state is only temporary, and uranium was set down as the parent element. Yesterday Dr. Bertram B. Boltwood and Professor H. H. Rutherford read papers demonstrating that radium can be obtained from actinium, which is itself a derivative of uranium. This discovery about the wonderful element may lead to remarkable results. Professor T. A. Morgan read a paper before the American Society of Naturalists dealing with the general subject of "Biological Significance and Control of Sex," which excited interest because he discussed the possibility of determining sex in human beings. He seriously questioned the theory which has prevailed in recent years that nutrition had an intimate relation to sex determination. He said it was apparent that so many external factors other than food may be involved in the slight difference upon which the conclusion as to nutrition is based, that they may be due to other conditions than nutrition. If nutrition is really so much of a factor as has been conceded a far greater disproportion of males to females in the offspring of rich and poor should be shown. Recent experiments in Europe with rats and mice have shown, he said, that even extreme conditions of starvation and feeding produced no effect upon the birth rate of males or females.

After an enthusiastic meeting, attended by almost 1,000 of the most prominent teachers of Texas, the State Teachers' Association adjourned Saturday before noon, and after a trip to the packing houses the teachers began to leave for their homes. Saturday morning's program was a brief one, and consisted of only two papers, "Some Theories and Their Application," by J. E. Binkley of Georgetown, and "Support of the Public Schools," by Hon. Z. T. Filmore of Austin. These papers were to be followed by a general discussion. Then came the reports of the various committees, the selection of the place of meeting and the election of officers. With the trip to the packing houses, the twenty-eighth meeting of the Texas State Teachers' Association passed into history. The meeting at the city hall Friday night was marked by the submissi of several papers of great interest and the of great length, were listened to with earnest attention. The session was prolonged until 10 o'clock and the reception at the Elks' club which fol-

or later. The work of the convention was taken up at 7:45 Friday evening, when D. F. Eagleton of Sherman began the reading of his paper on "The South and Her Literary Products." He contravened the idea that Massachusetts was the first home of the common schools and showed historically, that not only was the earliest educational effort in Maryland and Virginia, but the first declaration of individual liberty was made by the cavaliers of Maryland. It was fifty vears after the landing of the Mayflower before schools were begun and then their uses were restricted to males. The Hollanders of New Amsterdam antedated the establishment of any kind of schools by the Puritans a generation more. A tribute to the founders of Williams and Mary University of Virginia, the writing of the declaration of independence Jefferson, of the constitution by Madk son, are the work of Virginians. Sues W. H. Irwin to Recover $927 Damages

Dr. R. E. L. Miller has filed a suit in the district clerk's office against W. H. Irwin to recover $927 damages, alleged to be due him on account of a land transaction involving land in the republic of Cuba.

The petition in the case alleges that on June 1, 1906, defendant represented to plaintiff that he was interested in an incorporated company, which owned 80,000 acres of land of great value for its timber, soil and minerals on the island of Cuba; that plaintiff entered into a contract with defendant for the purchase of 100 acres of said land at $30 per acre, to be designated by plaintiff and surveyed and measured off by defendant. Defendant also agreed that all encumbrances were to be removed from said land, and in payment for said land plaintiff executed a deed to property in Fort Worth, which was deposited in the American National bank to be delivered to defendant when the thirty acres in Cuba should be deeded to plaintiff. The petition further alleges that under an agreement with defendant he (plaintiff) went to Cuba to await the coming of defendant to have the land surveyed and measured off, and deeded to him; that he remained there two months and ten days, but plaintiff never came; that the land was never surveyed, measured off or conveyed to the plaintiff and that defendant refuses and fails to deed said land to plaintiff's damage on account of lost time, etc.,

Special to The Telegram. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 29.-In order that the speculating-mad public may keep in close touch with their speculations while traveling, the Southern Pacific has arranged an innovation on both thru California trains. Quotations from Wall street are posted at regular intervals in the observation cars on that line. There is a regular stock blackboard and the $865. quotations are delivered to the conductor at stations along the route and he then posts them on the board just as it would be in the stock exchange. These quotations are received about every hour and cover the principal stocks as well as provisions, grain and cotton. The trip to California after leaving San Antonio is a long, tiresome and uninteresting one. Taking advantage of the quotations many of the passengers speculate considerably on their own hook during the trip, one man acting as broker and the others buying and selling. By carrying this on on a small scale much interest is maintained.

BIG CROWD TO HEAR BAILEY

Senator Speaks Before an Audience Estimated at 5,000

A crowd of fully 5,000 people heard Senator Bailey speak in his own defense at Waco Friday night. In its tenor the speech was not materially different from those made in other portions of the state. A large portion of the crowd was composed of excursionists from surrounding towns. A new portion of the address was contained in his assertion that there had been a political conspiracy against him. He said

"I declare here and now, and I have what every man will consider abundant proof, that the attorney general was in possession last February or March of every paper he pretends to have now (applause and cries of "We know it") including the forgeries as well as the others. Why didn't he lay them before the people? Because he knew they wouldn't stand discussion. He knew the genuines didn't hurt, and he knew I would be able to prove that the forgeries were forgeries."

The speech contained his usual attacks on the Fort Worth Telegram, the Dallas Times-Herald and the Dallas News. Among his critics he devoted his attention principally to Cullen F. tht closing speech of the campaign in Comanche county Friday night. A crowd of about 250 heard him. Mr. Cockrell declared that the present campaign had proved more debauching to the public conscience of Texas than all the politics of the last fifty years. "There is not another man in this state who would have the audacity to run that kind of a blazer over the people of Texas," he asserted. He said that Bailey had fretted and pouted over the nomination of Bryan in 1896, declaring the Nebraskan to be a Populist. "Every stab that he gave Bryan in the back was for the benefit of our old-time foes, the Republicans," Mr. Cockrell went on. He said that Senator Bailey had knifed Hearst when Hearst was the regular Democratic nominee for governor of New York and yet Senator Balley says: 'We are bolters and stabbing the Democratic nominee in the back when we are opposing

