Mr. Kelley's body was found seated in a chair in the living room of his home Sunday morning about 10:00 o'clock, when Bobby Jack McCowan, a neighbor heard the gunshot and went to the Kelley home to investigate. Living And Fall In Price Of Farm Products

Editor's note: The Bayou Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Bayou seems to be puzzled this week, which really is his customary turn of mind, only he doesn't always recognize it.

Dear editor:
I don't get to read a newspaper every day and I've been wondering—during a few skips in my reading has Congress repealed the law of supply and demand?

The reason I ask this is that yesterday I picked up a paper from the road out here near my farm where somebody had spread it on the ground to get under his car to put the jack to fix a flat and I took it home and read where living costs have hit an all-time high.

Now that in itself wasn't news to me, as best I can tell, living costs have been going up ever since I can remember, every year it takes a little more than it did the year before to get by, if you don't believe this ask anybody you know, but what did floor me was the statement that the reason living costs have gone so high is because food prices have jumped.

But the people I sell what I produce out here on this farm have been telling me the reason the price I get is so low is because of the huge surplus.

Living And Fall In Price Of Farm Products Bayou Philosopher Baffled By Rise In Cost Of

What this looks to me like is that the more the farmers produce, the higher the price of food goes, on the way back, that is, not as it leaves the farm.

Everybody blames this on the middle man, and what I've been wondering is why ain't the middle man subject to the law of supply and demand the same as us farmers?

As I say, I may have missed reading the papers on the days Congress repealed this law, or the Supreme Court ruled it unconstitutional, and if so I would appreciate you getting hold of our Congressman and straighten me out on this.

Understand, I'm not opposed to this new working of the law of supply and demand, I have been contemplating for years that what the farmer needed a lot, not when he raises a lot, not when he raises a little, can't anybody beat ahead on that plan, and it looks like the middle man has figured out the secret, which is worth a lot more than the secret of the atom bomb, and apparently is a lot more closely guarded. At least none of us farmers have been able to figure it out, just as very few Congressmen are equipped to make an atom bomb.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Soil Conservation District News

"We are being forced to adjust our farming and ranching operations to make maximum use of the rain we get during a drought." This opinion was expressed at the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District.

Farmers and ranchers themselves, George Goss at Rising Star, Hobart Priddy and David Watters in Mills County, Anson Oden of Brownwood and Scott Lanford at Blanket, the supervisors give generously of time and efforts to show the farmers and ranchers of the district the need for and benefits of soil, water and plant conservation.

Scott Lanford is finding out how to get grass back on bare soil. He set out some bunches of Coastal Bermudagrass in the bottomland along Blanket Creek on his place last Oct. This grass, which was watered by an overflow in early this year, now has runners four foot long. Lanford has some of his pastureland chiseled this spring. During the rain on March 4, he scattered Blue Panic grass seed over quite a bit of the area. He got a good stand of grass which is now developing seed pods.

Joe Beck is touching up about 20 acres of his irrigated farm in preparation for planting Coastal Bermudagrass. He has about two acres that was planted last year from which he will get the planting stock.

Some farmers and ranchers in the district are making plans for planting grasses this fall. Most grasses can be planted in spring or fall, giving a double chance for a stand. This is the time to begin getting ready for planting Blue Panic in cultivated land. Shallow beds make the best seedbed. It would be good to get the land bedded now and be ready for a rain between now and planting time, about September, to settle the seedbed.

The young people of the Westminster Fellowship group of the Presbyterian Church and their friends enjoyed a swimming and watermelon party at Brownwood State Park, Thursday evening, July 26.

In the party were Jerry Fleming, Jimmy Fleming, Donnie Hargrove, Betty Hinkle, John Illingworth, Sandra Illingworth, Jerry Koenig, Billy Mayes, Mrs. Don McCall, Rev. Mrs. and Ellen Zuefeldt.

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK BY TED GOULDY

Feeders Confident; Prices Are Higher.

Fort Worth — Cattle prices were carried along on the crest of a wave of optimistic stocker and feeder buying at Fort Worth Monday and prices were firm to unevenly higher. Slaughter cattle ruled steady and stocker and feeder cattle and calves were strong to 50 cents or more up.

