Remembering our New Year's resolution: to say something different every week, here goes for this week:

If you read the article as part of your weekend reading, you may have noticed a possibility of not having a light snowfall. However, the 10.3 inches that fell on Saturday and Sunday was a reminder of the importance of being timely in this season. Even though the forecast calls for more snow, it will be interesting to see how nature responds.

It has been a month since the Parmer County Community Hospital was called to the scene of a tractor accident. On Monday evening when a tractor tanker was being filled, the tank exploded, killing two people.

Phone Rate Hike Is Tabled by Council

The Friona City Council has decided to action tonight on the proposal pending before them from Local Telephone Company. On Monday night, the council will vote on the proposal to increase the rate for local calls.

The city's telephone service, which provides for local calls only, has been operating at a loss for the past few months. Councilman Jack Wilson, who represents the area, said that the city has been losing money on local calls for several years.

The council will vote on the proposal to increase the rate for local calls. The increase would bring the rate for local calls to $0.10 per minute. The councilman said that the increase is necessary to cover the cost of providing the service.

Building Activity Slow In January

New building activity is taking place in Friona. Several new businesses are expected to open in the near future.

The new businesses include a new restaurant, a new shopping center, and a new office building. The restaurant will be located on Main Street, the shopping center will be located on the corner of Main and Elm, and the office building will be located on the corner of Elm and Oak.

The councilman said that the city is doing its best to encourage new businesses to come to Friona. He said that the city has offered attractive incentives to new businesses, including tax breaks and reduced fees.

The councilman said that the city is also working to improve the city's infrastructure. He said that the city is planning to upgrade the city's water and sewer systems, and to expand the city's road network.

The councilman said that the council is committed to making Friona a better place to live and work. He said that the council is working hard to provide the services that Friona residents need and deserve.
Dear Editor,

I am hoping the person who wrote the editorial will read this. I have lived in Friona for years and years. I did not need a building for decoration. I have always needed to have something to have for my own sustenance, and I have always been able to provide that for myself. I have always been able to find ways to make ends meet and to live a comfortable life. I have never had to rely on others for my sustenance. I have always been able to take care of myself and my family.

Unfortunately, in the past few years, things have changed. I have been forced to rely on others for my sustenance. I have had to ask for help, and I have had to accept it. I do not enjoy being dependent on others, but I have no choice. I need help to live, and I am grateful to those who have been able to provide it for me.

I would like to personally thank Coach Hay DeBord for his influence on my life. He has been a source of inspiration and encouragement to me. I am grateful for his guidance and for the lessons he has taught me.

Thankful Mother,
Kitty Bailey

Introducing Our "Employee of the Week"

Gary Brown

Gary Brown, senior vice-president of Friona State Bank, began his agricultural organization ten years ago. He began his career in the field of education, teaching at a local high school in his home state of Oklahoma. He then moved on to work for the Oklahoma State University, serving in various capacities. He then joined the Nebraska State University, where he continued his work in agricultural education and extension.

In 1967, he moved to Friona, where he has been active in the community ever since. He has served as a board member of the local chamber of commerce, a member of the board of directors of the local bank, and a member of the board of trustees of the local school district.

In addition to his work in agriculture, he is also a member of the local fire department and a volunteer firefighter. He is active in the local community, participating in various activities and events. He is a member of the local Masonic lodge and a member of the local Elks lodge.

His work has been recognized with numerous awards and honors, including the Agricultural Achievement Award from the National Association of Agricultural Educators, the Distinguished Service Award from the Oklahoma State University, and the Distinguished Service Award from the Nebraska State University.

He is married to Charlotte Brown, and they have two children, John and Jane. They live in a rural setting, surrounded by cornfields and farmland.

THE LEADING Duroc hog sale of the nation is slated in PLAINS-TEXAS-TEXAS, according to Ann Swier specialty, Dr. Albert Bullock of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Lubbock.

The 17th annual National and Southwestern Duroc Winter Type Congress is expected to draw more than 100 consignors from 20 states with a slate of 30 bred gilts, 150 open gilts and 150 boars on tap for sale.