"I say," he continued, "that a man ought to be an honest man as well as a Democrat. I say, in my judgment, if the Democracy, with all the lights before them, after calm and careful consideration, shall return Joseph W. Bailey to the United States senate, say, from my standpoint, the Democracy of Texas is disgraced forever. We become a byword to be scoffed at by Democrats all over the union. They ought to deny us representation in the next national convention unless we go home and purge ourselves of the disgrace. I say that there ought to be no room to question. He had the effrontery to stand up before an audience of some of the people of Comanche county the other night and say that "if all they tell about me is true, it in no way makes me unworthy to represent the people of Texas in the United States He said that if all that Senator Bailey said in praise of himself and all that he said against his enemies were climinated from his speeches, any one of them could be reported in full by the Dallas News in a ten-word telegram. This statement was applauded. "To my amazement, surprise and chagin, there are some ministers in Dallas who also proclaim the doctrine that we have failed to convict him of a crime against the laws of Texas and that therefore he is worthy to be returned as United States senator. These same preachers-and I am glad there are but few of them-who preach this doctrine go into spasms over poolselling and race horse gambling. They seem to forget that the brewer and distiller brew beer and distill whisky, not that they themselves may carouse on it, but that others may do so. TERRIBLE ECZEMA ON LITTLE BOY

Mouth and Eyes Covered With Crusts-Face Itched Most Fearfully-Hands Pinned Down to Prevent Scratching

MIRACULOUS CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little boy was sis months old, he had eczema. The sores extended so quickly swer the whole body that we at once called in the doctos. We then went to another doctor, we went to a third one Matters became so bad that he had regular holes in his cheeks, large enough to put finger into. The foo had to be given with a spoon, for his mouth was covered with crusts as thick as a finger, and whenever he opened the mouth they began to bleed and suppurate, as did also his eyes, Hands, arms, chest, and ack, in short the whole body, was covered over and over. We had no rest by day or night. Whenever he was laid pin his hands down otherwise he would ake an open sore. I think his face, and have itched most fearfully.

"We finally thought nothing could help, and I had made up my mind to send my wife with the child to Europe, hoping that the sea air might cure him, otherwise he was to be put under good medical care there. But, Lord be blessed, matters came differently, and the course was miracle. A friend of ours and we soen saw a miracle. A friend of ours spoke about Cuticura. We made a trial with Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and within ten days or two weeks we noticed a decided improvement. Just as quickly as the sickness had appeared it also began to disappear, and within ten weeks the child was absolutely well, and his skin was smooth and white as never before." F. EXHIBITS SHOW WORK OF SCHOOLS

Commendable Showing by Local Schools

There is a fine exhibit of the school work of the city school children on display at the high school building, which has earned the commendation of the visitors to an eminent degree. Much care was used in the selection of the work of the pupils placed on exhibition and what is a fair average was selected, not the very best, in some instances, but what would give a just idea of the abilities or skill of the children in their work.

The first room to be entered, after passing the main entrance of the high school building, is the office room to the left and south of the main entrance. It is given over to the display of the manual training department of the high school and some fine examples of wood working, mechanical drawing and all of that sort of skill is on exhibition as well as samples of the needlework of the pupils of the high school, some being mere samples designed to show the stitches and the others finished garments made by the pupils in the domestic science department. A few of the garments exhibited are for grown persons, ready for use, and the perfection of the needlework excited the admiration of all of the women folk who saw it.

One of the remarkable things at the high school is the exhibit of Percy W. Evans, who has made of fine Bristol board a set of polyhedrons, and they are so accurately measured that standing on a plane they are all of the same height. Miss May Whitsett's etching on glass also attracted much attention. Some of the drawings and descriptive work in zoology deserves especial mention and without invidious comparison, Miss Delia Telfair and Francis Wagner may be mentioned for their work. Percy W. Evans' photographs and the description of the processes in attaining the plate and the print are exceptional in merit, An interesting bit of information in connection with the establishment of the domestic science department at the Fort Worth high school is the fact that the first substantial impetus to the work was given by Miss Helen Miller Gould. Over three years ago she was told of the needs of the Fort Worth schools in this respect and promptly sent a check for an amount large enough to cover all of the initial expenses and pay the teacher of the department for a year or more. The work done by the pupils in the grades is shown on the second floor of the high school building and it displays great aptitude, good advancement in studies and, take it all in all, is a most creditable display. As showing detail followed out in the manual training work it may be make drawings of all of the articles they are to manufacture. These drawings are checked over and corrected, if necessary, and then the articles which are made must conform to the drawings, so there is a double check on all of the things made. The College of Industrial Arts Denton has an excellent exhibit in the council chamber of the city hall. The departments represented by exhibits Domestic Art-Sewing, dressmaking, millinery. Domestic Science-Cooking, launder-

PLAN FOR MEETING OF MAIL CLERKS

National Association to Meet in Fort Worth

A meeting of the committee in charge of the plans for the coming convention of the railway postal clerks in this city, which will meet in this city in September, was held in the federal building Friday afternoon in order to discuss plans for the convention. A meeting of the local chapters of the National Railway Mail Clerks' Association and of the Mutual Benefit Association will be held on Jan. 7, at which plans will undoubtedly be discussed. The members of the two associations are determined that the Fort Worth branches shall give the visiting delegates who will be here at the time of the meeting a reception such as will be remembered. The convention, which meets in Fort Worth in September, will be a national one, clerks coming from all the branches of the two associations in the country. The last meeting was held in Chicago. It is expected that there will be about 250 delegates present from all parts of the country and these, along with their wives, who will in most cases accompany them, will give the local association a big task in entertaining. The meeting will cover three ELECTED OFFICERS

THE WOMAN IN THE ALCOVE

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN.

A ROMANCE OF LOVE AND CRIME, MOVING WITH BREATHLESS SPEED THRU SCENES AS VIVID AS A DREAM. THE BOOK COM-PLETELY CONQUERS AND SUBDUES THE READER IN ITS INTEREST. NOTHING WILL HE ALLOW TO INTERRUPT HIM. HE SIMPLY MUST LEARN THE GUILTY MAN. AND UNTIL, AT THE VERY END, THAT SECRET IS WON, A CANNON COULD NOT DISTRACT HIS ATTENTION.

PRESS COMMENTS

"The Woman in the Alcove" is the best detective story which Anna Katharine Green has yet written. It is a thoroly absorbing, admirably baffling and altogether fascinating romance, able to contend against the worst case of blues.—Chicago Daily News.

Both in plausibility of plot and in ingenuity of construction, Anna Katharine Green has outdone herself in "THE WOMAN IN THE ALCOVE."—Boston Transcript.

"The Woman in the Alcove" holds the reader's attention and interest enthralled, develops for him a startling story, and brings him finally to a most unexpected denouement. Anna Katharine Green has here succeeded with such skill that she has fairly surpassed her previous stories. "The Woman in the Alcove' is at once more interesting and more baffling than any of its predecessors.—Indianapolis News.

