Help Build A Better Community By Trading At Home

VOLUME FORTY SIX

CROSS PLAINS, CALLAHAN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1955

NUMBER TWO

Noticed in the daily press Tuesday morning where the Central West Texas Retail Grocers have filed a petition against Safeway Stores, Inc., which is scheduled for trial in Federal Court at Abilene during the next term which begins April 11, with Judge T. Whitfield Davidson presiding. The petition asks damages of $166,000 and seeks an injunction to prevent the reduction of food items below wholesale cost. Plaintiffs in the suit include 157 retail grocers of this area, who charge that Safeway Stores started a price war in Abilene on Feb. 1, 1955. This price discrimination, the petition charges, has created a monopoly in the sale of groceries in the Abilene area for the purpose of decreasing competition and eliminating competitors.

While this price war is taking place only in the city of Abilene, the plaintiffs include a large number of towns in this area with local grocers Oscar Koenig, I. N. Riley, S. N. Foster, W. T. Cox, Happy Howell and Fonia Worthy listed as plaintiffs in the suit.

Regardless of the outcome of this suit, this department cannot help but feel sympathetic for the small town independent grocer who, operating on a small capital, finds himself at the mercy of a large chain firm, which is backed by millions of dollars.

The small town merchant, regardless of what he is selling . . . groceries or what-not, is the man who builds his community. He is the one who pays city, school, county, state and federal taxes to finance the cost of government operation and education. He is the man who contributes to the community's churches, civic and charitable organizations. He is the man who is called on for a donation when a citizen of the community burns out or loses his possessions in a storm. He is the man who extends credit to his customers when fate and the elements make it impossible for him to pay cash for food, clothing and shelter. In short, he is the man who makes it possible for the community to continue to exist.

With all this extra financial burden heaped upon him, the small independent merchant still finds a large number of citizens in his home community who expect him to meet competition of chain firms which contribute nothing to most of these necessary community obligations. Cross Plains, like all other small towns, has its share of these people who will leave town to purchase a "Bargain" when actually they could buy it at home for little or no more, if they figured the costs of traveling into the price.

If you are one of those persons who shop with chain stores in neighboring cities, this department asks that you think over the foregoing paragraphs. Too, if fate should deal you a hard financial blow, let's see how much credit you can get from a chain store.

With the drought still hanging on in this section of the state, every dollar in our community is needed here . . . let's stick together and help each other through. You help your community merchant and he will help you.

Weldon Woodten of Abilene visited friends here Monday.

Supt. Paul L. Whitton announced this week that forms were being mailed from his office to parents of students in the first two primary grades of the local school, seeking permission to administer the new Salk anti-polio vaccine free of charge to the students, if and when it is approved by the government.

If approved the vaccine will be administered to local students by the County Health Officer and will be given in three doses spread over a period of five weeks, it was said.

Many parents have asked if it will be possible for them to have their children, not included in these two grades, vaccinated if they are willing to pay—and the answer is yes, if the vaccine is available to local doctors in this area.

However, the amount of the vaccine is limited and the big problem is to find out just how many treatments are needed in a given area. A representative of one of the two large pharmaceutical houses which manufactures the vaccine was in this area last week seeking information on the amount of treatment desired in this area, as a basis upon which his company could allocate an equitable portion of its output to this section.

If you wish to have members of your family vaccinated with this Salk treatment you are asked to notify your family physician or the Cross Plains Review.

The treatment is said to work equally well on both children and adults.

Local phone numbers will contain five digits and all will begin with the call letter "5". Phone company officials expect to have the new system in operation here by June 1, and Kizer stated that it is possible that it may be ready by May 15.

Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Deadline Is Drawing Near

"Motor Vehicle Inspection deadline is drawing near," said Captain G. L. Morahan of the Abilene Texas Highway Patrol District office today.

The last day that a motor vehicle can be operated on the gold safety inspection sticker is April 15, 1955. The new safety inspection stickers are green and must be displayed on all vehicles by April 16.

Captain Morahan stated that enforcement by Highway Patrolmen will start on April 16, 1955. Anyone operating a vehicle without the new safety inspection sticker displayed will be subject to a fine of $1.00 to $200 plus court costs.

Inspection of vehicles has been moving at a rapid pace the last few weeks, but there are still a number to be inspected stated Captain Morahan. He urged the owners of these vehicles that have not been inspected to secure their safety inspection stickers before the deadline to avoid the possibility of having to pay a fine fine.

Inspection stickers may be obtained at any authorized inspection station.

