Oil Operators Must File Partnership Tax Return

Oil operators who are parties to joint operating agreements are required to file a federal partnership tax return on Form 1065 on or before August 21, 1966 according to Mr. A. E. Fogle, Jr., Administrative Officer of the Abilene office of Internal Revenue Service. The partnership regulations, promulgated in final form on May 23, 1966, under Revenue Act of 1954, require a vast number of oil operators to file these returns. Many oil operators may elect in this return to exclude the joint operating agreement from the partnership regulations. However, failure to file the return and make the election will result in the venture being treated for income tax purposes as a partnership for all future years.

The regulations require the filing of a partners return on all joint operating agreements regardless of the date of formation of the agreement and regardless of whether or not the agreement is in writing. In making the partnership return all members may elect to be excluded from all of the partnership provisions of the new regulations. Mr. Fogle re-emphasized the fact that a partnership return on Form 1065 must be prepared before August 21, 1966. If the members desire to be excluded from the partnership regulations, they must attach a statement showing the unanimous election among all members or parties to the joint operating agreement to be excluded.

Mr. Fogle stated that the return should reflect the name and address of the venture or joint operating agreement; a statement showing (a) the name and address of each member thereof, (b) a statement that the venture qualifies under subdivisions (i) and (iii) of Section 1.761-1 (d) (2) and elects to be excluded from all of subchapter K of chapter 1 of the 1954 Code; and (c) a copy of the joint operating contract or other agreement under which the organization operates should be attached to the return. If they operate under oral arrangement, a summary of the oral agreement should accompany the return. The election to be excluded from the partnership regulations, once made, is binding for the duration of that venture. Failure to file the return and make the election will result in the venture being treated for income tax purposes as a partnership for all future years.

Eastern Newspaper and Magazine Editors Tour South Padre Island Development

Austin—First of a series of press parties, designed to acquaint the entire United States with the possibilities of South Padre Island, brought some of America's leading magazine and newspaper editors to the Texas Gulf Coast last week end.

Journalists were guests at a lavish press party in conjunction with a meeting Friday and Saturday of Texas real estate brokers. The event kicked off the sales program for further development of South Padre Island. Jonathan H. Conrow of Brownsville, owner of the new development, and George W. Sandlin, prominent Austin realtor, were hosts to the visiting editors.

Conroe, who came to Texas from Darien, Conn., is a great-nephew of the founder of Miami Beach, Fla. He comes from a long line of beach developers along the Atlantic coast. He terms South Padre Island "America's last undeveloped, subtropical beach area." The current program is the largest real estate development ever to be offered in Texas.

Conrow purchased a 32-mile strip of South Padre Island. The present offering covers 77 tracts in a six-mile strip. Twenty-two of the tracts already have been sold.

Among the editors touring the area were Marc Rose, senior editor of Readers Digest; Piers Anderton, associate editor of Colliers Magazine, New York; Arthur Riley, editor of the Boston Globe; David Steinberg, business editor of the New York Herald-Tribune; Kenneth Medley, editor of Nation's Business, Washington, D. D.; Paul Schoenstein, city editor of the New York Journal-American; James Holton, real estate editor of the New York World-Telegram; Raymond Bill, president of Bill Publishing Co. (Sales Management), New York; Norman Du Beau, Business Week, Houston; Arwin A. Bauer, sports publication writer for Columbus, Ohio; H. E. Benedict, Redondo, Calif.; Mark Byron, Woodward S. Byron, Westport, Conn.; Jane Fisher, Miami Beach, Florida; Walter Cutshall, division manager of Eastern Airlines, New Orleans; and William Gibson, Associated Press, McAllen.

Serving as co-hosts with Conrow and Sandlin were more than a score of Texas realtors, including Charles Denning, Abilene; Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo; W. Vernon Walsh, Brownsville; J. C. Culpepper, College Station; J. A. C. Baker, Corpus Christi; Dennis Wagner, El Paso; Wilbur Fairlamb, Fort Worth; Vincent Schmidt, Galveston; V. P. Ringer and George L. McCause, Houston; T. D. Raushchen, Marshall; Geo. L. Thompson, Port Arthur; John Zeller, J. E. Patterson and Ed Schroeder, San Antonio.