Loneliness of His Life Made Local Ministers Attend the It Unbearable

Bill is dead. Unable any longer to bear the loneliness of his life, deserted by all his relatives and shunned as death itself by all of his old friends, he took his own life and was found dead by a janitor at The Telegram office.

Bill was a large gray rat, known by every one at the office. Three months ago some of The Telegram employes, hoping to rid the office of the hordes of rats, caught one rat, tied a bell on him and turned him loose. Before that Bill (Bill was the rat's name) had led the care free marauding existence of all Fort Worth rats. In the daytime he lived in a comfortable hole under the floor with his brothers and sisters and other relatives and at night he roamed over the building picking up the crumbs from the lunches brought by the stereotypers or eating the nice paste in the mailing room. In these expeditions he would be accompanied by his friends and relatives and many a jolly picnic they had. But after Bill was belled all this was changed. He approached a crowd of his old friends and they ran from him. Again he approached them and again they ran from him. He wondered at it at first and then realized that it was because of the bell, which tinkled and rattled every time he moved. Then he came up to them very carefully, so as not to ring the bell, but as soon as they began scampering over the floor and playing the bell jingled and Bill was alone again. So Bill continued a vandal and a roamer, but he roamed alone. All thru the night the tinkle, tinkle of his bell could be heard, but it was never accompanied by the scampering of other rats. Bill was an outcast. Friday night he decided to end it all. He climbed to the top of a coarse sack and slid down the side of the sack among some loose strings. He fell to the floor. Again and again he tried it and finally one of the strings caught in the cord around his neck He made no attempt to free himself, tho it would have been easy to do, but hung there while he died.

If your name had been Joseph W Bailey and you had arrived in Cleburne to make a speech, and a man had walked down the street with an oil can labeled "Standard Oil," and some "damphool" had yelled: "There goes a man with Bailey's grip!" wouldn't such density have made you as mad as wet hen? Well, just this very thing nappened when Bailey was here to make a speech, after the famous de bate at Houston. This paper printed the oil can incident on the editorial page and when Mr. Bailey breakfasted at a local hotel, the paper was handed to him with the corner turned down, presumably so he would not fail to see it. Yet Mr. Bailey turned to another page and began to read about the great speech he had delivered at the courthouse. Some people cannot appreciate a joke.—Cleburne Review.

WHAT THE RAILROADS IN TEXAS ARE DOING

Railroad for Stephenville Special to The Telegram

STEPHENVILLE, Texas, Dec. 29 .- A representative crowd of the business men of the town gathered at the opera house yesterday afternoon. McD. Reil was elected chairman of the meeting and G. W. Jenks secretary. Mr. Cage submitted his proposition, which was in substance as follows: That Cage & Crow would agree to build a railroad from Stephenville to Hamilton, and that the road should be in operation by July 1, 1908, provided it could be begun by April 1, 1907; that Stephenville and Alexander together would be asked for a bonus of $30,000, Cage & Crow to secure the right of way and depot grounds themselves. That bonus should be secured in good notes, such as Cage & Crow's bank would accept, one-third to be paid when the road is completed and in operation, one-third in one year and one-third in two years. Said notes to bear no interest. That Cage & Crow would deposit with the citizens' committee a certified check for $5,000 as a forfeit, also in the event of their failure to comply with the terms of the contract the committee could use the $5,000 in any manner it might see fit-could divide it among the subscribers or donate it to any charitable or benevolent purpose. Mr. Cage stated that Hamilton would be asked to give $40,000 and Carlton $10,000 and that from the assurances that he had, there was no doubt that they would come up with their parts. It was voted to accept the proposition outlined, and a committee consisting of J. C. George, Lee Riddle and Eli Oxford was appointed to draw up a contract.

Street Cars for San Angelo

Special to The Telegram. SAN ANGELO, Texas, Dec. 29.-Colonel J. H. Ransom, a capitalist of Boulder, Colo., is in the city and is interviewing members of the city council in regard to a franchise for an electric street railway in San Angelo. His proposition, in the event that the council will grant a favorable franchise, is to begin work on the system by the first of next May and build at least one mile during the first year after beginning the work. The second year he proposes to build three additional miles and during the third year he will add four more miles to trackage, or a total of eight miles. In looking over the city Colonel Ransom has selected as a suitable route a line up Chadbourne street, running north to and beyond the Santa Fe thence around and thru East San Angelo to the fair grounds, back toward the business portion of the city, over one of the principal avenues, across the Concho to the oPst addition, thence to Angel Heights and line on Chadbourne street, forming something of a belt line. It is believed by Colonel Ransom that this eight miles of track will fairly well cover the city for some years and it is stated to be his intention to add to it from time to time as the demands of transportation to other portions of the growing city may require.

Land Company Willing

Special to The Telegram. HEREFORD, Texas, Judge C. C. Witherspoon has returned from Kansas City, where he went to confer with the Western Union Land Company about the right of way for the new railroad over its property in Hereford. As is usually the case when he goes after anything, Judge Witherspoon brought back good news to the citizens of our town. While no definite arrangements were made, yet the city is given to understand that the original owners of Hereford will do well their part in the way of securing the right of way. In fact it is generally understood that the Western Union will donate a sufficient amount of its lands for yard, roundhouse and shop purposes, besides the right of way where it touches the property of the company. This means that the financial burden will fall less heavily on many of our citizens than was recently thought, as it had now become belief that $25,000 will foot the bill.

NEW YORK'S LIEUTENANT GOV-

There is just a speck of trouble arising in the New York legislature. The republicans are planning to override the new democratic lieutenant governor, William Astor Chanler. The rules of the senate provide, and it has been the custom from time immemorial, for the lieutenant governor to appoint the standing committees. This year the senate is republican and lieutenant governor of opposite faith. The republicans do not propose that Tam-miftees. Senator John Raines of well known Raines law reputation, will be president pro tem of the senate. He will name the committees, and Lieutenant Governor Chanler will look wise. The rules of the senate declare that the comittees shall be named by the lieutenant governor unless "the senate shall otherwise provide." On this occasion it will otherwise provide.