Fleshy feeder steers and yearlings, fat enough for a quick-turn in the feed lot, sold at the best prices in a couple of months. Some near 600-pound feeders topped at $19, and some heavier feeders weighing 900 to 1,050 pounds sold in the $16.50 to $17.50 range, some steers weighing 1,038 pounds cashed at $17.50 for feeders.

The strong replacement market stemmed from the recent report that there were actually 11 per cent fewer cattle on feed in the 11 cornbelt states than a year ago July 1. Another strong point in the feeders' optimistic plans was the fact that finished heaves have been selling higher recently and are currently bringing the highest prices at Fort Worth since last October.

Some over 500-pound steer calves topped at $19, and good and choice kinds cashed readily at $16 to $19. Stocker cow trade again was dull due to hot, dry weather and declining pasture conditions.

In Monday's trade at Fort Worth good and choice steers and yearlings cashed at $16.50 to $21.50, some 1-300 pound steers at the top figure. Fed heifers sold from $20.50 down. Lower grade butcher cattle sold from $12 to $16. Fat cows drew $9.50 to $12, some mixed cows and heifers to $13.50. Canners and cutters drew $6 to $9.50. Bulls sold mostly $9 to $13.

Good and choice slaughter calves drew $15 to $17, and medium and lower grades $9 to $14. Stocker steer calves of good and choice kind $16 to $19, and stocker and feeder steers and yearlings mostly $14 to $17, and choice fleshy feeders $17.50 to $19.

Sheep And Lambs Firm; Quality Mostly Low.

Very high grade sheep or lambs arrived to test values in the trade at Fort Worth Monday, but prices were fully steady. Some good and choice fat lambs sold from $17 to $18, but strictly choice were quotable to $20. Cull to medium killers sold from $11 to $16. Stocker and feeder lambs were quoted from $12 to $16, with few offered eligible to sell over $15. Slaughter yearlings, when good or choice, drew $15 to $17, and lower grade yearling muttons sold from $10 to $14. Two-year-old muttons sold at $14 down. Old wethers $8 to $12.

Slaughter ewes cashed at $4 to $5, and old bucks sold around $4 to $5. Breeding ewes were scarce.

Hogs Sharply Higher; Choice Butchers $16.50-16.75

Choice meat hogs topped at $16.50 to $16.75 Monday, and this was 50 cents higher than the close of last week at Fort Worth. Less desirable weights and grades sold from $13 to $16, and packing sows were strong at $12 to $14.

Special Sale Stockers

Went To Over 20 States. A check-up of railway and truck shipments off the yards at Fort Worth following the special stocker and feeder sales held there recently showed that the cattle and calves got extremely wide distribution.

Western States receiving cattle from these sales included California, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. Cornbelt states included Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas. Other states included Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi.

To indicate the virtually coast to coast distribution in this one stocker sale, here are some Eastern States that got cattle that day from Fort Worth: Virginia, Kentucky, South Carolina and Pennsylvania.

Those little Texas cattle really roamed!

August Cattle Movement Expected To Be Heavy

Market observers at Fort Worth agree that August is shaping up as a month of heavy cattle shipping this year, unless something unprecedented in the way of rainy weather comes.

To avoid undue pressure on prices market agencies advise careful selection of marketing days to avoid excess bunching or receipts, and receipts thru the week to avoid heavy concentrations on Monday and Tuesday.

The surprising strength in the market in the past two weeks despite heavy runs has been credited to spreading the receipts thru the week.

Mrs. Ralph McNeel of this city and Mrs. Lucy Boase of Rising Star were in Lubbock over the week end visiting Mrs. Boase son, Donald Lutgens, and family.

Mrs. C. L. McDonald returned home Saturday after visiting with her daughter in Chicago, Ill. for sometime. Jim McDonald accompanied his mother and returned to Fort Worth Sunday where he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Penny North and daughter and also a granddaughter all of Hobbs, N. M. spent Friday night and Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wetzel.

Far into the Night

NIGHT AND DAY throughout the year, scientists are working in research laboratories in the interest of public health. During the last two decades many diseases have been conquered. There is reason to believe that more and more progress will be made, that many afflictions now fatal will gradually yield to medical research. Your doctor, and he alone, is well informed on these new discoveries. He includes new medicinal agents in his practice as soon as their therapeutic value has been established. Depend on your doctor. Depend on us to fill his prescriptions.