Arriving by plane from Newark, N. J., and other eastern points, the guests toured Houston and Corpus Christi before arriving at Brownsville on Friday evening. Refreshments and dinner were served at El Rancho Grande Hotel in Brownsville.

On Saturday morning, the visiting editors drove to Padre Island over the new Queen Isabella Causeway, toured the Isla Blanca Park and beaches and visited the Conrow property. A beach barbecue was held under tents at noon.

Swimming and fishing occupied Saturday afternoon, with fishing parties boarding boats directly from Padre Island.

At a Saturday evening dinner in Brownsville, the editors met representatives of the Mexican Tourist Commission, Chamber of Commerce, National Park Service and executives of air lines, railroads, steamship companies and public utilities. Following the dinner the group left for a night club tour of Matamoris, Mexico.

A tour of the Magic Valley occupied Sunday morning, with an inspection of Esso's Hydralcol plant as well as the ports of Brownsville and Port Isabel.

ELECT REED INGALSBE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

Terms of office for District Attorney and County Judge in the overlap by two years. Each is now a four year office, they do not begin and end at the same time. Therefore, anyone seeking office and seeking promotion is compelled to seek the office at the time the Legislature has set for the term to end.

Opponent has held the office of District Attorney since 1949, appointed to the office while in the middle of a term as County Judge of Taylor County, and he now asks a fourth term.

It is time to offer the people a choice of candidates for office, and I do most sincerely solicit your help and support in my campaign to be elected your 42nd Judicial District Attorney.

I will work earnestly and faithfully to make you the best District Attorney you have ever had!

On Pleasing People

It was Montaigne who remarked that a "Man had need of tough ears to hear himself freely judged". Regardless of how careful and conscientious a man may be, someone is almost always sure to misunderstand his actions and attitudes and utterances. When he is liberal with his means, someone will almost surely suggest that he is overly extravagant. If he is conscientiously careful with his money, someone will almost surely say that he is miserly. If a person's views are more liberal than ours, we may brand him as being "too liberal." If his views are more conservative than ours, we may assume that he is "too conservative." When a person favors our position, we may refer to him as fair minded. When he opposes our position, we probably pronounce him prejudiced. And in all honesty, must we not admit the possibility of our condemning in an enemy what we condemn in a friend. And the chances are that we ourselves do many things that we resent in others. And if a persons does nothing, people will find fault with what he doesn't do; if he does something they will find fault with what he does do. And while part of the people applaud what we do part of the time, it is more than probable that part of the people will surely disapprove what we do at any time. When, therefore, we are attempting to please other people, or when other people are attempting to please us, we must remember that no mortal man ever lived (and that includes all of us) who has ever pleased anybody all the time — not even himself. No matter what course a person pursues, somebody will wonder why he didn't do something different. And so about the best we can do is to conduct ourselves conscientiously according to our best knowledge and sincere convictions and keep our minds always honestly open to the possibility of our own errors — and hope that other men will forgive us our mistakes as we forgive them theirs. And remember always that a man has need of "tough ears" to hear himself freely judged by others.

I have conducted this campaign in the only manner I know, forthright, honest, and above board.

You are well acquainted with my viewpoints. I stand ready to serve you in Washington. Your vote is a vote for States rights, aboishment of the income tax law, a fair deal for the farmer and the working man, for home government, individual liberties, a strong foreign policy, and true and honest representation of the average man and woman who pay most of the government's bills.

God bless each and every one of you.

SATURDAY IS ELECTION DAY!

VOTE but

Study the issues and the candidates — and then decide where you stand

You wouldn't buy a new car without at least driving it around the block.

You wouldn't buy a new house without checking up on the neighborhood, the schools, and any back taxes.

So vote—but don't vote in the dark in this exciting election year.

Listen to what the candidates are saying on TV and radio.

Read your newspapers—especially the political news and the editorial columns.

Talk things out with your neighbors over the back fence and at the filling station on the corner. Take part in the discussion group at your church, club, lodge, or school.