It looks as if the split democratic and republican administrations will have

They do not dispute the right of the newspaper to comment upon the senatorship, nor do they deny or affirm the assertions that Guggenheim has bribed the entire legislature. It is the statements that "law does not prevail," and that "this is not an American form of government," to which they object. Patterson discharged the editor who wrote the attack and apologized to the people of Denver. Guggenheim has more trouble on his hands, and his case is a strong reminder of the situation in New Jersey with Senator Dryden. Guggenheim, like Dryden, supplied the money to elect the legislature. Now, when it is elected, some of the members are coquetting with Thomas Rvan, the young millionaire, who has built a magnificent house in Washington. Ryan is willing to spend enough money to be elected if it be possible. It is a case of men staying bought. There is great unrest among legislators by Ryan's advent into the field. GAIL, Texas Dec. 29 .- Another railroad is being planned from Westbrooke to the northwest. The principal promoter is M. S. Palmer of Crowell, La., who is here now making a preliminary survey. He has quite a novel scheme. He proposes to place a colony on a strip of land two miles wide and forty-two miles in length, build a standard gauge railroad thru the center and locate thirty-two families on each mile. He is now securing options on lands along the proposed route. He proposes to sell to his colony at an advance of $10 per acre and give the purchaser a share of stock in the colony railway. This profit will be held in common, and he says it will build the road, which will operated in the interest of the colony. The citizens at Westbrooke have subscribed a bonus and given it to make the survey. Westbrooke is to be the southern terminus, while Gail will be the northern terminus, at least for a while, according to Mr. Palmer.

Abilene Has Second Road Special to The Telegram. ABILENE, Texas, Dec. 29.-After more than twenty years of almost constant effort the town of Abilene has at last secured a second line of railroad, the first train of the Abilene and Northern coming in this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The history of the struggles of the people of this little city would make interesting reading, but it can be summarized in a few words: When people saw that no company could be counted on to build another line the public-spirited men of means determined to build one themselves and went to work to do it. This at once had the desired effect, a contract backed by a cash guarantee was put up and the work begun.

NO FRIENDS LIKE OLD ONES There are no friends like old friends, And none so good and true; We greet them when we meet them As roses greet the dew: No other friends are dearer, The born of kindred mold; And while we prize the new ones, We treasure more the old.

There are no friends like old friends Where'er we dwell or roam: In lands beyond the ocean. Or near the bounds of home: And when they smile to gladden, Or sometimes frown to guide, We fondly wish those old friends Were always by our side.

There are no friends like old friends To help up with the load That all must bear who journey O'er life's uneven road: And when unconquered sorrows The weary hours invest, The kindly words of old friends Are always found the best. There are no friends like old friends.

To calm our frequent fears, When shadows fall and deepen Thru life's declining years: And when our faltering footsteps Approach the Great Divide. We'll long to meet the old friends Who wait on the other side. -Deaf Mutes' Register.

LAW THREATENS BEER SCHOONER

Dealers Prepare for Higher

What effect the national pure food law which will become affective Tuesday, Jan. 1, 1907, will have on the liquor traffic with reference to stocks now on hand is a matter in which liquor dealers are at sea and which is causing them no little anxiety.

The new law prohibits the use of certain ingredients that have heretofore been used in making blends, and if the law affects this class of goods the question arises, what will become of these blends and on whom will fall the loss caused by their retirement from the market

Possibly the blended goods constitute the larger per cent of whiskies sold in the United States, and if the new law prohibits the sale of these goods the loss will be enormous unless the law is violated

The same question arises also in the case of wines, beer and other drinks in which prohibited ingredients are used in preparing them for market; and just how far reaching the law is no one has been seen who is prepared to say. These matters were discussed, it is said, at the meeting of the Texas Liquor Dealers' Association held at Fort Worth Thursday, and in connection with it the effect the restrictions of the new law will have on the price of whisky and other liquors affected. There is a report that one effect of the new law will be the advance of the price of all kinds of liquors, and that the day for the advance is not

Import Business Another question also of much interest is the effect the new law will have on the import business. There are many liquors made outside of the United States, the manufacture of which is not affected by the law of this country, but when these goods come in their sale is regulated by the same law that regulates domestic goods. Therefore, if in the manufacture of the imported liquors prohibited ingredients are used they also come under the ban of the American pure food law. If the price of liquors affected by this law are materially advanced, what will be the effect on the retail end of the business is another matter that is of interest to the consumer. Will it result in the abolition of the two for a quarter drink, and the establishment of a 15c straight scale of prices or higher? If it does it is said the result will be either less tippling or smaller incomes to the retail dealer. Beer drinkers are also interested in the new conditions, for if the price of beer is advanced from the present price per keg it will doubtless abolish the "schooner" and the 20-oz. size drinks, and result in the adoption of a uniform size for beer glasses.

However, these are things that are only talked about now and are matters that will not be determined until after the new law becomes effective. It is a new machine and may run so smoothly that there will not be a jar in its operation; and then it may just be the reverse, and create such confusion in the liquor business than an entirely new set of rules, regulations, prices, etc., will have to be adopted.

"The Freedom of Suzanne" is neither good literature nor good drama, but an insipid little play that goes because the lines are rather clever and-Jane

Without Miss Corcoran, who acts exceedingly well with her lips and voice, the play would be dreary indeed. is manifestly a re-written edition "Her Lord and Master," in which Helen Grantley has twice appeared here. "Her Lord and Master" had some character creations which were real, but the lines for the most part were stupid. "The Freedom of Suzanne" has no single character creation, except possibly that of Miss Minching, which lives fifteen minutes after one leaves the theater. But the lines are at times witty, and besides there's Miss Corcoran.

The story is that of a young wife who wants her own way and a sensible husband who lets her have it, even to the extent of a divorce. To be sure, she is not compromised, and Friday night's audience at Greenwall's seemed slightly disappointed that she wasn't. The disappointed ones were partly recompensed in the last act when Miss Corcoran took off her left stocking (any man in the crowd can correct you if this isn't right) and put it on again.