Bayou Philosopher Claims Weather Never Has Been Normal; Neither Has Anything Else

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou, whatever he may think about the weather, sounds normal himself in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

While I don't blame the abnormal weather on the fall-out from the hydrogen bombs, in fact, I don't believe the weather ever has been normal, not for longer than a few days at a time, in the history of the world, still, I'll admit that last cold snap, or rather those last two cold snaps, one following on the heels of the other, was a hard thing to figure out and harder still to take.

I would like to mention though that while the freezes caught a lot of farmers in this country off-guard and wiped out a lot of crops, it didn't affect me that way out here on my farm on the Bayou.

None of my crops was bothered because none of em is up yet, in fact, some of my last year's crops aren't even up yet. I never have planted before anybody else yet, and lots of years I wasn't even the last to plant. I just didn't plant. You don't make as much

Electricity Can't Think - But You Can!

A rattle snake warns his intended victim of danger by a loud rattling of his tail coils. Unfortunately, power lines can't voice their peril. But those slender wires that blend so well into the background hold a death warrant for farm drivers who don't know—or don't watch the danger signs.

What are the signs? And what are the hazards? First of all, most overhead lines are built so that they will clear the average load. Telephone and power companies, however, cannot be expected to provide clearance for the remarkably high loads that are sometimes moved down our rural roads.

A driver whose load just touches the wire is right in the middle of a ton of dynamite! He may not know it, but his entire load and the truck itself are charged with high voltage electricity—which can't go anywhere because the rubber tires are good insulators. The minute he opens the door and steps out, however, and any part of him still has contact with the truck, the voltage is grounded—thru his body. He's learned his lesson—but too late.

A second hazard involves a rider on top of a high load. The breeze feels good and the ride is exciting—and chances are he isn't watching, nor even aware that his life is in danger. If he's lucky enough to escape being killed as the wire jerks him off the load, you may be sure that he'll have plenty of time to think about what he "should have done"—during a long recovery.

Or consider a sagging wire. Many different things can cause an energized wire to sag dangerously low. Perhaps a pole has broken or leaned over. Perhaps the wire has broken some distance away, causing unusual slack. Perhaps a tree limb has fallen and pulled the wires down dangerously low. Such incidents not only create the hazard of physical obstruction, but a deadly electrical hazard as well, when the low-hanging wires remain energized.

What must be done—after the sagging wire is spotted? The first move, of course, must be to report it immediately to proper authorities. Keep away from it yourself and if you must leave, place someone on guard to warn others. Some people have the dangerous idea that if they touch only one wire at a time they'll be safe. This isn't true—especially of high voltage wires.

If a high load must be moved, get an accurate measurement of the height and then check your plans with the local electric system and telephone company. Above all, make certain that no one rides on top of the load.

Whether you're a truck driver, a motorist, a Sunday stroller—low-hanging power lines offer a potential danger. Electricity can't think—but you can.

REAL BARGAINS IN OLDER MODEL CARS.

Visiting Mrs. T. M. Davis and Myrtle, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wall, Mrs. Earl Wall and son, Mrs. Bertha Newcomb and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barton all of Brownwood.

W. W. Porter of Dallas visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Porter, and other relatives here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright were here from Amarillo over the week end visiting his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright.

Mrs. George Barnard was called to Tahoka Thursday of the past week to be with her sister, Mrs. R. L. Richardson, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McMillan and daughter of Bisbee, Ariz., are spending their vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McMillan.

Mrs. Earl Pyle spent last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Staton in Lewisville visiting his sister, Mrs. S. J. Hefner, who is very ill in the Staton home.

Austin—Two big proposals for the state's water conservation program won in the Senate.

One is Sen. Dorsey Hardeman's $100 million state bond issue for aid to local projects. It calls for a constitutional amendment vote in September. The other is an enabling bill to start operations if and when the amendment is passed.

House sponsors on this, and on the Parish $200 million bond bill to aid local projects have delayed calling for final action. They don't think they have enough votes.

Tax Blank

An openly hostile revenue and taxation committee shunted Rep. Jerry Sadler's $160 million-a-year gas processing tax bill to sub-committee.

It would levy a 1-cent tax on all Texas gasoline and repeal the 4-cent gas sales tax. Opponents said it would bring a 19 cent cut in crude oil prices, costing Texas $190 million a year.

The committee left buried the two bills embodying Gov. Shiver's original tax program. It included a 2-cent hike in the 4-cent gas tax and a 1-cent boost in the 4-cent cigarette tax.

This confirmed last week's report that administration forces had abandoned the two single-shot revenue bills and pinned new hopes on Revenue Chairman Stone's omnibus bill. It would permit increases in any of the 100-odd present taxes.

The billion and a half dollar House general appropriation bill (for two years) was passed by the Senate which substituted its own version.