Think about the issues and the candidates—and then make up your own mind.

DO NOT FORGET TO VOTE AT THE JULY 28TH. PRIMARY FOR THE CANDIDATE OF YOUR CHOICE

Pd. Pol. Adv.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin—Saturday is V-Day... in Texas. It's the Democratic primary. It could set the biggest voting day in Texas history. Paid poll taxes and exemptions total a record-setting 2,410,188.

Not all these people will mark ballots, some are republicans. They don't vote in a Democratic Primary. And some Democrats will stay home.

Not since the Ferguson Era have more than 80 per cent of qualified voters turned out for a primary. General elections have run higher. Biggest vote ever cast in the state was 2,075,946 in the 1932 general election. This was an 87 per cent turnout. Highest primary vote so far was the August, 1954, total of 1,458,220.

Whether candidates in their final fervent appeals, these last few hours, will be able to stir out more voters remains to be seen. Even harder to predict is who will have the edge in major state races. Most informed observers hedged their guesses with "ifs," "buts" and "maybes."

They watched the straw votes and sample polls, checked the betting odds, but still weren't sure. Major cause for uneasiness is that rapid growth and shifts in Texas' population have wiped out many of the old rules of thumb on what it takes to win.

Fifteen years ago the rural vote was all important. Non-metropolitan votes still are in the majority and they are "dependable votes." However, the five major cities have between them nearly a million eligible voters—917,209. In this big city market, labor claims a 450,000 to 500,000 "sphere of influence" vote. But admitted it couldn't deliver that many in a bloc to anyone.

Another big question mark is how voters will be influenced by the three segregation-related referendum issues.

How To Vote On Referendums
 A check of voters who cast absentee ballots reveals much confusion about how to vote properly on the three referendums.

Robert Cargill, chairman of the Texas Referendum Committee, puts it simply, in these words: "If you are opposed to mixed schools, mixed and illegal federal interference, vote FOR all three propositions."

Due to the wording of the referendums, it is necessary for one to vote for the measures if he is against the subjects that each covers.

For example, the first proposition reads "FOR (or against) specific legislation exempting any child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools attended by white persons and negroes."

Proposition number two reads "FOR (or against) specific legislation perfecting state laws against intermarriage between white persons and negroes."

Third proposition says "FOR (or against) the use of interposition to halt illegal Federal encroachment." The use of double-negatives is most confusing.

Voters also should remember that they may split their votes on the referendums, if they wish. For example, if a voter were opposed to mixed marriages and illegal federal interference, but not opposed to mixed schools, he would vote FOR the two propositions, and against the latter.

Research League Helps Texas
 In contrast with the campaign furor, the Texas Research League works quietly. Their aim is better state government. Election winners, whoever they are, likely will have cause to use the league's exhaustive fact-finding survey.

Only three years old, TRL already has provided Texas taxpayers with nearly a million dollars worth of services. All for free. Big businessmen are footing the bill.

Behind the organizing and financing of the league are nearly 500 business and professional leaders. Their names constitute a Texas "Who's Who". These business men, with a bigger than average stake in Texas' future, felt their billion-dollar-a-year state government should have the benefit of the same type of efficiency expert techniques that aid private enterprise.

Ben C. Belt, president of Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, is chairman of the 72-member of directors. Alvin A. Burger, a nationally-recognized government research expert, is executive director. A modest office suite two blocks west of the Capitol houses the 21-member staff.

TRL was set up as a non-profit, non-political, educational corporation. It is prohibited by its charter from lobbying for the adoption of any of its recommendations. It can undertake a survey only at the request of the department concerned.

Apparently these restrictions have not hampered its effectiveness. While its analyses, state agencies are standing in line for its services. Recommendations from surveys made so far have resulted in far-reaching administrative and legislative changes.

Agencies now working toward league-suggested goals include the state hospital system, University of Texas, and the public school financing (Gilmer-Aiken) program.

A state Library Commission survey is to be ready in about two weeks. Reports on the Department of Public Safety and Board of Control are to be completed by the end of summer. A mammoth State Highway Department analysis is due for release in September.