James M. Brophy as Charles Trelor seems a good sort of fellow whose mother treated him as if she were his mother-in-law, but his work does not effulge with fluorescent scintillations. Apparently the most capable member of the cast outside of Miss Corcoran Miss Pauline Duffield, who is an experienced actress (and the cast is from Frohman's, too), who does her work with a fine sincerity for the classic traditions of stagedom and an equally fine contempt for the acting done by some of her fellow players. The audience was larger than the one which saw "Sapho" Tuesday night and enjoyed itself very much

W. B. Patton in "The Slow Poke" Mr. Patton's very first season in the title role of "The Minister's Son" was a financial as well as artistic suo cess, and the same wave of prosperity has followed him for the last six seasons. No star of revent years has succeeded in so quickly establishing himself in the hearts of theatergoers. As is the case with most artists, Mr. Patton started at the bottom rung and has played a wide range of parts. He is gifted with a personality that few comedians possess and his delightful rendition of Barry Ware, the Slow Poke, has been the crowning event of his starring career. He is the author of this play, as well as "The Minister's Son," "The Little Homestead," "A Sly Old Fox," "Royal Rags," "The Last Rose of Summer" and a number of eastern successes. The tour will be under the personal management of J. M. Stout, who has been associated with Mr. Patton for the last six seasons. "The Slow Poke" comes to Greenwall's

Monday night, Dec. 31: "'The Awakening of Mr." Pipp' proved a corking comedy to those who had the good fortune to witness either of the Sunday performances at the Grand. The management has a record for good attractions, and this one is right up with the best it has yet offered us. Charley Grapewin, a real clever fellow, appeared in the title role and is supported by a well-balanced company. Mr. Grapewin in the part of Mr. Pipp is distinctly in the best role he has ever had.

Harry Beresford "The Woman Hater," in which Harry Beresford will appear at Greenwall's opera house Tuesday (New Year's), matinee and night. Jan. 1, is primarily a comedy of situation. At the same time it is full of laughable lines which are excruciatingly funny when heard in the play. Here are a few samples: "Never contradict a lady. Give her time and she's contradict herself." "How to tell a bad egg. Break it gently.' "The man who dares usually gets the "I supposed I ought to take her hand,

A man always takes a woman's before he asks for it." "It's a mighty curious woman who isn't inquisitive."

"A man is judged by the company he keeps and the cigars he gives away." "Never put off until tomorrow what you can get somebody else to do for you today."

At the Majestic

The management of the Majestic theater has made good in the prediction that a bill would be presented this week that would interest the children as much as the grown folk. The little ones attended the matinees in large numbers and were highly entertained. They were enraptured at the novelty work of the Rader brothers and the Four Sunbeams and seemed to never tire of their performance. : Tho tricks of the acrobatic dog, Tip, were also delightful to the little ones and Little Bob by his humorous work in assisting his one-legged partner, Marvelous Frank, was a great hit. Then another amusing feature for the children is the contortion work of Joe Garzo and the younger generation scream with delight when he rolls about the stage and twists and twines his anatomy.

W. E. Crabtree of Sulphur Springs Is Missing

W. E. Crabtree of Sulphur Springs, Texas, is missing and City Marshal Montgomery of North Fort Worth has been notified and is now trying to locate him.

Crabtree and his wife arrived North Fort Worth from Sulphur Springs Tuesday, just before noon, and went immediately to the residence of C. B. Ayers, at 2417 Pearl avenue, in Rosen Heights, to spend a day or two, Mrs. Crabtree and Mrs. Ayres being

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon Tuesday, Crabtree, who was drinking to some extent, started to Fort Worth. His wife and relatives tried to prevent him from going. However, he went, and has not since returned, nor up to noon Saturday had he returned to his home at Sulphur Springs. Not returning Tuesday night to the home of Mr. Ayers, a search was made for him Wednesday, but he could not be found. He was last seen by a Sulphur Springs attorney named Thornton Wednesday afternoon in Main street, between Eighth and Ninth, and was going toward union station.

The Fort Worth police department was notified and Mrs. Crabtree returned home.

There is no fear on the part of his relatives that he has met with foul play, as it was known that he had only $18 in money with him. He had quite a sum of money in a bank at Sulphur Springs, but his wife cominunicated with the bank by telephone Wednesday and was told that he had not drawn any of it. The only fear is that he might have met with an accident, but the logical theory is that he either went to some other town or is at this time in some of the downtown rooming houses.

Mass Meeting of Citizens Held Friday

The citizens of Riverside met in mass meeting Friday night to discuss ways and means for the betterment of that progressive suburb. The meeting was called to order by Mr. McCall. Mr. Hightower was elected permanent chairman. J. F. D.

Nesbit was chosen secretary. Justice Bratton was present and made a very interesting and entertaining talk. Among other things Mr. Bratton said: "Let the citizens of Riverside put their heads together and their shoulders to the wheel and secure car service and Riverside will be second to no other suburb of Fort Worth." A committee of five was elected to confer with the various street car companies with a view to inducing them to build car lines connecting Riverside with Fort Worth. This committee consists of Jeff Johnson, G. L. Flemings, J. F. D. Nesbit, Bud Brown and Mr.

There was also a discussion with the acetylene gas people pertaining to the lighting of the new schoolhouse; a committee composed of B. McCall, W. L. Slate, and Moton Millican was chosen to investigate the acetylene

COUNCILMEN WILL CONTEST CHARTER

Alderman Waggoman Has Nothing to Say

"The city council will not permit the new city charter that has been drawn for the city of Fort Worth to become a law without a contest," said a well known citizen Friday afternoon. This man making the statement spoke positively, and appeared to know what he was talking about.

A Telegram reporter attempted to interview Alderman Waggoman on the subject and when he put the question to him: "Will the council prepare a charter of its own make to submit to the legislature?" turned on the reporter and asked sharply: "Are you interviewing me for publication?" and when told that he was,

"I am not ready to talk about that at this time. I can tell you something later on when one member of the council who is now absent from the city returns. I will say this, however, any charter that the city may prepare will be submitted to the voters of the city for their approval or rejection before it is ever presented to the legislature. The people at large are the parties in interest in a macer of this kind and no charter under which their interests are to be regulated and conducted should become a law without the people being given an opportunity to express themselves on

Athletic Association Met Here

Friday

IN CORSICANA

A meeting of the Central Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association, representing all the high schools of this section of the state, was held in Fort Worth at the high school building Friday. The district covered by this association includes all high schools within a radius of 100 miles of Waco. President Edwards of Waco occupied the chair at the meeting Friday, delegates from Fort Worth, Waco, Cleburne, Corsicana, Temple and Belton being present. The plum of the association, the spring athletic meet, was awarded this year to the Corsicana high school and the meet will be held in that city in April. The first athletic meet of the association was held in Waco last spring and was a grand success, both in point of interest and financially. A surplus of over $50 was left in the treasury at the end of that meet, and this sum was divided among the members of the association at the meeting held Friday.