When the House refused to concur in Senate changes, the way was opened for a joint conference committee to resolve the differences. Lieut. Governor Ramsey has named five Senators to the Committee and House Speaker Jim Lindsey five.

Delaying Action

Special session speculation again comes up.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips saw his filibuster record fall this week to Sen. Wayne Wagoner.

Liwe Phillips, however, Wagoner lost his battle. As soon as he stopped talking, the Senate tentatively approved the bus registration fee measure he was fighting.

When it was all over, weary Senators discovered the marathon talks had killed two full "House bill" periods in the Senate, with only one House bill passed in two weeks.

Observers saw that, with Shivers' entire program still hanging fire, and four more Wednesday filibusters in the Senate capable of killing all of it, a new switch in administration strategy might be possible.

Thought was that Gov. Shivers might ask the Legislature to lay aside the tax bill and the appropriations whopper, and pass other legislation before theoretical adjournment May 11.

That would mean his calling a special session on taxes and the appropriation bill. Appropriations must be in effect Sept. 1. To keep the wheels of government turning, he would have control in a special session, lacking now.

Point Won

At any rate, the Governor won his point on the bill regulating securities.

As the legislature headed for what looked like its worst jam in the final month of session, he made a firm request that the House adopt a Senate bill regulating securities, particularly bringing certain trust company stocks under state supervision.

"I hope the House will disregard frantic efforts of certain speculators, promoters and others . . . and vote final passage . . ." he said. It did.

Land Case

Bascom Giles' legal troubles mounted when a group of San Antonio GIs filed a civil recovery suit in 53rd District Court.

Asking $33,000 judgement against Giles, the veterans charged that he made that much in "personal profit" out of a veterans land deal. At the latest count, Giles faced two criminal indictments, charging conspiracy to commit theft of state funds and accepting a bribe; four felony theft charges, and four civil recovery suits.

Twice Giles has refused to testify in court about the veterans land scandals and charges against him.

"Open Door" Bills

Attorney General Shepperd has expressed "deep hope" that action will be taken on the Open Door to Good Government bills during this session of the Legislature.

Most of the bills have been reported favorably by House committees, he pointed out, but some are being held for further committee study.

"They are sound, logical proposals to aid better government in Texas, to give the people a bigger voice and to more quickly reveal official wrong-doing," he said.

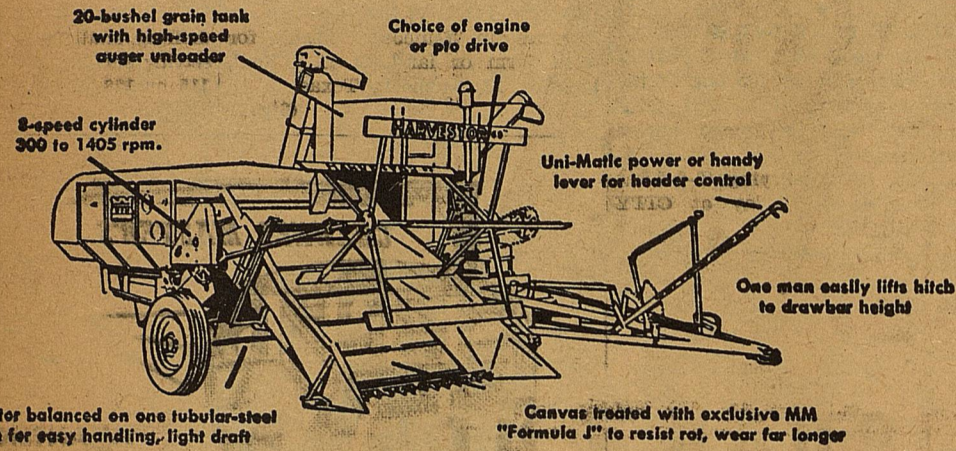

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. King of May were Cross Plains visitors Monday.

Gentle, thorough "rubbing" between the rasp-bar cylinder and the one-piece, all-steel concave and grate give you threshing that means extra bushels per acre . . . in grain, bean, and seed crops.

HOW THE '69' SAVES YOU UP TO 2 1/4 HOURS A DAY!

With the high-speed MM auger unloader of the Harvester "69", you empty the full 20-bushel grain tank in about 1 1/2 minutes, compared with about 4 1/2 minutes for ordinary unloaders. Figure the time it takes to unload 900 bushels (a one-day threshing job for the "69" in 60-bushel-per-acre oats) and you'll come out with a saving of as much as 2 1/4 hours a day.

No other low-priced car even comes close to matching these important Chevrolet advantages . . .