Amino Triazole Provides Better Cotton Defoliant

College Station, June 25. The promising cotton defoliant, amino triazole, should become more extensively used among growers this year, say agricultural scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in a report to Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

Studies of defoliant mixtures incorporating amino triazole are indicating that the amount of other defoliant in the mixture can be considerably reduced when incorporated with 0.75 pounds per acre of amino triazole.

This continues to be the recommended treatment for 1956. However, trials last summer shows that 3 gallons amonia per acre would increase the percent of defoliation achieved over that from amino triazole alone. Scientists believe economical, effective dosage lies somewhere between 3 gallons and 3 1-2 to 4 gallons.

Amino triazole as a defoliant, removes the leaves for easier boll picking and less trashy harvests, and as a regrowth inhibitor, prevents new plant growth after defoliation and before harvest is complete. When used in combination with other defoliants, addition of amino triazole at the rate of .75 pounds per acre allows reduction of the other defoliant by half the dosage normally required when used alone.

In cooperative studies between USDA's agricultural research service and the state experiment station serving the Mid-South Cotton Belt, scientists found that amino triazole, used alone as a defoliant at a 1-pound-per-acre rate, caused only about 70 percent defoliation. When the dosage was tripled, about 80 percent defoliation resulted. Thus, a rather small defoliation response was obtained with a large increase in the amount of chemical used.

Scientists, therefore recommend no less than the three-pound-per-acre rate, to obtain adequate defoliation. Tests of the ability of amino triazole to prevent cotton plant regrowth during the harvest season have shown wide variation in results during the past three years. Generally, the higher the rate of application, the better regrowth control achieved. Scientists conclude that growers should apply at least one pound per acre to take care of possible variations in control.

State Capitol NEWS

Austin—Texas' critical teacher shortage and some reasons for it are spotlighted in two reports just released.

With school bells due to ring in a month, an estimated 7,615 teaching positions still are vacant in Texas, according to the Texas State Teachers Association. To fill these jobs only 1,310 teachers are known to be available.

This means six openings for each teacher wanting a job, said TSTA Executive Secretary Charles Tennyson. Almost 4,000 teachers left the profession last year.

Apparently explanation for this wholesale snubbing of class room posts came in statistics reported by Dr. Hob Gray of the University of Texas Placement Bureau.

This year's education graduates will average $346 per month for nine months, said Dr. Gray. But Engineering-science graduate can expect $431 per month all year.

Teachers with master's degrees do a little better, averaging $358 monthly. But a master's degree in Engineering or science commands an average salary of $567.

Almost all University graduates go to schools paying more than state minimum requirements, said Dr. Gray. Highest school salaries in the state are at the West Texas oil town of Snyder. There the beginning minimum is $4,000 for nine months, or $445 monthly.

Less affluent districts have to scramble. University graduates can be quite choosy since demands for their services are exceptionally high. Ratio of jobs to graduates is 10 to one in all positions, 100 to one in mathematics and science.

Court Upholds Union Shop
Texas' controversial right-to-work law has lost another round in the courts. But champions of the law say the issue is far from being finally settled.

By a 6-to-3 decision the State Supreme Court upheld a closed shop contract between unions and Santa Fe Railway Co.

Texas law prohibits compulsory union membership, but a 1951 act of Congress authorized closed shops in the railway industry.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, who had intervened on behalf of Texas law, predicted a motion for rehearing after the court reconvenes Oct. 3. "The full question of compulsory union membership is yet to be determined," said Shepperd. "Nor do I think the majority decision abrogates our right-to-work law."

Their decision, majority judges noted, paralleled a U. S. Supreme Court ruling in a similar case from Nebraska. Union shop contracts, said the Texas ruling, do not "compel full membership, but only payment of union dues and assessments."

Dissenting judges spoke out against "Compulsory financial support of a private organization by those who do not subscribe to its program" as "the chief evil to be forever prohibited."

1957 Road Program Announced
Plans to spend $229,000,000 on building new roads in 1957 have been outlined by the Texas Highway Department.

In addition, $35 million will be spent on maintenance. Through the federal aid bill, Uncle Sam will absorb $117,000,000 of the $264,000,000 total tab.

Motorists can look forward to smooth sailing on the roads planned under the new federal-state building program. Some 3,000 miles of modern expressways without cross traffic or railroad crossings are due in the near future, said State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer. Many will be divided highways. Two-lane roads will be built so two more lanes can be added.