Object of the association is the encouragement of clean athletics under faculty supervision among the Texas high schools, Texans in St. Louis

STOCK FARMING

Will L. Sargent was in the city in attendance on the State Real Estate Association and was induced to talk about matters of interest not alone in his home county, Kaufman, but also out in the great west, where he is interested in finding homes for the multitude of applicants who are in and coming to Texas. "I live in Terrell, as you probably know, and we think that we have as good a portion of the earth's surface in Kaufman county as can be found in a month's travel. We had an abundance of rain this year and at the same time not enough to seriously impede the fruition of the crops. Cotton has yielded at least 40 per cent over last year, the receipts last year being 40,000 bales and this season they will be 60,000 at least. Had there been less moisture there is no doubt but that the result would have somewhere near 100,000 bales. Sections of the country was also ruined by boll worms and boll weevil. Our corn crop was the best we have had in years and the hay meadows yielded the finest cr. of hay that ever was seen in our country, but it was not quite so nutricious as former years, owing to its sappy condition. Ribbon cane, sorghum and millet were at their best and will afford the stock farmers of the county no end of forage for their fine stock. Our county is the banner county in the state on peanuts, 1,500 acres of these useful nuts having been planted and harvested this year, yielding at a very conservative estimate from 50 to 80 bushels to the acre. The contract price for these before the crop was planted was 75c per acre. Peas are a good crop with us and are very useful for various purposes, especially for hog feed. Alfalfa turned out a ton to three tons per cutting and there were from four to six cuttings. Our town is a great feeding station, a very large number of cattle being fed each year and many hogs fellow the feeders. "Stock farming is rapidly becoming favorite method of making agriculture pay and we will soon be in the bund dog. Return to 301 Main street lead in that line. The government has the biggest demonstration farm in the country located in the vicinity of Terrell and it is the gift of one of our fellow townsmen, Colonel Ed R. Green, who also, pays all expenses, the government simply doing the demonstrating act. Colonel Green makes 20 per cent on his investment each year from this farm. Lands with us are on a stand, there being no particular rush of home seekers within our county. Most people at this particular time are ravenous for the wild west, but we can patiently wait for the tide to turn when all is occupied out there. "Now I have got something to tell you about the west. The William N. Waddell ranch is being put on the market now and will be sold in small tracts for farming purposes. This property lies north of the Texas and Pacific In Iroad and touches it at Odessa, the county seat of Ector county. There is in the whole tract 90,000 acres and the country is a plain and almost all the land is tillable. Ten sections will be put on the market soon after the first of January and the balance will follow in due succession. The owners say "we are old cowmen of twenty-five years' experience in this section, but we have decided that the time has come when we can no longer resist the rapid encroachment of the 'man with the hoe.' Besides this land hase become too valuable longer to raise cattle where cotton, corn and all other crops can be grown that will yield each year crops that will bring the farmer as much revenue as the richest lands in Illinois or Iowa, at one-tenta the price of their lands. The land will be sold in 160-acre tracts at $12.50 an acre." One by one the big cattle men are yielding to the inevitable and breaking up those large bodies of land which have made Texas famous the world over as 'ranches.' "

Territory Coiditions George W. Pound resides at Kiowa, T., and makes his living as a stock farmer and agriculturist generally. What he does not raise himself he purchases from some other brother in the business. Cattle and swine are his main bolts. "I landed in Texas on the 12th day of October, 1866, from Mississippi, my home in that state having been located in Okolona. I lived in Texas for years and then moved up into the Chickasaw Nation in the Indian Territory, where I am now located. I farm, raise stock and buy and sell stock. Since this market has been opened up there has been very little trouble and I can say that never once have I lost any money on any shipment made here. Of course, now and then, as in all markets, a ran will get in on a bad market day and will not hit it right, and I have done this myself, but with all this I have never lost any money in any shipment I have ever made. Stock is doing very well this winter and we have not been injured to any great extent by the cold spells so far. Of course, when a man is stock farming he should always be more or less prepared for the cold weather and it is easy to build up hay stacks and straw stacks for the stock to get behind and keep warm. "Cotton did not do well with us this season. The excessive rainfall kept it growing and the moist weather was just the thing for boll worms. Between the latter and the cold snap catching the plant in the condition it was simply cut the yield to less than it was last year." Looking for Feeders J. W. Flinn is a citizen of Williamson county, where he has lived since he was a very small boy. "I live out south from Georgetown on Brushby creek, just west of Round Rock," said Mr. Flinn. "No, I did not bring anything to market, but am here looking for some feeders. I shall feed what I feed in Calvert. Cattle are very scarce down with us, there are less than I ever saw. Williamson is now practically all a farm. The Germans and Swedes have bought much of the county and they will soon get the balance. A man of these nationalities, when he buys land, expects to make a home for himself and family and they do not seem to care about the price, so that they can get what they want. Land recently sold five miles out from Taylor at $95 per acre-500 acres. And another piece sold for $115 per acre, there being 100 acres in this last piece. Cotton is very good this year-better than for some years. Corn was only a medium. yield as we had a small drouth just at the time that it was needed most

"I can remember way back yonder

when Williamson county was new and the sod was thick on the ground that we could make easily forty bushels of corn to the acre every year and a bale of cotton. Why is this change? Well, many people have various theories, but from my observation I have concluded that when the sod was heavy the roots of the grass were very thick and strong and permeated the soil and kept it loose and the rains fell, penetrated the loose earth and remained to make the proper season in the earth. Now, I have seen with my own eyes this thing and believe that that was the reason why the crops grew better or rather that they yielded more prolifically than they do now. Now the grass having been plowed up and the roots destroyed, the soil naturally, with nothing to loosen it, runs together and packs and it takes deep plowing and special cultivation to get results. I think many people overlook this fact and attempt to go on in the old methods when it was only necessary to plant the seed and bed out the middle from it and let her rip. This can't be done now, and unless other methods are taken up it is practically impossible for a farmer to get satisfactory returns from his crops. Times have changed altogether, both as to people and the methods used to gather and prepare the crops for market. In old times gins were small matters compared to what they are now, and most every man who had a good sized place Mad one. Six bales ginned a day was thought a good big day's work, and it was for a man had to stand at the gin stand all day and feed the gin by hand and it was slow work. The gins generally were horse power and the machinery was nearly always a wooden cog wheel set on a big wooden circular upright which worked in a socket on the ground and had a big pole est in the lower end about two or three feet from the ground and a mule and little nigger to drive the mule around a circular track. Cotton was picked and put in houses or rail pens and lay there until it was time for it to be ginned. People did not rush off to the market just as soon as a bale was ginned, as they do now. Neither did they stop picking to wagon a bale over to the gin and wait hours of valuable time to their turn to have their cotton ginned. They penned it and went on picking and the cotton improved by being let sweat in the pens. The oil from the seed after so long was partially absorbed by the fibre and this added strength and color to the staple and

