Help Build A Better Community By Trading At Home

NUMBER TWENTY-TWO

VOLUME FORTY SIX

School days are here again! No doubt, this will be good news to many students and possibly bad news to a few who may not be inclined toward readin', 'ritin' and rithmetic but to this department it means that our own will take on a "new look." It seems to awaken a community when children pass through town, morning and afternoon, going to and from school. Supt. Paul Whitton states that everything is in readiness for opening day next Monday, and since all students attending school here last semester were registered for classes

Members of the Buffalo Quarterback Club are urged to attend the first meeting of the c'ub to be held next Tuesday night, Aug. 30, in the study hall of the high school. Prospects are bright for a fine football team this season and men of the community are urged to take part in the activities of the club which funcion solely to promote the school athletic programs.

called his troops who occupied the Chamber to order. In mock Pariament. He shouted to them. "Shall this harbor of Yankee Democracy be ourned? All for it will say Aye! There was not a dissenting vote among the occupying troops. Upon the Admiral's orders, the troops then began to set fire to the building, and it was soon in flames. The building seemed doomed, but miraculously a terrific thunderstorm arose accompanied with torrents of rain which extinguished the fire in time to save the walls of the old Capitol building.

This British Admiral ascended the rostrum in the House of Representatives, sprang into the Speak

It was 1819 before the building was sufficiently restored for Con-gress to assemble there again. In 1864 the old wooden dome was replaced with the present massive cast iran dome which weighs eight million pounds, and the external ap-pearance of the building became much as it is today. The total cost of the building up to 1870 was ap-proximately Twelve and One- Quarter Million Dollars.

Through the years there has been much discussion about bringing the front part of the building out so as to complete it, as been planned for many years. This Congress passed an appropriation for money to actually finish the Capitol as it was planned. It will probably be several years before one who has seen the United States Capitol will notice any difference but eventually it will be done. Architectural plans will be called for in the late fall and probably it will take two years to get started.

The Capitol is the most spacious building I have ever seen to have as little room. In other words, there is a lot of wasted room-but this addition, although in keeping with the architecture, will be modern and with none of the lost space which is now to be seen most everyplace in the Capitol.

Planting Time for Winter | HEALTH NOTES-Legumes Is Nearing AUSTIN-If Johnny should come

COLLEGE STATION - Farmers should be making plans now for the seed and fertilizers which will be needed for winter legume plantings. In most areas of the state, says Ben R. Spears, extension ag-ronomist, the best time for fall planting is from mid-September to early November.

PARALYSIS

For fall planting in the East Texas Timber area, Spears recommends hairy vetch, Singletary peas, Aus-trian winter peas and chimson clover. For the southern half of the area, the less winter hardy common and Williammette vetches and Dixie Wonder peas are also adapted.

For the Blackland, Grand Prairie and South Texas regions, Spears suggests Hubam and Madrid sweetclovers because of their deep root system for soil building and obility to reduce the damage from cotton root rot. The clovers can be fall planted from Waco south but north of this line should be spring plant-ed, says Spears. Harry vetch and winter peas are also adapted to the regions

For the West Cross Tembers area hairy vetch is the most dependable legume, However, winter peas and the sweetclovers are also adapted. For the High Plains and the El er fitted glasses. Or it could be that Paso and Pecos Valleys, the principal adapted legume is alfalfa under of good lighting and proper eye irrigation. The biennal sweetclovers, use. DRIVE TO ARRIVE ALIVE program this month.

"Drive to arrive alive! There's a lot of good common sense packed into that short, catchy slogan the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council are using for their vacation driving

After all, when a driver starts out on a motor trip his goal is to get where he's going, to get there healthy and happy so that he can have some fun. It would certainly defeat his purpose if careless driving necessitated a detour to the hospital-or worse!

What kind of driving, then, should he adopt to get him to his destination alive-and in good health and spirits?

To begin with he should be courteous driving. The courteous driver is pleasantly relaxed, gives other drivers a break and is always prepared to yield the right of way to prevent accidents. His behavior is in sharp contrast to that of the selfish Hurry Bug who drives along the road with no thought for others. The Hurry Bug is intent on getting to his destination-and heaven help anyone who gets in his way. Don't be a Hurry Bug, make courtesy YOUR code of the road!

Another characteristic of the kind of driving we're talking about is that it's law abiding. The intelligent driver knows that in order to stay safe he must stay within the law. He familirizes himself with the laws of the area through which he intends to drive, and when he drives through that area he OBEYS the laws.

The third major consideration is that driving should be geared to conditions. A motorist should always drive at a speed that's safe for prevailing conditions- conditions of home crying, "Mom, I got something in my eye!" what would you do? weather, the road, the car, and his sensible thing would be to own physical and mental state. Under correct conditions you should be able to use your eyes as right, providing you stick to the rules of good lighting and good posture. But it's never wise to read in sunlight, even if your book or magazine is shaded.

What about television? It doesn't harm the eyes if the picture is clear and steady and if there are enough lights in the room to prevent too great a contrast with the screen. Avoid sitting off-center or too close to the set.

It's smart, the Department says. to protect your eyes for long exposure to bright sunlight. But don't make the mistake of wearing sun glasses just to look Hollywoodish. Indiscriminate wearing of colored glasses reduces your tolerance to light

BOSSES RATE OLDER FOLKS GOOD WORKERS

People who stay on the job in their seventies can be good workers and usually are, according to authorities who should know - their supervisors, in a university of Illinois survey, supervisors in 20 companies rated 1,025 older workers with these results. In over-all performance, 16 percent were excellent, 32 percent very good, 36 percent percent were rated more dependa-ble. In work quality, 57 percent did about the same and 36 percent were better. More than 75 percent truned out as much work or more than younger employees. And 60 percent got along with others as well as young people did, while 33 percent got along better. — Changing Times