If you're planning to buy a new car, the one you just can't afford to miss seeing is Chevrolet—for 19 straight years America's best-selling car. The Motoramic Chevrolet offers you so much more than the other low-priced cars that it's hardly fair to compare them. And even the high-priced cars don't have all the advantages that today's Chevrolet offers you.

The beauty's built in—not bolted on! Chevrolet's beauty is inherent in the basic contours of metal and glass. There's no excessive bolted-on ornamentation to go out of style overnight.

The Body's by Fisher! You see Body by Fisher on lots of the high-priced cars—and only Chevrolet has it in the low-price field!

Today's most modern engines! That goes for Chevrolet's new V8 and two new sixes as well. All bring you a modern 12-volt electrical system—double the voltage of other low-priced cars. Then Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8" has the shortest piston stroke in the industry!

A drive to suit your driving! There's silky, peppery Powerglide (even better this year!), new Overdrive (both extra-cost options), and a new Synchro-Mesh transmission that's as smooth as they come.

All the power helpers you want! Windows, seat, steering, brakes—all are available with built-in "muscles" to make driving as effortless as you wish. They're optional at extra-cost—and worth it!

Come take the key! There have never been so many good reasons why you should drive a Chevrolet!

Over Ten Million Chevrolet owners—Two Million more than any other car!

Henry McCoy's Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCoy celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding Sunday, March 27, with an open house at their home south of Pioneer during which many friends and neighbors called, bringing their congratulations and many lovely gifts to commemorate the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. McCoy were married in Graham on March 20, 1930. They have one child, a daughter, Mrs. C. W. McDowell of Fort Worth, and a grandson, Ricky, son of Mr. and Mrs. McDowell. Both the daughter and grandson were present to help Mr. and Mrs. McCoy celebrate the anniversary.

Mr. McCoy divides his time between the oil business and breeding Hereford cattle. Prior to building their home south of Pioneer several years ago, the McCoy's lived at Abilene.

The celebration Sunday began with a family dinner at noon, followed by an open house during the afternoon. Among those who called were the following out-of-town guests:

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cash of Baird, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Day and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thompson of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Dillard and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee Shults of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Evans and Rev. and Mrs. Roy B. Massey of Brownwood and Mrs. W. C. McDowell of Commerce.

Harold Dean Hinkle, stationed at El Paso for sometime, is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hinkle, before going to Fort Worth where he will be stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson and children of San Antonio visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Gibson at Pioneer and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. King, over the week end. Mrs. King accompanied her daughter and family home Sunday for a visit.

"As It Looks From Here"

OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

Washington, D. C. Having Been Raised In The Country . . . and attended a one-room, one-teacher school, it somewhat grieves me to see the disintegration of a country community.

The disintegration begins with the consolidation of rural schools with the town schools. If the small country church has not already moved to town, it goes after the school. Then if there is a small fourth-class post office at the crossroads, it is doomed to be discontinued under present policies of the Government.

This is not to argue against progress, because that is what it is. It is a natural result by reason of better roads, better automobiles, and better advantages in schools.

On the other hand, it is my feeling that the small communities have been the backbone of this country. From these rural areas have stemmed the stamina and independence which have contributed much to the development of our Nation. I would not turn back the calendar, but I regret to see the passing of the small community life.

Visible Progress Has Been Made . . . by this Administration in getting Government out of business. It is no easy matter. Government did not get into business overnight, nor will it suddenly relinquish its hold on thousands of activities.

A year or more ago the President issued a directive to all Department heads asking them to make an inventory of all commercial and industrial activities now being carried on and to recommend which ones might be turned over to private business. For instance, the rope factory operated by the United States Navy for a hundred years has been ordered closed down. The House of Representatives has authorized the sale of Government-owned synthetic rubber plants, and also the Federal barge line. This is only a beginning. The Government is still engaged in more than one-hundred lines of business in competition with its own taxpayers. The Congress itself is looking into this matter, seeking to determine which and what businesses of the Government can be disposed of or withdrawn from. This includes the sale of many pieces of property which would go back on the tax rolls. Of course, there are some business operations of the Government which must be carried on by it.

It was natural for the Government to get into many types of businesses during the past two World Wars. It was also natural for the bureaucrats to want to expand these business operations. This meant they would have greater authority and greater power, a higher salary, and more people working under them. In addition, there are those who actually believe that the Government can run a business better than private individuals and for the benefit of the people generally. It is conceded that there are some services of the Government which could not be handled privately. It ceases, however, to be a service when the Government is in active competition with private business.

If we could but remember that "the longer we carry a grudge, the heavier it gets and the more useless it becomes."