Bank Statement Payorable to Financial Situation

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The market displayed a weakness at the opening and some of the stocks, especially the high-priced issues, made considerable declines. Cables from London indicated an irregular market, with values fractionally higher, Reading being the feature, gaining 1 point. However, on the local exchange Reading had lost 31/2 points by noon and the tendency was very weak. Altogether the stock market was a very poor trading affair and operations were generally small. The money situation may be somewhat easier at an advance. The arrivals of gold from South Africa were over $4,000,000 and the Bank of France, it is claimed, is still willing to extend further aid. The bank returns today were hard to predict, but on the face of known movements it was considered favorable, and added some strength to stocks. As a result of the preparations that are being made by the banks to meet the enormous payments of the new year, call money advanced again. This resulted in bringing out an irregular market and much hesitancy in trading operations. The fact that the exchange rate was reduced to the lowest price in many years had very little effect on sentiment and it is not apparent that any immediate relief in the way of gold imports may be expected from London. It was, however, considered reassuring that the efforts of the bears to depress stocks made little impression, and that there was fairly good buying among the low-priced investment stocks which had recently been neglected. The Hill issues showed some inclination to rally, and it is generally believed that the attack on them has about spent its force. Pennsylvania and the securities intensified with that company of President Cassatt.

RAISULI'S POWER BROKEN

Great Improvement in the Moroccan ness Friday, Dec. 28, gives the follow-Situation

By Associated Press. TANGIER, Morocco, Dec. 29,--Members of the diplomatic corps are very much gratified at the improvement in the situation. The success of War Minister Gabbas has been more marked than they believed possible. The power of Raisuli has been badly shaken if not completely broken. Instead of the Sultan's troops deserting to Raisuli, some of the latter's chiefs have come in and made formal subnission.

Mulay Mustapha, the sultan's uncle, and it is even stated that Ben Mansur, Raisuli's representative here, who was yesterday asserted to have joined the bandit chief, but it now appears is detained as a prisoner by the minister of war, was really imprisoned at his own request. Diplomats regard the war minster's success not only as a victory for the sultan, but a vindication of the Franco-Spanish policy which compelled the Moroccan authorities to take action in the matter.

FURTHER DECLINE

Trading Mainly Professional— Spots in Fair Demand

Special to The Telegram. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29.-The opening was dull but the market held up remarkably well under the holiday dullness and other adverse features. Shorts seemed to be rather afraid of the holidays and when they entered the ring to buy they found few sellers. New York, while dull, showed more strength than was looked for, and this gave the New Orleans market unsteadiness. The New York market showed that it undoubtedly held a very large short interest and the next event on the program there is expected to be an effort on the part of the adepts at manipulation to run in this interest. Shorts already seem confident of a bearish census report on the amount of cotton ginned prior to Jan. 1, and this confidence, it is predicted by some, may yet cost dearly. In the local markets there is obviously a large spot short interest and this feature may over shadow all others after the holidays. Shorts today bid 100 points on January for Liverpool good middling, but were unable to find many sellers. The same price was bid for January shipment but little or nothing is coming out from the interior. This is a remarka. ble and unheard of price and ought to prove to the most skeptical that there is little cotton left for sale in the receipts were larger than for several country and that there is an enormous demand for the actual stuff. The lessening of the offerings from the country is taken as an indication of the falling off of the movement soon. Liverpool was disappointed and the visible supply statement was bearish,

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET WAS DULL

Little Trading in Futures— Spot Market Firm

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Dec. 29 .- There was very little interest shown in the cotton market, and the lightest day's business since the opening following Christmas was shown. All months opened at a loss, and closed lower. The quotations were around fluctuations of perhaps only 4 to 10 points, and few sales were made. There was a demand for spots of the better grade. Cotton below strict middling common staples were rather neglected, and business was somewhat checked by the difficulty in moving cotton, owing to the blocked up condition in warehouses at New Orleans. Opening trades were practically at unchanged values, with perhaps only a few points lower, and the movement was small during the entire half session, and what trading was done was

Further Declines

Special to The Telegram.

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.-The weakness in the wheat market yesterday was reflected in Saturday's trading. The comparatively small clearances for the week up to the close of business today, and a more thoro report of good conditions of winter wheat, continued the weak feeling. The opening, however, was a little stronger than Friday's close, but very little animation could be instilled into the trading operations. Early in the day trading was held about steady, with commission houses moderate buyers. The close was weaker than it is thought the conditions warrant. Duluth and Minneapolis both report that heavier movements will soon begin, for the reason that since the rush of freight transportation immediately preceding the holidays is over, there will now soon be a relief to the car situation. It is reported from various sections of the wheat belt that not only are there large stocks of wheat stored in interior elevators, but that farmers are also yet in possession of large holdings. These reports bear out the estimate of large yields for the present season.

The corn market opened slightly above yesterday's close, but was du!l all day. The trading, which was light, was at generally steady prices. The weeks, there being 438 cars in early, with several to arrive later in the Oats were firmer and more active. than yesterday, notwithstanding there was slight improvement in the quotatations. There were 137 cars received. Provisions showed some weakness. opening lower, and did not recover all the early loss. The holders seemed to desire to take profits, and this selling was stimulated by offerings from packers, both local and from western points.

MISCELLANEOUS

The near approach of the holidays is having an effect on the local wholesale markets, in that it is difficult to supply the demand for a great many of the staple commodities. All lines of wholesale business are now crowding all previous records. The produce and provision markets are, of course, the most active. Sugar is some higher, but in the provision line prices maintain a comparatively steady tone. Fruits are now in strong demand, and are plentiful, with the exception of oranges, which are very scarce, and the wholesale houses claim they are very hard to procure from any source, and that Christmas oranges will be on the market in very limited quantities. The country produce market is at this time one of considerable importance. Eggs, chickens, butter and turkeys are in strong demand. In some lines of country produce the prices are soaring skyward, but are generally remarkably steady for this season of the

"Sunset" Officials Claim Victory Special to The Telegram.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 29.-The Sunset officials on this division are already claiming a complete victory in the fight with the striking firemen. Superintendent Anderson says he is now operating more trains than before the strike was declared. In the last twenty-four hours he says eighty-one trains were operated over the Houston division of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio, the largest regular number before the strike being seventy-five. It is stated that many of the engineers have returned from their holiday vacation and are working overtime. "There are five times as many applicants for places as firemen as there are vacancies" was the statement given out today from Superintendent Anderson's office.