In anticipation of this flood of highway spending, road contractors are trying to get enough engineers and skilled laborers to do the work. Texas Highway Branch, Associated General Contractors, is considering two plans.

One is to grant scholarships at engineering colleges. Another is to set up a training school on operation of machinery and heavy equipment at some university.

More Integration Predicted
More integration in Texas public schools next year is predicted by the Texas Commission on Race Relations.

Austin headquarters of the anti-segregation commission said last week that 300,000 students in 71 districts attended wholly or partially integrated schools last year.

This means that one in five of the state's 1-2 million students and one in 26 school districts were affected. None of these was located in the eastern quarter of the state nor in the major cities of Houston, Waco, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Ninety Negroes are expected to enroll with some 18,000 white students at the University of Texas this fall. Thirty will be freshmen who passed admission tests; 19 transfers from other colleges and about 40 returning graduate students.

This will be the first time for Negroes to attend the University's undergraduate schools.

Vaccine Supply Overflows
In April, Texas had too little polio vaccine for too many people. Today the problem is reversed.

Despite the State Health Department's continuing campaign for wider use, Texas turned back 90 per cent of its most recent vaccine allocation. Lack of demand was given as the reason.

In Austin the county polio chapter chairman suggested Salk shots be made compulsory for school entrance, just as smallpox and diphtheria vaccines. School Board members promised to consider it at their meeting August 13.

Short Snorts
Manufacturers will be asked to discontinue production of insecticides containing thallium sulphate, a State Health Department official reports. At least three children have died and dozens more have been hospitalized from thallium poisoning, said the announcement.

Texas will be asked to provide 687 men in September draft call, said State Selective Service Headquarters. At the same time draft boards will be asked for 1,140 men to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations. Lower Rio Grande Valley farmers have ginned 149,073 bales of cotton so far this year, compared with 138,915 for the same period in 1955, said State Agriculture Department.

Texas has won two more civil suits for recovery of veterans land funds. An Austin district court has just awarded the state judgments totaling $97,611.00.

presents to the motorists of Texas
the world's finest automotive gasoline...

Golden Esso Extra

This new gasoline is designed for the growing number of automobile engines with very high compression ratios, and for cars that tend to knock on "premium" gasolines. In many cars, it is the only gasoline that will give you knock-free performance.

It has the highest octane rating of any automotive gasoline in town—the highest by far.

But octane rating is only one performance quality. Other improvements match Golden Esso Extra's increase in octane rating: this new gasoline also sets new quality standards for quick starting and fast warm-up, for protection against vapor-lock, for minimizing engine deposits, for maximum acceleration, for protection against gum formation, for long mileage and maximum power.

It is the finest gasoline Humble has ever made—its performance rates it "premium over premium."

If yours is a car with a very high compression ratio—if your high compression engine tends to knock on "premium" gasoline—fill up with Golden Esso Extra at the golden pump under the Humble sign. You'll save the extra cost through performance, operating economy, and added gasoline mileage.

Golden Esso Extra is One of Three Great Humble Gasolines

Golden Esso Extra is for cars with very high compression ratios. But there are hundreds of thousands of automobiles in Texas that give perfect performance on Humble's famous Esso Extra gasoline, and there are others that perform well on regular grade Humble Motor Fuel.

Humble provides all three grades: Golden Esso Extra—premium over premium; Famous Esso Extra—premium; Humble Motor Fuel—regular.

Thus: you pay only for the quality your car requires.

Those whose cars require Golden Esso Extra quality will find it profitable to pay more for this new gasoline.

But for many, Famous Esso Extra is the best gasoline they can use, No. 1 in Texas, first in sales among the "Premiums" because it's first in quality. This great gasoline will continue to be the leader in its field.

For others, Humble Motor Fuel sets the pace for performance and mileage among the "Regulars." It is the only regular gasoline in Texas that contains a patented solvent oil to keep your engine clean.

Use and pay only for the gasoline your car requires... You'll find it under the Humble sign.

why "do it yourself" when electricity's so cheap?

Electric saws and drills and other power tools can save you hours of work on a single project. And dozens of other electric servants—like washers, dryers and dishwashers—save work and worry for other members of your family.

Go upstairs, go downstairs, go all around your house and look at the ways electricity is working for you. Then think of the low price: just a few cents a day.

What else in your family budget does so much, costs so little?