Slated for beginning in 1957 are studies of the Department of Public Welfare and the Youth Development

Shepperd Urges Action
 Atty. John Ben Shepperd has urged the House Investigating Committee to conduct full on-the-ground hearings to uncover election frauds in Duval and surrounding counties.

Shepperd's comment on the situation came as the result of a wire cited a group of bills introduced in the last legislature, at the request of his office, and the Texas Press Association. The measures, he pointed out, would eliminate such situations as now exists in the South Texas area.

All the bills, Shepperd said, failed to win legislative approval.

"Since 1953, we have tried to interest legislative agencies in the cleanup of Duval, and your committee will discover, as we did, that the same thing that happened there can happen in any county where a political boss can control election officials and machinery and the judicial processes," Shepperd said.

The bills to which he referred would open meetings of public agencies, allow full inspection of public records, protect reporters' sources of information, require full publication of financial statements of counties and school districts, require an audit upon proper petition by taxpayers, provide punishment for false reporting of official finances or theft of public funds or records, and give venue in adjoining counties in case of theft of public funds.

More Drought Aid Sought
 A committee of 175 Texas agricultural leaders, called together by Ag. Comm. John C. White, is working for two-way expansion of federal drought assistance.

Goals include a six-point credit program and direct subsidies of $10 a ton for buying hay and other roughage.

County Judge W. S. Pickett of Karnes County heads an 11-member group designated to push the program.

Right Of Way Buying Urged
 Getting the "right of way" is the only major obstacle likely to delay the federal highway building program in Texas.

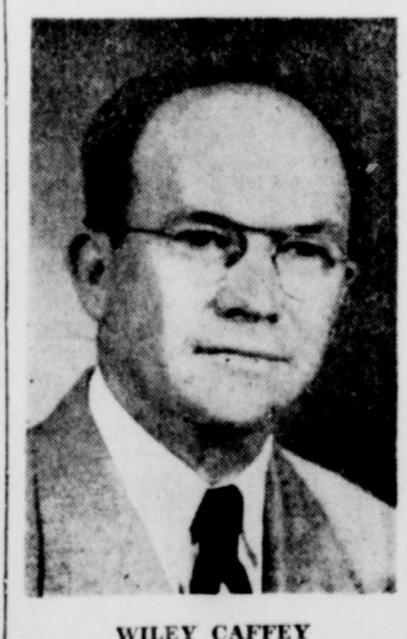

Enough road building equipment now is on hand to double the present work capacity within two years, said members of the Texas Highway Branch of Associated General Contractors.

Cities and counties which can do so were urged to buy up roadway immediately.

Other needs foreseen by the industry include the use of pre-stressed concrete, to get around the steel shortage; and higher state salaries for beginning engineers, in order to compete with federal employers.

Incentive Payment Rates For Wool
 Wool producers will get an incentive payment equal to 44.9 percent of the net proceeds of the wool they marketed during the 1956 marketing year, says A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

The national average price to producers for shorn wool marketed from April 1, 1955 through March 31, 1956 was 42.8 cents a pound, grease basis. To bring this average up to the incentive level of 62 cents a pound for that marketing year, Wooten says 19.2 cents a pound will be added to the national average.

Here is how the amount of incentive payment is figured. Example: If the producer sold 1,000 pounds of wool which netted him 55 cents a pound, his net proceeds would be $550. $550 times 44.9 percent (incentive rate equal $246.95 which would be his incentive payment.)

In the case of lambs and yearlings sold for slaughter, in the wool, and during the 1955 marketing year, payment is figured at the rate of 7.7 cents per hundredweight of live animals. This rate, according to Wooten, was determined by multiplying the average weight of wool per hundredweight of animals (5 pounds) by 80 percent of the 19.2 cents (difference between incentive and national average for 1955).

Since the national average price for mohair was above the announced support level, no payment will be made to producers on their 1955 marketings, says Wooten. Local ASC offices, on July 2, commenced releasing payments to wool producers, adds the specialist.