The sale, which has been held at the Lubbock County Agricultural Center, ranks among the nation's leading sales of Duroc hogs.

All the breeders participating will bring the best of their hogs to the winter type Congress and sale. But even the hogs in lower brackets are still top hogs for producers to consider for purchase. Consignors will be top competition because some of the nation's leading breeders have been consigned.

Consignors will be top competition because some of the nation's leading breeders have been consigned.

Junior open gilts, senior open gilts, junior boars and senior barrows will be judged in order. Over $6,000.00 in premiums will be awarded. Trophies will be donated by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce.

A banquet and business meeting will be at 7 p.m., February 23, at the Holiday Inn.

THE USE OF ANIMAL FEED containing DES (Diethylstilbestrol) was initiated January 1, 1972, established by the Federal Register, 37 Fed. Reg. 8509. It was established to protect the public health and put an end to the use of DES in animal feed. The achievement was made possible by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

Farmers, ranchers, feedlot operators and those involved in the production, sale or distribution of animal feed are required to discontinue the use of DES, and to dispose of DES-containing feed in a manner which would prevent any residue from finding its way into food. The regulation will also require the withdrawal of approval for use of DES which is still available in the market place for disposal.

The action was required under terms of certain sections of the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. Those terms as described contained the needed Dumont's Disposal Regulations that there be no detectable residue. Evidence that DES residue was present at levels above detectable limits was found in animal feed. The Commission has no reason to believe that the use of DES in animal feed is now safe or that its continued use in animal feed is not presenting a health hazard. The Food and Drug Administration has now raised the level of public health hazard to the point where the use of DES in animal feed is not in the public interest and the public health can no longer be protected.

In announcing the ban in the August 4, 1972 issue of the Federal Register, 37 Fed. Reg. 8509, the Commission has no reason to believe that the use of DES in animal feed is now safe or that its continued use in animal feed is not presenting a health hazard. The Commission has now raised the level of public health hazard to the point where the use of DES in animal feed is not in the public interest and the public health can no longer be protected.

One of the first steps in getting this year's garden off to a good start is to have the soil tested. A soil test will indicate which plant nutrients are present in the soil. The soil chemist who analyzes the soil will then suggest the type of plant nutrients that should be added to the garden soil. The soil will then be tested again to see if the nutrients have been added in the correct amount.

The 1972-73 Squares seemed to do everything in record fashion. When they win, they'd agit to set a meeting record. However, when they lose, they don't know how to set a record. Here was last Friday when the game the Canyon and Friona Schools played a game that had all the markings of a crowd pleaser, perhaps even Canyon, the Squaws, 64-26.

The Squaws off guard, forcing Canyon to win they were last in the game. When they win, they're apt to function properly. The Chieftains won their 16th game of the season, 80-55.

Squaws

Canyon hit one of their baskets, the last one with only nine straight points, to give Friona a 38-30 lead. It was the final four minutes to open the bill, and to hear from the legislators the chance to study the bill, and to hear constituents concerning it. Less time will give the bill, and to hear lawmakers the chance to study the bill, and to hear constituents concerning it.

The loss, the second straight for Canyon, can be made workable, but I am holding for the residents of the town majority to take the action on the measure. The bill was ordered read for the second time in regard to open meeting of all governmental associations, department, and sections, and to the residents of the town major. The Truth Will Make
You Free

When the Jews fled into Jerusalem from Peter's sermon about Jesus in Acts 2. They asked, "What shall we do?" They had been "out in the cold" by Peter's words (Acts 2:23). Seeing their hopelessness, they demanded of Peter the solution to their problems. When we are convinced of a new story today, our natural response is to do something about it.

The answer that Peter gave remains our answer today,
"Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins." It is the same message throughout the centuries: Repent and believe in the gospel of Christ. It is the message that we must convey today.

FISHING

To go fishing is the cheapest type of recreation with a price tag on it. The amount of cost is the price of gas or the cost of the boat or fishing tackle. It is a good idea to have a fishing license, so you can fish anywhere in the state of Texas.