Talk of a Strike Special to The Telegram. SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Dec. 29.-It is stated by trainmen here that unless the Gould lines grant the demand of the railway trainmen for more brakemen on freight trains that a gen. eral walk out will be called on that line Jan. 7, 1907. This will include all lines from St. Louis south, including the International & Great Northern. The trainmen demand that after Jan. l each thru freight train shall have two brakemen and one conductor, or instead of one brakemen and one conductor as at present. On all local freights the demand is made for three brakemen and one conductor instead of two brakemen as at present.

Mr. Robbins' Successor It is understood that A. P. Hall, superintendent of the Santa Fe at Beaumont, is to be appointed to take the place of J. W. Robbins, who on Jan. 1 will assume the duties of vice president and general superintendent of the Rock Island in Texas. General Manager Maxson refers, with pronounced regret, to the loss of the services of Mr. Robbins and said Mr. Robbins is one of the very best transportation and executive officials in the employ of the Santa Fe road. It is probable the Cleburne trainmaster, John Glenn, will be sent to Beaumont, and some deference paid to the wishes of Mr. Hall in the matter of the selection of a trainmaster to succeed Mr. Glenn,

Rock Island May Act Alone Western lines of railway have refused to extend the selling dates of the homeseekers' tickets to include the first and third Wednesdays of each month on the plea that it is not, at this time, necessary, but it is most probable that the Rock Island will act independently in this matter and especially in view of the wonderful tide of immigration which is going to the Brownsville country, which that sys-

most important problems which the Thirtieth legislature will have to deal say whether or not he had any proposed tax measures which he would introduce in the next legislature, still he indicated that it would be a wise plan to change the taxation to the tax assessor at its true value, instead of case. For an instance, a black land farm is rendered and assessed at $5 or $6 an acre, when its true value is perhaps $50 or $60, and this is the price which it would command if placed on the market for sale. A law should be would be rather a hard thing to do, but be materially reduced, so as not to make the taxes excessive. Judge Dun-that is made to change the tax laws,

Three months' time brought Griswold to a halt with nothing but a bundle of paper on a dozen or more wildcat prospects. Morgan met the inevitable fate of the player on the wrong side of the gaming table. One night a year ago he arose from his seat in the middle of the deal, his last cent gone. He was standing intently watching the last turn when Griswold approached and "Bill, we are all in; what are you going to do?" "Do you see that game, Jim? There g where I lost my money; there is where I am going to look for it." The next day found Griswold, grubstaked, on the way to Death Valley, graveyard of a thousand prospectors. Griswold alone was bearing that burden of the prospector. The scales on the local board this week numbered his 4,500 shares and he has just left for his old home with over $80,000 to the good to spend Christmas.

They tell a story of an old prospector at Goldfield, who had 1,000 shares of Mohawk at 10 cents and sold at $19.50. "Speak well of every one, if you speak of them at allnone of us is so very good."

The orchestra of the Fort Worth high school then played "America," following that with "Dixie." and both were cheered to the echo. State Superintendent of Louisiana J. B. Aswell made an address on "Leadership." "I married a Texas girl, a teacher in schools, and hence I am a brothern-law of Texas," was one of his introductory sentences. He spoke highly of the loyalty of Texans to their home state. A high type of heroism Texas has demand of her people is one of the products the common schools help to make. The great duty of the school is to give the boy mastery of himself. School is the child's preparation for life, but the preparation should not be long as to exhaust the child. The truer idea is that the school life s the beginning of the pupil's life in relation to the world. The school is life life now. Professional supervision was one of the needs of the Texas schools in the opinion of the only county judge of Texas he had met and he agreed with him for one of his contentions was that the trained leader was absolutely needed in school work successfully He hoped the time would soon come when there was a trained superintendent for every organized county of the state. Mr. Aswell favors the county mon schools. The presentation of a beautiful bouquet with the colors of Peabody made by using Gen. "Jack" roses, tied with blue ribbons, was one of the happy events of the evening. The gift came from the old Peabody students here and one of the number is Prof. Aswell.

Secretary French Has Opened an Office - sint

Preparations for the fat stock show to be held at the stock yards in North Fort Worth next March are already being made. Secretary French of the fat stock show has opened an office in the Fort Worth Live Stock Exchange building and is getting in position to take care of all matters pertaining to the coming show.

The plans and specifications for the new exposition building are not yet completed, and while it is thought the building cannot be completed by the time the show will come off, this will no way interfere with the proper handling of the exhibits. Temporary provisions will be made to take care of all departments of the show, and by the use of canvas, in connection with sheds and buildings there, everything can be made convenient, and accommodate an exceedingly large number of exhibits. There is no place in the southwest where there are better facilities for handling such a proposition as at the stock yards in North Fort Worth. It is expected that the show to be held next spring will be the greatest, from a breeder's standpoint, ever held in this section. It will not, by any means, be a Texas affair, but all parts of the southwest will be represented, and are in many ways interested.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 .- The followng summary of business conditions n 1906 thruout the United States is ssued by Bradstreet's: Nineteen hundred and six was a ery remarkable year. And yet this haracterization appears incomplete in view of the fact that old records were etired and new ones set up, in the disproving of old proverbs, and the predictions that 1905 was so favorable hat better results were hardly to be xpected the following year. Not the ast remarkable feature, too, was the act that the apparent drawbacks-and here were a number-did not retard e onward movement, and the course events, commercial, industrial and ancial, viewed from the vantage found of achieved results, was a

Of the drawbacks, interruptions, and at, in some years, would have proved to have been absolute checks to progress, there were several well deerving of mention. Mild winter veather has not usually been assolated in the past with present or future good trade or crops, and yet the ountry had the mildest winter in years. Legislation of a somewhat radical haracter affecting railroads and large orporations, with numerous prosecutions of companies and individuals, was a marked feature resulting from the previous year' moral agitation and uplift in state and nation, without any apparently, other than beneficial effects to the country at large. Tight noney at home and abroad put a strain upon general business which resulted in strikingly little friction, judging from failure returns, the most noticeable effect being a feeling of conservatism which proved to be beneficial. Congressional and state elecsons had little effect, the general conclusion being that the people were "too busy to talk politics." Transportation congestion of the acutest kind, resulting in loss of trade and some actual suffering where fuel supplies were concerned, perhaps arrested, but cerainly did not check, progress.