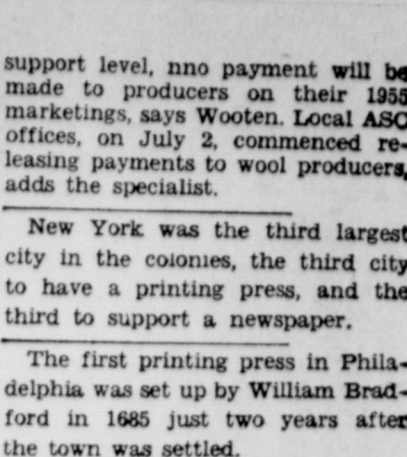

New York was the third largest city in the colonies, the third city to have a printing press, and the third to support a newspaper.

The first printing press in Philadelphia was set up by William Bradford in 1685 just two years after the town was settled.

A Man Texans Know ... and Respect

DAN KRALIS
 Candidate for United States Congress
 United States Representative
 17th Congressional District
 Democratic Ticket

This Man Kralis . . . His Campaign Fund

Dan was born in an average family when the dead of World War I were being listed in the news papers throughout the country. His father was a fireman on the Railroad. His mother came from a farm family.

Young Dan took great enthusiasm in his history studies. At the age of eleven he debated the cause of the South. At fifteen he was called "Johnny Reb" and often "Old Hickory". History and research revealed to him that slavery was not the instrumental cause of the Civil War but rather an after-thought promulgated by Northern radicals. Greedy Northern industrialists were out to crush the stable agricultural economy of the South by hook or crook.

In fact, the slaves in the South were being rapidly freed by the Southerners themselves and many Negro families insisted on staying with the Plantation owners and did not want their so-called "freedom." Given time all the Negro population in the South would have been freed by 1870. Robert E. Lee freed his slaves before the Civil War.

Few people know that the Emancipation Proclamation applied only to freeing the slaves in those states in the Confederacy. The slaves legally were still slaves in the slave states who fought on the Union side.

At the age of 21 young Dan moved to Alabama, the deep south, and pursued his studies of the Southern cause, the reconstruction period. He relived every terrible moment, visiting the ruins, and recognizing the pathetic conditions even 77 years after the ending of the Civil War.

Young Dan stood before a Federal Bureaucratic meeting in Birmingham and told those in charge that instead of spending the taxpayers' money in useless conversation, they better go about the job they were hired to do and do it right. We walked out of the meeting which broke up soon thereafter following his suggestions.

Dan is the type of fellow that, at the age of 16, rang the school bell twenty minutes early to allow one hundred cold and shivering children to go inside of a warm building. He incurred the wrath of the principal but also his everlasting admiration.

He was captain of the basketball team, baseball team and track team. He was elected President of his Senior Class by acclamation. He played in the band and acted in the school plays.

He worked his way through high school and college. He worked as a ditch digger, truck driver, steel mill worker, and farm hand.

He was the type of fellow who went on a college geological field trip with no money to pay for his food. When the professor offered to pay for the meals, Dan said he was just sick and didn't feel like eating. Dan went on the field for two days, and without food. In fact, Dan and his brother Frank lived for two weeks while attending college on fifty cents worth of rice and onions. He had one suit, and two pair of trousers.

Dan is not ashamed of his background. He loves America and he loves the South.

Dan is a loyal Texan and needless to say an ardent student of Texas history. He points to other present Texas United States Representatives, including Sam Raburn; not to mention past great Texans like Sam Houston, Bowie, and Crockett and many others who are all adopted Texans like himself.

Dan Kralis is so conscientious about the platform he is running on that he decided to refuse all campaign donations although he needs campaign funds badly.

He has exhausted his finances to present his viewpoints to the voters. Dan Kralis feels that he represents all the people and not a selected few. He believes in statesmanship and not backroom politics.

This is the type of man you will vote for on July 28th—fearless, persistent, reasonable, open-minded a man's man, a true representative of the people, self made, and a loyal American and true Texan.

Once again we are at the cross roads in history and the destiny of men.

The issues are identical with those preceding the Revolutionary War, The Civil War, and a greater issue is also before us. The issue involving the very existence of the American Way of life now threatened by global regimentation fostered by "one worlders" and "Intellectual do gooders" who would have us reduce our individuality to a biological social pattern found in the Communist system so efficiently practiced by the higher insects, ants, bees, etc., and not so efficiently practiced by the Russians.

Men like Dan Kralis stand out as pillars of hope to stay the onslaught on this mad rush toward insane oblivion.

New Variety Of Cotton And Wheat Released

The Agricultural Experiment Station has announced that planting seed for Blightmaster, a disease-tolerant, stormproof cotton and Crockett, a new high-test weight, early maturing, good quality, hard red winter wheat for Texas, will be available in 1957.

Available from the Agricultural Information Office are publications, L-292, Blightmaster and L-288, Crockett which describe these new and improved crop varieties for Texas.

Tests indicate that Blightmaster will yield as much under blight-free conditions as other stormproof varieties now grown in Texas, and greater yields may be expected under heavy blight conditions. Staple length is 13-16 to one inch. It is adapted to stripper harvesting; is medium in maturity; semi-spreading in growth and is recommended for areas of the state where a storm-proof variety is desired.

The new hard red winter wheat for Texas has good disease resistance, early maturity, high yields, high test weight and high milling qualities to its credit. Crockett wheat is recommended for the Panhandle and South Plains wheat areas and also for the Rolling Plains and north-central Texas wheat areas. Individuals interested in producing certified seed of Crockett during the 1956-57 crop year may obtain foundation seed from the Foundation Seed Section, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

Three New Extension Publications Available

Dairymen and other livestock producers will find three recently released Texas Agricultural Extension Service publications chock full of valuable information. The three are L-193, Coastal Bermudagrass Nurseries; L-279, Sudangrass for Dependable Grazing; and MP-157, Mr. Dairymen.

Pasture specialist E. M. Trew is the author of the two leaflets. He gives in detail the steps for establishing a Coastal Bermudagrass nursery with the recommended practices for planting, fertilizing, controlling weeds and harvesting the nursery. Sudan, he says, is the most dependable plant for summer temporary pasture in Texas. The sudangrass leaflet is brief and to the point in its subject matter content.

The dairy publication was prepared as an open letter to Texas dairymen by members of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology and R. E. Burleson, extension dairy husbandman. The authors point out practices which can cut the cost of producing milk and list hints for stretching the feed dollar. They have given special attention to other feeding and management practices which DHIA and other records show need improving.

The three publications are available from the offices of local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Long Jr. and little son of Snyder are spending a two weeks vacation with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams of Bigelow, Ark. and their granddaughter, Mrs. Lou Roe Vaughn of Centerville, Ark. are visiting here and attended the Adams reunion at Lake Brownwood.

TWO CHAMPIONS OF THE ROAD... both Chevrolets!

To the eye, the new Corvette and the new Chevrolet are far different. But these two champions have one superb quality in common—both were born to cling to the road as though they were part of it!

Chevrolet's astonishing roadability is a big reason why it's America's short track stock car racing champion. It can and does out-run and out-handle cars with 100 more horsepower. When you wed rock-solid stability to superb engines such as the 225-h.p. V8 that flashed the Corvette to a new American sports car record—then you get a real championship combination. Stop by for a sample!

NEED A RIDE TO THE POLLS?

Do you want to go vote next Saturday, but can't because you do not have transportation? ... I have a mobile call for you at your home and return you after you have cast your ballot. I am not campaigning for anyone ... am only interested in seeing that all who want to, have an opportunity to exercise their American privilege of casting their ballot in a free election.

"Worry, Worry, That Is The Evil Of Life"

One foolish way to worry is to think you have some sickness and then do nothing about it. Some people are afraid to go to a physician because they are afraid he might tell them they have the trouble they are worrying about.

Relieve your mind quickly. Visit your physician immediately if you think something is wrong. Don't try to treat yourself. Get his expert advice, and the odds are that not only are your worries unnecessary but under his skilled treatment you will get better quickly if you really have something wrong with you.
